F.L. Eike named 'Ag Man'

F.L. Eike, who has farmed in Deaf Smith County since 1967, was named the Ag Man of the Year for 1985 Saturday at the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association's annual banquet.

The ninth annual award, sponsored by The Hereford Brand, was presented by publisher Speedy Nieman.

Eike, 63, completed high school in his native Snyder then spent 3 1/2 years in the U.S. Air Force during World War II. He married Ann Sturdivant, from Hermleigh, in 1945 and the couple farmed in Snyder until 1967 when he bought an irrigated farm north of Hereford.

During those years, he implemented some of the irrigated practices which later became common in the county and won several awards for his irrigated operations.

In 1969 he sold the irrigated farm and moved to town. In 1971 he started farming the dryland country which he currently farms. Since that time he has used conservation methods he used in Snyder and combined them with modern technology to improve his farm.

In 1985 he saw some outstanding results from his practices. On the 2,200 acres he farms he raised 748 acres of wheat which produced 44 bushels per acre. He also raised 724 acres of dryland milo which produced 3,994 pounds per acre.

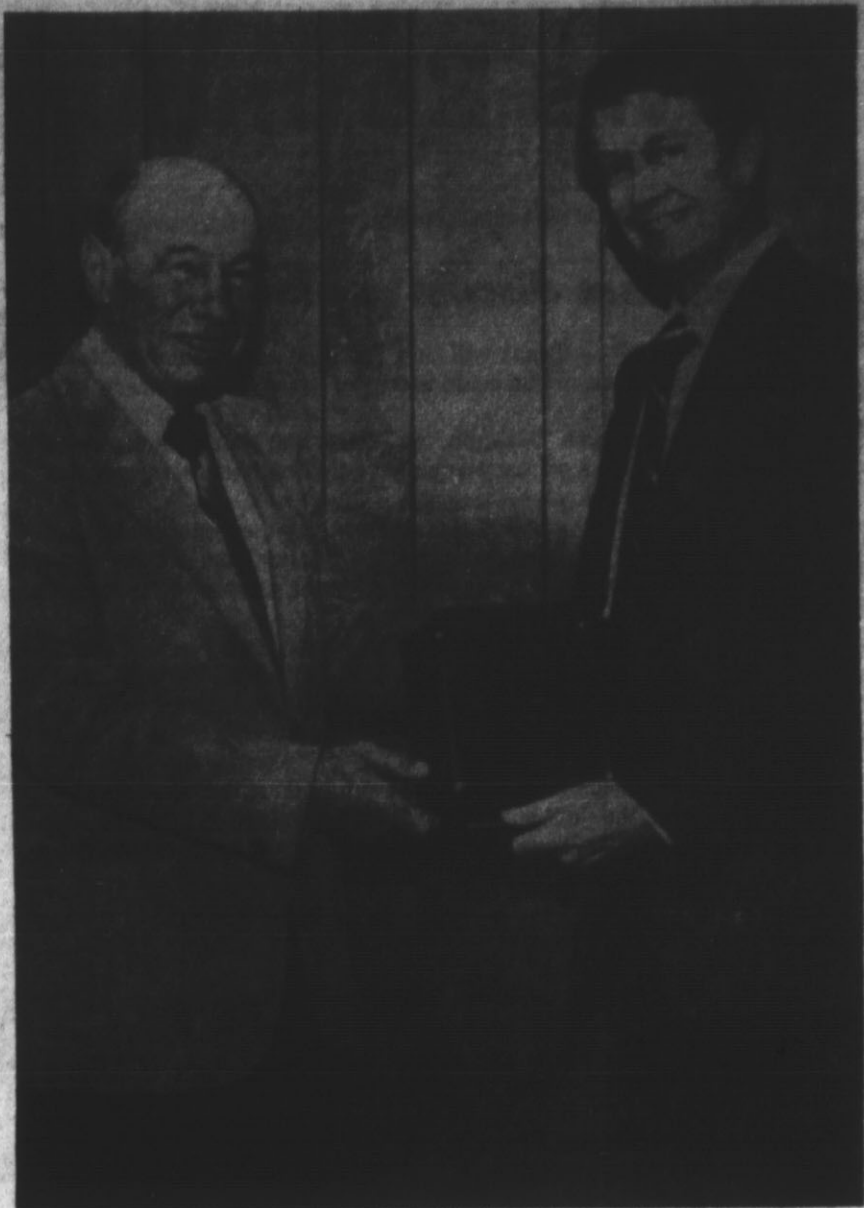

Eike said if he had done just a little bit better job of harvesting, he thought he would have made 4,000 pounds per acre.

