US is most violent country

WASHINGTON (AP) - Criminal violence is more common in the United States than in any other industrialized country, and the fear of it has become a trait of American life, researchers say.

A National Research Council report Thursday said the specter of violence, ranging from assault to murder, has left people afraid to walk their neighborhoods at night, endangered children in their schools and caused many citizens to barricade themselves behind locked doors.

"The nation's anxiety on the subject of violence is not unfounded. In 1990, more than 23,000 people were homicide victims," the report said, although it noted that murder rates were higher earlier in this century, and higher still in some locations last century.

"Violent deaths and incidents that result in lesser injuries are sources of chronic fear and a high level of concern with the seeming inability of public authorities to prevent them," the report said.

The United States, the study found, is generally more violent than other societies.

"Homicide rates in the United States far exceed those in any other industrialized nation," the report said. "Among 16 industrialized countries surveyed in 1988, the United States had the highest prevalence rates for serious sexual assaults and for all other assaults, including threats of physical harm."

Despite this, the study said U.S. violence is not the worst it has ever been. The homicide rate peaked in the early 1930s and then dropped for the next 30 years, the study said. The rate rose again between 1979 and 1981, then declined, only to rise again in the late 1980s.

"Historical data suggests that certain cities may have experienced still higher homicide rates during the 19th century," the report said.

The study also found: -Both victims and perpetrators of violent crime are more likely to be male and come from ethnic or racial minorities. Blacks are 41 percent and Hispanics 32 percent more likely to be victims than are whites.

-The most likely to commit violence are men in the age range of 25 to 29.

"Violent incidents are sources of chronic fear and a high level of concern with the seeming inability of authorities to prevent them."

-In the majority of assaults, rapes and homicides, the perpetrator was an acquaintance of the victim.

-Homicide rates are five times higher among blacks than among whites, and the rate among Native Americans is almost double that of the rest of the population.

-It estimated these average costs per violent incident: rape, $54,000; robbery, $19,200, and assault, $16,000. This loss includes a value given to pain, suffering, psychological damage and the loss in quality of life.

Putting more people in prison for longer periods of time has had little effect on the rate of violence, the report said. Average prison time per violent crime tripled between 1975 and 1989, the report said, but the rate of violent crime still increased after 1985.

Instead, the study advocated certainty of punishment. "A 50 percent increase in the probability of incarceration would prevent twice as much violent crime as a 50 percent increase in the average term of incarceration."

Herd greeted at Northwest

Members of the Hereford High School football team were greeted at an impromptu pep rally Thursday afternoon by students at Northwest School. Students showed off their huge "Go Herd-Beat Plainview" sign in front of the school and did several cheers. The Herd faces the Bulldogs tonight at Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

Senate approves school amendment

AUSTIN (AP) - Speaker Gib Lewis expects the House next week to consider a proposed constitutional amendment to reform school funding. But he says there is no agreement on the issue yet.

"I need all the help I can get. What we're dealing with here is very emotional," Lewis, D-Fort Worth, said.

A two-thirds vote of the Legislature is required to put a proposed amendment before voters.

The Senate approved with a 29-2 vote Thursday a proposal to allow local property tax money to be redistributed statewide from wealthier to poorer school districts.

The current system, which transfers funds among districts within counties, has been ruled unconstitutional by the Texas Supreme Court. The court gave lawmakers until June 1, 1993, to fix the system.

The Senate proposal also would require that 95 percent of state and local education money be equitably distributed based on school districts' local property tax rates. In addition, it would set up a state bond program to help build classrooms.

Just hours after the Senate passed its proposal, the House Public Education Committee approved a different measure.

The House committee version would take out the equity standard in response to concerns from poor

School audit: consolidation needed

AUSTIN (AP) - A new audit of Texas public school district spending has again brought up a word that the auditors say could mean big savings: consolidation.

"The sheer number of districts - some 1,053 in Texas - contributes to an inefficient school system," said the special audit given to the Legislature this week.

As legislators struggle to write a constitutional school finance plan, two of the audit's key recommendations - accounting for much of its $642 million in annual savings - were tied to reducing the number of small school districts.

One recommendation, to save $300 million annually by 1997, would eliminate the "small district adjustment" that the state now pays to districts with enrollments of less than 1,600 students, except those that are small due to remote locations.

"Our analysis shows that small school districts cost more per student to operate than larger districts," the audit said.

"Even though the state provides more funding for small districts, small districts do not provide a better basic education than large districts. In fact, they often do not provide the advanced curriculum that college-bound students need," it said.

The second recommendation was for drawing a new map of school districts.

The auditor recommended creating a school district reorganization commission to develop a consolidation plan. A reorganization could save $225 million annually by 1998, it said.

The audit noted Hill County as an example. The county has 12 school districts, only one of which has more than 1,600 students. Six of the 12 have fewer than 200 students.

"This means that for about 5,000 students, there are 12 superintendents, 12 school boards, 12 accounting departments and so on. And yet these smaller districts are not providing a better education, judging from the fact that eight of the 12 districts have state achievement test scores lower than the state average," the audit said.

While some school districts are small because of their remote location, Auditor Lawrence F. Alwin told lawmakers this week that wasn't true of most.

"In most cases, there's no economic, geographic or educational reason for the districts to remain small," he said.

