Commission not to intervene in suit

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

No action was taken by Hereford City Commissioners Monday night concerning a lawsuit filed against Hereford Grain Corporation by the state attorney general's office.

The matter was placed on the commission's agenda, City Manager Dudley Bayne explained, in case city officials wanted to intervene in the dispute.

In a conversation last week with an attorney general's office employee, Bayne said, it was stressed Hereford Grain was being "very cooperative" in trying to resolve the problem. As such, the state legal office was not recommending intervention on the part of the city.

"I would sure be against intervening unless we absolutely had to," remarked Mayor Wes Fisher prior to a 5-0 vote against the city taking any role in the issue.

On Sept. 28, the lawsuit against Hereford Grain was filed based on results from a Texas Department of Water Resources investigation. It was charged the local firm had violated several state environmental acts by discharging certain agricultural chemicals into Tierra Blanca Creek.

The chemicals allegedly caused damage to grass along with several trees and shrubs in the neighboring John Pitman Municipal Golf Course. The suit, aside from requesting such chemical discharges be halted,

In addition to the injunctive relief, the suit asks a maximum of $1,000 be paid "for each and every day and act of violation."

Present at Monday's meeting, though they made no comments, were several officials of Hereford Grain.

In other business, Bayne told city fathers the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has agreed to pursue a complaint made by a lady denied employment with the local police force. Dee Toler, whose husband Edgar Toler is a patrolman here, unsuccessfully applied for a position earlier this year.

Mrs. Toler was present at the commission meeting, though she said nothing.

Earnest Langley, city attorney, advised commissioners not to comment, either. "I think it would be very inappropriate," he said, "to discuss any of your intentions (during an open session)."

Comments were also lacking from a brief hearing concerning renovation work at the city's airport. In

Regulation of chemical eyed at hearing

By KIMBERLY THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

Ninety percent of the damage to area cotton crops resulted from extensive applications of the weed killer 2,4-D to wheat fields in south and southwestern Deaf Smith County, a Texas Department of Agriculture inspector said Monday.

Dennis Maloney of the TDA office in Amarillo unveiled that estimation during a public hearing concerning regulation of the chemical in the county. The hearing was called by county commissioners, who decided after hearing nearly two hours of comments to put the issue to a vote at their regular meeting Nov. 12.

and Deaf Smith counties attended the 1:30 p.m. meeting in the county courtroom. Among them were cotton farmers, wheat and milo growers and chemical applicators.

Maloney answered questions and reviewed the TDA regulations under which all of the county's farmers would fall if commissioners decide to regulate the use of 2,4-D during the cotton-growing season.

Commissioner Austin Rose asked for an informal vote midway through the session, with the show of hands about evenly divided between those who want to see the county regulated and those who do not.

Some wheat growers against the proposal, however, admitted they could live with the regulation of volatile butyl ester formulations of 2,4-D, which are blamed for most of this summer's damage.

Maloney said the July damage came after "hundreds of thousands of acres" of wheat were applied "during a time when it shouldn't have been sprayed."

Just as the TDA has been suggesting all along, Maloney said high winds, high humidity and an unusual amount of moisture right before the wheat harvest contributed to the drift of 2,4-D to cotton fields as far as 40 miles away.

"It was Mother Nature and the volume sprayed in a short period of time that did it," he explained.

Maloney added that as few as three applicators sprayed more than 6,000 gallons of butyl ester in about a five-day period, and that the drift pattern was not difficult to trace.

"It will point like an arrow right to the area of application," he claimed.

Describing some of the rules that would apply should the county decide for regulation, Maloney said a grower would be allowed to spray 10

Banquet showcases 4-H achievements

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

Kristi Powell, Scott Robbins and Rickie Vogel each received the prestigious "Gold Star" award Saturday evening at the annual Deaf Smith County 4-H banquet.

The honors were presented to recognize outstanding performances in the 4-H organization during the last year.

Copping the Danforth Foundation's "I Dare You" award were co-winners Kelly Burrus and Lori Derr. They were presented a plaque by Vogel, who received the I Dare You distinction at 1983's banquet.

The "Outstanding Leader" award, given annually to a member of the 4-H Parent-Leaders Association, was this year won by Mark Hicks. The "Friend of 4-H" award went to Arrowhead Mills, with company President Boyd Foster accepting the plaque from Denise Teel, president of Parent-Leaders.

Judged as having made the best window display was the 4-H Rabbit Club, while Patrick Mies' poster was honored as the best. Runners-up in the poster contest were Betsy Mies and Jennifer Hicks.

Hicks also captured "Rookie of the Year" and best record book in the junior division. The senior division winner was judged to be brother Jeff Hicks, who also walked away with Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association honors.

Project awards and recognitions of record books were given to Crystal Finley, achievement; Patrick Newton, Powell and Vogel, beef; Derr and Jennifer Hicks, clothing; Polly West, food-nutrition; Jody McElhaney, horse; Cory Newton, poultry; and Glenda Kendrick, rabbit.

Other honorees were Robbins, range management; Chris Burrus, Jim Bret Campbell, Jeff Hicks, Betsy Mies, John David Rickman and Trisha Teel, sheep; and Cameron Burrus, Kelly Burrus and Jill Dutton, swine.

Derr, McElhaney, Powell and Robbins were presented with six-year 4-H pins. Vogel was given a seven-year pin, Joni Hicks an eight-year, West nine-year and Finley 10-year.

During Saturday's ceremonies, West served as master of ceremonies. Finley presented a slide show on the Texas Citizenship Short-course trip to Washington, D.C., she made earlier this year.