An outdoorsman, Eike was instrumental in getting pheasants established in Deaf Smith County.

Eicke has been with the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District and Hereford Grain Corp. for years.

He and his wife have one son, Ted, and a granddaughter.

Former winners of the award were Charles Schlabs, Jim Perrin, Carl Kleuskens, Donald Hicks, Bill Cleavinger, Carl Straffuss, Jerry Roberts, and Frank and Tony Brorman.

Ag Man of Year

F.L. Eike, left, received the ninth annual Ag Man of the Year plaque from Speedy Nieman. Eike has farmed in the county since 1957, starting with an irrigated operation north of Hereford, then switching to dryland in 1971. Eike was instrumental in bringing the pheasant industry to Deaf Smith County. The honor was announced at the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association banquet Saturday.

Congress has light schedule before tackling tough stuff

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returns to work this week, easing back into action after a month's vacation with a light schedule of bills and hearings before it tackles taxes, terrorism, the budget deficit and trade and farm problems.

No real legislative business is to be transacted in the House until Wednesday, when it takes up a bill that would limit how long banks can hold deposits before crediting them to customers' accounts.

The Senate was to consider a bill to sell the federally owned freight rail line Conrail to the Norfolk Southern Railroad. Later in the week, the chamber could consider a bill permitting televising of Senate floor activities.

Both chambers were to be gavelled into session at noon today.

Most talk this session likely will focus on the effects of the Gramm-Rudman budget-cutting law, enacted before Congress left in December. The law's exact targets were unveiled while the lawmakers were out of town.

Members will be reacting to the immediate sting of the $11.7 billion in cuts called for by March 1 in spending for fiscal 1986. Another $60 billion to $75 billion in spending reductions, or tax increases, will be necessary to get the federal deficit down to the mandated $144 billion level next year.

The Senate Budget Committee on Wednesday will hear from White House Budget Director James Miller and Congressional Budget Office Director Rudolph Penner on the effects of the law, which is aimed at achieving a balanced budget by fiscal 1991.

Also prominently discussed will be what to do about taxes — both tax reform and the tax increases some say will be needed to meet the requirements of the new budget-balancing law. President Reagan is adamantly opposed to any tax increase.

"It seems clear as day to me that the only way out of this problem is to both slow down spending in some way and increase revenues in order to come closer to a balanced budget by 1990 or 1991," Rep. Richard Gephardt, D-Mo., chairman of the House Democratic Caucus, said Monday.

Because the Reagan administration is ignoring the need for new tax money, its budget to be submitted to Congress next month will be "dead on arrival," Gephardt said.

Both chambers were expected to knock off early in the week to permit members to attend next weekend's Super Bowl in New Orleans, then will return in time to hear President Reagan's State of the Union speech Jan. 28.

When work does begin in earnest, a pile of major issues face the legislators, including dealing with international terrorism; U.S. policy

City certification sought to help lure development

By SHAWN COCKRUM
Staff Writer

The Hereford City Commission approved a motion to allow the mayor to sign an application to the Texas Economic Development Commission during Monday night's meeting at city hall.

The application is for a new program sponsored by the TEDC called TEXCEL, Texas Cities For Economic Leadership. TEXCEL is designed for cities that are willing to make a commitment to improving their communities through an organized effort involving public officials and representatives of the business and financial communities.

Under the TEXCEL guidelines, Hereford will have to meet certain requirements before they can be certified as a TEXCEL city. Once certified, Hereford would then be recommended to industrial prospects.

It will cost the city approximately $2,000 for the seminars and paperwork required for certification.

City commissioners also approved a resolution establishing evidence of financial responsibility for the city regarding the site development plan application for a city landfill site. The commissioners approved a motion in October to pay the application fee for a new landfill. The resolution passed last night is a standard part of the application.

City commissioners also approved a standard form to be used in election procedures.

The city also passed an ordinance stating that neither the city nor emergency personnel responding to emergencies on behalf of the city will be responsible for accidents that may occur during a response.

Nazareth team wins top grower award from Holly

Al and Dennis Huseman of Nazareth produced the top sugar beets for Holly Sugar, yielding 11,591 pounds of sugar per acre of their 20 acre operation.

