Gaines non-committal about picking winner

Tascosa coach Gary Gaines said he had an idea which team would win!

But, hoping not to make either mad at him (because he had to play both next year) he wouldn't reveal his thoughts concerning tonight's key District 3-5A confrontation between the Herd and Plainview, set for 7:30 in Whiteface Stadium.

Gaines did say this, however:

"Both teams have outstanding talent. Plainview's line has more strength and size, but perhaps Hereford's offensive and defensive line is a little quicker.

"Plainview's defense has been underrated all year," Gaines added.

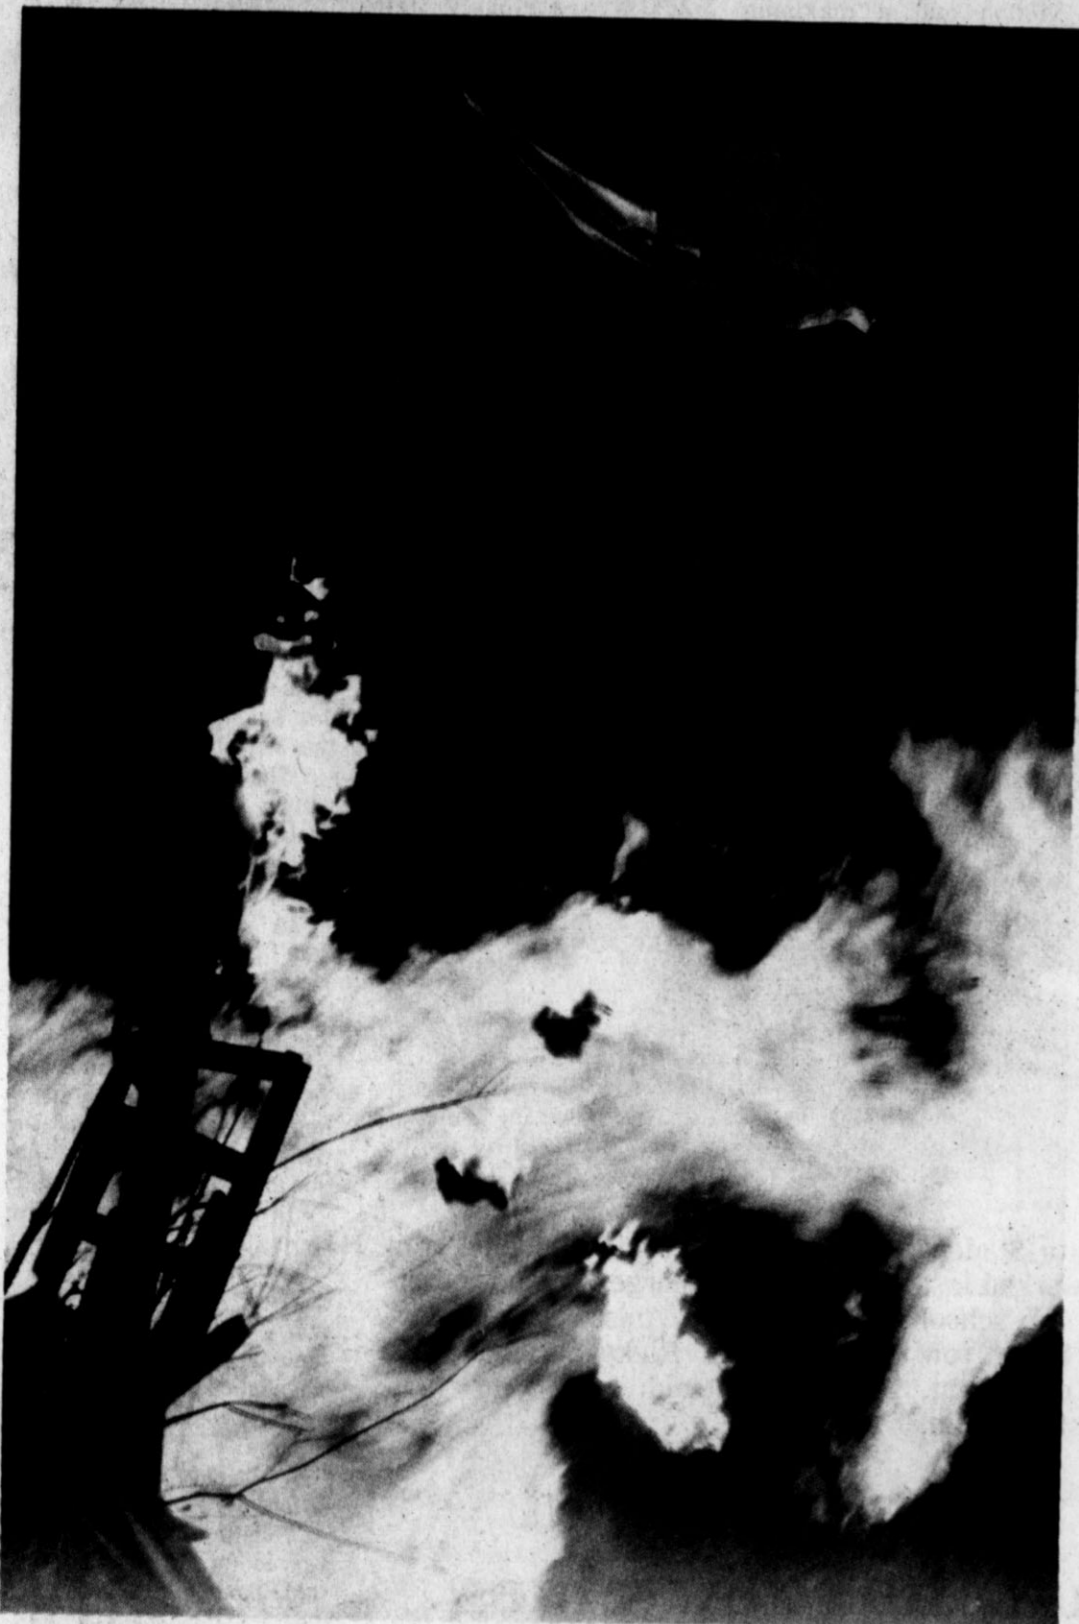

Tascosa is the only common opponent for both the Herd and Bulldogs. And, the games were remarkably similar. Plainview thrashed the Rebels, 55-28, after leading 48-7 midway through the third period.

Hereford last week trounced Tascosa, 49-0.

Portable bleachers, for perhaps the first time ever, have been moved into the stadium for tonight's game, hoping to accommodate an expected overflow crowd.

Plainview is 5-0 on the season and Hereford 5-1. In district play, the Bulldogs are 4-0, while the Herd is 3-1.

The Bulldogs lead the overall series, 14-7, and have won five of the last six meetings. Hereford, which advanced to the 5A semifinals last season, won last year's encounter, 9-6.

Hot Dot

Herd fans burst out in cheers as flames licked an Angry Red Dot flag atop a two-story bonfire heap Thursday night. The blaze ate up a stuffed Plainview Bulldog and melted a football helmet. Fire Marshall Jay Spain, whose crew was ready to contain the fire if necessary, said the blaze was probably 1200 to 1500 degrees. The crowd cheered, sang the school song and did the bunny-hop dance to get spirited for tonight's district football clash. (Brand Photo)

Plant shaken by blast after telephone threat

TORONTO (AP) — A truckload of explosives blew up outside a suburban Toronto plant that makes guidance systems for the U.S. cruise missile, moments after police received an anonymous telephoned threat, authorities said today.

The fiery blast Thursday night injured several people, wrecked the front of the plant, shattered windows and hurled debris hundreds of yards, witnesses said. The plant is owned by Litton Systems Canada Ltd., a subsidiary of Litton Industries Inc., of Beverly Hills, Calif.

The explosion came minutes after police received an anonymous telephone warning, and less than a day after a judge ruled that Litton executives could not be forced to testify at the trial of local anti-war activists.

"I don't know the details about what was said on the phone, but shortly after our men arrived it exploded," a police spokesman said.

"The truck was parked and when it exploded it just blew the front part of the building away," said firefighter Jim Williams of the the Borough of Etobicoke Fire Department. "Apparently there were some people in the building and ambulances have taken them to a hospital."

There was no immediate word on the number of casualties or the extent of their injuries.

