Romance Of Civil War Days Is Offered At Ritz Theatre Today

Margaret Sullivan Is Star In 'So Red The Rose'

Produced by Douglass MacLean, directed by King Vidor, screen play by Laurence Stallings, Maxwell Anderson and Edwin Justus Mayer, music by Frank Harting, costumes by Travis Barton, and starring Margaret Sullivan—that's "So Red the Rose." Those features plus the basis of Stark Young's famous novel combine to make one of the best pictures of the year, coming to the Ritz theater Sunday and Monday.

Almost everyone has read or heard about the Young novel and the Paramount producers give it to the American movie-going public while the interest is still high on the popular author's work.

Supporting Miss Sullivan, who leaped into fame two years ago as the dramatic star of "Only Yesterday," are Elizabeth Patterson, Janet Beecher and Dickie Moore, among others.

The story deals with the Bedford family during the days of the Civil war and with Vallette Bedford in particular, the role being taken by Miss Sullivan.

Scott is cast as Duncan Bedford, her lover, while Connolly takes the part of Malcolm Bedford, head of the Bedford plantation.

Duncan joins the Southern forces in the major conflict after sev-

Sinclair Supplies 1 Out Of 9 1/2

Sinclair Refining Co. whose products, Sinclair HC gasoline, Sinclair Opaline and Pure Pennsylvania motor oils and other petroleum products are wholesaled and distributed by I. T. Stewart in Big Spring, supplies one out of every nine and one-half gallons of lubricants used in America.

Sinclair Refining Company products, which are distributed throughout Howard county by I. T. Stewart in Big Spring, are among the most widely used by the United States in 36 states for tanks and other motorize equipment are supplied by Sinclair. Battleships, destroyers, submarines and aircraft on which naval cadets are trained on the Atlantic seaboard and trucks, tractors, motor cars and other equipment used at West Point are all Sinclair lubricated. These facts are all the more impressive when we realize that U. S. government engineers carefully test all oils and greases before approving them for use on government equipment and they have approved Sinclair oils and greases for five consecutive years.

The answer is that the Sinclair Refining Co. has certain advantages which few other oil companies possess. Sinclair is almost the only refining company which has access to the oldest crude oil in all three of the great producing areas in the United States. The Sinclair pipeline system—the cheapest mode of all transportation—is the longest in the world. It embraces over 7,000 miles of trunk lines and an extensive gathering system and it is by this pipeline that the major portion of Sinclair crudes is brought to their 12 great refineries in the United States. Savings effected through this cheap transportation and their strategically located refineries are passed on to the consumer in the form of higher quality products at no increase in price.

These are some of the reasons why Sinclair gasoline and motor oil enjoy and if you are not already a confirmed user of them, drive into one of their numerous service stations in Big Spring and vicinity, all of which can be identified by the big HC sign and see why for yourself.

Mr. Stewart, who acts as distributor and commission agent for Sinclair products, wishes to express appreciation for the business extended them in 1935 and to wish all Big Spring and Howard county people a Joyous Xmas Holiday.—12-22-35.

Insurance A Recognized Essential

The Robert Stripling Insurance Agency in the Petroleum building in Big Spring has for six years offered to this section a complete service in the general insurance business including life.

The consensus of opinion of all capable financial authorities is that property and general insurance is one of the prime necessities of the crop grower and property owner. Indeed when one investigates insurance costs of all kinds, it is almost unbelievable that the owner of anything of tangible value would jeopardize his investment by lack of insurance. This is especially true when we think of the many things over which we have no control such as storms, fires and other acts of Providence which might in a short time totally destroy our property. Property which is used as a basis of credit usually must be insured and in case of loss the insured is immediately indemnified and can continue business.

The Robert Stripling Insurance Agency represents only the strongest of companies and during the six years it has served this community no policy holder has ever lost a cent by reason of financial difficulties of a company represented by them. In case of losses in any form of insurance, claims are settled promptly and satisfactorily. The Stripling agency sells fire, tornado, hail, and in fact any kind of general insurance you may require, an example of one form which is a comparatively new kind is automobile liability and property damage insurance which protects the responsible person against lawsuits by others with whom he might collide and injure. No protection is more important than this. To drive your car without it, in case of an accident, involve you in a lawsuit and judgment for hundreds, or as it often happens, thousands of dollars.

Careful and courteous attention will be given to any inquiry you may wish to make. In fact Mr. Stripling cordially invites you to avail yourself of any advice you may seek touching on insurance needs.

He desires to thank you for the privilege of serving you in 1935 and to wish all Big Spring and Howard county people a Happy Xmas and Prosperous New Year.—12-22-35.

New McCormick-Deering Dealer

The Miller-Oldham Co. at 110 Runnels street—successor to J. & W. Fisher—carries a full line of International Trucks, McCormick-Deering Tractors and Cream Separators and Farm Implements for every need. Also all kinds of parts together with all other implement accessories. — George Oldham, manager.

In 1831 Cyrus McCormick invented the first grain reaper which immediately supplanted the old fashioned cradle and in so doing he made one of the most important contributions to the farm industry in history. Shortly afterwards he organized the McCormick Implement Co., which, with its successor, the International Harvester Co., has been for over a century a leader in manufacturing and improving farm implements. The fact that they have continually devoted their time and resources to the development and improvement of farm implements that have no superior has made this company one whose contributions of good to the farm industry are unsurpassed.

THRILLING JUNGLE ADVENTURE FILM FEATURED AT THE LYRIC

Charles Bickford Has Leading Role In 'East Of Java' Opening Run Today

Described as one of the most thrilling and tense of all jungle productions is Universal's "East of Java," starring Charles Bickford, opening a three-day run at the Lyric theater Sunday. Bickford, cast as an American gangster fleeing from East Africa, with government agents on his trail, defends seven covering human beings, including a beautiful woman, against attack by lions, when a tramp schooner is wrecked on a jungle island.

This is the film in which Bickford, during the lion scene was attacked by a crazed beast and nearly died of his wounds.

In the cast are Elizabeth Young, Frank Albertson, Leslie Fenton, Clarence Muse and others. The production was adapted from the popular Gouverneur Morris book, "Tiger Island."

The story opens with Bickford fleeing the East African port of Simba Sao in the tramp schooner "Sea Dragon," Leslie Fenton, master. The ship is shipping, beside human cargo, a consignment of lions and other jungle beasts, to America. A tropical hurricane sweeps the ship onto reefs, humans and beasts escape to the island and the fight for the survival of the fittest starts. Hunger, thirst, lack of firewood, fever and jungle insanity follow as the beasts sweep closer and closer to their human prey.

Who survives the grueling battle is told only in the last part of the last reel. Bickford, in a role that calls for him to be half human, half beast, as he fights off his enemies, both human and animal, handles each situation with brute ferocity and force.

Edward Everett Horton is To Be Seen In 'Your Uncle Dudley'

Because Edward Everett Horton has always managed to make even the smallest role one of interest, he has been advanced to starring parts. One of the latest of these is his role in "Your Uncle Dudley," a comedy which plays Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Queen.

"Your Uncle Dudley" is a laugh hit which gives Horton the type of part in which his followers like to see him.

The story is an amusing account of a small-town booster who proved a personal "flat tire" until something occurs to shake him out of his rapt adoration for loving cups. As played by Horton, Dudley is a timid soul who thrives on the praise heaped upon him by fellow townsmen while they garner all the gains.

His girl, played by Lois Wilson, eral of his friends have met death and leads a regiment through the conflict while the Bedfords are fighting to save their home.

Margaret Sullivan reaches new heights in "So Red the Rose" while Scott once again proves that he was worthy of the producers' move in rescuing him from the "horse opera" shows of several years ago.

"So Red the Rose" is essentially a drama of the adversities faced by Southern people in the days of the war between the states. It reveals the ideals and hopes and bravery of an aristocratic Southern family when the call of war made men and women meet the demands of duty. It is also the story of a young girl's love for a man, who, in his efforts to do what he believes is right, hesitates before he forges love for patriotism.

Aircraft Makers In England Busy As Nation Arms

LONDON, Dec. 21. (AP) — Four teen-British aircraft firms are busy with orders for the more than 2,000 military and training planes required for the expansion of the royal air force.

Eighteen types of planes are provided for in contracts which have been officially announced, including fast pursuit planes, twin-engine bombers, and flying boats.

Home defense squadrons, when the expansion program was announced, numbered 53, with a total of 580 first-line aircraft. The scheduled strength 17 months hence is to be 123 squadrons with 1,500 first-line machines.

Expenditures in the current financial year will be approximately $45,000,000, and a similar amount will be required, it is estimated, to complete the program by the end of the next financial year on March 31, 1937.

Plans Rushed For Air Route Over Atlantic

Four Nations Competing; Service Expected In Next Two Years

PARIS, Dec. 21 (UP)—Convinced that the day is not far off when aircraft will compete with ocean liners in carrying mails and passengers regularly across the North Atlantic, four nations in 1936 will speed their preparations for entering in this unknown field.

The United States, France, Great Britain and Germany, each of the first three with its favorite airplane types and chosen routes, and the last named with airships, will try to clinch their position in the coming year. If not actually running regular air routes within the next 12 months, they will at least have the most important part of their preliminary study done. Routes will be mapped, organization arrangements will be under way, and perhaps even plans for hangars, seaplane landing places and other ground work will be completed.

U. S. Ahead Technically
All of these countries have devoted careful study to the North Atlantic in recent years and have made plans, at least in a general way, for the time when separately or in pools they will begin exploitation. In heavier-than-air craft the United States is conceded by European experts to be the farthest advanced, France at the end of 1935 seems best prepared to undertake final study of a regular North Atlantic seaplane line, and England appears in third place. Germany remains favorable to Zeppelins.

For a regular Atlantic route France, experienced in ocean traffic as a result of the highly successful South Atlantic mail line from Dakar, Senegal, to Natal, Brazil, places most stock in huge seaplanes like the famous 37-ton Lieutenant Paris. Besides these, several of which are projected, the air ministry and commercial experts are studying an aerial giant that would weigh 50 tons and easily carry more than 100 persons.

France Favors Azores Route
The French feel that the most feasible route is the southernmost, namely, by way of the Azores and Bermuda, and they are losing no time in making a detailed study of it. Lieutenant Nomy, who was named by the air ministry to head a special mission to the Azores, has made extensive reconnaissance flights over the islands, noting the best places for landings. Early in spring several other experts will proceed to the Azores, where they will carry the study further and map the necessary ground work.

Later, if the British are willing, negotiations will be opened either to obtain permission for a French line to use aviation facilities at Bermuda, or for joint Franco-British exploitation. While the United States devoted most of its attention to the Pacific during 1935, the Atlantic was not forgotten. The remarkable performance of planes like the Glenn Martin China Clipper and the four-motored Sikorsky S-42's, have definitely been borne in mind with an eye to establishing an air route with South America.

Non-Stop Flights Possible
But the most outstanding American project as viewed from abroad is the still embryo plan for a fleet of 80-ton Glenn Martins that could, it is believed, make regular North Atlantic non-stop flights. Non-stop flights are more costly than voyages such as the French planes would make with stops at the Azores and Bermuda, but they would be much faster. The great liners now cross in 90 hours, and airplanes should cut the time in half if they are to compete.

