Clinton takes oath today

WASHINGTON (AP) - William Jefferson Clinton takes the oath of office as America's 42nd president today, leading a new generation to power and promising an expectant nation a government that cares first about the needs of the people at home.

Clinton emerged from Blair House minutes after 8 a.m., coffee cup in hand, for the short drive to a service at the Metropolitan African Methodist Episcopal Church.

"Do you feel ready for today?" a reporter shouted.

"I do," replied Clinton.

Earlier, Brent Scowcroft, President Bush's national security adviser, briefed Clinton on a world that seemed to pause for his inauguration. For the first time in a week, the skies were quiet over Iraq.

Clinton and Vice President-elect Al Gore sat side by side in the church with their families. It was the first time the pre-inaugural church service had been held in a black church.

After the service, the Clintons and Gores planned to pay the traditional call at the White House to pick up the retiring president and first lady for the ride to the Capitol.

Using his full name for once, Clinton was to stand before the chief justice, rest his left hand on a family Bible and swear to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution."

Today's simple rite at noon on the Capitol's front porch - two prayers, two oaths, a speech, two songs and a poem - accomplishes a peaceful transfer of power that is the mark and glory of the American republic.

Chilly but sunny weather was forecast. Hundreds of thousands were expected to assemble before the glistening columns on the Capitol's West Front.

George Bush, judged by the voters to be indifferent to their economic worries, will be an eyewitness to Clinton's investiture. He arrives the most powerful man on Earth, and leaves an ordinary citizen - and the fifth former president alive today.

Before the sun has set on Bill Clinton's Washington, Bush will be in Houston.

By then, Clinton and his wife, Hillary, will be donning formal clothes to join the celebrating Democrats at 11 inaugural balls, cheering their return to power after a 12-year drought.

First comes the parade, traditional, fun-filled, noisy and quirky - witnessed by the Clintons and daughter, Chelsea, from an enclosed reviewing stand in front of their new home on Pennsylvania Avenue. The marching will go on for hours, with participants from every state, including the high school band from a place called Hope, Ark. Clinton was born there 46 years ago.

He was William Jefferson Blythe IV then, but his father died in an auto crash before his birth. As a teen-ager, he took his stepfather's last name.

Twenty minutes were allotted for Clinton's inaugural address, spelling out his presidential vision -- his concept that citizens must give to society as well as draw benefits from government.

But Clinton is notoriously incapable of staying within such limits. And this is the culmination of a lifetime's quest that began with a teen-ager's handshake with President John F. Kennedy.

Clinton gave a foretaste in a spirited address Tuesday to 150 former, present and incoming governors, many of them colleagues from his 12 years as governor of Arkansas. He asked them to "please, please" let him know when he goes astray.

He said the government must find a way to experiment, to adopt what works and reject what does not.

And he pledged again to enact a law within a year to replace a health care system that is out of reach for millions but still threatens to bankrupt government.

Before the day is over, the new president is expected to start putting his own stamp on the government.

Awaiting action are a sheaf of executive orders. They would carry out some of Clinton's campaign promises and reverse the policies of 12 years of Republican rule that viewed active government as a costly obstacle to the free enterprise system.

One order will put into effect Clinton's new ethical standards for his appointees. Another will create a national economic council, a step in fulfillment of Clinton's promise to put the country's economic problems at the forefront.

On Friday he is expected to mark the 20th anniversary of the Supreme Court's Roe vs. Wade decision by rescinding Bush's restriction on abortion counseling at federal clinics.

Snowfall blankets Hereford area

A three-inch accumulation of snow fell in Hereford and the area Tuesday morning. The giant snowflakes started falling about 8:30 a.m. and left .62 of an inch of precipitation. Hereford schools closed for the day and started an hour late this morning. Four minor accidents were reported Tuesday.

Snow hits area, clearing today

By The Associated Press

Dense fog shrouded the Permian Basin, South Plains and low rolling plains of West Texas early today while portions of North Texas and Southeast Texas braced for possible flash-flood producing rainfall.

Visibility was reduced to less than one-eighth of a mile over portions of the South Plains, Permian Basin and low rolling plains.

Forecast called for clearing skies over West Texas tonight and Thursday.

In North Texas, a flash flood watch was in effect through tonight for southeast portions of the area.

Forecasts called for clearing skies to begin from the west across North Texas tonight and Thursday.

Showers and thunderstorms were expected along the coast in Southeast Texas along a cold front. The flash flood watch was issued for Southeast Texas where as much as two inches of rain fell in some areas on Tuesday.

The rain in South Texas will begin ending from the west tonight with clearing skies expected on Thursday.

Lows tonight will be in the 20s and 30s in West Texas, the 30s across North Texas and in the 40s overmost of South Texas, ranging from the 30s in the Hill Country to the 50s in extreme southern portions.

Highs Thursday will be in the 50s and 60s over most of West Texas, ranging from the 40s in the Panhandle to the low 70s in the Big Bend area, in the 50s in North Texas and in the 50s and 60s in South Texas.

Early morning temperatures were in the 30s and 40s in West Texas, the 30s in North Texas and in the 40s and 50s in South Texas. Extremes ranged from 39 at Dalhart to 55 at Brownsville.

Other early morning temperatures around the state included 32 at Amarillo, 33 at Wichita Falls, 38 at Fort Worth, 39 at Waco, 42 at Austin, 47 at San Antonio, 50 at Corpus Christi, 38 at San Angelo, 34 at Lubbock, 36 at Midland.

'Fail-safe' school plan is proposed

AUSTIN (AP) - The first attempt this year at solving the longstanding school finance struggle has been proposed by state Sen. Bill Ratliff.

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said the plan provides a fallback provision in the event that one component - a constitutional amendment - is rejected.

"We have to have some type of a fail-safe mechanism to make sure that our schools do not close in September, and this would provide that," Bullock said.

Ratliff, new chairman of the Senate Education Committee, said he hoped to have the bill passed by his committee soon so that the full Senate could consider it next week.

If approved by the Senate, it would go to the House where Republicans, during a pre-Christmas special legislative session, blocked a school finance plan favored by Bullock and Gov. Ann Richards.

House Speaker Pete Laney, D-Hale Center, said that a school finance solution will include limited redistribution of local property tax money. He said a constitutional amendment is likely the answer.

The Texas Supreme Court has ordered the Legislature to come up with a finance plan by June 1.

Earlier court decisions declared the state's funding system unconstitutional because it allowed large funding disparities between property-rich and property-poor school districts.

To address that, the Legislature implemented a system that redistributes some local property tax money among school districts within single or multi-county education districts, or CEDs.

