Cold front is coming

If you enjoy "sweater weather," then Wednesday could be a great day for you.

The first major Arctic cold front of the year is expected to pass through the region tonight, bringing much colder temperatures and gusty northerly winds for Wednesday and Thursday.

The mild late-summer weather will come to an end after sunset tonight as the front blows through the region. The front should enter the Oklahoma Panhandle around sunset, then continue to plummet southward through the region. Gusty north winds and a chance for showers and thunderstorms will accompany the front's passage.

After anticipated highs today around 80, highs probably won't reach 60 on Wednesday. The gusty north wind will make it feel even colder.

By Wednesday night, you'll want to make sure the furnace is ready to go: lows will be in the 40s, but forecasters (qualifying their statement by saying "at this time") don't expect freezing temperatures or a frost Thursday morning.

Temperatures will be in the 60s on Thursday, adding crispness to the air for Thursday's Hereford game at Lubbock Coronado, but will be back in the 70s for the weekend.

Dance with the queen

Gilbert Rodriguez dances with his daughter, Isabel, after she was crowned as the 1991 Fiestas Patrias Queen at a coronation ceremony Saturday at the Bull Barn in Hereford. The coronation was one of several events over the weekend to celebrate Diez y Seis de Septiembre.

3 laid off by Frito

PLANO, Texas (AP) - The elimination of 1,800 jobs at Frito-Lay Inc. should boost its sagging profit as competition grows between snack companies, analysts and company officials say.

Frito-Lay Monday trimmed 7 percent of its work force, including nearly one-third of its headquarters staff, in a restructuring aimed at saving $100 million annually.

"We have been recognizing for awhile that the marketplace has been changing," said Beverly Holmes, company spokeswoman. "We need to be leaner."

The company is laying off three employees at its huge Hereford grain handling facility, Holmes said this morning. "Outside Dallas, the effect was minimal," Holmes said.

"We all knew that Frito could trim down. There was a lot of levels of management," said Jim Hildreth, who lost his job Monday. "Like any company that's been very successful for a number of years, they've gotten fat."

Parent company PepsiCo Inc. of Purchase, N.Y. will take a $100 million pretax charge against its third-quarter earnings, largely because of the restructuring at Frito-Lay.

The subsidiary earned one-third of PepsiCo's $2.2 billion operating profit last year. Frito-Lay and an overseas unit form PepsiCo's snack foods division, which outperformed soft drink and restaurant operations in profit last year.

But matching the price-cutting strategies of growing competitors like Keebler Co. and Anheuser Busch Cos. at 5 percent of Frito-Lay's profit during the first six months of the year compared to last year.

Frito-Lay began studying ways to cut costs last fall but increased its efforts in recent months with the help of a consulting group.

"What they saw was some competitors there who weren't there before with any seriousness," said Emanuel Goldman, analyst for Paine Webber Inc. in San Francisco.

Pair charged in burglaries

Charges are pending against two Hereford residents in connection with at least eight burglaries in the Hereford area.

Deaf Smith County sheriff's deputies have recovered most of the $12,000 worth of goods that were stolen.

Freddy Gonzales, 17, has been charged with burglary of a building in connection with the burglaries, which occurred during August and September. Charges have also been filed against a juvenile, 16, in the burglaries. Juvenile authorities will consider the charges against the juvenile, while the Deaf Smith County grand jury will consider charges against Gonzales this month.

The burglaries occurred at several locations in the county, including Hereford Iron and Metal, BJM, Thad Keyes, 101 Cattle Co., Cansler's Feedyard, Frio Feeders, Hereford Farmers Gin and at least one residence.

Deputies were able to break the case on Sept. 10, and obtained a parental consent form to speak to the juvenile. During an interview, the youngster admitted involvement in six burglaries and implicated Freddy Gonzales in the burglaries.

The juvenile told the deputies they could find much of the stolen property in an abandoned garage.

The following morning, Gonzales turned himself over to authorities last Wednesday and admitted to involvement in eight burglaries. He told authorities much of the stolen property was at his residence, but other property had been sold to various persons. Much of the property that was sold to other persons has been returned and is being held in storage pending the outcome of the charges.

Astronauts ready for landing tonight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - The slightly increased risk of a nighttime landing hasn't fazed the Discovery astronauts as they prepare today to return to Earth.

"There's a little more risk involved in landing at night than in the daytime," Commander John Creighton told radio talk show host Larry King Monday night.

But Creighton said he was confident he and pilot Kenneth Reightler would "bring the shuttle in right on the money."

As the shuttle zoomed around Earth at 17,500 mph, the five crew members answered questions from 13 callers across the nation on King's late-night talk show.

It was the first time astronauts have participated in a talk show, although past crews have used ham radios to talk to people on Earth.

"What really changed you when you went up in space?" the first caller, from San Antonio, asked.

Creighton said he gained more respect for Earth.

