Board eyes work at courts, West Central, Tierra Blanca

By GARRY WESNER

Managing Editor construction management firm to oversee work on a roofing/air conditioning project at Shirley Intermediate School, the panel has turned its attention to other pressing infrastructure matters in the district.

During their regular monthly meeting Monday, trustees heard reports on heating studies completed recently at West Central and Tierra Blanca schools, and debated paving courts at Hereford High School.

Also at the meeting -- which was held a day early so officials could attend tonight's varsity basketball games against Randall High School -- trustees ordered this year's trustee election and absentee ballot board, approved a resolution backing the teaching of traditional moral values and accepted a $66,000 computer bid.

Assistant superintendent Don Cumpton presented trustees with copies of energy cost reduction analyses done by Compliance Services Group Inc., a Lubbock engineering firm.

heating system would be more energy efficient than the resistance heat Less than a month after Hereford system currently in use at the two ISD trustees agreed to hire a schools. It did not address ducting problems that exist because of walls built to enclose previously open classroom layouts.

> Cumpton said the two schools were originally build with few walls, but that as classrooms have been enclosed, the addition of walls has disrupted air flows through the buildings, creating hot and cold spots rather than consistent heat.

Cumpton said the studies used a parking lots and building tennis 20-year weather average to show projected savings converting existing heating systems to gas. As of Jan. 10, he said, electricity at Tierra Blanca has cost the district $9,400 and $9,600 at West Central. This compares with other campuses with expenditures of less than $4,000.

Trustees agreed that ducting work needs to be done at both campuses to improve the air distribution before systems are changed to lower energy

Cumpton said he would contact local heating/air conditioning companies and invite them to look over the schools and make recommendations about what could be done on the air-flow problems, including the possibility of adding extra vents to the current duct system.

Greenawalt said trustees might be able to start work on the West Central and Tierra Blanca heating systems with funds left over from the Shirley demonstrated that a natural gas about $500,000 -- far less than the $950,000 originally planned for.

The superintendent also said the district could pave parking lots around the high school and build four new tennis court with some of those surplus funds if that is the decision of the board.

The board heard a report from Cumpton on the state of parking and tennis courts after a request two months ago from Trustee Randy Tooley to look into parking.

Cumpton said rough estimates show that a 46,500-square-foot area west of the Bus Barn could be cleared, paved and striped for about $49,400, while another 36,900square-foot parking lot between Shirley School and the tennis courts could be created for about $34,400.

In addition, after Trustee Ron Weishaar complained at the earlier meeting about the poor condition of four of the eight courts at the high school, Cumpton complied a rough estimated that showed four new courts could be built parallel to the best courts there for about $100,000.

Cumpton said four courts there are in such bad shape that tournaments and practices must be held at the Country Club because the courts are unusable.

Trustees decided to keep the parking lot/tennis court project as a discussion item next month and said they would inspect the courts between meetings.

Precinct 1 residents air complaints about road

By GEORGIA TYLER Staff Writer

Complaints -- ranging from poor maintenance to an overabundance of tire-damaging materials -- about a Precinct 1 road were laid before Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court Monday morning.

A small delegation of residents on County Rd. I brought their problem to the full commission, said Micah Noland, because they believe their road is not receiving adequate

'When Precinct 2 took care of the road, we never had a problem," declared Noland, "but since we're with Precinct 1, nothing gets done unless we call and complain.'

Although the road is located within Precinct 1, for a number of years maintenance was handled by Precinct 2 because of the proximity to that precinct's other roads. After Tony Castillo was elected commissioner for Precinct 1 and took office in January 1993, responsibility was assumed by his employees.

In other business, commissioners: -- Approved a contract with Receves County for juvenile services. -- Granted permission for water lines to cross a county road. -- Heard a request for new imaging equipment in the sheriff's office.

-- Directed County Auditor Alex Schroeter to advertise for bids for a depository for the next two years and for county insurance.

-- Approved a request from Commissioner Lupe Chavez of Precinct 2 who asked permission to sell two tractors.

-- Voted to buy a new fax machine for county use. -- Adopted a resolution opposing designation of the Arkansas River Shiner as an endangened species.

During the discussion on maintenance of County Rd. I, Commissioner Castillo said the road had deteriorated because of dry weather. "With 250 miles, we can't afford to water it all," he said.

"If you need water to work the road, we can provide that," declared

Kevin Sanders, a resident on the road. Another speaker, Kim Bryan, complained that removal of materials that damage tires is a major need.

"I've had seven flats," she declared. "I'm a single female and I don't need that.'

Castillo countered, "We'll try to pay more attendion.'

Micah Noland and her husband, Joe Don Noland, pointed out that the road, from Sugarland Feedyard south to U.S. 60, is heavily traveled.

"Three or four times, I've had to call to get something done and the last time, I was laughed at," Micah Noland charged. "I pay my tax dollars for service. When Castillo agreed that the road is used heavily, Mrs. Noland countered, "If you know it's highly traveled, why don't you check it?"

Concluding the discussion, Castillo assured the residents, "I'll take care of it . . . I assure you." Judge Tom Simons, recommending the Reeves County juvenile services contract, acknowledged that the facilities are not used on a regular basis but that the contract should be continued. Leslee Bachus presented information on imaging equipment for maintaining files in the sheriff's department. She said the 15-year-old microfilm reader broke down and could not be repaired. Currently, paper documents are being filed, a process that requires more file cabinets and other supplies, she said.

Several possible systems were reviewed by Bachus, with prices ranging up to $28,000. Judge Simons said the possibility of obtaining some grant money will be explored.

Parts to repair the Precinct 2 tractors are not available, Commissioner Lupe Chavez reported. He said he expects to place the equipment in a consignment sale. District Clerk Lola Faye Veazey reported that the fax equipment now in use is not suitable for documents that must be filed in district or county

retiring after win

By STEVEN WINE AP Sports Writer MIAMI (AP) - It's almost enough to make San Francisco fans root against their team. All-Pro receiver Jerry Rice says he may retire if the 49ers beat San Diego in Sunday's Super Bowl.

"I'd like to put off that retirement, I can assure you,' Chargers coach Bobby Ross said

Health isn't an issue. He missed a game in 1987.

"I feel like a youngster," he said. "If anything, I'm in better shape than when I first came in."

Diminished skills aren't an issue. Rice this season made 112 receptions, the best total of his 10-year career, for 1,499 yards and 13 touchdowns. He broke Jim Brown's NFL record for career touchdowns and was named a Pro Bowl starter for the ninth consecutive time.

verything and who show me the everything and who show me the way to reach my idea. You who give me the Divine Gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me, and you who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from You, no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with You and my loved ones in Your perpetual glory. Amen, Thank You for Your love towards me and my loved ones. (Grace obtained).
