Robinson said the nuclear medicine camera was originally purchased by High Plains Baptist Hospital in March when that hospital sought a joint venture with Hereford Regional Medical Center to obtain the $180,000 piece of machinery.

However, HRMC, Robinson said, is not allowed to get involved in joint ventures, so no action has been taken regarding the equipment since then, although it is being used by hospital staff here.

Khuri said the camera is currently being used 14 or 15 procedures a month.

In answer to a question from a trustee, Khuri said the camera is used hospital has been approached by the in thyroid, bone, lung, liver, spleen and phlebitis scans.

In addition, by adding a $6,000 "arm" to the camera, the hospital can begin doing thulium scans on heart patients that currently must be done in Amarillo.

The current machine, Robinson said, takes up to five minutes to at purchasing a new CAT scan deliver results of some tests, which machine and to make arrangements could endanger patients, while Khuri concerning a nuclear medicine said other procedures that could be done locally on a modern CAT scan machine are having to be done in Amarillo.

Robinson said two companies, GE and Phillips, have been in contact with the hospital about a machine, with one company sending information about how it could be placed in an existing office in the hospital.

A new CAT scanner, Robinson said, costs about $390,000 new, which is what the medical staff is urging the board to pursue.

No formal action was required on the requests and Robinson said continuing work is being done in relation to both machines.

Last month, Dr. Jesse Perales saw 371 patients, which Fowler said would have been higher had Perales had a physician assistant to help him. Former PA Ron Brock left

Hereford in September and a new PA has not been hired yet. -- Fowler reported that he has been in contact with a recruiting agency in Dallas about a new physician assistant at the clinic. Hiring a new employee through the firm would cost a $15,000 fee, but that fee is only charged if the hospital hires someone referred by the company. Fowler said the company, Roth Young Agency, told him on Tuesday that they have four or five physician assistants who might be acceptable for the job here. No action was taken on having Fowler continue seeking a PA through the search firm, but an informal consensus indicated board support.

that was the highest average he has seen in three years of association with the hospital. During October, Robinson said, the hospital had a maximum population

Comptroller's review lists 400 suggestions to reduce state costs

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) - State Comptroller John Sharp on Tuesday released a review of state government containing some 400 recommendations that he said could save $4.6 billion over the next five years.

Among the big-ticket items, Sharp has proposed cutting 11,700 state jobs within two years, reducing the state contribution to state government employees' and teachers' pension funds, and capping government job

"Our aim is to halt the runaway growth of the state bureaucracy, which has ballooned at twice the rate of the private sector in the past five years," Sharp said.

Gov.-elect George W. Bush's spokeswoman Karen Hughes said Bush applauded the report, but opposes reducing the state contribution to the teachers' pension fund.

"During the campaign he (Bush) said he felt that the state contribution should be maintained at the current level," Ms. Hughes said.

Sharp defended lowering the state contribution from 7.31 percent of an employee's salary to the constitutional minimum of 6 percent.

'There are some people who have been told this is going to cut teacher benefits. That is not the case," he

Proposals in the 685-page performance review would streamline government, improve job training, and offer parents choices to send their children to better schools, Sharp said.

The report, entitled "Gaining Ground," will be given to lawmakers to consider when the Legislature starts its session Jan. 10.

Similar government performance reviews in 1991 and 1993 resulted in $6.2 billion of savings, Sharp said.

Sharp said the growth of the state workforce - 22 percent since 1988 has gotten out of hand. He said about 11,700 jobs could be eliminated

State to need $6.3 billion VALERIA M. CASTELLANO for two years

By EDUARDO MONTES Associated Press Writer

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - Texas will need to increase its budget by about $6.3 billion to meet anticipated demands for state funds in 1996-97. according to preliminary estimates released Tuesday.

The Senate Finance Committee, which appropriates funds to state agencies, was given an overview of the budget which calls for significant funding increases in several areas, particularly in education, health services and public safety.

But despite estimates that new revenues in the same biennium will be below the new projected demand, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said he's not concerned. "I have a feeling it (revenues) will expand at the appropriate time," said Bullock, who was in El Paso for a finance committee meeting. The panel is meeting in West Texas to review complaints that El Paso County has been denied its fair share of state funds. Director John Keel also used the gathering as an opportunity to present his preliminary estimates, a standard practice before a legislative session, for needed increases. Texas' budget is currently more than $70 billion, but Keel's estimates say the state will need to come up with an additional $1.6 billion for public schools to cope with more than 200,000 students expected to come into the system around the new are the parents of a girl, Meagan biennium. Another $300 million will be required for public school facilities.