"It tends to give you more of a global perspective and an appreciation for the environment," Creighton said. "When you look out at the horizon and you see an atmosphere that's only about an inch thick, you realize just how fragile this planet can be. We better take care of it."

The astronauts, scheduled to return home early Wednesday, released an atmosphere research satellite that will examine the vanishing ozone layer.

Weather permitting, the shuttle is scheduled to return to its Florida launch site at 2:06 a.m. EDT Wednesday. It would be the ninth shuttle touchdown at Kennedy Space Center and the first one there in darkness.

Moore wins football picks

Shayla Moore of Hereford missed just six games and was one point closer on the Hereford-Palo Duro tiebreaker to claim first place in last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest.

Moore will win $25 in Hereford Bucks for her first-place finish.

Placing second was Richard Souter of Hereford. He also picked Hereford on the tiebreaker but was one point higher than Moore on guessing the score. Souter will win $15 in Hereford Bucks.

Winning $10 in Hereford Bucks was Pete Vargas Jr. of Hereford. He missed only seven games and was the only one of three persons who missed seven games that picked Hereford to win. Also missing seven were Joani Guyer and Lisa Klett.

There were 7 entrants who missed 8 games, and 5 who missed 9.

EnCoRe gets help from city

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

A volunteer effort to relieve the amount of trash going to the City of Hereford landfill has outgrown the ability of volunteers to handle the materials, sending EnCoRe to the city commission for help.

After a presentation Monday evening by Tonya Kleuskens about problems encountered by EnCoRe, City Manager Chester Nolen reported to the commission that arrangements can be made to transport materials that have accumulated at the Red Cross office to an Amarillo dealer in recyclables.

Mrs. Kleuskens told the commission, "I come with hat in hand. Response has outgrown our ability to handle materials."

She also recited problems encountered with a dealer who "could not pick up the trailer in a timely manner."

EnCoRe started a drive for recycling some months ago and set up a collection center, manned by volunteers, at the Red Cross office.

The Amarillo dealer parked a trailer at the office and was supposed to unload the materials on a regular basis, Mrs. Kleuskens said, but has not done so.

Asked by Mayor Tom LeGate if EnCoRe is "looking for another collection point or transportation," Mrs. Kleuskens replied, "actually, both."

She also asked the commission to plan for the future, observing that her organization hopes to "continue in community education" but cannot handle the amount of recyclable materials that have resulted from the drive conducted by EnCoRe here.

Persons interested in recycling "didn't know how to separate materials, now they do," Mrs. Kleuskens said about EnCoRe's educational programs.

The amount of materials turned in by Hereford residents exceeded expectations of EnCoRe.

Mayor LeGate suggested that Nolen and City Commissioner Wayne Winget work with members of EnCoRe to come up with a plan to relieve the Red Cross and EnCoRe of the problems of collection and transportation.

Volunteers have been unable to keep up with the situation as it exists now at the Red Cross office, Mrs. Kleuskens said, asking, "Isn't there a building somewhere that we could use?"

Nolen and Winget accompanied EnCoRe representatives to Dallas recently to gather information about a city recycling project initiated there some months ago.

"They're paying for the materials and hired a man to take care of the center," Winget reported.

Nolen said, "If we could get voluntary help of EnCoRe in separating items, we can provide transportation and receptacles."

The city manager observed that "it boils down to the fact that we're going to be in recycling" at some time later because of stringent regulations being installed by the state and federal governments on landfills.

"Recycling is not a money-making proposition," Nolen said. "Cities are in it to reduce loads to landfills."

LeGate suggested that further study be done by city staff and EnCoRe and a long-range plan developed.

"We need a plan, especially if it means budget expenditure," the mayor said.

City implements animal changes

A series of changes in operations of the animal control department of the City of Hereford has been implemented, city commissioners and citizens were advised Monday evening.

Near the end of the regular city commission meeting, a citizen, Tim Meyer, asked what progress was being made in changes in animal control policies.

"I'm glad you asked that," said Mayor Tom LeGate. "I almost forgot that the city manager has a report about it."

Meyer is one of a number of Hereford citizens who have appeared at commission meetings in the last few months calling for change in the animal control department.

City Manager Chester Nolen reported that since he arrived here in mid-August, he has reviewed operating procedures.

Recommendations "include changes to the animal control ordinance that will require stiffer penalties for allowing dogs to remain at large, maintaining pets in the city limits that do not have city tags or have not had annual rabies vaccinations."

An important facet of new operating standards, Nolen continued, is that "before someone can adopt a pet from the shelter, the pet should be neutered at their expense."

This policy would serve a twofold

Eades takes office

A new Hereford city commissioner was sworn in Monday evening, then participated in electing a mayor pro tem.

Roger Eades, who was appointed by the commission at the last meeting in August to fill at-large Place Five, took the oath of office from Mayor Tom LeGate.

Then, on motion of Commissioner Wayne Winget and second of Commissioner Emory Brownlow, Commissioner James McDowell was unanimously elected mayor pro tem.

