PREACHERS 'FRAME' ON SLACKERS

The hustling pastors of four local churches, Rev. J. O. Haynes, of the Methodist church; Rev. W. R. Hill, of the Baptist church; Rev. T. Morgan, of the Christian church, and the Rev. J. T. Ross, of the Presbyterian church, have figured out another drive for added church attendance, and, beginning next week, will begin the publication of a series of four articles, one written by each pastor, covering the all-important matter of "Why Hereford People Should Go to Church."

The articles will be concise, carefully prepared, and to the point, and The Brand is glad to aid in getting the subject before the general public. Hereford has never had four ministers of the Gospel who worked in any closer harmony or with more enthusiasm than these four earnest gentlemen, and it is hoped that these articles will be absorbed by those who need them the most and will result in strengthened church work and appreciation. The outline of the articles to be published has been prepared as follows:

1. A Bulwark of Morality.
2. It is God's plan for Saving the World.
3. Value of Church Attendance to the Individual—W. R. Hill, October 19.
4. Value of Worship.
5. Value of Good Associations.
6. Educational Value.
7. Church Attendance Furnishes Opportunities for Usefulness. J. O. Haynes, October 26.
8. Mobilization for Worthy Enterprises.
9. Release of Moral Energy.
10. Success of Church Depends on attendance (Morale, etc.)
11. School Value of Church Attendance. T. Morgan, November 2.
12. Economic Value of the Church.
13. Example to Others.
14. Church is the Only Universal and permanent Society.

Hereford High Eleven Walloped Clovis, 7-0

Hereford High's badly crippled football eleven came under the wire last Friday afternoon one touchdown ahead of the Clovis team, the score being 7 to 0. The game was played on the local gridiron before a fair sized audience of students and local fans. The girl rooters were on the job with their snake dance and songs, and the high school band also aided in backing up the perspiring athletes.

P. O. Receipts Showing Gains On Past Years

Post office receipts for Hereford for the month of September, 1926, showed a 30 per cent increase over the receipts for September, 1925. Receipts for the September quarter, 1926, which includes July, August and September, showed an increase of 21 per cent over the same period of time in 1925.

Officials of the local post office were asked to keep a check on the number of pieces of mail here for the first ten days in October. A total of 17,745 pieces of mail were handled during the first three days of October, and those in charge say that the ten day period will surpass all expectations.

Receipts of the local office show very little increase in 1924 over that of the previous year, but a steady gain was registered from that period until the present time. 1925 showed a 17 per cent gain over 1924, and receipts for 1926 showed a 12 per cent gain. Indications point to a big gain for the present year, on account of the development here.

Cash Premiums For First and Second Bales

Two cash premiums, one for $100 and one of $50, were given by the business men of Hereford this week for the first and second bales of cotton of the 1926 crop ginned here. The money was raised by E. B. Black, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and was awarded to G. S. Armstrong, of Castro county, and M. H. Bagwell, of Dawn, Deaf Smith county.

Mr. Armstrong, who lives thirteen miles south of Dimmitt, beat Mr. Bagwell in by just a few minutes and pulled down the $100 premium. Mr. Bagwell attended the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday and expressed his thanks. Mr. Armstrong was highly appreciative of the gift from the town. The list of donors to the cotton fund follows:

HARTMAN NO. 1 AND BARRETT'S "HILL BILLIE NO 1" ARRIVING WITH DERRICK OUTFITS AND CREWS

The first visible evidence of a 1926 oil play in Deaf Smith county occurred on Main Street Wednesday afternoon when five big trucks loaded to the guards with immense derrick timbers, arrived in town from Panhandle, Texas, and spent a couple of hours here parading the streets, having pictures made, and in informing the Hereford public that a big hole was to be punched immediately in the earth out on the Hartman ranch, a few miles west of Hereford, on Section 47, Block K-8. This well is to be known as Hartman No. 1, and has been promoted by John P. Slaton and associates of this place. The drilling contractors are headed by C. C. Julian of California, well known oil operator, and associates, and Judge Slaton says contracts are all signed and the outlook is for a derrick up and a real test immediately.

Thursday afternoon C. H. Barrett's derrick crew, with the big timbers, were scheduled to arrive here about 3:30 o'clock. The caravan had originally been billed for 1:00 o'clock and arrangements made at the Stockman's Cafe to feed a party of sixty-five, but the delay in arrival was caused by the heavy roads and the heavy loads of the outfit. The Hereford Band had been retained to meet the party and parade with it down Main Street.