The Department of Health and Human Services, meantime, has requested some $2.5 billion in additional funds, much of which is expected to go toward Medicaid. Bullock said at least 250,000

Texans will become eligible for Medicaid during the next two years.
The criminal justice system will also take a large bite, estimated now at about $1 billion, the bulk of which is expected to go toward the state's prison system. Keel emphasized that he was only presenting figures on projected "spending pressures," and that not all tabulations have been completed. Some of the estimates were based on individual agencies' requests. "There's no question but that the budget will be the No. 1 issue (during the next session), the same as it's been since Texas was a Republic," said Bullock.

He said the state would cope with the increases in various ways, including downsizing and implement-ing reforms devised by state Comptroller John Sharp.

through attrition. Combined with a job cap on all could reach $3.5 billion by the end of the century, he said. The report also calls for consolida-

state employment, except front-line

public safety workers, the savings

tion of job-training programs. Currently, there are 9,000 employees administering 30 separate job-training programs that are overseen by 14 separate agencies, he said. Sharp also said private job-training schools should be required to notify trainees of their success rate.

"If you haven't got somebody a job since Noah's flood, students need to know that," he said.

On the education front, Sharp said public school students should be allowed to go to other schools in their district if their school has been deemed a poor performer.

"If you've got a school ... that is lousy, why should you subject that child to that?" he asked.

For higher education, he proposed a plan in which families could deposit money in a state investment fund when their children are young to pay for their college tuition later. To make government more efficient, Sharp recommended abolishing the state treasury department and cutting 80 employees at the Railroad Commission who are associated with trucking regulation.

State Treasurer Martha Whitehead just won re-election on a campaign promise to try and abolish the treasury - a move that would require two-thirds passage in the Legislature and voter approval.

"I have never seen a treasurer in my office doing anything other than drinking coffee," Sharp said. He also called for privatizing some services provided by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and conducting a review of the agency.

Legislative leaders praised Sharp's work, but didn't comment on specifics of the report.

"I know full well, that the Texas Senate will be studying the comptroller's recommendations upside and down to make the most of the Texas Performance Review," said Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock.

House Speaker Pete Laney. D-Hale Center, said of Sharp, "His suggestions have saved the state money in previous budgets and we welcome his ideas on how to further save the state's tax dollars."

"We're very excited to once again join the local chapter of the American Cancer Society (ACS) in their 'Smokeout' program," Fowler

From 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., smokers who come to the hospital will be given information, healthy snacks, and encouragement to help them make it through the day, Fowler said. During the Smokeout, smokers can take home several informational brochures and enjoy healthy snacks.

The Smokeout is a good-natured effort by the Cancer Society to encourage smokers to give up their cigarettes for one day," Fowler said. "If smokers see they can quit for 24 hours, they may quit forever."

Tobacco use is the single greatest cause of premature death in the United States and lung cancer is the number one cause of death from cancer, according to the information supplied by the American Cancer Society.

The "Smokeout," celebrated each year on the third Thursday of November, is in its 18th year. The term smokeout was coined by Arthur P. Ullaney in 1971. He created an event that asked people in Randolph, Mass. to give up cigarettes for a day and donate the money to a highschool scholarship fund. Later, Lynn R. Smith, editor of the Monticello Times in Minnesota, spearheaded the state's first D-day, or "Don't Smoke Day." The concept spread like wildfire throughout Minnesota and then blazed west to California where it was renamed the "Great American Smokeout."

With an estimated 3,000 kids a day beginning to smoke nationwide, it is time we all took responsibility to save a life. According to the ACS, tobacco use will take credit for an estimated 419,000 deaths this year in the U.S. Deaf Smith County Library. This with 10,000 new cases of lung cancer in Texas alone. In 1993's "smokeout" campaign more than 20.5 percent of smokers did not smoke or they cut down for the day; a million of them continued to reduce their smoking 1-10 days later.

