'Total Annexation' Of Ethiopia To Be Decreed By Italy

Troops Take Control Of Railway Line

League Of Nations Will Be Confronted With New Peace Problem

(By the Associated Press) Italy virtually completed its military domination of Ethiopia today as Marshal Pietro Badoglio took over entire charge of the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad, (French-controlled) as far as the border of French Somaliland.

In Paris official sources said France was not yet ready to relinquish her rights in Ethiopia's only railway.

Take Another City Meanwhile Italy's southern army occupied Jijiga, strategic Ethiopian city 60 miles from Harar, control point for the railroad.

Italian sources also announced total annexation of Ethiopia will be decreed Saturday night by Italy's grand council of fascists, thus presenting the league of nations, meeting Monday, with an accomplished fact in its study of the Ethiopian impasse.

A British cruiser bearing the fugitive Emperor Haile Selassie arrived at Suez, Egypt, at the southern end of the Suez canal.

Sharp differences of opinion were expressed as to whether sanctions against Italy should now be dropped. Laborites asked for continuance of the economic penalties and Liberal members even demanded that they be increased.

In Rome, where a delirious celebration of the occupation of Addis Ababa extended into the second day, it was learned that Italy would be adamant when the league council meets next Monday.

"Hands Off" Demand She will demand, informed sources said, that the league keep "hands off" the Ethiopian question and will assert 'Ethiopia is Italian.'

As Italy began the task of taking over her vast new acquisition, Giuseppe Bottai, former governor of Rome, was appointed civil governor of Addis Ababa.

Marshal Badoglio, who directed the successful military campaign, told newspaper men the labors of peace would be "quite as arduous as those required for war."

Detachments of fascists stood guard over various legations, where thousands of foreigners were besieged for four days. Many of the foreigners had their first square meal since Emperor Haile Selassie fled the capital Saturday.

Elbow School Staff Renamed

J. R. Hale Will Serve As Superintendent For Ninth Term

The entire staff of seven teachers on the Elbow school faculty, headed by Supt. J. R. Hale, has been re-elected for the 1936-37 school term.

Hale has served as head of the school for the past eight terms. During this time the school has advanced from a two-teacher institution with a seven-month term to an affiliated two-year high school. It is planned to inaugurate a four-year program this fall.

Mrs. J. R. Hale has taught the primary work in the school for the past eight years. Mrs. T. M. Dunagan, the former Miss Thetua Boyd, has taught in the intermediate grades for the past seven years. Noel Y. Burnett was added to the staff in the spring of 1930. During the past six terms he has taught mathematics and served as athletic coach.

Tax Measure Opposed By Rail Leaders

Bill Would Be 'Disastrous' Blow To Some Lines, Committee Told

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—The senate finance committee was urged today to revise the $803,000,000 tax bill to prevent "a disastrous blow" to railroads still struggling against depression effects.

R. V. Fletcher of the Association of American Railroads, and Fred Sargent, president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, urged the committee to revise the bill to permit railroads to build up sinking funds to meet their heavy burdens.

Sargent said that about 28 percent of the nation's railroads are now in receivership, representing about 24 percent of the capital of all roads.

"I think this bill would fold up a lot of small businesses," he said. "It could not survive."

He suggested broader income taxes and possibly processing taxes to raise the needed revenue.

"In the long run," he said, "the corporate surplus plan will get you less rather than more revenue."

Sargent warned the committee that present provision of the bill do not grant sufficient relief for roads in the process of reorganization.

Forsan-Chalk Vote On School Merger Slated Saturday

Forsan and Chalk common school district voters will decide the fate of a consolidation move Saturday.

Election clerks were to be selected by the judges, Mrs. W. T. Conger, Forsan, and C. A. Ballard, Chalk.

The consolidation election is the second of its kind this year in Howard county. Highway and Knott approved the merger in a March vote.

Zepplin, Enroute To U. S., Sighted 1,000 Miles From English Channel

S. Champlin today reported it had sighted the giant German zeppelin Hindenburg, bound for America, approximately 1,000 miles out from the English channel, at 11 a. m. Central Standard Time.

Germany's new giant airship, 613 feet long, rose from its moorings at Friedrichshafen last night, with 61 passengers and a crew of 66 aboard.

Work-Relief Policy Heads For Showdown

'Earmarking' of Funds For Public Works To Be Important Issue

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—A $2,364,229,712 deficiency appropriation bill carrying $1,425,000,000 for relief went to the house floor today for a showdown fight over WPA policies.

The appropriations committee, in reporting the bill, shifted to the Civilian Conservation Corps 75 millions of the billion and one-half dollars originally asked by President Roosevelt for continuing work relief activities. Leaders were confident the bill would pass the house this week or next, as it was reported.

FD Intervenes Meanwhile, it became known that President Roosevelt had intervened to aid his congressional leaders in their fight against an insurgent drive to earmark for public works $700,000,000 for the proposed $1,500,000,000 work relief appropriation.

The president's intervention was made known when house Democratic Leader William B. Bankhead said he was "authorized" by the president to inform the forthcoming party relief caucus that it was essential that the $1,500,000,000 be approved for work-relief purposes only.

The caucus was called for tonight, forced by a petition from the public works "earmarking" bloc House republicans met last night on the relief issue.

At the same time Bankhead indicated that the administration was ready to extend an olive branch to the public works bloc of 160 members, by proposing that funds for non-federal public construction might come from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Bankhead said he understood there were ample RFC funds available for loans and grants for PWA construction, but that it might be necessary to amend the law to insure their utilization for this purpose.

GRADUATING EVENT AT ELBOW SCHOOL SET NEXT FRIDAY

Seventh grade graduation exercises at the Elbow school will be held on Thursday evening, May 14, at 8 o'clock. It has been announced by Supt. J. C. Hale. Rev. C. A. Bickley, Big Spring minister, will deliver the principal address, and Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent, also will appear on the program.

The boys of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades of the Elbow school will make a two-weeks tour of South Texas immediately after the school term ends. They will visit all historic spots in the southern part of the state and along the coast.

A play entitled "The Ditch Detective" was scheduled for presentation at the school Thursday evening. Pupils of the ninth grade staged the play.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS $2 Apportionment Is Received From State

City schools Thursday received a $2 apportionment payment on 3,124 scholastics, bringing $6,248 into the district treasury.

The payment represented $14 of the current $17.50 apportionment for schools of the state.

BUDGET DISCUSSION SLATED THIS EVENING

City commissioners will meet at 7:45 p. m. today to give further consideration of the new city budget proposed by City Manager E. V. Spence.

Commissioners reached no decision on the budget after a lengthy study last week and postponed their deliberations until this week when a full attendance could be assured.

WOULD BOOST SCHOOL RATING Two Years' Affiliation At Ackerly Recommended By Official

Recommendation that the Ackerly school be given two years affiliation and four-year classification has been made by G. D. Holbrook, deputy state superintendent, after an inspection of the school.

The state department representative said that the quality of work being done by the school was on a par with much larger systems.

During the past year the school board has put on three buses, a move which has increased the enrollment from 150 to 249. Members of the board said that further improvement of the system was contemplated.

On the board are Robert Shipp, president, V. J. Coleman, F. F. and Eddy Green, Belas Brown and Joe Moore.

The teaching staff is composed of J. L. Chiles, superintendent and teacher of social sciences; Kenneth Baggett, principal and teacher of mathematics; Mildred Hanley, English; Pearl Beard, home economics and science; Sylvian Salsar, 6-7 grades and agriculture; Edna Pearl Nelson, 3-4 grades and Spanish; and Mrs. Chiles, primary grades.

KIDNAPER'S DEATH DATE SET JUNE 19

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 7 (UP)—Federal Judge Robert Williams today resentence Arthur Gooch, convicted for the abduction of two Paris, Texas, officers, and the first man condemned to die under the "Lindbergh" kidnaping law, to hang at the McAlester state penitentiary on June 19.

Campbell Is Arrested In Toledo, Ohio

Two Taken With Him; Is Returned To St. Paul To Face Charges

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 7. (UP)—Lindbergh Harry Campbell was returned here today under federal agents' guns after capture this morning in Toledo. He was brought here by plane.

CLEVELAND, May 7. (UP)—J. Edgar Hoover today announced the capture of William Mahan, called the remaining principal in the $200,000 Weyerhaeuser kidnaping.

Hoover said Mahan was taken in San Francisco at noon today. He made the announcement upon returning to the capital from Toledo, where Harry Campbell, pal of Alvin Karpis, was arrested.

The chief of the G-Men said Mahan had $7,300 on his person when federal agents captured him. Some of the money was the Weyerhaeuser ransom money, he said, on which serial numbers had been altered.

Hoover said Mahan admitted his identity, but did not confess the crime. William Dainard, known as William or Bill Mahan, is under indictment for kidnaping seven-year-old George Weyerhaeuser at Tacoma, Wash., on May 24, 1935.

Harmon Metz Whaley and his wife, Margaret, were convicted and sent to federal penitentiaries on charges of having participated in the abduction, but officials charge that Mahan was the "brains" of the abduction and the actual perpetrator of the crime, which ended with payment of $200,000 ransom for the safe return of the child.

