In interviews, some scientists agreed with the conclusion of Lykken and McGue's study, but others said the identical twins' similarity may have resulted from their growing up together. Lykken said other studies have shown that identical twins reared apart are just as similar on many measures as are those who grew up together.

The study involved 722 pairs of identical twins and 794 pairs of same-sex fraternal twins, ages 34 to 53. They answered a questionparticipants had been divorced.

President-elect Clinton, before meeting with former President Reagan today, said he was hoping for some tips on how to get things done during his first year in office.

"I want to ask him to talk about the transition and the first year of his presidency," Clinton said after a workout at the YMCA as he readied to fly to Los Angeles to meet Reagan for coffee and then take a long weekend off.

"They gave it a lot of thought," Clinton said of the Reagan transition in 1980-81. "They went after their agenda pretty hard, so I think we'll talk about that," he said.

Clinton was asked if he agreed with those who have compared him to Reagan because both were swept into office on calls for change and with expected support of Congress. "Well, I hope we can pass our program, I'll say that," Clinton said. "And I hope that I can give the country a sense of momentum and optimism and hope.

Before leaving Little Rock, Clinton communications director George Stephanopoulos described the meeting with Reagan as "basically a courtesy call, a get-acquainted session. I think he has an awful lot to learn from anyone who sat in the Oval Office, and it should be a good meeting."

Throughout his campaign, Clinton rebuked Reagan's economic leadership and said his theory of most Americans.

But Stephanopoulos said Clinton also had commended Reagan for "facing down communism and in helping to end the Cold War."

Clinton later planned to visit a suburban shopping mall to meet with holiday shoppers on the busiest shopping day of the year.

daughter, Chelsea, accompanied him. Clinton rarely took time off during his grueling White House campaign, and since the Nov. 3 election he has kept working, usually even through weekends in Little Rock. This California trip is his first full-fledged vacation all year.

Clinton associates say he often uses long weekends away with Hillary to make weighty decisions. He's contemplating his Cabinet choices and interviewed some candidates earlier this week.

"I'm going slow on this," Clinton said of his Cabinet selection in an interview broadcast Thursday on CBS-TV's "NFL Today" program.

"I like to pick a good team and I really believe in team work," Clinton said. "Once you put the team together - it's not like you can take 44 football players out there and you just have to play 11 at a time. You've got a team and there's no substitutions. So I'm trying to do a good

Clinton spent part of his holiday visiting shelters, where he served turkey to battered women and children. Talking to reporters between stops, he said he welcomed word that Acting Secretary of State Lawrence Eagleburger had discussed options on Somalia with United Nations Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali.

Eagleburger, administration sources said Wednesday, told Boutros-Ghali the United States was willing to send up to 30,000 soldiers to Somalia as part of a U.N. peacekeeping force that would help assure delivery of food and other assistance to the war-torn east African nation.

The president-elect, who said his aides had talked Thursday to President Bush's national security adviser, Brent Scowcroft, declined comment on any possible use of force until Bush decides what course to

"The thing I think is so heartening is that the United States is now taking the initiative, going to the United Nations with a number of options, obviously considering pushing this more strongly," Clinton said. "I think it is high time."

Unlike Bush, Clinton apparently likes broccoli. It was on the menu for the family Thanksgiving feast along with turkey, ham, sweet potatoes and Irish potatoes, green beans, cranberry sauce, bread dressing and corn bread dressing, bing cherry gelatin salad, a relish tray with pickled watermelon, carrot cake and four types of pie: lemon, pumpkin, mincemeat and pecan.

Ms. King is reported in serious condition at Parkland Memorial Hospital. Police say it was she who managed to call 991 to report the attack after pretending to be dead. Her throat was slashed also.

They were so close that neither teen-ager's parents were worried when they failed to come home on time from working at the sporting goods store.

Marquart had delayed college for a year and had taken the job at Herman's to help defray education costs after being accepted at Rensselaer

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP) -The country's main warlord, who has opposed foreign intervention to safeguard aid to the starving, today welcomed Washington's offer to send 30,000 troops but apparently misunderstood the intent.

In an hour-long news conference, Gen. Mohamed Farrah Aidid expressed optimism that the troops would aid his efforts to govern through his Somali National Alliance.

Quake shakes California

BIG BEAR LAKE, Calif. (AP) - A strong aftershock to potent twin earthquakes in June battered this mountain resort today, toppling chimneys, authorities said. There were no immediate reports of injuries.

Preliminary magnitude readings varied from 5.3 to 5.1. The epicenter was about six miles to the northeast. The quake struck at 8:01 a.m. Ground motion was felt westward about 75 miles away in Los Angeles and south about 100 miles to San Diego.

In Big Bear, firefighter Mark Durban said, "We felt it very strong. We have damage in the city but we don't know the extent of it. There are chimneys down and smoke showing." 'It felt like it lasted five seconds. It was like a little

On Thanksgiving Day, an earthquake measuring 3.9 on the Richter scale was centered six miles northeast of Barstow, about 50 miles north of Big Bear Lake.

Like today's quake, that quake was an aftershock to twin earthquakes that rocked Landers and Big Bear Lake on June 28, measuring 7.5 and 6.6 in magnitude. Caltech seismologist Riley Geary said those quakes have so far produced more than 30,000 aftershocks.

The Richter scale is a gauge of the energy released by an earthquake, as measured by the ground motion recorded on a seismograph. Every increase in one number, say from magnitude 5 to magnitude 6, means the quake is roughly 10 times stronger.

A quake of magnitude 4 can cause moderate damage 5 considerable damage, 6 severe damage, 7 widespread heavy damage and 8 tremendous damage. However, those guidelines generally apply to undeveloped nations.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I know you reach millions of people, and that is why I'm writing. This message can mean the difference between life and death to a great many people.

I was tremendously moved by this story and know that you will be, too I'm hoping and praying that you will help by printing it in your column. Thanks for your consideration.--A Faithful Reader in Hayward, Calif.

DEAR FAITHFUL: I appreciate the opportunity to share this touching message with my readers. Bless you for sending it on. Here it is, reprinted with permission from the Michigan
Eye-Bank and Transplantation Center.
The Story of Brian

The death of someone we love is one of the hardest things we will ever have to face. In the consuming grief that follows, it is extremely difficult to imagine that anything positive could possibly result.

Consider the case of Brian, a 17year-old lad who loved baseball and his 10-speed bicycle. One evening last spring, Brian was stuck by a car while riding home from school. He was rushed to the emergency room with severe head injuries. Emergency surgery was performed, but later that night brian was declared "brain dead."

