McDaniel is SPS manager

Lewis McDaniel has been named Hereford District Manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, replacing Troy Waddell, who has been transferred to SPS Pandhandle Division offices in Amarillo as administrative services specialist.

McDaniel, 49, had been SPS area manager in Floydada. He began his career with SPS in 1957 as a meter reader in Littlefield. He then served as a lineman in Plainview, a serviceman in Dimmitt, serviceman-manager and local manager in Bovina and local manager in Crosbyton. He was named Floydada area manager in 1980.

As Hereford District Manager, McDaniel will supervise SPS operations in Bovina, Dimmitt, Friona, Happy, and Canyon, as well as in Hereford.

McDaniel is a native of Tulia. He and his wife, Gene, have three children.

Things are cool down on South Padre

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas (AP) — There's more fun than sun at Texas' spring break headquarters, but chilly temperatures haven't slowed down the round of rowdy parties.

During the height of spring break, it never quite quiets down, no matter what the hour.

An estimated 75,000 young people are descending upon this town of 1,000 this week, the busiest of the spring break season.

"There are kids coming in here that don't have any place to stay, and we're having trouble finding places for them," said Breeze Carlile, executive director of the South Padre Island Visitor and Convention Bureau.

A cold front that kept temperatures below 70 most of the week put a damper on beach fun, but not the daily and nightly blow-outs students said.

"We've been partying massively every day and night," said Stacy Berman, 21, from the University of Maryland. "That's the only way we can get through this vacation, because otherwise I guess we'd be really bored, because there's nothing to do here during the day except party, because there's no sun out."

Doctors protest printing of letters

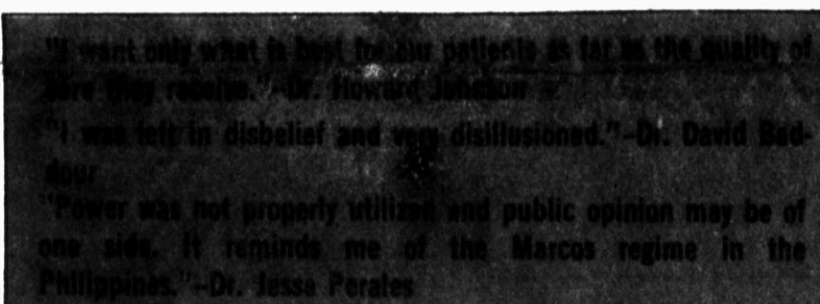

Four Hereford doctors who signed a letter asking that former Deaf Smith General Hospital nursing director Gerry Hollinger be re-hired in another capacity at DSGH have told the Deaf Smith county Hospital District board of directors they were not "questioning the board" and that actions taken by the board and DSGH Administrator Gary Moore "were in the best interests of the hospital."

Three of the doctors were David Baddour, Jesse Perales, and Howard Johnson. The fourth doctor asked that his name not be disclosed.

"I sensed the harmful implications, or the new twist given to the petition, in publishing it and expressed my concerns," said Dr. Baddour, a urologist. "I made it clear that publishing the petition was a wrong thing to do. I would not be part of it and would not sign the petition. I was assured that it was not the intent, and that the petition was not to be published. The following day, upon reading the Hereford Brand, I was left in disbelief and very disillusioned."

Baddour told the board that he supported the decisions that have been made, and added:

"The rumors that because of the changes you have instituted, the quality of care at our hospital has declined are, in my opinion, unfounded, destructive and harmful. At Deaf Smith General Hospital the quality of care our patients are receiving remains high."

Dr. Howard Johnson, family practice and obstetrics, also said the letter was signed "with the idea of not being published in the Hereford Brand. Unfortunately, this was not the case and I feel that the community has been led to believe that I and my fellow colleagues were trying to undermine a decision made by the Board of Directors at the hospital and by Mr. Moore. This was not my intent at all."