Susan Raney, county extension agent who organized the banquet, was pleased with the way things went. "We were happy with the way it turned out," she said, offering thanks to Deaf Smith Rural Electric Company and Frosty's Meat Market for supplying ham and rolls, respectively.

Man escapes serious injury

Despite his semitruck cab being rammed into by a train going an estimated 67 miles per hour, a Tennessee man was only slightly injured Monday afternoon about three miles east of Hereford.

According to James Bullard, administrator of Deaf Smith General Hospital, the 29-year-old man suffered only cuts and abrasions and was in "stable" condition this morning.

Michael Joe Spears of Livingston, Tenn., had just dropped off his load at a feedyard and was approaching Highway 60 from the east. He told the investigating officer - Jim Bishop of the Farwell-based Department of Public Safety - he did not see the train coming.

Striking the rig between the cab and trailer, the train plowed on for another half mile with part of the cab stuck to its front. Most of the trailer was left east of the tracks at the point of impact, coming to rest on its side. Parts of the rest of the truck were scattered on the other side.

Bishop said he understood Spears crawled out from the cab after the wreck. At first, Spears told officials at the scene he had been traveling with someone else. A search for a companion was unsuccessfully conducted, and later Spears said he had been confused in saying there was another occupant in the rig.

Spears was driving a 1974 Kenworth truck owned by a firm in Lebanon, Tenn. At the time of the collision, he was reportedly on his way to Hereford to phone his employer for instructions.

Drive campaigners still hopeful

The United Way of Deaf Smith County has completed five weeks of its fund drive with $57,456 collected in contributions and pledges, it was reported Monday by campaign chairman B.J. Gilliland.

The total represents 46 percent of the campaign goal of $128,150, which is to be used to fund 10 community agencies.

Volunteers are still optimistic about reaching the goal, according to Gilliland, who pointed out only 26 percent of the contacts have been reported as completed. He said volunteers will spend the next three weeks following up on contacts and attempting to finalize the campaign by Oct. 31.

There are eight divisions of volunteers, with the general division having reached 74 percent of its goal. The special division, led by Temple Abney, has 58 percent of its goal. The metro and professional divisions, led by Sid Shaw and Ray Cowsert, respectively, are at 55 percent.

Police make nineteen arrests

Hereford police made 19 arrests from Friday through this morning, the department reported, with seven of charges being driving while intoxicated.

There were also four people picked up for public intoxication and three apiece for drunk in control of a motor vehicle and no liability insurance.

Among the incidents looked into were six minor thefts, four vandalisms and three each of harassing telephone calls and harassment.

There were also six non-injury motor vehicle accidents.

MONDAY'S HIGH: 52 (normal: 73 record: 89 (1972))
OVERNIGHT LOW: 41 (normal: 46 record: 29 (1976))
PRECIPITATION: .98 inches (between 7 a.m. Monday and 7:00 this morning)

OUTLOOK: Clearing tonight with a low near 30 and northerly winds of 10 to 15 miles per hour. Wednesday is supposed to be sunny, have a high near 60 and boast winds of 15 to 20 miles per hour from the south.

Suicides may have run course

HOUSTON (AP) — A series of six teen-age suicides that rocked an affluent Houston suburb in the past 2½ months has "run its course," but school administrators and psychologists warned worried parents "don't get too comfortable."

"The kids are seeing the reality that life goes on," Dr. Rion Hart, a psychologist, told about 500 parents Monday night at Clear Lake High School. "They're going to football games and forgetting about funerals. They're ready to get back on with living instead of fantasizing about what it means to die."

But one parent, Robert Williams, said afterward that he was unsatisfied with the seven-member panel's explanation.

"I think the problem is greater than what they're addressing," Williams said.

Three high school students in the Clear Creek Independent School District, which covers an area with a population of about 125,000 south of Houston, have killed themselves in the last two weeks. In addition, three 19-year-old former students of the district have taken their lives since early August.

Gene Jones on trial again

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Convicted baby killer and former vocational nurse Gene Jones could get up to 99 years in prison when she goes on trial here for allegedly injuring a child.

Ms. Jones already is serving 99 years for killing another infant in Kerrville.

Her trial on an injury to a child charge was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. today.

The former licensed vocational nurse waved a jury trial two weeks ago, so her case will be heard by 187th District Court Judge Pat Priest.

She is accused of injecting a 4-week-old boy with a blood-thinner while she worked at Medical Center Hospital in San Antonio.

The San Antonio case involves the alleged injury to Rolando Santos, a patient at the pediatric intensive care unit at Medical Center Hospital.

Ms. Jones is accused of injecting the child in January 1982 with heparin, an anti-coagulant drug prosecutors say causes "excessive bleeding."

She already has been convicted of killing a 15-month-old girl with injections of succinylcholine, a powerful and hard-to-trace muscle relaxant.

Willing To Compromise

Walcott wheat farmer Eldred Brown, who said during Monday's hearing on 2,4-D regulation that he does not necessarily favor the move, also agreed that the county should try to do what's best for everyone concerned. "I'm not for hurting anyone," he commented.

Mondale in California

Reagan campaigns among youngsters

By WILLIAM M. WELCH
Associated Press Writer

President Reagan is playing to his strength among the young, calling his popularity on campuses "a phenomenon many of the pollsters can't understand," while challenger Walter Mondale accuses Reagan of ignoring the issue of toxic wastes until it became an election-year problem.

With both candidates looking to their second and final debate on Sunday, each was wrapping up his week's campaigning today before turning attention to preparing for the Kansas City confrontation.

The Democratic presidential nominee was in California today, spending part of the day in debate preparations and planning to attend a movie star-studded fund-raising gala in Los Angeles tonight before returning to Washington.

Reagan was flying to Illinois today, with his only remaining campaign event of the week coming Wednesday night at the annual Al Smith dinner in New York.