But consolidation hasn't been politically popular.

House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, earlier this year found little support for his proposal to reduce the number of districts to 188, most of which would follow county lines.

Even though the plan was designed to give more control to local schools while centralizing taxation, the idea didn't get far.

"It's talked about all the time, but generally speaking, no one thinks it's feasible because it's so emotional," Gov. Ann Richards said then. This week, opening the Legislature's special school finance session, Richards again noted that Lewis had received little support.

"I would say there are a number of people who recognize that it would solve a lot of our problems and it makes a great deal of common sense," said John Bender, Lewis' chief of staff.

Dan Casey, director of governmental relations for the Texas Association of School Boards, disagrees with the audit's recommendations and assumptions.

He said consolidation doesn't always mean savings.

"If you look at all the research in consolidation, to make it work you typically have to build a centrally located high school among the consolidated districts. The costs of doing that far exceed any savings you're going to get," Casey said.

He also disagreed with the audit's suggestion of lower student achievement in small districts. "I've never seen anything to indicate that it lags," he said.

"One of the other things that was missing (from the audit), is that there are a lot of areas of the state where you may not have more than 200 or 300 students in a county," Casey said. "It's great to talk about consolidation, but ..."

Casey said test results released last spring indicated that Texas students ranked "pretty close to the national average." They scored higher in the lower grades, a reflection of improvements made since passage of House Bill 72 school reforms, he said.

"We spend about $900 less per student than the national average. For the most part, when you look at it in those terms, you're getting national average results for below-average spending," he said.

Football is on TV again, With all its magic power. What else could have five minutes left.

And make it last one hour?

It's playoff time for the Herd football team and the Lady Whiteface volleyball team. Both squads will be underdogs in the playoff games, but we look for them to emerge victorious!

The Herd takes on the Plainview Bulldogs tonight in Lubbock's Jones Stadium, and there should be a great crowd. Both schools have strong support for their teams, and a rivalry still exists between the communities. Plainview is favored by nine points, according to the Harris Rating System, but our prediction: Herd 21, Plainview 20.

Since our community is known as "Hustlin' Hereford," readers might be interested in a poem contributed by a local businesswoman. The poem was published in a company bulletin:

What Is Hustle?
Hustle is doing something that everyone is absolutely certain can't be done.

Hustle is getting the order because you got there first, or stayed with it after everyone else gave up.

Hustle is shoe leather and elbow grease and sweat...and missing lunch. Hustle is getting prospects to say "yes" after they've said "no" twenty times.

Hustle is doing more for the customer than the other person is doing.

Hustle is believing in yourself and the business you're in.

Hustle is providing top quality service.

Hustle is the sheer joy of winning. Hustle is being the hardest loser in town.

Hustle is hating to take a vacation because you might miss a piece of the action.

Hustle is hopping out of bed at night to write down a great idea.

Hustle is heaven if you're a hustler.

Hustle is hell if you're not.

Clinton stressing ethics in appointments

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) - President-elect Clinton, in an early gesture for clean government, is imposing ethics rules upon his transition aides to prevent them from moving into the lobbying world when he takes office in January.

Clinton, holding his first news conference Thursday since his election, pledged the strictest code of conduct in history for his administration, and said he hoped it would boost "the credibility of our decision-making."

Clinton today is expected to impose at least a six-month ban on lobbying for transition aides in any area of government where they had dealings during the transition. Top transition directors likely would be banned from all lobbying.

In addition, he is likely to order anyone who's on a corporate board to disqualify themselves from work on anything related to government.

Later, Clinton is expected to impose a five-year lobbying ban on anyone who takes a job in his administration. Right now, the ban is one year.

His vow of a three-step ethics approach - he also plans reform of lobbyist disclosure and campaign finance laws - follows a political year in which rivals Ross Perot and Jerry Brown touched a nerve with angry voters by attacking the special interest and lobby circuit of Washington.

Clinton gave the ethics preview during a 40-minute news conference in which he also vowed to quickly reverse President Bush's abortion counseling and Haitian refugee policies, allow homosexuals in the military and create more than a half-million jobs in his first year.

Clinton looked rested and confident nine days after his Election Day victory as he laid out a crowded agenda for reviving the nation's economy.

Republicans who were his biggest critics during the campaign found little to gripe about in his statements and struck a conciliatory, wait-and-see note.

Both Senate Minority Leader Bob Dole of Kansas and House Minority Whip Newt Gingrich of Georgia passed up a chance to counter Clinton's comments, and their spokesmen said they looked forward to working with him next year.

Gingrich is "not going to be in the business of badmouthing the president-elect just for the sake of it," said his spokesman, Tony Blankley.

Republicans might not approve of Clinton's plan to lift the Bush administration ban on abortion counseling at federally funded clinics, "but there's nothing we can do about that," Blankley said, adding that GOP lawmakers wanted to stay focused on economic areas where they could work with Clinton, such as investment tax credits.

Clinton also said he would revise Bush's Haiti policy to allow refugees now summarily returned to their country to petition for political refugee status.

Clinton said he would end the ban on gays in the military, but only after consulting "with a lot of people about what our options are, including people who may disagree with me about the ultimate merits."

Clinton announced four dozen additions to his transition team from both political and policy arenas.

Clinton broke little new ground in his news conference, and renewed his pledge to take "aggressive and prompt" action to revive the economy.

