GENERAL ELECTIONS TO BE HELD IN TEXAS TUESDAY

DEMOCRATS BEING URGED TO GO TO POLLS; MANY PARTY PROBLEMS AHEAD

Next Tuesday, November 2, is Election Day for the State of Texas, and Texas voters will express themselves at the polls for choice of public officials who survived the elimination in the August primaries.

The Republican state organization has been very active year and is working harder for political favor than at any time in their history in this state. Local Republicans also been aggressive and have flooded the county with advertising matter.

The county Democratic officials have requested The Brand to call the attention of the Democrats of this county to the delicacy of a heavy vote next Tuesday, for a number of vital reasons. The form of ballot to be used this year is shown on the page of this issue, and the voters are requested to study carefully and inform themselves concerning any of the state dates now unknown to them.

Acker, nominated in the primary as county Democratic chair, is in receipt of a letter from headquarters outlining some reasons why a large Democratic vote is especially necessary at this time. Among the reasons are the following:

1928 we will have two Democratic Conventions, one to delegates to the National Convention, and the other the regular Convention. The number of delegates that each county will have at the National Convention will depend on the number of votes cast in the primary on November 2nd for Dan Acker, the Democratic nominee for Governor. The larger the Democratic vote on November 2nd, the more votes your county will have at the State Conventions.

A general election should not be looked upon as a perfunctory matter. All the nominees of the party should be elected by big majorities. If we poll a large vote we give the Democratic party more power in the national affairs of the party. If we express to hold her name as the Democratic State we send a solid delegation of Democratic Congressmen to Washington.

The indications are that Democrats will control the next year of Representatives, and if so, Chairmanships of ten of the most important Committees will be Texas members. If we succeed in these things it will give us a high place in the National Convention of 1928.

Democratic voters in this county are urged to go to the polls and roll up a majority which will entitle the county to the maximum representation in the House of Representatives this year.

Constitutional Amendments. There are four important Constitutional amendments to be voted on in the ticket, and Democratic leaders are a unit in declaration of their support of the voters. Facts concerning these four amendments are:

1—Retaining the National Guard. Passed by the House 21 to 0. Passed by the Senate 100 to 20.

2—Relating to school districts. Passed by the Senate 26 to 10. Passed by House 107 to 2.

3—Relating to Prison Commuters. Passed the Senate 22 to 7. Passed the House 101 to 22.

4—Asking for the taxation of school lands used for grazing agricultural purposes with no buildings on them. Passed the Senate 24 to 0. Passed House 5.

It can be seen that these four amendments are of great importance to both the House and Senate and have been passed unanimously. There were no amendments offered in either House and twenty-two offered in the Senate (some being duplicate) but only four passed, which shows that the Legislators were very careful and that these amendments are pretty good ones.

Plains Poultry Circuit Show Dates Are Set

E. Darby, Melrose; Roosevelt County, N. M., W. G. Carr and John E. Fairley, Portales.

It is planned to have the next business meeting in Hereford immediately following the Show Saturday evening, with a banquet for out-of-town officers and exhibitors. The Show is held in a different county every year, and will alternate between some town in New Mexico and Texas.

Sprowls-Cronin Co. Hold Their Opening

The new Sprowls-Cronin Dry Goods Company held their formal opening in the new Lambert-Buckner brick building last Saturday. The store was beautifully decorated for the occasion and everything looked spic and span, with a new stock in a new building.

Two New Families Arrive From Crosbyton

E. S. Ballard and T. C. Mathews, with the families, formerly of Crosbyton, Texas, arrived here last Sunday to make their homes. Mr. Ballard is a water well driller and has rented the Warren house on 25-Mile Avenue, where he will live this winter and send his children to school. Mr. Mathews has leased the Monday ranch, seven miles southwest of Hereford, but will live in town for the winter.

Young Clyde Carroll Died From Operation

Hereford was shocked Wednesday by the unexpected death of young Clyde Bruce Carroll, age 22, son of William A. and Leah Carroll. He underwent an emergency operation Saturday for appendicitis and was doing well until Wednesday when his heart failed him and he expired, surrounded by the members of his family. Funeral services were conducted at the First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon by the Rev. J. T. Ross, after the remains had been viewed by hundreds of sorrowing friends at the church from 1:30 to 4:00 o'clock. Burial occurred in the Hereford cemetery.

Clyde was born in Newport, Tenn., and came to Hereford with his parents in 1908. He graduated in the high school class of 1922. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Misses Audrey and Velma Carroll, and two brothers, Onias and Alvin.

The young man was an outstanding church worker and was Chairman of the Committee on Service of the Panhandle District, Christian Endeavor, as well as an active member of the Tri-C class of the Presbyterian church. He was an aggressive member of the Endeavorers and his work and presence will be sadly missed.

Mystery Oil Co. Well Equipment Being Unloaded

L. B. House, president of the Mystery Oil Company, of Amarillo, has been here all week supervising the unloading of equipment for his well to be sunk on what is known as the Crum location, twenty-three miles southeast of Hereford. Mr. House says that the slush pool and cellar are dug, that ten truck loads of tools are on the ground, together with seven truck loads of rig material and that lumber for the erection of the derrick will be on the ground by Friday or Saturday of this week. The engine and boiler were unloaded here Wednesday under the supervision of Arthur Brooks. The derrick is to be eighty-four feet high, and twenty-two by twenty-two feet at the base, will carry standard equipment, and the company is prepared to go 5,000 feet if necessary. Mr. House says he intends to give this well the deepest test yet and will start with a twenty-four inch hole with twenty-inch casing. It is possible to start drilling within thirty days.

The Gulf well southeast of Dimmitt and seven and a half miles south of the Crum well, is trucking machinery, tools and the derrick timbers to their site. It is reported, and started their slush pool and cellar the first of the week. They have a large eight cylinder gas engine for motive power.

Indiana Men Here to Prospect the Field

Ben Martin and son, F. A. Martin, of Lafayette, Ind., were in Hereford on business this week. Mr. Martin owns land in Castro county near the Easter school house and made the trip here to inspect his holdings and to investigate the oil prospects. Mr. Martin is an old subscriber to The Brand and made his first trip to this section twenty years ago.

Luncheon Program Presents Many Features

A discussion of the paved highway problem, a talk by Mrs. A. A. Foster of the Mothers' Club on the campaign for tulip planting here, remarks from several visitors, and a speech by Sherm Williams, which started out as an endorsement of the highway but wound up as a cleverly concealed political harangue, constituted the main features of the weekly luncheon Monday at the Stockman's Cafe.

Mrs. Foster outlined the work of the Mothers' Club in beautifying the city and their plans for selling 6,000 tulip bulbs here, as given in another column. Many of the tulips were ordered by the business men present.

Young Clyde Carroll Died From Operation

The seriousness of the highway problem was again outlined by Chairman E. W. Harrison, who reported on the activities of his department to date. Rev. W. R. Sharp of Dalhart, former Presbyterian pastor here, told of his regard for Hereford and its people. W. E. Murdock, of Summerfield, advocated gravelled roads instead of paved. President Thompson of the Rotary Club of Dalhart was introduced and spoke briefly. E. Ramey of Dimmitt said he was always glad to come to Hereford's meetings, and Louie Smith, of Dawn, reported a road meeting at Dawn recently when the paved road idea was given unanimous endorsement by that community. Secretary Moss called attention to the box supper to be held at Askren Friday night and urged a good attendance from Hereford. D. F. Ashbrook endorsed the Mothers' Club work for Hereford's beautification.

W. S. Williams said he was in favor of the paved highway and believed Hereford needed three things badly. First, the paved road; second, a fifty million foot gas well, third, a Republican sheriff, whereupon the crowd laughed at him and adjourned until next Monday, at the Hereford Hotel.

WHOLE HEARTED COOPERATION NECESSARY AMONG PANHANDLE COUNTIES IF OFFERED OPPORTUNITIES ARE MET

(AN EDITORIAL)

THERE are times when crises arise in the fortunes of individuals, communities and nations, when strong men back away from petty private troubles and problems and face the threatened peril with enlarged vision and cool judgment.

Such a crisis faces Hereford at present in the threatened loss of tourist traffic along the South West and Abo trails.

At first blush it may appear to some that too much emphasis is made of the value of highways to community life. But when the facts are studied it seems to us that too much emphasis can hardly be laid upon this subject. With nine out of every ten families in America today driving an automobile of some sort good roads have become a necessity instead of a luxury, and their construction and proper maintenance is demanded by an overwhelming majority of the people. The town off a good road is like a flag station on a side spur of a railroad. And with the rapid increase in cross-country travel paved roads are necessary in order to combat bad weather, as well as for the sake of permanence. Therefore, the modern trend is all toward paved roads. Road associations are all working toward paved transcontinental routes. The town off a paved route is losing out. The Federal government is constantly appropriating vast sums of money for road construction, usually spent through the highway departments of the various states, in conjunction with state money. A constant battle is being waged by road associations to obtain Federal designation for transcontinental routes, and for a portion of this public money.