A new Louis Harris poll out today, meanwhile, said Reagan's lead over Mondale has been cut to 9 percentage points, 53-44. Last week the Harris Poll had Reagan ahead by 12 points, 54-42. The latest poll was conducted Saturday through Monday among 1,393 likely voters and had a margin of error of plus or minus 3 percentage points.

With Mondale beginning to make inroads into Reagan's big lead following their first debate, Reagan's campaign was adjusting its plans accordingly. Reagan-Bush campaign director Ed Rollins acknowledged that the president's lead in California had slipped in recent days and said Reagan would return to the state next week for more campaigning.

In Los Angeles for a political dinner Monday night, Rollins acknowledged that he had said earlier that Reagan would not return to California, his native state and the largest electoral-vote prize.

But, said Rollins, circumstances had changed. He said latest polls done for the Reagan campaign showed he had dropped from a 20-point lead in California to a 12-point lead.

Vice President George Bush, meanwhile, was campaigning in Los Angeles, where he accused the Democrats of trying to scare elderly voters by charging the Republicans would cut Social Security. Democratic vice presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro was in Cleveland and heading for California to join Mondale tonight.

At Greenville Technical College in South Carolina on Monday, Reagan offered his explanation for polls showing a majority of those college age and in their early 20s backing him. The young, he said, have "rejected the politics of pessimism and are four-square behind a strong, vibrant and growing America."

"I don't think it is selfish for you to want a good job, to own a home, and to have a decent standard of living," he told the students. "You deserve that kind of future and we aren't going to let our opponents tax it away."

Harsher DWI penalties urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal highway officials are calling for harsher penalties for drunken driving to reduce repeat offenders, whom they argue are not deterred by the current system of sentences and treatment programs.

A study by the National Transportation Safety Board concluded Monday that far too often drunken driving accidents involve drivers who have past drunken driving records.

In an examination of 51 serious accidents — most of them involving fatalities — from 15 states, the board found that one third of the drivers involved had a suspended license and drivers in 37 of the cases had a previous traffic offense involving alcohol. In several cases both drivers involved were found to be drunk.

"Our system for dealing with drunken driving in this country is not a competent one. ... Some hole in the system all too frequently keeps it from working," declared Jim Burnett, chairman of the safety board and a former Arkansas traffic judge known for imposing stiff penalties for drunken driving.

American Airlines to appeal

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — American Airlines and its president say they will appeal a federal appeals court decision that said the federal government can prosecute them for allegedly attempting to fix fares with Braniff Airlines in 1982.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Monday threw out a dismissal of the suit by U.S. District Judge Robert M. Hill of Dallas, Texas, and sent the case back to him "for further proceedings consistent with this opinion."

The lower court made a mistake in dismissing the government's complaint on the grounds that agreement by two parties to antitrust activity was required to bring the suit under the Sherman Antitrust Act, the appeals panel said.

According to the appeals ruling, former Braniff chairman Howard Putnam did not raise Braniff's rates in response to a proposal by American Airlines president Robert L. Crandall.

Instead, Putnam turned over a tape recording of their telephone conversation to the federal government.

U.S. role in Vietnam viewed

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Vietnam's foreign minister says he is ready to discuss with the Reagan administration ways of bringing peace and stability to southeast Asia.

"The role played by the United States in southeast Asia is indeed a very important role," Nguyen Co Thach said in an interview Monday with The Associated Press.

"Without the contribution of the United States, we could not have peace in southeast Asia," he said. "In this matter, we think we can cooperate."

Thach said he has not yet had any contact with Reagan administration officials.

"But this is a very important issue and I hope the Reagan administration will consider it. It will take time."

In Washington, Bill Lenderking, a State Department spokesman, said Thach's comments were being looked at but that no meeting is scheduled at this time.

Pope approves Latin masses

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John Paul II, acknowledging the attachment of some conservative clergy to the old-style Mass, is permitting priests in certain cases to say the rite in Latin as it was before the reforms of Vatican II.

The pope's decision, revealed in a circular released late Monday by the Vatican, strictly limits the days and places in which the Latin Mass can be conducted. It also warns that the Vatican has the right to ban priests from celebrating the old-style rite if they overstep limits on its use.

The warning brought to mind the rebellion by some conservative priests, most notably Swiss-based Archbishop Marcel Lefebvre, over the change in the Mass from Latin to local languages two decades ago.

The Latin, or Tridentine, Mass was established by Pope Pius V in 1570, and said for millions of Roman Catholic century after century until it was banned by Vatican II, as the Second Vatican Council is known. The council met from 1962-65 to update church policies.

acres of his own crop per year without obtaining a permit from TDA. However, he pointed out, the landowner must still take precaution not to spray near a crop susceptible to damage from 2,4-D and take note of wind conditions on the day of application.

Those who do obtain permits will have their aerial or ground equipment inspected, and be asked to pay a 10 cents per acre permit fee. One man scoffed at Maloney's description of what the TDA would consider acceptable equipment, saying there is not a farmer in the county with that type of spraying rig.

"We're just trying to help people who are growing susceptible crops here protect their property," Maloney retorted. "If you all want to regulate the county, that's fine. If you don't, it's fine with me also. That's your decision."

Wheat farmer Eldred Brown, who admitted to applying amene formulations of 2,4-D on his crops west of Hereford, said he "is not for hurting anyone."

"I told the guy who sprayed mine not to spray under windy conditions," he told the gathering. Brown said his objection to lawsuits is that the farmer is the one who eventually gets hit with extra charges as a result.

"I do know that we need to protect our neighbors, that we need to work with them," he concluded.

