Along about this time, the middle of June, the Brand had expected to get out an extra edition, telling about the Texas & Pacific Northern railroad getting a permit to build its line from Vega to Big Spring. The public hearing was held in Lubbock last December, and June was the latest month set when announcement would be made as to the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Haskell C. Davis, examiner, has refused to hint, much less suggest, what was in his report to the commission. He has been successful in keeping from newspapers what he recommended on the T. & P.'s request to build a main line and expend $13,000,000 on the Plains. A decision is expected daily. Optimism has waned somewhat since the petition was made, and there comes from Dallas information that doubt is growing in railroad circles that the Washington tribunal will grant the new construction.

While the need for big projects for employment of labor and spending of large sums to give factories outlet for material has not lessened, the most unfavorable condition is the poor earnings of railroads during the last year, and this is cited as the main reason why the new building project may be turned down.

THE SERVANT IN YOUR HOUSE

We are often neglectful of appreciation of men and things which greatly contribute to our well being and comfort.

The less assertive they are in claiming credit, the more the disposition to take them for granted.

No single agency contributing to your convenience and comfort works so faithfully and considering the investment required, so cheaply and efficiently as your gas service.

Nineteen Years Ago In Hereford

(From files of The Brand, June 21, 1912)

A farmers' institute had been announced for June 24 in which J. W. Neill, state director, was to talk on dry farming, conservation of moisture and forage crops.

A proposition was being entertained from Col. E. C. Gordon for a north and south railroad, beginning at a point on the Rock Island in Oldham county. Citizens were to give a bonus of $6000 a mile. Judge Slaton was chairman of the home delegation, assisted by Messrs. Black, Lipscomb, Fuqua, Gilliland, Kerr, Woodlee and others.

It was mentioned in this column last week that husky flies were hopping rides on motor cars to ride to town and back, from cow lot to banana peelings on the sidewalk for a change of diet, and press reports came out immediately, stating that so many insects were hopping train rides out of the Rio Grande valley that they were stopping up air hose that control the brakes and thereby setting the brakes on wheels and causing flat tires.

Flat wheels have become so numerous on refrigerator cars that an investigation has been made. One superintendent said fruit flies and other insects were responsible for the brakes clamping down on moving trains. The wheels would slide and flatten on the rim. In order to keep flies from hopping rides on the trains, railroads may start spraying air couplings.

The moth that has been about to take Hereford is not confined to this vicinity. Other towns of the Panhandle report that flying insects of the moth family have become a nuisance. No one has advanced any reason for the unusual number of these flying pests or even a name for them. One thing we do know is they are not butterflies. There are two characteristics that infallibly distinguish a moth from a butterfly. If he has knobs on his antennae or if he folds his wings when at rest on a perch he is a butterfly without further argument.

Joe Pope contends that our million visitors cannot possibly be clothes moths, arguing that the silk and wool-eating larvae never develop wings but turn into beetles if they metamorphose at all. But here is a clincher that most of them are clothes moths: Hard times over the United States have depreciated the quantity of silk and wool clothes owned by the people in the unfortunate districts lying outside the Panhandle; the moths were about to starve to death and migrated in a body like the Children of Israel into Egypt, the land of plenty, seeking out the only "white spot" that remained on the Nation's business map as a perennial flower.

If that isn't a booster paragraph for the Panhandle, we frankly don't know what one is. If it were not for Joe Pope, with his "ingathering and ongoings" this column would have smooth sailing with its choice of subjects and grammar. He now says we should have used nonchalantly instead of the adjective nonchalant in describing the fly that hitch-hiked a ride. Everybody knows a girl looks pretty, not prettily. The fly did not fly away nonchalantly, but he was nonchalant when he hopped off. If a fly bothers you, be nonchalant and reach for a Murad, say the advertisements.

The time to prepare for a good egg production next winter is right now by correctly feeding your growing chicks. MERIT GROWING MASH is a scientifically balanced ration for young chickens that develops them as they should be grown in to the heavy layers next fall and winter.

