Hereford State Bank Sells; Hodges to Remain

Controlling interest of the Hereford State Bank was sold effective Wednesday to Harlan D. Vander Zee, of Tulla, Texas and Jeff R. Carver, a member of the National Bank Examiners force in Albuquerque, N. Mex., according to Russell E. Carver, president of the local institution.

Vander Zee, who will be moving to Hereford, has assumed duties of President and Director of the bank replacing Carver. Joel A. Hodges will remain as Executive Vice President and Director. Other directors continuing to serve on the board will be J. R. Allison, O. L. Bybee, R. E. Carver, Howard Gault and W. N. Hodges. H. S. Wilbur of Canadian, Chairman of the board, has resigned in that capacity.

All other officers and employees will remain unchanged. "Vander Zee will be a credit to both the bank and the community," Carver told the Brand Wednesday. "He comes to Hereford well recommended, with a background in both farm and ranch loans and will contribute greatly to the services provided by the bank."

Vander Zee has been associated with the First National Bank of Tulla, Texas since 1962. He is Vice President of that bank and a director in the Kress National Bank, Kress, Texas. He presently is serving as Vice Pres. of the Board of the Tulla Independent School District and is a member and past president of the Tulla Rotary Club.

Harlan Vander Zee assumes presidency

He has served as Director of the Tulla Chamber of Commerce.

Vander Zee and his wife, Donna, have two sons, Dan 11, and Dirk, 8 years of age. They presently are members of the First Baptist Church of Tulla, and both have taken an active part in civic and community welfare. Vander Zee states that Hereford is one of the most progressive cities in the Panhandle area and that he is looking forward to the opportunity of being a part of this town and this area. "Present policies of the bank will be continued," Vander Zee, said. "It is with much admiration for the bank officers, directors and employees that I come to join and be president of the Hereford State Bank. He will assume his duties immediately and will be moving his family to Hereford as soon as arrangements can be made.

Carver, who has retained a portion of stock in the bank, told the Brand Wednesday that he would remain with the bank indefinitely. He has been associated with the bank, and has been president of the organization for the past eight years. He said that he had no immediate plans other than to assist the new owners get established and acquainted in Hereford.

"My family and I like Hereford, and at this time we have no definite plans to leave," he said.

Hodges, who will remain as Executive Vice-President has been associated with the bank for the past 12 years.

Whiteface Teams In District Play

District competition in three different sports will be held Friday and Saturday as Hereford High School athletes shoot for the top at Dumas and Canyon.

The Whiteface baseball team will begin District 1-AAA warfare with a game against the Canyon Eagles at 4 p.m. Winners of five straight games, the baseballers are sporting a 9-7 won-lost record, with two of the losses being attributed to the "B" team.

In Dumas, Saturday, the Whitefaces track and golf teams will be competing for district crowns. Activity in both sports will begin about 9:30 a. m.

Fresh from a strong, second-place finish in the Borger Relays, the Whiteface track team is expected to battle Dumas tooth and nail for the crown. Coach Joe Brooks said "we're not going to just look good. We're going all out to win the meet. The boys set a goal earlier this week and are working extra hard to be ready."

Brooks said the Dumas Demons would be tough because "they've been in nothing but real good meets. We pretty well know what their first place men can do, but we're not sure of the second and third men running in the events."

Brooks added that "weather conditions haven't been ideal this week, but our times for the most part are better." Preliminaries in the running events and finals in the field events will begin about 10:30 a. m. Saturday and finals in the running events will begin at 2 p. m.

The Whitefaces totaled 99 and one-third points to finish behind host Borger last Saturday. In doing so, they beat out two class AAAA teams and three District 1-AAA members — Tulla, Perryton and Canyon.

Gary Goodin took victories in the high hurdles and 330-yard Intermediate Hurdles and ran a leg on the 440-yard relay team which finished third. Roger Suttle tied for first in the pole vault as he cleared 13 feet.

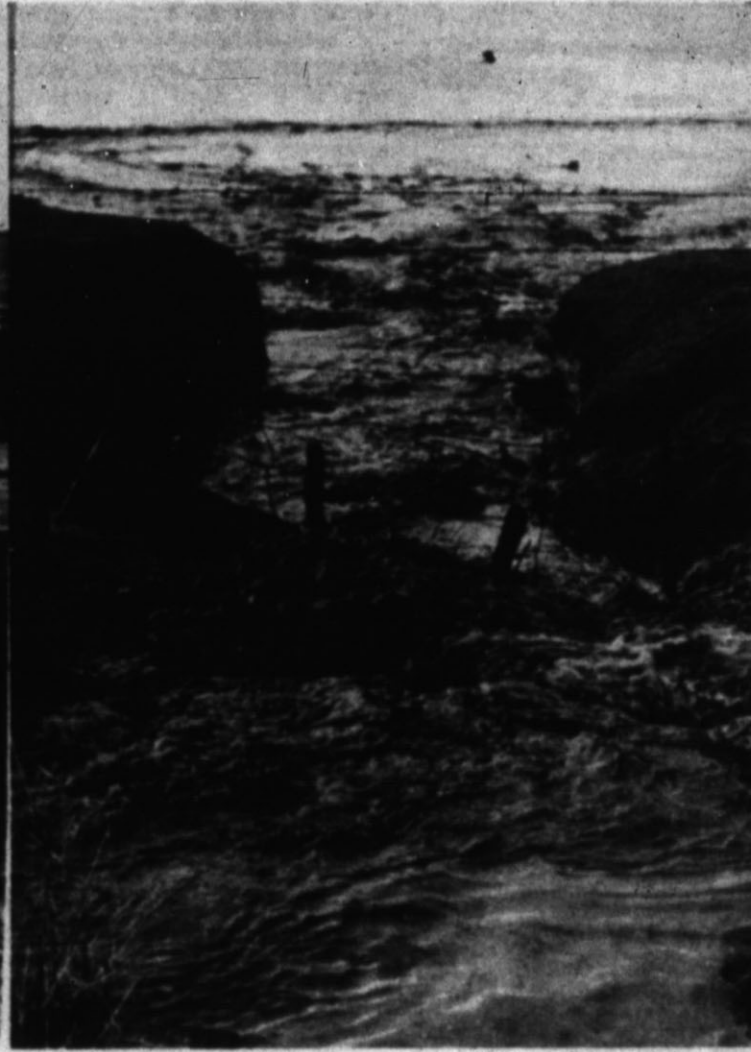

Bobby Burwick and Ronnie Jones finished second and third, respectively, in the 880-yard run; Jim Chiders won fifth in the high hurdles, fourth in the broad jump and tied for sixth in the high jump; Ricky Fangman and Bob Gentry, second and sixth, respectively, in the discus; Charlie Inman won third in the mile run, and the mile relay team finished third.

Brooks said the 440-yard relay team will be composed of Gene Duvall, Billy Frank, Burwick and Goodin, while the mile relay team will have Larry Champ, Jones, Frank and Burwick.

AFTER TORRENTIAL RAINS — Water flows from fields and into a bar ditch approximately 8 miles east of Milo Center following torrential rains in that area Tuesday evening.

General rains fell all over the county, but heaviest rainfall was in the Dawn - Wildorado area. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Water standing in fields, dry river beds running, stock tanks holding large amounts of water and farmers smiling over the prospects of more of the same.

That was the picture following the Tuesday night rains which ranged in amounts from

.50 to more than 3.5 over the area.

The storm slammed into the city shortly after 6 p. m. with strong winds, blinding rain and large amounts of marble-sized hail. Traffic was brought to a near stand-still as the rain pounded Hereford for more than 30 minutes. Water ran across numerous streets in the city as an official .90 fell.

At least two tornadoes were spotted just west of Hereford about 5:30 p. m.

Highway Patrolmen and members of the Citizen Band Radio Club, who kept watchful eyes toward the skies, spotted the funnels in the Westway community vicinity and said at one time the clouds appeared to be no more than 200 feet over U. S. 385 north of Hereford.

Mrs. Herb Schmidt, said one inch of moisture fell on one farm 15 miles west of Hereford and 3.5 fell on two farms three miles north and one mile east of Westway. The 3.5 inches fell in about 20 minutes, Mrs. Schmidt said she was told.

"We had about 30 acres under water and the water was over the highways," she added. There was some hail with the rain.

Only .50 fell on the Leo Witkowski farm southeast of Hereford, and Mrs. Witkowski said "We'll welcome more."

Mrs. Bill Ellis of Hereford said one inch was measured on an Ellis farm 2 1/2 miles west of Hereford and 2.1 on another farm 12 1/2 miles northeast of the city. She reported a lot of wind and some hail.

"It probably didn't hurt the wheat," she stated, "but the sugar beets are small and tender and it could have hurt them."

Hail covered the ground at one time at the home of Mrs. C. L. McBroom of Wildorado, where about two inches of moisture was recorded. "The draws are full and water is every-

Potato Growers Hear Speaker

Plans to launch a nation-wide promotional program to sell more potatoes were introduced to over 45 interested persons at a meeting Monday night at the Community Center here.

The group, made up of potato growers, fertilizer, chemical and implement dealers from this area, gathered to hear Doyle Burns, executive director of the National Potato Council in Washington, D.C., speak on how the council plans to promote the consumption of potatoes

Jury Indicts Nineteen In Two-Day Session

A Deaf Smith County Grand Jury returned indictments against 19 persons Tuesday afternoon, ending a two-day session.

Included in the indictments was Pablo Estrada Castanada, charged with rape, and three Amarillo persons charged in connection with the Feb. 5 burning of Butcher Boy Market, 801 W. 1.

Continuance of the hearing on the charge against Castanada had been set for Monday morning, but a witness for the prosecution remained ill and the case was turned over to the grand jury. The witnesses' statement was read to the grand jury. Castanada is charged with the rape of a 5-year-old girl.

Charged with conspiracy by arson were Edward Wesley Hartsfield and Joe Floyd Umsted. Floyd Roy Lebow, 17 who is still in an Amarillo hospital, was charged with arson. All from Amarillo, the three are charged in connection with the fire at Butcher Boy Market, which is owned by Hartsfield.

nation-wide. "The consumption of potatoes has decreased rapidly during the past few years and if the trend keeps on, the potato grower and others involved in the product will soon be suffering greatly," Burns explained.

In a film which was shown during the meeting, it was pointed out that in 1936, a person consumed an average of 142 pounds of potatoes per year. In 1960, the figure dropped to only 106 pounds and in 1966, the amount was only 65 pounds per year.

One of the main competitors that the potato grower faces is the rice companies. The rice product is slowly taking the place of the potato in the American menu, it was pointed out.

One factor which contributes greatly to this is the advertising of the rice which is done

CHARGED

William Walker of 365 Barrett has been charged with contributing to a minor by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office.

Officers said Highway Patrol had stopped two 17-year-old Dimmitt boys Friday night and found three, six-packs of beer. The youths told officers they had bought the beer from Walker and led authorities back to the residence on Barrett.

PONY LEAGUE
The 1967 Pony League baseball season will be discussed in detail during a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the Boy Scout room of the Hereford Community Center.
All fathers of boys aged 13 or 14 have been urged to attend the meeting by Pony League president Don McNeese.

TO COMPETE
John David Bryant and Butch Walterscheid of Hereford will be playing in the annual Alumni-Varsity Football game at West Texas State University at 8 p. m. today.
Bryant will be playing for the sixth year in the annual game.

NEW BOARD MEMBERS TAKE OATH — Raymond White, center, incumbent member returning to the board and Ed Loerwald, right, elected for the first time last week were administered the oath of office Tuesday night by B. F. Cain. The ceremony took place during the regular meeting of the Hereford Independent School Board of Trustees' meeting. Cain is a former board member. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Class AAAA Bands Compete Today

Class AAAA high school bands will be competing today in the University Interscholastic League Band Contest, with Amarillo High School beginning at 8:30 a. m.

Class AAA bands finished competition late Wednesday afternoon but results were not available at press time. Hereford High School was seeking a fifth consecutive Sweepstakes Award.

Bands are being recognized in three fields — marching, concert and sight reading. Marching competition was held during the summer months and the other categories are being judged during the contest here.

The Event Award is presented for a 1 rating in either concert or sight reading, if the band is not qualified for the Sweepstakes Award. The Marching Award is for a first division in marching, if not qualified for Sweepstakes. The Special Award is for first division in sight reading and concert, if not qualified for Marching Award.

BULLETIN

The Hereford High School Band was chosen as winner of the Sweepstakes Award in competition Wednesday — the fifth consecutive for the group.

