

The U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) has revised the time allocated for a May 16 hearing in Hereford on the proposed nomination of a poten-tially suitable site of a repository of high-level nuclear waste. In a press release last week, the DOE said it would conduct a meeting here from 7-9 p.m. at the Hereford High School auditorium. That meeting has now been expanded to a four-hour period, from 7-11 p.m. on May 16. The hearing is one of three such meetings the DOE will hold in Texas this month "in the vicinity of potentially acceptable sites," as required by the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1982.

Similiar hearings were held last month in Mississippi, Utah, and Louisiana. Hearings were held in March in Washington and Nevada.

The main purposes of the hearings, as stated by the DOE, are to "inform area residents of the proposed nomination of a site and to receive their comments," and "to solicit and receive recommendations on issues to be addressed in environmental ssments and site characterization plans for each of the sites, to be completed as part of the nomination process.

DOE is proposing for nomination sites previously identified as poten-

Tuition exemption

bill considered

AUSTIN (AP) - Sponsors say an expected severe shortage in future educators spawned a bill, now winding its way through the committee process, which would let top high school students who want to become teachers skip the college tuition fee.

Rep. Bill Hammond, R-Dallas, told the House Higher Education Committee, which heard the bill Monday, that the measure would apply only to high school seniors who graduate in the top 15 percent of their class, maintain a 3.0 grade point average in college, and enroll in approved teacher education programs.

Hammond admitted the state would be taking a risk that students who take it up on its offer would not become teachers.

"I think it's worth the risk," Hammond said. "We should do anything to get them in" teaching programs.

Betty Pyle of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association said of the 56,838 students who took the Scholastic Achievement Test for college entrance in Texas last year, only 225 who had a "B" average or better said they wanted to become teachers.

A similar bill sponsored by Sen. Oscar Mauzy, D-Dallas, would also cover private college teacher programs. Both measures were sent to a subcommittee

CANTON, Texas (AP) Authorities are depending on an autopsy to determine whether the death of former Van Zandt County District Attorney Bill Eblen, who had been missing since April 23, was a homicide or suicide.

Eblen's body was found Monday floating 50 feet from shore in Lake Tawakoni, where he told his family nine days ago he was going fishing.

Eblen, 46, apparently died of a gunshot to the head, said Van Zandt County Game Warden Rock Ellis, who helped direct the search. An autopsy will be performed later this week by the Dallas County medical examiner's office, officials said.

"We have not substantiated whether this is a homicide or a suicide," said Van Zandt County Sheriff's chief deputy Wayne Miller. "He was shot. We're still waiting for the medical examiner's report to determine exactly what happened. We haven't found the gun yet. That's what we'll be looking for tomorrow," Ellis said.

City say klan should bear costs of protection

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - The Ku Klux Klan should have to foot the bill for the estimated $60,000 the city of San Antonio spent to protect Klansmen during a downtown march, city officials say.

About 400 police officers blanketed the streets of downtown Sunday to protect the 50 Klan members who marched three blocks in robes and paramilitary uniforms. City Manager Lou Fox said he plans to research the legal aspects of re-quiring the Klan and other such groups responsible for the costs of the massive protection provided them. "I think we should establish a policy that groups like this that advocate racism and violence should pay the costs of their protests to the city," Fox said.

Fox added, however, that the peacefulness of Sunday's march was worth the cost. "You really can't put a price on violence, or injury or a loss of life," he said.

There were no injuries or arrests resulting from Sunday's march, a contrast to recent Klan appearances in Austin and Houston.

Police manpower for the 50 marchers was as heavy as that used for the Battle of Flowers parade during the city's annual Fiesta celebration.

The Battle of Flowers parade attracts about 300,000 people and features hundreds of bands, floats and marching units.

Mayor Henry Cisneros said the uneventful march was the result of days of work by his city staff and the police.

