Fork truck accident hurts man

A Hereford man suffered extensive injuries Friday in an industrial accident that occurred when a fork lift ran over him.

The accident happened at about 8:30 a.m. at Gearn Industries in Summerfield.

Frank Romo, 53, was transported by EMS ambulance to Dawn, where it was met by Medivac helicopter. He was flown to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, where he was undergoing treatment and evaluation.

Geary Gearn said Romo, a 20-year employee of Gearn Industries, was hurt while trying to repair the 12,000-14,000 pound rough-terrain fork lift.

Romo, Gearn said, apparently heard a squeak in the engine of the fork lift and, thinking it was in the water pump or alternator, crawled between the steering tires and large tractor tires to make repairs.

Romo removed the alternator belt, then, Gearn continued, "apparently what he decided to do was start the fork truck and see if it still squeaked."

The man shorted out the starter while under the truck, forgetting, Gearn said, that the key was in it and the vehicle was in reverse.

When the engine started, it jumped into reverse, driving over Romo and trapping him between the forks and the front tires.

Gearn said the victim was dragged some 20 feet by the vehicle, suffering severe internal injuries and broken bones.

Gearn praised the efforts of Hereford EMS personnel, who were able to remove Romo from the machinery and ready him for transport quickly.

He thanked personnel for their work to get Romo into the ambulance and on the road to meet the helicopter.

Car insurance rates may rise

DALLAS (AP) - The benchmark rates for auto insurance could rise 17.7 percent under an insurance industry group's proposal filed Thursday.

The proposal by the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office, along with a recommendation by Farmers Insurance Group to boost rates an average of 12.5 percent, were the only rate proposals filed before the Sept. 27 public hearing on auto rates in Texas.

Farmers is the second-largest property insurer in Texas. The Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office represents small- and medium-size insurance companies.

An administrative law judge will conduct the first hearing on benchmark rates for auto insurance, then make a recommendation to Insurance Commissioner Robert Hunter.

Hunter will make the final decision on the benchmarks, which have not gone up since 1991. However, the new flexible rating system used in Texas allows companies to price auto policies as much as 30 percent below and 30 percent above the benchmarks without state approval.

The Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office is seeking the 17.7 percent increase because of rising costs.

Large majority in survey disapprove of Congress

By JOHN KING
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite steady economic growth, six in 10 Americans say the economy is stagnating or even in a recession or depression, according to a survey released today that found voters in a foul mood two months before the midterm elections.

By 70 percent to 22 percent, voters disapprove of the way Congress is handling its job. Also, by wide margins they favor term limits and settling debates over taxes and other thorny issues by ballot referendum.

The national survey also was replete with evidence of President Clinton's political troubles and the negative impact that has - on Democrats running for Congress this fall and on early assessments of his chances for re-election.

The "Battleground '94" poll of 1,000 registered voters was conducted late last month by Republican pollster Ed Goetas and Democrat Celinda Lake and has a margin of error of plus or minus 4 percentage points. Among the findings:

-Despite 3 percent annual economic growth last year, and continued growth this year, Americans remain worried about the economy, particularly citing stagnant wages and worries they will not be financially prepared for retirement. Thirty-four percent said the nation was in an economic recovery. But 39 percent said the economy was stagnating, 13 percent said it was in recession and 7 percent used the term depression.

-Crime is far and away the No. 1 concern, cited by 36 percent of respondents. No other issue was named by more than 6 percent.

-Republicans are viewed as better equipped than Democrats to deal with the deficit, to hold the line on taxes, to reform welfare and to handle foreign affairs. Democrats had the edge on protecting the middle class, creating jobs and improving health care and education.

-Twenty-eight percent said the biggest problem facing the middle class today was that "family values are declining and no one values responsibility anymore."

-Looking ahead to this November's elections, the pollsters said the deep public cynicism was problematic to all incumbents, regardless of party. Republican Goetas, however, argued that Democrats were in far more trouble because of declining confidence in Clinton and his party's ability to handle major problems.

In her analysis, Lake argued that predictions of dramatic Democratic losses were premature, that the party's candidates had time to tailor their campaigns to their specific states and districts.

Still, she noted that supporters of Ross Perot's 1992 presidential bid by a wide margin favored Republicans in this year's elections. And she said the stalled health care debate has cost Clinton.

"The health care debate cost Clinton dearly in terms of credibility on reinventing government," Lake said. "The damage may not be permanent but the lesson is clear: Clinton must use the bully pulpit more to control the definition of future initiatives."

Looking way ahead to 1996, the survey found that only one third of the nation's voters believe Clinton deserves re-election, while 55 percent said it was time to give someone else a chance. Even 25 percent of Clinton's 1992 supporters said it was time for a new person to govern.

Lawmaker favors creation of DNA fingerprint registry

AUSTIN (AP) - Creating a statewide registry of DNA fingerprints from convicted sex offenders would be an investment in the future of Texas law enforcement, proponents say.

State Rep. Brian McCall, R-Plano, proposed legislation on Thursday that would allow authorities to take blood samples from convicted sex offenders upon their release from prison.

The Department of Public Safety then would be authorized to process the blood samples and log them into a database. Like regular fingerprinting, authorities use DNA technology to match the unique makeup of a person's blood against a sample collected at a crime scene. McCall said the program would cost $1.4 million to start and $700,000 a year to maintain. McCall said the necessary funds could come from federal grants provided in the recent crime bill.

"The sexual aggressor... does two things. It's predictable that he will commit his crime again and again, and he leaves behind evidence at the scene of the crime that can absolutely connect him to the crime," McCall said.

"Law enforcement all over the state has said give us the tools and we will finish the job."

Fiery airplane crash results in 132 deaths

ALIQUIPPA, Pa. (AP) - The jetliner banked to the right, rolled a few times and nose-dived into a ravine. There was a muffled boom, then the sky turned bright with flames as a black cloud of smoke mushroomed into the air.

"It was just coming straight down," said one person who saw the USAir jetliner crash Thursday evening.

All 132 people aboard the Boeing 737-300 died - the deadliest crash in the United States since 1987 and USAir's fifth fatal crash in as many years.

A pilot, nurse and paramedic flown in by a medical helicopter walked through the site moments after the 7:19 p.m. crash. They saw body parts hangings from trees and baggage strewn everywhere.

"It was total devastation," said Jim Bothwell, director of operations for the STAT MedEvac helicopter service. "The airplane was in a million pieces and the people inside were in pieces."

USAir Flight 427 originated in Chicago and was to stop in Pittsburgh before continuing to West Palm Beach, Fla.

Jason Moka, a 10-year-old who was playing soccer a half-mile from where the plane went down, said its engines seemed to be sputtering before the crash.

The crew radioed Pittsburgh International Airport when the plane was about six miles away and "there was no indication at that time of any difficulty," USAir said in a statement this morning. Skies were clear.

Investigators hoped to gain some clues from the plane's black box, which records flight data. An emergency worker said the box was recovered.

The plane was powered by CFM-3B1 engines, made by CFM International, a joint venture of General Electric Co and French manufacturer Snecma. The plane was manufactured in 1987 and had logged 23,846 flight hours and 14,489 takeoffs and landings.

August PPI increase led by food, gas, cars

By JAMES H. RUBIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Wholesale prices surged 0.6 percent in August, the biggest jump in nearly four years, the government said today.

The August advance in the Producer Price Index was broad-based and was led by higher prices for food, gasoline, automobiles and tobacco, the Labor Department said.

The rise in the index, which measures inflation pressures before they reach the consumer, exceeded analysts' predictions and was the largest since it shot up 1.1 percent in October 1990.

The increase could renew fears that the Federal Reserve, seeking to

The jet crashed in a rocky, heavily wooded ravine about 10 miles from Pittsburgh International Airport, an area of Beaver County best known for producing tough-as-nails steelworkers and such football stars as Tony Dorsett and Mike Ditka.

