HEALTH OFFICER SAYS:

Camp Sanitation Is Better Than Spots Within City Limits

"The Labor Camp may be unclean or dirty, but I know of no violation of sanitary regulations from a general health standpoint."

County Health Officer R. R. Wills made this observation Monday, when he met with the Commissioners Court of Deaf Smith County in response to a Grand Jury request that the court order an inspection of sanitary conditions in the camp. In the same report he branded conditions in Hereford as "far more serious," and denounced any movement to close the Labor Camp as one of immediate and serious concern to the public welfare and health.

Wills Renamed Health Officer

Dr. R. R. Wills was reappointed as health officer of Deaf Smith County Monday, by unanimous vote of the Commissioners Court.

The action occurred when it was revealed that Dr. Wills' previous appointment had expired on the night of Saturday, Aug. 9, 1958.

The new appointment covers a period of 12 months and the office, as in the past, carries no salary or pay from the county. Judge H. E. Henslee said the situation is covered by Texas statutes for counties of this size.

"Under the circumstances, it would not be proper or right to fail to accept the appointment," said Dr. Wills. "Sure, I'll go ahead and serve in the post."

Storm Damage Clean-Up Drive Started by City

The general assistance of all Hereford residents was sought this week in a drive to clean up alleys and vacant lots, according to City Manager Dudley Bayne, who said that city trucks are going on 12-hour shifts in an effort to alleviate conditions resulting from storm damage and heavy rainfall during the summer months.

Bayne also said that two new city employees have been added to the department, along with a new flatted truck; the city will continue to operate its two packer units and the Dempster unit used in downtown Hereford.

Old Shingles and Roofing Materials Being Dumped Into Alleys Following Repairs

Bayne said, pointing out a need for removal of such debris. He also reminded city residents that garbage handlers can only collect such items as are placed in barrels or boxes to expedite removal.

"Weeds are becoming a problem in some of the alleys and on vacant lots," he said. "The easiest and cheapest way to meet this problem is for each property owner to take care of his own premises. In most cases, it will require less than an hour to get things in shape."

Bayne attributed the present condition, in a large measure, to weather conditions which have been unusual in the community this year.

Dr. Wills told the court that he has already contacted the State Health Department through the Lubbock Office. He said that he has requested a representative of the department to come to Hereford and to join him in making a careful investigation of sanitary conditions in the camp, adding that the investigation will be made as soon as the state official arrives, probably within the next few days.

"There have been no epidemics of typhoid, polio, or similar communicable diseases," said Dr. Wills. "Flies at the camp have been absolved of polio germs. Our death ratio from this type disease is lower than our neighboring counties, including Potter County. It brings up the question: 'What disease is being, or has been, spread through the camp?'"

Dr. Wills did express alarm over conditions in Hereford, however.

WHAT'S INSIDE THE CITY?

"What's inside the city limits is far worse than you find in the labor camp," he said.

"In town there are plenty of places where people are renting garages, woodsheds and rundown houses without a sign of plumbing at all." He advocated that persons with such circumstances in their neighborhood should buy and dismantle such objectionable property — or move to a more desirable location.

"We should think a long time on this subject, and not do anything rash," Wills told the court.

"Ask yourself this question: 'Would closing the Labor Camp make things better or worse?'"

Man Confesses To Burglaries Here in July

Kerrville Texas Rangers say they are holding a man who has admitted burglarizing two local churches last month.

He is also being held for burglary in Kerrville.

The churches which were burglarized here were the First Baptist Church, Conkright Building and the First Methodist Church.

The churches were burglarized the latter part of last month during a week-end.

Sheriff Charles Skelton said he did not know when the man would be turned over to Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department.

The total amount of money taken from churches here amounted to $20.80.

Youth Held In Stabbing

A Latin-American youth is being held in juvenile quarters in Canyon in connection with a stabbing incident at Chalmer Produce Co. Monday afternoon.

The youth, whose name has been withheld because of his age, told officers of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department he stabbed Jose Granado, 18, a Latin-American of Hereford, Monday afternoon.

Granado is in Deaf Smith County Hospital, and was reported to be in critical condition. Attending physicians said his left lung had been punctured and was collapsed.

The youth being held said he stabbed Granado after Granado had hit him across the head and left arm with a two-by-two board, which was reported about 3½ feet long. The youth said he then stabbed Granado with a sickling needle.

Officers said the sickling needle was not found and that it had been thrown into a water trough.

No charges have been filed by the Sheriff's Department. Sheriff Charles Skelton said the case is still under investigation.

New Airport Accepted; Officially Opened Mon.

Hereford's new $200,000 airport was officially accepted and opened to the public Monday, when OAA and City of Hereford officials completed transactions with Pototat Construction Company, contractors on the project.

Delayed approval on the airport resulted from weather damage to base on some of the runways, but was considered up to specifications by both federal and city authorities this week.

The City Commission has discussed and apparently favors plans for a formal opening of the new port," said City Manager Dudley Bayne. "No date has been set for the opening, but it will likely be in October, and in cooperation with Bob G. Hill, who is operating the airport on contract with the City."

Hill has completed two 8-unit hangars on the grounds. He still must complete a service hangar, offices and a residence, however, before the overall plan will be complete.

Some traffic is already reported on the airport, and observers predict that traffic will increase daily, especially after the new airport is logged on maps and pilot literature.

Brand News Editor Files Guilty Plea

Bob Hamilton, Hereford Brand news editor since Jan. 6, pleaded guilty in Justice Court Monday morning to charges of making an obscene picture of a juvenile girl, and was fined $25 and costs by Judge Berry Miles. Hamilton resigned his post with The Brand the same day.

Hamilton told the court that he took the pictures with the idea of selling them to photographic magazines, and that the girl agreed to pose for the pictures with a "guarantee of $10 per hour," or one-fourth of the proceeds from possible sale of the prints. He also said that he and the girl were accompanied by another girl when the pictures were made.

The pictures, including the lower portion of a Bikini bathing suit, were bare from the waist up. Some 15 to 18 prints, and negatives were presented in court, along with news stand magazines carrying similar photographs.

Hamilton said that he ran across the girl while she was working as a waitress in a drive-in restaurant, and was struck by the idea that she might make a good model. He said that he asked her about modeling and that they agreed on the guarantee-bonus arrangement.

"Naturally, I wanted the money the pictures might bring," Hamilton said, "and I guess maybe I also wanted to find out just how good a photographer I was."

The case came before Justice court on a charge by City Police Chief Henry Aycock, who ran into the pictures Saturday afternoon after he had picked up the girl as a juvenile delinquent on several complaints. Hamilton was on vacation when the case broke Saturday. The

Commissioners Up Maintenance Fund

The Deaf Smith County Hospital maintenance fund was raised from five-cents to six cents by action of the Commissioners Court Monday.

The court, at the same time, lowered the hospital permanent improvement fund from six cents to five cents, balancing off the transaction. Both changes will appear in the 1959 county budget, scheduled for public hearing on Aug. 25, 1958.

The shift in fund applications was approved by the court, following appearance of Wayne Thomas, hospital board president, who pointed to an urgent need for improved hospital kitchen facilities. Thomas also said that plumbing improvements will be required within the year.

Commissioners expressed general approval of the hospital board and took steps to meet the request, despite the fact that

Curtsinger Enjoys Tilt

"It was a lot of fun. I wouldn't trade anything for it," Jim Curtsinger said this week of his trip to Houston, where he played in the High School Basketball All-Star Game before a crowd of 6,000 people in the Rice Fieldhouse.

The 6-4 Hereford All-State forward started for the North Stars and played 3¼ quarters of the game, in which the North dropped the South, 53-49.

"We were 17-4 underdogs, but I couldn't see it," says Curtsinger. "They (the South) had some good boys, but we were a lot better." His team played mostly ball-control style, and Curtsinger scored four points. The top scorer totaled only 12 points.

School Budget Is Over $1.5 Million

A record $1,553,327 school budget—which almost doubles the previous high of $872,186 last year—was adopted by unanimous vote of the school trustees Monday night following a public hearing in the office of the Hereford school superintendent. Last year's budget, the previous record high, was amended during the meeting to show total operating expenses of $735,055. This year's current operation budget is $844,557. Part of the difference from last year's figure was due to the bond issue of $79,000 for repairs and improvements of Stanton Junior High School, which was added to the operating expense.