SANDIES SWEEP WICHITA OUT OF TITLE RACE

BLAIR CHERRY'S BOYS DISPLAY LOT OF POWER, TRICKY GROUND ATTACK

AMARILLO, Dec. 21.—Displaying power and a tricky ground attack that the Wichita Falls Coyotes could not solve, the Amarillo Golden Sandstern went into the state finals for the second year in succession by defeating the Coyotes today, 27-12, before about 10,000 fans. Their opponents in the final round will be the Greenville Lions, who smashed Corpus Christi in the semifinal battle Friday, 45-0.

Counting soon after the initial period opened when Clesson went over on an end sweep from the seven yard line, the Sandies maintained a decided advantage throughout the four periods, although Stephens put the Jeffriesmen back in the ball game as the second quarter opened by racing 60 yards for a tally.

Running plays from the double wing back formation—the system that has Stephens' pass and crowd of his victories—the powerful Panhandle lads counted a touchdown in the first quarter, two in the second, and the final seven points in the fourth.

Rammed Thru Line
The visitors marked up their other score in the fourth period when Ed Neal, powerful 245 pound fullback, plunged through from the ten yard line.

The Amarillo machine ripped the Wichita forward wall to shreds through the first period, but failed to score until Clesson flipped a pass to Taylor for a touchdown.

Trailing by 13-6, the Black and Red started a drive deep in their own territory that got to midfield before young Jo-Jo White intercepted Stephens' pass and crossed some 50 yards for the third score. Denton accounted for the extra point to make it 20-6 and that was all until the second half.

Coming back in the third period, the Coyotes held the upper hand by driving time after time into Amarillo territory but inside their own twenty, the Sandies stiffened to hold until Neal finally went across in the fourth.

A pass from Kelly to Stephens put the ball inside the ten from where the mighty Neal plunged it over on the first attempt.

The touchdowns drive gave the Wichita fans encouragement that was shortlived. On a quick reverse a few minutes later, Denton went 41 yards for the final score that "iced" the game for Amarillo. Smith kicked the extra point to run the score to 27 points.

The Sandies had started another drive and were deep in enemy territory as the final gun sounded. The Cherry forces piled up 16 first downs to the Coyotes' ten. The visitors tried 154 passes, five of which were complete while half of Amarillo's four aerial heaves were good.

FORT WORTH, Dec. 21.—"Do you want to win the Sugar Bowl game with L. S. U.?" a fan asked one of the Texas Christian football players the other day.

"What a crazy question!" the player retorted. "Of course we want to win it! And we're going to win it if hard work on preparation and hard playing on the football field that day has anything to do with it."

Saturday night in San Francisco, following the Santa Clara game, Coach Dutch Meyer told his squad that they were free until Dec. 18. "Forget football for a while," Meyer told the players. "Play around, study a little extra, eat what you want. Then come back in ten days and we'll start getting ready for the Louisiana bunch."

Whoop 'Em Up
The boys let out whoop that could be heard across the bay, and proceeded to make plans for their ten days' vacation from practice sessions.

But less than a week passed before Jimmie Lawrence, right halfback and sub-captain of the first eleven, came to Coach Meyer and said:

"Coach, we boys have been talking over this Sugar Bowl game, and we have decided we'd better get to work. So we're going to start in again Monday. We'll work out by ourselves if you coaches don't want to go back on the vacation promise."

And, as Coach Meyer observed, "What can you do with a bunch like that?"

So spirit as that has been the secret of T.C.U. gridiron success through the years.

With small squads, sometimes few more than the required eleven men, Horned Frog teams have nevertheless given such a good account of themselves that they stand at the top of the heap in the 13-year standings of the Southwest conference since T.C.U. was admitted.

During the past summer the coaching staff counted up and discovered that the squad seemed destined to have the largest football squad in its history, probably as many as 49 men eligible for varsity.

What with one thing and another, however, by the time the conference games rolled around, that number had decreased to 40.

"This is the first football team I ever saw that I could count," Joe Williams, sports editor of the New York World-Telegram, exclaimed the first time he saw the Frogs work out, in the week preceding the S.M.U. game.

This year's squad has eleven seniors, twelve juniors and seventeen sophomores on it. All but three of the 40 boys live in Texas, and all but five of them were born in Texas. Fifteen of them live in Fort Worth.

No Jealousies
Because of the small size of their squads, the intimacy with which the players know one another, and the absence of fraternal rivalry on the campus, the T.C.U. coaches seldom have squad jealousies to contend with.

Recently, an ardent Frog fan was telling Sam Baugh in no uncertain terms what a great passer he is. Sam was unimpressed. As he thumped away, he replied: "Shucks! If the boys couldn't catch him, just they'd never hear of my throwing 'em!"

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—The return to top form of Tommy Hitchcock, the greatest polo player America has ever produced, was the striking development of the year among the men on horseback.

As if to point an accusing finger at the handicappers who lowered his rating from 10 to nine goals at the start of the year, Hitchcock mounted his favorite ponies, clasped his specially-built helmet down tight and galloped through one of the greatest seasons of his entire career.

Hitchcock's all around horsemanship and hitting featured the victories of Jack Whitney's Greenlee team in the National Open championship as well as the Montu Waterbury Cup tournament. The famous International Field of the Meadow Brook club witnessed some of the most thrilling polo of recent years as Hitchcock, ably supported by Whitney as well as Gerald Baldwin and flashy George H. (Petey) Bostwick, upset the powerful Teton quartet, featuring the Guest boys, and then whipped Seymour Knox's Aurora team in an overtime battle in the open championship final.

A Triumphant Comeback
Hitchcock's comeback was particularly noteworthy because the famous internationalist had suffered severe head injuries in falls during two previous seasons and been warned that his polo career might be cut short. Tommy was put out of action as a result of a spill in the 1933 East-West matches. He suffered a second concussion in 1934 during the trial matches for the intersectional series and again retired to the sidelines.

The reduction of his handicap was a natural consequence of these developments but he dominated this year's competition so completely that it seems certain he will be restored to ranking as America's top goal star. Hitchcock had this maximum rating for 13 consecutive years. He shared it in 1934 with Cecil Smith and Elmer J. Boeseke, Jr., but the latter pair saw their ratings cut this year to nine and eight goals, respectively, and may be reduced further for 1936. Boeseke did not compete in the year's major tournaments.

Bostwick Improves Rating
"Pete" Bostwick, one of the foremost amateur steeplechase riders in the country, turned in a brilliant season at the No. 1 position with Hitchcock feeding him the ball. Bostwick's six-goal rating is certain to be raised to 40.

To offset the lapse in the East-West series, which featured the previous two years of polo competition, a British team came over to compete in the Open Championship but was knocked out in the first round. Competition for the classic International Cup will be resumed next year when an American team is sent to England, to defend the trophy, but there appears no reason to doubt this country has the talent to retain supremacy.

Army won the indoor intercollegiate honors and Yale captured the outdoor championship tournament.

"Fighting Frogs"
It's that sort of spirit that will be behind the Purple and White crew when they oppose the L.S.U. Tigers in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans on New Year's day.

TWO HUNDRED AND FORTY-NINE PLAYERS TOOK PART IN TITLE PONIES HOPE FOR MOSCRIP

Rose Bowl Football Battle May Turn Out To Be Kicking Contest

DALLAS, Dec. 21. (AP)—The Southern Methodist Mustangs hope that Monk Moscrip, Stanford's all-American left end, plays against them in the Rose Bowl.

They want to pit their Maurice Orr, giant right tackle, against Moscrip in a duel of field goals and placement kicks.

Moscrip, who is injured and may not compete, won nation-wide fame by accomplishments of his mighty, exceptionally accurate toe. Orr has booted five field goals this season, including one each against Rice, Arkansas, Baylor, Texas Aggies and Washington university.

Dairyland Products Superior

Manufactured by the Snowwhite Creameries, Inc., aud by leading confectioners, druggists and grocers. Perfectly pasteurized and always fresh, Dairyland milk, butter, ice cream and sherbets are home products of unusual quality. H. E. Howie, Mgr.

Milk and products made from it have for ages formed an important part of man's food. Ice cream, the most delicious of all dairy products, was in the early days of its manufacture considered a luxury, but it is no longer regarded as such and has, in late years, been accepted as a year around food and a desirable part of any well balanced menu.

Physicians endorse it as a food which is both healthy and safe. In this respect the method of improving the safety of dairy products which is known as pasteurization has made ice cream one of the purest of all foods.

The milk and cream with which Dairyland ice cream, sherbets and butter are made is not only pasteurized at the point of manufacture but every other known sanitary safeguard is observed. These things together with the richness and perfect flavor balance which these products possess have made them among the most popular of locally manufactured products. Their quality is carefully maintained regardless of the cost materials and other circumstances.

Dairyland milk is also a quality product in its field. Perfectly pasteurized and coming from tuberculin tested herds which are operated under the supervision of the Snowwhite Creameries, it is rich, healthy, nourishing and safe. Physicians endorse it as a rich source of practically every vitamin essential to good health and advocate a liberal supply daily, especially for children.

Ask for Dairyland products at your store and not only be sure of the best but support Big Spring's locally established manufacturers and remember when you drink Dairyland pasteurized milk you are drinking milk that is pure and safe.

The Snowwhite Creameries desire to thank Big Spring and Howard county people for your patronage in the past and wish all a Happy Holiday Season. 12-22-35.

BEAR CAGERS DISBAND FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Wolf Expects Team To Be In Shape For Conference Opener

WACO, Dec. 21.—Coach Ralph Wolf and his Baylor Bear cage team returned to the campus Friday morning after they had been forced to retreat following their unsuccessful invasion of the hardwood floors of Southeast Texas. The Bears' hopes rose after they had trounced the Sam Houston State Teachers quintet, 40-22, Monday night to usher in their 1936 cage season.

Moving over to Nacogdoches for a two-game series, the Stephen F. Austin State Teachers created a hurricane that demolished the Bruins' air caste as the Baylor quintet was defeated, 40-29. The Bears lost the final game of their road trip to the Stephen F. Austin club after making a brilliant comeback. Trailing, 29-7, at the half, the Bears set off an infuriated attack as the second period began and all but caught the Teachers. The Nacogdoches five finally won, 44-42.

Lack Of Practice
Coach Wolf attributed the pair of losses to lack of practice. Eleven of the 22 squad members of the Baylor team have been at practice less than two weeks since discarding their gridiron tows following a strenuous season. "They're coming around fast, however," stated Coach Wolf, "and I expect my men to be in excellent condition for their first conference game Jan. 7."

Finishing out the week with heavy practice drills and scrimmages based on errors in their practice series against the two teachers teams, the Bears varsity disbanded Saturday for a short holiday vacation before returning to Waco Dec. 26. The Bears hit the road again immediately after Christmas day for Oklahoma and Kansas, where they will play seven games from Dec. 27 through Jan. 3. They will enter the Southwestern tournament at Winfield, Kas., Dec. 30.