It had been feared that being the first to play Wednesday morning would hurt the Whitefaces' chances, but judges left little doubt who they favored as they gave the locals ratings of 1 in sight reading and concert. Band director Ben Gollehon had nothing but praise for his students Wednesday afternoon.

Clearman New Board President

Hugh Clearman was elected president of the school board for the Hereford Independent School District during a Tuesday night meeting which also saw trustees: ... set up a new driver education schedule for eighth and ninth graders. ... approve an accelerated program in English for outstanding high school students. ... make final application for state funds. ... approve resignations of 18 instructors. ... approve hiring of 11 new instructors. ... hear reports on the schools building program, enrollment, taxes and the Educational Service Center.

Clearman, who is entering his fifth year on the board, was elected by acclamation. Elected in the same manner were Olin Parris, vice president, and Dr. A. T. Mims, secretary. Clearman replaces Labry Ballard as president. Ballard, who did not win reelection to the board, was presented a framed certificate from the board commending him for six years service as a trustee. Board member Bill Gentry made the presentation.

Before election of new officers County Clerk B. F. Cain gave the oath of office to Raymond White and Ed Loerwald, winners in the April 1 election. White is serving his second, three-year term. Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. explained to board members that accreditation on driver education has been changed so that eighth-grade students cannot take the course until they are certified ninth graders.

Clark said eighth graders in the past have been able to take the lecture part of the course during the last part of their final year in junior high and then take the driving portion during the summer. Now, he said, the lectures will be open only to the ninth graders during the last six weeks and the eighth graders will have to wait until school begins again to take it. This summer, the driving lessons will be open to both eighth and ninth graders.

"This delay's the driving of the younger student for nearly a year," said Clark. He told board members he had talked with state education members while in Austin recently and asked them to make Hereford an exception because of the convenience to rural parents, but his plea had been turned down.

Clark then presented his recommendation for the English program, which he said also will lead to such programs in junior high. As explained, students making all As and Bs will be recommended for the program by their instructors.

The students then can take English I in the 9th grade, English III in the 10th grade and English IV in the 11th grade. The student then will take a course in the 12th grade patterned on the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. Clark told the board that most colleges will accept the 12th grade course as being equivalent that "potatoes are generally thought about as a fattening food item. The truth is, the potato has less calories than most other foods and is much more nutritious."

INDIANS? — Yes, but not the kind that are on the warpath. Seven members of the Crow Tribe arrived Wednesday to Hereford to view the feeding operations in this county. They came from the Crow Indian Reservation in Montana as guests of Paul Engler, former resident of Hereford. The five pictured above were the first to arrive and are from left to right: James Big Lake, Administrative Aid of the Crow Tribal Council; Folyd Real Bird, Executive Committee member; Edison Real Bird, Chairman (Chief) of the Crow Tribal Council of the county. LOW HANGING CLOUDS — Ominous, low hanging clouds were the cause of much worry for a brief period Tuesday afternoon as Hereford and surrounding area got another beneficial rain. Tornadoes were spotted west of Hereford and a Highway Patrolman said that at one time the clouds just north of the city appeared to be only about 200 feet over U.S. 385. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Potato...

(Continued from Page 1) on a continuous nation-wide basis. One rice company will spend some four million dollars this year on promoting their product and many others will also spend a great amount, although it will be less than that. The National Potato Council plans to spend some $75,000 this year to promote potatoes in the their first campaign. Later, the figure will be set at about $1,500,000 for one year because the nation-wide promotion will be launched on television, radio, magazines, newspapers and other media. The promoting will be headed by a group affiliated with the council.

The National Potato Council is a non-profit organization made up of volunteer workers, potato growers of the nation. Funds needed for the promotion will be raised from all growers in the country who belong to the council.

A service which the council offers its members is that of briefly reviewing the day's activity at the potato market. The information is condensed into a 3-minute program in a tape recorder and is read over the phone when a person calls to the Washington office.

The calls may be made station to station and the number is Area Code 202 737-1311. The only charge to the grower for this service is the expense of the call. Calls may be made at any time day or night but the new information of the previous day starts at about 9 a. m. (CST).

An interesting figure which Burns quoted was the difference in the number of farmers this year compared to 75 years ago. At that time, 90% of the people in this country were engaged in agriculture and now, less than 7% of the population are farmers.

The purpose of the council is to provide potato growers from all over the country with a spokesman. Information from all of the states which deal with potato growing will be at the national office so as to inform any interested buyer.

ELEMENTARY TRACK MEET — Whiteface Stadium will be the site Saturday for an elementary school track meet for Hereford schools.

Preliminaries in the different events will begin after noon Saturday and finals will begin at 7:15 p. m.

It had earlier been thought that the condition of Lebow would delay the trial until late this year or early in 1968, but a message was sent District Attorney Bill Hunter Tuesday that the youth might be able to be in court in two weeks. He had received burns over 35 per cent of his upper body in the fire.

Also indicted this week were three persons who had been arrested in connection with a series of burglaries over the Hereford area in early February. Julio Ruiz Conteras, Jose Lopez and Nick Prieto were indicted for the burglary of Whites Auto Store in Hereford.

Other indictments returned included Nieves H. Rodriguez, driving while intoxicated, second offense; Edwin Leon Youngblood, forgery; Guy Nelson Thomas forgery; Moses H. Jimenez, DWI, second offense; Virgil Edgar Thompson, DWI, second offense and Juan Perez Gonzales, DWI, second offense, Johnny Passmore, was re-indicted on an old charge of theft over $50.

Four other persons were indicted but the names were not released because they were not in custody. Two cases were passed by the grand jury.

Trials are expected to begin in early May in 60th District Court.

Members of the Grand Jury were Mrs. Robert Wagoner, R. G. Peeler, Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Mrs. Russell Carver, Frank Barrett, Mrs. Robert Veigel, Wayne Richardson, Mrs. Kenny Gearn, Mrs. O. W. Parris, Mrs. Coy Moore and R. M. Mason.

Coach Coby Kitchens said the team had been leading by 52 strokes before last Saturday's meet in Hereford and gained 53 more by compiling a team score of 302. Tullia had 355 and Muleshoe 359.

Russell Phillips led the team with a score of 74. Mike Horton and Steve Hendon both shot 75, Don Maxwell had a 78 and Phillip Cain had an 80. The best four scores are used in acquiring the team total.

Hereford, Tullia and Muleshoe met three times to decide this area's representative to the district meet. Medalist was Ronnie Bodkin of Muleshoe.

If Sunday's practice session by members of the team is any indication of the outcome of Saturday's meet, Perryton should stay home. Phillip Cain shot a hole in one on No. 5 while playing with teammates Phillips, Horton and Marsh Pittman.

At Milo Center, 2.35 was measured in two separate rains. Water covered portions of FM 1062 east of Milo Center for a time Tuesday afternoon and night, and also did the same north of Dawn. Several ducks were spotted swimming on a field about eight miles north of Dawn.

A car reportedly went out of control during the height of the storm in the Ford community, but no one was injured.

Vega caught two inches of valuable moisture and 2.75 was reported seven miles south of that city. Adrian had .75; Friona, .30, with about two inches some 12 miles north of Friona, and Dimmitt had a trace.

A repeat performance had been forecast for Wednesday night and appeared to be living up to expectations as light rain began falling in Hereford shortly after 4 p. m.

Boy is rattlesnake victim at Buffalo Lake.

Two boys in serious condition after being hit by rattlesnake. Four people bitten during rattlesnake hunt in Oklahoma.

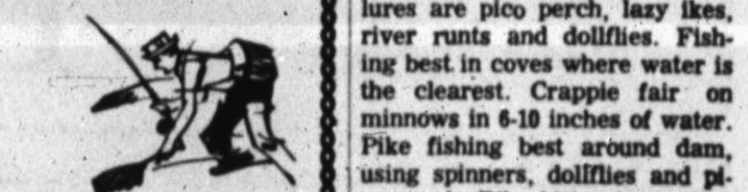

Headlines like these are seen many times. In almost all forms of outdoor recreation poisonous animals will be encountered.

Most bites are either below the knees or on hands and on lower arms. High boots should be worn while hunting, fishing, and hiking. Never reach up to a ledge or a rock above your eyes. If you meet a snake, remain calm and move away slowly.

Clark said he will present a tentative program for approval at the next meeting.

School tax assessor-collector Orpha Click told trustees collections are running about average for this time of the year. He said he had approximately 40 tax delinquent statements to be turned over to attorneys for collection and also will be taking some to small claims court soon.

Click also stated that a board of equalization is going to be needed to study some of the property for tax purposes. Board members agreed to talk with several residents for membership to the board.

ly. Never molest or disturb a snake.

Accidents will happen though, no matter what precautions are taken or how careful a person may be. Fast and alert attention may save a person's life.

Here are four steps that should be used when a person is bitten by a rattlesnake:
1. Apply a tourniquet a short distance above the bite, be sure to always apply it between the bite and the HEART. The tourniquet should be loosened for a few seconds every 20 minutes.

2. Make a short cut about one-fourth inch deep and one-fourth inch long near each fang puncture with a sharp, sterile instrument.
3. Apply suction to the cuts. If no suction cup is available, the mouth will do it if it contains no open sores.

4. After you have performed each of these steps then take the patient to the doctor being sure to administer the same first-aid treatment on the way to the doctor.

Fishing news from the lakes around this area show the fish are really beginning to bite.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Doherty visited in Amarillo with Mrs. Emma Lou Hall Tuesday.

Mrs. Bert Kinsey of Clovis spent the weekend with Carol Ann Royal in Vega.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bradley of Amarillo were weekend guests of the Jimmie Bradley family.

Dwight Hayes of Abilene visited last week with Mrs. Lena Gudge and the Bill Gudge family.

A. F. Roberts, 86, died Saturday at his home south of Adrian. Mr. Roberts was a long time resident of Adrian, well known in the construction business with his son Ivan. They had built grain elevators across the Midwest for 47 years. He is also a land owner in Deaf Smith County and has his home in Sabetha, Kan. The body was shipped to Sabetha for the funeral, held Tuesday. Survivors include the son, Ivan of Sabetha, and a daughter Mrs. Alice Morrell of Adrian, six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Miss Levenie Benefield, a Hereford High School junior, has been named one of the winners of the annual oratorical contest sponsored by Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative. Miss Benefield is the 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lovella Benefield. They are former residents of Adrian.

Mrs. Manuel Loveless visited last week in Freeport, Ill. with Mr. and Mrs. Chubby Sasser and children. On the way she visited the J. G. Loveless family in Lawton, Okla.

Attending the Amarillo District meet, held at Boys Ranch Monday, were Wayne Whaley, competing in public speaking; Tanya Travis, Adrian's F. H. A. sweetheart, and her mother, in the talent contest, the Tumblebugs - Clinton Brown, Dale Grubkey, Wayne Whaley and Davy Grubkey; as voting delegate, Butch Scott. Mr. and Mrs.

Bob Wood accompanied the group. They all enjoyed supper with the boys at Boys Ranch in their cafeteria.

There was a change in the PTO program for Monday night. Jack Hughes, professor of geology at West Texas State University, was the guest speaker, and gave a very interesting talk on the Alibates Monument.

The business meeting was for election of officers. Wilbur Harris was elected president.

By MELVIN YOUNG
And the rains came. Along with a little hail in spots. Suppose that this must be expected in this land where nothing comes in small doses.

When the wind blows, it really blows. When we have a drought, it's the driest-dry you have ever seen.

And when it finally rains, you start looking around for Noah's Ark.

But that's the way it is on these flat plains, and perhaps that's what makes it interesting. Dick Barnard, owner of E. B. Black Co., has a theory about the rains. He's been trying to get a new roof put on his building for the past week. This normally would bring on a flood, but the dry spell has been so severe that we can no longer conjure up a shower just by washing the car or hanging out the wash. It takes more potent medicine these days.

And speaking of Mr. Barnard, we're reminded that he just last week renewed his pledge to the Hereford people that he would not "fight a duel."

You think we are kidding? Not at all. Believe it or not, this is still part of the oath of office for city officials.

Barnard allows as how he is getting to old to fight duels anyway, so it was no real sacrifice. That's for the younger crowd.

D. C. (Delbert) Kinsey, recently elected to a post on the city commission, was confronted the morning after the election with this question:

"Now that you're elected to the commission, what are you going to do about the dandelions in the park?"

Kinsey, who actually is a re-tread on the council having served some years earlier, was speechless momentarily. And that's saying a lot for Kinsey. We might suggest to Kinsey however, that the city try fertilizing the dandelion crop and try growing them commercially. Then surely, they would all die.

Joe Sebastian, genial manager of Furr Food in Hereford, called the house after the rain Tuesday evening to report a motor boat running up and down the streets of Hereford.