Changes in organization of the commission were necessary because of the resignation in August of Terry Langehennig from Place Five. He also was mayor pro tem.

After his resignation from the commission, Langehennig was appointed city attorney.

In other business, a bid of $3,075 from an Amarillo firm, UARCO, was accepted for purchase of a forms-burster for the city water department.

The low bid of Foster Electronics, $2,928, was passed over because the equipment did not meet specifications. Other bidders were First Printing of Hereford, $3,330; Lithographics of Hereford, $3,245; and Standard Register, $3,673 for one model and $4,388 for another model.

The commission also conducted a public hearing on a zoning change at 247 North Street, then approved the area for designation as MH, mobile home district, from LI, light industrial district. The zoning board earlier approved the request from Lloyd Newton, property owner.

A recommendation from City Manager Chester Nolen for seal coating and striping the parking area at the Hereford Community Center was accepted and the commission authorized advertising for bids for the project.

Report says Miss America accused fiance of abuse

HONOLULU (AP) - Miss America Carolyn Suzanne Sapp broke off her engagement with a former professional football player because he beat her and once tried to push her from a moving car, news reports said. Sapp, crowned Miss America on Saturday, requested a restraining order against Nuu Faola (pronounced NOO-oo-fa-oh-la) last October, but withdrew the request. In a letter to state District Court last fall, Sapp said Faola "beat, kicked, punched, threatened to kill me, tore my clothes, choked me, took a knife to me and held it to my neck and skin, and emotionally threatened me," KITV reported Monday night. Sapp, a junior at Hawaii Pacific University and Hawaii's first Miss America, said in the letter she broke up with Faola in April 1990 after he "tried pushing me out of a car driving high speeds ... then strangled me with the seat belt until I couldn't breathe." The letter said Faola continued to terrorize her until last October, when Saap complained to police and requested the restraining order. She told the newspaper that she quickly withdrew the request.

In a story published today in The Honolulu Advertiser, Sapp and Faola said they had resolved their differences and are now friends. She refused to discuss her allegations.

"That incident, what happened over a year ago, was personal then and it remains personal now," she said in a telephone interview from New York. "It's over with. There's no reason to go over the facts."

"Just to put it on the record, I think Nuu is a wonderful person and has done beautiful things for the community of Hawaii," Sapp said. "It's very disappointing for me to see this come out."

Faola also declined to give details.

"I'm not saying it's true and I'm not saying it's false," he said. "It seems like all the fingers are pointing at me. I'll take the blame. If people want to think I'm a bad person, that's fine. There's only one man who knows the truth and that's the man upstairs."

Faola, a running back, graduated from the University of Hawaii in 1985 played five seasons in the National Football League for the New York Jets, Miami Dolphins and Cleveland Browns.

Keynote speakers Wednesday will look at environmentalists' concerns with agriculture, effects of environmental legislation upon farm production and the future of agricultural chemicals. Environmental and conservation provisions of the 1990 federal farm bill will be discussed by Frank Jones of Lamesa. Dr. Ron Knutson, agricultural economist and policy specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will report on the effects of the farm bill on crop production trends. Dr. Rebecca Goldberg of the Environmental Defense Fund will discuss agricultural concerns. The future of agricultural chemicals will be predicted by Leonard Gianiessi with Resources of the Future, Washington, DC.

Thomas chances for court are good

WASHINGTON (AP) - Senators of both parties say Clarence Thomas' chances for confirmation to the Supreme Court appear good as the Senate Judiciary Committee turns its attention to some 90 witnesses with varied opinions of the conservative judge.

Thomas ended an exhaustive, five-day job interview before the committee Monday by expressing gratitude for "the courtesy and the fairness you've shown me."

Thomas then embraced his wife, mother and sister and shook hands with most of the 14 committee members before leaving the ornate hearing room where he repeatedly had refused to discuss abortion and at times had disavowed provocative stands taken as a Reagan administration official.

Democrats continued to complain that Thomas, named by President Bush to replace the retiring Thurgood Marshall, had ducked too many questions. But committee approval of his nomination appeared likely.

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, predicted that Thomas would win the support of at least eight Judiciary Committee members - all that are needed to send the nomination to the full Senate.

One of Thomas' most vocal critics, Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, agreed that committee approval appeared likely when a vote is taken in about two weeks.

It also appeared, from the tone of their questions, that two traditional swing members - Sens. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., and Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz. - were leaning heavily toward voting for Thomas.

As Thomas neared the end of his testimony, Chairman Joseph Biden, D-Dei., told him, "You are going to be the judge (on a court) with nothing to bind you but your conscience."

Bush telephoned Thomas "and congratulated him on the completion of his testimony," White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said. "The president is confident that Judge Thomas will be confirmed."

Leading off the confirmation hearings' second phase, the head of the American Bar Association's judicial screening panel said Monday that Thomas was an outstanding, but not the most qualified, nominee.