Firefighters fought their way to the scene through trees and down treacherous terrain, but there was no road to transport heavy vehicles.

The search was called off about two hours after the crash, and the area was sealed off for the night.

Crews began cutting a road into the site at daybreak, and as of midmorning a team was waiting for clearance from investigators to begin the search for remains. Refrigerated trucks waited to bring bodies to a temporary morgue at Beaver County Airport.

A heavy downpour this morning was expected to make removing the remains even more difficult.

With body parts strewn over a wide area, some victims may never be identified, said Beaver County Coroner Wayne Tatalovich.

The plane's tailpiece seems to be the only part intact, said Jim Eichenlaub, Hopewell Township emergency services director.

Firemen fought their way to the scene through trees and down treacherous terrain, but there was no road to transport heavy vehicles.

As dusk fell and it became clear there were no survivors, emergency coordinators imported four-wheel drives, dune buggies and chainsaws to patch together a makeshift road so federal investigators could bring in sophisticated equipment today.

The search was called off about two hours after the crash, and the area was sealed off for the night. The air space above the crash site was restricted to emergency aircraft.

Activity continued at a nearby shopping center, where refrigerated trucks waited to bring bodies from the site to a temporary morgue at Beaver County Airport.

Witnesses said the plane rolled over once or twice and headed nose-down into the ravine.

check accelerating inflation, will boost short-term interest rates again. The Fed has boosted rates five times since February.

The producer price index rose 0.5 percent in July after being unchanged in June.

For the first eight months of this year, the index has climbed 2.9 percent at an annual rate and was up 1.9 percent for the past 12 months.

Excluding more volatile food and energy prices, the index rose 0.4 percent in August after edging up 0.1 percent in July and declining 0.1 percent in June.

Most analysts estimated in advance of the report that wholesale prices were up 0.5 percent in August.

U.S. Air Force report confirms 'UFO' was just a balloon

By JOHN DIAMOND
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - There'll be no convincing some people, but the Air Force says - again - the thing that hit the ground near Roswell, N.M., in 1947 was not the proof that UFOs exist. But it did prove that a crashing balloon could make a 47-year mess.

There were no secret autopsies on space aliens who couldn't fly too well. No flying saucer pieces under guard on an air base. No big conspiracy.

It was just a balloon. One of ours.

Sorry. It took eight months to reach that conclusion, and the Air Force hopes now to put to rest talk UFO circles that military authorities covered up a grand extraterrestrial event.

The Air Force began the investigation in January after Rep. Steven Schiff, R-N.M., asked the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress, to press the Pentagon to declassify documents relating to Roswell.

Air Force officials tracked down principals, combed archives, and even sent some old news photos to the CIA for analysis - all to try to deflate the persistent rumors of a massive government conspiracy to hide the truth.

The effort produced a 25-page report, released Thursday, in which Col. Richard Weaver concludes that the debris a rancher found probably came from a once top-secret balloon designed to monitor the atmosphere for evidence of Soviet nuclear tests.

Of the UFO theories, Weaver had this to say:

"What is uniquely lacking in the entire exploration and exploitation of the Roswell Incident is official positive documentary or physical evidence of any kind that supports the claims of those who allege that something unusual happened."

However, Weaver predicted "pro-UFO" elements simply would dismiss his report as part of the cover-up.

Indeed, Walter Haut, a volunteer at the UFO Museum at Roswell, a center devoted to gathering information on this and other UFO incidents, wasted no time in rejecting the Air Force conclusions.

"I feel very strongly about it," Haut said. Referring to those who made the original UFO claim, he said, "We're not talking about flaky people."

In July 1947 the owner of a ranch near Roswell picked up debris that included scattered foil-coated fabric, sticks, rubber and some small I-beams with strange markings.

Maj. Jesse Marcel, the Army Air Force intelligence officer who brought in the wreckage, was reported to have recovered a "flying disc." A local headline screamed that the Air Force "Captures Flying Saucer." All this coincided with a surge of interest in unidentified flying objects, purportedly from outer space.

Days later a higher-ranking officer identified the material as the remains of a weather balloon. But the seed of what became known as the Roswell Incident had been planted.

There the matter stood until 1978 when the supermarket tabloid National Inquirer retold Marcel's story.

A series of books followed advancing the UFO theory and accusing the Air Force of cover-up. The Robert Stack-hosted television show, "Unsolved Mysteries," aired a re-creation of the Roswell incident. A made-for-TV movie is in the works.

AUSTIN - With the latest report showing crime in Texas down, campaign rhetoric is up. The Texas Department of Public Safety reported Thursday that during the first half of 1994, both the total number of crimes committed and the rate per 100,000 people were down in all major categories.

DALLAS - Ask shoppers what they're going to miss about the Kmart slated for closure here, and the answer is - not much. "It won't be devastating," GiGi Carter said as she browsed through the quiet store's shoe department. Earlier in the day, Kmart Corp. said it would close 110 stores and eliminate 6,000 jobs as it struggles with intense competition in the retail business. Sure, the Dallas shop is convenient, customers said. But the 10 Dallas-area Kmarts are far from the only game in town.

Discovery ready for trip

By MARCIA DUNN
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - Discovery stood ready to blast off today on a mission to study the atmospheres of the Earth and sun and to test a jet pack in the first untethered spacewalk by astronauts in 10 years.

NASA began fueling the shuttle this morning. The forecast - 70 percent chance of good launch weather - was less favorable than Thursday's. Thunderstorm clouds were the main concern.

After analyzing last month's last-second engine shutdown on another shuttle and other mechanical problems over the past three weeks, NASA declared Discovery "100 percent go."

"If we get some (good) weather, we'll be out of here," promised shuttle director Brewster Shaw. "The six astronauts slept in, a rare luxury for shuttle crews on launch day. Shuttles usually lift off in the morning; Discovery's late afternoon departure was dictated by one of its science experiments. Many of Discovery's experiments have never flown before in orbit. There's a $25 million laser machine that will beam pulses down to Earth and measure the light that's bounced back from clouds, atmospheric particles and the surface itself. Scientists hope to learn more about the climate.

There's a $14 million satellite with two telescopes to study the sun's corona, the outer part of the sun's atmosphere. These measurements will coincide with the solar probe Ulysses' pass over the sun's unexplored south pole.

There's a $7 million jet pack to be tested by astronauts Mark Lee and Carl Meade near the end of the nine-day mission. They will fly without a lifeline.

The last time spacewalkers relinquished their safety tethers was in 1984 when they used an older, bulkier, costlier jet pack. The new unit is designed to be used as an emergency rescue device for future space rescue crews.

And there's a $3 million robot - the first U.S. robot to fly in space - that will try to load semiconductor crystals into furnaces. It will work while the crew sleeps; that's the only time the shuttle will be still enough for the delicate task.

"All in all, this flight takes 100 percent advantage of every on-orbit minute and all the capabilities of the space shuttle," mission commander Richard Richards said during training.

There's even popcorn aboard Discovery. Students at the Edith Bowen Elementary School at Utah State University in Logan, will microwave the two bags of popcorn after the flight to see whether they taste different from the Earthbound variety.

This will be NASA's 64th shuttle mission and the fifth this year. An environmental research flight by Endeavour was supposed to hold that spot, but was bumped into early October because of that shuttle's Aug. 18 engine shutdown.

Five of the astronauts are space veterans: Richards, Lee, Meade, pilot L. Blaine Hammond Jr. and Susan Helms. Jerry Linenger is the lone rookie.

Goals 2000 participation draws criticism from lawmaker group

By SCOTT ROTHCHILD
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) - Critics of a new federal education program said Texas' participation could lead to birth control services and midnight basketball in state schools.

But supporters of the "Goals 2000: Educate America Act" said the funds in Texas would go toward reading, writing, mathematics, social studies and science programs.