BEARS ARRANGE HOLIDAY CARD

To Spend Four Days In Southwestern Cage Tournament At Winfield, Kansas

WACO, Dec. 21. (Sp1)—Baylor Bear basketballers have a seven-day holiday road trip on the slate, opening Dec. 27 against East-Central State Teachers in Ada, Okla., and closing Jan. 3 against Southwestern State Teachers in Weatherford, Okla.

The Bears spend four days in the Southwestern cage tournament at Winfield, Kas.

The Baylor crew opens the 12-game conference slate on the home court Jan. 7 against the Rice Owls. Seven of the conference games will be played in Waco.

record of 147 made in 1935.

New York went to bat most times, 5,623; made most base hits, 1,608; most total bases, 2,337; most home runs for the third consecutive year, with 123, and most one-base hits, 1,181.

Philadelphia allowed opponents to score most runs, 871.

Pittsburgh, for the third consecutive year, made most three-base hits, 90.

Cincinnati stole most bases, 72.

LOSE TWO OF FIRST SIX GAMES

On the losing end of two of their six starts, the Cosden Oilers will take a rest period before resuming their busy schedule on Saturday, January 4, with Tinsy Reed's Eastern New Mexico Greyhounds in the local gym.

The Abilene Christian Wildcats and the Texas Tech Matadors have defeated the locals by decisive margins, and the Cosden coaches will attempt to find the team's weak points before they take the court against Reed's outfit.

Practice, and not material, is needed, for there is no team in West Texas that can match the Cosdenites in star material. With such men as Horace Wallin, Tommy Hutto, Jack Smith and others in their lineup, the Oilers are not lacking in material, but the material of the players are not in tip-top shape.

Both Hutto and Wallin are far from being in good condition. Hutto still shows some of the old zip that marked his high school playing days, but he will not round into form until he gets his eye on the basket. Wallin has slowed some since his playing days at T.C.U., but it is certain that he will look better as the season progresses.

During the second half of the game with the Matadors in Lubbock Thursday night, Hutto suddenly began to swish the nets for point-after-point, but his rally began too late.

Wallin's best performance to date was the one at El Paso where he led a last period victory march against the All-Stars by sinking four field goals after he entered the game during the second quarter, and passing and dribbling in classy style.

Of the other players, Dave Hopper has displayed the best form to date. "Big Hop" gave both the Wildcats and the Matadors a lot of trouble during his stay in the games.

On the defense, Lloyd Forrester has probably been the most outstanding. Not afraid to take chances, the Cosden guard was a shining light in his shots from mid-court in both the college games.

Following the Greyhound game, the Cosdenites will journey to Abilene where they will play a return game with the Wildcats in the ACC gym on the night of Jan. 7.

Other games scheduled for next year are with McMurry and Daniel Baker.

Bomber Gets "Hurt" Again

Joe Louis Reported Killed In Auto Accident For Tenth Time

CHICAGO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Joe Louis, scourge of the heavyweights, claimed the front rank tonight as the individual report of whose death is most frequently "exaggerated."

Today, for at least the tenth occasion since Louis started his spectacular ring career, the Detroit negro puncher was rumored killed in an automobile accident.

The rumor did not seem to worry Louis at all. The only remark he was known to have made after one of the false alarms was "nothing in it. I'm all right."

Ceramic Statues Attempted STAVANGER, Norway (UP)—Experiments in burning clay are being carried on at Sandnes, near here, to perfect a method of making ceramic statues which will withstand all Norwegian weather conditions. Such works, once made by the Syrians and the Phoenicians, can be made for about a tenth of what they would cost in bronze.

Another who will perform for the easterners is Riley Smith, Alabama's All-American.

The westerners are seriously handicapped by the two post-season games, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California, and the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. Such gridiron greats as Bobby Grayson, Monk Moscrip, Keith Topping, Wes Muller, Bobby Wilson, Truman Spain, Henry Shuford, Darrell Lester, among others, are missing from the squad for that game.

However, Rice's touchdown twins, Wallace and McCauley, are certain to see a lot of action in the tilt that is expected to draw around 25,000 people into Kezar Stadium.

EAST TEAM WILL RANK A FAVORITE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Forty-four football stars, the pick of the collegiate gridirons this year, assembled here today to prepare for the annual East-West charity game New Year's day.

The eastern squad of twenty-two, accompanied by coaches Andy Kerr and Dick Hanley, arrived to receive a thunderous welcome. Kerr expressed the belief that it is the strongest eastern team since 1931 when the east won its last game.

Coaches Percy Loyce and Orin Hollingsberry checked in the last of their 22 westerners today.

The eastern representatives will probably go into the game as heavy favorites. With such backs as Sheldon Boise of Minnesota and Constable and Paul of Princeton to rely upon, the forward wall of the westerners will be forced to show their best to stop the goal-line charges.

Another who will perform for the easterners is Riley Smith, Alabama's All-American.

Still Plenty Of Golf Left In Angular Frame New York Veteran

NASSAU, Bahamas, Dec. 21. (AP)—A top flight player in the $5,000 British Colonial open discovered today that there is still plenty of golf left in the angular frame of Willie McFarlane.

The Tuckahoe, N. Y., veteran ambled twice around the 18-hole course in 67, one under par to slice the 54-hole lead at 202.

Two strokes back was Leo Malory, Noroton, Conn., whose 66 in the afternoon was one of the day's best rounds.

In third place, another two strokes behind, was John Revolta, Milwaukee, PGA champion and recent victor in the Sarasota $2,000 open.

Tests Drilled To Define The Hawley Field

Seven Locations; Three Expected To Reach Sand This Week

ABILENE, Dec. 21.—A total of seven drilling tests for Hawley sand production were in operation this week on exploration which will define the limit of the Hawley field's proven area.

Three of the tests will probably reach the sand horizons by the end of next week. A west edge test was spudded this week, and rig was moved on location for an east edge test.

Two others are past 1,400 feet one mile northeast and northwest of the present production.

Hal Hughes No. 1 R. D. Bumpass is down about 400 feet for a test scheduled to go 2,400 feet if production is not obtained above. Location is 1,100 feet west of production in the field. It is 220 feet from the north and 1,330 feet from the west line of the T. Matby survey.

On East Side

On the east side, Fortex Oil Corporation of Fort Worth has moved in a rig for the No. 1 Henry Dorsey estate which will also drill to 2,400 feet if necessary. Location is 700 feet from the west line and 175 feet from the south line of the north half of section 20, Manuel Bueno survey No. 196. Ungrun & Frazier No. 1-C Henry Dorsey estate, a south offset to the Martin No. 3 Dorsey which discovered new sand at 2,150 feet, in drilling past 1,600 feet. Located within proven area, the test is 200 feet from the north line of section 4, Manuel Bueno survey No. 197.

N. H. Martin & Son of Wichita Falls No. 4 Dorsey, a 1,925-foot test which will explore a thin saturation at that depth, was under-running eight-inch pipe after drilling past 1,350 feet. Location is 250 feet from the north and west lines of the east half of section 5, Manuel Bueno survey No. 197.

Other Agencies To Take Over NRA Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (UP)—The NRA deal intended to split up the remains of NRA between two or three executive departments for the rest of its legal life, President Roosevelt revealed today at his press conference.

Mr. Roosevelt said the details had not yet been worked out but he expected to make an announcement within two or three days.

He did not say which departments would receive what is left of the recovery agency, but it was believed the commerce department, the labor department, and perhaps the agriculture department would take over those few functions left to the organization of the Blue Eagle.

CONOCO PROVIDES UNUSUAL SERVICE

The Continental Oil Company, which has just finished celebrating its sixtieth anniversary, is the oldest oil company in America operating under the same name. Their new and improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, Conoco Bronze Gasoline and Passport and Travel Bureau Service has given motoring and vacation trips a new interest. Conoco products wholesaled and distributed by J. C. Loper, local representative.

Mr. Loper acts in the capacity of a commission representative for the Continental Oil Company, owns his own trucks, employs his own personnel and is justly regarded as a local business man. He desires to thank Big Spring and Howard county people for their patronage in 1935 and to extend his best wishes for a Merry Xmas and Happy New Year.

Organized in 1875, as a Colorado company serving Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and Montana, and incorporated under its present name in 1885, Continental Oil Company has since expanded into an organization serving 42 states of the union through 24,000 service stations. To millions of patrons throughout these 42 states the trademark "Conoco" is synonymous with service and quality.

A pioneer and leader in every respect, this company not only supplies products of unexcelled quality but they have led in their efforts to solve the problems of the vacationist and the motoring public. An example of this is the Conoco Travel Bureau service available through any Conoco service station. Conoco Travel Bureau service includes and entitles you to carefully marked maps of any state through which you are planning a trip which are veritable mines of information regarding points of interest and side trips along the route you plan to take. Hundreds of thousands of people make use of this service each year, almost one-half million using it in 1934 alone.

Conoco stations can be identified by the red triangle—the Conoco emblem—and local motorists will find a number of them in Big Spring and vicinity.

Try their new and improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil which, in a test recently conducted by the American Automobile Association, in competition with five other well known and widely used motor oils, outlasted by several hundred miles any of the other oils tested.

Crash Of Rogers And Post Makes Biggest News Of Past Year

Outstanding 1935 Events Are Reviewed

Hauptmann Trial Assassination Of Huey Long Major Stories

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (UP)—The most dramatic story of the year to American newspaper readers was the tragic death of Will Rogers and Wiley Post in an airplane near Point Barrow, Alaska.

Rogers, the humorist, motion picture actor and newspaper columnist, and Post, the globe-trotting aviator, were known in virtually every home in this country, and beyond, their fame was world-wide.

This was the greatest spontaneous news story of the year. It was the story with the greatest reader appeal. A glance at circulation figures throughout the country shows more newspapers were sold on this story than on any other one news event of the year.

Long's Assassination
Ranking a close second in dramatic appeal was the trial, ending in conviction and death sentence, of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, charged with the kidnap-murder of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., in the thrill-packed Flemington, N. J., courtroom.

After his removal to the death house in the state penitentiary came the fight to save him from the electric chair. An appeal to the state's highest court was lost. The United States supreme court refused to review the case.

The third greatest dramatic story of the year was the assassination of Senator Huey P. Long, in Baton Rouge, by Dr. C. A. Welles, a young physician, shot to death on the spot by Long's bodyguards.

This ranks next to the Rogers-Post crash in spontaneous stories. If it were not for the many sensations over a long period in the Hauptmann-Lindbergh case, with a deeper and more lasting public interest, it should place it second, instead of third, in listing the most dramatic stories.

Three World Stories
Of world-wide scope and of greater importance in their influence than the above three stories were:

The economic situation, marked by continued improvement of conditions in this country; the action of the U. S. supreme court in de-

Here, in pictures, are the 10 biggest news stories of 1935 as selected by J. M. Kendrick, executive news editor of The Associated Press. Center left are Will Rogers and Wiley Post just before the take-off for their fatal tour of Alaska; right, Bruno Richard Hauptmann, whose trial and death sentence crowded the front pages early in the year and whose court fight for life made big news throughout the 12 months. Upper left corner, Senator

Long's assassination startled the nation and brought thousands to Baton Rouge for his funeral. Right, a climax in 1935's news of economic improvement came when Chief Justice Hughes and his associates in the supreme court voided the NRA. Left to right around the arc: Premier Mussolini sent his legions into Africa they are seen marching into the heart of Ethiopia; Germany started the world with announcement of vast rearmaments; two life-boats, still attached, swung listlessly, marking the ocean grave of the Mohawk, sinking of which cost 45 lives; dust storms such as this swept the middle west, destroyed crops; little 9-year-old George Weyerhaeuser was subject of the year's only major kidnaping; and Barbara Hutton, going back into the headlines when she divorced Prince Alexis Mdivani and married Count Court von Haugwitz-Reventlow, with whom she is married.