To quite permanently, smokers need support from family, friends and co-workers. The American Cancer Society offers the following tips for staying off cigarettes during the "Smokeout."

-Throw out all cigarettes. -Clean out all ashtrays in your office, home and car and put them

-Discard matches; give your lighters to someone to hide. -Keep busy. Hold a pencil or pen.

Chew on carrot sticks or a sucker. -Change habits connected with smoking. Leave the dinner table soon after eating to avoid the desire to light up. When answering the phone, reach for gum rather than a cigarette.

Non-smokers are urged to adopt smokers during the "Smokeout," giving them gum, healthy snacks and encouragement during the day.

Smokers who want to quit can also call the American Cancer society's toll-free information line at 1-800-ACS-2345 to receive 31 days of tips.

Dear Heloise: When storing winter blankets, I don't have much closet space, so I fold the blankets in half and put them between my mattress and box springs. I know just where they are come winter time.

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) - Actress Shirley MacLaine isn't having much luck when it comes to her land.

MacLaine's plan to build a house on Atalaya Mountain generated a storm of controversy earlier this year and prompted a move to protect the foothills from further development.

Now, MacLaine has failed to reach an agreement on a land swap involving the 35 acres she owns in the shadow of the mountain.

Her lawyer, Earl Potter, said Friday the actress is looking into other options for the land, all of which would include donating at least 30 acres to the U.S. Forest Service.

Lady cagers win in season opener

Late Brownfield comeback spoils boys' debut

By JAY PEDEN

Sports Editor The Hereford girls' basketball team opened the season with a 50-42 win over Brownfield Tuesday in Levelland, but the hot three-point shooting of Brownfield's boys kept the Herd from sweeping Tuesday.

The Hereford boys saw a doublefigure lead wash away quickly in a torrent of treys from Brownfield, including one with three minutes left that tied the game. Brownfield hit its free throws down the stretch and went on to win 77-72.

Both games were played in the Texan Dome on the campus of South Plains College in Levelland.

In the the girls' game, Hereford suffered early on from first half jitters, coach Eddie Fortenberry said, and Brownfield led 24-22 at halftime. Many of the Lady Whitefaces have been occuppied with volleyball and had their first full basketball workout on Monday.

"The effort was there," Fortenberry said. "We missed so many easy shots. We were pulling up short. And they came out in a full-court press, and with one day of practice, we hadn't worked much on the full-court press."

Hereford turned it around in the third quarter, outscoring Brownfield 14-3 to take a 36-27 lead. The shots started falling, and the players gave a "much better effort," Fortenberry

"We played aggresively on defense and that helped us on offense," he said.

Brittney Binder led Hereford in three statistical categories with 11 points, seven assists and six steals. Mindi Davis also had six steals.

Julie Rampley scored 10 points, Catie Betzen had seven and Heather Hodges added six. Danielle Corneliusled on the boards with five rebounds.

The Lady Whitefaces open at home Friday. Plainview comes to Whiteface Gym at 7:30 p.m. (the junior varsity game will be at 6). Plainview is 0-1 after a 51-42 loss to Abernathy Tuesday.

Hereford boys' coach Randy Dean attended a district meeting in Canyon Wednesday morning and was not available for comment. Statistics were not available for the boys' team.

The boys led 47-35 at the half and 59-49 after the third quarter. Brownfield hit three three-pointers and two free throws in a span of barely more than two minutes, cutting a 61-56 Herd lead to 67-67. From that point on, Hereford could manage only two buckets and a free throw, while Brownfield hit its free throws and often got the rebounds when free throws missed.

The Herd boys' next game is Saturday in Littlefield: JV at 6 p.m.

Hereford to host 2A playoff game; Randall, Borger to play in Lubbock

Hereford will host a second-round playoff football game between Springlake-Earth and Stratford at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Whiteface Stadium. Springlake-Earth (10-1), the champion of District 3-2A, advanced to the second round with a 24-0 win over Post. Stratford (8-2), the champion of District 1-2A, advanced with a 50-23 drubbing of Memphis.

Both of District 1-4A's representatives in the state football playoffs play Friday night in Lubbock, both at 7:30.