Mahan's police record began in November, 1923, when he was sentenced to two years in the Montana state penitentiary for automobile theft. The only other police record for Mahan listed with the federal bureau of investigation is a 20-year sentence to the Idaho state prison for robbery in 1927. He was pardoned by the state parole board in June, 1933.

In the "wanted" sheet distributed by the federal bureau of investigation on Mahan, he is listed as 32, reported to use peroxide to bleach his eyebrows and he is described as "blacksmith" and "auto mechanic by trade."

Campbell was a minor member of the Karpis-Barker gang, which operated for several years in the midwest. His police record dates back to 1920, but he did not actually join the gang until shortly before it was broken up by the death of some members and imprisonment of others.

Campbell's chief claim to notoriety rested on the fray in Atlantic City in January, 1935, when he and Alvin Karpis shot their way to freedom when cornered in a hotel room hideout by local police, and on his participating in the Bremer kidnaping.

He is 36 years old, a native of McClintockville, Pa. His police record began when, at the age of 20, "they were tipped off by two Cleveland politicians and we are now investigating every detail of this angle."

Mothers Are Honored In Club Program

Are Guests At Special Affair Sponsored By Kiwanians

A tribute to mothers was paid by the Big Spring Kiwanis club at the weekly luncheon session at the Crawford hotel at noon Thursday.

About 30 mothers were present for the affair, which is to be an annual Kiwanis program. Each Kiwanian had either his own mother or a friend's mother as a special guest.

Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of the First Methodist church, gave a Mother's Day address, praising the mothers' contribution to nation, church and home.

Mrs. R. B. Zinn, who will be 90 in August, was the oldest mother present for the occasion.

Ira Powell sang as a solo "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," and Charles Scogins was heard in a vocal solo, "Mother Macree."

The program was in charge of Nat Shick. TWO ARE INDICTED IN 'SNAKE' MURDER

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—First degree murder indictments were returned yesterday by the county grand jury against Robert S. James, master barber, and Charles H. (Chuck) Hope, ex-senior, on charges they killed James' fifth wife by rattlesnake poison and drowning.

District Attorney Baron Fitts declared that he considered the gallows a fitting punishment for the two men.

To Interview Scout Leader

Successor To Williamson Recommended By Regional Office

Successor to A. C. Williamson, area executive of the Buffalo Trail council who resigned last week to accept a similar post in El Paso, has been recommended to the council by the regional office, it was learned here Thursday.

The committee named to recommend a successor will interview the prospect Friday at 6:30 p. m. and will report to the executive board.

On the committee are B. Reagan, Big Spring; Dr. C. A. Rosebough, Sweetwater; and Claude Crain, Midland.

In submitting his resignation, Williamson asked that he be relieved of his duties by May 15 if possible.

All In Readiness For Entertaining Boy Scouts During Annual Round Up

Reports from all special committees to Carl Blomfield, council camp committee chairman, Thursday revealed that Big Spring is ready to entertain hundreds of Boy Scouts here for the annual spring round-up once more.

All details of arrangements have been attended and everything is in readiness for the anticipated 800 to 900 scouts and leaders who will arrive here Friday afternoon, declared the chairman.

Four beavers have been obtained by Dr. W. B. Hardy and Tom W. Ashley. John Whitmore and Doyle Robinson have secured all other food articles needed for the Saturday lunch served to the boys.

George Gentry, district chairman, has secured the services of a cook-hang crew under the direction of Bill Josen. Wood has been placed on the grounds by Troop No. 3 under the supervision of Scoutmaster Jack Hodges. Water lines have been extended into the camping grounds by the city. Nat Shick has made arrangements for serving the crowd.

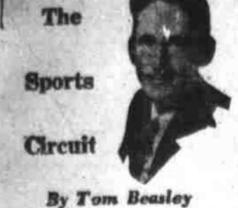

City Manager E. V. Spence said Thursday that scouts and scouters, irrespective of age, would be permitted to swim in the municipal pool for the minimum price of 15 cents. None, however, will be allowed to swim until the round-up is over Saturday afternoon.

Area Executive Coke Williamson arrived here Thursday morning to make ready for handling the largest assembly of scouts in this section of the state. He said that reports to him indicated that towns from Sweetwater to Barstow to Wink would be represented.

INSPECTOR PRAISES CITY'S MILK RATING

F. D. Brook, state milk inspector, checked the health department of the city Wednesday and lauded Big Spring for its consistent high milk rating. The city is today one of 17 in Texas on the state department honor roll, he said.

THIRTY-TWO TEXAS GOLFERS IN QUALIFYING PLAY

TO SELECT GROUP FOR NATL. OPEN

(By United Press)
Thirty-two Texas golfers will tee off in Dallas next Monday in the 36-hole sectional qualifying round to pick representatives from the Southwest for the national open tournament, to be played June 4 to 6 on the Baltusrol Golf club links at Short Hills, N. J.

The entry list this year includes 18 professionals and 14 amateurs in Texas. Although the number of places to be allowed Texas in the national tournament has not been announced, at least seven top players are expected to be chosen.

Play in the sectional round will be over the sporty Brook Hollow Golf club, par 35-35-70.

Among the amateur shot-makers will be Rufus King of the Brook Hollow club, who extended Lawson Little of San Francisco in a brilliant match in the National Amateur last year.

Another will be Leland Hamman, brilliant young Paris golfer, 1934 Trans-Mississippi champion and former Eastern intercollegiate champion.

Harry Todd, of the Lakewood club in Dallas, Texas amateur champion and former Western junior open champion, also will be entered, as will O'Hara Watts of Dallas country club, twice Southwest conference collegiate champion; Jimmy McGonigill, of Glen Lakes country club, runner-up for the 1935 Texas amateur championship; C. L. Dexter, Jr., of Brook Hollow club, former Texas and Southern champion; W. R. Long, Austin city titleist; Jimmy Demarest, of Braeburn country club, Houston, Texas F.G.A. champion in 1934 and 1935; and Graham Ross, of Glen Lakes club, Dallas, who qualified for the national open last year.

Yale Produces Star Pole-Vaulters

But Eli's Athletes Shun Olympics

(This is the fifth of a series of stories on the all-star selections of the nation's leading college track coaches.)
By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW HAVEN, May 7. (AP)—Performances tell only part of the story, so far as the all-time all-stars of Yale's track and field history are concerned. The Elis cannot boast as many champions as some "Ivy" rivals, but they have made outstanding contributions to the sport, particularly in the pole vault.

A C. Gilbert, now a New Haven inventor and manufacturer, is widely known as the "father" of Yale's pole-vaulting "system." Gilbert himself was an Olympic performer and intercollegiate champion in the days when an 11-foot vault was something at which to marvel. Chiefly under his influence, Yale produced the first 13-foot vaulter in Robert A. Gardner of Chicago, who also won renown as a national amateur golf champion.

The first to clear 14 feet was another Yale athlete, Sabin Carr, who achieved this world record height in 1927 in the intercollegiate championships. Al McGill, Eli vaulting coach, still considers Carr the greatest of all vaulting competitors. The Dubuque, Iowa, boy won the I.C.A.A.A.A. crown three times. A nephew of Gardner's, Keith S. Brown, signaled his competitive farewell for Old Eli by negotiating the world record height of 14 feet, 5 1/8 inches at Cambridge, Mass., last spring. Brown also holds the best mark for any Yale high jumper.

Brown Is Out
Brown has only lately decided not to attempt a comeback and seek a place on this year's American Olympic team. With him goes Old Eli's only chance to produce a winner at Berlin. He isn't the first Yale man to pass up Olympic inducements. Lancelot (Lanny) Ross, then the national 800-yard champion, preferred touring with the Yale Glee club to bidding for a place on the 1928 team.

Charles H. Sherrill, now a retired brigadier general and American member of the International Olympic committee, brought about a revolutionary change in sprint-racing while an undergraduate at Yale. He introduced the crouching start, using it in the process of winning seven intercollegiate championships at 100 and 220 yards from 1887 to 1890.

Johnny Overton is another glamorous figure in Yale's track history. Picked as the miler for the all-star array, with a best mark of 4:16, Overton also was a cross-country star, winning the I.C.A.A.A. A.A. harrier crown twice. He was killed in the World War.

Picked with the aid of Frank Kanny, Yale track coach since 1928, and Paul Barnett, Old Eli's public relations counsel, here's the all-star lineup:

100 and 220 yards—Charles H. Sherrill, 1887-90, and E. E. Smith, 1935, the latter with best marks of 9.8 and 21.1, respectively.

440 yards—Karl D. Warner, 1934, 47.8 seconds.

880 yards—G. E. Brown, 1913, 1:55.2, and E. B. Parsons, 1904-05, 1:56.

One mile—John Overton, 1915, 4:16, and J. W. Turley, 1934, 4:18.

Two miles—John Overton, 1915-16.

120-yard high hurdles—G. S. Lockwood, 1933, 15 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—Sid Kieselhorst, 1929, 23.3 seconds.

