County voter plan gets surprise okayBy GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

A new primary election for commissioner of Precinct 1 of Deaf Smith County will be held on Sept. 19, in compliance with an order issued Thursday by a panel of federal judges.

In ordering the election, the panel put the stamp of approval on a compromise settlement of a lawsuit that challenged the validity of the March primary because precinct boundary lines of Deaf Smith County had not been precleared.

Deaf Smith officials were surprised by the early ruling in the case. The Commissioners' Court only approved the proposal to settle on Monday and it was forwarded immediately to U.S. Judge Mary Lou Robinson in Amarillo.

The order issued by the three-judge panel would seem to head off any further litigation over the boundaries of Precinct 1, at least for this year. Besides Judge Robinson, U.S. District Judge Samuel R. Cummings and Circuit Judge Sam D. Johnson sat on the panel.

A compressed schedule for conducting primary elections for Precinct 1 commissioner was approved by the judges. Submission of the new boundaries to the U.S. Justice Department for preclearance also was ordered.

County Judge Tom Simons said he had spoken with three of the four commissioners, Troy Don Moore of Precinct 3, Lupe Chavez of Precinct 1, and John Stribling, Precinct 1.

"We feel much better . . . the county is in a position to go forward," said Judge Simons.

Should the preclearance procedure not be completed before the election date, the judges ordered that "the proposed election schedule and new reapportionment plan is ordered into effect as an interim plan to be used in the 1992 elections only."

Judge Simons called this part of the order, "a major break."

For Commissioner Stribling, who had serious reservations about conducting an election without preclearance, the order was a welcome surprise.

In discussions of the plan to settle the lawsuit, Trini Gamez vs. Deaf Smith County, Stribling Monday questioned whether another election should be held without preclearance.

His fears were allayed by the judges' order. Stribling said Thursday that he definitely will be a candidate in the Democratic primary on Sept. 19. He was the winner by a narrow margin in the March primary, defeating Tony Castillo.

The compromise, worked out with Rolando Rios, the lawyer for Gamez, basically is a shift of residents in two areas of Hereford. Approximately 500 persons live in each area.

Moved from Precinct 2 into Precinct 1 is the Buena Vista area while an area of south Hereford will return to Precinct 2 where residents had been assigned before the redistricting process began. The Buena Vista area is adjacent to territory in Precinct 1 before the shift.

The difference in the two areas is the percentage of Hispanic population. By moving Buena Vista into Precinct 1, the number of Hispanics in the precinct rises to 64.66 percent, from 60.53 percent.

Precinct 2 Hispanic population will drop slightly, from 69.78 percent to 65.80.

The increase in Precinct 1 is calculated to improve chances of a minority candidate winning an election. The Justice Department's refusal to preclear the earlier plan complained that the Hispanic population was "fragmented" in the precinct.

By ordering the election process, the judges gave County Clerk David Ruland, who functions as voter registrar for the county, the go-ahead to begin preparing voter lists for the Precinct 1 election.

Ruland said voters affected by the change will receive new registration certificates. Prospective voters have until Aug. 20 to register to vote in the election if they aren't now.

Filing with political party chairmen will begin on Aug. 17 and continue through Aug. 28. After the Sept. 19 elections, a runoff, if needed, will be held on Oct. 3.

A question of settlement of expenses in the lawsuit still remains. Judge Simons said that part of the attorney for the county in the realignment of precincts and the litigation, will confer with Rios to reach agreement on that issue.

Bass also will forward the new precinct boundaries to the Justice Department for preclearance, a process required by federal voting rights laws.

Pilgrims wait to fill containers with water from a faucet in a wash bay at Griffin and Brand's vegetable processing facility in Hereford. The faucet is above what looks to be the Virgin of Guadalupe, an apparition of the Virgin Mary.

'Mary' site closed to publicBy JOHN BROOKS

Officials at Griffin and Brand Sales Agency here have closed access to a wash bay where a figure purported to be like the Virgin of Guadalupe appeared on a concrete wall.

Griffin and Brand officials closed public access to their property about 1 a.m. today. Officials cited unwillingness by some persons visiting the site to allow Griffin and Brand to do its business. The vegetable packer is in the middle of onion, potato and cabbage harvest in the area.

"We're right in the middle of our busy season," said A.T. Griffin this morning. "We might be able to work out something later on, but the way people were acting, we couldn't let that go on."

Other employees said the company was concerned because many children were climbing atop the concrete wall above the apparition of the Virgin Mary. Despite efforts at controlling crowds and parking, persons visiting the site just west of Hereford were parking willy-nilly on Griffin and Brand property. That limited access to the facility by trucks hauling produce into and out of the plant.

"We might be able to do something later, but right now we just can't continue," Griffin said. "We're a business and we've got to conduct our business first. These people know the whole season only lasts a couple of weeks anymore. We'll look at it when we can."

Throughout the day and into the night Thursday, thousands of persons made a pilgrimage to the wash bay. Practically, the image was likely created by a combination of rust and algae from washing vegetables in the bay. What remains a puzzle is why the image was created in the east bay while the same procedures were used in the other two wash bays.

The image drew huge crowds because it looked extremely similar to the Virgin of Guadalupe. The Virgin of Guadalupe wore a green outer cloak or robe over a red gown, her face was tilted downward and her arms were extended. To many of the pilgrims at Griffin and Brand, that's what they saw on the wall.

Persons from Hereford, Dimmitt, Friona, Amarillo and perhaps other area towns visited the site. Many collected water flowing from the faucet above the apparition in containers ranging from coffee and soft drink mugs to five gallon jugs. Some persons said the company had shut off the water, but the water continued to flow.

"Yeah, and we've had seven persons healed, too," retorted a skeptical employee on Thursday afternoon. "No, we didn't shut off the water."

Many persons brought babies and young children and dipped them in the running water flowing in front of the apparition.

"We think the water is holy," said one woman who had just held her newborn in the water. "I think it will help my baby, and my mother told me to do it, too."

There were also roses, candles and rosaries left at the site.

"I've never seen anything like this in all 39 years I've been alive," said Cruz Castillo of Hereford.

"We heard about it (Thursday) morning in Friona," said Susan Galvez of Friona. "I didn't believe it until I saw it myself. I saw something like this a long time ago, but I wasn't going to believe it again until I saw it. I was supposed to go to work today, but I just came over here."

