Cuomo emerges as convention's hero

By MIKE FEINSILBER Associated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - As Walter Mondale courted his two opponents face to face, the Democratic National Convention embraced a new hero in New York's Mario Cuomo, who rallied the party to his vision of the future and his vow -"Democrats did it, and Democrats can do it again."

The payoff for Mondale's dramatic move - a personal session alone with his two rivals for the nomination - could come tonight if the convention sidesteps a brawl over philosophical differences as it drafts a platform.

Aides to the three candidates -Mondale, Gary Hart and the Rev. Jesse Jackson — are to meet today to see if they can resolve their bosses' differences over party planks on the use of force abroad, on justice, jobs and peace.

But Monday night belonged to Cuomo, New York's governor, a new face on the national scene, pegged by the professionals as a likely first joint meeting since the future Democratic convention.

He electrified the delegates by recalling their party's vision of a compassionate government that honors hard work. His delivery and timing rivaled the artful Republican in Washington, Ronald Reagan.

"In our family are gathered everyone from the abject poor of Essex County in New York to the enlightened affluent of the gold coasts of both ends of our nation," rang out Cuomo, son of immigrants.

"And in between is the heart of our constituency - the middle class, the people not rich enough to be worryfree but not poor enough to be on welfare, those who work for a living because they have to."

Away from the humid subterranean convention hall, where their delegates bathed in oratory, Mondale, Hart and Jackson held their presidential contender in the some primaries. The site: neutral ground a hotel suite atop breezy Nob Hill.

"No nominee can be elected without help," said Mondale, addressing 300 reporters after the hourlong session. Hart said he thought a compromise could be reached on his plank — seeking to pledge a future Democratic president to commit no U.S. forces in Central America and the Mideast unless U.S. interests are jeopardized.

Jackson was ambiguous. "We reserve the right to be competitive to the very end," he said. But he also said: "There is now a need more and more to cooperate."

His planks cover jobs, justice and peace. He seeks an absolute cut in defense spending, not merely the slow growth that Mondale advocates.

Jackson, who won 18 percent of the primaries' votes, addresses the delegates tonight, something candidates for the nomination used not

His speech could answer the question of his role in November. Party professionals think Jackson is capable of delivering millions of votes from newly registered blacks.

Meantime, supporters of George McGovern, the anti-war nominee buried by Richard Nixon in 1972, said they are to trying to gather enough signatures to put him in nomination - giving him a chance to lay out his Hart, still gamely in the race, borrowed an old idea from Mondale -Geraldine Ferraro.

The Colorado senator said that if he were nominated, his running mate would be Ms. Ferraro.

"An extraordinary u pened in the party and in the nation," Hart told delegates from California, a state he carried big. "And that is a consensus has formed not only for a woman on the ticket, but a specific woman on the ticket."

Ms. Ferraro sent her husband, real estate developer John Zaccaro, and Mondale sent his wife, Joan, as their representatives to the convention.

Hereford's Kiwanis Clubs plan to continue their efforts on behalf of the Neighborhood Crime Watch program, by sponsoring an information night once a month.

Bob Fuqua of the Golden K Kiwanis Club said Randy Williams of the Hereford Police Department will explain the program on the second Tuesday of each month, at 7:30 p.m. at the Hereford Community Center. Neighbors whose block has not yet enrolled in the program are encouraged to attend as a group.

Fuqua said it is hoped the larger meetings will expedite the process of enrollment in Neighborhood Crime Watch. In the past, Williams has used his nights off work to explain the program to residents of one block at a time.

Fuqua said if one person on a city block would like to take the initiative and personally invite his neighbors to attend the presentation, the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce can provide names and phone numbers of residents of the block.

"The last time there was a The Hereford City Commission residential rate hike, there almost moved at Monday's 7:30 p.m. immediately followed a hike in the meeting to join the 63 cities that will price of irrigation gas," he told the form a committee to study the request by Energas for a 7.7 percent in-commission. Schlabs said he is a member of the Hi-Plains Irrigation Gas Users and offered the group's support in studying the rate hike request. Mayor Wes Fisher told Schlabs there is nothing the commission could do about the price of irrigation gas. "But we do want to hear your concerns," he added.

Jack Mars, district manager for Energas who also attended the meeting, told Schlabs the company is well aware that farmers cannot afford a big increase in the price of irrigation gas. "We have to make a profit to stay in business, but we also can't afford to price ourselves out of the market," he said.

