New county pump

Precinct 2 County Commissioner Lupe Chavez, left, and precinct foreman Lalo Rodriguez look over a new pump purchased recently by Chavez. The pump will be used when the playa lake in the San Jose Community south of town floods due to heavy rains south and west of town. The pump -- which sits in the water -- pumps 1,150 gallons per minute and operates on electricity rather than gas, which makes it quieter than pumps used last year.

New pump to help when San Jose playa runs over

By GARRY WESNER
Managing Editor

Last summer, when strong rains south of Hereford sent the playa lake in the San Jose Community over its banks and into numerous homes, it took three weeks for pumps to reclaim homes and streets. Throughout the pumping period, residents complained about noisy gas engines churning throughout the night, the smell of gasoline fumes in the air and the time it took to reopen streets.

If the playa floods this year, Precinct 2 County Commissioner Lupe Chavez will be prepared.

He recently purchased a new electric pump that arrived here on Thursday and will be put into use any time the lake floods.

"In the three years I've been in office, I've had to pump the lake twice," Chavez said.

Last year, he pumped 24 hours a day for seven days, then 18 hours a day for seven more, then eight hours a day for five more days before the lake returned to its bed.

The new pump -- purchased from Dobbs Floating Pumps of Canyon -- cost the county $3,750.

Chavez said it was a used machine that had been overhauled that, ironically, was originally owned by Bar-G Feedyard in Hereford.

The pump includes two floats and a large basket to keep debris and fish out of the pump while it operates.

New, he said, a pump alone would have cost about $6,000.

The advantages of the new pump, said Chavez and his foreman, Lalo Rodriguez, are manifold.

"We're going to pump twice as

Employees of HISD honored at banquet

Eleven Hereford independent School District employees with more than 250 combined years experience here were honored Thursday on retirement.

The district held its annual employee appreciation dinner on Thursday in the district administration building.

Following a catered dinner by K-Bob's, teachers and other district employees heard a message from Dr. Barry Thompson, president of West Texas A&M University.

Awards for service to the district were handed out by Superintendent Charles W. Greenawalt, Assistant Superintendent Don Cumpston and school board member Ron Weishaar, who served as president during the past school year.

Employees were honored for 10 years, 20 years, 25 years, 30 years and 35 years.

Joan Hopper at Tierra Blanca Elementary School was the only one presented a 35-year pin.

Cumpston presented his annual Support Services Employee of the Year awards to workers in transportation, cafeteria, custodial and maintenance and grounds departments as well.

The following are the honors handed out Thursday:

Senate passes two votes about Bosnia

By DAVID BRISCOE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - Given a choice between going it alone and trying once again to win international support for lifting the U.N. arms embargo against Bosnia, the Senate picked both.

In a peculiar double vote, senators voted 50-49 to lift the embargo unilaterally and, again 50-49, to require that President Clinton once more seek U.N. and NATO support for lifting the embargo before consulting Congress on further steps.

Both provisions remained in the bill passed by the Senate late Thursday on a voice vote.

Bosnia's ambassador to Washington, Sven Alkalaj, was satisfied to count the 92 senators who voted for one or both approaches, with only seven senators going on record against lifting the embargo.

"We consider this a big step forward to finally having our rights to defend ourselves," Alkalaj said after witnessing the votes from the Senate gallery.

Clinton has said he wants the embargo lifted. He could do it without congressional action, but the White House reiterated before the vote that he doesn't want to act without the agreement of European and other U.N. allies.

Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., vowed to keep up a bipartisan fight to lift the embargo unilaterally. Thirteen Democrats joined 37 Republicans in supporting his approach.

"This is a big, giant step towards lifting the embargo, even on a unilateral basis," Dole said.

He called it "a very strong signal not only to the president but to the British, the French and others that there's a limit on how patient Congress will be, particularly on the right to self-defense."

But Senate Majority Leader

George Mitchell, D-Maine, said the vote ensured that the United States would not act alone to lift the embargo.

Mitchell introduced the measure to seek U.N. action as an alternative to Dole's proposal, but the language of both ended up in the bill.

"What it says is that the Senate favors an end to the embargo ... but is equally divided on the question of how to do it," Mitchell said.

No Republicans voted for Mitchell's approach, but 13 Democrats voted with Dole.

Sen. John Warner said outside the chamber, "There's one word and one answer: farcical." Warner and six other senators voted against both approaches to lifting the embargo, opposing it as a way of escalating the fighting and eventually involving U.S. forces.

Consumer prices up some, aided by energy, food costs

By MARTIN CRUTSINGER
AP Economics Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Consumer prices edged up a tiny 0.1 percent in April as a big drop in energy prices and moderation in food costs helped to offset the biggest rise in medical costs in almost a year, the government reported today.

In a report that was likely to calm inflation fears further, the Labor Department said the modest April advance in its Consumer Price Index was the best showing since the closely watched inflation gauge showed no change at all in January. Consumer prices had been up 0.3 percent in both February and March.

With the moderation in April, consumer prices for the year have risen at an annual rate of just 2.3 percent, even better than the 2.7 percent gain for all of last year.

Today's report on consumer prices followed news Thursday that inflation at the wholesale level actually fell by 0.1 percent in April. Analysts said both reports should provide a needed reality check for financial markets, which in recent weeks have plunged on fears that the U.S. economy was growing so rapidly that inflation was about to get out of control.

Still, these economists predicted that the Federal Reserve is likely to raise interest rates again next Tuesday after a key meeting of policymakers in an effort to show continued resolve against any future inflation threats.

The central bank has already moved three times this year to increase its federal funds rate, the interest that banks charge on overnight loans, moving it in quarter-point increments up to 3.75 percent.

The government said the 0.1 percent rise in consumer prices last month reflected the fact that energy prices were down 0.4 percent. Energy costs had risen by 0.4 percent in March. The turnaround came from a big drop in home heating oil costs, which were down 1.9 percent. Gasoline pump prices were unchanged in April.

Food prices rose a slight 0.1 percent April as a sharp 2.3 percent drop in fruits and vegetable prices helped to offset price increases in several other food categories. Lettuce costs dropped sharply last month.

Outside the volatile energy and food sector, inflation was also well contained, with prices rising just 0.2 percent, down from 0.3 percent gains in the so-called core rate of inflation in both February and March.

In the categories excluding food and energy, clothing costs actually fell by 0.3 percent, reversing much of a 0.4 percent jump in the previous month.

Medical costs stood in contrast to the generally well-behaved inflation picture. Medical care costs shot up by 0.6 percent in April, the biggest advance since a 0.7 percent rise in May 1993. Drugs and medical supplies were up 0.5 percent in April while medical services were up an even sharper 0.7 percent.

