Watch Out For Runners Saturday

Warning signs will be put along the course of the Greg Black Memorial 10-Kilometer Run and Two-Mile Fun Run Saturday morning to alert motorists about the runners, since the races will cross busy intersections. Paula Hamby, right, is the race director. Pictured with her are nine-year-old Michelle Brock, who plans to run in the women's open two-mile run, and Russell Sanderson, center, a 12-year-old who will run in the men's open two-mile run.

Driver alert: Runners ahead!

People driving their vehicles Saturday morning on Fifteenth Street, Centre Street, Moreman Avenue, and Kingwood Street are asked by YMCA officials to watch out for runners during the Greg Black Memorial 10-K and Two-Mile Fun Run.

Signs reading, "Warning, Runners Ahead" will be put along the route of the races to let motorists know about the runners.

The course of the race is Fifteenth Street from the YMCA to Centre Street. Runners in the two-mile race will turn around just after they get to Centre Street, and will head back to the YMCA.

The 10-kilometer runners will continue on Centre Street to Moreman Avenue, and then go to Kingwood Street. The race goes nearly to Oglesby Equipment on Kingwood, before runners will turn around and follow the same course back to the YMCA.

Police protection will be provided at the points of the the course where runners cross Highway 385 and Park Avenue.

Tutu calls Botha 'hack politician'

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Bishop Desmond Tutu lashed out today at President P.W. Botha's long-awaited speech on apartheid, saying the lack of concrete steps to end apartheid made the chance of peaceful change "virtually nil."

Tutu, the black Anglican cleric who won the 1984 Nobel Peace Prize, told reporters that he was considering calling for immediate economic sanctions against the white-minority government.

He charge that Botha, who addressed his National Party late Thursday, was acting like a "hack politician."

"I think the chances of peaceful change are virtually nil. We are on the brink of a catastrophe," Tutu said. "Short of a miracle, short of intervention by the international community, we are for the birds," said Tutu.

"I don't think Mr. Botha is interested in peaceful negotiation. He is aware of his military strength," Tutu said. "He is interested in bludgeoning blacks into submission."

He castigated President Reagan, Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher of Great Britain, and West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl, saying, "They have decided that blacks are dispensable."

In nervous trading, the South African rand hit 38.50 cents, well below the its previous 41.90 low in January. South Africa's mainly white anti-government Blash Sash organization said "the whole country will pay" for Botha's stance.

"The armed struggle continues," said Tom Sebina, information officer for the country's main black guerrilla organization, the African National Council.

Botha rejected equal voting rights for all races, saying it would be suicidal for the ruling white minority.

He also ended speculation that he might free Nelson Mandela, the jailed black leader of the outlawed ANC. Botha reiterated he would release Mandela only if he denounces violence, which Mandela refuses to do.

The one man, one vote principle for all racial groups "would lead to domination of one over the others, and it would lead to chaos," Botha declared.

"I am not prepared to lead white South Africans and other minority groups on a road to abdication and suicide," he said.

Nudists say stripping rids status symbols

WILLS POINT, Texas (AP) - The way the American Sunbathing Association sees it, removing clothes is just another way to get rid of status symbols.

About 400 members of the association, including infants and grandmothers, have gathered in East Texas at the Ponderosa Ranch to talk about their favorite pastime—nudism.

"When you remove your clothes, you take away status symbols, and you see and accept people the way they really are," said Ellyn Kern, who owns a nudist camp in Indiana. "You feel much more comfortable."

The sunbathing association bills itself as the largest nudist organization in the Western Hemisphere.

"I believe everyone should have at least the chance to try it out," said Hap Hathaway, public relations chairman for the association. "It's not as big a change as it seems."

Jim Hadley, 59, the owner of a Miami-area camp said practicing nudism is a basic American right.

"That's what this whole country was made for: freedom for each one to exercise their own moral code," he said. "There are other types of recreational activities I think are unusual."

"Some people come thinking they'll be able to witness or partake in overt sexuality," said Pete Hadley, Jim Hadley's wife. "That's not true. They will be asked to leave."