This second crew is the advance guard for Barrett's Hill No. 1, located on the Cross V Ranch, owned by Mr. Barrett, on Section 93, Block K-4, in the north part of the county.

The acreage for this test has been assembled by Mr. Barrett and Henry Wilkinson, and will be known as the Barrett-Wilkinson Block. Associated with them, and heading the drilling operations will be Vernon Dumas of Los Angeles and Amarillo, one of the largest oil operators in the country. The outfit did not arrive in time for the Brand of this week, but a detailed story of the visit will be given next week.

The Hartman No. 1 outfit was accompanied by J. A. DeGrace, who is connected with the Julians of California; J. E. Morris and Frank Mackey. The latter has drilled wells all over the globe, including some for the British Government in India. Three additional truck loads of timbers and equipment are due here this week. Arch Smith, well known derrick contractor, is to erect the Hartman No. 1 derrick. The crew was in high spirits and enthusiastic over the prospect for finding the "black gold" in Deaf Smith county.

Judge Slaton was highly tickled over beating Mr. Barrett into town with his outfit, and poked a lot of good-natured fun at Mr. Barrett. The latter replied that the race had just started and the question

Mail Delivery Plan Is Being Worked Out

The City Commission of Hereford and the local Chamber of Commerce will mark the streets and number the residences in Hereford, and will meet any other requirements of the Post Office Department in order to obtain free mail delivery in this city. It was decided at a joint meeting Monday night of the City Commissioners and a committee from the local Chamber of Commerce. It was definitely decided to start at once on the marking of the streets and the numbering of the residences and business buildings, and Postmaster J. A. Wear was immediately notified of the action taken.

Local post office receipts for the past year exceeded the requirements for free delivery, and Mr. Wear says it is possible to secure free delivery if other requirements which the inspector will outline are met.

With both the business and residence sections of Hereford developing rapidly, local citizens are very enthusiastic over the prospects for the free delivery in Hereford.

700 GLASSY CALVES FOR CALIFORNIA

A new departure in the local cattle marketing problem was noted this week when 700 head of beautiful little White Face calves were shipped from the local yard to feed lots in the far state of California. Heretofore nearly all of this kind of business has gone to Kansas, Missouri and the corn belt. The shipment is significant in more ways than one and may mean the opening of a new market for the cattlemen of this section.

This purchase was made by O. L. Loveloy, cattle expert who has done considerable experiments feeding for California educational institutions. The calves were supplied by H. G. Conkright and the firm of Ewton & Hunter. The deal was handled for both contracting parties by C. C. Ferguson, local cattle commission man.

These calves were said by those who ought to know to be one of the finest and most uniform lot ever assembled in the local pen. They were extra fancy stuff and surprised even experienced cowmen with their general high class. Mr. Loveloy has scouted all over Arizona, New Mexico and part of Texas in search of such quality, and finally came to headquarters and found it.

New York and St. Louis Battle in World Series Classic

Hereford baseball fans are red hot over the present World Series contest for the championship. Up to Thursday the Yankees and Cardinals had won two games each.

MAIN STREET GOSSIP HAS IT THAT—

Rex Tynes was looking rather glum early Monday morning. Secretary Moss remarked: "Why don't you take a dose of your own dope, Rex?" Rex replied: "My book tells me what to give the other fellow but fails to mention what to TAKE!"

He has been caught several times standing across the street admiring its hang and general makeup.

E. W. Kinney, genial member of the firm of Kinney & Oberthier, drove his truck up through the mud from Plainview this week and was mixing around among his friends. Must be some Delco prospects hereabouts—Mr. Kinney's presence here is a sure indication of something doing.

Dope Given On Wheat Bugs As To Life Habits

Prior to the recent wet weather a worm made its appearance in the wheat fields of this section that was causing a lot of damage and uneasiness among the farmers. Frank Barber, special agent here for the Home Insurance Company, took up the matter with the Kansas State Agricultural College, at Manhattan, Kansas, and has the following reply, which will be of universal interest here:

"In reply to your letter of September 22nd, will say that the insect which you describe is undoubtedly the false wire worm. This is an insect common to the semi-arid regions, and becomes injurious to wheat, especially in dry years. Its principal damage consists of feeding upon the grain between the time of planting and germination. In dry years when the seed may lie in the ground several weeks before sprouting, this insect causes a heavy loss. On the other hand, in wet years when germination is rapid, there is very little trouble from the false wire worms.

The principal control measure practiced in Kansas is to delay planting until there is good prospect for rapid germination. Thus far no satisfactory seed treatment has been found. Trusting this information will be of service to you. Very cordially yours, W. McCOLLARD, Professor of Entomology.