Brain death is a condition in which all indications of brain functions have permanently ceased. Breathing was mechanically maintained with a respirator and his heart continued to beat. Brian's parents and his older brother were grief-stricken, but the story does not end here. The nurse in the intensive care unit knew that everything possible had been done to save the boy's life. She suggested to his parents that a positive result could

Hints for toy shoppers

Last Thanksgiving, no sooner had we blessed the food and passed the bowl of mashed potatoes than my kids and their cousins started competing to recite their Christmas gift wish list. Holiday displays may prematurely appear in stores even before Halloween, but kids know the real shopping begins post-Thanksgiving.

But when it comes to buying gifts this year, what's a parent and doting grandparent to do in these difficult economic times? Prices are up, kid's tastes have been seasoned with a year's worth of advertising and the shelves are full with dazzling choices.

As we stroll through toyland, parents know toy buying is risky. For experience, I know the $4.95 fad toy my child plays with only once is the most expensive toy I've purchased. To avoid making a similar mistake, here are some tips to keep in mind when you toy shop the next couple of weeks.

-Consider the toy's play value. When you are about to make a purchase, ask yourself if your child will want to play with it over and over, or will it be forgotten come January? Traditional toys that promote interactive and imaginative play such as construction sets, dolls and trucks are good bets. The toy that is passed on from child to child and even to the next generation is economical because it lasts.

-Note age-appropriateness labels on the toy box. The age may be an indicator of developmental ability and interests as well as safety, particularly if the toy contains parts that a child under 3 years of age may choke on. -Buy durable toys that have been tested for safety from a reputable manufacturer. Be aware that toys purchased abroad may be made with toxic paint, or contain small parts that break easily.

-Purchase a toy with your child, wrap it up together, and donate it to Santa Anonymous or to a holiday gift distribution program in your area.

The oldest person ever to run for the office of Vice President was Henry Gassaway Davis, who, with presidential candidate Alton B. Parker lost to Theodore Roosevelt and Charles W. Fairbanks in 1904 when Davis was 80.

Both mother and father agreed. The thought that something good might come out of the tragedy gave them a large measure of comfort.

Brian's parents signed the permission form to disconnect the life-support system. Within hours skilled surgical teams removed his organs and tissues and sped them on to waiting recipients. Brian's heart went to a 35-year-old college student. One of Brian's kidneys went to a teacher who had been on dialysis for five years. The other kidney went to a young wife and mother of three youngsters.

Brian's eyes were removed so that his comeas could restore sight to two blind people. His donated skin helped save the life of a severely burned baby. Bone from Brian's legs and hips was removed so that a 14-year-old boy would not have to undergo amputation of a leg due to bone cancer and another child's severely deformed face could be reconstructed by a plastic surgeon.

From this single tragedy came additional years of life, new health and new hope for nine of Brian's fellow humans and for nine American families.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My grandmother gave me a copy of this poem a few months ago. No matter how many times I read it, I am always moved to tears. The author is Lemuel T. Ward. Please print it, Ann.--New York State

DEAR NEW YORK: Thank you for that tender but disturbing poem. I say "disturbing" because it is sure to make every bird hunter who reads it stop for a moment and question the spot. I wonder how many more will throw their guns in the bay. Here it is:

A Hunter's Poem

A hunter shot at a flock of geese that flew within his reach.

Two were stopped in their rapid flight

The male bird lay at the water's edge and just before he died,
He faintly called to his wounded mate and she dragged herself to his side. She bent her head and crooned to him in a way distressed and wild, Caressing her one and only mat as a mother would a child.

Then covering him with her broken wing and gasping with failing breath,
She laid her head against his breast, a

She laid her head against his breast, a feeble honk...then death.
This story is true, though crudely told.

I was the man in this case.
I stood knee-deep in snow and cold, and the hot teras burned my face.

I buried the birds in the sand where they lay, wrapped in my hunting coat. And I threw my gun and belt in the bay, when I crossed in the open boat. Hunters will call me a right poor sport and scoff at the thing I did,

But that day something broke in my heart, and shoot again? God forbid. DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for "Fort Wayne Reader," the farm wife who hates to take her husband's lunch to the field. I couldn't believe her letter. Your answer wasn't much better. She said her husband always makes her wait and the food gets cold. You said, "Put his lunch on the kitchen table and let him come get it."

I, too, am a young farm wife, but unlike "Fort Wayne," I spend my time in the field, not the kitchen. When you've been out on that tractor or combine since 7:00 a.m. by yourself, by noon you want a little company and something to eat. A cold sandwich looks pretty good.

Most people don't know how hard a farmer works. He is forever racing against time and weather. When he plants and harvests his crops, there is always pressure to beat the rain, snow and anything else that might cut his profits. he doesn't have time to sit down and enjoy a real meal when the clouds come rolling in.

My advice to "Fort Wayne" is this:
Instead of "hot and attractive," make it quick and simple. Drive to a fastfood restaurant for a carryout, or throw together a sandwich and chips. If he doesn't like it, he doesn't have to eta it, but I'll bet he won't complain.-Indiana

DEAR INDY: You're right. Thanks for the wisdom from the heartland.

DEAR ANN: Here's another good post office story: Our son in Dallas sent a letter to a friend in Overland Park, Kan. The letter was returned, stamped "Insufficient Postage for Canada." Our son had a good laugh and put a sticker on the envelope saying, "Kansas is not in Canada. Please try again." Would you believe it came back a second time with his sticker still attached!--B.J.H.

DEAR B.J.H.: Thanks for the laugh. Someone should do a book on these gaffes.

12-0: Aggies down Horns for perfect regular season

A&M Aggies have done their job. Now they're hoping Miami, Alabama or Florida State don't do theirs.

The Aggies capped their undefeated season Thursday night by beating the archrival Texas Longhorns 34-13, but need losses by two of the three teams ahead of them in the poll for a shot at the national championship.

Those hurdles aren't a pleasant topic of conversation for the Aggies, who have the nation's best record at

"We deserve to play for the national championship, point blank," Aggies running back Greg Hill said. "We have nothing else to prove. If we aren't playing for the national championship on New Year's Day, then something is wrong." Right or wrong, the Aggies need either No. 1 Miami or No. 2 Alabama - the nation's only other unbeaten, untied teams - to stumble for a shot at the national title.

Top-ranked Miami, which plays San Diego State on Saturday, would play the next highest-ranked team for the national championship. That would be No. 2 Alabama, unless it loses the Southeastern Conference championship game on Dec. 5.