School district taxes, assessed at the rate of $1.70 per $100 of property valuation, will bring in about $460,328 of the total required for the public schools in Hereford and Dawn this year. Revenue from state sources is $463,505.

Property valuation in the district now is estimated at $28,600,000, compared to $28,000,000 last year.

The total budgeted for payment of the 127 teachers in the Hereford system is $468,802, compared to $430,112 last year for 120 teachers.

The average salary this year for Hereford teachers will be $4,262, which includes all teachers except special and administrative. This figure was compared to the state average of $4,000 and the $4,300 national average.

Operating funds for the year are budgeted as follows, according to the approved budget:

Administration — $34,961.

State Jail Laws Put Deaf Smith County 'On Spot'

"What will we do with our county prisoners?"

Deaf Smith County commissioners came face to face with this question Monday, when they discussed a new state law concerning housing of jail inmates.

Commissioners felt that present jail facilities definitely do not comply with the regulation. At the same time, they were reluctant to call a second bond election in view of the defeated bond issue for a jail last year.

Meanwhile, the state law specifies that a new jail be constructed, and completed within two years, either through issuance of bonds or with county warrants.

The other alternative, discussed by the commissioners, would be that of "boarding out prisoners" with other counties, a measure which the court felt would be impractical and expensive.

Hot Tar Burns Man Wednesday

James May, a 21-year-old employee of the Lydick Roofing Company in Amarillo, received burns on both hands and on the top of his feet yesterday around noon as he was working on the roof of the Osborn Buick Co. at 142 N. Miles Ave.

May received the burns from the hot tar that was being placed on the roof at the time. Admitted to the Deaf Smith County Hospital immediately after the accident, he had to be helped from the roof on a stretcher by several men, including firemen.

Attending physicians had not determined the extent of the burns at 1 p.m. yesterday. May lives at 1520 N. Garfield in Amarillo.

Assault Charge Is Filed Against Local Policeman

Roy Bevers, a member of the Hereford police force since May 22, was relieved of his duties on Wednesday morning, arrested and carried to Amarillo, where he will face charges of simple assault.

Police Chief Henry Aycock said that the charges were filed by an Amarillo woman, according to Amarillo officers, who asked the Hereford force to pick up Bevers as the result of a quarrel in Amarillo Tuesday night.

New Exchange Student Likes Town, Everything

By DAVID STOKER

What does a 17-year-old French high school student expect to see when she first enters Texas?

"Benches and cowboys," says Joelle Tillier Laroche, the American Field Service's foreign exchange student who will study at Hereford High School this year.

Of course Miss Tillier Laroche was rather disappointed in not finding the lone star state filled with 'robin hoods of the west', but she surely didn't indicate that she was. "Everything here is so wonderful, and the people are so good to me," she says.

She arrived in Hereford last Saturday night, after a long but somewhat exciting trip. The voyage across the Atlantic took 13 days and was very enjoyable, according to Miss Tillier Laroche.

"It was very pleasant, and all the young people had a lot of fun," she says. "They played checkers, ping pong, all kinds of games and watched Italian movies."

JOELLE WAS ONE of 1500 on the boat. There were 93 from France. "Most of them went to California, and nine went to Dallas," she says.

Before coming to Texas, she had a quick tour of New York, where she remembers seeing the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State Building and the United Nations Building.

From New York she boarded a plane for Amarillo, arriving Saturday. She then came on to Hereford Saturday night.

Joelle will be living with the Elmer Patterson family at 610 E. Fifth St. as the "American sister" of the Patterson's daughter, Sheryl. In the short time she has been living with them, they have already found her gifted with a great sense of humor.

This is Joelle's first visit to the States. "I had always dreamed of coming to the States, but I never thought it would be possible," she says.

One of the first places she visited after arriving in Hereford was the public library. She loves to read and prefers the 17th century literature to the modern. "My mother thinks I read too much," she says with a laugh.

HER OPINION of Francoise Sagan, the popular French woman writer who has been making such a hit in America with her shocking novels about the French youth, is not too good. "Sagan's youth is wrong," she says. "The students in France are very mad at her."

Miss Tillier Laroche finds America different from her homeland in many respects. "You have warmer weather here," she says. "We have no snow, but lots of rain."

She also finds a difference in automobiles. "Your autos are so huge. The French people drive taster and don't stop for red lights, either."

After taking a look at the high school she will be attending, Joelle is ready to start to school. "The school is much different from ours and so modern," she says.

She is also amazed at our houses, mainly because they are all one story and have "gardens growing around them."

Joelle was born in Bordeaux, France, in September of 1941. Her present home is Royan, a harbor town of about 13,000 people located on the west coast of France.

Her father is a government civil servant and works as a town planner. Her mother is a dental surgeon. They have another child, a 25-year-old son.

Joelle has been attending a boarding school, College de Jeunes Filles at Saintes, France. She was awarded this trip to America after writing an essay on life, her family and relatives. She also had to take an oral examination.

TRAVEL EXPENSES for Joelle's trip to America are being paid by the Future Homemakers of America chapters at the high school and Hereford civic clubs. She will be a senior in high school here.

She has had six years of English and is also studying German. She lists Latin and philosophy as her major academic interests.

She loves to swim and has learned to play basketball and volleyball at the schools in France. "Volley ball is the main sport taught to the French girls," she says. She hasn't seen a football or baseball game yet, but is anxious to see one. "I believe your football is something like our rugby."

Chicken and french fried potatoes are the favorite food in France, according to Joelle. "Our french fried potatoes are different from yours, however," she says.

Is she homesick? "No, I'm not homesick. I like it here. Everything is wonderful and the people are so good to me. I even forgot to write my mother today."

Seigler Resigns Board Position

The board of directors of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative met Wednesday, Aug. 6, to officially accept "with regret" the resignation of T. E. Seigler, board president. No successor was named at the meeting, but a temporary appointment will be made at the September meeting, and a permanent board president will be elected April 30, 1959, when the annual membership meeting is held.

The Coop board includes Sloan H. Osborn, Friona; Tom Draper, secretary - treasurer, Hereford; Joe Birkenfeld, Nazareth; Dewey L. Wright, Dimmitt; A. W. Gober, Oklahoma Lane and A. T. Frye, Dawn.

"It was the sincere feeling of the entire group that Mr. Seigler's service on the board has been outstanding," said Draper. "He was first named to the board at the annual meeting in 1947, served two years as secretary, and in 1949 was elected as chairman of the board. He has been reelected each year since that time."

During Mr. Seigler's tenure of office the REA coop has grown from 1,000 to approximately 3,000 members, and service has been expanded considerably, according to Draper. In 1950, under Seigler's leadership, the board decided to construct the present headquarters building now located in Hereford and serving the large area.

She moved to the Panhandle with her family as a small child and had been painting since she was 13 years old. While she was teaching school in Plainview, she met Mr. Amzie Baker, and after their marriage, they lived in Amarillo for a while, where she was able to study art.

PLAY SAFEWAY'S NEW "CROSS-OUT" GAME

FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES...

"Cross-Out" is just like Bingo. Put an X on your card if that number appears ANYWHERE in the symbolized numbers in the ad. (That is... the order in which the numbers appear in the ad layout do not have to match the order in which they appear on the cross-out card.)
Example: If the number (4) is printed in a column of numbers in the paper, the number 4 may be X out on the cross-out card, regardless of the location of No. 4 in the card.
In each week's SAFEWAY newspaper ad 30 numbers will each be enclosed in a square-circle-diamond, etc. You can match these numbers with numbers on any card.
If you have five consecutive numbers in a row—down, across or diagonally—you have a winning card. To receive your gift, return this card as instructed on the back.
Numbers on this card are to be matched against numbers in the SAFEWAY newspaper ad. Check the SAFEWAY newspaper ad or reprints in SAFEWAY stores carefully.
This card can be played on any of the newspaper ads or reprints during the twelve weeks. Cards are winners and redeemable only if played on an individual week's newspaper ad or reprint in stores and all 30 numbers that week in the newspaper ad are surrounded by the same shape-circle-square-diamond, etc.
We reserve the right to correct any typographical or other error or errors which might appear in any published matter in connection with this game, and to reject winning cards not obtained through legitimate channels.
SAFEWAY "Cross-Out" cards are given away freely at all SAFEWAY stores, no purchases are required.
Employees of SAFEWAY STORES, INC., are not eligible to participate in this game.

