Co-worker pulls man to safety Employee overcome by fumes, falls into pit at Northwest Grain

A Deaf Smith County man was rescued from a grain pit Monday morning at Northwest Grain, 20 miles northwest of Hereford.

Pedro Enriquez was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital where he was admitted for observations.

David Williams, a four-year employee of Northwest Grain, was credited by owner-manager Cal Mitts with saving Enriquez' life.

"He just went in there, pulled him out and gave him CPR," said Mitts of Williams. "He knew exactly what to do, and I just thank God he did."

Enriquez and other employees were cleaning out an underground grain storage pit. Enriquez, who Mitts said has worked at the facility for 15 years, was overcome by fumes from the pit and fell through a small trap door into the pit.

Williams was lowered into the pit, pulled his fellow worker to ground level, and gave him CPR.

"He hadn't really quit completely breathing," said Mitts, "but his breathing was real shallow. It was a long time between breaths."

Mitts and Williams were visibly shaken by the incident.

"That's the first time in 15 years we've had anything close to that out here," said Mitts. "We haven't even had a major worker's compensation claim out here in all those years. I just hope he's okay. Thanks to David, I think he will be."

City will continue war on mosquitoes

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN

Hereford's war on mosquitoes will continue this afternoon, Wednesday morning or as soon as weather permits, the Hereford City Commission decided Monday night.

In addition to okaying another aerial spraying of the city, at a cost of $5,326, commissioners approved a low bid for employees' uniform service, passed a resolution to participate in a state purchasing program, voted to proceed with an application for a grant to install new airport lights, approved an emergency purchase of landfill equipment, and voted to proceed with condemnation proceedings on a downtown building.

City commissioners also went into executive session to discuss pending litigation against the city. Six Hereford residents have filed a $16 million lawsuit, alleging civil rights violations and other improper actions resulting from a drug raid at the wrong address.

City Manager Chester Nolen recommended the city accept the low bid of American Linen Supply of Amarillo on uniform service for employees. The price was $5.40 per week per employee, which was an increase from last year's unit price of $4.75. There was no local bid.

Nolen said he considered adopting an allowance for uniforms or purchase of uniforms and having employees do the laundry themselves, but a poll showed that 65 percent favored the service. The commission approved the bid.

Nolen also recommended that the city pass a resolution to participate in the state's General Services Commission, whereby the city could purchase items already contracted for by the state. He said the city could take advantage of the state's purchasing power on some items, but the city would still be free to bid on items that could be obtained locally. While the city would not have to advertise for bids on the GSC items, the commission would still have to approve each purchase. Commissioners unanimously approved the resolution.

The landfill equipment purchase was to replace a bull dozer. The city had three bids on used equipment and accepted a bid from AIS Continental of Amarillo for a reconditioned dozer with a 90-day warranty. The other two bids were for "as is" equipment with no warranty. Price was $6,500.

The commission decided to proceed with application for a grant to install new lights at the airport. Engineering on the project is expected to start after Jan. 1 of 1993, and the city's portion of $6,700 will be in next year's budget.

Marvin Gaddy, city inspector, reported he had issued a non-compliance order on a dangerous building at the rear of 130 N. Main. He showed commissioners photos of the building, which is owned by Brenda and Bill Allen. He said the owners had boarded up the doors but indicated they did not plan to make other repairs. The commission voted to start condemnation proceedings.

All city commissioners were present for the regular meeting. They are: Mayor Tom LeGate, Roger Eades, James McDowell, Sylvana Juarez, Wayne Winget, Irene Cantu and Carey Black. Also present were city attorney Terry Langehennig, secretary Terri Johnson, assistant city manager Mike Hatley, Marvin Gaddy, O.G. Nieman and Davis Ford.

Bush attacks Clinton's service

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) - Bill Clinton came to the site of what was supposed to be the first presidential debate, but President Bush was staying away and the Democratic challenger said he wouldn't let voters forget it.

"I'm here. Ready, willing and able," Clinton said Monday in Chicago before flying to East Lansing.

He was likely to use a similar attack line at a midday rally at Michigan State University, where the first debate was scheduled. The bipartisan Commission on Presidential Debates canceled the forum when Bush objected to ground rules that called for a single-moderator format.

"I'm not sure he would do poorly in that format, but they obviously think so," Clinton said in a Chicago TV interview. "They are just trying to get out of a more engaging debate because they've got an economic record they can't run on."

With 42 days to go before the election, Bush was stumping six states in a hastily arranged one-day campaign trip. He had stops in Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Mississippi, Tennessee and Louisiana.

A ABC News-Washington Post poll showed Clinton's lead expanding for the third straight week. He was running ahead of Bush 58 percent to 37 percent, according to a survey of 637 likely voters. The poll, taken Sunday, had a margin of error of plus or minus 4.5 percentage points.

The Republicans had their own strategy to keep Clinton from grabbing all the attention over the canceled Michigan debate.