Since No. 3 Florida State also is ahead of the Aggies, the Seminoles also have next dibs at the Hurricanes. A&M, the Southwest Conference champions, will be the host team of the Cotton Bowl for the second consecutive year.

But Thursday night, all that

AUSTIN (AP) - The No. 4 Texas mattered to A&M was winning the annual grudge match with the Longhorns.

Hill was one of several offensive stars in the Aggies' 21st straight regular-season win as they-pounded Texas with a relentless ground game and the improved passing of freshman quarterback Corey Pullig.

"It's a crazy place out there," Pullig said, pointing to the Memorial Stadium field. "I've never played in a louder stadium in my life. It's different and it's difficult."

Rodney Thomas rushed for three touchdowns and Hill gained 100 yards on 23 carries, his eighth 100-yard performance of the season. Pullig completed 10 of 21 passes for 193 yards, fueling several scoring drives with his passes.

"I kept telling our offensive line that if we won the game up front we'd win the game," Hill said. "Basically, that's what we did. We made the first downs we needed and we made the big runs when we needed them and the passing game really came out

The Aggies have won eight of the last nine games against the Longhorns, but trail 64-30-5 in the series. A&M wrapped up its second straight SWC title last weekend.

Texas (6-5, 4-3) ended its first season under coach John Mackovic, the school's 100th playing football. The Longhorns needed a victory over Bowl on New Year's Eve.

Scott Szeredy kicked a 52-yard field goal to start the scoring for Texas in the first quarter, but the Aggies erupted for 17 points in the second on two 6-yard scoring runs by Thomas and a 42-yard field goal by Terry Venetoulias.

Texas shocked the Aggies in the third quarter with a 56-yard kickoff return by Mike Adams and a tricky 18-yard touchdown catch by quarterback Peter Gardere, who lateraled to wide receiver Darrick Duke and then took the return pass down the right sideline.

On A&M's next possession, Texas' Van Malone recovered a fumble that led to a 42-yard field goal by Szeredy with 11:01 left in the

But the Aggies cut off the Texas rally with a 28-yard field goal by Venetoulias and Thomas' 2-yard

Texas made one more attempt, driving to the Aggie 12-yard line late in the game. But cornerback Aaron Glenn put the final touches on the victory with a 95-yard interception return for a touchdown with 3:04 to

"All week we were told that Texas would run the slant inside the 20," Glenn said. "When the pass came my A&M for a berth in the Hancock way it was just like the coaches told me it would be."

Seminoles' great cornerbacks By DICK BRINSTER AP Sports Writer Record-setting Florida passer

Shane Matthews may do well Saturday simply by not being noticed, because numbers involving quarterbacks who face Florida State generally do not reflect the positive.

That's because the third-ranked Seminoles are continuing their tradition of outstanding cornerbacks. And, to say the least, they figure to be bothersome to the sixth-ranked Gators. Gone are the like of Deion

Sanders, LeRoy Butler and Terrell Buckley. But sing no sad songs for the Seminoles. On Saturday, Florida State puts on display what may yet be its best tandem of pass stoppers sophomores Clifton Abraham and Corey Sawyer. "I don't know if we'd had a better pair," coach Bobby Bowden said. 'We've had some good corners, but I don't know if these two aren't playing better than any pair we've While the 5-foot-11, 170-pound

Sawyer is among the nation's leaders with eight interceptions, roommate Abraham has three interceptions, two forced fumbles, two recoveries, two blocked kicks and touchdowns on an interception and blocked punt. Sawyer has gained more notoriety, largely because of his punt-return skills that remind fans of Sanders, Butler and Buckley.

"That was the reason for me coming here," said Sawyer, recruited as a quarterback by many schools. "I said I can be one of them.

Sawyer, an all-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, set a league record with 463 return yards on punts this season. He needs 41 more Saturday to break Sanders' school mark set in 1988.

Elsewhere on Saturday, it will be No. 1 Miami (10-0) at San Diego State (5-4-1), No. 5 Notre Dame (8-1-1) at No. 19 Southern Cal (6-3-1), Georgia Tech (5-5) at No. 9 Georgia (8-2), No. 16 Mississippi State (7-3) at No. 24 Mississippi (7-3), and No. 18 Tennessee (7-3) at Vanderbilt (4-6).

Today, it's No. 12 Nebraska (7-2) at Oklahoma (5-3-2).

The Thanksgiving weekend began Thursday as No. 2 Alabama beat Auburn 17-0 and No. 4 Texas A&M also stayed unbeaten with a 34-13 victory over Texas.

No. 2 Alabama 17, Auburn 0 "This is not exactly the way I would have preferred to go out," said Auburn coach Pat Dye, who announced his resignation as Tigers coach on Wednesday.

Alabama remained one of three undefeated, untied teams with the shutout of Auburn at Birmingham. Leading the way once again was the Crimson Tide defense, which leads the nation in all categories and held Auburn to 20 yards rushing and 139 yards overall.

Antonio Langham returned an interception 61 yards for a touchdown to break a scoreless tie in the third period, Michael Proctor kicked a 47-yard field goal and tailback Sherman Williams iced the victory on a 15-yard touchdown run with 12 minutes remaining.

Alabama (11-0, 8-0 Southeastern Conference) will play Florida on Dec. 5 in the first league championship game. Auburn (5-5-1, 2-5-1) closed out the Dye era with its second straight season without a winning record.

No. 4 Texas A&M 34, Texas 13 The Aggies kept their national championship hopes alive with a strong performance before 81,170 at Austin. Texas A&M erupted with a 17-point second quarter and survived Texas' explosive third quarter. Rodney Thomnas rushed for three TDs and Aaron Glenn had a 95-yard interception return.

Texas A&M (12-0, 7-0 Southwest Conference) has won 21 straight regular season games. Texas (6-5, 4-3) lost a chance for a berth in the John Hancock Bowl on New Year's

Here are previews of Saturday's No. 1 Miami at San Diego St.

The Hurricanes (10-0) don't have to contend with a healthy Marshall Faulk. The Heisman Trophy hopeful sustained a strained knee when the Aztecs (5-4-1) lost last Saturday to Fresno State and is questionable - but definitely not 100 percent - for Miami. No. 5 Notre Dame at No. 19 USC

The Freedom Bowl-bound Trojans, coming off a 38-37 loss to UCLA, hope to end a nine-game losing streak at the hands of the Irish. Notre Dame leads the series 36-23-4.