Schlabs said a major concern of the farmers is that they have no where to go to appeal when irrigation gas prices go up. "We can't go to the Railroad Commission," he pointed Orthman said gas expenses for the complex have increased each year for the past four years, and that another increase might make necessary a rent increase. Picnic tables placed near still-empty lake

By KIM THOGMARTIN Staff Writer

As of Monday, eight picnic tables were in place at Buffalo Lake. That may be a far cry from what area water enthusiasts have in mind for the drained reservoir, but it is a start.

Last week, the U.S. Department of the Interior announced $170,000 in government funds would be used for physical improvements at the lake area south of Umbarger. The money is left over from a grant the department had appropriated to finance a study by the Bureau of Reclamation. Camping and picnic areas, hiking trails and waterfowl habitats are among the planned improvements. Those who want the lake filled again, including members of the Buffalo Lake Water District Board, are waiting on results of the BOR study. Due out in September, the study is expected to suggest whether the dam and spillway at the northeast corner of the lake should be repaired or replaced. When the polluted lake was drained in 1978, it was announced the structure was faulty and that it would therefore be unsafe to let the lake fill again.

Meanwhile, the Fish and Wildlife Service continues to manage the lake area for what it is-a National Wildlife Refuge.

One FWS worker told district board members at a recent meeting that the service was really not concerned about the lake being returned to a water sports area, because "it is first and foremost a wildlife refuge."

He said it would take an act of Congress to return Buffalo Lake to the National Park Service. Lake or no, FWS officials expect the picnic areas and campsites to attract more visitors to the area. The anticipated influx has prompted Johnny Beall, resident refuge manager, to publish an information pamphlet outlining regulations which he said are designed to protect the visitor as well as the wildlife and their habitat.

Beall said the pamphlet will be available to visitors as they enter the lake area, so that people will be aware of what the rules are. Violation of the rules is a federal misdemeanor violation, punishable by a minimum fine of $50. Beall said he issues tickets on site and payment is made through a Lubbock magistrate.

Picnicking and camping will be permitted only in the designated areas, and fires will be allowed only in aeas where camping and picnicking is permitted.

Beall said motorized vehicles are permitted only on designated roads and parking areas, and hunting and weapons are prohibited except by official permit under special regula-

The FWS also forbids littering, injuring plant or animal life, destruction of property and the discharge of fireworks. Currently, the consumption of alcoholic beverages at the lake site is allowed. However, Beall said he does have the authority to make driving while intoxicated arrests.

Dallas plans to be neat, dean

DALLAS (AP) - Workers are scurrying on a half-dozen fronts to finish putting a shine on Dallas and assure that the city will be in top shape for the opening gavel of the Republican National Convention.

And to ensure all goes well, several city representatives are in San Francisco this week to observe first hand the problems and situations that develop during the Democratic National Convention so Dallas will be as prepared as possible for the Aug. 20-23 GOP gather-

The city has launched several efforts to shape up parks, hotels and restaurants, and city officials say that residents' concern about appearances for the convention has resulted in an unusually successful annual cleanup program in Dallas.

"We would like to see Dallas looking neat and clean as can be, and we expect it will look that way," said Charles Griffith, assistant director of the Department of Streets and Sanitation.

A "Haul a Heap" program to remove junk cars from city streets helped remove 2,430 cars in five months - as many as were removed in all of 1983, officials said.

Port of Houston opens

DEER PARK, Texas (AP) - Ships were allowed to come and go for the first time in three days in the nation's second busiest port, where a tanker ran aground and spilled 33,000 gallons of fuel oil, of-

Port of Houston authorities planned to let ships enter the turning basin at half-hour intervals between midnight and 7 a.m. today, and three ships were allowed to leave the basin Monday evening, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Meanwhile, 25 ships waited Monday night for entrance into the port, which had been closed to traffic to keep the oil from spreading, said Coast Guard Petty Officer Bruce Rutherford.

The fuel oil spilled when the 520-foot tanker "Turpial," a Venezuelan tanker, ran aground Saturday night after apparently losing control of its propulsion system. The ship developed a leak and officials said about 33,000 gallons of heavy fuel oil escaped before the tanker crew could halt the spill.