Actually, it was a motor boat, and it was indeed navigating the ditch on the west side of U. S. 385 out by Sugarland Mall.

And one young man found that his auto couldn't maneuver the same ditch quite so well. It stalled half-way through the water in front of the Arrowhead Drive-In. The car, which appeared to be somewhat older than the young man driving it, probably has never encountered such a problem before.

Understand that the Bootleg area received a nice rain, and Frank Ford tells us that his farm received more than two inches while some reports from that general area indicated close to three. Apparently nearly all of the dryland area received some moisture although the heaviest rainfall may have been in the Dawn area.

Whenever it rains, it will be heavier in the Dawn-Umbarger vicinity.

"Slim" Wester, true to form, has come up with a new fish story although we haven't heard from fisherman Lipscomb as of yet.

"Slim" says he caught a fish over at Conchos last week and had to get three people to help him take it off the hook.

Now "Slim" told this story while in the church building Sunday morning, so it must be true. However, we'll pass it along and let you decide for yourself.

Revisit Unit To Benefit From Drapery Showing

A benefit for the Revisit Center of the Institute for Achievement of Human Potential, which is being equipped here, will be the 1967 Style Show assembled by the American Drapery Dealers Association, to be staged in St. Anthony's School auditorium Friday evening.

New fashions in draperies and other types of window decoration will be presented in a unique way, shown on the auditorium stage in the manner of a costume fashion parade. Dealers from several states have arranged the show, which was assembled at meetings here last month. It is being taken to various cities where dealers are members of the ADDA, in most cases sponsored for charity benefit.

With the presentation of thousands of dollars worth of draperies in a variety of colors and fabrics, entertainment will be supplied by local musical talent. Argen Draper will serve as narrator.

The show will begin at 7:30 p. m. and tickets will be priced at a dollar. They will be available at the door, and are on sale in advance by parents of children who are involved in the IAHP program here.

Mrs. Don Baugous is in charge of the entertainment program and Mrs. Glenn Watts of publicity for the show.

Ticket salesmen include Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Bob White, Mr. and Mrs. Baugous, Mr. and Mrs. Watts. Funds will go toward furnishing the office and equipping the rooms of the Revisit Center.

Location of the Center in Hereford was conditioned upon the raising of $4,700 locally to prepare the office rooms. The Center is being set up at 391 Sampson, and is expected to serve some 80 children from over the Panhandle area.

Special Education Instructors Attend Conference In Lubbock

Teachers in the Special Education department of Hereford public schools were in Lubbock for a Special Education Conference Saturday, with Spotlight on Change as the theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Terrell, Ruth Robertson, Mary Carter, Bessie Squires, Della Stagner and Gene Brook attended from Hereford.

Dr. F. E. Lord, head of the department of Special Education at Los Angeles State College, was the main speaker. He discussed innovative practices in special education, saying that in the future children will not be labeled with such terms as mentally retarded, deaf, blind or handicapped but will be identified by the approach used in teaching them.

He led a group study on Evolving Practices in Reading and Related Skills. Other group leaders were Betty Liles, head speech diagnostician at the speech and hearing center of Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio, and Yvonne Mesler, coordinator of special education in Denton schools.

The conference was sponsored by Science Research Associates, Inc., which displayed materials applicable to the needs of special education and had staff members present to discuss them.

In the meantime, we're suggesting that Gene Fooks, "Slim's" pastor, go along on the next fishing trip just so we can keep the records straight.

And according to Douglas Meador in the Matador Tribune, flattery may not get you any place, but it can certainly add interesting variety to staying where you are.

DO YOU KNOW THAT
The Hereford Benefit Association is one of the oldest institutions in Hereford and Deaf Smith County. It was organized in 1908 by a group of local people to provide help for members in time of need—up to as much as $1000.

Reverend Brink Attends Assembly

Reverend Eugene Brink, minister of the First Christian Church in Hereford, is attending the 80th assembly of the Texas Association of Christian Churches (Disciples) which is being held this week in San Antonio, Texas.

Brink will be among some 2,000-3,000 persons who are attending the church unit's annual meeting in Municipal Auditorium April 12-15.

The assembly opened Wednesday night with Dr. Richard W. Crews, TACC president and minister of the First Christian Church in San Angelo, highlighting the session with the keynote address.

Another feature during opening night was an original drama "Road to Moriah," written, produced and staged locally.

Overall theme to be developed at all general sessions is "Faith... Active in Love!" Thirteen workshops, conversation groups and seminars will take place at various locations this afternoon.

Rev. Brink will lead a discussion group on Bible Study groups during one of the workshops.

He is scheduled to return to Hereford Saturday night.

Rotary Speakers Entertain-Inform

The Hereford Rotary Club members were both entertained and informed during their regular noon luncheon Monday as they were told about upcoming Secretaries Week and heard the city's top boy orator.

BOOKS OF NOSTALGIA

All of us at some time or other have said, "I wonder what ever became of..." (a certain movie star, or some other well known professional in some field of endeavor). Now you can find out by reading a new book entitled "Whatever Became of..." by Richard Lamparski. It will be with a feeling of nostalgia that you will read this one.

Many of the well known movie stars and those of the stage, of the past as well as men and women in other professions are still working, either in their old careers or an entirely new one. Most of them are now at least in their sixties though a few more recent ones are listed.

Early day photographs, at the height of their fame, and a recent one are shown for contrast with a brief history, of then and now, given. Many of the women are still beautiful and these include names as Sally Rand, Pola Negri, Elaine Barrie Barrymore, Jessica Dragonette, Adele Astaire, Ruby Keller Leatrice Joy and Blanche Sweet.

Others are Annabella, Veronica Lake, Patsy Kelley, Lila Lee, Soja Hene, Constance Talmadge, Irene Rich, Irene Dunne and Joan Leslie.

Among the still handsome men from various professions are Charles Atlas, Fred Astaire, Donald Budge, Chester Lauck, Larry Parks, Johnny Weissmuller, Buster Crabbe, Phil Spitalny, Bobby Breen, Lanny Ross, David Manners, Arthur Tracy, Ramon Navarro and others.

There are some that time has not treated so kindly as to looks but whether they are retired or still in some profession they are pearing before the Rotarians were Mrs. Avis Northcutt, president, and Mrs. Jean Kennedy, Mrs. Faye Dirks and Mrs. Alice Rudd.

The women gave the history of their organization, and also described programs sponsored by the NSA. They include the Certified Professional Secretary (a status achieved by successfully completing a two-day, six-part examination) and the Future Secretaries Association.

The objective of the NSA, as stated by the women, is "to elevate the standards of the secretarial profession by uniting for their mutual benefit women who are engaged in a continuing program of educational and professional development." Slogan of the club is "Better Secretaries Mean Better Business."

Kevin Young, winner of the Optimist International Boy's Oratorical Contest Feb. 23, presented his winning talk to the Rotarians, his last public talk before the zone contest in Amarillo at 2 p. m. Sunday in the YWCA.

Winners from Amarillo, Berger, Pampa and Hereford will compete in the contest. Young is a 12-year-old Stanton Junior High student.

CANYON — Becky Maxwell of Hereford is pledging Tau Beta Sigma, national honorary fraternity for bandwomen, at West Texas State University. Requirements for membership are active participation in band for a full semester, a 1.0 overall average, and a 2.0 in band. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Maxwell, 307 Jackson, Miss Maxwell is majoring in accounting. She is a freshman at WTSU.

to be remembered as they were in the good old days.

Listed in various professions in which you will remember many are Gene Tunney, Father Hiss, Max Schmelling, the first Miss America of 1919, Charles Lindbergh, Helen Gahagan Douglas, John Lewis, Red Grange, Libby Holman, Amon 'N Andy, Hamilton Fish, Christine Jorgensen, Jesse Owens, Eddie Arcaro, Gertrude Ederle and many more.

The photographs alone tell a story and there will be certain favored celebrities each reader will want to read because of his own memories.

Damages Result From Accident

Approximately $600 worth of damages resulted from a two-car collision Friday afternoon near the intersection of Park Ave. on Highway U. S. 60.

A 1966 Chrysler sedan, driven by Roger D. Hicks of Rt. 4, and a 1966 Chev. sedan, driven by Clarence E. Simmons Jr. of 3304 50th in Lubbock were the vehicles involved. The Hick's auto sustained about $200 in damages and the Simmons vehicle accounted for the rest.

The mishap occurred as one vehicle was traveling south on U. S. 60 and had to stop for another in front. The second vehicle was following too close and failed to stop in time to avoid hitting the auto.

A citation was issued for following too closely.

Damages Slight In Accident

A 1963 pick-up, driven by Delino M. Vitella of 203 Lawton in Hereford and a 1963 sedan, driven by Jim G. Hearon of 8537 Pemberton in Ft. Worth, were involved in a traffic accident Thursday afternoon at the intersection of U. S. 60 and Lawton.

The accident happened as one vehicle was traveling west on Highway 60 and attempted to make a right turn into Lawton from the left lane. The other vehicle was also traveling west on Highway 60 but was on the right lane. As the first vehicle attempted to turn right, it struck the second. Damages in the accident resulted in about $200 with the Hearon auto sustaining about $150 of the total.

Three tickets were issued to one party. They were making an improper turn from a wrong lane, leaving the scene of an accident and no driver's license.

McCaslin Named To Lumberman's Board In State

Carl G. McCaslin of the Carl McCaslin Lumber Company of Hereford was elected to the Board of Directors of The Lumbermen's Association of Texas at the 81st annual convention held in the Astrodome Exposition Center on April 7-8-9. McCaslin served on the board a few years ago.

August C. Bering III of Houston was elected president to succeed A. E. McCain of Tyler.

The Lumbermen's Association of Texas, an Austin based service organization, was organized in the capital city in April 1886 by a small group of lumbermen who saw the need of a better code of ethics, plus a medium of exchange of ideas to engage dealers to better serve the buying public.

Today it is the largest single state lumber association in the United States.

Nearly 300,000 acres of cropland were planted to grass last year by soil and water conservation district cooperators. 150 acres were planted by Tierra Blanca SWCD cooperators.

Modern Music Is Topic Of Dawn Club Program

Music In The World Today was the subject for Dawn Music Club's program Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Robert Strain and Mrs. Alfred Smith were hostesses in the Strain home.

Mrs. H. V. McCabe was the speaker, reviewing an article on the subject by Roger Sessions. To illustrate, Mrs. Strain played a piano solo, To The Rising Sun (Torjussen) and Mrs. R. E. Curtisinger sang a hymn by Charles Gounod, The King of Love My Shepherd Is, with Mrs. Ray Stewart as accompanist.

The group sang America the Beautiful which has music composed by Samuel Ward. Mrs.

Clarence Betzen played the accompaniment.

Mrs. Ted Wimberley was elected vice president to complete a term which will continue through next season. Members voted to assist in supplying hosts for Deaf Smith County Museum on days when it will be open to the public.

Date of the next meeting was advanced a day, to May 10, when the 1966-67 season will close with a luncheon in the Caison House followed by a visit of the group to the museum. Mrs. William Wimberley presided for the business discussion.

County Court Agenda Light

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners breezed through a light agenda Monday and spent the bulk of their time discussing roads, the calf show and the county's insurance problems.

During the session the commissioners accepted the recommendations of the Jury of View concerning opening of a road in the northwest part of Deaf Smith County, and approved the placing of caliche on approximately 4 miles of county roads near Hereford.

The Jury of View, consisting of Jim Monroe, Virgil Marsh, Jack Weaver, Elmo Hall and Labry Ballard recommended that the proposed road in question not be opened at this time.

Three Sentenced In County Court

Three persons appeared before Deaf Smith County Judge H. C. Williams this week, where they received fines, jail sentences and probation.

culture Agent met with the court concerning disposition of the Junior Livestock Show, now being handled by the Young Farmers organization. There has been some discussion in the past concerning a cut-back on the show to a one-county operation. The sentiment of the court however, appeared to lean towards the four-county show.

Also discussed by the commissioners Monday was the present name of the county barn, as well as a proposed bridge on a road about 4 1/2 miles north from and 5 east of Milo Center.

SCS technicians helped almost 7,000 tenants and sharecroppers last year apply conservation work. This is part of SCS's special effort to help all segments of rural and urban population

Gilbert Bley, charged with swindle with a worthless check, was fined $1 and costs; Jimmy De Luna, charged with wife desertion, was sentenced to jail for five days and fined costs, and Reed Williams, charged with driving while intoxicated, was sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $50 and costs. Williams was placed on six months probation, with the jail sentence to be served if probation is broken.