He said he remained committed to his campaign promise to offer a middle-class tax cut and an investment tax credit for new factories and equipment, which he predicted would create some 500,000 jobs in his first year. Clinton also predicted more jobs would come through his plan to speed up spending on road, bridge and other infrastructure work.

Injury claim is denied by District Court jury

A plaintiff in a lawsuit seeking damages for injuries while on her job at Merrick Pet Foods came away from 222nd District Court Wednesday without a judgment.

Elida Alonzo filed the injury suit against Merrick on Nov. 12, 1991. A jury heard the case, beginning with testimony Tuesday.

After hearing summations by lawyers and charge by District Judge David Wesley Gulley, the jury retired to deliberate at 11:01 a.m. Wednesday and returned at 11:10 a.m., with a verdict in favor of the defendant, Merrick.

The defendant had asked for a judgment for damages and injuries on the job but did not list an amount.

Also, during the week, Judge Gulley heard motions to revoke probation of defendants and heard a guilty plea.

Alfredo Villarreal, 23, originally convicted of escape in 1990 and sentenced to seven years probation, will be turned over to the Texas Department of Criminal Justice to serve a six year term, after his probation was revoked by Judge Gulley.

Another revocation was modified as Jimmie Hugh Wood, previously convicted of felony driving while intoxicated, was ordered to attend the Brownfield Treatment Center.

A probated sentence was assessed Bryan Shannon Banner, 17, who entered a plea of guilty to theft over $750/under $20,000. He must serve a five-year probationary period.

Iraq loan evidence accepted by official

WASHINGTON (AP) - Attorney General William Barr has accepted a special investigator's opinion that credible evidence exists of criminal wrongdoing in the federal government's handling of a bank fraud case involving loans to Iraq, according to published reports today.

Former federal judge Frederick B. Lacey recommended to Barr that he appoint an independent prosecutor to investigate possible wrongdoing by government officials. The Washington Post and the New York Times reported in today's editions.

Lacey made the recommendation a week before the election, but neither he nor Barr chose to make it known at the time. Barr accepted the recommendation and directed Lacey to complete his inquiry by Dec. 8, the Times said. The law authorizing independent prosecutors to investigate allegations of criminal wrongdoing by government officials expires Dec. 15.

In an interview with the Times, Lacey said he told Barr in a letter that accusations by Sen. David Boren, D-Okla., the chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee, had convinced him that there was "sufficient and credible evidence" to appoint an independent counsel.

Barr initially refused to call for a court-appointed independent counsel, but later appointed Lacey to recommend whether his decision should stand.

Earlier Thursday, Boren told reporters the government may have deliberately botched a criminal prosecution to protect the CIA's penetration of Iraq's secret nuclear program.

The committee wants to question eight Justice Department officials - four of whom have already decided to retain lawyers to represent them at the interviews, said Boren. Among the eight are three Atlanta prosecutors in the case against an Atlanta bank manager accused of making $5.5 billion in unauthorized loans to Iraq, Boren said at a briefing about his committee's five-week probe.

The panel is trying to find out what the CIA knew about the loans by the Atlanta branch of the Italian government's Banca Nazionale del Lavoro, what it told the Justice Department and why prosecutors failed to follow those few intelligence leads that were provided by the agency, Boren said.

Boren, traditionally a strong advocate of the CIA, said his committee's investigation already had concluded that the CIA had done "a very sloppy job of retrieving information" from its own files in the case.

There was also "a very sloppy and haphazard sharing of information" among the CIA, the Justice Department, the prosecutors in Atlanta and the former judge in the case, Boren said.

Jackson addresses Founders

school districts and others. To address concerns of wealthier districts, the House committee proposal also would limit how much local property tax money could be redistributed.

Although there are several school funding ideas proposed in the House, Lewis said, "Nobody's got a 100 votes." But he said lawmakers still are trying to reach a consensus.

Sen. Carl Parker, sponsor of the Senate proposal, said he's not "just all proud" of it. But he called it practical in light of strong opposition to such proposals as a statewide property tax.

School officials have said state leaders' reform plan would result in large property tax increases because it does not anticipate sufficient state funding to even account for enrollment growth.

Parker said his measure wouldn't mandate local tax increases, but that school districts would have to get the money somewhere to continue current funding levels.

He said he hoped the proposal would provide incentive for Texans to "push us to do what's right, and what's right in my opinion is for the state to be the primary source of support for a state (education) system."

Parker predicted his amendment would end up in a conference committee to work out differences with whatever is passed by the House.

"The worst thing that we could do in this called (special legislative) session is nothing, and I would go a long way to avoid that eventuality," said Parker, D-Port Arthur.

State leaders have said they believe the Supreme Court will close the public schools if lawmakers don't meet the June deadline.

But Sen. John Leedom, R-Dallas, said the so-called Robin Hood approach of transferring local property tax money isn't the way to go. He said the Legislature should look at other alternatives.

"We're digging the same hole deeper and deeper, and bigger and bigger, and it's still the same hole," he said. Leedom and Sen. Cyndi Krier, R-San Antonio, voted against the proposal.

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said the 29 senators who approved the measure showed their willingness to get the issue moving and negotiate with the House.

He also said he was optimistic about chances for House approval.