Nadia Rincon of Hereford said the water was "like miracle water. If you have faith in it, it will cure any illness. It's holy water for Catholic people."

Mrs. Rincon said her husband, Benny, had seen another apparition of the Virgin of Guadalupe.

"He went to a ranch near San Juan (Texas) a saw it on a windmill down there," she said. "I think that one and this one are just like the Bible says, there are going to be a lot of signs in the last days, and these are signs."

Tierra Blanca gets $77,000 cash award

Tierra Blanca Primary School in Hereford will receive a $77,000 award Saturday for improvements in test scores last year.

Tierra Blanca Principal Tommy Rosson and other officials from Hereford will accept the check from Skip Meno, state education commissioner. Schools with significant gains in TAAS scores and in other areas receive money for school programs.

Tierra Blanca's third graders recorded a three percent increase in reading, writing and math test scores over the scores by third graders in the 1990-91 school year.

Rosson said how the money is spent will be up to the building's leadership team with input from the faculty.

"It will probably be applied to the purchase and installation of a computer lab, but that's just my feeling," Rosson said. "The new labs are good because they target specific skills in reading, math and writing." Rosson said students automatically progress through the program based on their work with the computer.

"We are very excited to receive the award," he said. "Tierra Blanca has taken on a new spirit of cooperation, not because of me but because we now have local, on-site leadership. We have the key input on what is needed in our curriculum. We have been emphasizing cooperative learning and whole language. Something is working because we have made significant gains."

Clinton-Gore a 'bold adventure'

NEW YORK (AP) - Bill Clinton and Al Gore today begin their "great new adventure to chart a bold new future," heading from New York to the heartland looking to topple President Bush with help from the abandoned army of Ross Perot.

"People want change, but government is in the way," Clinton said in an impassioned, personal speech Thursday night accepting the Democratic presidential nomination. For Bush, Clinton had this simple message: "If you won't use your power to help people, step aside - I will."

The speech - all 52 minutes of it - brought to a festive, footstomping close a four-day Democratic convention that adopted a moderate platform reflecting the message of its baby-boomer ticket.

"Jobs. Health care. Education. These commitments aren't just promises from my lips," Clinton said. "They are the work of my life."

His convention over, Clinton today begins what is suddenly a two-man general election race, pitting a 45-year-old governor born to a smalltown widow against a 68-year-old incumbent president born to privilege.

Gone is Perot, whose decision not to run shifted the turbulent 1992 political terrain yet again, and left the millions in his volunteer band without a candidate.

"I am well aware that those who rallied to his cause wanted to enlist in an army of patriots for change," Clinton said. "We say to them: Join us - together we will revitalize America."

Lest he leave Clinton with a convention spotlight for his pitch to Perot supporters, Bush interrupted a fishing vacation to make his own entreaty.

"A lot of people that supported Ross want to see the kinds of changes that I want to see," said Bush, whose surrogates attacked the Texas billionaire repeatedly in recent weeks. "No, I don't think so," Bush said when asked if those attacks would undermine his overtone.

Instant polling Thursday night showed Clinton with a big charge from his convention and the Perot decision - USA Today-CNN and ABC both found Clinton leading Bush by 23 points.

Significantly, the data showed Clinton winning back Democrats who had defected to Perot. Clinton also was viewed by the electorate as more likely to change government than Bush.

"It's a long way to November," Clinton said as he left the podium - mindful that Michael Dukakis left Atlanta four years ago way ahead of Bush, only to lose in a landslide.

Whether or not it lasts through Bush's convention next month, let alone through November, Clinton's momentum was helping: the party raised $4 million at a post-convention event and delegates left New York

CLINTON AND GORE

... Taking their show on the road today suddenly optimistic about a candidate who lagged three weeks ago.

"I'm motivated and ready to go," said Evelyn Williams of Los Angeles, who arrived a Jerry Brown delegate and left a Clinton-Gore booster. "We have to come together for our party."

Clinton and Gore were leaving, too. After a morning rally, the Arkansas governor and Tennessee senator were off for a bus caravan through eight states, destination St. Louis, the stops in between mostly pockets of swing voters who were among Perot's biggest boosters.

As they introduced themselves to the nation, both Clinton and Gore quoted from the scriptures, praised their wives as dynamic, new-age women devoted to education and children, and told personal stories of anguish.

Clinton spoke of being born three months after his father died, and of confronting his abusive alcoholic stepfather; Gore of his son's near death three years ago after being struck by a car. Their pain, they said, shaped their public life.

News Digest

World/National

NEW YORK - Bill Clinton and Al Gore head for the heartland to begin their "crusade for change." In an impassioned speech with a personal touch, Clinton makes an appeal to Ross Perot's supporters and says President Bush won't change America: "Step aside, I will."

NEW YORK - Once again, Democrats held arms aloft and stood before their convention, filled with euphoria and brimming with confidence. It was a familiar tableau. Four years ago, Michael Dukakis was 17 points ahead in the polls.

CAIRO, Egypt - Israel's steps to halt new settlements in the occupied territories could clear the way for the first Egyptian-Israeli summit in six years, government sources say.

SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina - In a 20th-floor apartment, "The Brush" targets the enemy daily through the telescope sights of a hunting rifle. On an average 12-hour shift the 27-year-old former artist may fire 10 rounds, sometimes as many as 20. The Serb enemy is only a few hundred yards away.

CATTARAUGUS INDIAN RESERVATION, N.Y. - Seneca Indians blocked an expressway and fought with state police on two reservations where Indians have rebelled against new taxes on gasoline and cigarettes.

NEW ORLEANS - Serious crime is down on the city's buses and streetcars - and arrests for snacking are up. Many offenders are children, and their parents are upset.

Texas

NEW YORK - The last of the balloons dropped from the rafters of Madison Square Garden have been popped. The last delegates have found their way out of the cavernous arena. And, Texas delegates to the Democratic National Convention are returning home today, full of energy and enthusiasm for the all-Southern, all-baby boomer ticket.

AUSTIN - Education Commissioner Lionel "Skip" Meno says Texas must "break the mold" in helping elementary students who are in danger of being kept back a grade.

HOUSTON - A graphic artist has been arrested for printing fake auto license plate stickers described by authorities as the best counterfeit stickers they had ever seen.

SAN ANTONIO - The arrival of a Mexican jet at soon-to-be closed Chase Naval Air Station has brought cheer to Beeville officials who have been seeking industry to replace the military base.