Sam Turner, Known Here, Tells of Snapping Turtle That Grabs Knife and Cuts His Own Throat

Sam Turner, former game warden of this district, who earned a wide reputation of trapping turtles from fishing lakes and caused the Tulsa World to assert that Oklahoma intended to steal him from Texas, comes back into prominence at his new job of district warden in Dallas.

It was not Sam's feat, but that of a turtle this time that brought the warden publicity. An outlaw turtle of some size was laid out for execution but he suddenly snapped the knife from the executioner's hands, swallowed it, cut his own throat and then ejected the blade.

This is the story as related by the Dallas News: "A fish or turtle story is never believed without witnesses, so S. D. Turner, district game warden, ends with 'two others saw it' when he offers a tale of a turtle that snapped a knife from his hand, swallowed it blade first, cut his throat and then spit the knife back. It happened June 5 at the fair park fish hatchery. The offender was an outlawed fish-killer. The knife-swallowing turtle was the toughest and most vicious customer in the warden's experience, he said, though last year he caught 3650 turtle in 25 days at Palo Duro lake, 20 miles south of Amarillo. 'I've caught 'em weighing as much as 60 pounds but this 15-pound log gerhead is the meanest,' he said. The turtle measured 14 inches across, his hard shell.

Warden Turner caught this turtle and another in a net he had placed in the hatchery and started to kill them by slitting their throats with his pocket knife. The 15-pounder snapped as the warden drew the knife, wrenched it free and swallowed it blade-first. He snapped again at the warden and the blade stuck out of the turtle's neck, four inches from the head. A third snap closed the knife, and the turtle spit the closed knife out. Turner finished the job of cutting the suicide turtle's throat after it had weakened from the self-inflicted wound. It was buried beside the hatchery.

Double-Header Is On Card At Westway Sunday

Baseball fans of Hereford and vicinity will be treated to a double-header at the Westway diamond Sunday afternoon when the fast Santa Fe team of Amarillo and the Black nine clash with the home sluggers.

The first game is called for 1:30 o'clock against Black, and the second is billed to start at three o'clock with the Amarillo visitors opposing.

Westway was downed Sunday by the railroaders by a rather close count and the locals plan on giving them the same kind of dose. The Railroaders are rated as toppers in the city league of Amarillo and this should be a thriller.

Garden insects and pests are easily controlled if a little study of their habits is made. They have one of two ways of securing their food, sucking or biting. Biting may be killed by covering the plant with poison, such as lead arsenate, mixed at rate of two pounds to 50 gallons of water.

Common biters are potato bug, grasshopper, leafworm and blister beetles. Insects with sucking mouths do not eat the surface of plants and cannot be killed by stomach poisoning. Remedies must be used that will have a corrosive action on body, or an oil spray that stops the breathing apertures.

The most common under the sucking class is the plant aphid which is a small green bug found on the underside of the leaf. The continual sucking of plant juices causes the leaf to curl. Method of control is to use a spray composed of black leaf 40; mix one teaspoon to one gallon of water. It is always best to add a little soap in order to make the spray stick to the leaves.

I would advise a compressed air sprayer. It is made ready for spraying by means of an attached air pump, with which the operator compresses air in the tank after he has poured in the liquid. He then has nothing to do but direct the spray.

Notice To All Producers Of Grain and Landlords:

—Owing to the present financial condition, the undersigned elevators have received numerous notices from landlords, automobile acceptance corporations, tractor and combine firms, and others, demanding that we take notice of their chatel mortgages on wheat and other grain and that they expect to hold us liable for any purchases of such mortgaged grain. Heretofore, under normal times, it has been the custom in this county to deduct from the grain sold the necessary expenses of combining, hauling and other harvesting expenses. Under the law the person who gives the mortgage has no right to deduct such expenses and in buying the grain the elevators have no right to pay such expenses out of the proceeds of the grain sold, unless the person holding the landlord lien or mortgage gives his consent for them to do so. In order to protect yourself so that you will not be forced by some person holding a landlord lien or mortgage to pay the entire proceeds of the mortgaged crop to such person, and then raise the money to pay for combining, hauling, etc. from other sources, you should before you commence harvesting take the matter up with the person or persons holding the landlord lien or mortgage on your crop and have them in writing to authorize you to deduct these combining, hauling and other expenses of harvesting and marketing from the proceeds of the crop. Unless you do this you may find yourself in an embarrassing financial situation and unable to harvest your crop. This notice is given for your protection so that you may now take the proper steps to handle the matter. We want to cooperate with you in any way possible; however, we can do nothing except comply with the law.