GOP National Chairman Rich Bond was set to hold a news conference in East Lansing after Clinton's rally and argue that Clinton should debate himself, since there are so many issues he's been accused of waffling on.

The Bush camp, which planned to use video clips of Clinton in making that charge, has tried to paint Clinton as a have-it-both-ways politician who's refused to take hard stands on issues such as the free trade pact with Mexico. It fits in with their charge that Clinton has been less than truthful about his draft history. Bush himself made that point Monday.

But the Clinton camp clearly felt confident about its event in East Lansing. On Monday, Clinton repeatedly criticized Bush for not accepting the debate commission's recommendations.

A vice presidential debate was set for Sept. 29 in Louisville, Ky.; city officials there said they needed to know by Thursday if the candidates would attend.

Clinton said he was surprised Bush had refused to go along because he was a skilled debater.

"Mr. Bush has done well in all his previous debates," Clinton said. "They prepare him well and he's had those zingers and been able to drive stakes in the heart of his opponents."

Clinton noted he was doing a televised town hall meeting later Tuesday - again trying to contrast himself with Bush.

"It'll be unrehearsed," the Arkansas governor said. "I don't have all the answers, but I want to be accountable to the American people."

But Bush said he was anxious to debate, too, and said Clinton was trying to change the format.

Clinton has backed the commission's proposal to have a single moderator, a format the commission argued would provide better give and take.

Bush, however, said he wants the debates to have a panel of journalists asking questions, like in previous presidential campaign debates.

"I'm not going to let this new man dictate the terms," Bush said Monday. "Why should I change? As the president, I'm not going to do it."

Clinton's running mate, Sen. Al Gore, said simply, "Bush and Quayle are ducking" on the debates.

With the economy working against him, the president waded more deeply than before into the controversy over Clinton's Vietnam-era draft status. The Arkansas governor "has not told the truth, the whole truth, nothing but the truth" about how he avoided military service during the Vietnam War, Bush said in an interview on Rush Limbaugh's radio talk show.

"Let's let him level with the American people," Bush said. "It's not going to go away."

In response, Clinton said Admiral William Crowe, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff under Bush, would not have endorsed his candidacy if he didn't accept his explanation about the draft.

CLINTON

Clinton backers: no fallout over Lena

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Democrats are downplaying any effect that the controversy over Railroad Commissioner Lena Guerrero's embellished resume might have on the presidential race.

But some analysts have said the controversy over Ms. Guerrero's false claims to be a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of the University of Texas could lower Hispanic turnout - and hurt presidential candidate Bill Clinton's efforts to carry President Bush's home state.

Ms. Guerrero is seeking election to a full term on the Railroad Commission. She has been under fire since disclosure that she isn't a college graduate as she claimed for 12 years.

"Her embarrassment is a blow to Bill Clinton's strategy in this vital state," wrote Washington Post columnist David Broder.

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, who chairs Clinton's Texas campaign, said Monday that he hopes Ms. Guerrero can overcome the problems.

"Her problems are between her and the voters of Texas. And they're sure not a positive for our campaign," Mauro said.

However, he said, it should have little impact beyond her race.

"The biggest advantage and the biggest consequence of the Lena Guerrero situation is that it finally gives the Republicans something to get some enthusiasm over ... This finally gives them something to talk about," Mauro said.

Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle said he expects a large turnout in heavily Democratic South Texas no matter what.

Although the Railroad Commission race is the top state race, it's not the top of the ticket, he noted. The presidential and congressional races top the ballot.

"I don't think her race has anything to do with any other race. People are voting for the president of the United States," Slagle said. "What they do down ballot has nothing to do with their presidential decision."

Clinton's campaign Monday unveiled two new television ads designed especially for Texas.

Mauro said they were to begin airing today - as Bush was to visit Longview and Vice President Quayle was to stop in College Station.

He said the ads weren't a response to the high-powered visits.

"I think Bush is responding to us. He has suddenly realized he is behind in Texas," Mauro said.

The two commercials - being aired in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and

Austin - are dubbed, "Read My Lips Alert."

Stribling, Castillo formally nominated

John Stribling and Tony Castillo earned formal nomination to the Republican and Democratic election for county commissioner in Precinct 1 in a special election Saturday.

Stribling, the incumbent, had defeated Castillo in the March Democratic primary. However, that election was later declared void by the U.S. Justice Department because the reapportionment in the precinct was not approved. Deaf Smith County later gained federal court approval of a redistricting plan for the 1992 election.

Grasmick wins contest

Dorothy Grasmick of Hereford missed just four games to claim first place in last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest.

Grasmick will win $25 in Hereford Bucks for her finish.

Mary English came out on top of a group of four persons who missed five games. Based on the tiebreaker of Monterey vs. Hereford, she will win $15 in Hereford Bucks. Darrel Dirks was next, and gets $10 in Hereford Bucks for placing third. Also missing five were Kathy Christie and Raul Valdez.

Stribling decided to switch parties for the special election. That basically meant both candidates were assured a place on the general election ballot, but each had to be the top vote-getter and receive at least one vote to be the official candidate.