Brown's reference to lawsuits was based on a decision made in August by cotton growers in both counties to sue for damages to their crops. Attorney Richard Collard of Friona said Friday he expects the suit to be filed sometime this week.

"It will be one suit, not class-action, with the names of the farmers who want to participate shown," Collard explained. "We will name the manufacturers and suppliers that we have the names of, and later add the names of applicators."

Collard said the TDA has already given those names to Benton Musslewhite, the Houston attorney hired along with Collard to file the suit.

The TDA's enforcement division has still not issued a final report of its investigation, but a TDA attorney said recently only two or three applicators have been singled out as drift violators.

The idea of regulating certain portions of the county was discussed at Monday's meeting, but at least one cotton grower objected.

"I think we need the regulation, and it needs to be all over the county," Miles Caudle stressed. "The stuff doesn't stop at county lines."

Commissioner Bruce Coleman, when adjourning the meeting, said commissioners would "be open to comment between now and Nov. 12." He asked County Extension Agent Dennis Newton to make recommendations as to what chemicals if any should be regulated and a time span for the regulation to be in effect.

The TDA investigated over 100 complaints of damage to cotton crops during the summer, with partial-to-severe damage discovered to about 30,000 acres of cotton.

4 Around the County

By BRAD MORRISON
County Extension Agent
4-H'ers need these skills to function in society today and in years to come. The Extension Service is the parent organization of 4-H.

Skills in safety and mechanical sciences will enable 4-H'ers to take leadership in helping those around them cope with the challenges they face in a highly technological world.

Mechanical sciences programs—automotive, bicycle safety, petroleum power, electric energy and the learn-to-earn program, coupled with safety—give 4-H members a chance to explore their world and the world of the future.

These programs help youth to be creative, to study career options, and to build a sense of responsibility into their everyday lives.

Whether 4-H'ers live in a rural environment, in a large city or in between, they can learn, create, enjoy and enrich their lives through participation in these programs.

In addition to specific objectives of each of the safety and mechanical sciences programs, overall objectives of the 4-H program include these:

1. Practice leadership skills and roles, take part in community affairs, and demonstrate citizenship responsibility.

2. Explore career, job and productive leisure opportunities.

3. Develop skills, knowledge and attitudes for lifelong use.

4. Learn to use accepted practices for mental, physical and emotional health, and to respect yourself and others.

For more information about the total 4-H program as well as details about programs in safety and mechanical sciences, contact the county Extension office. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Homecoming activities starting this week

Students at Hereford High School are already starting to show their spirit with activities this week leading up to the game Friday night.

Wednesday has been designated as Crazy Day dress up day. Warm Up to the Herd Day is Thursday, a day that students can wear their wear-ups to class. Friday, however, is the big day.

Friday, Maroon and White Day, will include a pep rally at 1:50 p.m. as well as an announcement concerning the winners of the chain link competition. The Homecoming Queen will also be presented.

The parade, beginning at 3 p.m. at the high school, will wind through town and down Main Street. Only high school clubs and organization, junior bands and the cheerleaders and twirlers will be allowed to participate in the parade.

The evening culminates with the pre-game activities at 7 p.m. during which the Queen and her court will be introduced.

Bippus sets date for holiday party

Bippus Extension Homemakers Club met Wednesday in the home of Juanita Perrin for a covered dish luncheon and a short program by Louise Walker on the state meeting.

Following a short business meeting with Kay Bradley, vice-president, presiding, Perrin gave the council report. The group set the work date for the community building for Monday. The Halloween party was also scheduled for Oct. 28 at 5 p.m. in the home of Mariellen Homfeld.

One guest, Alta Mae Higgins, was present. Other members present were Lynis Clark and her daughter, Joy, and Flora Homfeld.

The next meeting will be Nov. 14 at 2 p.m. in the home of Flora Homfeld.

Johnnie Messer speaks on amount of sugar in snacks

Johnnie Messer from Draper Extension Club was guest speaker when members of Cultural Extension Club met Friday in the home of Carrie Mae Doak.

Ms. Messer reported on the state meeting of TEHA members held recently in San Angelo. She told of each day's activity and gave a program from one of the workshops entitled in daily snacks which was equaled to approximately one pint.

Nell Pope, vice-president, presided over the business session in the absence of Bertha Dettmann. She presented the opening exercise, a reading entitled "Four People."

Committee chairman gave reports and plans were discussed for the annual Family Thanksgiving Supper to be held at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 16 in the Energas Flame Room.

Jewel Rogers will be the host at the Oct. 28 meeting.

Others attending included Edith Hunter, Jewel Hargrave, Fannie Townsend, Vernis Parsons, Virginia Sumner, Marie Thames and Rogers.

Following a fast chain of events, Marc and Camille Williamson found themselves in Hereford.

"Everything just happened so fast," Camille said.

The couple lived in Fredericksburg where Marc was a principal in the school district. This past summer, though, Marc received a call from John Walsh, who at the time was assistant superintendent here, to tell Marc that he was moving and to see if Marc wanted the job.

Marc did, and in a little less than two months, Marc became assistant superintendent for instruction.

"Marc is really pleased with the job," Camille said. "He likes it a lot."

Living in Hereford for two months has not been as much of an adjustment as one might think. Camille grew up in Spearman, so this part of Texas was not new to her.

What was new to her were the sidewalks.

"Fredericksburg didn't have sidewalks," she explained. "Here the kids can play and ride their bikes without being in the street."

Since coming to Hereford, Camille has joined the Toujour Amis Study Club and is involved in the women's circles at the First Presbyterian Church. In Fredericksburg, she was also in a study club, as well as being active in the panhellenic association, the Lutheran church women's groups and the tennis association.