Williams said 10 trucks and 40 firefighters rushed to the scene about 11:30 p.m. EDT, and quickly extinguished the blaze caused by the bombing.

Police said fragments of a box found at the scene indicated the bomb was made of dynamite. Initial reports said the truck was full of explosives.

The plant has been the scene of several anti-nuclear protests recently.

Polish rioting erupts anew

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Rioting exploded again in Nowa Huta after police tear-gassed mourners at a memorial service for a steelworker mortally wounded by police gunfire in a pro-Solidarity protest, informed sources said today.

The riots erupted as fugitive labor leaders urged Poles in Warsaw's biggest plants to strike in sympathy with others who risked police bullets and tear-gas to protest the banning of the Solidarity union.

There were no immediate details of the latest rioting in Nowa Huta, a steel-producing suburb of Krakow, 160 miles southwest of Warsaw.

Official sources said the disturbances continued until about 2 a.m. (8 p.m. EDT Thursday).

Mourners returned today to a memorial for the slain steel mill electrician, but there were no reports of violence as police blocked streets and clouds of tear gas hung in the air, the sources said.

Officials say the 20-year-old man was killed and nearly 100 people injured in the bloodiest rioting so far on Wednesday in Nowa Huta.

Bodgan Wlosik died Thursday, one day after he was shot by a plainclothes police officer, the official PAP news agency said. It said the of-

Ex Mafia figure speaker Saturday

Former Mafia figure Joe Donato, twice tried for murder and now a converted follower of Christ, will speak at the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship Saturday evening at the community center.

The evening will begin with a buffet supper at 7 p.m., with the meeting to begin at 7:45. The meal, catered by Caisson House Restaurant, will cost $3.75 per plate.

Donato, associated with the underworld for 15 years, was converted to Christianity in March, 1972. A full-time evangelist, Donato has ministered to jails, prisons, churches, and schools throughout the United States and as far away as Europe and India. In addition, his testimony has been shared with thousands via radio, television, and the news media.

"Joe Donato is alive today because of his faith, and God's word, were stronger than gangland guns," fellowship president Richard Schlabs said. "We are proud to have him share his exciting testimony of the transforming power of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ."

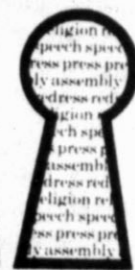

"We invite everyone to join us at the meeting Saturday night."

Up to 23 million tons

Russians to get more grain

By JIM DRINKARD
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, under heavy pressure from Republican farm-state congressmen, announced today he is letting the Soviet Union buy up to 23 million tons of grain this fiscal year.

And he said the United States will guarantee delivery for any grain purchased by the Soviets in November and delivered within 180 days, even if an embargo is imposed for foreign policy reasons.

Reagan announced the decision in a radio speech to the farm belt that was delayed 15 minutes by technical problems with a phone line.

The 23 million tons would be 15 million tons above the current maximum level the Soviets could import without additional approval.

An administration official, requesting anonymity, said there was no certainty Moscow would seek the higher amount, which would mean the United States would supply more than 55 percent of Soviet imports.

Agriculture Secretary John R. Block told reporters he would stick by his prediction the Soviets would buy 18 to 20 million tons of grain.

Reagan called the embargo imposed by the Carter administration in January 1980 after the Soviets occupied Afghanistan "mistaken," and said it eroded confidence in the United States as a grain supplier.

"We will honor our word," he said, announcing that agriculture officials were authorized to make available the 23 million tons in U.S.-Soviet meetings to begin in Vienna, Austria, in two weeks.

"We can't guarantee the Soviets will make these purchases, but we know they're shopping," Reagan said. The Soviet made a major wheat buy from Canada this week and purchase talks are going on in France.

This week, the Agriculture Department lowered its prediction of Russian grain imports from 44 million tons to 40 million tons for the current crop year, giving rise to speculation that the Soviets may not buy as much as the administration is willing to offer.

Sources said the announcement would irritate European allies because the administration penalized Europeans for selling gas pipeline equipment to Moscow while America tries to increase grain exports.

The announcement, less than three weeks before election day, also was being labeled by some as a blatant political move. "It's a political thing because of the election," one Republican congressional source conceded.

Automobile cuts fuel wholesale prices drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fueled by sharply falling automobile costs, prices at the wholesale level fell in September at an annual rate of 1.7 percent, the government said today.

The monthly decline, the fourth this year, also was driven by lower food and energy costs, the Labor Department said in its new report on the Producer Price Index for finished goods.

Prices for new cars tumbled 6.3 percent from August and costs for light trucks were off 3.5 percent as dealers cut prices to make room for 1983 models, the report said.

Food prices, partially reflecting abundant crop harvests, fell 0.5 percent in September, the second sizable drop in the past three months.

Gasoline prices dropped 0.9 percent in September after rising in each of the previous three months. The cost of home heating oil fell 1.6 percent after a smaller decline in August.

The new figures meant that for the first nine months of the year inflation at the wholesale level was running at an annual rate of 3.1 percent. If that rate held steady for the rest of the year, it would be the smallest increase since the 2.2 percent rise recorded for all of 1970.

Producer prices — one merchandising step before the prices paid by retail customers — had surged 7 percent in 1981 and 11.8 percent in 1980.

Economists have attributed the better results on inflation to the stifling recession and the worldwide oil glut as well as bumper crops.

In September alone, producer prices dipped a

Rare tremor shakes Dalhart

DALHART, Texas (AP) — A minor earthquake that rattled windows and dishes in the northwest corner of the Panhandle was only the second on record for the region, a geophysicist said.

The tremor, centered about 10 miles south of Dalhart, occurred at 7:53 a.m. CDT Thursday. The earthquake's magnitude registered 3.9 on the Richter scale, authorities said.

Waverly Person, a geophysicist at the Earthquake Information Center in Golden, Colo., said the last earthquake to hit the area — and the only other one on record — took place on March 11, 1948.

"We didn't have any damage reports," said Dalhart Police Chief C.L. Sanborn. He said his dispatcher told him, "It felt just like a sonic boom. Rumbled a little bit, felt like a big train was coming through and that was the extent of it."

The Richter scale is a measure of ground motion as recorded on seismographs. Every increase of one number means a tenfold increase in magnitude. Thus a reading of 7.5 reflects an earthquake 10 times stronger than one of 6.5.

An earthquake of 3.5 on the Richter scale can cause slight damage in the local area, 4 moderate damage, 5 considerable damage, 6 severe damage. A 7 reading is a "major" earthquake, capable of widespread heavy damage; 8 is a "great" quake, capable of tremendous damage.

The San Francisco earthquake of 1906, which occurred before the Richter scale was devised, has been estimated at 8.3 on the Richter scale.

Rollover Scene

Rescue and ambulance crews were knee-deep in cotton as they worked to free Dennis Rickman from the wreckage of his pickup Thursday night. Rickman's right shoulder was broken and he was in shock at the scene, however vital signs stabilized by the time the ambulance reached town. The rollover four miles south on U.S. 385 occurred around 7:30 p.m. Rickman was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo and was reported in satisfactory condition early today. (Brand Photo)

Reagan mistakenly endorses woman

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the big moment came for President Reagan to endorse Robert C. Smith's bid for the House of Representatives, the president told a rally of Republican faithful to vote for Lois Beaulieu.

Reagan made televised remarks via satellite to 11 GOP gatherings around the country Thursday night, answering a question submitted in advance from each location.

The ninth question came from Ms. Beaulieu in Manchester, N.H., where a rally was being held for Smith's bid to unseat incumbent Democratic Rep. Norman D'Amours in the 1st District.

In answering her question, Reagan flubbed his line, endorsing her instead of Smith.

Ms. Beaulieu, a local GOP activist, asked the president what can be done about congressmen who had "deceived the public" by co-sponsoring a balanced budget amendment to the Constitution and then voting against it on the House floor just before the election. She said D'Amours was one of those congressmen.

Illegal alien ordered to die for shooting

HOUSTON (AP) — Five months after entering the United States, a 20-year-old illegal alien from Mexico was sentenced to death in connection with the shooting deaths of a policeman and a passing motorist.

A state court jury deliberated for 2½ hours Thursday before deciding Ricardo Aldape Guerra should die by injection rather than serve a life prison term.

The sentence will be automatically appealed.

Guerra wept into a red bandana after an interpreter translated the jury's verdict. "I am not guilty," said Guerra, his voice cracking.