District champ Randall (9-0-1) will play Big Spring (7-4), the runner-up of District 4, at Lowrey Field. Big Spring beat El Paso Parkland 47-21 in a bi-district game last week, while the District 1-4A teams had a bye. District 1-4A runner-up Borger (8-2) meets San Angelo Lake View (10-1), the champion of 4-4A, at Jones Stadium. Lake View whipped Timberwolves and Miami Heat got enough of losing.

Their first wins of the season left the Los Angeles Clippers as the NBA's only team with a zero in the win column.

The Hurricanes have won two national championships since Erickson became coach in 1989. They're 8-1 and ranked fifth going into Saturday's game at Temple.

Miami athletic director Paul Dee said Erickson's newly expressed willingness to consider an NFL offer may represent a change merely in the coach's public posture, rather than a strong desire for a pro job.

"I don't consider it a significant shift," Dee said.

Page 6--The Hereford Brand, Wednesday, November 16, 1994 Monday's loss may signal decline of Bills

By DAVE GOLDBERG AP Football Writer

A lot of people will be happy that the Buffalo's chances of making a fifth straight Super Bowl trip are diminishing to the point of nonexis-

What they should do is celebrate a team that, to paraphrase Marlon Brando, "coulda been a dynasty."

Only the 1950-55 Cleveland Browns, who went to the NFL title game six straight times, and the Chicago Bears, who appeared in four straight from 1940-43, have ever approached what the Bills have done. And Cleveland and Chicago had only to win a five- or six-team division to qualify in an era when the league was far more lopsided talent-wise.

The Bills had to survive a 16-game schedule in a league with legislated parity, then two or three playoff games to get to the Super Bowl. Two years ago, they had to come back age, free agency and the salary cap from a 35-3 third-quarter deficit to have diluted what was truly an beat Houston.

In other words, for four years, they won EVERY big game they played save the last.

That they haven't done that this season should only demonstrate how remarkable they are.

"It's a great group of players," says Bill Polian, the general manager of the expansion Carolina Panthers and the man who helped put the team

"And it's not even that they're declining so much, but that they don't have the supporting cast they used

That's not entirely accurate. Jim Kelly, Andre Reed, Jeff Wright, Darryl Talley, Bruce Smith, Thurman Thomas, Don Beebe and Kent Hull are all showing signs of age. That is, as they get older, they're more prone to injury, and all are playing injured. But Polian's point is well taken outstanding team.

Instead of Will Wolford, Howard enough claw. Ballard and Jim Ritcher on the offensive line, there are Glenn Parker, Jerry Crafts and Corbin Lacina. In place of Nate Odomes at cornerback is Mickey Washington.

And Pete Metzelaars is back carrying the load at tight end at age 34 because injury ended the career of Keith McKellar prematurely.

So what you get is what happened to the Bills on Monday night, when the offensive line couldn't block the blitzing Steelers, and Pittsburgh ended up with two defensive touchdowns. That dropped the Bills to 5-5 and means they will have to scramble just to make the playoffs.

"I talked to some of their players after the game, and they seemed in doubt about the rest of the season," said Carnell Lake, one of those Steelers who flew at Kelly from all

The claw used to be there. Smith will be in the Hall of Fame five years after he retires; Kelly will probably join him and so will Thomas, the best all-purpose back of the era. Hull, Reed, and James Lofton (who was the deep threat even in his late years) are on the bubble, and Talley and Cornelius Bennett will get a look.

Most of all, the guy who got them there, Mary Levy, belongs in Canton. At age 66, he retains his enthusi-

Despite a heartbreaking defeat in his first Super Bowl and blowouts in games two and three, he got Buffalo back each year, managing to hold together a collection of major egos and sometime troublemakers.

His biggest achievement was healing a potentially explosive racial problem that divided some of the team top stars.

In 1989, he dumped two players. One was an aging but useful white player who had no use for blacks. The other was a black who remains a very good player, but specialized in divisiveness - he once circulated a ball for autographs among black players only. When asked why Reed was omitted, the player replied: "He's not a brother. His mother is white and so is his wife." Few teams win championships with things like that happening So give the Bills credit.

They've seen the top of the mountain four times, when few see it once. They shouldn't be blamed for not quite getting to the peak.

College hoops start with N

By JIM O'CONNELL AP Basketball Writer

The 1994-95 college basketball season starts tonight with six opening-round games in the Preseason NIT. It will end on the first Monday night in April in Seattle.