A miscellaneous category that includes personal care and education was up 0.7 percent last month.

The various changes left the Consumer Price Index at 147.4 last month compared to 144.0 a year ago. That means that a marketbasket of goods that cost $144.00 in April 1993 would have cost $147.40 last month.

16-year-old raped in high school room

Hereford Police are investigating the reported rape of a 16-year-old girl inside a classroom at Hereford High School.

Police identified the suspect as a 16-year-old boy and said because of the nature of the alleged crime, he could be tried as an adult.

The sexual assault allegedly occurred Tuesday during the noon lunch hour, according to the police report.

The victim told police she was walking to the lunch room when the suspect called to her and said he wanted to show her something in the classroom.

When the girl walked into the darkened classroom, according to police, the suspect told a friend to watch the door. The student said when she resisted the boy's attempts to kiss her, he threatened to hit her if she didn't cooperate.

According to the police report, the youth forcibly removed her pants and raped her.

The girl later underwent a sexual assault examination at a hospital and doctors reported there was evidence of minor genital trauma.

Police Chief David Wagner said the case is still under investigation and that no charges have been filed.

Sheriffs oppose tents for inmates

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Using tents to house overflow jail inmates may sound good in a campaign speech, but it's expensive and unsafe, according to some Texas sheriffs.

Not one of the 26 counties participating in the $25 million settlement of the Ruiz prison-reform lawsuit recently approved by the state's leadership for temporary jail space is erecting tents with the money, the San Antonio Express-News reported Thursday.

"I was really for using tents at one time, and I know the public is for it, but we need to explain the serious problems with tents," said Cameron County Sheriff Alex Perez, a member of the State Commission on Jail Standards.

"They're expensive, and they're not safe for the guards or the inmates," Perez said of tents. "Tents do not provide safety in case of sudden storms, like the kind we've been having lately. If you get a hurricane, it'll blow. ... We'll never see the prisoners or the tents."

"Fire ... is the favorite pastime of our inmates here. Can you imagine in tents? Fire-resistant isn't fire-proof," he said.

In recent weeks, George W. Bush, the Republican candidate for governor, has used tents as a campaign issue, saying the settlement of the Ruiz prison-reform lawsuit prohibits their use to relieve overcrowding in the state prisons.

Bush says tents should be used regardless. He has advocated violating the settlement's terms so the case will be returned to federal court, where, he believes, the state could negotiate a better deal.

Gov. Ann Richards and Attorney General Dan Morales, both Democrats, immediately fired back, saying tents can be used legally for various housing purposes, albeit not specifically to ease overcrowding at the state level. Tents may be used at the county level for any reason, as long as they meet the necessary standards.

But tents aren't in any county's corrections game plan, the Express-News reported.

Tents have been used in pilot programs in only two counties, Travis and Jefferson. Austin's program has been abandoned altogether as too expensive; Beaumont uses tents as boot camps, where 48 to 60 inmates are housed for just a few weeks at a time for special programs before they're moved indoors.

Dan Richards, assistant chief deputy in charge of Travis County Jail, said the county isn't using tents at all anymore and that its $380,952 share of the $25 million is being used to erect plywood or metal structures. "We can do the deal cheaper and better by using plywood buildings and by purchasing and constructing a metal building that we have the frame for already on hand," Dan Richards said.

The Travis County tent-housing pilot project didn't work at all, he said. The tents were used for less than six months last year, and no one has been housed there since October.

"Oh, they work out all right for a short time," he said.

Commission work session set

Hereford City Commissioners will spend Saturday morning in a work session, hearing a briefing by Police Chief David Wagner, discussing water development projects and solid waste, reviewing parks projects and conducting a public hearing on proposed bonding requirements for contractors working in the city. The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. in City Hall.

Rain chances decreasing

Hereford had a high of 65 degrees Thursday and a low of 45 this morning, reports KPAN. Tonight, the National Weather Service forecast is partly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms. Low in the lower 50s. Southwest wind 10-20 mph becoming northwest to north after midnight. Saturday, partly cloudy with a high in the mid 70s. Northwest to north wind 10-20 mph and gusty.

Clarification

A story in Thursday's Hereford Brand announcing the possible transfer of King's Manor Methodist Home to the Sears Methodist Retirement Systems Inc. of Abilene indicated the transaction is a sale. However, President Joyce Lyons said Friday that no money will be involved in the transaction, that it would simply be a transfer of assets to Sears Methodist. Both agencies are non-profit corporations, she said, and King's Manor has appraised assets of $4 million.

Confederate hero's last wish to be honored with reburial

EATONTON, Ga. (AP) - A Confederate hero's last wish is being fulfilled more than 130 years after his death. His remains will be sent to Livingston, Texas for burial beside his mother.

Only traces of Capt. Ike Turner were found as his grave was opened Wednesday at Turnwold Plantation. They included shirt buttons and the nails used to close his coffin.

"We'll have a ceremony for him in the summer or fall when we send off his remains," said Rick Joslyn, a member of the Milledgeville-based Old Capital chapter of the Sons of Confederate Veterans. "The whole aim of this project is to facilitate Capt. Turner's homecoming, 131 years late."

Turner, born in Putnam County April 2, 1839, was killed April 21, 1863, outside Suffolk, Va., while attacking Union gunboats on the Nansemond River. His body was buried in the family cemetery here next to some cousins.

"They meant to take his remains home (to Texas) but they physically couldn't do that because of the siege of Vicksburg," which closed the Mississippi River to Confederate commerce, Joslyn said.

"In written testimony, it was said his last words were, 'Take me to my mother's.'"

About 20 people, most of them Sons of Confederate Veterans, spent Wednesday unearthing Turner's remains.

"Basically, all that is left is a dark stain where the coffin and body disintegrated," said Chad Braley, an archaeologist with Southeastern Archaeology services in Athens. "It's rare that you find skeletal remains because of the acidity of the soil."

Turner's family had moved to Sumter County, then to Texas, where he and the family began gathering volunteers to fight in the impending war.

The unit went to Richmond, Va., and into battle.

"The first battle they were in, all the senior officers were killed, so, at the age of 22, he led 600 men against a Union stronghold," said Mack E. Neil, first lieutenant of the Ike Turner camp of the SCV, based in Livingston, Texas. "He was one of the youngest officers in the War for Southern Independence, and was a very daring, striking man."

Neal said Turner fought in more than 23 battles, including the second battle of Manassas, Sharpsburg and Fredericksburg.

Turner's relatives in Texas recently asked Neal to try to find Turner's remains and bring them to his immediate family's plot in Livingston, where his parents and three brothers are buried.