Laundry Service Economical

The Big Spring Laundry offers distinctive laundry service to local residents. Phone 17 for information regarding the different services and prices they make available. L. C. Holdswell, prop.

Modern laundry owners of the United States are affiliated together in an organization known as the Laundry Owners' National Association, the purpose of which is to develop better laundry practice. They maintain a million dollar plant at Joliet, Ill., in which washing formulas, supplies and methods are tested and improved and textiles and fabrics are tested for wear and launderability. There is also a state association in every state in the union and these extend to and receive from each other any news which are beneficial to laundry practice.

The Big Spring Steam Laundry is a member of these associations and as such has access to their findings with the result that their methods represent the last word in laundry practice. Their rates on various special services are most appealing to the discriminating housewife who de-

MEROFF ORCHESTRA TO PLAY ABILENE CONCERT AND DANCE

ABILENE, Dec. 21.—The largest musical organization now on tour comes to Abilene for two appearances Christmas night—a concert at Fair Park auditorium and a dance immediately following in the Wooten hotel ballroom. The organization is Benny Meroff's orchestra, headlined for ten years in Chicago and New York theatres, with Eddie Cantor for twenty-six weeks on the radio and which also accompanied Cantor on his transcontinental tour several years ago. The orchestra consists of fourteen pieces, accompanying are eight entertainers, including Clarence Gast, headliner with Ziegfeld Follies just prior to Ziegfeld's death; Babs Laval, acrobatic dancer; Joe Ray, tap dancing pro; and Bill Robinson of the movies; the Coffie Sisters who introduced the song, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf" to the nation; Jack Marshall, trombonist-singer, and others.

Nursery Service Complete

The Ross Nursery Co. at 803 East Third features a complete nursery and landscaping service. Evergreens, flowering and ornamental shrubs and plants, roses, vines, grape vines, berry plants and fruit trees of all kinds. W. S. and Kenneth C. Ross, props.

There is a definite pleasure and satisfaction derived from surrounding ourselves with an environment and atmosphere which is at once beautiful and appealing. Home owners have always strived to make the interior of their homes as pleasant and engaging as possible, but of equal importance is the arrangement and care of your "outdoor living room" or the grounds surrounding your home.

In this respect it is astonishing what a remarkable difference can be made in the appearance of your home and the grounds surrounding it, by spending a small amount for shrubs, trees, vines and landscape gardening services. The Ross Nursery Co., one of West Texas' leading nurseries can show you where, with the expenditure of a comparatively small amount that you can often entirely transform the appearance of grounds surrounding your home. This firm has a full nursery stock including plants for rock gardens, flowering and ornamental shrubs, evergreens, trees and vines of all kinds for landscaping purposes. In fact they have many plants of all ages, sizes, varieties and prices so that when you use their service you can rest assured that the proper plants will be available for correctly landscaping your grounds and that the most pleasing and unique effect will be attained. They will call on you on request and make free estimates, sugges-

Build Now And Save Money

Carrying a complete stock of nationally known and advertised brands of paints, roofing, wall board, builders hardware, wind-mills fencing and posts, lumber and other building supplies, the Burton-Lingo Lumber company can supply you with building materials for every demand.

Never in the past quarter century has there been a time when nationally known and advertised building materials have been available at such money saving prices as during the past five years. While as they have advanced some in price in the past two years, yet they are still substantially lower than prior to the depression with the consequence that property owners will probably not in the next decade see a more advantageous time to build, alter or repair their homes and other buildings. Also at no time in the past 25 years has the need for such work been so evident due to the fact that the amount which is done each year in normal times has been reduced to a very minimum during the past five years.

Commodity And Security Prices Advance Sharply

A heavy wave of buying during Saturday's brief session on the exchanges boosted prices sharply both in securities and commodities. Further talk of European war was seen as one cause of the upturn. Reports of adverse weather in commodities. It was cold and raining over most of the farm belt. Both cotton and wheat advanced and were firm at the close. Stocks also were extra strong with oil and aircraft shares outstanding. Transfers totaled 1,100,000 shares.

Freight Lines Improves Service

The Big Spring Transfer Co., owned by B. H. Settles, are agents for the Merchants Fast Motor Lines who make trips each way daily between Big Spring and Odessa, Midland, San Angelo, Coleman, Brownwood, Abilene, Breckenridge, Cisco, Ranger, Eastland, Fort Worth and Dallas. Express service at freight rates between these and intermediate points.

The development of the automobile industry during the last decade and the singular need for a swifter and more flexible mode of transportation have been the controlling factors in the establishment of a new utility service, that of a motor freight service.

At one time people were led to believe that motor freight lines destroyed highways and streets unpropulsively. However, an honest investigation of the open records of the state department in Austin reveal an entirely different fact. These records show that motor freight lines, transfer companies and buses in Texas pay more taxes than any other form of transportation. Therefore, they have contributed much toward the rapid development of our roads, streets and highways during the decade.

Motor freight lines with the rapid and flexible service and friendly and courteous personnel, have been entirely responsible for a complete transformation in the services of fered by other transportation organizations. It is a well known fact that motor freight lines pioneered in free pickup and delivery service, thereby saving the shipper and consignee not only in transfer charges but in time required for the movement of freight.

One of these motor freight organizations which has contributed much in satisfying the transportation needs of our own section of the state is the Big Spring Transfer Co. This firm, through the Merchants Fast Motor Lines maintains daily freight and express service between Big Spring and the above mentioned cities, gives fast service between these and intermediate points. They have experienced employees to handle freight to insure its arrival at its destination in perfect condition. Bonded and insured service is offered on every shipment accepted and in the event of loss or damage, claims are settled immediately.

They operate under the authority of the Texas railroad commission, which means that the public is assured of just and uniform charges for all services.

The Big Spring Transfer Co. also does either local or long distance hauling of any kind, in any direction and for any distance.

They extend their thanks for your 1935 patronage and wish all Big Spring and Howard county residents a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year.

Dr. Pepper, Healthy And Popular

Pure, healthy and refreshing, Dr. Pepper is one of the nation's most popular beverages. Bottled and distributed by the Dr. Pepper Bottling Co., in Big Spring. Also soda waters and all fruit flavors and ginger ale and lime rickety.

Harry Stalcup, prop.

All physicians and dieticians now advocate between meal sweets to keep one's energy at a high ebb and to prevent extreme hunger which often causes overeating and Dr. Pepper, with a slogan of "Drink a Bitter to Eat at 10," and "Prepared for just that reason," it contains just the right amount of content to refresh one without spoiling the appetite for regular meals.

Of even greater importance is the fact that the carbonated gas used in carbonated beverages manufacture is a direct deterrent to the germs which cause typhoid fever, diphtheria and other serious illnesses and it eliminates most any kind of stomach gas.

While many people in the past have regarded carbonated beverages as being merely "sweetened water" by actual test it has been found that a bottle of Dr. Pepper contains more food energy value than a glass of milk, an egg or a slice of buttered bread. In fact, it contains more food value per pound than do many of our common foods such as fresh peaches, black fish, carrots or fresh asparagus. Many of the larger hospitals throughout the nation use it in large quantities—giving it to convalescents instead of soups and light foods.

Three or more bottles of Dr. Pepper consumed daily will keep your mental and physical powers up to the peak of efficiency.

The Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. exercises extreme care in a sanitary way, thoroughly sterilizing all equipment, bottles and other containers before and after each time used and they invite the public to call at any time and inspect their plant and methods.

They will deliver direct to your home or business on any of their products in case lots or more and remember when you drink carbonated beverages you are drinking food value and are not subjecting yourself to the dangers of the public drinking cup.

The Dr. Pepper Bottling Co. desires to express their appreciation for the increasing enthusiasm Big Spring people have shown for Dr. Pepper and to extend their best wishes to all Howard county residents for a Happy Xmas and a prosperous New Year.

Important Service Rendered

The Big Spring Hospital Corp. at 411 East Ninth is daily rendering an important service to residents of Howard county. Complete equipment in every respect. Surgical, medical or obstetrical cases of any sort cared for.

The general opinion of people who have been patients in hospitals is that hospital charges are exorbitant, when as a matter of fact they are rarely high enough to pay the cost of operation. An investigation made by representatives of French hospital in New York City last year showed that the average cost of keeping a patient in one of the 30 leading hospitals was $6.50 per day. This sum represented the actual cost to the hospital and did not include profit in any degree. This is startling news to the average person as he fails to think of the tremendous amount of money invested in equipment as well as the multitude of expenses necessary for daily operation.

It is of further interest to local residents to know that the rates of the Big Spring Hospital are most economical and substantially lower than the figure quoted above.

This hospital has been established at considerable expense and amply fills a community need in that it saves local people time, money and inconvenience necessary if it were not here. Only on rare cases is it necessary to seek outside hospital services as this institution is splendidly prepared to care for its patients in a competent way. This is one feature Howard county residents should remember as thousands of dollars leave this community each year as a result of local people seeking outside hospital services when in 90 per cent of the cases they could have been cared for here as well.

The Big Spring Hospital has a modern building completely equipped in every detail. They have a bed capacity of approximately 35 adults as well as bassinets for children.

They not only have a completely equipped operating room, laboratory, maternity delivery room, x-ray and other equipment of the approved type but also a bronchoscope for removing foreign bodies from the lungs and a high-powered magnet to remove pieces of metal from the eyes—equipment which is not usually found in this sized hospital.

The personnel of this institution wish all Big Spring and Howard county residents a Merry Xmas and Happy New Year.—12-22-35.

Italy Passed Up Favorable Peace Offer

Observers Think Next Proposal Will Be Less Advantageous

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press) PARIS, Dec. 21.—Italy lost a chance for a favorable peace by failing to accept quickly the new proposal.

I cannot join in signing this order, which I consider most unfair, in the light of competent testimony, every sentence of which I heard, presented during the day Monday, indicating unmistakable reasons for increase in allowable.

moribund French-British peace proposals, observers agreed today. Any new peace formula, they said, is certain to be less advantageous; and if Italy continues to be uncooperative the question of new penalties is likely to arise. Had Premier Benito Mussolini shown immediate satisfaction with the proposals it was said, the oil embargo could have been relegated.

Premier Pierre Laval has shunted his role of peacemaker over to the league council and he intends to devote himself to his own troubles, made acute by resignation of Edouard Herriot, his chief cabinet aide, as president of the radical socialist party.

The cabinet situation is critical but not hopeless. Laval will have plenty to do, and he seems determined for the time to leave peace-making overtures to others.

Herriot persisted in his resignation despite pleas from radical socialist leaders—and although they intended to keep trying to get him to rescind his resignation they turned reluctantly to seek a new president.