High jump—Wesley Oler, 1914-16, 6 feet 4 1/2 inches; Richard Landon, 1918-21, 6 feet 4 inches; Keith Brown, 1935, 6 feet 4 1/8 inches.

Broad jump—Bill Collins, 1924, 24 feet 8 inches.

Pole vault—Keith Brown, 1935, 14 feet 6 1/8 inches; Sabin Carr, 1927, 14 feet.

Javelin—Charles Storrs, 1923, 199 feet 1 inch.

Discus—J. P. Crowley, 1933, 152 feet 1 inch.

Shotput—J. P. Crowley, 1933, 46 feet 1 1/2 inches.

Hammer—Frank Connor, 1931, 177 feet 10 3/4 inches.

JOE DIMAGGIO HITTING HARD

NEW YORK, May 7.—Joe DiMaggio continued his sensational hitting Wednesday as the Yankees blasted out a 14-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers in Yankee stadium by getting a pair of singles in four trips to the plate. His average is eight safe hits in fifteen attempts.

All the Yankees hit, however, as the club shelled Lynnwood Rowe in a fourteen-hit barrage. Gehrig collected two bingles while George Selkirk, Bill Dickey and even Monte Pearson, the pitcher, rapped out home runs.

The Soxos matched their pace, nament will be at Dallas Thursday, to remain on top of the American league, while Johnny Allen pitched the Cleveland Indians to a 7-1 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Tony Piet hit a home run for Chicago as the Chicago White Sox pounded out an even dozen hits off three Sen pitchers in defeating Washington, 5-1. Ted Lyons was the winning pitcher.

Dizzy Dean finished his job on the short end of a 2-1 score against the Phillies, but his mates came through in the sixth to give him two runs, a 2-3 decision, and his fourth victory of the season.

The New York Giants took a 4-3 decision from the Pittsburgh Pirates in ten innings at Pittsburgh while Chicago was defeating Boston 5-6, and Brooklyn was taking Cincinnati into camp, 5-4.

Oilers Match Doggies Again

The Cosden Oilers meet the Cosdoma Bulldogs for the fourth time here Saturday afternoon 3:30 p. m. on the East Third street diamond, and then go to Trent Sunday for a game with the Independents of that city.

The Bulldogs hold the edge in their clashes with the Oilers, but the locals should fare better on their own grounds. Admission for a game will be 25c.

The game with Trent will be the first of a two game, home and home series, with the second game scheduled here May 17.

Harvey Munns' Lorraine aggregation has also been lined up, and will be here sometime next week.

MIDLAND JOINS WT GOLF GROUP

Midland joined the Women's West Texas Golf association yesterday to make the twelfth member.

Golfers from all parts of West Texas will compete in the association's tournament at Mineral Wells on May 13-17.

Big Spring will have a large group at the tournament, including Mrs. Obie Bristow, Rush, Harry Stakup and G. I. Phillips.

The association members are: El Paso, Lubbock, Mineral Wells, Big Spring, San Angelo, Fort Worth (2), Electra, Amarillo, Abilene and Brownwood.

Beaumont Skips Back Into Texas League Lead

DALLAS, May 7.—Beaumont slipped back into the leadership of the Texas league Wednesday night when Ira Smith pitched the Houston Buffaloes to a 3-1 victory over Dallas. Beaumont had come through with a 6-3 win over Oklahoma City.

Sol Coleman's San Antonio Missions increased their rating by going from first place in the second division to last place in the first division as they whipped down Tulsa, 8-7, while the Bucs of Galveston beat off Fort Worth, their rivals for the cellar, in a 4-2 victory.

Santone Snaps Out Of Early Season Slump

Manager Bob Coleman Gets Credit For Comeback Of Missions

By United Press
In the first division in the Texas league baseball race, the San Antonio Missions are snapping out of their early season doldrums.

Much credit for this comeback is attributed to Manager Bob Coleman, who is making his reappearance in the Texas loop this year with a team balanced almost evenly between veterans and newcomers.

Coleman likes players tall and rangy. Eleven of the 22 players on the starting roster were 6 feet tall or more. Five of the players were more than 20 years and Bob Muncief, a newcomer acquired from Palestine, can't vote yet.

Coleman is particularly pleased with a young snapper, Bill Miller, from Hannibal, Mo. Miller and his mates made 11 hits count for 13 runs in a 13 to 4 conquest of Oklahoma City, last year's league champion, in a game Tuesday, and Miller, going the route for San Antonio, kept the 10 Oklahoma hits so scattered they could account for only four runs.

When his roster was pared to 17 active players on April 29, he was left with:

Pitchers—Ashley Hillin, last year veteran; Robert Muncief, acquired from Palestine; Abe Miller, 1935 veteran; Bill Miller, rookie; Miles Hunter, acquired from St. Paul; Howard Mills, another St. Paul alumna, and Guy Fletcher, who played last year with Beaumont and Springfield.

Catchers—Armand Payton, last year veteran, and Ernest Spence, rookie from Wheeling, W. Va. Infielders—George Stanton, 1935 veteran; Ralph Rhein, who played last year with Indianapolis and Terre Haute; Sigmund Grymka, who played last year with Davenport, Ia., and trained this spring with Beaumont; Sam Harshany, 1935 veteran; and Walter Brown, who played last year with Brainerd in the Northern league.

Outfielders—Larry Bettencourt, 1935 veteran; Terrell Traweak, acquired last year from Palestine, and Debs Garms, 1935 veteran.

LOSS OF CAMPBELL HARD BLOW

Manager Steve O'Neill May Turn To New York With His Hustling Indians To Lead The Parade Of Western Teams Around The Eastern Loop Of The American League. The Cleveland Players, Riding High As They Squared Off For A Series, are Optimistic. They are Determined To Stay Near The Head Of The Standings And What Is Really Important—Think They Have A Pennant Winning Team.

The fact that they were overlooked by the experts, who strung along with the world champion Tigers and the Millionaires from Boston, is causing them no worry. The experts have barked up the wrong tree many, many times in the past. As recently as last spring, in fact, when they selected Cleveland as the logical pennant winner. The Indians feel certain that they can come through, with or without the blessing of the experts.

O'Neill starts his first full season at the helm with a group of big players who are willing to play their heads off for him. The club simply oozes with spirit. One of the reasons the team was clicking against teams of the western loop lay in the return of several veterans to key positions.

The return of Frankie Pytlak gives the Indians a first class catcher. Hal Tronky has come back and looks like the youngster who was a sensation in his freshman years and who gave promise of developing into one of the league's leading sluggers. His bat has been rattling off hits all spring, and he has been right up among the leaders in the little matter of driving in runs. Earl Averill is hitting in old time form and is one of the Indians' leading run getters. Knickerbocker, Hale, Pytlak and Sullivan have been pounding the ball well enough to keep on the sunny side of the 300 mark.

Johnny Allen has been pacing the club's pitchers. The former Yankee is happy to be with his old boss, Steve O'Neill, once more. Johnny was with Toronto a few years back when O'Neill was managing that team and gave him a share of catching. He gave many pointers and at the same time learned how to handle the square-jawed hurler. Allen is anxious to get a crack at his former teammates, but, oddly enough, he is anxious to beat them not because he feels hurt about being traded to Cleveland, but because he wants to show O'Neill that he got the better of the bargain.

Everyone expected that Steve would be popular with the fans in Cleveland. For after all, he spent the best days of his baseball life in a Cleveland uniform and was most popular as a player. But, judging by the reception he received from the fans in Yankee stadium, Steve has many friends and well wishers all around the circuit.

The players are willing and anxious to hustle for O'Neill for they know well that the former catcher can be depended on to go to bat for them should the occasion arise. He'll back his men to the limit, and they know it.

Cleveland hasn't had a pennant winner since 1920 and the town is hungry for another. It would be a grand thing for the game if O'Neill did bring his hustling band over the wire first. It can be done. Plenty of managers have done the same thing in their first full season on the job.

The only thing to worry Steve has been the serious illness of Bruce Campbell. Bruce had pounded the ball for a .338 average the first dozen games before illness again laid him low and apparently spelled fins to his baseball career.

Go Down Before Listless Cosden Oiler Team, 15 To 13

(By HANK HART)
 The Settles Roadrunners failed to grasp the numerous opportunities offered by a listless Cosden team and went down in defeat before the charge of the Oilers, 15-13, in a wild, free hitting affair last night.

Shell won the evening's second affair by swamping Continental, 15-5, by scoring six runs in the initial frame and coasting in.

Manager Howard Thomas started on the hill for the Roadrunners but was ineffective and gave way in favor of Fred Savage in the fifth.

The Oilers got to Thomas for four runs in the opening inning, topped that uprising by five runs in their next appearance at bat, and staved off several Settles' rallies to win without a great deal of trouble.

They recorded only nine hits off the offerings of Thomas and Savage, but seven errors on the part of the Settles team and nine free passes paved the path for all the runs.

The Roadrunners outthrew the Henningsmen, 11-9, and could have salted the game away during the stretch innings, but did not show the necessary punch.