Local Leaders Get UF Awards

The Golden Rule award of Texas United Funds, Inc. will be presented to Debbs Knox, leader of Hereford's successful 1966 United Fund campaign, and Melvin Jayroe, retiring president of the United Fund here, at the annual state conference April 20.

Announcement has been made of the one-day meeting to be held in the Adolphus Hotel at Dallas. Awards will be made at the luncheon by the Texas organization which serves all United Funds and Community Chests in Texas.

The award announced by J. Harold Stringer, state president, for the Hereford men is a literal golden rule, a gold-plated ruler for desk use.

A United Fund dinner in Hereford to honor 1966 leaders, planned for this week, has been postponed to May 12. All United Fund volunteers and executives are invited to the Dallas meeting, where speakers will include Dr. Richard B. Johnson, chairman of the department of economics at Southern Methodist University; Rueben D. Talasek of Temple, former Texas legislator, and Morris C. Matson, accountant.

A report from the validation committee on programs and finances of national and state voluntary agencies will be given by Carl B. Flaxman, committee chairman.

Class Chooses New President

Mrs. Stan Kropf was elected president of the Golden Circle Sunday school class Monday night to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. J. C. Burt.

Those attending the regular meeting and social in First National Community Room were Mmes. Dale Barclay, Tom Nance, Charles Gresham, W. L. McCullar and R. M. Mason.

Rites Conducted In Kansas For Albert Roberts

Albert F. Roberts, 85, Deaf Smith County land owner whose home was in Sabetha, Kan., died Saturday at his place 36 miles northwest of Hereford in the Adrian community, after a short illness.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning in First Congregational Church at Sabetha. Local arrangements were made by Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Roberts, born July 8, 1881 in Clarendo, Ia., has had interests in Deaf Smith County since 1934. He and his son, Ivan, were associated as builders of grain elevators over the Midwest area for many years.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Alicia Evelyn Morell, Rt. 4, and the son, who lives at Sabetha. His wife died in 1962.

Diaz Leads Herd to 6-0 Victory

Alex Diaz not only limited the Portales Rams to one hit Friday afternoon in the New Mexico city, but also got two doubles in leading the Hereford Whitefaces to a 6-0 victory, their fifth in a row.

Diaz' sparkling pitching performance was the third gem in a row for the Herd moundmen, as Lynn Betts and Bill Watts allowed only three runs and eight hits in the two previous games. Diaz now is 3-2 for the season.

Pitching wasn't the only item of interest, however, as the Whitefaces banged out 14 hits, including six doubles and two triples. Hitting the Cubs were Diaz, Kenny Hagar, Gary Tucker and Sid Shaw, who also connected for two. Barry Johnson and Tucker slammed the triples.

Hereford will go after their 10th victory of the season at 4 p. m. Friday when they open District 1-AAA play in Canyon. They will travel to Dumas for a 4 p. m. game Tuesday. The district opener between Dumas and Canyon was rained out Tuesday afternoon.

Students Glean Science Awards

First places in two divisions and a special award from the American Chemical Society were among the honors won by Hereford students in the Regional Science Fair at Amarillo last weekend. Approximately 30 students who had won in county contests were entered from this county.

Gary Paetzold of Hereford High School received the American Chemical Society's award for his chemistry exhibit, although he was judged in second place in the fair. He was presented a reference book in chemistry and physics.

Two students from St. Anthony's School took first places in their respective divisions. Tommy Koelzer, 12, in the seventh grade, won a blue ribbon for his exhibit titled 'Why Do Leaves Fall?' Richard Schlabs, 11, a sixth grader, received an equal award for an experiment on the use of fertilizers.

Honorable mentions were won by Dennis Hicks of LaPlata Junior High, who had the grand champion exhibit in the county contest, and Nancy Brink of Northwest Elementary for her math project.

4-H News

Twelve Texas 4-H Club members can look forward this fall to being guests of the Santa Fe Railway in Chicago at the National 4-H Club Congress. They will be chosen on the basis of a good all-around 4-H record, and will join the state delegation to the congress, Nov. 26-30.

Four of the 12 will receive $500 educational scholarships in addition to the congress award. The Cooperative Extension Service will name the winners.

This marks Santa Fe's 45th year of 4-H support. Awards are offered in the 11-state area served by the railway system. While attending the 4-H congress, officials of the railway personally greet the young visitors and are hosts to a gala dinner party complete with top entertainment.

According to past winners, it's a delightful experience never to be forgotten. Lone Star winners of last year's scholarships were three college students and one high school senior.

Reverse Example Stresses Topic

Examples of the wrong way to do it accompanied talks on etiquette at the meeting of Young Mothers Study Club Tuesday evening. Mrs. Jerry Don George and Mrs. Don Haynes were hostesses at Community Center.

Dressed in costumes of gaudy bad taste, Mrs. David Brumley spoke of Correct Clothing for the occasion. Mrs. Don Chapman of table manners, Mrs. Howard Hunter of telephone etiquette and Mrs. Charles Springer of good manners for the hostesses.

Funeral Rites Held For Infant Daughter

A funeral mass for Norma Gene Rodriguez, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Rodriguez, 814 Knight, was conducted at St. Joseph's Catholic Mission Monday by the Rev. Eunan Walsh. Burial in St. Anthony's Cemetery was directed by Gilliland Funeral Home.

The child, who died Saturday, was born Dec. 17, 1966 at Dimmitt and the family moved to Hereford the same month. In addition to the parents, a brother survives.

Each presented a skit exemplifying poor etiquette in her subject.

Preceding the meeting several members had blood typed for recording in the Walking Blood Bank maintained for this community.

Plans were made in a business session with Mrs. Jim Arney presiding, for election of officers and choice of the club's Mother of the Year at the next meeting, Apr. 25.

Baton Twirlers Place In State

A team of baton twirlers from Hereford placed third in state competition Saturday, and second in open competition Sunday at a meet in Lubbock. They won a district contest at Canyon recently and entered in the 84 year old division.

Pupils of Mrs. Alex Schroeter, they are Susan Hamby, Dee Ann Calson, Dana Maloney and Ellen Jorde.

Brother Of City Residents Dead

Military graveside services were conducted in Bailey County Memorial Park at Muleshoe Wednesday after a funeral in First Methodist Church of that city for S/Sgt. Walter P. Parker, 27, brother of three Hereford residents.

They are Mrs. Kenneth Metcalf, Willard and Charles Parker. Other survivors are his father, W. W. Parker of Muleshoe, two sisters and four brothers.

Sgt. Parker, stationed at Stuttgart, Germany as a U. S. Army radar operator, was found last Thursday dead in his car. Death was pronounced due to asphyxiation.

TRAP SHOOT WINNER — C. J. Lance, right, broke 90 of 100 targets at a distance of 22 yards during a trap shoot Sunday to win the R. J. Cramer Trophy. Lance, of Northwest Mobile Lodge, must win the trophy three consecutive times to obtain permanent ownership. His name will be engraved on the trophy along with Dr. Gene Cope and Buddy Shields, previous winners. The trophy is put up during shoots twice a year, the spring and fall. Cramer is shown congratulating Lance on his win. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Tribute To Past Opens Pioneer Club Program

Tribute to long-time members of Pioneer Study Club, especially to Mrs. J. M. Gilliland, charter member still active in the club, was paid in the Federation Day program at a luncheon in the Calsion House Tuesday.

Mrs. Ray Johnson presented A Glance Backward, the first section of the program, and introduced Mrs. Gilliland, who read the first report of Pioneer Study Club to the old Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, as she read it at the 1921 district convention in Plainview.

A gift from the club, a blooming geranium, the Hereford flower of 1967, was presented to the honored member.

Mrs. Johnson recalled that Mrs. Gilliland was recording secretary of the club when it was organized as the Mothers Club in 1909, and read the minutes of the first meeting as she recorded them.

Other excerpts from minute books of the club's early years were read and brought laughter as they presented a picture of women in the little West Texas town, working and sometimes scheming to make the improvements they thought Hereford needed. Schemes were suggested in entries such as "It was moved and carried that the members' husbands dig holes to set the trees" which had been given for the park, and the note that other trees had been set out by candidates in an election year.

Also amusing were notes that the club bought "a dollar's worth of rose bushes" to plant in the park, and paid a cook 75 cents to fry the oysters for a fund-raising oyster supper.

When Mrs. Delmar Sigle, president, summarized her 1967 report to the recent Top of Texas District TFWC convention in Amarillo, she said many of its items were reminiscent of the old minutes, in that members still pull weeds in Mothers Park seek funds for its improvement and other civic needs, and do welfare work. Prices are different in 1967, she added.

She was one of six members who attended the recent convention and who made reports under leadership of Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr. Others are Mmes O. G. Hill Sr., W. C. Hromas, Bess Werner, Ralph McCullough and Johnson.

The latter was given a life

Phil Hall... to speak at First Baptist Church Sunday.

First Baptist Slate Youth Week Services

The First Baptist Church of Hereford has slated April 13-19 as Youth Week. Youth teachers, singers, ushers and speakers will be the order of the day this Sunday at the First Baptist Church.

As an annual affair, this week of "putting into practice" gives the youth of the church an opportunity to grow mentally as well as spiritually.

Phil Hall, 19-year-old ministerial student from Wayland Baptist College and Big Spring, Texas, will be the speaker for both Sunday services.

Local youth in general leadership positions are Ray Oglesby, youth pastor; Gary Story and Jimmie Allison, music directors; Becky Long, organist; Susan White and Donna Coker, pianists; Bob Gentry, Sunday School superintendent and Ronnie Andrews, secretary.

The Youth Choir will sing for both services and a girls sextet will provide special music. After the service Sunday night, all youths will take part in a Fellowship.

On Monday evening, the Youth Council is co-sponsoring the Billy Graham film, "Shadow of the Boomerang" in the church auditorium at 7:30. The public is invited to all the services and to the showing of the film.

Wildlife continues to be a big concern of soil and water conservation districts. Last year, Texas landowners applied measures to improve wildlife food and cover on 184,000 acres of land.

TFMC Delegate Reports To Club

Activity at the Texas Federation of Music Clubs convention in Tyler which she attended recently was reported by Mrs. A. O. Thompson to Music Study Club Monday afternoon. The meeting was in Community Center with Mrs. Ellis Coombes as hostess.

Mrs. Thompson, a state chairman of choral music, is a member of the TFMC board and attended special events for board members as well as convention sessions which featured speakers and music from fine arts departments of Texas universities.

The program Monday was on the subject, Tone Painting, The Narrative Mood in Music. Mrs. Ray Conaway was the speaker who sketched a background for piano selections.

Mrs. Coombes played May

Night by Palmgren; Mrs. Bill Brady presented Daquin's The Coucou; Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, Fable (Smetana) and Old Vienna (Godowsky); Mrs. Paul Lyons, Sails (Mason).

A recording of Moussorgsky's Pictures At An Exhibition was played with comment by Mrs. Joe Haker.

Mrs. Brady conducted business, including election of Mrs. T. W. Roberson as corresponding secretary for next season to fill a vacancy among officers-elect.

Mrs. Percy Rosenow, a new resident of Hereford, was a guest. Members present were Mmes. J. T. Gilbreath, Jesse Stanford, S. O. Wilson, W. T. Carmichael, Lowell Sharp, J. C. McCracken, Richard Jackson, W. S. Fisher, S. F. Clements, J. R. Allison and those on program.

District THDA Report Is Given West H.D. Club

Miss Mary Brady, West Hereford Home Demonstration Club member who attended the district meeting, Texas H. D. Association, at Claude last week, summarized its program when she was hostess to her own club in her home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Blanche Hardin presided for business and Mrs. Alice Cox spoke on some aspects of family money management. Announcement was made that the next meeting will be April 25 in the home of Mrs. Addie Duncan.

Mrs. John Jacobsen and Mrs. Carl Schroeder were hostesses

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Letters From Readers

I AM A healthy person of 58. Now and again I have bleeding piles. What causes them and what can be done about them?

E. M. R., Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. R.: Piles, or hemorrhoids, can and do occur in people in good health. Occasionally, in people who have poor bowel habits or severe constipation, the lining of the rectum may protrude and after this the blood vessels become distended and enlarged.

That is how a hemorrhoid, or pile, is formed. When the strain is taken off the rectum, simple piles may disappear and need no further treatment.

When neglected a clot may form within the pile and cause marked pain. When the clotted or thrombosed pile is broken it then begins to bleed and may even become infected. This is the progress of a pile from its beginning.

When treated early by sitz baths, dietary regulations, mineral oil and suppositories the pile may subside and cause no further trouble. For more complicated problems a series of special chemical injections directly into the pile may bring relief and sometimes the disappearance of piles.