For years Hereford has boasted good roads, has paid its dues to several highway associations, has sent delegations to every road meeting called in this territory. At most of these meetings Hereford has been the only town between Amarillo and Clovis that has been active. The people here generally felt that the tourist traffic was established through Hereford for all time.

But several weeks ago E. W. Harrison, Hereford's staunch "Highway man" of the Chamber of Commerce, who lives first for Hereford's wheat market, and next for good roads, returned from an Abo Pass meeting at Canadian with startling news. Rolled down, Mr. Harrison told local business men that plans in the making for national highways did not include this county; that prospects were excellent for future paved routes to the north through Tucumcari and Amarillo and to the south through Silverton, Dimmitt and Clovis. That state highway appropriations were strangely lacking in this direction. And that if quick and decisive action was not taken Hereford could expect to witness a gradual thinning out of the tourist stream and an eventual loss of the entire business.

Startled into action, the Chamber of Commerce sent out delegations along the line from Canyon to Clovis, seeking aid and information. They returned, alarmed and worried. They reported Canyon deep in trouble over the proposed paved highway from Amarillo and in no mood to talk a road to the west. In fact, they were told plainly that Canyon would not consider such a proposition now. Canyon was figuring on a county-wide bond issue but claimed the valuations were not sufficient to build both

Sugar Beets to Have Thorough Test Next Year

S. W. Sinsheimer, president of the Colorado Sugar Beet Corporation, was a visitor here Monday, looking over beet fields planted last spring through the efforts of E. W. Blood. It will be remembered that Mr. Sinsheimer furnished Mr. Blood with seed which were placed here for trial.

Mr. Sinsheimer looked at the fields on the Kropf and Mathews farms and exclaimed over the large size and sugar content of the beets raised here. He arranged through Mr. Blood for a lease on ten acres and will send a man here next spring to raise beets.

There is no question in Mr. Sinsheimer's mind that sugar beets can be raised here commercially if the effort is made in earnest by men who know how to raise them. If the acreage can be obtained a small factory could be obtained without any trouble at all.

Mrs. J. W. Alexander returned home Saturday from a several weeks visit with her brother in Brownsville. Mrs. Alexander also visited relatives in Austin, San Antonio and Houston.

Donald Oil Well Gets Down Close to "Pay"

The Brand is informed by A. M. Jones that the Donald oil well in the Amarillo field, in which so many local people are interested, struck the big line Monday at 2110 feet and the crew is now getting ready to set the eight and a quarter inch casing. Officers of the company are jubilant over the showing so far and consider everything very favorable for striking the "pay." It is estimated that, barring bad weather, the story will be told in a couple of weeks more.

Barrett and Penry In Wreck With Cattle

C. H. Barrett and J. C. Penry were returning from Amarillo last Monday night and when about three miles east of Hereford ran into a herd of cattle in the road. The lights of a passing car blinded the Hereford men and they were right into the herd before seeing them. Two of the animals were killed and one crippled. The radiator, fenders and lights of the car were damaged and the occupants were shaken up but no serious personal injury was suffered.

Farwell Beaten; Tucumcari Will Be Here Friday

HERE'S A THRILLER!
The powerful Tucumcari, N. M., eleven will be here Friday, October 29. The game starts at 3:30.
Tucumcari "poured it on" Amarillo's Golden Sandstorms, and has an enviable record this year as a real football team. The Whitefaces have a battle on their hands and realize it. If you want to see a struggle worth going miles to see, don't miss this!

In the most exciting football game played on the local gridiron this season, one that kept the spectators cheering and gave them the most "kick" out of the schedule thus far, the Hereford High Whitefaces licked the strong Texico-Farwell eleven last Friday 20 to 9. The game was fast and snappy, both elevens having lots of "pep" and fight. If the visitors had opened up with their passes in the first half as they did in the second, the score would have been closer and in the last quarter they clearly (Continued on Page Seven.)

Edwards and Ray Smith Back from Trip

Edwards, former proprietor of Edwards Cafe, and Ray returned last Saturday from a months' automobile hike the Northwest, Yellowstone, Colorado and other points west. While away they worked a time in the harvest fields and returned with large stories of their red apples. Mr. Edwards' health was much improved by the outing and he is now getting back into the field.

DRIVING OUT LABOR.
RUSSIA'S FRIENDSHIP.
HUNTING THE FLEA.
POUT, SNIFF, LOOK ALIVE.

Mr. Green, able, conservative and respected head of the American Federation of Labor, was invited to speak before the Young Men's Christian Associations in Detroit, then told that his speech could not be delivered in that institution. Labor leaders were asked to speak from various Detroit pulpits, then told the churches did not want them.

There may be good reasons for these sudden changes. But Christ, who drove the money changers from the Temple, might be surprised to see his modern representatives driving laboring men from the pulpits.

It looks, according to the union men, as though money changers were "on top" once more.

In a little while Queen Marie of Rumania, with her pretty daughter will be dining at the White House. The Queen will be able to tell her husband that she met one American that did not insist on talking about himself. H. G. Wells says that is our trouble, you know.

If the Queen will take a sheet of paper as big as a playing card she will be able to write on it all the the President will have to say, beyond politely answering direct questions.

But when the interview is over the President will know a good deal about Rumania. He believes in listening, and that's one reason why he is President.

Professor Jerome Davis, of Yale, reports an interesting talk with Stalin, the real ruler in Russia. Stalin says Russia is willing to pay the money that foolish American bankers lent to Kerensky. Stalin really should do nothing of the kind. Those childish bankers grabbing at usurious interest rates and discounts ought to digest that lesson.

They are now lending billions of the American people's money to various concerns in Europe. Many of those billions will never come back.

However, that's another story. The important point made by Stalin is that it might pay the United States to be friendly with Russia. Stalin said, "Russia now needs the United States. Possibly the day might come when the United States might need Russia's friendship."

The Pan-American health conference declares war on the bubonic plague flea, from the Arctic to the Antarctic. This means killing rats, ground squirrels, flea bearing creatures of all sorts. Samples of fleas captured will be sent in for identification.

Nothing permanent, however, will be done until man completes his conquest of the globe by removing from it, mercifully, all animal life other than his own.

The gaping crocodile, from whose gums and tongue the tsetse fly extracts the germs of sleeping sickness, must go, also dear little pussy that carries diphtheria germs in its fur to the little girl's face.

The latest beauty cult must come here. It says: "Work all the muscles of your face, keep young, retain your alert appearance. Pout your lips to make them handsome and full. Roll your eyes frequently and SNIFF. Sniff violently, forming wrinkled ridges on the bridge of the nose. Move your eyebrows up and down. Only a dead face, with no muscular action in it, becomes an old face."

That advice is taken literally by inhabitants of the monkey cage. They do all that the beauty cult suggest. Our ancestors, ape-like, did the same until language was invented. As men became civilized they used words instead of gestures and twitching faces.

A man sneering still uncovers his canine tooth, getting it ready to bite without cutting his lip, as do the baboon and wolf. But the calm face is the higher type. Compare the Venus of Milo and stop.

READING THE DICTIONARY.

A friend once called upon a famous writer and was much amazed to find him reading the dictionary! In answer to his surprised question this famous author told his friend that he made a practice of reading it.

The dictionary is probably one of the most neglected books in the English language. Perhaps you think that it would be pretty dry reading, but if a great writer, an expert in the use of words, can afford to spend his time in this way, how much more can each of us.

The world admires the person who is a master of words. Without the ability to express them properly, a man's great ideas lose half their power.

You probably would not care to actually read the dictionary, but make a practice of consulting it regularly. Go to it and "look up" any word that you come across, the meaning of which you are not sure. This habit, combined with that of reading good books, will soon increase your vocabulary in a remarkable way.

If lightning bug resembles some human beings, he can't see where he is going, but he can see where he has been.

Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, after executed and delivered to the plaintiff their certain joint and several promissory note, in writing, which note is made a part of said petition and here referred to. Potts, his wife, executed and delivered to defendant, Shearn Moody, as Trustee, for the use and benefit of the plaintiff, their said defendant's J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, certain deed of trust, in writing, wherein and whereby said defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, after reciting their indebtedness to the plaintiff as evidenced by said note, conveyed to the defendant, Shearn Moody, as such Trustee, certain lands and premises situated in Deaf Smith County, in the State of Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

160 acres of land out of Capitol League No. 376, and described as the southeast quarter of Section Fourteen (14) Township 5 North of Range 3 east of Capitol Subdivision as shown by the plat of such sub-division of record in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Vol. 15, page 60 et seq., and being the same land conveyed by George W. 500 acres of land out of Capitol League Nos. 376 and 389 and more particularly described as being all of the northeast quarter of Section No. 26 and all of Section No. 23, Township No. 5 North of Range No. 3 East of a Capitol Syndicate Sub-division as shown by plat of such subdivision of record in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, in Vol. 15, pages 60 et seq., and being the same land conveyed by William W. Ryan to John C. Cramberg by deed dated September 27th, 1906, recorded in Vol. 18, page 291, of the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, to all of the above and the record reference is had in the respective volumes for further description of said land.

That said deed of trust was duly recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Deaf Smith County, State of Texas, on the 11th day of February, 1922, in the Trust Deed Records of said County in Book 25, page 253, to which record of said deed of trust reference is hereby made for all purposes. That on or about the 14th day of September, 1922, defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, by general warranty deed, conveyed the premises and property hereinafter described to said defendant, R. A. Bryan, which said deed was recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Deaf Smith County, Texas, on the 12th day of February, 1923, in Book 48, pages 196, and by the terms of said conveyance and as a part of the consideration therefor, defendant, R. A. Bryan, assumed and agreed to pay said note and all interest accrued and thereafter to accrue thereon according to its face and tenor. That defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, and R. A. Bryan made default in the payment of the interest which became due and payable on the principal sum of said promissory note on the 3rd day of February, 1923, amounting to the sum of $385.00, by reason whereof plaintiff has exercised and hereby exercises its option to mature and declare due and payable the entire principal sum of said note and all interest thereon to become and to immediately due and payable, anything to the contrary in said note and deed of trust notwithstanding; and plaintiff hereby matures the entire principal sum of said note and all interest due and to become due and payable on account thereof; that there is now due and payable thereon the principal sum of $6,500.00 and interest thereon at the rate of nine per cent per annum from the 3rd day of February, 1923, and interest on the installment of interest due and payable on the 3rd day of February, 1923, at the rate of ten per cent per annum from maturity. That the defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, and R. A. Bryan, failed, refused and neglected to pay the taxes assessed against the premises and property hereinafter described by the State of Texas and Deaf Smith County, in said State, for the years 1923, 1924 and 1925, amounting to the sum of $498.23, and plaintiff for the purpose of protecting its said lien and interest in said land, premises and property was required to and did pay said taxes to the Tax Collector of the State of Texas and County of Deaf Smith, by reason of which payment plaintiff is entitled to recover the amount thereof from said defendants in addition to the amount due and payable on said promissory note, interest thereon and attorney's fees as hereinbefore set forth, and by reason of which payment of said taxes by plaintiff as aforesaid, the amount thereof is secured by the lien of said deed of trust. That the principal of said promissory note and interest thereon, are past due and unpaid; that the amount paid by the plaintiff for and on account of said taxes is past due and unpaid, and plaintiff has placed said note in the hands of Frank S. Anderson, an attorney at law, residing at Galveston, Texas, for collection, and has agreed to pay said Frank S. Anderson ten per cent on the amount of principal and interest due on said note, as collection fees, same being the usual and customary fee therefor. That the defendants, Shearn Moody, as Trustee, John C. Cramberg and Agatha Cramberg, his wife, and the First National Bank of Las Vegas, New Mexico, have or claim to have some interest in the claim to the mortgage funds, premises and property hereinafter described, which claim or interest, if any, plaintiff says is subordinate to the lien of plaintiff's deed of trust hereinbefore set out. WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, that plaintiff have judgment against the defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, and R. A. Bryan, for the amount of principal and interest due on said promissory note and taxes paid by the plaintiff, together with attorney's fees and cost of suit; and that plaintiff's lien on said lands, premises and property be foreclosed according to law; that said lands, premises and property be ordered sold and out of the proceeds arising from said sale after payment of costs and all necessary expenses of sale, plaintiff be paid the full amount of principal and interest due and unpaid on said indebtedness and attorney's fees, together with taxes paid by plaintiff and any surplus arising from said sale, after first applying the proceeds of same as aforesaid, to be paid to said defendants as their interests may appear; that the defendants, and each of them, be foreclosed of all right, claim, title or interest, legal or equitable, in and to the lands, premises and property hereinafter described, and for such other relief, etc. as is more fully set forth in said petition now on file in my office.

Herein fall not, but have you then and there before said Court, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same. Issued this the 20th day of October A. D. 1923. Witness: J. C. GENGLER, Clerk of the District Court of Galveston County. Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office, in Galveston, Texas, this the 20th day of October A. D. 1923. THIRD REASON WHY HEREFORD PEOPLE SHOULD GO TO CHURCH

JOSEPH O. HAYMES, PASTOR FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

URCH ATTENDANCE FURNISHES OPPORTUNITIES FOR USEFULNESS.

There is no other institution in the world whose avowed purpose is to help humanity—all humanity. Other institutions good, but none compare with the church in helping all races and nations of humanity.

The church justifies its existence in the world only in so far as it fulfills that avowed purpose.

The Church fulfills that purpose in proportion as it has the loyal backing of those who are under obligation to give it their support.

But some one will say, "I am not under obligation to support the Church, either with my means or my presence. I have never assumed the obligations of any Church." But does it relieve you of the obligation?

that he is casting his silent vote to discontinue all public worship. And when public worship ceases charities will soon dry up and be blown away by the gales of materialism and selfishness.

The program of helpfulness that any Church is willing to undertake depends upon the morale of that church. Morale is another name for faith. No church that is low on morale will be found making any great ventures of faith, or doing any great challenging things for the uplift of humanity. And no church will be high on morale or faith that is low on attendance.

The "faithful few" have a constant feeling of defeat when the preacher is forced to preach to a lumber yard. On the other hand, the members of the church that is constantly well filled at the hours of worship manifest a spirit of victory and success. That church undertakes great things, and is a real force for righteousness. It is a triumphant institution.

And the victorious church is not only willing to make great ventures of faith by undertaking great programs of advance for the Kingdom of God at large, but it is a greater force for righteousness in the community where it is established. A church with empty seats will not undertake a very strenuous crusade against vice and crime in the community. A distinguished judge spoke recently in Dallas and among other good things he said: "Where the churches are, full the jails are empty; where the churches are empty the jails are full." There is more than one reason for that. One reason the judge gave when he said: "One fundamental cause of the growth of crime is that the people are getting further away from God." Another reason is that when the churches have a feeling that they are a success, a real force, then they will have the courage to set themselves against vice and crime, they will have put new courage into every believer in righteousness, they will be a bulwark of support for the officers of the law. In short, those churches will be such molders of public opinion for a high standard of morality as to make open, outrageous crime in that community next to impossible. But remember that empty churches cannot be such a force, they cannot wield such a power for good.

Now allow me, in conclusion, to appeal to every reader of this paper, not from a selfish standpoint, but in a very personal way. Not a pastor in Hereford wishes to be the pastor of a church that is a failure. Not a person here wishes to be a member of such a church. But by your habitual absence from its services you will be helping to make your church fail. It may be easy for you to excuse yourself by saying that you are only one and would not be greatly missed, and probably would not do much if you attended. But do not forget that there are scores of others who are saying the same thing, and that by such an attitude each of you is contributing his part in helping to defeat the church. On the other hand, if you and they would say, "Perhaps I do not amount to much, but I am one; I cannot do everything, but I can do something; what I can do I ought to do, and by the grace of God I will do." If every non-church-goer in Hereford would honestly say that, it would not be a month until every church building in the community would be filled to overflowing, every pastor would be preaching with a new power, every church would be working with a new zeal, and the whole moral and spiritual life of the community would be completely transformed.

Every right thinking man will admit that the church is a good institution, that he would not wish to live in a country where there are no churches. Now, you will, of course, concede to your neighbors, all of them, the same privilege which you take to yourself, that of habitually being absent from church and of doing as they please on Sunday. Suppose they should take that privilege, as you do—and they have the same right to do so as you have. What would become of the churches? There would be none. Does that mean that when any man habitually stays away from church and the Sabbath for his own pleasure or profit that he is casting his vote to do away with all churches? I with the Sabbath? I am sure does not intend that that shall be implied, but his actions can in nothing else, for if everyone acted as he does, then those institutions would automatically disappear.