Ronald Olson, a Los Angeles trial lawyer, said Thomas was rated "qualified" for the Supreme Court because he was an outstanding nominee. But to receive the ABA's higher "well-qualified" rating, "the candidate has to be among the most prominent members of our profession," Olson said.

Thomas did not meet that standard because of his limited experience as a federal appeals judge.

Spikers blast Lady Westerners

The Hereford High School volleyball team whipped Lubbock High 15-7, 15-1 Saturday in Lubbock. The win is the Lady Whitefaces' 10th in a row, giving them a 13-1 overall record.

Hereford coach Brenda Reeh said that the Lady Whitefaces served well, particularly in the second game, when they recorded nine aces. Kara Sandoval had four of those, and Angie Jowell had two.

Sandoval totaled 10 service points, and Teresa Baker had six, including two aces. Jennifer Hicks and Shantel Cornelius led the offense with four kills and, Kyanne Lindley added three.

Reeh said that today's match against Tascosa (at 6 p.m. at the Tascosa Activity Center) will offer much more of a challenge for the Lady Whitefaces.

"Tascosa is fundamentally really sound," she said. "They have lots of kids who are seniors, but they also have some sophomores with varsity experience. Those kids who are sophomores are strong kids, good hitters. We'll have to block well."

Also on Saturday, Hereford's junior varsity squad played in the Berger varsity tournament. They started out with a 15-6, 15-3 win over the Berger JV, but then lost to a pair of varsity teams: Berger 15-2, 15-12; and Randall 15-11, 15-9.

Coach Jill Harrison said that although her team was nervous going up against varsity players, she thought losing the matches so closely was a victory of sorts.

"We went in with the attitude to get experience, to work hard and try to learn some things. I think they gained confidence even though we didn't win."

"We could have gone to three games with either one. I thought we played well."

Heather Kleuskens had 10 service points in the Berger JV match, followed by Claudia Ramirez with seven and Melissa Berend with six.

For the day, Kleuskens had 16 points and Berend and Ramirez each had 10. Robyn Watts also got into double figures with 11, helped by her team-leading five in the Berger varsity match. Michelle Brock led the team with six in the Randall game.

The team finished the day with a 6-5 record overall.

Hereford's freshman teams also played matches Saturday. The "A" team traveled to Lubbock with the varsity and beat Lubbock High's JV 15-9, 15-5. The "B" team beat Palo Duro 15-7, 15-9.

Harriers improve in Plainview meet

Hereford's cross country teams competed in a meet in Plainview Saturday. The girls finished fifth and the boys finished sixth.

"I think we all ran better (than last week)," coach Martha Emerson said. "We didn't place as high, but we ran better, and that's what we're looking at."

"We were competing with some different teams, and it's nice to see how we stand with those in our district. Randall beat both our boys and girls, and we beat both Caprock and Dumas. Berger and Pampa were in Perryton (Saturday), but we will see all of these at the Hereford meet Saturday."

The Hereford meet will be run at 9:30 a.m. at Veterans' Park. Emerson said she would have more details on the meet later in the week.

Randall won the girls' 5A and 4A division at Plainview with 70 points, edging Amarillo High with 77. Amarillo Tascosa and Lubbock Coronado followed with 82 and 117, respectively, then Hereford had 125, followed by Caprock with 142, Plainview with 150, Monterey with 222, Frenship with 254 and Dumas with 282.

Muleshoe won the boys' race with 44 points, with Amarillo High getting another second place with 56. Plainview was third with 72, Coronado was fourth with 132, Randall was fifth with 141.

Hereford was sixth with 155 points, followed by Tascosa with 168, Caprock with 177, Clovis with 188 and Dumas with 229.

Hereford's highest individual finishers were Jack Borden for the boys and freshman Ricka Williams for the girls. Borden was fourth with a time of 16:35 for three miles. Williams was seventh with a time of 13:24 for the two-mile course.

The rest of the girls, with place and time, were: 23, Renee Banner, 14:16; 30, Nora Herrera, 14:31; 31, Veronica Hernandez, 14:32; 33, Minerva Salazar, 14:44; 39, Jill Dutton, 14:58; and 54, Brandie Webb, 15:33.

The four other boys who finished in varsity were: 29, Aurelio San Miguel, 17:55; 37, Armando Garza, 18:21; 44, Pedro Dominguez, 18:41; and 61, Eric Davis, 20:03.

Both varsity races had 80-85 runners, Emerson said.

Hereford's junior varsity girls placed fourth and were led by a pair of freshmen whose times would have placed fairly high on the varsity list. Gina Haschke, at 14:24, was fourth in the JV race, and Karon Harder was seventh at 14:35.

Other junior varsity runners for Hereford, with place and time, were: 22, Rita Soto, 14:58; 33, Denise Davila, 15:18; 55, Rachel Martinez, 15:55; and 188, Michelle Chand, 18:22.