But the Supreme Court has said that system violates the state constitution by imposing a statewide property tax, and by levying a property tax without voter approval.

Ratliff's proposed constitutional amendment essentially would make this system legal. Like any proposed change to the state constitution, it would require approval of two-thirds of the Legislature and voters statewide.

If the amendment is rejected, either by lawmakers or voters, Ratliff's plan would have the voters in each county education district decide whether to authorize the CED tax.

If county voters didn't authorize the tax, school districts within that CED would be limited to the state guarantee of $3,470 per-student spending level, Ratliff said.

In a related development, state Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, has filed a proposed constitutional amendment to issue $750 million in bonds for the construction of school facilities. Bivins said the proposal would "help equalize access to construction funds and keep the state out of court."

Bush ready to relinquish role

WASHINGTON (AP) - As the days dwindled to hours, George Bush was ready to relinquish his presidency and step out of the government career that occupied a third of his life.

His departure ends a 12-year Republican hold on the White House that both opened and closed against a backdrop of U.S. consternation and peril in the Middle East. Jimmy Carter's nemesis was Iran; Bush's is Iraq.

Returning Monday from his last weekend at Camp David, Md., as the nation's commander-in-chief, Bush saluted the military, U.S. allies, and his Democratic successor for bonding together behind his punitive strikes against Saddam Hussein.

"They did the right thing. We did the right thing," he said. "I again thank our new president for his strong support."

It was a federal holiday and the White House staff - already trimmed by resignations - was sparse. But the Bush loyalists came out to greet the president and his wife.

"Good-bye, Mr. President!" someone shouted.

The final weekend must have been nostalgic for Bush and his wife, who had spent nearly every free weekend at the Camp David retreat.

For company, they had national security adviser Brent Scowcroft, and a favorite fellow national leader, Prime Minister Brian Mulroney of Canada. Country-singer George Strait, his wife and son also spent the weekend and provided the Saturday evening entertainment.

The president had only one last social obligation: coffee in the Blue Room at 10:15 a.m. Wednesday with Bill and Hillary Clinton.

Vegetable conference here draws growers, shippers

"Marketing Healthy Vegetables" was the theme of the West Texas Vegetable Conference which was held here Tuesday at the Hereford Community Center.

The High Plains Vegetable Growers & Shippers Council cooperated with the Texa Agricultural Extension Service and other sponsors for the event.

A total of 114 were present for the noon luncheon, with about 150 persons participating in the annual event. Most of the speakers arrived Monday evening, so the snow did not affect the programs.

Programs were conducted throughout the day with speakers representing the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Experiment Station, Texas Department of Agriculture, Texas A&M, Texas Tech University, county agents, and council officials. Exhibits and poster presentations were displayed in the ball room.

Program topics included timely information for vegetable growers and shippers on potatoes, onion, pinto beans and chile peppers. There were also discussions on pesticides and legislative matters affecting the industry.

County Agent Dennis Newton and extension service staff members welcomed those attending the conference. Coffee and donuts were served in the morning by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Help with Vegetable Conference

Looking over the agenda of the West Texas Vegetable Conference which was held here Tuesday are Sid Ham, local attorney, and Dennis Newton, Deaf Smith County Agent. Newton and his extension service staff helped host the conference. Ham appeared on the program to discuss the American Disability Act. Exhibits from agri-business firms were displayed in the ball room at the Hereford Community Center.

Local Roundup

4 accidents investigated

Hereford Police Department investigated four accidents Tuesday on snow-packed streets. Five traffic citations were issued. The fire department was dispatched to a major accident, but it turned out to involve minor injuries. Criminal mischief to windows in the 400 block of W. 7th was reported.

Police corrected one statement in the report of the shooting incident Monday which left three persons wounded. Alfredo Avila, who was shot in the leg, was not involved in the chase prior to the fight and shooting. Alfredo reported he was at home when two friends stopped at his house, and the suspects started "beating up" his friend. After he and other family members tried to break up the fight, the shooting erupted.

Hospital board meet changed

The monthly meeting of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District board of directors was cancelled Tuesday and rescheduled for next Tuesday, Jan. 26. The board meets at 6:30 p.m. and the monthly meetings are always open to the public.

Financial aid workshop postponed

A college financial aid workshop scheduled Thursday night for interested parents and students has been postponed to a future date. The change of basketball games to Thursday caused a conflict, so the workshop will be rescheduled.

Warming trend underway

Hereford recorded a high of 33 degrees Tuesday and a low of 22 this morning. A total accumulation of 3 inches of snow fell yesterday morning, and the precipitation was .62 of an inch, according to KPAN weather reports. Forecast for tonight and Thursday was mostly clear. Low near 20. High around 50. Northwest wind 10 to 20 mph.

With warplanes flying over Iraq, Clinton promises American resolve will not waver

WASHINGTON (AP) - With U.S. warplanes flying over Iraq, Bill Clinton today becomes the first new president in nearly a quarter-century to take office with American troops on combat duty.

Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein is already testing Clinton's resolve, promising to stop shooting at U.S. planes in honor of the new chief executive.

Aides to Clinton insist there will be no easing of U.S. demands, relentlessly pursued by President Bush, that Saddam abide by all U.N. resolutions, including unrestricted access for weapons inspectors.

At the Pentagon, there were hopes for a quiet Inauguration Day after a week of the heaviest military action in Iraq since the Persian Gulf War ended nearly two years ago. But one senior official, speaking on condition of anonymity, said vigilance will not be relaxed. "We will continue to fly" surveillance missions in both northern and southern Iraq, he said.

"I certainly don't wish to throw cold water on what I suppose potentially could be a serious statement," Pentagon spokesman Pete Williams said of Baghdad's peace offerings Tuesday. "But the only way the world is going to judge Iraq is by its actions."

In Baghdad, the ruling Revolutionary Command Council headed by Saddam said that as a gesture of good will toward Clinton, Iraq would stop all attacks on allied planes in the contested "no-fly" zones of the north and south. The United Nations also

Woman dies, bystander hit in Dallas court shooting

DALLAS (AP) - A 26-year-old woman died from gunshot wounds she received from her estranged husband while seeking legal protection from her abusive spouse in a court building without a single metal detector.

Ly Dang, died at about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday, said Liz Winter, Parkland Memorial Hospital's on-call spokeswoman.

Dang and a teen-age bystander were shot in a sixth-floor corridor of the George Allen Sr. Courts Building at about 9:30 a.m. Dang was waiting with her husband Hai Van Huynh, 30, outside a courtroom when witnesses said the man pulled a .38-caliber revolver from his coat, put it to his wife's head and shot her several times.