Rutherford said the tanker later was hauled to the dock of the Oil Tanking Co. of Texas, where the vessel was reballasted to raise the damaged portion of the hull above the water level. He said the leaking tank has been emptied and no more oil is escaping.

County fires complaining jailer

SAN SABA, Texas (AP) - The San Saba County commissioners' court has fired a jailer who went over their heads to complain to state officials and to the American Civil Liberties Union about shortcomings of the 100-year-old jail he lived in and operated.

Tim Atkins, 26, was discharged Monday afternoon following a tempestuous morning session in which San Saba Mayor Joe Ragsdale said the deputy had "stirred up something here that could cost the taxpayers a million dollars."

After receiving Atkins' letter last week, the Texas Jail Standards Commission directed Sheriff Brantley Barker and County Judge Thomas Bowden to meet with the commission on July 25 in Austin to discuss continued operation of the jail.

Ragsdale sat in on Monday's meeting because the jail is operated ntly by the city and county under a consolidated law enforcement contract.

"They go to the American Civil Liberties Union, which is a communist organization, and they're (ACLU) just ready to jump on the bandwagon," Ragsdale said.

Better treatment found for humans

NEW YORK (AP) - Animal experiments have revealed that much of the damage to tissue in heart attacks actually occurs after the flow of blood is restored, a discovery that should translate into better treatment for humans, a surgeon and researcher says.

"I think we're probably going to be applying this in three to five years," said Dr. Gregory Bulkley, director of the Johns Hopkins Hospital surgical research laboratories in Baltimore.

Researchers have discovered that when blood flow returns after a period of deprivation, chemicals called "oxygen free radicals" are produced, and these chemicals do substantial harm to tissue - harm that can be reduced with drugs, Bulkley said Monday.

The new understanding of how the interruption of blood supply damages tissue can be applied to organ transplants, the treatment of heart attacks and other relatively common medical situaions.

In experiments with animal kidney transplants, "we're no longer working out the basics, but we're thinking about (drug) dosages and administration," Bulkley said. "We're already at the point where we're doing the kinds of studies that anticipate application."

Highway funds linked to drinking age

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan, a recent convert to linking federal highway aid to the drinking age, was signing legislation today denying money to states refusing to raise the age for con-

The signing ceremony was to be attended by representatives of several groups that helped lobby the bill through Congress, including Mothers Against Drunk Driving, Students Against Drunk Driving and Remove Intoxicated Drivers.

The legislation would give extra highway safety funds to states that enact automatic jail terms and license revocations for people convicted of drunk driving. It also includes extra highway safety money for states that establish a computerized traffic recordkeeping system and that pass laws against those who drive while under the influence of drugs.

Marlin Fitzwater, deputy White House press secretary, said Monday that Reagan always favored raising the drinking age but originally opposed withholding highway money to force the issue.

"But the evidence of the successful drop in the death rate in those states that have it, plus the interstate nature of the problem, convinced him to support withholding of highway funds," Fitzwater

President taken to mountains

Accompanying the pope Monday to 11,664-foot Mount Adamello was President Sandro Pertini, 87, whom John Paul invited along for pasta, wine and a "little fresh air."

The presidential palace released photographs of the men standing in the snow, with the pope in a ski suit and Pertini clutching his arm. White rips President Reagan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - President Reagan has turned his back on the majority of Americans, preferring instead to favor the privileged few, Texas Gov. Mark White told the Democratic National Convention.

White introduced the keynote speaker, New York Gov. Mario Cuomo, on prime-time network television Monday with a sharp attack on Reagan's administration. Hailing the Democratic Party as "the pulse beat of the American people," White said:

"The Republicans have given us a government that says to the people, 'No'. We have always led from the conviction that our clarion call is, 'The people, yes'.

"The Republicans have proven that theirs is a government of the privileged few. We are the party to which the people turn when they want to be heard.'

White used the speech to run through a lengthy list of issues on which he said the Republicans have ignored the desires of most Americans.

The list includes nuclear war, farm foreclosures, rising interest rates that prevent young couples from buying houses, unemployment, affordable health care and opportunities for women, minorities and the handicapped.

"The people are not shy about telling us what they want," White said. 'We have listened to those voices. We have listened to them and learn-

White said Democratic officeholders can solve many of the problems despite the sometimes rocky relations among party members.

Campaign recruiting backers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Texas Republican Senate candidate Phil Gramm's campaign is actively, but not deviously, recruiting backers of defeated conservative Democrat Kent Hance, an aide to Gramm says.