One Hereford boy, Ryan Caperton, ran in the JV race, finishing 97th in 21:57. Each JV race had about 200 runners, Emerson said.

Haney to speak to boosters

Hereford football coach Danny Haney will speak at the Whiteface Booster Club meeting at 7 p.m. tonight in the HHS cafeteria.

At each of the weekly meetings, Haney talks about the game from the previous Friday and about the upcoming opponent, club president Wade Easley said. Haney also presents the fan of the week and the players of the week for each grade level.

Tonight's meeting will be the last one on Tuesday. Because the Hereford volleyball team's home games will be on Tuesday, the meetings will be held on Monday nights, Easley said.

Ames aims and fires

Lyndsi Ames of the Hereford eighth grade White team saves the ball from going out of bounds and sends it toward the net in volleyball action Monday in the junior high gym in Hereford. In the background is Hereford's Natalie McWhorter and a Valleyview player. All four of the Hereford Junior High teams opened the season with victories Monday.

Junior spikers open with wins

The Hereford Junior High volleyball teams opened the new season Monday by sweeping four matches from Valleyview Junior High in Hereford's junior high gym.

Also Monday, across the hall in Whiteface Gym, the ninth grade teams split a pair of matches. The "A" team beat Randall 15-4, 15-4 in the first match, and Hereford's "B" squad fell to a ninth-grade team from Yucca Junior High in Clovis 8-15, 15-11, 15-13. Coach Brett Steagall was out of town Tuesday, so statistics are not available.

The wins for the junior high represented not only a good start, but a bit of revenge, too.

"Valleyview beat us last year, so this is good," coach Jane Radford said.

The eighth grade Maroon team dropped the first game 20-22, but came back and took the next two 15-2, 15-7. Britney Binder had nine service points in the marathon game, while Aimee Alley had 16 for the entire match, including eight in a row in the third game.

The eighth grade White team won their match 15-5, 6-15, 15-8. Shay Henderson had 13 points, including 10 consecutive in the first game.

In the first game of the seventh grade Maroon's match, which they won 15-3, 4-15, 15-4, Katie Bone gave a remarkable serving performance. She served the first 14 points of the game, all in a row. Erica Shipp got the fifteenth point.

Bone got to finish the third game, serving points 14 and 15 after Jenny Jones served six in a row and Danielle Cornelius served seven in a row.

The seventh grade White team won 15-9, 14-16, 15-13. The third game was a thriller, as Hereford broke out to a 14-1 lead, but Valleyview came back to 14-13 before Hereford got the last point. Shawna Lindsay served up 28 of Hereford's 44 points in the match.

"Both eighth grade teams are extremely strong," Radford, who coaches both, said. "We expect big things from them." She said their serving and blocking were impressive Monday. Maria Eck also coaches the Maroon team.

The seventh grade teams, though nervous in their first matches Monday, Radford said, showed promise. The seventh grade teams are coached by Eck (White) and Kathyna Hatla (Maroon).

Rickman gets all-around title

Chasity Rickman won best all-around girl at Saturday's Stinnett performance of the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association.

Rickman, who lives in Hereford but rodeos for Adrian, won the goat tying with a time of 11.008 seconds, and was second in barrels with a time of 18.281.

No members of the Hereford club placed.

The largest payoff for a $2 win bet at an American race track was the $1,885.50 Wishing Ring returned in 1912 at Latonia.

Braves' Nixon violates drug policy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - The Atlanta Braves refuse to be knocked off stride by the loss of Otis Nixon, who was suspended for 60 days for violating baseball's drug policy.

The Braves did not falter a step when Dave Justice and Sid Bream were sidelined by injuries earlier this season. Although they will lose a dimension of speed without the major league's leading basestealer, the Braves don't expect Nixon's absence to slow their march from worst to first.

"Everybody still has the attitude that we've got to go out and play hard," Bream said Monday night before the Braves lost 8-5 to the San Francisco Giants at Candlestick Park.

The Atlanta Constitution reported in today's editions that Nixon was contacted at the San Francisco airport but would not comment in detail about the penalty.

"It's something that really hurts, but I have to catch my flight," Nixon told the newspaper. "Someday I'll tell the whole story ... gotta go."

The paper said major league baseball sources said Nixon, 32, tested positive for cocaine from a sample taken Sept. 7 in New York. The results reached the commissioner's office Monday morning.

The paper also quoted "one high-ranking baseball official" as saying that Nixon tested positive in July but avoided suspension after having the Players Association file a grievance on his behalf.

Atlanta loses Nixon with three weeks left in the season, forcing the Braves to play their final 19 games without him as they battle the Dodgers for the NL West Division championship. But, Atlanta's lead fell to one-half game when, coupled with the Braves' loss, the Dodgers edged the Cincinnati Reds 6-5 in 12 innings Monday night.

Still, little had changed in the Atlanta clubhouse as Nixon flew back to Atlanta.

"I can't see a change," said Braves catcher Gregg Olson. "Everybody is focused on one thing - and that's the pennant."