Stribling received five absentee votes and 19 votes on Saturday; Castillo got 12 absentee votes and 58 votes on Saturday.

Nancy Hill, for the Republicans, and Joe Soliz, for the Democrats, were elected precinct chairmen.

Erdmann pleads no contest to 3 charges

LUBBOCK (AP) - Prosecutors say a sentence of 10 years probation was appropriate for a pathologist who has pleaded no contest to falsifying autopsies in three West Texas counties.

Ralph Erdmann, 66, was forced to give up medicine while under probation and agreed Monday to pay about $17,000 in restitution for autopsies he had said he completed but now acknowledges he did not perform.

"This is a significant plea bargain," said state Assistant

Attorney General Shane Phelps. "He is paying restitution for the exhumations. He cannot practice medicine. This is not a light sentence."

Erdmann pleaded no contest Monday to four charges in Lubbock County, two charges in Hockley County and one charge in Dickens County, receiving a 10-year probation sentence for each count. The seven sentences will run concurrently.

Phelps said it would have cost "hundreds of thousands of dollars" to try Erdmann in the three West Texas counties.

Women bilked by 'healer'

Two Hereford women are out a total of $1447 after apparently being bilked by a gypsy faith healer recently.
One of the women had given the lady $800; the other had given the healer $647.
Police have no idea of the healer's whereabouts. They are urging anyone else who has been approached by a person like this to call the police department at 364-2324 or Crimestoppers at 364-2583.
Independent of each other, the women reported over the weekend that a woman had promised to heal them by praying over their money.

NBC axes Leno's manager

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The executive producer of "The Tonight Show" is out after being accused of strong-arming guests not to appear on competing shows.
Helen Kushnick's volatile personality and heavy-handed booking practices created a public relations nightmare for NBC as soon as Jay Leno, whose career she managed for 17 years, took over as the show's host and brought her along.
On Monday, the network announced her ouster.
"We have determined that a change in the management structure of 'The Tonight Show' is appropriate at this time," NBC said.
A network spokeswoman called it a "total separation."
NBC gave no other reason for the dismissal, but it came hard on the heels of the show's latest booking controversy: Country singer Travis Tritt's manager, Ken Kragen, claimed last week that Tritt was permanently banned from Leno's show after agreeing to appear on "The Arsenio Hall Show."
Demanding exclusivity from guests on the late-night talk show circuit is nothing new. But Kushnick was accused of bringing a certain vengeance to the practice.
Calls to her office were not returned Monday. But on Howard Stern's syndicated radio program Friday, she denied Kragen's allegations and blamed her bad press on sexism. "They don't like a woman doing this," she said.
Leno, who succeeded 30-year host Johnny Carson on May 25, went on with the show as scheduled Monday night. He did not mention the incident during the program but criticized the network in a statement.
"I feel NBC's actions are unwarranted in light of the success of the show to date, and I continue to support Mrs. Kushnick," he said.
Another late-night competitor, Dennis Miller, has repeatedly accused Leno's staff of strong-arming guests into agreeing to appear only on Leno's program. Miller's show was canceled this summer, and he put part of the blame on the difficulty of getting guests to risk the vengeance of "The Tonight Show."
"There are ways to book shows and be tactful about it," Miller said. "Arsenio is very classy about it. The other show is not very tactful about it."
Columnist P.J. O'Rourke canceled an appearance earlier this year on Miller's program in order to do Leno's show.
Hall has not complained himself, admitting his own competitive instincts to Entertainment Weekly in April: "It's not, 'Do my show or you might not perform ever again!' But I don't want to be the second person to hear stories."

EAST LANSING, Mich. - Bill Clinton headed to what would have been the site of first presidential debate today, aiming to use President Bush's refusal so far to participate as evidence the Republicans are running from their economic record.

WASHINGTON - Henry Kissinger voiced surprise in a 1973 White House meeting that more U.S. airmen were believed held in Laos after he negotiated the Paris peace accords with North Vietnam, according to newly released documents.

KAPAA, Hawaii - On their first day back after Hurricane Iniki pounded their homes, children at the All-Saints Nursery School cut the storm down to size - their size. The exercise - in which the youngsters whirled strips of crepe paper over their heads, pretending to be hurricanes - was one of several strategies educators planned to use this week as schools opened in Hawaii.

WASHINGTON - World finance leaders are calling for closer cooperation to calm turbulent currency markets and boost lackluster global growth but they remain divided over exactly how to bring their economies more in sync.

BAGHDAD, Iraq - Facing the prospect of losing control in Iraq's oil-rich south, and deprived of using full military power to keep it, Saddam Hussein is pulling all the strings he can to woo Shiite Muslims who dominate the region.

AgriPro wins seed settlement

AgriPro Biosciences Inc. has won settlement out of court and gained a permanent injunction against a Texas seed dealer for his alleged violation of the Plant Variety Protection Act (PVPA) for selling a proprietary AgriPro wheat variety.