The majority of her time, however, is taken with her two children. Kristen, 4½, goes to First Baptist Church Kindergarten three mornings a week and takes dancing lessons. Matthew is 1½.

"I enjoy being at home," Camille said. "Kids are so little such a short time and I don't want to miss any of it."

She said, however, that once Matthew starts school, she would like to go back to work. She has a master's degree in elementary education from Southwest Texas State University and has taught sixth and seventh grade math and third grade.

"I loved the kids best of all when I was teaching," Camille said enthusiastically. "I just really love children."

Marc plays volleyball with the Presbyterian church and has joined Kiwanis.

"He's the athletic one," Camille said. "He also loves to read."

Together, the couple enjoy tennis and snow skiing.

PRESENTING THE... "HOME OF THE WEEK"

Spacious Rooms

HOME DESIGN
By Larry Farnsworth

This is a home designed to make any family happy and it might as well be yours. Just see what a wealth of good living features have been included in the 1,897 square feet of good living space.

Its exterior features pleasantly long lines which blend perfectly into almost any setting. And its double front doors lead into an interior which is certain to delight your family.

The pleasant formal entry contains a practical coat closet and a storage closet as well. The sunken living room offers a better than 17 foot long expanse of living space. And, see how this area gains an extra air of spaciousness with the interesting railing separation that divides it from the formal dining room, yet avoids total separation of the two. Note, also, that convenient built-in buffet in the dining room.

At the back of this portion of the house, a fabulously big family room and kitchen present a delightful area geared equally well to family fun or party-times. Note the big, convenient counter dining bar, separating these two areas without diminishing the total air of spaciousness. And, see what a wealth of cabinets and counters — including a patio serving counter, are provided by this efficient kitchen. Doors here to the big attached garage put the laundry facilities located there within easy reach. And the family room's big fireplace and easy access to the adjoining patio add to the possibilities for recreation and family fun.

This delightful home contains two, double-vanity baths — one, of course, serving the lovely master bedroom. And, note that this one offers an extra bonus in that elegant, circular tub. The master bedroom provides its owners with a big, walk-in wardrobe, too. And the two front bedrooms both have good wall closets — one a double model.

Good living for your family is readily obtainable in this plan.

On the Ball

By DENNIS BALL
Sports Editor

Coach — An instructor in athletics, debating, or musical or dramatic performance, etc., often a professional.

Notice the words instructor, athletics and professional. Recent ongoings in football make a person doubt how professional some coaches are — three in particular — and just what it is they are instructing. Look at Texas A&M University coach Jackie Sherrill. Look at University of Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer. Look at the Clovis High School assistant coach Friday night.

Sherrill certainly did not act as a grown man following his Aggies' 30-12 defeat at the hands of the Texas Tech Red Raiders. Sherrill griped about Tech's addition of David Beal to the coaching staff and literally blamed that factor for the Aggies' loss.

It seemed — to Sherrill at least — that Beal, a former player at A&M and a graduate assistant for the Aggies, conveyed A&M football secrets to the Raider coaches during the ball game Sept. 6. Sherrill said for Beal to be in the Tech coaching box was "unethical."

Sherrill, himself, seems to be teaching the athletes at A&M unethical practices with his behavior. He didn't act like a grown man, but he did act like a spoiled, over-paid brat.

When Jeff Ward kicked a 32-yard field goal for the University of Texas near the end of the football game against Oklahoma, the fourth tie in 79 years of Texas-OU shootouts had been salvaged at 15-15.

Switzer was upset. He complained he couldn't get a call, that the officials — Southwest Conference officials — took the game away from the Sooners.

"I can't get a call," Switzer said. "All the calls made against us there at the last were by Southwest Conference officials."

"He (from the SWC) is the referee and he controls the game." Now, now, Barry. You and Jackie may need to go home and get your cries out before you come back to the stadium. People are watching you, and you're not setting a very good example.

Another coach who didn't set a very good example was one of the assistants on the Clovis sideline during the Hereford-Clovis High School football game. Obviously disgruntled with the lopsided score in Hereford's favor, the assistant — whose name shall remain anonymous — jumped onto the field at Whiteface Stadium to show the officials what he thought of them.

Moreno leads locals

Hereford places third

Hereford's varsity girls cross-country team took third place behind two El Paso high schools Saturday at the Lubbock Invitational meet, which consisted of more than 800 runners and 52 teams in six divisions.

Selma Moreno of Hereford won the 4A-5A individual competition with her best time of the year. Moreno turned in an 11:56.1 over a two-mile course.

Seventeen schools entered complete teams in varsity girls competition with individuals from 13 other schools also taking part. El Paso Bowie won with 38 points, El Paso High School was second with 108 points. Hereford finished with 137 points.

Other than Moreno, Hereford varsity girls, their places and times were: Francis Flores, 20th, 13:02.6; Lina Esqueda, 21st, 13:03; Irene Serma, 52nd, 13:47; Eva Medrano, 76th, 14:16; and Judy Sanders, 92nd, 14:34.

"The girls' teams (Hereford varsity and junior varsity) improved over their showing in Amarillo last week and ran better times," coach Martha Emerson said. "Hopefully, we can make a good showing in Dumas this week, as a warmup for the District 3-5A meet."

The district contest is to be run in Hereford Oct. 27.

Hereford was less fortunate in varsity boys' running, taking 10th place with 297 points.

Bobby Aranda led Hereford runners with a 40th-place finish. He turned in a time of 17:10.9.

Francisco Saucedo was 44th at 17:13, Alonso Martinez 65th at 17:34, Ceaser Castro 68th at 17:40.2 and Lupe Rocha 90th at 18:04.