Nixon was acquired by the Braves in spring training for a minor league player in an attempt to improve Atlanta's speed. He responded by setting a team record for stolen bases.

Nixon is batting .297 with a .371 on-base percentage and 26 RBIs. He has split time in left field with Lonnie Smith, who is batting .280 with a .380 on-base percentage, along with five homers and 36 RBIs. Smith has stolen only six bases.

Manager Bobby Cox said Smith will play left field full-time the rest of the season, and that he expects the Braves not to be slowed any less than they were without Justice or Bream.

The penalty imposed by the commissioner's office after results of drug tests became available Monday cannot be appealed, but it can be grieved through the players' union.

"If they (grieved) it, the arbitrator would have to suspend the suspension," commissioner Fay Vincent said. "Just filing a grievance, if they do that, does not affect it."

Michael Weiner, assistant general counsel of the union, said he had spoken to Nixon and his agent Joe Sroba earlier in the day. Weiner said a decision on filing a grievance would probably be made within 24 hours.

Braves general manager John Schuerholz said Nixon had little to say when informed of the suspension.

Nixon, who has stolen 72 bases, was suspended for violating his aftercare program and the commissioner's drug policy, a statement from the commissioner's office said. In August 1987 while with the Cleveland organization, Nixon entered a substance abuse rehabilitation center, although he never was suspended.

Nixon went into the treatment facility a week after being arrested on charges of criminal possession of a controlled substance and obstructing governmental administration. He pleaded guilty to attempted obstruction of governmental administration, and the drug charge was dropped.

Jeffires shines in win

HOUSTON (AP) - Warren Moon was patient, Haywood Jeffires was surprised and the Kansas City defensive backs were caught out of position.

It all added up to the crucial play - a 4-yard TD pass from Moon to Jeffires at the end of the third quarter - breaking a 7-7 tie and giving the Houston Oilers a 14-7 lead enroute to a 17-7 victory over the Chiefs in the Monday night NFL game.

"We didn't keep our poise," Kansas City safety Deron Cherry said.

"We had busted coverage and guys out of position," added cornerback Kevin Ross.

Moon had clicked on seven straight passes in a drive that started at his own 7.

After a mediocre first half, he got rolling. He hit Jeffires for 6, then running back Allen Pinkett for another 6. Ernest Givens caught a pass that gained 19 and Tony Jones pulled in another for 8. Then Drew Hill gained 11 yards and Jeffires picked up 5 more.

Moon connected with Jones for an 18-yard score that was negated by a holding penalty.

But Moon found Jeffires again - twice - for 8 yards each. A 1-yard run by Pinkett took it to the 8.

On second down and goal at the 8, Derrick Thomas was called for encroachment, moving Houston to the 4.

"When you get in that situation, you can't give them a second chance," Cherry said.

Two wide receivers went into the end zone, one deep and one short. Jeffires, who already had four receptions in the drive, was the short man.

"We were going to take what they gave us," Moon said. "We went to the short stuff and that worked. They played a lot of deep zone and it forced me to be patient."

"It was an underneath route where we had an intermediate route planned."

Safety Lloyd Burruss said the Chiefs' game plan was not to allow the big bomb like a year ago, when Moon shredded the Kansas City defense for 527 yards, the second-highest passing total in NFL history.

Instead, it was a little toss into the end zone that provided the edge.

"He ran a slant and we were in zone coverage," Cherry said. "It was a good throw and a good catch."

Jeffires floated underneath and slanted toward the right side of the end zone. Moon found him for the score.

"I didn't expect that," he said of Moon's pass. "We went out there and they played zone (defense). And Warren really hooked up."

Tipping encouraged

Hereford's Stephanie Wilson tips the ball over the net in a game between the ninth grade "B" team and the ninth-graders from Clovis' Yucca Junior High. Also shown on Hereford's side are Mindy Salazar (17) and Bree Perrin (13).

Braves play sloppily in subsequent loss

By The Associated Press

In a close pennant race, it doesn't take much to change the momentum.

The momentum changed quite a bit on Monday.

Atlanta was thinking big after its 9-1 victory over Los Angeles on Sunday before the home crowd.

But less than 24 hours later, the Braves learned outfielder Otis Nixon was suspended for 60 days by the commissioner's office for violating his drug aftercare program. Then, Atlanta went out and lost 8-5 in a sloppy effort at San Francisco.

Meanwhile in Los Angeles, the Dodgers won the kind of game that championships are made of to move within one-half game of Atlanta in the NL West. The Dodgers tied the score in the ninth with a run and then rallied for three more in the 12th to beat Cincinnati 6-5.

Los Angeles got huge hits in the 12th inning from veteran Eddie Murray, his first triple of the season, and Eric Karros, his first major league hit ever.

Atlanta blew a three-run lead as Tom Herr had three hits and three RBIs and Darren Lewis scored four runs for San Francisco.

