

Helpful driver shot, truck found near Westway

By JERI CURTIS
Staff Writer
A tanker truck hijacked in New Mexico Monday night was found just west of Westway on Harrison Highway early today, emptied of its $8,000 worth of diesel fuel.

Larry Cone, a driver for Shipley-Phillips, Inc., is reported in stable condition after surgery at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. He was taken to Trigg Hospital in Tucumcari Monday night after walking "quite a ways" to a farm house for help, according to New Mexico state police dispatcher Roberta Parker.

when he noticed a woman standing by an apparently disabled pickup by the side of N.M. 18 about six miles from Ragland, N.M. When he looked under the hood, a man came out from hiding and shot Cone three times in the back. Ragland is about 24 miles south of Tucumcari.

Sheriff Travis McPherson said officers believe the load of fuel was switched to another truck about 10 miles farther west. The saddle tanks on the truck were also emptied.

McPherson said the couple was probably driving a blue pickup with a camper shell which may have had an animal skin or rawhide covering the back opening. The pickup was described by several passing vehicles and Cone told N.M. Trooper Ken

Chamber directors elected

Charlie Bell, Rosie Griffin, Steve Nieman and Gary Phipps have been elected as 1983 directors for Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today by Bill Johnson, C of C president.

The four were elected from a field of eight candidates on the C of C ballots, which were mailed to all members. "We had a fine slate of nominees, and the voting was very close," Johnson reported. The four will assume their posts in January when the new chamber year begins. They were elected for three-year terms and will succeed Tom Burdett, Bob Gentry, Bill Johnson and Bill Reinauer. Johnson will remain on the board as immediate past president.

Hijacked Truck

Hijacked near Ragland, N.M., and drained of $8,000 worth of diesel fuel Monday night, Larry Cone's green and gold Kenworth rig was found near Westway on Harrison Highway early today. Cone stopped to help what appeared to be a woman with a disabled blue pickup with Texas tags, but as he looked under the hood he was shot three times in the back by a man who jumped out of hiding. Cone walked to a farm house for help and was taken to Trigg Hospital in Tucumcari,

N.M., before being transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. FBI agents are investigating the case with fingerprinting scheduled for today. The truck has been impounded in Hereford. (Brand Photo by Jeri Curtis)

Reagan reaffirms U. S. support for Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan called today for a prompt withdrawal of all foreign forces from Lebanon and declared that Lebanon can count on U.S. support in rebuilding its society.

"I reaffirm U.S. support for the sovereignty, unity, territorial integrity and freedom of Lebanon," Reagan said following meetings here with Lebanon's new president, Amin Gemayel.

Reagan said the talks covered a full range of issues but focused "on our shared objective of a prompt withdrawal of all foreign forces from Lebanon."

He said Gemayel "deserves all of our support as he and the people of Lebanon worked to rebuild their nation."

But Reagan also said he didn't know how soon a withdrawal of Israeli, Syrian and Palestinian troops from Lebanon can be arranged. "I would not hazard a guess," he said, although he declared it was the "immediate problem" the United States is trying to solve.

For his part, Gemayel told Reagan, "The Lebanese people deeply appreciate and will never forget your courageous and decisive effort to help bring an end to the suffering of my country."

Gemayel, 40, planned to meet separately with Secretary of State George Shultz and Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger before leaving Washington tonight for Paris.

Reagan has put out the word to his Mideast negotiators to press for withdrawal of all foreign troops by the end of the year. That includes not just Israelis, but also Syrians and Palestinians. (See SUPPORT, Page 2)

Architects chosen for SEC

The Joint Architectural Committee for the Special Events Center announced today that the firm of Pierce, Goodwin, Alexander of Houston has been selected to be the architects for the project.

This recommendation will be carried to the Hereford Independent School District, Deaf Smith County Commissioners, and Hereford City Commission by their representatives on the committee, with approval being sought from each entity.

The architectural committee is and ad hoc group composed of two representatives from each of the local governmental units, along with three past presidents of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Jim Conkwright, a chamber past president who headed the preliminary planning group for the SEC, said that Pierce Goodwin, Alexander (PGA) "comes well recommended as one of the premier firms in the nation, with a diversity of clients and building types totaling more than $2.25 billion in construction value."

Conkwright said some of the specific projects of note include the Dallas Metropolitan YWCA, Aerobics Research Center of Dallas, Rice University library, University Center at the University of Houston, the Space Lab at Texas A&M, administration building for the University of Arkansas, various buildings at Texas Tech, Baylor, SMU and the University of Texas, the entire contract on Houston Intercontinental Airport, a new addition at M.D. Anderson Hospital, the headquarters office of Exxon Corp., Galleria Bank of Houston, and many other noteworthy projects. The city of Hereford purchased the planter box in front of the store. Commissioners said although each property owner built the boxes, it is considered public property.

A special meeting will be held at 3 p.m. Oct. 25 to consider hiring of an architect for the Special Events Center.

With trade-ins, the five units will cost $37,756.80. A bid submitted by Stevens Chevrolet was for $45,706.65. One bid was submitted for a flow meter to be installed at the sewage treatment plant. The $3,329 item was purchased from AAA of Amarillo. Betty Boone of the Panhandle Plains Higher Education Authority requested, and was

Business group honors Hance

Rep. Kent Hance of Lubbock has earned the "Guardian of Small Business" Award, and an endorsement for re-election, from the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) for his voting record on small-business issues.

The nation's largest small-business group presented Hance with the award because he voted with a majority of NFIB members 76 percent of the time.

On announcing the award, NFIB President Wilson S. Johnson said, "The voting record of Rep. Hance this Congress demonstrates that he is responsive to the needs of his state, because small businesses create the majority of new jobs and if left to flourish will be a major factor in restoring economic growth."

House members were rated on 22 recorded votes during this session of Congress. Issues ranged from cutting the budget to raising unemployment taxes and forcing the government to pay its bills on time. Those members of Congress who did not have recorded votes on at least 70 percent of the issues included in the ratings were not eligible for the Award. NFIB is a non-profit, non-partisan organization representing 45,622 small-business owners in Texas and more than a half-million independent businesses across the country.

City purchases five police cars

The city bought five new police cars from Hereford Ford Lincoln Mercury after opening two bids at the commission's regular meeting Monday night.

With trade-ins, the five units will cost $37,756.80. A bid submitted by Stevens Chevrolet was for $45,706.65.

One bid was submitted for a flow meter to be installed at the sewage treatment plant. The $3,329 item was purchased from AAA of Amarillo. Betty Boone of the Panhandle Plains Higher Education Authority requested, and was granted, permission for the authority to sell $25 million in bonds on the open market for student loans.

The commissioners rejected a request from Caryn's Hallmark to remove the planter box in front of the store. Commissioners said although each property owner built the boxes, it is considered public property.

Two property tax collection measures on Nov. 2 ballot

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Voters decide Nov. 2 on two important proposed property tax collection methods — one at the state level and the second for local taxes.

Proposition No. 1 repeals the state property tax, which has been unprofitable to collect since 1980 because of a long, bitter fight over state college construction financing.

Proposition No. 3 would exempt agricultural machinery from local property taxes, a move that some state legislators say they thought they did when they passed present property tax laws in 1981.

The proposal to wipe the state property tax from the Constitution vitally affects construction and maintenance funds at state colleges and universities not in the University of Texas and Texas A&M systems. In these two systems construction is paid by income from the Permanent University Fund, which has been built up mostly from oil and gas leases on state-owned lands.

In 1956, the Legislature authorized a state levy of 10 cents per $100 valuation to help 17 state colleges outside the two systems, and it was approved by voters. The tax was challenged in court, and in 1980 the Legislature reduced it to .0001 percent, which made it unprofitable to collect.