Herriot has resigned some dozen times in his career. This time he gives he intends to stay out and be an ordinary rank and file party member.

Possible successors are Edouard Daladier, Camille Chautemps and Yvon Debos Daladier was premier during the Stavisky riots of February, 1934, and has not been, for given by many although he is a member of the party. Debos has not helped himself by his constant criticism of Herriot, and Chautemps seemed the likeliest choice.

Good Health With Chiropractic

"A SCIENTIFIC HEALTH METHOD"

Dr. Harvey H. Kennedy, with offices recently moved into the Petroleum building in Big Spring, has helped many Howard county residents to better health in the four years he has practiced here.

His health is usually the result of a failure of nature's laws or of a failure on the part of the individual to keep the body in perfect health. The nervous system of the human body is designed to carry life force to every part of it and in so doing to keep it in perfect condition. However, when bodily resistance is below normal, health results.

Most of our physical illnesses can be quickly relieved if nature is assisted by way of seeing that the nerves serving that part of the body are functioning normally and are not impinged in any way. Much ill health is caused by nerve interference and if this nerve interference is relieved the ailment naturally disappears.

For this reason chiropractic adjustments have reached and corrected many acute and chronic diseases which other health methods have failed to improve. Chiropractors do not treat symptoms but go to the immediate cause of the trouble and correct that with the result that the disease definitely disappears.

Dr. Kennedy has obtained excellent results in this field during the four years he has practiced in Big Spring and has hundreds of satisfied patients who would recommend his services because they know what can be done by his methods. He is a graduate of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, which is the oldest and highest ranking institution of its kind in the world and through this and post-graduate, clinical and convention work he is well equipped with both training and experience necessary to achieve desired results.

If you are having trouble with your health see Dr. Kennedy and allow him to give you an examination, then you will know what can be done for you through his drugless methods.

He takes this medium for expressing his pleasure in having been able to serve you in the past and to extend his best wishes to all Big Spring and Howard county residents for a Happy Xmas and Prosperous New Year.—12-22-35.

Smith Fights Cut In Crude

Is "Surprised" That Oil Allowable For January Is Reduced

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (UP)—Railroad Commissioner Lon A. Smith, returned to Austin from Dallas, expressed surprise at East Texas oil production being reduced in the January order setting the state's allowable. He said the fight for more oil in East Texas is not over.

Smith's protest to the other two members of the commission said: "My surprise reached the point of consternation when I learned that not only East Texas received no raise in allowable, but a reduction in allowable of 7,000 barrels.

"When I left Austin Monday night for Dallas, to sit in with the examiner of the I.C.C. in a most important hearing where cotton compresses of Texas are vitally interested, I was thoroughly convinced that at least an allowable of 25,000 barrels more would be granted to the East Texas oil field by the commission.

"I would like to inquire why a statement was circulated Monday morning, a copy of which was handed to me, proposing 550,425 barrels daily for East Texas. Was this a trick to soothe and quiet our East Texas friends? I am equally surprised to know that Van, Yates, and Conroe have been given a drastic cut in allowable. Conscientiously

Farmers Gin Service Superior

The Farmer's Gin Co. in Big Spring makes available to Howard county farmers fast high quality ginning service and contributes a great deal toward stimulating a greater cotton production in the Big Spring trade territory. W. S. "Bill" Satterwhite, mgr.

When that famous American inventor, Eli Whitney, invented the first crudely constructed cotton gin he little realized the amazing effect his invention would create. He was perhaps aware that it would cause a certain impetus towards the production of what was already one of the greatest industries in the south, but he would undoubtedly have been unable to conceive of the astonishing progress that cotton as a world industry has made since that time. In the decades that have elapsed since the first crude cotton gin was put in use this important piece of machinery has been improved in many ways, and constantly modernized to meet the demand of changing conditions.

The Farmer's Gin Co., for example, is equipped with the most recently invented ginning machinery, including cleaning devices and burr extractors. They have the double-unit Mitchell burr extractors and cleaners of the latest type which are conceded to be the best on the market. These modern features not only simplify the growers' picking problems but give him money when the cotton is not easily picked by hand. They do high quality ginning which is never surpassed and rarely equaled. Three years ago they discontinued the use of electric power and installed a 150 horse power Worthington Hull Diesel engine. Reduction of fuel cost resulting from this move—Diesel has since paid for itself—enables them to modernize other equipment and thus offer a better service.

They invite local farmers to consult with them at any time regarding their ginning problems in the belief that you will more nearly find what you want at their gin not only in service and quality ginning but in courtesy, conveniences and all other elements making for pleasant trade relations.

They take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation for business extended them in 1933 and do wish friends and patrons a joyful Christmas season.

The Week

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 11) that he had already had three days which showed more business than last Christmas Eve. Others echoed the good word, almost without exception they all say that business is definitely better.

Enough good soil came down the Colorado river last year to cover Travis county four feet deep with new dirt. J. W. Chapman, executive secretary of the state soil conservation board, told a large group of farmers here last week. If this soil were marketed at a reasonable price, it would bring in more than has been expended on relief since the outset of the depression. A good question is: How much of that land which went into the Gulf of Mexico came from Howard county? It is safe to say that several thousand dollars worth of fertility trickled away during the year because Howard county has more than its share of slopes. Terracing and contouring furnish the cure. That much has been proven. And while conserving the top soil, terracing and contouring also conserve moisture. County Agent O. F. Griffin believes that if people could see clearly down the years they would do nothing else until they terraced. He is too hopeful for some of our brethren.

YOUNGSTERS SACRIFICE TOYS FOR SHOW

Children sacrificed sentimental attachments to old playthings for pleasure and charity recently when the Ritz theater gave a show with toys as admission. The cluttered picture above gives an idea of the variety and quantity of their gifts. Firemen repaired the toys and placed them along with more than 1,000 others they have refashioned and reconditioned this year. On Christmas day the toys will be given to children in destitute families who would otherwise go without some presents this year. VFW took the lead in collecting the toys. Other organizations cooperated in the move.

Way Opened For Court Ruling On Guffey Coal Act

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (UP)—The new deal today opened the way for an immediate test of constitutionality of the Guffey coal control act by filing in supreme court a cross appeal in the suit of James Walter Carter to have the law declared invalid.

Carter has appealed from a decision of Justice Jesse C. Adkins in the District of Columbia supreme court that the law was valid in all but wages and hour provisions. At that time it was reported the government would appear from the latter part of the decision directly to the supreme court. In today's action it filed this plea and gave its consent for a ruling on the Carter appeal. Carter attorneys gave similar consent.

The result is expected to be a decision before the end of the court term and, perhaps, within three months.

D. Of T. R. To Entertain Mrs. Roosevelt In Texas During Centennial Year

DALLAS, Dec. 21.—Daughters of the Texas Republic are formulating plans to give Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt the welcome of her life when she visits the Texas Centennial exposition with the president next June.

The First Lady has accepted the organization's invitation to visit the exposition here as their guest. Accepting, she indicated she would accompany President Roosevelt when he comes to Dallas probably on opening day, June 6, to speak before what is expected to be one of the largest gatherings the southwest has ever seen.

The invitation to Mrs. Roosevelt was presented in Washington by Florence Carter Bryan, of Houston, a great-granddaughter of Stephen F. Austin, pioneer colonist of Texas and herself an active figure in the Daughters of the Texas-Republic affairs.

Mrs. Roosevelt expressed a desire to tour the entire Lone Star state, with its shrines of historic and friends. They will return Friday.

Medical Unit Names Heads

Dr. W. P. Malone Chosen President Of Five-County Group

Dr. P. W. Malone, Big Spring, was elected president of the five county medical society at its meeting held at the Settles hotel.

Dr. W. E. Ryan, Midland, was named vice-president, and Dr. G. H. Wood, Big Spring, was selected secretary-treasurer. Dr. Tom C. Bobo, Midland, was designated as censor to serve on the board with Dr. C. K. Bivings and Dr. Wood of Big Spring.

The district counselor, Dr. F. E. Hudson, Stamford, attended the meeting. Dr. Pemberton, Midland dentist, was also a guest. Doctors were shown a four part film giving the history of malaria and man's conquest of the disease. They saw how drainage and other physical measures had been aided by rapid advancement in drug control to bring the plague of the south under control.

Each of the counties having a doctor were represented at the meeting. Counties included in the society are Ector, Midland, Martin, Howard, Andrews and Glasscock.

Squirrels Guess Wrong

ALFRED, Mo. (UP)—Maynard Clough's automobile went bad. After exhaustive examination it was discovered that squirrels had filled the exhaust pipe with corn and nuts.

Interests which play a large part in the centennial celebration which climaxes in the exposition here from June 6 to Nov. 29.

Court Of Honor Reset Dec. 29th

Court of Honor for Boy Scouts of the Big Spring district has been postponed until the afternoon of Dec. 29, W. C. Blankenship, chairman, said Saturday.

The court was to have been held today from the district court room when more than a dozen scouts were to come up for awards. Since all troops have not turned in cards for awards to be presented, it was decided to delay the court one week.

Schoolboy Grid Final Saturday

AMARILLO, Dec. 21. (UP)—The Greenville Lions and the Amarillo Sandies will play their state title game in the Southern Methodist stadium at Dallas next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. The decision was reached tonight at the conference by the coaches and the school officials.

ASHTABULA, O., (UP)—For the fifth time, efforts to oust the city manager system in this city have failed. In 1915 the city manager system was installed. Efforts to abolish it were made in 1920, 1921, 1926, 1932, and again in the recent elections.

IOWA CITY, Ia. (UP)—A course in modern marriage at the University of Iowa has an enrollment of 129 students. Last year, when the course was started, the enrollment was 45. The school of religion has 279 students this year, the largest in the 18-year history of the school.

34 States Are Against New Deal Policies

The vote against the new deal increases fractionally in the fifth tabulation of The Literary Digest's nation-wide poll as a total of 619,329 votes are reported from 34 states, mainly in the south and west.

Digest Poll Reveals Administration Is Still Losing Ground

The total tally which appears in the current issue of the magazine is divided 346,622 votes in support of Roosevelt's policies to 472,698 opposed to them. The present percentage of 57.69 against the new deal compares with last week's percentage of 57.24. A previous poll on the popularity of the new deal which was conducted by the Literary Digest in the spring of 1934 showed 61.15 per cent of the poll voters then in favor of the president's policies. The 23 states which are shown registering opposition to the administration's policies represent 263 electoral college votes, one vote less than a majority, while the 11 states indicated favoring the new deal to date have a total of 128 votes in an electoral college balloting. The 14 states from which no count is yet reported in the poll represent 138 votes.

Eleven of the 13 southern tier states, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, continue to vote more than 3 to 2 in support of the president's policies, while Florida and Oklahoma, in the same sections, register slight majorities against the new deal. No state in any other section of the nation is shown voting a majority so far in favor of the new deal.

Wisconsin's initial balloting this week indicates a 2 to 1 ratio against the new deal. With the advent of the "LaFollette state" to the poll tally, votes are reported from all states in the farm belt, which continues to vote against the new deal as a section by over 3 to 2.

