Rives resigns as hospital adminstrator

MAY

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN Publisher-Editor

Ron Rives, chief executive officer at Hereford Regional Medical Center since 1991, resigned Monday night during a special meeting called to canvass votes of Saturday's hospital district board election, and to discuss several other items on the agenda.

Rives' resignation, which was effective immediately. was accompanied by a resignation agreement drawn up by Rives and his attorney, which was presented to the board following a closed-door meeting of about 1 hour and 20 minutes. The board voted to accept both.

Rives said that his resignation was motivated by personal reasons. "After looking at some other opportunities, I decided it was in my best interest to resign. The longterm success of Hereford Regional Medical Center will best be served by this move."

Board chairman John Perrin opened the meeting with the canvass of votes report, stating that the totals had been certified and those elected to the board were Dean Crofford, Larry Watts, Steve Cortez and Boyd Foster. The new trustees will take the oath of office at the next regular board meeting, next Tuesday, and trustees will elect officers.

Perrin then announced the board would go into executive session to discuss personnel, namely the chief executive office. The closed-door meeting started about 5:15 p.m. and was opened again at 6:38.

Perrin then announced that no decisions were made in the executive session and no action was taken. He then read Rives' letter of resignation and distributed copies of the resignation agreement to trustees. There was no discussion in the open meeting about the agreement. One trustee confirmed that the review of the resignation agreement dominated the executive session.

Under the management contract with Lubbock Methodist, said Perrin, "there is no payment to be made for termination of the administrator's contract."

The resignation agreement provides that "no HRMC employee, agent, or assign shall state or publish, orally or in writing, directly or indirectly, any statement concerning the reasons for Rives' resignation other than the reasons advanced in his letter of resignation."

10,

Rives agrees that he "will not make any disparaging comments concerning HRMC, its medical staff or employees, and that he will not undertake any action which might undermine the efforts of HRMC or Deaf Smith County Hospital District."

The board briefly discussed its management contract with Lubbock Methodist Hospital, and Perrin announced that the board should be able to "move quickly in filling the vacancy."

Ray Mason of Lubbock Methodist Hospital system will serve as acting administrator, announced Perrin. Mason, in turn, announced that he expects to have an interim administrator here Wednesday, adding that the interim officer is only interested in being a temporary

County eyes salary hikes in new budget

The Deaf Smith County Commissioner's Court on Monday began looking at the county's 1994-95 fiscal year budget with a budget raises. report and projections for possible salary increases. The budget workshop provided no concrete decisions, but commissioners were briefed on budget requests from each county department.

In addition, they heard how much it would cost the county to grant 5 percent pay increases and discussed suggestions that those increases be made on a merit basis by department supervisors.

County Judge Tom Simons told commissioners that some department heads have said they want the opportunity to give raises based on Other candidates who shared the an employee's merit, rather than platform with Gonzales on Sunday across-the-board increases for all employees.

The total of all pay raises --Jesse Guerrero, who has been active included increases for commissioners

That, Simons said, would mean a 5 percent increase in county salaries would cost $113,571.

If that much money was given for raises. Schroeter said, it would leave the county with a shortfall of about $218,000 at the end of FY 1994-95.

However, he said, there are some areas of income -- such as state payments for housing prisoners and license plate fees -- that may be underestimated and could generate extra money for the county.

Commissioners made no decisions on raises, a tax rate or the proposed budget, instead opting to take some time to read the budget documents before the next scheduled meeting.

At that time, Simons said, commissioners would have the

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is not an earth-shaking problem, but can you check with your sources and find out why airlines refuse to allow their cheaper, "non-refundable" tickets to be sold to another person?

Once the ticket is paid for, what difference does it make who sits in that seat? If the original buyer is unable to go, can't reschedule his flight and can sell the ticket at a reduced price, why should the airline care? Why couldn't the airline charge a reasonable transfer fee, say $10, for the minute or so it takes to change the name in the computer?--Wondering in Billings, Mont.