When the condition persists with pain and extreme discomfort and with bouts of bleeding, surgical removal of the hemorrhoid may be the only solution.

My son will be coming up for army service in the next six months. He has difficulty with his vision and has many intestinal complaints. Neither he nor I want him to avoid service in the Armed Forces. However, I would like to know if such conditions will keep him out.

H. A., New Jersey

Dear Mr. A.: Every young man is given a complete physical examination before he is accepted into any one of the Armed Forces. This is done with extreme care so that no injustice is done to anyone who is not equipped for arduous physical training.

Anyone with a severe illness or handicap can be a potential hazard to all the other men in his outfit if he is not able to qualify.

Your own family physician is in the best position to know all about your son's condition. He will evaluate his status and, if necessary, will write to the local draft board making his recommendations to them for consideration of any special physical handicap.

Did you in one of your articles recommend a special exercise to reduce the size of the stomach?

D. K., Indiana

Dear Mr. K.: I know of no exercise that will do the job of reducing. Diet, diet and only diet can reduce what I assume to be the abdomen rather than the stomach.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH—Patients are easily exhausted by too many visitors. Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. 1902 Records Endure In Baseball Travesty

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Another Texas League baseball season blooms Friday and June 15 will be the 66th anniversary of the wildest, highest scoring game in history.

It also will reach that point where there are no known survivors of the travesty of the diamond that brought lasting fame of a sort to Ennis on that vague occasion in 1902.

A fellow who got eight hits in eight times at bat in that game — Ikey Livingston — died at San Antonio a couple of years ago and he was the last player to pass from this earth unless the only person unaccounted for still is living in some distant climate.

But nothing was lost for history since Livingston was interviewed many times. However, it had taken an extended search to find him because he had played under an assumed name.

He was known as Ikey Pendleton and he was left fielder and cleanup hitter for Corsicana the day Texarkana was crushed 51-3 in the greatest outpouring of runs in baseball annals.

In this fantastic game a young man named Charley DeWitt, pitching his first pro game, went the full nine innings for Texarkana although combed for 53 hits, 21 of which were home runs. Apparently so humiliated was he that he walked out of the park and never was heard from again.

The late J. Walter Morris, who was the Corsicana shortstop that day, often told why DeWitt was forced to take the punishment. DeWitt's father was one of the new owners of the Texarkana club and the boy, when he arrived in Ennis, said to Manager Cy Mulkey, "Papa said for me to pitch this game."

So Mulkey, second baseman left Charley DeWitt in all the way. Morris recalled that young Charley took it without a word of complaint. But what he felt inside must have been a raging inferno of resentment.

Where Charley DeWitt came from was not determined. Morris said he was from Southwestern University but records of that institution did not reveal anybody named DeWitt ever having played baseball or studied there.

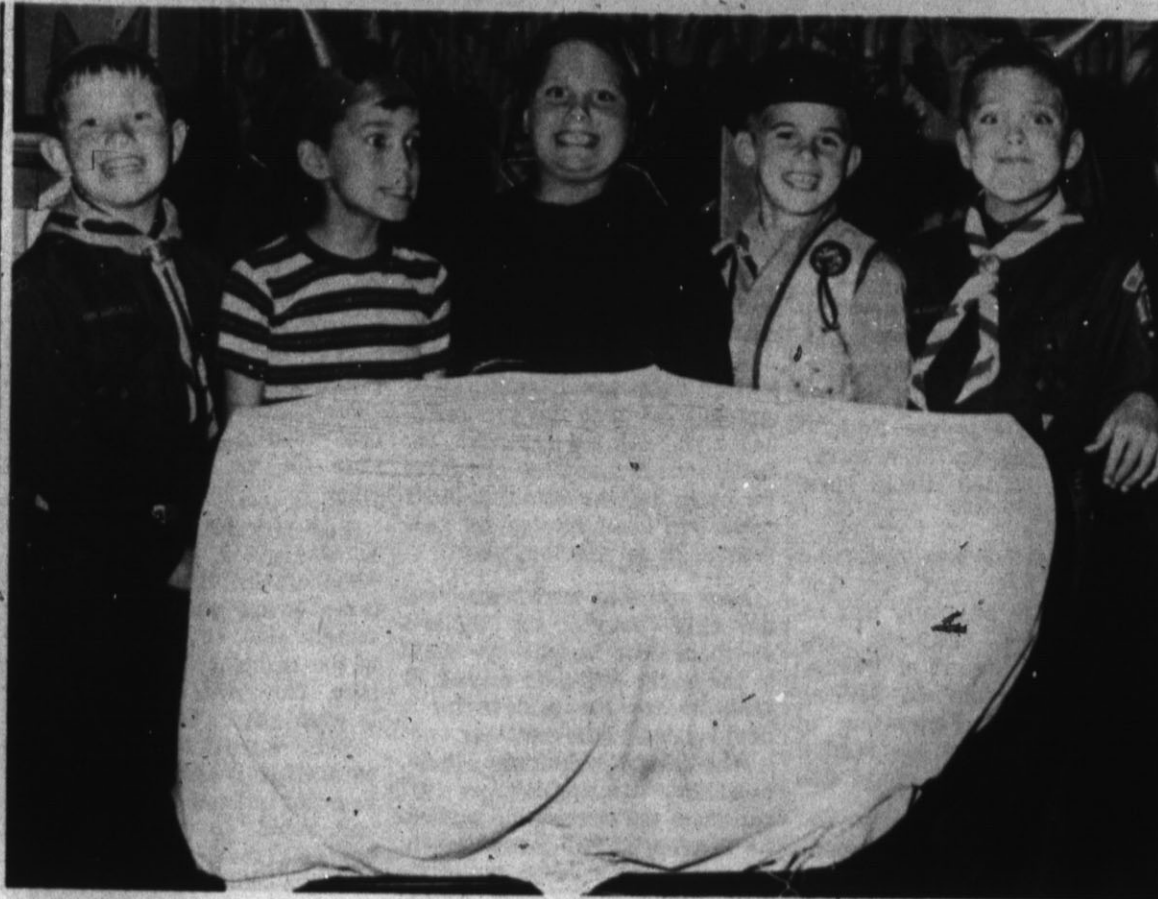

W. B. Ruggles, long-time Texas League statistician, said he was under the impression that DeWitt was from Austin College but a check there failed to show it.

The game was played in a park used mostly by Negroes for Juneteenth celebrations. It was the only place available since the clubs couldn't play Corsicana because of a Sunday law against baseball.

Best indications were that the right field fence was about 200 feet from home plate. A net that fence was made to order for Judson (Nig) Clarke, the Corsicana catcher. He batted lefthanded and each time he came to the plate lofted a home run.

His eight straight homers in one game will forever be a pro baseball record. He may have hit as many as two in an inning but this was not disclosed.

Clarke himself said it was not home run distance, which under the rules of 1902 should have been 235 feet. James J. Maloney, the Corsicana center fielder said the home run mark was not correctly placed although agreed upon by both clubs. Anyway, Clarke drove the ball over the fence eight times and as far as baseball is concerned they were official home runs since no one took the trouble to measure the distance.

There always have been questions about the box score. In the first place it was badly off — it lacked 24 of balancing one way and two the other. Also, Corsicana was supposed to be the home team yet it batted last in conflict with the recognized rule that the home team won't take its last bats if it is ahead in the score.

However, the 1902 rules spoke only of the team "first at bat" and had no reference to the "home" club. It said if the team first at bat was behind after finishing nine innings, the other team wouldn't take its ninth inning.

It is surmised that the official scorer put the line score down wrong, with Corsicana listed although it actually batted first. Surely, had Corsicana been batting last it would not have taken its ninth innig since it was ahead 43-3. The box score shows Corsicana getting eight runs in the ninth.

Or maybe, Corsicana wanted to set a record nobody could touch and asked that it be allowed to take its last bats. Nobody ever could recall the circumstances.

Anyway, this did not change the fact that it was a professional game that produced the most runs of any in history.

Pitman Grain Considered Oldest And Largest Here

By JOE BRAN
Staff Writer

When the first grain elevator was built in Hereford around 1905, probably no one figured that some day it would grow into one of the largest businesses in this area.

The small wooden building was built by E. W. Harrison and was later purchased by J. A. Pitman in 1930. The building, located just south of the railroad tracks on Main St., was later expanded for a capacity of 400,000 bushels of grain with an addition of a new concrete building in 1939.

However, expanding the facilities didn't stop there as a new structure was added in 1945 pushing the capacity of the elevators to 800,000 more bushels. In 1948, another structure was erected for holding 350,000 more bushels. In 1954, an elevator with a capacity of 100,000 bushels. Later in 1948, an addition was added to hold 225,000 more bushels and again in 1954, another building was added to hold an additional 160,000 bushels. In 1966, the elevator got another addition, this time a building capable of holding 465,000 bushels of grain. This pushed the total capacity of the Summerfield installation to 950,000 bushels of grain.

In 1963, a new grain elevator was erected in Milo Center to accommodate 490,000 bushels of grain. In 1965, an elevator with a capacity of 167,000 bushels was acquired in the Westway community. Art's Corner saw an elevator built in 1966 with a capacity of 490,000 bushels and in the Simms Community, a new structure was built in 1965 and later expanded in 1966 to hold a capacity of 520,000 bushels.

In all, Pitman Grain Co. owns facilities with a combined capacity of 5 1/2 million bushels of grain and has leased facilities for an additional 9 1/2 million. The elevator in Hereford has a capacity of nearly 3 million bushels.

All combined facilities have room for all the grain that is produced in this county. The county has an average yield of about 12 million bushels of grain annually. Pitman Grain Co. has room for 15 million.

The elevators hold grain which primarily consists of milo. Next in abundance is wheat, barley and soybeans. Weight of the grain per bushel is as follows; milo, 56 lbs.; wheat, 60 lbs.; barley, 48 lbs. and soy beans, 60 lbs.

All grain handled in the elevator is bought from local farmers. Most of it is sold locally with only about 10% of the total being shipped to California. It used to be that most of the grain grown here was shipped to California until a few years ago when all the new feedlot operations started springing up in the county. It is anticipated that all of the grain grown this year will stay in the county.

The elevator also stores grain for local farmers during the year.

How the grain moves from place to place in an elevator may puzzle a lot of people. However, the operation is quite simple. The first step taken is that of dumping the truckload of grain into a pit which has a conveyor belt on the bottom with small cups that carry the grain up into where a distributing machine is located. By means of buttons, the grain is dumped into any certain conveyor belt and then is dumped into whatever bin is desired. When removing the grain, it is removed from the bottom of the bins through an opening and is then carried by the same method as before. It is then dumped into the truck or what ever may be waiting to be loaded.

As it may sound, the operation is, indeed very dusty. When grain is being moved, the dust flies all over the place.

The local elevator, which may be termed as a skyscraper, can be seen for many miles away from town. The highest point of the structure towers some 165 feet from the ground. The bins tower only 140 feet above the ground but the head houses, which are the buildings atop the bins, account for the rest of the height. When atop the structure, one can see a magnificent view of Hereford. Places which are located many miles from town are seen from this height and also the busy traffic on Main St. and other busy streets can be noticed.

The company is now operated by Pitman's son, John Douglas. The younger Pitman took over operations when his father died in 1959. At that time, John Douglas was vice-president of the company. He became president after his father died and his mother became vice-president of the company.

J. D. Pitman and his wife, Mary Jane, live at 515 Long in Hereford. They have four children, all of school age. The youngest is Clay at 7 years of age and a 1st grader at Bluebonnet. Also in Bluebonnet and in the 4th grade is Kirk, 10 years old. Jaime, 12 years of age, attends Stanton and is in the 7th grade. Also in Stanton but in the 9th grade is Marsh, 15 years old.

The operation which J. D. Pitman heads requires the help of some 20 men annually. Head of the crew is Dick Godwin and Charles Jacks. These men are responsible for handling about 5-7 million bushels of grain annually at the elevators.

Western Auto Expands And Remodels Store

Some of the building and remodeling activity that has been going on around Downtown Variety Park is the re-modeling of the Western Auto Store located at 241 N. Main.

The store is now moving back into the old location which they occupied for the last 19 years but will also retain the present building.

The front of the store will measure some 56 feet across and over 5,000 sq. feet of floor space will be available inside. Some 15,000 different items will be offered to the customer and they will be carried in a wide inventory.

A service department is also offered for installation and balancing of tires. Also featured will be servicing of all bicycles they sell.

The local store is fully home-owned by Johnny Pool. Pool started in the Western Auto business in March of 1936 working in a Western Auto Store in Oklahoma City and later was transferred as manager of the Amarillo store in March, 1938. He and a partner leased the store in Hereford in October, 1947 and moved in December of that year.

