DAIRY COW TESTS ARE INFORMING

Figures for Five Months Show Which Animal Is Profitable and Which Is "Boarder." Surprises Crop Out In Tests.

Records over five complete months have been obtained to November 1 by members of the Deaf Smith-Randall County Cow Testing Association, and this period of time enables those interested in the work of the association and in providing better cows for this section to make some interesting comparisons and to really get acquainted with their cows. For instance, the herd book of Dr. G. W. Heard holds the records of two milk cows entered in the test that provided entertaining figures.

During the five months Cow No. 1 produced an average of 13.7 and a fraction pounds of milk daily; Cow No. 2 produced 30.1 plus, daily. Cow No. 1 had a total of 106.4 pounds of butterfat during the period and Cow No. 2 198.7 pounds. The value of No. 1's products was $26.15 and of No. 2 $100.06. Total cost of the feed for No. 1 was $34.72 and of No. 2 $45.12. And the value of the products above the cost of feed for No. 1 amounted to $19.43, while Cow No. 2 showed a profit of $63.94.

Another interesting thing about the records is the variation in the cost of feeds when the cows did not have good pasture and when they did. In June the total cost of feed for both cows was around the $9.50 mark, while in October, when pasture was good, costs of feed dropped down to less than a third of this figure.

It is a wonderful work the Cow Testing Association is doing for the betterment of the dairying industry in this section, and the records now being compiled will eventually be the guide and inspiration of hundreds of dairy farmers throughout this section of the Panhandle, says County Agent R. O. Dunkle, father of this movement in this section.

Town Closes Monday, Armistice Day; No Set Program

Nearly every business house in Hereford closed on Monday in celebration of Armistice Day which fell on Sunday this year. The town had a Sabbath quiet and nearly everybody went hunting or visiting. No Armistice Day program of a general nature was attempted.

Local Eleven Reaches the District Semi-Finals After Defeating Panhandle High at Panhandle In a Game Which Thrilled Big Crowd Friday

Spirit of Over-Confidence Must Be Kept Down if Game With Dalhart Is Won. Visitors Will Present Hefty Eleven That Will Fight to the Finish. Gregory, Big Tackle, Ready to Play; United Support of Citizens Is Needed Friday If Local Boys Win This Important Game. Temporary Bleachers Are Erected to Accommodate Big Crowd Expected. Team Played Through Game at Panhandle Without Single Substitution. Support of Fans Asked.

A heavy, confident, fighting Panhandle High eleven went down to defeat last Friday afternoon on their own grounds before a lighter but shifter and equally determined Hereford team after one of the most spectacular games ever played in the Panhandle.

From a purely local point of view the contest was "made to order." It was staged before a big crowd of Panhandle fans and over 300 Hereford students and town backers, who had made the trip by special train over the Santa Fe. The big Hereford delegation was met at the depot by a Panhandle reception committee, automobiles were placed at their disposal, and every courtesy extended by the Carson county sportsmen, school officials and student body.

The invaders, headed by their High School Band and Pep Squad, staged a parade through the principal business streets and let Panhandle know that Hereford was there to back the boys in black and gold. The train left Hereford around the noon hour and returned before bed time at night. The local school authorities and town fans are grateful to the Santa Fe for the accommodations they afforded for the trip and their courtesy and service throughout.

The Game. As for the game itself, it was a classic that will long be remembered by every man, woman and child who witnessed it. The first half was scoreless, with the tide of battle shifting up and down the field, although as in the Canyon game, the weight of the Panhandle eleven was felt in these two periods; and the home boys held the advantage in yardage gained. As was the case at Canyon, the intermission at the half was the full before the storm. Coming back from that rest and conference with their coach, the Whitefaces tore into the Panhandle eleven like wildcats and slammed over two touchdowns in quick succession in the third quarter. After a rapid shift or two and some excellent line punting Glenn passed to Cogdell on the twenty yard line and the speedy end for the first touchdown of the game. Goal was missed. Score, Hereford 6, Panhandle 0.

Following the second kickoff of the quarter both teams possessed the ball for short intervals. Hereford finally taking it on their own thirty-nine yard line and working it down to Panhandle's twenty-one yard line, where Captain Babe Russell got away around

SEMI-FINALS

Hereford High enters the semi-finals in football competition for this district with the game scheduled for Hereford Friday of this week with the Dalhart High. If this game be won, then Hereford will play the winner of the Perryton-Memphis game for the championship of the District. The game Friday will start promptly at 3:30 p. m. Extra bleachers have been erected to care for the anticipated overflow crowd. Prices for this game will be 50c and 75c. Season ticket holders will be credited with 50c and asked to pay an additional 25c, as four games were guaranteed on the season tickets at the 50c rate. The raise in price for this game is necessitated owing to the extra costs for this championship contest.