Perhaps there is not a person reading these lines who does not intend to be useful. If there is, then that person is a mental and moral monstrosity. I take it granted that all have that desire to be useful. Then I maintain that there is no surer way of fulfilling that desire than by doing your part to help the church which you, are, or ought to be, affiliated to fulfill its mission of usefulness to the world.

The Sundry School Lesson.

THE EVILS OF STRONG DRINK
REV. W. R. HILL, Baptist Pastor.

Text, Proverbs 23:29-35 (American Standard Version.)

They that tarry long at the wine;
They that go to seek out mixed wine.

Look not upon the wine when it is red,
When it sparkleth in the cup,
When it goeth down smoothly,
At the last it biteth like a serpent,
And stingeth like an adder.

Thine eyes shall behold strange things,
And thy heart shall utter perverse things.

Yes, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea,
Or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.

They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not hurt;
They have beaten me, and I felt it not;
When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

Introduction.

The alert and strong friends of strong drink, who are at the same time enemies of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Enforcement Act, are using all means at their hands, mostly dishonorable means, to weaken the law by making the sale of beer and light wines legitimate. All friends of humanity and the Constitution must continue to urge the dangers of the drink evil in any form. The sub-committee of the U. S. Senate recently reported their investigation of the matter, and said they found the present legal status "morally right and economically successful." This is the World's Temperance Lesson. Let all friends of prohibition study in the Sunday School today, and render every aid to the law.

(Adapted from Dargan.)

Who hath woe, who hath sorrow?
The first term "woe" is an interjection, and so probably is the other. So that a literal translation would be "To whom is Oh! to whom is Alas!" A striking way to begin a vivid description of the wretchedness and misery of the drinkers. Contentions, complaints. Very characteristic of the drunkard. Wounds without cause. Either the results of quick uncontrolled temper or wounds unconsciously received, the cause not being remembered. Both are true and either one may be intended. Redness of eyes. Blood shot or bleary eyes. They who tarry long at the wine. Habitual and excessive wine drinkers. The word is that most commonly used for wine of all sorts. Go to seek out mixed wines. Invent mixed drinks more stimulating and poisonous. Look not thou, etc. Do not longingly look at the attractive but dangerous beverage as it glitters in the cup or is poured from the vessel and is smoothly drunk down. At the last it biteth, etc. A vivid comparison and based upon the now well understood scientific fact that alcohol is a poison. Thine eyes shall behold strange things. The King James Version has "strange women." There is in the Hebrew no noun with "strange," and as it is in the feminine gender some render "strange-women," alluding to one effect of alcohol. But it is probably better to read "strange things," as in the Revised Version. The drink-crazed and perverted imagination of the drunkard often raises horrible visions and fearful delirium. Thy heart shall utter perverse things. Restraints being removed the secret thoughts of the drunkard often find expression. The miserable conceit and obstinacy and unreason of a drunken person are mortifying and shameful. As he that lieth down in the midst of the sea. Supposing he could float or be borne up and tossed and then drowned. Or, on the top of a mast. Tossing like that. They have stricken me, etc. The drunkard receives blows and bruises without feeling them or remembering how he got them. I will seek it yet again. This is true to the sad facts. Bitter experiences do no good. Habit and thirst prevail again.

Reflections.

The drink evil is not dead. Like other persistent evils it must still be exposed, resisted, attacked. The fight must be kept up. We can never dispense with the necessity of appealing to conscience, intelligence, patriotism and religion, against the unutterable evils of using alcohol in any form as a beverage. Each generation needs instruction and warning. The bodily injuries of alcoholic drink should be understood. It attacks every function and vital part—brain, the heart, lungs, stomach—and weakens resistance to disease. It saps moral character and ruins the soul in time and eternity. It is the foe of every good thing and the prolific parent of poverty, of wretchedness and crime.

The manufacture of these legal would be losing of the front-line fortresses. It would certainly be followed by a desperate fight on the repeal of all prohibition measures. If experience teaches anything it teaches that the common use of wine and beer tends to the worst of evils of intemperance.

A native religious sect of Rhodasia has been combating witchcraft by throwing all suspects into the water. Those who did not survive were considered guilty.

of germination in the second year and 84 per cent in the seventh year of dormancy.

Seeds of white clover germinated after twenty-five years, but only a few grass seeds showed great deal of life after seven or eight years.

What's Doing in West Texas

Seminole—Following out a suggestion made by officials of the Texas Chamber of Commerce, county roads are to be paved at all intersections and points. The movement will be undertaken through the cooperation of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce and the Commission Court in belief that such work will prove of inestimable value to both tourists and the general public.

Ward—Ward, one of the oldest cities in the state, now claiming a population, has recently let contracts for the installation of a sanitary sewer system and a class water system.

Throckmorton—Throckmorton is being ruined by a drain of citizenry caused through the loss of 96,000 acres of school land in its territory outside counties, according to H. King, member of the state legislature. The movement for the reversion of such school lands still pending in the state is backed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and will reach a climax in November when an amendment will be presented to voters of Texas recommending that these lands be made taxable. Should the measure pass, a great impediment to the progress of a number of West Texas counties would be removed.

Brady—More turkeys and less venison was advocated by a number of delegates to the Texas Poultry and Egg Associations convention held in Fort Worth October 13, over which Wilson D. Hagan, member of the executive board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, presided in the president's chair. The meeting was held that Thanksgiving turkeys would be plentiful and of good quality this year.

San Saba—Officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have been invited to attend the celebration of San Saba's annual Pecan Day. "Pecan Coronation, King of the Nuts" was recently chosen the name of the observation to be held on place November eighth. The opening address will be made by Governor-Elect Dan Moody. A big parade and a sumptuous banquet promised attractions of the day.

Childress—Plans are being completed for the establishment of a big industrial plant here that will involve the expenditure of $8,000,000. The factory will consume 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily and will furnish employment to between 400 and 500 workmen.

Rankin—Contract for the building of the Upton county court house has been let and work will begin at once.

McCamey—Construction of a two story, 85 room, semi-fire proof hotel of sheet rock and steel is announced by the McCamey Hotel Company. It is expected that the structure will be completed in thirty days. The building will cost around $25,000.

Fort Stockton—Cotton grown this year on irrigated lands adjacent to Fort Stockton has brought the highest average price of any cotton grown and ginned in Texas, according to a letter from I. A. Gans of the Fort Worth cotton firm of Gans & Bath, and according to daily cotton quotations.

Decatur—Plans for terracing many Wise county farms are being pushed here by county agent E. C. Jameson. Application to the extension department of A. & M. College has been made for the assistance of the farm engineer of that institution in the movement.

Carlsbad, N. M.—Construction work on four business houses in a block started here recently, to be completed in December.

Wheeler—Plans are under way for the opening of a new addition to this town.

It is also indicated for corn a condition of 72.4 per cent of normal, with 2,679,988,000 bushels of production, yielding 26.5 bushels per acre. For oats the preliminary indicated production is 1,282,414,000 bushels, a 27.9 bushels yield per acre.

Luncheon Program Presents Many Features

A discussion of the paved highway problem, a talk by Mrs. A. A. Foster, of the Mothers' Club on the campaign for tulip planting here, remarks from several visitors, and a speech by Sherm Williams, which started out as an endorsement of the highway but wound up as a cleverly concealed political harrangue, constituted the main features of the weekly luncheon Monday at the Stockman's Cafe.

(AN EDITORIAL)

There are times when crises arise in the fortunes of individuals, communities and nations, when strong men back away from petty private troubles and problems and face the threatened peril with enlarged vision and cool judgment.

WHOLE HEARTED COOPERATION NECESSARY AMONG PANHANDLE COUNTIES IF OFFERED OPPORTUNITIES ARE MET

When some five or six thousand enterprising folks find themselves bottled up an explosion is bound to come. The explosion occurred last week in the Canyon News.

Meanwhile, committee meetings were held daily and an alternate proposition was proposed to build a road through the county to Dawn, then northwards to a connection with a paving on the Ozark Trail near Wildorado.

THIS IS A CRISIS

The Brand feels that if there ever was a time when Canyon, Umbarger, Dawn, Hereford, Black, Summerfield, Friona, Bovina, Farwell-Texico and Clovis ought to work together, it is certainly now.

Let's find it, friends. Let's get ready for the great Plains development rush just around the corner. Let's have the vision and the bigness to look at this thing from a PANHANDLE standpoint and not from a local one.

DRIVING OUT LABOR.
RUSSIA'S FRIENDSHIP.
HUNTING THE FLEA.
FOUR, SNIFF, LOOK ALIVE.