Train Slices Rig

A train engine traveled eight tenths of a mile after slicing through a National Carriers rig Thursday afternoon. The collision split the trailer as the rig was crossing north from the old Gault Ranch road onto U.S. 60 from Hays Cattle Company. About 20 head were saved, 28 died. The driver, Doug Handy, 24, of Kansas, was held for observation at Deaf Smith General Hospital in stable condition.

ingsley. It represented proceeds from a weekly fund-raiser. The Hereford FFA chapter presented a program at the club's regular weekly luncheon meeting.

Hance Tech honoree

Kent Hance, a former U.S. congressman, was one of four persons named as Outstanding Alumni by the Texas Tech University Ex-Students Association.

Also named were Marion F. Baumgardner of West Lafayette, Ind., Arch G. Lamb of Lubbock, and Gerald R. Seemann of Hacienda Heights, Calif.

The 1985 distinguished alumni will be honored during a luncheon at noon Oct. 4 at the Texas Tech University Center Ballroom. A reception for the honorees will begin at 11:30 a.m. in the University Center Courtyard.

Hance, an attorney and three-term congressman, was named for his public service to his region, his state and the nation.

He holds a law degree from the University of Texas. For five years he taught business law at Texas Tech and in 1973 was named an outstanding professor at the university.

Hance, a 1965 graduate, holds with Charles Stenholm the distinction of being the first Texas Tech graduate to serve in Congress. He and Stenholm were elected to Congress in 1978.

Hance's political career began in 1974 when he was elected to the Texas State Senate where he was involved in passing legislation providing anti-crime measures, tax relief, anti-bureaucracy laws and health care improvement.

In Congress Hance served a term on the Agriculture Committee and the Science and Technology Committee. During his second term he was appointed to the Ways and Means Committee and was instrumental in 1981 in passage of the nation's largest tax-cut bill.

Lamb, a retired Lubbock County Commissioner and a long-time supporter of his alma mater, was chosen for his community service and for his lifetime contributions to Texas Tech.

Seemann, vice president and general manager, Developmental Sciences Astronics Division, Lear Siegler Inc., was recognized for his business and engineering expertise in aeronautical design and in unmanned aircraft.

Baumgardner, director of the Laboratory for Application of Remote Sensing at Purdue University, was selected for pioneering agricultural applications of satellite remote sensing.

Plane's tail fell off first

TOKYO (AP) — American aviation experts today flew by helicopter to a remote mountain ridge where 520 people died in the crash of a Japan Air Lines jumbo jet. New evidence was found that indicated the plane's tail section had disintegrated in flight.

The Americans — from the Federal Aviation Administration, the National Transportation Board and the Boeing Commercial Airplane Co. which built the plane — carried cameras and were dressed in mountain-climbing gear. The group was accompanied by Japanese investigators.

At one point, a Japanese official pointed to an adjoining ridge where a gap in the solid treeline indicated the plane, fighting for altitude, had plowed through before smashing into the steep mountainside on Monday.

It was the worst single-plane crash in air history. Only four people of the 524 aboard the 747 survived.

Japan Broadcasting Corp. reported searchers located a piece of the vertical stabilizer on another mountainside some distance from the crash site, along the path of the stricken Boeing 747SR.

Police in Kanagawa prefecture said a piece of heat insulating board, possibly from the plane, was found at the shore of Sagami Bay, south of Tokyo, where several other chunks of tail section debris were recovered earlier.

The stabilizer and other parts of the plane's tail section were found in the sea, about 90 miles from the crash site.

Danny fades away

PORT ARTHUR, Texas (AP) — Meteorologists at the National Weather Service here found themselves at ease after facing the arrival of Hurricane Danny.

All was calm at the weather station Thursday, officials said. On Wednesday, civil defense workmen, ham radio operators and the news media trooped through the weather service's small office at the Jefferson County Airport.

Much of Wednesday afternoon, meteorologists analyzed data and produced local announcements calling for extra precautions and the evacuation of Sabine Pass. At least three people stayed at the office throughout the night sending out storm advisories.

Early Thursday, downed cables apparently caused by Danny erased the colorful radar that was monitoring Danny's arrival, officials said.