"Admittedly, at this point it is rather split," Bullock said. But he added, "We didn't have the votes on this when we started it. How do you think you get them? You go out and pick them up one at a time, like old shoes."

President-elect due running start from Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congressional Democrats are ready to pass a variety of bills to get President-elect Clinton off to a running start and burst the political gridlock of the Reagan-Bush era.

Among them are proposals to overhaul crime legislation, stiffen campaign-finance rules and entitle workers to unpaid leave when family emergencies occur.

But leaders of the majority Democrats also say they are awaiting specifics from the president-elect on the central issues of his campaign - jobs, the economy, the deficit and health care.

"Governor Clinton will enter this room or any other room in this Capitol to a friendly audience," Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell said. "This is not a group that is hostile or needs to be persuaded to be cooperative."

After 12 years of Republican presidents, Democratic leaders want to demonstrate their readiness to cooperate with the president-elect on priorities for next year.

But in doing so, they have skirted any real discussion of what will actually be in the economic recovery legislation or whether deficit control must take a back seat to economic stimulus.

Clinton has invited the top three congressional officers, House Speaker Tom Foley of Washington, House Majority Leader Richard Gephardt of Missouri, and Senate Majority Leader George Mitchell of Maine to visit him in Little Rock, Ark., on Sunday to talk about next year's agenda.

Several aides interviewed in recent days said the group will seek a signal from Clinton on whether he wants to move single-mindedly on the economy in early 1993, or instead pursue lesser issues to show progress through fast victories.

Clinton said after the election he would focus like a laser on the economy. His campaign proposals include $20 billion to rebuild America's infrastructure, a tax credit for investment in new equipment, a limited capital gains tax cut, $150 billion in new taxes on the wealthy and foreign corporations and a $60 billion middle class tax cut.

But he's getting conflicting advice on whether to emphasize stimulus proposals or those designed to contain the deficit.

"As soon as we know what signals the quarterback wants to call, the leadership will run the play," said Gephardt spokesman David Dreyer.

Aides say Democratic leaders in both houses are nearly united in wanting to pass a family leave bill again, after seeing President Bush successfully veto it twice in two years.

They also would like to revise campaign finance and ease voter registration, both of which Bush vetoed, and pass an anti-crime bill including a mandatory waiting period for the purchase of handguns. These aides spoke on condition of anonymity because the lawmakers themselves have not yet publicly said what legislation would be acted on early next year.

On health care, Democrats agree more on the shortcomings of the current system than on how to improve it. Just as with the deficit or taxes, any real action on health care will face a thicket of special-interest obstacles that will take time to navigate.

Republicans are bracing to mount early opposition.

Reeh: spikers' underdog role not all bad

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

When the Hereford volleyball team takes the floor against Dumas in the Region I-4A finals Saturday, they'll be looking for their first win in four tries this year.

Dumas (28-4) is the champion of District 1-4A and owns three wins over the Lady Whitefaces--two in district play and once in the finals of the Lubbock Invitational. Hereford (21-9) is the district runner-up, and one-third of its losses are to Dumas.

The two rivals meet at 4 p.m. Saturday in the Caprock Activity Center in Amarillo. The winner this time earns a trip to the state volleyball tournament Nov. 20-21.

"We realize we're the underdog," Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said. "We're really not expected to beat them, which means we can play relatively pressure-free volleyball.

Dumas is the defending regional champion. We've got to go after it with absolute aggression and play like we have the last two matches--with nothing to lose.

"I think we'll have to do things that'll annoy Dumas, that'll worry Dumas--give Dumas lots more to think about besides their game plan."

Reeh gives as an example "just going after the ball and swinging away at it. Watching the last Dumas match on tape, we didn't swing hard at the ball."

Reeh discussed several other keys to a Herd win.

"We worked (this week) on blocking," she said "Hopefully, we'll do better blocking than we did in the district matches. We're going to make sure to celebrate things that happen on our side to give us a sideout or a point. We can control how much we hustle. We can control our attitude in how we celebrate throughout the games."

Another factor is the improving play of Dumas' 6-foot-1 blocker Jenny Robinson. Reeh said that, according to Dumas coach Jack Wilson, Robinson is the second-leading blocker in the Demonette record books, behind only Stephani Clement.

"She was a greater factor in the second district match than she was in the first," Reeh said. "Keeping the

Herd to meet 'Dogs tonight

The football rivalry between Hereford and Plainview will be renewed for a Class 4A bi-district playoff game at 7:30 tonight in Lubbock's Jones Stadium.

Hereford (8-2) is the District 1-4A champion and has an eight-game winning streak. Plainview (9-1) is the runner-up in 2-4A.

It is the teams' first meeting since 1985.

District champs

Hereford's ninth grade White football team won the district championship with a 8-1 record.

Tide gets ready; Ags roll

By The Associated Press

Alabama is getting all worked up about a national championship matchup against Miami in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day.

First, though, the Crimson Tide (9-0) must get past a tough matchup against Mississippi State (7-2) on Saturday. The 16th-ranked Bulldogs figure to be Alabama's most formidable foe this season.

Coach Gene Stallings' second-ranked Tide has to clear three critical hurdles if it is to meet the Hurricanes in a national title showdown.

First, Alabama travels to Mississippi State. Next up is Auburn in the annual Thanksgiving Day game.