AUSTIN - An American Indian group says an Ice Age woman's remains deserve a decent burial rather than scientific study.

HOUSTON - Managers of struggling AppleTree Markets Inc. have said slim employee participation proves a strike called by union leaders is a failure, but union officials vowed the walkout would pick up steam as it enters its second day today.

NEW YORK - Texas Democrats are already making pitches for Ross Perot supporters left in the lurch after the Texas billionaire backed away from the race for the White House.

DALLAS (AP) - He first consulted the two men who've been at his side for 20 years; but in the end, Ross Perot decided alone to abandon his presidential aspirations.

Bruised, battered and perhaps worst of all embarrassed, Perot bowed out Thursday, concluding he couldn't win a tumultuous three-man White House race.

He made the decision late Wednesday night at his mansion, having listened to - and ultimately rejected - the advice of his most trusted aides, who still believe he could have won.

The end had been secretly brewing for several days as Perot feuded with top staff and his phenomenal groundswell movement appeared to have crested.

His co-chairman resigned, his poll standing dropped and Perot was upset at the negative reaction some blacks had to an NAACP speech in which he referred to "your people."

While the Democrats exalted in their New York convention this week, Perot decided it was simply time to cut his losses.

"My sense is that over the past couple of days this thing has been developing in his head, based on a few things I heard him say," said campaign manager Hamilton Jordan.

One sign that Perot had begun to seriously consider quitting was a discussion Wednesday about what would happen if no candidate won a majority of electoral votes and the decision was thrown to the House.

Perot said it was the realization that he may not win an electoral majority that drove him from the race.

"I have concluded that we cannot win in November, and that the election will be decided in the House of Representatives," Perot said. "Throughout this effort, we have said repeatedly that our objective is to improve our country, not disrupt the political process."

"I'm an engineer," he said later. "I just rationally looked at the facts. You don't make good decisions with emotions, you make good decisions just looking at the facts."

Perot said that the troubles of the last week "had nothing to do with it." But close associates said Perot realized that he had shortcomings as a candidate.

"I think he might have been temperamentally qualified to be president of the United States," said Jim Squires, Perot's top media advisor. "I don't think he's temperamentally qualified to come out as a first-timer and take on this brutal system that someone must take on in order to run."

The defining moment may have been last Saturday, when Perot addressed the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People - his first in-person address to a crowd that was not entirely composed of campaign volunteers. He addressed the audience as "you people," and said "your people" were hurt the most by economic decline and told stories that some found patronizing from the Texas billionaire.

Jordan said Perot called him from his airplane returning from the Nashville, Tenn., convention.

"He was angry at the thought he had said something that would hurt or offend any other person," Jordan said. "He was anguished about that - not at his performance, but that he had said something that would offend another human being. It upset him. It bothered him."

By Wednesday, the day was filled with "serious" discussion over whether Perot should remain in the race. The agreement that campaign co-manager Ed Rollins would resign complicated this week's picture, aides said, but they insisted it was unrelated.

Afraid that word of Rollins' move was leaking out, campaign chairman Tom Luce addressed a hastily called news conference and pledged that the campaign was on track, that Perot's plans had not changed and that to Perot, events of July had little bearing on a November election.

"I had no inkling yesterday that Ross was going to decide not to run," Luce said.

That night, Meyerson, Luce and Perot met at Perot's home. No hired professionals, no media experts, no volunteers. Just three trusted business associates who had been together for two decades.

"We pointed out the various possibilities," Meyerson said, suggesting that Perot had to either wage an all-out offensive, or drop out.

But Perot ultimately decided alone, about 10 p.m.

"I think we should break this thing off," Meyerson quoted Perot as saying.

PEROT

"He had two bad choices," Meyerson said. "One was, would he hurt the volunteers who put so much effort into this? He would hate to do that. Would he do something that, in his judgment, was not good for this country? That's a larger question. He came to the decision that the country came first."

Perot canceled his scheduled campaign appearances in Minnesota and Virginia, issuing a statement that he wanted to work on issues and rebuild his staff.

"I thought he had more guts than to drop out this early," Dick Rose, vice chairman of Perot's Arizona volunteers, said in Dallas.

Stickers by artist described 'best' ever

HOUSTON (AP) - A graphic artist has been arrested for printing fake auto license plate stickers described by authorities as the best counterfeit stickers they had ever seen.

Daniel Lasco was arrested Thursday by Texas Department of Public Safety Trooper Billy Don Ivey on charges of felony tampering with government records.

Lasco, 29, told police he's been printing a "few" fake license plate stickers a month for the last three years to supplement his income.

Lasco was being held in the Harris County Jail late Thursday in lieu of $10,000 bond.

J.C. Mosier, spokesman for Precinct 1 Constable Jack Abercia's office, said an informant tipped off authorities Tuesday.

Deputies from Abercia's office and investigators from the Texas Department of Public Safety executed an arrest warrant for Lasco and a search warrant Thursday for his workplace, a lighting company.

Silk screening units for fake license plate stickers for the years 1991, 1992 and 1993 were found in Lasco's work area, along with scraps of discarded stickers, Mosier said.

Mosier and DPS investigators agreed the phony stickers were the best they'd ever seen. One DPS officer said the fakes were almost undetectable.

Lasco told police he had sold the fake stickers for $20 each, well below the usual rate for renewals. The fakes also let buyers circumvent the new law requiring proof of insurance by car owners at tag renewal time.

Secret Service agents were notified after authorities found a silk screen unit for a $20 bill in Lasco's work area. No decision was made about federal charges because it appeared the suspect had not put any fake bills into circulation, authorities said.

The quality of the $20 bill silk screen was not good, and Mosier said Lasco told officers he had been experimenting when he built it.

Officers don't think anyone at the lighting company knew about the illegal printing, which it appeared Lasco performed after work hours, Mosier said.

New Orleans arrest for snacking on buses upsets teens' parents

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - Serious crime is down on the city's buses and streetcars - and arrests for snacking are up. Many offenders are children, and their parents are upset.

Among 39 people charged in May with eating on buses or streetcars were Corinna Sandifer, 15, and her 14-year-old sister, Natalie Johnson. Both were taken to jail and fingerprinted.

"It was real scary," Natalie said. "We were both crying in the police car. They put Corinna in this little room with no windows except for a little one in the door."

