Tax bill struggling against praise, criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite President Reagan's renewed plea for action, the drive to overhaul the federal tax code appears to be foundering in the House of Representatives.

Republican leaders are openly at odds with the president while Democrats say stronger support from Reagan and GOP votes will be crucial to keeping the tax overhaul initiative from dying.

Hours after House Republicans agreed Wednesday to oppose a tax overhaul bill drafted by the Democratic-led Ways and Means Committee, the president issued a statement vaguely supporting the Democratic measure as well as acknowledging a GOP effort to draft an alternative.

In effect, the president said it would be better for the House to pass a bill he did not like than pass nothing at all. The idea is to push a bill to the Republican-controlled Senate, where the Reagan administration hopes to get a measure more to its liking.

"Both the Ways and Means Committee and the Ways and Means Republicans have developed proposals that, like our own, represent substantial progress from current law," Reagan said.

"We do not want to risk damaging, perhaps irreparably, an entire year's effort to achieve real tax reform, so I strongly believe the legislative process must be allowed to go forward," Reagan said.

"True tax reform is imperative," the president added. "The first step must begin with a positive vote in the House of Representatives. I urge members of the House to act affirmatively on this important matter."

"But let me add this caveat," Reagan said. "This can only be considered a good start, not an end product. More can and must be done to broaden the tax base, reduce tax rates further, and lower the cost of capital, so we can strengthen economic growth and personal opportunity for every American."

Neither Democrats nor Republicans were impressed with the president's statement.

"He kicked the ball down the field and ran like a beaver," said Rep.

Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. He also said Reagan's statement was "not as strong as we wanted."

Before Reagan issued the statement, Rep. Dick Cheney, R-Wyo., chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, said he could not back a bill with which he did not agree. After Reagan issued the statement, Cheney said, "I don't see that anything's changed."

"I think we ought to vote no on final passage unless it's a bill that encompasses our principles," Cheney said.

The Democratic bill, which will not be considered by the House before late next week, would cut taxes for most individuals but sharply increase taxes on many corporations.

District pleased with HHS juniors' results of TEAMS

Juniors at Hereford High School exceeded the expectations that the commissioner of the Texas Education Agency had for the state results of the Texas Educational Assessment of Minimum Skills taken in October.

Dr. William Kirby had estimated that about 75 percent of Texas juniors would master the TEAMS, mandated necessary for graduation by H.B. 72. Of the Hereford juniors who took the test, 82 percent passed the math portion and 85 percent passed the language arts portion.

The director of program development for Hereford Schools, Mai Manchec, said, "We thought we did very well in light of the commissioner's estimate."

Manchec said 288 juniors took the math test and 284 took the language arts test. The students who did not master one or more portions of the test will be able to retake the TEAMS in April, and even during the fall and spring of their senior year to be eligible for graduation.

Manchec said that about 20 migrant students who were not in school anywhere during October would take the test in January. He said the results included a demographic breakdown which showed that 51 percent tested were Anglo-surnamed and 47 percent were Hispanic surname.

"I was really quite thrilled by the whole thing," Manchec said. "The district is going to make every effort toward the students who did not master the test to assist them in meeting the standards of the TEAMS."

Vega DOE office open

The local Department of Energy Information Office has announced temporary office hours and the new Vega office, on the southwest corner of U.S. 385 and I-40, has opened.

The Vega office will be open Monday, Tuesday and Friday from 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. On Wednesday and Thursday the office is open from 1:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. Saturday hours are 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Effie Harle is the office manager. The new number is 287-2121.

Through Dec. 14 the local office will operate from 2 until 6 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Tuesday and Thursday hours are 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. until 6 p.m.

Australians guests at Fun Breakfast

An appearance and brief remarks by the Mayor of Bordertown, South Australia, "twin" town to Hereford for the Sesquicentennial celebration, highlighted the annual "Eat Your Heart Out, Neiman-Marcus" Fun Breakfast this morning at the Community Center.

Shirley Easterwood won the $100 drawing; Julius Bodner and Argen Draper won $25 in Hereford Bucks, and many persons at the breakfast won gifts from local merchants as a feature of the annual chamber breakfast.

Mayor Wes Fisher, C of C executive vice president Mike Carr, County Judge Glen Nelson, and Sesquicentennial co-chairmen Garth Thomas and Argen Draper made presentations to Mayor Taylor and his wife, Janet. The gifts included a Texas flag, Hereford Bull Chips, and state Sesquicentennial items.

Taylor, in turn, made some presentations to the City of Hereford, including an Australian flag, a book for the county library, and a calendar for the city manager. He told the audience he had been "overwhelmed" by the warm and friendly hospitality of the community. (See related remarks on Page 2)

Community announcements at the breakfast included those made by Georgia Sparks, Christmas Tour of Homes, Dec. 8; Christmas Stocking Fund project, Speedy Nieman; Big Brothers/Big Sisters Pheasant Bounty Hunt, Mike Moon; the Westway Country Christmas Bazaar, Saturday, Grace Covington; and a Holiday Dance at the KC Hall, Dec. 20, proceeds to Problem Pregnancies, Shawn Cockrum.

John Stagner and Charlie Bell were emcees for the bi-monthly breakfast, sponsored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Jan Walsler provided piano music.

Stolen Property Recovered

Hereford police Detective Sammy Sanchez, County Deputy Investigator David Watts, and County Deputy Investigator Jimmy Hudgens, examine nearly $7,500 worth of stolen property that was recovered Wednesday night. An investigation began with a tire theft report then developed into an arrest of a person who had sold the stolen tires. The arrested subject gave a signed consent for investigators to search his house. There the deputies found the rest of the stolen merchandise. The arrested subject said that he did not steal the items, however, he could not explain how he got them. (Brand Photo by Shawn Cockrum)

Student commits suicide after robbery

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — A man who shot and killed himself when police cornered him after he robbed a savings and loan of $60,000 was a 29-year-old Texas Tech graduate student studying philosophy, a university spokeswoman said.

According to police, a man robbed the First Federal Savings and Loan about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Brandishing a .45 caliber pistol, he forced three employees and two customers to lie down on the floor and took the contents of two cash drawers and the bank safe.

When confronted by troopers an hour later the man put the gun to his head and killed himself, Texas Department of Public Safety officers said.

DPS Trooper Burt Sinclair identified the man as Monte Lee Martin, 29.

After the robbery, state troopers spotted a car fitting the description of the robber's vehicle and stopped him on a farm road in Hockley County southwest of Lubbock, Sinclair said.

"The troopers shot out a tire on the car. He pulled over. There were three (DPS) units there. They asked him to get out of the car, in a very polite way. ... He pulled the gun out and shot himself in the head," Sinclair said.

Martin was working on his master's degree in philosophy at Texas Tech, said Bea Zeek, director of university news and publications. Martin graduated from the school with honors in 1978, receiving a bachelor's degree in philosophy, Zeek said.

Amarillo authorities suspect Martin may have been the same man

Farm Bureau wraps convention with FCS bailout support

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Texas farmers and ranchers closed their four-day Farm Bureau convention by supporting a federal financial aid program for the Farm Credit System.