However, in 1982, Midwestern University of Wichita Falls went to court claiming the Legislature has no right to change a tax rate that was set by popular vote in the Constitution.

The proposed change on the Nov. 2 ballot would repeal the 10 cents tax, which is still in the Constitution, and would authorize the Legislature to make general revenue appropriations to the 17 colleges for building funds.

The special legislative session in May also approved a bill, effective only if voters change the Constitution, to appropriate about $151 million to the 17 colleges for building funds.

Gov. Bill Clements has long advocated repeal of the state property tax, saying, "There is no such thing as too much tax relief, in my opinion."

Other advocates say property taxation should be left to local governments.

There have been no apparent organized opposition, although opponents during legislative debates argue the 10-cent levy should be reduced to three cents. They say this would provide plenty of building money for the colleges without adding more burdens to the general revenue fund, which comes largely from sales tax collections.

The proposal to exempt agricultural machinery — "implements of husbandry" — is backed by 21 separate agricultural groups in an organization called the "Vote for 3 Committee." The late Sen. John Wilson, D-La Grange, was chairman.

Wilson, who authored the original legislation, said in forming the committee that the 1981 change was intended to exempt all agricultural machinery, but an opinion by Attorney General Mark White limited it to only $15,000.

Supporters of the amendment say this must be changed because the tractors used by many farmers now cost at least $40,000.

Rep. John Sharp, D-Placedo, estimated the loss to local taxing authorities would be small, about $2 million statewide.

Opponents say the exemption would merely shift taxation from farmers and ranchers to other taxpayers, such as owners of homes and businesses.

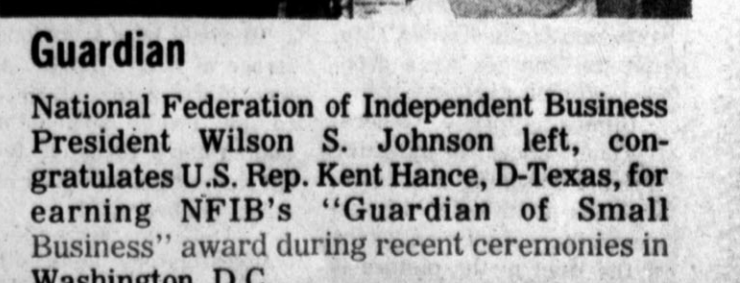

Photo clue may be significant

CHICAGO (AP) — Investigators in the Tylenol poisoning case say they may have an "extremely significant" clue in a surveillance photo that may show a prime suspect watching one of the victims buying the tainted drug.

The photograph, made public Monday, was taken by a surveillance camera in a Chicago drug store where one of the victims, 35-year-old Paula Prince, bought a bottle of Extra-Strength Tylenol containing cyanide-tainted capsules.

In the photo, Miss Prince is standing near a checkout counter in the store. In the background, looking toward her, is a bearded man resembling Theodore Elmer Wilson, who along with his wife, Leann, was described Monday as a "prime suspect" in the case. Miss Prince later died. Sources close to the investigation, who declined to be identified, said such a photo could be the case's first real homicide clue — an indication the culprit was interested in its outcome and its victims.

update tuesday

Flock of whooping cranes arriving

AUSTWELL, Texas (AP) — Fourteen rare whooping cranes have arrived to spend the winter at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Coast.

Frank Johnson, refuge manager, said 13 adults and one chick were sighted during an airplane flight over the coastal sanctuary Monday.

None of the birds was spotted on a similar flight last week, but there were reports some of the migrating fowl were sighted in the Austwell area over the weekend, he said.

"We had 73 last spring and there were possibly five young ones hatched this year so we may get 78, we hope," Johnson said. "They usually keep trickling in until late November."

Johnson said the whoopers wintering in South Texas are among about 115 members of the endangered species known to exist.

Jury to consider motion on mistrial

GALVESTON, Texas (AP) — A jury in the second trial of prison inmate Eroy Brown will be asked to decide if the judge in Brown's first capital murder trial was too hasty in declaring a mistrial.

Brown is accused in the April 4, 1981 drowning death of Wallace Pack, warden of the Ellis Unit at the Texas Department of Corrections near Huntsville.

Brown's first trial before State District Judge Henry Dalehite ended in a mistrial after a jury ended three and one-half days of deliberation with an 10-2 vote for acquittal.

Visiting State District Judge Darrell B. Hester approved a defense motion Monday that will allow the new jury to decide if Dalehite "improperly terminated" the trial.

If the new jury should find that Dalehite was in error, the new trial would be voided and Brown could not be retried in the death of Pack. Brown has not been tried in the death of Moore.

Jury selection started Monday in Brown's second trial, but no jurors were selected.

Brown, who was serving a 12-year sentence for aggravated robbery, also is accused in the shooting death of Billy Max Moore, farm manager at the Ellis Unit.

Funeral today for retired judge

HALLSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Funeral services were planned today for Sam B. Hall Sr., Texas' oldest retired judge and the father of a Texas congressman, who died here at age 94.

Services were set for 10:30 a.m. today at Eastern Hills Church of Christ in Marshall, followed by interment in Greenwood Cemetery of Marshall.

Hall died Saturday at his home in this community just west of Marshall. He was born near Hallsville and lived all his life in the area. His health had declined rapidly the past two months.

Hall was a former county attorney and district judge and was a member of the Texas Bar Association for 50 years.

His father moved to Texas before the Civil War and served four years in the Confederate Army.

Born Sept. 12, 1888, Hall received his education in the Hallsville public schools and the University of Texas and received his license to practice law in 1913. He served in the Army in World War I.

Voters of Harrison County elected him county attorney in 1942. Six years later, he was voted 71st District Judge for Harrison and Gregg Counties, a seat he held for 21 years until he retired in 1969.

Defendant in $15 million extortion plot

HOUSTON (AP) — Timothy K. Justice, 30, who has admitted placing five bombs inside a Gulf Oil Chemical Co. plant near here in a $15 million extortion attempt, has been transferred here from Durango, Colo. under an assumed name.

Justice, of Durango, was placed by U.S. marshals in the downtown jail's maximum security unit early Sunday under the name of John Lowe.

U.S. Atty. Dan Hedges refused to confirm the transfer but Sheriff's Major Larry Frazier said Justice was placed in an isolation unit in the county jail.

The other defendants are John McBride, 46, jailed in Durango, and Michael Allen Worth, 34, and Theodore McKinney, 45, both jailed in Phoenix, Ariz.

Oklahoma wait for me

It's pecan-pickin' time in Oklahoma and I'll be there in Bartlesville in November.

Between football seasons, who cares where is Oklahoma? On the map it looks flat, arid, in hospitable.

Oklahoma is two-dimensions on purpose, that neither ocean mist nor horizon mountains may obscure the world's only sky that is guaranteed solid 24 carat gold twice a day.

Oklahoma, I was a boy there. I still am.

We're both less than ripe yet.

Subtract 75 years this year and Oklahoma is Indian Territory.

Grandparents can remember when these alabasters towers were teepees.

TV towers rise where signal fires spoke in smoke — less than one lifetime ago.

Yet, with population migration west, Oklahoma is moving east. Yesterday will never let go from places like Broken: Bow, Broken Arrow — and Stillwater.

Oklahoma is young, spirited, unbridled; imports opera, exports country.

Yet, downwind from West Tulsa refineries the new breed breathes deep the seductive fragrance of evergreen money.

The lazy old river a boy could wade now brings trade ships from Shanghai and London — to Catoosa.

The Anadarko Basin is pregnant with twins; gas and oil.