He is the 11th criminal defendant in Harris County this year to be sentenced to death.

Guerra was found guilty of capital murder capital murder Tuesday in the July 13 slayings of Officer James D. Harris and Jose F. Armijo, who was fatally shot while driving through the area where the policeman was murdered.

Brass warns squatter to get off air-base

WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — The U.S. Army says it is prepared to use force, short of tanks and infantry, to evict an 81-year-old rancher who has barricaded himself inside an old homestead he says was taken from him 40 years ago.

Military brass on Thursday warned Dave McDonald of Socorro that if he doesn't give up his vigil, he could be led off in handcuffs.

McDonald, armed with two rifles and an old pistol, returned to his old 640-acre ranch site at this top-secret missile range at dawn Wednesday.

He and his niece strung barbed wire around the dilapidated ranch house and erected signs saying, "Deeded Land, No Trespassing" and "Road closed to U.S. Army."

Army officials Thursday served papers to McDonald asking him to leave.

Jim Eckles, a White Sands spokesman, had said base officials would evict McDonald, and his niece, Mary McDonald, 32, of Carrizozo on the barricaded campsite on Thursday.

But the officials decided to delay any action until Maj. Gen. Niles Fulwyler, the base commander, returned from out of town.

McDonald is angry over a dispute with the government over his claim to the 640-acre spread in the northern reaches of the vast range.

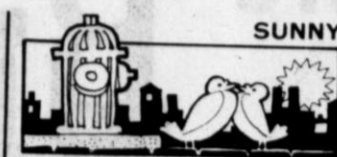

Atomic war would wipe out America

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Physicist Dr. Edward Teller said Wednesday that an atomic war would kill half of all Americans and the United States would cease to exist as a dominant society.

Teller, speaking at Texas A&M, said nine out of ten Soviet Union citizens would survive a nuclear exchange because that country has a highly developed civil defense program that includes mass evacuations.

Teller, sometimes called "the father of the H-bomb," was a member of the Manhattan Project which developed the atomic bomb during World War II. He later helped produce the more powerful hydrogen bomb.

Racehorse Haynes is confused

Peers say case not 'loss'

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — For Richard "Racehorse" Haynes, an attorney unaccustomed to losing, the verdict in the lurid Pam Fielder murder trial was little more than a bummer.

But a number of his peers insist the outcome rates no worse than a "non-victory" on the Houston lawyer's cluttered courtroom scorecard.

"I'm puzzled and confused and I don't understand it," grumbled Haynes after the jury assessed his client a two-year prison sentence Tuesday for the summertime 1981 slaying of her gynecologist husband, Dr. Darwin Fielder.

"But I never claimed to know why jurors decide the way they do."

Despite his misgivings, the jury did reject prosecutorial demands for a murder conviction and a maximum penalty of life in prison.

Instead, the panel convicted her of voluntary manslaughter and then assessed the minimum prison sentence, which it could have probed.

Mrs. Fielder, 38, maintained that she shot her husband in self defense after he threatened to kill her for exposing his bizarre sexual proclivities.

Whatever, several lawyers contend the verdict was more triumph than tragedy for Haynes, recognized by many as the state's top criminal trial lawyer and among the best in the nation.

"It's a victory," Jeff Kearney, a lawyer and courtroom observer, said flatly.

"It isn't a loss at all. That's ridiculous," agreed Jack Strickland, a former prosecutor who opposed Haynes in the marathon murder-for-hire trials of Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis.

"The man (Fielder) was shot seven times at point-blank range. And she has been found not guilty of murder."

Strickland pointed out that the manslaughter ruling carried "the same range of punishment (2 to 20 years) as possession of cocaine or stealing an $11,000 car. It was not a loss at all."

Prosecutors Mike Worley and Betty McCutchan quite logically disagreed.

"I'd call it a clear victory for the criminal justice system," said Worley, 33, a seven-year veteran of the Tarrant County District Attorney's office.

"I'm pleased that the jury assessed some time in the penitentiary...and I feel like it's a definite victory for the state," said Ms. McCutchan, 29.

"The prosecutors...were trying Racehorse Haynes and not Pam Fielder," said Strickland, "and it's an easy thing to do. But the defendant got hurt not hardly at all."

Another veteran of the Cullen Davis legal skirmishes, former prosecutor Joe Shannon, summed it up this way:

"Whether or not it was a victory for Haynes I don't know. Anytime his client goes to the slammer, he considers it a loss."

"In a sense, when she didn't get probation, it was a victory for the state. Voluntary manslaughter is a killing that occurs in the heat of passion and with adequate provocation. In that type of situation, it makes it very easy for the defense to argue probation and the jury to give it."

"Probation is a legitimate second step."

Still, said Shannon, with a trace of black humor, "two years is the minimum sentence for pumping seven slugs into a professional man. In fact, 2-to-do is pretty damn minimal."

But he said Haynes sees it differently.

"He's the kind of guy who strives for all-out victory," said Shannon. "He goes after the take-no-prisoners victory. He wants to win it all."

"And that's the way it should be. I know he considers it, if not a loss, at least a non-victory."

Haynes, 54, compiled an impressive string of legal triumphs in Houston before gaining statewide attention in the bribery trial of Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher in the early 1970s.

Mutscher and two associates were convicted in a case linked to a bank and stock fraud case known widely as the Sharpstown scandal.

Although Haynes and his colleagues technically lost the case, Mutscher never served a day in prison and is now a county judge in Washington County.

Later, Haynes represented Houston plastic surgeon John Hill in a murder case that was immortalized by Thomas Thompson's bestseller "Blood and Money."

Agents say task force overdue

By RICHARD T. PIENCIAK
Associated Press Writer

President Reagan's national narcotics task force is an idea long overdue, law enforcement agents say, especially since a federal crackdown in southern Florida has encouraged drug traffickers to take their business elsewhere.

"It's really welcomed," said Lt. Joseph Newman, head of the Baltimore Police Department's narcotics task force. "It appears to me this is a little more than a finger in the dike solution. It's been needed for some time."

On Thursday, Reagan announced in Washington that federal officials would blanket the nation with 12 regional task forces. The $200 million effort would add up to 1,200 federal agents and investigators in Boston, New York, Baltimore, Atlanta, Houston, St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego.

"Our commitment to this program is unshakable. We intend to do what is necessary to end the drug menace and cripple organized crime," Reagan said.

Across the country, news of the federal plan was received with open arms, especially in the South, where officials have been calling for help since March when Vice President George Bush was appointed head of a Cabinet-level task force to fight drug trafficking in southern Florida.

The Florida effort has pushed drug smuggling operations to other coastal states like Louisiana and Georgia, officials say.

"It's like squeezing a balloon," said Jimmy Davis, a Georgia state investigator. "You squeeze one area and it pops out in another."

Ray Vinsik, head of the DEA office in Atlanta, said recently that the Bush task force probably increased smuggling in Georgia. "It's put an awful lot of pressure on drug smugglers to try to find other ways to get drugs into the United States."

Jean Phillips of the Louisiana state police said, "We not only appreciate but we expect assistance from the federal government. Because drugs come from outside the country, she said. "This is not a state problem. This is an international problem."

The federal task force will "make a tremendous difference in our ability to investigate and prosecute" drug cases, said Assistant U.S. Attorney Steven Nelson in San Diego, considered one of the nation's chief narcotics smuggling points.

"San Diego always has had a tremendous problem with narcotics traffic," said Nelson. "We're the first port of the United States on the West Coast so, geographically speaking, drugs are going to touch this area in major quantities."

"We're elated. We'll finally have the manpower and equipment," said Rudolfo Ramirez, a federal Drug Enforcement Administration spokesman in Baltimore.

Commander Lawrence Forberg, of the Chicago Police Department's narcotics division, said, "Like everybody else, we need the resources. We need the manpower."

Poland

ficer fired two shots in self-defense after being "assailed and brutally knocked to the ground" during vicious street fighting at Nowa Huta, a model Communist city erected in the 1950s.

Workers pelted police with firebombs, rocks and steel bolts Wednesday and police used tear gas, water cannon and flares.

PAP said a 67 police officers and 27 civilians were injured in that clash and "few dozen police vehicles were damaged." It said 21 policemen were hospitalized, two of them in serious condition.