Work Underway On New York

Street and gutter work got underway this week on New York Avenue, south of the Santa Fe tracks, and is scheduled for completion in October.

The project includes seven blocks of surface work, five blocks running east from South Main to South Lawton streets; thence two blocks north on Lawton to connect with present paving on Highway 60.

Contract on the paving was let to Parker Bros. of Hereford, July 7, with a 105-day completion date.

Gary Smith Is PL Top Hitter

Gary Smith, the stocky outfielder-pitcher of the Red Sox, is the 1958 Hereford Pony League top batsman, according to the final averages recorded by official scorer, Bartley Dowell. The left handed swinging Smith hit an astounding .436.

Smith also led the League in homers and runs batted in. He belted seven out of the park and drove in a total of 31 runs. He tied Eugene Jennings of the Indians in leadership for hits with 24.

Number two hitter was Ron Greenway of the White Sox, with a .415 percentage. Roger Albracht, another White Sox, was third, hitting a good .377. The Red Sox third sacker Billy Brown was fourth with .375, and Randy Dowell of the Tigers was fifth with a .369.

Other top hitters were Eugene Jennings of the Indians, .364; Bill Nelson of the Tigers, .353; Joe Guerrero of the Tigers, .345; Ken Loerwald of the Indians, .343; and John Buck of the Red Sox, .343.

The White Sox led in team hitting, with a .287 average. The Red Sox were second, hitting .270. The Indians were third with .258, while the Tigers were last with .237. The league champion Indians were best in fielding with a .847 percentage.

Top individual fielder in the league was the Tigers Jay Boynton with a .967 fielding average. Second in fielding was Butch Hoff of the Red Sox who fielded a fine .948.

Patterson Says Jobs Plentiful

Texas Employment Agency manager J. R. Patterson said Monday that about 100 women and 50 men were needed immediately to work in vegetable sheds.

He stated that the overall picture for work looks very bright, and that most everybody who needs a job in the county can find work.

About 200 persons have been placed in jobs locally this month.

From the wage standpoint, he said the situation here for agriculture work is somewhat better than in the south, but that housing was more scarce here.

He said that there is no excess labor for the fields. "Anybody coming to the office won't have to wait long," he said, "I'll put them to work doing something."

EVERYONE AGREED CLAREMORE, Okla. (AP) — Three firemen went to court seeking $400,000 damages for injuries suffered when a propane tank blew up.

While the jury was out considering the evidence, both sides agreed on a $20,000 settlement. Just as they told the judge they had agreed on the amount, the jury walked in. The judge suggested they sit down "to see what you would have received."

The jury had decided to award the firemen $20,000.

THE KITCHEN SINK RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — They have even tossed the kitchen sink into crowded school rooms. Henrico County needed replacement tops for 500 old chair desks. New ones cost $10.95 each. A fixture company offered tops from scrap left over when holes for sinks are cut in composition kitchen counters — and for $2.35. They were in various shades of yellow, tan, red and gray but the kids don't mind.

JUVENILE GOODNESS DUBOIS, Idaho (AP) — Tipped off to trouble at the Lion's Club Hall, Clark County Sheriff Earl Holden bounced through the door ready to deal with the teenage riot he expected.

But he was greeted by a chorus of young voices singing, "Happy birthday, Sheriff." The 40 teenagers present presented Sheriff Holden with a big, inscribed cake which he promptly cut. He stayed for the rest of the party, too.

worse?" "I will grant that some parts of the Labor Camp may be unclean, or even filthy, but that is the way some people live. If you put them in the Jim Hill Hotel for 60 days, it would probably be in the same shape.

"You can't tell people how they are going to live. About all you can do is keep things in shape where epidemics are not going to break out or spread."

When asked specifically about amoebic dysentery, Dr. Wills pointed out that this malady was spread through the handling of food, generally by direct contact.

RENFRO IS HEARD
Jack Renfro, Hereford Housing Project secretary, also appeared before the court by invitation.

Renfro, like Wills, pointed to conditions within the city limits as a bad situation.

"We do not want to hurt anyone, nor do we want to spread any disease," Renfro said. "We have done all we could, and we have had no help from the city or county. If it had not been for the church, the school and the hospital at the camp, along with the unselfish efforts of Fr. Raymond, our directors would probably have closed the camp a long time back."

STILL WANTS GOOD ROAD
Renfro again pointed to the need for a direct road to the camp which would accommodate fire trucks, ambulances and general travel.

"If we had a paved road, we could pave the streets," he said, "and probably between the barracks. I think this would help more than any other single thing."

He repeated that the camp is operated as a non-profit institution; that no stockholder had ever been paid any profits from the operation.

"We have never had any intention of making any money from the camp," he said, then recalled incidents where outside areas had moved into the camp and recruited labor, once or twice for other parts of Texas.

"At the camp there are no weeds such as you can find in town," said Renfro. "The new water supply is adequate, garbage is removed daily — which is better than Hereford boasts — and although the camp does house from 2,000 to 3,000 people in season, the directors have done everything in their power to keep sanitary conditions in the best possible shape."

OFF THE Shelf

By V. J. SANDERS

The book selected to be reviewed this week is not a new one, but its impact, style and deep-meaning will, in my opinion, make it a classic.

Andersonville, written by Mackinlay Kantor, was the winner of the Pulitzer Prize for the best novel of the year in 1956. The author, who is also remembered for writing The Best Years of Our Lives, devoted 25 years to the research for this book. It paid off well.

The preface to Andersonville covers the basic plot of the book as well as anything could. "Regarded in America as the greatest of their Civil War novels, outstripping even Gone with the Wind, Andersonville is the story of a notorious Confederate stockade where 50,000 Yankee prisoners of war were herded in horrible conditions for fourteen terrible months.

"This story of a most tragic episode in American history is more than just a record of a nineteenth-century hell on earth. It is the story also of a cross-section of humanity facing up, or giving way, to appalling conditions such as no man should have to experience. The result is that man is seen at his very best and at his very worst.

"This book is probably as powerful an indictment of war and of man's inhumanity to man as has appeared in print."

Andersonville is a shocking book. It will shock the weak of stomach, the modern Southern idealist and the believers of the nobility of war.

One great difference in the style of Andersonville is that nowhere in the book are quotation marks used and yet, despite this fact, the reader is projected deep into the soul of the characters.

The description is, to coin one of Loula Grace Erdman's phrases, "beautifully written." It is complete and yet never tiring or overdone.

As to gems of wisdom, Kantor could perhaps be compared with Shakespeare. One example is when he writes, "Few men will come to watch a man live, but thousands will gather to watch him die."

Kantor gives an unbiased portrayal of both Yankee and Rebel, and great understanding on the part of both sides is achieved.

The Readers Digest Condensation of books published a few chapters from Andersonville in the winter publication of 1956. These chapters tell a complete close the camp, especially on short notice, would create a serious health problem within Hereford — and that it would be a serious mistake.

Greater Challenge Needed By Students

By CONNIE COURTEAU

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — American classrooms may be over-crowded, but the same doesn't hold true for youngsters' minds. They can take a bigger dose of knowledge than they do.

And giving what may be an answer to the hue and cry about what's wrong with American schools, a professional educator says:

"We don't challenge children enough."

Where does the challenge come from? With parents. And with the communities that surround schools instead of just crying.

"We must give children a sense of responsibility and let them know the job they're doing — learning — is important."

These are the ideas of Mrs. Lulah Fontaine, dynamic teacher of 39 years experience to this year "retired" to free other jobs aimed at making teaching a real profession, "like medicine or law."

She is chairman of the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards, and a member of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education, which she calls the "callers of teachers' legs." She's also a consultant to the Kentucky Education

The National Education Assn. delegate assembly created the teacher education and standards commission in 1946 when the shortage of qualified teachers was much worse than it is now, Mrs. Fontaine says.

Then one of every six public school teachers was not qualified. In 1958 the group estimates the number has dropped to one in 14 while the total number of teachers has jumped by 500,000.

How can parents help make sure their children get all the education their minds will bear? Mostly by being interested, advises Mrs. Fontaine.

"Parents have got to respect education as being just as important to the youngster as his later life. They can help give a child an inquiring mind."

"We learn by doing things, experiencing things ourselves. When a child has worked through a problem himself, he gains confidence to go on to something harder."