Newcomers make smooth adjustment to Hereford

By LINDA CAUDLE Family News Editor

Cathy and Jim Kapka were afraid it might be difficult for their two elementary age sons to make the adjustment to Hereford after living eight years in Fort Stockton, but "they just jumped right in and got involved," according to Cathy to Cathy Both 11-year-old Shane and Jamie, age 8, were active in sports before moving here in October and have gotten in-volved in basketball and baseball in this community. Shane is a sixth grader at.

North Central and Jamie is in the second grade at Nor-thwest School. The Kapkas moved to

Hereford when Jim, an electrician with Transwestern

Pipeline, was transferred to help the new station near Dawn get started. He has been with the company for 12 years. "We really like Hereford so far," comments Cathy. "Everyone is so friendly. I had been here before as my aunt and uncle operated the Dairy Queen when it first opened here. "We came up twice in September to look for a house and were both really impressed with the community. I like a town like this where you don't really feel like you're Cathy adds that they already knew Rusty and Sharla Nasta, who also moved from Fort Stockton with Transwestern Pipeline.

Cathy and Jim are both originally from Kermit. Cathy worked part-time as a bookkeeper in an auto parts store while living in Fort Stockton. She is not currently employed, saying that she likes to be home with her children leave for school and Jim recently bought a 1965 Mustang convertible which he plans to restore. He also enjoyes the outdoors and has taken the boys to Palo Duro Canyon since moving to Hereford.

Kiska Hodges is honored

Pastel colors and spring flowers were used throughout the E.B. Black House Saturday morning at a bridal shower honoring Kiska Hodges.

Receiving friends and relatives who attended were the honoree; Mrs. Aubyn Hodges and Mrs. Craig Fuller of Dalhart, mother and sister of the bride-elect; and Mrs. Ernest Jones of El Paso and Kathy Jones of Lubbock, mother and sister of the prospective groom.

The refreshment table was laid with a white organza cloth with an underlay of yellow appliqued with yellow, pink, and blue flowers. Centered on the table was a crystal bowl of tulips and yellow candles in crystal holders.

Punch and coffee were served using silver appointments. Fresh fruit, empanatas, and orange cinnamon rolls completed the refreshments.

The honoree and mothers and sisters of the bride-elect and her fiance were presented yellow daisy corsages.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Ruth Kapp and Mrs. Edith Thompson of Amarillo, maternal aunts of the brideelect.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. Clint Formby, Gene Poteet, G.D. Caison, Lewis Lea, Mike Richardson, the development of people to make them responsible, selfrespecting members of our democratic society?

The 4-H program can pro-vide valuable learning experiences through family, church and community involvement.

Most of the things we want young people to become are a part of the 4-H program. The whole idea of 4-H is development of young people. Since 4-H is family oriented and coeducational, it is truly people.

4-H starts in one of our first 'groups"-the family group which influences us so much. The 4-H program goes down to the "grass roots" because the people in it-from Extension people to local leaders and even the young people themselves-actually help decide programs and ac-tivities. So, besides involving the family group, 4-H also closely involves the community group. Anyone who works with young people can tell you that most of them want and need to belong, to be recognized, to be respected for what they are, to develop a sense of responsibility and a sense of freedom with disciplines, and to have the good feelings of doing something meaningful by themselves. The 4-H program, a people development program, can provide these things.

Colts trade Elway to Denver Broncos

DENVER (AP) - Stanford quarterback John Elway, who threatened to play pro-fessional baseball rather than join the Baltimore Colts, has signed with the Denver Broncos, saying "I'm glad to be playing in the NFL.'

The Broncos acquired Elway from the Colts Monday for offensive lineman Chris Hinton of Northwestern - the fourth pick overall in the National Football League draft - the Broncos' 1984 firstround draft pick and quarterback Mark Herrmann.

made a tentative offer for Elway and was told "to keep in touch," he said. On Monday, Kaiser called Irsay again and completed the deal in day-long negotiations.

"The trade was good for both football teams," Denver Coach Dan Reeves said. "They (the Colts) were happy with what they got and we were happy with what we got. "I think this is a great deal.