"I feel like Mr. Hollinger has a certain expertise in the ambulance service that would be valuable to our hospital if the Board and Mr. Moore thought it advisable to retain his services in the ambulance service only. I realize that the Board made a decision based on careful consideration of Mr. Hollinger's past performance as Director of Nursing. It is not my intent to question his termination because I believe that the entire Board made a decision based on what they felt was best for Deaf Smith General Hospital. This decision, though unpleasant, has my approval and support."

Dr. Perales, an internist, had similar sentiments. "It is quite hard for me to believe that in this hospital a few individuals have created a tremendous power and public support," Perales said. "It is my opinion that the power was not properly utilized and the public opinion may be of one side. It reminds me of the Marcos regime in the Philippines." — Dr. Jesse Perales

DSEC meet is Saturday

The meeting will also feature a high voltage arcing demonstration and the Hereford Chamber Singers. There will also be drawings and door prizes for over $1,000 worth of items.

A fish, chicken and seafood dinner will begin the meeting at 5 p.m.

During the business session, capital credit checks totaling over $400,000 will be returned to DSEC members who purchased electricity during 1973-74.

Combest has represented the sprawling 19th District of Texas since 1985, and is a member of the House Agriculture and Small Business committees.

Combest recently won his third consecutive "Golden Bulldog Award" from the Watchdogs of the Treasury, Inc., for his "exemplary voting record in the House."

Combest was cited for his 1987 efforts to "cut federal spending, eliminate government waste and reduce the budget deficit." He received a near-perfect rating from the Watchdogs in 1987. The rating is based on a compilation of selected votes on economic and fiscal issues published in the "Economy Voting Record."

The meeting is open to all DSEC members.

Swaggart may be a set-up victim

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Television evangelist Jimmy Swaggart may have been victim of a setup when he was photographed at a motel with a known prostitute, according to two private investigators.

Larry Carroll and Joseph A. Oster say they are not denying that Swaggart was with a prostitute.

"We're not saying he wasn't there, we're saying what has come out so far is not the whole story," Oster said.

Carroll heads a Baton Rouge-based firm known as Carroll Security Consultants Inc., which handles employment screening for the Swaggart Ministries. Oster heads the West Monroe-based firm of Joseph A. Oster and Co.

Carroll said a Texas man — described as a Swaggart benefactor — hired him and Oster to investigate how Swaggart came to be photographed at the New Orleans area motel last October with the prostitute.

Carroll said he knows the person employing him only as a voice on the telephone.

Both Carroll and Oster say they send their written reports to a post office box, and are paid with a check bearing an illegible signature.

The woman who admitted being at the Jefferson Parish motel with Swaggart said they did not have sexual intercourse but he paid her to perform pornographic acts.

Carroll and Oster say they want to find out exactly how the photographs of Swaggart came to be taken and whether others may have violated some laws in making the case against Swaggart.

Carroll and Oster are looking particularly at the roles a Lake Charles-based private investigator and law enforcement officials played in the Swaggart drama.

The Lake Charles investigator, Reed Scott Bailey, was hired by the Rev. Marvin Gorman, who filed a $90 million defamation lawsuit last year against Swaggart, a fellow minister in the Assemblies of God church.

Gorman, a New Orleans minister, was defrocked after admitting to an immoral act with an unnamed woman. He has accused Swaggart and other Assemblies officials of ruining his ministry with false reports that he had several adulterous affairs.

Gorman is reported to have given Assemblies of God officials the photographs of Swaggart and the prostitute outside The Travel Inn.

Debra Murphree, arrested for prostitution at the Travel Inn in September, claims to be the woman in the photograph. Carroll said he's not sure it was Murphree.

Another loose end that Carroll and Oster are exploring is the suggestion that someone from the Jefferson Parish sheriff's office may have been involved in helping to set up Swaggart.

Nicaragua dares U.S. troops

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — The Foreign Ministry delivered a formal protest to the United States, blaming it for a bombing raid near a Sandinista army encampment just inside Nicaragua by warplanes that screamed in from Honduras.

Also Thursday, President Daniel Ortega said his army was ready to "combat and liquidate" U.S. troops if America engage the Sandinista forces.