Pool now has complete ownership since his partner has sold his interest to him.

Marvin Kearns, an employee of Pool, has been working at the local store for the last 18 years. Also working at the store is Isaiah Soto. He has been an employee since last year.

The store features many items such as appliances, home and auto accessories, air conditioners and many other necessities.

All supplies are ordered from the Western Auto Supply Co. in Wichita Kansas, which has been in operation since 1906.

Pool invites all his friends and interested persons to come and look at the new facilities as soon as they are completed.

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Recipes, History Merge

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Sidelights on life in Hereford in 1920 are given, along with a collection of recipes from some of the town's good cooks, in a yellowed and frayed cookbook owned by Mrs. Ray Coneway.

IT WAS COMPILED by the U. D. C., which was apparently a strong enough women's organization that it was not necessary to identify it on the cover or first page as the United Daughters of the Confederacy, a name unfamiliar to many people today.

Contributors of the recipes include some who still live here, others who have moved away and some who are no longer living but are remembered by Mrs. Coneway and other long-time Hereford residents.

A change in the times is indicated by notes in some of the recipes, such as Mrs. Jesse Stanford's instructions for making veal loaf which start, "About 50 cents worth of ground veal." Quantities of other ingredients, including 5 or 6 eggs and a cup of cracker crumbs, indicate that she expected to get about three pounds of ground veal for her half-dolar.

THERE WERE NO MIXES or frozen foods named among the ingredients, and some of the methods of preparation indicated that women hadn't yet begun to use time-saving shortcuts in making things like party salads and desserts, or four-day pickles.

Recipes range from the starkly practical like Mrs. W. H. Gilbreath's "Lye soap that won't freeze" and Mrs. D. C. Laird's "wash a soup bone and put in kettle..." to Mrs. B. F. Guthrie's Lady Baltimore Cake and Mrs. C. C. Ferguson's elaborate Bavarian Cream and pretty salads which must have contributed to the reputation as a hostess which she left in Hereford.

On the other hand, the women who gave these recipes seem to have assumed that anybody who intended to cook knew enough to mix bread, cake or piecrust without detailed instructions.

MRS. ROY THOMPSON and Mrs. George Shepherd in recipes for white cake, Mrs. John McLean and Mrs. D. F. Ashbrook for Devil's Food, simply listed ingredients.

The latter added a note, "Do not get too stiff," indicating that measurements were not to be taken too literally. A similar note appeared in Mrs. Byrle Elliston's recipe for cornbread, "enough water to make bread as you like."

In the front of the book were tables of measurements and cooking times, and some kitchen hints including "To Save Lard" and "To keep meat in summer without ice," with the note "This is particularly valuable for people out from town who cannot get fresh meat every day."

ADVERTISEMENTS IN THE cookbook also give a picture of a time when "people out from town" didn't expect to have ice in summer. Garrison Bros. Hardware was advertising the Round Oak Range, while Harrison's, also Jones and McLean, had coal (for the range) grain and feed.

For cooler cooking, Dunlap Hardware offered the Perfection Oil Stove. C. O. Lee Hardware advertised oil stoves, which were fueled with kerosene, and even electric washing machines.

Of the firms advertising, those still in business here are Rockwell Brothers lumber yard, E. B. Black Furniture and the Star Theatre. Grocery stores included G&R, Hereford Produce - I. H. Spratt manager, Williams Brothers, Cash & Carry, B. F. Hodges.

DRY GOODS WERE offered by J. O. Newell, Hughes and Crouch, D. R. Gass & Son and gents' furnishings by Gallagher & Sons. Tailor shops which sold custom-made suits and coats were C. P. Ringer's and Orr's.

Clark's Drug Store, Hereford Drug with G. N. Brame as proprietor, Bennett News Stand which had the latest issues of Hearst's and Pictorial Review magazines, Turner's Tin Shop and Tubb Shoe Shop were other downtown firms.

Wilkinson and Stocking had the Ford Garage, Renfro & Sons the Buick Agency, W. C. Fallwell the White Face Filling Station, Terry Brothers a garage where Brand and Harper sold gas and oil and fixed flats.

T. K. Wilson Insurance Agency and J. Frank Potts, abstractor, also advertised, and the book was printed by White-Face Printing, L. H. and A. A. Foster owners.

MRS. CONEWAY prizes a number of old cookbooks, including one published in 1928 with recipes collected by the TEL Class of First Baptist Church, and one originally a notebook in which she wrote history notes in school, then began to use the blank pages in the back for recipes until she filled the book as years went by.

She knows from personal experience that many of the women who helped make the U. D. C. cookbook were excellent cooks, and says she is sure Mrs. Stanford's meat loaf was delicious because "she is a wonderful cook, and so was her mother, Mrs. E. B. Black."

She picks as a rather unusual recipe from the book, which she has used and found very good, this one contributed by Mrs. J. B. Phillips:

CHEESE STRAWS
1 cup grated cheese
1/8 tsp. paprika
1/2 cup butter
1 egg yolk
1 cup flour
2 tb. milk
1/2 tsp. salt.

Knead ingredients well together, roll out into a crust 1/4 inch thick, cut in narrow strips 4 or 5 inches long. Lay on dripping pan not touching each other, and bake in quick oven. May

Senior Day Trip Taken

Five prospective girl graduates from Hereford High School chose last Friday as their Senior Day, and spent it in Palo Duro Canyon climbing hills and taking a horseback ride. They had a picnic lunch at noon.

In the party were Annie Alemon, Carolyn Anderson, Sue Cox, Peggy Haskey and Kathy Ellerd. They were accompanied by Miss Cynthia Lynn Ellerd, a last year's graduate who recently completed training as a medical assistant at a school in Denver.

As a preliminary to the Palo Duro trip, the girls were entertained at a wiener roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oyd Ellerd Thursday evening, followed by a slumber party. Most of the night was spent playing favorite records and talking.

CARR GETS THE CAR

NEW YORK (AP) - Henry Carr, former Olympic runner, scored a touchdown for the Giants last Nov. 13 when he intercepted a Los Angeles Rams pass and ran 101 yards.

It was the longest run of the year in the National Football League. William Mennen Jr. presented Carr with a new car for his feat.

RUSTY SHOWS POWER

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) - Rusty Staub of the Houston Astros had a lot of power last June 4 in Forbes Field. He hit a ball over the right field roof and at 22 was the youngest to perform the feat.

Others who have hit homers over the roof are Babe Ruth, Bob Skinner, Ted Beard, Wally Moon Mickey Mantle.

Ruth's blast came on May 25, 1935 and was his 714th and last four bagger.

Curt Flood of the St. Louis Cardinals hit .303 at home last season but only .228 on the road.

cut part of crust in circles and serve by placing strips in rings, or strips may be piled together log cabin fashion on plates.

The recipe adds that these are "very dainty for salads."

OF THE WOMEN contributing to the cookbook, Mrs. Henry Hastings and Mrs. A. G. Bell are among those who still live here. Recipes for both the 1920 and 1928 cookbooks were given by Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. Rat Jowell and Miss Mattie Woodburn, who operated a boarding house and had an enviable reputation for her cooking.

Other names which will be recalled by many in the city are Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, Mrs. F. T. Roloson, Mrs. W. F. Gabbert, Mrs. Homer Wilkinson, Mrs. I. H. Spratt (wife of the grocer), Mrs. J. E. Crouch, Mrs. Karl Shirley, Mr. J. Frank Potts Miss Mabel Jowell, Miss Edith Rayzor.

Brush With Law In Bandit Era Told By Woman

DALLAS (AP) - "We were sitting in the Black Cat Cafe near West, Texas, when a sheriff's deputy in plain clothes said 'Stick 'em up.'"

"My boy friend held up his hands; but I just looked at the man until he said 'You too, Bonnie.'"

"Then he turned his gun toward me and I put up my hands."

That's the way Mrs. Jeanne Dunn tells of being arrested in 1934 when officers mistook her and her friend for the notorious Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, who were still on the loose and the object of every policeman in Texas.

Clyde and Bonnie had shot their way out of many a scrape with the law and the officers were taking no chances. After the innocent couple was arrested in the cafe, two carloads of deputies arrived to search them and take them separately to the jail at West, near Waco.

How had the mistaken identity come about?

Mrs. Dunn explained that she and her boyfriend had driven to West to practice target shooting with a rifle and a pistol. They were driving a late model Ford V8 of the same type Clyde and Bonnie often drove.

"We spent all afternoon driving around country roads and stopping to practice. I never had shot a gun before but I did pretty well that afternoon," Mrs. Dunn said.

"Later we found out that this sheriff's deputy had us under surveillance all afternoon" and followed them finally to the Black Cat.

"The circumstances were just bad for us," she went on. "We even had cigars in the car, and Bonnie was known to be a cigar smoker."

"Nobody would tell me anything. But they kept calling me Bonnie, and then when someone said Bonnie and Clyde, I caught on to why they had arrested us."

The only identification that either of them had was the boyfriend's Masonic card.

"But they wouldn't believe a thing we told them. They said his identification was stolen."

STRESSES GUN SAFETY

CHICAGO (AP) - "Ignorance and carelessness cause hunting accidents," says veteran outdoorsman Art Mercier.

"Youngsters must be taught the skills of shooting and the rules of gun safety before they can earn the right to be called hunters," he says.

His list of rules include: Make the young hunter realize that skill comes with experience!

Teach him to keep the safety "on" except when he is shooting!

Drum into him to point the business-end of a gun so that if it goes off there will be no regrets!

Impress upon him that the end of the hunt is the most dangerous, when everyone is tired and more apt to be careless with a gun!

"Large feedlots held 610,000 cattle being fattened for slaughter market. Of the 278 large feedlots, only 220 (79 percent) had cattle on feed January 1. The 278 feedlots with a reported capacity of 1,041,510 head showed a 59 percent occupancy. "Small" feedlots held 64,000 head - which is 9 percent of the total number on feed January 1.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

One good thing about rock-and-roll songs, the music (well, noise, if that is the way you feel about it too) which accompanies them is very effective in drowning out the inane words.

MAKES YOU WONDER why somebody didn't think of that before, instead of taking refuge, as popular musicians of the past did, in scat singing, hi-de-his and boop-a-doops to make the songs unintelligible.

Speaking of popular songs, it was my lot recently to be where I couldn't help listening to several selections of those whiny, crying-in-my-beer songs which the announcer called "country," which were extremely popular a decade or more ago, and which were my idea then of the absolute low in music.

You know, as a relief from rock-and-roll, they sound pretty good. And that reminds me that the swing music of 25 to 30 years back is mighty pretty when we hear it now, and of course 1920-odd jazz has become classic, along with ragtime tunes of the early 1900's and sentimental ballads of the gay 90's. Those date back practically to Beethoven and Bach.

Every shift in musical taste has been accompanied by screams of criticism, followed by general acceptance about the time another style came along to be criticized. Now I wonder what on earth they will cook up next, that will make us think rock-and-roll sounded good!

A DAUGHTER FROM Pasadena, Calif., has been visiting Mrs. Willie Daniel. Mrs. L. B. Ray left by plane Tuesday for Austin after a stop here in the home of Mrs. Daniel and of a brother, R. A. Daniel. Mrs. Ray will visit her daughter, Mrs. Mollie Moreman, in Austin, then fly back to her West Coast home.

AFTER A FAIRLY thorough inventory of the lilac crop, which is still in full beauty, it's my judgement that the most spectacular shows of bloom are in the hedge that is spilling its flowers over the backyard wall of the J. W. Witherspoon place, and the free-standing hedge across the lot at the Ed Warren home.

There are many other handsome hedges, as well as single bushes worth more than one glance, in both the lavender and white, French, Persian and English varieties. If somebody could only get that perfume in a bottle!

SPRING IS BRINGING ITS usual crop of wedding plans, as young men's fancies turn and young women's too. Seems like there are more marriages of mature couples, over 20, that is, and not quite so many of the very young.

There are still enough teenage weddings, however, to make some words of wisdom which I saw recently, still pertinent. The words concern the teenage groom, who seems to be pretty well overlooked in all that is written about teenage marriage and teenage brides.

This advice is from a professor in a San Francisco college, a counselor who tells the boy, "now that you have married the girl, try to make friends with her."

HIS THEORY IS THAT the youth of the couple and the speed of courtship keep the pair from knowing each other well, and they may find shortly after marriage that they love each other but don't really like each other.

Friendship is an ingredient of a successful marriage, he says, and friendships don't just happen; they are built over a period of time.