The State Board of Education on Thursday gave preliminary approval to apply for funds in the program. Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno said Texas could receive $7.1 million in the first year of the program and an estimated $30 million the next year.

The legislation signed this year by President Clinton requires participating states to develop, but not implement, education plans that set voluntary standards in various areas.

Meno said Texas' education plan would have to be approved by the board before being submitted to the federal government.

Under his proposal, school districts could apply for 40 grants worth a total of $4.1 million in the first year for programs to enhance students' basic skills through the fourth grade.

The initiative also will support statewide centers for teacher training in English language arts and social studies, he said.

"The purpose of this application is to enhance the achievement of the students of Texas. We should never deny our children," said board member Alma Allen of Houston.

But Monte Hasie said it could lead to the takeover of Texas schools by the federal government.

"We're selling out the schoolchildren of Texas," said State Board of Education member Monte Hasie of Lubbock.

State Rep. Warren Chisum, chairman of the Texas Conservative Coalition, which has 73 lawmaker members, and more than a dozen other people asked the board to reject Texas' efforts to get into the federal program.

Eleanor Hutcheson, of the Texas Republican Party, said that taking the $7.1 million would allow the federal government to impose its rules on Texas schools.

"Since when have Texans needed someone to tell them what to do?" she asked. One woman said it would set up midnight basketball games in schools.

Reno gets crime bill plan ready

By LARRY MARGASAK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - Attorney General Janet Reno says she's ready to turn the crime bill from a piece of paper to reality - including the start of efforts to hire thousands of new police officers to walk neighborhood beats.

Reno told reporters that Associate Attorney General John Schmidt, the No. 3 department official, would coordinate implementation of the $30.2 billion bill. Someone with police experience would be hired to oversee efforts to place 100,000 new police officers on the streets by the year 2000.

President Clinton is scheduled to sign the bill Tuesday. Besides the beefed up police forces, the measure will toughen penalties, create 60 new death penalty crimes, ban 19 named assault-style weapons and copycats and build thousands of new prison cells.

Reno said the department will not dictate to states and communities how to spend federal crime bill funds.

"We cannot implement the crime bill by Washington telling communities what to do," she said.

Reno said the department will focus immediately on:

-Meeting with police chiefs, mayors, corrections officers and other state and local officials to determine their needs under the legislation.

-Disbursing 250 grants from previously appropriated money to hire 2,000 police officers who "will walk the beats in the neighborhoods."

-Discussing the bill's criminal provisions with U.S. attorneys across the country.

-Establish a toll-free hot line for states and cities to obtain information on the law.

Reno said she expected that 20,000 additional police officers would be on the streets in the first 16 months of the law, with the number reaching 40,000 by October 1996.

Also by the 1996 date, Reno said she expected 300,000 young people to be involved in prevention programs.

VA Hospital to provide service here

A special service will be offered all military veterans on Oct. 1, when personnel from the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo conduct a free clinic in Hereford.

Several tests, including blood pressure, will be administered at the American Legion Hall. Hours of the clinic are 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Oct. 1.

Veterans are encouraged to take advantage of this service, said Jess Robinson, commander of American Legion Post 192.

Participants in the clinic should provide proof of military service. Members of the American Legion or Veterans of Foreign Wars may present their membership cards.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"Vindicated Suffering" is the title of the sermon by the Rev. Charles A. Wilson on the Sixteenth Sunday after Pentecost. The Holy Eucharist is celebrated at 11 a.m. and there is an all-parish fellowship meal after the service.

The regular Wednesday Public Service of Healing is at 7 p.m. with the evening prayer and the Litany of Healing conducted by St. Thomas' layreaders. The propers for Holy Cross Day will be used.

Intercessory prayer requests from the community are most welcome. To have them included in the Prayers of the People at all services, please call 364-0146 and leave a message. In case of emergency or to make appointments for personal conferences, please call Father Wilson in Amarillo at 1-353-1734.

"Super Sunday" is Sept. 11 with all fall programs beginning on that day. There is Christian Education for all ages at 9:30 a.m. with children and youth meeting in the education wing and the Adult Class meeting in the church parlor. The Adult Class will begin a 13-week study of Mark's Gospel using the Serendipity material.

The Rt. Rev. Sam B. Hulsey, Bishop of the Diocese of Northwest Texas, will be at St. Thomas on Sunday, Sept. 25. Bishop Hulsey will preside at the 11 a.m. Holy Eucharist, preach and administer the Sacrament of Confirmation. Anyone who is considering Baptism, Confirmation, Reception or Renewal of Baptismal Vows should contact Father Wilson as soon as possible. There will be a reception for the confirmands and Bishop Hulsey after the service.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to attend all services at the church. Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m.; Sunday worship services, 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.; children's handbells, 4 p.m. Sunday; youth choir, 4:30 p.m. Sunday; and discipleship training for all ages, 5:30 p.m. each Sunday.

Youth visitation is scheduled each Monday at 7 p.m. and youth "Hang Time" is at 7 p.m. each Wednesday. The youth are invited to a lock-in tonight in the church Family Life Center. Those planning to attend are asked to bring snacks.

A Christ-Centered Health Program is scheduled 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the exercise room.

A senior adult retreat will be held Sept. 15 at High Plains Baptist Assembly. Cost is $6 per person.

The Baptist Women General Meeting is set for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the fellowship hall. Leatrus Clark is the program leader. Anyone is invited to come to this meeting and bring a covered dish. Call Missy Wilcox if you need the nursery.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The public is invited to all services at the church. The Sunday schedule of events include: Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.; and Sunday worship services, 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Meeting each Wednesday at 7 p.m.: Kids Fall Program; Teen "Club Paradise"; and Adult Bible Study.

This Sunday morning, Pastor Ted Taylor continues in a series of messages entitled "Jesus' Greatest Sermon." The third in this series is "Sacrifice Releases the Power of God," II Samuel 24:24. Please join us for these uplifting worship services at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

"An Offering of Sacrifice" as the church is challenging us all to sacrifice and give unto the Lord a great offering will be held Sept. 18. The money will be used to finance a music pastor salary.

Positive Singles will meet in Jacob's Well in the N.C.A. building following the Sunday evening worship service.

Promise Keepers will be having a meeting Oct. 28-29 in the Metroplex Area. If you are interested in this gathering of men, contact the Nazarene Church or Jeff Torbert. This is a new meeting but will fill up fast.

An NCA auction is scheduled Oct. 1. If you have anything of value to donate, you may bring it to the school.

The "End Zone" will be presenting "Extreme Productions" Oct. 16 at the Bull Barn. Cost is $3 per person.

CHRIST'S CHURCH FELLOWSHIP

Located at 401 W. Park Ave., CCF strives to exalt Christ, teaching and accepting the fullness and transforming work of the Holy Spirit.

CCF offers Bible classes for all ages at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday. This Sunday will be the first meeting of the 9 a.m. class in the sanctuary for the singers and musicians. Anyone willing to make a commitment to serve and be faithful in the music ministry is asked to join us in this class. Jan Wilks will be teaching on prayer and fasting.

All women are invited to a salad supper Monday at 6:30 p.m. Cynthia Miller of Interiors will be the guest speaker giving ideas for home decorating. This promises to be a night of fun and fellowship.

We will celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles at 6 p.m. Sept. 18. Pick up a recipe for a Jewish dish from the table in the foyer or bring a dish of your choice. Come to the fellowship hall this Saturday at 9 a.m. and get in on the fun of learning the Jewish line and round dances that we will be doing at our celebration Sept. 18.

Sunday services begin at 10:45 a.m. If you are searching for a church home or need special prayer, we welcome you to visit with us or call the church office at 364-0373. We understand how hard it is to visit a new church, but at CCF we guarantee to be friendly.

SAN JOSE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Berg Construction Management will be holding a meeting with all subcontractors interested in bidding on jobs for the construction of the San Jose Education/Recreation Building. The meeting is planned from 5:30-7 p.m. Tuesday at the San Jose church Hall.