The Texas Farm Bureau has been meeting for its 52nd convention in Fort Worth. As the convention wrapped up Wednesday, delegates also re-elected S.M. True of Plainview as head of the Farm Bureau for a fourth year one-year term.

Approval of the Farm Credit resolution by 1,229 voting delegates came a day after the U.S. Senate's approval of a rescue package for the Farm Credit System.

The House Agriculture Committee late Wednesday passed and sent to the full House an emergency rescue package for the nation's largest farm lender.

Both the Senate and House panel votes improved chances that action will be taken to shore up confidence in the system before Congress adjourns for the year.

The bill would centralize the system's loosely linked finances and strengthen the Farm Credit System into a true arm's-length regulator, as well as providing standby authority for federal financial aid if it is needed.

Family asks CSF for warm clothing

Mr. S. is a hard-working family man who had to undergo major surgery to repair an old injury. He will not be receiving any income for several months, and faces surgery again next month.

This situation doesn't make for a bright Christmas, but the family has asked only for warm clothing for the children. This is just one of many requests that workers in the Christmas Stocking Fund are hoping to respond to at Christmastime in Hereford.

Contributions for the fund can be made at The Hereford Brand office, 313 N. Lee, or by mailing checks or cash to CSF, Box 673, Hereford, 79045. Checks should be made payable to the Christmas Stocking Fund. Ben Childers is the treasurer.

Requests for assistance through CSF should be submitted to the Social Services Office in the Deaf Smith County Courthouse. A screening committee will determine the distribution of funds to the most needy families.

Contributions to date total $880.
Previous Balance $635
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stagner 75
Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Black in memory of Greg Black 100
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Brown 20
Mrs. K.M.C., anonymous 25
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seed 25
TOTAL TO DATE: $880

Also approved by convention delegates was a wheat and feed grains proposal that would take 30 percent of the current acreage out of production, 10 percent of it in a paid diversion. The plan also calls for a freezing of loan rates for one year with slight raises through 1989.

Trying to help out dairy farmers, the organization, which ended the convention on Wednesday, approved a resolution creating a two-year milk diversion program financed by a producer assessment not to exceed 50 cents per hundredweight. Price supports would be increased if purchases were less than 3 billion pounds per year and decreased when exceed 3 billion pounds.

Dallas passes smoking restriction law

DALLAS (AP) — Cigarette smokers who give in to a nicotine fit in a Dallas restaurant, grocery store or bank could face prosecution and a $200 fine.

The Dallas City Council unanimously approved Wednesday an ordinance making smoking illegal in retail establishments with 500 or more square feet of floor space.

Individuals who violate the law could be fined up to $200 and could be prosecuted in municipal court, but only after a complaint is filed with the city attorney's office.

The city will not "police" retail establishments looking for violations, officials said.

The ordinance, which relies on voluntary compliance, survived six attempts by several council members to weaken it and ended more than a year of debate on the issue.

Pilot voices opinion on wind shears

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — There was nothing the pilot of Delta Air Lines Flight 191 could do to recover from wind shear the plane encountered before an Aug. 2 crash at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, a Delta pilot said at a seminar on the weather phenomenon.

The pilot, Bill Melvin, said Wednesday that anybody who thinks extensive flight training can overcome wind shear is "whistling past the graveyard."

A government study conducted by a NASA researcher concluded the flight crew of Delta 191, whose crash killed 137, could have flown the L-1011 out of a wind shear, a violent downburst of air from a thunderstorm.

But Melvin, head of the Air Line Pilots Association's airworthiness committee who was among the speakers, said people greatly underestimate the power of wind shears.

Cisneros proposes two-city airport

AUSTIN (AP) — San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros has stirred up talk of a regional airport to serve San Antonio and Austin, saying it would be "instantaneous justification" for economic growth along Interstate 35 between the cities.

"It would make the corridor a justifiable trading region in the eyes of the world," Cisneros said.

His remarks came Tuesday in a Chamber of Commerce meeting at San Antonio.

Mayor Frank Cooksey of Austin, who attended the session but was not present for Cisneros' remarks, said he would request a meeting with Cisneros to discuss a joint airport.

A joint airport has been mentioned for several years as a way to solve crowding problems at Austin's Robert Mueller Municipal Airport, but San Antonio officials had not encouraged the idea.

Illegal whisky operation is raided

ELYSIAN FIELDS, Texas (AP) — Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission officials stopped an illegal whiskey-making operation by smashing 55-gallon drums and chopping copper tubing and glass jars full of whiskey with an ax.

TABC agents made the raid Wednesday afternoon.

Officials from Harrison, Gregg and Upshur counties discovered the "moonshine operation" last week, said TABC agent Jim Hays.

"Like with anything of this nature, we received information that the still was operating, and we located it and watched it until the old man got it brewing good. We try to catch the people in the act and that usually takes a lot of walking through the woods and staking out places. But it pays off," Hays said.

He said that agents planned later to investigate a report of another still north of Marshall. He said the raid was the first of the year.

General Dynamics still in bidding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Dynamics Corp. may have been suspended from receiving new government contracts, but the Navy also is suspending a bidding deadline on a major submarine contract so the firm can participate.

The step was taken, despite General Dynamics' indictment on fraud charges earlier this week, "to preserve competition and therefore lower prices in shipbuilding," Navy Secretary John F. Lehman said.

Lehman confirmed Wednesday the service had suspended "indefinitely" a Friday deadline for bids on construction of four nuclear-powered attack submarines.

Only two companies can make the Los Angeles-class submarines — the Electric Boat division of General Dynamics in Groton, Conn., and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. in Newport News, Va. The Navy has emphasized annual competitions between the two since the program started in the 1970s.

"This is not an action to protect General Dynamics," Lehman added. "This is an action to protect the public interest. ... It would be foolish of us to award a sole-source contract just to spite another contractor."

Soviet dissident seeks visa extension

SIENA, Italy (AP) — The eye doctor treating Soviet dissident Yelena Bonner says he believes she will seek an extension of her three-month stay in the West so she can undergo a cataract operation.

Dr. Renato Frezzotti examined Mrs. Bonner, wife of dissident and Nobel Peace Prize winner Andrei D. Sakharov, for about three hours at his office Wednesday and sent her to a nearby laboratory for a specialized field-of-vision test.

Frezzotti said the cataract operation could wait until Mrs. Bonner returns from the United States. She plans to visit the United States for treatment of a heart condition that could require coronary bypass surgery.

"I think she will ask for an extension" of the visa, the Italian eye specialist said, adding that he believes her eye condition cannot be corrected before her three-month visa expires.

"It's not the moment to consider an (eye) operation," he said. Relatives have said they believe Soviet authorities would grant a visa extension for medical reasons.

After the exam, Mrs. Bonner, 62, went from this Tuscan hilltop city to nearby Florence to spend the night with Russian friends. Her future travel plans were not made public.

Frezzotti treated Mrs. Bonner for glaucoma in 1975 and 1977, and examined her again in 1979 during her last visit to the West.