"We passed the ball to Lake Charles," Port Arthur weather official Danny Graves said, just after the storm officially hit Pecan Island, La.

Some Special Crafts

the parking lot at 801 Main. Just a-swingin' were Randy and Janey Allmon and Ed and Ann Line.

Appraisal guidelines requested

There needs to be set criteria for assessing property, according to Marie Griffin, a local real estate broker.

At the Deaf Smith County Tax District board meeting Thursday night, Mrs. Griffin told members, "It is not all being done equal."

She gave several examples of what she considered inequities.

One was on how vacant lots were zoned. She said when she asked the appraiser about the high value on one piece compared to houses on the same street, he told her that the other lots were appraised lower because they had houses, or improvements.

However, when she asked about property on another street in town the answer was reversed. Appraisals went for $10 less a foot on one block than on the rest of the street. The reason was so not to burden the owner of the undeveloped property.

She told the board that on another discrepancy of similar pieces of real estate, the appraiser said one street "looked better."

She also asked the board about higher appraisals for property which had been maintained better than others.

"You shouldn't tax people for taking care of their property," she said.

Her example was that of a 50-year-old house which had been painted and re-roofed after hail damage. The home had one bedroom, no air conditioning and was heated with a floor furnace, but was taxed much higher than nearby houses.

Tax office director Fred Fox said the house was probably more marketable, thus the higher valuation.

Ann Landers

Letter factually correct

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please allow me to comment on the letter from the woman who found that her husband was attracted to men as well as to her. She was worried about what would happen to their two sons if they "learned the truth about their father in future years."

Homosexuality is a fact of life. It has been with us through the ages, in all cultures and at all social and economic levels. It is not going to go away, so we had better try to understand it.

We still do not know the cause of homosexuality. Some of the theories are reasonable and many are ridiculous. But whether it is a result of environment or heredity or both, one thing is clear: homosexuals do not cause their own homosexuality. They are either born that way or are molded early in life by circumstances over which they have no control. Sometimes, as in the case of the husband mentioned, it does not surface until maturity, when the veneer of social pressure to conform has worn thin.

We will never know how many happily or unhappily married public figures, doctors, lawyers, clergy, dowagers, athletes, "frigid" wives, truck drivers and countless others are attracted to members of their own sex. You may be sure, however, that there is a good percentage of the population forced by society to remain "in the closet." We will never know how many ulcers, cases of alcoholism, heart attacks, divorces or suicides have been caused by the suppression of "the love that dare not speak its name." — A.C. IN D.C.

DEAR A.C. IN D.C.: Thank you for a good letter. It is factually correct and I am pleased to print it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am enclosing something that appeared in one of your columns many years ago. With so much child abuse surfacing and remedies being researched, I feel it would be a good idea to print it again. It should be used as a daily reminder that children are little people who need love and respect.—U.P. MICHIGAN MOTHER OF FOUR

DEAR MOTHER: The essay you asked for was written by Marjorie Holmes. She is the author of many excellent books. This piece appeared in "You and I and Yesterday" (published by Morrow).

A PRAYER FOR CROSS MOTHERS

"Oh God, I was so cross to the children today! Forgive me. I was discouraged and tired—and took it out on them. Forgive my bad temper, my impatience, and most of all, my yelling. I am so ashamed as I think of it. I want to kneel down by each of their beds, wake them up and ask them to forgive me. But I can't. They wouldn't understand. I must go on living with the memory of this awful day, my unjust tirades. Hours later, I can still see the fear in their eyes as they scurried around, trying to appease me — thinking my anger and maniacal raving was their fault.

"Oh, God, the pathetic helplessness of children! Their innocence before the awful monster—the enraged adult—and how forgiving they are, hugging me so fervently at bedtime, kissing me goodnight. All I can do is straighten a cover, touch a small head burrowed in a pillow and hope with all my heart that they will forgive me.

"Lord, in failing these little ones whom you have put in my keeping, I am failing you. Please let your infinite patience and goodness replenish me for tomorrow."