Mr. Green, able, conservative and respected head of the American Federation of Labor, was invited to speak before the Young Men's Christian Associations in Detroit, then told that his speech could not be delivered in that institution. Labor leaders were asked to speak from various Detroit pulpits, then told the churches did not want them.

There may be good reasons for these sudden changes. But Christ, who drove the money changers from the Temple, might be surprised to see his modern representatives driving laboring men from the pulpits.

It looks, according to the union men, as though money changers were "on top" once more.

In a little while, Queen Marie of Rumania, with her pretty daughter will be dining at the White House. The Queen will be able to tell her husband that she met one American that did not insist on talking about himself. H. G. Wells says that is our trouble, you know.

If the Queen will take a sheet of paper as big as a playing card she will be able to write on it all the the President will have to say, beyond politely answering direct questions.

But when the interview is over the President will know a good deal about Rumania. He believes in listening, and that's one reason why he is President.

Professor Jerome Davis, of Yale, reports an interesting talk with Stalin, the real ruler in Russia. Stalin says Russia is willing to pay the money that foolish American bankers lent to Kerensky. Stalin really should do nothing of the kind. Those childish bankers grabbing at usurious interest rates and discounts ought to digest that lesson.

They are now lending billions of the American people's money to various concerns in Europe. Many of those billions will never come back.

However, that's another story. The important point made by Stalin is that it might pay the United States to be friendly with Russia. Stalin said, "Russia now needs the United States. Possibly the day might come when the United States might need Russia's friendship."

The Pan-American health conference declares war on the bubonic plague flea, from the Arctic to the Antarctic.

This means killing rats, ground squirrels, flea bearing creatures of all sorts. Samples of fleas captured will be sent in for identification.

Nothing permanent, however, will be done until man completes his conquest of the globe by removing from it, mercifully, all animal life other than his own.

The gaping crocodile, from whose gums and tongue the tsetse fly extracts the germs of sleeping sickness, must go, also, dear little pussy that carries diptheria germs in its fur to the little girl's face.

The latest beauty cult must come here. It says: "Work all the muscles of your face, keep young, retain your alert appearance, Pout your lips to make them handsome and full. Roll your eyes frequently and SNIFF. Sniff violently, forming wrinkled ridges on the bridge of the nose. Move your eyebrows up and down. Only a dead face, with no muscular action in it, becomes an old face."

That advice is taken literally by inhabitants of the monkey cage. They do all that the beauty cult suggest. Our ancestors, ape-like, did the same until language was invented. As men became civilized they used words instead of gestures and twitching faces.

A man sneering still uncovers his canine tooth, getting it ready to bite without cutting his lip, as do the baboon and wolf. But the calm face is the higher type. Compare the Venus of Milo and stop.

READING THE DICTIONARY.

A friend once called upon a famous writer and was much amazed to find him reading the dictionary! In answer to his surprised question this famous author told his friend that he made a practice of reading it.

The dictionary is probably one of the most neglected books in the English language. Perhaps you think that it would be pretty dry reading, but if a great writer, an expert in the use of words, can afford to spend his time in this way, how much more can each of us.

The world admires the person who is a master of words. Without the ability to express them properly, a man's great ideas lose half their power.

You probably would not care to actually read the dictionary, but make a practice of consulting it regularly. Go to it and "look-up" any word that you come across, the meaning of which you are not sure. This habit, combined with that of reading good books, will soon increase your vocabulary in a remarkable way.

If lightning bug resembles some human being, he can't see where he is going, but he can see where he has been.

To The Voters of Deaf Smith County:

We, the undersigned candidates for office on the Republican ticket, beg leave to submit the following statement to the voters of Deaf Smith County:

FIRST

Many are puzzled to know just how the ballot will be printed in the coming election, and whether or not it will be legal to vote a mixed ticket. In order to set you right on these matters we quote the law as amended in Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, which reads as follows: (Article 2980) The tickets of each political party shall be placed or printed on one ballot, arranged side by side in columns separated by a parallel rule; at the head of each ticket shall be printed the name of the party.

(Art. 2981) When a voter desires to vote a ticket straight, he shall run a pencil or pen through all other tickets on the official ballot, making a distinct marked line through such ticket not intended to be voted; and when he shall desire to vote a mixed ticket he shall do so by running a line through the names of such candidates as he shall desire to vote against in the ticket he is voting, and by writing the names of the candidates for whom he desires to vote in the blank column and in the space provided for such office; same to be written with black ink or pencil, unless the names of the candidates for which he desires to vote appear on the ballot, in which event he shall leave the same not scratched.

SECOND

The pledge printed at top of ballot in primary elections is illegal, and politically immoral. We therefore urge all voters to disregard this supposed pledge and to vote for the candidate they think best fitted for the office, regardless of party.

THIRD

We think the sooner Texas slides over into the doubtful column politically the better off the state will be in every respect. This statement will bear close investigation and we urge every voter to give it serious thought.

FOURTH

We insist that all county officers devote their undivided time to the duties of the office to which they are elected.

FIFTH

We urge all voters to go to the polls on election day and exercise their rights of citizenship; laying aside all prejudices and to vote for their own best interests, regardless of politics or anything else. We solicit your vote and promise, if elected, to render good, faithful, and efficient service.

Potts, after executed and delivered to the plaintiff their certain joint and several promissory note, in writing, which note is made a part of said petition and here referred to. Potts, his wife, certain deed of trust, in writing, wherein and whereby said defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, after reciting their indebtedness to the plaintiff as evidenced by said note, conveyed to the defendant, Shearn Moody, as such Trustee, certain lands and premises situated in Deaf Smith County, in the State of Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

160 acres of land out of Capitol League No. 376, and described as the southeast quarter of Section Fourteen (14) Township 5 North of Range 3 east of Capitol Subdivision as shown by the plat of such sub-division of record in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Vol. 15, page 66 et seq., and being the same land conveyed by George W. The northwest quarter of Section Twenty-six (26), Township No. 5 North of Range 3 east of Capitol Syndicate Sub-division as shown by plat of such sub-division of record in Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, Vol. 15, page 66 et seq., and being the same land conveyed by William W. Ryan to John C. Cramberg by deed dated September 27th, 1906, of record in Vol. 18, page 292, of the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas; and 500 acres of land out of Capitol League Nos. 376 and 390 and more particularly described as being all of the northeast quarter of Section No. 28 and all of Section No. 23, Township No. 5 North of Range No. 3 East of a Capitol Syndicate Sub-division as shown by plat of such subdivision of record in the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, in Vol. 15, pages 66 et seq., and being the same land conveyed by William W. Ryan to John C. Cramberg by deed dated September 27th, 1906, recorded in Vol. 18, page 291, of the Deed Records of Deaf Smith County, Texas, to all of the above and the record reference is had in the respective volumes for further description of said land.