Holly's agricultural manager Cal Jones presented the two with the honor during the banquet Saturday of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association.

Husemans yielded 40.9 tons of beets on each acre with an average sugar content of 14.17 percent.

Also recognized was the association's board of directors. Bill Cleavinger, Dave Thompson and Troy Christian were re-elected to the board during the association's convention on Friday. Other board members are Virgil Marsh, Tony Brorman, Dean Wiseman, Kenneth Frye, Richard Friemel, and Ed Ramaekers.

Dr. Byron Augustin, professor of geography at Southwest Texas State University was the after-dinner speaker. He focused on rural humor with anecdotes and jokes about farm life, noting that many tales about living in the country seemed to involve manure.

HYF show judging opens Wednesday

Judging at the Hereford Young Farmers Junior Livestock Show opens Wednesday with 340 youths registered to show 655 animals through Friday in the Bull Barn, according to Charla Schlabs, show secretary.

Deaf Smith County has 101 entries and the rest of the exhibitors are from Parmer, Castro and Oldham Counties.

Hogs and lambs helped boost the head count from last year by 150, despite a slight drop in steers and broiler pens.

Hogs top the list with 305 entered. The steer show has 60 entered and 290 lambs will be shown. Twenty pens of broilers are to be judged.

A waiver has been granted for health papers for this show only.

Weight-ins begin today with 47 p.m. slated for steers. Broilers weigh at 5 p.m.

Weighing continues Wednesday with Deaf Smith hogs to step on the scales at 4-6 p.m. Other hogs will weigh at 6-8 p.m. Lambs will be weighed at 4-6 p.m., for county entrants, and 6-7:30 p.m. for the four-county entrants.

Judging starts at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday with the broiler pens. Bob Steele, county agent from Borger, will judge the broilers.

Steers enter the ring at 6 p.m. Wednesday for scrutiny by judge Larry Boleman, a beef cattle specialist from Texas A&M.

Thursday at 5 p.m. hogs will be judged by Dave McCormick, vocational agriculture teacher from Clinton, Okla.

On Friday, Melvin Chisum, a banker at Earth, will start lamb judging at 5 p.m.

The stock sale is scheduled for Saturday morning.

County juvenile crime doubled in 1985

By SHAWN COCKRUM
Staff Writer

Juvenile crime is a severe problem in Deaf Smith County. According to county juvenile probation statistics, juvenile crime doubled in 1985 compared to 1984. It's a problem that cost the county over $23,000 in 1985.

In 1985, the juvenile probation office worked on 158 referrals from city and county police.

The probation office had 32 juveniles detained in the Potter County Juvenile Detention Center for a total of 314 days. That cost Deaf Smith County $75 per day per detained juvenile. Additional costs to the county included transportation to the Amarillo facility and to temporary shelters in Lubbock and Amarillo.

"There are any number of reasons for the higher crime rates among juveniles," said county probation officer Colleen Duffy. "Some do it because there is nothing else to do or their friends tell them to break the law. I don't think they are bad kids, most of them serve out their probation and we never hear about them again."

Duffy also stated that 96 percent of the individuals that she sees are from broken homes or one parent homes. Duffy also attributed the fact that most juveniles feel that they are exempt from the law just because of their age.

Duffy and members of the Deaf Smith County Juvenile Board are currently looking into the possibilities of construction of a juvenile detention facility here to trim the transportation costs. Duffy said that a local detention facility may deter juvenile crime. Currently in Potter County, the juvenile officials do not want to accept juveniles from other counties unless they have committed a felony.

"We had a kid last year who committed over 14 misdemeanors and we have no way to detain him," Duffy said.

In 1985, juveniles were involved in 47 burglaries, three felony thefts of over $750, 12 motor vehicle thefts, two aggravated assaults, five misdemeanor assaults, 16 misdemeanor thefts and 11 lower charges. The probation office referred six juveniles to the Texas Youth Council, and had 36 successfully complete probation. The remainder of the juveniles involved are either still pending litigation or were released.

If a juvenile is committed to TYC, he is held by the state until his 18th or 21st birthday, depending on the crime committed.

"I will not recommend that a kid be placed in TYC on their first offense," Duffy said.

When a juvenile is referred to the probation officer, the officer usually has three choices: placing the individual on formal probation where they go before the county judge, placing them on a regular probation for six to 12 months, or sending them to TYC.

