Violence Costs 13 State Lives Over Week-End

By The Associated Press
Violence cost the lives of at least 13 persons in Texas over the weekend.

Traffic accidents were fatal to six, three were shot, another drowned, one was stabbed and two deaths were still under investigation.

The body of a Texas flyer missing for a week was discovered and a Texan was killed in Louisiana near the Texas border.

The body of Charles Barnard Richardson, 19, was found 28 miles west of Austin Sunday. He had been shot. A girl companion, Maxine Richardson, 15, had been shot twice and was unconscious.

Martin L. Douthit, 43, a construction worker, died late Saturday night en route to a hospital at Corpus Christi. He was found unconscious in his room, an inch-long gash in his head.

Jesse McClain, 40, of Corpus Christi, died early Sunday, four hours after he was admitted to a Corpus Christi hospital with the blade of an ice pick driven through the top of his head. A suspect is being sought.

Bill Farret, 76, Fort Worth, died Sunday shortly after Fort Worth police found him badly beaten.

Alfredo Quiroz, 31, a Mexican citizen, died Sunday from injuries suffered Saturday near McAllen when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car.

An unidentified man about 25 years of age was killed when he was struck by an automobile near San Juan Sunday morning.

Gazza Martinez, 26, of Pharr was found dead Sunday morning in a ditch near Edinburg. He had gunshot wounds in his head and body.

The body of Antonio Enriquez, about 23, an alien, was washed up by the Rio Grande near the village of Relemmpago in Hidalgo county.

Herbert B. Howdeshell, 48, Sherman, and William C. Pulley, 22, of Seattle Wash., were killed when their cars collided near Sherman Sunday. Pulley was a cadet at Ferrin Field.

J. D. Freeman, 40, Amarillo, was shot to death about midnight Friday at Ozona. One of Freeman's employees, Olin Northcutt, 44, also of Amarillo, was charged with murder. Officers said the two had argued concerning wage rates before the shooting.

Luther Clyde Forster, 30, of Rowlett was killed Saturday near Garland when his automobile side-swiped a truck, crashed into a tree and burst into flames.

Richard Wayne Smith, 21, of Caladonia, Ohio, was killed instantly Sunday night when he lost control of the motorcycle he was riding and it crashed. The accident occurred one mile east of Alice, Tex.

In addition, Pfc. James Earle Bennett, 18, of Beaumont, was killed in a motorcycle-automobile collision near Lake Charles, La., Saturday.

Also, the body of J. W. Thomas, Jr., of San Angelo was found Saturday under his crashed plane on a ranch near Albany, Tex. He had taken off the previous Sunday from San Angelo.

SUPERFORT RAMS PEAK B-29 Crashes In Scotland, Fear Six Of Crew Perish

LOCHGOILHEAD, Scotland, Jan. 17.—A U. S. superfortress carrying 20 American airmen home to the states crashed in desolate Succoth Glen today, killing at least six of those aboard.

Police at the Scottish town of Dunoon said a large plane crashed today in the same area where the B-29 is reported missing. The police said all aboard were believed killed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. (AP)—Trail of a dozen high communist leaders opened today amid defense counsel charges that a large police detail assigned to the trial was "a deliberate, purposeful effort to poison the minds of the prospective jurors."

HE PRESIDES AT COMMUNIST TRIAL — Federal Judge Harold R. Medina (above) will preside at the trial, scheduled to begin in New York Feb. 17, of the 12 Communist party leaders charged with conspiring to organize the Communist party for the purpose of advocating the violent overthrow of the United States government. (AP Wirephoto).

The accusation came after one of the largest court guards in New York police history was stationed in and about the federal courtroom to maintain order. The communist defendants are charged with working for the forcible overthrow of the U. S. government.

At the outset, Federal Judge Harold R. Medina overruled a defense motion that city police be removed from the courthouse and its vicinity. After arguing that the 400-man police detail was an attempt by the prosecution to intimidate the jury panel, George W. Crockett, Jr., negro defense attorney from San Francisco, said a "rough count" disclosed there were more police than spectators in the square outside the courthouse.

As he spoke, an estimated 300 men and women began parading outside the federal building. They carried no placards as they paced slowly to and fro. Police made no attempt to interfere with them.

Only 11 of the 12 defendants were present as the off-delayed trial started.

Absent was William Z. Foster, national chairman of the communist party, whose attorneys previously had indicated he would not be present because of illness.

Judge Medina also denied a motion by Harry M. Sacher, another defense attorney, seeking another 90-day postponement.

The defendants—who compose the national board of the communist party—face a possible maximum penalty of ten years in prison and $10,000 fine if convicted. They were indicted by a federal grand jury last July 20 during a lengthy investigation of alleged subversive activities and communist espionage. They are free on $5,000 bail each.

The defendants, in addition to Foster, are: Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the American Communist party.

Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., Negro communist member of the New York City council.

John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, communist newspaper.

Robert G. Thompson, New York state Communist party chairman.

John Williamson, the party's labor secretary.

Jack Stachel, national education director.

Henry Winston, national organizing secretary.

Irving Potash, manager of the CIO Furriers Joint council.

Gilbert Green, of Chicago, Illinois state chairman of the party.

Carl Winter, of Detroit, chairman of the Michigan state council of the party.

Gus Hall, of Cleveland, Ohio State chairman.

Capital In Gala Dress For Big Fete

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—This 150-year-old federal city just about finished dressing up today for the nation's 41st inaugural ceremony—one that may go down in history as the most festive of all.

Out of town visitors who began streaming in for an entire week of celebrating saw a mass of white enveloping the stand and seats built in front of the great-domed capitol where Harry S. Truman and Alben W. Barkley will take the oath as president and vice president Thursday at noon (EST).

They saw the circus seats of more somber hue stretched out along well-trod Pennsylvania avenue awaiting some of the 750,000 or 1,000,000 persons expected to see all or part of the formal launching of the Truman "fair deal."

Lamp posts clutch American flags and blue-gold presidential seals on shields of wood. Another great white pine-boarded stand has been constructed in front of the White House where the president will watch a two and a half hour parade of troops, cadets, bands, and state floats in which 40,000 persons will take part.

The "Avenue of Patriots," that part of Pennsylvania avenue presiding the White House, already is flying the flags of 38 United Nations. They decorate the stands in front of the White House. Shields bearing the names of patriots from these countries are already in place.

Besides seven main events Wednesday and Thursday, inaugural week will feature dozens of receptions, dances and teas by societies representing most of the 48 states and by individuals high in the social and political life of the nation.