Subcontractors can look at the building plans or pick up their own set by making a $75 deposit. All sealed bids must be submitted to "Berg Construction Management" by 5 p.m. Sept. 26. All phone inquiries as to structural questions can be directed to Charlie Lusher at 1-799-5578.

List of subcontractors needed include: Site work-pad work; concrete, masonry; structural steel and erection; studs, drywall and drop ceilings; tape and bed; painting and staining; electrical; mechanical A/C and heating; plumbing; roofing; glass and exterior doors; millwork and interior jams; and floor coverings.

CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

The new quarter has begun for our Bible classes. Last Sunday, our classes were promoted. Why don't you consider becoming a part of one of our classes? Never let it be said, "You are mistaken, not knowing the scriptures nor the power of God." Matt. 22:29.

Our youth will be going to Guyton, Okla. to a youth rally Saturday. There will be a parent meeting for our teens Sunday after the evening services. We will be planning for the rest of the year.

Last Wednesday night we had a devotional led by the young men of the congregation. We then watched a video of "Super Saturday." We concluded the evening with snacks and fellowship. It was a good day.

The church meets Sunday at 9:30 a.m. for Bible study and 10:25 a.m. and 6 p.m. for worship. We meet again on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. for Bible study. Come join us.

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday at both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. worship services, we will have the privilege of hearing from Rick Hagar who is the Director of Ethnic Missions for our Amarillo Baptist Association. Brother Hagar and his family served as foreign missionaries in Tanzania for over nine years and are now under appointment for the Home Mission Board.

Sunday school and Bible study begin at 9:45 a.m. Sunday at 5 p.m., all the committees for our 40th anniversary celebration will meet in the fellowship hall.

The mid-week prayer meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday and choir practice with Paula Eubanks is planned at 7:45 p.m.

The congregation and Pastor H. Wyatt Bartlett invite everyone to come join them for these times of worship.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The title of the sermon to be given Sunday by the Rev. Don Shepherd, interim pastor of the church, is "Moses, Saint Paul, and Minneapolis!" Scripture lessons are John 8:31-34 and John 14:15-17. The service begins at 10:30 a.m.

The Sunday school classes begin the new year this Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Don Shepherd will teach the adult class.

The youth groups also begin the new year Sunday. The junior highs meet from 5-6 p.m. They will join with the senior high group from 6-6:30 p.m. for fellowship and refreshments. The seniors will meet from 6:30-7:30 p.m.

The prayer group will meet at 6 p.m. Monday.

The Women's Bible Study will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday with Helen Rose teaching.

Wednesday at noon, the women's monthly covered dish luncheon will be held. Come and enjoy fellowship and good food. Working women whose lunch hours permits them to come are welcome without bringing a dish.

Dr. Fane Downs will be the keynote speaker for the Fall School of Learning for Presbyterian teachers and other church leaders which will be held in Amarillo Sept. 10. The school will be held from 8:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

This Sunday is going to be a very special day at FUMC. At 8 a.m., the United Methodist Men will have their monthly breakfast in the fellowship hall.

Sunday school begins at 9:30 a.m. and the morning worship service starts at 10:45.

Revival begins Sunday with the Rev. Bob Nelson bringing his first message of the day. At 6 p.m. Sunday, the entire church is invited to the annual Pig Roast in the fellowship hall. Bill Walden will furnish the roasted pig and others are asked to bring vegetables, salads and desserts. At 7 p.m. Sunday, Rev. Nelson will bring his second message of the day.

We encourage everyone to participate in the breakfast at FUMC at 6:30 a.m. Monday through Thursday of the coming week. The meal is hosted by different Sunday school classes during the revival and Rev. Nelson will be leading a short study each day entitled, "I Can, Through Him," based on scriptures from Philippians. Make plans for a time of learning and blessing.

SUMMERFIELD BAPTIST CHURCH

The public is invited to attend all of the church services. Sunday school is held at 10 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. The Wednesday service is held at 7 p.m.

PD's speed, missed opportunities sink Herd

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

There's a popular saying among auto safety instructors and football coaches: "speed kills."

The victim Thursday in Amarillo was the Hereford High School football team, as Palo Duro used three long plays to score three touchdowns and pulled out a 20-19 win at Dick Bivins Stadium.

Palo Duro had kickoff returns of 61 and 80 yards in the first half, both of which led directly to touchdowns. The Dons' third TD came on a 78-yard run by tailback Joel Tudman, breaking a 13-13 tie in the third quarter.

Both teams saw their records go to 1-1.

For Hereford's part, missed opportunities were what killed. Two long drives stalled inside the Palo Duro 20-yard line--once after an apparent touchdown pass was nullified because quarterback Michael Brown was beyond the line of scrimmage. Both of the stalled drives resulted in field goal attempts by Terance High: a 39-yarder in the first quarter was wide left, and a 32-yarder into the wind was barely right.

The second missed field goal would have given the Herd a 16-13 lead in the third quarter--instead Tudman uncorked his 78-yard scoring run two plays later, and the extra point gave Palo Duro the lead for good.

While PD scored extra points after two of its three touchdowns, Hereford failed two out of three times. Tailback Armando Zambrano scored twice in the first half, on runs of one and nine yards. Martin Martinez nailed the first extra point kick, but after the second touchdown, PD's Javier Chavira broke through and blocked the kick. With 29 seconds left in the third quarter, Brown ran 57 yards for a touchdown that pulled Hereford within one point at 20-19. The Herd went for two. On an option play to the right, Brown kept and was tackled two yards from the end zone.

"I got the wrong read," Brown said. "I shouldn't have cut up. The defensive end released in and got me. I should have pitched it off."

Herd coach Danny Haney said there was no reason to just kick an extra point and tie the game back up.

"We're going to have to score again to win anyway," Haney said. "If you go for two you have an opportunity to win. We're not playing for any ties in preseason."

With a whole quarter left, PD's one-point lead didn't look safe, but the Don defense rose up and limited Hereford to 13 yards of total offense in the fourth quarter--that after the Herd piled up 315 yards in the first three quarters. The Dons also forced a Brown fumble.

Haney knew Hereford let one slip away.

"We had a chance to win the game," he said. "I was looking at the official's sheet, and we had 19 first downs to their 11. I don't know the yards, but we controlled the ball. We get it down there but don't get it in: turnovers, penalties, execution. It was just a game we had a chance to win, and we let it slip away."

The Herd's running game was sharp, finishing with 267 yards. All but two yards of that total belonged to Brown (104 yards) and Zambrano (161). Zambrano, the backup tailback, came through again while filling in for Marquise Brown, who sprained his ankle on the first play of the season but may return for the Sept. 16 home opener against Coronado.

The passing game accounted for only 61 yards, as Michael Brown hit on 4-of-14 passes, with no interceptions. It wasn't how he wanted to follow up the win over Tascosa, in which he ran for 119 yards and threw for 139. He seemed to take a lot of the credit--probably too much credit--for the loss.

"I'm very disappointed," he said. "I feel the offensive line gave me what I needed, and the defense did what it needed to do. If I'd had better execution we would have gotten a victory."

Palo Duro also had something to do with it, particularly Tudman, the tailback. He ran for 148 yards in the game, but 130 of that came in the second half, including the 78-yard tie-breaking touchdown.

"He was just a good running back," said Hereford defensive tackle Shawn Malone. "He was pretty shaky, and he'd run around you. You'd have to corral him instead of ducking your head and running through him."

The second-half running of Tudman won the game for PD, but the big kickoff returns in the first half put the Dons in position to win.

T.D. Williams almost lived up to his initials on the game's opening kickoff, returning the ball 61 yards to the Hereford 22. Two plays later, PD quarterback Abdul Shanklin scrambled 27 yards for the touchdown, and Ott Sihanouraj's kick made it 7-0.