AgriPro, headquartered in Shawnee Mission, Kan., filed the lawsuit in U.S. District Court, Western District of Texas. The judgment permanently restrains Jason Jacoby of Melvin from directly or indirectly selling or delivering any variety of wheat seed for seed purposes for which AgriPro holds a certificate of plant variety protection.

AgriPro alleged that Jacoby sold for seed purposes the AgriPro Thunderbird wheat variety, a hard red winter wheat for which AgriPro holds a certificate protected under PVPA.

Warren H. Melles, president of AgriPro, says, "We have had an educational program in place for years, but we continue to see flagrant violations of our PVPA rights, and now we are resolved to protect our rights and prosecute violators."

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two months ago, my husband and I separated. It wasn't any one thing in particular that caused us to part. We had been picking at each other for about a year, and it just got to the point where we didn't want to be together anymore. He has the house and the children.

Since we parted, I hate to go anywhere, because I feel as if I am playing 20 questions. I don't know how people have the nerve, but these are some of the questions I've been asked:

"How did it happen that 'Chris' got the children?"

"Does Chris have a live-in or is he paying someone to watch the kids?"

"Did you give up the children willingly or did you get caught with someone?"

"Are you getting any support money from Chris?"

"What do you do with all your spare time now that you don't have the kids?"

"Would you take Chris back if he asked you to?"

"How do your parents feel about you giving up your children?"

This next question really takes the cake: "Do you and your husband still sleep together?"

I'm trying to keep my cool, Ann, but it's getting harder and harder. How should I respond to these nosy people?—Near the Boiling Point in Tulsa

DEAR NEAR BOILING: Why do you feel that these incredibly boorish, insensitive, knuckle-headed clods are entitled to a response? My advice is to look them in the eye and say, "I can't believe you asked such a none-of-your-business type question. I'll pretend I didn't hear it." Then change the subject.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is my response to the essay "Just a Housewife." I believe I speak for an enormous sisterhood when I say we are sick to death of the petty squabbles between homemakers and career women.

Millions of us have no choice. We are single parents. In addition to doing everything the housewife does, we spend 40-plus hours a week out of the home making a living.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Evangelist Pat Robertson's purchase of a British television production company has landed him in an alliance with political enemies—two TV producers who are active Bill Clinton supporters.

Robertson's International Family Entertainment, looking to expand its Family Channel TV network into Britain, will pay $68.5 million for MTM Productions, IFE announced Friday.

MTM helps make "Evening Shade," a CBS show produced by Harry Thomason and Linda Bloodworth-Thomason, staunch Clinton backers.

DETROIT (AP)—The rap group Arrested Development is fighting to keep alive a fundamental ingredient of rap music—vinyl records.

Lead rapper Headliner has started Power to the Vinyl, a movement that supports the making and buying of vinyl record albums, which are fast becoming extinct as record companies switch to cassettes and compact discs.

We also do our share of volunteer work as den mothers, Camp Fire leaders, Little League coaches and Scout leaders. We attend PTA meetings, staff school carnivals, serve at pancake breakfasts and drive the kids to field trips. For us, there is no such thing as "leisure time."

I am one of the more fortunate, Ann. I'm a professional who is able to take time from work to attend school conferences and take my children to doctors' appointments and piano lessons. Thousands of moms don't have this luxury. They are tied to typewriters, assembly lines and restaurant tables. Their take home pay is so modest that they would do just as well if they stayed at home and collected welfare, but their sense of pride keeps them working.

We single mothers have our rewards, the same as "Housewife," but we also suffer from exhaustion, guilt, stress and the gnawing feeling that because we do not have husbands, our children are being cheated.

Thanks, Ann, for letting me sound off. I know I speak for a lot of women, who, like me—Didn't Plan It This Way (Portland)

DEAR PORTLAND: You've done a splendid job of letting us know how the world looks through the eyes of a single working mother. You spoke eloquently for millions today and I thank you.

New club year opened with "jewel" luncheon

Bay View Study Club opened its fall season recently with a Queen Isabella Jewel luncheon in the home of Pat Graham.

In depicting the luncheon theme, decorations included jewel centerpieces and jewel colors which were used throughout the home. The menu consisted of dishes from Valencia Spain which included paella, the main dish, and flan dessert. Hostesses for the event were members of the social committee: Lou Davis, Roberta Caviness, Graham and Pat Fisher.

Ruth McBride presided over the business meeting and asked Beth Burran, chairman of the project committee, to give her report. Burran reported that interviews on the subject of "Spirit of the Plains People" would be conducted using videos in the Deaf Smith County Library's Bay View Room. These videos, with information gathered from local residents who started businesses in Hereford in the early years, will be loaned to the schools. Others serving on the project committee are Nancy Josseland, Helen Eades, McBride, Helen Rose and Margaret Bell.

McBride then called upon the program committee to explain the new program emphasis for the year.

In the absence of Ruth Newsom, chairman, Lois Gililand announced the title "Columbus Quincentennial, Art and Artifacts." Others serving on the committee are Margie Mims and Josseland.