The search led to Turnwold. All that will remain there is a tombstone, erected at the time of his burial, in the Turner family graveyard.

RSVP presents 'check' for volunteer work in county

The Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) has presented Hereford and Deaf Smith County a check for $86,384 (non-negotiable), representing 10,798 hours of volunteer work given to the city and county by RSVP members in 1993.

Jim Holston of Amarillo, executive director of RSVP, presented the check to Mike Carr, CoC manager, at the Fun Breakfast Thursday morning.

Holston said the men and women who serve as volunteers in Hereford and Deaf Smith County "are proud participants in the 22-year tradition of RSVP excellence."

RSVP is a program funded by the National Senior Volunteer Corporation, by the Texas Department of Aging, and supported locally by its sponsoring agency, Panhandle Community Services, and other local donations.

RSVP has 1,191 volunteers in 10 counties of the Texas Panhandle who donated more than 200,000 hours of volunteer work to communities in 1993.

All citizens over age 55 are invited to join successful people giving their time and talents to their community. Volunteering adds quality and commitment to life, said Holston.

"If you rest, you rust," said Holston. "Rust-proof yourself by joining RSVP." For more information locally, call Margie Daniels at 364-5681, Celia Serrano at 364-5631, or Elizabeth Fowler at 364-2141.

Legislation on clinic blockades sure to draw court challenges

By ALAN FRAM
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Anti-abortion groups say court challenges are likely against legislation forbidding blockades, violence and threats against abortion clinics.

The Senate gave final approval on Thursday to the measure, which abortion rights activists sought in response to more than 1,000 violent incidents at clinics since 1977. The bill, which President Clinton is expected to sign quickly, will take effect as soon as he signs it.

The legislation makes it a federal crime to block access to an abortion clinic or use force or threats against people using such facilities or working there.

The Senate sent Clinton the measure on a 69-30 vote. Fifty-two Democrats and 17 Republicans voted for it, while three Democrats and 27 Republicans voted no. The House approved the measure last week on a 241-174 roll call.

Judie Brown, president of the anti-abortion American Life League based in Stafford, Va., said the day Clinton signs the bill, "American Life League will be in court seeking an injunction to prevent the new law from going into effect," she said.

Jay Sekulow, chief counsel for the anti-abortion American Center for Law and Justice in Virginia Beach, Va., also said a legal challenge was likely.

"This measure goes beyond the issue of violence," said Sekulow, whose group represents Operation Rescue, which blockades abortion clinics. "This legislation crushes the free speech rights of pro-life demonstrators."

Supporters said the issue had less to do with free speech than with physical protection of the people who use and work in abortion clinics.

They said that since 1977, there have been at least 36 bombings, 81 cases of arson, 131 death threats, 84 assaults, two kidnappings - and the killing of Dr. David Gunn, who performed abortions in Florida.

"The anti-abortion terrorists must now answer to federal law," said Eleanor Smeal, president of the Fund for the Feminist Majority.

Opponents countered that such violent acts are rare and are already crimes. They noted that there are no similar federal constraints against protests involving labor unions, environmentalists or animal rights supporters.

Lawmakers began work on the bill after a January 1993 Supreme Court decision that states could not use an 1871 civil rights law, aimed originally at the Ku Klux Klan, to halt anti-abortion protests. The use of that law was successfully challenged by Operation Rescue.

Under the legislation approved Thursday, violent offenders would face up to $100,000 in fines and a year in prison for a first conviction and up to $250,000 in fines and three years in prison for subsequent offenses.

Nonviolent offenders could receive up to six months in prison and a $10,000 fine for a first conviction, and 18 months and $25,000 in fines for additional offenses.

The legislation applies the same prohibitions and penalties to people blocking access to places of worship.

Education PR idea is defunct but argued

By PEGGY FIKAC
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) - A state education official says she was surprised at the controversy over a defunct idea to tout Texas education through a public relations campaign.

"We have state-campaigns on beautiful highways and clean beaches," State Board of Education Chairwoman Carolyn Crawford said Thursday. "I'm a little astounded that when we should start talking about schools and children and the good things that are happening ... that somehow that would be not OK."

No state action is planned on the proposal for a $2.2 million public relations campaign submitted by the advertising-public relations agency Bonner & Tate of Austin.

The Texas Education Agency requested the proposal, for which the state paid $3,000.

But the idea got the cold shoulder last month from an Education Board committee, which according to the TEA decided to pursue "more traditional public information and recognition activities, such as regional celebrations of educational excellence, scheduled for Texas Public Schools Week next year."

"It was over and done with a month ago," Ms. Crawford said.

But newspaper reports this week disclosed details of the proposed public relations campaign, which included taking the word "public" out of public schools. The ad agency said "public" carries negative connotations.

Republicans criticized the public relations idea, which comes at a time when GOP gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush is attacking the TEA and Democratic Gov. Ann Richards over education.

"I guess that's someone politicizing what was not a political issue with the board or with the agency. And I regret that, because teachers and schools deserve all the support they can get," Ms. Crawford said.

Richards was against the proposal. She said in a letter to Ms. Crawford, "I am adamantly opposed to any expenditure of public funds in an advertising campaign. Given the pressing needs of our educational system, the suggestion that taxpayer dollars might be used for such a purpose is counterproductive to your goal."

TEA spokeswoman Della May Moore has said it wasn't envisioned that state money would be used for an advertising campaign. She said if a business group supportive of public education wanted to implement the ideas in the ad agency's proposal using private money, it could do so.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

An invitation is extended to the public to attend all services and activities at the church.

Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m. and the Sunday worship service is held at 10:30 a.m. The care groups meet at 6 p.m. Sunday. Meeting each Wednesday at 7 p.m.: Adult Bible study classes, Teen "Club Paradise" and Kids Kare Groups.

This Sunday morning, Pastor Ted Taylor's sermon is entitled "Unity and Diversity in the Body" taken from Ephesians 4. We are all working for the same purpose but the only way we'll get there is for everyone to use what they have been given.

Sunday will be the last night for the care groups to meet until fall. There will be a movie shown for the older children during the meetings.

At 7:30 p.m. Friday, "Priority" will be giving a special concert. The Dove Award winning quartet has a sound which appeals to all ages. There will be love offering taken. Also, we will have a spaghetti supper from 6-7:20 p.m. Any donation for the supper will be given to the Bluewater Garden Outreach.

NCA track kids will be participating in the Kiwanis track meet Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. at the stadium.

This Sunday new members will be received. Anyone interested, please call the church office.

NCA 7th grade awards banquet is planned May 17 in the fellowship hall beginning at 6 p.m.