Three of the main events will take place Wednesday night. They are the official reception for government officials at the home of Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Moscow, given by the inaugural committee; a dinner at the Mayflower hotel for Democratic and Republican members of the electoral college and state governors, and a Hollywood flavored pre-inaugural gala at the national guard armory featuring stars of the radio, stage and screen, the armed services and national symphony orchestras, and a chorus of 185 voices.

Thursday, the big day, will be marked by the solemn oath-taking and the president's speech, the inaugural parade, a presidential reception, and the grand inaugural ball at the armory.

Frigid Wave Sweeps State

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—President Truman today asked congress to give him permanent authority to reorganize the government.

In a message to the legislators, he said he needs the power to shift government agencies in order to promote "efficient and economical conduct of the public's business."

The president emphasized: 1. The reorganization legislation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today that President Truman's $41,300,000 budget can be cut by at least $3,000,000 "if the Hoover reorganization plan is adopted."

Taft told a reporter he is convinced the proposed spending program for the fiscal year beginning July 1 can be slashed until there will be no need for new taxes.

"should be permanent rather than temporary."

2. The act should be "comprehensive in scope; no agency or function of the executive branch should be exempted from its operation."

The Hoover commission recently recommended that the president have authority to reorganize the government, subject to congressional veto, be restored. The commission, headed by former President Hoover, is studying ways to improve operations of the government.

Telephone workers kept at the job in face of bitter weather and were making progress on their monumental job of restoring countless miles of broken lines. Leased wire services to various agencies using teletype equipment were restored early Monday morning after being out since last Tuesday.

The service came in by a devious route with conditions still unsatisfactory directly to the east.

The ex-soldier, Martin Monti, also was fined $10,000. He could have been sentenced to death on the charges.

Before the trial could get underway, however, Monti offered to plead guilty to the charges.

Judge Inch said he could not accept the plea unless the defendant made a confession to his guilt in court or if two witnesses testified to treasonable overt acts committed by Monti.

Thereupon, Monti took the witness stand and admitted he had gone AWOL in Karachi, hitched airplane rides to Naples where he stole an army photo reconnaissance plane, and flew to Milan where he gave up himself and the plane to the Nazis.

Thomas's body was found beneath the plane and it was believed he was killed immediately. His plane had encountered a rain and ice storm not long after taking off from San Angelo for Tulsa, Okla. Thomas was chief observer for the Stanolind Oil & Gas company exploration crew stationed currently at Big Lake.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Vice president-elect Barkley said after a White House conference today that congress will act soon to extend rent and export controls.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A pay raise and a new secretary of state for President Truman were ticketed for quick approval today in a congress buckling down to work after two weeks of getting started.

House Democrats called a meeting to okay their committee assignments and a shake-up that boots two southern Democrats off the Un-American Activities committee and puts on an all-lawyer team.

Speaker Rayburn told reporters a bill boosting the presidential salary a third, from $75,000 to $100,000 a year, would pass the house easily. Then it goes to Mr. Truman for his signature.

Senate leaders said they would roll up a big vote, too, for Dean Acheson to be secretary of state. That, expected tomorrow, will be the first presidential nomination confirmed by the new 81st congress. So far congress hasn't had much to do because it has lacked legislative machinery—the committees where bills are worked over, may be changed and then sent to the floor for a vote.

The delay has been in the house, where the committee problem is bigger. More members and more newcomers had to be taken care of.

House Democrats finished their part of the job Saturday by filling up the Un-American Activities committee. Republicans were expected to take care of their two empty spots on that committee today.

Those in charge of the democratic picking decided to bounce Reps. Rankin (D-Miss) and Hebert (D-La). That brought the vacancies up to four, to be given to Reps. Walter (D-Pa), McSweeney (D-Ohio), Harrison (D-Va) and Moulder (D-Mo).

Tomorrow the house itself has to approve both Democratic and G.O. committee line-ups. That

Snow Rides Cold Blast, Panhandle To Valley Towns

Winter's latest assault on Texas today chilled the state from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande Valley.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 14 degrees at Amarillo and Guadalupe to 46 at Brownsville.

Snow was falling at El Paso, Guadalupe Pass, Abilene, Big Spring, Marfa and Lubbock.

In central Texas and along the coast light rains were reported.

The cold wave which swept into the Panhandle late Saturday reached the coast and lower valley early today.

Minimum temperatures included Abilene 20, Austin 31, Big Spring 21, Dallas 23, El Paso 21, Houston 41, San Antonio 34, Waco 26, Beaumont 44, Lufkin 37, Del Rio 35, Wink 34, Wichita Falls 19, Texarkana 33, Tyler 30, San Angelo 22, Mineral Wells 21, Clarendon 16, and Marfa 29.

Minimum temperatures Sunday ranged from 27 at Amarillo to 78 at Brownsville.

Rainfall included Austin .06, El Paso .25, Houston .02, Waco .10, Beaumont 1.16, Corpus Christi .03, Fort Worth .24, Del Rio .03, Galveston .51, Wink .45, San Angelo .07 and Dallas .57.

These overnight falls augmented those of Saturday and Sunday, and Austin and Travis county stock farmers reported they had water in their stock tanks for the first time this winter.

The weather bureau forecast continued cold for tonight. Temperatures will range from 10 to 14 degrees in the Panhandle; 15 to 20 in the south plains and 21 to 28 elsewhere in West Texas except in the Del Rio-Eagle Pass area where it will range from 28 to 30 degrees.

It was expected to warm up a bit over the state Tuesday.

HUNDREDS OF TRAVELERS STRANDED IN ROCKIES

Bitter cold numbed much of the nation's western half today bringing new trials to stranded travelers in the Rockies and the southwest California fruit growers and electric power users in the Pacific northwest.

The southwest area was hit Sunday by a storm which lashed southern California with high winds, causing extensive damage and closing mountain roads. The storm brought new freezing temperatures into citrus orchards and truck and flower fields, already beset by two weeks of killing cold weather.

In New Mexico and Arizona, hundreds of motorists were stalled by a snowstorm. The snow reached as much as 19 inches at Morenci, Ariz. A Southern Pacific railroad train was sent out of Lordsburg, N. Mex., last night to rescue motorists stalled in an estimated 300 cars on highway 89 west of there.

In the northwest, a voluntary around-the-clock brown-out appeal was made to electricity users, as frozen streams cut power output. Fraker, Colo., reported 35 degrees below zero this morning. Big Piney, Wyo., had 34 below.

A Southern Pacific official said that the relief train had picked up 200 stranded motorists in less than two hours.

Former Air Force Officer Pleads Guilty To Treason

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A 27-year-old former air force lieutenant pleaded guilty today to treason charges and was sentenced to 25 years imprisonment.