That said deed of trust was duly recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Deaf Smith County, State of Texas, on the 11th day of February, 1922, in the Trust Deed Records of said County in Book 25, page 263, to which record of said deed of trust reference is hereby made for all purposes. That on or about the 14th day of September, 1922, defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, by general warranty deed, conveyed the premises and property hereinafore described to said defendant, R. A. Bryan, which said deed was recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Deaf Smith County, Texas, on the 12th day of February, 1923, in Book 48, pages 198, and by the terms of said conveyance and as a part of the consideration therefor, defendant, R. A. Bryan, assumed and agreed to pay said note and all interest accrued and thereafter to accure thereon according to its face and tenor. That defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, and R. A. Bryan made default in the payment of the interest which became due and payable on the principal sum of said promissory note on the 3rd day of February, 1926, amounting to the sum of $385.00, by reason whereof plaintiff has exercised and hereby exercises its option to mature and declare due and payable the entire principal sum of said note and all interest thereon to become and be immediately due and payable, anything to the contrary in said note and deed of trust notwithstanding; and plaintiff hereby matures the entire principal sum of said note and all interest due and to become due and payable on account thereof; that there is now due and payable thereon the principal sum of $6,500.00 and interest thereon at the rate of nine per cent per annum from the 3rd day of February, 1925, and interest on the installments of interest due and payable on the 3rd day of February, 1925, at the rate of ten per cent per annum from maturity. That the defendants J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, and R. A. Bryan, failed, refused and neglected to pay the taxes assessed against the premises and property hereinafore described by the State of Texas and Deaf Smith County, in said State, for the years 1923, 1924 and 1925, amounting to the sum of $498.23, and plaintiff for the purpose of protecting its said lien and interest in said land, premises and property was required to and did pay said taxes to the Tax Collector of the State of Texas and County of Deaf Smith, by reason of which payment plaintiff is entitled to recover the amount thereof from said defendants in addition to the amount due and payable on said promissory note, interest thereon and attorney's fees as hereinbefore set forth, and by reason of which payment of said taxes by plaintiff as aforesaid, the amount thereof is secured by the lien of said deed of trust. That the principal of said promissory note and interest thereon, are past due and unpaid; that the amount paid by the plaintiff for and on account of said taxes is past due and unpaid, and plaintiff has placed said note in the hands of Frank S. Anderson, an attorney at law, residing at Galveston, Texas, for collection, and has agreed to pay said Frank S. Anderson ten per cent on the amount of principal and interest due on said note, as collection fees, same being the usual and customary fee therefor. That the defendants, Shearn Moody, as Trustee, John C. Cramberg and Agatha Cramberg, his wife, and the First National Bank of Las Vegas, Deaf Smith County, New Mexico, have or claim to have some interest in or claim to the mortgaged lands, premises and property hereinafore described, which claim or interest, if any, plaintiff says is subordinate to the lien of plaintiff's deed of trust hereinafore set out. WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited to appear and answer this petition, that plaintiff have judgment against the defendants, J. Frank Potts and Leota C. Potts, his wife, and R. A. Bryan, for the amount of principal and interest due on said promissory note and taxes paid by the plaintiff, together with attorney's fees and cost of suit; and that plaintiff's lien on said lands, premises and property be foreclosed according to law; that said lands, premises and property be ordered sold and out of the proceeds arising from said sale, after payment of costs and all necessary expenses of sale, plaintiff be paid the full amount of principal and interest due and unpaid on said indebtedness and attorney's fees, together with taxes paid by plaintiff and any surplus arising from said sale, after first applying the proceeds of same as aforesaid, to be paid to said defendants as their interests may appear; that the defendants, and each of them, be foreclosed of all right, claim, title or interest, legal or equitable, in and to the lands, premises and property hereinafore described, and for such other relief, etc. as is more fully set forth in said petition now on file in my office.

Herein fall not, but have you then and there before said Court, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Issued this the 20th day of October A. D. 1926.

Frank B. Fuller, Old Resident, Passes Away

Word has been received here that Frank B. Fuller died on the 23rd of this month at Mercy Hospital in San Diego, California. Mr. Fuller was one of the pioneer citizens of Deaf Smith county, and was one of the first county clerks. He was for a time connected with the Hereford National Bank, before that bank became the First National. Later Mr. Fuller became the first cashier of the Western National Bank of Hereford, and served in that capacity until he went to El Centro, California in 1905. In El Centro he organized and became president of the El Centro National Bank, which proved to be a great success. Mr. Fuller's ability was recognized and his advancement in the banking world was rapid. At the time of his death he was vice president of the Southern Trust and Commerce Bank, a large financial institution having many branch banks throughout Southern California. Mr. Fuller left Hereford in the hope that the climate of Southern California would help his wife, who was in poor health. This hope was not to be realized and the wife so well known and loved by the older residents of Hereford soon passed away. Mr. Fuller afterwards married again and the second wife with two children by the first wife are left to mourn his loss. Frank Fuller was not only a great business man—he was that and much more. He was helpful to those among whom he lived—a true friend—a loving husband and father—a Christian gentleman. (The Brand is indebted to Mr. G. A. F. Parker, life-time friend of the deceased, for the above information concerning Mr. Fuller.)

impression abroad for some time," said Mr. Anderson, "that the local board is not efficient. As a matter of fact I got a test rating of 98.7 per cent on this board the first of this year, when it was tested out by the company. That's a pretty fair showing in efficiency, it seems to me. "Many people overlook the fact that the company's jurisdiction over rural lines extends only to the city limits. We have nothing to do with maintenance outside of these limits, and the owners of the lines are supposed to keep them up. In spite of this fact, I have volunteered my services freely in helping on these lines, in every way I possibly could, and will continue to do so. If the people on the lines will come to me for advice about installing and maintaining their phone connections, I will gladly help them, as I have always done. Grounded wires and poor connections cause most of the rural line troubles, and these can easily be avoided if they will let me make suggestions to them. "We are working hard to give first class service here, and need the good will and assistance of the people to put it over. I am always glad to go out of my way to help in every possible way to give the people quick, efficient and satisfactory service."

CANYON, Oct. 24.—Two Hereford girls have been elected to membership in the Lloyd Green Allen Chapter of the Texas Scholarship Society. They are Ethel Rice, who was elected to graduate membership, and Madge Childre, who was elected to senior membership. Miss Rice is now teaching at Lockney in the high school and Miss Childre is teaching in the Pleasant Hill high school near Clovis, New Mexico. Two other Hereford girls who are now enrolled at the West Texas State Teachers College have been honored, though in a different manner. Misses Polly Steele and Boulah Lee Rutherford have been selected by the girls of Cousins Hall, one of the girls' dormitories, to lead their yells in supporting the Buffaloes.

Artists' Course at Amarillo Will Open On October 30th

Prof. Emil F. Myers of the Amarillo College of Music, has announced the Amarillo Artists' Course, consisting of four programs during the coming winter. All programs will be held at the Municipal Auditorium, Amarillo. The Course opens October 30, with Edna Swanson Ver Haar, Swedish Contralto. Details of the Course are given in Mr. Myers' advertisement in this issue, which is of interest to all music lovers in this vicinity. Concerning the opening number October 30, the advance notices state: Edna Swanson Ver Haar is one of the most satisfactory concert and oratorio contraltos before the American public. Since her first professional appearance she has steadily grown in popular favor, the increasing demand for her services keeping pace with her remarkable artistic advancement. During this time she has appeared with leading orchestras and choral organizations with unvarying success. Ver Haar sang in Sweden as soloist with the Swedish Choral Society of Chicago, and she achieved a sensational personal and artistic triumph. This series of forty concerts was marked by a continuous ovation for this talented artist. Appearing in all the principal cities of the country, she was everywhere acclaimed as one of the brightest stars in the musical firmament. No higher tribute can be paid an artist than a re-engagement, and it is doubtful if there is any singer before the public who has been "repeated" more times than Miss Ver Haar. Her voice has that golden quality seldom heard in a contralto, and no better description of it can be made than the phrase used by one of the great critics of Sweden: "Her rich, clear voice, her intelligent understanding of the requirements of the songs, and her engaging personality, won the highest praise."

if they were seed potatoes, was in the nature of a miracle and an overwhelming relief. His mind centered on the five-dollar bill, and his lively interest in them assured Laurie of Burke's presence in the garage at any hour when more bills might possibly be dropped. While he was lingeringly lighting a cigarette, Laurie asked a few questions. Who owned the big house back there in the cedar grove, on the bluff overlooking the Sound? Burke didn't know. All he knew, and freely told, was that it had been empty ever since he himself had come to the neighborhood, "most two years ago. Laurie strolled out of the garage with a well-assumed indifference to the perplexities of life, but his heart was racked by them. As he hesitated near the entrance, uncertain which way to turn, he saw that behind the garage there was a tool shed, and following the side path which led to this, he found in the rear of the shed a workman's bench, evidently little used in these cold January days. Tactfully, it invited the discoverer to solitude and meditation, and Laurie gratefully dropped upon it, glad of the opportunity to escape Burke's eye and uninterruptedly think things out. But the daisied path of calm reflection was not for him then. Theoretically, of course, his plan would be to wait until night and then, sheltered by the darkness, to approach the house, like a hero of melodrama, and in some way secure entrance. But even as this ready-made campaign presented itself, a dozen objections to it reared up in his mind. The first, of course, was the delay, it was not yet two o'clock in the afternoon, and darkness would not fall until five, even unwisely assuming that it would be safe to approach the place as soon as darkness came. In three hours all sorts of things might happen; and the prospect of marking time during the interval, while his unbridled imagination ran away with him, was one Laurie could not face. On the other hand, what could he do in broad daylight? If he were seen, as he almost certainly would be, Shaw careless now, perhaps in his fancied security, would take precautions which might make impossible the night's work of rescue. That, of course, assuming that Shaw was still at the house among the cedars. Was he? Laurie pondered that problem. Undoubtedly he had personally taken Doris there, he and the secretary. But the chances seemed about even that, having done this, he would leave her, for the day, at least, either in charge of the secretary or of some caretaker. In that case—in that case—

Will We Have An Up-town W. U. Office

Is there a possibility of Hereford securing an up-town Western Union telegraph office? Monday a representative of Western Union was in town, investigating local conditions. He cured data from the post office and other agencies in the city, while he did not commit himself to those who talked with him, he made a "hunch" that the company would make such a move. Hereford is an up-town office at one time lost it several years ago. Quick Job Service at The Brand.