Police said many of the snacking arrests have involved juveniles, but they could not say how many.

The crackdown has upset some parents, who feel that arresting children can be traumatic. "She's having a very hard time. She doesn't want us to talk about it, she cries and leaves the room if we do," Barbara Sandifer said of Corinna.

A special nine-officer police unit has patrolled the city's buses and streetcars since 1980, on the lookout for serious crimes such as theft as well as illegal eating and drinking.

Sgt. Jeffrey Vappie, the unit's second in command, speculated that arrests for snacking have gone up in recent years as serious crime has dropped. The number of serious crimes dropped from 150 in 1980 to 17 this year, he said.

"I think people are making too much of this. We enforce all the laws covering the transportation system," Vappie said. "We have complaints all the time about people eating on the buses and leaving trash and soft drink cans on them. If it got out of hand, it could be a serious problem."

Officers usually issue a summons to adults, but state law requires them to arrest anyone under 17 who commits a crime.

The maximum sentence is 90 days in jail, but judges have been ordering small fines instead. Police Sgt. Marlon DeFilio said scolding youngsters won't work, because there is no way to know if they are repeat offenders.

Vappie defended the arrests of Natalie and Corinna, who were taken into custody by two plainclothes officers for eating frozen desserts when they boarded a bus. Although Corinna and Natalie were not handcuffed, Vappie said they should have been.

"Police policy is that anyone taken into custody is to be handcuffed," he said.

Once at the station, the girls said, they were fingerprinted and held in a cell.

In another case, 12-year-old Mary Moore was arrested for eating cheese curls on a bus.

"Here's this little girl that's never been in trouble and they tell her to quit crying while they're fingerprinting her," said her grandmother, also named Mary Moore.

Barbara Sandifer said police should come up with alternatives to arresting children, such as citing the parents or making the youngsters clean buses on Saturday.

"With all this crime going on, they go after my daughters like this," she said. "Why arrest good kids and give them a record?"

Vappie's response: It's the law. "Why is everyone picking on me and my men for it?" he said. "What's the big deal? ... Don't violate the law and you won't have a problem."

Life!

Ann Landers

DEAR READERS: I recently read a little book that made a very big impression. It is "The Measure of Our Success—A Letter to My Children And Yours" by Marian Wright Edelman, founder and president of the Children's Defense Fund.

This 95-page book is filled with a great deal of wisdom. The author's advice to her own three sons is so superb that I want to share some of it with you. Here are a few excerpts:

This is no free lunch. Don't feel entitled to anything you don't seat and struggle for.

If you see a need, don't ask, "Why doesn't somebody do something?" Ask instead, "Why don't I do something?" This world needs more shepherds and fewer sheep.

Never work just for money or power. They won't save your soul or build a decent family or help you sleep at night.

Don't be afraid of taking risks or being criticized. If you don't want to be criticized, don't say anything, don't do anything and don't be anything. Don't be afraid to fail. It's the way you learn to do things right.

Remember that your wife is not your mother or your maid, but your partner and your friend. Raise your sons to be fair to your own and other people's daughters and to share parenting and household responsibilities. Teach them to clean up their own mess, pick up their own towels and clothes, take their dishes off the table and put things back where they belong for the next person.

Be honest. Struggle to live by what you say. Be moral examples for your children. If you lie, they will lie, too. If you snicker at racial jokes, so will they.

Teach them good manners. "Please" and "thank you" are very important words. Being considerate will take them further in life than any college degree.

Let's be clear on the fact that tobacco and alcohol are killing more people than cocaine. It's time for consumers to speak out and put a stop to the marketing of sickness and death to our children.

Be confident that you can make a difference. Don't get overwhelmed. Sometimes when I become frantic about all I have to do, I stop and remind myself to take each day as it comes and to break the formidable challenges into manageable pieces.

Never think life is not worth living, no matter how hard it gets. Harriet

Beecher Stowe wrote, "When you get into a tight place and everything goes against you and you think you can't hang on a minute longer, don't give up, for that is the time and place the tide will turn."

Choose your friends carefully and stay out of the fast lane. You were born God's original. Try not to become someone else's copy.

Remember that you are in charge of your own attitude. The only person you can control is yourself.

You have a role to play every minute of the day. Have you ever noticed how one example, good or bad, can prompt others to follow? How one illegally parked car can give permission for others to do likewise? How one racial joke can fuel another? How one sour person can ruin a meeting? Well, the opposite is also true. An anonymous sage correctly said, "The world needs more people who do not borrow from integrity to pay for expediency, whose handshake is an ironclad contract, who are as honest in small matters as in large ones, who know how to win with grace and lose with dignity."

Dear Readers, this book is a magnificent blueprint for living. It is published by Beacon Press. The price is $15. If your favorite bookstore is sold out, ask that a copy be ordered for you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was appalled at the accident-scene horror stories recounted in your column.

Three years ago, I was on my way to a family wedding. I had a terrifying accident on an interstate highway and totaled my car. The first person on the scene held my hand and said a prayer. The second, an off-duty paramedic, knelt amidst the broken glass to hold my head so I wouldn't move my neck and injure my spine. A quick-witted state patrolman had traffic stopped and called an ambulance.

The ambulance crew got me to a hospital where the staff took wonderful care of me. They plugged in a phone so I could let my family know I was OK. When I was released from the hospital, my purse, with all its contents, along with my suitcase and papers that had been loose in the car, was returned to me. Later, when I went to the junkyard to get personal items out of my car, everything was there.

The world is full of honest, caring, wonderful strangers. Tell them they are loved and appreciated.—M.C. in Kalamazoo

DEAR KAL: Beautiful. I'm so glad you wrote to balance the picture.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This informative piece appeared in the May 1992 Harvard Health Letter. I learned a lot from it. It could save lives. Please print it.—Boston

DEAR BOSTON: I printed something similar several years ago, but the information is worth repeating. Thank you. Here it is:

Thunderstorms are most likely to develop on hot, humid days. A good indicator of electrical activity in the area is uncharacteristic static during a radio broadcast. In the event of a storm, these simple precautions can minimize risk:

1. Take a shelter, if possible, inside a building or car. Close the windows and doors. Keep away from water and gas pipes, fireplaces, stoves, radiators, electrical appliances and telephones. Postpone washing the dishes or taking a shower or bath.