She needs to be examined "every three or four months, not every six years," he said, adding that her eye condition dates to wounds suffered during German bombing of the Soviet Union during World War II.

Therapy turns cells into killers

BOSTON (AP) — An experimental cancer treatment that lets white blood cells attack malignant tumors is "the most promising biological approach to cancer at the present time," says the head of the National Cancer Institute.

The first human use of the technique, called adoptive immunotherapy, was reported by the cancer institute in today's New England Journal of Medicine.

The procedure uses interleukin-2, a natural hormone of the immune system, to transform ordinary white blood cells into cancer warriors. These cells are treated outside the body and then injected into the patient, where they attack cancerous tumors throughout the body.

"It's a new approach to therapy," said Dr. Vincent T. DeVita Jr., the institute's director. "It clearly is producing a fairly dramatic effect in people with advanced cancer. We don't know that it cures anybody. But if applied widely to people with small amounts of disease, it holds promise for significant improvement."

In 11 of 25 patients with advanced cancer, the doctors were able to shrink tumors by at least 50 percent and, in one case, apparently eradicate the disease.

"It's the most promising biological approach to cancer at the present time," DeVita said.

Researchers caution, however, that the treatment is still highly experimental and carries toxic side effects. Compared with other kinds of cancer treatment, it is also very expensive. At present, it is available only at the cancer institute in Bethesda, Md., where it's being tested on small numbers of patients.

"This is really the first step," said Dr. Steven A. Rosenberg, who directed the research. "But it demonstrates that it is possible to manipulate the immune system and make a variety of cancers in a variety of locations disappear."

At the American Cancer Society, Dr. Frank Rauscher called the development "very, very exciting."

"In these tumors," he said, "when you can get a 50 percent or more response rate, that's better than any cytotoxic (cell-killing) drug that we've ever seen."

However, Dr. Robert Mayer of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in Boston cautioned that although the research is worth pursuing, "I would be very reluctant to put it up in neon lights and call it a major advance."

He said the apparent regression of the patients' cancer could have happened spontaneously.

The major side effect of the treatment is severe fluid retention that can lead to breathing failure. However, this symptom disappeared after the therapy ended.

One woman treated suffered from melanoma, a dangerous form of skin cancer, that had spread throughout her body. The treatment wiped out the cancer, and she is free of the disease a year after the therapy.

Another patient had rectal cancer that had spread to his lungs. After the therapy, three lung growths disappeared, and two others shrank and were surgically removed.

"It's clearly very novel," said Dr. James Meir of New England Medical Center in Boston. "The only concern I think the public should have is the incredible expense. You're talking about tens of thousands of dollars to treat even one patient. That dwarfs the cost of any kind of conventional therapy."

Lion's Club welcomes Australians

"When the froth and bubbly of the Sesquicentennial year is over, let's still continue our twin-city arrangement," Bert Taylor of Bordertown, S. Australia, proposed to members of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday.

Taylor, and his wife Janet, were guests of the club Wednesday and presented a program about their land, which is celebrating Jubilee 150 in 1986. Bordertown and Hereford were selected as "twin" cities for the two states' 150th birthdays.

Taylor, district council chairman of Tatiara, brought a book on Australia to be placed in the county library here. He proposed that the two towns exchange books every six months for about a five-year period.

Taylor and his wife were presented state Lions Club pins for 1986 by club President Donald Hicks. Taylor, in turn, presented a Bordertown Lions Club banner to Hicks. Taylor also presented Tatiara lapel pins to Hicks and Garth Thomas, co-chairman of Hereford's Sesquicentennial committee. Thomas introduced Taylor at the meeting.

The visiting dignitary told Lions that he had set up a public registry in Bordertown where citizens could sign up to host visitors from Texas, especially from Hereford. Thomas also announced the state committee will be arranging flights to South Australia and local citizens might want to take advantage of some special rates for a trip "down under."

Taylor said he had been a little concerned about Hereford being much larger than Bordertown, which has a population of approximately 2,200. "I've heard about Texas hospitality, however, and now I'm experiencing it," he said. He commended Hereford for its civic pride and a "great volunteer spirit."

Thomas was accompanied to the meeting by Argen Draper, his co-chairperson for the local Sesquicentennial committee. Thomas also introduced several other members of the executive committee who were in attendance.

The committee was to host a reception for the couple Wednesday night at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame & Western Heritage center.

Wedding Party

Diners at Friday night's chili supper at the Senior Citizens Center also will be guests of a wedding in drag. At a rehearsal of the affair Homer Garrison portrays the father of nervous bride Dyal Garner. Also at the event, the Chambers Singers will present a Christmas concert, and a talent contest held. Chili will be served from 5 to 7 p.m. at the center. Tickets are $2.50 from any Senior Citizens member and at the door. Children under 5 years old eat free.

Flag Presentation

Argen Draper, left, local Sesquicentennial co-chairman, admires the flag being flown for South Australia's sesquicentennial celebration. The community was presented the flag by Bert Taylor, right, at today's Chamber of Commerce Fun Breakfast. Taylor is representing Bordertown, S.A., Hereford's sister town.

who held up an Amarillo savings and loan last week.

Officials described the suspect in the Amarillo robbery as a "clean-cut" white male in his late 20s or early 30s who used a .45-caliber pistol.

Amarillo police Capt. Kenneth Fahnert told the Amarillo Globe-News investigators probably would travel to Lubbock to determine if the two robberies may have been committed by the same man.

More foster homes needed

Case workers told the Deaf Smith County Child Welfare Board Wednesday that more foster homes are needed, but two families have applied to become foster parents.

In other business at the meeting: —The board learned from County Judge Glen Nelson that juveniles will continue to be taken to Amarillo for detention at a cost of $75 a day.

—It was reported that a foster child from this county who is at Boy's Ranch is needing clothes.

—The board will submit to the county commissioners the names of Francynne Bromlow and Jeri Curtis for three-year terms on the board.

Members present for the meeting were Charlie Ruiz, Rev. Ron Cook, Bill Devers, Avis White, Lavon Nieman, Chairman Bill Johnson, and Mysedia Smith. Ex-officio members present were Nelson, Wanda Spain and Earlene Cook.

Family invited to Southfork

BROWNWOOD, Texas (AP) — It will be Christmas at Southfork Ranch for two Brown County families.

A scout for the TV show "Dallas," has asked the family to come to the famous ranch for filming of the miniseries, "Dallas: The Early Years," Dec. 23-29.

"At first we thought it was just a joke, but the more the talent scout talked, the more we realized he was serious, he wasn't joking," said Peggy Mayfield.

But it wasn't the acting talent of the members of the R.V. Mayfield and R.L. Michael families that landed them the choice invitation. It was their outdated oil rigs.

The Dallas scout was seeking a working Fort Worth Spudder cable tool rig used back in the 1930s. The rigs, still in operation, were found on the R.L. Michael and R.V. Mayfield Drilling Co. property three miles east of Bangs in Brown County.

The scout explained he had searched all over Texas for the rig for the upcoming mini-series.

"He acted like he had found a gold mine," Mrs. Mayfield said, Monday.