If the county approves a juvenile facility here, Duffy can then de-

State

Lawmakers discuss regional primary

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas will join Florida in establishing a March presidential primary that could become a "supr Dixie primary, says a state lawmaker.

Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin, told Texas and Florida lawmakers Monday that such a primary would give the South a new measure of national political clout.

"We think we're going to pull it off among all the southern states," Traeger said of the regional primary. "Candidates are going to come to see us rather than walk around in the snows of New Hampshire."

The discussion came at a session where Texas and Florida lawmakers discussed common problems. California lawmakers had planned to attend the meeting to help try to forge a new coalition among the three big-growth states, but their legislative session is now under way.

Florida now holds its presidential primaries on the second Tuesday in March, the date pushed as ideal for the regional primary. A partisan fight in the Texas Legislature prevented such a move here last year.

New Goddess delayed

AUSTIN (AP) — The March 2 sesquicentennial celebration will have to go on without the new Goddess of Liberty statue. She won't be ready for the Capitol dome until June.

Delay in selecting the right metal for the new Goddess, and concerns about March winds combined to postpone completion of the statue, Capitol architect Roy Graham said Monday.

"When you look at March, it's wonderful historically but it has all kinds of problems with wind and weather problems," he said at a Capitol news conference.

Gov. Mark White will announce the metal decision Thursday, according to Graham.

The old statue, worn and battered by her 97 years atop the Capitol, was taken from the dome last November. The 16-foot zinc statue is now in Rhome, Texas, where preparations are being made for a replacement.

The Goddess was removed from the Capitol dome after experts determined the statue could crumble and become a hazard.

National

College costs up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharp increases in tuition at the nation's four-year public colleges and universities helped boost annual total expenses for tuition, room and board to an average of $3,621 for home-state students and $5,553 for non-residents, a new survey shows.

This year's average bill of $4,587 for all students is 7 percent higher than in 1984-85, but it still is only about half of what the typical private college charges.

The figures come from a report released Monday by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

Tuition alone jumped by 8 percent to $1,278 for students attending college in their home states and by 11 percent to $3,210 for out-of-state students.

Room and board cost $2,343 at the typical public campus this year, up 5 percent, or $101, over last year.

Texas, for years the home of the nation's least expensive public universities, posted the steepest percentage increases. The Lone Star state raised tuition and fees for residents 57 percent from $446 a year to $701, while out-of-state students saw their bills soar 162 percent from $1,437 to $3,764.

Hostage families prepare ribbon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The families of six American hostages in Lebanon have a present for President Reagan: a 900-foot yellow cloth ribbon signed by more than 7,200 people.

The families hope to present their gift to top Reagan administration officials as a way of keeping attention focused on the plight of the missing Americans.

"We would like to wrap it (the ribbon) around the White House but we know it won't fit," said Tom Anderson, 41, a New York City policeman from Valley Stream, N.Y. He is the cousin of hostage Terry Anderson, the chief Middle East correspondent for The Associated Press.

"We want to keep the hostage situation in everyone's mind," he said Monday. "It's easy to forget there are people suffering over there."

Tom Anderson said the Anderson family feels a special urgency because Terry Anderson's father, Glenn, is gravely ill in a Batavia, N.Y., hospital. Terry Anderson was abducted from the streets of Beirut 10 months ago.

King Day came just in time

BARNEVELD, Wis. (AP) — Dressed in warm jackets, jeans and heavy boots, hundreds of secretaries, executives, professors and other state workers honored the memory of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. by tramping through snowy fields to pick corn for farmers.

Edward Jabs, a 77-year-old invalid with a dairy farm north of Barneveld, was among those who received a helping hand from the city slickers.

"It came just in the nick of time," he said, wiping tears from his eyes. "I've got hardly anything left in the bin. It's wonderful. I really appreciated it."

The effort was spearheaded by Gov. Anthony S. Earl, who was concerned by agricultural estimates that 30 percent of the state's corn crop was still in the fields because of a wet fall and heavy winter snow. Some farmers were in desperate need of livestock feed.

Earl invited state workers to use their day off to help the farmers, and was in the fields himself with 300 other state workers, sporting an engineer's hat, a red plaid jacket and knee-high boots. Other harvesting groups were organized elsewhere in the state.

Earl, 50, said the enthusiasm of the volunteers was a heart-warming rebuttal to cynics who questioned the worth of harvesting efforts by inexperienced city dwellers.