2. If outdoors, don't take refuge under any tall, isolated object such as a tent or a tree (although standing under a group of trees shorter than others in the area is better than being in the open). Put down any object that might conduct electricity: umbrella, rifle, bicycle, golf club, carbon-fiber fishing pole, kite, metal bat, or the like. Remove metal or conductive items such as a helmet, a hearing aid, glasses, jewelry, hairpins, barrettes or metal-cleated shoes.

3. If outdoors in an open area, seek low ground. Curl up on your side, preferably in a ditch or gully. Lying on a rubber or plastic raincoat provides insulation. Avoid railroad tracks, isolated machinery, electrical fences, flag and telephone poles, and bodies of water.

4. If swimming, return to shore; if boating, head toward shore, take shelter under a bridge or stay close to a cliff.

5. If part of a group, spread out.

Quilt Show planned in Borger

The Hutchinson County Museum in Borger will hold its Eleventh Annual Quilt Show Aug. 1-31. The show has been a popular arena for many local quilters including works of yesteryear, some as much as 100 years old.

The museum's quilt collection will also be on display. This will include two recently quilted tops, completed this year by the Museum's volunteers, that were pieced up to 40 years ago.

Quilts entered in the competition will be judged according to the following categories: best modern quilt, most unique quilt, best hand quilted and best machine quilted. Past winners may also be exhibited in a special noncompetitive class.

The museum will begin taking quilts for display July 27. Exhibitors must sign a loan-release form and agree to leave the quilt on display during the entire month of August.

Cash prizes and ribbons are sponsored by the Magic Plains Arts Council. The Arts Council established the show in 1981 at the Museum and has sponsored it each year since.

The Quilt Show is free for entrants and viewers alike. For more information write the Hutchinson County Museum, 618 N. Main, Borger, Texas 79007 or call (806)273-6121.

It's a fact

Hawaii is one of the world's most beautiful places as well as one of the friendliest. More and more of those who visit America's Paradise made return trips, say the experts at Pleasant Hawaiian Holidays a travel company that has sent more than 3 million travelers to Hawaii. Among the attractions of the Islands are many distinctive features.

The Hawaiian Islands were formed by volcanoes between 25 and 40 million years ago.

Black sand beaches may be found on the Big Island of Hawaii. They are the result of the explosion of debris that occurs when hot lava touches cold seawater.

Waipuhia Valley Falls on the island of Oahu are called the "Upside Down Falls" because its waters are blown upwards and become a mist before reaching land.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Singer John Phillips of the Mamas and the Papas was in good condition after a liver transplant to replace the organ he destroyed with years of alcohol and drug abuse, his doctor said.

"He's doing well. He's completely alert and moving around," Dr. Ronald Busuttill said Thursday. "He should be able to go back to a normal pre-illness lifestyle - as long as he doesn't drink or take any drugs."

Phillips, 56, who had the operation July 4 at the University of California Los Angeles Medical Center, has vowed to avoid the substances that led to near-fatal liver disease, Busuttill said.

Stirring wins put all-stars in tournament

Tournament bound

Louis Hernandez delivers a pitch in the first game of Thursday's doubleheader sweep for Hereford's 14-15 Babe Ruth all-stars. Hernandez was one of the pitching stars, while first baseman Jacob Lopez (background) hit a two-run homer to help seal the second win.

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

With the score tied at 10-10 in the top of the eighth and a tournament berth on the line, Michael Marquez smacked a two-run double to give Hereford the lead. Then--just in case--Jacob Lopez launched a two-run homer.

That gave Hereford's 14-15-year-old Babe Ruth all-stars a 14-10 win over Canyon's all-stars Thursday at the Kids Inc Complex. Since Hereford won Thursday's first game 9-7, the Hereford stars advance to the regional tournament, which starts July 25 in Andrews. Hereford had to win both games Thursday because it had lost to Canyon 11-4 Tuesday in the first game of the best-of-three series.

Marquez' hit came shortly after midnight in the first extra inning. It was a sinking liner to right that skidded past the sliding rightfielder. Wade McPherson and Joe DeLaCruz scored on the play. Ronald Torres singled to left, but Marquez was thrown out at home on a perfect relay throw from the third baseman. Next, Lopez stepped up to the plate and pulled the ball high and down the left field line.

The extra two runs gave pitcher Louis Hernandez a four-run cushion going into the bottom of the eighth. It turned out that he didn't need them, but they were welcome on a wild night of scoring.

Hereford and Canyon traded runs in the first game. Hereford scored once in the bottom of the second, and Canyon scored twice in the top of the third. During the next two innings, Hereford tied it twice and Canyon took one-run leads twice. In the bottom of the fifth, Hereford took the lead for good with two runs as Torres walked and scored on Lopez' double, and Lopez scored while Chris Castro was in a rundown. Hereford led 5-4.

Canyon lost its composure in the bottom of the sixth, the only really badly-played frame of the night. Marc Haney, Raymond Alaniz, Gregg Kalka and Michael Marquez all scored on multiple Canyon errors, and Hereford led 9-5.

Canyon made it interesting in the top of the seventh. Sonny Perez had pitched well since the third inning, when he relieved starter Hernandez, but in the seventh he gave up a single and walked three to give up a run. Kalka came on and--after a wild pitch let in one last run--shut down Canyon for the save.

Hereford started the second game with four runs in the top of the first. That looked like a nice cushion until Canyon came back and scored four in the bottom of the inning.

Hereford scored one more in the second--Alaniz doubled and Marquez singled him in--then Canyon took a 7-5 lead in the bottom of the inning.

Floyd leads British Open

GULLANE, Scotland (AP) - He's good enough to spank the young kids on the tour. He's old enough to join his pals soon on the senior circuit.

Ray Floyd doesn't know which way he'll turn when he hits The Big Five-Oh in September. For the moment, though, he's delighted to be making a charge toward a career Grand Slam at the British Open, the only major he hasn't won.

Floyd's classy, record-tying 64 at Muirfield - 7 under par - in the first round Thursday deepened his conviction that he's never been more in command of his game.

No one who saw him artfully, almost nonchalantly, birdie eight holes would dispute him. His final birdie on the 550-yard No. 17, the one that brought him a share of the lead with Steve Pate, was typical.

Floyd hit the shortest tee shot of his group, 20 yards behind Nick Price, 10 yards behind Tom Kite. Unfazed, Floyd hit a 3-iron through the green to the fringe, then chipped beautifully within a foot of the hole before tapping in.