From bulldozed midcity slums rise regal retail plazas.

Industry from a dozen states relocates to suckle the willing sweat and sweet water of Oklahoma.

I hear other people talk about other home-states, sometimes fondly, oft-times unforgiving or uncaring.

Oklies forgive Oklahoma and still care.

Oklahoma is imperfect. Part of it needs paint. Some of it wants for water. Some of it for soap and water.

But God likes it. He sends all his fires, quakes, hurricanes, and floods everywhere — except Oklahoma.

As I say, Oklahoma at 75 is underway.

On the back burner. Biding its time.

But right now the oaks are red, the maples and sweetgum are gold and the nut-tree leaves are yellow and shedding. It's pecan-pickin' time in Oklahoma; wait for me!

Perversion causes rape

The following article is a public service by the Hereford Brand through the cooperation of Roland Saul, Criminal District Attorney and The Prosecutor's Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of this County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems. This is the second in a series of articles on rape and it discusses the men who rape; who they are and why they do it. The third article will discuss the victim and the events which may follow the rape.

MEN WHO RAPE
THE MYTHS: Rapists are abnormal perverts. Rapists are men who have unsatisfactory sex lives. The reason for rape is sexual.

THE FACTS: Rapists are generally sexually active, have normal sex drives and are "normal" people who could relate to under other circumstances. Rapists are usually married and/or have available sexual partners.

WHY DOES A MAN RAPE: Studies have shown that rapists have a normal personality but an abnormal tendency to be aggressive and violent. There are individual differences in rapists but studies have shown that they share common problems. A rapist's early life is usually one of stress and trauma. Rapists are often neglected, abandoned children, children without a source of affection and support and were instilled with a sense of low self-esteem and distrust of others. A great majority of rapists were victims of child abuse or child sexual abuse.

The rapist's life is one of increasing failures in dealing with stress and pressures and establishing a sense of self, an adequate masculine image and mastery over his life. Typically, there is a feeling of having failed to achieve a sense of confidence in himself as a man, in both sexual and non-sexual areas.

These types of problems are not unique to a rapist. Only his response to these problems is unique. An alcoholic does not drink because he is thirsty and the rapist does not rape because he has a sexual need. Sexuality becomes the means of expressing aggressive needs and feelings.

Three patterns for expressing this aggression have been identified in rapists — anger, power and sadistic.

ANGER RAPISTS — More force than is necessary is used and the victim is brutalized and battered. Anger rapists are often married and do not have sex-related problems. The sexual act is used to degrade the victim. The rapist is retaliating for something he perceives or experiences are wrong-doings in his life. Such offenses appear spontaneous and unplanned. Often the rapist is so angered he cannot remember the details of the offense.

POWER RAPISTS — This is the most common type of rapist. These rapes are premeditated and the offender fantasizes that his victim will enjoy the experience.

It is not his intent to harm his victim, but in his effort to translate this fantasy into reality he will resort to force such as verbal threat, intimidation with a weapon or physical force to overcome the victim's resistance. In most cases, however, the victim is not physically harmed apart from the rape. The assault may be over an extended period of time, and the victim will be held hostage. The power rapists can often pass a polygraph test, believing the victim wanted and enjoyed the experience. This type of rape is the most difficult to prosecute because if the victim cooperates it is used against her in a trial, and victims usually cooperate if they feel they can avoid injury or death.

SADISTIC RAPES — This is the least common type of rape. It is the only type of rape where the offender finds the sexual abuse of his victim exciting and gratifying. The assault is usually ritualistic and bizarre. The victim may be tied up, burned, branded or murdered and mutilated. Regardless of the pattern, every rape is the sexual expression of power and anger. The greater the anger or need for power, the greater the risk of physical injury to the victim.

Interest rates dropping

By ROBERT BURNS AP Business Writer

The nation's financial markets, buoyed by the recent big dropoff in interest rates, shrugged off news that the nation's factories were working at their lowest level in 7 1/2 years.

Interest rates in the open market continued to fall Monday as the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks vaulted above the 1,000 mark after having slumped late last week. The widely watched index of blue-chip stocks climbed 26.12 points, to 1,019.22 — the highest level since April 27, 1981.

Bond prices added as much as $10 for every $1,000 in face value.

The figures paralleled the government's report last week that total output by factories and mines fell 0.6 percent in September.

United Way Drive is reaching goal

The United Way of Deaf Smith County's 1982 drive has reached the two-thirds point after a report meeting Monday which showed the campaign total at $84,660, 67 percent of the goal of $126,050.

The major Gifts Division continues to lead the pack with 93 percent of its goal accomplished and a total of $42,600 pledged. The General Division stands at the 84 percent mark with $5,901 pledged, while the Special Gifts Division has a total of $10,306, 69 percent of its goal.

The Employee and Agriculture Division is at the halfway mark of its goal with $20,297 pledged, 51 percent, and the Professional Division brings up the rear with 31 percent of its goal reached, and $5,556 pledged.

The campaign is scheduled to end Oct. 31.

Monday.

But the official, asking not to be identified, said, "We are going to be guided primarily by what the Lebanese think is possible."

He said a withdrawal this year "will be complicated and it will be difficult. Nevertheless, I think that it can be done quickly if the will is there on all sides."

Gemayel, 40, was holding two meetings with Reagan, one a working breakfast, followed by a meeting with the president and other officials in the Cabinet room. He also planned to meet separately with Secretary of State George Shultz and Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger before leaving Washington tonight for Paris.

Gemayel addressed the U.N. General Assembly Monday where he demanded "the immediate and unconditional withdrawal of all non-Lebanese foreign forces from Lebanon."

He also hailed U.S. efforts to rid his country of the foreign armies that have turned Lebanon into "an arena for terror and violence."

Gemayel addressed the Security Council later in support of his government's request for a three-month extension of the mandate of the 7,000-man U.N. peacekeeping force in southern Lebanon. The administration is supporting a two-month extension.

The administration has favored an expanded U.N. force to secure the Israeli border, while Israel wants a refurbished Lebanese army to do the job.

While it isn't enthusiastic, Washington also hasn't flatly ruled out the possibility of a multinational force, including U.S. troops, in the area.

The sessions with Gemayel are partly a follow-up to meetings last week between Shultz and Israeli Foreign Minister Yitzhak Shamir, who discussed an Israeli withdrawal plan that includes a Lebanese-Israeli security agreement for their border.

Washington had some objections, and Gemayel is expected to also oppose some aspects, particularly Israel's proposal to integrate the Israeli-supported right-wing militia of Major Saad Haddad into the Lebanese army to help protect the border.

Israel's demand for a prior withdrawal of the remaining Palestinian troops in Lebanon — ahead of Israeli and Syrian forces — also is complicating the outlook for a speedy withdrawal.

Depending on what emerges in the talks with Gemayel, Shultz may see Shamir in New York this weekend for another round of talks with the Israelis.

a $1 million extortion plot connected to the killings. His wife has been charged with using a fraudulent Social Security number in applying for a job.

Wilson was indicted in a 1978 murder in Kansas City, but the charges were dropped, officials say.

Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner, heading the Tylenol poisoning task force, said the picture would be an "extremely significant" clue if the man in the picture is identified as Wilson.

"If it turns out it is, it's dramatic as hell, if you put it together with the $1 million extortion letter, the connection to the murder in Kansas City and the fact that this guy used 17 aliases," Fahner said Monday night.

"It could be a tremendous stroke of irony that the person (in the picture) turns out to be Paula Prince and behind her it turns out to be the man who salted those capsules," Fahner said.

Investigators have other photographs that provide a clearer image of the man in the published photo, Fahner said. Experts are using computer techniques to enhance and enlarge the images, he said.