Hereford answered with a 10-play, 58-yard drive, ending in Zambrano's one-yard scoring run. Martinez' kick tied it at 7-7.

Hereford's Dion Reyna recovered a PD fumble at the PD 37, but Hereford couldn't capitalize and ended up missing a field goal.

Early in the second quarter, Hereford put together another drive, this one on eight plays covering 73 yards. Most of it came on a 35-yard pass from Brown to wideout Marc Haney. Zambrano ran nine yards for the score on the next play, but the kick was blocked.

This time Tavey Price fielded the kickoff and outdid his teammate, Williams, returning it 80 yards to the Hereford 7. A 15-yard spearing penalty on PD at the end of the return only delayed the PD touchdown, a four-yard run by Shanklin. PD lined up to kick the extra point, but a bad snap turned it into a run, which failed.

Hereford's Homer Hamilton was the man who made the tackle on both of PD's long kickoff returns. On both returns, the Don seemed to be gone down the left sideline, but Hamilton had the angle and the speed to catch up both times and made nice tackles.

Neither team came close to scoring the rest of the half. Both Brown and Zambrano lost fumbles at midfield, and PD's Shanklin threw an interception to Hamilton.

The second half started with a 15-

Permian to visit A&M Consolidated

By JAIME ARON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) - What began as sort of an off-the-wall promise to a group of freshmen three years ago becomes a sweet reality tonight as A&M Consolidated plays its home debut as a Class 5A team against No. 8 Odessa Permian.

Consolidated coach Ross Rogers began planning for this day in 1991 as his Tigers were beginning a run at their first Class 4A football title.

Rogers realized the school was growing quickly and realignment into 5A was inevitable in either 1992 or 1994. So he warned the freshmen they'd be in 5A as seniors and he began seeking quality competition for them.

"I had actually mentioned to this senior class when they were freshmen that we've talked to Odessa Permian, but I didn't have any idea we'd get them," Rogers said this week.

Rogers was at a 1991 coaching clinic when he discussed the matchup with then-Permian coach Tam Hollingshead, who earlier this year joined the Texas A&M University coaching staff.

Hollingshead mentioned he was having trouble finding someone to play in the second game of the year, a slot usually filled on the Consolidated schedule by local rival Bryan, a 5A school.

The spot opened on A&M's schedule earlier this year when redistricting placed Consolidated and Bryan in the same 5A district.

Permian was still looking for an opponent for that date because the Panthers had just finished a two-year deal with Temple.

The result is what new Permian coach Randy Mayes calls "a good deal for high school football and good for both parts of the state."

Over the last five years, each school has been among the elite in its class. In that span, Consolidated won one 4A title and finished second twice and Permian won two Class 5A crowns.

Yet A&M now is unranked in 5A, where the Tigers spent two miserable years in the 1980s before being realigned back into 4A and taking off under Rogers.

Permian, meanwhile, is in its first year under Mayes, a former Permian assistant, and it's coming off a season that ended in shame when the Panthers were kicked out of the playoffs for using an ineligible player.

But top programs always find a way to stay on top and each coach is

Huskers hurt Red Raiders

By JEAN PAGEL
Associated Press Writer
LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Nebraska coach Tom Osborne wasn't as impressed as 42 points and more than 500 yards rushing might indicate.

"We're very mortal," Osborne said after the Cornhuskers' 42-16 thrashing of Texas Tech Thursday night. "We're a good football team, but we've got a long way to go. And we've got a lot of things to prove."

No. 1 Nebraska took a 14-0 lead and then let the Red Raiders close the gap to 14-9 in the third quarter before regaining control.

Quarterback Tommie Frazier ran for two touchdowns and threw for another as Nebraska (2-0) extended its regular-season winning streak to 15. The Cornhuskers amassed 524 yards rushing.

"We just ran the ball. Old traditional Nebraska football - run it down their throat," Frazier said.

Nebraska hadn't played since routing West Virginia 31-0 in the Kickoff Classic on Aug. 28. Osborne thought some rustiness showed.

"We played good football, but we didn't play inspired football," he said. "I think the layoff took a little edge off. Probably we weren't as sharp as we should have been."

The performance from Texas Tech (1-1) was inconsistent.

It was defense that kept Tech within reach of Nebraska until midway through the third quarter. The unit, led by linebacker Zach Thomas, sacked Frazier once and had four tackles for losses.

But Tech allowed Lawrence Phillips to score two TDs in the third period and run for 175 yards as the Cornhuskers pulled away.

"I don't know if I've ever seen a team that stronger and better prepared," Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes said. "It was really disheartening to be in there for a while and then lose it."

"We played good at times and then the next quarter you don't know what happens," Thomas said. "I think we lost our poise a little bit and didn't play like we can for 60 minutes."

Babe Ruth was born in Baltimore in 1895 and was orphaned at a very early age.

wary of the other as they prepare to play before an overflow crowd of 7,500 in a game likely to be filled with playoff-type atmosphere.

"We scouted them and watched film and I can't see any difference from other Mojo teams," Rogers said.

Mayes returned the compliments. "I'm looking at film of them right now and I don't see them making any mistakes," he said. "Since coach Rogers has been there, they've been a dominant program and I imagine it'll be a good, old-fashioned Friday night slugfest."

Other top games in the new-look 5A top 10, which has five new members this week including Permian, are No. 2 Spring Westfield at Galena Park North Shore and No. 3 Eules Trinity playing Grapevine.

Fourth-ranked Abilene Cooper plays Killeen Ellison, No. 5 Plano meets Duncanville and No. 6 Willowridge takes on Aldine one week after losing to No. 1 Aldine MacArthur.

The top-ranked Generals defeated Angleton 36-20 on Thursday and No. 8 Austin Westlake knocked off Round Rock 14-7. Westlake and Permian are tied for eighth.

Rounding out the 5A top 10, No. 7 Longview plays Killeen and No. 10 DeSoto faces Irving Nimitz.

In 4A, four of the top five teams are taking on 5A opponents.

Top-ranked Sulphur Springs plays Plano East, No. 2 Stephenville meets Abilene, No. 3 Sherman plays Garland, and No. 5 La Marque plays Clear Creek. Seventh-ranked Gregory-Portland also has a 5A opponent in Alice.

Fourth-ranked Waxahachie is bucking the 5A trend as the Indians play Ennis.

Although Southlake Carroll is unranked in 4A, the Dragons remain a team to watch as they try extending their state record of consecutive regular-season victories to 73.

Carroll, which won 71 straight in 3A before redistricting landed it in 4A this year, returns to its former class to play eighth-ranked Gainesville. Carroll beat Gainesville 44-13 last season.

Cuero did a nice job taking over 3A's top spot from Carroll by beating then-No. 5 Columbus 26-0 last weekend. On Friday, the Gobblers take on 4A Bastrop, and No. 2 Sealy faces Giddings.

Third-ranked Jefferson is at DeKalb, No. 4 Sweeny meets West Columbia, and No. 5 Vernon plays its second straight game against an Oklahoma team, this time crossing the Red River to play at Frederick.

HERD

play, 58-yard drive for Hereford that stalled at the PD 15-yard line. High missed the field goal, and Tudman answered with his 78-yard run.

After a trade of punts, Brown had his 57-yard scoring run—he ran an option left, kept the ball, cut back right and squeezed through virtually the entire PD defense. The two point try failed and Hereford didn't come close to scoring again as PD kept the Herd pinned inside its 30-yard line for the entire fourth quarter.

The Dons nearly sealed the game after covering Brown's fumble at the Hereford 27-yard line, but four plays later Tudman was separated from the ball at the one-yard line, and Malone recovered for the Herd.

Brown ran for 14 yards, but later was sacked for an eight-yard loss, forcing a punt with three minutes left. Hereford got one more possession with 2:03 left, but managed only three incomplete passes and a two-yard scramble by Brown. On fourth down PD cornerback Brandon Ellison hit Marc Haney just as Brown's pass arrived, breaking up the play.