Mrs. C. C. Acker was hostess to members of the Bridge Club and a few friends on Friday afternoon, when she entertained with tables of bridge. This charming little home was beautifully decorated with garden flowers, alias, stanzas and chrysanthemums being used in profusion. Mrs. Dew Mercer won the high score and Mrs. Henry Goodrich, Amarillo, was given the guest prize.

Mrs. Acker, assisted by Mrs. Mrs. Fox, served a delicious and course at the conclusion of the games.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Outwater, Los Angeles, Calif., are guests Mr. and Mrs. George Garrison, they have been in New York for the past summer and are on their way to California. Mrs. Outwater is remembered as Mrs. W. H. Garrison, who formerly lived here and has many friends who are glad to see her again.

Little Misses Wilma and Betty ones, attractive daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Jones, gave a recital on Saturday afternoon at the home of their teacher, Miss Ina regg.

These little girls showed their unusual talent by giving numbers usually given by pupils having studied for two or three years, when they have only had nine months of instruction. They announced their own numbers, giving name of piece and the composer and they varied the program with readings, songs and analogues.

About twenty-five guests were present and enjoyed this delightful program.

MOTHERS' CLUB ENTERTAINS HUSBANDS.

On Tuesday evening the Mothers' Club entertained their husbands at the lovely home of Mrs. and Mrs. J. E. Beyer. This occasion looked forward to, it is an annual event and the husbands seemed unanimous in declaring themselves well entertained this time.

The hours were packed with fun and pleasure. The rooms were decorated with Halloween colors and decorations. Mothers and husbands sat aside dignity to play funny Halloween games.

Mmes. Bob Higgins, Gilliland, Patton, Foster and Moss staged a play, "Not a Man in the House," that was highly approved. Mrs. Maurine Beyer and Mrs. Moss gave several violin and piano numbers. Little Miss Geneva Sue Ben and Master F. L. Lucas won high favor with their Charleston act. The unique style of serving refreshments brought many laughs to the honor guests. Assorted sandwiches served from a new black coal bucket, pumpkin pie with whipped cream rolled around a wheel barrow, coffee in tin cups, flavored with sugar from a pop and cream from an oil can added to the evening's merriment.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

A Halloween party, given at the home of Mrs. Hall Beavers Wednesday afternoon was an occasion of much pleasure. The spacious reception rooms were effectively decorated in keeping with the Halloween spirit—goblins, black cats and witches being much in evidence and standing out in relief against the semi-darkness.

Two grotesque witches received guests who were conducted in haste to their places. Immediately after the arrival of all guests the lights were flashed on and a short devotional and business session was held. The social hour followed.

A murder case in which the guests acted as jurors and the witches as judges afforded much amusement. Grievous evidence and exhibits were freely passed around among the crowd, producing shrieks that were not altogether affectionate.

A fortune telling booth proved quite popular, though it was disconcerting to some of the high-spirited revelers to have their characters publicly revealed and their futures foretold.

Delicious refreshments were served to a large number of members as well as several visitors. The hostesses, following a custom of several years standing, were chosen from the members whose birthdays came within the past three months. This affair was one of the regular quarterly social meetings of the Methodist Missionary Society.

outplayed the Hereford boys.

An unique feature of the contest was the fact that in the second quarter, with a lead of 13 to 0 safely tucked away, Coach Riggs pulled his entire first team off the field and sent in his seconds, youngsters very light but ambitious. To the delight of the crowd, the Scrubs played the visitors to a standstill for the remainder of the quarter and well into the third quarter before they began to slip. Whereupon the first string men went back. As it turned out, however, the youngsters really seemed to do as well as the regulars, who let down somewhat after their return to the game.

The work of Barrett and Thompson as ball toters and of Buddy Witherspoon on interference and defense, stood out in the backfield. Jno. L. Wilson played a great game at end, while the entire line showed up better than at any other time this season. The interference and team play was better, and the team showed the result of hard work and skillful coaching.

The snappy play of the young team was a revelation and some fine reserve material for next year is in the making. The speed and tackling of Keith Guthrie, Bill Mitchell and Miller stood out, but the entire bunch fought like wildcats and put everything they had into the scrap.

A play-by-play account of the game was almost impossible to keep owing to the shifts in the lineup. Hereford's first score in the opening quarter came as the result of a steady march down the field, plunges, end runs and passes being mixed until the ten yard line was reached, where Barrett passed to Captain Russell across the goal. Russell missed the try for place kick. Shortly afterwards, with the ball in mid-field, Barrett snatched a Farwell pass out of the air and raced forty-two yards through the Farwell team for the second score. Russell kicked goal. Score 13 to 0.

After a few plays at the opening of the second quarter, Coach Riggs sprang his second eleven on the visitors. The youngsters showed a good passing combination but had hard luck on the receiving line, missing several accurate passes by inches. But they plunged and tried the ends and held desperately on defense while the crowd cheered.

They were sent back after the rest between halves but were soon replaced with the regulars. Russell missed an attempt at a field goal in this quarter, but the Hereford men hammered away until in Farwell territory, when a twenty-eight yard pass, Barrett to Wilson, went over. Russell again kicked goal. Score, Hereford 20, Farwell 0.

The visitors brated in the last quarter and began to hurl long passes that kept the crowd on edge. They worked the ball down to the fifteen yard line and finally slipped over a pass for their lone touchdown. Soon afterwards they kicked a field goal. For the remainder of the game they plugged away with passes and showed a surprising aptitude at this kind of play that might have helped them if they had used it sooner.

Entertainment Course Pleases Big Crowd

The first number of the Entertainment Course this year, "To the Ladies," a play, was staged at the high school auditorium last Monday night to a large and appreciative audience. Mrs. H. L. Broadwell, chairman of the ladies' committee, stated that the guarantee for the three-number course has already been nearly raised, and the ladies are delighted with the response to their efforts. The date for the next number on the winter's program will be announced later.

Which Way Would YOU Vote

—On the question of importing Negro help for domestic use in Deaf Smith County???

—Every now and then you hear some fellow say:

—“If I could get somebody to join me, I would bring in a negro family so that my wife would not have to break her back washing and cleaning house and cooking.”

—But old customs and prejudices are strong, and hard to get away from, and our wives and the other fellows wives are still doing the washing.

—All of which gets us right back to the subject under discussion last week—this MAYTAG Washing Machine that we are doing our darndest to sell you. As long as we can't have domestic help in any quantity, and our women folk are compelled to do their own washing, why not make it as easy on them as we can?

—Indian squaws are pretty things when they are young, but the Buck's habit of forcing all the work on the feminine end of every marriage combination breaks the beauty and attractiveness of their women and turns them into old hags before their time.

—The Lord forbid that we should be charged with any similar crime in the modern homes of the most progressive section of the Southwest!

—Now this MAYTAG Machine will do the work so quietly, and efficiently, and satisfactorily that instead of breaking the back and the disposition of your wife or other feminine relatives, it will keep them rosy, and happy, and contented, and you will be the most popular husband around that place of yours.

—Surprise HER with a MAYTAG—show your appreciation of the home she is making for you—come around here and let us figure out for you how to obtain this labor-saving dingus at a price that will make you smile!

 FOR An Amendment to Section 5 of Article 7 of the Constitution providing for taxation of school lands owned by Counties.

THIRD REASON WHY HEREFORD PEOPLE SHOULD GO TO CHURCH

JOSEPH O. HAYMES, PASTOR, FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.
REGULAR ATTENDANCE FURNISHES OPPORTUNITIES FOR USEFULNESS.

There is no other institution in the world whose avowed purpose is to help humanity—all humanity. Other institutions do, but none compare with the church in helping all and races of humanity. The church justifies its existence in the world only in so far as it fulfills that avowed purpose. The Church fulfills that purpose in proportion as it has the loyal backing of those who are under obligation to give it support. But some one will say, "I am not under obligation to support the Church, either with my means or my presence. I never assumed the obligations of any Church." But does that relieve you of the obligation?

that he is casting his silent vote to discontinue all public worship. And when public worship ceases, charities will soon dry up and be blown away by the gales of materialism and selfishness. The program of helpfulness that any Church is willing to undertake depends upon the morale of that church. Morale is another name for faith. No church that is low on morale will be found making any great ventures of faith, or doing any great challenging things for the uplift of humanity. And no church will be high on morale or faith that is low on attendance. The "faithful few" have a constant feeling of defeat when the preacher is forced to preach to a lumber yard. On the other hand, the members of the church that is constantly well filled at the hours of worship manifest a spirit of victory and success. That church undertakes great things, and is a real force for righteousness. It is a triumphant institution.