"If the photo has Wilson in it, that's big, important stuff," Fahner said. "If it turns out not to be, we're right back where we started."

Earlier Monday, Fahner said investigators had no direct evidence to link the couple to the seven deaths, but, "They are prime suspects at this point in time.

Better to learn karate

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 23-year-old waitress who works the night shift. I have heard so much about rape I am scared too death of it.

Please tell me where I can buy a chastity belt. I've been told they are no longer being manufactured. Surely some store must have a few on hand. Can you help me? — Last Resort In Carolina

DEAR LAST: The chastity belt went out with King Arthur's court. No great loss to you. A rapist who ran into that contraption would probably become so incensed he would murder his victim. Better you should learn karate.

DEAR ANN: I have heard wonderful things about your daughter's book about you. Problem: I can't find it in any bookstore. If I send you $13.95 will you send me a copy of "Eppie"? — G.R. In Sandusky, Ohio.

DEAR G.R.: Sorry, I have no extra copies. Send your check to Putnam Publishers 200 Madison Ave., New York, N.Y. 10016, Attention Neil Sigman. They'll pay the postage.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: All of us at Oberlin were delighted to see Ann Landers — or should I say the famous Eppie Lederer — mention that Oberlin was the first co-educational college in America. If I may make one small correction, the date of our founding was 1833, not 1893.

I mention this because next year we will celebrate our 150th anniversary. Oberlin was also the first college to admit students and denounce their education regardless of race.

As W.E.B. Du Bois wrote: "Oberlin was the great pioneer in the work of blotting out the color line in colleges." We are proud of our early history and of our contribution to education and equality of opportunity. Keep up the good work! — Cordially, James L. Power (Acting President)

DEAR JAMES POWELL: The error was a typo made when this column was transcribed for distribution. It appeared wrong in over 1,000 newspapers! Hundreds of your students and loyal alumni wrote to tell me about it. Of course I was embarrassed. My apologies.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My seven-year-old son has a friend who cannot sit still for a minute. The boy yells constantly. He never walks. He runs. I had to send him home from my child's birthday party last week because he was throwing cake and talking vulgar.

I've thought about asking his parents if they have ever checked the boy's hearing or had him looked at for hyperkineticism. Two of my friends have hyperkinetic children and I recognize the symptoms — dark circles under the eyes, screaming a lot and perpetual motion.

I hate to see this child ridiculed by his playmates when the problem may be organic or emotional and can be corrected.

Would an anonymous letter be appropriate, or should I confront the boy's parents with the facts? Or, should I listen to my husband and mind my own business? — O. City Question

DEAR O. CITY: Ask one of your friends whose child is hyperactive to observe the child. If she feels that the youngster is in need of professional help, she should go — with you — to speak to the boy's mother. I would not consider this interference. It would be an act of kindness.

Square meals provide sufficient vitamins

The word itself sounds healthy — vitamins. And for years, television commercials have urged everyone to take them regularly. Vitamin stores sprang up everywhere, and some people began taking large amounts of these essential organic compounds.

But the Texas Medical Association says most people receive the necessary vitamins if they eat well-balanced meals. Vitamin intake beyond the small amounts needed for life, growth and health has no known benefits. In fact, excessive amounts of vitamins A and D can be toxic.

Vitamins do not provide energy or build any part of the body. What they do is transform foods into energy and body maintenance. If a vitamin is missing, a deficiency disease becomes apparent.

Rickets, pellagra and scurvy once were common diseases, caused by deficiencies in vitamin D, niacin and vitamin C, respectively. These days, vitamin deficiency diseases are rarely found in the United States.

Vows repeated by couple recently

Lisa Ann Beal of Amarillo became the bride of David Alan Beal of Duncanville and formerly of Las Cruces in a recent ceremony at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine of Hereford.

The Rev. Murl Gwynn and the Rev. Martin Sayer officiated in the double-ring ceremony. Music was provided by Dan and Rachel Redd.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Beal of Los Angeles, Calif., and the late Dr. Phillip Beal. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bell of Las Cruces are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a calf-length candlelight satin and lace dress. Her outfit was accented by a spray of stephanotis that she wore in her hair. Her bouquet was a cascade of peach roses and baby's breath with ivory streamers.

Maid of honor was Jerry Martin of Amarillo. She wore a peach satin dress accented with candlelight lace. Best man was Kirk Long of Dallas, formerly of Las Cruces.

Flower girl was Beth Haile and ring bearer was Ryan Whelan, both cousins of the bride.

Out of town guests included James Bell of Albuquerque, twin brother of the groom and the bride's aunt, Alma Paetzold of Dallas.

A wedding brunch and reception followed the ceremony. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Joe Don Edleman and Mrs. Paul Trolinger.

After a wedding trip to Red River, N.M., the couple planned to live in Duncanville. The bride is a teacher in the Dallas area and the bridegroom is employed by Evangel Bible Translators.

Mrs. Sims elected to office in Music Study Club

Mrs. Bob Sims was elected first vice-president of the Hereford Music Study Club at a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Tom Burdett.

Mrs. Wesley Fisher assisted as co-hostess for the meeting and Mrs. Lynton Allred, president, conducted the business meeting. Members were reminded of the upcoming district convention in Dawn on Nov. 6.

Mrs. Allred asked for the support of club members in bringing the West Texas State University Grass Roots Jazz Ensemble to Hereford in March.

Program leader for the October meeting was Mrs. J.D. Neill. She introduced the year's study book, entitled "America's Music" by Gilbert Chase.

Mrs. Neill related a brief biography of Edward McDowell and George Gershwin. She described McDowell as "a gifted miniaturist with an individual manner."

Gershwin, noted Mrs. Neill, portrayed a contrasting style which was said to be "of the people and for the people." The musical program was introduced by Mrs. Neill at the conclusion of her talk.

"The Lass From the Low Country," by John Jacob Niles, was sung by Clay Stribling, accompanied by Mrs. Allen Cansler. Mrs. Thomas Betzen played "Piano Sonata No. 3" by Norman Dello Joio. "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin was played by Mrs. Ken Walser and Mrs. Cansler.

Other members present were Mmes. J.R. Allison, W.T. Carmichael, A.T. Griffin, J.C. McCracken, Joe Reinauer, Sr., A.J. Schroeter, Sid Shaw, Wayne Thomas Joe Wallace, Mary Carter, and D.W. Palmer.

Guests were Clay Stribling, Bliss Burdett, and Jennifer Cansler.

The next meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. on Nov. 8 in the home of Mrs. McCracken.

Legion Auxiliary to host dinner tonight

Members of the Hereford unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will host a membership dinner in the American Legion Hall tonight at 7 p.m.

The program will be given by Kristy Simons and Bethany Boyd, who attended the 1982 session of Bluebonnet Girl State in June. Girl State is one of the more popular programs sponsored by the Auxiliary. Others are the scholarship program, the V.A. hospital program, and the community service and youth programs.

Members are asked to renew their memberships tonight, and new members and other interested persons are welcome to attend. Mrs. Jacob King is membership chairman and will assist anyone in filling out a membership application.

At Wits End

There was a survey recently on the pecking order of dogs within the family.

Nearly half of the people who answered the query said they had more rapport with their dogs than any other member of the family. They touched them, smiled at them, and 80 percent talked to them like they were people. Only 8 percent treated their children with the same affection.

You can call a dog and when he comes running to your side, you can say, "I don't want anything. I just wanted to know where you are," and he won't spit on your shoe.

He'll sit with you through the worst television show in video history and if you like, never once try to change channels to get something better.

He never entertains friends, forcing you to retire to your bedroom like a felon serving time.