A Hard Game. There seems to have been a disposition on the part of some of the fans to take this Dalhart game lightly. These optimists may be in for a rude shock Friday. Dalhart is no set-up, be sure of that. In fact, reports from the Dallam county camp indicate that it will take everything Hereford possesses but the water boy to annex this tilt. The visitors will come here with a fair record and with ample time to scout the locals' style of play and to strengthen for this game. Remember that over-confidence probably beat Pampa last week—that the same thing hurt S. M. U. in its A. & M. game; and that this condition of mind undoubtedly aided Hereford in its fight at Panhandle.

Coach McCollum earnestly believes that it will take everything the Whitefaces possess, plus the backing of every football fan in Hereford to win this Friday game. The big thing is to have a big, peppy crowd, standing squarely back of the Hereford boys. It is hoped that the business houses will close for the time of this game and go out there in a body to back up the boys.

Friday's Game. But another game looms on Friday of this week, and one that promises to be just as hard to win. The Whitefaces need YOUR support and enthusiasm to go through with it successfully. Close up the old shop and turn out Friday! Coach McCollum states that Gregory, the big guard injured in the Canyon game, has recovered, and will be ready to go Friday. All members of the squad are in fair shape, and a real contest looms. Don't think of the finals to come should Hereford win. Think only of that game Friday, for with-

Hereford to Send Delegation To Dimmitt Next Wednesday

The Chamber of Commerce luncheon will be held next Monday, November 19, in the basement of the First Methodist church. This announcement was made by Secretary Arnold today in view of the fact that final arrangements for taking the large delegation to Dimmitt next Wednesday morning will be completed at the luncheon.

"This is Hereford's opportunity to express to their sister city their appreciation for the patronage they have always received, and is likewise a golden opportunity to put our best foot forward with the Fort Worth & Denver railroad officials in an effort to persuade them to eventually build their line into Hereford. It will be a very short trip and I would like to see every business house in town represented in this delegation," stated Mr. Arnold to a Brand reporter.

A large attendance is urged at the Monday luncheon which is being held on Trades Day because of the fact that last Monday's luncheon was missed for the Armistice Day closing.

Interest is growing in the Chamber of Commerce luncheons and many firms and interests are associating themselves with the Chamber of Commerce. Hereford's opportunity for progress has never been better than at this time and officers of the local body are putting forth every effort to put over a real constructive program for the next twelve months.

Organ Recital Tuesday Night Features Amarillo Musicians

A musical concert, for the benefit of the pipe organ fund, was given at the First Methodist church Tuesday night, in which artists from Amarillo participated. Mrs. C. R. Hooten was organist, Mrs. Otis Truelove, soprano, and Mrs. James Otis Truelove, pianist.

Vocal, instrumental and organ solos and ensembles were given in a delightful program that entranced the large audience. Weather conditions held down the crowd somewhat, although standing room was at a premium in spite of tant drawback.

Three New Families Settle In North Part of County

Three families from Crosby county, Texas, named Phillips, Allison and Reece, have just recently moved to Deaf Smith county and purchased land northwest of the city about thirty miles. They have broken out sod to the extent of about 1400 acres and have planted it to wheat. They purchased three and a half sections of land and have improved enough of it to get by for the present, with the view to additional improvements next year.

Mrs. C. E. Tice Raises Enormous Cauliflowers

Three heads of cauliflower, two weighing nine pounds each and the other eight pounds, were brought to The Brand office the past week-end by Mrs. C. E. Tice who resides southwest of Hereford. The vegetables were simply immense and grew without any particular care or extra water.

Mrs. Tice cultivated an ordinary garden this year, of no unusual size, was hauled out twice, but in spite of all this harvested enough vegetables of various kinds to put up 650 quarts of canned garden truck.

Half-Inch of Water Falls; Covers Most of Territory

A half inch of rain fell over this territory Tuesday afternoon and night, most of it coming after nightfall. While complete reports were not available Wednesday, it is understood that the moisture covered the greater part of this trade territory.

E. B. Black Co. Sells Big Bill Furniture Across Line

The E. B. Black Furniture Company delivered a big bill of furniture overland to purchasers in Tucuman, New Mexico, a distance of over one hundred miles from Hereford. Jesse Stanford had charge of the long delivery, leaving early Wednesday morning.

EXPERT FOR CREAMERY IS ENGAGED

Committee Gets Down to Brass Tacks and Sends for Man Who Knows Business to Advise Them In Organization.

The special dairy committee recently appointed by the Hereford Chamber of Commerce have made arrangements to secure the services of one of the leading creamery and milk authorities of Iowa to help them in organizing the local plant. This step was definitely taken at a meeting of this committee Monday night and in all probability this man will arrive in Hereford within the next two weeks.

Figures compiled from data secured in the recent Deaf Smith county dairy cow census reveals that more than 2000 cows will furnish dairy products to the creamery and added industries in the dairy line which are being considered in connection with the making of butter.