All of the states from which ballots are reported in the current tally, with the exception of Connecticut and New Hampshire, voted for Roosevelt in 1932. Additional ballots received from the 26 states which were included in the previous week's balloting indicate a fractional gain in the vote for the new deal in 13 states and a fractional gain against the new deal in the 13 other states.

The 34 states represented in the current tabulation are said to include approximately three-fourths of the population of the United States and to have given the president slightly over three-fourths of his total vote which he received in the 1932 election.

Texas still was one of the strongest supporters of the new deal. Out of 36,236 votes cast, 21,861, or 60.33 per cent, were for the new deal policies, while 14,375, or 39.67 per cent, were opposed.

Airport Project For Sweetwater Given Approval

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (UP)—The bureau of air commerce announced approval yesterday of 34 airport projects and one state marking program proposed for development with PWA funds. The bureau's approval merely means that the projects are technically satisfactory from the viewpoint of aeronautics. The projects included: Brownsville, Tex., municipal airport, $20,848 for extension of water drains and $20,730 for construction of grave runways and dirt extensions to present ones. Dallas, Hensley field, $363,832.92. Sweetwater, Tex., municipal airport, $42,700.

Committeemen On Cotton Work Kept In Office

All county committeemen were retained for another year Saturday when two community committees for the cotton control program balloted.

Two were necessarily hold-overs and the third an optional choice. The community groups lost no time in retaining L. H. Thomas, Highway, A. J. Stallings, Lomax, and Ira F. McQuerry, Coahoma, to office. This move obviated the necessity of replacing a community committeeman had been chosen to succeed a member of the county committee.

In Glasscock county J. J. Phillips, Panther Draw, and C. A. Brown, Line, were named as hold-over members of the county committee. Howard Campbell, a community committeeman, was selected as the third member of the controlling group. S. W. Cox, alternate, replaced him to serve on the community committee with J. P. Hilger and W. S. Woolsey.

Mrs. J. D. Farr left Saturday for San Antonio to spend the holidays. She was accompanied by Mr. Farr to Brownwood.

District Court Term To Open At Stanton Monday

Seventieth district court will convene Monday in Stanton for a two weeks term.

The term will be shortened somewhat by time off for Christmas. However, light criminal and civil dockets do not give promise of a very busy session.

January 6 the court will be convened here for the first term of the new year. Three other terms will be held in Howard county during 1936.

Trial of the John Johnson case, probably on January 20, will be held during the term. Johnson, 39 year-old Lynn county deputy charged with the slaying of B. O. "Bunk" Best on May 24, 1933 seven miles north of Lamesa, will be standing trial for the fourth time.

After 48 hours of deliberation had failed to break a deadlock, Judge Klapproth dismissed a juror, which heard the case, transferred here from Dawson county. Two previous trials in Dawson county had resulted in hung juries.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Combs and daughter, Virginia, left Saturday for Fort Worth, where they will spend the holidays with relatives.

Christmas Festivities Enlivened By Decorated Trees And Awarding Of Gifts; Many Bridge Clubs Meet

Husbands Join Wives In Celebrating Around The Yule Tree; Exchange Of Gifts Becoming Club Custom

Christmas trees, boughs of cedar and festooned streamers in the traditional colors were decorations for Christmas parties that enlivened Thursday and Friday evening. Most of the formal holiday entertaining was done this past week-end because mothers will be busy with last minute preparations next week. Social events will then be informal parties for college boys and girls back for the Yuletide vacation.

Adults are about to take the Christmas tree away from the kiddies, if the celebration of bridge club members is a sign of anything. Almost every bridge club had its own tree this year, its own exchange of gifts, and its evening party for husbands.

M. Johnsons Entertain Night Club

Triangle Members Gather For Pretty Xmas Function

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Johnson entertained the members of the Evening Triangle bridge club with one of the prettiest Christmas parties of the season Friday evening.

Cedar boughs and red berries barked the mantel. A decorated tree added to the holiday decorations.

Packages of Christmas trinkets holding fruit, nuts and gifts for the guests were arranged on the mantel and passed after the games.

Mrs. Griffith and Mr. Pitman made high scores at bridge.

A pretty refreshment plate was served upon which were fruit courses as favors.

Playing were Messrs. and Mrs. Omar Pitman, W. B. Hardy, Carl Hensley, Mrs. Hayden Griffith, Miss Jean Jordan, Carl Baker and Earl Ezzell.

Luncheon Club Followed By Xmas Party In Evening

Members of the Thursday Luncheon club had two parties in one day this week, meeting at the home of Mrs. H. B. Hurley in the Continental Oil company's camp for their regular luncheon and staying until evening when their husbands joined them for another round of bridge.

After a very enjoyable luncheon, the women played cards. Mrs. Rice was high and was presented with a set of covered coat hangers.

When the men came out, a turkey dinner was served. After that the time was again devoted to cards.

The house was decorated for the Yuletide season with a tree artistically decorated. A number of gifts were provided for floating prizes, which were won by members when they had met conditions. These took the place of the high prize and furnished excitement throughout the evening.

Present were Messrs. and Mrs. Calvin Boykin, J. L. Webb, Joe Kuykendall, E. V. Spence, C. S. Blomsheld, G. A. Woodward and Mrs. Wayne Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pendleton entertained with a dinner party for the members of the Cactus night club Friday evening at the Settles hotel.

The members were served in one of the private dining rooms. A lovely tree decorated the occasion and holding gifts for exchange was the chief decorative feature of the room.

Mrs. Whitney received a bath mat for making high score for the women, and Mr. Angel a double deck of cards for men's high.

Playing were Messrs. and Mrs. Lester Short, L. R. Kuykendall, C. E. Hahn, Herbert Whitney, Clyde Angel, M. E. Tatum and R. E. Lee. The Shorts will entertain next.

Seven Aces And Husbands Meet To Play Jolly Games

Gifts were exchanged by the members of the Seven Aces club and their husbands as the climax of a pretty Christmas party Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jennings.

The house was decorated with cedar boughs and garlands of green and red festooned from the ceiling. On the dining table was a small tree, flanked by pine branches.

On the large tree in the living room hung the gifts brought by the members.

A variety of games were played and candy was passed during the evening.

At the refreshment hour, baked apples, whipped cream, fruit cake and coffee were served.

Present were Messrs. and Mrs. Earnest Richardson, Elvis McCrary, L. N. Millon, Floyd Flood, Henry Hollinger.

The club will have a New Year's eve party at the Millon home.

Good Times Club Has Bean Supper And Hunt

Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd entertained the members of the Good Times club with a distinctive party. The members met at the supper hour and were served a bean supper.

After the supper the party divided in groups of four to go on a scavenger hunt. The group in which were Roy Cornelison, E. T. Smith, Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Logan, was the winner.

At 10 o'clock everyone came back to the Lloyd home and gathered around the Christmas tree to see what gifts were theirs. They had an exchange and the party ended with the opening of the gifts.

Present were Messrs. and Mrs. Roy Cornelison, E. T. Smith, J. C. Harrison, Vernon Logan, J. L. Coffey, Wayne Mathews and J. A. Coffey.

Looking Forward To Christmas

Above: The Emil Fabrenkamp family look forward every year to the time when they can put up their tree. They put it up as soon as the trees are on the market. In this picture Emil Edmund and his papa are resting from their duties, and Mrs. Fabrenkamp is adding the finishing touches.

Below: Mrs. Randall Pickle, daughter, Joan, and son, Don, are smilingly awaiting the arrival of the fat jolly old Saint Nick. The fireplace in the background is sufficiently large for him, and to show appreciation, the children have brought out their toys of other Christmases and are playing with them.

Scanning NEW BOOKS

"TEXAS HISTORY" George O'Brien John (Henry Holt Co.)

So many books dealing with the history of Texas have been issued as textbooks that one is glad to see a history of a general nature such as this one.

It is primarily intended for the Texan who wants an easily scanned story of the state and for others who want a story of the state, especially prospective Centennial visitors.

The author, in his foreword, announces that he has used Yokum's standard history as a nucleus and added to it facts from the large number of documents in his own personal collection.

QUIDNUNC
Faire About France
By Helen Abundell and Richard de Roussy de Sales
(Banks, Upshaw & Company)

This book is composed of forty lessons, each of them about 25 questions long, dealing with France and French expressions.

It is an excellent review copy for French students and we recommend it to the local French study club. It is also a good reference book for a small library.

One reader said he started to scan the book at bedtime and was still deep in it when midnight overtook him. In fact he could not put the book down till he had answered, or tried every question in it. We suspect this particular gentleman, however, of being able to answer more questions than most.

It isn't an expensive book, either.

"THERE SHALL BE TWILIGHTS AND OTHER POEMS" By Clare MacDermott (Turner Co.)

We liked many poems in this book, especially "I Have Hidden My Dreams," and "Show Me Green Shadows."

But of them all we believe that "Dusk Comes Softly" is the most quotable. Here it is: Dusk comes softly—sweet with wings

Of small, cuddling homing things; Daylight as she scurries by, Drops in a clear turquoise sky, Cof and cape of rosy hue; Blades on crystal sheaths of dew; Oaks wave patterns strange and stark;

Dusk comes softly—with the stream Lying in a languid dream; Lowly bending, willows now Stoop to smooth its shining brow Lightly—with a green caress; Lilies quake with loveliness; Blue mists gather overhead; While above the larkspur bed, Shadows scamper—velvet-shod; Stepped in wordless praise of God Dusk comes softly.

A PRIVATE PROPOSITION

Those of us who are sitting on the sidelines while city and county officials seek a solution to the relief financing problem may be so concerned over the settlement of this particular issue that we are losing the long-time view of the question.

And that is that relief—direct aid to the unemployables—must eventually be primarily a matter of charity and not of governmental bounty.

Without criticizing the federal relief program—it was necessary—the fact remains that it tended to make us as individuals forget our obligation to care for the less fortunate. Now that federal relief is passing, we are too prone to expect the county or the city to carry the load.

Perhaps they can for a time, but not permanently. The county by law is permitted and obligated to care for the pauper. It comes within the city's province to take care of the transients who stop in our midst. Outside of those duties, the relief program must be a burden of the community acting through a welfare agency.

Before the government assumed the relief burden, Big Spring had a Community Chest, and through this the needy were provided for. We may as well face the fact that eventually this organization must be re-established or a similar agency set up. It would be the responsibility of citizens to maintain it, with the county and city becoming contributors when and if they are able to do so.

Answering the assertion that we already are taxed for such matters, it might be said that an appeal for charity support should be directed mainly not to the interests that carry the tax load, but to that class of salaried workers who are not now contributing a great deal to charity. This group of people could be a big factor in solving the problem.

The city-county program, regardless of how it is decided, can only be a stop-gap. We must be prepared to shoulder the burden as a private proposition.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—This was overheard: "E's a gentleman, 'e is. 'E can't stand to see a lady standing in a subway. Hoh, no. 'E halways closes 'is bloomin' eyes and looks the other way."

One of those dime-a-dance palaces on Broadway now has an advertisement which, if anything, must be called respectfully elegant. In addition to show girls for the lonesome swain, it announces a tantalizing array of "Co-Eds."