Chiang's Troops Mass At Nanking

NANKING, Jan. 17.—The Chinese government today massed about 150,000 troops on a 300-mile front in what neutral military observers describe as a hopeless effort to defend Nanking.

Communist armies with a total strength of more than 300,000 troops already are poised north of the Hwai river, 105 miles to the northwest, for a descent to the Yangtze river valley.

Meanwhile, it was learned authoritatively that the Chinese navy Sunday night evacuated the government garrison from Tangku, ocean port for the North China commercial center of Tientsin.

Tientsin, 27 miles west of Tangku, fell to the Reds Saturday. Earlier, nationalist evacuation of Pengpu was officially announced.

The government's final abandonment of Pengpu and evacuation of towns on Pengpu's flanks have yielded to the Reds necessary river crossing areas. Pengpu, anchor of the erstwhile Hwai river defense line, has been overrun by the Reds for a month.

Realization of the government's weak military position is spurring active appeals by the general public and official bodies for government action to make a peace settlement with the Communists.

(In North China, a peace delegation prepared to leave Peking today for ceasefire talks with the Reds amid indications of a climax approaching at the besieged ancient capital.)

information as to the number aboard.

Reports from Dunoon and Loch Goilhead, near the scene, said there were at least 20.

B-29s usually have a crew of 11, and if they are heading for the United States they also customarily carry nine ground crew members.

The civil aviation ministry said the missing B-29 left Scampton, Lincolnshire—one of the RAF bases assigned the superforts—this morning, in company with another superfort enroute to Reykjavik, Iceland.

"Bad weather developed," a ministry spokesman said, "and one of the superfortresses returned to the Scampton base."

"Royal airforce search and rescue teams went to the crash area immediately."

The ministry said radio communication with the missing plane ceased at 9:40 a. m.

The crash was near Strachur in wild hunting country northwest of Greenock. Rain and low hanging mists blanketed the whole area.

The wreckage was reported to be 3,000 feet up on the side of Ben Bheudha, highest mountain in the neighborhood.

The air force customarily withholds official news of crashes until information is confirmed.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 17.—Jimmy Karniski, aged three, sees only affection today through eyes clawed by his mother.

His world now is a white hospital bed in a ward where nurses laughingly order "hug my neck."

Four days have made a big difference in the life of the chubby, tow-headed boy.

Dallas county sheriff Bill Decker found the boy Thursday, cringing on the rumpled bed of his one-room plywood home in West Dallas and drinking milk from a nipple-equipped soda pop bottle.

"I'll never forget it," Decker says. "Blood was running from both his eyes."

An ambulance took Jimmy to the hospital. His 28-year-old mother was taken to jail. She has been charged with lunacy.

Jimmy's eight-year-old brother has been placed in a foster home by juvenile authorities.

Convenience May Be Deferred In Interest Of Objective

Regulations have been issued governing the use of cottonseed in planting the 1946 cotton crop in Howard and other counties in this area under the pink bollworm quarantine.

According to information received here only seed brought in from a non-infested area or those subjected to treatment may be used. Equipment will be brought for providing the treatment without cost to producers.

What steps will be taken toward enforcement are not clear, but it is hoped that there will be need for none. If farmers understand the import of a general infestation of the pink bollworm, a spirit of cooperation will be manifested. If they study developments here within the past two seasons, a degree of egerness might accompany the willingness to comply.

It is established that seed offer the safest haven for the bollworms from one season to another. It may be that they exist in cotton litter and in the soil, but experimentation here has not yet proven the point.

What has been proven is that there has been an alarming increase in the degree of infestation during the past two seasons. As yet the problem has not become one of major economic import, but it is now delicately poised to reach that stage.

It might be wise to be subjected to some inconvenience in seed planting and treatment now than to sustain substantial losses later on.

Personal Financial Worries Should Not Affect President

Congress is moving with rapidly to increase the salary of the President to $100,000 per annum and to provide additional expense allowances.

At first blush the $75,000 per year salary sounds like a handsome figure, but it is the same which has been in force for the past forty years. That was before the day of the income tax (which the President pays, too) and when the dollar bought about twice as much.

The office is the most important in this nation, and while it carries with it a paramount honor, it also carries extreme demands not only upon the physical being of the person who becomes President, but on his pocketbook as well. Personal finances should not be among the worries that beset the man who occupies the White House.

This same bit of logic might well be applied to key governmental employees. Private business has been grabbing off some of government's best talent with fatter pay envelopes. Considering the fact that officials often times become targets for considerable criticism, the temptation to achieve security and peace of mind at once is a great one.

Reason for rapidly in seeking an adjustment in the presidential salary and expense account is that it must become law before Jan. 20 in order to be operative for the next four years. House approval now is all that is lacking.

Sentimeter Test Could Well Be Put To Stalin And Bear

NEW YORK (AP)—Is a housewife more sentimental than a showgirl? Is a blonde warmer than a brunette or redhead? What does a lady bear do in a bar? Yes, a real lady bear.

These pressing problems of romance and animal behavior were settled in a single action-filled afternoon on the pseudo-scientific front.

Six beautiful girls—a housewife, a business secretary, a college freshman, and three Broadway showgirls—were the subjects of the first test.

J. Harry Lange, 36-year-old salesman for the Hallmark Greeting Card company, read each a sentimental, novelty, and humorous Valentine card.

Their reactions were recorded on a "sentimeter," which is the nickname for "a continuous-balance electronic potentiometer." The machine scientifically records temperature changes of one-tenth of a degree in one-fifth hundredths of a second.

Well, guess what? The housewife registered "hot" on the sentimental greeting but "cold" for the novelty and humorous approaches. But that's no news. Any husband knows a wife can't see anything funny about love.

The secretary, on the other hand, registered no change at all.

The reaction of the blonde showgirl to a lovey-dovey Valentine was only "lukewarm." The brunette, Norma Thornton, of Iowa City, Ia., registered "warm-hot."

The red-haired lass, Abbe Marshall, was clocked at "semi-boiling."

But the blonde—Judy Sinclair of Philadelphia—remarked:

"If they'll just give with a fur coat instead of a Valentine, I'll burn up the darn machine."

Then Lange himself climbed on the seat. As one showgirl read him a Valentine, the other two suddenly threw their arms around him and kissed him. He zoomed the machine's pointer up to "boiling." And who would that surprise? Everybody knows about bald-headed men.

Oh, yes, the bear.

Well, on the way back to the office I saw a crowd outside a bar. I went in and there was a trained Russian bear, standing behind the bar and wearing a white apron.

The bear was Russian. She was named Laura and weighed 375 pounds. She was drinking a mug of beer from Rita Colton, a television actress.