McBride also announced members who were appointed to serve on special committees: membership, Pat Fisher; parliamentarian, Burran; reporter, Helen Langley; historian, Nancy Hays; and special Christmas hostess, Elizabeth Witherspoon.

The club voted to extend to Kathryn Benefield an honorary membership.

The next meeting is planned at the rotunda at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse with Don Ray, artist of the Deaf Smith bronze bust. The group will then proceed to the Deaf Smith County Museum.

Appreciation was expressed to Helen Rose for printing the year-books.

Anniversary luncheon planned

The Hereford Cattle Women members will be celebrating the organization's 20th anniversary with a luncheon scheduled at noon Oct. 20 at the Hereford Country Club. All charter and former and current members are extended a special invitation to attend. Planning committee members include, from left, Charmayne Klett, Violet Reinauer, Pam Wagner, Joan Coupe Eisenhuth, Mary Dee Hoelscher and Nancy Josseland. Not pictured is Irene McKinster.

Rain doesn't bother runners

More than 650 runners ran through the rain and cold Saturday during the Hereford Cross Country Meet held at Veterans Park.

Hereford's girls placed ninth and the boys placed tenth in the 4A-5A races. No varsity individual placed higher than 30.

"I was kind of disappointed we were still back in the pack," Hereford cross country coach Martha Emerson said. "But we're still improving. We're better than we were last week."

Hereford has more improving to do. Among District 1-4A teams, Hereford's girls were fourth and the boys were fifth. All six schools were there, though Dumas didn't have a girls' team score.

The highlight for Hereford was when eighth-grader Bethany Townsend won the girls' junior varsity race. Her time, 13:16.29, was nearly 40 seconds faster than any of Hereford's varsity girls and would have placed her 14th in the 4A-5A race. Eighth-graders can run in JV races, but not varsity races.

It rained intermittently Saturday, and the temperature was around 60 degrees, but Emerson didn't think that hurt the runners.

"I think it helped, if anything, because it wasn't so hot," she said. "It was a good running morning: no wind and cool."

Townsend wins JV race

Netters start district off right with win at Borger

The Hereford High School tennis team took a giant step toward a playoff berth and possibly a district title by beating Borger 10-8 Saturday in Borger.

The match was Hereford's first district match of the season. The win gets Hereford off to a good start because Hereford, Borger and Pampa are the favorites for the two playoff positions. Hereford plays Pampa Oct. 10 in Pampa.

"Playing Borger first in district made me a little nervous considering they won the district last year," Herd coach Natalie Sims said. "We went out there Saturday and played some incredible tennis."

Hereford's boys led the way as the Herd got wins from the top three boys' singles players from all three boys' doubles teams. In singles, Greg Coplen came back to beat Stephen Moore, 6-7, 6-1, 6-2; Jamie Kapka defeated Conrad Grodd, 6-1, 6-4; and Donny Perales beat Ben Clarke, 6-2, 6-2.

In doubles, Coplen and Kapka teamed up to blast Grodd and Matt Thompson, 6-1, 6-1; Perales and Chris Lyles beat Clarke and Justin Kimble, 6-3, 6-4; and Tom Jarecki and Lupe Perez edged Flemming Zetterstrom and Chad Bracher, 6-4, 7-5.

The Herd got the four wins it needed from the girls. In singles, Michelle Berend beat Kim Robbins, 6-1, 7-5, and Brooke Weishaar beat Lori Brandon, 6-1, 1-6, 7-5. In doubles, Sherry Fuston and Emily Fuston beat Robbins and Hailee Holt, 6-3, 6-3, and Weishaar and Natalie McWhorter defeated Monica Lindsey and Dana Holt, 6-0, 6-4.

"I was excited for our doubles teams and the guys singles," Sims said. "They need a boost and wins against Borger can be a great confidence-builder."

Borger got four wins in girls doubles: Dawna Denny def. Bri Reinauer, 6-0, 6-0; Nicole Fraley def. Sherry Fuston, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3; Lacey Jordan def. Emily Fuston, 4-6, 6-3, 7-6; and Hailee Holt def. Gabriela Gamez, 7-6, 6-3. In girls' doubles, Denny and Fraley beat Reinauer and Berend, 6-3, 7-6.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As I sat in my recliner viewing my favorite team, there were two minutes left in the game and my team was a field goal ahead. But the opposing team had the ball and was marching down the field.

Wow, what a hit! One of the opposing team members lays in a crumpled heap. You're thinking: "That's too bad, but that's football."

They carry the player off on a stretcher. Come on, let's get on with the game! The opposing quarterback begins to run and pick up yardage. You yell, "Someone get him!" If they don't get him, the other team is going to win the game or it will go into overtime.

Then it happens—a quarterback sack. You scream with glee. You also notice the unusual way the quarterback's knee is buckled under him. Too bad about the quarterback, but time has run out and we won the game. Yes! Yes! Yes!

And of course, we all have our hometown high school team to follow and support—especially if they are winning. It doesn't matter how hard they are trying, "We must have winners!"