Hance, a delegate to the Democratic National Convention here, charged Monday Gramm staffers had been contacting his former campaign workers and implying that he would prefer not to support the party's U.S. Senate nominee, State Sen. Lloyd Doggett.

"They're trying to make the people think that I want them to be for Phil," Hance said of Gramm's organization. "My name's been dropped and it upsets me. I resent Hance, a conservative congressman from Lubbock, lost to liberal Doggett by just 1,345 votes in their primary runoff. Afterwards, Hance endorsed Doggett as the party's nominee to succeed retiring Republican Sen. John Tower.

"They've been calling my people," Hance complained in an interview. "They've been saying, 'We know you were for Hance. He can't say anything, but"

In a telephone interview from Washington, Gramm spokesman Larry Neal denied Hance's charges, saying former Hance backers who have been recruited joined Gramm on philosophical grounds, not because of any "implication."

He said the names of 50 former key Hance backers would be released today as converts to Gramm's campaign.

"These folks were acting on the basis of principle and philosophy," Neal said. "We have been actively recruiting county coordinators, finance chairmen, leaders in Kent Hance's campaign. They want to join

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., at 83 the Democrats' unofficial good-will ambassador for the nation's elderly, contends that Democratic conventions are "all about alike. There's always pushing and shoving."

He should know. He's been to 12 of them.

Pepper, who was to address the convention today on a plank in the platform dealing with the needs of the elderly, claims the 1984 document is "the best platform for the elderly that any convention has ever put together." He should know. He wrote that plank himself.

Pepper has been to every Democratic Convention since 1940. He claims that conventions haven't really changed that much in those years as far as he's concerned. "It would be better if they'd clear the aisles," he suggests.

This is more of a problem for Pepper than for most convention goers since the aisles are almost always packed with people who want to shake his hand and chat. For Pepper, one of the most quickly recognized Democrats in the country, a walk from his seat in the Florida delegation near the front of the Moscone Center to the exit in the rear can easily consume 15 minutes. Pepper was to address the convention to explain the plank stating that a Democratic administration will "not break faith" with the nation's 26 million Americans who are over the

As a member of the Democratic Platform Committee, Pepper wrote the language for the plank himself, and the committee adopted it at a drafting session last month in Washington without changing a word or a comma.

The plank is a stinging indictment of the Reagan administration's cuts in programs that benefit the elderly. It vows strong support for full financing of Social Security and Medicare programs and pledges that Democrats "will work for decent housing and adequate nutrition for our senior citizens.'

"I'm going to point out that President Reagan is the first president in history who has cut programs for the elderly," Pepper said in an inter-

Pepper, who has long advocated causes of senior citizens in Congress, began his first term in the House in 1929, serving for a single two-year term. He served in the Senate from 1936 to 1951, then sat on the sidelines for a decade before running successfully for the House again in 1962.

He's the only member of the House who was once a senator.

What does he think about the flap over Mondale's abortive efforts to fire Democratic National Committee Chairman Charles Manatt?

"We've had our little shake-up, which is not unusual for the Democratic party," Pepper said. "It was just a little tremor, one which has now passed over but which gave the press something to write about in a dull part of the convention."

Industry Changes Bring New Options

'Network Interface' or 'Protector' Marks Division of Responsibility

mong the many changes in the telecommunications industry is one which probably will affect you sooner or later, if it hasn't already. It deals with your connection to the telephone network. Let's start from the beginning ...

There's a device that marks the point where Southwestern Bell Telephone's lines (from a switching office) stop and where your inside wiring begins. (Inside wiring is simply the wiring inside your home.) That device is either a "network interface" or a "protector."

All telephone lines are installed with a protector (which protects against power surges), but not all telephone lines were installed with a network interface.

The network interface is a plug-in device which enables customers to connect or disconnect inside wiring from the telephone network

If your home is a newer home, more than likely, it has a network interface installed either on the inside or outside close to where the telephone line comes to your home.

We started using network interfaces in 1982. If your home does not have a network interface, Southwestern Bell Telephone is responsible for the telephone line from the switching office, up to and including, the protector. This is where our lines ends and your inside wiring begins.