And I kept thinking about the decline of press agency in old New York. Now if I were a press agent and wanted to stir up a little advance in Valentine's Day, I'd have done the whole thing different.

Why not invite Joe Stalin over and strap both him and Laura into the "sentimeter" together and have them read Valentine cards to each other? Nobody really knows how sentimental a she-bear is. Or Stalin, the Russian he-bear, either. That would be real news.

Chinese Communist Leader Puts Forth Very Harsh Terms

Mao Tse-Tung, hard-boiled and dynamic leader of the Chinese communism, finally has announced his terms for peace government.

In effect they call for unconditional surrender and for a complete remodeling of the nation.

The Chinese Stalin projects drastic communism for this country which houses close to a quarter of the world's population.

The constitution is to be rewritten in red. "Bureaucratic" capital is to be confiscated. There are to be land reforms. "Reactionaries" are to be eliminated from government and army. All "war criminals" are to be tried, and he names the Generalissimo and Madame Chiang first on the long list.

"Treachorous" treaties with imperialist nations are to be cancelled. This includes abrogation of treaties with the United States.

You understand who Mao singles out

America when you know that he regards the United States as his chief enemy, next to Chiang's Kuomintang nationalists. This is because of Uncle Sam's military aid to the Nanking government.

Clearly Mao speaks as a conqueror, a position which he may claim as the result of the sweeping victories by the communist armies. He lays down the terms with arrogance and finality. Chiang can take them or leave them.

The big question is what attitude Chiang will adopt toward this ultimatum. Only so long ago as the year-end the Generalissimo declared that he would make no object surrender. He would fight it out along the Yangtze river between Nanking and Shanghai so long as possible and then, if defeated there, would withdraw to the great island of Formosa off the coast.

Prior to Mao's declaration there had been almost frantic sentiment among Nanking legislators for peace. Whether the cost demanded by the communist chief is too great remains to be seen. It is safe to assume Mao doesn't give a tinker's dam one way or another, for he figures he has the nationalist armies at his mercy and can dictate his own terms.

Real Estate Lobby Advises Members To Write The Editor, Get Publicity

WASHINGTON—The real estate lobby has concocted a new and unique wrinkle in propaganda—letters to editors. Charles Stewart, press chief for the National Association of Real Estate Boards, conceived this idea for free publicity and sent it out in a confidential letter to local real estate boards.

The letter urged:

"Letters to the Editors" columns of newspapers offer an opportunity to get before the public with facts that are important to public issues affecting real estate. This is being overlooked as a public relations medium.

"In every city where rent control prevails, there are persons put to unreasonable hardship by it. Some owners of small rental properties are required to accept depression level rent on properties in which the tenant rents out a room or two for more than the entire maximum rent enforced by the housing expeditor.

"Undoubtedly persons aggrieved in this manner are known to board members. Why not contact them and ask them to give the facts about their individual situations in their own words to editors of local newspapers?"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most people must have been left calm when President Truman talked of raising income taxes.

That's because most people who pay personal income taxes wouldn't be touched by the kind of tax raise he mentioned.

He asked Congress this month to raise taxes on corporations and consider raising them on people in the middle and upper income groups.

And at a White House news conference Thursday he was asked what he meant when he spoke of "middle" income people.

The board's figures — for 42,000,000 families in 1947—show that only 14 per cent of them—or 5,880,000 families—had income over $6,000.

The other 86 per cent—or 36,120,000 families out of 42,000,000—had incomes under $6,000 a year and this ranged down to below $1,000 a year.

Starting at the bottom and working up, this shows the percentage of families in the various income groups:

Under $1,000 a year—13 per cent of the families; $1,000 to $2,000 a year—18 per cent; $2,000 to $3,000—20 per cent; $3,000 to $4,000—17 per cent; $4,000 to $5,000—11 per cent; $5,000 to $6,000—7 per cent; $6,000 to $10,000—10 per cent and $10,000 and over—4 per cent.

Saga Of Western Texas Told In The Story Of Jeff Milton

The Big Spring that was in the late 1900's—and other West Texas towns—come in for prominent mention in J. Everts Haley's colorful, new saga, "JEFF MILTON, a Good Man With a Gun" (University of Oklahoma Press).

Milton was a native of Florida, son of a one-time governor of that state, who was born to Texas by the call of adventure. Born in 1861 near Sylvania, Fla., Milton lit out for the Lone Star State at the age of 17 and for the next six decades was in the midst of everything exciting.

He got a job as a horse wrangler near Fort Griffin, then the most colorful of the cowtowns. It was there he saw his first man killed in a saloon brawl.

At the age of 18, he lied about his age and joined the Texas Rangers, going into camp at Hackberry Springs. He was soon assigned to duty along the Concho river and around the boisterous town of San Angelo.

In 1881, he moved up to Colorado City, then a tent city of thousands that put even Fort Griffin and Angelo in the shade for toughness. The railroad pushing westward had put a lot of money in Colorado City and everybody seemed to have all he needed.

Milton recalled that some of the prisoners charged with drunkenness and creating disorders were chained to mesquite trees because there was no jail within miles of the place.

From Colorado City, Milton came on to Big Spring, described as a "tent town inhabited by bone gatherers, railroad graders and cowboys. The main traffic was red liquor."

From Big Spring, Milton went to Fort Davis where he later shot up the town on a drunken spree, and from there to Murphyville, another booming railroad town.

While in Murphyville, Milton had a run-in with a bully over a game of billiards, tapped him on the head with a cue, took his gun and walked out.

He popped up later as a cowboy at a place somewhere along the Gila river and was to remain there for two years. From that point, Milton moved into New Mexico where he became a detective for a newly formed stock growers' association near Albuquerque and eventually had a big hand in helping break up a gang of outlaws that were stealing cattle from the ranchers.

El Paso was to see him next. There he went to work for the collector of customs. He later was transferred to Tombstone, Arizona, but by 1894 he was back in Texas, as chief of police in El Paso, at that time one of the toughest towns in the nation. He cleaned up the town and, among other things, disarmed the famous John Wesley Hardin and made him behave. He later scolded Hardin in public but John Wesley refused to go for his gun.

Still later, Milton was hired by Wells Fargo and chased Black Jack Christian's gang of outlaws until it was broken up by Christian's death. He was to eventually kill the famous Broncho Bill Walters in a gun fight in the White mountains.

Milton, who didn't marry until 1919, lived until May of 1947 when he passed away in Tucson. He was cremated and his ashes were scattered over the desert he had grown to love.—TOMMY HART

'Middle' Income Tax Increase Would Hit A Small Percentage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most people must have been left calm when President Truman talked of raising income taxes.

That's because most people who pay personal income taxes wouldn't be touched by the kind of tax raise he mentioned.