Police tear-gassed mourners at a makeshift memorial to Wlosik at a Nowa Huta church Thursday, PAP said. The attack on the mourners apparently sparked the renewed rioting.

Wlosik's death was the first officially acknowledged fatality in riots spawned by the outlawing of Solidarity last week. The Soviet bloc's first independent labor federation claimed 9.5 million members in a nation of 35 million before the government suspended it under martial-law last Dec. 13.

Unconfirmed reports attributed to a Polish ham radio operator said two other people died in rioting Tuesday evening at the Baltic seaport of Gdansk, birthplace of Solidarity, and a government journalist claimed a worker distraught by the upheavals killed himself by diving into a vat of molten steel at Katowice.

Prices

seasonally adjusted 0.1 percent, compared with 0.6 percent increases in July and August, the report said. They also fell by 0.2 percent in February and by 0.1 percent in March and May.

If prices fell for 12 straight months at September's 0.1 percent, the yearly decline would be 1.7 percent. The annual rate reported by the Labor Department is based on a more precise calculation of monthly changes than the figure the department makes public.

The new report said that for

the 12 months ending in September, producer prices rose 3.6 percent.

The department provided these details on producer prices last month:

— Food prices fell 0.5 percent after rising a small 0.1 percent in August and tumbling 1.5 percent in July. Prices declined for pork, poultry, soft drinks, beef, veal, and processed fruits and vegetables. Prices were up for fish, fresh fruit, sugar, dairy products and coffee.

Grain

Block denied Reagan's announcement was politically motivated.

Anticipating criticism of his decision, Reagan said, "Now, some will say that by offering to sell the Soviets more grain, we're sending a weak signal. That's wrong."

"We're asking the Soviets to give us cash on the line for the food they buy," Reagan said. "We're not providing them with any subsidies or pumping any western currencies into Soviet pockets."

The address appeared intended to sooth farmers who need a larger export market to help boost sagging grain prices. It came in advance of Reagan's campaign swing through Illinois and Nebraska next week.

The current grain agreement calls for the Soviets to buy a minimum of 6 million metric tons of U.S. grain each year, with the option of buying an additional 2 million tons without further negotiation.

If more than 8 million are wanted, Moscow has to get U.S. approval.

Bentsen accused of tainted revenues

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Backers of Republican senate candidate Jim Collins have charged that U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen Jr. and some of his family illegally "cashed in" on lands in Hidalgo and Starr counties through the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve Program.

Collins, a U.S. representative, faces Bentsen in the November general election.

Richard Harvey of Tyler, chairman of the Texas Conservative Union, said his research showed Bentsen, his father, and uncle, the late Elmer Bentsen, received almost $1 million from soil bank payments between 1957 and 1966 on land allegedly sold to individuals directly under their influence.

The land later returned to the ownership of the Bentsens, Harvey said Thursday during a Capitol news conference.

"This is an old charge, brought up many times over many years and thoroughly discredited, that will prove damaging to no one but James M. Collins," said John Mobley of Austin, chairman of the Business for Bentsen campaign organization.

Harvey said the Texas Conservative Union, which he said has about 1,000 members, has made no endorsement but that he personally is supporting Collins.

He said that in 1963 and 1964 — during the administration of "Bentsen's political ally, Lyndon Johnson" — a quiet compromise was made allowing Bentsen to keep about $550,000 received between 1957 and 1960 and partial payments of about $80,000 for 1961.

Car windows bashed

Two cars were vandalized while the occupants attended a high school pep rally in a field near La Plata and Fifteenth Street. One car, parked in the Nazarene Church parking lot, had the passenger side of the windshield bashed in, causing about $250 damages. A car parked in the alley of 300 Hickory had about $500 done to its windows.

Police suspect that four sawhorses, a row of picket fencing and some scrap lumber stolen from 303 Avenue H was taken by high school students gathering fuel for the pep rally bonfire.

Another report was received of car glass broken in the Stanton Junior High parking lot.

Investigation of an unpaid bill at a local garage led to another clue on a stolen vehicle. A man who used a stolen credit card for identification told the shopkeeper he would be paid the next day, however the customer did not show up.

The bill was for $78.53. Police filed reports on two minor accidents and issued 17 citations.

Ann Landers
Gay son troubles parents

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We have a problem that is destroying my husband and me. Five years ago our son Joe informed us that he is gay. We have told no one in the family because we are too embarrassed.

Joe lives in a distant city. Our daughter is getting married in a few months, and Joe wants to bring his lover to the wedding. Our daughter knows nothing about his lifestyle, and we don't want to tell her. She would be shocked.

We want Joe at the wedding, but we do not want his friend. We've seen him bristle when relatives ask, "Why aren't you married — what are you waiting for?"

Please tell us what to do. Our daughter will be very hurt if her brother doesn't attend her wedding. — On Needles And Pins In Florida

DEAR NEEDLES AND PINS: The experts are in sharp disagreement as to what causes homosexuality. Parents of homosexuals need to understand that these children do not choose to be different.

Your son is letting you know he is out of the closet and is asking you to accept him as he is. I hope you will permit him to bring his friend to the wedding. If you refuse, you might force him to make a choice. If it comes to that, he may choose his friend and put you out of his life permanently. Is this what you want?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm so tired of reading about traffic deaths in the paper. You recently ran a letter from a woman whose husband was killed by a drunk driver. It was heart-rending, but the bottom line has to be, "Was he wearing his seatbelt?"

People ride around with children climbing all over the car, making them potential human projectiles. Our local paper reported two young children died when they were thrown from the BACK seat of the car. In my eyes it was murder — by the parents who didn't strap them in.

I'm not going to rehash the statistics because the public has heard them all. But statistics aren't numbers, they are people — lying in cemeteries and in hospital beds.

There is a wonderful film available from state safety councils called "Room to Live." It makes many good points, one of which is that police at accident scenes should stop telling people they were lucky they didn't have their seatbelts on in a particular accident. God is the only one who knows what might have happened.

Maybe the freedom we have in this country has gone too far when it allows us to commit murder and suicide on the highways. My role? A driver education teacher who is trying to save lives. Now, may I make one final statement: If I should die on the road, it will be with my seatbelt on. I became a true believer when I heard the line in "Room to Live" by the narrator. He said, "In my 20 years as a state trooper, I've never unbuckled a dead man." — Crusader In Morristown, N.J.

DEAR MORRIS: Thanks for a socko letter. And now I just hope the state safety councils around the country have the film "Room to Live," because there is sure to be a load of requests for it.

DEAR ANN: If my brother, age 79, has money in the bank and something happens to him (like death), can I get it out? What would I have to show? — Need To Know In N.Y.

WTSU phonathon involves students

More than $11,000 has been raised after only five nights of calling during the West Texas State University Student Foundation Phonathon.

During the month of October, members of various campus organizations are calling friends and alumni of WTSU nationwide to collect pledges to help meet the WTSU Student Foundation's goal of $40,000.

Twelve to 15 volunteer callers make up a calling team, and call Sunday through Thursday from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. to collect pledges for departmental scholarships, junior college transfer student scholarships and funds for a senior weekend during February.

Norma Steinle, a junior journalism major from Hooker, Okla., is chairperson for this year's phonathon.

"The response we've gotten in these first few days has been fantastic, and the positive attitudes of our alumni reflect the quality of WTSU," said Steinle.

"I'm very pleased with the enthusiasm that the students have shown," said Lila Vars, associate registrar and WTSU Student Foundation adviser, "and this phonathon has really been a great experience for me."

The WTSU Student Foundation is a group of leaders selected from various campus organizations.

Works on display by local artists

The public is invited to go by and see the display of art at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame this month. Works are by members of the Hereford Fine Arts Association.

H.F.A.A. members who have not put their art on exhibit may still do so by taking a piece of their art or craft to the Cowgirl Hall of Fame at their earliest convenience.

The Fine Arts Association met Tuesday evening in the Community Center. Business was conducted by President Norma Hendon. Fourteen members were present and one guest, Jan Metcalf of Monograms by Jan, was welcomed.

Club members voted to make a contribution to the United Way.

They also discussed the need of display panels at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame and decided to make a contribution toward the purchase of four panels to be used by all exhibitors throughout the year. This will benefit the community as well as helping to fulfill one of the needs of the Hall of Fame in its new location.

