County okays SSC, merging 2 offices

By DEBE GRAVES Staff Writer

Passage of a resolution endorsing the potential placement of the federal government's Superconducting Super Collider project near Deaf Smith County was the first item of business for county commissioners during a regular meeting yesterday.

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Mike Carr appeared before the commission to request a commitment from the county expressing support of bringing the highly sought project to the area. According to Carr, two sites from Texas will be chosen to compete with those of other states in site selection. While endorsing the project, commissioners made no dollar commitment on behalf of the

Paul Hamilton of West Texas Services, Inc., finalized plans to supplying telephones for the court house and outlying offices. The county is expected to see considerable longterm savings through the two-year purchase plan as opposed to continued leasing of equipment.

In another effort to save funds, commissioners voted unanimously to combine the Social Services office with the office of County Judge Tom Simons who will take on additional responsibilites. Judy Baker, the part-time secretary for Social Services, will be work full-time and Simons will assume the duties of Social Services director Earline Cook who is moving to Oklahoma.

With the increased pay for the secretary and a monthly increase of $500 for Simons, commissioners expect to save several thousand dollars a year by the merger. The changes ar effective May 1, and are for a two-

Cook will receive five days vacation pay on termination of her employment. She had requested 10 days but in a three to one vote commissioners agreed to pay the reduced figure due to leave time which was used for family matters and mistakenly charged out as sick

Extension agents Dennis Newton and Beverly Harder appeared before the court to express concern about the proposed relocation of the Extension Service offices to the fourth floor of the court house. Both feel such a move would make the service inaccesible to elderly clients who have difficulty climbing stairs.

Attorneys R.C. Hoelscher and Rex Easterwood also appeared concerning the matter of establishing the law library and consultation rooms in a different area of the courthouse Both expressed concern that the needs of the Extension office be considered and requested that the commissioners seek more input from all. involved parties before definite moves are instigated.

In other business the commissioners approved a request for a formal resolution permitting District Attorney Roland Saul to apply for a grant from the Criminal Justice department for a computer system for his department. Juvenile Proba-

Death threats prompt 24-hour guard on North

WASHINGTON (AP) - Navy guards are giving 24-hour protection to fired White House aide Oliver L. North because he has received death threats, Pentagon sources say.

North, who has yet to fell what he knows about the sale of arms to Iran and the alleged diversion of funds to Nicaraguan rebels, is guarded by agents from the Naval Investigative Service at his home, at his Marine Corps job and on family outings, officials said Monday

One source said there is "reason to believe that North is considered a target" of terrorists. He did not elaborate, however. Several sources,

'Holy War' would mean end of PTL

FORT MILL, S.C. (AP) - The Rev. Jim Bakker, embroiled in a growing sex and money scandal, will cause the collapse of PTL if he wages a "holy war" to try to regain control of the TV ministry, the Rev. Jerry Falwell says.

'He'll preside over a funeral ... the funeral of his ministry," Falwell said Monday on the eve of a meeting today of PTL's new board.

The Rev. Bailey E. Smith, a board member, and Rex Humbard Jr., spokesman for board member Rex Humbard Sr., agreed with Falwell that Bakker should not return, but all three said they won't fight if he in-

The eight-member board was formed March 19 when Bakker resigned as chairman of PTL after acknowledging that payments were made to cover up a 1980 sexual encounter he had with a former church secretary, Jessica Hahn.

Another TV evangelist, the Rev. John Ankerberg, alleged last week, and again Monday, that Bakker has hired prostitutes and engaged in homosexual acts. Bakker has denied the allegations.

Justice lifts threat of fine

AUSTIN (AP) - State officials today announced that an order had been signed in the long-running prison reform lawsuit granting the state's motion to call off fines that could have totaled $800,500 a day.

'This is a complete victory for the state of Texas. We got a great order from Judge William Wayne Justice," Attorney General Jim Mattox said.

Justice signed the order Friday and it was filed today in U.S. district court in Houston, Mattox said.