It's not always easy to recognize love, especially the first time around. Acquaint yourself with the guidelines. Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Love or Sex and How to Tell the Difference." For a copy, mail 50 cents and a long, self-addressed envelope with your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

You can peel garlic cloves faster if you mash them lightly with the side of a chef's knife blade. This breaks the skin and makes it easier to remove, according to Family Circle magazine. The garlic can then be covered with oil in a small, tightly capped jar and stored in the refrigerator where it will keep for weeks. When the garlic is gone, use the oil in salad dressing.

National League roundup

Scott is ace of Astros' pitching staff

By The Associated Press

Right-hander Mike Scott isn't as well known as more illustrious Astros' pitching teammates Nolan Ryan, Joe Niekro and Bob Knepper.

But Scott stands alone as the ace of the Houston staff following a six-hit, 4-1, victory Thursday over the San Francisco Giants, a decision that left him with a 12-6 record and a .256 earned run average.

"Mike has been our most consistent pitcher all year, keeping us in most of the games he's pitched," said Manager Bob Lillis, whose club has won 15 of its last 17 games with the Giants.

Scott pitched two contrasting games. Over the first four innings, he yielded five hits and one run while walking three batters, but down the stretch he virtually was untouchable.

Following a run-scoring single by Joel Youngblood in the fourth, Scott retired 13 batters in a row before Chris Brown singled, leading off the ninth. Then Scott nailed the final three batters for 16 out of 17.

Loser Dave LaPoint, 5-11, walked three batters in the second inning, including Dickie Thon, with the bases loaded for a 1-0 lead. LaPoint has dropped five straight decisions to the Astros.

A throwing error by rookie shortstop Jose Uribe led to three unearned runs in the fourth, a rally that featured Thon's run-scoring single and Bill Doran's 12th homerun. Cardinals 3-4, Pirates 1-3.

Pennant pressure is starting to build in the National League East, a division where you sometimes need to win more than once a day to stay in first place.

The St. Louis Cardinals proved that to the New York Mets Thursday, sweeping a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1 and 4-3, while the Mets could manage only a 10-7 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Cardinals regained a share of first place in the NL East as they tied the Mets at 69-43. Ozzie Smith finished the day with a bases-loaded walk in the 12th inning, forcing in the winning run. Smith acknowledged growing pressure in the division.

The Cardinals have won eight of nine — the losses were the Nos. 8 and 9 in a row for Pittsburgh. The Pirates, since a 6-3 triumph July 22 at Los Angeles, have lost 14 straight contests away from home. Mets 10, Phillies 7.

Though they scored five runs off Dwight Gooden in five innings, the Phillies and their five pitchers could not hold off the Mets. Gooden's no-decision kept his personal 12-game winning streak intact.

"It was a weird day," Gooden said. "I just didn't do my part."

The Mets have won 10 of 11. The Phillies have lost six of eight. Dodgers 5, Braves 4.

Pinch-hitter Terry Whitfield's two-out, two-run homer in the bottom of the eighth inning gave Los Angeles a seventh straight victory. Fernando Valenzuela, 14-8, also won his seventh straight. He was an inning away from a loss when Whitfield batted for him.

Tom Niedenfuer pitched the ninth inning for his 12th save.

Bruce Sutter, 7-5, was trying to protect a 4-3 lead provided by Dale Murphy's National League-leading 31st homer, a two-run blow in the fifth.

Bob Horner's RBI single in the first ended the Dodgers' string of consecutive innings without allowing an earned run at 52. It was also the first earned run scored by the Braves in 28 innings.

Reds 5, Padres 4. Pinch-hitter Tony Perez's single with two out in the 10th inning drove in Ron Oester. Cincinnati wasted a 4-0 lead, surrendering four runs in the ninth inning, but John Franco came on to retire a batter for his 10th straight victory. Franco's lone loss this season came on April 13 in the Reds' fourth game.

In the first inning, Dave Parker sent a towering blast 20 rows deep in the right-field seats for his 23rd home run of the year. Expos 7, Cubs 3.

Vance Law's two-run homer helped send the Cubs to their 10th loss in 11 games. Montreal scored three times in the second inning, twice on a bases-loaded double by Tim Lincecum, who also stole his 46th base. Davey Lopes swiped his 42nd this season and is tied with the Cardinals' McGee for third place. McGee's teammate Vince Coleman leads the major leagues with 81.