Teri Morton will hold a voice recital for all her students beginning at 7 p.m. May 19 in the sanctuary. A reception will follow.

Any men interested in going to Promise Keepers in Boulder, Colo., please call the church office at 364-8303 or Jeff Torbert at 364-7350.

A few care group is forming called "Positive Singes). They will meet at 6 p.m. Sunday in Jacob's Well located upstairs in the NCA.

Susie Merrick has just begun a new study entitled "The Holy Spirit" in her Sunday morning Sunday school class. Everyone is invited to this special family-oriented series. Coffee and donuts will be served at 9:15 a.m. with the study beginning promptly at 9:30 a.m. in the fellowship hall.

The 1994 church's men's softball league is now underway with the first game to be on Tuesday, May 17.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"The Sin of Racism," a pastoral letter from the House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church, will be the sermon on the Seventh Sunday of Easter. The Holy Eucharist is celebrated at 11 a.m. and there is a coffee hour after the service.

Christian education for all ages is at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday with children and youth meeting in the education wing and the Adult Class meeting in the church parlor. The Adult Class continues with "Spring Potpourri: A Miscellany of Things Anglican, Episcopalian and, God Willing, Christian." The video and discussion this coming Sunday will focus on "The Holy Land: A Pilgrimage," as we prepare for the Festival of Pentecost on May 22.

The regular Wednesday service will be the evening prayer with the Litany of Healing at 7 p.m. led by St. Thomas' lay readers.

Intercessory prayer requests from the community are most welcome. To have them included in the Prayers of the People at all services, please call 364-0146 and leave a message. In case of emergency or to make appointments for personal conferences, please call Father Wilson in Amarillo at 1-353-1734.

WESLEY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The public is welcome to attend all worship services and activities at the church.

Sunday worship services will be held from 10:30-11:30 a.m. Sunday. At noon, all church members are invited to go to Ceta Canyon for the Heritage outing. If you need transportation, there will be a car pool. A cookout of hamburgers will be held at 3 p.m. and the evening worship service will begin at 5. There will be games and recreation all afternoon.

Sunday school will resume the next Sunday at 10 a.m.

Choir practice is held at 7 p.m. each Wednesday.

John Westman serves as pastor.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Interim Pastor Don Shepherd's sermon for the regular Sunday morning service is titled "Shared Glory." The scripture lesson is John 17:20-26.

Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. A nursery is provided. Between Sunday school and the worship, you are invited to attend fellowship time from 10:10-10:30 a.m. Enjoy meeting with friends and having a bit of refreshments.

The junior high youth will leave for Amarillo Sunday after the worship service. The senior high youth will meet at the church Sunday from 6-7:30 p.m.

The Women's Bible study will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday. Helen Rose is the leader.

There will be a work day at the Children's Home in Amarillo from 9 a.m. until noon May 21 to do landscaping. If you can help, please bring shovels, hoes, rakes, garden tools, etc. There will be refreshments but no lunch. The Children's Home is located at 3400 S. Bowie, Amarillo.

CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Central Church of Christ now has seven new deacons to assist with the work of the congregation. On May 1, the following men were appointed to serve: Danny Haney, Ray Henderson, Dale Hollingsworth, Rick Jackson, Charles Minchew, Tracy Straughn and Jim Ward.

These seven will join our existing deacons to serve in the following areas: prison ministry, Spanish ministry, education, young adults, visitation, youth, senior citizens, building maintenance, finance and worship coordinator. There are additional works under consideration.

On May 3, we honored our nine graduating senior girls with an annual senior banquet. Roy Shave was the guest speaker. Each senior was recognized and presented with a Bible and a piece of luggage.

The public is invited to worship at the church. Sunday morning services begin at 9:30 a.m. for Bible class and the worship services are held at 10:25 a.m. and 6 p.m. The Wednesday evening Bible study begins at 7:30. "I was glad when they said, let us go into the house of the Lord." Ps. 122:1.

SAN JOSE CATHOLIC CHURCH

San Jose pre-school is accepting registrations for children who will be three or four years old by Oct. 1. Our pre-school classes are held three hours a day, five days a week, starting Aug. 22 and concluding May 26, 1995. Tuition fee is $40 per month and a $50 registration deposit is required. Please call the parish office to request a registration form. San Jose pre-school is also taking applications for a certified teacher. Call the parish office to apply.

All people of the parish are invited to attend the Sts. Isidore and Maria Gatherings from 4-8 p.m. Sunday at the farm of Bob and Theresa Birkenfeld, located six miles east of Nazareth and 12 miles west of Tulia on Hwy. 86. Parishioners are invited to bring a covered dish and some soil and water and seeds to be blessed. Drinks, dinnerware and utensils will be provided. This is a great opportunity to spend some enjoyable time with your own family, in an unhurried way, so come out and have fellowship with Catholics from neighboring parishes as we pray for rain, a good harvest and a blessing on all our work.

For this year's San Jose Junefest Jamaica, the parish will once again be raffling off a small pickup truck as a fund raiser. This year's prize is a 1994 Mitsubishi Mighty Max pickup truck with a hunter green exterior. Tickets are priced at $25 each or three for $75 with one ticket free. They can be purchased by calling Janie Alejandre at 364-3740 or 364-6513.

Congratulations to all high school seniors from the parish and their adult mentors. May God bless your journey and may the spirit enlighten your hearts and minds to discover your Christian vocation. Baccalaureate Liturgy will be held at 11:30 a.m. at San Jose Catholic Church.

ST. ANTHONY'S CATHOLIC CHURCH

The Parish Catechists in the Children's Liturgy of the Word will have a workshop Saturday and a program Wednesday. All JOY/CYO leaders are invited to be guests at the Catechist Appreciation Dinner planned May 18.

Everyone is invited to attend the Saints Isidore and Maria Gathering for our region from 4-8 p.m. Sunday at Bob and Theresa Birkenfeld's farm located six miles east of Nazareth and 12 miles west of Tulia on Hwy. 86. Bring a covered dish and some soil and water and seeds to be blessed. This event is sponsored by the Diocesan Rural Life Ministry.

The Annual Problem Pregnancy Center's summer garage sale is scheduled June 3-4. Items are needed.

Herd will play at Wolfforth

While there are no guarantees, the Hereford baseball team was scheduled to play the first game of its bi-district playoff series with Frenship at 4:30 today in Wolfforth.

Because of rain all over West Texas, the game has been moved three times since noon Thursday: from the Frenship High School field in Wolfforth to Vernon, then to Amarillo, now back to Wolfforth.

The latest change was made because Frenship officials got their field playable overnight.