Third is the first SEC championship game on Dec. 5 at Birmingham. Three victories would give the Tide a 12-0 record and would set up the dream mathup against Miami, provided the Hurricanes also finish undefeated.

"We talked about it during the summer," Derrick Lassic, Alabama's leading rusher, said of a possible national title. "In fact, we've talked about it for quite a while.

"But talk is cheap. We've just got to keep on winning ..."

Elsewhere this weekend:
 - No. 3 Michigan (8-0-1) looks to clinch a trip back to the Rose Bowl by winning at home against Illinois (5-4).

- No. 6 Washington (8-1) looks to return to the Rose Bowl as Pac-10 champion by beating Oregon State (1-7-1). The Huskies also needs No. 9 Arizona (6-2-1) to lose at No. 18 Southern Cal (5-2-1) and No. 21

Bowe challenges Holyfield for heavyweight title

LAS VEGAS (AP) - Another ghetto kid off the mean streets of Brownsville tries to grab the brass ring.

Riddick Bowe, the last of 13 children raised by his factory-worker mother in a Brooklyn housing project, gets a shot at boxing's biggest prize when he meets champion Evander Holyfield tonight for the heavyweight title.

The last youngster from the Brownsville district who used boxing as a ticket out of the ghetto to the top was Mike Tyson, who created other problems for himself and now is serving time for rape in Indiana.

"He would have knocked out Evander Holyfield in one or two rounds," Bowe said of Tyson. "I'm going to do the job that he didn't do."

The 25-year-old Bowe, who carries a 31-0 record with 27 knockouts into the bout against Holyfield (28-0, 22 knockouts), went to the same grammar school as Tyson.

"All I remember about him from those days is that he was big for his age, very tough and always carried a big bag of cookies around with him," Bowe said of Tyson, who lost the heavyweight crown when Buster Douglas scored a stunning knockout of him in Japan.

Tyson, meanwhile, sent along his best wishes to Bowe in his fight against Holyfield, telling a newspaper reporter by phone from Indiana that if Bowe wins the title, it would be good for Brownsville and good for showing that people can make it out of the ghetto.

Bowe said that he's dedicating the fight to Tyson and the people of Brownsville, among others.

Bowe, who hits with explosive power but whose determination has been questioned, appears the toughest challenger faced yet by Holyfield, who has been cast as a determined, dedicated fighter who does not have overpowering talent.

While tonight's bout is rated about even, Holyfield was favored in his three previous defenses. Since knocking out a bloated Douglas in October of 1990 to take the title, Holyfield has fought two fighters well past their prime - George Foreman and Larry Holmes - and unheralded Bert Cooper.

Holyfield had to go the distance to beat Foreman and Holmes, both in their 40s, and was knocked down by Cooper before rallying to stop the challenger in the seventh round.

Although he won those fights, Holyfield lost credibility as champion. He believes he can regain some of that respect with a victory over Bowe.

"I didn't get any credit for beating Larry Holmes or George Foreman," said the 30-year-old Holyfield.

Washington suffers Shaq attack

By The Associated Press

The Washington Bullets shouldn't be shocked at what Shaq did them.

While the Bullets were searching for someone to slow down the NBA's top draft choice, Shaquille O'Neal was scoring 31 points and pulling down 21 rebounds Thursday night. He led the Orlando Magic to a 127-100 rout.

Cavaliers 126, Warriors 122, 2 OT

At Oakland, the Cavaliers won a multiple overtime game for the first time since Jan. 29, 1981, when they beat the Warriors 154-153 in four extra periods.

They didn't do it with 3-pointers, missing all 14 - a record for futility against the Warriors. Mark Price was 0 for 7, a Cavaliers record and one short of the NBA mark.

Mike Sanders scored Cleveland's last four points for the win.

Tim Hardaway scored 35 points and Billy Owens added 30 for the Warriors.

Timberwolves 88, Nets 84

At East Rutherford, N.J., Doug West scored 24 points and Chuck Person hit a clutch 17-footer with seven seconds to play, ruining the home coaching debut of Chuck Daly.

Minnesota built a 19-point lead, then almost blew it as Drazen Petrovic led the Nets back. Petrovic finished with 27 points and Derrick Coleman added 19 points and 19 rebounds for New Jersey.

Suns 102, Jazz 97

At Salt Lake City, Charles Barkley scored 25 points and Cedric Ceballos had 24 as Phoenix held the Jazz to just 37 percent shooting. The Jazz, 37-4 at home last season, have lost their first two home games this year.

Karl Malone scored 32 points for the Jazz and John Stockton added 18.

Pistons 95, Heat 88

At Auburn Hills, Mich., the Pistons' strong backcourt spoiled the return of John Salley to the Palace. Joe Dumars scored eight of his 29 points in the fourth quarter and Isiah Thomas had six of his 14 in the period.

Salley, who played six full seasons with the Pistons, including their two NBA championship years, was traded to Miami during the offseason.

Hawks 104, Spurs 97

At San Antonio, Dominique Wilkins scored 30 points, 11 in the final eight minutes, and Travis Mays had 19 for Atlanta.

The Spurs were paced by David Robinson's 20 points and 19 from Antoine Carr. Sean Elliott and Lloyd Daniels contributed 16 apiece. But San Antonio was 1 for 16 from 3-point range, with Elliott making one of his six attempts and Daniels going 0 for 5.