So his advice is that the young groom begin making friends with his wife by trying

Mrs. Ranspot Is Complimented At Layette Shower

Packages were opened by the honoree, Mrs. Mike Ranspot at a morning coffee-shower Monday at the home of Mrs. Gerald Martin and Mrs. Doug Henry, where 21 friends presented layette gifts.

A large stork figure stood in the center of the table where coffee was served. Mrs. Ranspot was assisted in opening the gift packages by her mother, Mrs. I. D. Rhoads, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Pat Ranspot.

to know and understand her as a person. This will give her a chance to know and understand him, I assume, as he cites mutual understanding and respect as the road to a mature love.

Guests who went to Wichita Falls last weekend for the wedding of Sherrin Betts to James Simpson of that city, included Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ricketts, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde H. Whitaker and Mr. Tom Porter. Mrs. Ricketts was organist for the ceremony and Mrs. Tommy Phelps of Amarillo, formerly of Hereford, was the vocal soloist.

A piece of hard luck at any time, a broken wrist is being nursed by Mrs. Edward Dziuk, Sr. who was injured in a fall. And just now Mrs. Dziuk is beginning to make preparations for a wedding in the family; her son, Jim, is to marry Eldra Gibson of Eldorado next month.

Of course the groom's mother doesn't have all the flurry of the wedding to bother about, like the bride's mother, but there are things to be done just to get ready to go to a wedding in the Southwest Texas city, and a broken wrist is no help.

Buddy LeRoux, trainer for the Boston Celtics, also serves in that capacity with the Boston Red Sox.

Public Invited To Genealogical Society School

The annual spring research workshop in genealogy presented by the South Plains Genealogical Society will be held this weekend at Municipal Garden & Arts Center, 4215 College Avenue, Lubbock. Hours will be 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Friday and 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturday.

Books, magazines, maps and other research materials will be arranged on tables in the main auditorium of the Center according to state or region in order for researchers to conveniently locate materials in which they are interested.

These books and other materials will be furnished from the library of the South Plains Genealogical Society and from the collections of its members. Members of SPGS will be on hand to help newcomers with research.

An additional feature of the workshop will be a microfilm reader which is to be presented to the Society as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Murff of Floydada, charter members. A machine for photographing old and rare books onto microfilm will also be made available.

Kitchen facilities are available at the Center and sack lunches may be brought. Sandwiches and cold drinks will be obtainable. No fee is charged but contributions to the SPGS book fund are always welcomed, workshop officials said.

Everyone interested is invited to attend.

Doctoral Study Grant Awarded

WTSU Instructor

CANYON — Harry Haiduk, instructor in business at West Texas State University, has been awarded a $6,000 fellowship grant for doctoral studies in insurance and finance at the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania.

He expects to begin studies in September on the grant from the S. S. Huebner Foundation for Insurance Education, which is renewable for three years. The Huebner Foundation usually awards about six such grants annually.

Haiduk joined the WTSU faculty last fall, after earning his BA and MBA degrees. He is a graduate of Pampa High School. Mrs. Haiduk is the former Arlene Diller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Diller of Hereford.

Haiduk was a life underwriter for the Mercantile Security Life Insurance Company in Dallas and an industrial engineer for Cabot Corporation in Pampa before joining the WTSU faculty.

He held a fellowship last summer from the Life Insurance Agency Management Association for study in Minneapolis with the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company.

REQUIRED LESSONS
LONDON — Canon John Pearce-Higgins, who refused to read a lesson from Revelation about Jezebel at a Southwark Cathedral service because he considered it "blasphemous nonsense," may be in trouble with his bishop.

A Church of England spokesman said clergy were legally required to read the lessons set out in the Church Calendar and the case was being referred to Dr. Mervyn Stockwood, Bishop of Southwark. The canon, who is vice-provost (sub-dean) of the cathedral, substituted passages from famous writers against capital punishment for the New Testament lesson he should have read.

Noted Speakers Booked For WTCC Convention

A distinguished retired general, Texas' Secretary of State, the dean of the school of agriculture of the University of Missouri, a Phi Beta Kappa public relations officer for U. S. Steel and a Federal Reserve Bank vice president are all on the program of the 49th annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in Del Rio April 23-25.

General Hamilton Howze, 35-year veteran of command service in the U. S. Army, will speak at the luncheon meeting April 24. His remarks will deal with the U. S. position in Viet Nam as well as in other parts of the world.

Gen. Howze has been vice president for product planning for Bell Helicopter Company since July 1965, when he retired from active service. He is a qualified airplane and helicopter pilot as well as a parachutist.

John Hill, Texas Secretary of State, is an authority on business-government relations and is in great demand throughout the nation as a speaker on this subject. He has received many honors in the legal profession, including the Gold Medal from the Law Science Academy of America as U. S. lawyer who had contributed most to law science movement in 1960. Dr. Elmer R. Kiehl, dean of the school of agriculture of the University of Missouri, will speak on agri-ranch-business relations, the future of agriculture and ranching and the economics of farming and ranching.

He is one of the national leading authorities on economics as it relates to agri-ranching and has served as consultant to many national commissions studying this field.

Dr. Dorothy Gregg, public relations specialist with U. S. Steel, is internationally known for her research, writing and speaking on the subject of "women in work."

ident of the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas, will lead a panel discussion on "Money." The tight market, the sources of money, prospects for money supply and other pertinent aspects of the important subject will be discussed.

Panelists for various sections have been selected and they will appear with the major speakers in the discussion of subjects of vital interest to the West Texas businessmen, ranchers, farmers and industrialists.

One of the outstanding features will be the report of the Small Towns Task Force which will be given in a dramatic presentation Tuesday morning. Color slides and specially prepared material will highlight the most important segments of the lengthy report.

Mayors and county judges from all of West Texas as well as their counterparts from the South Texas area, within 150 miles of the convention city, have been invited to the Small Towns Task Force presentation as well as to the entire convention proceedings.

Also to be displayed at the annual convention will be the new billboard signs which are going up all over West Texas and the smaller individual signs for each city pointing out tourist attractions in the area.

Record reservations have been made for the convention,

NATIONAL WORK DRAFT NEW DELHI — The central government is considering inaugurating some form of national service for students.

The plan, as drawn up by representatives of the defense, education and home ministries, would provide a variety of nation-building activities, including construction work, for students during holidays and leisure hours.

A conference of university officials is expected to discuss the scheme. India does not have compulsory military training.

according to the convention chairman, J.B. Phillips of Del Rio.

School Boards Workshop Set

LUBBOCK — School board members from more than 80 West Texas independent and consolidated school districts will attend the 1967 School Boards Workshop at Texas Tech April 16.

Tech Education Prof. B. J. Fallon, coordinator of the workshop along with Education Prof. Weldon Beckner, said the meeting was designed "to acquaint West Texas school board members with many of the state and federal educational tools available to their districts."

The workshop will begin at 1 p. m. Monday with a session for newly elected school board members.

The general session will open at 3 p. m. E. L. Kent, a member of the Texas Association of School Board executive committee will greet those attending. The keynote address will be by Joe Neely, director of vocational program development for the Texas Education Agency.

The delegates will attend panel discussions for the remainder of the workshop. Six discussions are planned.

Nat Williams, Lubbock superintendent, will be chairman of the discussion on state education legislation. Making up the panel will be Superintendents Jack Simmons of Levelland and Paul Manning of Littlefield plus

C. E. Bradshaw, member of the Ropesville school board.

The various aspects of federal education legislation will be covered by a panel headed by Big Spring Superintendent Sam Anderson. Participating will be Superintendent Joe Cummings of Anton, S. T. Hawkes of Crosbyton, Leroy Scott of Wilson, James Bramlett of Seminole and President of the Lamesa School Board, J. D. Harris.

Kermit superintendent G. E. Thompson will chair a discussion on the governor's committee on public school education. Panelists are Billie Harrison, a member of the Abernathy school board and Superintendents John Criner of Hale Center, James Cunningham of Whiteface, Ray Lanier of Morton, and Wayne Webb of Idalou.

Board-personnel relations will be explored in a discussion headed by Glenn Harrison of Plainview. On the panel will be Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, secretary of the Big Spring school board and Superintendents Charlie White of Petersburg, Dr. R. A. Montgomery of Andrews, and Dr. P. L. Vardy of Slaton.

Heading the panel discussion on "School Boardmanship" will be Delwin Webb, Abernathy superintendent, and serving on that panel will be Superintendent Neal Dillman of Muleshoe, C. O. Gregory of Ralls and Abe Holder of Lamesa.

Local school problems will be discussed in depth by a six-member panel headed by Dr. Omer Douglas, superintendent at Brownfield. Other members are Don Mouser, vice president of the Plainview School board, Wiley Mudgett, president of the Sudan school board, Paul Farrar, member of the Brownfield School board and Superintendents Harold Reynolds of Taha and Odell Wilkes of Meadow. New Directory Out

Mostly Smiths

Do the Jones outnumber the Smiths in Hereford? How do the Williams, Robertsons and Garcias rank. Anyone who is curious can find the answer in the new City Directory, just distributed to subscribers in Hereford.

From Anslund, Reuben, the first name listed, to Zurelacher, Clifton, the last, names of Hereford residents, are placed in alphabetical order in the first section of the book, which is dated 1966 because the survey for information was made last year.

Most numerous among city residents are the Smiths, whose names fill nearly two pages. Almost as many Gonzales are listed, followed by Williams and Garcia with more than a page each.

That much space is devoted to Rodriguez and its variants, Rodrigues and Rodriguez, and almost as much to the Robertsons, Robertsons and Robinsons.

Jones, Johnson, Brown and Davis are other names which occupy a page each, and the Davises take nearly that much room.

In addition to the list of names, with address and occupation of each householder, other sections are a business directory, street guide and numerical telephone directory, also a listing of farm residents in the county. The same sections are included for Dimmitt and Frio.

Statistical information about the city and county and a brief history are included in the introductory pages, with photographs of some public buildings and agricultural scenes.

Vets' Service Officer Attends Regional Clinic

Waco — C. O. Wilkins, Veterans County Service Officer for Deaf Smith County attended a Regional Rehabilitation Clinic for Veterans Service Officers at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Waco, April 6-7.

This regional clinic was conducted by the Veterans Affairs Commission of Texas in cooperation with the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Veterans County Service Officers Association of Texas.

The purpose is to offer Service Officers up-to-date information pertaining to the various benefits available to veterans and their dependents and survivors. Topics discussed during the two-day meeting were disability pension and compensation, GI home loans, educational benefits for veterans and children, hospitalization and medical treatment.

This meeting is held annually for the benefit of Veterans Service Officers in the Central Texas Region, and serves as a refresher training course to keep them abreast of the many changes that occur in the vast field of veterans benefits.

Great for summer forage, whatever the season... DeKalb Sudax Brand Varieties, the original Sorghum-Sudangrass hybrids, are bred to make the most of every drop of moisture. In favorable seasons, they grow and grow, producing green feed early and often. When it's dry, growers say Sudax Brand continues to produce palatable forage, often after other crops dry up. FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

In the beginning the Great God created man in His own image. He gave man the Sabbath Day and said "Keep It Holy." He gave man a code to live by, known as the Ten Commandments. Although today THREE of every FOUR people in America are unchurched... He gave man the Church and hoped he would be a worshipper in it, at least, every Sabbath Day. The Cosmic Judge of all the earth will reward our deeds with fairness. Whether to sleep or not to sleep through the hour of worship at your Church each Sunday... that is the question?

Typical of many of the "unchurched group" is the scene above... "The Sunday Morning Sleeper." There is little justification for the habitual "Sunday Morning Sleeper." Man's creation was such that it is necessary for him to gain strength and courage for the battles of life from the influence of the Church and the teachings of Jesus.

Jesus said that "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

A comfortable bed on Sunday morning with radio and a newspaper, wonderful as they are, cannot "tone up" and sweeten a life like an hour of worship in the Church of one's choice. Man needs something luxuries cannot give. He must be fortified for the gruesome tasks which may lie ahead; he must have Jesus on his side.

There is a certain reassurance that comes from the toll of the Church Bell and singing of the choir. Be a worshipper in the pew of your Church every Sunday. "You need the Church... The Church needs you." You'll find her doors ajar. Don't Be a Sunday Morning Sleeper.

General Legislative View Is To Raise Teachers' Pay

By LARRY FUHRMANN
 Hereford Brand
 Austin Bureau Chief

If, as in the words of Hereford Superintendent of Schools Johnny Clark, legislators of Texas grant teachers a pay raise, they will be "joining in this new age of education," an age that has to educate children for jobs that will exist only in the future.