As I watch the hometown team go out on the field, I have this one special player that I love to watch make those "heavy hits." Yes, I hope tonight that he really hits someone. That's what it is all about, right?

Well, finally the opportunity comes and you see your favorite player go in for the tackle and make that "big hit." Your eyes glaze over and you almost foam at the mouth. "Yes, what a hit!"

But something is wrong, your favorite player is not getting up. You see the ambulance pull on to the field and drive away with your favorite player. You then go to the emergency room at the hospital to see how your favorite player is.

Things don't look too good, and it appears the season may be over for your favorite player.

And, with his eyes full of tears, he says to you, "Dad, this was my senior year!"

By Ronny Henderson

Editor's note: Senior rover Nathan Henderson, injured in Friday's varsity football game against Monterey, will have knee surgery Oct. 1 and will miss the rest of the season.

Arnold Palmer was in 24 PGA tournament playoffs and won 14.

"A win like this early in the season gives me a strong feeling that we're going to have a super season," Sims said.

The Herd will try to keep it going today with a non-district dual match against Palo Duro at Whiteface Courts. Sims said it would begin soon after Palo Duro arrives, probably between 4 and 4:30.

Hereford hosts Randall in a district match at 1 p.m. Saturday.

O's avoid sweep by Brewers

By The Associated Press
Having spent four days trying to beat the Baltimore Orioles, the Milwaukee Brewers will spend the next three rooting for them.

The Brewers beat the Orioles three straight over the weekend to move past them into second place in the AL East. But Baltimore salvaged the final game of the series Monday night when Mike Mussina pitched a seven-hitter for a 4-1 victory at County Stadium.

The Orioles, now five games behind first-place Toronto and a half-game in back of the Brewers, now head home for three games with the Blue Jays—a make-or-break series for themselves and a last opportunity for Milwaukee.

In other games, it was Oakland 6, Chicago 5; Kansas City 3, Seattle 0, and Detroit 6, Boston 5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, it was Pittsburgh 3, Cardinals 0, Philadelphia 9, Montreal 2; Atlanta 4, Los Angeles 2; Chicago 10, New York 1; and San Francisco 7, San Diego 1. Houston at Cincinnati was postponed by rain.

Spikers clout Coronado in three

The Lady Whitefaces volleyball team got a big win Saturday in Lubbock, overturning Class 5A Coronado, 15-1, 10-15, 15-11.

"We played very well in the first game," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said. "Our transition was very smooth. Very little went down on us defensively. Our hitters were hitting the angles that would score."

"I think winning with that big of a margin makes you relax, which we certainly did. It was tough to get any momentum going in the second and third games. We've shown some improvement in that we could win after losing the momentum. It's not just luck; you've got to learn how to do that."

Erin Bullard led Hereford with 13 kills and four stuff blocks. Robyn Watts had nine kills and two stuffs, and Jill Robinson added six kills. From the service line, Angie Jowell served for 14 points and Jessica Evers served for 12.

Hereford's junior varsity team also won, downing the Coronado JV 11-15, 15-11, 15-12.

The Lady Whitefaces, now 10-6, have one more tough non-district match tonight before opening district play Saturday. Amarillo High comes to Whiteface Gym at 6 tonight and District 1-4A rival Dumas will be here at 2 p.m. Saturday. Both times are for the junior varsity matches; the varsity follows twenty minutes after the end of the JV match.

Frosh spikers win Borger tourney

Hereford's ninth grade volleyball team won a tournament in Borger Saturday, needing only six games to finish off three opponents.

In the first round, Hereford popped Pampa, 15-2, 15-1; downed Dumas, 15-2, 15-11; and edged Borger, 15-1, 17-15.

"We played really well all day Saturday except for the last game against Borger," coach Kristi Lytal said. "When we played Pampa, everything was good: our transition was good, our talking was good. That's the way it needs to be all year long."

Against Pampa, Aimee Alley served for 11 points and Carlota Ruiz added seven. Against Dumas, Brittney Binder had 10 points and Ruiz added six. Against Borger, Binder served for nine points, Ruiz added seven, and Alley and Krista Beville each had six. Binder's total of 23 led the team for the tournament.

Hereford's B team, one of only two B teams there, lost its two matches against A teams. Perryton won a squeaker, 8-15, 15-13, 15-4, then Hereford fell to Randall, 15-9, 15-8.

"They played fairly good," coach Loy Triana said. "They were just a step away from advancing to the winners' bracket."

Giants beat Bears in 3rd

CHICAGO (AP) - The New York Giants finally got it right.

Last week they almost came back in the second half before losing to Dallas 34-28. This time, they not only took charge but dominated the third quarter Monday night on their way to a 27-14 victory over the Chicago Bears.

"We needed to pick up where we had left off last week and build on it," said coach Ray Handley. "It seemed like we responded with big plays when we needed to tonight."

It was New York's first victory of the season after losses to San Francisco and Dallas, and it also left the Bears with a 1-2 record.