THE SIN OF CAUSING OTHERS TO STUMBLE

Romans 14:12-23

13. Let us not therefore judge one another any more; but judge ye this rather, that no man put a stumbling block in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling.
14. I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself; save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.
15. For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, thou walkest no longer in love. Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died.
16. Let not then your good be evil spoken of;
17. For the kingdom of God is not in eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.
18. For he that herein serveth Christ is well-pleasing to God, and approved of men.
19. So then let us follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may edify one another.

20. Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. All things indeed are clean; howbeit it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21. It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.

22. The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. Happy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he approveth.

23. But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

Golden Text: It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.—Rom. 14:21.

Time: Paul wrote his letter to the Roman Christians, A. D. 57.

Place: He wrote it at Corinth, during a three months stay there while on his third missionary tour.

Introduction.

Paul, at the close of his third missionary journey, came to Corinth, and from there he hoped to extend his journey to Rome, but found it necessary to go to Jerusalem, where he was arrested and after a two-years imprisonment sent to Rome as a prisoner. At Corinth, however, Paul wrote a letter to prepare the Roman Christians for his coming. This letter, the famous Epistle to the Romans, sets forth magnificently the fundamentals of the Christian faith, emphasizing belief in Jesus Christ, the Saviour of the world. Paul also discusses some of the matters that were certain to perplex the Roman Christians, among them being the question treated in our lesson, what attitudes the Christians should take toward the eating and drinking customs of non-Christians. The passage is therefore one that applies directly to our present-day prohibition problems, and for that reason it has been chosen by the Lesson Committee for study.

A Stumblingblock.
"But judge ye this rather." "You should come to this judgment—that we must not put a stumblingblock in our brother's path." "That no man put a stumblingblock in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling." The Greek work translated by the last four words is the origin of our word "scandal", and means a snare; primarily, it is the trap-stick on which the bait is placed. Every saloon and every seller of strong drink break the divine law, and incur the condemnation of Heb. 2:12, "Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink, to thee that addest thy venom, and makest him drunken also!" "No personal liberty can make me independent of this social law. None lives to himself. None can lose sight of the fact that he is among the weak, the young, the tempted. There is a duty each good man owes to the community, not recklessly to infringe on the customs that are the safeguards of thousands, even if he do not himself need their restraint."—Rev. E. A. Washburn, D. D.

Meat Offered to Idols.

"To him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean." Paul was thinking of the great debated question in Christian circles of his day,—"Shall we eat meat that has been consecrated to an idol?" Virtually all the meat sold in the shops of Greek and Roman countries was the unburned portion of heathen sacrifices, and had been dedicated to some one of the degraded heathen deities. Paul said that, so far as he was concerned, an idol was a mere nothing, the dedication of the meat in a heathen temple did not change it in the least; it was entirely "clean" to him. But he realized that to some one recently come out of heathenism the act of eating meat known to have been thus dedicated was likely to bring back in a rush all his old heathen impulses, the longing for the licentious scenes and lustful or-cruel acts of the heathen worship, to such a person meat once dedicated to idols was indeed "unclean" and spiritually unuseful.

Abstention for the Sake of Others.

"For if because of meat thy brother is grieved." "Is not only displeased for the moment, but led by thy example to do that on account of which he will afterward be grieved with himself."—Rev. Albert N. Arnold, D. D. "Thou walkest no longer in love." No lover of mankind will indulge in intoxicants; only the egotist, the selfish, the careless of others. "Among those who make up the real minority in opposition to the drink prohibition adventure in the United States are the 'self-privileged' who regard themselves as in position to pick the laws they choose to obey and as superior to others. Many such find and advocate a philosophy of their own to justify their claim to privilege. Among these are often people of influence, wealth and social standing, and especially others who desire to climb into an exclusive class as quickly as possible. Such are not willing to recognize the rule of the majority. They claim for themselves the privilege of ruling, but not of being ruled." Chief Justice Taft well described their attitude when he said: "One who holds his claim to personal liberty to be of higher sanction than this overwhelming constitutional expression of the people is a disciple of pure Bolshevism." Their own enjoyments stand first—the welfare of society second, or not at all."—Harry S. Warner.