The United States has said American troops would not go near the area of hostilities.

The noon raid at the confluence of the Coco and Bocay rivers, from which the Sandinistas had driven

U.S.-backed Contra rebels, came a day after Honduras accused Nicaragua of sending troops across the border in pursuit of the guerrillas.

About 3,000 U.S. soldiers began arriving in Honduras Thursday in what the United States called a "measured response" to the alleged Nicaraguan incursion.

In the air attack, two bombs fell in Nicaragua and a third landed across the narrow Coco River in Honduran territory, Sandinista officers said. Reporters on the scene said there was no damage or injuries.

A Reagan administration source in Washington said the Honduran air force had carried out the attack. In Tegucigalpa, a Honduran armed forces spokesman said rockets were fired at Sandinista forces in Honduran territory, not in Nicaragua.

Ortega said Thursday that Sandinista troops would not withdraw from Nicaragua's border and were maintaining an offensive begun March 8 in which an estimated 6,000 soldiers have pushed 2,000 Contras out of Nicaraguan territory.

However, the officer who had been leading the offensive, deputy army chief of staff Lt. Col. Javier Carrion, told reporters at the Bocay-Coco confluence Thursday that Ortega had ordered the offensive halted Wednesday.

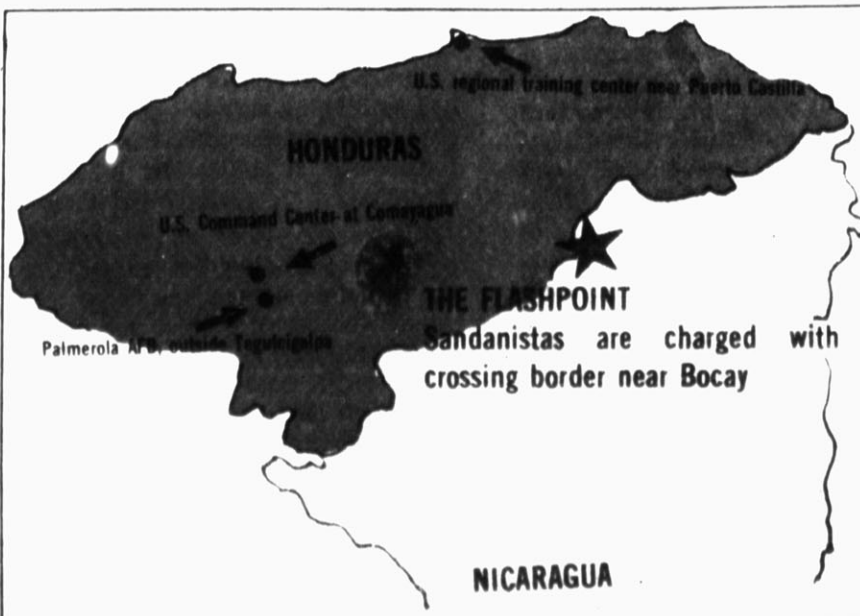

Ortega said in Managua that the Nicaraguan "invasion only exists in the warped imagination of the North American leaders."

He has refused to confirm or deny whether Nicaraguan troops have penetrated Honduran territory, skirting reporters' questions by saying Honduras is violating a regional peace plan by allowing the Contras to operate out of its territory.

Honduran military officials said their troops were surrounding about 2,000 Nicaraguan soldiers in Honduras Thursday.

Carrion denied that Sandinista troops had crossed the border, saying they had used artillery to destroy Contra camps along a six-mile route on both sides of the Coco River during the offensive.

$1 billion only brief relief for Texas bank

Munchies

One of Garth Merrick's zebras at Hereford Bi-Products finds the cure for the munchies on a grazing expedition.

DALLAS (AP) — Federal officials say a $1 billion cash infusion to First RepublicBank was an interim step to steady the bank, shaken by a run on deposits, and outside investors are being sought to help put the company on surer financial footing.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.'s advance Thursday helped calm jittery depositors and slow a run on deposits that has drained reserves from the ailing company, bank spokesman Joseph C. Bowles said.