Two schools from District 3-5A placed ahead of the Hereford boys. Monterey was fourth with 118 points, and Coronado finished ninth with 278 points.

In junior varsity competition, Jenifer Bankston ran a 14:31 to place 18th and Angel De La Cruz a 19:35 for 48th place in girls' and boys' contests, respectively. Michelle Mason ran a 16:20 for 63rd in girls' competition, and Craig Waddell finished with a 19:35 for 53rd in the boys' contest.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with an order from the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice it has filed a tariff to reduce the monthly rates for the Switched Access portion of the company's intraLATA Foreign Exchange (FX) Service offering that was implemented starting June 1, 1984. Simultaneously, the LATA-wide toll-free calling scope, also started June 1, would be discontinued and the calling scope would return to that in effect prior to June 1. The Commission has assigned this matter Docket Number 5891.

The net effect of the tariff will be a monthly decrease in total billing of approximately $700,000 until November 1, 1984. After that time the net effect on the company's revenue is estimated to be negligible.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 tele-typewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

En conformidad con una orden de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, se anuncia mediante el presente aviso público que Southwestern Bell Telephone ha presentado una tarifa con el objeto de reducir las cuotas mensuales que se han cobrado desde el 1 de junio de 1984, por la porción de la tarifa para acceso a la red central necesaria con el uso del Servicio de Zona Exterior (Foreign Exchange (FX) Service).

Simultáneamente, el servicio de llamadas de larga distancia sin cobro dentro del área de servicio que también se efectuó el 1 de junio de 1984, se discontinuará; y el campo de llamadas será al igual que antes del 1 de junio de 1984. Se ha registrado la nueva tarifa bajo el Docket 5891.

El efecto real de la nueva tarifa se verá en la reducción del costo total de facturas de aproximadamente $700,000 hasta el 1 de noviembre de 1984. Se calcula que después de esta fecha el efecto real para nuestra empresa será despreciable.

Los usuarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company que estén interesados en participar en esta reunión, o que requieran mayor información, deben dirigirse por escrito a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. También se puede obtener información adicional llamando a Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division al 512/458-0223, al 512/458-0227, o al 512/458-0221 si requiere teletipo (aparato para personas con impedimentos de audición).

Green Bay loses sixth straight

Pack miscues aid Bronco win

By JOHN MOSSMAN

AP Sports Writer
DENVER (AP) — Defensive backs Steve Foley and Louis Wright returned two fumbles for touchdowns just 37 seconds into the game and the Denver Broncos held on for a 17-14 National Football League victory over the Green Bay Packers Monday night in a game played in storm that dropped ankle-deep snow on the field by game's end.

The Broncos, extending their winning streak to five games, raised their record to 6-1 and kept pace with the Los Angeles Raiders in the AFC West. Green Bay suffered its sixth straight setback after an opening victory. The scores by Foley and Wright marked the second consecutive game Denver's defense had contributed two touchdowns. For the year, the Broncos defense has scored six times.

Despite a mostly anemic offense, the Broncos made the 14-0 lead stand up with key defensive plays, the final one coming when defensive end Rulon Jones sacked quarterback Lynn Dickey and forced a fumble after the Packers had driven inside the Denver 20-yard line with 08 left in the game.

It offset a brilliant performance by Packers wide receiver James Lofton, who defied the elements by catching a career-high 11 passes for 206 yards, including a 54-yard score midway through the fourth quarter.

On Green Bay's first play from scrimmage, running back Gerry Ellis was hit in the backfield by linebacker Tom Jackson and fumbled. Foley scooped up the loose ball and dashed 22 yards for a score.

On their next play from scrimmage, the Packers duplicated their disaster. Jessie Clark ran five yards but was stripped of the ball by linebacker Steve Busick, and Wright ran it back 27 yards for another touchdown with 14:23 left in the opening quarter.

World Series MVP

Trammell credits teammates

By HARRY ATKINS

AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Alan Trammell, the consummate team player, isn't used to going solo.

Trammell, the Detroit shortstop who was voted most valuable player of the World Series, picked up the keys to a shiny new Pontiac Trans Am on Monday, but couldn't help bringing up his teammates, especially second baseman Lou Whitaker.

"Anytime I'm referred to, Lou is always mentioned, too," Trammell noted. "I like that. Each year we've grown as a team, Lou and I have grown as a double-play combination and as friends.

"There are a whole lot of guys who could just as easily be here today and Lou is certainly one."

Trammell and the rest of the Tigers were to be honored with a parade through downtown Detroit today.

The car, which was promptly dubbed "Tram's Am," is awarded to the MVP by Sport Magazine. It was presented to Trammell during a brief ceremony in Tiger Stadium — on the grass just behind his infield position.

"I hope I don't miss 'em," Trammell said when photographers begged him to toss the keys in the air. "The season's over now, so we don't want an E6. That's happened before!"

Indeed, Trammell made one harmless error in Game 2 of the World Series, but it was just about his only mistake as he helped the powerful Tigers brush aside the San Diego Padres four games to one.

"I know how Detroit has waited and this is a special thrill," Trammell said. "The thing is, though, I think Jack (Morris) and Kirk (Gibson) were deserving of MVP, too. But, we've had somebody different every night. We weren't a one-man team this year."

Nor was Trammell a one-man gang during the series. However, he did hit .450, including a pair of homers in the fourth game. He drove in six runs and scored five.

"There's no question that Game 4 was the biggest one I've ever had," Trammell said. "I've had some nights during the season, but this was by far the biggest. This was the World Series."

As Trammell chatted and posed with the new car, his 2-year-old son, Lance, raced around the vehicle, opening and closing doors and kicking tires.

Trammell's wife, Barbara, watched both the tot and the MVP with a warm smile from a few paces behind the knot of people.