Alton Miller Is Hurt In Motorcycle Crash

Alton Miller, aged 15, son of J. H. Miller of the Texas Utilities Company, suffered serious injuries last Tuesday evening late when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car driven by Mrs. Vern Witherspoon in a traffic jam at the Methodist church corner on Main. The automobile was not damaged to any extent but young Miller had a hip joint thrown out of place and sustained other bruises and cuts about the head and arms.

L. A. Day Purchases Barber Battery Store

Another business change this week, taking place Thursday morning, was the purchase of the Hereford Battery and Electric Station, across the street from the Texas Utilities Company, by L. A. Ray from Frank Barber. Mr. Barber only recently bought the business from Charlie Bennett.

Old Power Plant Had a Heavy Job Sunday

The old Hereford Power & Light plant, which has been seldom used since the Texas Utilities put in its high line, was called upon for extraordinary duty last Sunday, and met the test nobly and without a trouble. The old Hereford plant took over the burden of supplying lights and power for both Hereford and Canyon for part of the day and got away with it nicely.

Paved Highway To Canyon Now Main Problem

Efforts will be made at once to secure the co-operation of Randall county and Canyon in a move to get a paved highway from Hereford to Amarillo. This was a decision reached at a meeting of the directors of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce Monday. The highway committee with E. W. Harrison as chairman, was instructed to start work immediately on this project. The program includes the paving of the South west Trail from Amarillo to Sunmerfield, nine miles southwest of Hereford. This would give paved roads most of the way from here to Tulsa, Oklahoma, and would bring thousands of tourists through Deaf Smith county each year. It would also mean a ready market in Amarillo for fruits, vegetable eggs, sweet milk, and other products produced in the famous Hereford shallow water belt.

Wheat Prospects Are Good For Year 1927

Prospects for the 1927 wheat crop in Deaf Smith county look exceedingly bright at this time. Over three inches of rain have fallen during the past week, which leaves adequate moisture for some time. A large portion of the acreage has already been planted and most of the wheat is up to good stand. A large acreage will be sown to wheat just as soon as the ground dries sufficiently for the farmers to resume work.

CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Baptist Church

W. R. HILL, Pastor

For the past two Sundays there has been rain and mud to prevent normal attendance upon the services at the churches. Many have felt the long of the public religious meetings. It is hoped that all will try to make the most of the coming privileges. What would a community be without its churches and church life? Any one can see that the loyalty of each will make or mar the blessings to the community of religion. The waves of worldliness and immorality need a breakwater and it is conceded, from president down, that the church is the most effective protection. Let's be one of the ones on the right side of this problem. Our young people need the stabilizing influence exerted by religion.

Sunday school meets at 9:45 with A. O. Thompson as superintendent. This meeting is for Bible study and its success depends in a large measure upon the presence of the men and women in the schools.

There is no theory but has been proven abundantly.

Preaching service at 10:45 and lasts one hour. The subject of the sermon will be "A Glorious Prospect."

B. Y. P. U. meetings are all at 7:00 o'clock.

No evening services while the meeting at the Methodist church is in progress. Everybody go to the revival.

A cordial welcome is extended all visitors to worship with us. Come, and welcome.

Methodist Church

J. O. HAYMES, Pastor.

There were 213 in Sunday school last Sunday. The promotion day program was a real success. Fine crowds attended in spite of the mud.

The revival has had a good start, and is developing into what we believe is going to be a far-reaching revival. Brother Bell is giving us some splendid messages. If you are missing these it is your misfortune. Let every member get in line. The church needs your help. We are "saved to serve." Preaching each day at 10:00 and 7:30 o'clock. On Sunday, of course, the morning service will be at 11 o'clock. No Saturday morning service. Prayer meetings for the revival groups at 7 p. m. Everybody invited to all services.

The annual revival meeting is in progress at the First Methodist church. The crowds have been very good and the meeting promises much good for the church and the community. Bro. A. C. Bell of Abilene is doing the preaching, and his messages are being received with high appreciation. Rev. Bell has served pastorates in New Mexico and Central Texas, including Portales and Carlsbad, N. M., and Weatherford Street, Fort Worth, and McGregor, Texas. The meeting will continue through next week.

First Presbyterian Church

JAS. T. BOSS, Pastor.

"Stewardship—the Fact, Its Meaning, and Its Implications," will be the subject of the pastor's message next Sunday morning. What is your conception of life? What your place in the economy of God? Do you know what is your sphere of duty and privilege? If so, are you filling that place, or is there a large margin between you and its circumference? In other words, what are you doing with your life? Perhaps the message will help you to discover your better self and also help you to live life to the full. Come and see.