"As soon as the FDIC action was made available to the public, the deposit outflow stopped," he said. But there was little good news for Texas' largest bank-holding company's investors, he said.

"This action by the FDIC guarantees creditors and depositors and not the holding company. The shareholders certainly are at risk in this situation."

FDIC Chairman William Seidman said in Washington that the assistance was only a short-term step.

Seidman said the FDIC was seeking a long-term solution to the holding company's problems and was talking to private investors who may want to participate in a restructuring of the company.

Seidman pledged his agency to fully protect all depositors of the banks as well as general creditors. That goes beyond the minimum the agency would normally be expected to insure, which is deposits of $100,000 and less.

Without the cash infusion, "basically the bank would have failed," said independent banking consultant Frank Anderson. But it still remains to be seen if the bank can overcome its financial problems, he said.

In the short term, however, "this effective action by the FDIC will provide a stable environment for our customers," Gerald Fronterhouse, First RepublicBank's chairman and chief executive officer, said in a statement.

"The action today confirms that all depositors and other general creditors of First RepublicBank's banks will be fully protected."

Bowles and other bank officials refused Thursday to say how much money has been withdrawn since Tuesday when First RepublicBank announced its decision to seek federal help.

Last month, the bank lost $600 million in deposits over a five-day period amid rumors that it was in danger because of billions of dollars in bad loans, particularly in real estate.

Customers at the company's lead bank in downtown Dallas indicated that they were not worried about losing their deposits.

"I have confidence in the people running the bank. It'll survive," said Alex Cochrane.

Gail Scott added, "It's pretty scary. I hope they can work it out."

A woman who declined to identify herself said she wasn't worried because the FDIC insures accounts up to $100,000, and "before they go under I will have spent my money."

An Associated Press reporter was escorted out of the bank under guard Thursday as he tried to interview customers and bank officials.

Meanwhile, George Reagan, investment manager of the Texas Teachers Retirement System, a major institutional First Republic investor with 498,000 shares, said the FDIC money will provide a cushion for the bank until the economy recovers.

"This will allow First Republic to get through the hard times. No one, especially First Republic, realized that we would go through such a hard time with the Texas real estate market for so long," he said.

Reagan said the bank's problems would not affect the teacher pensions since the investment represents a fraction of 1 percent of the system's holdings.

H.R. "Bum" Bright, owner of the Dallas Cowboys and Bright Banc Savings Association, is the largest individual investor with more than 1 million shares.

Nine months ago, those shares were worth $24 million; today, they're worth approximately $1.5 million. Bright did not return repeated calls from The AP Thursday.

State Treasurer Ann Richards said the federal action "assures that all depositors, including the state treasury, are safe."

First RepublicBank is one of four state treasury clearing banks, and as of Wednesday held $152 million in state deposits. Ms. Richards said the deposits are fully collateralized and therefore protected.

First RepublicBank-Dallas is the company's largest holding. In descending order, the next-largest First RepublicBank subsidiaries are in Houston, San Antonio and Austin.

Tax payers slower in mailing tax returns than last year, IRS says

AUSTIN (AP) — Internal Revenue Service officials report that tax returns are coming in at a slower pace this year than last, and they say taxpayer errors are up because of changes in tax laws.

IRS spokesman Steve Pyrek in Washington said that by the end of last week, 42.4 million tax returns were received nationwide, about 400,000 fewer than at the same time in 1987.

Lagging returns to the Austin IRS regional center accounted for more than half the total.

Austin IRS spokesman Jack Crum said 4.25 million taxpayers in Texas and four other states have filed returns so far, about 250,000 less than the regional service center had received at the same time last year.

About 11.7 percent of the standard 1040 forms received in Austin by mid-February were delayed by mistakes, compared with 9.8 percent the previous year.

Crum said 31 percent of the notices that Austin IRS employees have sent taxpayers informing them of errors concerned an additional document needed to claim children not living at home as dependents.