The couple had a hearing scheduled Tuesday concerning a restraining order Dang had placed on Huynh.

Parkland Memorial Hospital mistakenly reported earlier that Huynh died. But Ms. Winter said that Huynh, remained in critical condition Tuesday night and it was his wife who was dead.

Rogelio Gutierrez, 16, was upgraded to good condition late Tuesday with a gunshot wound to the left leg.

The shooting was the second in six months in a Dallas-Fort Worth area courthouse, renewing concerns over security measures in public buildings.

Officials and witnesses said Huynh approached Ms. Dang in the hallway outside the 304th state District Court about 9:30 a.m.

"I was sitting outside the courtroom at the juvenile court," said Robin Presley. "I heard a shot and I looked to my right. I heard another one so I didn't know whether this person was shooting at someone or if he was just running through shooting."

Added Ms. Presley's husband, Don. "He just came out of nowhere. There were attorneys sitting around talking with people about their cases."

"All the sudden you just heard a gunshot. I kind of turned and looked to see what it was. Then you heard two more gunshots, and everybody was running," he said.

Ly Dang's family members say that she had been seeking protection and that Huynh had a history of violence.

Sheriff's Lt. Larry Forsyth added that about 25 people were in the hallway outside District Judge Hal Gaither's courtroom.

"I went immediately and locked the courtroom door and herded everybody into the jury room," Gaither said. "Then I went through the back way to see if any of my staff were injured. I saw this young man limping down the hall. I brought him into the courtroom."

Security in the George Allen Courts Building, near the John F. Kennedy Memorial, amounts to only bailiffs. The county owns only one metal detector and that one is used at the Frank Crowley Courts Building which houses the criminal courtrooms and is about a mile away.

The only security measure in Gaither's sixth-floor juvenile court when the shooting began was one bailiff.

Following the shooting judges closed and left their offices to protest lax security. Signs were posted on doors informing citizens that they would return when proper security would be provided.

Concerns about court security had been fresh on the minds of judges since last July, when two attorneys were killed and several others injured at a courthouse in neighboring Tarrant County.

George Lott of Arlington is charged with capital murder in the shootings and jury selection in his trial is taking place in Amarillo.

Inaugural parties include those of animal lovers, gays, lesbians

WASHINGTON (AP) - It's getting wild in this normally staid city.

At hotels, convention centers, trendy restaurants and private homes, champagne corks are popping and party gowns swishing. Fleets of limousines line the curbs, traffic is clogged, sidewalks are teeming, but nobody minds.

IT'S A PARTY. The pulsing inaugural celebration is only stopping long enough today for Bill Clinton's solemn swearing-in before revving back up to a fever pitch with 11 formal balls tonight.

Tuesday night there were parties for causes - animal rights, the homeless - and parties just because.

The Clintons were treated to an extravaganza of Hollywood talent - Jack Lemmon, Barbra Streisand, Goldie Hawn and Chevy Chase, to name just a few - joining performers on stage at evening's end to dance to Clinton's theme song "Don't Stop Thinking About Tomorrow," performed by the temporarily reunited Fleetwood Mac.

Hollywood also was well represented at the Animals Ball, a $250-ticket dinner dance hosted by People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals.

The sign at the coat check room said it all:

"No furs unless on their original owners."

There were no furs, and very little else, on the waiters and waitresses who sashayed barefoot among the tables in short, backless plastic aprons on which was written: "I'd Rather Go Naked Than Wear Fur."

That point was well illustrated by Elvira, Mistress of the Dark, a pop culture icon and host of horror movies who bared just about all in a low-cut sequined black dress slit to the thigh. "Skin is beautiful whether on animals or humans," she purred.

Elvira, otherwise known as actress Cassandra Peterson, said she doesn't eat meat, doesn't apply cosmetics that have been tested on animals and wears vinyl shoes.

So does "Saturday Night Live" TV star Kevin Nealon - size 13, if you please - who says finding stylish non-leather shoes is so hard he's thinking of having his custom made.

"Animals don't have a voice to protest cruelty. So we have to do it for them," Nealon said.

Actresses Lindsay Wagner and Kathleen Turner - who said she occasionally wears fur but doesn't eat meat - said they were hopeful their cause would be taken up by the new vice president, Al Gore, a committed environmentalist.

In untypical Washington fashion, few members of Congress were sighted among the guests - Rep. Gary Ackerman of New York was one - and actual dancing was committed on the dance floor to the pulsing rhythm of a disco band.

Dinner was a feast of sun-dried tomato aspic, braised vegetables

Former Hereford chief is fired at Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD--Ted Langgood, fired as Littlefield police chief Monday night, defended his professional standing Tuesday and said the mayor and a councilman "were looking for every chance and every excuse" to oust him.

The 37-year-old Langgood, a former assistant chief at Hereford, had been Littlefield's police chief for more than 2 1/2 years.

Mayor Paul Bennett said the city council fired Langgood Monday night by a 4-1 vote, citing "lack of confidence" and public relations problems as the reasons. City Manager Marty Mangum also said Langgood was fired for an inability to get along with the public. He added that a regional search would begin for a replacement.

First Abilene Bankshares reports earnings

First Abilene Bankshares, Inc., parent company of Hereford State Bank, reported earnings for the year ending Dec. 31, 1992 were $10,989,000, an 27.12 percent increase over earnings for 1991.

Earnings per share amounted to $3.25 for 1992, an increase of 25.4 percent over the prior year. For the fourth quarter, earnings were 81 cents per share or 20.9 percent above the comparable period in 1991.

Kenneth T. Murphy, chairman and CEO, stated the improvement in earnings the past year "related primarily to increased net interest income generated from higher interest margins and a greater volume of earning assets."

Company assets totaled $839,474,000 at yearend, up almost $5 million from the previous year. Equity capital at yearend totaled $81,433,000 or 9.7 percent of assets. Nonperforming assets at yearend amounted to $4,205,000 or 1.26 percent of total loans and foreclosed property. This compares to $6,634,000 or 2.1 percent the previous year.

First Abilene Bankshares is also the parent company of First National Bank of Abilene, First National of Sweetwater, Eastland National of Eastland, and First National of Cleburne. The company's pending acquisition of Stephenville Bank and Trust Co., announced Oct. 23, 1992, is expected to be finalized during the first quarter of 1993.

wrapped in pasta, roasted sesame seeds, tofutti bars and many more politically correct delicacies.

The menu at an inauguration ball for the homeless was more robust.

Smoked salmon, lasagna, beef and chesecake were donated by 30 Washington restaurants, flowers by a Georgetown florist and music by the Fabulous Thunderbirds.