Righteousness and Peace and Joy.
"The kingdom of God is not a matter of externals, but has to do rather with the inward life." "In view of the argument of the Epistle it is best to explain these sacred words by Rom 5:1-5. 'Righteousness' is the state of the justified in the eye of the Holy Law; 'peace' is the reconciliation of God and believing man; 'joy in the Holy Spirit' is the blissful realization of this state of peace and mercy, by the hearts in which the love of God is poured out by the Holy Spirit given unto us." These divine gifts stand here in of temporal and bodily freedom of supreme contract to the petty gains choice and pleasure."—Bishop N. C. G. Moule. "In 'righteousness, peace, joy' we can recognize 'equality, liberty, fraternity,' interpreted, purified, extended. They tell us that the community and not the individual is the central thought in the life of men. They tell us that the fulfillment of duties and not the assertion of rights is the foundation of the social structure. They tell us that the end of labor is not material well-being, but that larger, deeper, more abiding delight which comes from successfully ministering to the good of others."

National Prohibition at Present.
Prof. Irving Fisher, of Yale, thus sums up the present state of national prohibition in the United States:
"(1) Present conditions of law enforcement and national prohibition are intolerable and must be corrected.
"(2) Even so, they are not so dark as they have been painted.

"(3) Prohibition has already accomplished incalculable good, hygienically, economically and socially."
"(4) Real personal liberty, the liberty to live and enjoy full use of our faculties, is increased by prohibition."
"(5) Light wines and beer cannot be legalized without another constitutional amendment."
"(6) No such amendment can be passed.
"(7) All that the weis can possibly accomplish is laxity of enforcement, or nullification; in other words, enormously to increase the very disrespect for law which they profess to deplore."
"(8) Therefore, the only satisfactory solution lies in fuller enforcement."

The Evil of Strong Drink.
The use of strong drink tears down one's body, mind and soul; it ruins one's worldly fortune and destroys one's inheritance in the kingdom of heaven. "Alcohol damages body tissues and impairs functions to such a degree that it is unwise to use it as a beverage, unsafe to use it as a medicine, and stupid to depend upon it for stimulation. It is not a tonic; it is a narcotic.
It weakens the heart.
It lowers resistance to disease.
It shortens life.
It impairs one's judgment.
It reduces one's earning power."

It is harmful in even the smallest degree.
It delays and prevents digestion. It is a race poison.
It has become obsolete as a remedy.
It kills everything that lives.
It preserves anything; that's dead."—Horsley and Sturge.

Clyde H. Garner and J. W. Murphy, Pampa legionnaires, were here Thursday to consult with the legion post about organizing a 40 and 8 chapter.

THESE SUMMER EVENINGS

The most attractive homes—the ones where the youngsters of all ages like to gather—usually have a well lighted lawn or garden where folks may assemble in the cool of the evening air and enjoy various social pastimes.

There is no need to envy such surroundings. A very small outlay of money will make any home premises attractive with outdoor lighting fixtures, so you may entertain comfortably.

And electricity cost will not be enough to be noticeable, so cheap is this modern necessity and so convenient to use.

Contamination of Water, Milk Causes Typhoid

Typhoid fever continues to appear over the county, according to Dr. J. W. Hicks, county health officer, and unless precautions are taken at once to provide drinking water protection from the inroads of sewage contaminated matter, the toll will be much too great. Milk supplies should likewise be guarded against this enemy that too often accepts an entire family.

Typhoid fever is spread through the careless disposal of human excreta. Man alone appears to be the sole source of typhoid infection. Typhoid fever arises from swallowing some of the typhoid bacilli that have come from the excreta of an infected person. This is not a pleasant thought, yet it cannot be disputed. Ordinarily the typhoid bacillus does not grow and multiply outside the human body, but there is one exception. Milk furnishes a good medium for its growth and milk should therefore be given more careful attention than perhaps any other food, says Dr. Hicks.