It granted all of the state's motions to modify and vacate the fines which Justice had threatened to start April 1 if the state failed to make improvements in its prisons.

The court order said the Texas Department of Corrections had made "remarkable progress toward complete compliance with the requirements of the court's (Dec. 31, 1986) order."

Drug kingpin slain in ambush

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - A drug dealer killed in a hail of bullets after a team of Mexican federal police surrounded his ranch was the longstanding head of a drug empire that numbered more than 300 growers and smugglers of marijuana, heroin and cocaine, authorities said.

Pablo Acosta, 50, died Friday near Ojinaga, Mexico, 250 miles southeast of El Paso. "If he wasn't the largest (drug dealer in Chihuahua), he was certainly the most dangerous," said Guillermo Gonzalez Calderoni, head of the Mexican Federal Judicial Police in Juarez.

"He was ruthless ... one of the most significant drug traffickers along the U.S.-Mexico border," said Phil Jordan, with the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration in Dallas.

Jordan said there will probably be a power struggle in the Acosta organization to see who will control it.

'It will disorganize it for a little while," Jordan said. "Unfortunately, there will be more Acostas."

Jordan could not estimate the quantities of drugs smuggled into the United States by the Acosta organization. But he said it involved hundreds of kilograms.

With the help of FBI agents, Mexican Federal Judicial agents led by Gonzalez Calderoni ambushed Acosta Friday at a ranch house in Santa Elena, Mexico, across the Rio Grande from Castolon, Texas, in the isolated Big Bend National Park area.

Prosecutor says Goetz was sadistic

NEW YORK (AP) - Bernhard Goetz is "an emotional powder keg" who shot four youths in a subway car not because they were about to mug him but because of his rigid concept of justice, a prosecutor charged.

"The defendant tried to kill them, not as an act of selfpreservation, but because in the defendant's mind this was right and this was just," Assistant District Attorney Gregory Waples said as Goetz's trial on attempted murder charges began Monday.

Defense attorney Barry Slotnick said Goetz had a right to do what he did more than two years ago because he was under attack.

"Bernhard Goetz was set upon by four seasoned, sophisticated, educated street predators," Slotnick said. "And every gesture had meaning." He said Goetz, the victim of a 1981 mugging and beating, knew the signs of attack.

"Those punks that surrounded Bernhard Goetz got what the law llows," Slotnick said. "Under the law and under the facts of the BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) - The ground beneath the foundation of the L'Ambiance Plaza may hold clues to what caused the building collapse that buried 28 men, according to an engineer who reviewed thousands of documents.

Frank J. Zamecnik, a structural engineer retained by The Associated Press, examined 3,000 pages of documents, made available by the city Sunday and Monday, pertaining to construction of the apartment building.

Zamecnik said every testing laboratory report he reviewed indicated that the work was done to meet the specific engineering requirements. But he said many questions were not answered by the Mayor Thomas Bucci said city engineers would conduct an independent investigation into the soil on which the 13-story apartment complex was being built.

Zamecnik outlined several scenerios that could have caused Thursday's collapse, including loose ground under the site, cold weather during the pouring of concrete, or design flaws.

Europeans seek consensus on arms LUXEMBOURG (AP) - The Soviet Union's latest offer on nuclear arms reductions in Europe is testing the European NATO countries' resolve to present a more unified stance on key defense issues

Most European governments appear willing to accept the Soviet proposal on eliminating short- and medium-range nuclear missiles, but West German hesitation has put a full consensus in doubt.

Defense and foreign ministers of the seven-nation Western European Union planned to meet in Luxembourg today for a special session devoted mainly to seeking a common response to the Soviet proposals.

The one-day meeting has been touted as a crucial opportunity to transform the nearly moribund Western European Union into a forum for asserting a European viewpoint on arms control independent of the United States.

"We must come to a common stance on this (Soviet) proposal," said Jacques Poos, the Luxembourg foreign minister who will be chairman of the meeting. "The question is very urgent for us."