Daily inquiries are being received from the interested creamery men in the Northern States, and the possibility of one of the large companies locating a condenser is being rumored through the sources. Herman Schultz, prominent dairyman of Deaf Smith county, who is chairman of the committee, states that no steps will be left undone in securing this industry and making Deaf Smith county one of the leading dairy producing centers in the Southwest.

Christmas Shopping Campaign Sponsored By Business Men

The Hereford Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Christmas shopping campaign and is featuring a news reel at the Star Theatre through the courtesy of Mr. Pickett. This film sets forth seven reasons why the Christmas shopping should be done in Hereford and was purchased by the Chamber of Commerce in sponsoring a trade-at-home movement.

Letters are being mailed to all business concerns in the city calling attention to this film and asking their co-operation in the movement.

W. J. Gilliland Operated On In California; Improves

W. J. Gilliland Monday received a wire that his father, W. J. Gilliland, whose home is in Los Angeles, California, had been operated on that morning and had stood the operation well. The elder Mr. Gilliland was long a resident of Hereford and his friends here are much concerned about his condition.

Preston Johnson Killed In Car Wreck Saturday

A broken radius rod on the car of Preston E. Johnson caused the automobile to turn over late Saturday afternoon, and young Johnson was so badly crushed about the chest and neck that he died shortly after he had been hurried to the Deaf Smith County Hospital. The unfortunate accident occurred on the Hereford-Summerfield road. An uncle of Mr. Johnson accompanied him but escaped serious injury.

Mr. Johnson was twenty-eight years of age and, besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnson of this city, is survived by his wife and little son, William Henry. Burial services were conducted by the Rev. V. M. Cloyd of the First Baptist church of Hereford Sunday afternoon, with interment in the local cemetery. The loss of this sterling young man is a severe blow to a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He was known as a man of fine character, hard working and exceedingly popular with all those privileged to know him.

GAS IS NOW HERE; HOMES BEING PIPED

Temporary Two-Inch Lines Laid Into Town; Meters Are Beginning to Be Installed In Various Parts of City.

The long looked for natural gas was officially turned into the Hereford mains at 1:00 a. m. Tuesday morning, according to local manager Scovell. It was merely a test of the low pressure system, however, before getting right down to distribution questions and puzzles.

There has been a gap of about seven thousand feet in the main line outside town, and as a temporary measure a two-inch high pressure pipe was laid and the gas brought into the city. Meanwhile the missing piping has arrived and will be installed as soon as possible. Wednesday meter work was in progress, by the various crews (Continued On Page Seven.)

Mrs. H. C. Baird Operated On; Red Smith Improving

Mrs. H. C. Baird of the Junco community, underwent a major operation last Saturday at the Deaf Smith county hospital. Reports Thursday morning were that Mrs. Baird was rallying nicely and it was believed the crisis had been passed safely.

W. T. (Red) Smith, who has been critically ill following a recent operation, is now in a wheel chair at the hospital and is rapidly mending. His many friends will be delighted to hear of his recovery.

Heating Facilities at Court House Enlarged and Bettered

New boilers, equipped to use either gas or coal, and of much greater power than the old ones, have been installed in the basement of the Deaf Smith county court house. New radiators have also been added and the old ones worked over. The old vapor system will still be used, but with the new combination added heat and comfort is assured the occupants of the county official headquarters.

DEAR FRIENDS:

November 15, 1928.

They've been having quite a time here at the plant with a party dress that came in a day or two ago. It was so badly soiled that it could hardly be cleaned—at least, cleaned the way the boss wants it to be.

It doesn't pay to allow a dress to become too badly soiled. Sometimes it won't "come back," as Mr. Orr says.

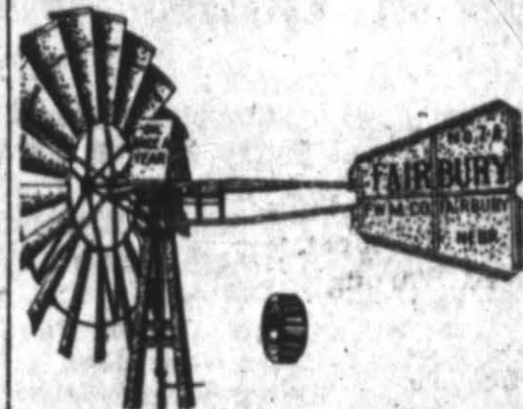

The better way is to send the dress in more frequently. In that way those perspiration stains won't become permanent.

That's just a suggestion, of course.

Texas & Texans

By WILL H. MAYES

favorite stopping place of General Robert E. Lee, was torn down to make room for a modern building. Travelers prefer comfort to sentiment, so the Nimitz had to go. It is now announced that the famous old Tremont Hotel at Galveston, a five story structure that was once the pride of Texas, and a noted social center, must be torn down to be replaced by a hotel in keeping with the requirements of the present. Fifty years is a short span in history, but it brings many changes in the requirements of a developing state like Texas, so the Tremont must pass and in a few more years will be lost, even to the memory.

Georgetown and Lampasas.