Until recently, we did all the installation and repair of wiring inside our customers' homes. Now that's all changed. Today, you have three options on how to handle installation and repair of inside wiring and jacks for your telephones:

- (1) hire Southwestern Bell Telephone to do it,
- (2) hire another contractor, or
- (3) save the money by doing the work yourself. Materials are readily available from numerous retail stores.

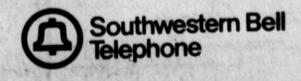

If you choose Southwestern Bell Telephone to do the work, you should know about some new charges called "Premises Work Charges," recently approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The charges, which include materials, are billed according to the time required to do

Here is the schedule of those charges:

Meet Your Neighbor

By LINDA CAUDLE Lifestyles Editor

"I don't have any problem keeping busy, even though I'm not working now," stated Kim Lappin. "There are a lot of things to do if you let people know you want to get involved."

The young homemaker joined her husband, Cooper, in Hereford last September. He was transferred to the local Swift Independent Packing Company from the East St. Louis plant last summer.

Kim had been an account executive for a food broker in her native St. Louis, a job which she "en-joyed immensely." She has missed working, but said that since coming here she has had more time to get involved in the community.

She served part of this past year and will continue to hold the office of secretary in Hereford Newcomers Club, and she recently became a member of the Bud to Blossom Garden Club.

"Being with Swift helped us to get acquainted - we met a lot of newcomers all at once," noted Kim. "I also found it helps to get out and get involved in local organizations and let others know you're interested in taking part in community activities."

"We've made a lot of new friends, and we enjoy getting together with them," she smiled.

Kim had never been to this area and had never heard of Hereford before moving here. "I enjoy it hereespecially the climate. This is my kind of weather," she stated, adding that her family had lived in Detroit, Mich., while she was growing up and snow covered the ground most of the time between October and April.

Cooper was born in Mount Vernon, Ill., and earned a degree in agriculture from Southern Illinois University in Carbondale. He and Kim were married a year and a half ago, and he was employed in mine construction before starting work for SIPCO. He enjoys playing golf in his spare time.

Kim likes yardwork, collecting stamps and reading. She also enjoys cooking, especially now that she has more time to spend with it. She has taken several college coursessubjects like history and literature which she finds interesting. She and her husband both like cats, and right now they have six.

The Lappins are looking forward to visitng nearby sites such as Palo Duro Canyon and the mountains in New Mexico. "We go on vacation every year and have been to Jamaica, the Virgin Islands and Barbados. We really like the Caribbean," said Kim.

field said it happened so fast he almost missed it.

He was referring to New York's crazy ninth inning finish Monday night, in which the Yankees capitalized on a wild pitch, passed ball and two errors to score four runs and pull out a 9-8 come-from-behind victory over the Texas Rangers.

Winfield, who lined a grand slam homer in the first inning, trotted in from third with the winning run when pinch-hitter Roy Smalley blasted reliever Dave Schmidt's first pitch over the head of right-fielder Larry Parrish, snapping an 8-8 tie and giving the Yankees their sixth straight victory.

"This game had a little bit of everything," said American League's leading hitter at .360. "You won't see too many like it."

After Texas fought back from a three-run deficit, taking an 8-5 lead with a four-run ninth, Omar Moreno began New York's half of the inning with a triple to right. He scored on Schmidt's second wild pitch of the

"It's the worst infield in the majors," said Randolph, the Yankees' second baseman, of the Yankee Stadium infield. "It has dips and bumps and slopes towards the outfield. It's terrible. I've complained about it for years.

"Wayne did everything right — he kept the glove down — but he waited for a true hop. The ball just stayed down and zipped right through him. It's worst than Astroturf some times. There's so many traps out there. I don't feel sorry for him, but I know how he felt out there. It's embarrass-

Randolph quickly moved to second on a passed ball by catcher Donnie Scott, who took over for Mary Foley to start the inning. Don Mattingly followed one out later with an RBI single to right-center and Winfield reached first on another error by Tolleson, who allowed the ball to slip from his throwing hand.

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications has filed with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to introduce a new intrastate, optional long distance service to begin August 1, 1984, the same date "Reach Out® America" plan will be available for interstate calls.*

A new service designed to give customers the opportunity to reduce the cost of long distance in Texas has been filed with the state PUC by AT&T

Communications of the Southwest, Inc. "Reach Out" Texas" is an optional calling plan which will provide additional discounts on long distance rates for Texas customers who frequently place calls in the evening, weekend, and night time calling periods.