Coach Danny Haney expected the Herd to bounce back after the tough loss.

"These guys are just like I am: they hate to lose—I don't care if it's at tiddlywinks, they don't want to lose. But good teams go on and get better and make it work."

Chiefs-fever envelopes KC as Montana vs. 49ers nears

By The Associated Press
The hype in Kansas City for the Chiefs-San Francisco 49ers game is reaching ridiculous proportions. Consider what's happening today, for instance.
The City Council passed a special resolution Thursday making it against the law in Kansas City not to cheer for the Chiefs. Failure to wear red, the team's main color, will be a breach of the code of Chiefs fans, punishable by a $5 donation to charity.

Nobody actually will get ticketed, of course. The idea is to get everybody in the mood for Sunday's game against San Francisco, which will be Joe Montana's first regular-season game against his former team.

In other games, it's Buffalo at New England, Detroit at Minnesota, Indianapolis at Tampa Bay, the Los Angeles Rams at Atlanta, Miami vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee, Pittsburgh at Cleveland, Cincinnati at San Diego, Denver at the New York Jets, Houston at Dallas, Seattle at the Los Angeles Raiders, Washington at New Orleans and the New York Giants at Arizona.

Monday night's game is Chicago at Philadelphia.

In Kansas City, the Chiefs-49ers game is being called the biggest one at Arrowhead Stadium since it opened in 1972.

"It should be a fun and interesting experience," said Montana, down-playing any revenge factor. "I never imagined I would ever have to (play against the 49ers), but that's the way of the league now. The league is changing and I was part of those changes."

San Francisco quarterback Steve Young, the man who replaced

Montana as the on-field leader of the 49ers, said he's approaching the game like he would any other.

"This week, as with all the weeks I've been here, I have to go out and perform," Young said. "I have a standard that has been set for me. It's not an easy standard."

The Chiefs have added about 1,200 extra seats and are expecting a crowd of more than 80,000. The Fox Network will televise the game to about 70 percent of its viewers nationwide.

What scalpers are doing legally - getting up to $350 for tickets - on the Kansas side of the metropolitan area could get them arrested on the Missouri side. Scalping is illegal in Missouri.

"This will be the toughest ticket for a Chiefs home game," said public relations director Bob Moore, who's fielded media requests from as far away as Europe and Asia.

At Los Angeles, the Raiders will be using Kevin Smith and Harvey Williams at running back in place of injured Napoleon McCallum.

McCallum suffered a dislocated knee Monday night against the 49ers. He was released from the hospital Thursday and returned home to Southern California.

The Raiders have not signed a player to replace McCallum on their active roster. But Smith, a third-string tight end who played fullback in college at UCLA, will become the backup to Tom Rathman on Sunday.

Additionally, Williams will replace McCallum as the Raiders' short-yardage and goal-line running back, according to coach Art Shell.

It's still uncertain whether cornerback Darryl Henley will be in uniform for the Rams when they play the Falcons.

A judge in Santa Ana, Calif., on Thursday increased Henley's bail to $600,000 while he awaits trial on cocaine trafficking charges.

U.S. District Court Judge Gary Taylor's decision was a compromise between a plea by Henley's attorney to keep the bail at $200,000 and a motion by a federal prosecutor to boost the bail to $1 million.

Rams officials are expected to sign an additional $2 million bail agreement, which will allow Henley to travel with the team. They signed Henley on Wednesday for $350,000.

The Dolphins, meanwhile, will be playing at County Stadium for the second time in a month. Green Bay and Miami played an exhibition game there last month and Dan Marino, who threw five touchdown passes last week, led an 84-yard touchdown drive in Miami's 31-24 victory.

"I was surprised that anyone would be able to do that against our first-string defense," coach Paul Hogue said. "But you can never discount Dan Marino. He'll move the ball on anybody."

In the battle of Texas, the Cowboys are a 1.5-point favorite over the Oilers.

The Cowboys came into the game off a 26-9 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers in which the defense produced nine sacks, including four by Charles Haley.

The Oilers have problems at quarterback, where Cody Carlson is nursing a bruised left shoulder and backup Bucky Richardson is inexperienced.

Emmitt Smith, meanwhile, gained 171 yards rushing on 31 carries last Sunday to kick off his bid for a fourth consecutive rushing title.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am on vacation, but I have left behind some of my favorite columns that you may have missed the first time around. I hope you enjoy them.—Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: So many children complain about their elderly parents. My mother is 76 and in poor health. I phone her every day and see her frequently. She was once a vigorous, energetic woman, and it must be difficult for a person like that to accept the fact that her days of active participation are over. I think of myself as my mother's escape valve. She can let off steam with me. I listen to her kvetch for a while, and then I turn the conversation to some ridiculous thing one of her grandchildren said. Before long, she is laughing. It's music to my ears.

It would be wonderful if Mother were as strong and vital today as she was when I was a teenager. But she isn't and now it's my turn to listen and try to bring some happiness to her limited and joyless life. I'm going to do what I can for her as long as I can and be thankful that at my age I still have a mother. Most people don't.—A Daughter

DEAR DAUGHTER: I envy you. Thanks for putting into words something that many people need to see—sons as well as daughters.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a schoolteacher who loves kids. Hundreds of parents have asked me what they can do to motivate their children to become useful, productive adults. Through you, I'd like to answer.

First, you can get them away from the TV—not only because it offers substandard entertainment and misleading advertising but because perpetual viewing and no participation make Jack and Jill dull people. TV offers little more than vicarious experiences. Young people need to be doers, not spectators, if they are to develop a sense of appreciation of themselves and others.

If you want your child to be creative, don't buy coloring books with the figures already drawn. Give him pencils, crayons, paints and clay and let his imagination create the lines and mix the colors. If he shows an interest in music, buy him a secondhand instrument and see that he practices and sticks to it.

One sage defined an educated man as someone who can entertain himself, entertain a stranger and entertain a new idea. Will your children qualify?—R.P., Chicago

DEAR R.P.: Thank you for a splendid bit of guidance for parents. You've done my work today, and I thank you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are newlyweds, and he has a fault that needs correcting.

"Jimmy" loves children. When we are in a grocery store and he sees a baby in the arms of his mother, he goes right over and says "koochie coo" or some other fool thing and starts up a "conversation" with the kid. In church, he does the same thing. I'm sure the mothers must think he is nuts

We visited relatives recently, and instead of staying with the adults, Jimmy romped around with his two nephews all evening. The kids loved it, but the adults thought it was mighty strange. What should I do about this?—Embarrassed

DEAR EM.: Your husband obviously loves babies and young children, and I think it's beautiful. Leave him alone, any pray it lasts until you have children of your own.

West Point, home of the United States Military Academy established on March 16, 1802.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Although we all are aware of a few exceptions when mentally ill women have assaulted men, the sobering facts regarding abuse of women by men are horrifying.

For instance, every year in this country, 2 million to 4 million women are physically assaulted or raped by their husbands, boyfriends or lovers. Of the 5,000 women murdered last year, more than 70 percent knew their attackers. An even more chilling statistic is this one: More than 80 percent of women who leave their abusive spouses and lovers are stalked, assaulted, raped or murdered. The government's own studies indicate that most women are attacked, sexually assaulted, raped or murdered in their own homes, and the attacker is the husband or boyfriend. Unfortunately, a surprising number of these men are not prosecuted because the women refuse to press charges.

We need to get the message across that it is NEVER OK for a man to hit a woman regardless of the circumstances. "She drove me to it" is not a valid excuse.

Men are almost always bigger and stronger and able to walk away from a dangerous situation. A great many males seem to believe it is perfectly OK for a man to use force against a woman to prevent her from hurting him. Perhaps the time has come for every woman in this country to be issued a gun in order to prevent a man from hurting HER.—Plenty Fed Up in Santa Cruz, Calif.