DEAR WONDERING: I sent your letter to Robert Crandall, chairman and president of American Airlines. This is his response:

"If tickets were freely transferable, there would soon be a black market in which people could buy tiekets from previous purchasers rather than from us. We do not want third parties buying and selling our seats at prices they, not we, determine. We offer only as many discounted tickets as we think we will have seats unsold at the regular price. If the cheaper, advance-purchase tickets were transferable at will, why would anyone buy a seat from us today instead of from the secondary seller?

"Your readers should know, however, that we have changed all our tickets to be 'non-refundable but reusable." This means if a person who buys one of our deeply discounted, non-refundable tickets is unable to use it on the appointed ate, he or she can use it on a different date.

"Thank you for the opportunity to set this straight."

After Dad's death, we assumed my mother-in-law would go back home, but she refuses to leave. She plays the role of the poor, pitiful widow and has become very dependent. She won't even go to the store and buy items for herself such as stationery and vitamins. Someone must accompany her.

This woman is a young, healthy 70 years old. She has her own car and her own home. Her presence is putting a major strain on our marriage. Our children are grown, and we would like to do some things alone, but now we have to baby-sit Mom.

We do love her very much, but I feel that she is taking advantage of us.--Need Help in California

DEAR CALIFORNIA: Three years? I would say you have been more than generous and exceedingly patient. You should not feel the least bit guilty about becoming assertive and reclaiming your life.

You and your husband should plan a trip and inform your mother-in-law that you are leaving on such-and-such a date and locking up the house. One of you should offer to accompany her home, stay for a couple of days and get her settled. It is apparent that unless you take the initiative, she will remain forever.

WENHAM, Mass. (AP) - The Rev. Billy Graham says Christians are becoming "a despised minority" during this time of world turmoil.

There's a great diversity of belief and unbelief in our country," Graham told 150 graduates Saturday in his commemcement address at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary. "Millions of people are disillu-sioned or antagonistic to religion of any kind. Those of us who are Christian are becoming a despised minority," Graham said. Graham, 75, who never attended a seminary, was given a doctorate of theology degree.

"It's a time of great upheaval in the world," Graham said.

Bulls go sightseeing following tough loss

By The Associated Press On the 12th day of the NBA playoffs, the fans - and the Chicago Bulls - rested.

Monday was not a game day for any of the eight teams remaining in the playoffs. And it was the first game-free day for all teams since the postseason started April 28. The only other scheduled day off through the first two rounds is next Monday, May 16.

Two second-round series begin tonight, with Indiana playing at Atlanta and Denver playing at Utah. The other two series, Chicago-New York and Phoenix-Houston, resume Wednesday night. New York and Phoenix both hold 1-0 leads in the best-of-7 series.

Bulls coach Phil Jackson surprised the team Monday by loading them on a bus for practice, then taking them on a Staten Island ferry ride instead.

"Physically, we were in no position to work out," Jackson said. "This got our minds off the game so they can concentrate on the positive aspects of what happened yesterday. A thing like that can form a bitterness, and we needed to get ourselves feeling better."

No team is more surprised to still be playing than the Denver Nuggets, who dropped the first two games of their best-of-5 series with Seattle, then won the final three - including the last two in overtime.

Denver is the first eighth-seeded playoff team in NBA history to beat an opponent with the best record in the conference.

The Jazz, while confident they can earn a trip to the Western Conference finals, are sure it won't come easy.

"I'm not thinking that far ahead right now," John Stockton said. "I'm thinking of Denver, and they just beat the best team in basketball."

Indiana at Atlanta

It's been eight days since the Pacers finished their sweep of the Orlando Magic. More impressively, it's been a month and two days since Indiana lost a game.

Riding an 11-game winning streak dating back to April 8, the Pacers are the hottest team left. They dispatched Shaquille O'Neal's team with two tough road victories, and now they'll have to win at the Omni in order to take this series from the Hawks.

"We're going to have to beat the best teams to move on," Indiana coach Larry Brown said. "We might as well start with Atlanta."