Kent Mercker threw a wild pitch that helped the Giants to a two-run third inning, and left fielder Lonnie Smith fell trying to catch Terry Kennedy's flyball in the fifth, letting two more runs score.

Jays' pen falters

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

All season long, the Toronto Blue Jays have been able to count on their bullpen. It's the one area where they may have an edge over baseball's other division leaders.

So that's why it was so surprising Monday night when relievers Tom Henke, Duane Ward, Mike Timlin and Bob MacDonald all failed in the late innings as Toronto wasted a chance to increase its AL East lead.

Pete O'Brien homered to lead off the 11th at the Kingdome and the Seattle Mariners rallied twice before beating the Blue Jays 6-5. Toronto stayed 3 1/2 games ahead of Boston, which lost to Baltimore 9-2, and had its lead over idle Detroit trimmed to five.

In other games, Minnesota defeated Kansas City 9-0 and Milwaukee beat New York 5-4.

Cardinals 3, Phillies 0

Bob Tewksbury (10-11) pitched seven-hit ball over seven innings and Todd Zeile homered. Lee Smith got the last three outs for his major league-leading 41st save.

Pirates 5, Cubs 4

Zane Smith won his 15th game to match a career high.

Smith (15-10) won his third consecutive start, despite allowing home runs to Hector Villanueva and George Bell.

Padres 6, Astros 1

Thomas Howard drove in five runs, including a three-run homer to break a scoreless tie in the seventh inning.

Howard spoiled the major league debut of starter Brian Williams (0-1) when he hit his fourth homer of the season.

Greg Harris (6-5) allowed one run and eight hits in 7-3 innings for the victory and Larry Andersen finished for his 10th save.

Fiestas Patrias entertainment

A dancer from St. Patrick's Ballet Folklorico of Lubbock performs a dance at the tardeada held Sunday afternoon at the Bull Barn. The afternoon featured mariachis, clowns, a presentation by Isabel Rodriguez and a speech by the Rev. Virgilio Elizondo.

Social Security

Almost 200,000 children with disabilities whose claims were previously denied for medical reasons or whose disability benefits were suspended have already responded to Social Security notices sent to them in July. They have requested that Social Security review their Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability claims under the new regulation resulting from the Supreme Court decision in Sullivan v. Zebley.

The new regulation requires that when deciding if a child is disabled, Social Security take into account how the child's impairment (s) affects his or her ability to perform activities carried out by healthy children of the same age.

In July, the Social Security Administration (SSA) mailed notices to more than 450,000 children informing them of their right to a review. In the same envelope was a reply form that they were asked to fill out and mail back to SSA within 120 days if they wanted a review of their case.

Social Security officials are pleased that so many responses were returned so quickly. "We've been conducting an extensive public information campaign to get people to send the response card back right away, and it looks like our efforts paid off," said Jim Talbot, Social Security manager in Amarillo.

About 150,000 notices were returned as undeliverable. Talbot said Social Security only keeps updated addresses for people who are receiving benefits so in many cases notices were sent to claimants whose addresses were more than 10 years old.

Immunization clinic offered Thursday

Immunization clinic at the Texas Department of Health Office, located at 205 E. 4th suite B, will be offering vaccines that give protection against several childhood disease are scheduled for September. The next clinic is set for Thursday.

Protection is against polio, diphtheria, lock jaw (tetanus), whooping cough (pertussis), measles, rubella, mumps and HIB (hemophilus influenza type B).

The Texas Department of Health is charging to help with the cost of keeping the clinic open. The amount of money charged will be based on family income and size and the ability to pay.

Life!

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Someone very dear to us is married to a man who refuses to grow up. He is old enough to be president of a company but the most important thing is his life is not his wife, his children or his job. It is his bicycle.

Seven years ago, this couple moved to a warm climate to "Mr. Bicycle" could train year 'round. While there, he had three bike wrecks which resulted in a broken collarbone, a fractured knee and many cracked ribs. Because of his injuries, he hasn't worked for two years and has landed in bankruptcy court.

They are now living with our friend's parents. Although "Mrs. Bicycle" is working two jobs, their income is still low enough so that they are eligible for food stamps. Mr. Bicycle is still not employed which isn't surprising because he has never been enthusiastic about working. He quit a good job last year after four days because he said it didn't pay enough. The real reason is that the job cut into his six hour a day training schedule.

This man is no idiot. He has a college degree and other professional certifications. It seems that he lacks the great American work ethic and there is always someone around to rescue him -- mainly his wife.

So, Ann, got any good ideas to help change this situation? Mrs. Bicycle may listen to you even if her husband won't. --Disgusted and Dumbfounded

DEAR D AND D: Mrs. Bicycle should look in the dictionary for the word, "enabler." That's HER. She should then get some counseling and decide whether or not she wants to spend the rest of her life like this (maybe she does). The decision should be hers, so stay out of it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been dating the same guy for eight years. Two years ago he gave me a diamond ring and we decided to get married. While making our wedding plans we suddenly came face to face with the financial realities of life and decided to wait until we had enough money to buy a little house.