He said other common mistakes related to the revised tax code include overlooking the standard deduction and not filing the simplest form available.

Traditional errors that still trouble taxpayers include claiming too few or too many dependents, not signing returns and forgetting to attach W-2 forms, he added.

Crum predicted the Austin facility this year will process returns from about 11,300,000 individuals and more than 9 million businesses in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Kansas.

INS airing 3-hour message for amnesty

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service will take to the airwaves in an effort to get more aliens to tune in to immigration amnesty before the May 4 deadline.

The INS, through the Dallas-based Spanish Information Service, intends to blanket the state with a three-hour broadcast message starting at 9 a.m. CST March 26.

The program will originate at the INS Legalization Center in Dallas and will be carried on 14 Spanish-language radio stations statewide and another station in Albuquerque, N.M.

Most or all the stations will hold live remote broadcasts from their local legalizations centers and each will go statewide for a few minutes in a phone linkup, INS spokesman John Armistead said Thursday in Dallas.

"We're going to have a big shindig. It's going to be a giant promotion," said Zoltan Csanyi, news director for KAMA-AM, an El Paso Spanish-language station. "We're working with the INS to promote that fact that the amnesty deadline is near."

KAMA will broadcast live from the El Paso legalization center, Csanyi said.

The promotion is for people "who haven't been listening to the news or who have been putting it off," Csanyi said.

"We're here to tell them time is running out and they have only a few days."

Under the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, people who have lived in the United States illegally since before Jan. 1, 1982, can apply for amnesty and obtain temporary residency and the right to work legally. But they must apply by May 4.

Amnesty recipients later can apply for permanent residency and eventually apply for U.S. citizenship.

INS officials also are answering questions from potential amnesty applicants on live call-in radio shows during the last eight weeks of the application period.

About 20 radio stations belonging to the SIS network carry the weekly call-in show, which will move to a different location most weeks. It has been broadcast so far from Houston and San Antonio. Dallas, El Paso and other cities are scheduled to host the shows later.

Tax changes might ease burden on Texans' taxes

AUSTIN (AP) — Tax changes contemplated by the Select Committee on Tax Equity probably would lighten the average Texan's tax load, says a state legislator.

"There is real likelihood that Joe Six-Pack will find his overall tax burden reduced after the structural reforms that the committee may very well be recommending are implemented — as we, for example, broaden the base of the general sales tax... to include the personal service sector of the economy," said Rep. Dan Morales, D-San Antonio, Thursday.

"What that would mean is that we would be in a position, all other things remaining equal, to consider lowering the rate of the sales tax," he said.

Morales, a committee member, sponsored the state sales tax increase that was the centerpiece of the $5.7 billion tax bill approved by the 1987 Texas Legislature.

With the increase to a 6 percent state sales tax and the addition of a local sales tax in some cities, some Texas consumers pay up to 8 percent tax on many purchases.

Elimination of the general sales-tax deduction for individuals will cost Texans $236 million when they pay their 1987 federal taxes, a researcher told the committee.

That amounts to $173 per income tax return, said Ms. Kenyon, senior research associate for the Washington-based Urban Institute.

"Overall, I'd say you will have above-average increase in federal tax liability because of disallowance of general sales-tax deductibility, but it's not as high as you might think," she said.

The blow is not as great as it could be because fewer Texans itemize deductions than do taxpayers nationwide, Ms. Kenyon said.

Nationally, 33 percent of returns itemize tax deductions, but only 26 percent are that way in Texas, she said. Whether individuals itemize deductions depends on such factors as income and home ownership.

"Sales taxes alone generally don't push a taxpayer into itemizing. Income taxes are likely to," she said.

Ms. Kenyon also stressed that removal of the general sales tax deduction was part of the overall effort to reform federal taxes.

"If we didn't disallow the general sales-tax deduction, would we have had higher tax rates because of that? Remember that the entire exercise of federal tax reform was to broaden the base to lower rates, and they were part of the same thing," she said.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

I don't believe there should have been a two-minute time limit on the public comments at Tuesday's hospital board meeting.