Floyd strolled through the whole round like that, looking so relaxed in his bright red vest over a short-sleeved white shirt. Dramatic charcoal, sun-framed clouds threatened, and the wind kicked up briefly, but for the most part he played as easily as the gentle breezes brushing the heather and dune grass.

"I am playing better than I have ever played in my career," Floyd said, not lightly dismissing such earlier triumphs as the 1976 Masters, the 1969 and 1982 PGAs and the 1986 U.S. Open.

"Age to me is a number - it doesn't really matter."

The only number that mattered was the 64 that matched Pate and put them a stroke ahead of Ian Woosnam and Gordon Brand and two strokes up on Nick Faldo and three others on a day when more than a third of the field broke par.

In 121 British Opens, only three other players ever shot 64 in the first round, the last Roger Davis at Muirfield in 1987.

Floyd has been around long enough, and has lost leads often enough, not to get too cocky over his score.

"You cannot win a tournament in any one round except the last," he said, "but you can lose it in any of the four rounds with a bad score."

Yet he could hardly suppress his excitement about getting in a position to win. Nor could he ignore the significance of what he is trying to achieve by completing the career Grand Slam, something only Gene Sarazen, Ben Hogan, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player ever did.

It would also put Floyd into the record book as the oldest British Open champion. That mark belongs to "Old" Tom Morris, who was 46 when he won in 1867. His son, "Young" Tom Morris, became the youngest winner at 17 in 1868.

Floyd had his chances in other British Opens, but either blew them on his own or was blown out by others. In 1987 at Muirfield, he was two shots behind Faldo midway through the final round, but fell apart on the last nine as Faldo pulled away.

Ryan getting better luck; Rangers win

By The Associated Press

When he wasn't winning earlier this season, Nolan Ryan was still pitching well enough to put numbers in the victory column. Now the numbers are finally falling into place. "Once he settles in, he's tough to beat," Baltimore pitcher Rick Sutcliffe said of the streaking Ryan, who beat the Orioles 5-2 Thursday night.

Ryan (4-3) overcame a shaky start and allowed but two hits over seven innings for his fourth straight victory since enduring a career-worst 13-start winless streak. In the process, Ryan tied Phil Neikro for 12th on the all-time victory list with his 318th.

"I was so inconsistent the first three innings that after that, I just really tried to throw strikes and get ahead of the hitters," said Ryan, baseball's all-time strikeout king who walked six batters and only struck out four. "I think the fastball got better and I threw a higher percentage of strikes with my curveball in the later innings."

Ryan gave up a double to David Segui in the second and a single to Mike Devereaux in the third. Floyd Bannister relieved to start the eighth, got one out and was replaced by Terry Mathews. Jeff Russell got his 22nd save by pitching the ninth, allowing the third Baltimore hit of the game.

Rafael Palmeiro hit a two-run homer off Sutcliffe (10-9) to break a 2-2 tie in the fifth.

Twins 7, Red Sox 6

Minnesota's Greg Gagne had three hits, including the tiebreaker in the sixth.

Chili Davis, Kent Hrbek and Shane Mack hit home runs for the Twins. Carl Willis (4-2) went one inning to get the win in relief of Kevin Tapani. Rick Aguilera pitched the ninth for his 27th save.

Mike Gardiner (3-10) was the loser.

Royals 3, Indians 2

George Brett's two hits included his 622nd double and the Royals took advantage of a poor Cleveland defense for a 3-2 victory that ruined Jose Mesa's debut with the Indians.

Hipolito Pichardo (4-4) scattered five hits through six innings, striking out one and walking three.

Mesa (3-9) pitched shutout ball every inning but the fourth, when his defense betrayed him.

White Sox 5, Brewers 4

George Bell singled home Tim Raines with the winning run in the 12th inning.

Raines led off with a single off loser Dan Plesac (3-3). After Robin Ventura fouled out, Frank Thomas walked to set the stage for Bell.

Athletics 4, Tigers 0

Kelly Downs and two relievers combined on a two-hitter and just-reactivated Rickey Henderson hit a home run leading off the first.

Making his third start since being signed by the A's as a free agent on June 30, Downs (1-1) had a no-hitter through five innings before Milt Cuyler led off the sixth with a line-drive single to center.

Angels 3, Yankees 2

Melido Perez tied a season high with 11 strikeouts, but walked Gary DiSarcina with the bases loaded in the bottom of the ninth, giving the Angels a victory.

Rene Gonzales started the winning rally with a two-out infield single, his third hit of the game. He took third on a single by Lee Stevens and Perez, (8-8), walked pinch-hitter Ken Obkberfell.

DiSarcina then took four straight balls to make a winner of Steve Frey, (4-1).

Blue Jays 7, Mariners 2

Jeff Kent hit a three-run homer during a five-run rally in the eighth inning.

Seattle starter Randy Johnson (5-10) left after giving up a leadoff single to Joe Carter in the eighth. But relievers Brian Fisher, Juan Agosto and Jeff Nelson were unable to halt the rally, which included RBI singles by pinch-hitter John Olerud and Devon White.

Kent's homer, his fourth of the season, came on an 0-2 pitch from Nelson.

Jack Morris (11-3) went seven strong innings for the win. He limited the Mariners to six hits - four of them infield singles - struck out five and walked six.

Rangers give Harrah job

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Billy Martin would have been proud.

On Thursday, hours after the Texas Rangers stripped the 'interim' tag from his title for the remainder of the season, manager Toby Harrah began decorating the clubhouse office he inherited when Bobby Valentine was fired last week.

The first items out of Harrah's box were a photo of his family, a team picture with the 1972 Rangers, their first year in Arlington, and a painting that the late Martin gave him the day he was fired as Texas' skipper in 1975.

The painting is Joe Grande's "Texas Ranger," a tribute to the lawmen of the Wild West.

"This is my home. I started out here when this franchise first started," Harrah said on his first full day as Texas' 12th manager. "That painting right there, when Billy Martin got fired he gave it to me as a gift. It was too big for him to take, so he gave it to me."

"I kind of thought it appropriate. Billy would like that, having it back here again."

Harrah said Martin had given him the painting "because he liked me. Because he was my friend... We were a good fit."

Toby Harrah and the Texas Rangers have always been a good fit. Twenty of his 26 seasons in professional baseball have been spent with the Washington-Texas organization.