Also today, political officials from the 16 North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations will meet in Brussels to try to agree on a recommended response from the Western alliance.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) - President Kurt Waldheim said he has a clear conscience about his activities in World War II and is disappointed the United States has barred him because he allegedly took part in Nazi atrocities.

The U.S. government's move Monday means Waldheim would be denied a visa should he seek to enter on a private visit. He has the right to an administrative hearing should he apply.

It is the first time the United States has placed a head of state on its Watchlist of undesireable aliens.

The Austrian Press Agency quoted Waldheim as expressing "deep regret" over the move and saying he had a clear conscience despite Bakker and his wife, Tammy, who were co-hosts of PTL's daily television show, reportedly were paid $1.6 million in salary and bonuses in 1986.

The Charlotte (N.C.) Observer reported today that the Internal Revenue Service has told PTL it could lose its tax-exempt status for 1981-1983 because a "substantial portion of PTL's net earnings" those years went to benefit Bakker, his relatives and other PTL officers.

The Observer reported that the Rev. Richard Dortch, who succeeded Bakker as president of PTL and host of the show, received $350,000 in salary and bonuses. Dortch has said he is not accepting any payment this

"I am personally convinced that Roe Messner is an honorable businessman," Falwell said. "In my opinion, his chief error in the Jessica Hahn affair was lack of information and bad judgment."

Messner has denied any wrongdoing, but said he would not give details.

Dortch could not be reached for comment. A secretary at PTL refused to refer calls to PTL officials. A woman who answered the phone Monday at Bakker's house in Palm Springs, Calif., said he wasn't available.

Falwell said Monday on "The 700 Club" on the Christian Broadcasting Network that Bakker asked him last week in a telegram to return the ministry.

"He implied that I made some kind of deal with him, which I did not, to give it back to him and asking me to pass it on to another board, I'm sure he means of his selection, I don't know, and implying that if I don't do

Series E U.S. Savings Bonds issued 40 years age need to take action promptly, the U.S. Treasury Department says. People who purchased Series E Savings Bonds in 1947 have two options this year; cash them in and declare the interest on the 1987 federal income tax return or exchange the Series E for Series HH and defer taxes for another ten years. An example of the importance of taking action on older E Bonds is a $1,000 face value Bond purchased in January 1947 for $750, which stopped earning interest in January 1987 after accruing a total net value of $4,935.20. The Bond holder would subtract the purchase price from the current net value to determine the amount of accumulated interest, which, in this example, would be $4,185.20. The accumulated interest must be declared on the individual's

The other option is to roll over the Series E into a Series HH Bond. Series E holders have twelve months from the date of a Bond's maturity to roll it over. A roll-over into Series HH defers federal income tax on the interest for ten more years.

Individuals holding Bonds that are more than 40 years old face a more complicated tax situation. Since the interest on mature Bonds must be declared as income, Bond holders who have not yet cashed in a Bond bought before 1947 may have to file an amended income tax return and may experience a penalty. To help prevent this situation from occuring, the Treasury Department is trying to alert consumers to the need to watch the maturity dates of their older Savings Bonds.

Nunley attends seminar

Deaf Smith County Treasurer Vesta Mae Nunley joined some 220 other elected officials for the 15th annual County Treasurers' Seminar, April 20-23. Theme of the seminar was "Certified County Treasurers: Minds Over Money."

"County treasurers have the major responsibility for handling and investing county funds," said Nunley. "It's an ever-changing business that requires staying up on the latest in money management and legal requirements for government fiscal accountability."

Concurrent sessions at the seminar provided customized training based on population and government structure of the counties where the treasurers serve. Program topics included contemporary cash management, depository contracts, fair labor standards, computerization of records, certificates of obligation and a legislative update.