And she adds: "My pupils have often said to me, 'Don't talk so much — give us time to learn!'"

Mrs. Fontaine readily admits that "certainly everything is not right with our schools." But she doesn't like the negative approach.

"What we've got to do is improve on what we have. This is the system that has helped make our people free."

She would start with more money.

"We're not doing all we can at home," she maintains, and suggests a tax that would reach more people than the usual school-financing property levy. Her nationwide travels have convinced her that people will support an expanded — and more expensive — school program if they know what's going on.

She calls fears that federal funds in local schools would mean federal control "a lot of malarkey."

"We've had federal aid in vocational education and land grant colleges for years."

"Russia's Sputnik put the emphasis where it belongs — on quality teaching," she says, adding that teacher-connected organizations have been working for the same thing for years.

When the teacher education and standards commission was set up in 1946 only 15 states required four years of college for teachers. Now 37 states do. The commission wants all states to require four years for beginning teachers and five for fully qualified teachers.

It's gunning for $5,000 minimum salaries for qualified beginning teachers, and up to $11,000 or more for top-bracket personnel.

"Who ever heard of a doctor taking on a second job to make ends meet?" Mrs. Fontaine says. "We have got to have competent teachers, and enough of them. They have to have money to live decently and to be able to pursue knowledge."

Dimmitt, Tex., Man Reports—

Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat"

Frank S. Wise, who farms 960 acres near Dimmitt, says: "I know from experience that Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat yields. I figure I'm getting an average of 20 bushels more to the acre by putting down 80 to 100 pounds of Phillips ammonia pre-plant."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

The new school custodian will be J. D. Webb, who will also drive one of the school busses. All other teachers remain the same as last year.

Vacationing in New Mexico last week were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pinnell and Linda. They joined Pinnell's sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Johnson and Janan of Dumas, for some fishing and sight-seeing.

Bible Words for Today

GENESIS 3:9 - "...the Lord God called to the man, and said to him, 'Where are you?' (RSV)

After Adam and Eve had disobeyed God by eating the fruit, they hid from Him. But God came looking for them in the garden. The principle message of this passage for us is that God searches for men even though they may run away from Him and hide. This is the marvelous thing about God's love. He does not give us up or let us go even though we disobey or sin against Him. He stays after us until finally, when we are exhausted and spent, we meet Him in the person of Jesus Christ. The cross symbolizes the end of our flight. There is no place where we can hide from the love of Calvary. No place we can go where this great love does not follow us. Men today are still hiding from God, but if you will listen carefully you can still hear God's voice calling, "Where are you?"

Mildew
One of the best ways to remove a mildew stain is to make a paste of salt and buttermilk or sour milk, spread it thickly over the stain, and place the garment in the sun. Cover with a fresh coat of paste several times, as it dries. Then wash the garment in cold water.

Corks
Boil the corks for a few minutes until they become soft and pliable before using them when bottling catsup, etc. They can be easily pressed into the bottles and when cold they will fit tightly.

Furniture
If you feel that it is necessary to wash furniture, use one-half cake of castile soap boiled in one gallon of water. When cold, add one ounce of linseed oil, and wash the wood with this cold mixture. Leather chairs can also be washed with the above mixture.

Brown Sugar
The brown sugar will not become lumpy during warm weather if it is kept in the refrigerator.

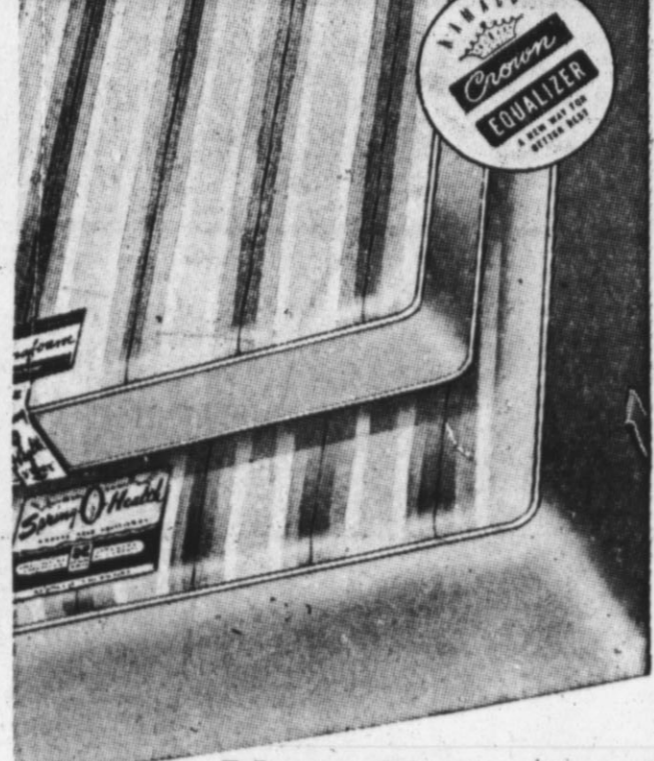

Wall Paper
When doing your own paper hanging, allow the paper to lay on the basement floor for a few days before beginning the work. The paper will not be brittle because it will absorb moisture and will be easier to handle.

Berry Stains
If the hands are stained from handling berries, moisten cornmeal with vinegar and rub this on the stains.

Nickel
Wash the nickel trimmings with soap and polish with a paste of alcohol and whiting, applied with a flannel cloth.

Surprised Lady...
A housewife-motorist recently paid her first visit to a Phillips 66 Station, and reported as follows...
"All I expected from my Phillips 66 Dealer was ten gallons of gasoline and maybe the windshield wiped. But the first thing I knew they had cleaned the windows all around... I "Was I surprised when the attendant suggested he check the tires, including the spare! Then the battery and radiator. I figured he must have me mixed up with someone important. Wife of the mayor, maybe?
"You could have knocked me over with a feather when he started brushing out inside the car. 'You do this for everybody!' I asked.
That's what he said... everybody!
"About the gasoline... I got that, too. And that Phillips 66 Flite-Fuel makes my car run swell!"

SPYING A GROWING APPETITE—This art shows cater to and whet the increasing appetite for original art. This one is in more American cities where sidewalk New York.

Average Americans Are Now Discovering Art

CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Average Americans have discovered art. Typically, they are wrapping it up and taking it home.

Subtly, collecting Olds and works of important temporaries is more over the preoccupation of the rich. But for the first time the nation's history men in more modest circumstances have become interested in oils, watercolors, and sculpture.

Increasing numbers, they say, are buying original works to cover their fireplaces, to give their own walls, for enjoyment.

Interest has been growing since the early war years. About one million people visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art and its Cloisters. By 1950 the attendance figure was up to two million. Next year, it will probably reach three million.

In the last 15 years, some 300 new museums have opened all over the country.

Recently $9,000 worth of paintings, original prints and antique furniture was sold during a two-day PTA benefit sale in a suburban elementary school. The objects d'art were taken on a consignment basis — an increasingly popular fund-raising device.

One of the city's famed auction houses had a small but choice collection of Impressionist and post-Impressionist painters to go on the block last month. So many people turned up for an advance look that the auctioneers issued admission tickets for the sale so important buyers — as opposed to art bargain hunters — could be sure of seats.

In the writer's own suburban neighborhood — an area of under $30,000 homes — three couples hire sitters one night a week to attend an art appreciation course; four housewives spend an afternoon a week visiting New York's art galleries and museums; one family renovated its living room around an oil landscape; the prize possession of a young telephone executive and his private secretary-wife is print No. 6 of a signed Matisse lithograph.

The experts have theories why America has become a little artland and, of course, they don't always agree. One logical explanation is that never before have Americans had so much leisure in which to pursue non-commercial interests.

Another undisputed reason is good times. Americans have more money to spend and have been developing a taste for life's luxuries.

"And never forget communications," cautioned one owner of a small gallery. "The women's magazines have been preaching original art."

Still another expert gives interior decorators credit. "There is no disputing that they have done a lot to bring art into average homes," he said. "They've written about art and they've preached art. Of course, I think most of them have a tendency to suggest a picture to fit into some room they've designed. But it has all helped." Women still come into the gal-

Renewals Are Returned For Number of Factors

The Texas Department of Public Safety recently reported that it is returning applications and fees for renewal of Texas Driver Licenses at the rate of one-thousand per cent because of information sufficient to identify the applicant.