Georgia Tech at No. 9 Georgia Aside from tradition, the game lacks much of its usual attractiveness. Georgia, relegated to awaiting its bowl assignment since Florida won the SEC East title last week, leads the series

No. 16 Mississippi St at No. 24 Mississippi

The Bulldogs are going to the Peach Bowl, Ole Miss to the Liberty. The game - long played at a neutral site - is being staged in Oxford for the first time since 1972. The Rebels have dominated the series 46-14-4.

No. 18 Tennessee at Vanderbilt This will be the final regular-season game for retiring Tennessee coach Johnny Majors. The Vols lead the Commodores 54-27-5 in a series that began in 1892.

Smith's shoes lead Pokes to win

IRVING (AP) - Emmitt Smith in the third quarter. changed shoes then he changed the New York Giants' attitude.

"I changed shoes at halftime because I was slipping around," Smith said. "In the second half, I think I showed what I could do. They had me stopped pretty good for awhile."

Indeed, Smith caught a touchdown pass and ran 68-yards for another score as the Dallas Cowboys rolled to a 30-3 victory over the Giants Thanksgiving Day.

"I was impressed with Emmitt," said Giants defensive end Leonard Marshall. "I think he could be the best running back of all time, better than Walter Payton.

Smith, the NFL's 1991 leading rusher, ran 17 times for 120 yards and caught six passes for 41 yards. He turned a short pass from Troy Aikman into a 23-yard touchdown as he scored two passes in a period of 2:50 Cowboys did it by blitzing rookie to watch Emmitt go."

Dallas is now 10-2 with 10 days off before its next game in Denver while the Giants dropped to 5-7.

"We're 10-2 and I think we would have been excited to have that before the season began," said quarterback Troy Aikman. "We've had a hard schedule and we've handled it. Now we have a tough test of three-straight road games coming up.'

Dallas, which earned its 300th club victory, can clinch a playoff spot on Sunday if Tampa Bay ties or defeats the Green Bay Packers.

Lin Elliott kicked three field goals including a career-long 53-yarder as the Cowboys put the Giants in jeopardy of making the playoffs.

"I had to hit the 53-yarder but I did hit it perfect,"said Elliott, who now has a club record of 12-consecutive field goals.

Marshall said the way the quarterback Kent Graham late in the game was "unprofessional."

He added, "We didn't do that when they (the Cowboys) were struggling a couple of years ago. It's like kicking a dog while it's down, but that's OK. We'll remember it next year."

Giants coach Ray Handley said Smith is "one of the best, if not the best back in the league. On the swing pass for a touchdown we gave him too much room and he made a couple of other people miss. We are not the first people he has made miss.

"On the long run, we made a mistake on alignment. He got through and we wouldn't catch him."

Dallas guard Nate Newton said it's a pleasure just to watch Smith run. "It was a picture-perfect trap play," Newton said. "They should show it to high schools as the way a trap play should be run. It was sweet

"I saw no need to go back in," Smith said. "Rushing titles, personal stats, stuff like that, you have to put that stuff aside sometimes to take care of what you need to," he said. "I sprained my hand and had it taped up but it was OK."

It was the Giants worst loss since they fell to San Diego 44-7 in October of 1980.

Giants rookie quarterback Graham had a tough day of it, hitting 12 of 28 passes for 151 yards.

Oilers thankful for win over Lions

Houston Oilers had much to be thankful for.

They kept their AFC playoff hopes alive Thursday by overcoming their own sluggishness and the emotion of Mike Utley's return to Detroit for a 24-21 victory over the Lions.

This was a big win on Thanksgiving Day, on national televison, and all the people of Houston should be very proud of the Oilers today," said Haywood Jeffires, who caught four passes for 54 yards, including a 4-yard touchdown toss. "This couldn't have come at a better time for this team."

Indeed. The Oilers (7-5) were playing their third road game in a span of 12 days. They had lost three of their previous four games, including a last-second heartbreaker in Miami last Sunday.

"If we hadn't won today, it would have been tough for us to get into the playoffs," said Cody Carlson, starting his second consecutive game in place of the injured Warren Moon. "It would have still beeb possible, Utley, who was named honorary

For the Lions (3-9), it was another in a long string of bitter and puzzling defeats. Detroit, which won all of its home games en route to the NFC Central title a year ago, has lost its last five in the Silverdome in 1992.

And they did it in a now-familiar way. The Lions, who have been outscored 99-66 in the fourth quarter, have let fourth-quarter leads slip away in three of their nine defeats.

We had it, and we just let it slip out of our hands," said Barry Sanders, who ran for 54 yards and one touchdown and caught a pass for another score. "We just haven't played well on both sides of the ball for 60 minutes. Good teams do that."

The Lions got an early lift from coin toss.

"He wasn't here to pump up the team," coach Wayne Fontes said. "He was just here to see a good game.

The lead changed hands five times. Sanders scored on a 1-yard run on the first play of the second quarter. The Oilers answered with a 30-yard field goal by Al Del Greco and took a 10-7 lead on William Fuller's 10-yard fumble return in the third quarter.

Erik Kramer and Herman Moore hooked up on a 77-yard touchdown pass for a 14-10 Detroit lead, but the Oilers went back on top 17-14 on a 4-yard pass from Carlson to Jeffires early in the fourth quarter.

The Lions appeared to have iced the game 21-17 on an 8-yard pass from Kramer to Sanders with 2:57 remaining. Houston, however, had other ideas.

With Carlson completing four straight passes for 75 yards, the Oilers moved quickly from their own of the drive, Lorenzo White, who rushed for 68 yards, went up the middle on a draw play for the winning touchdwown.

'We had a really good tip-off for the draw," defensive back Melvin Jenkins said. "Based on the films we've seen, it was almost an automatic. Bennie (Blades) yelled, 'Watch for the draw,' but the defensive line didn't hear him."

Carlson completed 24 of 33 passes for 338 yards with two interceptions. The Oilers are 5-3 in regular season games he's started over the years. Kramer completed 12 of 21 for 163 yards with two interceptions.

"It was a tough loss, but that's the story of our season," Fontes said. "We just couldn't get it done. We can't sustain an offensive possession when we need one. And we can't score when we need to."

The Oilers now get to rest until Monday, Dec. 7, when they play host to the Chicago Bears. The Lions are off until Dec. 6, when they play the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee.