County treasurers who complete the training are certified as required by state law and receive credits from the Texas A&M University Office of Professional Improvement. The annual seminar is one of the educational programs sponsored by the V. G. Young Institute of County Government, a part of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I hope this letter will be read by all roommates who don't have to do any housework because they are "never home" and who don't contribute to food bills because they "never eat":

In the last four days you have come home every day to change your clothes, take a bath, do your laundry and talk on the phone. You also managed to clean me out of bread, milk and fresh fruit before you rushed out the door.

The inventory of the dishes you left in the sink these last four days is as follows: nine plates, 11 glasses, three coffee mugs, four measuring cups, five bowls, one salad spinner and several knives and forks. I feel like the maid. For those who "don't eat" and therefore do not share my food bills, please be aware that when you put my leftovers in your mouth you are depriving me of what might have been my lunch or dinner.

I am not asking you to move because you do pay half the rent, utilities and phone bills, but I am asking that you give me a break and be more considerate .-- T.H., in Calgary, Alberta

DEAR CAL: Since misery loves company it's good to know that "roomie" gripes are the same in Canada as in the U.S. It's bad enough to live with a slob and a freeloader. but the most infuriating complaint is against the dame who has her unemployed honey over for three-

Did it occur to you that perhaps Nan, and others like her (plus young male prostitutes on the street corners), might be looking for nothing more than close physical contact with a warm body? Every day I see why the need is so great-mothers screaming curses at their youngsters in the supermarket, fathers yanking their children around by their collars and sleeves in fast-food restaurants. It is sickening.

Please, Ann, urge all parents to dole out daily hugs. Give a handliterally. Rub a pair of shoulders as > DEAR SHARON: You are so right. Children need to be hugged and stroked and feel a loving arm-around them. Babies who are not held or cuddled suffer serious emotional deprivation.

Being touched and held is a basic human need. Those who don't get it often grow up unable to relate in a loving way to anyone. And as you pointed out, these emotionally staryed people are easy prey for predators who sense this need and provide 'friendly touching' that can easily lead to a full-blown sexual relation-

Dropout problem addressed via rule

The State Board of Education has given initial approval to a new rule aimed at helping combat the dropout

The rule, which is scheduled to receive final approval in June, requires school districts to adopt policies designed to retain potential dropouts in a school setting.

The policies must designate the programs and services in the district that are available for at-risk students.

A student is identified as "at risk" if he or she is ing rades 7-12, below the age of 21 and meets one or more of the following conditions:

-Has not been promoted one or more times on the basis of academic achievement:

-Is two or more years below grade level in reading or mathematics;

-Has failed at least two courses in one or more semesters and is not expected to graduate within four years of the time he or she entered the ninth grade; or -Has failed one or more of the reading, writing or mathematics sections of the most recent TEAMS test beginning with the seventh grade

In addition to these criteria, the district may consider environmental, familial, economic, social, developmental and other psychosocial factors in determining services where such factors contribute to the student's inability to graduate from high school.

Alternative programs may recruit youths below the age of 21 who are not high school graduates and are not currently enrolled in school.

The rule requires districts to adopt a plan for implementation of these policies. The implementation plan must consist of two parts-a district plan and campus plans for grades 7-12.

The district plan must include objectives designed to meet the identified needs of at-risk students and to retain those students in accordance with Board's Long-Range Plan for Texas Public School Education, which targets a reduction in the statewide dropout rate from 35 percent ot 24 percent within four years and to 5 percent by 1997-98.

District plans must be designed to use community resources that are at-risk youth and emphasize a comprehensive team approach involving the superintendent, principal, parent or guardian, teacher, student, community service provider, business representatives or others. The district plan may include the use of experimental courses, magnet programs and alternative school programs. The plan must be evaluated each year and modifications must be made as needed to increase th percentage of students remaining in school. The district plan may provide an exemption for campuses that have an annual dropout rate of 5 percent or less. The principal is responsible for the develoment, implementation and evaluation of the campus plan, which must provide for the identification and assessment of students who are at risk of not graduating from high

But the Herd's Keith Herrera came through with a clutch hit - a single to drive in Brown with the game-winning run.