He asked Congress this month to raise taxes on corporations and consider raising them on people in the middle and upper income groups.

And at a White House news conference Thursday he was asked what he meant when he spoke of "middle" income people.

Scientists Exposed To Rays

Blinded Men Stimulate Study Of Atomic Radiation Perils

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter
BERKELEY, Calif. — Probably 200 atomic scientists have been exposed to cyclotron rays such as those which apparently caused five cases of eye cataract, say University of California researchers.

No further outward signs of damage have been reported. However, Dr. Gerald P. Krueger of the University of Illinois, one of those whose eyes were damaged, has suggested that all of them undergo examinations by eye specialists for possible hidden injury.

The estimate of the number of persons exposed is that of Dr. Lloyd Smith, another of the five affected persons, and Dr. Joseph G. Hamilton, physician in charge of the medical cyclotron in Berkeley, where hundreds of scientists have worked near these rays without a reported case of eye injury.

The cataract cases, says Dr. Hamilton, illustrate why scientists have been trying strenuously to learn more about what atomic radiation does to living things.

The answer involves the health of perhaps 10,000 persons working in one way or another with atomic radiation. It also concerns the Army and Navy and other groups who some day may have to deal with atomic power or atom bombs.

All the researchers involved knew the potency of neutron rays. They thought they were being careful. They had periodic blood tests which they relied upon to show any beginning sign of damage. And yet, years later, five of them discover that they have lost a part of their eyesight because the rays struck a vulnerable part of their body without affecting their blood.

This proved that blood tests are not enough. Medical scientists long before had suspected as much and provided additional safeguards. However, there was an interval of two or three years prior to 1942 during which powerful cyclotrons were just getting into operation in various parts of the country.

Dr. Smith, a young physicist now working here, says:

"Adjustments have to be made now and then to keep a cyclotron functioning properly. The adjusting is best done while the machine is running. This means getting the head and shoulders within a foot or so of the neutron producing chamber for a few minutes at a time.

"The adjuster, of course, does not get into the direct path of the neutron ray but comes within the range of stray neutrons flying out of the chamber. In the course of a year and a half I probably spent a total of not more than 10 hours in this way."

One of Dr. Smith's eyes now is almost sightless and the other is materially impaired. An operation can restore sight. A thick eyeglass lens will take over the focusing job.

The lens is a disc-shaped, normally clear piece of protein somewhat larger than the pupil or black center of the eye. It is just back of the pupil, considerably removed from the cornea or clear fore part of the eyeball. Surgical removal is a standardized operation.

A little badge containing about a square inch of undeveloped photogenic film might have saved Dr. Smith from complications. Everyone who works around cyclotrons and atomic piles now wears such a badge. The films are developed periodically. From the degree of fogging, experts can calculate the amount of radiation.

If the film indicates a person has received more than one-tenth of a roentgen of radiation daily he is kept away from rays for a while, until the passing of time lowers his average daily absorption.

A roentgen is a unit of radiation. It is about one per cent of the amount of radiation ordinarily used to make X-ray pictures of the teeth. Scientists of the atom bomb project arbitrarily adopted that amount as the safety limit. They leaned over backwards to make the figure plenty low.

Since Dr. Smith did not wear a film badge he does not know how much radiation he took in terms of roentgens. Science knows approximately how much X-ray exposure is needed to produce cataracts, but neutron rays may be more potent in that respect.

Neutrons along with protons make up the cores of atoms. A neutron ray is simply a stream of these particles whipped up to speeds of thousands of miles a second. They are particularly destructive in living tissue. Dr. Hamilton says, because they can act in three different ways.

In one case a neutron entering the body may combine with a hydrogen atom in the watery part of a living cell. The result is a radioactive atom of heavy hydrogen which eventually breaks down and produces a 2-million volt X-ray particle.

This particle can strike and change the nature of an atom of carbon, oxygen, nitrogen or other chemical component of the cell and bring about a change in the cell itself. In the case of the eye lens it may cause a normally clear cell to become cloudy.

Another destructive sequence occurs when the neutron strikes a nitrogen atom in the cell's protein. The atom becomes radioactive. It turns into an atom of boron and a heavy nuclear fragment called an alpha particle, which also can attack the structure of the cell.

Grandpa Brisson Happy With His Singing Chore

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Carl Brisson, the world's most glamorous grandfather, has sharp words or the younger crooners of today:

"They are terrible. They all hug a microphone and try to sing like Bing Crosby."

After seeing the sparkling-eyed Dane at work, I figured he had a right to spout off. For I saw him thaw out an unsophisticated audience at the Coconut Grove on one of the coldest nights in Los Angeles history. After a few minutes of singing smoochy songs and kidding with the folks, he had them yelling for more.

No mike-hugging Crosbyite, Brisson works hard for his applause. He travels all over the floor and acts out his songs with a continental charm. After the show I found him resting in his room from the workout.

Carl's son, Freddie and Rosalind Russell have a four-year-old boy and I hinted that Carl was doing for grandfathers what Marlene Dietrich is doing for grandmas.

"What difference does it make if I am a grandfather?" he asked. "I'll admit it—I am 50 years old this year. That doesn't worry me. Who else can do the job I am doing?"

By his own admission, Carl is the king of the supper club entertainers. He had but five weeks off in seven years and he doesn't mind saloon singing at all.

Big Springers Differ On Giving President Increase In Salary

Big Spring people have varied opinions on whether the President's salary should be increased. The Senate has approved a bill which would advance the President's salary from $75,000 per year to $100,000, plus a $50,000 tax-exempt expense allowance. Overall increase for salary and expense would be $50,000 per annum. Salary of the office of President of the United States has not always been the same. The first president received $25,000 per annum, a figure which held firm until 1873, when it was stepped up to $50,000 per year. Then in 1909, the President's salary was advanced to $75,000, where it has remained since. Is this ample or not? Several people polled locally had different opinions. For instance: Everett L. Ellis, cotton merchant — "I think $75,000 per year is ample salary for the President because it is a great deal of money, and anyone should be able to support himself and his family for one year on this sum. As for increasing his expense allowance, I am not qualified to judge because I don't know what expenses this would embrace." Mrs. Tot Stalcup, hotel room clerk — "I think the President's salary should be increased commensurate with his responsibility and his ability." Mrs. J. V. Petroff, housewife — "I don't believe we should increase the President's salary because it would mean a greater burden on the people. I feel this country is taxed enough now." Roy Cornelson, operator of a cleaning plant — "I think he should be paid according to the importance of his position. I'd be in favor of increasing expense allowance, too." Jake Morgan, safety engineer — "I think his expenses should be raised but his salary should remain the same. Obviously a raise in salary would not mean very much because of added tax expense."