QTE Southwest Incorporated (QTESW) and Contel of Texas Inc. Contel's intraexchange DS1/DDS Service will be offered pursuant to the rates proposed with this filing and will no longer be available through Contel's current private line tariff rates. Existing customers with DS1/DDS Services will not be affected by these rate changes. DS1 1.544 Megabits per second (Mbps) Service and Digital Data Service (DDS) will normally be used for the transmission of data communications or large volumes of voice communications between two locations. These services are optional and will not affect the existing rates of customers who do not order these services. The estimated annual effect on GTE-SW's revenues in the first year is $1, 080, 567. The estimated annual effect on Contel's revenues in the first year are $42, 383.

DS1 Service is an intraLATA Private Line Service which provides a dedicated, high capacity channel which may be used for simultaneous two-way ission of voice data or other digitally encoded customer information signals. DS1 Service provides a transmission speed of 1.544 Mbps and is designed to provide an average performance of at least 95 percent error-free seconds of transmission over a continuous 24-hour period.

DS1 Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Conte where digital facilities exist. DS1 Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two Customer Designated Locations (CDL), between a Serving Wire Center (SWC) and a CDL, between a CDL and a point of

IntraLATA DS1 Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DS1 Local Loop, DS1 Transport and DS1 Transport Termination. Each element is

DS1 Local Loop

This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer has two payment options for the purchase of DS1 Local Loops. There is a month-to-month plan or term contract Optional Payment Plan (OPP).

The month-to-month payment basis allows the customer to establish and disconnect DS1 Services, without penalty, other than to meet the minimu service interval of one month's service, as needed. Under the month-to-month service, the additional DS1 Local Loop rate applies only when the additional DS1 Local Loop (s) is (are) ordered at the same time and between the same two CDLs as the first DS1 Local Loop.

The OPP plan allows the customer to select a term of service (1 YR, 3 YR and 5 YR) with lower monthly rates associated with longer term contracts. If the customer selects an OPP, additional DS1 Local Loops may be ordered and installed at the Additional DS1 Local Loop rate between any SWC and CDL covered by the OPP, at any time during the term of that OPP.

This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DS1 signal between Serving Wire Centers. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

DS1 Transport Termination

This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DS1 Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DS1 Transport is required for the service er. One transport termination charge applies at each configuration of the custo end of the DS1 Transport.

Digital Data Service (DDS) is an intraLATA Private Line service which su synchronous, full-duplex transmission between the CDL and the SWC or the 2.4, 4.8, 9.6, 19.2 and 56 kilobits per second (Kbps). DDS provides a sion path for digital data signals within the same LATA.

DDS Service is available in and between all exchanges of GTE-SW and Contel where digital facilities exist. DDS Service is available on a point-to-point intraLATA basis between two CDLs or between a CDL and a point of connection with another service provider.

IntraLATA DDS Private Line Service is comprised of three rate elements: DDS Local Loop, DDS Transport and DDS Transport Termination. Each element is described below.

DDS Local Loop This rate element is for the cable facilities from the CDL to the SWC. The customer may establish and disconnect DDS Local Loops without penalty other than the minimum service interval of one month's service, as his/her needs

DDS Transport

This rate element is for the mileage sensitive charges for transporting a DDS signal between SWCs. Transport occurs only when the two CDLs being connected are served by two different SWCs.

This rate element is for the equipment to terminate DDS Transport at the SWCs. This charge applies only when DDS Transport is required for the service configuration of the customer. One transport termination charge applies at each end of the service.

Proposed rates and charges for DDS are as follows:

Gesek among keys to Cowboys' success

Fort Worth Star-Telegram

IRVING (AP) - It was just three months ago when John Gesek, the latest offensive lineman anointed by Dallas Cowboys coaches as a candidate to go to the Pro Bowl, rested his head in his massive hands and worried that he was a candidate to go to Green Bay or Seattle or New England.

"They're going to trade me," Gesek moaned on Aug. 23, the day the team made offensive-line changes that left unclear his future as the starting right guard. "It's a trade. I know it. I've had this feeling before."

Suffice to say Gesek is better at blocking than he is at feeling. He has progressed from being a Los Angeles Raiders discard in 1990 to a 6-foot-5, 280-pound bundle of anxiety in mid-July to what he is today: a "puncher" instead of a "grabber;" a guy with answers instead of questions; and one of the players who best typifies the Cowboys' performance in both the front office and the front line.

"I am playing better than ever, so a lot has changed since training camp," Gesek said. "That's when coaches are trying to make decisions. In the past, I've tended to let that get to me - especially since I've never been one of their boys here."

If it sounds as if Gesek suffers from a persecution complex, you should understand that ... well, maybe he does.

"Because he was a late pick from a small school, he's kind of had to double-prove himself," said wife Gina. "His humbleness is one of the things I love about him, but he's not the type who envisions himself as a Pro Bowl player."

And you should understand the lot of an offensive lineman. Everyone remembers the 1989 Herschel Walker trade, which is understandably backup center, a position he hadn't I tended to revert back to grabbing when hoisted up the flagpole any time the tried since 1987, when he was a it came down to the heat of battle in Built' is raised. Everyone now is being reminded of two recent Manhattan-for-trinkets deals that added Charles Haley and Thomas Everett to the Dallas defense.

But who recalls Sept. 3, 1990, when some Cal State-Sacramento product named Gesek arrived from the Raiders in exchange for just a fifth-round pick?

There's no such thing as a 'blockbuster trade' for a lineman," said the Cowboys' other guard, Nate Newton. "A lineman's just a lineman."

In terms of publicity, the Cowboys have at times tried to change that. Two years ago, Newton was the beneficiary of the coaches' plaudits. Last year, center Mark Stepnoski got the attention. This year, tackles Erik Williams and Mark Tuinei have earned raves for their work up front. Emmitt Smith leads the National Football League in rushing and scoring. Troy Aikman, sacked 15 times in the Cowboys' first three games last year, has been dumped just 14 times through nine outings this

But recently, it's been Gesek -surely "one of their boys here" now who has drawn praise.

Said coach Jimmy Johnson: "Our line is playing as well as any group in the league. And John Gesek is as good as any guard in the league."

Just three months ago, a chain of events emotionally shackled Gesek. Williams moved from second-team to right tackle. That moved Newton from tackle to guard. That put the status of incumbent guards Kevin Gogan and Gesek in question. Gesek figured he knew the answer when he was instructed to take some snaps as "They don't usually tell the starting right guard to practice another position if they intend on letting him continue to be the starting right guard," Gesek said.

What has changed?

First, as Gesek sometimes does, he probably overreacted to the shift. It was Gogan, not him, who was moved to the bench. The snaps at center were necessary because starter Stepnoski was unsigned and absent from camp.

"He has gotten much better about handling that stuff," Gina said. "His first few years, wins and losses greatly affected him, things he read in the paper affected him, things the family said affected him."