And the victorious church is not only willing to make great ventures of faith by undertaking great programs of advance for the Kingdom of God at large, but it is a greater force for righteousness in the community where it is established. A church with empty seats will not undertake a very strenuous crusade against vice and crime in the community. A distinguished judge spoke recently in Dallas and among other good things he said: "Where the churches are full the jails are empty; where the churches are empty the jails are full." There is more than one reason for that. One reason the judge gave when he said: "One fundamental cause of the growth of crime is that the people are getting further away from God." Another reason is that when the churches have a feeling that they are a success, a real force, then they will have the courage to set themselves against vice and crime. They will have put new courage into every believer in righteousness, they will be a bulwark of support for the officers of the law.

In short, those churches will be such molders of public opinion for a high standard of morality as to make open, outrageous crime in that community next to impossible. But remember that empty churches cannot be such a force, they cannot wield such a power for good. Now allow me, in conclusion, to appeal to every reader of this paper, not from a selfish standpoint, but in a very personal way. Not a pastor in Hereford wishes to be the pastor of a church that is a failure. Not a person here wishes to be a member of such a church. But by your habitual absence from its services you will be helping to make your church fail. It may be easy for you to excuse yourself by saying that you are only one and would not be greatly missed, and probably would not do much if you attended. But do not forget that there are scores of others who are saying the same thing, and that by such an attitude each of you is contributing his part in helping to defeat the church. On the other hand, if you and they would say, "Perhaps I do not amount to much, but I am one; I cannot do everything, but I can do something; what I can do I ought to do, and by the grace of God I will do." If every non-church-goer in Hereford would honestly say that, it would not be a month until every church building in the community would be filled to overflowing. Every pastor would be preaching with a new power, every church would be working with a new zeal, and the whole moral and spiritual life of the community would be completely transformed.

Who hath woe, who hath sorrow? The first term "woe" is an interjection, and so probably is the other. So that a literal translation would be "To whom is Oh! to whom is Alas!" A striking way to begin a vivid description of the wretchedness and misery of the drinkers. Contentions, complaints. Very characteristic of the drunkard. Wounds without cause. Either the results of quick uncontrolled temper or wounds unconsciously received, the cause not being remembered. Both are true and either one may be intended. Redness of eyes. Blood shot or bleary eyes. They who tarry long at the wine. Habitual and excessive wine drinkers. The word is that most commonly used for wine of all sorts. Go to seek out mixed wines. Invent mixed drinks more stimulating and poisonous. Look not at the attractive but dangerous beverage as it glitters in the cup or is poured from the vessel and is smoothly drunk down. At the last it biteth, etc. A vivid comparison and based upon the now well understood scientific fact that alcohol is a poison. Thine eyes shall behold strange things. The King James Version has "strange women." There is in the Hebrew no noun with "strange," and as it is in the feminine gender some render "strange women," alluding to one effect of alcohol. But it is probably better to read "strange things," as in the Revised Version. The drink-crazed and perverted imagination of the drunkard often raises horrible visions and fearful delirium. Thy heart shall utter perverse things. Restraint being removed the secret thoughts of the drunkard often find expression. The miserable conceit and obtuseness and unreason of a drunken person are mortifying and shameful. As he that lieth down in the midst of the sea. Supposing he could float or be borne up and tossed and then drowned. Or, on the top of a mast. Tossing like that. They have stricken me, etc. The drunkard receives blows and bruises without feeling them or remembering how he got them. I will seek it yet again. This is true to the sad facts. Bitter experiences do no good. Habit and thirst prevail again.

Reflections. The drink evil is not dead. Like other persistent evils it must still be exposed, resisted, attacked. The fight must be kept up. We can never dispense with the necessity of appealing to conscience, intelligence, patriotism and religion, against the unalterable evils of using alcohol in any form as a beverage. Each generation needs instruction and warning. The bodily injuries of alcoholic drink should be understood. It attacks every function and vital part—brain, the heart, lungs, stomach—and weakens resistance to disease. It saps moral character and ruins the soul in time and eternity. It is the foe of every good thing and the prolific parent of poverty, of wretchedness and crime. The manace of mild intoxicants. To make the manufacture of these legal would be losing of the front-line fortresses. It would certainly be followed by a desperate fight on the repeal of all prohibition measures. If experience teaches anything it teaches that the common use of wine and beer tends to the worst of evils of intemperance.

A native religious sect of Rhode Island has been combating witchcraft by throwing all suspects into the water. Those who did not survive were considered guilty.

Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions? Who hath complaining? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes?

The Sunday School Lesson.
THE EVILS OF STRONG DRINK
Prepared By
REV. W. R. HILL, Baptist Pastor.
Text, Proverbs 23:29-35 (American Standard Version.)
Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions? Who hath complaining? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes?

They that tarry long at the wine; They that go to seek out mixed wine. Look not upon the wine when it is red, When it sparkleth in the cup. When it goeth down smoothly. At the last it biteth like a serpent, And stingeth like an adder. Thine eyes shall behold strange things, And thy heart shall utter perverse things. Yes, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea. Or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast. They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not hurt; They have beaten me, and I felt it not; When shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

Introduction.
The alert and strong friends of strong drink, who are at the same time enemies of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Enforcement Act, are using all means at their hands, mostly dishonorable means, to weaken the law by making the sale of beer and light wines legitimate. All friends of humanity and the Constitution must continue to urge the dangers of the drink evil in any form. The sub committee of the U. S. Senate recently reported their investigation of the matter, and said they found the present legal status "morally right and economically successful." This is the World's Temperance Lesson. Let all friends of prohibition study in the Sunday School today, and render every aid to the law.

Explanatory Notes.
(Adapted from Dargan.)

What's Doing in West Texas

Seminole—Following out a suggestion made by officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the county roads are to be paved at all intersections and at points. The movement will be undertaken through the cooperation of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce and the Commission Court in belief that such work will prove of inestimable value to both tourists and the general public.

Baird—Baird, one of the oldest counties in the state, now claiming 100 population, has recently let contracts for the installation of a modern sanitary sewer system and first class water system.

Throckmorton—Throckmorton county is being ruined by a drain of its citizenry caused through the possession of 96,000 acres of so-called school land in its territory outside counties, according to a report.

King, member of the state legislature. The movement for reclamation of such school lands still existing in the state is backed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and will reach a climax in November when an amendment will be presented to voters of Texas commending that these lands be made taxable. Should the measure pass, a great impediment to the progress of a number of West Texas counties would be removed.

Grady—More turkeys and less cotton was advocated by a number of delegates to the Texas Poultry, Butter and Egg Associations convention held in Fort Worth October 13, over which Wilson D. Jordan, member of the executive board of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, presided in the president's chair. The meeting was held that Thanksgiving turkeys would be plentiful and of good quality this year.

San Saba—Officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have been invited to attend the celebration of San Saba's annual Pecan Day. "Pecan Coronation, King of the Nuts" was recently chosen the name of the observation to be held November eighth. The opening address will be made by Governor-Elect Dan Moody. A big parade and a sumptuous banquet are promised attractions of the day.

Childress—Plans are being completed for the establishment of a big industrial plant here that will involve the expenditure of $8,000,000. The factory will consume 5,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily and will furnish employment to between 400 and 500 workmen.

Rankin—Contract for the building of the Upton county court house has been let and work will begin at once.

McCamey—Construction of a two story, 85 room, semi-fire proof hotel of sheet rock and steel is announced by the McBurnett Hotel Company. It is expected that the structure will be completed in thirty days. The building will cost around $25,000.

Fort Stockton—Cotton grown this year on irrigated lands adjacent to Fort Stockton has brought the highest average price of any cotton grown and ginned in Texas, according to a letter from I. A. Gans of the Fort Worth cotton firm of Gans & Bath, and according to daily cotton quotations.

Decatur—Plans for terracing many Wise county farms are being pushed here by county agent E. C. Jameson. Application to the extension department of A. & M. College has been made for the assistance of the farm engineer of that institution in the movement.

Carlsbad, N. M.—Construction work on four business houses in a block started here recently, to be completed in December.

Wheeler—Plans are under way for the opening of a new addition to this town.

It is also indicated for corn a condition of 72.4 per cent of normal, with 2,679,983,000 bushels of production, yielding 26.5 bushels per acre. For oats the preliminary indicated production is 1,282,414,000 bushels, a 27.9 bushels yield per acre.

Good Hearted.
Johnny, who took the cookies from the pantry?
Mother, I gave them to a poor, little boy who was hungry.
You have a heart of gold, dear.
Who was the little boy?
I, mother.