Our relationship is going well. The only problem is my parents. They get upset whenever my fiance and I go out of town together. I have told them that we sleep in separate beds, but that isn't enough. My mother gives me these long-winded lectures about how it isn't right since we are not married, Ann, I'm 25 years old and haven't lived with my parents since I was 18.

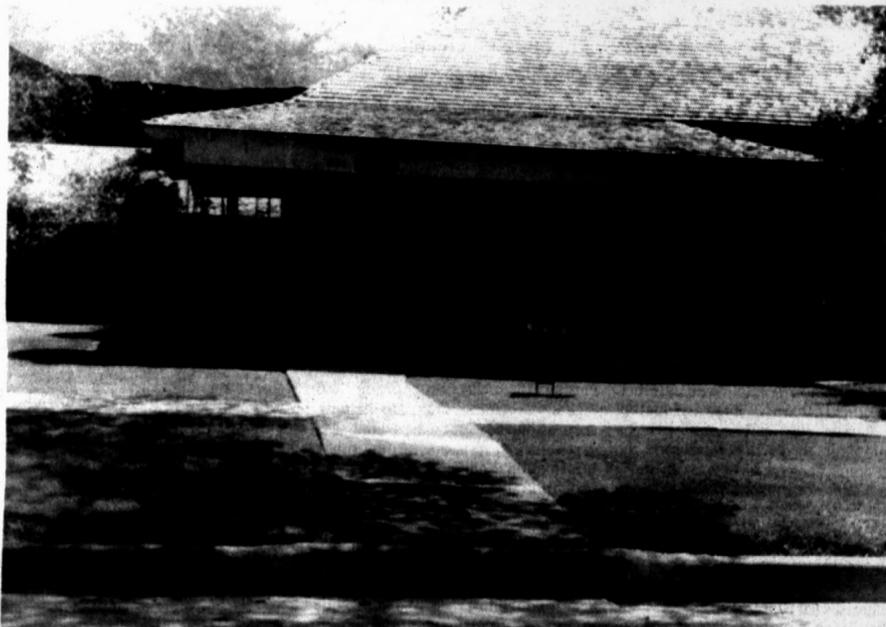

This has caused many arguments and there are times when my mother and I don't speak. How can I tell her that she's living in the Dark Ages without hurting her feelings? I love my parents but when it comes to my personal relationships, I don't believe they have the right to make us feel guilty about spending time together out of town. They have no idea what we do when we're IN town, so why should it matter to them what we do when we're travelling?

I know my parents read your column. Will you please give me some advice before I lose my temper and say something I will regret? Thanks, Ann-D.S., Greensboro, N.C.

DEAR GREENSBORO: A 25-year-old woman who has not lived at home since she was 18 and is engaged to a man with whom she has been going for eight years should not be discussing her sleeping arrangements with her mother or anyone else. Keep your lip zipped. Should anyone bring up the subject of your sex life, simply say, "That topic is not one I want to talk about."

Accent on Health

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) soon will publish new rules governing the disposal of automobile batteries. Under a law (SB 1340) which became effective Sept. 1, lead-acid automobile batteries are no longer permitted in municipal landfills and must instead be recycled.

The Texas Board of Health, at its Aug. 24 meeting, adopted emergency

Inventors to meet

The Amarillo Inventor's Association will meet the last Tuesday of September at 7 p.m. in the President's Room in the basement of the First National Bank, 7th and Taylor Streets in Amarillo.

Paul and Mike Keifer, owner so Amarillo Marketing went to Irving recently and came back with a helpful report on their meeting with Robert Clark and Zane Causey, owners of New Product Showcase.

rules for public compliance with the law. Those rules are now published in the "Texas Register." Final rules will be adopted after a Sept. 25 public hearing and a review of public comments ending on Oct. 11.

Under the new law, anyone who wished to dispose of a car battery must take it to a wholesale or retail battery dealer, a secondary lead smelter or a recycling center authorized to accept it.

The law further requires that all battery retailers must accept used batteries offered for recycling. Similarly, battery wholesalers are required to accept and pick up within 90 days, used batteries collected by their retail customers.

Retailers also must post signs advising the public about the new requirements. The law specifies the wording for the signs, and the signs themselves will be produced and distributed by TDH.

TDH inspectors have the authority to enforce compliance with the recycling law. According to T.A.

Outlaw, chief of the TDH Bureau of Solid Waste Management, "The inspectors may issue warnings or citations to any battery retailer who fails to post the new signs. The penalty for failing to post the sign within three days of receiving a warning can be as much as $100 a day."

Outlaw added, "Besides posting the required signs, businesses must collect a fee on the wholesale or retail sale of any lead-acid battery."

For each battery with a capacity of at least six volts but less than 12 volts, the fee is $2. For batteries over 12 volts or more, the fee is $3.