During the regular season, the Hawks won three of five games gainst the Pacers, taking two of three at Atlanta and splitting two games at Indiana.

The Hawks could be tired tonight, two days after a draining five-game series against Miami ended with a 102-91 Hawks victory.

Reds' Browning breaks arm while throwing pitch

By BEN WALKER AP Baseball Writer

Tom Browning was carried off the field, Gary Sheffield walked off. No one was certain when they would return.

More than anything, Monday was a night of frightening injuries.

Browning fell to the ground when he broke a bone in his upper left arm making a pitch for Cincinnati. The pop of Browning's arm could be heard in the press box in San Diego, and he lay motionless for five minutes before being taken off on a stretcher.

"This is a very rare injury," Reds assistant trainer Doug Spreen said after a 3-2 win. "I've never heard of one. The only thing I've ever heard of, a fracture from throwing the ball, was Dave Dravecky. That was from other things. There's no precedence, at this point, if you think about it."

looks like we could lose Sheff for a while," Marlins manager Rene Lachemann said after a 9-5 loss to Pittsburgh.

Browning fractured his humerus, the biggest bone between the elbow and shoulder. It is the same bone Dravecky broke making a pitch in Montreal in 1989.

Dravecky, who'd had his humerus frozen 10 months earlier during cancer surgery, had his left arm amputated in 1991.

Browning, 34, hurt himself making a pitch to Archi Cianfrocco in the sixth inning. His eyes were closed and his mouth was open when he was carried off.

Johnny Ruffin (2-0) relieved Browning and struck out Cianfrocco, and Jeff Brantley got his fourth save. Pedro Martinez (0-1) was the loser.

Pirates 9, Marlins 5

Sheffield hurt himself trying to make a diving catch on Tom Foley's double in the sixth inning, and stayed in the game for another out before leaving.

second pitch, but remained in the game through the sixth. He will have X-rays today, and may miss a start.

Bryan Harvey, supposed to come off the disabled list Wednesday, made only four pitches before taking himself out of a game for Brevard in the Florida State League. His return to the Marlins has been pushed back. Alejandro Pena (1-0), who missed last season with an injured right elbow, pitched two innings for his first win since July 21, 1992. Andy Van Slyke had his streak of eight straight hits stopped, but later hit a two-run single for the visiting Pirates.

Dodgers 9, Astros 8

Tim Wallach's two-out, two-run homer capped a four-run rally in the ninth inning against Mitch Williams, and Los Angeles beat Houston at Dodger Stadium.

The Dodgers scored three times in the eighth to pull within 8-5, then came back in the bottom of the ninth against Williams (1-3). Pinch-hitter Mike Piazza hit a two-run single and Wallach followed with his 10th home run of the season.

Braves 7, Phillies 2

Fred McGriff homered, doubled and drove in three runs as Atlanta beat Philadelphia in their first meeting since last year's playoffs.

Terry Pendleton and David Justice also homered as the Braves won for the fourth time in five games. The Phillies have lost five of six overall and nine of 10 on the road.

McGriff and Mark Lemke each hit two-run doubles for a 4-0 lead in the first inning. Steve Avery (3-1) kept the Braves ahead, giving up four hits in seven innings. Jeff Juden (1-4) was ejected in the third inning after hitting Javier Lopez with his first pitch following Justice's homer. Juden also was ejected last Monday after a bench-clearing brawl with San Diego in a game in which he did not pitch.

Matt Williams hit a three-run homer, helping San Francisco win despite five solo home runs by Colorado. Bonds hit the third slam of his career, and his eighth homer of the season, in the third inning off Armando Reynoso (2-3). Williams connected in the sixth.

The Rockies set a team record with five home runs. Ellis Burks, Andres Galarraga and Charlie Hayes homered off Bryan Hickerson (2-1), and Roberto Mejia and pinch-hitter Howard Johnson hit consecutive homers off Rich Monteleone in the seventh.

Todd Benzinger also homered for San Francisco. The eight home runs were the most in an NL game this year.