While it may not be necessary to tear away old buildings to make way for new hotels in Georgetown and Lampasas, these places have recognized the necessity for keeping up with the demand of the age and have met the requirements for hotels to cost in excess of $100,000 each. In no one other business has there been greater advance than in the management of hotels and while some of us regret that the old time family hotel table with its tempting viands spread for all to help themselves is almost a thing

New Machines for Farm Cultivation

New agricultural motor machinery which is said to be able to revolutionize and speed up agricultural products and growing systems of the cultivation of land were demonstrated near Paris recently before the French Minister of Agriculture M. Queille, and M. Painleve, and many other experts. One of the new super agricultural machines is shown above at work.

of the past, we must subject our wishes and our appetites to the modern order of things and patronize the hotel cafes.

Ranches In Demand.

Perhaps more stock-ranches are changing hands in Texas than ever before in the history of the state. Certainly higher prices are being paid for ranches. Some of them are being subdivided into farms but a larger number are bought to be held for cattle or sheep and goats. Much of this activity in ranch land transactions is due to good prices for cattle and demand for wool and mohair.

There is no single part of the state in which the demand for ranches is greatest and sales are reported all over West Texas from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande.

Luling Oil Boom.

The most recent oil boom in Texas has been at Luling where an oil field is being developed that promises to exceed the rich fields found there a few years ago from which nearly $40,000,000 worth of oil has been taken. Reports are that $1,500,000 is involved in a single recent Luling oil transaction. As much as $2500 has been paid for lease of an eighth of an acre. Property in Luling has advanced from 50 to 200 per cent since the latest oil discovery. It is a boom of the kind that delights the heart of the old time oil prospector and the real estate speculator.

Fredricksburg-Spreading.

A few years ago Fredricksburg was the largest unincorporated town in Texas. It has since incorporated and taken on more city-like airs. Suburban real estate has been selling at $2500 an acre and when land gets that high without an oil or mining boom there is a good reason for it. In this case it means that Fredricksburg is spreading out rapidly beyond its former limits.

Waco-Port Arthur Road.

The Waco-Port Arthur railroad with a long name, but better known as the Duff railroad has been authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue $900,000 in capital stock and $3,000,000 in bond to connect the existing lines with which traffic arrangements have been made. This means improved railroad facilities for a fine part of East Texas and the development of a large section of East Texas country.

Texas Jersey Cattle.

The grand champion cow in the National Jersey Show at Memphis, was from Taft, San Patricio county. Texas is fast becoming noted for dairy cattle. The improvements of its herds has been largely due to the increased number of milk and cheese factories established in the state in the last few years. Texas climate and pastures seem to afford the ideal combination for profitable dairying.

Pearsall Vegetable Plants.

For several years Texas has been supplying millions of onion plants to growers in the north. Lately the business on an extensive scale has extended to other vegetables such as cabbage, tomatoes and peppers and to strawberry plants. Pearsall is a center for shipment of plants which go out from there by millions, the soil there being especially adapted to their good growth.

PAUL'S EXPERIENCE IN JERUSALEM

Acts 21:37-22: 1:22-29

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Action and plenty of it followed Paul's arrival at Jerusalem. James the brother of Jesus, presided over the conference where Paul made his report and turned over the offerings which had been gathered for the poor in Jerusalem during this third missionary journey, now concluding. When account was given of the way in which many Gentiles believed in the crucified and risen Lord, "they glorified God." At the same time they told Paul that he was being spoken against by those who were sure that he had forsaken the laws and customs that dated back to the days of Moses. To win favor with such cities he was advised to assume the cost of vows recently made by four men and take the same Nazarite vow on himself for the remaining seven days. Paul was ready to make this concession for he was steadfast as a Jew though he had added to his beliefs meanwhile. Trouble began when some devout Jews from Asia declared that this man, already under suspicion, had brought Trophimus, the Ephesian, a total alien, into the section of the Temple area whither only a Jew might go. The Chief distinctly read that if another than a Jew passed beyond that point the death penalty would be inflicted. The uproar was fierce and the Temple guards shut the gates as soon as Paul could be dragged out. Seeing the confusion the Roman soldiers were rushed from the Castle of Antonio for the protection of the man against whom the cry was raised, "Away with him." To secure Paul's safety, for the Romans were responsible, the prisoner was taken within Antonio where the centurion was ordered to scourge the man and thus extort his confession. This was akin to what is called the "third degree" of modern days. At just the psychological moment, as the lash was about to fall on the bare back Paul asked a quiet question that changed everything suddenly. He said, "Is it lawful to scourge a man that is a Roman, and undenned?" They knew that Paul had not made any bluff as to his claim of Roman citizenship, else he would have been punished with death. The centurion called the chief captain, Claudius, Lysias, who also was a citizen of Rome. When asked if his claim was true Paul said "Yes." Lysias was amazed for his citizenship had been obtained at great cost. Then Paul, with just pride in his ancestry, adds to the evaluation that is now being made of him, "But I am a Roman born." There were no further torments that day.