Not only are the rigs going, but family members and an oilfield crewmen will be in the production, scheduled to be aired in May.

Richard Mayfield, 16, a Bangs High School student, will be shown on the series drilling on the large rig.

Turkey shoot set

The Simms Lions Club will be sponsoring a turkey shoot Saturday at noon. The shoot will take place at the Simms Community Building.

VFW, Auxiliary attend dinner Monday evening

The Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 4818 met in regular session Monday evening with Betty Boggs presiding. The meeting was preceded by a turkey and dressing dinner for VFW and Auxiliary members.

Recognized as special guests were Jay and Wanda Spain; Dale and Debbie Broadstreet and sons, William and Danny; Harold and Laura Broadstreet of Dimmitt; and District 13 President Florene Leinen, also of Dimmitt.

Jay Spain and Dale Broadstreet were awarded commendations as fire fighters by Rose Goheen, safety chairman. These men then gave a program on home fire safety which was very timely with the Christmas season approaching.

During the business session, it was decided by members to have a Christmas party at 7 p.m. Dec. 20. Each woman attending is asked to bring a woman's gift and each man to bring a gift suitable for a man. Gifts will be exchanged by drawing numbers.

Ruth Morris was elected and installed as guard for the remainder of the Auxiliary year.

Those present included Helen Bishop, Boggs, Martha Bridges, Doris Coffin, Rose Goheen, Frances Green, Maisie Heath, Dora Lea Howell, Essie Martin, Erna Murphy, Lille Muller, Marta Williams, Ruth Williams, Doris Wilson, Ruth Morris, Debbie Broadstreet, Thelma Galloway and Marie Goheen.

Also, present for the meeting were Leinen and Laura Broadstreet.

The next meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 6 for a supper.

Making Presentations

and Jay Spain were awarded commendations and then presented a program on home fire safety. Also, pictured is Betty Boggs, Auxiliary president, and District 13 President Florene Leinen, at right.

Nutcracker Ballet to be performed

It's Nutcracker time again! Once again the Lone Star Ballet, under Neil Hess's direction, and the Amarillo Symphony, under Mitchell Sardou Klein's direction, will join forces to bring The Nutcracker Ballet to the Amarillo Civic Center Auditorium.

This year audiences will enjoy this beautiful production with a new snow scene, a new three dimensional Christmas tree, many new costumes and special lighting.

Guest artists from The New York City Ballet will be Alexia Hess and Peter Boal. Also, Gordon Stevens with the School of American Ballet in New York City and Mia Cunningham who is currently studying ballet and drama in New York City.

The Nutcracker is a magical story of music and dance that has long captured the imagination of young and old alike. Many families make it an annual event. It is the story of a little girl named Clara and how her dreams come true one special Christmas Eve. Clara encounters everything from giant mice to a handsome prince! She enters a fantasy land of magic, fun, suspense, and beauty. Come and join Clara on her trip to dreamland...you'll never forget the new Christmas tree that grows to twice its size—the Mother Buffoon with all her little baby buffoons!

There will be a total of four performances this year: Friday, Dec. 13 at 8 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 14 at both 3 and 8 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 15 at 3 p.m.

Tickets are $18, $12, and $6 with a dollar discount for children under 12 and senior citizens over 65. Groups of 10 or more receive a ten percent discount.

Tickets may be purchased at all area Amarillo Hasting's locations, or from the Lone Star Ballet, Inc. office, 372-2463, at 1000 South Polk.

Advisory Council meets here

The Vocational Home Economics Education Advisory Council met Tuesday afternoon at K-Bob's Steak House. Louise Witkowski, La Plata Junior High School home economics Coordinated Vocational Academic Education teacher, served as meeting presider.

Mary Rose, consumer home economics education instructor, at Stanton Junior High School, discussed the functions of the advisory council and described the duties of its members.

The advisory council has no administrative function, but makes constructive recommendations for the improvement of the program and helps carry-out these recommendations when requested to do so by the teacher or other school officials.

One of the major purposes of an advisory council is to aid in the planning of a sound occupational education program which meets the needs of both the student and the community.

Advisory Council members aid in publicizing and promoting the home economics education program in the community; identify community resources and provide supplementary instructional materials when available; assist with the evaluation of home economics education programs; advise, as needed, in relation to program objectives, course content and competencies expected in the occupations for which the training is being offered; advise on criteria for the selection on recruitment of students; assess occupational needs related to home economics programs; and advise the school in planning laboratory facilities and selecting equipment. Stacy Lea, consumer home economics education teacher at Hereford High School, described for council members the activities being carried-out by Future Homemakers of America Chapters to promote projects dealing with Families and Futures, The Student Body, SAAD (Students Against Drunk Driving), and Save the Lady.

She also discussed Future Homemakers of America proficiency events which will be held at the FHA/HERO Region I meeting Feb. 7-8, 1986 in Lubbock. Kelly Burrus, high school senior home economics student, will participate in the illustrated talk proficiency event.

Burrus has selected the topic of "Adult Abuse."

Karlene Moore, Stanton's home economics coordinated vocational academic education teacher, and Cathy Brock, VEH home economics teacher at La Plata, described FHA/HERO Chapter projects emphasizing entrepreneurship. Beryl Burelsmith, Consumer home economics teacher at La Plata, also participated in the council meeting.

Martha Layman, Consumer economics education teacher at Hereford High School, advised council members that priorities for the advisory council for 1985-86 are to give assistance in meeting the following objectives: aid in promoting vocational home economics and FHA/HERO chapters through the news media, especially during FHA/HERO Week and Vocational Education Week; and recommend resource people to use in connection with FHA/HERO programs and projects and for assistance in class activities.

Council members include Marc Williamson, assistant superintendent of instruction; Kenneth R. Helms, director of vocational education; Buddie Peeler, KPAN Radio Station; and Troy Waddell, manager of Southwestern Public Service Co.

Students named to honor roll

Jeffrey Forst, David Minchew, Roberto Padilla and Alice Rahlfs, all of Hereford, were recently named to the Vice-President's Honor Roll for the fall quarter at Texas State Technical Institute.

Frost, son of Lila Gay Frost of Amarillo and Doyle King of Hereford, is a computer electronics technology student.

Minchew, son of Charles Minchew, is a diesel mechanics technology student.

Padilla, son of Maria Zuniga, is a drafting and design technology student.

Rahlfs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Reinart, is an interior design technology student.

Honorees must achieve a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

PERSONAL TRUST

CLEVELAND (AP) — People who want to simplify their financial affairs may find a personal trust a good solution, says Theodore W. Jones of National City Corp., an Ohio holding company.

A trust, Jones says, is a written agreement which provides for a bank or an individual to manage property for the benefit of another person or persons. He says it can be useful to a younger person as well as to someone approaching retirement.

"A person who is extremely busy might decide to let a trustee, such as a bank, handle bookkeeping transactions and make investment decisions," he says.

CELEBRATION
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Automatic temperature controls in American homes were developed here 100 years ago from a discovery that dates back to the 18th century.