With Manager Smiley improving as the game progressed, the Shell aggregation experienced little trouble in winning the second game.

Read, on the hill for the losers, gave up only six hits, but a deluge of Continental errors, gave him little chance to salvage victory.

Pyer hit a home run for Shell in the fourth.

Aggies Set For Annual S'west Track, Field Meet

COLLEGE STATION, May 7.— Hopeful of taking second place over the Rice Institute Owls, the University of Texas Aggies are set for the annual Southwest conference track and field meet to be held at Houston Friday and Saturday, May 8-9. Coach J. W. (Dough) Rollins has named twenty-five men to enter the competition.

"What interested me most in the English people," the pugilist said, "was their enthusiasm for sports. It's just the same whether they are at a fight, football game (soccer), or at the boat races, they are the most enthusiastic group. And what's more, you must be for one side or the other."

The Philadelphia boxer pointed out that athletics in the British Empire are better organized than in America. Boys' clubs are found in all neighborhoods and baseball is growing in popularity. Basketball, he said, is hardly known.

"There are only two good heavyweights in the British ring," Tommy asserted. "They are Len Harvey and Jack Peterson; but there are plenty of good smaller men."

Mrs. R. C. Hatch returned Wednesday from a six weeks visit with relatives in Waco.

BRITISH PLAYING MORE BASEBALL SAYS LOUGHRAN

PHILADELPHIA, May 7. (UP)— Sports fans, here and abroad, are not "brothers under the skin," according to observations of Tommy Loughran, ex-lightweight champion, during an eight-month tour.

Loughran found Europeans to be less enthusiastic about leading sports figures than Americans. He revealed that while they are not idol-worshippers, overseas sports fans turn out in great numbers for virtually every athletic event.

Among wild birds successfully raised in captivity are quail, ducks, pheasants, turkeys and ruffed grouse. The latest experiment has been with prairie chickens. More than a year ago some of these were brought to maturity in pens.

Most game farms cover many acres but F. A. Barsanti of Tulsa, Okla., raised 600 quail on a city lot 50 by 100 feet, in 1935 and this year he plans to raise 5,000 on the same place.

Mrs. Barsanti started raising the birds as a hobby. It wasn't long before quail were so thick around the place it couldn't be a hobby any longer. Barsanti took them over as a business, selling to sportsmen and states for stocking.

Breeding and raising the birds in the city is not especially difficult, he says. He keeps them in pens, exposed to some of the rigors of open life, and sells them after they are grown, or three months old.

The pens, designed by Barsanti, have large openings which permit the rain to beat in and expose the birds to heat and cold.

"If they don't learn to take some of the hardships in the pens they'll never live in the field," he explains.

Now comes the story of an experienced fisherman about the intelligence of steelhead—he was twice outsmarted by the tricky trout. Both fish he lost used exactly the same method of dislodging the hook. After being played to the river bank the fish gave a sudden twist, rolled over, and threw their tails against the line. Each time the flip pulled the hook out of the mouth, according to the angler.

Carp destroy vegetation in lakes and gobble up game fish-spawn. Wardens and conservationists urge bait fishermen not to use live carp minnows, as a few of these will reproduce many of their kind where none were known before.

Soybean Goes On Menu With Vitamin Rank

Tests Show Legume Has Proteins, Minerals And Starch

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., May 7. (UP)—Soybeans are edible, contain many proteins as meat, eggs and milk, have a high mineral content and a light trace of starch instead of being just a legume to plow under, the University of Arkansas college of agriculture has decided.

G. H. Banks, assistant director in charge of the Rice experiment station near Stuttgart, Ark., said he dislikes the term "edible" varieties because of the inference that the rest of them are "inedible."

"I have been trying to get people away from the idea of referring to certain soybean varieties as 'edible,'" Banks declared. "Most of the field varieties are good to eat, the 'edible' simply being the more easily prepared."

Wallace Tested Diet

Banks said Secretary of Agriculture Henry T. Wallace told him last August that he had experimented with a soybean diet while a student in college.

"He said that as an undergraduate he set about to go into the food value of soybeans, and also to try to determine the minimum expenses necessary for human diet," Banks related.

"For six weeks he lived on soybean and cornmeal, carried on his regular school work, had no ill effects physically, and spent 15 cents per week for food. He did not say that he enjoyed this rigid diet as much as he would have a more varied diet, but the fact that anyone lived for 15 cents a week is a good story."

Recipes Are Tested

The agriculture department of the university has tested the following recipes and found them successful:

Soybean loaf: To 3 cups cooked soybeans, add 1 cup broken macaroni which has been cooked in salt water and drained. Mix with 1-4 cup tomato sauce, 1 chopped small onion, 1-2 tablespoon salt, 3-8 teaspoon pepper and add 1 egg, well beaten. Bake in moderate oven 40 minutes.

Soybean salad: Mix 1 cup shredded cabbage, 1-2 cup diced celery, 2 cups cooked soybeans, 1-2 cup diced carrots, 1 diced apple, 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Make soybean dressing from 1 lemon, 2 teaspoons vinegar, 3 teaspoons soybean oil and seasoning.

Soybean sugar cookies: Sift together 1-2 cup flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 4 tablespoons baking powder. Cream 2-3 cup soybean oil and 1-2-3 cup sugar. Add 2 beaten eggs and 2-3-4 cups soybean bran. Add milk and sifted dry ingredients, alternately. Drop by spoonfuls on greased baking sheet and bake 15 minutes in moderately hot oven.

How To Make Rolls

Soybean rolls: Scald 7-8 cup milk and cool to room temperature. To add 1-2-3 tablespoons salt, 1-2 cup sugar and 1 cake yeast, and let rise 30 minutes. Make into dough by combining with 1 cup fat, 3-4 cups soft wheat flour or 3 cups soybean flour. Knead thoroughly and let rise 30 minutes. Knead lightly and let rise for two more periods, the first 25 minutes and the second 15 minutes. Shape into desired form, let rise until double, then bake at 385 degrees F. for 15 minutes.

Soybean omelet: Brown 1 pound ground beef or pork and 1 chopped small onion in fat from meat. Add 2 cups tomato puree, 1 tablespoon salt, 2 tablespoons chili powder and 1 cup water from 3 cups cooked soybeans. Let simmer slowly 45 minutes and add beans. Continue cooking until they are thoroughly heated.

Committee In Dispute Over Pension Probe

Some Clamoring For Immediate Resumption Of Hearings

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—The house $50,000,000 old age pension investigation split today as some members of the committee demanded immediate resumption to conclude the inquiry before adjournment of congress.

The controversy followed unexpected postponement for 2 weeks of questioning of Dr. Frances E. Townsend, co-founder of the movement to pay pensions over 60 months of $300 each.

Committee Chairman C. Jasper Bell, D. Mo., called the hearing off without explanation beyond the statement that important documents had not arrived from the west coast.

"I don't know what happened," Rep. John H. Tolan, D. Calif., said. "Dr. Townsend appeared for questioning as he promised."

Other members of the committee, some facing bitter opposition from Townsend forces, were clamoring for a "wind up" of the investigation.

At least three members of the committee are open targets for Townsend opposition during the coming election. They are: Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, R. Mich.; Rep. John B. Hollister, R. Ohio; and Rep. Scott W. Lucas, D. Ill.

Rep. J. William Dittler, R. Pa., was opposed by a Townsend candidate in the recent primary in his state but won easily. Chairman Bell also has opposition from the Townsend movement.

Another committee member, who is facing stiff Townsend opposition, said he was in favor of "swinging Dr. Townsend on the stand for a few days," then writing the committee report on its findings.

"We could then have a house vote on the Townsend plan," he said. "I feel that the plan would be rejected overwhelmingly. The basis of such a vote and the hearing report would furnish plenty of campaign material for those who are on the fence in the coming election."

Rep. John Steven McGroarty, D. Calif., leader of the house Townsend bloc who split with Dr. Townsend over political policies, said that should the "Bell committee succeed in ruining the doctor's standing, it would wreck the movement, which is too big for one man."

Dramatic Film Of 'Boulder Dam' At The Ritz Today

"Boulder Dam," a film which colorfully exploits the exciting incidents connected with the construction of the mighty power project, plays at the Ritz theater today, with Rosa Alexander, Patricia Ellis and Lyle Talbot in the leading roles.

Alexander and Miss Ellis have the romantic roles, with Talbot appearing as the rival for the love of the pretty dam hater singer, played by Miss Ellis. The picture has dramatic and action scenes in addition to its romance.

The story concerns an automobile mechanic, cocky and sure of himself, who shirks work at every opportunity. In a fist fight with his boss, the latter falls and strikes his head in a way that kills him.

The mechanic flees, gets to the Boulder dam in his wanderings and there meets the dam hater singer and is inspired to make something of himself. He is recognized by his rival, however, and his hopes of happiness seem blasted until an unforeseen and unusual incident occurs to bring the story to a happy climax. In the supporting cast are Eddie Acuff, Henry O'Neill, Egon Brecher, William Pawley and George Breakston.