The workers gathered near the bell tower of a Lutheran Church in this town rebuilt after being leveled by a tornado two years ago. They held a brief prayer session before heading out to pick and glean.

The volunteers helped bring in the corn for Mary Ryan and her husband, who had 15 acres in need of harvest. She said they needed the corn stalks for livestock bedding as well as the corn for feed.

"If we don't get the stalks, we're going to have to start buying the straw, and that can be expensive," she said.

One of the volunteers, Dale Brown, 63, of the state Department of Employment Relations, said the trip was a "great day."

"The trip was a great day," he said.

Man dreams of farm machinery museum

By RICK SMITH
Democrat Sherman

CELINA, Texas (AP) — Gordon Couvillion hopes the Texoma Farm and Heritage Museum will breathe fire, belch smoke and literally move the earth.

"I have been to museums where they have acres and acres of farm machinery sitting in rows. It doesn't do a thing for me. You see it once, you're finished. You never go back," said Couvillion, 67, a retired engineer who lives with his wife, Bea, on a farm near here.

"But wouldn't you like to see this steam engine running?" Couvillion asked, swinging up to the open cab of a locomotive-sized Avery steam tractor.

"And imagine a whole field full of antique tractors, all running. Smoke hanging in the air. Engines pumping away. Tractors turning wheat threshers, baling machines.

"Imagine if you could go out every weekend and see something different going on, see the wheat being cut and put in shocks like it used to be; then go to the threshing machine and see straw coming out here and wheat coming out over there; and then see that wheat actually ground into flour and taken over and baked in a wood-burning oven like the one your grand-mother used.

"Now, that would be a museum." Couvillion and McKinney contractor Louis Wallace are acting as "sparkplugs" to create interest in the Texoma Farm and Heritage Museum.

The museum, they say, will contain dozens of pieces of antique farm machinery ranging from a mule-operated cotton gin to huge, earth-shaking tractors.

Though some of the equipment has already been donated to the non-profit group, the museum has not yet found a permanent home.

Some of the museum pieces will be fired up from the Frontier Festival at Loy Lake Park in Denison April 18-20.

Couvillion says he will have a steam-powered saw mill, a shingle mill, a planing mill, and a mulepowered sorghum press operating at the festival. He says the museum has also planned exhibits of syrup making, log splitting, cabin building, blacksmithing and other farm chores from the past.

Such demonstrations, he says, are not just nostalgic entertainment.

He plans to involve youth organizations such as the 4-H and Future Farmers of America in museum activities.

He says the farming museum will show youth what can be done with simple, inexpensive equipment by giving kids a chance to see the machinery.

"We'll show that farming can be brought back down to a practical level, that they don't have to have big tractors," said Couvillion.

"I'm not saying go back to horse-drawn equipment. That's not practical.

"And it's not necessary to buy an antique tractor. There are only so many around. But why buy a 200-horsepower tractor that will haul 20 14-inch plows when you can buy a 100-horsepower tractor and haul half as many plows or a 25-horsepower tractor that will haul four or five plows? It may take you longer to plow, but you're not in debt."

There's another reason for involving young people in the museum, Couvillion said.

"It is important not to lose your heritage, your background. Don't lose this thread between how we started and what we have now.

"One thing we wrote into the (museum's) bylaws is that no school kid will ever have to pay to get it. That's who it's for."

Couvillion says people interested in the museum range from doctors and lawyers to mechanics and farmers.

He hopes the museum will eventually include a farming village complete with a blacksmith shop and print shop.

The museum, he says, may be open four to five days a week with different farm-related activities taking place each day.

Funding for the museum will come from memberships, gifts and grants, he said.

Honored At Saturday Party

Mrs. W.E. (Mama Jane) Dameron, flanked by her son and daughter, was honored at a birthday party Saturday afternoon at King's Manor with about 250 people attending. Her son, William S. (Bill) Dameron, lives in Colorado Springs, and her daughter, June Nolen, lives in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Dameron came to Deaf Smith County in 1906.

'Mama Jane' Dameron feted with 90th birthday party at King's Manor

Mrs. W.E. "Mama Jane" Dameron was feted with a birthday party Saturday afternoon in King's Manor Retirement Home, and more than 250 people attended the 90th birthday celebration of one of Hereford's most noted pioneers.

Hosting the party were Mrs. Dameron's two children—June Nolen of Oklahoma City, Ok. and William S. (Bill) Dameron of Colorado, Springs, Colo. Invitations were mailed to local residents and the public was invited to the celebration.