SuperSonics 114, Lakers 102

At Seattle, an 18-3 run the final four minutes put away Seattle's third straight victory. Gary Payton scored seven points and Shawn Kemp five in the run for the unbeaten Sonics, who outscored the Lakers 34-18 in the fourth quarter.

Derrick McKey led Seattle with 27 points. Kemp added 19. Sedale Threatt scored 25 points for the Lakers and Byron Scott had 19.

Rangers hire Hatcher

ARLINGTON (AP) - The Texas Rangers have hired former major leaguer Mickey Hatcher as first base coach.

Hatcher, 37, also will work with outfielders and positioning the defense.

He is the third coach named to the staff of rookie manager Kevin Kennedy, who was appointed Oct. 26. Claude Osteen was named pitching coach Nov. 3 and Willie Upshaw was named batting coach on Nov. 9.

Hatcher played 12 years in the major leagues.

Southwest Outdoors

The cold winds of winter are giving us a gentle tap on the shoulder, but the hunters are smiling because the early hunting reports indicate a banner year for both gamebirds and native big game animals.

If you don't own a ranch, leasing the hunting rights to good property is a tricky business. Doing it after the hunting season opens is usually asking for trouble. The good leases are normally gone and the bargains can quickly turn into horror stories.

Start working now on your 1993 leases, but for the balance of 1992, I recommend using the services of a good game preserve. Listed below are several reliable preserves. Each has a good track record and the price of a successful hunt is much less than the cost of an average lease. These people make sure that the birds are plentiful; their businesses survive because of satisfied hunters.

Bar H Dude Ranch--located near Clarendon, call 1-800-678-5771 and ask for Frank Hommel. Good hunting plus lodging and tasty meals.

Bookout Bird Hunting Preserve--located at Hartley, call (806) 365-4488 to visit with John or Ann Bookout. Bed and breakfast accommodations with bird hunting--a unique combination.

Harpers Hunting Preserve--just outside Booker on the North Plains, call (806) 435-3495. Clydene Harper is sponsoring a special super chukar and pheasant hunt on the first Saturday of each month.

Webb Shooting Preserve--located in the breaks near White Deer, Wesley Webb at (806) 883-4101 offers both bird and big game hunting.

If you are introducing a youngster to the excitement of bird hunting, a well-run game preserve is just the ticket. Expect lots of birds, someone to help you clean them and even some great recipes for cooking these delicious morsels.

Big game hunters--If you are interested in hunting the elusive aoudad, the breaks of the Caprock to our east offer some world class animals. Be prepared to pay a high price for a good lease. The hunting is difficult because of the steep terrain and limited amount of public access.

Aoudad hunting tip to the week--Get a good pair of binoculars and be prepared to use them. Aoudad roll in the red dirt and achieve a perfect camouflage. Solitary aoudad are rare but hunters frequently miss seeing the herd until it is too late. A spooked herd of aoudad will run off to the next county.

Playa Pete says: "Two of my favorite words are usually hand-lettered and posted outside a church or school parking lot: 'Bake Sale.'"

McL Phillips is an award-winning member of the Texas Outdoor Writers Association. He is an avid hunter, tournament fisherman and host of a Wednesday evening talk show on KGNC TalkRadio 71.

COLLEGE

Washington State to lose at No. 15 Stanford.

No. 24 Hawaii (7-1) could win its first WAC crown and represent the conference at the Holiday Bowl with a victory over San Diego State (4-3-1).

Unranked Mississippi could sew up a Liberty Bowl berth by beating Louisiana Tech, a Division I-AA team.

In a game Thursday night, fourth-ranked Texas A&M remained unbeaten by staving off Houston's upset bid and defeating the Cougars 38-30.

The Alabama-Mississippi State game is by no means one-sided in terms of importance. The Bulldogs still have a chance to win the SEC West.

Mississippi State must beat Alabama and Ole Miss, and Alabama must lose to Auburn for the Bulldogs to get in.

"There are a lot of things that have to fall into place and the odds aren't in our favor," Mississippi State coach Jackie Sherrill said. "That doesn't mean it can't happen. But Alabama's pretty well assured."

But the Tide realizes it can't ebb now.

"Our players know the importance of this game ...," Stallings said. No. 4 Texas A&M 38, Houston 30

In Houston, the Aggies remained one of only three unbeaten and untied teams as Greg Hill had third-quarter touchdown runs of 10, 9 and 4 yards that finally shut off Houston's upset bid. Texas A&M didn't get its first lead until 3:41 remained in the third quarter when Hill skirted the right side for a 9-yard touchdown.

A final Cougars drive ended on downs near midfield with about 30 seconds left.

CHURCH

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

During the 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service, the Rev. and Mrs. Jim Williams, missionaries to Taiwan, will be speaking. Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:30 a.m. and the Sunday evening worship service starts at 6.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: This letter is in reference to the woman whose son was considering Accutane as a treatment for acne. My situation was similar to her son's when I started on my first of four courses of Accutane. I had tried everything and still the disfiguring, scarring acne would not go away. My self-esteem and self-confidence was as low as it could go. Accutane changed my life. The side effects are real and not to be taken lightly, yet the results are worth the problems. I experienced temporary hair loss (minor), fingertip and cuticle cracking, some fingerprints were permanently changed due to the treatment, red eyes, bloody noses, cracked lips and several other that I've long since forgotten. The results of the treatment were just as real. My skin went from a constant state of dozens of cystic acne flairs-ups to zero or three per year.