"Everyone who is in this circumstance is not a vagrant," said Harry Davis, who works as a telecommunications specialist at a Washington law firm and lives at a homeless shelter. "As low as it's been for me in life, that's how good it's going to get."

Party-goers expressed hope that Clinton would restore dignity to those with no place to live.

The homeless weren't the only ones pinning their hopes on Clinton.

More than 1,000 people paid between $100 and $10,000 for each ticket to the Gay and Lesbian Victory Fund party at the Washington Hilton ballroom.

It was a coming out party for a movement that raised $3.4 million for Clinton's campaign and views itself as a potent political force nationally for the first time.

Kristin Jesko feted with bridal shower

Kristin Jesko, Saturday bride-elect of Nathan Smith, was honored with a bridal shower Sunday afternoon, Jan. 17, at the E.B. Black House.

Greeting guests with the honoree were her mother, Glenda Jesko; her grandmother, Joanne Jesko; the prospective bridegroom's mother, Claudia Smith; and his grandmothers, Ruby Smith and Adeline Loerwald.

Guests were registered by the hostesses who also served cookies, punch, nuts, mints and coffee. Also, assisting with serving were Kerry Laing and Lori Paetzold.

The refreshment table was accented with mauve and blue and further enhanced by silver appointments.

The honoree was presented with a wedding ring quilted comforter and matching pillow shams by the hostesses. They included Carolyn Maupin, Belinda Bartels, Darla Stengel, Cindy Moreno, Diana Moreno, Jan Weishaar, Rosemary Shook, Valerie Fellhauer, Cathy Bunch, Charlene Sanders, Barbara Kendall, Gail Richardson, Billie Crofford, Ann Lueb, Sylvia Paetzold, Pat Allen, Mary Schlabs, Peggy Fitzgerald, Alice Hund and Martha Paetzold.

Hints from Heloise

Dear Readers: Most of us are really rushed in the morning and could use help getting out of the house quickly. Here are a few hints to help you do just that.

- Lay out your clothing the night before. Everything will be ready for you to hop right into.

- Have the coffee in the pot and ready to turn on first thing. Then you can get dressed while the coffee is perking.

- Place your car keys in the refrigerator next to your lunch. In the morning you can grab lunch and not have to hunt for your keys.

What is your best hint for getting out of the house fast? Do you have a great tip that may help others? Please jot them down and send them along. I'll send 10 readers who send a "get out quick" hint copies of my latest book, "Heloise from A to Z." — Heloise

FAST FACTS

Supermarket money- and time-saving ideas:

- Make a list and stick to it.
- Buy often-used items in bulk.
- Make a master list according to items in each aisle.
- Don't go grocery shopping on an empty stomach.
- Keep coupons in an envelope with the list on the outside.

These great ideas and others are found in my pamphlet, How to Save at the Supermarket. To get your copy, send $2 and a self-addressed, stamped (52 cents), long envelope to Heloise/Supermarket, PO Box 795001, San Antonio TX 78279-5001. — Heloise

SQUEAKY SHOES

Q. I am hoping you can help me with my problem. Is there any way I can keep my shoes from squeaking when I walk? I've only worn them three times, but they squeak pretty badly. — Lois, Louisville, Ky.

A. Here are a couple of tricks you can try. The problem might be just a sprinkle away. A little talcum powder inside the shoe may solve your problem.

Placing a couple of thumbtacks in the sole of the shoe might also help. Simply push a tack (be careful and make sure it doesn't go through to the inside) through the sole on each side of the arch support.

Different things can cause shoes to squeak, but most can be fixed. For a determined squeak, you might need to take the shoes to a shoe-repair shop for help. — Heloise

Keeping Hereford beautiful topic of garden club program

Jan Furr, representing the Beautification Alliance of Deaf Smith County, presented the program for members of the Garden Beautiful Club when the group met Friday morning in the home of Dorothy Noland.

Furr stressed the importance of keeping Texas beautiful and assisting with improvements for Hereford by local residents.

President Jerry Jackson called the meeting to order by reading "Let's Go Club Collect" as the opening prayer. During the business meeting, minutes of the previous meeting were read by Secretary Audine Dettman and the treasurer's report was given by Marguerite Cole.

Refreshments of coffee cake, fresh fruit, cheese crisps, nuts, coffee and spiced apple cider were served by Noland to Vada Axe, Louise Axe, Marguerite Cole, Dottie Darden, Audine Dettman, Jeanne Dowell, Nadine Hill, Helen Spinks, Jerry Jackson, Margaret Young, Frances Hennen and guest, Jan Furr.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 5 in the home of Dottie Darden with Vada Axe serving as co-hostess.

Almost all aphids are females that reproduce by parthenogenesis - without sex - resulting in offspring genetically identical to their mothers.

Without their "soldiers" to defend them from many predators, huge colonies of samurai aphids, piled one on top of the other in dense mats of tens of thousands, could be devoured at will.

Samurai aphid "soldiers" can attack a flowerly maggot more than 10 times their length by grasping it with their forelegs, butting it with their heads, and puncturing it with their needle-sharp horns.

Weather changes schedule; Whitefaces to play Thursday

The winter weather that hit the Panhandle Tuesday has caused some changes in Hereford's basketball schedule:

--The Hereford varsity teams' home games with Dumas were moved from Tuesday to Thursday, but will be played at the usual time: girls at 6 p.m., boys at 7:30. Both games will be played in Whiteface Gymnasium.

The other two doubleheaders in District 1-4A also were postponed Tuesday and probably will be played Thursday. Pampa is at Caprock and Borger is at Randall.

Playing Thursday will not change Hereford's scheduled games at Pampa Friday. The girls will play at 6 p.m. and the boys will play at 7:30.

--All the other Hereford High School teams also will be playing Thursday. The junior varsity boys' and girls' teams play Dumas teams at 6 and 7:30, respectively, in the junior high gym, and the sophomore boys play the Dumas sophomores at 4:30 in Whiteface Gym. The freshmen girls host Borger at Hereford High School, with the A game at 6 and the B game at 7:30. The freshmen boys play at Borger at the same times as the girls.

The JV teams and sophomore boys also play at Pampa Friday: sophs at 4:30 p.m.; JV boys at 6; and JV girls at 7:30.

--The junior high basketball games that were scheduled for Monday between Hereford and Pampa will be played Thursday, but all of them will be in Pampa since Hereford just ran out of gyms. The girls' games are at 4 p.m. and at 5:15, and the boys' games are at 6:30 and 7:45.

Hereford will host the eighth grade girls' district tournament Friday and Saturday. The complete bracket wasn't ready today, but girls' athletic director Brenda Reeh was able to say that Hereford's A team will play at 5:45 p.m. Friday, and the B team will play at 7 Friday. All games will be played in the HJH gym.