Quotation (on war): "If I were fierce, and bald, and short of breath I'd live with scarlet Majors at the Base, and speed glum heroes up the line to death."—From "Counter-Attack," by Siegfried Sassoon, now being discussed in New York.

Another quotation: "I sometimes think that nowhere blooms so red the rose as where some buried Caesar bled."—From The Rubaiyat, where Stark Young found the title for his book, "So Red the Rose."

The appointment with Young was to discuss the photoplay now emulating the success of the book, but he disclosed a wedding present for a friend, and one forgot about pictures and books. . . . It was a silver snuff-box of the 1820's and its presence brought out the fact that the author for years has been collecting such treasures against the day when he should tire of Manhattan life and retire to his estates on the banks of a river in Texas.

The flyleaf of "Crime Incorporated" carries this study in gruesome detail:

TO LARRY FAY

In his pockets they found 22 cents;
In his body four bullet slugs.

Clifford Odets, the playwright, is as shaggy as an air-dale. . . . He strolled into the Montmartre the other night with Beatrice Lillie, its star, at a moment when his play "Paradise Lost" (now where have I heard that title before?) was having its make-or-break premiere. . . . He has mastered the knack of dissembling so well that one couldn't tell whether he was excited or not. . . . He consumed innumerable cigarettes, tilted easily back in his chair at a rear table.

Arch Selwyn was there, too, and Norman Bel Geddes, to hear Miss Lillie's new lyrics. . . . They were, as usual, pleasantly naughty. . . . It was a stuffed-shirt crowd. . . . I noticed one damsel in particular, in black taffeta. No one seemed to recognize her, though probably every one there had at one time or another paid good money to see her dance.

The girl was Sally Rand—proving, I suppose, that taffeta can't compete with fans, even on a fan dancer. . . . The Montmartre is probably the only supper club on Broadway dedicated exclusively to supper. Six evenings a week with no Sunday performances is the scheme. Irving Eastman, who designed the club, has used commendable restraint, employing a motif of blue and flame. . . . "This," he confides, "is nothing less than sheer flattery because those shades heighten one's natural color, thus lending enchantment to the ladies."

College professors sometimes put their text books away and depart into strange adventures. . . . Kenyon Nicholson forsook his classrooms at Columbia to write bawdy, fast plays. . . . His last success was "Sailor Beware," and now he's arriving with "Swing Your Lady."

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—There is a big secret behind the closely-guarded budget deliberations in progress during the last few weeks. It is a sensational innovation in budget technique.

Instead of the established procedure of immediately submitting to congress a budget covering all anticipated expenditures, the president would divide his recommendations into two groups.

The first, dealing with appropriations of the so-called "regular" departments and agencies, would be sent to capitol hill at once.

The second, covering "emergency" activities, (relief and recovery) would be delayed until the middle of the session. April 1 was a date suggested for this second budget message.

Undoubtedly the proposed plan would cause an uproar in congress but its advocates contend that the advantages of the new plan would far outweigh congressional protests.

First of all they claim that delay in submitting the emergency budget would make for greater efficiency and economy.

Ordinarily the budget for the new fiscal year—starting July 1—is made up the preceding December. This means that the president's calculations for relief and recovery are based chiefly on long-distance guessing.

By waiting until spring, it is argued, a clearer picture of conditions will be possible.

For example: There is a carry-over of approximately $1,000,000,000 from the $4,000,000,000 relief fund. At present it is impossible to say with certainty what employment conditions will be in the spring; or to know whether this secret reserve will be sufficient to meet relief demands, and if not, how much more will be needed.

Another argument advanced for the plan is that it would be smart political strategy.

The "regular" budget is certain to come within income. In fact, a sizeable surplus could be shown. By sending up an initial budget to congress when it convenes, the administration could stress the fact that its ordinary expenditures operate on a "balanced budget."

Three or four months later the second message would be definitely labelled for "emergency" purposes, not normal government costs.

Puck

Once again the department of agriculture has made chrysanthemum history.

Two years ago it produced a new variety by crossing "John Palmer" and "General Pershing." To the creation Mrs. Henry Wallace at the White House gave the name "Rexford Guy Tugwell."

This year Mrs. Wallace's services as a chrysanthemum namer were spurned. But a new bloom was produced by placing the pollen of "Mrs. Woodrow Wilson" on the pistils of "Mrs. Grace Coolidge." The name bestowed on the offspring is "Puck."

NOTE—According to the department's official announcement, Puck is a "large-flowered variety of a curious pale fawn color tinged with pink. As it is tightly incurved, the warmer color of the petals shows only as a tinting through the fawn-color."

Iowa WPA Strike

The man who is handling the Iowa WPA strike for Harry Hopkins, Nels Anderson, a tough-haired ex-hobo who sits behind a desk on the sunny side of the Walker-Johnson building, squints through the smoke of his cigarette, and tells organized labor what he thinks of it.

Anderson's father organized the first hod carriers union in Chicago. And Anderson has worked at most of the trades in the catalogue. He ran away from home—Chicago—at the age of seven. He came back, and seven years later, ran away again, never to return. He worked in the harvest fields, mining camps, construction gangs, bumming his way from one job to another.

At 22, he began his education, starting in grammar school. In 1930 he finished a thesis on labor relations, and New York university gave him a Ph.D.

The literary world knows Anderson for his books on hoboes. In one of them, "The Milk and Honey Route," he writes:

"Next time you meet a hobo with a lady tattooed on his arm, ask him if by moving his muscles he can make her dance."

NOTE—WPA officials say they are not worried over the Iowa strike since only two per cent of Iowa's relief workers are union members.

Tragic Brevity

They do things differently now at the steamboat inspection service.

It now has one of the most complete and thorough casualty-reporting systems in the world. But for years, its records on maritime disasters and tragedies consisted of a small card file in which were noted merely the barest facts.

The haziness of the old method once was glaringly illustrated when three sailors were lost from a small vessel on route to San Francisco. The card file contains the following record: "Ship sailed with 12 life preservers,

17-Year-Old Genius
The recent capture of "Count" Victor Lustig, one of the greatest con men and counterfeiting promoters in the world, was a great relief to the secret service. But as talented as the "Count" is, he does not hold all the records in his field.

For genuine ambition and perseverance, secret service agents say, the prize must be awarded to a stripling of 17 years.

Last January, Youell Swinney of Texas was arrested for making and distributing counterfeit nickels. Because of his age he was put on probation.

In July he was again arrested, this time for making and dispensing fake dimes. This time young Swinney was released on bond.

Two months later, in September, he was taken into custody a third time, for making counterfeit quarters. This time the law clamped down on Swinney and he was sentenced to two years in the federal prison at El Reno, Okla.

Swinney escaped. But not for long. Within six weeks he was recaptured while turning out a batch of counterfeit half-dollars. Swinney is now back in jail under careful guard. The secret service is fearful that if he gets loose again he will abandon chicken feed and start counterfeiting big money.

Archives Opening
One cloudy morning last month, a lady with an umbrella plodded up the marble steps of the new Archives building on Constitution avenue, gently pushed open a swinging door, and said: "Am I intruding?"

In this unceremonious manner, the great $13,000,000 structure first opened its doors to the public.

Archivist R. D. W. Connor had hoped it would happen just that way. He had trained two smart young men as guides, placed them near the entrance, and then—without press stories or flag raising or oratory—he simply caused the great brass doors to be opened.

The timid lady came first, was escorted through the building. Then came others, and gradually the word got around that the Archives building was open.

A small army of tourists now streams through the building daily. "The Boy That Kin"

With a 52-inch chest and an arm like a wrestler, Frank Boykin came to congress to show that his grandmother was right.

When he was a boy in Alabama, he asked his grandmother what his name meant. She answered that his name meant "the boy that kin"

NEVER MIND THE LADY

by David Garth

Chapter Four
BITTER LOVE
"Well, what's stopping you?" Tommy Speed's head nodded mechanically over his glass. An orchestra in a place down the street was flaying the air with strangled cadence.

A carriage rolled through the street, the "clap-clap" of the horse's hoofs seeming in time with the strains of the music that drifted through the night air.

"Maria," said Speede dully, "Remember Maria?"

Terry's eyes narrowed. Speede must be out of his head. When the camp broke up the women went back to their villages—what was Speede talking about?

Fox was bored stiff at the Polo Ball.

"I thought I'd like to take her back to the states with me, Terry," Speede was saying. "But I can't. Why, she's lost even in this city. Bewildered, afraid, unhappy—she hates to wear so many clothes anyhow. How can I take her home? People wouldn't understand—my mother and sisters wouldn't. Maria's only a native."

"Have you sent her home yet?" Terry demanded. "And what do you mean—you won't go back to the States because of her? Say, if she makes any trouble—"

"Willett!" Speede was on his feet, swaying a little, his lip trembling, the queer note back in his voice. "Maria's got a child. My kid—"

Terry groaned. Speede had evidently changed only outwardly. He hadn't learned a damn thing—still a little boy saying his prayers at night.

"Think it's the first time something like this has happened?" he said sardonically. "These women expect it—they expect to go back to their villages in the end—it's only an interlude in their lives. Quit acting like a dummy; the world hasn't started with you."

"I don't care," Speede said feverishly. "What others have done, I love Maria; don't you understand? But you don't know anything about those things, Willett. You're a fighter. I saw you go after a man tonight. I've never heard of you being soft—how could you know? But—I married Maria! In a church. With a padre and everything."

Willett pushed him back into his chair. "All right," he said kindly. "I didn't know. But don't get excited. First thing you ought to do is lay off the kama. Then take your leave of absence, go home and see your family, and afterwards come back to your Maria if you want her that bad. Hell, it's perfectly simple."

Speede shook his head slowly from side to side.

"I've thought of that. I've thought of a million things. But I can't go back, I'm afraid, afraid—"

His eyes were burning with the kama as he caught Terry by the wrist.

"I'm afraid," he repeated jerkily. "I was at the capital just before I came here. I saw European women there, Terry. European and American too, high heels and slim waists, beautiful, laughing, and fresh."

"I know lots of girls like that back in the States. I was almost engaged to one once. A girl of what mother would call 'my class.' I love Maria. I tell you, but if I ever went back to the States, I'm afraid I'd never—come—back. I'd ditch Maria like the dirtiest swine who ever walked—Maria and my kid."

Terry released himself from the grasp of the other's fingers. Queer duck, Tommy Speede, this former fresh-cheeked, laughing kid with his college degree.

Caught with tropical kama and some naive ideas of love and duty. Staying here and signing his death warrant over a brown-skinned native. Well, some heat the game and some didn't.

Kiss and ride on! Speede couldn't. That came from being "soft." Speede was right—nobody had ever heard of Terry Willett being soft. Look what it got you—look at Tommy Speede.

"Keep your head screwed on, Tommy," he ordered gruffly. "Maria doesn't expect anything. For God's sake, go back to the States before you're shipped back. And stay there."

Young Tommy Speede looked at him with eyes that seemed unable to focus.

"I can't," he said doggedly. "I can't and I won't and be damned to you all."

On the way to his hotel later Willett paused and viewed the big warehouses rising from the water's edge while that omnipresent smell of stagnant sea foam polluted the warm breeze that blew up from the harbor.