Poll Tax Demand Below That Of '47

Current demands for poll taxes are not as great as they were at this time in 1947, a year when similar elections were scheduled. A total of 1304 poll taxes had been purchased through Saturday, compared to 1515 for the same day two years ago. In addition, 410 exemptions have been granted this year.

Navy Calls For SeaBee Reserve

The U. S. Navy has launched a drive to enlist 75,000 skilled construction men as a standby reserve organization of Seabees. Recruits are permitted to enlist in the inactive Volunteer Reserve for call to active duty only in the event of a national emergency. They are assigned to a Naval Construction Battalion for training in the technique of high-speed advance base building, for which Seabees were famed in World War II. Recruits will receive full Navy credit for the type and amount of their civilian experience, following a precedent set during the early months of World War II on the theory that day-by-day training on civilian jobs in American construction industry can be supplemented by military and discipline to produce highly qualified fighting construction men.

Would Rush Repeal Of Levy On Oleo

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP) — Congressional leaders are mapping a program to prevent a last-minute legislative jam from blocking fulfillment of the Democratic platform pledge to repeal federal taxes on oleomargarine. Indications today were that in neither in the House nor the Senate will there be a repetition of the lengthy committee hearings which marked the oleo battle last year. These hearings caused delays which some blame for failure of the bill's passage.

A slight change in the YMCA basketball league schedule tonight sends American Legion and Forsan into action in the 7 o'clock game.

Ackerly and Texas Electric Service company, which had been booked for the opener, will tangle at 9 p. m.

The middle go, down for 8 o'clock, finds Grapette tangling with Western Geophysical.

Stanton, newcomer to the league, and Safeway, draw byes until Friday night.

Tonight's activity marks the beginning of second half play. American Legion won the first half title. All games will be played at the Howard County Junior college gymnasium.

Hialeah Opens Race Program

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 17 (AP)—Hialeah race course, dowager of Florida's thoroughbred ovals, launches its 22nd winter meeting today.

Thirteen handicap sprinters have been named to compete in the $10,000 inaugural handicap—first of about $300,000 worth of handicap purses during the 40-day meeting.

A crowd of 15,000 is expected to attend the debut.

Woodford Farm's Delgate and Mose Rautzin's Burbur share top weight assignments in the six furlong dash.

Fred W. Hooper's Education probably will compete with Delgate for strongest backing. William Voneman's Phar Mon also is a prominent contender.

The field is completed with Manana H.; Tight Squeeze; Nance's Ace; Coyote; Circus Clown; Kitchen Police; Iriksen, Blue Border and Erigero.

Looking 'Em Over

by Tommy Hart

Who ever the Longhorn baseball league names as successor to Howard L. Green as its chief executive, will have big shoes to fill.

Green's tenure as league president was not altogether peaceful—such jobs rarely are, if they're tended to properly—but there are few who will admit that the league doesn't owe its very life to the one-time sports writer, who is completely wrapped up in his vocation, that of a professional baseball man.

It is men like Green who make baseball the fine, truly American sport it is today.

AL BERNDT MANAGING POTENT SOFTBALL TEAM

Al Berndt, the Yakima, Wash., lad who caught for the Big Spring WT-NM baseball league club back in 1936 and '38, writes this department that he has long since retired from baseball but for the past two seasons has managed a championship softball team in his home town.

In 1947, Al took his mushballers to a state tournament at Tacoma and led the club into the finals where it lost, 2-1. Last year, the team managed to finish fifth in a similar show at Spokane.

He describes his pitcher, who earns his keep as a sports scribe for the Yakima Republic, as having a better knuckle ball than Willie Ramsdell, the one-time Big Spring baseballer who goes to spring camp with the Brooklyn Dodgers this year.

Incidentally, Al is now a pop. He's the father of two girls.

FORMER WT-NM PLAYERS ACTIVE IN NORTHWEST

Frank Nelson, who hurled for Midland when both that city and Big Spring were members of the WT-NM league, and Joe Gedzius, a one-time Lubbock shortstop who has been here many times, both played in the Western International league last year, Berndt notes.

Nelson was with Spokane, Gedzius with Salem. Nelson, says Al, was the best hurler in that circuit in 1948.

RICHARDSON MAY LAND PILOT'S JOB AT PAMPA

Virgil Richardson, the excitable baseball first sacker who was with Lubbock until the fall end of the 1948 season and quit after a discussion over financial problems with his bosses, is in line for the managerial job at Pampa.

Grover Seltz, another former Big Spring athlete, will probably open the season at the Pampa pilot but, should he decide otherwise, Richardson is almost sure to get the job.

Coaching jobs at some of the best known colleges in the country do not pay as well as the grid tutoring posts at the more prosperous Texas high schools.

An example is the Villanova post. When Jordan Oliver departed there for Loyola of Los Angeles last week, he reportedly was making only $5,500 per annum. We can think of a half dozen Texas prep coaches who do better than that.

LONG TIME PACTS NOT WORTH PAPER ON WHICH PRINTED

Long time coaching contracts these days apparently mean about as much as some of the 50-year alliances being made between nations.

Such pacts are good only as long as one party or the other wants to respect them.

FOOTBALL COACHES FIND IT HARD TO LEAVE GAME LONG

Once a man gets into the coaching business, by the way, it is hard for him to divorce the game and pursue any other vocation.

An example is Our Town's Pat Murphy, now an executive of a soft drink concern. Pat's heart will always be in the coaching game.

Another is Thurston (Tugboat) Jones, only last week named the head man at Midland high school.

Jones stepped out of the field six months ago to become an oil service parts man but couldn't stay away.

Locals Beaten By Borger Five

MCJC's basketball Jayhawks move into San Angelo this evening to face the revenge-bent San Angelo Junior college Rams in a 8 o'clock game.

The Big Springers edged the Angelenos, 60-55, with a spine tingling finish here a month ago but the Rams will be favorites to take the decision tonight, since they will be playing at home and are in the midst of a torrid streak.

Harold Davis' Hawks lost two games last week, dropping a 46-37 Western Zone league decision to Frank Phillips college in Borger Saturday night after getting a Thursday night going-over by Wayland in Plainview, 72-51. That one was an exhibition.

The Phillips gang, coached by Jim Holston, were simply too fast and too deadly from quartercourt for the Hawks, who seemed to be troubled by the metal backboards in the new Borger gymnasium.

The Borger collegians were small but speedy and their hustle was something to see.

In the Wayland game, Leon Burch and D. W. Harkins were the standouts for the Pioneers. Burch missed only four shots all evening, Harkins six. Each scored 23 points.