"We were outcoached, we were outplayed and we were outhit," said Chicago coach Mike Ditka, who took the blame for an option pass by fullback Brad Muster that was intercepted by Greg Jackson in a key situation.

Hospital auxiliary meets for noon luncheon, meeting

Members of the Deaf Smith General Hospital Auxiliary met at noon Monday, Sept. 14, for lunch and their first meeting of the new club year in the hospital dining room.

With President Anna Stindt presiding, Mary Williamson, secretary, called the roll. Also, minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Baxter London presented the treasurer's report and Grace Covington reported on the baby gifts.

Members discussed new items for the auxiliary's gift shop and the district meetings which will be held in Lubbock and Midland. The group also talked about the recent reception which honored Dr. Howard Johnson.

A hospital ministerial service is being formed and is tentatively scheduled to begin Oct. 1.

Elizabeth Fowler reported on the progress of the ValuCare program for the hospital and community. She is also preparing for a jewelry sale Oct. 30, a fund raiser for the auxiliary. Credit cards, checks and cash will be accepted. The auxiliary will receive 25 percent of the sales.

Members present were Baxter London, Theda Seiver, Mary Williamson, Irene Reinart, Grace Covington, Quintna Waits, Mary Jane Burrus, Anna Stindt, Lupe Cerda, and guests, Margarette Daniels, and Elizabeth Fowler, hospital liaison.

JEREMY ARTHO

JARED ARTHO

Hereford youths honored

Jeremy and Jared Artho, sons of Eddie and Virginia Artho of Hereford, were recently honored in the 26th Anniversary Edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Jared, who received the honor for the first time, is a sophomore at Hereford High School and is currently serving as a Hereford Key Club board member. He has been a Key Club member for two years.

Jeremy, a senior at HHS, is being honored for the third time. Only five percent of the nation's high school students are included in Who's Who each year and less than one-half of one percent are honored two or more years. Jeremy was recognized at the 1991-92 H Awards Assembly for his achievements in government and chemistry and was ranked fifth among the 282 students in his junior class. He is a member of National Honor Society and as a third-year member of the Hereford Key Club, he is serving his second term as treasurer.

Both youths are involved in their church youth group and Jeremy is beginning his first year as a communion minister.

Weaver gives information to Little Peppers members

Linda Weaver gave 4-H information to members of the Little Peppers 4-H Club when the group met Sept. 14 at the Hereford Community Center.

During the business meeting with Jaimie Steiert presiding, it was announced that the club's project this year will be babysitting.

The next meeting will be held at 4:15 p.m. Oct. 12 at the Hereford Community Center.

Sheila Dalton feted with bridal shower

Sheila Dalton of Austin was honored with a bridal shower Saturday morning, Sept. 12, in the home of Ruth McBride. Miss Dalton and Duane McNaney plan to wed Oct. 10.

Guests were welcomed by the honoree; her mother, Jean Dalton of Kansas City, Mo.; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Julia McNaney; and Mrs. McBride.

The prospective bridegroom's nieces, Pamela and Amanda Klein, invited guests to register.

Mona Klein and Diane McNaney, the prospective bridegroom's sisters, served refreshments of fresh fruits and dips, miniature cinnamon rolls, coffee and punch.

The table, which was covered with an ivory hand-crocheted cloth, was decorated with an arrangement of white roses, mauve lilies and stephanotis, and mauve and teal larkspurs placed in an antique English creamware tureen. Also, accenting the table were crystal and silver appointments.

A card table and chairs were presented to Miss Dalton by the hostesses: Linda Anderson, Donna Brockman, Lynda Brown, Tanya Carder, Patti Dirks, Mary Dziuk, Dolores Foster, Betty Jones, Sheri Kerr, Ruth McBride, Nancy Pactzold and Murlene Streun.

Choose pet meals carefully

Doggie biscuits cured Spot's bad breath and a flea collar stopped his scratching, but he still has one embarrassing condition that keeps him locked in the bedroom when company comes.

It's time to broach that delicate topic that elicits nervous titters and averted eyes from animal owners everywhere: pet flatulence. Simply put, it's gas.

Dogs and cats experience flatulence for the same reason humans do: Their digestive systems can't break down the complex sugars in many pet food ingredients. Bacteria feed on this undigested food in the intestine, creating gas as a byproduct.

The key to relieving flatulence, as well as the discomfort of gas buildup, is either eliminating these foods from the pet's diet or, far easier, helping the animal digest them better.

Kershen appointed professor

Drew L. Kershen, University of Oklahoma professor law, has been named the first Earl Sneed Centennial Professor Law at OU. He is the son of Anne and Andrew Kershen of Route 4, Hereford, and was the valedictorian of the 1962 Hereford High School graduating class.

The appointment of Kershen, a specialist in agricultural law and water law, was made at the September meeting of the OU Board of Regents.

"This appointment recognizes the outstanding academic career of a nationally reorganized legal scholar," said David Swank, dean of the OU College of Law. "Professor Kershen has brought great expertise to the college in areas vital to the continued economic growth of the state of Oklahoma."