Before this year, Gina would tape every televised Cowboys game. Upon returning home, Gesek couldn't sleep until he had reviewed the tape.

"This year, he doesn't carry the baggage around week after week." said Gina, who no longer bothers taping

For three years as a Raider, Gesek was schooled in "grabbing," a pass-blocking technique that demands that linemen latch onto defenders and don't let go. "That's the Raiders' way: Get your hands on a guy and don't turn him loose," Gesek said. "I was a big-time grabber."

Dallas line coach Tony Wise has spent almost three years now preaching to Gesek that he prefers "punching" to grabbing. Wise instructs pass-blocking linemen to punch-and-release, then shadow defenders.

That hit-and-move philosophy "was easy to do on the practice field," Gesek said. "But for my first two years here, subject of "How The Cowboys Were rookie 10th-round pick with the games. Run-blocking was never a problem for me. But that technique thing caused pass blocking to be a weakness." complete player."

Now, Johnson said, "Gesek is a

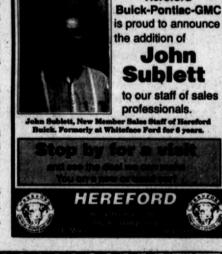

Cortisone shots for his back were once as much a part of Gesek's armor. as helmet and shoulder pads. No more. His left knee is dinged, he has stretched ligaments in his fingers, and he'll get offseason surgery on a bum elbow, but "any injuries I have are just dumb little things," he said. "Health is a major factor in whatever success I'm having. It's great to get up in the morning and not be hurting."

Offensive linemen are thick-bodied, but usually not thickheaded. Gesek is no exception. But his intellect sometimes got him in trouble.

"Last year, I beat Tony up with questions about how I graded out, and I did it to make a point," Gesek said. (Financial) incentives are tied to how we grade out. That's ridiculous, and to let him know I thought so, I rode him on grades. I mean, the

Vernon, Southlake Carroll meet for 3A pre-eminence

DALLAS (AP) - Vernon football fans consider the team's 1990 playoff victory over Southlake Carroll as one of the program's turning points toward its current success.

Maybe that's why they're so anxious for a rematch.

"It's very interesting, because as the season goes along, people really start looking at when we might play Carroll," Vernon coach Leo Brittain said. "We had fans before the season even started asking when we were going to play them.'

The two teams are both 12-0 and ranked No. 1 and No. 2 in the season's final Associated Press schoolboy football poll, with Carroll

"It's not just another game," said Bob Ledbetter, a Vernon assistant from 1973-75. "When you play a game of this magnitude, everyone knows it's a different situation. The players know and the coaches know you have to take the rivalry into consideration."

Rivalry may be a harsh word, but the two teams did play a memorable game in their only previous meeting: an 11-6 Vernon victory in a 1990 state semifinal matchup. The Dragons were knocked out of the playoffs last year with a 7-7 tie in the playoffs to Burnet.

Although no other games this weekend can be considered early round versions of a "dream championship," there are several key matchups.

The most intriguing 5A game pits No. 2 Temple, the highest-ranked team in the class still active, against giant-slayer Richardson. The Eagles previously undefeated teams in the playoffs.

"They're very good both offensively and defensively," said Wildcats coach Bob McQueen, who was in the stands at Texas Stadium when Richardson upset No. 1 Dallas Kimball 3-0. "It was not a fluke."

Odessa Permian (10-1), ranked third, tries to continue its march toward a second consecutive "small school" championship while playing Lewisville (10-1-1) at Odessa's Ratliff Stadium. The Panthers have scored 61 points in each of their first two games.

"I'm sure we'll have some youngsters whose eyes will be as big as silver dollars," Lewisville coach Ronnie Gage said. "There will be 22,000 people there and 20,000 of them will be wearing (Permian's) black and white."

Converse Judson (11-1) looks to maintain its favorite role for the Class 5A Division I title when it plays McAllen (9-3) in a quarterfinal game. The "big schools" play one less playoff round than other classes.

The No. 4 Rockets have remained the highest-ranked team in Division I, on course for a title game matchup against No. 9 Spring Westfield (10-1-1). The Mustangs next play Arlington (7-5) on Saturday.

Class 4A could be the most competitive this weekend, with No. 1 Waxahachie (12-0) facing Denison (10-1-1) and defending champion A&M Consolidated (11-1), ranked third, taking on Jasper (10-2).

The toughest region has two Austin teams facing two Corpus (11-1) have ended the season of two Christi teams to set up possible district rematches next weekend.

Second-ranked Austin Westlake (12-0) faces No. 9 Corpus Christi Calallen (10-1) and No. 4 Gregory-Portland (12-0) tries to end the upset march of Hays Consolidated (10-2), which has knocked off the No. 7 and No. 8 teams in the first two While Carroll and Vernon steal the headlines in 3A, No. 3 Bellville has quietly positioned itself as a favorite for a spot in the class' title game. The Brahmas, who face Crockett (8-2-2) this weekend, have no ranked foes in their path.

The Vernon-Carroll winner, meanwhile, may still have to get through No. 7 Alpine andor No. 9 Gainesville.

Defending 2A champion Schulenburg (11-1), ranked third, takes on No. 6 Refugio (12-0), which is fresh from defeating No. 1 Freer. That winner will be rewarded by playing either No. 7 Universal City Randolph (10-1) or Boling (8-3-1).

A bracket worth watching this weekend is Region II, where No. 5 Pilot Point (11-1) plays Italy (11-1), with the winner playing the survivor of No. 2 Van Alstyne (11-0-1) and Grandview (9-3).

The key lower-class games to watch are in Class A's Region IV, where a No. 1 vs. No. 2 matchup could occur next week if Bartlett (11-0) beats Flatonia (8-3), and No. 2 Runge (11-0) defeats Center Point (9-1-1).

In Region III, No. 5 Overton (10-1) plays once-ranked Valley View (9-2-1) and No. 4 Tenaha meets Celeste (9-2).

Plainview (11-1) is a 15-point favorite over Stephenville (9-3), and Estacado (7-4-1) is a 10-point pick over Wichita Falls Hirschi (6-6).

> In Class 3A, Harris picks Southlake Carroll by seven over Vernon in the clash between 12-0

Harris predicts losses for both of the Panhandle teams left in the 2A bracket. Springlake-Earth (11-1) is a two-point underdog to Hamlin (8-4), and Canadian (8-4) is a six-point underdog to Goldthwaite (11-1).