In the mid-1770s, physicists found that two attached strips of different metals would curl in response to temperature changes. Bi-metal strips began to be used to compensate chronometers for temperature variations. In 1879, a system was patented to maintain humidity levels in spinning and weaving shops.

And, in 1883, Albert Butz, a local inventor, used a thermostat with an electric circuit that responded to temperature changes by operating a motor that would open dampers on coal furnaces.

Tel-Tech phone line available

Community physicians will have access to specialized medical information at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC) through a new Tel-Tech phone line.

Tel-Tech is a free service for community physicians interested in consulting with TTUHSC School of Medicine faculty physicians. Tel-Tech operates on a toll-free WATS line number: 1-800-TEL-TECH (1-800-835-8324).

The call is answered at the Medical School, where personnel familiar with the school's system can then connect the calling physician with the appropriate office.

"Tel-Tech will serve physicians in rural communities by providing easy access to medical information and consultation services," said M'Lizz Salley, Tel-Tech coordinator.

One of the primary missions of the School of Medicine is to upgrade the health status of communities by providing informational support to physicians practicing in rural areas, Salley said.

Community physicians can reach the medical school 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Faculty physicians will either respond to the caller immediately or return the call within a reasonable period of time, she said.

Although diagnoses will not be made over the phone, assistance, as well as information on research and state-of-the-art techniques, will be provided.

In emergency situations, physicians calling will be connected directly to the emergency room at Lubbock General Hospital, the primary teaching hospital for the School of Medicine's Lubbock campus. Intensive care units are available at the hospital for burn, cardiovascular, medical, neonatal, pediatric and surgery patients.

Community physicians also will have access to Emergency Medical Services ambulances and the REACT (Regional Emergency Air Care Transport) fixed-wing air ambulance.

Programs similar to Tel-Tech have been developed in other medical schools throughout the United States and have been very successful, Salley said. Patient care appears to improve as a result of communication between community and faculty physicians.

More information may be obtained by calling the toll-free number.

Doris Morgan named

Doris Morgan with Deaf Smith General Hospital has been named to the Bivins Rehabilitation Center Professional Advisory Committee.

The committee has been established to review and evaluate the Center's policies and procedures on a regular basis, to advise the program staff, and to act as a liaison between Bivins Rehabilitation Center and other health care providers in the Panhandle.

The first meeting of the committee was Nov. 19, and the committee reviewed the history of Bivins, the purpose of the committee, the planned expansion of Bivins, elected officers and planned items for upcoming meetings.

Bivins Rehabilitation Center is operated by High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo.

DR. GOTT

Peter
Gott, M.D.

Medication needs changing

DEAR DR. GOTT — I was overmedicated with Inderal, and dry mouth and throat resulted. I have no saliva at all. Will pilocarpine help? Do you have any suggestions?

DEAR READER — Even small amounts of the beta-blocker Inderal can cause dry mouth. Ask your doctor to change you to another medicine, rather than having you try to overcome the side-effects of one medicine by using another. Chewing gum may stimulate saliva production. Remember that dry mouth may be caused by factors other than medication, so ask your doctor about this.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What is an IGE blood test for allergies? Is it more accurate than the scratch test?

DEAR READER — The disease-fighting proteins (globulins) in our bodies can be separated into groups: A, E, G, and so forth. By measuring immunoglobulin E (IGE), allergists can partially assess a person's allergic response, the way the patient reacts to substances that cause allergies.

On the other hand, by introducing tiny amounts of material into the skin and measuring the subsequent swelling and redness, an allergist can determine precisely what components the patient is reacting to. Therefore, the IGE test gives general information, skin testing provides more specific data. Both types of tests can be useful in evaluating an allergic patient.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a 29-year-old female. I recently found very unsightly broken veins on my thighs and ankles. What causes them? Is there anything I can do to make them go away or to prevent them?

DEAR READER — You seem to be describing a variety of varicose veins. The tendency to vein swelling may be inherited. Elastic stockings or supportive wrapping may help prevent further distension of the blood vessels. Elevation of the feet on a hassock or footstool (after work) may relieve pressure in the veins. If the condition progresses, you may have to consider surgical removal of the dilated veins, a procedure called venous stripping. Ask your doctor to keep an eye on the situation and advise you what to do.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My diaphragm has ballooned on the right side, pushing up into the bottom of my right lung. Do you know the cause and consequences, and is there anything that can be done for it? Could this be connected to the fact that, 10 years ago, I had a mastectomy on my right side?

DEAR READER — As we breathe, the broad, flat diaphragmatic muscles contract and suck air into the lungs. If one of the two diaphragm sheets does not contract, air will not enter one lung. Therefore, we need both diaphragms to function normally.

Ballooning of the diaphragm usually indicates that the muscle is not contracting. This could be due to congenital malformation. However, in adults, the disorder is usually caused by loss of nerve impulses to the muscle.

Rebekah Lodge to install new officers in January

Officers were elected for the new term when members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228 met in regular session Tuesday evening at I.O.O.F. Hall. The group will be installed in January.

During the business session with Noble Grand Kee Ruland presiding, 20 visits, 18 cards, two flowers and seven dishes of food were reported. It was announced that a notice was received by Leona Sowell that she will receive the Degree of Chivalry in March 1986 when Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly of Texas convene in San Antonio.

Karrol Rettman served as hostess to Wallace Shelton, Fred Ruland, Verna Sowell, Dorothy Lundry, Lydia Hopson, Ada Hollabaugh, Susie Curtsinger, Faye Brownlow, Kee Ruland, Leona Sowell, Glessie Shelton, Guy Lawrence, Bessie Lawrence, Ursalee Jacobsen, Peggy Lemons and Edna Mathes.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Janovec are the parents of a daughter, Lacey Nicole, born Nov. 21. She weighed 7 lbs. 1½ oz.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS
 RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Gold necklaces, especially chain ones, will be popular Christmas gifts this year, predicts Robert A. Rubinoff. Rubinoff, a Best Products Co. Inc. executive, also says early indications are that microwave ovens, coffee makers, toaster ovens and electric can openers will be among the most frequently received kitchen appliances.

You can help keep your backyard free of mosquitoes if you regularly clean clogged roof gutters and drain flat roofs, so no water stays.

Donaldson explains purpose of Cornerstone Ministries

Jim Donaldson of the Cornerstone Ministries was the guest speaker when members of The American Legion Auxiliary of Post 192 met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Legion Hall.

Donaldson explained the purposes and aims of the ministries.

Following the program, the business meeting was held with President Gene Holder presiding. It was announced that the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo was scheduled to have a groundbreaking ceremony today with National VA officials attending including Vice-president George Bush. Members were reminded that their help will be needed at the VA Hospital Christmas Gift Shop for decorating the hospital entry room, Dec. 8-10.

Hostess serving refreshments to the auxiliary and Legion members were Holden and Willie Vinton.

THE LARGE AND SMALL OF HOTEL ROOMS
 SADDLE BROOK, N.J. (AP) — While most hotel guests ask for a room with a view, the majority of them don't ask about the size of the room they are getting, says David I. Karpilow.