DEAR S.C., CAL.: If it is possible that anything good come out of the O.J. Simpson case, it is the spotlight beamed on the violence against women. But your recommendation that "every woman in this country be issued a gun" is insane. If there is anything this country does NOT need, it is more guns. Guns are not the solution. They are the problem.

The first time a man hit sa woman, she should get out of the relationship. Stop believing a man when he says, "I'm sorry, baby, I'll never do it again." Every study I have seen says he WILL do it again. Wife beaters almost never stop.

Another thing to remember: Alcohol and drugs are almost always a factor in wife beating. Just because a man is drunk or high does not give him a license to beat or kill a woman. My advice to women who are going with or married to a male who becomes violent is this: one strike and he's out.

CHURCH

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday school for all ages is at 10 a.m. at the church located at 100 Ave. B. If you need transportation, please let us know by calling 364-1667 or 364-1668.

The Adult Bible Class will conclude the study of II Corinthians. Next week, we will begin a study of the reformation. We would like to invite everyone to come to this important study.

During our 11 a.m. Sunday worship service, we will give special emphasis to Sunday school. This Sunday will be designated as Rally Day for Sunday school. The morning sermon will be entitled "Read, Mark, Learn and Inwardly Digest."

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

We cordially invite you to our Saturday morning worship service. Beginning at 9:30 a.m., we open with a special program. At 10 a.m., we separate for class study. For the Sermon Hour, we have the honor of having Harold Bohr, a retired minister from Amarillo. He will complete a two-part sermon on "You Must Be Born Again."

It is noted that Pastor Sam Ortega has returned from his conference trip to Mexico.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

We invite anyone looking for a church home to come and visit with us.

Sunday school classes for all age groups and Bible study for adults meet from 9:30-11:15 a.m. The adult class and Sunday worship service are held from 10:30-11:15 a.m. and are led by Doug Manning, worship leader.

We have nursery facilities for all ages.

WESLEY UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Everyone is welcome to attend Sunday school at 10 a.m. and the Sunday worship services at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

We will have Teacher and Student Recognition Sunday Sept. 11 during the morning service. Following the service, a covered dish Grandparents Day dinner will be served.

The Administrative Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Ward Parlor for a business session and covered dish supper. Also, the Wesley United Methodist Women will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the church. (World Thank Banks are due.)

Don't forget that the Charge Conference is scheduled at noon Oct. 9. All committees need to have the information and reports in the church office by Oct. 7.

John Westman serves as the church pastor.

COMMUNITY CHURCH

Pastor Dorman Duggan and the church congregation would like to extend a warm welcome to everyone to come and worship with them Sunday morning.

Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and the morning worship service starts at 10:30. A nursery is provided.

The Wednesday schedule includes children's church, youth groups, and prayer time, all beginning at 7 p.m.

For more information or if you need prayer, call 364-8866 or 364-2423.

CHRISTIAN ASSEMBLY CHURCH

Pastor Don Cherry and the church congregation invite the public to attend all services at the church located on S. Main St.

We have dismissed Sunday school for the time being and changed our Sunday morning worship service time to 10:30. The Sunday evening service will remain the same (6 p.m.) as will the Wednesday night service at 7.

DEAF SMITH HOME CARE SERVICES

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE MOTHER MARY.

AS THE MOTHER OF THE MAN DESTINED TO BECOME THE MESSIAH, MARY COULD NOT HAVE KNOWN THE FULL FATE THAT AWAITED HER SON, BUT WHENEVER SHE IS MENTIONED IN THE NEW TESTAMENT IT IS EVIDENT THAT SHE WAS A PATIENT AND TRUSTING WOMAN. ONLY ONCE DID SHE CHIDE HER SON--THE INSTANCE BEING THAT OF THEIR TRIP TO JERUSALEM WHEN JESUS WAS TWELVE YEARS OF AGE (LUKE 2:42) WHEN THEY HAD TO GO BACK A FULL DAY'S JOURNEY BECAUSE THE YOUNG JESUS HAD STAYED BEHIND IN THE CITY TO CONVERSE WITH THE DOCTORS AND RABBIS IN THE TEMPLE. ONLY A VERY PATIENT AND SPIRITUALLY MINDED MOTHER WOULD HAVE PUT UP WITH THE ANSWER THAT HER SON GAVE HER-- AFTER HAVING TO GO THREE MORE WORRISOME DAYS BEFORE FINDING HIM! (LUKE 2:49)

ONE OF THE LAST PICTURES THAT WE HAVE OF HER IS, STILL PATIENT AND SUFFERING, WAITING BESIDE THE CROSS FOR HER SON TO DIE IN AGONY--AND NEVER COMPLAINING OF HER ROLE IN LIFE OR THE SORROWS SHE HAD TO CONTEND WITH-- A BEAUTIFUL EXAMPLE OF A DEVOTED AND PIOUS MOTHER!

Walt Disney, Six Flags may buy Fiesta Texas

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Walt Disney Co., Six Flags Theme Parks Inc. and Anheuser-Busch Co. are poised as potential buyers for the Fiesta Texas theme park, industry analysts say.

That's if Gaylord Entertainment Corp. doesn't decide to increase its ownership in the San Antonio attraction.

Insurance giant USAA confirmed this week it may sell all or part of its majority interest in Fiesta Texas. San Antonio-based USAA - United Services Automobile Association - owns 86 percent of the 3-year-old music park.

Gaylord Entertainment, which operates Opryland, owns the remaining 14 percent but recently declined to up its stake.

If Gaylord doesn't change its stance, the park would best be served by an owner experienced in running multiple parks, USAA spokesman Hal Schade said in Thursday's San Antonio Express-News.

Parks such as Fiesta Texas "must continually add attractions that will bring in returning and new customers alike," Schade said.

Jeffrey Thomison, an analyst with J.J.B. Hilliard, W.L. Lyons in Louisville, Ky., expected Gaylord to increase its stake in Fiesta Texas up to 50 percent or more at least two years ago.

"I'm not sure why it hasn't," he said.

Ed Hatch, an analyst with UBS Securities in New York, said Gaylord is concentrating more on entertainment and programming and less on theme parks.

Gaylord's holdings include the highly profitable TNN, CMT and CMT Europe cable-television networks and the Opryland Hotel.

Out with the old...

Workers on top of the new Family Dollar store here make sure the sign is level as they install it on Thursday. Signs on the street and on the Park Avenue and U.S. 385 store announce its new incarnation after the closing in July of Winn's Variety Store, which had occupied the location for nine years. The new store opens this month.

Raunch aside, MTV awards show honored artists for songs, videos

NEW YORK (AP) - It started with Michael and Lisa Marie, and finished with Dave and Madonna.

In between, there was something for everyone at the MTV Video Music Awards: Murder suspect Snoop Doggy Dogg winning for best rap video, Roseanne dancing with two dozen transvestites, Madonna and Aerosmith's Steven Tyler swapping masturbation jokes.

Oh, and they handed out awards, too: R.E.M. won four for their dreamy black and white "Everybody Hurts" clip, while Aerosmith collected three for their "Cryin'" video - including best video of the year, best group video, and the viewer's choice award.

Between the strange and salacious goings-on, Kurt Cobain's former bandmates offered tributes Thursday night to the late leader of Nirvana.

"It would be silly to say it doesn't feel like something's missing," drummer Dave Grohl said after the band won its second award of the night. "I think about Kurt every day."

Bassist Kurt Novoselic later introduced a video montage that paid tribute to Cobain, who committed suicide in April. Nirvana won for best alternative video and best art direction for its "Heart-Shaped Box" clip.

As usual, the 11th annual awards played second fiddle to the on-stage antics of the performers, presenters and winners.

The evening opened with the first live-on-the-television appearance of newlyweirds Michael Jackson and Lisa Marie Presley-Jackson, who exchanged a long kiss as the Radio City Music Hall audience cheered wildly.