The Executive Board, consisting of Ms. Hendon, Charles and Jean Lyles, Loyce Brown, Shirley Wyssman, Linda Minchew, and Mary Aguirre, will meet at 4 p.m. Wednesday to select officers for the coming year. Louella Cowser and Jolene Bledsoe will also meet next week to select printed stationery for the club.

A program on "Fabric Painting" was given by Jean Lyles in the absence of Dorothy Mayfield. Members each brought a 12 inch square of unbleached muslin and painted their fabric under the instruction of Ms. Lyles.

Items such as shirts, quilts, pillows, dish towels, labels, skirts, and jackets can be artistically decorated using patterns of original designs with fabric painting. It is practical as well as beautiful, for it can be washed. Especially nice for this day and age is the fact that it can be done in such a short time compared to embroidery with needle and thread.

Following the program cookies and punch were served by the hostesses, Ms. Wyssman and Ms. Minchew.

Pogo the Clown

Joe Bennett, a freshman pre-medicine major at West Texas State University, started his business of dressing up as a clown and appearing at birthday parties and other celebrations about a year ago, after being associated with Clowns for Christ in Amarillo. "Seeing people smile makes you feel that you have done something worthwhile," says Bennett.

Surprise shower given following club meeting

A surprise shower was held for Sherrie Blackwell and her new son, John Bryan, when members of Argen Draper Club met recently in the home of Martha Rickman.

A business session was also held, at which time plans were finalized for the club's Oct. 30 dance to be held at the City Limits Barn. Prices were set at $8 a couple and $5 for single admission.

It was announced that three of the club members will attend the Rural Homemakers Day in Amarillo Thursday. They include Ms. Blackwell, Johnnie Messer and Anna Messer.

Martha Rickman gave the program entitled "Planning for the Future".

Members present were Sharon Edwards, Wanice Jones, Martha Paetzold, Carmen Rickman, Tonie Vaughn and Mmes. Blackwell, Anna Messer, Johnnie Messer and Martha Rickman.

Recognized as guests were Peg Hoff and Lisa Lewis.

The next scheduled meeting was scheduled for Nov. 3 in the home of Ms. Blackwell.

Let's talk.

Information about your changing telephone service from Gary Stevens, Community Relations Manager.

Preparing for major industry changes

Two changes are coming up which will have a significant impact on how Southwestern Bell provides telephone service to its customers.

First, there's the decision by the Federal Communications Commission (which regulates telecommunications on the national level) that AT&T (the parent company of the Bell System) should set up a fully separate subsidiary to market telephone equipment.

This subsidiary, called American Bell, is expected to begin operations on January 1, 1983.

Southwestern Bell will continue providing telephone equipment after that date. Under current plans, all business or residential equipment on our customers' premises or in Southwestern Bell's inventory will be regulated by tariffs filed with the Texas Public Utility Commission. Beginning January 1, equipment provided by American Bell will not be subject to such regulation.

Competition Offers Customer Options

Competition in providing customer equipment has been an established fact for several years now. The introduction of American Bell into the picture will provide one more option for customers when it comes to selecting a vendor for such things as telephones, PBX's and other communications equipment.

An even bigger change is slated for January 1, 1984. That's the target date for Southwestern Bell being divested from AT&T.

After this divestiture, Southwestern Bell will be primarily a local telephone company. Most of our long distance calling facilities will remain with AT&T.

The 22 divested Bell telephone companies, like Southwestern Bell, will be reorganized into seven regional units. Southwestern Bell will be one of these seven units.

After divestiture, we'll continue to provide basic local phone services, Custom Calling Services, Yellow Pages and special network services. We'll also be allowed to offer telephones and other terminal equipment.

Now I don't pretend to have all the answers on how these two major developments will affect your service. But you can rest assured that as more information becomes available, I'll certainly pass it on.

Bell Statewide Service Commitment Continues

While the structure of the Bell System may soon be changing we're not changing our service ideals.

For more than a century, Southwestern Bell's driving goal has been to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible cost — and to improve that service with the introduction of new technology.

You can count on that same commitment remaining undiminished in the future. Southwestern Bell... at your service for 100 years.

Game 3 tonight

Brewers host Cards

SPORTS

Page 4—The Hereford Brand—Friday, Oct. 15, 1982

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It was one of Whitey Herzog's less-heralded trades, occurring on the eve of last summer's baseball strike and more or less shrouded in secrecy.

But the acquisition of pitcher Joaquin Andujar has been a major factor in the construction of the St. Louis Cardinals' National League Championship.

And so tonight, Herzog will hand the baseball to Andujar for Game 3 of the World Series against Milwaukee.

The Brewers will counter with Pete Vuckovich, an ex-Cardinal traded by Herzog in a seven-player deal with Milwaukee at the 1980 winter baseball meetings.

It was six months later, a week before the strike in June 1981, that Herzog went after Andujar, who had been buried on the Houston pitching staff.

"I needed a pitcher," he said. "We had three doubleheaders on the West Coast. They needed a center fielder when Cesar Cedeno got hurt. Tony Scott was playing out his option. They couldn't sign Andujar either."

One and one makes two, and the trade was made. Almost immediately, Andujar began paying dividends for the Cardinals.

"He likes to pitch," Herzog said. "He's a tough guy, a competitor. The guy wants the baseball. Houston had signed (Nolan) Ryan and (Don) Sutton. He had become a number there."

At St. Louis, Andujar got work from Herzog. He won six of seven decisions for the Cardinals and finished the season at 8-4. This year, he was the Cardinals' most dependable pitcher with a 15-10 record and 2.47 earned run average. He was the National League's Pitcher of the Month in September when he won five games and posted an 0.62 ERA.

"What turned it around for him was the opportunity to pitch," Herzog said. "He throws 90-some miles per hour, has good control, keeps it down, throws a hard slider and he's not afraid to come inside with it."

In Houston, Andujar had some problems with management. But he's been fine with the Cardinals.

"I guess when you pitch good, it's easy for the front office to get along with you," cracked Herzog.

Seven of Andujar's 10 losses came in games in which the Cardinals scored two or less runs. "That's pretty good," said Herzog. "He was 8-10 at one point and he could have been 15-3 if we scored more runs. That's how well he pitched."

Andujar's last loss was Aug. 6 against Montreal, the first time he had lost to the Expos after beating them 11 times. Herzog thinks that could mean good things for the Cardinals tonight.

"Their lineup is as good as Milwaukee's if not better," Herzog said.

Concerned with his own lineup, Herzog said he would start the same unit that delivered a 5-4 victory in Game Two, to tie the Series. "That's if I can remember it," he said.

Herzog said that considering the fact that he has not had a hit from three of St. Louis' most important bats — Keith Hernandez, Lonnie Smith and George Hendrick — he was satisfied with a split of the first two Series games.

Herzog held a voluntary workout when the team arrived in Milwaukee Thursday afternoon. Hernandez, Lonnie and Ozzie Smith, Mike Ramsey and Willie McGee all showed up to get some extra swings.

Brewer Manager Harvey Kuenn gave his club the day off.

Now the St. Louis hitters get to go against one of their ex-teammates. Vuckovich has a .762 winning percentage, best in baseball for the last two seasons with 32 victories, 18 of them this year.

From the All-Star Game until mid-September, he won eight straight games and was 13-1 at night and 22-2 under the lights in his two years with the Brewers.

He never won fewer than 12 games in three years with the Cardinals and it was the Brewers' interest in the strong-armed right-hander that planted the seed for the big trade.

Catcher Ted Simmons and reliever Rollie Fingers also went to Milwaukee in the trade with the Cardinals getting pitchers Larry Sorensen and David LaPoint and outfielders Sixto Lezcano and David Green.

Sorensen and Lezcano were passed on to Cleveland and San Diego in two of Herzog's subsequent trades. But the others remain with the Cardinals and LaPoint, a nine-game winner in the regular season, will be Herzog's starting pitcher in Saturday's fourth game.

Major Hoople forecast

Conference clashes highlight college scene

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Original Man-in-Motion

Egad, friends, the conference races are in full bloom this week in college football—with some of the biggest showdowns taking place in the Pac-10, the Big 8 and the Big 10.

Jove! 'Tis a schedule to delight any football filbert. Um-kumph!

The Southern Cal-Stanford meeting in the Pac-10 is their 61st contest in this rivalry. USC holds a 39-18-3 margin. But John Elway, the cinch All-America QB, and his Stanford Cardinals will be at home.