No evening preaching service on account of the special evangelistic services at the Methodist church, and our people are urged to attend those services.

Senior Endeavor will meet at 6:30 p. m., at First Christian church. No week-day activities during the coming week if evangelistic services continue at the Methodist church, except the Women's Missionary Society which will meet on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m.

"If ye... be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs." Where will you be next Sunday if you obey this scripture? We bid you a happy welcome to the services at this church.

The Sunday School Lesson.

BY REV. W. R. HILL, Pastor Baptist Church.

Subject: The Reports of the Spies. Lesson Passage Num. 13:14-45. 23. And they came unto the valley of Eshcol, and cut down from thence a branch with one cluster of grapes and they bare it upon a staff between two; they brought also of the pomegranates, and of the figs. 24. That place was called the valley of Eshcol, because of the cluster which the children of Israel cut down from thence. 24. And they returned from spying out the land at the end of forty days. 26. And they went and came to Moses, and to Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Israel, unto the wilderness of Paran, to Kadesh; and brought back word unto them, and unto all the congregation, and showed them the fruit of the land. 27. And they told him, and said, We came unto the land whither thou sentest us; and surely it floweth with milk and honey, and this is the fruit of it. 28. Howbeit the cities are fortified, and very great, and moreover we saw the children of Anak there. 29. Amalek dwelleth in the land of the South; and the Hittite and the Jebusite, and the Amorite dwell in the hill country; and the Canaanite dwelleth by the sea, and along by the side of the Jordan.

30. And Caleb stilled the people before Moses, and said, Let us go up at once and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it. 31. But the men that went up with him said, We are not able to go up against the people, for they are stronger than we. 32. And they brought up an evil report of the land which they had spied out unto the children of Israel, saying, The land through which we have gone to spy it out, is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof; and all the people that we saw in it are men of great stature. 33. And there we saw the Nephilim, the sons of Anak, who come of the Nephilim; and we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.—Num. 14:23-33.

Golden Text: We are well able to overcome it. Num. 13:30.

Here is Joshua's immortal assertion of courage in the face of overwhelming difficulties. A courage not produced by circumstances but by faith in God. True he had confidence in the abilities of his fellows. They were somebody, even though they likened themselves to grasshoppers. It pays to have faith in ones self and in God.

Explanatory Notes.

Under the lead of Moses and associates, and after various trials, hardships and murmuring the people of Israel reached Kadesh. This was an oasis in the wilderness of Paran some fifty miles south of Beersheba in Canaan and a suitable place for encamping. Here under the direction of God Moses sent out 12 scouts, one from each tribe to make a survey of the Land of Promise. They made the expedition, and on the return trip they came into the valley of Eshcol, etc. The word means "a cluster" and the place was so named in honor of this event. Because of the size of the specimen and to keep from bruising it the big bunch of grapes was suspended from a pole and carried by two men. Other fruits were brought as samples of the productions of the land. And they returned at the end of forty days. This shows that they made a very thorough survey. All the details are not given, but they went thru the whole land. It is not to be supposed they went in a body, but more secretly so as to avoid arrest as spies. They probably divided the land among themselves, and made a thorough search. It floweth with milk and honey. A figurative and eloquent saying to describe the wonderful productiveness of the land in these two and of course other articles of food. Howbeit, or simply "but" "on the other hand." The dark and discouraging side must be considered. The people that dwell in the land are strong. Here was the chief point. The land was well guarded and there were great and fortified cities. We saw the children of Anak. This was a race or species of giants. They are further described as Nephilim, or giants. The only other mention of these is in Genesis 6:4, an obscure name of men of great stature and prowess in ancient times. Perhaps there is some faint and perverted memory of these in the myths of the supposed Dark Age before recorded history. Both terms are used by the spies to tell of these formidable sort of man. Amalek dwelleth in the land of the south, etc. Here five of the seven great and fierce nations who inhabited the land are mentioned and their localities pointed out. The Amalekites had already fought with Israel. Among the others the Hittites were perhaps the strongest and most powerful. Caleb stilled the people, etc. The disheartening report had evidently produced a panic and a hubbub among the people. Let us go up at once, Caleb clearly saw that prompt action alone could save the situation. He was sure that with the help of God they could overcome it. But his effort provoked opposition. A land that eateth up the inhabitants. A foolish exaggeration to awaken further fear. What they meant is not clear. Possibly earthquakes or famine or fighting. We were... as grasshoppers. This is how fear works. They underestimated their own strength. Perhaps they met a giant or two who disparaged them because they were smaller in size than themselves. The shameful and unworthy sequel is described in chapter 14, which should be read in preparation and briefly considered in class.—From Daragan.