Bills learn lesson about talking big

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) - Crass to class. The Buffalo Bills would like to complete that image transformation as they prepare for their Super Bowl meeting with the Dallas Cowboys.

This year's Bills say they've learned from themselves and from their opponents the importance of keeping trash talk to a minimum.

"When you win, you say little. When you lose, you say less," defensive end Bruce Smith said, crediting the saying to Bills general manager Bill Polian.

That explains why the Bills have been particularly humble following their three playoff victories, declining opportunities to gloat over their defeated opponents.

It's a change from the recent past, when a penchant for speaking first and thinking later got Buffalo in trouble. The Bills are allowing others to talk while they concentrate on winning.

The Bills, losers of the last two Super Bowls, said trash talk by playoff opponents Houston, Pittsburgh and Miami helped motivate them on their path to a Super Bowl matchup against Dallas on Jan. 31.

"We learned a lot last year in the Super Bowl," nose tackle Jeff Wright said, referring to the Bills' 37-24 loss to Washington. "You can't talk a good game. You've got to show up. Maybe we talked too much and didn't show up."

Last year, several Bills popped off during the week leading up to their game against the Redskins. Defensive end Bruce Smith was angered by hate mail he termed "racist," running back Thurman Thomas crusaded for more respect, tight end Butch Rolle complained about lack of playing time and defensive end Leon Seals wanted out of Buffalo.

Maybe the talk had no impact on the game, but the Bills say they've learned it's wiser to remain silent.

"I think experience helps, and maturity, and that's what's happened here," center Kent Hull said after the Bills' 29-10 win over the Miami Dolphins in the AFC championship.

It was the Dolphins' bad-mouthing of the Bills that pumped up Buffalo.

"The guys who were doing the talking - Louis Oliver, Bryan Cox, Marco Coleman - these are young guys," Thomas said. "They've got to be more careful what they say, because if you say stuff about an individual or an organization or a team ... all it does is motivate the players, and that's exactly what it did for us."

Added Jim Kelly: "You look at our ballclub, we've been through it so many times. I know there were a few times where we might have been doing the talking, but the Dolphins are young. They'll learn."

Ken Davis said the Bills have learned - "the hard way over a number of years. You can't talk about what you've got to do. You've got to do it."

"I think we're more mature overall," Davis said. "We know what to expect so you're kind of more low-key about things."

Hull said the Bills will use past Super Bowl winners as examples.

"I thought the Giants were a class act. I thought the Redskins were a class act," he said. "Not to say that we weren't, but I just felt they handled themselves very well. There's no reason for the quality of people that we have on this team that we can't be a class organization."

Coach Marv Levy has long stressed to his players that they refrain from making provocative statements.

"I think they've learned, unfortunately, to be much more vanilla in their dealings with the press and public," Levy said. "I think if they're too forthcoming, it comes back to haunt them. And I think they've learned that. I think it's essential that they learn that."

Smith said the Cowboys talk, but "their talk is much different from some other players' talk, such as maybe Oliver. When they do talk, they talk with respect for the opposing team and at the same time, they like to compliment themselves. There's nothing wrong with that."

Levy said his players have "handled themselves magnificently" during the playoffs. Still, he had some advice regarding Super Bowl pronouncements.

"I told them to let their playing do their talking, don't let their talking do the playing," he said. "You look awfully foolish if you talk big and don't deliver."

Wannstedt's mission: Bring back Bears

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) - Dave Wannstedt is ready to launch a new era in the tradition-wrapped lore of the Chicago Bears, a cornerstone franchise of the National Football League.

The defensive coordinator of the Super Bowl-bound Dallas Cowboys was named the 10th head coach of the Bears Tuesday, succeeding the immensely popular but sometimes raging Mike Ditka.

Ditka, hired 11 years ago almost to the day by team founder George Halas, was fired by club president Michael McCaskey two weeks ago after compiling a 112-68 record, including the Super Bowl championship in 1986.

"He is the right man for the right job," McCaskey said in announcing the hiring of Wannstedt, who in four years under Jimmy Johnson in Dallas put together the No. 1 defense in the NFL after the Cowboys had gone 1-15 in 1989.

"If this is the passing of the torch, this is the right time to do it," said McCaskey. "I think the fans will take to him and really like the style that will be played by the Bears on the field."

Wannstedt, 40, was sought by several clubs, including the New York Giants, who reportedly offered him $3 million over five years. Terms of his Bears contract were not revealed, but those numbers could be close.

"The decision was easy," said Wannstedt. "You look for a situation with an organization that gives a coach the opportunity to win and to win for a long time. I feel very comfortable and I'm very excited about the direction the Chicago Bears will take during the '90s."

After the announcement was made in Soldier Field, Wannstedt was whisked to Halas Hall where he met with the assistant coaches and front office personnel.

"I was very honest with them and they appreciated that," he said of the assistants. "I will hire my coordinators first and then assemble the position coaches."

Wannstedt said it would be safe to assume he would hire his own offensive coordinator to replace Greg Landry and that he had talked with defensive coordinator Vince Tobin, "and he understands the direction I want to go."

Wannstedt, before leaving for Dallas "to start reviewing film on Buffalo," said he would devote the next two weeks to preparing the Cowboys' defense for the Super Bowl against the Buffalo Bills.

"My duties with the Bears will not kick in until after the Super Bowl," he said.

When they do, he can expect to be judged against Ditka, whose record and tenure with the Bears were second only to Halas, who had a 326-151-32 record in more than 36 years in four different terms.

Wannstedt's career is remarkably similar to Ditka's.

Both grew up in western Pennsylvania. Both played college football at Pitt and both were assistants at Dallas before getting their first head coaching job with the Bears.

"I respect Mike Ditka," Wannstedt said. "Personality-wise, there may be some similar traits. But it's on to the next step. Look ahead to the '90s and keep the Bears going full speed ahead and win as many games as we can."

Asked what type of coach he is, Wannstedt said: "The best way to find out is to talk to the players I've been with. I'm a hands-on coach, enthusiastic, emotional. I'm a players' coach."

"I'm sure some of the fans will wonder if I'm tough enough to be in Chicago," he said. "I can reflect back to a Dallas meeting room after we went 1-15. Believe me, I'm tough enough."

Wannstedt said his first assignment with the Bears would be to sit down and talk to the players individually.

"The Bears are a very talented football team, but you are always looking to improve in all areas."

He said he would have a defensive coordinator, but would spend "80 or 90 percent of my time working with the defense, but it won't take away from the offense or the special teams."