Thursday Trammell has to undergo knee surgery, which means another winter of strenuous rehabilitation workouts.

Blakey new leader of women's group

Avis Blakey was named president of the Hereford Women's Golf Association for the coming year at a meeting Wednesday in the home of newly elected parliamentarian Helen Ann McWhorter.

Other officers elected that same day were: Lois Jones, vice president; Joyce Aycock, secretary-treasurer; Nell Miller, reporter; Revella Skypala, historian; and Yvonne Horton, playday chairperson.

The names of McWhorter, Skypala and Horton were released as winners of golf balls on the Sept. 4 playday. Skypala repeated Sept. 11 and joined Miller, Pat Goforth and Mary Shelton as winners. McWhorter, Alice Rahlfs, Lola Faye Veazey and Rose Marie Robinson won golf balls at the Sept. 18 playday.

Meetings for 1985 were set to begin at 7:30 p.m. the last Tuesday in March.

In other HWGA news, winners were announced for the Ladies Scotch tournament Saturday at John Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

Theresa Albracht and Mary Shelton won first from Pat Goforth and Norma Coffey, second-place winners. Third place went to Meredith Ireland and Lois Jones, and fourth place was awarded to Mary Harman and Joyce Aycock.

Before beginning tournament play, participants met at 1 p.m. at Savages Barbecue for lunch.

Soccer Champs

BALL

Fans in attendance of the game saw what he did, his players saw what he did as did his colleagues. Unfortunately for the coach, the umpire saw him, too, and flagged him for unsportsmanlike conduct. For all intents and purposes, the game was over at the time the coach came unglued. He should have kept his mouth shut, his hands in his pockets and accepted the defeat.

The Sherrill and Switzer cases might be understood by some fans, even if their behaviors are unwarranted. Switzer even had an official admit that the official made a mistake. Nevertheless, Switzer should have behaved better than he did.

College football — with the numerous recruiting violations, especially — has become a big-time business. A school's overall quality now is determined a great deal by how good the football team is.

However, the case involving the Clovis coach is inexcusable. No matter what the coach did when he stormed onto the field, it should not have been done. His job was not to worry about the officiating, but to coach his football team.

It's too bad that he cannot be fined for his behavior by the Clovis ISD. He should be penalized in some way other than half-the-distance to the goal. But he probably won't be.

As Hereford football coach Jerry Taylor said earlier this year, "It's more important that we (Hereford High School coaches) coach young men than coach football."

Sure, when a coach's team is losing, game action becomes frustrating. But no coach who was in the business for long has been unbeatable. He knows that losses are inevitable, so the three behaviors described herein are dumb, silly and stupid.

The only good thing about the Clovis situation is that the coach was on the visiting sideline.

Kalkas win top spots in grid contest

Winners in last week's Brand grid contest missed four games, the tie-breaker determining the winner.

Hereford residents Keith Allen Kalka and Joan Kalka took first and second place, Keith Kalka picking the tie-breaker on the nose at 38 total points. Joan Kalka also missed four with a tie-breaker of 25 points.

Third place went to Jim Marsh, Route 1, who also missed four. Marsh had a tie-breaker of seven total points.

Contestants missing only five games were Frank Cogdell, Mark Berryman, Jane Duggan, Steve Andrew Kalka, Suzy Kalka and Celia O'Rand.

Also missing five games were John Stagner, Jim Goebel, Karen Marsh, W.H. Kitchens and Brian Baker.

Twenty-four of the 242 total entrants missed six games.

Panel Picks

Louise's owner Betty Martin moved into a tie for the Fearless Forecasters lead with Brand sports editor Dennis Ball last week.

Martin missed seven games, and Ball missed eight. Both have season standings of 110-44 for a .714 percentage.

Butch White, owner of Boots and Saddle, missed eight games to remain only one game off the lead for the season at 109-45. Helen Higgins, owner of Helen's Youth Shop, is 102-52 after going 17-9 last week, and Brand editor-publisher O.G. Nieman is 105-49, missing 10 games last week.

The first woman to fight in a boxing match was Elizabeth Wilkinson of England, who took part in a bout in 1722.

White hints of Sunday start

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys running back Timmy Newsome and wide receiver Doug Donley may not make it into Sunday night's National Football League game with the New Orleans Saints.

Donley has a pulled hamstring and Newsome has a bruised muscle above his right knee, team officials say.

But they may not be the only ones out of the game, Dallas quarterback Danny White says.

White says it wouldn't surprise him if Coach Tom Landry switches quarterbacks for the game, especially considering Gary Hogeboom's miserable outing in Dallas' 34-14 thumping by the Washington Redskins Sunday. White, whom Landry replaced with Hogeboom at the season's start, mopped up in the fourth period by completing seven straight passes to lead Dallas to a touchdown.

You don't have to get burned to learn

Check resale values now... avoid up to $8,000 in nasty surprises

The importance of resale value can sometimes be a tough lesson. Especially if you learn it the hard way. That's why we urge you to check resale values now... before you make an expensive mistake. The fact is that some tractors touting a "super discount" when you buy them carry another "super discount" when you sell them.

John Deere gain on original price to the competitor's loss. The John Deere advantage is as much as $8,938!

That could be a nasty surprise. Especially if you gave up John Deere productivity, fuel efficiency and comfort because you wanted to save money.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1984 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 5-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 87 percent of its 1979 list price. The other averages 73 percent.

See your John Deere dealer. He'll be happy to show you how you can save money on a new John Deere: 100-hp 4050, 120-hp 4250, 140-hp 4450, 165-hp 4650 or 190-hp 4850. NOTE: Average resale prices taken from Spring 1984 Official Guide of The National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association. Percentages calculated from best currently available information on 1979 list prices.