Karpilow, marketing director for Treadway Hotels, says hotel reservation clerks know the size of the rooms in the hotel and will tell you if you ask.

The mail roads in early England were higher because earth was thrown from the side ditches toward the center. They were called "highways". Smaller private roads became known as "byways".

Ways with Wine

by David Hutchins

PUREST OF SPIRITS

The most important reason for the popularity of vodka with modern drinkers is that it does not add strong flavor to a cocktail. It makes a drink that is often deceptively mild taste "spiritless." It also does not have any smell. Vodka has a reputation for being the purest of spirits, the one least likely to leave one with a hangover. This last claim has some validity because vodka contains no residual flavoring elements that must be processed by the digestive system. Despite its neutral taste and water-like appearance, the national drink of Russia is definitely a strong spirit. It usually ranges from 80 to 100 proof. Vodkas made in other countries are sometimes stronger. They can range from 120 to 160 U.S. proof.

Figures are supplied to Colorado Ski Country USA, a ski-industry organization, by individual areas.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — It appears that Texas Tech's Red Raiders may become the "Orange" Raiders with the acquisition of the Longhorns' top West Texas recruiter.

John Mize, a University of Texas assistant coach who recruited in Texas Tech's backyard for the Longhorns, was added to the Red Raider football coaching staff Wednesday by new Head Coach David McWilliams, who is fresh from Austin himself.

McWilliams — who was Texas' defensive coordinator before being hired Monday by Athletic Director T. Jones, an ex-associate athletic director at Texas — also announced that Dean Slayton had agreed to stay at Texas Tech.

Slayton was a defensive coach on the staff of Jerry Moore, who was fired as Tech coach in late November.

Mize, 39, was a member of Fred Akers' Texas orange-shirted staff for the past nine seasons. As West Texas recruiter, he lured such players as Jerry Gray and Tony Degrate to the UT campus. He coached the offensive line before moving to defensive tackles this past season.

Mize was a high school coach in Arkansas and was on the coaching staffs of Texas A&M and West Texas State before going to UT.

Mainord and Clovis Hale had agreed to join his staff.

Dykes coached with McWilliams at Texas for five years before becoming head coach at Midland Lee High School, a job he left to join the Texas Tech staff.

McWilliams said specific coaching duties of his new staff have not been assigned.

Harris Rating System's picks for high school playoff games

This week's Harris Rating System picks in the Texas high school football semifinal playoff games are as follows, with team won-loss records in parenthesis:

CLASS AAAAA: Odessa Permian (12-0-1) by 21 over Irving MacArthur (9-2-2); Cypress-Fairbanks (12-0-1) by 1 over Conroe (11-1-1); Houston Yates (13-0) by 20 over Houston Jones (10-2-1); Converse Judson (12-1) by 4 over San Antonio Holmes (12-1).

CLASS AAAA: Sweetwater (11-1) by 13 over Lubbock Estacado (11-0-1); Denison (13-0) by 15 over Austin Westlake (11-2); Tomball (12-0) by 10 over Bay City (12-0); New Braunfels (12-0) by 12 over Corpus Christi Calallen (10-2).

CLASS AAA: Vernon (11-2) by 8 over Post (11-2); Daingerfield (13-0) by 7 over Pittsburg (11-2); Cameron Yoe (11-0-1) by 1 over Van Vleck (13-0); Cuero (12-1) by 4 over San Antonio Cole (11-1).

CLASS AA: Hamlin (13-0) by 13 over Abernathy (12-1); Electra (13-0) by 7 over Pilot Point (13-0); Groveton (13-0) by 7 over Tatum (13-0); Thorndale (12-1) by 1 over Shiner (11-1-1).

The first rookie to play in a major league baseball All-Star Game was Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees in 1936. DiMaggio was hitless in five at-bats and made an error in the field.

Regarding final college football polls

Penn State is in familiar position

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Joe Paterno, who has seen three previous Penn State teams cap perfect seasons with Orange Bowl victories only to have the national championship trophy wind up in somebody else's showcase, hates the idea of that happening again to this year's undefeated Nittany Lions.

What's more, he's got a way to prevent it — if not this season, then in the future. He wants college football to adopt a playoff system.

"I know a lot of people are not in favor of it, but you're asking me and I hate to see anybody voted out of a national championship," he said. "It's happened to us three times."

In 1969, Penn State completed an 11-0 season with a 15-14 Orange Bowl victory over Kansas and then saw Ohio State win the championship. In 1970, Paterno's team defeated Missouri 10-3 at Miami for another 11-0 finish, and watched Texas, with a presidential endorsement from Richard Nixon, win the championship. Each time, Penn State finished No. 2.

Later, Paterno wondered how come the president knew so much about college football and so little about Watergate.

In 1974, Penn State finished 12-0 after beating Louisiana State 16-9 in the Orange Bowl. It earned the Nittany Lions a No. 5 ranking behind national champion Notre Dame.

"I felt if we had played (the teams that finished No. 1) on the field, we'd have won," Paterno said.

Paterno's playoff plan would take four teams after the bowl games and advance them to the semifinal round of a national tournament on the first Saturday after New Year's Day. In a year like 1986, when Jan. 1 falls in mid-week, the game would be scheduled 10 days later with the championship game the following week.

The Penn State coach said most schools are on break between the fall and spring semesters at that time of year and so missed class time would not be a factor. He also pointed out that the NCAA already sponsors playoffs in all other sports, including football at the Division I-AA, Division II and Division III levels.

"We ought to be doing in our sport what we do in every other sport under NCAA auspices," Paterno said. "The 1,500-meter swimming championship is decided head to head. Wrestling, lacrosse, soccer, volleyball, gymnastics ... you wouldn't have people looking at gymnasts in different parts of the country and then voting on who's the best."

With Penn State No. 1 going into the Orange Bowl, a victory over No. 4 Oklahoma might be expected to seal the national championship for Paterno's team. Lurking at No. 2 is Miami, headed for a Sugar Bowl date with No. 8 Tennessee.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, while worrying about a date this week against Southern Methodist, could be excused for thinking that if his team survives that test and goes on to beat Penn State, it would have a valid claim on the playoff-less national championship.

But what happens, Paterno was asked, if No. 2 Miami, already armed with an earlier victory over Oklahoma, wins its bowl game, too. Who's No. 1 then?

"Let them fight that one out," he said, adding thoughtfully, "if they beat us."

Rader named 3rd base coach of White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — White Sox Manager Tony LaRussa says former Texas Rangers manager Doug Rader has been named third-base coach of the Chicago team.

Rader, 41, was fired last May after managing the Rangers since 1983. He replaced Jim Leyland, who was hired as the new manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the White Sox said Wednesday.

Rader, who played 10 years in the major leagues, had a 155-200 record in his 2½ seasons with the Rangers.

He is known to White Sox fans for coining the expression "winning ugly" to describe the 1983 White Sox team that won the American League West title.

A Chicago native, Rader played eight seasons with the Houston

Astros, winning five consecutive Gold Gloves from 1970-74. He also played with San Diego and Toronto. His major-league totals were a .251 batting average with 155 home runs and 722 RBIs.