Method of Prevention.
There is a method of preventing typhoid fever which Dr. Hicks is encouraging and that is by becoming immunized through anti-typhoid inoculation or vaccination. Immunity obtained in this way will last about two years and at the end of that time the inoculation should be repeated. The use of anti-typhoid vaccine proved of great value in the time of the World War, but it is not less useful in this time of peace. Every person should be immunized where practicable, and especially those between the ages of 12 and 45 years. It is well to keep in mind, however, that artificial immunization is not intended to take the place of sanitary measures around the home. The toilet should be repaired and to well or cistern cleaned and made safe.

How to Disinfect Well.
A well with a pump and protection of a concrete cover is not likely to need cleaning or disinfection. Should disinfection be considered advisable, it can be accomplished economically, efficiently, and safely by means of chloride of lime. A 12-ounce can of the chemical may be bought at the drug store and emptied into enough water to make a thin paste. When the paste has been reduced to a uniform texture and all lumps smoothed out, dilute with five to ten gallons of water. Pour this solution into the well and mix as thoroughly as possible. After three or four hours pump the water out until no chemical odor or taste remains. Then install a pump for permanent use and cover well according to the methods recommended by the state department of health. Underground cisterns also should be protected with concrete covers and pumps.

Cisterns Treated Easily.
Cisterns may also be disinfected with chloride of lime in the same manner as wells, while the cistern is full of water. If the cistern is empty, make a paste of one-fourth of a 12-ounce can of chloride of lime and dilute in 10 gallons of water, wash down the sides of the cistern with the solution, then rinse with clean safe water. Cistern water will be cleaner and more satisfactory if the first washings from the house roof are by-passed and wasted. This may be done by putting a branch pipe in the inlet pipe. The inlet pipe should make a tight connection with the cistern to prevent dust and insects entering. It is advisable also to place a screen in the inlet pipe to exclude insects, leaves, etc. A drain pipe or faucet leading from the bottom of an over-ground cistern will allow rusty, dirty water and sediment to be drawn off as it accumulates.

Eggs Will Get Scarce Unless Price Improves

No farming enterprise has been harder hit by price slumps than the poultry industry, reports received by W. H. Darrow of the A. & M. College extension service show. To make egg receipts cover feed costs is something of an achievement these days. Culling and selling off is now a regular order of business on the farm. Thousands of producers have quit feeding altogether. Two rays of hope shine through the gloom—prices must improve if Americans want eggs with their ham and bacon, and a few demonstrators are showing how to make a little money in spite of the price.

Every county farm and home demonstration agent whose poultry reports have been examined show at least one poultry flock demonstrator making a small profit above feed costs. It is an art as well as a science to cut production to the quick without ruining production. In the records examined there is not an exception to the rule that the poultrymen who are breaking even or better had their hens laying 15 eggs or more each during a month.

Claims Mills Offering 50c for New Wheat

That he has received several letters from big milling companies wanting to buy Panhandle wheat at 50 cents a bushel, f. o. b. tracks, is the claim of J. E. Young, 704 North Pierce street, Amarillo, in a letter to the Brand. He said he had made a trip through the northern states, traveling 5,000 miles. He found a few good wheat fields in Southern Kansas and Northern Oklahoma and the Panhandle was the only spot where the wheat crop looked prosperous, he said.

"Wheat at 34 cents a bushel, the price claimed by Burrus, will not pay expenses at an average of 50 bushels an acre," he said, "but if a firm would start buying wheat at 50 cents a bushel in order to bring the price up, would the farmers appreciate it? A few farmers probably would, but the majority would drift like a snowstorm when big grain trusts start to crush the individual grain buyer."

"The reason the world is in such distress," he continued, "is that we have lost faith in our fellowmen. That great word self is ruling our nation and the rest of the world."

Westway Team Loses Sunday
The Westway baseball club, composed of Westway and Hereford players, had its winning streak stopped in Amarillo Sunday when a Santa Fe railroad team composed of office employes won by a 7 to 5 score.

Mr. Young claimed there would be shortage in wheat and that growers should hold off the market until September or October when the price would be 75 to 90 cents.