The wholesale return of license applications is brought on by the omission of a number of factors that must be included in the proper identification of a person desiring to renew his license.

The department reported that it has the full name of the individual, the person's birth date and current address. The number of the old license is a means of identification.

Most of the information needed already included on the renewal notice that is sent by the department to the motorist to the expiration of his license. A space is provided for license owner to change address.

C. Smith, manager of the department of Public Safety License Insurance and Driver Record section reports that most of the difficulty comes from a person applying for renewal without returning a renewal notice. In this type of renewal application, the individual simply writes a letter including the fee.

Afficient information in renewal applications received by Texas DPS sets up a chain of processes for identification of the individual asking for a new license. But in many instances the search is hopeless.

When a man gives the name of A. B. Smith in his renewal application, file clerks of the driver license service of the state police organization set to work in an attempt to identify the individual by birth date, address, or other information contained in his permanent file. However, if all identifying information does not correspond, the application must be returned to the individual.

In order that it may improve its service of renewing licenses with a minimum delay to motorists, the Texas Department of Public Safety asks that individuals give complete information.

A woman should give her date of birth, all given names, and her surname. If she is married, she should also give her maiden surname and previous married names.

A man should give his date of birth, first name, middle name and surname. If one has changed addresses, he should clearly indicate the proper address.

Texas driver licenses are issued for a two-year period, and expire on the date given on the face of the license. The fee for an operator's license is $2, a commercial operator, $3 and a chauffeur's license $4.

The Texas DPS asks that drivers check the expiration date of their current license and renew it in time — before discovering he is driving without a valid license.

4-H Achievement Day Is Slated For November 15

By ARGENT DRAPER

It's time to begin thinking about 4-H achievement day. The 4-H Achievement Day is set this year for Nov. 15. The theme this year will be "Learn today — lead tomorrow," with special emphasis being placed on the 50th anniversary of club work.

Dorothy Prowell and Lefty Thomas are working on achievement awards. I see that record books are beginning to stack up in the office, meaning that record book judging and reports for the awards will soon be due.

The 4-H leaders have always done such a good job in Deaf Smith County; however, I believe that the Achievement Program last fall was the best. It was held at Shirley School Auditorium and there was an overflowing crowd present. This year, when the same type program is held, we will have to make arrangements for a larger place.

A group of interested 4-H leaders met on a state-wide basis to discuss 4-H club work, and the things that would improve the 4-H program.

After much discussion and study, they came up with a four-step program. It was the opinion of this group of people that the program would be more effective if:

1. More parents could be involved.
2. Program could be more active.
3. There were more opportunity for member participation.
4. There was more time for club meetings.
5. More adults were involved.
6. More members would complete demonstrations.
7. More people knew what 4-H was all about.

The second step was that a concentrated effort should be made in moving the 4-H Club out of the school and into the community. The group felt a stronger program could be developed through adult leaders.

The third step was the organization of 4-H clubs, with adults in the community assuming leadership roles.

The fourth step was the recognition of a county leadership association in Texas. Its primary purpose would be to promote and strengthen 4-H work in the counties. The last step, of course, would be a continuous one. Along with organization goes a continuous leadership training development program.

The 4-H program and the adult program in Deaf Smith County was considered strong because of strong leaders in the County. The Leadership Training Program in Deaf Smith County has been one of the most effective teaching methods that have been used in the last 10 years. It seems that more group teaching must be done in Extension work.

Seeding Best For Alfalfa In The Fall

College Station — Alfalfa is now grown on approximately a third of a million acres in Texas. Hay and seed are the most important products harvested from this acreage, but according to E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, alfalfa is also an excellent pasture crop; is one of the best soil improvement crops; is used for dehydration and its flowers provide bees with the pollen for making honey.

Trew believes that many other farmers could use alfalfa in their farming plans, especially in areas where the crop is adapted. The perennial legume does best on fertile, well-drained soils of medium texture and which are neutral to alkaline. It is being grown, points out Trew, on some acid and sandy soils in east Texas, but heavy applications of lime and fertilizer are required. A soil test is recommended by the specialist as the first step in establishing alfalfa.

The most widely grown and adapted are the "common" varieties — Southwestern and Barstow. They are best, says Trew, for all of Texas, except that part of the State south of a line running from Houston westward through San Antonio.

that we have had in home demonstration clubs and in 4-H Clubs. Here is the recipe:

QUICK CAKE

Measure into sifter:
2 cups sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sugar

Measure into mixing bowl:
1/2 cup vegetable shortening (see below)
Measure into cup:
1 cup minus 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Have ready:
2 eggs, unbeaten
*If the shortening used is butter or margarine, decrease sugar and milk. Use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 cup milk.

Stir shortening just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add 1/2 cup of the milk and mix until all flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes.

Add remaining milk and the eggs and beat one minute longer. (Mix cake by hand or at a low speed of electric mixer. Count only actual beating time. Or count the beating strokes. Allow 150 vigorous strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon often.)

Baking: Pour batter into pans. Bake in moderate oven (375 F.) 25 minutes, or until done.

Or bake in a 9x9x2-inch pan or 10x10x2-inch pan in moderate oven (350 F.) 25 to 35 minutes, or until done.

New Method of Spraying Control Of Johnsongrass

College Station — Johnsongrass is an aggressive perennial which infests over five million acres of cropland in Texas. It is difficult to control with normal cultivation methods and is quite a "pain-in-the-neck" to many farmers. Farmers long have used grazing, mowing, tillage, cultivation, rotary weeding and hoeing for the mass control of Johnsongrass. Some have used, but usually have not accepted, pre-emergence chemical treatments, lateral application of chemicals and flaming for this purpose. These methods are effective for reducing stands when they are used persistently.

But the newest, cheapest and most effective method for Johnsongrass control is spot-spraying. This practice was introduced by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in 1954, and was immediately popular as a supplement to cultural practices, particularly for scattered infestations in cotton.

Spot-spraying was used on 89,491 acres of infested cotton land in 133 Texas counties in 1956. Subsequent progress by (Continued On Page 2)

Dory Funk defeated Danno McDonald in the first match of a double main event Saturday night, two falls to one, beating McDonald in the first and third falls.

The second event saw Ricky Romero down Iron Mike Dibasi, two falls to one. Iron Mike took the first fall in fourteen minutes and forty-five seconds with a knee drop, but Romero won the second with the rolling body scissors and the third when Mike was disqualified for not breaking a hold.

Another double main event is scheduled for this Saturday night, beginning at 9. Iron Mike will battle Ricky Romero again and Art Nelson will wrestle Tito Carreon. Both matches will be best two out of three fall or sixty minute time limit events.

Cotton Meets Set For August 29-30

LUBBOCK — The second annual meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Aug. 29, in Municipal Auditorium at Texas Tech, W. O. Fortenberry, president, announced this week.

The two featured speakers for the PCG's annual meeting will include Texas Congressman W. R. Poage, Waco, and W. E. Reid, President of the Riegel Textile Corporation, New York.

Fortenberry said directors of the PCG would hold a business meeting, beginning at 9 a.m.

LIVESTOCK Market Report

Some 230 head of cattle sold Saturday at the Hereford Livestock Auction ring. The market was lower on most classes of cattle, following the trend of the larger markets this past week. Buyers were most careful on the heavier and fatter cattle.

Medium to good cows and calves $17 to $238 per pair. Plain cows and calves $109 to $142. These were old and light. Medium to good Whiteface steers $21 to $25 per hundred. Plain steers $17 to $22. Lightweight steers 22 to $28.

Heavy heifers $20 to $24. Lightweight $21 to $25. Good mixed breed steers in bunches $22.50 to $24.30. Light bulls by the head $167.50 to $187.50. Packer cows $15 to $17 per hundred. Cutter cows $12 to $15.

Not enough baby calves or heavy bulls were available to test the market.

that day, and the annual election of officers would be held. In addition to talks by Poage and Reid, the annual meeting agenda will include the showing of a 20-minute film taking of the PCG-Plains Ginners Association — sponsored textile mill tour in South Carolina last April. Fortenberry's annual report and a business report by executive vice-president George W. Pfeiffer.

Fortenberry said that door prizes would be awarded throughout the program, and that all persons are eligible upon registration.

"Several of Lubbock's outstanding merchants have cooperated by furnishing us with some very nice prizes to be awarded at our annual meeting, and we will conduct drawings at various times during the day to give away these prizes," Fortenberry explained.