Next day Paul faced the Jewish Sanhedrin. When he saw that his cause could not have a fair hearing there he threw that court into confusion by dividing the Pharisees and Sadducees as he mentioned the resurrection. Turmoil started once more and the castle again became the place for safekeeping. When a fierce plot was discovered Paul was hastened northward to Caesarea under a strong guard. Meanwhile Paul had been encouraged by a night vision as "the Lord stood by him and said Be of good cheer, for as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome." That message was of wonderful consolation through the two years that followed while as a prisoner and during the journey to Rome that ended in a shipwreck.

To the first half-million new Ford owners

TO THE half-million men and women who have received new Fords in the last eleven months, there is no need to dwell on the performance of the car.

You have tested its speed on the open road. In traffic you have noted its quick acceleration and the safety of its brakes. You know how it climbs the hills. On long trips and over rough stretches you have come to appreciate its easy-riding comfort. Continuous driving has proved its economy of operation and low cost of up-keep.

This is an invitation to you to take full advantage of the service facilities of the Ford dealer organization so that you may continue to enjoy many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

The point is this. You have a great car in the new Ford. It is simple in design, constructed of the best materials and machined with unusual accuracy. It is so well-made, in fact, that it requires surprisingly little attention. Yet that doesn't mean it should be neglected. Like every other fine piece of machinery, it will serve you better and longer if given proper care.

One of the best ways to do this is to take your car to the Ford dealer every 500 miles for oiling and greasing and a checking-up of the little things that have such a great bearing on long life and continuously good performance.

Such an inspection may mean a great deal to your car. To you it means thousands upon thousands of miles of motoring without a care—without ever lifting the hood.

Ford dealers everywhere have been specially trained and equipped to service the new Ford. You will find them prompt and reliable in their work, fair in their charges, and sincerely eager to help you get the greatest possible use from your car for the longest period at a minimum of trouble and expense. That is the true meaning of Ford Service.

Citation On Application for Letters of Administration.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Deaf Smith County, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Deaf Smith county, a copy of the following notice:
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To all persons interested in the estate of Myrtle Speelman, deceased, F. T. Roloson has filed in the County Court of Deaf Smith county an application for Letters of Administration upon the Estate of said Myrtle Speelman, deceased, which will be heard at the next term of said Court, commencing on the first Monday in December A. D. 1928, the same being

STOCKMEN STAMPEDED!

Stampedes cost money, and you have paid the stamper. In 1912 T. B. Slaughter had Hemorrhagic Septicemia in his herd of 1900 cows with fifty per cent loss. Government and state men did their best. Vaccine was not perfected then. Overton, south of Black, and others, can tell you that for a few cents I kept a herd spreading the same disease, with flu and cholera, appeared among the hogs of Nunn and Matthews. I stopped it from spreading by vaccinating a circle around, and kept you milling until quieted. How many lost by taking my advice.
Recently the Jones & McLean herd had complications. I vaccinated all of them twice, sometimes four or five times, and witnesses can testify I said if we could hold the fifth day we could stop the loss. On the fifth day an agent and salesman was allowed to vaccinate and get credit for the cure without my consent or knowledge. Blackleg, like this disease in cattle, is not stopped in a day by vaccinating, like smallpox in people. This vaccine they used was not recommended by the veterinary profession and sold at a price I have tried to control to a reasonable profit when needed. My price is seven cents to ten cents per dose, same as used by me for years. The U. S. Government sets and recommends this dose and the laboratories are recommended by the medical profession as a whole, and is germ-free vaccine.
Henry Hastings, W. E. Hicks, H. G. Conkwright and others can testify to results. The facts are always best told.
At various times men come here, and did you get results better than mine?
All cattle passing through public stock yards are unsafe without vaccinating, and others if exposed.
Adv. DR. F. E. BOWE.

the 3rd day of December A. D. 1928, at the Court House thereof, in Hereford, Deaf Smith County, Texas, at which time all persons interested in said Estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so.
Herein fall not, but have you before said Court on the first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said Court, at office in Hereford, Texas, this the 14th day of November A. D. 1928.

Feeding Whole Grain Means Costly Waste

—Observation has proven that feeder stock take on more flesh in a given time by the feeding of ground feed than by the feeding of whole grain.

—Ground roughage is cleaned up where coarse roughage is picked over and a large percent left untouched.

—By using a FAIRBANKS-MORSE ALL-PURPOSE HAMMER TYPE FEED MILL you can grind both small grains and roughage, and realize a maximum of profit from your feed.

—The FAIRBANKS-MORSE MILL has many exclusive features not used by other Hammer Type mills. The low price makes it possible for every farmer to own one.

—Call at our office and let us explain to you the many uses of this mill. We are distributors for the complete Fairbanks-Morse line, which includes Engines, Windmills, Light Plants, Water Pumps and Washing Machines.

and by the end of the week the company officials said some patrons who had been connected would be burning gas, with the others to follow as rapidly as the meters and equipment can be installed.