Cubs 6, Cardinals 3

Eddie Zambrano hit a pair of two-run homers and Chicago, just 1-12 at Wrigley Field, pulled to 8-8 on the road.

St. Louis has scored only nine runs in losing four of the first five games on an eight-game homestand. Steve Trachsel (4-2) struck out nine and walked none in seven innings. Randy Myers worked the ninth for his fifth save.

Zambrano has 11 hits this season and seven for extra bases, four of them home runs. Rene Arocha (1-3) gave up eight hits in two-plus innings.

Mets 5, Expos 4

David Segui hit a solo home run in the eighth inning off Mel Rojas, and New York beat Montreal for its fifth win in six games.

Segui connected with two outs for his fourth homer. Rojas (2-1) had struck out his first three batters.

Roger Mason (2-1) pitched three hitless innings for his first decision since the Mets got him from the Phillies' organization on April 29. John Franco got his eighth save in 10 chances.

Larry Walker homered for the host Expos. Lou Frazier, filling in while Marquis Grissom recovers from a strained left hamstring, stole two bases and scored twice.

Orioles' Fernandez earns 100th win

By The Associated Press

For Sid Fernandez, his 100th career win was more a relief than a triumph.

"I should have got it last year, but I was hurt most of the season. Finally, it's over with and I can go on and win some more," he said Monday night after leading the Baltimore Orioles past the Toronto Blue Jays 4-1.

In recent years, Fernandez (2-0) has been known more for injuries and diets than pitching. He is 100-79 in 10 seasons with the New York Mets, five games with the Orioles and two games with Los Angeles.

Fernandez allowed one run and four hits in 71-3 innings, walked six and struck out one.

"He threw 95 percent fastballs," Toronto manager Cito Gaston said. "Not taking anything away from Sid, he pitched a good ballgame, but it's tough to see the ball coming from a left-hander out of a bunch of white T-shirts."

Al Leiter (2-2) gave up two runs and six hits in 6 1-3 innings.

Rangers 11, Angels 3

Jose Canseco went 3-for-5 with four RBIs. Canseco, who had one hit in his previous 10 at-bats, hit a two-run homer during a four-run third inning, doubled home a run in the seventh and added an RBI single in the eighth.

Juan Gonzalez went 2-for-3 with three RBIs for Texas. Rick Reed (1-1), making his third start, allowed two runs and six hits in five innings.

Joe Magrane (0-1), making his second start of the year following offseason elbow surgery, allowed five runs and six hits in six innings for visiting California. He walked five and struck out four.

Rick Lanning and Jim Clark were speaker; Margaret Del Toro, best evaluator; and Jigger Rowland, best topic speaker.

"Power of Words" was the topic given by Lanning who was evaluated by Margaret Del Toro, and "Accidents Aren't Always Bad" was the topic presented by Clark who was evaluated by Ralph Barndt. Barndt led the pledge and the invocation was given by Clark Andrews. Rick Jackson presided over the business meeting when new members were installed.

Dee Hamilton served as Toastmaster; Art Gonzales, timer; Clark Andrews, "ah" counter; Dr. Milton Adams, grammarian; Dave Kimmel, wordmaster; and inscrutable was the chosen word.

Crystal Backus was topicmaster and topic speakers were Jigger Rowland, Charles Minchew, Dan Hall, Teresa Buske and Mike Harris. The reading was given by Teresa Buske and Joe Weaver told the joke.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: About 10 years ago, a friend told me how to save money on fabric-softener sheets. It only takes half a sheet to do the job, so your fabric softener goes twice as far. - Penny Allison, Marysville, Ontario, Canada

Just keep scissors next to the dryer and snip them in half as you need them. Thanks for writing. - Heloise

Dear Heloise: This idea may give you a laugh, but it has saved me a lot of embarrassment from "cussin' " about them.

I kept losing the remote controls for the TV and VCR in the cushions, so I got three rubber bands and fastened the VCR remote and the TV remote back-to-back. This makes a much larger bundle that won't fall down in the back of the chair. This back-to-back setup has no

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) - For young people unhappy with their "Generation X" label, Kurt Vonnegut has an alternative: Generation A.