"They didn't get any rain last night," Hereford boys' athletic director Danny Haney said. "They got out and worked on the field all night."

With the sun shining in a cloudless sky, no more changes are expected. The second game will still be played at 1 p.m. Saturday at Whiteface Field in Hereford, barring more rain, and the third game will follow the second, if necessary in the best-of-three series.

Frenship (17-10) is the champion of District 2-4A. Hereford (12-11-1) is the runner-up in 1-4A.

The bi-district game between 1-4A champ Borger and 2-4A runner-up Estacado, scheduled for Thursday in Plainview, was postponed because of bad field conditions.

The one-game playoff will be played at 6:30 tonight in Plainview's Jaycee Park. Borger is 17-8; Estacado is 18-11.

Hawks strangle Pacers, even series

By ED SHEARER
AP Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) - Andrew Lang did his part, clogging up the middle and swatting away four shots to help the Atlanta Hawks become the first NBA team to hold a playoff opponent under 70 points.

Lang wasn't surprised at Atlanta's 92-69 victory over Indiana that evening the best-of-7 Eastern Conference semifinal series 1-1 Thursday night.

"It's the playoffs," he said. "You usually see low scores in the playoffs."

But when he was told it was the lowest ever in the playoffs, Lang said, "Oh, did we? I didn't know that."

The 69 points broke the league low-mark of 70, set by Golden State against Los Angeles in 1973 and tied by Seattle against Houston in 1982.

"When you play well defensively, everything perks up," said Mookie Blaylock, who posted the fourth triple-double of his career with 11 points, 13 assists and 10 rebounds.

Kevin Willis led Atlanta with 20 points and 15 rebounds, Danny Manning also had 20 points and Craig Ehlo scored 14.

Reggie Miller led the Pacers, who shot only 31.8 percent, with 12 points, Derrick McKey scored 11, and Dale Davis grabbed 18 rebounds.

The loss ended Indiana's 12-game winning streak that started with the final eight games of the regular season, continued with a first-round, 3-0 playoff sweep of Orlando and concluded with a 96-85 decision over the Hawks in this series opener Tuesday night.

"The Hawks' big men were more active, but they've got to prove they can do it every night," Miller said.

"I was overanxious and shot too quickly," Miller said of his 2-for-13 night.

The series moves to Indianapolis for Games 3 and 4 on Saturday and Sunday, with Game 5 back in The Omni next Tuesday night.

The Hawks built a 47-32 halftime lead before the Pacers scored the first six points of the third quarter. Atlanta countered with a 12-2 burst in which Stacey Augmon scored five points and Blaylock added a 3-pointer, making it 61-42 halfway through the period.

The Pacers staged a rally with a 15-4 run in which Byron Scott scored six and Miller five to trim the deficit to 65-57 after three quarters. Indiana never got closer as the Hawks pulled away with a 14-2 burst four minutes into the final quarter.

"There will be games like that," Scott said. "Atlanta played with more intensity. It's hard to believe our entire team couldn't hit a shot, but Atlanta's defense dominated. They certainly gave us a wake-up call."

-Atlanta's Jon Koncak said the key was the job Blaylock, Augmon and Ehlo did on Miller.

"You have to credit the guys who were guarding him," Koncak said. "I think he's the heart of their team."

"They just outplayed us in every area," Pacers coach Larry Brown said.

Thursday Scramble starts season with close race, scorecard playoff

The weekly golf scramble season teed off at Pitman Municipal Golf Course yesterday, changing its name to the Thursday Scramble. The summer event had been on Wednesday for many years.

Two teams carded a 29 on the nine-hole, par 35 scramble, with a foursome composed of Craig Nieman, Jeff Shelton, Martha Jones and Art Clark claiming first place on a scorecard playoff.

Also shooting a 29 was the team of Mike Self, Keith Kelso, H. Carrillo, Carlos Mendez and Jerry Shipman. One team shot a 30 and the others had a 31. Third place went to the team of Dave Kaesheimer, Dave Workman, M. Vega, Gerald Gamboa and Charles Hoover.

The event is open to all interested golfers. Signup begins each week at the conclusion of the weekly scramble.

Utah's Malone wins battle with Mutombo

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) - Scoreless in the first quarter, Karl Malone found the road to recovery led into the key - and over Denver's shot-blocking Dikembe Mutombo.

After starting 0-for-6, Malone hit 14 of his next 17 shots and scored 32 points as Utah claimed a 2-0 lead over the Nuggets in the Western Conference semifinals with a 104-94 victory Thursday night.

"I got off to a bad start, but I just tried to keep playing and work through it," he said. "I just want to get 'two' the best way I can, the fastest way I can."

"He blocked some, but I'm going to keep it up," Malone said of drives to hoop that twice drew fouls by Mutombo on made baskets.

The best-of-7 series now goes to Denver for games Saturday and Sunday, Game 5, if needed, will be here Tuesday.

Utah coach Jerry Sloan said he never lost confidence in Malone.

"I've seen him play for nine years. I've seen him struggle and I've seen him come back strong," Sloan said.

But Mutombo - who finished with eight blocked shots, 13 rebounds and seven points - was more impressed with Malone's shooting from 15 to 18 feet, where Utah's All-Star forward hit six of his field goals.

"He just made his shots. That was his day. There's nothing you can do about it. That was the type of shot we want him to take," Mutombo said. "There was nothing we could do."

Jay Humphries, David Benoit, Tom Chambers and John Stockton each had 12 points for the Jazz. Malone also had 12 rebounds and Stockton eight assists for Utah, making its 11th consecutive playoff appearance.

"This is what the playoffs are all about - keeping the homecourt advantage," said Benoit, who had seven points in the fourth quarter. "We just kept going to the basket, especially on the offensive rebounds."

Mahmoud Abdul-Rauf had 23 points for Denver before leaving the game with a bruised right tibia with 3:34 remaining and the Nuggets down by nine. However, he's expected to play Saturday.

LaPhonso Ellis added 20 points for the Nuggets, who earned their first conference semifinal assignment since 1988 by upsetting Seattle, the NBA's best regular-season team, in the first round.

Remembering a 2-0 deficit against the SuperSonics was followed by three straight Denver wins, the Nuggets remained upbeat.

"We've been down two before, so it's nothing really new," Mutombo said. "We can still come up and win this. There's always another day."

Added Williams: "It's not over yet. We feel confident going back home."

The Jazz, who won the series opener 100-91, beat the Nuggets four of five games during the regular season. Utah has now won five straight games in the playoffs.

Leading by three points going into the fourth quarter, the Jazz got three baskets from Malone in the first 4:28, including a 16-foot fadeaway jumper that built Utah's advantage to 86-78.