Nevertheless, our West Coast scouts give the edge to USC. The Trojans will take a 33-31 heart-stopper. Kaff-kaff.

In other Pac-10 games, look for highly-rated Washington to conquer Oregon State, 29-14; UCLA to swamp Washington State, 45-12 and California to down Oregon, 35-17.

Looking at the Big 8, the high-scoring Nebraska Cornhuskers, who average better than 40 points per outing, will keep it rolling with a 42-21 conquest of Kansas State.

The Oklahoma Sooners, who have been running from the I-formation as well as their traditional Wishbone, will confuse the Kansas Jayhawks as they take a 30-18 decision. Missouri's Tigers will claw their way to a 24-12 win over Iowa State. And up-and-down Oklahoma State will nip Colorado, 17-10. Har-rumph!

In the Big 10, where conference victories are the biggest wins of all, the Fightin' Illini of Illinois will add to Ohio State's woes as they edge the Buckeyes, 28-21. The tough Minnesota Gophers will level Indiana, 27-16; Michigan will take the measure of Iowa, 24-10; Wisconsin will outscore Michigan State, 35-21 and Purdue will shut the door on Northwestern, 38-12. Hak-kaff!

Top conference matchups elsewhere include such dillies—heh-heh—as North Carolina vs. North Carolina State and Duke vs. Clemson, in the ACC; Georgia vs. Vanderbilt and Alabama vs. Tennessee in the SEC; Southern Methodist vs. Houston in the SWC and Hawaii vs. BYU in the WAC.

The North Carolina Tar Heels are at home to neighboring North Carolina State in the 72nd renewal of this classic. The Wolfpack will give it a good go—hah—before falling. It's North Carolina, 33-21, in this ACC clash. We look for Duke to surprise Clemson, 28-22 and Maryland to knock off upstart Wake Forest, 31-17, in other ACC games.

With Herschel Walker back in top form, we see the Bulldogs of Georgia tripping Vanderbilt, 31-27, but not without a battle in the SEC. Also: the Alabama Crimson Tide will keep rolling as they inundate Tennessee, 38-20, and the surprising LSU Tigers will maul Kentucky, 35-14.

The SMU-Houston Cougar fray will be another do-or-die affair. In a contest that has the potential to go either way we look for SMU to prevail, 32-28. Elsewhere in the SWC, we have Baylor, 24-21, over Texas A&M and Texas Tech, 36-21, over Rice.

The Hawaii-BYU clash will be a real humdinger with both clubs no strangers to the end-zones. In a nip-and-tuck fray, we give it to BYU, 32-28. Also in the WAC, potent Air Force will dump Colorado State, 37-21, and New Mexico will defeat San Diego State, 24-22.

The independent state is interesting, too. Three big ones are on tap in the East:

Penn State and Syracuse tangle for the 60th time; Pittsburgh takes on Temple and the Boston College Eagles face Rutgers. The outcomes?

Penn State over Syracuse, 45-20; Pitt over Temple, 21-17 and Boston College over a good Rutgers team, 31-21.

In the South, West Virginia will triumph over Virginia Tech, 26-21, and Mississippi will defeat TCU, 32-22. Auburn gets the Hoople nod over Georgia Tech, 22-13.

Two games featuring top-rated clubs send Arizona State against out-manned Texas-El Paso and Notre Dame at home to meet Arizona University. We see Arizona State winning big, 45-14, and Notre Dame downing the Arizona Wildcats, 35-14.

Rounding out the schedule are three beauties in the Sunshine State where Florida will host West Texas State; Florida State will entertain East Carolina and Miami will be at home against Mississippi State.

We see Florida winning, 33-13, over West Texas State and Florida State finishing on the long end of a 37-10 count over East Carolina.

But, alas, for the home forces: The Hoople edge goes to the Mississippi State Bulldogs to take some of the wind out of the Miami Hurricanes—as they take home a 28-24 victory. Har-rumph!

Other guesses:

Arkansas State 26, NE Louisiana 20; Army 21, Princeton 18; Ball State 14, Kent State 10; Bowling Green 42, Northern Illinois 20; Brown 19, Cornell 17; Cincinnati 26, Memphis State 29; Florida A&M 15, Albany State 13; Grambling 28, Mississippi Valley 29; Harvard 21, Dartmouth 8; Holy Cross 17, Connecticut 15; Louisville 21, Richmond 7; Miami (Ohio) 22, Western Michigan 12; Navy 27, William & Mary 7; Ohio University 35, Eastern Michigan 12; Penn 44, Lafayette 21; San Jose State 35, Long Beach State 12; South Carolina 42, Furman 18; Southern Mississippi 40, Tulane 28; Toledo 36, Central Michigan 7; Tulsa 34, Southern Illinois 16; Utah 39, Nevada-Las Vegas 19; Utah State 33, Pacific 11; Weber State 36, Portland State 28; Wichita State 23, New Mexico State 21; Wyoming 24, Fullerton State 20; Yale 14, Columbia 7.

Hereford sophs nip Lubbock

Jesse Andrade's 55-yard scoring run, coupled with a ball-hawking defense which forced four turnovers, paved the way as Hereford's sophomores outlasted the Lubbock High junior varsity, 9-7, Thursday at Whiteface Stadium.

Andrade's long scoring run came in the second period and provided the hosts with a 7-0 lead following Javier Mendiola's conversion kick.

Later in the quarter, Jose Villalobos tackled a Lubbock ball carrier in the end zone for a safety to give Hereford a 9-0 cushion.

The Lubbock JV pushed across its only touchdown with 26 seconds left in the first half to complete the scoring.

In the second half, the Herd defense came up with three fumbles and a pass interception to thwart possible Lubbock scoring threats.

"Defense dominated the second half," coach Don Long said. "Mark Morgan recovered two fumbles and Javier Mendiola one. Jaime Ruiz also intercepted a pass for us.

"I thought our offense line (center Doug Evans, guards Brian Edwards and Dago Valdez, tackles Roger Walton and John Goen and tight end Wayne Allison) did an outstanding job the entire game. They opened some good holes for Jerry Ramirez, who gained a little over 100 yards."

Next Thursday they host the Palo Duro sophomores at 2 p.m.

Malone leads 76er triumph

DALLAS (AP) — Moses Malone scored 15 points to lead the Philadelphia 76ers to a 113-94 victory over the Dallas Mavericks in a National Basketball Association exhibition victory Thursday night.

Franklin Edwards and Lionel Hollins also added 15 points each to Philadelphia's scoring effort against Dallas, now 0-1.

Rolando Blackman led the Mavericks in scoring with 14. The only other Dallas player in double figures was free agent Mickey Dillard with 10 points.

Philadelphia took the lead midway through the first quarter and led the rest of the game, which featured 43 turnovers.

"We got a chance to look at everybody tonight," said head coach Dick Motta. "We made some mistakes but the mistakes we made are correctable ones, and I guess what I was most disappointed in was that we just didn't have the spark in our bodies."

NFL strike Talks continuing

COCKEYSVILLE, Md. (AP) — Money, the hardest nut to crack in the National Football League players' strike, is on the bargaining table today. And Sam Kagel just may be the nutcracker.

The feisty 73-year-old San Francisco lawyer had negotiators for the owners and players meeting far into the night. And one source monitoring the talks said Kagel was "knocking heads, twisting arms, pushing them together" in his effort to end the strike which today entered its 25th day and has knocked out four of the 16 regular-season weekends.

Kagel denied Thursday a rumor that a settlement is near, and appeared as fresh as he did when he arrived in this Baltimore suburb Tuesday night, vowing to "tire them out before they tire me out."

As Thursday became Friday, he called a halt to negotiations on peripheral issues, more than 15 hours after the day's bargaining had begun.

He commanded both sides — union chief Ed Garvey, owners' top negotiator Jack Donlan and their aides — to address the union's demand for a wage scale and a central salary fund, the two issues which have kept the owners' hackles raised ever since they were first proposed. The owners have insisted all along on maintaining the existing system — individually negotiated contracts.

Upon his arrival Tuesday night, Kagel brought the sides together for 2½ hours. Then he began his war of attrition with 19 hours of bargaining on Wednesday. And on Thursday he got them started again at 9 a.m. They were still going into the predawn hours.