Future Peace In Europe Foreseen By Chas. G. Dawes

CHICAGO, May 7. (UP)—The sun of common sense is rising in Europe and present events, instead of war, forecast an "enduring period of peace," Charles G. Dawes, former vice president and ambassador to England, said today.

"The march of Hitler into the Rhine will bring about an adjustment of vital differences between France and Germany as certainly as did Poincaré's march into the Ruhr in 1923, which made possible reparations agreements, re-establishing French and German economy for years," Dawes said.

"The events of the last 10 years in Europe, culminating in the Mussolini invasion of Ethiopia and Hitler's solidification and re-arming in Germany, so far from making a certainty of coming war, have finally brought about an attitude in the respective public sentiments of the European nations which should result in a series of settlements making for an enduring period of peace in Europe covering decades."

Committee In Dispute Over Pension Probe

Some Clamoring For Immediate Resumption Of Hearings

WASHINGTON, May 7. (UP)—The house $50,000,000 old age pension investigation split today as some members of the committee demanded immediate resumption to conclude the inquiry before adjournment of congress.

The controversy followed unexpected postponement for 2 weeks of questioning of Dr. Frances E. Townsend, co-founder of the movement to pay pensions over 60 months of $300 each.

Committee Chairman C. Jasper Bell, D. Mo., called the hearing off without explanation beyond the statement that important documents had not arrived from the west coast.

"I don't know what happened," Rep. John H. Tolan, D. Calif., said. "Dr. Townsend appeared for questioning as he promised."

Other members of the committee, some facing bitter opposition from Townsend forces, were clamoring for a "wind up" of the investigation.

At least three members of the committee are open targets for Townsend opposition during the coming election. They are: Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, R. Mich.; Rep. John B. Hollister, R. Ohio; and Rep. Scott W. Lucas, D. Ill.

Rep. J. William Dittler, R. Pa., was opposed by a Townsend candidate in the recent primary in his state but won easily. Chairman Bell also has opposition from the Townsend movement.

Another committee member, who is facing stiff Townsend opposition, said he was in favor of "swinging Dr. Townsend on the stand for a few days," then writing the committee report on its findings.

"We could then have a house vote on the Townsend plan," he said. "I feel that the plan would be rejected overwhelmingly. The basis of such a vote and the hearing report would furnish plenty of campaign material for those who are on the fence in the coming election."

Rep. John Steven McGroarty, D. Calif., leader of the house Townsend bloc who split with Dr. Townsend over political policies, said that should the "Bell committee succeed in ruining the doctor's standing, it would wreck the movement, which is too big for one man."

Moore News

There will be a Mother's Day program following Sunday school Sunday morning. Singing will be in the afternoon. Everyone is invited to attend.

Examinations marking the close of school will be held next Monday and Tuesday, Thursday, May 14, will be the last day of school, and it will be a "get-together" day for patrons, children and teachers of this community. A speaker will be heard during the morning program; lunch will be served at the noon hour, and in the afternoon pupils of Miss Lomax, Miss Murphy and Mr. Phillips will present a program.

Next Thursday evening Mr. Robinsonette's room will present a play entitled "Safety First." On the following Friday, the seniors will present "Professor Papp," a comedy directed by Miss Phillips. The public is invited to attend these plays.

A number of the Moore students accompanied Miss Phillips to Austin for the interscholastic league meet last week-end. J. D. Roland was qualified to enter the pole vault, having placed at the regional meet in Abilene. The group was delayed by car trouble and reached Austin too late for him to enter the contest. On the trip, the students visited a number of places of interest in San Antonio, Austin and other points along the route. Those accompanying Miss Phillips were J. D. and Bill Roland, Leo Hull, Pansy Penny and Anna Smith. The Parent-Teacher association sponsored the trip.

New officers were installed for the coming year at the meeting last week of the Parent-Teacher association, last for the current school term.

Next Friday, May 15, the following seventh grade students of Moore will attend the graduation exercises at the city auditorium in Big Spring: Dollie Jones, J. R. Goodman, Viola Pettip, Irene Brown, G. C. Broughton, Floyd Thomas and Loveda Schultz.

Birth of a son has been announced.

Stomach Sufferers

If you are suffering from indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas pains, "raw stomach," inflammation of the intestines (enteritis), gastric acidity and sick headaches, due to excessive acidity, you can't afford to ignore these warning signs. You should try at once the Doctors' Prescription, known as Gasa Tablets. If you allow these conditions to become worse, the acids may eat into the delicate mucous membrane of your stomach and intestine and possibly cause dangerous ulcers. Gasa Tablets soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach," and help convert starchy foods into dextrins, which is so essential to energy of the body, and preservation of health. Take just one or two Gasa Tablets and see how they help your stomach to "tackle a hearty meal." The first bottle must produce results or money back. On sale at JACK FROST DRUG.

Texans Conclude Centennial Trip At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 7. (UP)—More than 100 Texans, concluding a tour in the interests of the Texas Centennial exposition, visited Kansas City yesterday.

The party was headed by Gov. James V. Alfred and Mayor George Sergeant of Dallas and included the brightly uniformed University of Texas student band.

Prominent at the concerts given by the band were Jimmie Alfred, the governor's 6-year-old son, and Gladys Marion Pharr, 8-year-old daughter of Burnett Pharr, oil landmaster. Both were dressed in frontier style, and Jimmie carried two six-shooters.

Jimmie was considerably preoccupied while here with a loose tooth. His father, talking for him, disclosed that the Canadian government confiscated Jimmie Boy's guns when the party crossed the international boundary at Niagara Falls. They were recovered after considerable formality, however, and an international incident averted.

The delegation appeared before several civic bodies to announce the exposition, which starts June 6 at Dallas, and entrained late in the day for home. The party has visited 17 cities in the past ten days.

Performers In Show Are Announced

Every Country To Take Part In League Of Nations

The captain of the ship that will take everybody interested in the band boys on the trip by proxy around the world will be Mrs. R. H. Jones. Mrs. Jones conducted a similar tour for the members of the Eastern Star at the banquet held in honor of Mrs. Norman Read. Because this was so successful she was called on to aid the band boys tomorrow night. Her sallorettes will be the members of the V.F.W.A. trio, Mmes. R. E. Blount, Willard Read and Miss Ruby Bell. Others taking part will be: Miss Centennial, Helen Blount, Sweden, Miss Jackson. Paris, Mary Jean Lees, Joe Robert Myers. Germany, Miss Veda Rowe, Mr. Millican. Ireland, J. C. Milburn. Africa, "Peppy" Blount. England, Dean Miller. Italy, Mrs. W. H. Broughton. China, Marguerite Reed, Burr Lee Settles. Holland, Betty Bob Diltz. Russia, Mary Ann Dudley. Switzerland, Hoyle Nix, Ben Loken Warren. Honolulu, Clarice Petty. London, Mary Ruth Diltz. Scotland, Ethel Cochran. Spain, Bill Lewis. France, Edith Dow Cordill. The personnel of the "Woman's wedding," in which members of the Nut family will play a prominent part, will be given tomorrow. The performance will be held in the municipal auditorium. The proceeds will go toward sending the band boys to the Centennial exposition in Dallas this summer.

MISS LULA ASHLEY

Miss Ashley To Participate In Oil Scene In History Of Tarrant County

FORT WORTH, May 7.—Miss Lula Ashley of Big Spring is one of 200 co-eds of Texas Christian University who will have a part in the annual school pageant, to be presented in the university stadium at 7:45 o'clock Saturday evening. The pageant will depict the "History of Tarrant County," and will have five scenes, beginning with the time of the Indian and following Texas history through to the day of the cowboy in the latter part of the 19th century. One thousand rural school children of Tarrant county will also have a part in the pageant. The leading roles will be taken by Miss Mabel Jo Archer of Granbury, who will be "Miss T. C. U.," and Miss Orline Sanders of Birdville and Miss Maudine Garrett of Haslet, representatives of the county schools. Miss Ashley will be one of the characters in the scene relating to the oil industry in the episode depicting the development of Tarrant county. The production is being directed by Mrs. Helen Murphy, head of the women's physical education department at T. C. U.