We took the time to come to the meeting, but we still didn't learn why Gerry Hollinger was fired. I disagree with the way Margie Ford handled the meeting. It seemed that if she didn't like what was being said she would just make them shut up, or tell them their time was up. It seemed that if it didn't go her way she didn't want it to be said.

To me, she seemed to act like a dictator. She really didn't want to hear our opinion. Why was she the only board member that really spoke up?

It seems that freedom of speech was taken away from the board meeting.

I am glad elections are coming up. We need to work hard to elect board members who will be responsive to the community and who will be responsible in directing the hospital in the future. We need to question the people who will be running for the board, find candidates we can work with, and see they are elected to the hospital board.

Sincerely,
Melba Kee

the Board of Directors of DSGH for their decisions and for their efforts to improve the conditions and the stability of the staff at DSGH with the ultimate goals of better patient care.

"I am sorry that these doctors feel they were misled, that the letter would not be published," said Brand Managing Editor John Brooks. "The letters were publicly distributed during an open session at a hospital board meeting and placed in the public record. Just as the doctors state they were assured the letter would not be published, I was assured by the person who gave me a copy of the letter that approval had been given to publish the letter."

"Furthermore, since the letter was a matter of public record, with copies given to hospital board members and members of the public and the media at an open meeting, I feel it my duty to report the contents of that letter, just as it is my duty to report on the content of these additional letters presented at the March 15 meeting.

"There were other, and better, methods of handling the letter if the persons signing the letter didn't want their position made public, although I feel a public forum is the best way to make sentiments like this known."

"I was personally assured that the letter could be published, along with the names of the signers. I felt secure in those assurances."

Even with 119-115 victory over Wyoming

Loyola Marymount coach is tough to please

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

Paul Westhead is a tough man to please. Not even a 119-point winning effort by his Loyola Marymount Lions in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament could satisfy the coach.

"I wasn't pleased," Westhead said after watching the 15th-ranked Lions outdueled No. 13 Wyoming 119-115 Thursday in the highest-scoring game in tournament history. "We were a little slow today. We have to get the shot off quicker, we have to get it off within seven seconds."

Loyola's best players in the opening round of the West Regional at Salt Lake City were Bo Kimble with 29 points, Mike Yoest (23) and Hank Gathers (19). The Lions, 28-3, went over their 110.4-point season's average, helped greatly by eight points in the final 45 seconds of the first half.

The Lions' next opponent is North Carolina.

In the other West Regional games, it was No. 7 North Carolina 83, North Texas State 65; No. 10 Michigan 63,

1-4A golf round is postponed to Saturday

The first District 1-4A golf round, originally scheduled for Thursday at the Meadowbrook course in Lubbock, has been postponed to Saturday because of the weather.

The Shadow Hill municipal golf course in Lubbock will be the site of the district rounds Saturday. Boys' and girls' rounds are scheduled at 10 a.m.

On March 24, the second girls' district round is scheduled in Plainview. The second boys' district round will be played on April 7.

Boise State 58, and Florida 62, St. John's 59.

In the Midwest at South Bend, Ind., DePaul routed Wichita State 83-42; No. 20 Kansas State took La Salle 66-53; No. 3 Purdue beat Fairleigh Dickinson 94-79, and Memphis State downed Baylor 75-60.

The East at Chapel Hill, N.C., saw Southern Methodist beat Notre Dame 83-75; No. 5 Duke over Boston University 85-69; Rhode Island over Missouri 87-80, and No. 9 Syracuse beating North Carolina A&T 69-65.

At Atlanta in the Southeast Regional, it was Louisville 70, Oregon State 61; No. 19 Brigham Young 96, North Carolina Charlotte 92 in overtime; No. 4 Oklahoma 94, Tennessee-Chattanooga 66, and Auburn 90, Bradley 86.

The first round continued today. At Hartford, Conn., it was Georgia Tech vs. Iowa State, Indiana vs. Richmond, Temple vs. Lehigh and Georgetown vs. Louisiana State.