He never lies to you and never gets upset if you don't remember his birthday.

Any relationship is strengthened by a friend who can keep a secret. You tell a dog you don't know what you'll do if you can't come up with the interest on your charge card before the 15th, and he'll keep it to himself.

I love animals, but I think a man in Wisconsin went too far. It seems his wife and dog could not get along, so he reasoned one of them had to go. He put an ad in the paper that read, "Wife or dog must go. Wife is good-looking blonde, but impatient. Dog is German shorthair, 2½ years old, spayed female. Your choice free."

The man received more than 20 calls from people interested in the dog. One caller said he had a short brunette and an English setter and wanted to know if he could swap.

My husband loved that story. He said it made sense. "After all, a dog could give him all the tender loving care his wife could. He could fetch his slippers and newspaper, not hang on the phone all day long, never leave dirty dishes soaking in the sink and would keep his feet warm at night."

I said, "If you feel that way, how come you didn't marry a dog?"

My husband is too smart ... too old ... and too well-fed to even think of touching that line.

Delicate, fragile old china has no place in the automatic dishwasher. Wash by hand in mild soapsuds. Don't soak ... this may soften and remove gold trim and other decorations.

3-way district tie eminent?

BY LES GILES
Sports Editor

Thanks to Hereford's thrilling, come-from-behind 21-14 win over Plainview last Friday, the District 3-5A football race appears headed to a possible three-way tie for the title.

With three weekends remaining the Herd can do no worse than finish second by winning its remaining games (Palo Duro this Thursday, Amarillo on Oct. 29 and Coronado Nov. 4).

However, the Whitefaces aren't assured a playoff berth even if they win their remaining three games.

If Plainview defeats Monterey next Thursday (Oct. 28) it could create a three-way tie for first place with the Bulldogs Plainsmen and Herd at 7-1.

If that happens a coin flip would determine the two playoff representatives, and the third team would be left out, despite an outstanding season.

Hereford's best bet to make the playoffs a second straight year would be for Monterey to defeat Plainview, while the Herd won its remaining games.

In that case, Monterey would win the title and Hereford would be second. The second place team in District 3-5A will play the first-place team in 4-5A in the bi-district playoffs.

Odessa Permian has all but wrapped up the 4-5A title, winning its first four district games. Five teams, count them, five... share second place with three weeks to go. Tied at 2-2 are Midland Lee, Odessa High, San Angelo Central, Big Spring and Midland High.

In rolling to a 7-0 record thus far, Permian has averaged 35.5 points a game. The Panthers have allowed seven opponents just 20 points thus far.

One of the state's longest district winning streaks came to a halt Saturday in Fort Worth when Cleburne defeated defending Class 4A state champion Brownwood, 9-3.

The Lions had won over 40 straight district games over the past six years, or so.

However, with the top two teams in each district advancing to the playoffs this year, Brownwood is still a good bet to be there.

Talk about a king-sized task.

When Texas Tech meets the nation's top-ranked Washington Huskies Saturday in Seattle the Raiders will be giving away 30 pounds per man up front when they're on defense.

Washington's starting offensive line averages just over 260 pounds a man. Tech's defensive front, anchored by 285-pound Gabe Rivera, averages 230 a man.

Offensively, it isn't quite so bad for Tech. The Red Raiders' offensive line averages just over 242 pounds a man, while Washington's defensive front averages about 237 pounds per player.

For the Red Raiders Saturday's game will mark the end of a four-game road trek.

And, things haven't been that bad on the road, either. Tech has won at College Station (beating A&M, 24-15) and Houston (tripping Rice, 23-21). And, the Raiders played pretty well at Fayetteville, losing to Arkansas by a 21-3 margin.

Next home game will be Oct. 30 against the University of Texas. It'll be a 2 p.m. clash.

While the Buffs continue to find it difficult to win consistently, quarterback Vic McGee continues on a record-setting pace.

Despite being trounced, 77-14, last weekend by the University of Florida, McGee threw for 394 yards, and moved to within striking distance of Hank Washington's career marks.

McGee now needs 340 yards (in the Buffs' five remaining games) to break Washington's record for most yards passing in a season. He needs only 645 yards to break Washington's career mark.

The Buffs should taste victory as they host North Texas State at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Bad luck befell former Hereford High QB Alan Wartes a couple of weeks ago.

Wartes suffered a broken collar bone during practice at Howard Payne, located at Brownwood. According to his dad, Larry, the younger Wartes did not injure his passing arm, but is expected to be out of action for some time.

Don Delozier, another standout on last year's Herd squad, which advanced to the Class 5A semifinals, is listed as the number three tight end at UT-Arlington.

Ut-Arlington, by the way, upset the University of Southwestern Louisiana this past weekend, scoring in the game's final minute.

Thanks to major upsets by Tennessee and Arizona University last weekend, the list of major college (division 1A) teams with perfect records this season dwindled to six.

Those still boasting perfect marks include Arizona State (6-0), Georgia (6-0), SMU (6-0), Arkansas (5-0), Washington (6-0) and Pittsburgh (5-0).

UCLA and LSU are unbeaten, but have been tied.

SMU's 10-game win streak over the past two seasons now is the longest in the NCAA, by a Division 1A team.

That streak began after the Mustangs lost a 9-7 squeaker to Texas a year ago.

This weekend, the Longhorns could end that streak as the two meet in Austin.

I think the chances for a team to finish the current season with a perfect record is relatively slim, at this juncture.

Arizona State must play Washington, while SMU and Arkansas still must meet. And, each has other tough games within its conference.

Pitt has games against Notre Dame and Penn State left.

Georgia, with a healthy Herschel Walker, might do it for the second time in three years. The Bulldogs, however, have tough games against Florida and Auburn along the way.

Rookie Stuper goes for Cardinals

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Don Sutton's first visit to the World Series was with the Sandy Koufax-Don Drysdale era Los Angeles Dodgers of the mid-60s.

John Stuper was a young baseball fan, growing up in Butler, Pa. then and he remembers those Dodger teams.

"I had this friend," Stuper recalled. "He mixed milk and lemonade so he could get sick and stay home and watch the World Series. And do you know what? It worked."

Sutton, 37 now, is back in the Series again and he'll get the baseball tonight as the Milwaukee Brewers, leading 3-2 in the best-of-seven battle, attempt to nail down their first World Championship in Game 6 against St. Louis.

And his opponent will be the milk and lemonade kid's pal, Stuper, now a 29-year-old Cardinal rookie. The young right-hander has the assignment to keep his team alive and force a seventh game.

Sutton, who won four games for Milwaukee — including the American League East title clincher — in the final month of the season after being acquired from Houston, was asked if he could think of anyone else he'd rather have pitching for his team in this situation.

"Well, maybe a 29-year-old Sandy Koufax or a 26-year-old Tom Seaver," he said.

Since those models are unavailable, the Brewers will take their shot with Sutton, who has 17 years of pitching know-how and uses all of it. Stuper isn't quite as cute in his style.

"I only know one way to pitch and that's to challenge the hitters," Stuper said. "Maybe later I'll learn to nibble."

Sutton and Stuper were the Game 2 starters. Neither was involved in the decision as St. Louis won 5-4. Stuper lasted just four innings that night.

"I hope to pitch a little better and a little longer," he said. "The key is to get ahead of them instead of letting them sit on 2-0 or 3-1 counts. I didn't get ahead and I didn't feel in a good groove that night. I was all over the place."

The pitching pairing is intriguing because it matches a grizzled veteran against a fresh-faced rookie. Does Sutton feel sorry for the kid in this tough circumstance?

One-fourth of NFL players will be missing next year

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Who is going to be out of a job in the National Football League next season?