The U.S. infant-death rate has fallen dramatically since 1940. But the black infant-death rate (currently, 19.2 per 1,000 live births) is still almost double that of whites (now at 9.7).

The highest tides in the world are found in the Bay of Fundy, that separates New Brunswick from Nova Scotia in Canada.

Winningham stars as daughter of deaf parents

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mare Winningham can measure some of the milestones of her life by her movies. She met her husband, Bill Mapel, when he was technical adviser on the 1981 TV movie "Freedom."

"We have three children," she said. "I was four months pregnant when I did 'A Few Days in Weasel Creek.' I was five months pregnant when I played Helen Keller in 'Teacher.' I was three months pregnant when I did 'St. Elmo's Fire.'"

Miss Winningham's latest movie, "Love Is Never Silent," a "Hallmark Fall of Fame" drama, will be broadcast Monday night on NBC.

In that film, she plays a young woman in conflict between her world of the hearing and the silent world of her deaf parents. The movie is set in the 1930s and '40s, when many deaf people were ashamed to use sign language in public.

"Love Is Never Silent" is adapted from the book "In This Sign" by Joanne Greenberg. It also stars Cloris Leachman, Sid Caesar, Phyllis Frelich, Ed Waterstreet and Fred Lehne. Miss Frelich, who is deaf and won a Tony for her Broadway appearance in "Children of a Lesser God," plays the mother. Waterstreet, also deaf, is the father.

Miss Winningham had to learn to sign for the film. She did not need it when she played Helen Keller because Miss Keller was blind and used finger spelling.

"Signing is often not just words, but concepts. Sometimes in my scenes I'd have to sign, speak my lines and interpret Phyllis and Ed. My brain would be in constant motion, doing two or three things at once. The director had to keep the pace going. 'Mare, can you speak up? Mare, can you sign?' It was like music, integrating Phyllis' and Ed's lines into mine."

Miss Winningham said verbalizing was "like providing subtitles. That's the only way the audience will know what Phyllis and Ed are signing."

The actress sees the role as a companion piece to "Teacher." "I knew after I did Helen Keller that wasn't the end of it," she said. "They both were roles I felt personally nurtured by."

Miss Winningham has completed ABC's "The Pete Gray Story," in which Keith Carradine stars as a one-armed baseball player. "I had a great reunion with Dennis Weaver, who played my father in 'Amber Waves,'" she said. "I didn't know he was in the picture until he walked into the make-up trailer. I nearly fainted."

The first American troops reached German soil in 1944, during World War II.

Artist of the Month

Lisa Williamson Jackson, a member of the Amarillo Fine Arts Association, was chosen as Chamber artist of the month for December. Proud of her Cherokee heritage, Jackson specializes in native American Indian designs. She especially enjoys painting designs of Pueblo tribes of New Mexico and Arizona. Here, Jackson shows some of her stained glass work, done in rich earth tones that compliment the Indian culture.

Ann Landers

Statement disputed

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You did it again and I am furious. Several years ago you used a tired, inane, senseless line and several men and their mothers wrote to object. You promised not to use it again, but here it is—plain as day. I refer to that stupid saying, "A son is a son until he takes a wife, but a daughter is a daughter all of her life."

Your contention was when sons marry they are taken over by their wives' family and drift away from their own. I worried when I read that because I had seen it happen in some cases. My own husband, however, remained very close to his parents and so did his three brothers.

Our sons, ages 34 and 30, remain quite close to us and I see no signs that this will change, so will you please knock it off, Annie? It doesn't wash.—TEED OFF IN SANTA MONICA

DEAR TEED: Sorry to dispute your statement, but the old saying is quite true in at least seven out of ten marriages, according to the mail we receive in this office—and our mail is just about as honest a barometer as you will ever find. People tell me the truth. No reason for them to lie. I don't know them and they don't know me. Many letters are unsigned.

The major complaint from mothers about their married sons is this one: "We never see our sons anymore. They are always at their in-laws' house because that's the way their wives want it. We feel very hurt, especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas." I'm glad it's different with your sons, but they are exceptions, not the rule.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was interested in your reply to the woman who wanted to know if it was OK for a physician to give his teenage (older) daughters pelvic examinations. You said the doctors with whom you consulted were not in favor of treating members of their own family.

What about nurses who work in the offices of physicians? Should their male boss give them pelvic examinations? BLOOMINGTON, IND.

DEAR BLOOMINGTON: I consulted three physicians. One said no. Two said they did perform such examinations because their nurses insisted. The women claimed they had more confidence in their bosses than in any other doctor. Also it was more convenient: no appointment, no waiting and no bill.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My boyfriend (21) and I (20) have been going out together for the past six years. We've both gone out with other people but for the past three years we've dated each other exclusively. We have problems like other couples, but one thing about him bothers me a lot.

Jerry can't verbalize his feelings for me. I realize his family life has a lot to do with it (cold parents). But I am so tired of saying, "I love you," and hearing him say, "I do you, too." I know he loves me but I need to hear him say it. Any suggestions?—SILENT LOVE IN THE CAROLINAS

DEAR CAROLINAS: Once you break the sound barrier, things will be better. Give him lessons like this: "Repeat after me: I LOVE

YOU..."After he hears himself say it a few times it will be easier. Respond enthusiastically when he does. Patience, persistence and appreciation are the key words.

Ann Landers' booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," explains every aspect of sexual behavior—where to draw the line, how to say no, the various methods of contraception, the dangers of VD, the symptoms and where to get help. For a copy, send $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

Ninety-five percent of the world's emeralds are produced in Colombia. The Muzo Emerald Mines, 75 miles from the capital of Bogota, have been operating for four centuries. Colombia also produces such precious metals as gold, silver, copper and platinum.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Christmas trees need watering

DEAR POLLY — Is there anything that a Christmas tree can be sprayed with to keep it green throughout the holidays? Ours always seems to turn brown so fast. — MARTHA

DEAR MARTHA — Let's hope your tree stays green. If it is turning brown, throw it out! The best way to keep a tree green and fresh is to keep it well watered.

Check the water reservoir of your tree stand every single day and add water whenever the level gets low. Some families still set up a tree Christmas Eve. When you're setting up the tree, cut a slice off the bottom of the trunk so the fresh wood will be exposed to soak up as much moisture as possible. Keeping the tree away from excessive heat (such as hot air registers or radiators) will help keep it fresh. As soon as it starts to turn brittle and brown, get rid of the tree. A dry tree is a fire hazard. Don't try to disguise a dangerously dry tree with dyes and paints! — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — After the excitement of opening Christmas gifts, there always seems to be a letdown for my kids. Now I get them seven small extra gifts, wrap them and give them one every day until New Year's Day. These are small inexpensive things — a pair of homemade mittens, perhaps a free toy from a cereal company offer, etc. I think they enjoy these little surprises as much or more than the big gifts on Christmas! — Mrs. J.G.