Back-to-back dunks by Benoit and a jam by Chambers pushed the margin to 13 with 2:01 to play. The Jazz got their final point - and biggest lead - when Mutombo was called for a technical with 21 seconds remaining, and Chambers converted.

Phillies start on road to .500

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Philadelphia Phillies yearn to be average.

The defending National League champions, firmly in last place in the NL East with a 13-21 record, believe Thursday night's 6-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates will nudge them further along the road toward .500.

"I believe this was a good game for us," said Pete Incaviglia, who doubled twice and hit his fifth homer.

"It's something we can build off of," Incaviglia pointed to several reasons why.

The first was that Tommy Greene, a 16-game winner last season, got his first victory of the year.

The numbers weren't impressive. Greene allowed 10 hits in six innings, walking three and striking out five.

But he only allowed one run, and the Phillies had a four-run lead when he left.

Greene said he didn't care about giving up 10 hits.

"It hasn't been pretty," he said. "But every win we can have, no matter what it looks like, we need it."

Middle relievers David West and Heathcliff Slocumb weren't nearly as effective, surrendering three runs in 1 2-3 innings, but closer Doug Jones finished where Greene started.

Jones gave up a hit to Orlando Merced when he came on with two outs in the eighth. With Merced and Jeff King on first and second, he struck out Lance Parrish to end the inning.

After getting two outs in the ninth, Jones gave up a single to Al Martin and walked the potential tying run, Jay Bell. But then Jones got Andy Van Slyke to ground to second to end the game.

The Pirates' inability to push across the tying run has become a trend lately. Pittsburgh left a season-high 17 runners on base - one shy of the NL record shared by five teams - and has left 89 on base in its last nine games.

"We certainly had our chances - and that's an understatement," manager Jim Leyland said.

The Phillies, who had lost seven of their previous eight entering the game, have to be wondering if they're still in the pennant race.

"Our main concern and goal is to get back to .500," said Lenny Dykstra, who went 3-for-4 with an RBI. "Everyone in this room knows we haven't played the baseball we're capable of playing yet."

In the only other NL game scheduled, Chicago topped St. Louis 8-6 in St. Louis.

Pinch-hitter Shawon Dunston broke a ninth-inning tie with a two-run homer as the Cubs rallied from a four-run deficit.

"We felt from the sixth inning on that they were more nervous than we were," manager Tom Trebelhorn said. "I told the guys on the bench, 'Hey, they're scared, let's go out and snatch this one.'"

Mark Parent led off the ninth with a single, his third hit of the game. Two batters later, Dunston homered on the first pitch from Rob Murphy (1-2), his second of the year.

Chuck Crim (2-0) allowed one run in two innings and Randy Myers got three outs for his sixth save in seven chances.

Horns' Kjos shuts out TCU; Tech rallies past Rice, 12-11

AUSTIN (AP) - Ryan Kjos limited the Texas Christian Horned Frogs to only hit in pitching the Texas Longhorns to victory over No. 17 TCU in the Southwest Conference baseball tournament.

The Longhorns took a 1-0 victory over TCU. In the other game played Thursday, Texas Tech defeated Rice 12-11.

Kerby Smith's fifth-inning double was the only hit for the league's regular season champs off Kjos (8-6), who faced only two batters over the minimum for a nine-inning game.

Kjos retired the final 14 batters after Smith's hit to collect his fourth complete game and second shutout of the season.

Fourth-seeded Texas (39-19) will play Texas Tech (39-15) at 7 p.m. Friday in a winners' bracket game in the double-elimination tournament. TCU (37-19) and Rice (33-20) will meet at 1 p.m. in an elimination game.

Kjos' 12 strikeouts tied a SWC tournament record set in 1988 by Texas' Preston Watson against Texas A&M.

Craig Farmer (3-2) making only his third start of the season, took the loss. He gave up two runs and four hits in five-plus innings of work.

Danny Peoples and J.P. Webb had two hits each for Texas.

Stephen Larkin had a solo home run in the ninth for the Longhorns. Ben Murry scored the deciding run on a wild pitch in the top of the ninth as Texas Tech rallied past Rice 12-11.

Murry's run capped a roller coaster, error-filled matchup that saw both teams take seemingly insurmountable leads only to have them chopped down.

Travis Smith (7-1) earned the win for the third-seeded Red Raiders (39-15). The losing pitcher was Byron Tribe (0-2).

The Red Raiders' decisive run began while trailing 11-8 at the top of the ninth.

After singles by Brandon Welch and Saul Bustos, Robin Harriss drew a walk to load the bases.

Welch scored on a bloop single to right field by Brody Gregg that cut the lead to 11-9. Reliever Bo Johnson then threw a wild pitch that allowed Bustos to score from third, making the score 11-10.

Johnson's next pitch got away from catcher Jeff Brannen as pinch runner Matt DeBuc scored from third to tie the score at 11-11.

After Johnson gave up a walk to Mitch King, he was replaced by reliever Jim Miller, whose first pitch was wild, allowing pinch runner Murry to score with the game-winning run.

Yanks send Tribe home with loss

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians will be glad to get out of New York, where the Yankees can do no wrong.

Bernie Williams hit a bases-loaded single in the 10th inning Thursday as the Yankees won their seventh straight game, 7-6 over the Indians, losers of nine of their last 10. All seven victories have come at Yankee Stadium.

The win improved New York to a major-league best 23-10 and added to a sudden feeling of invincibility in the clubhouse.

"I feel like we can't lose," said

Luis Polonia, who had a pinch-hit single in the 10th, his 1,000th career hit. "I feel like we're going out to win every game. I think everyone feels the same way. I don't think anyone can beat us right now."

Holding a 6-3 lead, the Yankees were one out away from putting the game away in the ninth when the Indians rallied for three runs.

But in the 10th, Mike Stanley reached on a fielding error by third baseman Jim Thome and moved to second on Polonia's single.

Steve Farr then relieved Eric Plunk (3-2) and intentionally walked Mike Gallego to load the bases.

Williams, who entered the game in an 0-for-19 slump and is still batting just .198 after three hits, slapped a 2-2 pitch from Farr past drawn-in first baseman Eddie Murray to score Stanley.

"When they tied it up, I said to myself, 'That's enough, shut it down, let's get in the dugout, let's drive in a run, let's go home,'" Gallego said.

Home is where the Indians will limp after completing a road trip 1-7, losing several close games in which they failed to execute in key situations.

The Indians committed four errors in losing their fifth straight game. The season, which began with a promising 12-7 start, has slowed to a crawl.