Firemen Ladies To Establish A Fund For Relief

The Firemen Ladies met for a business session Wednesday at the Woodmen hall and voted to send $5 to the grand lodge to aid in relieving suffering in the eastern United States caused from floods. Members also voted to start a permanent fund in the local lodge for the purpose of relief work of this nature. The application for membership from Miss Robbie Elder was received and that of Mrs. T. B. Spencer was voted on. Mrs. Spencer will be initiated at the next meeting. Mmes. Sholte, Manion and Skalicky were named on a committee to send condolence cards to Mrs. A. B. Wade, whose brother has recently died. Mmes. Arnold, Sholte, and Wade were named on a committee to draw up resolutions to be presented at the tri-state meeting urging the appointment of a representative at the state legislature. Present were: Mmes. Russell, Manion, Alice Mims, Minnie Barbee, Susie Wiesen, Annie Wilson, Macie McTier, Bertie Adams, Dora Sholte, Martha Wade, Ada Arnold, Martha Moody, Iva Johnson, Minnie Skalicky and Ara Smith; Miss Marvin Louise Davis. Mrs. Lee Hubby, Hostess To Club. Employing spring flowers for a centerpiece Mrs. Lee Hubby was hostess Wednesday to members of her luncheon club at the Settles Hotel. Mrs. Hardin Wood received the

North Ward PTA Observes Music Week

Report Of Excellent Rank In District Made By President

The North Ward P.T.A. observed national music week Tuesday afternoon with a program directed by Miss Lurline Paxton. The first grade pupils sang a group of songs and nursery rhymes and a lullaby. The Choral club, composed of fourth and fifth grade pupils sang several folk songs, a Texas cowboy air and "That Wonderful Mother of Mine" which was dedicated to the mothers of the group. Mrs. H. W. Smith, president, said that North Ward association ranked third at the district convention recently held in Sweetwater. T. E. Pierce, elementary supervisor, discussed child welfare at the meeting. "The children from four and a half to six is the inquisitive child," he said. "Answer his questions wisely and help him fit his life to the society of which he is a part." Pierce also urged regular physical examinations of children in order that physical handicaps could be overcome early in life. A Dutch supper was served before the members played. Couples attending were: Messrs. Goldman, Roy Combs, Ray Lawrence and Hardin Wood. Mrs. Combs will be the next hostess.

The Ed Allens Are Eight o'Clock Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allen were host and hostess to members of the Eight o'Clock bridge club Wednesday evening. The Crosthwaits scored highest for couples. Mrs. Rutherford won the bingo prize. Highest score and Mrs. Talley second. Playing were: Mmes. J. D. Farr, Calvin Boykin, Adams Talley, Sam Goldman, Roy Combs, Ray Lawrence and Hardin Wood. Mrs. Combs will be the next hostess.

Mothers And Daughters Gather For Christian Church Banquet Program

Mothers and daughters of the First Christian church—approximately 100 in all—gathered at the church Wednesday evening for a mother and daughter banquet given in observance of Mother's Day. Decorations were in "lavender and old lace" and a beautifully prepared program, printed in lavender, was decorated with a lace and rose design. Mrs. G. C. Schurman served as toastmistress for the program. It was opened with a march by Virginia Lois Ogden, followed by the singing of "The More We Get Together." The invocation was given by Mrs. H. E. Clay. A toast to mother was given by Harriet Hall, and response was by Mrs. T. E. Baker. Entertainment numbers following included a solo, "His Lullaby," by Mrs. Roy Carter; a reading by Lily Jean Cook, and a piano solo, "At the Dennybrook Fair," by Eddyde Raye Lees. Guests were introduced and the program was concluded with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and the benediction by Mrs. R. J. Michael. The circle of the women's countess of which Mrs. George Hall is chairman, had charge of arrangements for the affair, assisted by other members of the council and young women of the church. The program was arranged by Mrs. Hall, Mrs. R. W. Ogden, Loula Jenkins McDaniel and Mrs. Schurman.

Pretty Bluebonnet-Theme Party Given For Four Aces Bridge Club

The most attractively planned party of the week was that given by Mrs. Loy Acuff for members of the Four Aces club at her home Wednesday evening. It was a Texas Centennial party and the motif was carried out in a variety of charming ways. Tallies represented six flags. The floral centerpiece on the dining table was a bouquet of red Texas bluebonnets. Roses were also used for decoration. The prizes were wrapped in bluebonnet blue and tied with small sprays of the state flower. Other sprays were laid on the plates as favors. Mrs. Frost and Miss Avriett captured the evening's trophies, the former receiving a hand-painted bluebonnet plaque shaped like the state; the latter, a plaque of the Alamo. Ice cream and small cakes were served at the refreshment hour on linens carrying out the Centennial theme. Mrs. Mae Battle was the only guest. Members attending were: Mmes. Charles A. Frost, Waldo Green, Pete Sellers; Misses Enid Avriett, Mary Faxon Coulter, Nell Davis and Clara Secret. Miss Coulter will entertain next. Chemistry Seniors Picnic At New Wells. Members of the senior chemistry class taught by Seth H. Parsons held a picnic Wednesday evening, at the new wells, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Parsons. As soon as school was out the boys and the one girl in the class, Ruth Mundt, went to the Cosden Refinery where Louis J. Biles showed them through the plant and explained the principle of refining gasoline from crude oil. After this the members of the class picked up their dates and went to the Municipal pool for a swim. The picnic supper concluded the evening.

Public Invited To Rural Party At CCC Camp

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the home demonstration club party to be held Saturday evening in the Recreation hall at the old CCC camp on Scenic mountain. Entertainment will be furnished by members of the club with Madison Smith, Howard county recreation leader, in charge of the games. The Forsan band will furnish the music. Political candidates will be given an opportunity to speak. There will be no admission charge, but homemade cakes, ice cream and soda pop will be on sale. The money will be used to send council delegates to the A. & M. short course this summer. This is to be a family party and children and all members of families will be welcomed. Two Hostesses Give Party For S.S. Class. Mrs. Gene Crenshaw and Mrs. T. E. Baker were co-hostesses to the members of the Homemakers class of the First Christian church Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Crenshaw. The class voted to give $10 to the Conference club fund. After the social hour the time was spent in visiting. It was announced that one of the members, Mrs. A. D. Wimberly, would move to Lubbock, to the regret of the class. Refreshments were served to Mmes. Glass Glenn, C. M. Shaw, Dan McCoy, R. W. Ogden, George W. Dabney, J. L. Miller, J. G. Coldiron, George Hall, A. C. Savage, T. E. Baker, Elizabeth Farris, W. W. Inkman, R. J. Michael, G. C. Schurman, H. E. Duncan, Delmont Cook and Earle A. Reed. Seven Aces Meet To Play Monopoly; Mrs. Rowe Wins Trophy. The Seven Aces met together at the home of Mrs. Floyd Flood for enjoyable games of Monopoly Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Stephen Rowe won the prize. An invitation from Mrs. William Gottlieb, now living in Abilene, was read, in which she invited the members to motor to Abilene to meet with her on May 17. They agreed to do this, if possible, and wrote a letter at the meeting saying so. Mrs. Phillips Jenkins attended as a new member. Others were: Mmes. J. F. Jennings, Jack Hodges, Jr., L. N. Millon and Stephen Rowe. The Carl Hensleys Entertain For Triangle Players. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hensley extended the hospitality of their home to members of the Night Triangle club Wednesday evening. The group assembled at the Alta Vista and spent the evening at cards. Pastel colors were used for decoration in the flowers and table linens, as well as the bridge appointments. Mrs. Griffin received a salad mixing bowl for high score for the women and Dr. Hardy a wooden table ornament for the men. Miss Jordan received a salt and pepper set for consolation and Monroe Johnson an ash tray for men's low. Delicious refreshments were served to Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Hardy, Hayden Griffith, Monroe Johnson and Miss Jena Jordan and Carl Barker. Miss Janice Mellinger has returned home from New York City where she has been visiting relatives. Miss Carden's room won the book for having the largest percentage of mothers present. The members voted to make a donation to the welfare nurse school. Members and visitors present were: Mmes. Smith, Ethel Rice, J. W. Watkins, Julie Moore, Carl Grant, T. H. Hughes, R. L. Beale, C. O. Smith, Lucy Taylor, Ralph Smith, J. C. Hitt, A. H. Bugg, R. A. Humble, Harry Weag, A. J. Pierson, L. S. Bonner, R. C. Williams, A. D. Engle, V. L. Patrick, L. B. Kinman, Andy Tucker, Bezie Wilson, L. N. Dunham, D. B. Parkhill, C. M. Weaver; Misses Sylvia Smith, Ethel Corwin, Lois Carden, Arthur Hensley, Lucile Faxon and Mildred Crensh, T. E. Pierce.

Mrs. and Mrs. N. C. Holman and daughter, Miss Florence Holman and Mrs. John Tyler of Taylor are guests in the home of Mrs. Holman's and Mrs. Tyler's sister, Mrs. Fattie Crosssett. Mrs. Ray Lawrence and Mrs. P. W. Malone have gone to Hobbs, N. M. to spend a few days visiting. Mrs. Lawrence's sister, Mrs. Rex Rader. Mrs. Ida Piner is in Dallas, where she hopes the lower altitude will improve her condition of health, and is doing better at present. Her son, Bill, is with her.

YOUTH'S VIEWS ON PEACE

The viewpoint of youth on "How Can America Stay Out of War," is interestingly presented in the essay on that subject by Owen W. Matthews, 3rd, an Eagle Scout of Portland, Ore., who was awarded first prize in a contest sponsored by Eddie Cantor. Cantor's peace program had a flare-back when it was found that the essay originally picked for the prize was a copy of a college professor's observations, but the scope of that event is indicated by an entry list of 212,000.

Matthews' essay was the final choice. He bases his argument for peace for the United States on two major proposals: one, emphasize the peace question to your rather than to adults; and two, encourage acquaintance and knowledge of the problems of other countries.