Bill Gullickson, 11-8, pitched 6 2-3 innings to win his first game since July 26, with relief help from Bert Roberge and Randy St. Clair.

One NFL exhibition game played Thursday

By TIM LIOTTA AP Sports Writer

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Quarterback Dieter Brock is not wasting any time adapting to his new surroundings.

The expatriot of the Canadian Football League is being thrown in as a starter for the Los Angeles Rams this year without the benefit of any experience in the National Football League.

His performance in the Rams' 39-7 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday night made Brock look like a man well beyond his years with the NFL.

"I thought Dieter Brock had a perfect game at quarterback," said Los Angeles coach John Robinson. "He looked like he had played in the NFL for 11 or 12 years."

Brock, 34, completed 13 of 24 passes for 165 yards against the Cardinals and moved the Rams up and down the field almost flawlessly. His teammates, however, were not surprised.

"I knew from day one when I saw him that he had an arm," said running back Barry Redden, who scored two touchdowns and ran for 109 yards in the first half of the game.

"I think he can lead us to a Super Bowl."

The Cardinals-Rams game was the only NFL contest played Thursday night.

On Friday, Detroit is at Seattle, while Saturday's games have Indianapolis at Chicago, the New York Jets at Cincinnati, Philadelphia at Cleveland, Pittsburgh at Minnesota, Atlanta at Tampa Bay, Buffalo at Miami, Green Bay at the New York Giants, Houston at New Orleans, New England at Kansas City and Dallas at San Diego.

On Sunday, Washington will be at the Los Angeles Raiders, while Denver travels to San Francisco Monday night.

National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced on June 8, 1966 that a single league schedule would begin in 1970 under the umbrella of the NFL.

Dean Fox, a Hereford distance runner, says he competes with himself or with his own times when he runs in 10-kilometer runs and half marathons. Fox, who will run in the Greg Black Memorial 10-Kilometer Run on Saturday, is preparing for the Easter Seal Society run next March, in which 12 men will team up to run from Texarkana to El Paso.

Running means competing against self

By GARY CHRISTENSEN
Sports Editor

A Hereford man who will run in the Greg Black Memorial 10-K on Saturday, is training for a run in which 12 men will join forces in a run from Texarkana to El Paso in March to raise funds for charity.

Dean Fox, who took up road racing seriously in 1977, runs today in the 30 to 39 age group.

A Department of Public Safety trooper, Fox will team up with 11 other troopers in the Easter Seal Society run on March 1, 1986.

The 12 troopers will run for 111 hours in an 832-mile journey for the Easter Seal Society. The team has a goal for each runner to maintain about an eight-minute mile pace, running about eight miles at a time.

By the end of the Easter Seal Society run, each runner will have totaled about 70 miles. The run will take place at night as well as in the daytime.

Fox notes that he has run 70 to 80 miles sometimes in one week. This summer he has been running 40 miles per week.

"I like the competition in running, but I run mainly to keep myself physically fit. If I miss a couple of days running, I really miss it. I enjoy running," Fox said.

Fox has run in nine marathons, but none in the last three years, in which he has raced in 10-kilometer runs and half marathons.

He said he runs mainly in Hereford, Amarillo, and Clovis, N.M., and in the past he also ran in races in Dallas. Fox runs in about four races per year now, but three years ago ran nearly every week during the racing season.

"Basically, I just like to compete against myself, against my own times," Fox says, noting that his best time in the 10-kilometer run is 39:20.

"I'll be happy to do it in 40 minutes this week," he continues, speaking of the Greg Black Memorial 10-K run.

"I'm not a thoroughbred race horse or a plow horse—I'm in between. What's important is finishing the race and beating your own time," he adds.

Fox, who ran in his first marathon in 1978, does his training runs in the morning.

"It gets me going in the morning," he states.

A Department of Public Safety trooper for 17 years, Fox also likes tennis and aerobics. Only commissioned DPS officers will run in the Easter Seal Society run.

Fox is quick to point out the challenge he and his Easter Seal Society run teammates will face next March, including the temperatures at that time of the year.