Marvin Alston Takes Bride At Merkel

Merkel, June 16.—Of wide social interest in West Texas was the marriage here Sunday morning of Miss Frances Anderson, only daughter of R. O. Anderson, Merkel banker, and Mrs. Anderson, to Marvin Alston of Hereford.

The wedding was solemnized at 8 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, with Rev. R. A. Walker, pastor of the Merkel Presbyterian church, officiating, in the presence of a number of friends of the Anderson family.

The couple took their vows beneath a flower-dotted arch of greenery, flanked by cathedral tapers on floor candelabra. The bride wore a modish summer frock of beige crepe with accessories in harmonizing tones.

Wedding music was given by Miss Madeline Hunt, of Haskell, cousin of the bride.

The couple left for an automobile trip to Carlsbad and other New Mexico points, returning to Hereford to live.

The romance of the couple had beginning when the two were students at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, where Miss Anderson was graduated early this month. She was University "sweetheart" to the Texas University "round up" in the spring. Mr. Alston, known to the athletic world as "Red" Alston, was a football player at the university.

Extensively Feted.

Parties were held daily to honor Miss Anderson, since the announcement of her betrothal. Two of the affairs were given in Sweetwater, one a dinner on Wednesday evening to which Mrs. Willie Davis was hostess, the other a Thursday afternoon party given by Mrs. Sam Parker, Jr.

Mr. Alston is a business man here, an associate in the lumber firm of Alston-Ross.

Agnes Elliston Married to W. L. Branson

(From Canyon News.)

Simplicity and beauty marked the ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Agnes Elliston of Canyon and Mr. William Leaton Branson of Amarillo, which was solemnized at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 10, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Elliston, 2106 Sixth avenue. The Rev. H. A. Shaw of the First Christian church of Amarillo, read the impressive double ring service in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

An arched doorway to the reception rooms furnished the background for an improvised altar of musyuckle and fern, flanked by large baskets of larkspur. A profusion of flowers added further to the beauty of the setting. The stairway leading to the room was twined with vines.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She was gowned in rose chiffon with a picture hat of eggshell lace and carried a bride's bouquet of pink roses. Her accessories were in keeping.

The ceremony was preceded down the stairway by little Miss Edra Jane Branson, niece of the groom, who scattered rose petals along the way.

Mrs. Branson resided in Hereford until she moved here with her parents some three years ago. She is a graduate of W. T. S. T. C., being very active in the student organizations when she attended there. She taught in the Amarillo public school during the past term and prior to that was a teacher in the Canyon ward school.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Branson of Hereford. He has resided in Amarillo for the past four years.

Out-of-town guests present were: Mrs. Fred Spath of Dallas, Mrs. T. E. Shult of Dallas, Mrs. R. E. Havel of Denver, Mrs. Emma Ogle of Dallas, Miss Mayne Daniel of Plainview, Miss Margaret McElreath of Memphis, Miss Alice Payne of Delhart, Miss Anna Lee Anderson of Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliston of Silverton, and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Branson and children of Amarillo.

Present from Hereford were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Elliston, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Branson and family, Miss Ruth Elliston and Joe B. Elliston.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony for Denver, Colorado, where they will make their home at 1130 Logan street for the present.

Earl Robbins, agent of the West Texas Gas Co. at Canyon, was here Tuesday, in company with E. D. McKinney, advertising official from the Lubbock office.

NEEDLE CLUB FORMED BY LAZY DAISY GIRLS OF NORTH HEREFORD

Girls in North Hereford met at the home of Marjorie Golden May 28 and organized a needle club, electing Marjorie Golden president; Louise Hunter, vice president; Christine Huntzinger, secretary-treasurer; Margaret Paetzold, reporter.

In committee assignments, Louise Hunter and Margaret Paetzold were given the program work. The organization was named Lazy Daisy club, and meetings will be held every Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A club social will be held every first Friday.

The first regular meeting was at Louise Hunter's home and an enjoyable afternoon was spent. The June 12 session was with Margaret Paetzold. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

How One Woman LOST 47 LBS. IN 3 MONTHS AND FEELS YEARS YOUNGER.