"That's what's amazing about Kagel," said Jim Miller, the Management Council's public relations director. "He just keeps going and going with the same kind of enthusiasm. If he keeps this up for a couple of days he's really exceptional."

Kagel maintained his virtually airtight news blackout Thursday, appearing only once for a news briefing that lasted less than a minute.

He repeated — verbatim — his single-sentence statement of Wednesday that both sides were examining proposals and counter-proposals and continuing their negotiating.

Then, with one more sentence, he emphatically knocked down a cable television network report that a settlement was imminent.

And, finally, as he strolled down the corridor toward the sealed-off negotiating room, he commented off-handedly: "It takes nine months to have a baby. It'll take a few more days to work out a thing like this."

But there apparently was significant progress toward resolving the non-economic issues during Thursday's morning and afternoon sessions. "There has been a good deal of give-and-take by both sides," a source at the talks told The Associated Press. "There has definitely been some movement."

Clampett advances in World match play tournament

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — "You always play the course and not the man, even in match play," said Bobby Clampett.

The 22-year-old U.S. golfer had a chance to prove his theory today against defending champion Seve Ballesteros in the second round of the $215,000 Suntory World Match Play Championship.

Like all matches in this head-to-head classic, it is over 36 holes at Wentworth's 6,945-yard, par-72 course.

"I'm looking forward to it," Clampett said. "I have never played with Ballesteros before, and I want to find out why he is such a good player."

Clampett was the star performer in the first round Thursday, drawing steadily away from Massy Kuramoto of Japan to win 5 and 4 with four of the 36 holes to spare.

Ballesteros is seeded and did not figure in the first round. A week ago he was ill with the flu in Spain and the tournament organizers thought he might not be able to play here.

He turned up Wednesday, looking pale, and practiced while Clampett was heading toward victory.

In other second-round matches today Greg Norman of Australia played American Lanny Wadkins; Ray Floyd of the United States met Sandy Lyle of Britain; and Craig Stadler played fellow American Tom Kite.

Wadkins, Lyle and Kite all won their first-round matches the hard way.

Wadkins was four holes down to Gary Player of South Africa, after 16 but came back to win 2 and 1.

Lyle defeated his fellow-Briton Nick Faldo 2 and 1 after being six holes down on the morning round.

Kite was three down to Curtis Strange after the first nine, but eventually won 2 and 1.

The Wadkins-Player drama reached a bizarre peak at the 28th, where the American pulled up to even the match.

Player's tee shot landed in a tree and stuck there, 15 feet from the ground. Nobody could get up to identify it, and he conceded the hole to give Wadkins the lead.

"We all knew it was Gary's ball," Wadkins said. "But under the rules it has to be positively identified, and the only way to do that was to go up there and look at it. Binoculars did not help."

At the 33rd, Wadkins was in a sand trap. He wedged out, and the ball rolled across the green, hit the pin and dropped in. It gave him a birdie and virtually settled the match.

The semifinals are set for Saturday and the final for Sunday, with $60,000 going to the winner.

Vidor back gets better

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ AP Sports Writer

Vidor's last four opponents this season apparently are catching tailback Tim Hagler at the wrong end of the season.

"When we started out in the fall, he really didn't know much about running the football," Vidor assistant coach J.R. Jones said. "He played fullback last year and did very little running."

Hagler shifted to tailback in the second game this season and has been steadily increasing his yardage figures.

Hagler rushed 211 yards on 26 carries and scored touchdowns on runs of 78 and seven yards last week in a 27-7 victory over Nederland after sitting out the week's practices with a virus.

He also starred at linebacker, returning his first interception of the year 46 yards for a touchdown to earn mention this week in The Associated Press Schoolboy Honor Roll.

Hagler now has 680 yards rushing on 130 carries this season.

"He's gained most of those yards in the last three and one half game," Jones said. "He just keeps getting better."

Jones, Vidor's defensive coordinator, would like to see more of Hagler at linebacker.

"He's been our top hitter in four of our six games," Jones said. "I think he can play defense in the Southwest Conference. But he's been improving every week on offense."

Refugio's Eugene Whitmire accounted for 217 yards of offense in a 42-0 victory over Aransas Pass. Whitmire gained 152 yards on 14 carries and had touchdown runs of 21, 59 and 5 yards. He also caught two passes for 65 yards, including a 45-yard touchdown catch.

High-scoring Rosendo Delgado accounted for all of Gregory Portland's points in a 28-14 victory over Corpus Christi Moody. Delgado rushed 155 yards on 35 carries had touchdown runs of 1, 2, 1, and 1 yard and kicked all four extra points.

Delgado has scored 126 points in Gregory Portland's six games this season.

Monahans' Ricky Boysaw continued to pile up yardage with 35 carries for 294 yards and touchdown runs of 40 and 23 yards in a 25-13 victory over Snyder. Boysaw now has 1,066 yards in five games this season.

Other outstanding performances included:

—Goldthwaite's Apollonia Torres completed five of nine passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns and ran 12 and 67 yards for two more scores in a 47-0 victory over Evant.

DALLAS (AP) — Here are the previews of this weekend's Southwest Conference football games:

TCU (2-3) at MISSISSIPPI (2-3), 1:30 p.m. — The Rebels have shown flashes of top play under former Texas Tech coach Steve Sloan. Though last week's 33-10 loss to Georgia was marred by seven interceptions and one lost fumble, Mississippi gained almost 400 yards in the first three quarters. Mississippi offense will provide another strong test for the TCU defense that has played well enough to win, despite injuries to top linebacker Gary Spann and Joe Hines. The Frog defense shut Rice down in the final quarter last week, while the offense rallied for 10 points and a 24-16 victory. TCU is averaging 4.5 yards per offensive play, even though that ranking is last in the SWC. The ground game is improved behind Marcus Gilbert. The Frog's average 6.4 yards per pass attempt and boast one of the SWC's most balanced attacks. Frog pass defense ranks fourth in the SWC. Both teams are undefeated at home this season, but winless on the road. Rebels hold a 3-1 series edge.

BAYLOR (2-2-1, 1-1-1) at TEXAS A&M, 2 p.m. — Second straight big challenge for Baylor's defense, which last week checked SMU's nationally-ranked ground game only to lose, 22-19, on three TD passes. Aggie passing attack is led by Gary Kubiak. The Aggies lead the SWC in passing at 237.6 yards per game as Kubiak connects on 57.6 percent and also leads the SWC in total offense. The game matches three of the SWC's four leading pass receivers — No. 1 Johnny Hector of A&M with 6.3 catches per game; No. 2 Gerald McNeil of Baylor with 4.8; No. 4 Don Jones of A&M with 3.8. Bear QB Mike Brannan likely will miss his second straight game with a hamstring injury. He'll likely be replaced by David Mangrum, who led the Bears to a 13-0 lead over SMU in the first half last week, and to a 19-14 third-period advantage. Baylor pass defense ranks third in SWC, while the Aggies have been strong against the rush. Baylor's Alfred Anderson is sixth among conference rushers with 81 yards per game. A&M's ground game has suffered due to injuries to Ernest Jackson, Hector and Thomas Sanders. Aggies lead the series, 44-27-7.

HOUSTON (2-2-1, 1-1-1) at SMU (2-4, 2-0), 7 p.m. — The Mustangs will be looking to protect their No. 5 national ranking. Eric Dickerson and Craig James have averaged 179 yards per game rushing between them in three games at SMU, but only 68 yards between them against Houston. Dickerson leads the SWC and vies for national rushing honors with 152 yards a game. (2nd only to Oklahoma State's Ernest Anderson). James is third in the SWC with 87.4. Against the Cougars, however, Dickerson has gained only 137 yards in three previous games and James 67. Cougars lead the series, 4-3, and only once has the home team prevailed. Both teams are among the nation's offense leaders. Houston averaged 409.8 to lead the SWC. SMU is third with 392. SMU leads the conference with 297.2 yards per game rushing, while Houston's 246.4 norm ranks third. Houston QB Lionel Wilson, coming back from an early-season injury, has completed 57.5 percent of his passes, and is No. 2 in the SWC in total offense with 193.2 yards per game. The contest pits four of the top five SWC rushers, Houston's Dallas Wiggins, ranked 3rd, and Dwayne Love (4th) vs. Dickerson and James. Cougar's David Robertson is No. 2 pass receiver in the SWC with 24 catches. A Mustang victory would give SMU its second straight 6-0 start for the first time in history.