OU Norman campus Provost James F. "Jeff" Kimpel said, "Professor Kershen is an outstanding educator and specialist in agricultural law and water law. He has shared his knowledge with both the agricultural and legal communities for many years."

The Earl Sneed professorship was begun in 1987 with a $100,000 gift from Cornelia Sneed of OKLAHOMA CITY and her children--attorney James L. Sneed of TULSA, Robert Sneed of DENVER, and Ann Sneed Schriber of ANN ARBOR, MICH.

The $500,000 endowment was completed in 1990 with contributions from the Sarkeys Foundation of Norman; friends, former students and associates of Sneed; and matching state funds.

Sneed, who died in 1979, joined the OU law faculty in 1945, was named acting dean in 1949 and dean in 1950, a position he held for the next 15 years. He played a major role in the drive to raise funds to construct the OU Law Center.

A member of the OU Law faculty since 1971, Kershen was selected Outstanding Professor in the College of Law for 1990-91 by the OU Student Association.

Named a fellow in law and humanities at Harvard University in 1973, he has held visiting professorships at the universities of Kansas, Illinois and Arkansas--Little Rock.

Admitted to the Georgia Bar in 1969 and the Oklahoma Bar in 1972, Kershen severed on the board of directors of the American Agricultural Law Foundation and currently serves on the American Bar Association's Subcommittee on Agricultural and Agri-Business Finance, the board of trustees for the Rocky Mountain Mineral Law Foundation and the sections on Law and Humanities and Agricultural Law for the American Association of Law Schools. He is a member of the American, Oklahoma and Cleveland County bar associations, the Oklahoma Water Law Advisory Committee and the Order of the Coif.

A native of HEREFORD, TEXAS, Kershen received his bachelor's degree in liberal studies at the University of Notre Dame in 1966. He earned a juris doctorate from the University of Texas in 1968 and an LL.M. from Harvard University in 1975.

LONDON (AP) - Times are tough even at the top. Princess Diana has given up her Mercedes and will drive one of the cars leased by her household.

"Everybody is affected by the recession," a Buckingham Palace spokesman said Monday. "The prince and princess of Wales do not have a bottomless pit from which to draw money, and she is tightening her belt like anybody else."

The princess will use the "less than half a dozen" British-made cars already leased by the household, the spokesman said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

When Diana leased the Mercedes convertible early this year, she was criticized for using a German car and failing to support British manufacturing.

According to the National Center for Health Statistics, some 945,000 of the 4.2 million deliveries in 1990 were cesarean births. Almost half of

Club makes Christmas wreaths

Sue Thweatt and Mariellen Homfeld directed members of the Bippus Extension Homemakers Club in making Christmas wreaths when the group met recently in the home of Kate Bradley.

During the business meeting with Homfeld presiding, Bradley read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved. The financial report was given and correspondence was read.

Bradley, who serves as council delegate, reported on the recent council meeting and reminded members to turn in recipes for the Sweet and Tasting Bee. She also announced that the state convention was planned Sept. 21-25 in Galveston.

Members voted to sell pecans this year as their money making project.

Christine Larson opened the meeting with a prayer followed by members reciting the pledge to the American flag. Roll call was answered by members telling where they would hang a Christmas wreath in their home.

Zadie Bettis was welcomed as a visitor by Thweatt, Larson, Elaine Pinnell, Homfeld, Juanita Keeting, Alta Mae Higgins and Bradley.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Bill Cosby, Andy Griffith, Ted Koppel, Dinah Shore, Ted Turner and producer Sheldon Leonard have been selected for the Television Hall of Fame.

The six inductees were announced Monday by the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, the people who award the Emmys.

The Hall of Fame has inducted 50 people since its founding in 1980.

Leonard, who has won three Emmys, was an executive producer for "The Danny Thomas Show," "The Andy Griffith Show," "The Dick Van Dyke Show," "Gomer Pyle" and "I Spy."

LEGAL NOTICES

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF DEAF SMITH NOTICE OF EXECUTION SALE OF REAL PROPERTY

By virtue of an execution issued out of the District Court of Gaines County, Texas, on a judgment rendered in that Court on November 5, 1986 and against John Harrell, in Cause No. 10,745 styled Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Receiver of Seminole State National Bank Vs. John Harrell, on the docket of the Court, on the 11th day of September, 1992, I levied upon the following described real property situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas, as the property of John Harrell & Sue Harrell: Undivided third interest in: The South one-half (S/2) of Section 27, Township 5 North, Range 2 East of the Capitol Syndicate Subdivision of Deaf Smith County, Texas containing 320 acres of land. On the 6th day of October, 1992, which is the first Tuesday of the month, at 2:00 o'clock P.M., at the South Balcony Door of the Second Floor of the Courthouse of Deaf Smith County, Texas, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash all the right, title, and interest of John Harrell and Sue Harrell in and to the above described property. Signed this the 11th day of September, 1992.