Mrs. S. A. Solomon of New Bern, N. C., lost 47 lbs. in 3 months with Kruschen Salts. She reduced from 217 to 170 pounds. She feels much stronger, years younger and pains in sides, back and abdomen that bothered her for years are all gone. She says she not only feels better but looks better as all her friends tell her.

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will never cease taking my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that is in it."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks cost but 85 cents at City Drug Store and druggists the world over. Take one-half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

—It doesn't stand to reason that wheat will stay at its present low price. Why not build that granary you have been wishing you had, and store your crop in prospect of a better price everyone expects later this fall?

—Some farmers are actually building practicable, serviceable granaries at a cost of six to seven cents per bushel of storage capacity. Isn't that interesting? Let us show you.

Ton for ton . . . mile for mile Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks cost less to operate

To place your hauling on a minimum-cost basis—and keep it there—put Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks to work. Leading firms everywhere are practicing this sound economy. They are finding, by experience, that Chevrolet trucks give a lower transportation cost than any other trucks of equal capacity.

Take fuel consumption. Chevrolet has definitely disproved the old theory that a six uses more gasoline than a four. Because of modern, efficient engine design, Chevrolet sedan deliveries are frequently giving 20 miles to the gallon or better; and Chevrolet 1½-ton trucks are making records that are relatively just as high.

Then there is the matter of upkeep. On account of the ruggedness of Chevrolet bodies and chassis, service expense is held to the absolute minimum. "20,000 miles without opening the engine for service," "Always on the job," "It just goes and goes and goes" are typical remarks of Chevrolet six-cylinder truck operators. And from the standpoint of long life, many a Chevrolet speedometer reads 50,000 miles or more, yet the truck is still giving reliable service at low cost.

In picking out a motor truck, it's wise to buy as big fleet operators are buying—choose six-cylinder Chevrolets. A wide variety of Chevrolet-built bodies is now available. And delivered prices of Chevrolet trucks, complete and ready for work, are based on low chassis-cost and low body-cost, plus only reasonable charges for handling and financing.

what to do and not what not to do.

Clean living and a closer relation between father and son are urged by the H-Y in order to carry the youth forward instead of letting him slip into crime and degradation.

At a national conference of boys in Geneva, Switzerland, most of the youths, regardless of nationality, stated they had rather be an American boy, because Americans are always ready to tackle big things, concluded Mr. Good.

A. M. Gosch was another speaker who announced that clubs of the city had posted prizes of $10, $7.50 and $5 in the fly trapping campaign which he had started in Deaf Smith county, under auspices of the state health department.

Panhandle Lumber Co.

Hereford, Texas.

D. H. ALEXANDER, Mgr.

Mr. Fridley and Mr. Davis who manage the Great West elevators at Hereford and Summerfield, have put in new dumps so there will be no waiting on account of the wheat getting out of sight. Panhandle Lumber Co. furnished the material.

Many a couple has married on puppy love only to lead a dog's life afterward. Whether or not we came from monkeys shouldn't worry us. If we can be assured we are not going to the dogs.

In no other way can you have such feeling of satisfaction and security that you can have in owning a home of your own.

Fred: Cheer up, it's time to kiss the bride.

Harry: You're all wrong; it's time for me to quit.

A man's credit always goes up when he becomes a homeowner. Just ask your banker about it.

Visitor: Isn't it difficult to keep your household budget straight?

Mrs. Newlywed: My dear, it's terrible. This month I had to put in two mistakes to make mine balance.

Wood Work of All Kinds Is Done At the Panhandle Lumber Company Planing Mill.

Have you ever figured with anyone to see what it would cost to own a home? Come in and let us figure with you and we are quite sure you will find it a lot easier than you thought or you would not be reading right now.

Mrs. Paul: Do you tell your husband everyn'g?

Mrs. Gaul: Why, I can't. He won't listen to me long enough.

You would surely feel more like dolling up your own home than the home that belongs to someone else. Think that over when you hear your neighbors and friends talking about the rose bushes and trees they planted.

Making a living is man's most monotonous occupation.

Another young man is on the way to prosperity, is the man who was in our office yesterday and decided to let us build him a home of his own.

When you are old, about the only good you can get out of a pile of rent receipts would be that they might be used to start a fire on a chilly morning.