In the Southeast at Cincinnati, it was Villanova vs. Arkansas, Illinois vs. Texas-San Antonio, Maryland vs. California-Santa Barbara and Kentucky vs. Southern University.

In the Midwest at Lincoln, Neb., it was Pittsburgh vs. Eastern Michigan, Vanderbilt vs. Utah State, North Carolina State vs. Murray State and Kansas vs. Xavier, Ohio.

Out West at Los Angeles, it was Arizona vs. Cornell, Seton Hall vs. Texas-El Paso, Iowa vs. Florida State and Nevada-Las Vegas vs. Southwest Missouri State.

WEST

North Carolina rode 29 points by All-American J.R. Reid, two short of his career high. The Tar Heels took a 21-8 lead and never were threatened.

Michigan, 25-7, nearly blew a 19-point lead, but held on when Boise's Brian King missed an off-balance 3-point attempt to tie it in the final seconds.

Florida, 26-11, led all the way against St. John's until Greg Harvey tied it with 16 seconds to go. So Vernon Maxwell came down court and hit the game-winning 3-pointer with eight seconds to play.

MIDWEST

There were no surprises or close games at South Bend, Ind.

DePaul had the easiest time of all. Leading 10-4, Kevin Edwards scored 10 points during a 16-2 run that put away Wichita State. The Blue Demons, 22-7, led by at least 10 the rest of the way and even built up a 32-point edge.

Purdue got a career-high 26 points from Melvin McCants in setting a school record for victories in a season with 28. Fairleigh Dickinson got into quick foul trouble and could not handle Purdue's height.

The Boilermakers play Memphis State on Saturday.

The Tigers, 20-11, also got a personal high game from Rodney Douglas with 22 points, including eight in a 20-2 burst that opened the second half.

Kansas State snapped La Salle's 15-game winning string as Mitch Richmond set a Wildcats record for points in a season with 711. The Wildcats, 23-6, have won nine straight first-round NCAA games.

EAST

It was not a good day for the Irish. Notre Dame, the only other independent in the field, faded down the stretch against Southern Methodist. The Mustangs, 26-6, were led by Kato Armstrong, who scored 19 of his 29 points in the second half.

SMU plays Duke on Saturday.

Duke, 25-6, advanced despite a mediocre shooting night by star forward Danny Ferry, who was 7-for-19 from the field. He still got 21 points and Duke used its deep bench to advantage against the overmatched Terriers.

The key to Rhode Island's victory over Missouri was sharp foul shooting — 15 of 18 in the final 3:09 — and Tom Garwick's 29 points.

Syracuse, which lost in the championship game to Indiana last year, struggled for a half. But Steve Thompson, who had 21 points, and Sherman Douglas sparked a 15-4 streak that put away A&T, which lost for the seventh straight time in the first round. Syracuse rose to 26-8.

SOUTHEAST

Louisville, in its first NCAA Tournament game since winning the 1996 championship, was led by two of the stars of that title run, Pervis Ellison and Herbert Crook. Ellison had 23 points, Crook added 22, including 12 in a pair of second-half spurts that put away Oregon State.

Louisville improved to 23-10.

BYU, the Cardinals' opponent Saturday, scored the first eight points of overtime after UNCC tied it on a 3-pointer by Jeff West with four seconds to go in regulation. The Cougars are 26-6.

Rent-to-own agreements make buying a television or furniture seem affordable, but can cost more in the long-run, according to Bonnie L. Piernot, a consumer economics expert.

Rent-to-own programs vary, but an 18-month rental period is typical, she says.

Customers don't have to rent for that length of time, but those who do become owners of the product, explains the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

"Advertisements for rent-to-own programs often stress the possibility of ownership and low weekly or monthly payments," Piernot remarks. "But over the months these low payments add up to much more than the cost of the item."

For example, if you rent-to-own a 19-inch portable color television set for $15 per week, the total cost over 18 months adds up to $1,170. A rent-to-own agreement for payments of $54 per month adds up to $972 after 18 months.