TEXAS TECH (2-3, 1-2) at RICE (0-5, 0-2), 7:30 p.m. — Surprising Red Raiders have a chance to even their record at 3-3. They showed a near-flawless last-half offense two weeks ago in a 24-15 win against Texas A&M and a strong defense in last week's 21-3 loss to Arkansas, holding the Razorbacks scoreless the final two periods, forcing four turnovers. Owls led TCU well into the third period last week, before yielding scoring drives of 72, 36 and 66 yards and dropping a 24-16 decision. QB Michael Calhoun regained his starting job for Rice, running for one TD and passing for another to have a hand in 28 of the 29 TDs Rice offense has scored the last two seasons. The teams are remarkably similar in stats through five games — Rice leads in total offense, Tech in total defense. Tech's Anthony Hutchison is the SWC's No. 9 rusher with 59.6 yards per game. Rice's Deron Miller ranks No. 5 in receiving with 18 for 188 yards and one TD. Tech's Leonard Harris is among the nation's top break-field threats and averages 11.5 yards on 15 punt returns. Tech nose-guard Gabe Rivera and Rice DT Clezlie Pierson are among the top defensive players in the conference. The Owls hold a 16-15-1 all-time series lead.

Stanton 9th clips Clovis Gattis to remain unbeaten

Kip Savage's 20-yard interception return in the final quarter enabled Stanton's ninth grade to remain undefeated this season in junior high football action Thursday.

The Stanton 9th raised its season mark to 5-0-1 as it came from behind to post a 14-6 win over Clovis Gattis on the road.

"We didn't play all that well," coach Cuby Kitchens explained. "In fact, it was a real struggle. We just played well enough to win."

In other games Thursday involving Hereford junior high teams, the LaPlata ninth grade improved its record to 4-2-1 with a hard-fought 8-7 triumph over the Plainview Blue in Plainview.

Both eighth grade teams fell victims, however. LaPlata was beaten by Plainview, 20-14, while Stanton dropped a 8-6 decision to Gattis.

After Gattis' ninth grade took a 6-0 halftime lead, Stanton QB Stefan Hacker hit Rodney Torres with a 30-yard scoring toss in the third period to even the count at 6-6.

Then, in the final stanza Savage picked off an errant pass and ran it back 20 yards for the winning TD. Hacker tossed a two-point conversion pass to Mike Kellum to complete the scoring.

Danny Castillo capped a long scoring drive in the final period, going the final 4 yards, to give LaPlata the win.

"That last drive seemed like 200 yards," explained coach Kelly Adams.

"We were penalized a great deal during the drive, but still managed to score. I thought all our backs (Castillo, fullback Bobby Martinez and tailback Michael Welbert) ran well, and George Bermadus (linebacker) played well on defense.

"It wasn't a great offensive contest," Adams went on. "The defenses pretty well dominated play. We held them twice inside our 20-yard line in the first half, and that probably was a big factor in us winning."

Long scoring runs were the difference as LaPlata's 8th grade fell, 20-14.

"All week we had geared our defense to stop their wide stuff," Adams noted.

"But, they broke two long scoring runs about 50 or 60 yards each right up the middle. I guess we concentrated too much on stopping the sweeps.

"Those two long runs were the difference. It game them a 12-0 lead, and we had to play catchup after that."

Todd Shire's 1-yard QB sneak in the third period cut the deficit to 12-6, but Plainview added another TD in the fourth period to go up, 20-6.

Chris Urbanczyk's 40-yard scoring run in the final quarter cut the deficit to 20-14, but LaPlata could get no closer.

Adams praised the play of Urbanczyk and Shire on offense, and the play of Casey Daniels and Bobby Baker on defense.

The loss left the LaPlata 8th 4-2 on the season.

Vincent Brown scored the only TD in the second period, too, but the extra point conversion proved to be the difference. The second half was dominated by penalties and defense, according to Kitchens. The loss dropped Stanton's 8th grade to 3-2-1.

The Hereford sophomores raised their season record to 3-3 as they outlasted Lubbock High, 9-7, Thursday. Their three wins have been by scores of 7-6, 6-0, and 9-7.

Next week, LaPlata's ninth grade will be idle. The eighth grade will play Amarillo Christian in Amarillo at 3 p.m.

Stanton's eighth and ninth grade teams will host the Plainview Red. The 8th grade will play at 4 p.m. at the LaPlata field, while the 9th grade will play at the stadium, beginning at 4:30.

Monterey JV blanks Herd

LUBBOCK — Mike Jenkins threw a pair of scoring passes, while Greg Kove scored twice as Monterey's junior varsity registered its fourth shutout of the season, blanking Hereford, 27-0, Thursday here.

Jenkins hit Rowe with a 31-yard scoring strike and Pyson Hodges with a 40-yarder. Rowe also ran 5 yards for a touchdown and Steve Spelce added on a 15-yard run as the Plainsmen JV won for the fifth time in seven starts.

The loss dropped Hereford to 3-4 on the season. The Herd JV had blanked Amarillo, 14-0, in its last outing.

Hereford will host Lubbock Estacado at 3 p.m. Thursday in its next game.

THROUGH THE EYES OF FAITH WE SEE LIFE MORE CLEARLY

our eyes are your windows of the world you live in, through which you are able to observe your surroundings, recognize your fellow beings, perform your everyday tasks and follow the pathway of your life. They enable you to concentrate on a single object or person, or scan every detail of the panorama within your field of vision. You can develop your powers of observation so as to enjoy the natural beauty of God's creation whenever you step out of doors, and you can also quickly identify a situation that should be remedied or a person in need of your help. At the Church of your choice you will learn to see all the good things of this world through the eyes of faith.

"The light of the body is the eye."
—Matthew 6:22

The eye of each man sees but what it has the power of seeing.

Don't worry about lean meat
Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR LAMB - I am concerned about a recent report concerning diet and cancer. The report said that you were more likely to get cancer of the breast, prostate and large bowel if you ate too much meat or used too many dairy products. It is very hard to cook good meals without using meat. I like to serve it at least with one meat each day. Am I increasing the risk of my family developing cancer? If I don't use meat what can I use?

DEAR READER - You must be referring to the National Academy of Sciences report on nutrition and cancer. If so, you have not read the actual recommendations carefully enough. The report did say there appeared to be an increased risk of cancer of the breast, prostate and large bowel if you were on a high-fat diet and did caution against using too much fat meats or fatty dairy products in your diet. But that doesn't mean you have to do without meat or dairy products.

You can use lean meat and low-fat dairy products. As an example, you can use lean round steak with all the visible fat removed. Such lean meats contain only about a third of their calories as fat. The report recommended that we cut our fat intake to 30 percent of the calories ingested. Lean meat and a vegetable prepared without adding fats satisfies this requirement rather nicely.

You can use fortified skim milk, low-fat cottage cheese and, for cooking, nonfat dry milk powder.

I'm not convinced that lean meat increases colon cancer. A study of the Mormon population in Utah showed that they had 63 percent of the national rate of colon cancer and the Mormon women had only 83 percent of the national average of breast cancer. And the Mormons apparently eat as much or more meat as the general population. Nevertheless, I agree for many health reasons it is best to use low-fat products and decrease the daily intake of fat of all types.

DEAR DR LAMB - I have recently developed diabetes insipidus from a car accident. Since this form of diabetes seems so rare could you give me the basics of it? I am only 16 and my doctor told me to prepare to have it the rest of my life.
DEAR READER - As you know, this form of diabetes has nothing to do with the common diabetes mellitus (sugar diabetes). Diabetes insipidus is caused by a failure of production of the antidiuretic hormone from the pituitary gland under the brain. Accidents that injure the area are a cause.

The result is a loss of the body's ability to retain water. There is a large elimination of water through the kidneys which in turn requires drinking a lot of water.

There are various degrees of the loss of ability to conserve body water. Mild cases may require no more treatment than a constantly readily available source of water.

A new medicine, a synthetic analogue of vasopressin (dDAVP) has an ability to help the body retain water for 8 to 20 hours and can be used as a nasal spray. It may be useful to you.

Three U.S. presidents were of Dutch descent - Martin Van Buren and Theodore and Franklin D. Roosevelt.