Whiteface pitcher Keith Anderson, who scored his eighth victory of the season against one defeat, gave up a single in the bottom of the seventh after striking out the first batter of the inning.

Anderson then struck out the third batter of the inning, and got the fourth batter to hit a fly ball into right field, where Mike Phibbs caught the ball for the final out of the Earlier in the game, Phibbs also played a hero's role when he hit a leadoff home run - on the first pitch of the fifth inning - over the left field fence. It was Phibbs' first home run of the 1987 season and put the Herd into a 1-1 tie with the Eagles. Canyon had gained a 1-0 lead in the third inning when Trew Dewey hit a home run over the left field fence.

In pitching the Whitefaces to victory, Anderson allowed five hits, walked just one batter, and struck

Some important defensive plays by Hereford helped keep Canyon from scoring in the fifth and sixth innings. Centerfielder Rodney McCracken made a running catch against the fence in the fifth inning.

In the sixth inning, Canyon had two runners on base with two outs. Shortstop Paul Maes made an crucial play on a ground ball, throwing to second base for out No. 3 of the inning.

That led to the exciting seventh inning when the Herd broke the tie enroute to the 2-1 victory. With the victory, Hereford clinched at least a second place tie in the district.

Whiteface JV team beats Canyon 7-3, 13-12

Hereford High School's junior varsity baseball team finished the 1987 but win No. 13 had some troubles before Hereford pulled out a 13-12 victory over Canyon in eight innings in a home game.

Hereford led a 10-3 lead after five innings of play, but Canyon capitalized on five Hereford errors to take a 12-10 lead in the top of the seventh.

Keith Brown quickly brought the Whiteface junior varsity back with a home run over the left field fence to lead off the bottom of the seventh.

Later in the inning, after Jeff Farr had singled and stole second base, Todd Collier hit an RBI double to tie the game at 12-12.

The contest went into one extra inning before Hereford emerged as the winner. Fidel Ceballos singled in the bottom of the eighth for Hereford. A forceout at second base left Hereford with a runner at first base, Brown.

Brown scored all the way from tirst base when Jason Scott hit a fly ball single into shallow left field. Brown had third base easily made on Scott's hit - but when the Eagle rightfielder bobbled the ball, Brown took off for home plate.

Brown beat the throw to home plate for the 13-12 Hereford win, ending what was a three-hour and 10-minute game.

It was the second time in three days that Hereford and Canyon met in a junior varsity baseball battle. On in those innings, returned to the Saturday, Hereford won at Canyon mound in the seventh inning. He by a margin of 7-3.

quickly moved out to a 6-0 lead with three runs in the first inning and three more in the second inning.

Brown scored the first run of the game on an error, after he had singled, stole second base, and reached third base on a groundout. Edward Martinez made Hereford's lead 3-0 with a two-run double

Brown was on the basepaths again in the second inning, with a groundrule double. After he advanced to third base on a wild pitch, Brown scored on a single by Jason Scott for a 4-0 HHS lead.

Clint Cotten hit an RBI triple and later scored on a wild pitch, increasing Hereford's lead to 6-0.

Three singles by Canyon resulted in the first of two runs in the third inning. The second run scored when a runner who was at third base and headed to home plate when the ball was pitched, scored after being caught in a rundown.

Another Canyon player also attempted to steal home, but HHS catseason Monday with a 13-1-1 record, cher Roger McCracken tagged him Canyon scored one run in the fifth inning after the bases were loaded with a walk, single and a batter hit by a pitch.

Hereford came back with four runs in the bottom of the fifth inning for a 10-3 lead. J.T. Heaton began the inning with a double, and Joe Lopez

Raymond Romo hit an RBI double. and then the bases were loaded with Nick Kendall was hit by a pitch.

With the next batter at the plate, Canyon's catcher overthrew the first baseman in an attempt to pick off Kendall. Lopez and Romo both scored on the error.