"It's tough to win when you make four errors in a game," Cleveland manager Mike Hargrove said.

Elsewhere in the American League it was: Detroit 6, Oakland 5; and Boston 3, Milwaukee 1.

Tigers 6, Athletics 5

At Detroit, the losses continued to pile up on the Oakland Athletics.

Travis Fryman broke a sixth-inning tie with a sacrifice fly and rookie Chris Gomez homered as Detroit sent Oakland to its 20th loss in 22 games.

Tony Phillips singled off Billy

Taylor (0-1) starting the sixth, then stole second and third.

Joe Boever (2-0) allowed one run in 1 2-3 innings. Mike Gardiner got four outs for his second save.

Red Sox 3, Brewers 1

At Boston, Roger Clemens held Milwaukee to two hits in seven innings before leaving with a minor leg problem.

Clemens (4-1) struck out eight and walked three before leaving after seven innings with an apparent minor leg problem.

Ricky Bones (3-2) matched Clemens over the first seven innings before leaving with two runners on and one out in the eighth. Graeme Lloyd came on and allowed a two-run single to pinch-hitter Tim Lincecum that made it 3-0.

Bones, who entered the game with a major league-leading ERA of 1.12, allowed three runs and four hits in 7 1-3 innings.

Nelson Classic troubled by rain

DALLAS (AP) - Payne Stewart's comeback attempt from the golfing doldrums is, at this point, one day behind schedule.

It is up to the weather, a traditional problem at the GTE Byron Nelson Classic, as to whether it will be further delayed.

Thursday's first round was rained out, and more rain overnight gave the course a further soaking. Start of play was delayed for at least three hours today, raising the possibility the already shortened tournament could be further reduced.

In the event that more rain is dumped on the saturated fairways of the TPC at Las Colinas, "we will persevere," Duke Butler, tournament director for the PGA Tour, said Thursday.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE MOST CORRUPT KING!

AHAZ, THE SON OF JOTHAM, WAS PROCLAIMED KING OF JUDAH WHEN HE WAS TWENTY YEARS OLD. MANY AUTHORITIES CLAIM THAT HE WAS THE MOST CORRUPT KING OF ALL! HE WAS AN IDOLATOR, BURNING HIS YOUNG SON AS AN OFFERING AND SACRIFICING AND BURNING INCENSE ON HIGH PLACES AND UNDER GREEN TREES IN THE GROVES DEDICATED TO PAGAN GODS! (II KINGS 16:3-4) HE BROKE ALL GODS LAWS WHEN THEY CONFLICTED WITH HIS OWN DEPRAVED DESIRES! WHEN THE ARMIES OF REZIN, KING OF SYRIA, AND PEKAH, KING OF ISRAEL, BE-SIEGED JERUSALEM, AHAZ DID NOT TURN TO GOD, AS A GOOD KING OF JUDAH SHOULD HAVE DONE, BUT TURNED, INSTEAD, TO THE KING OF ASSYRIA! IT CAUSED ISAIAH, WHO HAD COME TO THE COURT TO PLEAD WITH HIM TO RELY UPON YAHWEH, TO UTTER THE CELEBRATED PROPHECY CONCERNING THE BIRTH OF IMMANUEL. (ISA. 7:1-16) AHAZ REIGNED FOR SIXTEEN EVIL YEARS AND THE BEST THAT COULD BE SAID FOR HIM WAS THAT HE SO ANGERED A PROPHET THAT THIS VENERABLE MAN FORETOLD OF THE COMING OF A SAVIOR!

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Charles Dutton thinks his show has hit "Roc" bottom.

The star of Fox's "Roc" is pessimistic about the chances of a fourth season. The ratings have been bad and Fox hadn't decided on prospects for a new season.

"I think it's probably less than a 10 percent chance that it would come back. If it doesn't come back, that's fine," Dutton said. "I can walk away after three seasons."

"I can sing the Frank Sinatra song 'I Did It My Way,' which is something to be said out here."

The show, Dutton said recently, takes on hard issues - AIDS, guns, murder.

"Your task as an artist is to advance civilization," he said. "Each time you're on stage, you're changing the world in some small way, enlightening someone's mind, changing someone's attitude."

LOS ANGELES (AP) - When Paula Abdul sang "Forever Your Girl," she apparently wasn't talking to Emilio Estevez.

The singer filed for divorce Tuesday, citing irreconcilable differences in her two-year marriage to Estevez.

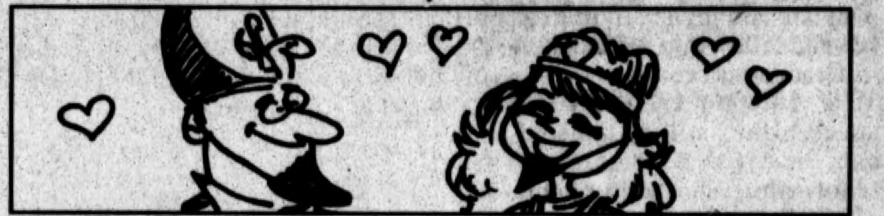

"It's with tremendous reluctance and great sadness that I've taken this action," Miss Abdul, 31, said in a statement.

"Although our marriage did not work out, I have great affection and both personal and professional respect for Emilio. I know that we'll continue to be supportive of each other in the future and that our friendship will go on."

The 32-year-old "Mighty Ducks" star had no comment.

Miss Abdul is a former Los Angeles Lakers cheerleader who had a smash hit with her debut album, "Forever Your Girl."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A few weeks ago, you printed a letter about a judge in Montreal who sentenced a man to 23 months for sodomizing his 9-year-old stepdaughter. The judge said that since the child had not been raped, she would not suffer permanent damage from the abuse.

I have another judge story that is equally astonishing. It appeared in the Columbus Dispatch.

Following a public outcry, a Chattanooga judge ordered a rape suspect taken back into custody, three days after initially releasing him with this advice: "Get a girlfriend."

Mental health professionals had urged Criminal Court Judge Doug Meyer not to release Vincent L. Cousins, who once said "Voices" told him to rape. Cousins was charged with aggravated rape in 1989 and found not guilty by reason of insanity. He was arrested again in February when a counselor notified the court that Cousins had stopped taking medication and attending counseling sessions.

Judge Meyer released Cousins pending a later hearing and refused the assistant public defender's suggestion to appoint a guardian. The judge said, "I think what he needs is a girlfriend because if he doesn't, he's going to have bad dreams again."

What do you think of that, Ann Landers?--Your Fan in Sandusky

DEAR SAND: I wonder if the judge has any daughters he would like to fix the rape suspect up with.