A free barbecue will be served at noon. Fortenberry explained that this year's annual meeting had been postponed until this month, a time when farmers and others might have more free time. Also, this year's meeting is being held in the air-conditioned Municipal Auditorium and plenty of free parking space is available. All cotton producers, ginners, businessmen and members of their families are invited to attend.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Half-Billion-$$$ Headache In Sight At Next Legislature

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN — Texas Legislative Budget Board is somewhat in the position of the harassed husband who's struggling with a stack of unpaid bills when his wife announces the children all need new shoes.

Budget Board works out a recommended state spending plan in advance of each regular legislative session. This year, to make "ends meet," the Board will have to stretch a shorter rope over more territory.

Briefly, the horns of the dilemma are these:
Horn 1. For the next biennium state agencies have turned in requests to the Budget Board for $368,000,000 more than they received for the current two-year appropriation period.

Horn 2. Official predictions indicate the state is far from having enough money to grant increases. Instead, it may start the next two-year fiscal period $100,000,000 short of enough money just to maintain the present level of spending.

That leaves a potential gap of some $468,000,000 between the two horns — money requested and money in sight. For the next Legislature, it's a half-billion-dollar headache.

As far as can be seen, closing the gap would involve either (1) sharp cuts in state spending, (2) enactment of a fair-sized new tax or (3) letting the state government go into debt.

None of these courses likely would be either painless or popular. Third possibility is virtually prohibited by the Constitution, which says no appropriation in excess of revenue in sight can be passed "save in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity, and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each house.

In the past, the Budget Board has limited its spending recommendations to foreseeable revenue under existing tax laws. Making up the board are the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house and eight other legislators.

HOW DID new money requests get up to $368,000,000 when the present state budget is at an all-time high of more than $2,000,000,000?

Big figure results from a lot of requests from a lot of state departments and institutions. Examples:

State colleges, faced with increasing enrollments, want $49,000,000 more.

State Water Board, charged with a stepped-up water conservation planning program, asked for a nearly doubled appropriation of $3,596,180.

Hospitals and special schools asked for a $15 per cent increase, up to $114,000,000.

State Youth Council asked substantial increases for the facilities it operates, including a 99.5 per cent increase (to $4,745,925) for the severely overcrowded Gatesville School for Boys.

BUDGET BOARD HAS proposed enactment of a "price tag" procedure to help lawmakers keep track of just how much each measure they consider would cost.

Suggested bill would require that each spending bill be accompanied by an itemized list (with prices) of the expenditures it would involve.

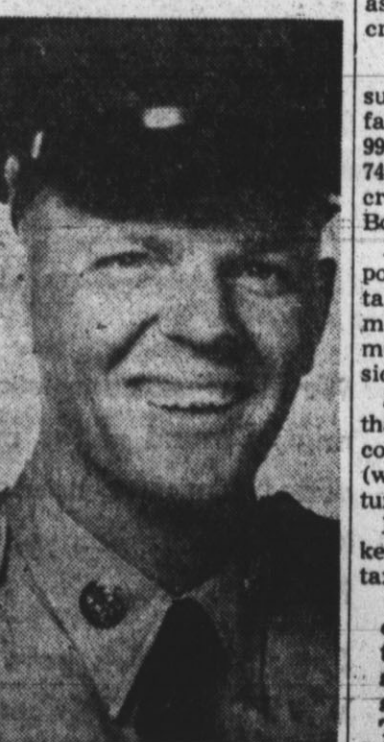

It was seen as a means of keeping a tighter check on the tax dollar.

Giving teachers fewer extra chores and more time to teach has been suggested as a means to relieve the shortage of qualified instructors.

Texas Education Agency conducted a survey on ways to make better use of existing teachers and school buildings. Resulting report noted the many miscellaneous tasks that fall to teachers — keeping up with lunch money, football tickets and charity drives, sponsoring athletic events and special programs, keeping extensive records. Use of teaching aides and secretaries was suggested to free teachers to concentrate on class work.

In regard to building use, the report suggested consideration of a longer school year, a longer school day and greater use of special purpose rooms such as laboratories, shops, home-making departments, etc.

are grown in the Rolling and High Plains areas for seed production, but have no advantage over the "common" varieties for forage production.

Fall is the best time for seeding, says Trew, mainly because the weed problem is much easier to handle and moisture and temperature are usually more favorable. The seedbed should be well-prepared, firm and moist, or the seed, adds Trew, may be planted in dead stubble in areas where wind or blowing sand is likely to damage the seedlings.

From 15-20 pounds of good seed should be used per acre if it is drilled in, while from two to three pounds should be planted per acre when the alfalfa is planted in 36 to 42 inch rows.

Planting seed should be certified and inoculated just prior to planting. Too, says Trew, alfalfa needs plenty of phosphorus and potash and an adequate amount of calcium, and a soil test is best for making this determination.

the Texas Station has increased the efficiency of the practice and extended its use.

The Texas agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service recently released a bulletin entitled "Spot-Spraying Johnsongrass." The author is H. E. Rea, associate professor, Department of Agronomy, Texas A&M College.

This 14-page publication is loaded with information on Johnsongrass as well as spot-spraying. It discusses such topics as development of Johnsongrass, effect of farming practices, chemicals for spot-spraying, spot-sprayers and cost of spot-spraying.

The bulletin can be very helpful to anyone confronted with Johnsongrass. It can be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Tex.

locality is not taken into consideration. The relationship between the individual and the land upon which he was raised and which was, perhaps, owned by his family before him for many generations, is cast aside and not taken into consideration.

The memories of a mother of the family that she raised on a small plot of land, and the emotional feeling which she must have, are held for nought. It was argued on the floor of the House in the debate that human beings, who are members of Congress, cannot and must not yield in the least to the compassion they might feel for some person under these circumstances.

In other words, we, as Members of Congress, must yield to big government — big government that takes over and destroys the rights of the individual; that places the state above the man of which it is made, and adopt the philosophy that the state is all powerful and is not the creature of man, but that man is the creature and the servant of the state, and that members of the Congress must incrust themselves, in a case-hardened coat through which the normal emotions of man must not be allowed to penetrate.

This may be the philosophy of some, and God forbid it may become the philosophy of this country, but as for me, I shall never subscribe to it. When the time comes in this country that we are willing to deny the individual his inherent rights on the basis of fair play and honesty, the dignity of man will be lost as will the concepts of the government which was entrusted to us by our forebears.

insurance liquidator's office is reorganized and off to a new start. C. H. Langdeau, newly appointed liquidator, has announced the names of nine attorneys who will make up his legal staff.

They are Cecil C. Rotsch, general counsel, John R. Grace, Clay Cotten, V. F. Taylor, Horace Wimberly, Art M. LeCroix, J. C. Thomas, William Colburn and Hoyt Cole.

Missing from the scene will be Renne Allred Jr., who had been appointed by District Judge Charles O. Betts as receiver for all insurance liquidation cases in his court. Betts had refused to accept Langdeau as receiver. Langdeau was appointed by Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison.

Situation was resolved when the State Supreme Court ruled that Betts must accept Langdeau.

Langdeau said his staff would have to do extensive investigating before deciding whether to pursue a $15,000,000 damage suit Allred had filed in connection with the ICT bankruptcy. Suit charges some 54 different corporations, including some famed names in the financial world, with having some responsibility for the building up of a fraudulent enterprise.

AN OVERALL increase of three per cent in Texas farm prices is reported by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Principal gain came in higher prices for new-season cotton, hogs, beef cattle and calves. Slight gains were shown for corn, oats, barley, hay and potatoes. Dairy products, poultry and eggs registered a seasonal increase.

On the minus side, lower prices were reported for cottonseed, vegetables, food grains, lambs and sheep.

Texas 1958 calf crop is expected to total 9,919,000 head, a five per cent increase from last year.

CHURCH GETS NEW HOME

NEW YORK — The famous, 75-year-old DeWitt church, which has ministered both to Jews and Christians on Manhattan's lower east side, gets a new home next week — built under the auspices of the New York City mission society in a public housing project, the first church in the city with such a location. Its Sunday services are conducted in three languages — Russian, English and Spanish — to serve its mixed community.