He notes that the path from Texarkana to El Paso is uphill most of the way, and the runners will go into a southwesterly wind much of the time.

In the Town and Country Jubilee 10-kilometer run, renamed this year as the Greg Black Memorial 10-K, Fox has placed second one time in his age group, and placed third another time.

He was second in the men's 30 to 39 division in 1981 with a time of 40:36, just a little more than two minutes behind the first place runner in the division.

In 1982, Fox was third in that division, recording a time of 41:45 to place third.

The Greg Black Memorial 10-K and Two-Mile Fun Run start at 8 a.m. Saturday at the YMCA. Late registration is set for 7 a.m. to 7:45 a.m.

Entry fee in advance are $8 per person, and the fee on the day of the race of $10 per runner. Entry forms are available at the Hereford and Vicinity YMCA office.

Course for the race is Fifteenth

Street from the YMCA to Centre Street. Just after the two-mile runners turn onto Centre Street, they will turn around and follow the same course back to the YMCA.

The 10-kilometer run continues along Centre Street to Moreman Avenue, and then to Kingwood Street. Just before the runners reach Oglesby Equipment on Kingwood Street, they will turn around and follow the same course back to the YMCA.

For more information on the 10-kilometer run and two-mile run, call the YMCA at 364-6990.

American League roundup

Orioles roll to 9-1 victory over Rangers

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles are finally on a roll and that's welcome news for manager Earl Weaver.

Baltimore's 9-1 victory over the Texas Rangers Thursday enabled the Orioles to win their third in a row and fifth of the last six games.

"We're scoring runs and that's got to help," said Weaver. "Also we're hitting home runs and when you're hitting home runs, you're doing everything right," he said.

The current mini-streak has come against Texas and Cleveland, two of the lesser lights of the American League but it was a good sign for Weaver whose record evened to 28-28 since he took over the reins from Joe Altobelli June 13. The victory also moved the club four games over .500.

The Orioles can match their longest winning streak of the season with a victory tonight.

Cal Ripken Jr.'s three-run homer in the five-run second inning keyed the Orioles triumph. It was Ripken's 18th homer of the season and the 100th of his career. He has 82 RBI, second to team leader Eddie Murray's 88, and has scored 80 runs.

In the last six games, the Orioles, who lead the league in home runs with 148, have belted 14 homers, cracked out 30 extra base hits, scored 48 runs, and batted .327 (67-for-205).

While Weaver was happily explaining his Orioles winning ways, Texas manager Bobby Valentine was bemoaning the Rangers' fate. His team lost its third in a row and seventh in the last nine games, dropping the season record to 42-71.

"It's tough getting seven runs down," said Valentine. "We're getting away from playing our game. When you're behind by so much at the beginning, it's tough to put out a little offense," he said.

"The running game is cut down and you play with caution, Valentine said. "I don't like to play that way. I don't think anybody in baseball likes to play that way. This losing has got to stop. It gets contagious," he said.

Storm Davis, 7-7, picked up the victory for the Orioles, winning his second decision in a row. He scattered six hits while striking out seven and walking three for seven innings. Sammy Stewart pitched the final two innings.

Ripken keyed a two-run first inning with a double off Rangers starter Chris Welsh, 2-5. The double knocked in Lee Lacy, who also doubled. Ripken then scored on Eddie Murray's single.

Baltimore chased Welsh with a five-run second inning that featured Ripken's 18th homer of the season. Three singles and Alan Wiggins' run-scoring double preceded Ripken's smash off reliever Dickie Noles.

After the homer, Noles settled down and retired the next 18 batters in a row before giving up two runs, one unearned, in the eighth.

Singles by George Wright, Gino Petralli and Wayne Tolleson produced the Rangers' only run in the third inning.

Indians 7, Tigers 8
Although reliever Willie Hernandez has fallen on hard times in recent days, neither friend nor foe has forgotten what he means to the Detroit Tigers.

"A pitcher, like a hitter ... sometimes doesn't get the ball exactly where he wants to," Cleveland's Andre Thornton said after hitting his second game-winning homer off Hernandez in six days to give the Indians a 7-6 victory over the Tigers Thursday night. "We all do that."