The focal point of the massive serving table, which was draped by a white cloth with a pink overlay, was the multi-tiered four-foot white strawberry cake. It was decorated by pink, orchid and yellow spring flowers and multi-colored rosebuds and topped with the number "90."

Also, enhancing the table was a large floral arrangement of spring flowers flanked by two silver candelabra. Individual napkins saying "Happy Birthday Mama Jane" were placed on the table where sandwiches, cookies, mints, nuts, punch and coffee were served.

Individual refreshment tables were arranged with various floral arrangements sent by friends and relatives.

Mrs. Dameron was presented a double orchid corsage by her children and received numerous out-of-town calls from relatives and friends representing Spokane, Wash., Los Angeles, Calif., Kansas City, Ks., Baltimore, Md. and Phoenix, Ariz.

Those attending from other cities represented Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Amarillo, McGregor, Tx., Waco, and Tulsa, Ok.

Born Jan. 12, 1896 in New Haven, Inc., Mrs. Dameron moved with her family to Hereford in 1906. She is the daughter of the late A.W. Gregg, a pioneer farmer who drilled the second irrigation well in this area. Mama Jane attended Hereford schools, Panhandle Christian College in Hereford, and Southern Seminary in Virginia.

She was married to W.F. Dameron May 5, 1920. He was an attorney and widely-known cattleman who operated one of the largest registered Hereford cattle ranches of this area. He served as county attorney, county judge and mayor. After his death in 1952, Lake Park was renamed Dameron Park in his honor.

Mama Jane is a former member of Bay View Study Club, a charter member of the Hereford Music Study Club and the Hereford CowBelles. She was a three-term president of the Music Club. She was honored as the CowBelles' Queen over 80 and also as the CowBelle Queen of Hereford's Diamond Jubilee in 1973.

A Deacon emeritus and longtime Sunday School teacher, Mrs. Dameron attends the First Christian Church. Until recent years, she was active in the civic, religious and cultural growth of the community.

Lemons, Wagner give AIM chapter program

Members of Alpha Iota Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Thursday evening for their regular meeting in the Hereford State Bank Community Room. Hostesses were Ruby Lee and Carol Kelley.

Before the business session, a program was presented by Patricia Lemons and Beverly Wagner of The Lemon Tree entitled "Behavioral Kinesiology." Lemons explained that the goal of this program is to make one feel good.

During the business meeting,

Marge Bell thanked all members who collected canned goods to be donated to Operation Good Shepherd as a community service project.

A shopping spree in Amarillo is planned for Feb. 1 and the next meeting will be Feb. 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Members present included Connie Matthews, advisor, and Bell, Janet Daugherty, Beckie Fry, Cindy Garth, Lisa Gelatt, Dona Hendrickson, Louann Eubanks, Lee, Jan Ramaekers, Janis White, Melinda White, Elizabeth Jesko, Lisa Rollins and Marie Sullivan.

La Plata students show art skills at program

Members of Hereford Fine Arts Association met for their monthly meeting at the Community Center recently.

President, Linda Minchew, introduced Marion Goodin, public school art teacher, who presented the program. Goodin introduced two groups of students from LaPlata Junior High School.

One group demonstrated different ways of handling ceramic clay to create by hand objects of art. The other group demonstrated drawing skills. Goodin used a potter's wheel as she demonstrated and explained the technique involved in creating a pot.

The students who participated in presenting the interesting, informative program were, Diana Duncan, Kevin Paetzold, John Matthews, Randall Keyes, Brooke Seiver, Scot Robinson, Patrick Gilliland, Chad Muse, Lupe Limon and Steve Rickman.

Refreshments of cookies, candies, nuts and punch were provided by Melba Dillard, and Louella Cowser. Members present were Louya Kersey, Jolene Bledsoe, Carmen Angel, Louella Cowser, Melba Dillard, Cindy Walker, Suzy Wall, Marion Goodin, Gary Hammett, Vinita Wear, and Norma Hendon, whose name was drawn for the "dinner out" gift certificate which the club gives each month.

Coffee

The name of coffee in almost every country comes from the Arabian word "kahwah" — an honored title that means "that which gives strength" — and its Turkish derivative, "kahwah." Coffee was so popular in Turkey that, if a husband failed to keep his wife supplied with the brew, she had grounds for divorce.