The Scout wrote his essay on his experiences at an international Scout jamboree, held in Hungary. There, he said, he came to know boys of other nations, and "by actually living for two weeks with thirty thousand foreign Scouts we learned that they thought and acted just as we did, even though their color and creed might be different."

The benefits of such acquaintance, Matthews wrote, are being manifested as time goes on. He asserted that he now corresponds with Scouts in eight foreign countries, is learning to know something of their life and customs while they are learning American beliefs. "After these contacts," Matthews asks, "how could we ever want to go to war against each other?"

The Scout suggests that picked groups of youth be sent to such international gatherings, then have the members, upon their return, lecture to youth organizations "telling the thoughts of youth in regard to war with other countries."

"If taught in youth the crime of war, as adults these boys will wholeheartedly disfavor war. Peace gatherings and encampments of youth from all countries will do more to further world peace than adult peace conferences held in some castle or something."

Young Matthews' essay is no finished treatise on the subject of peace, but his is a viewpoint that is worthy of consideration by all citizens, in this day of unsettled conditions and world turmoil.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Just when one thinks the town has gone as crazy as possible along comes—Mogul!

Mogul is a suave youth who sits in an alcove on the stairway leading to the cocktail lounge at the French Casino, midway between the lobby bar and Russell Patterson's sophisticated marionettes. This announcement you are cautioned to take seriously, for Mogul is a mind-reader, which should be a warning to those who go there with thoughts that can't be quoted in polite society.

There's nothing vague to Mogul's answers—You just write out a question and burn it, and then, with disturbing accuracy, he tells you your question and answers it. It's the uncanny accuracy and detail of his answers that make you wonder whether you've imbibed too many beers.

Suggestion: see Mogul before you tackle the wine steward. Then you'll KNOW it isn't the champagne!

The fable of the rich young man who named his yacht after a hotel because of the origin of its linen and silver could easily be duplicated in the case of S. Gregory Taylor—except for one factor. Taylor's yacht, D'Artagnan, has plenty of linen and silver of its own—a fact that causes knowing looks when one occasionally spies a napkin or a tablecloth bearing the insignia of the hotel St. Moritz. But don't let that disturb you—it's all on the level. Not only is Taylor master of D'Artagnan—he's also boss of the hotel!

Then there's an almost unbelievable story one hears in the nightclubs—the one about that slender dancer who is cheere every night by capacity audiences at the Hollywood restaurant. She can neither hear nor speak. How does she follow the swirling currents of Nick Lucas' rhythmic music? Like this: through each number intrudes the barbaric thump of tom-toms, and the vibrations are sufficient to keep her talented, twinkling feet from straying from the rhythm lanes. They guide her as a radio beam holds a plane to its course.

Sometimes magazine editors have difficult letters to answer—as in the case of this note from a mother who is ambitious for her cub:

"He is good writer and in 7th grade school. Can let him work for you $25 month or $100 for contract of year. Would send sample of his work only in pencil and are mainly themes for school class. You find my boy big help because he never sick and can work every day."

After a courteous, personal answer, in which he suggested that the lad pursue his studies until he got through high school, if not college, his mamma wrote back:

"High school and college not necessary for my boy, as he is going to skip them just like he skip 3A grade in grammar school."

But the editor didn't have an answer for that one. He tossed it towards his secretary and fled into Canada for a six week's vacation.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By BREW FEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—It's a sure-fire bet that the house will pass the Frazier-Lemke bill to refinance farm mortgages with a $3,000,000,000 issue of greenbacks.

Working very quietly, the stage has been all set. The hostile democratic leaders can't hold their cohorts and the republicans don't want to hold theirs.

Except for a relatively small bloc of westerners, most of the democrats who signed up for the bill privately are against it. But the fear of Father Coughlin is greater than the threats and pleas of their leaders.

The radio priest showed his power in last week's Pennsylvania primary. Two democrats who had refused to come to heel on the bill were defeated, while one who had "come across," Rep. Mike Stack of Philadelphia, was renominated over the opposition of the local democratic organization.

The lesson was not lost on the other boys who face doubtful election prospects. The day after the primary, so many of them rushed up to sign the discharge petition that the bill was forced out of committee, where it had been languishing for several years.

Embarrass Roosevelt
 On the republican side, two influences are at work—fear of Coughlin and desire to embarrass the administration. Except for the handful of progressives sincerely in favor of the scheme, all the other republicans secretly are against it. But they know that a favorable bill will put the president in a hole.

His main fear is no secret that he will veto the bill, even though it means flaunting the Detroit radio priest. And nothing would give greater joy to the republicans.

Roosevelt is in a much stronger position in the senate on the Frazier-Lemke issue. Most of the democratic senators up for reelection this year are from the south, where Coughlin has little power.

Ladies of Congress
 In the new congressional directory, only two of the eight women of congress list their dates of birth.

They are Mrs. Greenway of Arizona, 51 years old, and Mrs. Rogers of Massachusetts, who is 56. Both, incidentally, look much younger.

The others—Mrs. Caraway of Arkansas, Mrs. Long of Louisiana, Mrs. Kahn of California, Mrs. Jenckes of Indiana, Mrs. Norton of New Jersey, and Mrs. O'Day of New York—prefer to remain undated.

Two-Gun Men
 Jimmy Allred is the eight-year-old son of Gov. James V. Allred of Texas. Leonard Pack six feet four, 220 pounds, is captain of the Texas rangers.

Jimmy and Pack came to Washington as a special delegation to invite the president to attend the Dallas fair of the Texas Centennial celebration.

Attired in full cowboy regalia—wide sombreros, flaring chaps, boots, spurs, and each with two guns on their hips—they appeared at the White House. Jimmy's armament consisted of small 22 calibre revolvers. Pack's guns were huge, near-handled six-shooters.

Jimmy entered the lobby of the executive offices ahead of his towering companion. The secret service men on guard took one look at the boy, gathered hastily around him and said: "Sorry, bud, but you'll have to leave your guns out here if you are going in to see the president."

"Okay," said Jimmy, handing over his shootin' irons.

Just then in strode Captain Pack. The secret service men eyed him carefully, but, strangely, let him pass without objection. The husky ranger was ushered into the president's chamber, guns and all, extended his invitation and retired.

Asked why they took little Jimmy's guns from him but not Pack's secret service men explained:

"Captain Pack is an experienced police officer. He knows how to handle guns. The boy was different. He might have got excited. So we took no chances."

BattleShip Vote
 Behind the overwhelming vote of the house of representatives to give the navy two new super-dreadnaughts was some interesting by-play.

New York's fighting Congressman Marcantonio had been opposing the big battleships in four hours of debate. But during the debate there were never more than 40 republicans and 75 democrats (out of a total membership of 104 and 315, respectively) in the chamber.

Supported by Wisconsin's Gerald J. Boyleau, a progressive republican, Marcantonio put up such a fight that the republican and democratic party leaders tried to side-step a record vote.

However, the two anti-battleship congressmen insisted. Whereupon the steamroller swung into action.

Bells for a vote rang. Members came streaming out of their offices back to the floor. They had not heard the debate, but as they passed the swinging doors, the party whips called out a monotonous refrain:

"On Marcantonio's motion to strike out battleships from the navy bill—Vote 'No!'"

And "No" the boys voted—to the tune of 212 to 78.

A few minutes after this roll-call, a vote merely by voice passed the biggest peacetime appropriation in the history of the navy—$531,000,000.

Convicts Return To Work After 'Strike'

PARCHEMAN, Miss., May 7 (UP)—Two score mutinous convicts at Mississippi prison camp No. 2, went peacefully back to work in the fields today after a one-day strike for shorter hours.

Superintendent J. F. Thames announced this morning that all was quiet at the camp where yesterday some 40 convicts under the leadership of Ralph Fuite, bank robber and former pal of the late Ray, barricaded themselves at the camp and defied prison guards to get them out.

"The men went peacefully to work this morning," said Thames. "We had no trouble with them and everything is quiet."

Thames summoned a detachment of national guard under the command of Major T. E. Birdson to stand ready in case they would be needed. He threatened "to blast the convicts" out of their camp this morning if they refused to go back to work.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Youngblood and son of Abilene have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin.

Hyder Seeks Speakership
 Friends Organize For Campaign; Stevenson Not A Candidate

AUSTIN, May 6.—Rep. Bullock Hyder's name has been placed in the Texas speakership campaign by several of his colleagues in the legislature, and some of the members are now making a canvass over the state in his behalf for pledges from present and prospective members.

Rep. Hollis Fraser of Franklin, who is not a candidate for re-election, is assisting this group, with respect to present members, he said during a visit here. Rep. Tom P. Cooper of Tyler and others are at work. Efforts are being made, even before the ballot lists close, to contact the various candidates over the state.

Rep. Homer L. Leonard of McAllen has a group of friends actively assisting him in his candidacy for speaker.

Rep. R. Emmett Moore of Houston is regarded as a probable entrant; while Rep. R. W. Chivers of Hillburo, who contested for the place last year against Coke Stevenson, is "considering" a similar race for the 45th legislature, he said here recently.