About 25 percent of the players who are on strike, according to the General Manager the New York Giants.

George Young said Monday that two factors will make about one-fourth of this year's NFL players next year's former NFL players.

The factors: normal attrition and time lost during the four-week-old strike that the players won't be able to make up.

Young says marginal players are caught in a web created by the strike.

"I feel sorry for them," he said. "It's a sad situation."

"Because of the strike, rookies aren't getting experience and they're going to have trouble competing with the class of 1983 because on paper, it's a stronger class."

Young said, adding that the Giants had 11 new players on their 49-man roster this season.

"Plus, older players are a year older and by losing the season, they lose an edge," he added.

Young said he is pessimistic about saving this season.

"Slowly but surely, it's beginning to show there's not much room to finish the season," he said. "I don't see light at the end of the tunnel. I've been pessimistic from the beginning because of the circumstances involved."

The general manager contended players are "totally misinformed" by union leaders about the status of the strike and that many don't want a wage scale, one of the major issues in the dispute.

"They're striking for something they don't want and when you have those kind of circumstances, how can you have progress?"

"The players don't know anymore than what other people read in newspapers. I feel sorry for them because there are careers involved. It's great to be able to play in the league, but to have that slip away because of something they seem not to be able to control or have a voice in is sad."

Huskies hold top spot in poll; Pitt is second

By HERSHEL NISSENON
AP Sports Writer

The Washington Huskies held onto first place in The Associated Press college football poll for the sixth week in a row Monday, while Alabama dropped from second to seventh and Pitt climbed back into second place.

Washington, a 34-17 winner over Oregon State, received 38 of 56 first-place votes and 1,113 of a possible 1,160 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

While Alabama vacated the runner-up spot by losing to Tennessee 35-28, Pitt, which has been alternating between second and third place for the last six weeks after starting the season No. 1, moved back to No. 2. The Panthers defeated Temple 38-17 and received 17 first-place votes and 1,050 points.

The remaining first-place ballot went to Georgia, which rose from fourth to third with 974 points for defeating Vanderbilt 27-13.

Southern Methodist, Nebraska and Arkansas also passed Alabama. SMU went from fifth to fourth with 925 points after downing Houston 20-14. Nebraska jumped from sixth to fifth with 840 points by trouncing Kansas State 42-13 and unbeaten Arkansas, idle last weekend, climbed from seventh to sixth with 791 points.

Alabama was seventh with 753 points, followed by Arizona State, Penn State and North Carolina. Arizona State vaulted from 10th to eighth by trimming Texas-El Paso 37-6. Penn State slipped from eighth to ninth despite a 28-7 triumph over Syracuse and North Carolina rose from 11th to 10th by routing North Carolina State 41-9.

The Second Ten consists of UCLA, Southern California, West Virginia, LSU, Notre Dame, Miami, Florida State, Clemson, Texas and Oklahoma.

Last week, it was North Carolina, UCLA, West Virginia, Southern Cal, Illinois, LSU, Miami, Texas, Florida State and Clemson.

Illinois dropped out of the Top Twenty after a 26-21 loss to Ohio State, while Oklahoma, a 38-14 winner over Kansas, reappeared after a five-week absence.

Veteran Sutton hopes to nail down Series

By HAL BOCK AP Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Don Sutton's first visit to the World Series was with the Sandy Koufax-Don Drysdale era Los Angeles Dodgers of the mid-60s.

John Stuper was a young baseball fan, growing up in Butler, Pa. then and he remembers those Dodger teams.

"I only know one way to pitch and that's to challenge the hitters," Stuper said. "Maybe later I'll learn to nibble."

Sutton and Stuper were the Game 2 starters. Neither was involved in the decision as St. Louis won 5-4. Stuper lasted just four innings that night.

"I hope to pitch a little better and a little longer," he said. "The key is to get ahead of them instead of letting them sit on 2-0 or 3-1 counts. I didn't get ahead and I didn't feel in a good groove that night. I was all over the place."

The pitching pairing is intriguing because it matches a grizzled veteran against a fresh-faced rookie. Does Sutton feel sorry for the kid in this tough circumstance?

"I have no empathy whatsoever," he said.

Stuper didn't expect any.

"I'd be lying if I said there was no pressure," he said.

"I'm thinking about it right now and I'll think about it before and after the game. But during the game, it would interfere. It exists, obviously, but I can't let it affect me."

Stuper's major problem, of course, will be to shut down sizzling Robin Yount, who is batting .524 with 11-for-21 in the first five games. Yount has had two four-hit games — the first man in history to do that twice — and is one hit short of the six-game Series record set by Billy Martin of the New York Yankees in 1953.

"There's not much you can do," said Stuper. "I'll try low strikes and hope he hits it at someone."

So far, Yount has avoided that fate. His .524 batting average has him on target for a record. The Series mark for both six and seven games is .500. Dave Robertson did it for the New York Giants in six games in 1917, and Pepper Martin did it in seven games for St. Louis in 1931. The overall Series record is .625 (10-for-16) set by Babe Ruth in the New York Yankees' four-game sweep of the Cardinals in 1928.

The Cardinals' situation is not terribly complicated. "It's clear cut and simple," said Ozzie Smith, whose stellar defensive work at shortstop has been overshadowed by Yount's big bat.

"Either we win Tuesday or our season is over. I don't think it could be clearer. But we have the type of club that has been up against adversity all year. This club has come a long way together. It all boils down to two wins."

The irony is that the Cardinals seemed in charge of the Series after winning two of the first three games and leading 5-1 in the seventh inning of Game 4. But the Brewers took advantage of a crucial error by pitcher Dave LaPoint to score six unearned runs and win that game, tying the Series.

Then Milwaukee captured Game 5 behind Yount's hitting and a gritty pitching job by Mike Caldwell. Just like that, the Cards were in big trouble.

"You have to be even-tempered to handle this game,"

NFL strike talks stalled; cooling-off period looms

COCKEYSVILLE, Md. (AP) — Sources close to both sides in the 29-day-old National Football League players' strike say a cooling-off period in the talks may be called as early as tonight by mediator Sam Kagel to keep the stalled negotiations alive.

Two members of the owners' executive committee and a union source close to the talks said the recess could last for several days.

Bryan falls to 6th

Permian No. 1

The Bryan Vikings, who struggled for two weeks with Port Arthur Jefferson to keep their No. 1 rank in Class 5A of The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll, have now lost it to Odessa Permian.

Permian, ranked No. 3 in recent weeks, leap-frogged second-place Port Arthur Jefferson into the driver's seat this week after Bryan was upset 14-13 by Euleus Trinity, which jumped from No. 10 to No. 5.

SMU-Texas game set for TV

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Coach Fred Akers of Texas says the Southern Methodist defense is as good as the offense, which has gotten most of the publicity.

"Offensively, they've got all their firepower back and ... their offensive line is quicker than it was a year ago," Akers said during a news conference Monday.

The Mustangs went 10-1 last year and won the Southwest Conference.

"You hear a lot about their offense, because of those backs they have, but their defense is every bit as outstanding," Akers said.

"In fact, just like last year, it was overlooked pretty much as far as the publicity, but it provided most of the opportunities that their football team had. This year, it's the same way — it's a little bigger. This will be the biggest defensive team we've played. They've got great speed among their linebackers and secondary."

Texas ruined Southern Methodist's bid for a perfect season last year with a 9-7 victory at Dallas.

Saturday's game in Memorial Stadium will be regionally televised, with a sellout crowd of nearly 80,000 expected for the 2:50 p.m. CDT kickoff.

Oklahoma beat Texas 28-22 on Oct. 9 and Akers said he thinks the Mustangs are a better team than the Sooners.