"Now you young twerps want a new name for your generation? Probably not, you just want jobs, right?" the author asked about 5,500 cheering Syracuse University graduates during his commencement address Sunday.

"I hereby declare you 'Generation A.' as much at the beginning of a series of astonishing triumphs and failures as Adam and Eve were so long ago," said Vonnegut, whose books include "Slaughterhouse Five" and "Galapagos."

He said older people need to realize it's not necessary to go through "some famous calamity: The Great Depression, World War II, whatever" to come of age.

AUSTIN - State money taken away from wealthy school districts could be used to help poorer disricts build classrooms, according o Sen. Bill Ratliff, chairman of the Senate Education Committee. At a meeting last week, Ratliff, R-Mount Pleasant, said $65.4 nillion from the Available School Fund could be retargeted from lexas' wealthiest districts to poorer districts. But the state constitution would have to be amended for the fund to be redistributed, requiring two-thirds approval by the state Legislature and voter approval on a state ballot.

Bush has acknowledged that he drank too much. But has said he did not have an alcohol problem and quit drinking in the mid-1980s.

He said what matters in the gubernatorial race is how the candidates behave as adults.

BIDS Notice is hereby given that the Hereford I.S.D. will be accepting sealed bids until May 24, 1994. Bids will be opened at 10:00 A.M., in the Central administration office located at 601 N. 25 Mile Avenue, Hereford, Texas, for the following:

Cafeteria Tables

Specifications and information may be obtained by contacting: Don Cumpton, Assistant Superintendent, at 601 N. 25 Mile Ave., 364-0606. The District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Ratliff said the idea is an option being considered by the committee, which is under a court order to find a fair way to finance the building of schools by Sept. 1, 1995.

Earnings from the state school trust fund and motor fuel taxes go into the $1.2 billion Available School Fund, which is distributed to school districts by the formula of $335 per student. Monies allocated from the fund are used for school construction and to pay for textbooks.

State District Judge Scott Mc-Cown, who oversees the ongoing battle over school funding, has said that money from the Available School Fund that is sent to rich districts has a "disequalizing" effect on the use of state funds.

Drug Questions Irrelevant Republican gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush said last week questions about whether he had ever used illegal drugs are irrele-

Bush, who was campaigning on criminal justice issues in Lubbock, said his past personal life makes no difference in his campaign to unseat Gov. Ann Richards.

"What I did as a kid? I don't think it's relevant, nor do I think what Ann Richards did as a kid," Bush said. "I think what matters is my view on prisons, welfare reform and education."

At a stop at the Lubbock County jail to promote his plan to build prison tent camps to help case jail crowding, Bush fielded questions about drug use after a report in the Houston Chronicle in which he declined to say whether he had ever used illegal drugs. "Maybe I did, maybe I didn't. What's the relevance?" Bush told the newspaper in an interview published early last week.

out insults about presidents --- past and present.

Responding to reports that President Clinton would appear at a Washington fund-raiser for Gov. Richards last week, Bush spokeswoman Deborah Burstion-Wade said the governor should invite Clinton to Texas to campaign so Texans "can see who her friends are and how little they agree with mainstream Texas."

Richards' spokeswoman replied that unlike Bush - whose father was defeated by Clinton - Richards "doesn't need to campaign on the coattails of any president - former or current."

State Begins A&M Audit

State Auditor Lawrence Alwin has mustered the troops for an audit of management controls of the $1 billion Texas A&M University and A&M System.

Alwin is responding to a March 31 request by Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur.

"In light of recent revelations of alleged wrongdoing, I formally request that you undertake immediately an audit of all Texas A&M University support facilities and auxiliary services," wrote Parker. Audit Manager Cathy Smock of the state auditor's office said the audit was expedited at Parker's request and because of "other concerns."

Nine months ago, Texas Rangers began a criminal investigation into allegations that A&M regents Chairman Ross D. Margraves Jr. and other administrators may have used their positions for personal gain or to benefit their businesses or political associates. Margraves denied wrongdoing and resigned in April.