He was the first star the Rangers had when the franchise moved to Arlington from Washington, D.C. in 1972. A gritty, aggressive infielder, he represented the struggling club at the All-Star Game in '72, '75 and '76.

Astros' sale nearly done

HOUSTON (AP) - Representatives of businessman Drayton McLane Jr. and Houston Astros owner John McMullen are expected to resolve "major obstacles blocking the sale" of the club today in Houston, a television station has reported.

Sources told KRIV-TV that McMullen and McLane were not expected at the meeting. However, most hurdles to the deal were expected to be resolved, leading to a sale agreement, the sources said.

McLane, president of Temple-based McLane Co. Inc., reportedly has offered McMullen more than $100 million to buy the Astros and other assets, including the Houston Sports Association's lease on the Astrodome and some of HSA's hotel.

McLane declined comment on the report, while McMullen did not answer phone calls to his New Jersey home.

Late Wednesday, McLane canceled today's self-imposed deadline to close a deal.

Rangers sign top draft pick

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Rick Helling has found fortune. Next month he searches for fame.

Helling, the Texas Rangers' top draft pick, signed a contract Thursday, one week before he departs for Barcelona to help the U.S. baseball team try to capture the gold medal in baseball.

Terms of the deal weren't revealed, but it is believed Helling received a signing bonus of about $400,000.

"We're not only thrilled about getting Rick signed, but we're very thrilled and proud that Rick Helling made the Olympic club and will be pitching in Barcelona," said Sandy Johnson, assistant general manager in charge of scouting.

Helling, a right-hander from Stanford and the 22nd player taken in the June amateur draft, gave up his senior season to sign a contract with Charlotte in the Class A Florida State League.

He is the club's all-time leader in runs (582) and walks (668) and ranks second in games, at-bats, hits, RBIs, extra base hits, total bases and stolen bases.

He hit a career-high 27 homers in 1977, the year he started the only triple play in team history.

Texas sent him to Cleveland for Buddy Bell in December 1978, but after five seasons with the Indians and one with the New York Yankees, Harrah returned in 1985 to close out his career with the Rangers.

He retired after the '86 season and was named manager of the Triple A Oklahoma City 89ers, whom he coached to back-to-back fourth-place finishes in '87 and '88, his only managerial experience before taking over for Valentine on July 9.

Harrah's good friend Valentine promoted him to the major league coaching staff in 1989, and for three seasons he was first base and infield coach.

Then, this year, Valentine promoted him to dugout coach. "I like Toby Harrah," Valentine said after his firing. "Sure, I was grooming him. I didn't want to groom him for MY job, but I was grooming him, and I like him a lot."

Valentine's not the only one. The players like him. "Almost all were pulling for him to get the job. 'I think it's a good decision,'" said pitcher Jose Guzman. "Toby's been with us for a long time. He knows the organization, everybody likes him. I think it's going to be great playing for him."

Shortstop Jeff Huson said the hiring made sense because an outsider, particularly from the National League, would have had to learn the league and the players and the organization.

"And we can't afford that, not in the middle of the season when we're in a pennant chase."

Harrah "basically said, 'Go out and play, and play hard and have fun. Because that's something we really haven't had too much of this year is fun,'" recounted Huson.

Harrah has quickly put his stamp on the lineup. He's been starting rookie Jeff Frye at second, speedy rookie Donald Harris, a draft pick of the Dallas Cowboys, in center and Juan Gonzalez in left, a problem spot for Texas.

He also promoted Perry Hill, a minor league fielding coach in the Rangers' organization, as the club's new first base coach and moved Orlando Gomez into the dugout, a move applauded the team's mother lode of Latin players.

Harrah says he's learned something from every coach and manager he ever played for. "I second-guessed so many of them, I've always thought I could manage like them," he joked.

He especially treasures his memories of Martin. "I sure enjoyed playing for him," Harrah said.

"I played for him for two years. He was a manager who was relatively close to his players. He'd go out and drink beer with you and at practice the next day, he'd be on your case. And then he'd be back out drinking beer with you."

But he said the pressure isn't on him, it's on his players, and that's where his people skills come into play.

"Good players make good managers," he said. "Great pitching and defense make great managers." With that, Harrah returned to the paperwork on his desk, trying to find ways to improve the pitching and bolster the defense.

Drabek, Bucs clip Cubs

By The Associated Press

If every season started after the All-Star break, Doug Drabek would be a lock for the Hall of Fame.

Drabek, who usually sizzles in the second half, pitched three-hit ball over eight innings as the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs 2-1 Thursday night.

The only run off Drabek (8-7) came on a pinch homer by Derrick

May in the sixth inning. Drabek struck out seven and walked two while continuing his career pitching pattern of great performances after the All-Star game.

Elsewhere, it was Los Angeles 7, Philadelphia 5; St. Louis 5, Cincinnati 1; Montreal 7, San Diego 4; San Francisco 6, New York 4.

Braves 4, Astros 2

At Houston, Steve Avery pitched eight solid innings and Terry Pendleton had three hits and two RBIs for Atlanta.

Avery (8-7) allowed eight hits, struck out one and walked three before being replaced by Alejandro Pena with one out in the ninth. Pena finished for his eighth save.

Loser Brian Williams (3-1) went six innings, giving up four runs on eight hits.

Cowboys open camp today

AUSTIN (AP) - The rookies are on board but nine veterans were expected to be missing when the Dallas Cowboys open their two-a-day training camp practice grid at St. Edward's University today.

Veteran players without contracts Thursday included wide receiver Michael Irvin, center Mark Stepnoski, tight end Jay Novacek, defensive ends Tony Tolbert and Jim Jeffcoat, linebackers Ken Norton and Vinson Smith, cornerback Garry Lewis of Alcorn State, and safety James Washington.

Safety Ray Horton came to terms shortly before camp opened as did Bill Bates, who plays strong safety, special teams, and linebacker.

Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson wasn't uptight about his missing veterans.

Johnson said "you can't control players not under contract. It would be easier if they were here. We will just coach the players who are here."

"We want to be as good as we can be and the only way you can do that is with everybody's help. It's the only way to be the best."

Johnson also announced that running back Ricky Blake will miss at least the first five games of the season because his broken hip has yet to heal properly. "I've seen the X-rays with three screws in his hip and we don't want to take any chances by bringing him back too early," Johnson said.