DEAR MRS. J.G. — This is a nice way to tone down that after-Christmas letdown. Your helpful Pointers earns you the Pointer of the Week award, a copy of my book "Polly's Pointers: 1081 Helpful Hints for Making Everything Last Longer." Others who would like this book can order it for $6.50. Make check payable to POLLY'S POINTERS and send to POLLY'S POINTERS, Box 1216, Dept. 55, Cincinnati, OH 45201. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — After cleaning my pewter for the holidays, I rub it with a soft cloth and a little petroleum jelly. This gives an attractive finish and protects the pewter from discoloring so quickly. — P.L.

Dr. Breisch scheduled to speak

The Independent Scholar's Network will host Dr. Kenneth Breisch of the Texas Historical Commission at the regular meeting Dec. 8, 2:30 p.m., at Amarillo Central Library, Room AB, 4th and Buchanan.

His topic will be, "Recognizing Historical Architecture, Researching, Writing, Publishing It." A question and answer and discussion period will follow.

Fisherman reels in old human skull

CONROE, Texas (AP) — Anthony Scambray didn't have to check his household closet for skeletons — he found part of one in a local creek when he went bass fishing.

Scambray and his brother-in-law Eddie Cox were fishing at Rush Creek in Montgomery County when something apparently took the bait at the end of his fishing pole.

But Scambray's catch was not a fish. "I said, 'That's looks like some kind of head. And my brother-in-law said, 'It is a head,'" said Scambray of his catch last Friday. "I guess I hold the Conroe record for catching the most skelton heads while fishing."

Authorities say the human skull may be more than 40 years old.

The skull is covered with faded scribbles about World War II and slurs against the Japanese and may have been that of a war casualty, sheriff's deputies said.

Only two words were illegible in a poem printed from crown to forehead.

"Down the road marched out of the regiments the U.S. army knights shaping the queen of battle, 20 of their wounded...were...shot and clubbed by the yellow bellies."

The date April 22, 1942, is also distinguishable on the weathered skull, along with other phrases, "A good Jap" and "Remember August."

"The writing tends to make you think this person may have wound up this way because of the war or something like that," said sheriff's identification officer George Tones. "There's no way to know for sure."

The base of the skull and bottom of the left eye socket are missing, sheriff's Sgt. Noel Stanley said. Marks from the creek's vegetation are imprinted on the skull's entire left side.

Scambray said he and Cox alerted authorities, who jokingly asked what kind of bait he had used.

"And that's the odd part," he said. "I used a gray, transparent plastic worm commonly known to fishermen as ghost worms."

But Scambray said he hopes the next time he goes fishing, he catches something other than a skull. "I plan on going again, but I want fish on the end of my pole, not a head," he said. "I didn't know what to think when I first saw it. I thought maybe it was some kind of devil-worshipping thing."

On B-1 bomber

West Texas native among first to fly, instruct ABILENE, Texas (AP) — As a pilot of the B-1 Bomber, Air Force Maj. Larry Jordan said the folks back home may have a hard time relating to his job.

"They're too busy fighting the battles of their own little budgets," he said.

A veteran of nearly 100 bombing missions over Southeast Asia, including North Vietnam, Jordan acknowledged his role as a "tool" of politicians.

"The military is the scalpel of the politician," he said. "And if he sees a cancer he can't remove by political means, then he'll take his scalpel and go in and cut it out."

Jordan said the B-52 is "1960 technology. It was designed to do a different mission. It's a high altitude bomber."

A major advantage the B-1 has over the B-52, he said, is that it can fly at high speeds at altitudes of 500 to 1,000 feet, which helps the plane to elude enemy radar scopes.

"We're sitting in 1975 technology now," he said, surveying the cockpit and referring to the plane's original design during the administration of President Jimmy Carter.

Carter killed the B-1 program, deciding the country could save money by concentrating research on a new generation of airplane — the Stealth Bomber, Jordan said.

But designers of the current B-1, called the B-1B after President Reagan revived the program, incorporated much of the Stealth's advanced technology.

"The smooth design — no square corners — that's all a part of what they call Stealth technology," Jordan said.

The plane also features wing sections that mechanically change position and sweep backward, thereby removing the plane's "signature" from enemy radar, he said.

The effect produces an image "like the head of a pin" on a radar screen, he said.

Inside, the plane carries a crew of four: pilot, copilot and offensive and defensive "systems coordinators," he said.

Jordan compared the offensive coordinator to the bombardier on older World War II-model airplanes. "He operates the computer that can release weapons or launch missiles," he said.

"The defense coordinator primarily is charged with keeping us from getting shot down," he said. "He has jammers or electronic transmitters that will send signals to confuse a radar screen. We don't have any guns or what you might call an active defense."

"We just try to hide, and we use electronics to do that."

Jordan called his work on the B-1 project, "the highlight of my career."

He is the plane's only designated flight instructor in the Strategic Air Command — the military command center in Omaha, Neb., that coordinates U.S. air and missile operations.

Examiners have unique experiences

Drivers license examiners have a unique job. They deal with every type of person imaginable. As a result, they have some great "war stories." Here's one of them:

An examiner is giving an oral examination to an applicant who can't read.

Examiner: What is meant by the term, over-driving your headlights?
Applicant: It's when you're driving so fast that the wind blows your headlight beam back into your face and you become blind.

An elderly female asked the officer why he had stopped her. "You're travelling 55 MPH in a 35 MPH zone," he replied. "Why, officer," she said, "in the papers and on radio and television they keep asking us to drive 55 MPH to conserve energy—I was only trying to comply."

Nystagmus can be observed directly and requires no special equipment. The officer needs something for the suspect to follow with his eyes. This can be the tip of the finger or the eraser on a pencil. Most officers use a small penlight. Thus, the term "penlight test." The great majority of drunk driving arrests are made during the nighttime hours. The light is not used to shine into the suspect's eyes to check for dilation or contraction of the pupil, but merely because the light is easier for them to see and follow.

The Newspaper BIBLE

A 4,000 YEAR-OLD PROMISE—STILL VALID!

The High Priest asked Stephen, "Are these accusations true?" This was Stephen's lengthy reply: "The glorious God appeared to our ancestor Abraham in Iraq before he moved to Syria, and told him to leave his native land, to say good-bye to his relatives and to start out for a country that God would direct him to."

"So he left the land of the Chaldeans and lived in Haran, in Syria, until his father died. Then God brought him here to the land of Israel, but gave him no property of his own, not one little tract of land. However, God promised that eventually the whole country would belong to him and his descendants—though as yet he had no children!"

"But God also told him that these descendants of his would leave the land and live in a foreign country and there become slaves for 400 years. 'But I will punish the nation that enslaves them,' God told him, 'and afterwards My people will return to this land of Israel and worship Me here.'"

"God also gave Abraham the ceremony of circumcision at that time, as evidence of the covenant between God and the people of Abraham. And so Isaac, Abraham's son, was circumcised when he was eight days old. Isaac became the father of Jacob, and Jacob was the father of the twelve patriarchs of the Jewish nation."

"These men were very jealous of Joseph and sold him to be a slave in Egypt. But God was with him, and delivered him out of all his anguish, and gave him favor before Pharaoh, king of Egypt." Acts 7:1-10