Reflections. Here, more than at any other time or place in her history, Israel faced her greatest opportunity. The time had now come for decision. The wrong decision would mean national calamity and individual loss to every responsible person. One of our greatest poets penned this familiar line in view of such a situation as this at Kadesh-barnes:

There is a tide in the affairs of men, Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune. Omitted, all the voyage of their life Is bound in shallows and in miseries.

Israel's recent history should have convinced them that success would crown their efforts in every thing into which He plainly led them. The sending of spies was the first step in the tragic downfall of Israel at Kadesh-barnes. It came out of fear and was in implicit unbelief. God's plan, given by Moses was, The Lord thy God hath set the land before thee; go up and possess it, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath said unto thee. Also, Ye came near unto me every one of you and said, We will send men before us, and they shall search us out the land, etc. Like so many of us today they wanted to see rather than hear and hearken to God's instructions. So subtle was the plan that Moses was carried away with it, but it wasn't God's way of doing it, and so it was a failure.

Were the difficulties insurmountable? Humbly speaking they were not, except for the attitude of fear which the people took. Fear prevailed and success was impossible. They were now a mighty host. They had been tried and trained in many different ways. For months they had been on the march and were laured to action. Moses and Joshua were competent leaders for any undertaking. Then the enthusiasm of accomplishing what had been promised to the founders of their race and the fulfillment now long delayed, should have made them invincible even under very great odds. It was not an impossible task but for their unbelief.

They added to their helplessness by reason of fear, the great sin of rejecting the leaders God had appointed over them. They wanted to do what they wanted to do. They said, Let us make a captain and let us return into Egypt. It was rebellion against God and rebellion in His sight. The occasion furnished the opportunity for Caleb and Joshua to prove their greatness in one of the greatest deliverances of the entire Bible. And they spake unto all the company of the children of Israel, saying The land which we passed through to search it, is an exceeding good land. If the Lord delight in us, then He will bring us into this land and give it us; a land which floweth with milk and honey. Only rebel ye not against the Lord, neither fear ye the people of the land, for they are bread for us; their defense is departed from them, and the Lord is with us; fear them not. The people were determined and heard with stubborn ears, and even resented the heroic admonitions. But all the congregation made stone them with stones. For this great sin God would have immediately destroyed them all but for the fervent and unselfish prayer and appeal of Moses in their behalf.

Some Practical Deductions.

Folks generally are mighty hard to please. They don't like God's plans, and charge the leaders with the difficulties. It is an egregious mistake to halt because of difficulties and hardships in the way. God's plan will be carried out if He has to kill a lot of folks. Some mistakes may last in their results for a whole generation. But for God's glory and the prayers of His people many averted calamities would overtake the people.

THE GARDNER B. Y. P. U.

We are planning to have an extra good program Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The high school orchestra and the girls' glee club will assist in the program. The subject for the evening is "Gratitude." It will be delivered in the form of a play and the characters are Lula Connell, Marlin Gilliland, George Smith, Earline Daniels and Aubrey Daniels. All of the young people of the town are urged to be present.

To The Voters of Deaf Smith County:

We, the undersigned candidates for office on the Republican ticket, beg leave to submit the following statement to the voters of Deaf Smith County:

FIRST—Many are puzzled to know just how the ballot will be printed in the coming election, and whether or not it will be legal to vote a mixed ticket. In order to set you right on these matters we quote the law as amended in Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, which reads as follows: (Article 2980) The tickets of each political party shall be placed or printed on one ballot, arranged side by side in columns separated by a parallel rule; at the head of each ticket shall be printed the name of the party.

(Art. 2981) When a voter desires to vote a ticket straight, he shall run a pencil or pen through all other tickets on the official ballot, making a distinct marked line through such ticket not intended to be voted; and when he shall desire to vote a mixed ticket he shall do so by running a line through the names of such candidates as he shall desire to vote against in the ticket he is voting, and by writing the names of the candidates for whom he desires to vote in the blank column and in the space provided for such office; same to be written with black ink or pencil, unless the names of the candidates for which he desires to vote appear on the ballot, in which event he shall leave the name not scratched.

SECOND—The pledge printed at top of ballot in primary elections is illegal, and politically immoral. We therefore urge all voters to disregard this supposed pledge and to vote for the candidate they think best fitted for the office, regardless of party.