The new "Reach Out" Texas" plan for the first time extends the benefits of competition to many Texas consumers who previously have not had any discounted long distance service available to them.

AT&T Communications customers who choose this new optional service will pay a monthly charge of $14 which entitles them to one hour of intrastate "Direct Dialed" (1+) calling during the weekend and night rate period.

An additional customer savings for those participating in the plan will be that any Direct Dialed calls placed during the weekend and night rate period that exceeds the one hour period will be charged at an hourly rate of $12, or $.20 per minute.

Customers selecting this option also receive an additional 15 percent discount for intrastate Direct Dialed calls during the evening discount rate period for a total savings of approximately 38 percent.

A one-time charge of $6 is billed when a customer orders the "Reach Out" Texas" plan. The $6 is collected by AT&T Communications and paid to the local telephone company to establish the service. This charge will be waived during the first 90 days that the offering is available.

AT&T Communications is proud to offer this optional service for its Texas long distance customers and will in the future continue to introduce cost cutting programs to help Texans reduce their long distance bills. A complete copy of the "Reach Out' Texas" tariff and rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas. AT&T Communications estimates that the revenue impact of this new service would be significantly less than 2.5 percent of annual gross revenues. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512)

458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf. *Customer billing for the optional calling plan will be provided for AT&T Communications through billing contracts with the local telephone companies. Therefore, the introduction of these rate plans into a specific area is contingent upon local company billing capabilities. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has agreed to handle the billing in its service areas effective August 1, 1984.

Pirates win seventh consecutiv

By BEN WALKER AP Sports Writer Phillies 7, Reds 2 The up-and-down career of Bob

"Whirlybird" Walk is back up again. Walk won his first major league game in two seasons Monday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates halted the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 for their seventh straight victory. The game also wrote a new chapter in Walk's

In 1980, as a rookie with a spinning windup for the Philadelphia Phillies, Walk racked up an 11-7 record and went on to win the first game of the World Series for the eventual world champions.

In 1981, he was traded to the Atlanta Braves and pitched sparingly in the majors and minors because of a rib injury. In 1982, he was one of the Braves' main starters and went 11-9.

Then, prior to the 1983 season, he was sent to the minors and, admittedly in a poor mental state, lost his first six games as his earned run average ballooned to over 10.00. The right-hander finished the season 11-12 at Triple-A Richmond and made one start for Atlanta.

Prior to this season, he was released by the Braves.

"I don't know why Atlanta let me go," he said. "It's hard for me to look back and figure it out."

Walk called nearly every team in the majors and found that the Pittsburgh Pirates were the only ones interested. The Pirates signed him and sent him to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League, where he went 9-5.

Last week, the Pirates recalled him and on Monday, he was activated when Amos Otis was put on the disabled list.

He ame through in his first start by allowing just five hits before straining his right elbow with one out in the ninth inning, which forced him from the game.

"It's not serious," the 27-year-old hurler said after his first majorleague triumph since Aug. 21, 1982. "I've been pitching with it all year. I'm sure I'll be able to pitch again Saturday."

The victory was Pittsburgh's seventh straight.

In other NL games, San Diego blanked Chicago 4-0, Montreal tipped Atlanta 3-1, Philadelphia crunched Cincinnati 7-2, San Francisco held off St. Louis 7-6 and New York battered Houston 13-3.

"Why did Atlanta let him go?" zzed Pittsburgh Manager Chuck Tanner. "I don't know. Baseball is an opinion.

"He was very nervous early in the game," Tanner said. "Probably more nervous than he was pitching in the World Series. But he threw the ball great. The reports we got on him in Hawaii were that he should be pitching in the majors."

The Dodgers seemed to agree.

"He threw hard and he threw strikes," said Mike Marshall, whose home run accounted for the lone Los Angeles run.

Added Dodger Manager Tommy Lasorda: "Maybe he found something he didn't have before."

Jim Morrison and Dale Berra cracked solo home runs for the Pirates to pin the loss on Rick

Honevcutt, 7-4. Mets 13, Astros 3

New York wound up with 22 hits the NL's high this season and one short of the team record set in 1964.

The barrage at the Astrodome featured triples by Darryl Strawberry, Mookie Wilson and Danny Heep, plus five doubles.