Action of the Texas Senate Committee on Education cleared the way this week for floor action on a minimum salary bill for public school teachers. The same piece of legislation, sponsored by Representative George Hinson, is now in committee in the House of Representatives. Briefly, the bill provides teachers an average raise of $776 over one year's time.

This endorses the idea that Texas may be joining ranks with those states attempting to update education programs.

Sponsor of the bill in the Senate, Senator A. M. Alkin, received a standing ovation from the galleries and the floor itself Wednesday night as committee chairman Chris Cole announced unanimous approval of the education committee.

The pay raise for teachers in Texas public schools really does nothing but catch the state up with other states, no matter how good the figures sound. The $776 raise will only bring salaries up to the national average — Texas is by no means a leader in the field of education.

President of the Texas State Teachers Association, Sam Anderson, has said that 11,000 teachers who completed the school year in May, 1966, did not return to Texas schools that fall. This school year began with a shortage of more than 1,200 teachers and about 5,000 others who would not have been working had capable replacements been available.

This coming September will see no relief — quite the contrary, as a matter of fact — if action is not taken to attract teachers to Texas — or just in order to keep them here for awhile. Supt. Clark said to the committee that "we can't afford to not upgrade our system anymore. We're losing youngsters' abilities. We'd like to see a 100 per cent rally behind the youth of Texas."

When Sen. Alkin sees a man telling his son to be a teacher because it is a good profession (which will support a family), that is when he will quit pushing the salary issue. This is his answer to critics saying too much time and money is being spent on education. In approving this legislation, "we are passing a bill for our children, not just teachers," he believes.

TSTA President Anderson pointed out to the committee members that the pay raise — Senate Bill 16 — is a minimum program designed to meet immediate needs. It cannot wait until 1969; by then the problem of the teacher shortage will be out of hand.

This is in opposition to Governor John Connally's proposed five per cent across-the-board raise for teachers. He claims that amount to be sufficient in view of the pay hike teachers received last year. The governor is also awaiting recommendations to be made shortly by the Public School Study Committee.

"I think we can find the money for this pay raise," exclaimed Mrs. A. P. Leverage of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. She expressed the support of that organization for Senator Alkin's proposed legislation. "If we don't find the money, there is no hope for our tomorrow." People in fields requiring less education and training are receiving better salaries than teachers, it was pointed out.

The schools are competing with business; classroom teachers, particularly men, are being attracted to education administrative positions which post higher salaries; and teachers are cheating their students by "moonlighting" in order to make ends meet. These are three problems created by inadequate salaries for classroom teachers, as set forth by one classroom teacher — whose take-home pay is $390 a month. A man in this position can't turn down better positions. He would have a hard time explaining it to his family, no matter how devoted he was to teaching.

Texas is behind, and staying in a rut is not the way to solve a problem, as one administrator says. "Average isn't good enough as far as we're concerned. Until we are recognized nationwide for our education system, we have not reached as far as we should."

Tech Cage Star Is Head Coach At South Plains

LEVELLAND — John (Dub) Malaise, former Texas Tech basketball star was named head basketball coach at South Plains College by the Board of Regents.

Former Coach Bill Powell was elected Director of the Division of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Athletics at an earlier meeting of the Regents in March.

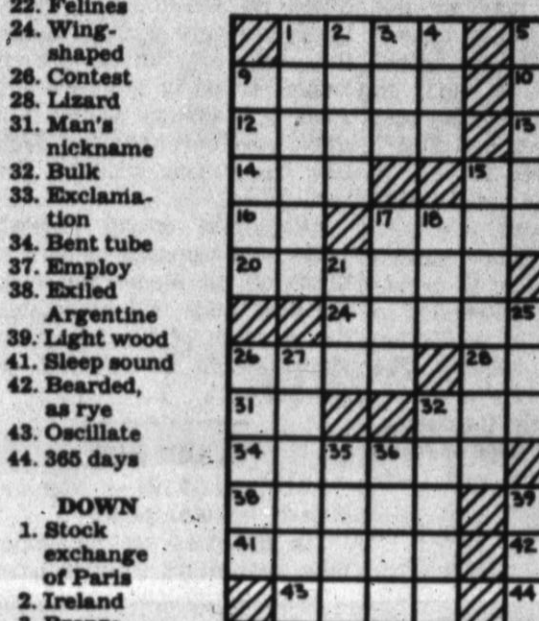

"With the building of the new Health-Physical Education-Recreation building, added program and additional students, it became imperative to develop a division of HPERA," stated Dr. Marvin L. Baker, college president. "We are very proud to have Malaise to join the faculty and are looking forward to many more successful seasons."

Malaise, three time All-Southwest Conference, shares the single game high point of 50 points in Southwest Conference game. He is a graduate of Odessa High School and of Texas Tech, and has served as assistant freshman coach this past year at Tech.

The incoming coach will be a featured speaker at the annual athletic banquet May 13. Effective immediately, Malaise will assume his duties of coaching

Traffic Safety Laws Considered By Legislature

AUSTIN — The Texas legislature is now considering 22 bills designed to put into effect Governor Connally's Highway Safety Program.

Proposed legislation would provide for universal driver education for all teenagers; strengthen the vehicle inspection program; raise the minimum driver's license age to 16 with driver education and 18 for those teenagers who have not taken driver education.

Penalty for conviction of driving while a license is suspended or revoked would be increased under the new laws and rehabilitation schools to train problem drivers would be established by the Department of Public Safety. All drivers would be required to take a road test in the type of vehicle they will be licensed to operate.

Traffic Courts of Record would be established if the pending legislation is passed. Motorcycle operators and passengers would be required to wear protective headgear and commercial driver schools and driver training instructors would be licensed.

"The Texas legislature has within its power to take a giant step forward and help save the lives of many of our State's motorists," Robert F. Miller, president, Texans for Traffic Safety, said in commenting upon the bills being considered.

"We need the protection that is afforded by up-to-date and sound traffic laws. I have talked to hundreds of people about traffic safety and there is no doubt in my mind that motorists will support strict but fair traffic laws. I hope that the legislature will give us the traffic safety laws we need, Miller concluded.

New Sales Executive Appointed For Holly Sugar Corporation

COLORADO SPRINGS — Clement H. Roy, 45, has been appointed assistant eastern sales manager for Holly Sugar Corporation.

It is contemplated he will succeed Walter H. Forslund as eastern sales manager upon the latter's retirement September 1, 1967. The announcement was made today by Marlin Chenburg Holly's Vice President-Sales.

A native of Canada, Roy graduated from Colorado College in 1947, joining Holly's accounting department that year. In 1950 he became accounts service manager in the corporation's San Francisco office and, in 1954, was promoted to credit manager.

From 1955 until rejoining Holly in late 1966, Roy served as a sales representative and then as an assistant manager, for Parrott & Company, San Francisco sugar brokerage firm.

Roy served in the U. S. Air Force from 1943 to 1946 in flight training and personnel classification assignments.

"Mr. Roy is a very capable sales executive and his considerable experience in the many phases of the sugar business will be a most valuable asset to Holly. We are very pleased to have him back with us," Chenburg stated.

RE-MARRY IN CHURCH?
 LONDON (AP) — The Anglican Bishop of Southwark (Dr. Mervyn Stockwood) is championing the cause of divorcees who want to remarry in church. "If a first marriage is dead and the partners want to set up a second time, I believe the Church should frankly accept the situation and marry them publicly in church," he wrote in his diocesan review.

The Church of England does not marry divorced people and their second alliance is contracted in a civil register office. That, says the Bishop, "smacks of cowardice and dishonesty" on the part of the Church.

WHY BELONG TO A GARDEN CLUB?

NOTE: Having recently attended the annual meeting of District One, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., in Big Spring, I decided to do some evaluating. As I made a resume of the meeting, and the 28 years that I have been an active member of a Garden Club, the question came to mind—Why Belong to a Garden Club?

Positively, my answer is, it is GOOD. There are many advantages that come to a person who is an active member of a Garden Club.

The love of gardening engenders into the hearts and lives of club members a deeper appreciation of the world, and gives one a better understanding of nature.

It is pretty wonderful to be a co-worker with God in the creation of even one tiny flower, and to share in helping to create a place of beauty in one's own community, where others may be made more aware of the wonders of His wonderful World.

Voltaire suggests that it enables a person to escape the turmoil and stress of everyday living, as gardens are cultivated, produces a greater love and appreciation of gardening, forges a bond of fellowship between millions who plant for pleasure.

Mrs. A. M. Aikin Jr., president of Texas Garden Clubs,

Inc., stated in her address at the convention, that in traveling throughout Texas, this last year she had found it most gratifying to note the good that had been accomplished by Garden Clubs.

"It is so very easy to follow the footsteps of gardeners because they have created beauty, cleanliness, and promoted civic pride," she said. "There is a vast difference in a town or community which did NOT have Garden Clubs.

"The preservation of our natural resources is a related subject, bringing to the attention of members the love of trees, wildflowers, and birds. Unification in planned beautification has been far-reaching, both from an economic and aesthetic point. Texas Garden Clubs are having a share in the beautification of the ground at the Governor's Mansion in Austin, our state capital. Not only will this be beneficial now, but we are creating beauty and preserving history for coming generations."

Another reason for joining a Garden Club is therapeutic value. This expression not only benefits the one concerned, but it is at once noticeable in more individualized gardens, doing away with monotony of everlasting copying the Joneses.

Our garden clubs encourage and provide the knowledge for making and carrying out one's own ideas. Through this medium of work and creating, tensions are eased, body and mind rejuvenated.

A popular garden plaque has stated it well, "The kiss of the sun for pardon; the song of the birds for mirth; one is nearer God's heart in a garden than anywhere else on earth."

"One of my friends said to me, 'If one is to be successful and get the most from gardening they MUST love their plants. I talk to mine like I do my children. This benefits one mentally and aids in lifting demands of everyday living.'"

There is an experiment in one of the leading universities testing the power of condemning and praising our plants audibly. The results are said to be amazing. The university has taken two healthy geranium plants for this experiment.

To each has been given identical cultural care and each plant is watered at the same time, given sunshine at the same exposure. The difference is in words of praise and admiration.

The plant which received the kind words and admiration thrived mightily from the first, while the other, never praised, never admired soon began to look distressed and gradually died.

I have tried this on African violets, and it works. Plants respond to a degree as do people, we all like and crave attention and love, plus understanding. All this goes into making stronger characters.

The artistic temperament of a Garden Club member becomes more acute. Color harmonies, design principles, design elements, related materials, as studied and applied in Artistic Arranging make one a creative artist. Schools, reading lists, and symposiums are offered and in these the person's artistic appreciation is strengthened and love for the aesthetic deepened.

To share in Conservation is another benefit for a Garden Clubber. It is so important that we practice conservation measures. Natural resources must be conserved, if we as a nation are to survive. This is vital to the welfare of our generation and to unborn generations.

Water, trees, birds, nature reserves, and all other natural resources must be conserved. Quoting from a prayer used by a garden club, "When our use of this world is over and we make room for others, may we not leave anything ravished by our greed or spoiled by our ignorance, but may we hand on our common heritage fairer and sweeter through our use of it." YES, IT IS GOOD TO BE A MEMBER OF A GARDEN CLUB.

Hereford has four garden clubs, and would like to organize others. Anyone interested in being a member of a Garden Club, call GLAD, 364-1343. The Hereford Garden Club is having a program on World Gardening, at which time they hope to reach some of our colored and Latin American friends.

GARDENS: Man's effort to improve his lot.

REMINDEES: Will the lady who recently called asking for information on planted boxes, call again; have some suggestions for you.

Thanks Goldie (Dallas) for the book, hope our garden will be lighted and more beautiful this summer.

Disbud the peonies, they are fast developing. If you want nice full blossoms, pinch away some of the buds; leaving one to the stem is best. If your plants are new, don't be discouraged if they are not budded, when they become well established (if properly planted) they will give you good bloom.

A side dressing should be applied to borders and perennials which are now coming up. Some thinning will also be necessary.

HEREFORD IS ESPECIALLY BEAUTIFUL NOW, take a drive over the town. The lilac hedge at the Ed Warren home, 103 Centre, is beautiful; the flowering trees and shrubs at Mrs. Lee Benefields, 101 Westhaven Drive is a pretty color harmony. Mr. Jesko, 105 Westhaven Drive has some unusual tulips. They are "Yellow Brightness" in the fantasy variety. At the Oglesby home, 107 Sunset Drive, the red tulips are very striking against the background of the green hedge. Tulips in Mother's Park Park & Main are lovely. Look them over carefully and decide how many you want to plant next fall.

After your spring flowering bulbs have bloomed, be sure and break off the bloom, tip so that the seed pods will not mature, the strength of the foliage and stems should be returned into the bulb.