Sit back and enjoy what's in between as a record 302 Division I teams try to get to the Kingdome. The Preseason NIT has a chance at a good final four in New York on Nov. 23. Twelfth-ranked Syracuse, No. 14 Virginia and No. 18 Alabama highlight the 16-team field.

The tournament will also be the debut of Charlie Parker as coach at Southern Cal, where he takes over for George Raveling, who retired Monday as he continues to recover from serious injuries sustained in an auto accident.

The Maui Invitational and Great Alaska Shootout each have three Top

25s in their eight-team fields. Maui has No. 7 Maryland, No. 9 Indiana and No. 16 Michigan as well as a great storyline. If Arizona State can advance to the semifinals, it would be against Michigan, Bill Frieder's first game against the Wolverines since he left just before they won the national championship

Fifth-ranked Arizona, No. 21 Oklahoma State and Nov. 22 Villanova will spend Thanksgiving in Alaska as the Shootout starts its return to the major tournaments.

Top-ranked Arkansas has five starters back from the team that beat Duke 76-72 in Charlotte, N.C., and kept the Blue Devils from their third title in four years.

The Razorbacks also have the toughest start for a defending champion in recent memory. They open Nov. 25 against No. 3 Massachusetts in the Tipoff Classic at Springfield, Mass., and then play No. 15 Georgetown in the Martin Luther King Classic at Memphis, Tenn., less than 48 hours later.

The season starts with 54 new coaches and without a single member of last year's All-America team, even though four were underclassmen.

ESPN has a 199-game schedule to lead the broadcast lineup, including a Championship Week that will decide 21 NCAA tournament berths.

That will get everybody ready for March 12 at 6:30 p.m., when the tournament bracket is announced and the office pools begin.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is my biological father. been going with "Kenneth" for almost "Harry." He divorced my mom when a year. We have been living together I was very young but kept in contact about two or three times a year as I was growing up. When I decided in my Colorado to meet his mother. late teens to allow my loving stepfather to legally adopt me, Harry was very

of the blue and sent me a couple of friendly notes. Another year passed, and he called again and send a gift for my college graduation. Over the next three years, Harry contacted me once or twice, but now I really wish that he would just leave me alone. Life seemed so much simpler without him jumping in every once in a while. When my daughter was born, it got a lot more complicated. Harry telephoned and sent gifts for her birthday and at Christmas. I didn't want to be rude, so I wrote some lukewarm thank-you notes. What really annoyed me is that he signed the cards "Grandpa." I feel guilty saying I don't want anything to do with him, since he is my father, but I just don't want the man around. I get very upset and stressed whenever I hear from him. Also, I'm sure that it bugs my mother

What should I do? Am I morally obligated to let Harry into my life even though it causes so much chaos? Or do I have the right to tell him to leave me and my family alone?

I need to know what to do before I get another call. Please help me. I'm--Feeling Suffocated

DEAR F.S.: It is obvious that your father is trying hard to make amends for the way he treated you in the earlier years. Please consider the fact that peace is better than war and love is a lot healthier than hate. If, with the help of counseling, you could get to that place, it would be well worth the time and money.

The decision must be yours, however. Should you feel that letting Harry back into your life would be viewed as a betrayal by your mom and her husband, it may be best not to risk

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a year. We have been living together for three months. He has asked me to marry him, and we are going to

I am 32 and had a previous marriage that lasted only one year. resentful and cut off all contact. At Kenneth is exactly my age and has first, I was hurt, but after a while, I felt never been married. He wants me to OK about not having him in my life. tell his mother that I am 28. He also Four years later, Harry called out would prefer that I not mention my previous marriage or that I was born a Catholic. (He is a Baptist).

These "suggestions" have given me new insight regarding my fiance's character. I am deeply disappointed, but I don't want to lose him. Yet I cannot see myself telling these lies.

Kenneth says he sees his mother only twice a year and the "misinformation" won't make any difference. Please give me your thoughts.--Greta

DEAR GRETA: Are you sure you want to marry this man? My recommendation is that you cancel the trip and tell Kenneth to find himself a nice 28-year-old Baptist woman who has never been married.

Gem of the Day: People who are always making allowances for themselves and others end up bankrupt.

NEW YORK (AP) - Don't call her a loser. Call her a babe.