A few of the players were still around and looked at the appointment as the beginning of a new era.

"You have to bring in the best," said running back Darren Lewis. "He's got big shoes to fill. Obviously, they think Coach Wannstedt can fill them. It's a new era."

"It's going to be fun playing for Dave," said defensive end Richard Dent. "He'll be able to bring out the best in you, and that's the type of person he is. You're looking at a new era. For football players, if you don't know how to reach them, you're going to have some problems."

Safety Shaun Gayle said the Bears are not as bad as their 5-11 record would indicate.

"We're two players away from being a good team," said Gayle. "It's not a lack of talent; we just didn't play well. There was a matter of motivation and there were distractions. Against the Steelers, we were motivated."

That was their only win in Ditka's last nine games, and the 30-6 victory came as a result of Mike Singletary's last game in Soldier Field.

"It's hard to break with tradition," said tight end Jim Thornton, who did not play a down all season because of foot injury, "to break away from the things you've been doing. It's going to be a different team. They say he's a real players' coach, and I hope it's true."

McCaskey, summing up the day, said he would be "rooting for the Dallas Cowboys in the Super Bowl" because owner Jerry Jones and Jimmy Johnson allowed him to interview and hire Wannstedt.

"I want Dave to see what a zoo the Super Bowl can be and I want him to come back with a Super Bowl ring and hopes he takes us to that zoo for years to come."

Bat Speed

ATLANTA (AP) - Atlanta Braves manager Bobby Cox was amazed when he saw Gary Sheffield, the slugging third baseman of San Diego, swing a bat.

"My God, I look at him and I swear I'm looking at Willie Mays or Hank Aaron," Cox said. "I've never seen bat speed like that in my life. I really can't remember the last time I saw a ballplayer swing the bat like Sheffield."

Mavs surprise Pistons, get third win of season

By The Associated Press

The Dallas Mavericks don't win very often - once a month is their average so far - and when they do, even a veteran like Derek Harper can't resist bringing out the animal metaphors.

"Every dog has his day," Harper said after the Mavericks improved their record to 3-30 with a 113-103 victory over the Detroit Pistons on Tuesday night. "Our team really needed this badly."

The Mavericks avoided a club-record 16th consecutive loss with the upset of the Pistons behind Harper's 26 points and 11 assists.

"Our young guys were really starting to hang their heads and they needed some confidence," he said. "After five or six losses, I was ready to get the monkey off our backs."

Dallas interim coach Garfield Heard, who replaced Richie Adubato on Jan. 13, won for the first time after three defeats.

"I'm the most excited guy in the whole place," Heard said. "Our guys never doubted themselves down the stretch."

The Mavericks are still on a pace to break the NBA record for futility in a season, 9-73 by the 1972-73 Philadelphia 76ers.

"They were going to get somebody and we happened to be here," Pistons coach Ron Rothstein said.

The Pistons, who have lost three straight, are playing without leading rebounder and defensive stopper Dennis Rodman, out with a torn calf muscle. In Rodman's absence, Terry Davis had 18 rebounds, the most for Dallas this season.

Doug Smith scored eight of his 18 points during a 27-12 spurt that put Dallas in front for good in the third quarter.

After leading by as many as 14 points early in the final quarter, the Mavericks watched their lead dwindle to 93-89 with 4:48 to play on two free throws by Bill Laimbeer.

But Mike Iuzzolino hit a 3-pointer with 3:18 remaining and Harper followed with a fallaway jumper with 2:50 left to push Dallas' advantage to 102-93.

Isiah Thomas scored 19 points and Joe Dumars 18 for Detroit.

Rockets 102, Kings 96

Houston extended its winning streak to six and Sacramento lost its third forward and third consecutive game at home.

The Kings trailed just 97-96 following Rod Higgins' free throw with 33 seconds left, but Hakeem Olajuwon, who had 27 points and 15 rebounds, converted a three-point play with 7.7 seconds remaining, pushing the Rockets' advantage to 100-96.

Olajuwon finished the scoring with two more free throws after being fouled at the buzzer by Mitch Richmond, who led the Kings with 21 points.

Spurs 121, Nuggets 110

David Robinson had 29 points and 10 rebounds as San Antonio defeated Denver for its seventh consecutive victory, one shy of the franchise record.

Dale Ellis scored 24 points and Antoine Carr 22 for the Spurs, now 12-2 under new coach John Lucas, who replaced Jerry Tarkanian on Dec. 18.

The Nuggets, 1-18 on the road and loser of 13 straight in San Antonio, were led by Reggie Williams with 30 points and Chris Jackson with 20.

Trail Blazers 119, Bucks 92

Clyde Drexler scored 21 points and Terry Porter and Cliff Robinson 20 each as Portland won at Milwaukee.

The Blazers extended their advantage to 92-65 in the third period and led by as many as 33 in the final quarter.

Todd Day scored 16 points for Milwaukee.

Hawks 102, Hornets 100

Jon Koncak missed his first four shots before tipping in a shot at the buzzer, giving Atlanta the victory at Charlotte.

Dominique Wilkins, who scored 34 points, took a desperation shot before Koncak got a hand on the rebound. With 41 seconds to go, Wilkins tipped in a miss by Koncak, giving the Hawks a 100-97 lead.

But Dell Curry's 3-pointer tied the game 12 seconds later, setting up Koncak's game-winner.

Pacers 116, Bullets 96

Reggie Miller scored 12 of his 25 points during the decisive third quarter, lifting Indiana past visiting Washington.

The Pacers took control of the game in the third period when they pulled away from a 62-57 lead with a 15-2 spurt, capped by Miller's 3-pointer that made it 77-59 with 6:19 left.

The Pacers went on to lead by as many as 21 points late in the third quarter and Washington got no closer than 13 in the fourth period.

Adds Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Some things have a simple explanation and, of course, some don't.

Curt Schilling, a pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies, was asked about the unusual name of his dog, Slider.

"I can't throw one," Schilling explained, "so I did the next best thing: I bought one."

Iowa loses player in fatal car crash

By The Associated Press

There are very few days each season when the game of basketball takes a back seat to reality. Today is one of them.

College basketball lost a solid player Tuesday night when Chris Street, a promising 6-foot-8 forward for the University of Iowa, was killed in a car crash in Iowa City. He was 20.

On the court Tuesday night, No. 2 Indiana beat No. 13 Purdue 74-65, No. 4 Kentucky defeated Alabama 73-59, No. 9 Cincinnati crushed Chicago State 103-43, No. 10 Seton Hall beat Villanova 66-61 in overtime, Maryland upset No. 12

Oklahoma 89-78 and No. 15 UNLV topped Texas A&M 98-96 in overtime.