Rookie pitcher Sid Fernandez was the beneficiary of the Mets' offensive outburst. He went seven innings to earn his first major-league victory. Fernandez, 1-0, allowed eight hits, struck out six and did not walk a batter.

Mike Scott, 4-7, took the loss. Mark Bailey homered for the Astros. Giants 7, Cardinals 6

Jeff Leonard and Dusty Baker had two singles and a double apiece as San Francisco raced to a 6-1 lead in St. Louis

The Cardinals went into the eighth trailing 7-4, but scored twice on an error by first baseman Scot Thompson and an RBI single by Tom Herr. St. Louis had the bases loaded with two out, but reliever Greg Minton came into the game and got pinch hitter Art Howe to line out to third, ending the threat.

Minton pitched the ninth in getting his eighth save.

Bill Laskey, 5-9, got the victory and Rick Ownbey, 0-2, took the loss. Padres 4, Cubs 0

Mark Thurmond allowed four hits in eight-plus innings before Rich Gossage took over and finished up without giving up a hit as San Diego won at Wrigley Field.

Bobby Brown's two-run homer in the second inning got the Padres rolling against Dick Ruthven, 2-6, who was making his first start since May 17 after undergoing arm surgery.

Ruthven went eight innings, yielding six hits and three runs.

Thurmond, 6-5, helped himself with two singles, including an RBI hit in the ninth.

Mike Schmidt and Garry Maddox each singled, doubled and belted a two-run homer to carry visiting Philadelphia.

Kevin Gross, 5-4, allowed seven Cincinnati hits in pitching his first complete game of the season. The Reds took a 1-0 lead in the first on an Schmidt's homer in the seventh, was his 18th of the season. Dan Driessen homered for the Reds.

Dan Schatzeder, normally a middle reliever, continued his success as a starter while Atlanta's Dale Murphy continued having his problems. Schatzeder, 4-2, has started three

Bob James got the final three outs for his fifth save. Rick Camp, 4-2,

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS Sealed bids addressed to the City of Hereford, Texas will be received at the City Hall until 2: PM, August 6, 1984 and then publicly opened and read for furnishing all plant, labor, material and equipment, and performing all work required for improvements to the airport.

Bids shall be submitted in sealed envelopes upon the blank form of the proposal attached hereto and marked in the upper left hand corner.

All proposals shall be accompanied by a cashier's check or certified check upon a national or state bank in the amount of five (5 percent) of the total maximum bid price payable without recourse to the City or a bid bond in the same amount from a reliable surety company, as a guarantee that bidder will enter into a contract and execute performance bond within ten days after notice of award of contract to him. The bid security must be enclosed in the same envelope with the bid. Bids without check or bid bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish performance and payment bonds upon the forms which are attached hereto in the amount of 100 percent of the contract price from an approved surety company holding a permit from the State of Texas to act as surety or other surety or sureties acceptable to the Owner.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any informality in bids received.

All bidders and proposers assure they will make sufficient reasonable efforts to meet the Minority Business Enterprise goals as established for the prime contract. The MBE goal for minorities is 15 percent and the goal for women is 2 percent of the dollar value of this contract.

After opening of bids, the apparent successful bidder must be required to submit the names and addresses of MBE firms that will participate in the contract along with a description of the work and dollar amount for each firm. If the responses do not clearly show MBE participation will meet the goals above, the apparent successful bidder must clearly demonstrate, to the satisfaction of the airport sponsor, that a good faith effort has infact been made and that meeting said goals is not reasonably possible. If any apparent low bidder cannot do so, the contract may, at the option of the airport sponsor, be awarded to the next low bidder able to meet these requirements.

It is the policy of the Department of Transportation (DOT) that minority business enterprises as defined in 49 CFR Part 23 shall have the maximum opportunity to participate in the performance of contracts financed in whole or in part with Federal funds.

The proposed contract is under and subject to Executive Order 11246 of September 24, 1965, and to the Equal Opportunity Clause,

The bidder (Proposer) must supply all the information required by the bid or proposal form.

The successful bidder will be required to submit a Certification of Nonsegregated Facilities prior to award of the contract, and to notify prospective subcontractors of the requirement for such a Certification where the subcontract exceeds $10,000. Sample of the Certification and notice to Subcontractors appear in the specifications.

Women will be afforded equal opportunity in all areas of employment. However, the employment of women shall not diminish the standards or requirements for the employment of minorities.