Later, Kendall scored on a wild pitch to put Hereford's lead at 10-3.

Nothing could go right for the Whitefaces in the bottom of the seventh when Canyon put together a nine-run rally, capitalizing on five errors by Hereford. Hits in the inning included a pair of two-run doubles. and a two-run single. The other three runs were scored on errors.

Hereford then rallied for two runs in the bottom of the seventh, and wonthe game, 13-12, with the run in the eighth inning.

Fidel Ceballos, who pitched the first three innings and struck out five struck out two batters in the eighth In Monday's game, Hereford, inning and was the winning pitcher.

Clint Cotten had three strikeouts in pitching the fourth and fifth innings. On Saturday, Jason Scott pitched a complete game for Hereford, striking out 14 Canyon batters in the 7-3 win at Canyon. Three times, in the third, fourth, and fifth innings, Scott struck out the side.

Scott's effort was a three-hitter with just one walk. Two of Canyon's runs were unearned.

Roger McCracken gave Hereford a 2-0 lead with a double in the first inning. Jeff Farr and Jason Scott, who scored on McCracken's double, both had walked and achieved stolen bases.

A two-run single by Brad Pittman in the third inning made the HHS lead 4-0. Derrell Page, McCracken, and Edward Martinez all walked before Pittman hit his single.

Hereford had another two-run inning in the sixth. Farr hit an RBI double and Scott hit an RBI groundout.

Grid Coach Takes To Basketball

About $2,000 is raised for scholarship fund

The Hereford Coaches defeated the Long Rangers of KFDA Television 47-40 Saturday night in a fund-raising basketball game.

The game, which was played in the La Plata Junior High School gym, was a fund-raiser for the Casey Smith Memorial Scholarship Fund. Approximately $2,000 was raised for the fund, reports Gene Brock, sponsor for the Hereford Key Club, which organized the event. Here is the statistical side of the game, as far as how the Hereford Coaches team scored their 47 points: Craig Yenzer, seven points: Mike Fields and Lynn Gilbreath, six points each; Danny Haney, Cindy Baker, and Brenda Reeh, four points each and Don Cumpton, Stan Carter, Bill Bridge, Paul Sample, James Salinas, Henry Perez, Tommy Bowling, and Jill Pickens, two points each.

The game was one of entertain ment for more than 500 spectators Some of the happenings in the game included these

1. A defensive tackle by Danny Haney of the Hereford Coaches, tackling Lupe Pena of the Long Rangers - with Pena being called for an offensive foul. (Pena was the 1986 season football student manager for the Whiteface varsity, but was playing for the out-of-towners after becoming a celebrity on KFDA through an interview during the football season.

2. The Hereford Coaches women's team outscoring the Long Rangers each time they went against the KFDA opponents. (The women's team scored 16 points, just more than one third of the Hereford Coaches' total points.) The women's team's defensive leader had to be Linda Carter, who at least three times stole the ball from the Long Rangers.)

3. Deaf Smith County Judge Tom Simons officiating the game along with Ruben Vargas, with Vargas making more JUDGE-mental calls than the Judge. (Vargas, the Hereford High School tennis coach, apparently prefers to referee as compared to playing in basketball games.)

4. A Long Rangers team member putting on a Hereford Coaches uniform and entering the game without permission from the head coach of the Hereford Coaches, Don Cumpton - with a technical foul being called on the Hereford Coaches for having six players on the court at

5. Razzle-dazzle plays occurred frequently at both ends of the court, to the delight of the spectators, as well as booing by the fans.

6. Slam dunks by a member of each team - the Long Ranger Cowboy.on stilts during the game, and Hereford Coaches team member Craig Yenzer during the pre-game warmups.

Co-dependents need help also

When Ruth attended her first fami- she had unwittingly enabled the ly group meeting at the CareUnit, she assumed she was there to learn how to support her husband during his recovery from alcoholism.