I was one of the first to use the newly commercially available Accutane over 10 years ago. I still see the benefits of it every day—every time I look into the mirror.

DEAR READER: Thank you for your comments and your encouragement. There is no doubt that Accutane is an effective medicine for acne that has resisted other forms of treatment. Fortunately, it usually does not require four long periods of treatment and its associated side effects. Many do get relief with one course of treatment, but if the first or even second course is not successful, additional courses of treatment may solve the problem.

Not everyone has so many side effects. And it will increase the total cholesterol level and LDL-cholesterol levels as well. But those are all temporary side effects and disappear after treatment is stopped.

You probably do need to, and probably do, continue to follow general care with more conventional measures to prevent acne, although the worst period is usually in adolescence in the young adult. I'm sending you Special Report 100, Acne and Rosacea, that discusses Accutane and other methods of managing acne. Others who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/100, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077.

Males are better off than females in terms of using Accutane. Women have to be careful because Accutane frequently causes serious birth defects if a woman is pregnant during its use. Every effort must be taken to avoid a pregnancy during Accutane treatment.

DEAR DR. LAMB: For about two months, I have had itching all over my body. I itch in different areas of my body at different times. There is no rash, but I bruise myself from scratching. I have tried spraying Benadryl on the itching areas, and it stops for a while, but comes back in a few hours. For some reason, it seems to be worse at night. Do you have any idea as to what might be causing this?

DEAR READER: The list of possibilities is long. Itching so severe that a person scratches until bleeding occurs is seen in a few dermatological diseases. Other causes include liver disease, anemia, diabetes, malignant lymphomas, intestinal parasites and many others.

At 7 p.m. each Wednesday, the following meet: Bible study in the sanctuary, choir practice and Kids' Kare Groups.

The H.E.L.P. (Help Eliminate Liquor Problems) effort will continue this Sunday. There will be a petition for all registered voters to sign in the church foyer. You must bring your voter registration card with you in order for your signature to be valid. There is also a petition available to sign during the week in the church office.

The following activities have been scheduled this week: the Men's Fellowship Breakfast, 7 a.m. Nov. 14; the Nazarene Christian Academy Musical, 6 p.m. Nov. 15; the Nazarene Kids' Korner board meeting, 7 p.m. Nov. 17; church board meeting, 7 p.m. Nov. 19; and the celebration of "Harvest Offering", Nov. 22.

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS

The public is invited to join the congregation each Sunday for fellowship and worship at the church located at 245 N. Kingwood. Worship leader is Doug Manning.

Bible study and classes for junior and senior high students are held from 9:30-10:15 a.m. Bible study is under the direction of Doug Manning and classes for the students is led by Carolyn Baxter. Fellowship time follows.

The regular worship service is held from 10:30-11:15 a.m. A nursery is provided.

For those needing local transportation, please call 364-0359 to make arrangements. There is no charge for this service.

Once again this year, the church will have its poinsettia tree for all to enjoy through this holiday season. For those who wish to contribute to this project, a list is kept on the reception table in the foyer of the church.

SAN PABLO UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school for all ages begins at 9:45 a.m. and the Sunday worship services are held at 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. The Wednesday prayer service begins at 7 p.m.

The church will have a special service Sunday, Nov. 15, to welcome three new members to the church family.

Congratulations are extended to those who have completed the Lay-Academy course at Canyon First Church. They include Marco and Linda Romero, Carmen and Arturo Martinez, Jessie and Yolanda Tarango, Anita Ramirez, Maria Martinez, Gloria Gonzales and Benito Cavazos.

The congregation is preparing for their annual church conference to be held at 3 p.m. Nov. 22 at San Pablo. The District Superintendent Dr. Albert Lindley will make appointments of the in-coming leaders for 1993.

The Thanksgiving special service is planned at 11 a.m. Nov. 22 during the worship hour.

AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday school begins at 9:45 a.m. and the Sunday morning worship service starts at 11.

The church-wide Thanksgiving dinner will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday in the fellowship hall. Special speakers will be Ray and Arless Stewart of Dawn. The couple has just completed their 12th mission trip to Russia. They have also been to South America, Australia and Africa.

The prayer group meets Monday evening.

The Wednesday evening meal is served at 5:45 and all organizations meet at 7 p.m. each Wednesday.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Members of the FUMC will meet in fellowship hall following morning worship to celebrate Loyalty Sunday.

Decorative baskets of bread arranged in fellowship hall will express the theme of the lunch catered free of charge to members by K-Bob's Steak House. The menu will consist of roast beef and ham, green beans, corn, and scalloped potatoes served with tea and coffee.

Loyalty Sunday actually begins at 9:30 a.m., with the arrival of children, youth, and adults at Sunday School expressing their commitment to the Sunday School program of First Church.

Fall Festival of Life will conclude next Wednesday night. Children are reminded to bring canned goods for the Succoth Booth. Those children attending the Wednesday night activities will present a program on Sunday, Nov. 22, during the Sunday school time from 9:30 until 10:30 a.m.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

"Hang in There" will be the topic of the sermon by The Rev. Charles A. Wilson on the 23rd Sunday after Pentecost at the 11 a.m. Holy Eucharist. A fellowship time will follow in the parish hall.