Thornton capped Cleveland's four-run ninth inning with a three-run homer. Last Friday, Thornton homered off Hernandez, 7-7, as the Indians beat the Tigers 4-2.

"He cannot be losing too much," Thornton said in defense of Hernandez. "We'd like to have somebody with 24 saves. If you want to give him to us, we'll gladly take him."

Tigers Manager Sparky Anderson also defended Hernandez, who won both the Cy Young and the Most Valuable Player award in the American League last year when he only failed to make good on one save opportunity.

"I would hope you don't throw somebody down that's played as long as he has," Anderson said. "You're never going to have two years like that. No man could do that."

Thornton, who had a poor start this season because of injuries, had five RBIs in the game.

Trailing 6-3, the Indians opened the ninth when pinch-hitter Benny Ayala singled, moved to second on a walk and scored on a single by Julio Franco, who has now hit in 16 consecutive games. Thornton then pounded a pitch from Hernandez into the upper deck in left field for his 11th home run of the season, making a winner of Curt Wardle, 4-4, who pitched one inning of hitless relief.

Rookie Nelson Simmons knocked in three runs with two homers and Darrell Evans added a two-run shot to help the Tigers take a 6-2 lead after six innings. Simmons, just recalled from the minors on Monday, went 4-for-4.

The Indians led 1-0 in the first off Tigers starter Walt Terrell on an RBI single by Thornton, but the Tigers scored three times in the bottom of the first off Indians starter Roy Smith as Evans hit his 27th homer of the season and Barbaro Garbey added a sacrifice fly.

Simmons, who also homered Wednesday, hit a solo shot leading off the fourth and a two-run homer in the sixth for Detroit. Thornton's RBI grounder and Brook Jacoby's run-scoring double accounted for Cleveland's other runs.

The loss dropped the defending World Series champion Tigers 11½ games behind idle Toronto in the AL East.

Twins 14, Mariners 5
Kent Hrbek hit a grand slam and Gary Gaetti added a three-run homer as Minnesota collected 16 hits in a rout of Seattle.

Despite the power-hitting attack, Twins Manager Ray Miller said an error by Mariners third baseman Jim Presley on a sacrifice bunt was the key play. With Minnesota leading 1-0 in the fourth inning, Mickey Hatcher singled home two runs before Presley threw Tim Teufel's sacrifice bunt into right field, making the score 5-0.

Gaetti completed the eight-run inning with his homer and Hrbek hit his third grand slam of the season in the fifth.

"The bunt turned things around for us," Miller said. "If Teufel is out on that play, maybe Seattle gets out of the inning down just three or four runs."

John Butcher, 9-11, allowed 10 hits in eight innings to get the victory. He had a shutout going into the eighth before Phil Bradley and Ken Phelps homered.

Brewers 7, White Sox 5
Cecl Cooper broke a 3-3 tie with his fifth career grand slam in the seventh inning as Milwaukee beat Chicago.

The Brewers loaded the bases against Chicago starter Floyd Banister, 5-10, on singles by Charlie Moore and Ed Romero and a walk to Robin Yount. One out later, Cooper hit his ninth homer of the season for a 7-3 lead.

Teddy Higuera, 10-6, was the winner, while Rollie Fingers recorded his 15th save.

Robin Yount added a homer for the Brewers and Scott Fletcher hit his first of the season for the White Sox.

Volleyball Drills

Bumping the ball during the Hereford High School volleyball practice Thursday afternoon is Frances DonJuan. Watching the action is Jean Diller. The Hereford spikers open the 1985 season on Aug. 23-24 in the Lubbock Invitational Tournament.

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — An Italian soccer fan died from injuries sustained in a riot prior to the European championship game, his doctor said. His death raised the toll from the May 29 riot to 39.

Luigi Pidone died Wednesday after spending 77 days in coma, doctor Jean Louis Vincent of the Erasmus Hospital said Thursday.

Pidone, 31, was injured in the riot that occurred after fans from Liverpool, England, attacked Italian supporters in an adjacent part of the stadium about an hour before the game was scheduled to start.

Thirty-two Italians, four Belgians, two Frenchmen and one Briton died in the riots.