Billikens Must Face Oklaggies

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP)—College basketball's longest major winning streak—saved by seconds Saturday night—stands a good chance of bouncing into oblivion this week.

The potential victim: St. Louis university, triumphant 16 straight times over two years.

The willing executioner: Oklahoma A. and M., best defensive team in the nation.

The Scene: Stillwater, Okla., Thursday night.

The Aggies did it twice last year over virtually the same St. Louis club. Those losses, two of only three blots on the Billikens' record all last season, cost St. Louis the Missouri Valley title.

Some of the other conference races shape up this way: Border: Arizona (3-0), chesed by Texas Tech (6-1).

Southwest: Defending Champion Baylor (4-0) holds comfortable edge over Texas and Rice (2-1).

Big Seven: Oklahoma (4-0) off to a good start. Nebraska's 2-0 record not due to last long.

Gloves Tourneys In Full Swing

The first of the Golden Gloves regional tournaments got underway in Texas last week. Four more of the 20 Regions, which channels boxers to the state tournament in Fort Worth Feb. 9-14, will be conducted this week. Others will continue through Feb. 2.

More interest is expected for the big boxing blowoff this year than ever before, for the simple reason the new emphasis has been placed on the National Defense program with the result that new Army, Naval and Air Force bases are opening up in the state. Boxing is always encouraged in the service.

San Antonio alone will have a pool of 15,000 Army recruits to draw from. Corpus Christi, Temple, Waco and Fort Worth are other cities which will benefit from the influx of Army personnel.

Coaches Put The Foot Back Into Football

NEW YORK, Jan. 17 (AP)—It looks as if the nation's college football coaches have put the foot back into football.

An Associated Press opinion sampling of several prominent college grid mentors on the rules changes instituted at the recent intercollegiate rules committee meeting in Palm Springs, Calif., brought out this unique angle today.

In a move aimed at sideline quarterbacking, the committee ruled that as many substitutions as desirable may be made whenever the ball changes hands. The committee nixed the old rule permitting a single substitution when the clock was running.

So—if a situation screams for a punt, the coach had better have a good kicker in the lineup. If he doesn't he's got to waste a time out to insert the punter.

Coaches generally agreed the new sub rules would lend greater emphasis to the two-platoon system popularized by Michigan and Army, and give more employment to more players. Consequently they foresaw larger squads. Schools with small squads likely would be at a disadvantage.

Jules Sikes of Kansas agreed. "The new rule will encourage further use of the platoon system. It will limit somewhat the use of specialists, such as punters."

Bob Woodruff of Baylor predicted larger squads and more widespread use of offensive and defensive teams, permitting "more boys to participate—especially those of special abilities, i. e., offensive or defensive specialists."

Jim Aiken of the University of Oregon, co-champion of the Pacific Coast conference, disagreed, saying he thought the sub rule would "be an aid to the manpower of weak squads."

Leo (Dutch) Meyer, Texas Christian coach and president of the National Football Coaches Association, agreed with Bob Voigts, Northwestern.

"While no coach actually quarterbacked his team last season, the new rule eliminated the possibility and thus will remove criticism," he predicted. "I believe the platoon system will be about the same. This is good as it enables more boys to exercise their special talents."

Meyer's remarks drew an echo of assent from Texas Coach Blair Cherry.

Carl Snavely of North Carolina, a two-platoon man last season, said he believed more teams would resort to it in 1949.

Other rules changes generally came in for favorable comment. These included (1) liberalization allowing runback of punts from the end zone, with no safety being charged if the player fails to reach his own goal line; (2) encouragement of passing behind the goal line; (3) clarification of clipping penalties and use of the hands; (4) ruling T-formation quarterback taking center handoffs are ineligible to handle forward passes later in the same play.

Porker Player Gets Award

BOSTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Gordon Long, University of Arkansas quarterback, was awarded the Nils V. (Swede) Nelson sportsmanship trophy Saturday during the Boston Gridiron Club dinner.

Long was voted the honor for protecting Referee Ray McCulloch at the conclusion of the Arkansas-Southern Methodist Southwest Conference game at Fayetteville, Ark., last fall.

With only eight seconds remaining, Arkansas, leading 12-7, intercepted a pass that appeared to end the game. But McCulloch ruled that Arkansas was offside and Southern Methodist was able to work another play that resulted in a game-winning touchdown pass.

Many in the 22,000 crowd were irked by McCulloch's ruling and one group of spectators headed for him in threatening fashion.

"I, along with Clyde Scott and Leon Campbell, accompanied McCulloch off the field," Long explained. "I put my arm around him and I guess that might have removed the tension for the crowd dispersed immediately."

Syracuse University's 130-piece band is garbed in orange and blue ski clothing this fall.

AS LONGHORN PRESIDENT Hal Sayles May Replace Howard Green In Loop

Bellinger appears ready to line up for the starting gun in the Longhorn baseball league but the situation at Sweetwater continues to give the circuit chieftains cause for concern.

The executive committee, in session at Abilene Sunday, was informed that financial problems connected with the Sweetwater situation remains to be ironed out.

Plans for building a new post in the Nolan county capital are going ahead but the obstacles otherwise remain great. The unofficial story is that the franchise has been proffered a Dallas party, which would have to assume the independence. The Dallas individual or individuals, in turn, could rent the Sweetwater plant for 31 a year.

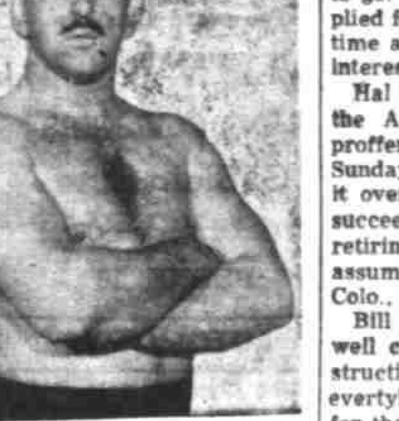

At any rate, the league officers will convene at Abilene again Sunday to see what progress has been made at Sweetwater. An invitation is being sent to Carlsbad, N. M., to have a representative present, in event Sweetwater isn't ready to go. Carlsbad had unofficially applied for entry into the league some time ago and is still supposed to be interested.

Hal Sayles, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter News, was proffered the league presidency Sunday. He asked a week to think it over. If he takes the job, he'll succeed Howard L. Green, who is retiring after a two-year tenure to assume a position with the Pueblo, Colo., Western League club.

Bill Moore, representing the Rosewell club, reported that park construction was underway there and everything would be in readiness for the season's opening.