Christian Education for all ages is at 9:30 a.m. with a class for children and youth led by Jena Rawley-Whitaker and an adult class studying the Gospel of Mark led Father Wilson. On Sunday Nov. 22, the Christian Education hour will be given over to an Inter-Generational Event on the meaning and customs of Advent. All ages will gather in the parish hall for this special activity.

The regular Wednesday Public Service of healing and Holy Communion is at 7 p.m. which includes the Litany of Healing with personal intercessions, the Laying-on-of-Hands and Holy Unction. The public is invited to participate in this midweek service and in all activities at St. Thomas'. This Wednesday's service will commemorate St. Hilda of Whitby, 680 A.D.

The first American society for the abolition of slavery was organized in 1775 by Benjamin Franklin and Benjamin Rush.

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list!

Yesterday's Cryptquote: EVERY MAN HAS A RIGHT TO HIS OPINION, BUT NO MAN HAS THE RIGHT TO BE WRONG IN HIS FACTS. — BERNARD M. BARUCH

Rare eye-eyes, the strangest of Madagascar's lemurs, are killed by some villagers who fear their skeletal middle finger as a harbinger of death, while in other areas it is taboo to harm them.

America's schools will get better as more parents and other community members become more involved.

If you start to save for your retirement at age 45 you'd have to put $200 a month away for every $100 you would have needed if you had started at age 35.

Your baby's extra tender skin needs extra protection from irritations and rashes.

If We Ran This Ad On Radio, You'd Only Have 30 Seconds To Hear It.

Now you'd only have 25 seconds, and you wouldn't be able to go back and look at the opening line or pause (19...18...17...) to consider its significance. You wouldn't be able to spend a lot of time with this advertisement and it wouldn't be able to spend a lot of time with you. In fact, if we tried to say just this much in a 30-second radio advertisement, throwing in only a brief mention that newspapers offer coupons, give you great flexibility of size, and can leave a lasting impression on your customers, we'd run out of...

A FEW QUIT TIPS

Hide all ashtrays, matches, etc. Lay in a supply of sugarless gum, carrot sticks, etc. Drink lots of liquids, but pass up coffee & alcohol. Tell everyone you're quitting for the day. When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath, hold it for 10 seconds, & release it slowly. Exercise to relieve the tension. Try the "buddy system," and ask a friend to quit too.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Audrey Hepburn has been released from the hospital with a good prognosis following surgery to remove a cancerous tumor and part of her colon.
"There is a strong feeling that surgeons removed all of the tumor and none of her organs were compromised. They feel they got all of the malignancy," Ron Wise, a spokesman for Cedars-Sinai Medical Center, said after Miss Hepburn's release Thursday.
Miss Hepburn, 63, entered Cedars-Sinai on Oct. 30 complaining of stomach problems believed to be associated with her recent visit to Somalia as goodwill ambassador for UNICEF.
Doctors found a tumor on her colon. On Nov. 1, they removed the growth, along with a small portion of the colon.
Miss Hepburn, whose movies include "Breakfast at Tiffany's," "Roman Holiday" and "My Fair Lady," has been away from Hollywood for years.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The Directors Guild of America will award its highest honor to Sidney Lumet, director of such films as "Twelve Angry Men," "Network" and "The Verdict."
Lumet will receive the D.W. Griffith Award at a dinner March 6, the organization said Thursday.
"Sidney Lumet has earned the respect and admiration of his peers with a remarkably diverse and visionary body of work," said Arthur Hiller, DGA president.
Past recipients include John Ford, Alfred Hitchcock, David Lean, Orson Welles and this year's winner, Akira Kurosawa.

PIGEON FORGE, Tenn. (AP) - Cesar Romero says he no longer much cares for the medium that helped make him famous.
"I've lost interest in going to the movies," the 85-year-old actor said. "I don't want to see some of them at all. They have too much sex and filthy language in them."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

WHAT CAUSED JUDAH TO BECOME GREAT?

THE TRIBE OF JUDAH HAD NO STAMP OF GREATNESS ON IT UNTIL DAVID BECAME KING. KING SAUL HAD BEEN A BENJAMINITE AND WITH HIS DEATH AT THE HANDS OF THE PHILISTINE ARMY DAVID TOOK OVER THE HELM OF LEADERSHIP AND ALSO THE THRONE OF ISRAEL. THE TRIBE OF JUDAH WAS ONLY TOO GLAD TO ACCEPT DAVID AS ITS NEW KING, REMOVING THEM FROM THE SUBSERVIENCE OF THE TRIBE OF BENJAMIN. BUT ALL OF THE TRIBES WERE HAPPY TO PLEDGE THEIR ALLEGIANCE TO THIS HERO WHO HAD, AMONG OTHER THINGS, DOWNED THE CHAMPION PHILISTINE GOLIATH! AND WHAT A PICTURE HE MADE, WITH HIS HANDSOME FEATURES, AND RUDDY COMPLEXION, AND ATHLETIC PHYSIQUE! AND HOW THE PEOPLE CHEERED WHEN HE STARTED HIS REIGN. A STORYBOOK HERO IF EVER THERE WAS ONE!