Manager Scovell asks the people to be as patient as possible and states that the customers are not a bit more anxious to get everything completed than is the gas company.

Mr. Scovell is very proud of the fact that company reports show that during the past month the local office, in competition with twenty-five other towns and with five utilities topped the list in sales of equipment.

Herford Wins Next Meet District Music Study Clubs

Herford won the next annual convention of the Seventh District Federation of Music Clubs Saturday, when the very cordial invitation was presented through Mrs. H. L. Broadwell. The all-day second annual convention took prominent representatives of music clubs to Amarillo from Herford, Childress, Canyon, Lubbock, Quanah, Plainview, Dalhart, Crowell, Hedley, Paducah, and Chillicothe.

The Herring Hotel was headquarters for the convention. The music life of not only the district, but the state and country became the pivotal center of discussions and a number of measures were adopted to this end, which included the support of National Music Week; state music; scholarships and loans; the furtherance of American and promotion of district and state contests; federation of junior and juvenile clubs, more intensive publicity for its activities; ratification of the constitution and by-laws of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

It was also decided to hold the district contests early in April next year in order to allow the winners to compete in the state contest, which will be held at Corsicana. The Seventh District has twenty-five junior clubs federated and thirteen senior clubs, and it is believed the contest next spring will be one of the best ever held.

Officers elected at the morning session were: Mrs. R. E. L. Morgan, re-elected president; Mrs. H. L. Broadwell, Herford, vice-president; Miss Margaret Doorley, Dalhart, recording secretary; Mrs. E. R. Biggs, Amarillo, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. E. Diggs, Childress, treasurer; Mrs. E. L. Robertson, Lubbock, parliamentarian.

District officers of the federation include Mrs. A. O. Thompson, Ray Conaway, C. C. Ferguson and Jesse Stanford of Herford. The local Music Study Club was well represented at the meeting.

Northern Man Writes of Dairy Industry There

John H. Olson, manager of the Rockwell Bros. Lumber Company at Herford, is greatly interested in the dairy and creamery movement here and has just received some valuable data from the department of agriculture of the State of Minnesota. Mr. Olson's father-in-law is Prof. Andrew Ross, director of Experiment Stations in Minnesota, and it was through his influence that this data has been obtained. The letter to

Mr. Olson says, in part: "We consider 750 ordinary milk cows as the minimum in order to maintain a creamery in operation through the year. One thousand cows is better. The building may be frame or brick or any other material. A frame creamery should be about 46 by 56 on the floor and one story and a half high. Some of our Minnesota creameries are much smaller than this. In some cases the second story is completed and is used for storage room or meeting purposes. All of our recently constructed creameries are made of brick. The general contract on one I dedicated recently was $10,500. The building was brick, 48 by 56 feet and two stories high. The equipment for the ordinary creamery will cost your about six to eight thousand dollars.

"The shares of stock are usually $25, although often times $50 is the par value. Under our law an owner is limited to only a maximum of $1000 of stock and regardless of his stockholdings he has only one vote. We sometimes limit the number of shares to two or four or some other small number. We sell as much stock as the patrons will absorb, which is about four to eight thousand dollars. The balance for construction is usually borrowed at five or six percent and is secured by a mortgage on the building. Where a farmer cannot pay cash for his shares we take his note and borrow on it and make a deduction of one or two cents on his butterfat to apply on his note. We usually make the same deduction to apply on the payment of the mortgage.

"It may be of interest to you to know that during 1928, Minnesota paid on an average for butterfat a little over nine cents more per pound than did North Dakota. This was because we have 640 co-operative creameries in Minnesota, whereas North Dakota has but few.

THE TIGER TRAIL

by Edison Marshall

"They will come back soon and want to talk to their guest. One of their guests is gone—you know where. Yesterday they bore him across the water. You only remain, and you are very dear to them, Sahib STRUMBURG!"

Vilas leaned forward. "Strumburg? How dare you call me by that name? My name is Hayward."

Once Strumburg, then Roderick—then Hayward—what does it matter, sahib? Names die when their bearers die."

"But I'm not Strumburg. I tell you I'm not—"

"I will remember sahib that you told me that. But consider again, and see if you don't want to make me another answer."

"I'll never admit it."

"I will go from you for a minute, sahib—just a minute into the darkness—and then I will return. I will want your answer then. And there might be other things for you to tell me, too, when I come into your presence a moment from now. You really had no proofs that Sahib Southley is wanted in prison."

"But I have. You can't scare me out of it."

"Both things you can answer when I return to the sahib's presence. It will be just a little moment—"

Vilas half rose in his seat, ordering the servant to relight the candle. But Ahmad did not obey. Rather he faded. The shadows hid him and darkness closed round him.