I also wonder if this judge was appointed or elected. It seems the citizens of Chattanooga are entitled to better than this.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is in response to "Finally Figured It Out at 40," who said males would not need pornography if females would expend the energy to satisfy their men.

"Mr. X" assumes that the 72 percent of women who responded to your survey by saying they would rather cuddle than have sex feel that way because they have low sex drives. I'd assume something quite different. I believe those 72 percent are with very lousy lovers--men who last about 20 seconds and then fall asleep. Maybe those males who blame women for inadequate, dreary, dull sex should evaluate their own lackluster performances and make an effort to correct them.

Most women would be delighted to have more sex if their men would work at being better lovers. I cannot believe that men would rather have pornography than the real thing.--Woman Against Porn

DEAR WOMAN: Not all sexologists would agree with your last sentence. Your assumption is correct if you are talking about men who are sexually healthy. Those males whose sexual maturity stopped at the adolescent level have real trouble operating as mature men. It demands more of them than they are able to deliver.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Just how narrow-minded and crazy can people get? This might give you a clue.

Gay Avenue, named more than 100 years ago after a distinguished Madison, Wis., family, has been renamed Alvarez Avenue, after the Badgers football coach. It seems a lot of people don't like the old name. Any comment?--R.X.

DEAR R.X.: The majority rules. Even if at times it goes off the deep end.

DEAR READERS: A recent Gem of the Day, "Happiness makes up in height for what it lacks in length," is actually the title of a poem by Robert Frost.

Elizabeth Holt's grandson, Billy Bonasio of Kerrville, has been selected as a National Award Winner by the United States Achievement Academy.

Billy, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Bonasio of Kerrville, is a student at Lake Highlands High School and was nominated for the award by Breck Holt, a biology teacher at the school.

Billy is an honor roll student and was recognized for his outstanding leadership service.

This award is a prestigious honor given by the academy which recognizes less than 10 percent of all American high school students for their achievements. Billy's name will be published in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook which is published nationally.

CHURCH

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Everyone is welcome to join FUMC members in the following Sunday schedule of events. The graduating seniors breakfast will be held at 8 a.m. Sunday in the fellowship hall; Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.; morning worship, 10:45; and the children's musical, "And the Show Goes On," fellowship hall, 6 p.m.

The United Methodist Men are planning an all-church cookout and game night at 6 p.m. Saturday. All members are invited to this time of fun and fellowship.

Graduating seniors of the class of 1994 of Hereford High School who attend FUMC will be honored at 8 a.m. Sunday with a breakfast in the fellowship hall, sponsored by the Methodist Men. Parents, Sunday school teachers and youth sponsors of the graduates are also invited for this annual event.

The Sunshine and Carol Choirs of FUMC are presenting a musical, "And the Show Goes On," at 6 p.m. Sunday. Everyone will be blessed by the children in their efforts to bring a new understanding of the lessons Jesus taught. Please make plans to attend.

A special time to share remembrances and say a personal farewell to Joe and Virginia Wood has been announced for Sunday, May 22, in the fellowship hall immediately following the morning worship service. The Wood family came to FUMC on June 13, 1991, and May 29 will be their last Sunday at the church. A special brisket dinner will be served and a money tree will be presented to them. Cost per plate will be a love offering.

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is extended an invitation to attend services at the church located on S. Hwy. 385 and Columbia St.

Sunday school begins at 10 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 5 p.m.

SUMMERFIELD BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to attend all of the church services. Sunday school is held at 10 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. The Wednesday service is held at 7 p.m.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Brotherhood of the church invites all men and boys to join them for breakfast Sunday at 7:30 a.m. They will be meeting in the fellowship hall.

The Pastor H. Wyatt Bartlett and the congregation of the church invite everyone to come to Sunday worship with them. Sunday school and Bible study begins at 9:45 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. with the pastor preaching at both services.

The mid-week prayer meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the fellowship hall. Sanctuary Choir will meet at 7:45 p.m.

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday school for all ages begins at 10 a.m. at the church located at 100 Ave. B. The Adult Bible class will continue to study the book of I Corinthians.

During the Sunday 11 a.m. worship service, the sermon topic will be "Prophecy Fulfilled Before Our Eyes" taken from Acts 1:15-26.

Confirmation will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

A special work day is planned at 2 p.m. Sunday followed by a cookout and fellowship meal.

SAN PABLO UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

The church, located at 220 Kibbe, will hold a "spiritual awakening" revival at 7 p.m. today and Saturday and at 11 a.m. Sunday. Preaching will be the evangelist from Lybbeck, the Rev. Velma Vergara Esqueda. The music will be under the direction of Mona Romero.

The public is invited to attend.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to a musical/drama presentation of "The Providence of God" at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the church. The event will be performed by the youth choir of the church.

The Baptist Women will hold a general meeting and coffee at 9:30 a.m. May 18 in Kinsey Parlor. Leatrus Clark and Lolita Vinson will lead the study entitled "Christianity Takes Shape."

PUBLIC NOTICE

The City of Hereford will be holding a public hearing at the City Hall on Saturday, May 14, 1994 at 8:30 a.m. The purpose of the public hearing is to discuss the impact of imposing bonding requirements on contractors doing work in the City of Hereford.

Currently, only plumbing and electrical contractors are required to be bonded. The bond requirement is proposed to be expanded to include roofing, siding, heating and air conditioning and building contractors.

The public is invited to participate in this discussion.

Hear What Your Neighbor Says About Us!

Your service is above average. Your office staff has been great when I have had occasion to call.

Eola T. Rodrigue
New Iberia, Louisiana

I am very happy with my hearing aid from Brown Hearing Aid Centers. I have had it for many years and with no problems. It's the best investment I have ever made.

Bernice Hernandez
Baton Rouge, Louisiana

I am satisfied with my hearing aid from Brown Hearing Aid Centers. It works fine.

Vernice Daville
Opelousas, Louisiana

I just love my hearing aid from Brown Hearing Aid Centers. It really helps me to hear better. I can hear children talking now and at meetings I can hear people speaking. I am very satisfied with my hearing aid. It works great and it is well worth the money. I don't know what I would do without it.

Annie Diaz
Palacios, Texas

Your sales representative presented the Brown hearing aid to me in a concise, informative manner — no high pressure sales tactics. When my hearing aids were delivered, your consultant took time to teach me how to wear them and adjust them to my needs. The two main reasons I am happy with my hearing aids are being able to understand my grandchildren & hearing most that is said in church.

Allieree Clark
Sherman, Texas

My hearing aid from Brown Hearing Aid Centers helps me a whole lot. I can hear my neighbor across the street talking to her dog.

Mrs. Edna Topliffe