THIRD—We think the sooner Texas slides over into the doubtful column politically the better off the state will be in every respect. This statement will bear close investigation and we urge every voter to give it serious thought.

FOURTH—We insist that all county officers devote their undivided time to the duties of the office to which they are elected.

FIFTH—We urge all voters to go to the polls on election day and exercise their rights of citizenship; laying aside all prejudices and to vote for their own best interests, regardless of politics or anything else. We solicit your vote and promise, if elected, to render good, faithful, and efficient service.

AESOP'S FABLES

THE SWAN AND THE GOOSE

A certain rich man bought in the market a Goose and a Swan. He fed the one for his table, and kept the other for the sake of its song. When the time came for killing the Goose, the cook went to take him at night, when it was dark, and he was not able to distinguish one bird from the other, and he caught the Swan instead of the Goose. The Swan threatened with death, burst forth into song, and thus made himself known by his voice and preserved his life by his melody.

Edward Brigham Gave a Splendid Entertainment

A program of unusual dramatic interest was presented in the high school auditorium Friday evening, October 1. Mr. Edward Brigham, of New York City, an artist of very great ability, delighted his audience with his varied and well selected program.

Especially effective was Mr. Brigham's rendering of "King Robert of Sicily," by Longfellow, and "The Erie King," by Schubert. The latter was made more effective by the word, pulsating music which pictured to the listener the frenzied rider attempting to escape the "Erie King," to see whom signified death, and escaping only to find at home his child—dead.

"The Uncle," a recitation with music, was rendered in the version used by the famous English actor, Sir Henry Irving and set to music by Sir Julius Benedict.

The other numbers on the program were representative ones selected from Scotch, German, English, Italian and American writers, and were well received by the audience. At the conclusion of the program, Mr. Brigham rendered by request the "Song of the Volga Boatman."

The attention given the visiting artist attested his unusual ability, and the program given by him can well be placed among the choicest ones Hereford has enjoyed in recent years.—The White Face.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

SELECTIVE AFFECTION BEST.

The old dispute between true love and any other kind of love dates back as far as Wagner's operas and further.

Lord Lytton said something somewhere to the effect that if a man truly loves a woman all other women are slightly distasteful to him.

There are two kinds of love in the world—selective affection, and the other kind.

They can be distinguished as much as anything else, by their associates.

Selective affection is the companion of all the virtues. It goes with honesty, honor, loyalty, and every commendable characteristic.

That affection that is felt for just anybody is a law breaker. It makes nothing but trouble.

Of course the greater includes the less, and selective affection may include all manner of desires.

But there is something characteristic of true love that is essentially different from any old sort of love.

It is true love, that inspires and actuates the greatest achievements, not miscellaneous attractions.

The human race has experimented a great many hundred years with various kinds of affinities, and it is selective affinity that has stood the test.

It is that which every young man or woman feels with the advent of the right mate. There is something about it that excludes all other affections.

It is not enough to ask yourself whether you are affectionate or not. It is also necessary to inquire of yourself whether this affection is confined to one person. It is not any sort of love that is the basis of the right marriage, but it is loyal love, and the more loyal one is, the greater his love becomes.

There is the same difference between true love and other kinds of love that there is between a flower and weeds. One is a cultivated plant, and it is that for which the garden was made. The other is an interloper and does nothing but drain our resources. One is an inspiration constantly, but the other does nothing but leave us bankrupt of desire.

ABBIE BEN ADAMS.

(Adapted)

Abbie Ben Adams, may her life be spared. Awoke one night and felt a trifle scared. For on her shirtwaist box, cross-legged sat,

A Vision writing on a little slate. Exceeding nervousness made Abbie quake.

And to the Vision timidly she spake: "What writest thou?" The Vision looked appalled.

At the presumption, and quite coldly drawled:

"The list of our best people who depart For watering places, sumptuous and smart."

"And am I in it?" asked Miss Abbie.

"No!" the scornful Vision said,

"you are poor, you know." "I know," said Abbie, "I go where it is cheap.

"I can't afford mountains of prices steep. But just jot down before you fade— I never leave my Sundays due unpaid."

The Vision wrote and vanished. Next night late

He came again and brought his little slate

And showed the names of people really best—

And, Lo! Miss Abbie's name led all the rest.

Herford High Even Wallop- ed Clovis, 7-0

At 1927. The line held the backfield did nothing in the way of real play. The lone score resulted from the fact that a Clovis player lost his temper and a Herford man. The game in the second quarter a Herford punt had all on the Clovis 23 yard line. Earl Wood, who, by a splendid young reflex, the visitors 15 yards offensive, putting the ball Clovis 8 yard line. At to punt behind his own the Clovis fullback was and smeared the play, the line across into the far corner of the field. Here Russell pulled the unex- pected instead of plunging end for a touchdown her side of the field, and of goal.