ACTOR-PRODUCER

NEW YORK — Latest recruit to the ranks of Broadway producers is Barry Nelson, who for the past 15 months has been starring in the London version of "No Time for Sergeants." Nelson, play-shopping while in the West End, has obtained American stage rights to the British hit "Odd Man In."

The show, which is also running in Paris, is due to make its local debut sometime during the spring. Nelson has cast himself for one of the three roles.

orbit. The Negro play-with-music opened in an off-Broadway auditorium last spring, moved to the main stem in late summer. Now the show, which won critical praise all along the way but was unable to weather the financial hazards of Broadway, has reopened in another theater in downtown Greenwich Village.

REVERSE TREND

NEW YORK — Most plays begin their New York acting careers with off-Broadway experimental groups, but Barbara Baxley is reversing that.

Miss Baxley is taking first filing in the Broadway cases by appearing in "Tree in a Rose Garden." Broadway credits include items as "Private Life," "Peter Pan," "Camino Real," "The Flowering Peach" and "The Frogs of Spring."

Plains Loan Association Gets A Approval

The HI-Plains Savings and Loan Association of Hereford recently was approved as an authorized agent of the Federal Housing Administration. Announcement was made by James Headstream, president of the Savings and Loan Association. As an authorized agent, it is now permitted to make FHA insured mortgage loans without approval of the FHA. Under this arrangement, all processing will be handled locally, using the services of local appraisers and inspectors.

customers. The authorized arrangement has only recently been made available under FHA's Certified Agency Program," Headstream said. The CAP, as the program is familiarly known, has been instituted in Randall, Castro, Parmer and Deaf Smith Counties. It is presently being conducted in only a few areas of the United States, but already in those places where it is being used, buyers and sellers are finding that processing of applications is much faster.

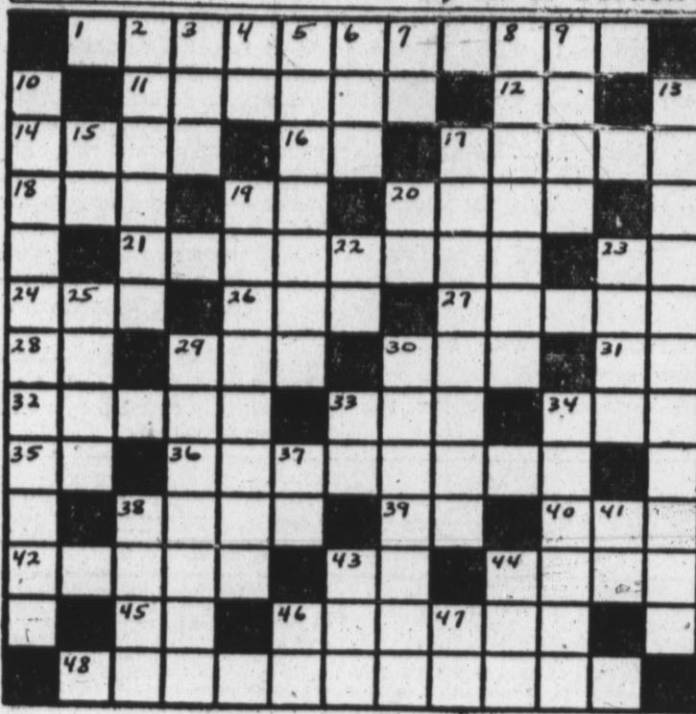

Headstream further stated that generally a commitment can be issued in from two to six days from date of application. Builders and realtors have been pleased to find construction requirements and appraisals are more realistic because local conditions are taken into consideration.

FUTURE BOOKING

NEW YORK (AP) — The first show opening for next season has already been booked for Broadway.

The optimistic far-ahead date of Oct. 15, 1958, has been fixed for F. Hugh Herbert's new comedy "Week-End Girl." The casting has not been set.

Beauty At Home

By LYNN CARTER

Q. What can I do about a skin that is infested with blackheads?

A. You must cleanse this type of skin frequently and thoroughly — at least three times daily. Twice weekly, use a grainy cleanser to help dig out those blackheads. And very important — include plenty of Vitamin - A foods in your diet, especially the green and yellow vegetables, and yellow fruits, such as apricots and peaches.

Q. Please suggest a good waist - slimming exercise.

A. If you have a good, long piano bench, lie on it, face upward. Grip the sides of the bench, bend knees back to the chest, then push both legs far out to left, straight downward, far out to right, and back to position. Only your spine and head rest on the bench — the lower part of your body is suspended in midair. By pushing both legs at once in a wide circle, you are strengthening and slimming your abdominal muscles. This is a rather difficult exercise, but it's one of the best!

Q. What facial mask is especially beneficial to an oily type of skin?

A. A smooth paste of fuller's earth and witch hazel.

Q. What is the oldtime "apple juice" treatment for dandruff?

A. One part plain apple juice to three parts water, applied twice weekly to the scalp.

Q. Should water always be used for moistening the mascara?

A. This helps its application. If, however, you have made the mistake of using too much water and your lashes stick together, before they are fully dry take a small dry brush and separate them. See that your mascara brush is washed clean after every using!

Q. How can I remove some candle wax from one of my dresses?

A. After scraping off the excess wax, place the stained portion between two white blotters and press with a warm iron, and the blotters should absorb most of the grease. Then rub the spot with cold lard or turpentine and wash in warm suds.

Q. What is a good emergency camouflage job on an ugly-looking facial pimple?

A. Pat on the blemish a paste made of powder and foundation cream, then press some powder evenly over the spot.

Q. I have rather large teeth and thin lips. How should I lipstick my mouth?

A. Rather than confine yourself to the natural outline of your mouth, increase the width of both upper and lower lips a bit beyond their outline, and this will help minimize the appearance of your teeth.

to keep it in place. Is it wise to wave this type of hair?

A. Naturally wavy hair will take a permanent nicely, and many find that hair is more manageable after a wave. Try either a very gentle rod-type of permanent or a pin curl permanent. Either is suitable to naturally wavy hair, or hair that takes a curl easily.

Q. What makeup will disguise a discoloration under the eyes?

A. Use some very light foundation makeup, stippling this over er the area with your fingertips as you lightly hold the under-eye skin taut. When dry, buff lightly with tissue and faintly cover with face powder, taking care not to press down and work makeup into skin folds — for that can produce a crepey look under the eyes.

WILLIAMS' PLAY PICKED

NEW YORK (AP) — The American National Theatre and Academy and the Voice of America have selected Tennessee Williams' prize-winning play "The Glass Menagerie" as the second of a series of four recorded for world-wide broadcast.

The cast includes Mildred Dunnock, Karl Malden, Kim Stanley and Eli Wallach.

The series was launched with Thornton Wilder's "Our Town."

AT A PEAK

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Medical College of Virginia Hospital officials think the do-it-yourself trend has reached a peak. A man reported to the emergency room that he couldn't sleep. He was asked to wait in an unoccupied room. Moments later a nurse saw him running from the building. Missing: one stethoscope.

NOT STOLEN, JUST STRAYED

POWELL, Wyo. (AP) — Bob Robertson's car stalled near Powell late one night and he decided to leave it along the highway.

The next morning he took a truck and chain to pull the stalled car into town. It was nowhere in sight, Robertson decided the car had been stolen and reported its theft to police.

Returning home to obtain the vehicle registration number, he noticed the garage door ajar. There was the car. Some thoughtful friends had brought it home during the night.

SOURCE of POWER

It looks easy!
 In no time at all this solid log is cut clean through. There's a reason. Because back of the saw is sufficient power to do the job... penetrating power. Oh, the power that could be loosed from your life and mine if we were but willing... inexhaustible power... mountains of power that could penetrate a wicked world and turn it Godward. Jesus said, "All power is given unto me." Then why not make contact with God this very day - the source of real power. He said, "Lo, I am with you always." Attend church and give Him a chance to help rewind the mainspring of your life. Link it up with the billion-volt-dynamo in the Power Room of The Most High.

Lest We Forget: The worst feature of unbelief is that it is unbelieving in regard to the results of unbelief. There are countless minor instances and towering above them the major ones; such as the Flood, Sodom and Gomorrah, the Destruction of Solomon's Temple and the Destruction of Herod's Temple. If anything in the whole world is certain, it is this - that unbelief ends absolutely in judgment. And yet, just as unbelief refuses to believe other realities, so also it laughs at this. Are we fully convinced that unbelief is always deadly? Are we convinced that faith alone saves and wins the Lord's blessing? A most cordial Welcome to you.