But his thoughts were not of coffee as he surveyed the warehouses and the lights of the freighters riding at anchor. He was thinking of young Tommy Speede and the grin he had brought into a construction camp on the Pontecillas-Juarez road. His face twisted wryly.

"Dead in six months," he muttered. "And because of a woman?" (George Fox of the American Foreign Service held a position that, on the surface, could have been filled by any one of a hundred young men whom the State Department sends out every year to start that hallowed and diplomatic calling, "a diplomatic career.")

He wore his clothes with easy athletic distinction, knew most of the right answers, and possessed, when he chose, a most excellent poker face.

But he was bored stiff at the Legation Club Polo Ball even before the affair began.

Fox grunted. Enough material there for fifty tea-drinking harmless young squirts of attaches.

Captain Dent, the military attaché of the American Embassy, dropped a hand on his shoulder.

"If you're looking for the same person I am, George," he said with a grin, "don't bother. She has completely disappeared. And from what I hear of her she may bob up anywhere from Mexico City to Sao Paulo. Her mother tells me she started for Tuxedo Park one time and then turned up on ball from Hinsdale, Illinois, where she'd outraged some landing statute by setting her plane down on a golf course." (Copyright, 1935, by David Garth)

But tomorrow Fox finds the girl.

Westex Oil Co. Home Owned

The Westex Oil Co. in Big Spring is a locally owned and managed firm which wholesales and distributes Super-Shell Gasoline, Golden Shell Motor Oils, kerosene and greases of every quality and price class. Ted Groebel, general manager, J. L. Bohannon, local manager.

The astonishing progress which the automobile industry has made and the important position it has assumed in the world of commerce in the past twenty years has made it necessary that oil companies, both wholesale and retail, make rapid strides in keeping pace with what was a novel industry two decades ago. Hatchery Fills A Community Need

The Logan Feed and Hatchery at 817 East Third in Big Spring furnishes chicks from culled and blood-tested flocks. Also Logan mixed feeds for stock or poultry needs, sanitation products—dips and disinfectants—worm capsules, vaccines and remedies. They also buy head and bundle milk, waxes and other bundle feed, as well as wheat, corn, oats, and cotton seed. Vernon Logan, prop.

As a result of constant urging by county farm agents and our national department of agriculture during the last 10 years, many farmers all over the United States have turned to poultry raising in a small way as a sure means of producing a steady income. In connection with this increase in poultry production we have seen the development of the specialized hatchery such as the Logan Feed and Hatchery in Big Spring. This concern has a 114,000 egg capacity and furnishes chicks to growers, both local and distant on a, from eggs which come from carefully selected, culled and blood-tested flocks. If your flock has not been culled or blood-tested this firm will do it for you and after doing it so will pay you a premium for your eggs which averages around 10c per dozen above the cash market. Eggs are ordinarily accepted from such flocks at these prices for six or eight months out of the year or during the hatching season. This firm also does custom-hatching for very economical prices and invites Howard county people to use this service.

 The Logan Feed and Hatchery also manufactures Logan mixed feeds for stock, dairy or poultry needs. Logan feeds are mixed as per proven formulas and are home tested—having been manufactured and used by hundreds of local farmers for over two years. Directions are furnished with them which have only to be followed to produce a profit and they have built up an excellent reputation with Howard county people because of the results obtained from them. The Logan Feed and Hatchery has recently installed some new cleaners; and mixers and their feeds are clean and properly mixed. In addition to this is the fact that Logan Feeds are made in Big Spring, on locally produced grain, marketed at prices which do not include freight costs and middleman profits, and their manufacturing costs, as represented to a great extent by wages paid employees, are distributed with local people.

The Logan Feed and Hatchery desires to thank Howard county people for the privilege of serving you in 1935 and to wish all a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year. 12-23-35.

Gulf Refining, A Pioneer In Service

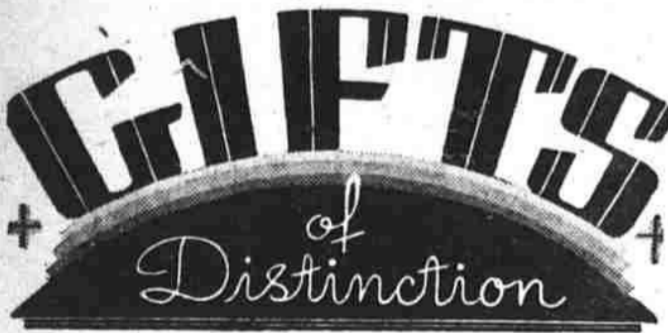

With the distinction of establishing one of the nation's first service stations, the Gulf Refining Co. is now one of the world's leading oil companies. Its products, that Good Gulf Gasoline, Gulf Pride and Gulf Lube Motor Oils and other petroleum products are wholesaled and distributed by W. M. Gage, Gulf distributor in Big Spring.

In 1889 the first commercial well producing crude oil was drilled at Titusville, Penn. Years later—and in the early days of the automobile industry, the Gulf Refining Co. established one of the first service stations east of the Mississippi river. This was in Pittsburgh, Pa. Though many years have passed since that time, the public's appreciation of that Gulf Quality Product—Good—Gulf—Service has never diminished and has promptly asserted itself in every state in which Gulf has introduced its service and products.

From that original service station in Pittsburgh, the Gulf Refining Co. has grown into an organization serving 33 states of the union—from Maine to Texas. To 15,000,000 motorists in these 33 states—representing 70 per cent of the country's motor car owners the sign of the Orange Disc—the Gulf emblem, seen at their 40,000 service stations and dealers, has become the symbol of service and quality products. That Good Gulf Gasoline and Gulf Pride motor oils have for years been ranking favorites with all who have tried them but within the past few months, Gulf has made another contribution to motorists which is an innovation in the oil industry. This is that new Gulf Lube motor oil which is the only oil on the market selling for 25 cents per quart—either in cans or bulk—which is refined by the Multi-Sol process. The Multi-Sol process makes of the new Gulf Lube a premium quality oil selling at popular prices. Gulf Lube is now thoroughly dewaxed, non-sludging lubricant, which forms less carbon, thus out less under intense heat and whose already high mileage has been stepped up 20 to 25 percent, and still sells for 25 cents per quart at any service station bearing the sign of the Orange Disc.

Mr. Gage acts as commission agent of Gulf products, owns his own trucks, employs his own personnel, and his trucks deliver anywhere in the trade territory. He wishes to extend to all his friends and patrons his Best Wishes for a Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

Compress Service Valuable

The Big Spring Compress Co., at 211 North Gregg is an institution of distinct value to this community. Bonded storage facilities for 8,000 bales of cotton. R. F. Shoemaker, manager.

The history of progress in any community or city in the United States that has made any progress of note, invariably shows that their growth or expansion can be attributed to manufacturing and industrial business. With few exceptions where climate and natural resources have been the contributing factors the towns and cities which have forged to the front as leaders in their part of the state have had alert and progressive business men who pioneered in various industries and provided facilities to care for locally grown products in an approved fashion.

The Big Spring Compress Co. is such an institution, one on which thousands of dollars have been spent in establishing storage and compressing facilities. Originally established here in 1924, this concern has served this community for over 11 years. They have a storage capacity of 8,000 bales and their economical storage charges provide cheap protection for owners against theft and other hazards which might destroy their cotton. It makes an ideal storage plant for cotton on which the government loans are given, as it is a bonded warehouse and as such is acceptable as a warehouse for such cotton.

The first deserves local support to the fullest extent because it is a locally established and managed institution which is instrumental in making Big Spring a concentration point for cotton grown in this part of Texas, where it is graded, classed, sold and stored. It also helps to maintain a better cotton market in Big Spring because of this fact. They not only contribute substantial amounts toward county and municipal expenses through taxes on their plant, but provide a payroll of substantial size to be distributed with local business.

This firm takes this medium for thanking Howard county cotton growers for their 1935 patronage and for wishing friends and patrons a Joyful Xmas holiday.

Winning Golf

CLEAR UNDERSTANDING OF CONTROL, BALANCE, TIMING WILL HELP PLAYER'S PROGRESS IN GOLF.

If there is any short cut to good golf it lies in achieving the three essentials of a golf swing, control, balance and timing. A clear understanding of these will lead to better golf almost immediately.

I shall take up control first. Control is sensing through your two hands, as though they were one, what you are doing with the club-head—that is, your hands are the only contact you have with the club and it is swung through the medium of your hands; so you must control the club with them. Golf can be compared to the simple process of walking. When a baby starts to walk, he has difficulty because he has not learned to control his legs and feet; also he might lack the strength to hold his weight. The same is true with golf.

The experienced player can tell immediately how well a player can play when he sees him handle a club; by the grace, ease or finesse which he employs as he manipulates the club in his hands. A beginner looks forward like a baby just starting to walk; the club is foreign to him.

Importance Of Control
It really boils down to control, that is, how well the player controls the club in his hands. A good player is used to the club, so to speak, and it becomes a part of him. For further example let us take the case of a man who starts to use a walking cane. The first day out he probably feels a little self-conscious and does not know just how to handle the cane, but as time goes on he gets used to it. He feels perfectly at ease and learns to manipulate it in an easy, graceful manner.

The same is true with the golf club. At first the beginner is usually shy and hasn't the slightest conception of how to swing, but as he plays and practices he loses this shyness, gains more control and plays a better game.
Body Moves Free, Easily
Balance is the giving of the body to the swinging of the clubhead. It is the same in golf as in anything else. For example, a right-handed pitcher stands with his right foot in the box. He winds up his arm and throws the ball; his left foot comes down on the ground about a yard in front of him and his right foot is carried to a position a yard in front of his left. He doesn't have marks on the ground where each foot should end after he has pitched; they are carried into the position by the force used in throwing the ball.

In other words, a player should not restrict the natural action of the body. If one swings the club to the top of his backswing, his body will have to turn and part of his weight will shift to the right foot. Otherwise, he will be in a strained, tense position. This would be wrong because if one is strained, he is pulling against the natural action of his body.

The body generates centrifugal force as it is swung around the body. Any strain would be working against this force and one force working against another tends to neutralize both—or, in this case, cut down the centrifugal force, and the force of the clubhead.

Therefore, one can see that the body should be allowed to make a large, easy, free turn as the club is swung. On the backstroke, some of the weight will be transferred to the right foot and the left heel will rise several inches off the ground. On the downswing the weight will be transferred to the left foot and the right heel will come off the ground. The body has pulled into a position by the swinging of the club and the correct position, too.

Timing Comes With Control
Correct timing means that the brain, eyes, muscles, control and balance all work in complete accord. Timing is the most difficult to acquire of the three essentials, but it comes with control. If one is controlling the clubhead well, the timing will be good, because one will be able to feel little errors through the medium of the hands, and compensate for these errors with remedial hand action.

The quickest way that I know to restore my lost timing is to take a slow backswing with a slight pause at the top.
Let's make a test now. The article is finished and I haven't said a word about the famous left arm. The left arm should be straight and firm. Not still, in a golf swing. If the club is swung with complete relaxation, the centrifugal force set up by the clubhead will pull the left arm outward and this will keep it straight—if one gives it a chance.