In Class A, Sudan (10-2) is a 16point favorite over Plains (9-2), and Hart (11-1) is a two-point pick over Rankin (10-1).

The quail hunters know that the birds will stack up in the heaviest available cover. For the hunters willing to pay the price of trekking through the snow, the reward is some fantastic shooting at huge coveys of tasty quail.

Fresh snow causes the average deer hunter to become a stalk hunter. Nothing excites a serious hunter more than finding a fresh set of tracks that are twice the size of the other prints. Rarely is stalking the best way to put meat on the table, but I have spent some of my most enjoyable hunting days in the snow while pursuing the vanishing trail of a huge trophy buck.

Duck hunters are the true believers in cold weather hunting. They are a strange lot. Always looking forward to getting up at 4 a.m. and rushing out to a damp, cold pit on the shores of a semi-dry playa lake. In fact, shoveling out a few inches of fresh snow doesn't bother these guys because they know that the ducks will be waiting.

Last week's column omitted several items that this week's snow storm reminded me to include on our winter check list. A handy snow scraper will definitely do a better job than a VISA card. If you have not purchased the new style cable chains, you are in for a treat. Correctly mounting the old style heavy link chains was a challenge, but these new lightweight cable devices go on in a jiffy and work just as well as chains. Cable chains make a great gift for that special outdoorsman, and an extra set in her car is a good idea, too.

Now is also a good time to check your toolbox, because tools always seem to sneak off during the summer. Not finding a complete set of the basic tools is always an aggravation, but during a snow storm, they can be the difference between a warm bed and an adventure on the side of the road. My tool box includes an extra set of fuses/circuit breakers, electrician's tape, two large pliers, a Phillips-head screwdriver, two sizes of regular screwdrivers, a large vice-grip, two 10-inch crescent wrenches, a set of box wrenches and a ratchet drive set.

One of my favorite Christmas presents was a portable air pump that plugs into a car's cigarette lighter and will inflate a tire enough to drive to the service station. Those foot-powered units might work, but after 30 minutes of pumping, I threw my old one in the dumpster.

whole thing is stupid.

"But this year, I decided the whole process was a distraction. I decided to just play. I don't know how I've graded out. I haven't asked all season.

Gesek hasn't needed to ask, of course. The success of his 8-1 team and the glowing praise from Johnson and Wist provide the insight. The subject of the Pro Bowl, however, is another matter to Gesek.

"I know what a Pro Bowl guard looks like, and I don't know that I'm a Pro Bowl guard," he said. "I saw (Houston's) Mike Munchak in his prime, (Washington's) Russ Grimm in his prime. They were rippin' and snortin.' I don't know if I do that."

Gesek also dismisses the Pro Bowl process as "a facade. I would enjoy the recognition. But my coaches are the ones who ultimately can make me or break me. They're the ones who I need to please.

Gesek is doing that. But he's not sure he wants to be the poster boy in a campaign to get the Dallas line more recognition.

"We're getting plenty of credit now," Gesek said. "Obviously, with Erik getting NFC player of the week (last week), you can't say we don't get credit anymore. Besides, I'm not big on being a publicity hound. As vulnerable a position as we're are, it's not a good idea to stand up and say, 'Look at us, look at us!' Because one bad game, and it all crumbles. I'd rather just keep doing a good job and be left alone."

Firearm safety key to injury prevention-

-A child playing with a parent's 1985 through 1990. rifle accidentally shoots his younger brother.

-An adolescent commits suicide with a friend's handgun.

-A weapon discharges as its owner is cleaning a gun he thought was unloaded.

-A domestic argument escalates and a woman shoots her husband.

Sadly, stories like these are far too common in Texas and the United Firearms are the eighth leading cause of death in the United States, claiming 35,000 lives in 1989 alone. Texans are especially at risk. More than 3,000 Texans are killed annually by firearms. In a 1989 survey, 55 percent of households in Texas reported firearm ownership. In fact, Texas firearm ownership figures are 10 percent higher than those reported nationally. This increase in gun ownership may play a part in the increased incidence of firearm injuries and deaths in Texas.

A study published in Texas Medicine, the monthly newsmagazine of Texas Medical Association, reported that in 1990, firearms surpassed motor vehicles as the leading cause of death by injury in Texas. More than 19,000 Texans were killed by firearms from MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) - Tom Cruise hasn't forgotten his days as a student.

The actor, in Memphis filming a movie, picked up the dinner tab for 10 college students Saturday after seeing them in tuxedos and formal wear at a restaurant, the restaurant owner said.

"He said, 'That reminds me of when I was in school and taking my girl to the prom. I want them to have a good time," said John Grisanti of the Original Grisanti's Restaurant.

Cruise stopped and talked with the students, who didn't know he was paying for their dinner until after he

"I thought I was going to have to keep my date from falling on the floor the whole time," said Dax Wheeler, 21, who attends the University of Cruise, star of features including "Top Gun" and "Rain Man," is filming the movie "The Firm," based on the novel by John Grisham.

Two factors contributed to this change, says A.H. Giesecke Jr., M.D., a Dallas anesthesiologist and member of the House of Delegates, TMA's policy-making body. "Along with the increase in gunshot wound mortality, motor vehicle accidents actually declined. This drop in motor vehicle accidents can be attributed to increased public safety efforts in seat belt use, speed limits, driving while intoxicated laws, and child safety seats," says Dr.

The risk of injury or death from firearms is especially great for teenagers and young adults. Males are at greatly increased risk, especially African-Americans. Males 75 years of age and older also are at increased risk, primarily because of suicides.

But the most important risk factor involved in firearm-related death and injury may be accessibility to firearms, specifically, handguns. This may be especially true for children. Studies have found that most unintentional firearm deaths among children occur in homes, with improperly stored firearms, in the absence of adult supervision, and frequently involve children playing with guns.

Texas Medical Association urges gun owners to remember the following tips to protect themselves and their families:

-Always store weapons in a locked box or cabinet.

-Keep weapons unloaded during

-Store ammunition in an area separate from firearms.

The issue of gun control is a potentially divisive one. Firearm safety, however, is something everyone can agree on. Texas Medical Association supports increased efforts in public education and firearm safety.

Texas Medical Association is a professional organization of more than 31,000 physician and medical student members. It is located in Austin and has 118 component county medical societies around the state. The Association represents 82 percent of the doctors of medicine licensed and residing in Texas and 96 percent of the state's allopathic medical students. TMA's key objective is to improve the health of Texans through professional and personal development of its members.