Members of the legislature believed, due to the sudden spurt of activity, and the growing list of candidates this year, some of them close friends of Speaker Stevenson, that "house members have become convinced Stevenson will not ask a third term as speaker. Mr. Stevenson, who was here a few days ago, then declined to commit himself for or against the speakership campaign, but said he is running for re-election to the house.

He has a record now, equalled only once in 60 years, of having been speaker two successive terms.

Wichita Falls And Brownwood After Next WTCC Meet

AMARILLO, May 7.—Bids for the 1937 convention of the West Texas chamber of commerce will be submitted by at least two delegations to Amarillo — Brownwood and Wichita Falls.

Brownwood withdrew last year in favor of Amarillo at the Platteville convention.

Both Brownwood and Wichita Falls will bring large delegations to Amarillo, according to special train. Both, too, will bring bands.

The convention contemplates each year furnish special entertainment throughout the three-day meetings.

Amarillo, the host city this year, made strong bids at two previous conventions — San Angelo and Platteville — before landing the meeting for the first time in ten years.

The 1926 convention was held here and at that time Amarillo had to build a tent city to house the visitors and delegates.

The 1936 convention is May 11-13.

Chapter 31
FRIGHTENED

They lingered over the food. Still none of the others came.

"Tell me the time!" Iris demanded.

He held out his wrist to her. "Four o'clock?"

"I think so. It's an accurate watch."

"Four in the morning—three hours from home—the others lost—and the car broken down! Aren't you going to do anything?"

"What," inquired Allan rather amiably, "do you suggest?"

Something faintly mocking in his tone puzzled her, but she was too intent to take much notice.

"I'd better telephone Aunt Phina."

He shrugged. "At four? Why, of course, if you like. You're a delightful child, but you do remind me a little of the actor who blacked himself all over to play Othello. However, here's some change. Not that she'll thank you for disturbing her beauty-sleep."

She went off, nevertheless; and remembered, only after various vain efforts that Phina disconnected the phone with a pressed button after twelve. She came back, a little disconcerted.

"What you need," said Allan, "is some rest. Run along upstairs, the woman will show you. Give 'em a half hour before turning in a general alarm!"

She followed the roadhouse keeper's wife, a heavy, amiable, over-familiar young woman in bright blue silk, up narrow brightly-varnished worn stairs to a neat rather shabby room with a slanted roof. She turned to the broad old-fashioned sagging bed in the corner and was asleep before she knew it.

She waked with a cry of fright. A door behind her was open. Light streamed from it; a man stood above her in his shirt-sleeves. She sprang up, full of horror. What was this dreadful place she had come to? And then she saw that it was Allan Beckley.

Her second reaction was relief. Allan, her friend!

"Oh, thank goodness. I thought it was a strange man. Where are they... have they come?" she demanded confusedly.

He laughed as he sat down on the bed. "No, you funny little pretender, they haven't come," he said and put his arms round her. "Come on, put the cards on the table and stop saying you thought they were coming."

She screamed and pushed him away. She sprang up, horrified, still a little dazed. Allan, so gentle, so her friend, Allan being this!

He stepped back. "Really, my dear Iris, I am not the villain of the melodrama. If little girls who go driving into the night and land at roadhouses alone with their friends don't want to be kissed, one can't kiss them in this year of our Lord. If you want to tell me sternly that you are 'guarding your lips for the hero of your dreams,' all right. I didn't quite realize that was your line."

"We'd better go home. There must be a car somewhere that we can telephone for." She spoke quietly.

"Just as you say." His voice was neutral. He went back into the other room and slipped his coat on. Iris followed him down the twisting stairs, and waited while he talked to the sleepy cashier.

"One of the waiters has a car which I have hired," he said. He was smiling again, rather amused and superior, but still smiling. "Only five minutes more of entrapment by the villain, Miss Prudence."

Iris's temper flashed a little. "I was fast asleep, and I was waked up by a man standing over me in a strange place," she said. "If you want to go on teasing me, I am from a part of the country where things like that are frightening—you know that before you asked me to dinner tonight."

"You're a darling child, and I won't tease," he said, contentedly. "You shall be anything you please, from Helen Morgan to Pamela, or Virtue Rewarded. Want anything to eat or drink? I hear the howl of the approaching car."

It was broad daylight, of course, when they got home, so late that Owen and Phina had gone to work. She dropped her clothes in a careless circle, darkened the room and went dead asleep again.

She was awakened by Aunt Phina, brilliant and delighted.

"My darling child, I heard you had a wonderful evening, and walked out with Allan Beckley under everybody's nose. I knew you were just the type to make a hit with his grandmother. My child, she's letting me have the house!"

A girl to a little solemnly about staying downtown longer than was necessary of an afternoon wasn't prepared for this. She couldn't help, as it were, beckoning her scolding toward her and getting it over.

"When did Owen get back?" she asked.

"Owen—" It was hard for Phina to concentrate on Owen. "Oh—how should I know?"

"We got mixed up"—Iris felt she had to confess—"and Allan Beckley and I drove to a roadhouse on the Albany Post Road and waited there for the others till four or so."

Phina laughed.

"Accidental—done-a-purpose, as we—little Irish girls used to say." She reverted to the matter that interested her. "It's the most beautiful estate you ever saw. I signed the lease this afternoon." Aunt Phina swooped down on Iris and gave her an emotional kiss. Her eyes burnt with satisfaction, and she added, fiercely, "I'm doing more for you than Ella ever did!"

It seemed so queer to hate anybody for so long.

"Poor Aunt Ella," Iris said, forgetting the long years of old-fashioned obedience her aunt had imposed on her, and remembering the steadfast self-sacrificing affection that had gone with it. "You wouldn't dislike her if you really knew her now—a tired gray thing going around in a day dream about Father."

"Is she? Pretty well shut off

PRELIMINARIES CROWD POLITICAL MACHINE, HEADING TOWARD CONVENTION. ROLL CALLS

Proceeding such demonstrations as this one, snapped as delegates paraded banners and placards around the hall at a national convention, come months of preliminaries which keep political chieftains and underlings busy in every state.

WASHINGTON, May 7 (AP)—Involved political machinery is grinding away at the job of selecting more than 2,000 men and women to represent the major political parties at their national conventions.

The delegates are being chosen according to state laws, at primaries, in state conventions, or by state central committees. Their actions at the national gatherings are being determined to some extent from society—old for her age—

"She has the friends she always had. I don't think she minds how she looks," Iris defended her. She was chilled by the wind of hate she felt in the room.

(Copyright, 1933-36, Margaret Widdemer)

Camilla tells Iris a few things, tomorrow.

party affairs.

When the convention date nears, state delegations and various candidates open camps in hotels near the convention hall. State delegations in caucus name one person each for convention committees, of which the most important are the committees on rules, credentials, and resolutions.

The first establishes the rules under which the convention works. The second approves the delegations, and in cases where the personnel is contested, determine the delegates who may cast their state's vote. The third writes the party's platform.

How First Battle Starts

The convention opens with the key-note speech by the temporary chairman. Then the permanent chairman is elected by the convention, and the rules and credentials committees report. Over the findings of the credentials committee, very often, the first battle of the meeting develops. Protesting delegates are heard, and the official personnel of the convention finally established.

Next on the program is the report of the platform committee. The proposed course of the party for the next four years is read, argued, and a plan adopted.

Majorities Rule

Then begins the real show. The balloting for candidates starts. The roll of states is called: "Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas..." and so on. Each answers, "So many votes for So-and-So."

The republican ballot until one candidate has a majority. The democrats traditionally have gone on until some candidate receives two-thirds of the votes, but this year there is a movement afoot to adopt the simple majority rule.

Final nomination of the two candidates, for president and for vice-president, finishes the major convention business.

Spain Riots Followed By Many Strikes

Ships Held In Ports, Much Of Train Service Is At Standstill

MADRID, May 7 (UP)—General and transportation strikes disrupted Spain today while in the capital the smoldering ruins of five churches, seven convents, four schools and at least two homes testified to the violence of the most impassioned anti-religious rioting since February's left-wing election victory.

A national merchant marine strike tied up all Spanish ports. At Barcelona, 28 steamers and 18 sailing ships were unable to sail. All express and freight trains on the Alicante line, one of Spain's two principal railways, between Madrid and Saragossa were at a standstill as a result of a strike at the Alcazar and San Juan coal fields. Company officials feared all train service throughout the country would be paralyzed.

More than 30 persons, including two nuns, were injured in the Madrid riots. Incendiary attacks on church properties, centering mainly in outlying labor districts of the capital, were an outgrowth of an unfounded rumor that four children had died from poisoned candy given them by a fascist widow, Octaviana Martinez.

The ministry of interior issued the following statement: "The poison candy rumor is false. Like many others, it was circulated for the purpose of criminally exasperating the people. It undoubtedly was for the purpose of arousing them to violence."

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP)—Dust explosions are blamed by state officials for 350 industrial plant fires during the past eight years in which 308 persons perished and property damage exceeded $34,000,000. The explosions were of the type that frequently are blamed for the firing of barns.