In this era of saturation television coverage, Street was a recognizable player to avid fans.

It was just last Saturday that he went face-to-face on national TV with Duke's Bobby Hurley over what Hurley believed was overaggressive defense on Street's part. In the same game, Street converted his final free throw to give him a school-record 34 straight.

The fatal car accident happened as Street was pulling out of a restaurant parking lot following a team dinner. His car collided with a dump truck, sending it into oncoming traffic, where it was hit by another car. Street's car flipped over and he was killed instantly, Iowa sports information director George Wine said.

"Chris was a tenacious player. I always referred to him as the glue to the team. I thought he had a tremendous career ahead of him," said Drake coach Rudy Washington, a former Iowa assistant who recruited Street.

Street was averaging 14.5 points and 9.5 rebounds for the 14th-ranked Hawkeyes, 12-3 overall and 1-2 in the Big Ten. Iowa's game against Northwestern, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed.

No. 2 Indiana 74, No. 13 Purdue 65

At West Lafayette, Ind., Indiana (16-2, 5-0) completed a rough three-game road trip unblemished. In the past week, the Hoosiers have won at Michigan, at Illinois and at Purdue. Their next tough road game is Feb. 6 at Iowa.

Calbert Cheaney scored 33 points and the Hoosiers held Glenn Robinson to three points in the last eight minutes. The Hoosiers hit 51 percent for the game - the first time a Purdue opponent topped 50 percent this season.

Cougars take control in SWC race

By The Associated Press

Charles Outlaw scored 21 points to keep the Houston Cougars remain unbeaten in Southwest Conference play while two other SWC teams were 1-1 in non-conference play.

Outlaw helped the Cougars take an 83-77 victory over Baylor on Tuesday night. The Cougars are 10-2 overall and 3-0 in SWC play. The Bears lost their five-game winning streak and fell to 10-3 overall and 2-1 in conference play.

In non-conference action, No. 15 Nevada-Las Vegas edged Texas A&M 98-96 in overtime and the Texas Longhorns snapped a five-game losing streak with a 79-74 victory over Murray State.

In addition to Outlaw's offensive output, Derrick Smith added 16 of his 18 points in the second half to help the Cougars.

Houston kept pulling away from Baylor, but the Bears wouldn't stay down. They stayed close in the final minute when injured Aundre Branch hit two of his four 3-pointers.

Outlaw ended the threat by blocking a final 3-point attempt by Branch with 22 seconds to play, sealing the Cougars' 10th straight home victory.

Baylor, the league's top 3-point shooting team, finished with 11 3-pointers.

Alex Holcombe, who scored 11 of his 17 points in the second half. Willie Sublett had 14 and Branch, who did not start the game because of a cut on his left hand that required eight stitches, scored 12.

Houston's David Diaz scored 18 points. Outlaw had 15 rebounds and four blocked shots.

J.R. Rider scored 38 points for the Runnin' Rebels in their close-call victory over the Aggies. Dexter Boney added 18 points for UNLV (10-1).

Texas A&M (5-9) scored the game's first six points and led by as many as 14 points before settling for a 46-33 halftime advantage.

The Aggies extended their lead to 15 points in the first minute of the second half before the Rebels began their comeback.

"They did a tremendous job on us," UNLV coach Rollie Massimino said. "They spread us out, opened up the lanes and made some great, great moves. They were going backdoor the whole time. They did a great job of getting us over-extended."

David Edwards had 26 points for the Aggies, including 11 in overtime. Damon Johnson had 22 points and Chuck Henderson hit 21 for the Aggies.

Michael Richardson scored four of his 35 points in the final 45 seconds to lead Texas to the victory over Murray State.

Murray (8-7) went up 74-73 with 2:29 left on a free throw by Maurice Cannon.

But the Longhorns (6-7) regained the lead at 75-74 on two free throws by Richardson with 45 seconds to go. After a turnover by the Racers, Tommy Penders also hit a pair of free throws to give Texas a 77-74 lead with 18 seconds left.

Lamont Hill scored 11 points for Texas, and Tony Watson had 10. Gerald Houston pulled down 11 rebounds.

Frank Allen paced Murray with 20 points, Cedric Gumm had 17 and Jerry Wilson 11.

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

Local 4-H'ers participate in show

Deaf Smith County 4-H'ers participated in the Junior Market Swine Show, Jan. 14 at the National Western Stock Show in Denver.

Cory Marsh had a class winner and the Reserve Champion Duroc. Cody Marsh placed a Chester fourth and a Hampshire eighth. Zachary Vasek placed a Yorkshire seventh and a Hampshire sixth. Five pigs were taken to Denver and all five placed. Out of these five pigs, one made the sale. A good record for Deaf Smith County.

Adults attending the National Western were Jim and Karen Marsh, Ronald and Janice Vasek, and extension agent Jay Wade Johnson.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

M.I. Byrn of New York City patented a corkscrew in 1860.

Beating those "winter blues"

What better way to lift your spirits on these long, wintery days than to attend a Hawaiian party! Members of Nouvelle Ami Study Club met Jan. 14 at the First National Bank dressed in the appropriate attire for a meal of Hawaiian chicken "stakki uppi" and pina colada cake.

Hawaiian party attended by Nouvelle Ami Study Club

Members of the Nouvelle Ami Study Club met for a Hawaiian party and business meeting Thursday evening, Jan. 14, at the First National Bank.

Dressed in Hawaiian flair, members were greeted by the hostesses with leis to complete their party attire. Serving as hostesses were Jill Harrison, Shawney Sparkman, Cookie Taylor, Kim Wilcox and Missy Wilcox.

While enjoying Hawaiian music, members were served a meal of Hawaiian chicken "stakki uppi" and pina colada cake. Tables were decorated with a row of greenery, flowers, grapes and pineapples. Handmade placemats, designed by Shawney Sparkman, matched the Hawaiian plates used for the dinner. White lattices, accented with fans and greenery, along with a golden archway and palm trees, carried out the party theme.

President Leah Lee asked members to consider which local charities should benefit from the club's recent fund raisers. She also announced that the Feb. 11 meeting would be a Valentine party in the home of Laurie Paetzold. Husbands will be invited as special guests.

Members present were Erika Carter, Janet Mercer, Tonya Setliff, Melanie McNutt, Lee, Missy Wilcox, Harrison, Laurie Paetzold, Taylor, Debbie Adams, Dee Hamilton, Krista Farrell, Kim Wilcox and De'Aun Spain.