But when she learned she also had her own recovery to work through, the middle-aged woman was confused. There was nothing wrong with her, Ruth thought. Her husband was the one who was sick.

But after talking with a counselor, Ruth realized she had the signs of a serious problem of her own.

Her parents were alcoholics. Both her husbands had drinking problems. And she realized that when she was involved with an alcoholic, other person to drink.

Eventually, Ruth discovered she was suffering from co-dependency, a problem that leads someone to consciously or unconsciously aid another person-usually a parent, a child or spouse-in drinking or abusing drugs.

Invariably, the co-dependent, also referred to as an enabler, is the child of an alcoholic or drug abuser. The problem is more prevalent among women since men are more likely to leave a substance abuser. And because co-dependents frequently marry alcoholics or drug abusers, the problem is often passed from generation to generation.

But just because someone lives with an alcoholic or drug abuser, doesn't necessarily mean he or she is co-dependent. Some of the following symptoms should also be present:

-Denial of a loved one's substance abuse or one's own co-dependency. Since it's hard to admit that one may be part of the complete chaos surrounding drug and alcohol abuse, the enabler may simply ignore the pro-

-Lying for the chemically dependent person. The co-dependent will often call in sick for the alcoholic who's too hung over to work or lie to friends and relatives about the seriousness of a family member's drug abuse.

-Assuming an inordinate amount of responsibility. The enabler often takes control of running an entire household which leaves the substance abuser with minimal obligations and more time to drink or use drugs.

-Social withdrawal. Rather than argue with someone about whether he or she is sober enough to drive after an evening of alcohol or drug use, the enabler believes it's easier to stay home. By withdrawing from friends and family it's also simpler to conceal the seriousness of the chemically dependent person's pro-

-Constant worrying about the substance abuser. The enabler may have obsessive thoughts about whether the chemically dependent person will come home at night, lose his job or drive drunk.

-Continual guilt. Enablers often believe that if they were better spouses, parents, or children, a loved one wouldn't drink or use drugs.

-Physical problems which mimic those of the substance abuser. Due to the stress of dailyliving with an alcoholic or drug abuser, codependents often suffer from ailments similar to those of the substance abuser, including indigestion, ulcers, heart palpitations, high blood pressure and extreme weight gain or loss.

In many cases, the enabler is as addicted to the chemically dependent person as the substance abuser is to drugs or alcohol.

A young suburban housewife admits she derives a certain pleasure in the praise she receives from friends and relatives who admire her for holding the family together despite her husband's drinking.

A 44-year-old husband confides that he relishes the power of having his alcoholic wife totally dependent upon him.

In other cases, the co-dependent stays with the alcoholic or drug abuser for seemingly selfless reasons.

By BEVERLY HARDER County Extension Agent GET READY FOR CANNING

Before we realize it will be time to begin canning the summer produce. Annually most homemakers find themselves caught unprepared for the canning season. NOW is the time to check the parts of the pressure canner and make certain that all parts are in working order. It is difficult to find parts for some canner models locally. Some parts may have to be special ordered directly from the company which requires four to eight weeks. Parts to check are the rubber gasket, rubber pop-off valve and the pressure gauge (the dial). Make sure there are no cracks in the rubber parts and that the rubber is still pliable.

The dial should be checked EVERY year. Storing the lid upsidedown, dust, or any jolt can cause the dial to register inaccurate. The County Extension Office personnel, 3rd floor of the courthouse, will check the dial free of charge. Bring ONLY the lid. The heating of the equipment takes approximately 45 minutes so call ahead and we will be ready to check the dial upon your arrival. Only seconds are required for the actual testing.

Taking care of this chore now will prevent headaches of not having your equipment ready for the 1987 canning season.

AND THAT'S HOW IT ALL GOT STARTED!