Ed Gideon And Bill Parks Clash At BSAC Tonight

The Dominion of Canada, which has been so prominently represented at the Big Spring Athletic club within the recent past by such individuals as Rod Fenton, Benny Trudell and Monte LaDue, sends yet another flag bearer into battle at Pat O'Dowdy's grapple emporium tonight.

MONTE LADUE Olsen's Foe

The newest delegate from north of the border is Bill Parks, a rugged and durable party, who goes into action against Eddie Gideon, the fair-haired youngster from Springfield, Mo.

Parks comes here batting quite a bit better than 500 in the wrestling business. But the management is starting him at the top in pitting him against Gideon, who is about as good as the best. Chances are, if he beats the lad from the Show-Me state, he'll have things his own way from now on.

Gideon has been tops with local fandom for a long time. There have been other tin-ears, perhaps, with more talent but few, if any, who have been held in higher esteem.

Olsen proved his mettle here some weeks ago in a match with Dory Funk. He's small as junior heavyweights go but he's fast, owns a lot of stamina and is smart.

If LaDue beats him, he'll have to show more than he has in the past.

Football Award To Bobby Goff

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 17 (AP)—Bobby Goff, junior fullback, tonight received the Lipscomb-Colson award given annually to Texas A. & M. college's most valuable football player.

Goff, a Kenedy resident, was one of the top ground gainers in the Southwest Conference last season until a mid-season injury slowed him down.

Goff gained more than 100 yards on the ground in two separate games in 1948 and netted 531 yards for the season.

Guard Max Greiner, Beaumont sophomore, received the Bert Pfaff trophy given annually to the best blocker on the Aggie team.

The awards were presented at the Brazos county A. & M. club's annual banquet, attended by more than 600 athletes and fans from many Texas points. Honored guests were members of the Aggie cross country team and members of the freshman and varsity basketball teams.

Special awards went to Jimmy Cashion, Odell Stautzenberger and Jim Winker, captains of the 1948 football team.

Kern Tips of Houston was principal speaker at the meeting.

New Law Would Protect Umps

Rumors Of New Pro Grid Pact Cropping Up

CHICAGO, Jan. 17. (Sp)—Rumors of how a compromise pro football pact may be met were uncorroborated today as members of the All America conference board of strategy began arriving in Chicago to map future plans. Spearheading the group will be Jonas H. Ingram, who intends to resign as AAC commissioner, and Benjamin F. Lindheimer, owner of the Los Angeles Dons. Arthur McBride of Cleveland; Tony Marabito, San Francisco; Jim Breuil, Buffalo, and Dan Topping, New York, are on the AAC's "peace board" which will convene behind closed doors in Lindheimer's loop office tomorrow. From this session are expected to come new peace feelers to be matched with those of the 29-year-old National football league in behind-the-scenes talks sometime during the week. The NFL scheduled its annual routine meeting here beginning Thursday. The AAC's shift from an originally planned meeting in New York next month to Chicago at this time has been construed as making way for a second peace pipe parley. The first one, late last month in Philadelphia, ended in a stalemate.

Zulu-Indian Warfare Spreads In Africa

DURBAN, Union of South Africa, Jan. 17. (Sp)—South Africa's bloody racial warfare showed signs of spreading today even as government leaders set up machinery to control the wild Zulu-Indian rioting. The air still rang with shots in Durban where police fired on native looters last night but police said later the murderous feud was under control here. More than 100 persons were reported killed here in the street fighting that began last Thursday after a native boy was injured in a fight with an Indian peddler. The latest flareup was reported in Johannesburg, largest city in South Africa, 310 miles northwest of Durban.

How to Get Well With Radionics

This is the second in a series of articles in an attempt to explain radionics by Dr. T. C. Tinkham, N.D., D.C. —TRUTHS— 1. Life is a bundle of habits. We cling tenaciously to life, and if normal, want to live just as long as possible. This is natural law. 2. Life should be, and can be, free from suffering and disease, for the full life period which is about one hundred years. 3. Our habits determine whether or not we shall enjoy a healthy mature life period. 4. Disease and premature death, except in cases of accidents, are invariably the result of broken laws. 5. We break these laws ignorantly and innocently to a great extent, yet, the consequences are identical, whether we disobey in that manner or knowingly. 6. It is our duty to thoroughly acquaint ourselves in regard to this knowledge just mentioned. 7. If we love life and health, and we do, we will at once, if we have not already done so, make the laws of health the subject of special study. 8. If we are sick, we should seek nature's remedies, not drugs, to restore us to health. Her free gifts, which are so abundant and life-giving, take first place in the treatment. 9. Prevention of disease is the only prudent, economical, easy, comfortable and natural method of maintaining health, and this is decidedly the one which is being followed by those who appreciate true values, and will more and more become the future treatment of healthy bodies—the only treatment. 10. The three great outstanding fundamental essentials of good health and long life are the correct observances of: (1) Diet; (2) Exercise; (3) Nature's Gift (Air, Water and Sunshine). Adv.

Plumbers Reminded Of Feb. 1 Deadline

Deadline for renewing state plumbing licenses is Feb. 1, C. E. Belk, administrator for the Texas Board of Plumbing Examiners, reminded today. The board of examiners was created by the 50th Legislature to examine and license plumbers on a state-wide basis. All plumbers affected by the law must renew their licenses before the deadline to avoid payment of a deferred renewal fee. The deferred renewal fee provision is contained in Sec. 12 of the law, and is a penalty fee provision for renewals which occur after the deadline. The state board has no alternative to collection of the penalty fee in cases where plumbers are late in making renewals, Belk explained. The board, however, will be guided by the postmarks on renewals which occur on the deadline date.

Allies Form Security Police Group In Berlin

BERLIN, Jan. 17. (Sp)—Creation of a permanent security police force by the United States, Great Britain and France took place today. The tri-power force, called a military security board, is designed to take over the demilitarization of the insuperable allied control council, which the Russians wrecked by withdrawal. It consists of inspectors and enforcement boards which will see to it that Germany does not rearm in the military, industrial or scientific fields. CONFINED TO BED Mrs. A. Pritchett Is Real Mayor This Time At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Jan. 17. (Sp)—J. C. (Compton) Pritchett is mayor of Colorado City—again. It has been a case of "in again, out again" for Mayor Pritchett during the past several years because he has been mayor pro-tem at least a dozen times when the town was without a mayor, for one reason or another. Veteran rank member of the city council, Pritchett has been elected by that body this week as official mayor. He follows Newby Pratt who resigned at last week's meeting of city aldermen. Colorado City adopted, by a top-heavy vote, last month, a new charter under which the city manager-council form of government will be set-up. Under that charter, the mayor, whose duties are to be largely ceremonial, now is elected by the council from its own elected membership.