WHEN THEY TELL YOU THAT ABORTION IS A MATTER JUST BETWEEN A WOMAN AND HER DOCTOR

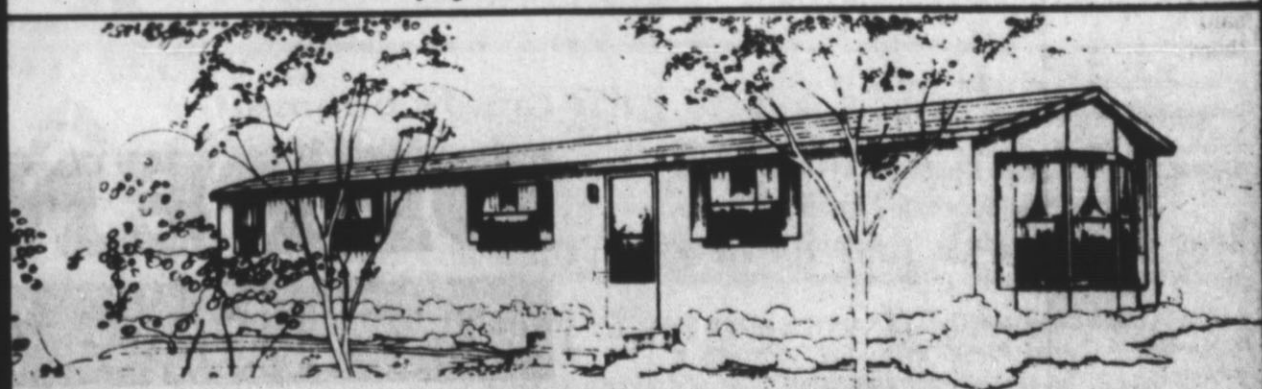

THEY'RE FORGETTING SOMEONE

The incredible photograph above by Dr. Rainer Jonas shows what a healthy, active intrauterine child looks like at 19 weeks. Like the bud of a flower, beautiful. But, unfortunately still a candidate for elective abortion. 17 million U.S. babies - since January 22, 1973 - killed by "legalized murder."

There are alternatives to abortion.

Ann Landers

Lifesaving advice

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend of mine couldn't get anyone to accompany her on a cruise. She persuaded me to accept her ticket as a gift. Due to circumstances I won't go into, a class-action suit was brought against the cruise line and refunds were made to all passengers. I could have been seriously injured on that cruise, but I was lucky and came home safe and sound. My friend insisted I give her the refund. I complied with her wishes, but felt that she was being unfair. Our friendship is seriously strained. Am I justified in feeling she was wrong to demand the money?—ASKING IN PA.

DEAR PA: Since you did not lay out any money for the ticket you were not entitled to the refund. Had you been injured on the cruise and received compensation, I would say THAT money belonged to you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Regarding university professors and sexy students who are called "lollipops": Some of us are just plain suckers.

When I returned to school to get my master's degree, I became involved with a professor. He was married to a cold fish and said he was starved for warmth and affection.

For a smart woman I was unbelievably dumb. I fell head over heels in love with the skunk. One fine day I was informed by a respected member of the faculty that my dreamboat had been cheating on his wife for 30 years and I was one of a long list of idiots.

When I dumped him he couldn't have cared less. He had his next pigeon all lined up. So, in addition to my master's degree, I received a great education in human relationships.—BEEN THERE AND SORRY (HAWAII)

DEAR H.: Be glad you're not there now. Some idiots hang around forever.

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? Ann Landers' "New Bride's Guide" will relieve your anxiety. To receive a copy, send $2.00 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (39 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

man twice my age. When I decided I wanted to go to college rather than marry this man, he went berserk. I was forced at gunpoint to do some unspeakable things while he took pictures. Afterward he drove me home and pushed me out of the car.

Ann, I wanted to die. I planned my death by gunshot to the last detail. Then suddenly I remembered the words in your column: "Wait until tomorrow." I sat down on my bed and stared at the door. I thought "Okay, if I still feel this way tomorrow, I'll do it." The next day passed and I felt better. I looked at your column again and decided to give myself one more day. The next day the gloom lifted. A guy I used to like called that night and we talked for a long time. He made me feel terrific.

I'm in my late 20s now and my life is wonderful. If it hadn't been for you I wouldn't be around to enjoy it. When I say you are a lifesaver, I really mean it.—GRAND JUNCTION, COLO.

DEAR G.J.: What an upper! I hope everyone who feels life isn't worth living will remember your letter.