An audit of A&M's food services department has been under way for months.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am 32 years old and my wife is 30. A year ago we were diagnosed with chronic active hepatitis C. We have a 9-year-old son who has tested negative thus far. How can we protect him?

Currently we are taking injections of alpha interferon, and our liver enzymes are normal now. My wife experienced few side effects, but I have had many. My liver biopsy three months ago showed necrosis. What can I expect?

DEAR READER: Viral hepatitis C used to be called non-A, non-B viral hepatitis. It is most commonly contracted from a contaminated blood transfusion or from the use of intravenous drugs from a contaminated needle. It is less commonly transmitted sexually. That means it is most unlikely that your son would ever get the disease from either of you. There is no vaccine to prevent it, and a form of passive immunization as used for hepatitis A and B is not effective.

Viral hepatitis C is the most common cause of hepatitis after blood transfusions. In the past there were five to 10 cases of transfusion hepatitis for every 1,000 blood transfusions. And there was no way of detecting who had the virus. That situation has been significantly improved because it is now possible to screen blood for the infection. It is well to remember that such screening may not be done in some parts of the world yet, so transfusions in those areas carry a significant risk of hepatitis C.

I'm sending you a free copy of my new Special Report 145, Hepatitis and Cirrhosis, for more information. Others who want this report can send $3 with a stamped (52 cents), self-addressed, No. 10 envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/145, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077-5537.

Alpha interferon is used to treat hepatitis C and is often very effective. The disease is not always severe. In mild cases, the disease may subside after a year or more. Others may become carriers thereafter. Still others may have progressive damage of the liver, leading to cirrhosis. So it is not possible to tell you what to expect yet. We still need medicines that are effective against viruses, in the same way antibiotics are effective against bacteria.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077-5537, Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

Clinton blames lobbyists for lack of support for health care reform plan

By CHRISTOPHER CONNELL Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - President Clinton blames erosion of public support for his health plan on attacks by business lobbyists and the relative silence of ordinary Americans suffering under the present system.

"There are literally millions of individuals who live in families with pre-existing conditions, but there's no "Pre-Existing Conditions Lobby," Clinton complained.

"They're basically unorganized, so if the president doesn't fight their battle for them, nobody's going to fight for them," the president said Monday in a 45-minute interview with reporters.

He took pains to show he's open to compromise, praised the latest around an approach that will work rhetoric on the alliances." and will pass this year."

For now, Clinton said he was content to keep speaking out and traveling the country, talking up health reform and meeting people who have written him and Hillary Rodham Clinton about their personal health insurance woes.

Clinton said he was just trying to "keep the big issues on the griddle and ... blunt the attacks of the opponents of the bill."

He blamed business lobbies and other critics for what he called the public's misunderstandings about what is in his bill.

"We lost (support) in the way you lose all political campaigns. I don't have the money as president to run Democratic attempt to help small business and added: "My gut (feeling) is that we will coalesce it," he said. "We lost the battle of Even Clinton's closest Democratic allies in Congress have suggested scrapping his plan to steer most Americans into mandatory insurance purchasing pools, and relying instead on voluntary buyer alliances.

That was one of the features proposed Monday by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., chairman of the Senate Labor and Human Resources Committee. Kennedy would exempt small businesses with five or fewer workers from having to pay 80 percent of their workers' premiums; instead they would pay a 2 percent payroll tax.

"It's a good place to start," said Clinton. "It still has coverage for everybody and even the smallest firms have to assume some responsibility." He predicted that the final compromise will include "some sort of shared responsibility requirement."

six Republican senators who back universal coverage. The president declined to specify how long a delay he might accept in implementing coverage, noting that his own bill set a target of 1998.

Asked if he could live with a plan that covered 91 percent of Americans instead of the current 86 percent, Clinton replied, "If they were all 21 years old, strapping healthy and never showed up to the doctor's office, it might not matter."