"I'm very happy to be here. And just think, nobody thought this would last," said Jackson, who held his wife's hand during the brief appearance.

The night ended with Madonna escorted onstage by David Letterman. The singer's repeated use of an obscenity during a recent appearance on "Late Show" had left the talk show host nonplussed, but the pair appeared to have patched up their differences.

"I'll be in the car. Watch your language," Letterman cautioned before exiting stage right.

"Goodbye, Dave," Madonna said sweetly - a pleasant prelude to her crude exchange with Tyler.

Of course, that was in keeping with the spirit of the evening. Host Roseanne and MTV personality Kennedy swapped insults over oral sex with Rush Limbaugh. Public Enemy's Chuck D described convicted rapist Mike Tyson as a political prisoner.

An acceptance speech by R.E.M.'s Michael Stipe was interrupted when a masked invader began ranting about Beastie Boys' director Spike Jones.

"Wow," said a genuinely surprised Stipe. "I have no idea. I think that was Cindy Lauper."

Oh, and there were more awards: Bruce Springsteen added an astronaut to his Oscar, winning for best video from a film for "Streets of Philadelphia." Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers won for best male video, and Petty received a Video Vanguard award for career achievement.

No-shows Counting Crows were the best new artist. Salt-N-Pepa, with En Vogue, won best R&B video and best dance video for "Whatta Man." Janet Jackson - who offered no insight on her brother's recent nuptials - won the best female video.

Separating twins in school has merit

At some time children may make decision for themselves

By FELIX SANCHEZ
The Houston Post
HOUSTON - Identical twins Monica and Veronica Luna decided right around the beginning of their middle school years that the whole idea of being dressed up alike was, like themselves, getting a little old.

Problem is, there are plenty of mornings now when the 16-year-old Cypress Creek High School juniors finish dressing for class, bound down the stairs into the hallway and, gulp, they are dressed alike.

Such are the perils of identical twindom, but Veronica and Monica laugh off such episodes. They also are amused by any notion that because they happened to have spent a good part of their elementary and middle school years intentionally separated from each other in classes, they may have some sort of emotional quirks.

Nope, counselors say. Monica and Veronica are the look-alike apples-of-the-eyes of all they encounter, and they have developed into ideal students.

For decades, the common thinking among educators has been to separate twins, particularly identical twins, in the first few years of schooling. The goal has been to foster individual identity, to keep the children from becoming dependent on each other.

Actually, educators and child guidance counselors say keeping twins together has always had as many benefits as separating them. What astute parents must learn is to evaluate each case individually.

"The message is, there are no hard and fast rules. We get feedback from care-givers of all kinds. You can do it in many different ways. There is no one right way, no one set way," said Melanie Seigle, an advanced clinical practitioner and staff clinician with the Houston Child Guidance Center.

Seigle, herself the mother of triplets, said educators have had a tendency to split up very young children to foster identification and individuality. There is some thinking now of keeping such children together through the younger years and then working on a year-by-year basis when they become older.

Primarily, that is because the rules have changed: There are more prekindergarten and pre-school children who have been added to the mix, Seigle said. These children have been separated from their parents and put in school, and now, to separate them from each other may be too traumatic.

That has to be taken into account, she said.

"The goal, of course, is to help a child manage and cope on their own, and to acquire skills in a developmentally appropriate way," Seigle said.

When children are kept together, teachers and parents must monitor behavior to make sure dominant siblings do not take over for the other, continually answering questions or performing tasks for them. A talented teacher can overcome such behavior, but it must be monitored closely, Seigle said.

Parents and teachers must be aware of any signs of one sibling's frequent overdependence on their twin, or on a parent.

Monica and Veronica's parents, Joe and Dwayna, had misgivings about whether to have them separated. Now, the girls are almost inseparable.

"I don't really think about it. It's nice, though, having somebody around to talk to if nobody else is around," says Veronica.

Says Monica: "We go everywhere together. We do everything together. It's just natural to go to school together. Whenever she's not around,

it's weird."

The twins shared three classes in the ninth grade, one in the 10th and now one in their junior year. They attended the same middle school, but never had the same class.

"It was somewhat traumatic for us. The school's reasoning was that they had learned, supposedly, through studies that it was best to do that," Luna said. "I was afraid if they had different classes . . . they would no longer be as close as they had been."

"We went along with the plan thinking that they would know a lot more of that stuff," Luna said.

In retrospect, it seemed to work, Luna said. "It allowed them to be individuals, rather than feeding off one another. This way, they were allowed to be their own person."

"It seemed to impact us more than it did them," he said.

Joan Keener, Veronica and Monica's counselor at Cypress Creek High School, said the two are not competitive - except for boyfriends - and are in the top part of their class academically.

Keener said that as a teacher, she prefers to have twins separated, particularly if she thinks they are too competitive.

She has counseled another set of twins who are extremely competitive academically. In fact, they rank right beside each other in their class.

Another set of twins were not intentionally separated until one of the girls came to a counselor and asked that they not share classes, Keener said.

Identical twins tend to be more similar in personality than fraternal twins, counselors say. Because of this, there usually is a need to separate them because their coping skills can become intertwined.

Parents of identical twins or triplets should always consult with teachers and caregivers to determine how their children are developing.

"Competition among siblings, which is more fierce among multiples, that is what we are trying to avoid," Seigle said.

Houston school has multitude of multiples

By FELIX SANCHEZ
The Houston Post
HOUSTON - Some days at Copeland Elementary School are enough to make teachers see double.

Having 13 sets of twins, and a set of triplets, can do it, too.

For reasons that principal Margaret Gleason doesn't care to fathom, Copeland, in the Cypress-Fairbanks Independent School District, is home to 29 children who are "multiples" - identical or fraternal twins or triplets.

"This is all brand new to us," Gleason said.

One of Copeland's teachers is also a twin - her sister is the principal at nearby Fiest Elementary.

Nearly all of Copeland's identical and fraternal twins are schooled in separate classrooms. Most parents there requested the separation, and luckily, the 800-student school has enough classrooms to accommodate their wishes, Gleason said.

"Very seldom do they request their children be kept together" in one classroom, she said. "Most parents are all for individuality."

But when parents do request twins be kept together, the school complies, Gleason said.

"I am very much for separation," said Linda Johnson, whose 5-year-old fraternal twins, Tyler and Alyssa, attend Copeland. Johnson knew she would have them separated when schooling began to help them develop their own identities.

Kimberly Raymond, whose identical twin daughters, Brittany and Tiffany, 5, also go to Copeland, said she is in a constant battle to keep the girls from comparing themselves.

"If one gets a treat from her teacher, the other will say, 'Why didn't I get one?' They compare constantly," Raymond said.

Gleason said most parents promote individuality among their children, keeping such practices as dressing siblings alike to a minimum.

Raymond and Johnson said belonging to organizations like the Katy Area Parents of Multiples, helps parents learn about the quirks that come with raising twins and triplets.

Comedians can ruin good joke with four-letter words, says Berle

NEW YORK (AP) - Milton Berle has a question for comedians who spew four-letter words: Why ruin a good joke?

"They don't need it," Berle said in the fall issue of Lifestyles magazine. "The word is added just for the want of trying to keep up in the '90s."

Which reminds him: "Somebody said to me, 'What do you think about sex in the '90s?' And I answered, 'Don't ask me, I'm only 85.'"

Don't get Berle wrong. Despite his distaste for gratuitous profanity, he's put more than one over on the censors. He mocked them on "Texaco Star Theater," his TV variety show that first went on the air in 1948.

"I said that I'd just come back from Las Vegas and I flew in on a helicopter. Now I looked at the audience, and they knew what I meant. And I did a little leer, and I mimed, 'Can't say the other word.' Then I said, 'When I was in Nevada, I visited Hoover Darn.'"