Ski camp offered to residents

The Hereford Camp Fire camping committee is offering Winter Ski Camp to all Camp Fire members, non-members and their families. The camp is planned Jan. 30-31 and will be held at Camp Summerlife.

Registration fees are $22 for Camp Fire members and $32 for non-members. The money and registration forms need to be turned in at the Camp Fire Lodge by Wednesday, Jan. 27. The registration fee will only include transportation and lodging. You will be responsible for all meals. There is a snack bar and a restaurant where food can be purchased.

For those wishing to ski at the Sipapu ski area, the group will be leaving at 3 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 30, from the Camp Fire Lodge and will return at approximately 11 p.m. Jan. 31. Depending on weather conditions, the youth will be able to ski for two full days. For those not wishing to ski, there is a place for sledding.

Registration forms, which include information sheets, may be obtained at the Camp Fire Lodge.

For clear iced tea, boil the water and let it cool to room temperature before pouring it over ice cubes.

Recycling topic of 4-H program

Georgia Auckerman talked about recycling and the EnCoRe program when members of the United 4-H Club met Jan. 12 at the Hereford Community Center.

Eddie Trotter conducted the business meeting.

Refreshments were served by Micah Noland to Trotter, Jerry Baird, Riley Hall, Harrison Hoffman, Nathan Horrell, Jerad Johnson, Justin Johnson, Adam Klett, Aaron Landers, Geoffrey Marquez, Gregory Marquez, Landon Noland, Bryan Vasck, Peyton Ward and Craig Cothrin.

Special service planned

The Ecumenical Prayer Service, held in conjunction with the Annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, will begin at 6 p.m. Sunday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The public is invited to attend the special service which is being sponsored by the Hereford Ministerial Alliance. Discussing the event, which will involve several local churches, are, from left, Pastor Ted Taylor of the Church of the Nazarene, Deacon Jon Cloud of St. Anthony's Catholic Church and Steve Wright, music director at Christ Church Fellowship.

Public invited to attend Ecumenical Celebration

The Rev. Ted Taylor, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, will deliver the message "Bearing the Fruit of the Spirit" at the Ecumenical Prayer Service Celebration at 6 p.m. Sunday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The service is being held in conjunction with the Annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

Special music, under the direction of Steve Wright of Christ Church Fellowship, will be provided by choir members of various churches.

The Hereford service is sponsored by the Hereford Ministerial Alliance with the public invited to attend.

A ladybug can consume hundreds of aphids every day, the female munching insatiably on one aphid after another even during hours of mating.

Begun in 1908 at Graymoor, in New York's Hudson Valley, the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is observed each year in cities and towns across the country and around the world.

International preparations involve the World Council of Churches and the Vatican's Pontifical Council for Promotion Christian Unity. National preparations involve the National Council of Churches, the U.S. Roman Catholic Bishops' Secretariat for Ecumenical and Interreligious Institute.

The theme and texts for the 1993 Week of Prayer for Christian Unity are based on texts initially prepared by the Kinshasa ecumenical group of Zaire.

For further information, call Deacon Jon Cloud at 364-6150 at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

It takes more than blind luck to pin down the right home

Sure, you could go on stumbling through the housing market. Running into dead ends and getting cornered with too little information.

Or you could nail down that new home the easy way. By consulting an experienced real estate agent.

An agent can point out options you may have missed. Get you inside interesting homes that you may never have seen otherwise. Even do a lot of the groundwork, so you don't have to.

Like researching financing packages. Checking through the multiple-listing service for homes that fit your needs -- and your pocketbook. Negotiating with the seller. And arranging for inspections. He or she will even be there at closing.

So instead of forging ahead without knowing what's out there, get some help from an expert. A real estate agent.

Inside The Hereford Brand, you'll find both qualified agents and valuable information about home buying. Everyday, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And The Brand's Sunday housing section examines the latest market trends and housing opportunities.

With the right guide, hitting your mark can be child's play.

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS HAVING CLAIMS AGAINST THE ESTATE OF FRANCES MAE MILLER, DECEASED

Notice is hereby given that original Letters Testamentary upon the Estate of FRANCES MAE MILLER were issued to me, the undersigned, on the 18th day of January, 1993, in the proceeding below my signature hereto, which proceeding is still pending, and that I now hold such letters. All persons who may have claims against said estate which is being administered in the County below named, are hereby required to present same to me at my residence address in Deaf Smith County, Texas, and with my post office address being: 701 East Fourth, Hereford, Texas 79045, before suit upon same is barred by the Statutes of Limitation, and within the time prescribed by law.

DATED this 18th day of January, 1993.

/s/ BONNIE MILLER HAMILTON
 Independent Executrix of the Estate of FRANCES MAE MILLER, Deceased No. 4000 in the County Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas

Christian Unity speaker to explain Catholic ceremonies

As part of Christian Unity Week, St. Anthony's Catholic Church will add a special commentary during each Sunday service this weekend that will briefly explain the Catholic Mass. The guest commentator will be the Rev. Kenneth Keller, adult education consultant with the Diocese of Amarillo. His presentation will be "Footnotes on the Catholic Mass." Everyone is invited to come to hear this special presentation at the church located at 115 N. 25 Mile Ave. Special commentary services will be held at 6 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 23, and at 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 24.

The meaningful symbols of present Christian rites and prayers are rooted deeply in a common Judeo-Christian history but tend to be missed in the modern high-tech world. Rev. Keller's presentation will make brief comments on the history and meaning of these ancient rituals.

For additional information, call Annette Albracht at 364-6150.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 42 years old and have three lovely children, ages 17, 12 and 9. I was shocked when I learned a few months ago that I am pregnant. I am not thrilled with the prospect of diapers and 2 a.m. feedings, but I have accepted it and decided that perhaps this late dividend may be a blessing. When I told my husband the news, he was furious, called me an "idiot" and said I would have to give this child away. I told him under no circumstances would I do such a thing and if he couldn't stand an infant around at his advanced age (he's 46), then he was free to leave.

I am now in my sixth month and was sure by this time he would have regained his sanity and changed his mind. No way. He is angrier than ever. Ann, we have no money problems, and our lovely home can accommodate a nursery very nicely.

I'll bet you've never had a letter as ridiculous as this one. Please tell me what to do. I'm too ashamed to identify myself. Sign me--Nameless, Faceless and Placeless

DEAR FRIEND: You are not the first woman who has written about this problem. Almost always the nutcases change their minds when the baby comes. I am betting yours will, too. If he doesn't, insist that he go for counseling. He has strudel in his noodle.

Forget to save some of your favorite Ann Landers columns? "Nuggets and Doozies" is the answer. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $5 (this includes postage and handling) to: Nuggets, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.