Yet it wasn't as if he had completely gone. I knew that he was waiting somewhere in the darkness, just beyond—perhaps behind the curtains, possibly in the hall. I didn't hear or see him. I simply knew he was there and in a moment more would come back into the light for the answer to his questions. A long moment passed away. The house was tense and still. And once more I looked at Vilas Hayward.

He had his head turned over his shoulder and was watching with fascinated horror something that approached him in the darkness. I couldn't see what it was at first. It was farther away from me. But yet I was aware of the sense of something moving—something half crawling, half sliding toward the man in the chair. And then I saw an irregular gray patch of shadow that was not quite so dark as the shadow around it—a patch which seemed to be moving. And all at once it halted.

The Tiger of Southley Downs had come again. The candlelight was ineffective and dim, yet it showed the outline plain. Even then I tried to tell myself it was some mental fallacy, a mirage or delusion that could not possibly be true. I tried to say it was the effect of light and shadow, but the lie died before it came to my thought. It wasn't any use to try to deny the reality of the thing.

There was the tawny hide, darkened of course by the shadow, the low hung head, the great black stripes. The details were obscured, but my eyes didn't need them to recognize the creature. It seemed to be lying close to the floor in the position a tiger takes just before it springs.

And I couldn't say it wasn't true. It would not have been so convincing if Vilas had not seen it too. And I knew by the suppressed gasp of the great detective beside me that his eyes were resting also on the thing. I think he started to whisper some message of wonder. But I didn't hear him. All I heard was Vilas' scream.

He backed up against the wall, his fingers at his throat. There was no record left in my brain of the sounds he made and the words he said. Ahmad Das had returned, just as he had promised, to get the answer to his questions. The transformation was complete—the tiger soul at last in its own body. And Vilas was ready to answer.

"I'll tell you all, I'm Strumburg, just as you said, and a fugitive from justice, too. And I haven't anything against Southley. Even my father couldn't have proved his claim in a test, and he's dead. Let me go, Ahmad. Don't raise your talons against me."

The wild flow of words died away and for an instant the form in the shadow halted. Then it moved slowly forward again.

"I tell you I'll go away and never return again. We never had any real proofs. Ahmad! Let me go!"

And at that instant I felt Alexander's breath against my ear.

"You heard, didn't you, Long?" he whispered.

"Yes—"

"Then the work's done."

I felt the stir as his arm reached up to an electric switch on the wall. He pressed it. Unknown to me the wrecked lighting plant had been repaired. All the great chandeliers of the library flashed on at once.

The first impression was blindness. But as my eyes became adjusted to the sudden glare I knew at least part of the truth at last. The form of the tiger had been most real and convincing at the edge of the dim and ineffective candle light. But it was no more terrible than the counterfeit giraffes that the clowns parade in a circus ring when the glare of the chandeliers came down. Before us, stripped of all delusion Ahmad Das rested on his hands and feet on the floor. He held his body low, his legs almost straight, to give the effect of length. Over him in a rather ingenious way was thrown a great tawny tiger skin. The four legs were fastened with some simple device to his ankles and wrists and the great head filled out with some light substance rested on his head.

I leaped and seized Alexander's shoulders.

"Good Heavens!" I yelled in his ear.

"That's only part of it. That insane hoax couldn't have broken Hayward's neck!"

But Alexander wriggled out of my grasp.

"Of course it didn't break Hayward's neck," he said. "The real murderer of Hayward slipped one over on us, improvised some business that wasn't written in the play. I've got the real murderer of Hayward dead down in the boat."

Alexander Piece spent most of the rest of the evening answering questions. There were more things to find out than ever I thought I

Something new in modern surgery.

Dr. Robert Meals a young surgeon of Hollywood, thought that shock after surgical operation is caused by anaesthetics, not by the operation.

To test his theory, he removed his own appendix, lying on the operating table propped up, asking the assistance of a brother surgeon only in locating the appendix, and removing adhesions.

A fine display of self-control and "courage."

Local anaesthesia was employed but could not prevent internal pain.

This operation again raises the question, "What IS courage?"

It reminds us that not long ago before anaesthetics were used, all operations were accompanied by terrible pain.

The clergy said it was a shame to use anaesthetics because it defeated the will of God, who desired his creatures to suffer. That opinion has been abandoned.

Transparent soap is prepared by drying ordinary soap, dissolving it in alcohol, allowing the solution to remain at rest so long as any impurities settle to the bottom, and then pouring off the alcohol liquid and evaporating it until it is of such consistency as to become solid when cooled in molds.

HALF MILLION PEOPLE AIDED BY RED CROSS IN HURRICANE RELIEF

Porto Rico and Florida Victims Helped by Prompt Action; $5,000,000 Given by Public.

One of the greatest disasters, in point of loss of life and devastation of homes, in which the American Red Cross has ever carried relief was the West Indies hurricane of September last, which swept across Porto Rico, parts of the Virgin Islands, the coast of Florida and north to end in torrential rains, flooding streams in a half dozen states. The known dead in all of the areas affected was 2,259, although it was admitted that the complete total of dead in Florida would never be known. The number of injured was estimated at 3,170. Approximately 20,000 buildings were destroyed and damaged.