When God began creating the heavens and the earth, the earth was at first a shapeless, chaotic mass, with the Spirit of God brooding over the dark vapors. Then God said, "Let there be light." And light appeared. And God was pleased with it, and divided the light from the darkness. So he let it shine for awhile, and then there was darkness again. He called the light "daytime," and the darkness "nighttime." Together they formed the first day: [Gen. 1:1-

How can we describe God? With what can we compare him? "With whom will you compare me? Who is my equal?" asks the Holy One Look up into the heavens! Who created all these stars! As a shepherd leads his sheep, calling each by its pet names, and counts them to see that none are lost or strayed, so God does with the stars and planets! (Isaiah 40:18,

"O God you live forever and forever! Don't let me die half through my years! In ages past you laid the foundations of the earth and made the heavens with your hands! They shall perish, but you go on forever. They will grow old, like worn-out clothing, and you will change them like a man putting on a new shirt and throwing away the old one! But your yourself never grow old. You are forever, and your years never end. (Psalm 102:24-27)

By faith-by believing God-we know that the world and the stars-sin fact, all things-were made at God's command; and that they were all made from things that can't be seen.

More than 100,000 women call volunteer phone banks national record--called special American Cancer Society (ACS) hot lines in recent weeks to participate in the Society's Texas Breast Screening Project. Texas participation was more than three times greater than the previous best response to a similar program in California.

"We're overwhelmed--and ecstatic--at the response," said-George N. Peters, M.D., a surgeon at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas and volunteer chairman of the project. "Although Texas was not the first state to launch this type of screening project, we've certainly done it on a much larger and more comprehensive scale," he said.

During the project, more than 5,000 volunteers staffed phone banks in 32 and screening facilities throughout Texas cities to determine the callers' eligiblity for the project. Eligible callers, those women 35 or older who had no breast cancer symptoms, received a coupon entitling them to a $50 mammogram from local participating facilities. That is about half the regular cost of a mammogram, which is a lose-dose X-ray of the breast.

"Previously, the most calls received were during Los Angeles' project last spring-which prompted 30,000 calls. We received more than 30,000 calls in Dallas alone," Peters said.

Initial planning for the Texas Breast Screening Project began two years ago, when ACS volunteers sought the cooperation of hospitals the state to offer screening manimograms for a cost of no more than $50 for a limited time in the spring of 1987. More than 300 facilities agreed to participate in the project.

"Our goal has been to make screening mammography the Pap test of the eighties," Peters said. "We want all women to be aware of the importance of this early detection technique. It may save your life, and your brast," he said.

The Pap Test is a simple procedure designed to detect early uterine cancer. According to the ACS, there has been a 200 percent increase since the sixties in women who have had Pap tests, contributing to a 70 percent decline in the death rate from uterine cancer in the last several

By offering the mammograms at a reduced cost, coupled with an extensive awareness campaign for all methods of early breast cancer detection, the Texas Brast Screening Project was designed to convince women to include mammography, along with the Pap test, as part of their routine health plan.

Breast cancer is a leading cancer killer among women in the U.S. The ACS recently announced that one out of ten women will be diagnosed with the disease sometime during her lifetime. In Texas, the ACS estimates that 6,000 women will be diagnosed with the disease this year while 1,900 will die from it.

Since the cause of breast cancer remains unknown, early detection offers the best defense. Chances of cure are excellent when the disease is detected and treated early, while a tumor is still small.

The ACS recommends a screening baseline mammogram for women between the ages of 35 and 40 and then every year or two years between the ages 40 and 50. After age 50, women are encouraged to have a mammogram every year. Women with a personal or family history of breast cancer should consult their physicians about how often they should be examined and have a mammogram before age 40. The Society also recommends monthly breast self-examination for women 20 and older and an annual physical breast exam by a trained health professional.

"We hope all the women who received our coupons will followthrough and schedule an exam," Peters said.

"We have already diagnosed as a result of this program-cancers too small for even the most skilled examiner to feel. While the odds are most women will learn they do not have cancer, we think most women will agree that their health is not something to gamble with," he said

Final results on the actual number of women screened, cancers found, etc. will be available in September 1987, when participating facilities are to report their findings.