"They've got the same speed, more experience and a better punter," he said.

No strike for Dallas cheerleaders

DALLAS (AP) — Professional baseball players went on strike. Professional football players went on strike. But not the Dallas Cowboys' Cheerleaders.

In a practice studio in a northern Dallas suburb, the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders have been performing almost every night since the National Football League strike began about four weeks ago.

percentage of the league's television revenues have barely been touched upon.

A news blackout was placed in effect by Kagel when he arrived last Tuesday and was pierced last Saturday when both sides argued over which one was stalling. On Monday night it was all but shattered when they were reduced to public name-calling in the lobby of the hotel where the talks are being conducted.

The day began with union chief Ed Garvey, union president Gene Upshaw, owners' top negotiator Jack Donlan and his aide Sargent Karch meeting without Kagel to discuss the union's proposed wage scale.

The negotiations then recessed, Garvey taking advantage of the break to return to Washington, D.C., for a conference at union headquarters with several player representatives.

The talks were supposed to resume at 7:30 p.m. But at that time the union, according to one of its spokesmen, requested a one-hour delay.

At 8:30, the union asked for another one-hour delay.

At 9:30, Kagel hook matters into his own hands and put off further talks until today.

Within minutes, Donlan strolled through the hotel's lobby and was inundated by newsmen. "We waited all day for a meeting," he told them. "Obviously they had something better to do."

And Jim Miller, the Management Council's public relations director, said, "We were ready to meet at 4:30, 7:30 and 9:30 and we are still ready to meet. Time isn't a luxury."

Barely 30 minutes after Donlan's appearance, Garvey showed up. He was surrounded by the same swarm of reporters. Asked whether he was prepared to resume negotiations, Garvey replied, "We're ready to go right now." And when asked why the talks weren't, therefore, being conducted, Garvey joked: "I suspect both sides are watching the all-star game."

During the Garvey-Upshaw-Donlan-Karch conference, sources on both sides agreed a settlement was unlikely at this time, all but assuring that a fifth regular-season weekend of football would be wiped out.

San Antonio Churchill, No. 5 last week, and No. 8 Gregory-Portland both fell from the unbeaten ranks in 5A with Gregory-Portland dropping out of the top 10 and Churchill sinking to ninth.

Four teams, including No. 2 ranked Brownwood, were losers in Class 4A. Brownwood was upended by Cleburne, which jumped from ninth to fifth following its 9-3 victory. Fourth ranked Wajahachie, seventh ranked Bay City and eighth ranked Sweetwater were the losers and were replaced by New Braunfels, Huntsville and Tomball following losses.

Brownwood remained in the poll at No. 10.

No. 4 Crockett and No. 10 Newton were Class 3A losers. They were replaced by Hebbronville and Waller.

Seagraves toppled from the unbeaten ranks in a 17-0 loss to New Deal, which remained No. 7 ranked following the shutout.

Tim Martin named offensive player of week

Through the first seven weeks of the season, offensive backs had gained most of the spotlight in District 3-5A.

Not so this week.

Offensive center Tim Martin, a catalyst in Hereford's 21-14 win over Plainview last Friday, is this week's 3-5A offensive player of the week, as selected by the Amarillo Globe-News.

The 6-3, 200-pounder is the first lineman to gain the honor this season. The two-year starter graded 92 percent for his blocking against the Bulldogs.

Alfred Ball, who gained 134 yards on 25 carries and scored two touchdowns, gained honorable mention on offense. He previously had been named an offensive player of the week.

HB grid contest winner misses 1

Ben Conklin correctly guessed 25 of 26 games last week to win the Hereford Brand Football Contest, and claim the top prize of $25.

Conklin's winning percentage (.961) was the highest this year. He missed only the Alabama-Tennessee game, won by Tennessee.

Second place, worth $15, went to Keith Kalka, while third place (worth $10) went to Hap Cavness. Those two missed only two games. Kalka, however, guessed closer on the tie-breaker game (Hereford-Plainview). His tiebreaker score of 34 was just one off the actual score of 35 (Hereford 21, Plainview 14).

Cavness' tiebreaker score was 37.

Eight other entrants missed only two games, but were farther off on the tiebreaker score.

Those missing two games (with their tiebreaker score) included Robert Gamez (28), Bill Bishop (27), Bill Sanders (29), L.V. Watts (31), Darwin Manning (31), David Shannon (24), Melvin Kalka, Jr. (15) and Joan Fuston (10).

There were 38 entrants who missed a total of three games last week. The contest, which appears in Tuesday's edition of The Brand, drew 209 entries last week.

Remember, you too can be a winner of Hereford Bucks. Entry deadline for the contest is 5 p.m. Friday.

As far as players concerned Ted Turner is hero of 'All-Star' games

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As far as the players were concerned, the hero of the second National Football League Players Association-sponsored all-star game wasn't in uniform. And, believe it or not, he's an owner.

San Diego quarterback Ed Luther fired a 54-yard touchdown pass with 12:29 remaining to lift the American Conference squad to a 31-27 victory over the National Conference team in the contest at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The game was televised nationally by the Turner Broadcasting System, and afterward, TBS owner Ted Turner took all the players into one dressing room where the athletes gave him a standing ovation.

"You are the game," Turner, who also owns baseball's Atlanta Braves and the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association, told the players. "I want you to know I'm with you all the way."

The players then began chanting "Teddy, Teddy, Teddy."

The TBS also televised the first union-sponsored all-star game in Washington, D.C., on

Harriers back in pack

Competing against perhaps the strongest, and certainly the largest, field of the season, Hereford's cross country teams finished well back in the past last weekend in Lubbock.

The boys managed a ninth-place finish, while the girls were 13th.

According to coach Martha Emerson, "there were 35 schools entered, and some 200 runners in the race."

"Fernando Carrasco was our only medal winner. He placed 17th in the junior varsity division, and Chad Mason was 38th with a time of 18:50.

Cindy Morgan was the highest finisher for Hereford in the girls' division. She was 34th with a time of 13:21.

Other Hereford entrants, and their positions included: Olga Alaniz (69th with a time of 13:51); Molly Keating (75th in 13:58); Belinda Warren (88th in 14:09); Dana Cabiness (97th in 14:20); cond and third, respectively. Francisco Saucedo was 38th in the meet with a time of 16:56, while Edward Flores (17:43) and Eliseo Ramirez (17:44) were 75th and 77th, respectively.

Cesar Valdez ran a 18:07 to place 95th, while Gary Belvins was 100th with a time of 18:13. Frank Vallejo was 153rd with a time of 19:28 to round out Hereford's entries.

Lupe Rocha was an 18:14 to place 17th in the junior varsity division, and Chad Mason was 38th with a time of 18:50.

Cindy Morgan was the highest finisher for Hereford in the girls' division. She was 34th with a time of 13:21.

Other Hereford entrants, and their positions included: Olga Alaniz (69th with a time of 13:51); Molly Keating (75th in 13:58); Belinda Warren (88th in 14:09); Dana Cabiness (97th in 14:20);

Yolanda Alaniz (98th in 14:20) and Roxane Gamez (133rd in 15:02).

Selmo Moreno, a LaPlata freshman, won the JV division for the fifth time this season with a time of 12:49. She has been a second once. Glenda Gonzalez of LaPlata was 16th with a time of 14:26.

Other entrants in the JV division included Irene Serna (20th in 14:43), Bernice Thomas (59th in 16:40), Lori Walterscheid (50th in 15:53) and Shannon Morrison (66th in 17:21).

This weekend, the cross country teams will travel to Dumas.