But "if those 9 percent are all workers with pre-existing conditions in their families, you're going to have some pretty serious dysfunctions in the American economy and a whole lot of misery," he said. He said his bottom line is "a decent package for all Americans," with an end to discriminatory insurance practices and an emphasis on primary and preventive health care.

TASB opposes some of Meno's education ideas

By PEGGY FIKAC Associated Press Writer AUSTIN (AP) - Some school

changes proposed by state Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno may diminish the authority local residents have over their schools, says the Texas Association of School Boards.

Billy Walker, executive director of the school board group, said Monday that under initial proposals by Meno, local boards no longer would have a say in the selection of professional staff, hiring and firing state minimum. of teachers, and suspension or removal of students.

The school superintendent would make the final decision, Walker said. "This leaves the taxpayer paying the tab with no elected official to hold responsible," Walker said. "We see a disconcerting trend toward moving authority away from duly elected representatives of the people and placing it in the hands of hired officials," he said. "Authority taken from the local school board is authority taken from the parents and taxpayers of a community." Meno, who presided over Monday's hearing, said he expects to make final legislative recommendations next month. The Legislature meets in regular session in January.

"When you put a topic on the table - and we've got about 60 or 70 topics on the table here - people are coming back with different ways to approach it," Meno said. "All of us together are much smarter than any of us alone."

Meno also heard from education groups about his proposal for a 5 percent raise in the state's minimum salary scale for teachers. Most teachers already make more than the

All 10 levels on the salary schedule would rise under his proposal, with the minimum salary for a starting teacher rising to $17,850. Two new levels also would be added.

Meno's proposal was called "inadequate" by Richard Kouri, president of the Texas State Teachers Association. Kouri said it would require an increase for only 8,000 of Texas' 200,000-plus teachers.

"We continue to talk about building a world-class education system here; however, we pay our teachers far less than world class salaries to produce that product," he said.

Clinton wants attention diverted from character a lot of money," Mrs. Clinton said in the interview, which took place last WASHINGTON (AP) - President month. "We came in having lost money. We came in with very little in the way of resources." "We are subjected to a whole new set of standards," she said. "We don't have a vacation house in Maine, we don't have a ranch in California, we don't have a cottage on the shore of Maryland - we don't have any of those things."

Clinton is urging Americans to defer judgment on questions about his character, contending he's the target of the "constant politics of diversion and division and destruction.'

In different words, his wife is saying the same thing. "I think I've been subject to more assault than any president," Clinton said Monday night at a "town-hall" meeting in Rhode Island. "But we'll have an election in 1996, and I wish that we could just all sattle down and that we could just all settle down and be Americans for a while and work on our problems, and then evaluate me based on the job I do.'

Clinton was responding to a woman who asked if he felt he was being held to a higher standard than previous p esidential families.

The same topic was addressed by Hillary Rodham Clinton in an interview with Vanity Fair magazine. She called all the attention focused on the first couple "just absurd." Clinton's leadership on foreign affairs is under intense criticism. His problems have been exacerbated with a lawsuit by a former Arkansas state employee alleging sexual harassment and the continuing saga of the real estate investment he made in the Whitewater venture in Arkansas in 1978

"If you take historical precedent, no president has ever had any of his activities before he became president investigated like this. And a lot of people came into office having made

Clinton faced questions from a friendly audience on a broad spectrum of topics in the hour-long meeting in Cranston, R.I. Part of his audience was in a television studio with him, the rest was in studios in New Haven, Conn., and Springfield, Mass.

The president said Vice President Al Gore told him recently that "there are powerful forces in this country who basically resent the way the last election came out, so they keep trying to undo it and pretend it didn't happen.

So far, it has not interfered with the progress and the record of the Congress and the work we're trying to do for the country," Clinton said. The president was put on the spot with a "How would you feel?" question if his wife were to run for president in the year 2000 when he would finish a second term. "Let me say that I'm sure my wife would be flattered by your attention," Clinton replied. "But she has always told me that she never thought she would ever seek elected office.

"What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to the human soul."