Second Quarter.
Kicked off to Herford's line and Barrett snaked to the 45 yard line; Russell 6 in a try at left end; made 3 through left tackle scraped another 3 off yard line. The visitors returned the punt, Jessunning it back 20 before Russell on the Clovis 40 yard line. Russell annexed 5 around right end; time out, Herford conference. When play resumed Thompson smashed left guard for 4 and then left tackle for 1, making first down. Russell took 1 at right tackle and Barrett 3 at left end. Barrett then passed 7 yards to Russell across left end; Barrett was stopped at left guard for no gain; Russell made 3 at left end on a fake; Thompson toted the ball 1 through center; fourth down and six yards to go. Russell's kick was blocked, but a Clovis man was offside and a penalty of 5 yards resulted. Barrett hit left guard for a short gain, but when measured it was not enough and the ball went over to Clovis. The visitors again elected to kick on right down and Russell brought it back to the Clovis 42 yard line. Russell then went through left tackle for 2, Barrett, left end 7, Barrett, left tackle no gain. Thompson made it first down through center. Russell, right end 2, Barrett left end 3. Time.

Score, Herford 0, Clovis 0.

Second Quarter.
Ball on the Clovis 22 yard line Russell failed to gain at right guard; Thompson made 1 at left tackle, and Clovis took the ball. For the first time the visitors started their backfield to work. They gained 1 at right guard; Eberle stopped the next play for no gain. During the melee a Clovis man lost his temper and slugged one of the Herford boys. Whereupon Referee Earl Wood promptly soaked them for a penalty of 15 yards, putting the ball on their 8 yard line. Standing behind his own goal line the Clovis fullback attempted to punt out of danger, but was rushed so fast he fozzled the punt, rolling it along the ground at the right. The ball had "English" on it and curved around the end line, finally resting in the extreme northwest corner of the field, just two yards from either chalk mark.

With the players bunched up in the corner and the ball only two yards away from goal, Captain Russell pulled a clever play. The visitors naturally expected a plunge at this close range. Instead Russell raced clean across the field to the opposite corner, where he went over and then kicked goal.

Score, Herford 7, Clovis 0.

Herford kicked off and Clovis put the ball in play on their 40 yard line. They took 9 around left end, 2 at right tackle, 5 on a fake through center, and then completed a pass for 4. They fumbled on the next play and lost 5 yards; a 1 yard gain at left end was not enough and they lost the ball.

Herford took the ball on the 38 yard line. Russell picked his way through center for 7, Barrett failed at left tackle; Russell made first down at right tackle; Barrett made 2 at left tackle; Thompson 1, left tackle; Barrett lost 2 left tackle. Russell punted across the goal line and Clovis brought back inside 11 yards. They punted 40 yards out of bounds.

A pass, Russell to Barrett, gained 12 yards; Barrett failed to gain at left end, time up.

Score, Herford 7, Clovis 0.

Third Quarter.
Herford kicked off and Clovis put ball in play on their 33 yard line. They took 2 at right tackle; Witherspoon stopped them at right end after a gain of 5; they were run out of bounds on this play;

Thompson ruined their next play, which cost them 2; they fumbled and a Herford man fell on the ball, but lost it because a White-face player was off side. Clovis punted and it was Herford's ball on the 48 yard line; Barrett took 3 at left end; Russell failed at right end; Thompson gained slightly at center; Russell punted and Clovis had the ball on their 25 yard line. They hit right tackle for 2, failed on a pass and punted out of bounds. Herford's ball on the Clovis 33 yard line. Barrett's sore hand caused him to fumble on a play at left end and Clovis recovered. They gained 2 at left guard and 1 at left tackle. On the next play Wilson broke thru and tackled the runner behind the line, but failed to hold him. Clovis punted and Herford's ball on their 39 yard line. Russell went around right end for 2, and then Thompson rammed thru right tackle for 12. Thompson took 3 at right tackle and 2 at left tackle; a pass failed. Fourth down and 5 yards to go. Russell punted and it was Clovis' ball on their 15 yard line. They returned the punt. Herford's ball on the Clovis 42 yard line. Russell made 1 at right tackle. Time up.

Score, Herford 7, Clovis 0.