2 Tbsp.	sugar	2 Tbsp.	grated onion
1	package active dry yeast	3/4 cup	all-purpose flour
1 cup	plain nonfat yogurt	3/4 cup	whole-wheat flour
2 Tbsp.	acceptable* margarine.	1/2 tsp.	salt
	melted .	1/2 cup	all-purpose flour
1	egg	3/4 cup	whole-wheat flour
1 tsp.	leaf oregano		Vegetable oil spray

one of 60 Texas school food service directors who attended a "Healthy E.D.G.E. (Eating Dietary Guidelines and Education)" course in Austin on Nov. 10-11. This formal, 10-hour train-the-trainer course was developed contact Evans. by the American School Food Service Association (ASFSA) to assist school food service directors in implementing the Dietary Guidelines for Americans and to certify them to be trainers of this program.

Gloria Bourdon, coordinator of the Health and Nutrition Services for the Genesee Intermediate School District (Flint, Michigan) wrote the curriculum for this course and was the teacher for the two-day training in Austin.

The Dietary Guidelines, the best and most current information from nutrition experts, were developed to give Americans advice for a healthy diet. Many American diets have too many calories and too much fat (especially saturated fat), cholesterol, and sodium. They also have too few complex carbohydrates and fiber. Such diets are one cause of America's high rates of obesity and certain diseases--heart disease, high blood pressure, stroke, diabetes, and some forms of cancer.

The Child Nutrition Programs Division of the Texas Education Agency, which administers the federally funded School Lunch and Breakfast Programs, sponsored this workshop to assist school food service directors in putting the guidelines into practice and to improve the nutritional

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have already had two strokes, the first one was very light. I was OK in three days. That was two years ago. Then six months ago, I had another one, which affected my speech only. I took therapy, which helped me a lot. I was in the hospital for seven days that time. I am taking two aspirin a day. Why did I recover the first time so quickly and not the second time?

DEARREADER: Your first attack was probably a "little stroke" or transitory ischemic attack (TIA). These may cause any of the many symptoms that a stroke can cause. But the findings are very transient. The paralysis, loss of speech or other symptoms last only minutes or less than 24 hours. Those that cause symp-toms that last a little longer, but with all signs resolving in less than three weeks, are classified as reversible ischemic neurological disability (RIND). But the important point is that no permanent brain damage

The importance of these "little strokes" is that 40 percent of individuals who have them, and who are not treated, will have a more severe stroke within five years. Your last attack was a "completed stroke" and caused permanent brain damage.

The cause of TIAs is not clear. They may occur because of debris from diseased arteries in the neck that pass through the arteries, or they may be from arterial spasm. A recent study suggests that individuals with high total cholesterol levels may be prone to having their platelets clump. These are the small blood cells that contribute to blood clotting. Clumping of these is the first stage of a clot formation. If the clump does not result in a clot, and is transitory, this is a possibility.

It is important for anyone who has transitory symptoms of a stroke to see a neurologist for a complete evaluation. Those who have had a TIA need a study of the arteries to their brains. Unless there is a reason why they cannot, they should take aspirin or a medicine to prevent blood clotting. Of course, the risk factors for strokes should be rigorously con-

The main risk factors that you can alter are controlling high blood pressure, lowering total cholesterol and LDL cholesterol and not smoking. Ways to do this include a sensible exercise program for the individual and a diet.

Read my new Special Report 202, Strokes: Prevention and Recovery, which I am sending you. Others who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/202, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. You need to prevent another stroke if at all DEARDR. LAMB: What is the best way to tighten and tone the triceps. I have excess flab and have tried everything and it seems to have no effect. I am 39 years old and have been exercising faithfully at a gym four days a week for over a year. We do step-aerobics, floor work and arm work with weights.

DEAR READER: The best way to strengthen and increase the size of any muscle is to contract it against resistance. As you know, the triceps is the muscle over the back of the upper arm. When your elbow is bent, it is relaxed and lengthened. You contract it to straighten your elbow. You must work the muscle by straightening your elbow from the bent position against resistance. One simple exercise is to bend your elbow, with your elbow above your head and your hand over your shoulder. Hold a weight in your hand and straighten your elbow. The weight provides the resistance. There are many variations of this and machines to help you. It will not eliminate loose skin. But a larger muscle may fill skin and improve appearance.

IN THE KINGS NAME

THE ANCIENT KINGS, AS SUCH, WERE VARIED. NEBUCHADNIEZZAR OF BABYLON AND ARTAXERXES THE PERSIAN WERE EACH *KINGS OVER KINGS* (EZRA 7:12; DAN. 2:37; II KINGS 24:17). HOWEVER, THE USUAL MONARCH OFTEN RULED ONLY ONE CITY. SOME OF THEM BEING LESS THAN THE SIZE OF A SMALL VILLAGE BY TODAY'S STANDARDS. A MAN BECAME KING OF A NATION OR CITY EITHER BY APPOINTMENT, BY ONE WHO WAS HIGHER IN AUTHORITY (I SAM.-9:16, 16:1,13; II KINGS 23:30), OR BY THE POPULAR DEMAND OF THE PEOPLE (I SAM.18:8; II SAM.5:1-3; I KINGS 12:20; II KINGS 23:30) OR BY USURPING A THRONE, OR BY INHERITANCE. THE RESTRAINTS UPON A KING WERE THE FEAR OF GOD AND MAN. THE POPULAR WILL COULD NOT BE IGNORED! HOWEVER, THE KINGS DID LEAD A SHELTERED AND LUXURIOUS LIFE. IN VIEW OF THE ROYAL DUTIES REQUIRED OF THEM, BOTH PHYSICAL AND MENTAL, THE MORAL REQUIREMENTS DEMANDED A HIGH MEASURE OF INTEGRITY TO RULE WELL. MANY OF THE ATTRIBUTES AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS ATTRIBUTED TO NUMEROUS RULERS WERE REALLY CARRIED OUT OF THE ATTRIBUTES AND ACCOMP-LISHMENTS ATTRIBUTED TO NUMEROUS RULERS WERE REALLY CARRIED OUT BY A DESIGNATED SURROGATE, WHO DID THE ACTUAL STORMING OF THE BATTLEMENT WALL, OR CHARGED FEARLESSLY INTO AN ENEMY'S CAMP ... ALL IN THE KING'S NAME!" WHILE A KING REMAINED IN THE LUXURIOUS TRAPPINGS OF HIS PALACE ... HIS APPOINTED SURROGATE, MANY MILES AWAY, MIGHT BE WEARILY APPROACH-ING A DATTLE WHERE HE IS DESTINED TO BRING ... HONOR TO THE KING'S NAME!"