That's how Ricki Lake describes her transformation from the obese star of "Hairspray" to the married, successful and slimmer-by-theminute talk-show host.

She can't wait for her starring role in "Mrs. Winterbourne," a big-budget romantic comedy directed by Richard Benjamin and scheduled for production next year.

"What I like is that the character isn't a loser who doesn't feel good about herself, which is what I was getting a lot of," Lake says in People magazine's Nov. 21 issue. "She's a 19-year-old babe. This movie puts me in a different category altogether."

Lake, 26, who at 150 on the scale is 100 pounds lighter than she was five years ago, says she wants to lose another 15 by the time she starts filming. Then, she adds, there's no reason she shouldn't be considered for the same kinds of roles as Winona Ryder and Marisa Tomei.

Operating room nurses recognized this week

Hereford Regional Medical Center is recognizing the achievements of operating room nurses this week, according to Jim Robinson, hospital administrator.

Advancing technology in the operating room and surgeons who specialize in different areas have expanded the types of surgeries that are performed in Deaf Smith County. But, new technology would be of limited use without the professional staff of operating room nurses.

That's a big reason HRMC is joining other hospitals across the nation the week of Nov. 13-19 in observing National Operating Room Nurses Week.

"The perioperative nurse is responsible for assessing the patient, preparing a sterile operative field, watching the patient's progress during surgery, and monitoring the use of all equipment and materials in the operating room," Robinson said.

Karen Dunn, RN, is the operating room supervisor. She began her career at HRMC in the medical records department where she worked for almost seven years.

With her career goal to be nursing, Ms. Dunn returned to school to receive her nursing degree in 1993 from Amarillo College. Upon the completion of nursing school, she returned to HRMC to begin working in the operating room. She was appointed supervisor this past June. expects.

Betty Hammock, LVN, has lived in Hereford since 1941. She graduated from the Deaf Smith General Hospital LVN program in 1970. Ms. Hammock has worked 12 years in OB and has been a vital part of the surgery team the past 12 years. Mary Ann Cantu, LVN, who was born and raised in Hereford, has worked in OB and the operating room for 10 years. She recently has returned to school as a part time student to obtain her license as a registered nurse(RN).

Nadine Berend, RN, joined the surgery team in March of 1994. During her 10-year tenure with the hospital district, Ms. Berend has worked in a variety of departments, including home health.
In addition to the daily routines in the operating room, the Or crew must stay current with new technology and changing methods of performing

As is true throughout the country, we have seen a tremendous increase in the number and kinds of day surgeries performed here," Dunn said. "New technologies allow many patients to return home the same day as surgery, or soon after."

"The operating room demands skilled, precision teamwork," concluded Robinson." "This team enables us to continue providing the quality of care our community

Charter is draped at meeting

The Ladies Auxiliary to Roy Wederbrook Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #4818 met in regular session recently with Betty Boggs presiding.

The charter was draped in loving memory of Marta Williams, past president, who died Oct. 16. The meeting was held according to ritual. Minutes were read and approved, the treasurer's report given and bills presented and paid.

In late October, Halloween bags with safety tips on them were distributed to the kindergarten classes at Tierra Blanca, Aikman and Northwest Schools. Some were also placed at the Hereford Credit Union for distribution to children.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Roseanne has two dates to look forward to: one in December, when she divorces Tom Arnold, and another in February, when she marries her bodyguard, Ben Thomas.

The "Roseanne" star plans a Valentine's Day wedding, her publicist, Kevin Campbell, said Tuesday. The location hasn't been decided on.

Roseanne said last week she expects her divorce to become final in December, with the couple dividing property from their four-year marriage afterward, either by settlement or trial.

Buddy poppies honoring the veterans of all wars were distributed Nov. 10. Money donated for these poppies will be used by the auxiliary in helping ill and needy veterans.

VFW District 13 Convention will be held Nov. 19-20 in Tulia. There are several worthwhile activities planned for both days. All members are urged to attend.

Preliminary plans were made for the auxiliary auction to be held Dec. 9. This is the only money-making project held by the auxiliary each year. With the proceeds the auxiliary is able to help the veterans with many worthwhile projects. There will be a free chili supper at 6:30 for all who participate in the auction. All members are asked to donate items

Members each donated $2 to the Cancer Aid and Research. This is one of the monthly required activities.