At the height of the emergency the Red Cross was caring for 506,410 people—that is, feeding and clothing them and arranging for whatever shelter was obtainable. As long as three weeks after the hurricane struck Porto Rico and Florida, the Red Cross was aiding 20,236 people, who were sick, of these 236 in Florida and the remainder in Porto Rico, where influenza and malaria were being treated to prevent epidemics of more drastic diseases. Large numbers of Red Cross nurses were active at both points.

In Florida more than 11,000 persons applied to Red Cross for assistance, and a great number of people in Florida and also in Porto Rico still were being cared for in the matter of food, clothing and shelter as long as two months after the hurricane, while they awaited maturing crops which would enable them to again become self sustaining.

For this relief task, the American public gave the American Red Cross a fund of $5,000,000—the sum set forth in a proclamation issued by President Coolidge a few days after news of the hurricane was received.

The relief given by the Red Cross in this great emergency, spread over such a wide territory of sea and land, was everywhere commended and especial emphasis was placed upon the promptitude with which the organization responded. The hurricane struck Porto Rico September 13, and the first relief cable word of it came September 14, to both Red Cross and the news agencies. Before nightfall, the national director of disaster relief for the Red Cross and a staff of four trained men had left Washington for Charleston, South Carolina, to board a navy destroyer which upon instruction of the President of the United States had been placed at command of the Red Cross by the Secretary of the Navy. And although the next day was Sunday, a Red Cross man arrived in New York to purchase a thousand tons of food for the Porto Ricans, already reported to be starving, and the Navy again placed a ship for the cargo at Red Cross command. Late on Saturday evening there came another cable—a Red Cross nurse at St. Croix, in the Virgin Islands, addressed a plea to the mother organization in Washington and gave first warning of the disaster.

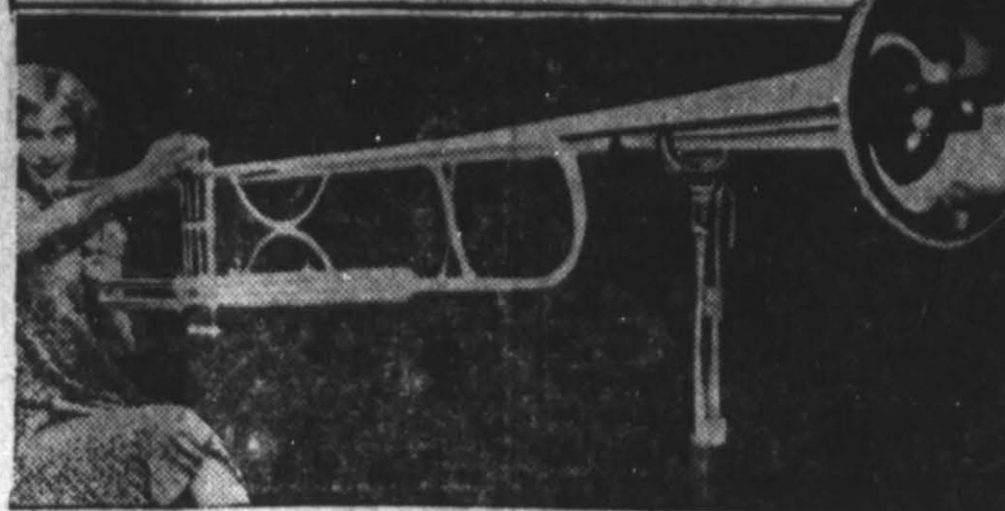

The American possession, where no family in a population of 11,000 had escaped injury. In the meantime the Red Cross had notified its Florida Chapters that it stood ready for any service, in event the hurricane, headed toward them, did any damage. Not content with this, the Red Cross on Sunday night organized a disaster relief director and six workers for Florida.

Money, food, clothing were dispatched immediately to both points, and before the end of the week the Red Cross was feeding a half million people.

This prompt response was made possible by the disaster relief organization the Red Cross has brought together and trained through a series of such national calamities.

Hints for the Home

The holidays are approaching and it is time to think of Christmas and New Year's greeting cards—new designs are on display and it pays to make selections early while the variety is good and orders for engraving can be comfortably filled before the rush.

And have you seen the newest styles in cards, the modernistic motifs in which the Christmas story is told in brightly colored triangles—discs or geometric designs symbolizing Christmas trees, toys or candles or stars or snow flake?

In the old favorite designs the same urge for brighter color results in bigger, bolder cards, although colorful simplicity is the very keynote of this year's cards.

Remembering past seasons when friends failed to receive the card you sent, be sure this time to write your name and address on the envelope flap. It will serve both for a return address and to notify the recipient of your latest address.

We insist that you be insured against everything—always.

Your bank should be your insurance agent, because of the centering of your financial affairs behind those grilles. Be good to yourself!