Ann Landers

Hairpiece recommended

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is 26 years old and he's losing his hair. It's heartbreaking to see what this is doing to him. He takes forever to comb his hair just right to cover the bald spots. He won't go places where we might run into old friends. He wears hats whenever possible. This once outgoing, confident, friendly person is turning into a recluse. He pulls away from me whenever we're face to face, and asks me what I'm looking at if I glance at him the wrong way. I promised to investigate all hair-replacement possibilities, but because this is such a touchy subject I have no idea whom to ask. I read something about a new drug that hasn't been perfected yet. My husband also read about it. Does it work? How successful are hair transplants? Does hair actually grow when transplanted? Is it obvious? I know this must sound petty and vain in light of all the serious mail you receive, but I hope you will understand and provide the information I seek. I try to build up my husband's confidence. I tell him repeatedly that I love him and think he's sexy but nothing seems to help. Thank you for any help you might be able to give me.—Westchester

DEAR ANN LANDERS: May I reply to "Hanging in There"? Like her I lived with an alcoholic, violent, unemployed slob for longer than I care to admit it. Although it was a hard decision to make, I finally decided to dump him when I conquered my fear of being alone. Today, five years later, I own a small business, have a group of interesting friends and enjoy life. I am single—also celibate. I don't care for one-night stands. In my age group (36) there is a staggering number of unmarried women for every single man. Subtract those who are gay, alcoholic and wrecked from Vietnam, plus those who won't date women their own age (they prefer 22-year-olds). It's easy to see that at least half of us are not going to find a suitable partner. I would not choose to be alone, but I did choose not to stay with a man who made me miserable. I'm making the best of my life, being nice to every man, woman and child who passes my way. Perhaps this approach will bring me a partner, but if it doesn't, it certainly is giving me a better life than I had before.—A Fan In Wisconsin

DEAR WIS.: Thanks for a splendid letter. I'm sure that by sharing your experience, you have given other women who are settling for inferior merchandise, as you once did, something to think about.
Discover how to be date bait without falling hook, line and sinker. Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," will help you be more poised and sure of yourself on dates. Send 50 cents along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995 Chicago, Illinois 60611.

On advertising

Pair exchange barbs

Republican U.S. Senate candidate Phil Gramm is again blasting his Democratic opponent - Austin state Sen. Lloyd Doggett - for what he calls unethical advertising practices.

Gramm, flanked by U.S. Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, whose seat he hopes to claim in November, said Monday in Wichita Falls that Doggett is the only office-seeker in the nation who has been cited for unethical advertising.

That charge appeared in a recent issue of Advertising Age.

Doggett, in a campaign swing through West Texas, downplayed the article, saying the magazine was simply exhibiting viewpoints of Eastern Republicans.

"I don't believe that I've ever been more popular on Madison Avenue than Wall Street, but I'm not running on Madison Avenue," he said.

Gramm - who with Tower also made campaign stops in McAllen, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Georgetown and Dallas - said hearsay from an "unnamed government bureaucrat" is the source of a Doggett television commercial quoting Gramm as saying "they are encouraging people to be handicapped."

Mark McKinnon, a Doggett spokesman, said the statement was taken from an April 28, 1982, article in the Wall Street Journal.

He said the article quotes an unnamed budget committee aide who said he was present when Gramm scrutinized two items concerning aid to the handicapped in the education budget.

In other political developments Monday: - Former Gov. Bill Clements, a Republican, said the presidential race in Texas is closer than recent opinion polls suggest.

Appearing at the National Press Club in Washington, Clements also said Walter Mondale's opposition to defense programs such as cruise missile development and the B-1 bomber would translate into weak national security if he is elected president.

A Mondale defense program "would be a disaster, and our foreign policy would lose credibility because of that," said Clements, a former deputy defense secretary.

Clements, a former deputy defense secretary, said the large leads that pollsters give to Reagan in Texas are "unrealistic" because Texas is a heavily Democratic state.

"I don't know where the error is, but I just don't believe that in Texas today that President Reagan has an 18-19- or 20-percentage point lead," he said.

The chairman of People for the American Way said the Religious Right has gained considerable power in politics today, and the public should be aware of what's happening.

"As a Republican, I'm concerned about the impact on the Republican Party, among other things, of this New Right-Religious Right force," said John Buchanan, a 16-year GOP congressman and now national chairman of the nonpartisan First Amendment organization.

"What used to be our latent fringe is now a driving force in the Republican Party and apparently in the saddle if I interpret (the GOP platform drafted in) Dallas correctly," he said in Austin.

Doggett said Gramm is ignoring the issue of nuclear waste dumping in Texas because he has never supported a state's right in determining whether a site can be located in Texas.

"I think a key issue in this race for the United States Senate is who is willing to put Texas first, and specifically, West Texas," Doggett said.

Doggett said Gramm had repeatedly voted to keep nuclear waste sites out of such places as Boston and Mississippi, but had never once supported any legislation to strengthen Texas against high-level radiation deposits.

Doggett painted his opponent as being a "handmaiden of the Eastern utility companies."

Tower charged in San Antonio that Doggett would represent the "Frost Belt" more than he would Texas if he is elected.

"We need somebody who's going to represent Texas," said Tower. "That's what I've tried to do for 24 years... Few things are more important to me than seeing that the right man succeeds me."

Silk's secret was first unraveled in 1640 B.C., according to legend, when Chinese Empress Xi Ling Shi dropped a cocoon into hot water and discovered that she could unwind a clattering thread from the so-fetted mass. But silk - the cloth of emperors - remained China's secret for more than 2,000 years.