The meeting was preceded by a Mexican stack supper. The next meeting will be held Dec. 5. Supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. and the meeting will be called to order at 7:30

Members present were Betty Boggs, Mildred Clements, Doris Coffin, Linda Dutton, Dora Lea Howell, Erma Loving, Pat McNeese, Erma Murphey, Peggy Oakes, Terrye Rhyne, Saundra Sutton, Anita Vardell, Vivian Williams and Marie

American Legion honor Jess Robinson, right, commander of American Legion Post 192, presents Hereford resident and World War I veteran Ira Ott with a pin recognizing him for 65 years membership in the organization. The presentation was made Friday at the Veterans Day breakfast here. Ott joined the Ray Blakemore American Legion Post in Plainview in the early 1920s, helping name the group for the first Plainview resident to die in World War I. He left Plainview in 1921, moving to Hereford. Ott was on hand when the Hereford post was established in 1929. He has attended First Baptist Kindergarten. He moved to Amarillo with his parents in 1991. He is an honor student at Windsor Elementary

Todd appeared in "How To Eat Like A Child," "The Princess and Tea Pea," which were produced at Amarillo Little Theatre, and "The Hobbit," and "The Snow Queen," which were produced at Amarillo College Theatre School for Children.

Todd spent a week in New York City this summer studying theatre. He sampled Broadway productions and worked with theatre professionals in audition and performance

The youth is a member of the Amarillo Boys Choir and will perform with the Amarillo Symphony

Makeup techniques subject of program

Heather Johnson and Cindy Walker, owners of Merle Norman, discussed makeup for members of the Nouvelle Ami Study Club when the group met recently.

The guest speakers explained ideas on how to highlight eyes and how to use makeup properly. They also gave hints for skin conditioning. Before the conclusion of their program, they did a make-over on Julie Denton.

Roll was taken by Vice President Kayla Schilling and President Jan Reeves conducted the business session. Kim Meiwes and Kim Rogers were acknowledged as birthday honorees.

It was announced that the club's Christmas party will be held in December at the Hereford Country

Members are selling tickets for their specially decorated Christmas tree which is on display at The Atrium. Proceeds will be used to benefit the community.

Members present were Julie Denton, Dee Hamilton, Amanda Gallagher, Missy Wilcox, Shawnay Sparkman, Jan Reeves, Kayla Schilling, Wendy Roberts, Christy Henson, Jan Watts, Krista Farrell, Delayna Lowrence, DeAnn Spain, Cookie Taylor, Leah Lee, Jill Harrison, Kim Shelton, Twila Jones, Daphne Rosson, Andra Schlabs, Melissa Fox, Emily Christie, Krista Denton, Kim Meiwes, Nancy Andrews and guests, Heather Johnson, Cindy Walker and Beth Killebrew.

Vocal, piano selections performed for study club

Members of Calliopian Study Club met Thursday in the home of Mary Sue Hull, hostess, and Dorothy Ott. co-hostess.

Following a short business meeting, Kathlee Palmer introduced, Ann Meyer, soprano vocalist, and Linda Gilbert, accompanist, who presented the program. They entertained with vocal numbers and Members enjoyed Italian creme cake, nuts, hot-spiced apple cider and coffee.

Carmen Jorde was welcomed as a guest by members present: Cynthia Streun, Palmer, Jan Walser, Claudia McBrayer, Jane Gulley, Ott, Hull, Audine Dettmann, Mary Frazier, Gilbert, Irene Conway, Kay McWhorter and Wilma Nobles.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) - The property Nick Nolte and his ex-wife once planned to turn into a housing tract called Down and Out in South Hills failed to draw a single bid at a tax auction. The couple, who split up earlier this year, owed $2,161 in taxes on the house and four-acre lot, which were valued at $425,000. It was one of 3,000 properties put up for bid Monday at a county tax sale.

Before their divorce, the Noltes had proposed turning the property into a 10-lot subdivision, but local planners rejected the idea after neighbors complained.

The neighbors were particularly offended by the proposed development's name, a takeoff on Nolte's 1986 movie "Down and Out in Beverly Hills."

With no one buying the property, the Noltes now have 18 months to pay the back taxes.