American Students Give GI Flavor to Education

By REINHOLD ENSZ
MUNICH, Germany — Take 206 young Americans, salt liberally with higher education, add a heavy dash of continental atmosphere and bake in a GI oven. And what have you got?
 You've got the Munich branch of the University of Maryland. Education-wise, there is no other college like it outside the United States. Practically speaking, there's none like it anywhere.

To gain admittance, a student has to have a special qualification: his parents must be stationed overseas with the armed forces or government.

The campus lies within the gates of the Army's McGraw barracks on the outskirts of Munich. The 12 classrooms, study hall and recreation center are located in the headquarters of the Munich Army Command. Nearby dormitories house most of the 206 students.

There is a definite military air; missing are such teenage and college trademarks as blue jeans and jalopies.

Dr. Paul Dickson of Lake land, Fla., 52-year-old dean of the college and a former Army colonel, says: "We don't allow blue jeans because they're a sign of a high school teen-ager. Beards are also out. I banned autos for several reasons."

"First of all there's the fact that West Germany has the highest auto accident rate in the world. Secondly, we're in a military barracks and there is not any room for student autos. And then there's the fact that autos are a distraction, especially in a place like Munich, COLLEGE CAMPUS, INDEED!—But indeed it is. These University of Maryland students are leaving the campus of the university's branch in Munich, Germany. The college is housed in the Army's McGraw barracks.

where there are so many things to see."

Dickson, a former West Point instructor who has also taught in the Denver High School system and at the University of Missouri, is a firm believer in discipline.

Last fall his students, as college students will, called a one-day strike. The strike had a continental twist: the students invited the college's 18 professors and instructors to have tea with them on the lawn of the boys' dormitory.

"They wanted to prove they were non-conformists," Dickson said. "I told the instructors not to accept the tea invitation. We had to show the students that they weren't going to run us."

There haven't been any more strikes since. But students often air their gripes in letters to the student newspaper, The Continental Collegiate.

Despite the military-like gripes, most of the students seem content. John Nottingham, 19, of Houston, Tex., student business manager, relates that he considers the college a wonderful opportunity to see Europe.

John is a pre-medical student who spent one year at the University of Texas, transferring to Munich when his father was appointed editor-in-chief of the armed forces newspaper, The Stars and Stripes, at Darmstadt.

"One thing I do miss is fraternity life," said John.

The college is a junior college, operated by the overseas division of the University of Maryland. Maryland has made a specialty of providing after-hours courses for the members of the armed forces.

The special courses are given at most major American bases overseas. They are intended primarily for military personnel and do not involve a campus such as the one here. At present, the University of Maryland has about 10,000 military and government personnel enrolled in its afterhours courses.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago

Tuesday afternoon while Rat Jowell was driving some of his cows from one pasture to another, they passed into an old field, which had growing in it some kaffir, but was in a wilted condition. He saw what they had gotten into and drove them out as quickly as possible, but in a few minutes some 30 head began to show signs of poisoning. He came to town for help and medicine. Inspector Jones, C. R. Smith and C. C. Ferguson went out with him. They found the cows wild and crazy and had some trouble in keeping out of their way and could do little towards doctoring them until they were down. One attacked Mr. Jones while he had in his arms his small son. He ran and stumbled, falling to the ground, the cow ran over him and on after C. R. Smith, who beat it to the auto. Another took C. C. Ferguson a round, got him down, but he managed in the scuffle to keep away from her horns by holding to her legs. Jones came to his rescue and twisted her tail, which attracted her attention, and then Jones had trouble of his own in trying to turn the brute loose. She succeeded in doing, but not until he got near enough to a wire fence to make his skiddo safe.

Rabbit bounties will be paid only on Wednesdays and Saturdays, it was pointed out yesterday by County Judge C. W. Humble.

Bounties are being paid at an office in the basement of the court house on those days between the hours of 9 in the morning and 6 in the afternoon.

Through last Saturday bounties had been paid on more than 2,700 rabbits at two cents per animal. The drive started two weeks ago.

Women Should Be Financially Reliant

By VIVIAN BROWN

Women generally outlive their husbands, says Nancye B. Staub, trust officer of a New Jersey bank, and they should learn how to be financially reliant.

"You must realize," the woman banker adds, "that the roof over your head isn't permanent unless some provision has been made to take care of the mortgage in the event of his death."

There are a number of ways to do this, Mrs. Staub says. "Term insurance is one. A plan that reduces with the mortgage is the most popular. Under this plan the largest part of the payments are made during the years when the husband's income can meet the payments. If he doesn't live out the insurance term, the mortgage is paid off when he dies."

One out of every two women who become widows can expect to live 20 or more years, Mrs. Staub says, and she strongly urges all women to have basic business education.

"If they don't use it in actual business later," she points out, "they can use it in everyday life—just doing budgets at home or learning how to make good use of surplus cash."

It's a great mistake for a husband to keep his wife in ignorance of his finances, Mrs. Staub says, and she offers the following suggestions to wives:

1. If you've had no previous business experience, learn how your husband handles family budget matters. Keep the family checking account. Ask your husband to point out how he takes care of these matters.

2. Learn a job you can fall back on. There is great security in knowing you can make your own way. A job can keep your mind active, too, during trying days after a loss.

3. Get to know the people who take care of your family's finances—insurance men and stockbrokers, lawyers, the trust officer of your husband's bank.

4. Be sure your husband's will is up to date. Changes in the estate, the family group, and tax and other laws make it important.

5. Put extra money for emergencies in a separate savings or checking account at your local bank.

Hot Dogs of Tuna End Friday Blues

CHULA VISTA, Calif. — The lament of the hot dog vendor could be heard above the roar of the football crowd.

Ten thousand hot dogs he had, and it was Santa Clara playing Loyola of Los Angeles on Friday night. Both are Catholic colleges.

Not a customer was in sight. William Lane, a Loyola student with the good sense to recognize the knock of opportunity, was impressed by the plight of the vendor.

That was a Friday night in 1941. Last year, Lane placed on sale a hot dog that anyone can eat on Friday or any other night.

It's a hot dog made of tuna fish. Lane calls them Tunies.

The job wasn't easy. Lane recruited a German sausage making friend, Curt Schirmer, to help him. Before they had a product that satisfied them they had used up 15,000 pounds of fish and four years worth of weekends.

First, the tuna had to be purged of the fishy taste and the smell.

Next they had to season the fish so it would taste like a frankfurter. There are 1,700 different seasoning combinations used in hot dogs.

Then they had to prepare the ground up tuna so it wouldn't fall apart when cooked, stay away from any animal fat whatever in the mixture, and make their frankies skinless.

After sampling nearly 150,000 tuna dogs, the two weekend cooks found all the answers.

Lane's boss, San Diego financier C. A. Smith, offered to finance the new venture. Smith owns banks and tuna fleets.

Smith, Lane and Schirmer formed the Tuna company, bought a sausage factory and began production. They have now reached a whopping 24,

000 pounds daily. "Everyone told me that my idea was ridiculous," Lane said. "My boss kept telling me that only a man who didn't know it could not be done would keep on trying."

"But I knew there had to be an answer to the Friday hot dog problem — too many Catholic schools have games on Friday night and what is a football or basketball game without hot dogs?"

"The average person in the United States ate 7 pounds of hot dogs last year."

Lane and company are now branching out. They plan to open a factory in Boston. And they are making two other good foods — Martunies, a cocktail size hot dog, and Sea-Lomi, obviously a take-off on salami.

One of their most enthusiastic backers is Bishop Charles F. Buddy of San Diego. The Catholic bishop sees to it that Tunies are served every Friday in his school cafeteria.

He delights in taking visiting church officials to the cafeteria on Friday, rubbing his hands in delight when Tunies are served and saying, "Ah, hot dogs, my favorite food."

The visiting padres, of course, wonder whether the bishop has simply forgotten the day's restriction or has flipped his beretta.

Then he tells the story of the Tunies.

HAPPENS EVERY SPRING

BOISE, Idaho — Warden L. E. Clapp says the population of the Idaho state penitentiary shows a marked decline every spring and summer. The reason, he explains, is that parolees are only given to prisoners when they have an outside job waiting for them and more jobs are available in the spring and summer months.