Since a typical 19-inch color television sells for about $300-$400 in a retail store, and sometimes less on sale, a rent-to-own customer can easily pay over twice the price, adds the specialist.

Piernot observes that some consumers use rental-purchase agreements as a substitute for conventional forms of credit, such as installment plans or credit card purchases. But she points out that credit card interest rates of 18%-21% can be less expensive than the added costs of rent-to-own.

Other people who sign up for these programs either don't qualify or they think they won't qualify for conventional credit. If credit buying isn't possible, Piernot advises consumers to set aside the money that would go for weekly rental payments until enough has been saved to simply buy the item.

"Consumers should also be aware that rent-to-own programs are not credit and are not governed by the consumer protection laws regulating credit practices," Piernot says.

Renting household items for a short period may be useful in a temporary living situation, she concedes. But before renting for permanent ownership, the specialist suggests consumers figure the total cost and decide whether it will be worth it.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I consider myself a fair person and would appreciate an answer to a question that I'm sure others would like answered also. Here's the situation.

I'm a male in my early 30s. The woman I started to see a few weeks ago is my age. She called me and said she was trying to get tickets for an ice show and asked if I would like to go with her. I said yes.

We took the train to the city. (I paid for that). When we reached the booth for the reserved tickets, she just stood there. It became clear that I was expected to pay $40 for the tickets. I was shocked, to put it mildly, and handed over the money.

After the show, she suggested that we have a bite to eat. We went to a modest place and the bill was $22. She made no attempt to take the check.

I feel that she should have shared the expense of the evening because she asked me to go with her. Her attitude is that it is the male's responsibility to pay for the night out. I told her it was our last date.

Please comment—New York, New York

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A few days before Christmas, my competent, reliable pediatrician wrote an eye-drop prescription for my 4-year-old son. I asked him how many drops the boy should receive and how often. The answer was, "Two drops in the eye, three times a day."

When I picked up the prescription from the pharmacist, the label said four drops, three times a day. I questioned the pharmacist and he showed me the prescription slip. The number definitely looked more like a Roman IV more than a Roman II. Because I persisted, he called the physician, who confirmed that the proper dosage was indeed two drops, not four.

The doctor was extremely apologetic, but the pharmacist said to me, "You are one of the lucky ones to have found the mistake before the medication was taken." He said errors of this kind due to poorly written prescriptions are more common than people realize.

That's the last time I will leave any doctor's office with a prescription written in Latin. From now on, I will insist that my prescriptions are written in English.

If the doctor refuses to cooperate, I'm going to pay him in Italian lire.—M.A. in Philly

DEAR PHIL: Thanks for a letter that could help a lot of people.

The way most doctors write, prescriptions are impossible to read no matter what language they are written in. (God bless the pharmacists of America. They do a wonderful job.)

ASK DR. LAMB

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am a 68-year-old female and was in good health until five months ago, other than some high blood pressure and being overweight. I figured that was from working in an office for 22 years — not much exercise and plenty of stress. After retiring six years ago, I was getting up every two or three hours to go to the bathroom. The doctor found I had diabetes.

I am on Tolazamide for diabetes and Maxzide for blood pressure. I started getting pain in my lower back and was X-rayed and there were no problems there. After that there were burning pains in my lower front sides and now I have pain in my upper legs. I have never heard of pain in the body because of diabetes. Is there anything I can do for this condition? I have lost weight and eat the right foods.

DEAR READER: Your need to get up at night is typical of a diabetic who is losing a lot of sugar in the urine. I can't be certain from your description exactly what is causing your pain. It could be unrelated to your diabetes.

Your letter suggests that either you or your doctor think the pain is from your diabetes. That is called diabetic neuropathy. The nerve fibers undergo changes as a direct result of the chemical disorder associated with diabetes. Most cases are treated to control the symptoms because we don't know how to stop the process yet. Keeping the blood glucose level low seems to be important. Antidepressants seem to help and so does Tegretol.

At present a medicine called sorbinil is being studied.