The District 3-5A cross country meet is slated for Amarillo in two weeks. The top two teams, and the top five individuals earn trips to the regional meet, set for Lubbock.

Luther to Kansas City's Carlos Carson, and a 29-yard pass from flanker Malcolm Barnwell of the Los Angeles Raiders to tight end Todd Christensen, another member of the Raiders.

Pastorini, an NFC player, competed for the AFC squad because of its shortage of quarterbacks.

Atlanta wide receiver Floyd Hodge scored two touchdowns for the NFC, on a 12-yard pass from Chicago quarterback Vince Evans and an 8-yard pas from Detroit quarterback Eric Hipple. Atlanta linebacker Al Richardson scored the other NFC touchdown when he raced 45 yards with an interception of a Luther pass. Murray added a 40-yard field goal.

The game was billed as an AFC West against an NFC West affair, but players from all six NFL divisions took part.

Luther was named the offensive player of the game, while Denver cornerback Louis Wright was selected defensive player of the game.

Rader new Ranger boss?

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Doug Rader, the manager of the San Diego Padres' AAA farm club at Honolulu, has been interviewed for the skipper's job with the Texas Rangers.

Rader met Monday with Joe Klein, the Rangers' general manager.

"He did nothing to discourage everything I've heard about him," Klein said. "Everything went well, very well."

Jim Leyland, a coach with the Chicago White Sox third base coach, and New York Mets' scout Bobby Valentine also have been named as top candidates for the post.

Don Zimmer was fired as Texas manager shortly after mid-season and replaced by Darrell Johnson, who finished out the year.

Stein said he will interview one more managerial candidate. That hopeful is believed to be Hal Lanier, a coach with the St. Louis Cardinals, The Dallas Morning News reported today.

Lanier was not believed to be a serious candidate, according to the newspaper.

Klein has said he expects to appoint a manager around Nov. 1.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Problems due to lack of iron

DEAR DR. LAMB - I went to see my doctor because I have had some indigestion. I belch a lot and am nauseated. My doctor said I have an iron deficiency anemia and put me on iron pills.

I always thought that a lack of iron made you tired. I am tired but are those other problems also from not enough iron? My fingernails are brittle and have ridges and he says that can be caused from not enough iron, too.

I'm only 35 and try to eat a well-balanced diet. Where did I go wrong? How can a lack of iron cause indigestion?

DEAR READER - Like most symptoms there are many different medical problems that can cause them. Your fingernail problem is a good example. Such problems can be caused from a lack of iron but they can also occur from lack of moisture, not enough calcium, not enough protein and the use of harsh nail polish remover.

Iron deficiency can cause indigestion. It can also cause changes in the tongue and mouth, causing a glossy appearance.

The anemia of iron deficiency is only one indication of the deficiency. The iron is needed to form hemoglobin in the red blood cells so your blood can carry oxygen and carbon dioxide. Iron is also used to form myoglobin in your muscles, essential to the use of oxygen in muscle tissue to liberate energy.

Your entire energy system depends upon iron, among other things. It is part of vital chemicals in your individual cells used to break down food and release energy within the cell. No wonder that various cell functions are inefficient when you have an iron deficiency.

4-H Firsthand

4-H, a youth organization

BY BRAD MORRISON
Assistant County Extension Agent

Recently, an 18-year-old 4-H'er was asked why she had been a 4-H member for nine years. She said, "My family; my parents are involved. 4-H is the thing we do together."

Not a new idea! Just the old-fashioned idea of families doing things together in 4-H. It's important that parents are involved in their children's development.

Even working parents can have time to do 4-H projects and activities with their children. 4-H projects are natural learning experiences that families may already be doing or consider doing together.

Parents gain by becoming acquainted with their children's friends, interests and concerns, and by sharing experiences together. Parents also make new friends, become acquainted with other families, and learn to develop new skills and knowledge.

Children — 4-H members — need adults to interact with positively, to talk with, and from whom to learn life and social skills.

Parents of 4-H members are extremely important. Their interest and support is directly related to what their children get out of 4-H.

The most important people in any child's life are his or her parents. No one can do as much for children as parents can.

That's why the 4-H program projects and activities offer many ways for parents to positively influence their children.

Parents .. think about 4-H as your family youth organization. Both you and your children will benefit from working together in 4-H.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Choir Participants

Carol Blevins, left from La Plata Junior High, and Susan Wright, Stanton Junior High, won places in the Junior High All-Region Choir and participated in an all-day clinic and evening performance on the West Texas State University campus Saturday. Miss Blevins is a soprano and Miss Wright sings alto.

Two local girls chosen for All-Region Choir

Carol Blevins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blevins, and Susan Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright, were among over 120 students selected for the Region I, All-Region Choir after auditioning Oct. 9 in Amarillo.

Miss Blevins is a student at La Plata Junior High and Miss Wright is a student at Stanton Junior High. The Stanton and La Plata choirs are directed by Doug Morris. Students participated in an all-day clinic this past Saturday at West Texas State University, and gave a concert that evening at Mary Moody Northern Hall on the WTSU campus.

Clinician and concert director for the event was Carroll Barnes of Garland, former choral director in the Perryton School System.

Guests for the Saturday program were the Hereford Chamber Singers under the direction of Bill Devers. A barbershop quartet of four Chamber Singers also entertained the audience.

Today In History

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 19, the 292nd day of 1982. There are 73 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Oct. 19, 1954, Britain and Egypt reached agreement on evacuating troops from the Suez Canal zone.

On this date:

In 1781, British troops under Cornwallis were defeated at Yorktown, Va., as the Revolutionary War ended.

In 1944, American troops landed in the Philippines during World War II.

In 1960, the United States placed an embargo on shipments to Cuba.

In 1973, Libya halted oil shipments to the United States in a dispute over Washington's "Mideast policies."

Ten years ago: Treasury Secretary George Shultz said the Nixon administration would withhold funds authorized by Congress to keep federal spending at $250 billion.

Five years ago: South Africa banned black protest groups, closed the leading black newspaper in the country and arrested the editor and other blacks in raids.

One year ago: President Reagan and French President Francois Mitterrand took part in ceremonies commemorating the 200th anniversary of the Battle of Yorktown.

Today's birthday: COLUMBIAN Jack Anderson is 60.

Thought for today: "Only parents' love can last our lives" — Robert Browning, English poet (1812-1889).

Members plan future service

The Tanda-Koda Adventure Club met Thursday at the Camp Fire Lodge. Plans for future service projects were discussed, and the girls worked on gifts for their mothers.

Those attending were Kirsten Duney, Ruthie Aguilar, Chandra Brown, Jessica Dearing, Tracey Flood, Donna Padilla, Sara Rose, Carrie Skelton, and Annette Thorell.

Refreshments were furnished by Miss Thorell.

Leaders are Jackie Flood, Grace Skelton, and Suzanne Rose.

Arts festival is scheduled

Abernathy will hold its third annual arts and crafts festival on Saturday, Nov. 20, at the Abernathy Community Center Complex.

Anyone interested in reserving a booth for this year's festival may contact Jane Murray at 298-4291, Diana Phillips at 298-2369, or Betty Neve at 289-2984 after 5 p.m.

Festive Foods

Eva Venable, at right, Consumer Services Representative with Southwestern Public Service, explains a simple microwave recipe for caramel corn to Diane Perkins at a special "Festive Foods" program held Monday in the Reddy Room. Ms. Venable demonstrated five recipes as she gave pointers on using small appliances in the kitchen, including the microwave oven, electric skillet, food processor, and blender. About 30 people were in attendance at the 2 p.m. program and she presented the demonstration again at 7 p.m.

The pound cake got its name not from its weight but from the pound of butter it contains.