The Offeror's or Bidder's attention is called to the "Equal Opportunity Clause" and the "Standard Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Construction Contract Specifications" set forth herein.

The goals and timetables for minority and female participation, expressed in percentage terms for the contractor's aggregate work force in each trade on all construction work in the covered area, are as follows:

Goals for female participation in each trade

6.9 percent

These goals are applicable to all the contractor's construction work (whether or not it is Federal or federally assisted) performed in the covered area. The contractor's compliance with the executive order and the regulations in 41 CFR Part 60-4 shall be based on its implementation of the Equal Opportunity Clause, specific affirmative action obligations required by the specifications set forth in 41 CFR Part 60-4.3 (a), and it efforts to meet the goals established for the geographical area where the contract resulting from this solicitation is to be performed. The hours of minority and female employment and training must be substantially uniform throughout the length of the contract, and in each trade, and the women evenly on each of its projects. The transfer of minority or female employees or trainees from contractor to contractor or from project to project, for the sole purpose of meeting the contractor's goals, shall be a violation of the contract, the executive order, and the regulations in 41 CFR Part 60-4. Compliance with the goals willbe measured against the total work hours performed. The contractor shall provide written notification to the Director, OFCCP, within 10 working days of award of any construction subcontract in excess of $10,000 at any tier for construction work under the contract resulting from this solicitation. The notification shall list the name, address, and telephone number of the subcontractor; employee identification number; estimated dollar amount of the subcontract; estimated starting and completion dates of the subcontract; and the geographical area in which the contract is to be performed.

As used in this notice and in the contract resulting from this solicitation, the "covered area" is nationwide. Any contractor having 50 or more employees, and his subcontractors having 50 or more employees, and who may be awarded a subcontract of $50,000 or more, will be required to maintain an affirmative action program within 120 days of the commencement of the project.

Inc., 6300 Canyon Dr., Amarillo, Texas 79109, on deposit of Fifty ($50.00) Dollars per set which sum so deposited will be refunded, provided: (1) All documents are returned in good condition to Bill R. AUSTIN (AP) - As the City of Austin began ticketing violators of a mandatory water conservation ordinance, residents began to problem, but I'll sure get on the horn and find out and see that the proper people are notified," said Paul Hofmann, assistant to city manager Jorge Carrasco. 'We need 100 percent compliance if this is to work. I feel a little foolish." The parks department was cited for watering two locations on the wrong day, officials said. "Part of it is connected to

Violators ticketed were ticketed. The city, which has an adequate water supply but an inadequate distribution system, has devised a five-day watering rotation - based on the last digit of addresses. 'Basically, it's putting us out of work," said Charles Fritsch, whose company uses a water-based mixture to install lawns. "We're going to look outside of Austin for work so we can keep people on the payroll."

The city cut off Fritsch's right to use water from fire hydrants. A meeting is set for tonight between city officials and landscaping interests to figure out what can be done.

Meanwhile, a Northeast Austin man on Monday became the first waterer ticketed for violating the restrictions.

"He just said he was confused about what day he could water. While my partner was writing the (ticket), I gave him a sheet that had the watering schedule on it," said Austin Police Officer Bill Whitaker.

Police Chief Frank Dyson said 10 officers who usually issue warrants have been transferred to water enforcement chores. Regular uniformed officers will issue watering tickets only if they are free at the time.

"We're not asking the patrol officers to look the other way, but their main responsibility is to deal with emergency situations," said Dyson.

The dry spring was a problem for Austin, but a more pressing problem is a water treatment system that has not kept up with local growth.

Most of Central and South Texas has been bone-dry this summer because of a drought extending back into the winter months. meteorologists say. About 67 cities and towns have taken water conservation steps because the water level in underground wells and reservoirs has dropped severely. The Austin restrictions do not curtail in-home use, and lawns can be watered any day with a hand-held hose.

The water problems have dried up grass sales. Sarah Madden of The Grass Patch said sod sales have dropped about 50 percent since talk of water restrictions began several weeks ago. Sod needs twice-a-day soaking for about three weeks, she said.

In addition to the possible $200 fine, violators could face the embarrassment of having their name printed in the newspaper.

Jeff Bruce, managing editor of the Austin American-Statesman, said the newspaper will publish the violators' names if the logistics can be worked out.

The paper currently publishes the names of people arrested on driving-whileintoxicated charges.