A buck in the hand is worth more than a garage full of Junk.

Says home restorer

There isn't enough time

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — There isn't enough time. Mary Odom of Fort Worth is 61 years old already, and she figures she'll have to live another 60 years to do everything she wants to do. What she wants to do is fix up old houses.

"I sort of have a maternal instinct for the houses," said the Waxahachie native, a contractor who specializes in restorations. "I think, 'This poor old house has been neglected. I just want to help.'"

She has driven down the streets of the Fairmount neighborhood in south Fort Worth, where she's currently working on a project, nearly wrecking her car because she's so busy looking at all the old houses in need of help.

Secretary wants iron curtain raised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Education William J. Bennett today appealed to the Soviet Union to "raise the iron curtain" and allow American intellectuals, including Bennett himself, to teach in Soviet classrooms and appear on Soviet television.

Bennett said he would welcome a visit in return by the Soviet Deputy Minister of Education, Marina I. Juravleva, to "teach classes on the Soviet system."

He proposed the exchange in a speech prepared for delivery today to the Chamber of Commerce in Kansas City, Mo. A copy of the speech was obtained Monday.

The tough-talking education chief recalled Winston Churchill's famous 1946 speech in Fulton, Mo., in which the British wartime leader declared, "From Stettin in the Baltic to Trieste in the Adriatic, an iron curtain has descended across the Continent" of Europe, and warned the Western democracies to stand firm against the spread of communism.

Bennett said the preliminary findings of a new study of American youths found that half of those tested "could not even identify Winston Churchill. Nor could half of them identify Joseph Stalin," the Soviet dictator.

On Aug. 27, 1985, American women were granted the right to vote.

BASEBALL

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox will play in Comiskey Park, the oldest major league ball park still operating, a minimum of three more years, team officials said.

Last week, American League officials sent a letter to the owners of the White Sox telling them to find a new home for the club because increasing maintenance costs were threatening the financial health of the team.

NEW YORK (AP) — Wade Boggs of the Boston Red Sox topped a record eight players who have submitted salary arbitration demands of $1 million or more.

Boggs, the 1985 American League batting champion with a .366 average, asked for $1.5 million, while the Red Sox have offered $1.35 million. Boggs was awarded a $1 million salary in arbitration last year.

According to figures published today by The New York Times, the other players asking for $1 million or more were Fernando Valenzuela of the Los Angeles Dodgers, $1.7 million; Tim Lincecum of the Montreal Expos, $1.7 million; Don Mattingly of the New York Yankees, $1.5 million; Dwight Gooden of the New York Mets, $1.5 million; John Tudor of the St. Louis Cardinals, $1.5 million; Rich Gedman of the Red Sox, $1 million; and Orval Hershey of the Dodgers, $1 million.

FOOTBALL

HOUSTON (AP) — Jerry Glanville, who took charge of the Houston Oilers on an interim basis for the final two games of the 1985 season, has been named head coach of the National Football League team.

Glanville had to survive a lengthy search by Oilers General Manager Ladd Herzog and the scrutiny of owner Bud Adams before winning out over two other candidates — San Francisco 49ers quarterback coach Paul Hackett and Dick Coury, former head coach of the United States Football League's Fort Lauderdale Breakers.

TENNIS

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Martina Navratilova struggled for two hours before edging West Germany's Claudia Kohde-Kilsch for the New England Virginia Slims title.

Navratilova, who has won six straight tournaments, lost a string of nine successive straight set victories and trailed by two games in the third set before winning, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4.

Navratilova, pocketed $60,000 for the victory.

HORSE RACING

ELMONT, N.Y. (AP) — The 45 thoroughbreds that perished in the Belmont Park fire were found in their stalls, "lying there like they're asleep," said Elmont Assistant Fire Chief John Lauer.

"You don't get over it," trainer Johnny Campo said.

"I can't talk about the horses," Campo, who trained 26 of the horses, said Monday. "Maybe in three or four days."

Four of the dead horses were offspring of Pleasant Colony, winner of the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and $877,000 in 1981; Pleasant Motion, Colony of Motion, Pleasant Lady D. and Tearful Colony.

They and 41 other horses were killed when fire and smoke swept through Barn 68, a 69-year-old structure early Sunday.

Detective Lt. William Guterbach, commanding officer of the Nassau County arson squad, said Monday the cause of the fire still was unknown but "we have nothing to indicate anything suspicious about the fire of this time."