Fourth Quarter.
Second down, 9 to go. Thompson made 1 at center, and 4 at right guard. Barrett made it first down, 30 yard line. Barrett, left end 3, Thompson, center, no gain; pass, Russell to Barrett, good for 6; Thompson, center, 1 and first down. (Clovis penalized 5 for off side). Barrett, left end 1; Russell, right end 1. Russell's kick was partly blocked, and it was Clovis' ball on their 18 yard line. A long forward pass failed; they were held without gain at left tackle; gained 1 at left end, and completed a pass for 10. They punted out of bounds. Herford's ball on the 8 yard line. Murphy goes in the backfield instead of Thompson, who was shifted to tackle. Gilbreath coming out, Russell made 3 at right tackle, Barrett 3 at left tackle, Murphy 9 through right guard; Clovis penalized 5 for off side; Murphy rushed right tackle for 6; Herford fumbled and Clovis took ball on the 50 yard line. A Clovis pass was knocked down; they failed to gain at right end; they fumbled without gain on the next play. Whistle.

Referee, Earl Wood; Umpire, C. C. Acker.

Final Score, Herford 7, Clovis 0.

and two continuous streams of bees pass one another, one stream weighed down with pollen and honey and the other going out empty. It is a remarkable fact that soon after the installation of the hive each line adhered to the right, indicating that traffic regulations have already been established. The hive, which was presented to the Smithsonian by two prominent manufacturers of bee-keeping supplies, is large enough to hold 20 of the standard frames used in commercial honey production. Every activity of the bees, except those of the breeding combs, can be seen by the public. The long glass tunnel enables the visitor to see the incoming workers or to see the pollen baskets on their hind legs puffed out to bursting point. Occasionally an incoming bee laden with honey will meet an outgoing bee who is hungry, whereupon the former pumps honey out of its stomach carrier to feed the hungry comrade.

Bees Acrate Hive. Within two minutes after the tunnel was opened to the outdoors, the "undertaker" squad got busy and carried out the dead bees. They not only got them clear of the hive and the tunnel, but carried them a good distance away before leaving them. Still others began the work of aerating the hive and a constantly changing detachment of 10 or 12 workers keep up this task. They perform this by standing at the mouth of the hive and fanning their wings with incredible rapidity, thus creating a current of air powerful enough to blow away particles of wax and other debris. Within the hive itself thousands can be seen feeding the young, depositing honey, making wax, or themselves eating. In short, the exhibit presents an example of one of the most perfect communal organizations known to nature. Mr. F. L. Lewton, who is in charge of the exhibit, hopes to keep it permanently at the institution. The main difficulty with keeping bees under semi-artificial conditions has always been a problem of heat. It is probable that in the winter months of sugared water will have to be given the bees to prevent starvation.

He'll Do. Dr. Olegood was the new pastor at Grandma's church. After his third sermon she bobbed forward to shake his hand. "I'm sure glad to have you as my pastor, doctor," she beamed. "Thank you, madam," replied Dr. Olegood. "I was afraid I would have trouble filling the place of my popular predecessor." "That's just it, Doctor. It used to be I had to come an hour early to get a seat. Now I can be thirty minutes late and still sit anywhere I wish."

Ford Doings
A lot of rain has fallen lately, which makes the wheat farmers feel good. Wheat is now looking fine. A few of the faithful came to Sunday school Sunday afternoon, although the roads were nearly impassable. Everyone in this community is urged to be present next Sunday as it is the last Sunday Rev. E. Hill, of Vega, will be here before conference, and it is likely to be his last sermon as he has been here two years. T. E. Major made a business trip to Amarillo Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morel have a new lighting system installed in their home now. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Orr spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whitsett. Mr. and Mrs. Fielding Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Starns spent Sunday afternoon in the R. H. Parker home. Mr. and Mrs. Andy Thomas enjoyed a radio program at the Hardy Benson home last Tuesday night.

Bees In Glass Hive Shown At Work In Smithsonian Exhibit
Incoming and Outgoing Lines of Insects Keep to Right; Home Aerated by Fanning Squad.
The Smithsonian Institution in a statement made public September 28 described activities in the observation beehive recently installed in the National Museum, which reveal that honey bees "follow traffic regulations."
The full text of the statement follows:
The uncannily intelligent communal activity of the honey bees can now be seen in its inmost details at the Smithsonian Institution. A colony of three-banded Italian bees, about 40,000 strong, has been installed in a glass observation hive in the Old National Museum Building. The bees were loaned by the Bee-Culture Laboratory at Somerset, Md. The hive is in full working order.
Tunnel Leads to Outdoors.
A 12-foot glass tunnel leads through a window to the outdoors.