I'm glad, first of all, that he's in the NFL, and if he's play-ing in the NFL, I thank God he's going to play with us."

Reeves, a former player and assistant coach with the Dallas Cowboys, added, "He has a quality I've seen in only one other quarterback, Roger Staubach. He can win a ballgame strictly with his arm. He's the best quarterback I've seen since I've been a coach starting in 1970."

Weekly scrambles slated

to begin next Wednesday

Beginning Wednesday, May 11, the John Pitman Golf Course will hold a weekly Florida Scrambles event, beginning at 6 p.m.

The tourney, which is open to both men and women, will have a $3 entry fee, plus green fees ($3 if a person is not a member).

Each team will consist of four players (an A, B, C and D player, according to the individual's handicap).

All entry fee money will be returned to the winning team in the form of gift certificates. A one-tie, all-tie format will be used. In other words, if two or more teams tie for first place one week, the money will carry over to the following week.

Golfers may sign up for the event until 2 p.m. each Wednesday.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) -Fred Besana and Alan Risher did some impressive passing, for a total of 555 yards, but it was a 3-yard quarterback sneak that caused the big fuss.

Besana of the Oakland Invaders scored on the short run with 27 seconds left in Monday night's United States Football League game, and his team won 34-20 over the

NEW YORK (AP) -Houston fireballer Nolan Ryan, who became baseball's all-time strikeout leader last week, suffered a pulled hamstring in his left leg while striking out his 12th New York batter Monday night and may be lost to the Astros for several weeks.

With Mets runners at second and third and one out in the bottom of the eighth, Ryan busted a 96-mile-anhour 3-2 fastball past Wally Backman and collapsed on the mound, writhing in pain on his hands and knees.

"As soon as my leg touched the ground it just popped," Ryan said. "It was like somebody shot me."

Ryan's injury was diagnos-ed as a pulled left hamstring. The 36-year-old right-hander was to return to Houston on Tuesday to be examined by the Astros' team doctor. A club spokesman said Ryan definitely will not rejoin the team in Atlanta, where the Astros have a four-game weekend series. It was the 146th time in 491

House tentatively approves prison bills

AUSTIN (AP) - The ar-chitect of a package of prison reform bills says quick ap-proval of two parts of the pro-gram could indicate an imminent end to the state's prison crowding problems.

"I'm really convinced in two years we'll have extra beds," Rep. Ray Keller said Monday after the House tentatively approved bills set-ting up "restitution centers" and crowding relief procedures.

> The measures face another House vote.

Under the restitution center plan, non-violent of-fenders would be housed in facilities run by the Adult Probation Commission while there by judges or juries.

The crowding relief measure, already approved in the Senate, would allow the governor to authorize release of inmates when the prisons reach 95 percent of capacity.

Community corrections plans, such as restitution centers, long have had liberal backing. But Rep. Jim Rudd, D-Brownfield, said Monday the current plan has attracted conservative support because of its money-saving potential.

"The conservatives finally got on the bandwagon because of economics," Rudd said at a news conference. "The real seller is economics." The Texas Foundation for John Brady said the centers are a "better way to hold criminals accountable for their deeds than to put nonviolent, non-drug, nonalcoholic offenders in prison."

> Keller, R-Duncanville, said he was surprised the measure was approved with no opposition on the floor.

> The measure is among nine prison reform ideas developed by Rudd and Keller. Several of the bills already have been approved. The centers would house inmates while they work at outside jobs to pay their room and board, repay their victims and send money to their families.

'We are sick and tired of the criminal ripping off some innocent victim by stealing their tractor," Keller said. 'The prisoner is found guilty. he gets sent to prison, becomes a ward of the state, his family goes on welfare, and the poor ol' boy out here who got his tractor stolen never got his tractor back."

Keller predicted no problems in finding communities that would want restitution centers. He also said it should not be hard to find jobs for inmates, who could do com-