Also on the physically unable to perform list were safety Greg Briggs of Texas Southern, offensive lineman Todd Jones of Henderson State, linebacker Mel Foster of Iowa, and wide receiver Tim Daniels of Florida A&M.

Johnson said Blake's absence will put added incentive on developing Curvin Richards as a backup to Emmitt Smith.

"Richards is talented and hasn't been given enough credit," Johnson said.

The Cowboys did have all their rookies signed before camp started and owner Jerry Jones boasted "we may be the only team in the NFL that accomplished that."

The Cowboys didn't sign 12th round draft pick Donald Harris, the centerfielder for the Texas Rangers, but said he was a special case. Harris has decided to play baseball for the time being.

Johnson, who predicted the Cowboys would be in the playoffs last year, said he would settle for nothing less than a strong playoff performance this season.

"I think we're good enough to go into the playoffs and have success," he said. "Our schedule is more difficult but I think we'll have a better team."

Dallas reached the second round of the NFL playoffs with a 17-13 victory over the Chicago Bears. Dallas was routed 38-6 by Detroit to end its season.

Dallas will practice at St. Edwards until July 28th before departing for Tokyo and an exhibition game against the Houston Oilers.

"The Tokyo trip will be a disruption but we'll just have to catch up with our work when we get back," Johnson said.

Jones said the NFL "drafted" the Cowboys to go on the trip but added "we'll have some enthusiasm for it."

Dallas will hold its annual Blue-White scrimmage at 1 p.m. on Sunday and has scheduled practices on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at St. Edwards against the Los Angeles Raiders.

The Cowboys and Oilers will scrimmage in San Antonio on Saturday and in Austin on Sunday before leaving for Japan.

ALL-STARS

Gregg Kalka, Hereford's starting pitcher, settled down and allowed only two baserunners in his next three innings. Hereford couldn't score either for two innings but broke through in the top of the fifth. Torres, Lopez and Castro had consecutive singles to start the inning, and Torres scored on Castro's hit. Lopez scored on a wild pitch, and Castro scored on Kalka's infield single. Kalka scored on two errant pickoff throws by the Canyon pitcher. Hereford led 9-7. Canyon took the lead in the sixth.

They led off with consecutive doubles, and Armando Zambrano relieved Kalka with men on second and third. One scored on a balk, and the other scored on a double. With one out, the runner on second stole third and scored on a wild pitch. After a pair of singles, Hernandez relieved Zambrano and closed down the rally.

Hereford tied it back up in the top of the seventh. Chris Castro started it off with an infield single. Gabriel Guerrero grounded to short, forcing Castro at second, but beat the double play try. The throw got away, and Guerrero went to second. He went to third on a wild pitch, and, on the same play, scored on the catcher's throwing error.

Hernandez flew up a two-out double in the bottom of the seventh, then gave up a line drive which was hit well but at Guerrero in center. After Hereford scored four in the top of the eighth, Hernandez set down the Canyon hitters in order.

America's best legitimate advertising buy is still the local newspaper that is involved in your community. Junk mailers don't contribute a dime to the betterment of Hereford. They take and don't give back.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS STORY

"Everybody Already Knows My Store And What I Carry."

Sound Familiar?

Advertising is news about the marketplace, if you don't advertise, you're telling consumers there's no news from your store. But your competition is fighting for the public's interest with regular ads; if you want to keep your share of the market, you need to be in the same arena, bidding for the business. You need to advertise in the newspaper. Plus, people move out of the area and new people move in. Advertise to bring new customers into the store. Sell your store and your service through newspaper advertising.

NOT CONVINCED?

Newspaper advertising is unlike any other media choice. You're reaching a friendly, receptive audience with your advertising message. So receptive that they pay to have the paper delivered to their home. No wonder consumers consider newspapers the most believable advertising medium.

Newspaper advertising can help your business. It can increase sales and in a competitive market, it can give your business and edge over the other guy.

Don't tempt fate. Join the many successful businesses who know what works for them and what doesn't. Advertise in the newspaper and get results.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

ENEMIES, NOT FRIENDS!
MOSES' ADMONITION TO THE CHILDREN OF ISRAEL TO STAND SEPARATE FROM HEATHEN WAYS REMAINED A PART OF THEIR HERITAGE DOWN THE AGES. EVER SINCE THEIR DEPARTURE FROM EGYPT TRADITION DEMANDED THE HEBREWS AVOID FRATERNIZATION WITH PAGAN WORSHIPERS. STAYING WITHIN THEIR OWN FAITH, IT WAS THOUGHT THAT ONLY BY THIS MEANS COULD A TRUE WORSHIP OF GOD REMAIN SACRED AND PURE, BUT THE STRINGENCY OF THEIR TEACHINGS CAUSED MUCH TROUBLE AND MISUNDERSTANDING WITH THE PEOPLE WITH WHOM THEY CAME IN CONTACT. IN THEIR WANDERINGS THEY MET MANY PEOPLE AND THE TEMPTATION TO DEVIATE FROM THE STRICTNESS OF THEIR LAWS WAS ALWAYS PRESENT. ALMOST A THOUSAND YEARS LATER MOSES' STERN INSTRUCTION WAS FRESH IN THEIR MEMORY. AS IN THE CASE OF ZERUBBABEL, LEADING THE JEWS IN THE REBUILDING OF THE TEMPLE AT JERUSALEM, A DELEGATION OF SAMARITANS ARRIVES OFFERING HELP.....

...THE SAMARITANS SUGGEST THAT THEY HELP THE JEWS TO BUILD THE TEMPLE FOR, THEY SAY, "WE WORSHIP THE SAME GOD." ZERUBBABEL, THE LEADER OF THE JEWS, KNOWS THAT A GREAT DANGER LIES IN THIS CRAFTY SUGGESTION, FOR, IF HE ACCEPTS THE HELP, THE SAMARITANS WILL ALSO HAVE ACCESS TO THE TEMPLE AFTER IT IS BUILT AND SOON WICKED, PAGAN PRACTICES WILL CREEP INTO THE DAILY LIFE OF THE JEWS—HE ANGERS THE DELEGATION BY COLDLY REFUSING THEIR OFFER!

IF YE WILL NOT BE OUR FRIENDS, THEN YE SHALL BE OUR ENEMY!

ONCE AGAIN MOSES' MANDATE TO THE JEWS GIVES THEM FRESH DIFFICULTIES WITH THEIR NEIGHBORS THE SAMARITANS.
