Effective immediately is the law compelling restaurants, confectioneries, drug stores and other places serving food or drinks to thoroughly sterilize all dishes and glasses in which food and drink are served to the general public.

Norris Nominated For President on Farm-Labor Ticket

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP).—United States Senator Norris of Nebraska, despite his refusal to head a third party ticket, was nominated early today as presidential candidate by the Farmer-Labor convention in session here. Will Vereen, of Moultrie, Georgia was named as his running mate.

WASHINGTON July 12.—The announcement was made at the office of Senator Norris today that he would head no third party movement. The statement was made in connection with his nomination for the presidency by the Farmer-Labor party.

ATLANTA July 12.—That his nomination as a candidate for vice president on the Farmer-Labor ticket at the Chicago convention is absurd, Will Vereen, of Moultrie, Georgia, said here today.

"Of course under no consideration would I accept or even consider the nomination," Vereen said. "I know nothing about the matter, except from the press report and I did not even know the convention was being held or who was holding it."

Vereen, a cotton textile manufacturer, was delegate at large from Georgia to the national Democratic convention.

Western Union Has Call Boxes

Manager J. L. Thomas of the local Western Union telegraph office, stated today that his company was installing the messenger call boxes in Big Spring.

This gives Big Spring two sets of call box systems and puts the city into the big city class.

The installation of the boxes will eliminate the necessity of having to phone for a messenger but to call for a telegram, as a turn of the call button on the box will ring a signal at the Western Union office and a boy will be forthcoming to the location of the call box.

Manager Thomas said that the boxes were expected to be installed by the 15th of this month.

Rescuers Find Malmgren Dead

Two Companions Carried Body With Them Until Found By Rescuers

Dr. Malmgren died a month ago, but his companions had kept the body and this was taken aboard the Krassin.

West Texas Product Served To West Texas Editors

The arrival here of George F. Smith of Snyder early this morning as one of the advance guards of the West Texas Press Association with a large supply of his home town products brings to mind that West Texas is neglecting one of its greatest resources.

Mr. Smith who is editor of the Scurry County Times-Signal at Snyder has been boosting two local products that are manufactured in his home town "Em" pickles and "It" Dressing which are being served to the attendants at the banquet Friday night.

The history of "It" French Dressing dates back to the late war when Captain Walter W. Lechner of Lafayette Escadrille was on furlough in Paris. Capt. Lechner being married and a West Texas product during a furlough became acquainted with a chef of the Palais Royale hotel in Paris. This chef also having a son attached to the Lafayette Escadrille the companionship between him and Capt. Lechner became quite personal. Capt. Lechner being one of those types of men that loves the kitchen of the home more than a business office, he was offered by the French chef a suggestion of a French dressing that had been a heirloom in his family for years. Following the armistice, Capt. Lechner returned to Dallas and later was sent to Snyder as headquarters manager of the Humphreys oil interests of Denver, Colo. Living there with Mrs. Lechner during his odd moments away from the oil industry he made up at diverse times a supply of the French dressing, the recipe for which he had learned from his friend in Paris. At all social functions in Snyder, Capt. Lechner was asked to make the special dressing for which he was rapidly acquiring a reputation. In fact it became so rampant to serve the special dressing that Mrs. Lechner hearkened to the voice of industry and became a manufacturer with her personal friend, Miss Frances Harris. Miss Harris the daughter of Mrs. George Harris, who was formerly identified with the Higginbotham-Harris Lumber Company of Dallas also had a recipe of a special pickle, a heirloom handed down from mother to daughter. This started the Em-It Products Company of Snyder. Started in May of this year these two ladies now have twenty women working in their plant at Snyder and they are not commencing to fill the orders that are being given these young ladies. Both of these products today are being handled in most West Texas cities and towns and were served and talked about

Watson Writes About School

Says That Weather is Hot and Work Hard, but Profitable, With Prominent Teachers

A letter from C. T. Watson secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, who is attending a school for commercial secretaries states that he is being worked hard and that the weather has been hot. However, he says that he cools off by taking a plunge in the lake.

The Secretaries who are attending this summer school for commercial and trade executives at Northwestern University, are studying under professors picked from various Universities in America for their ability to teach the fundamental courses and specialized activities of Chamber and Trade Association work. They have also instructors from Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations of such cities as New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and Kansas City.

Problems which are peculiar to Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations are being analyzed by these experts, and the executives will return home better qualified to serve their organizations and their communities.

Classes start at 8:30 in the morning and continue until 4:00 in the afternoon with reading assignments in the evening for the next day's classes. Examinations are conducted for all students at different points during each week.

The National School is a kind of post graduate work such as any progressive, alert, professional man is frequently taking, that he may be better qualified to serve his clients.

The National School for Commercial and Trade Executives is conducted under the auspices of the United Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries, the American Association of Trade Executives and Northwestern University.

May Use Local Games To Boost Position In Percentage Column

Four hundred Big Spring fans were out Monday afternoon to see the Big Spring team in action here against the Abilene Aces and they had the pleasure of witnessing a rattling good game. With Abilene and Big Spring each making three scores in the first inning it appeared that a top heavy score was going to be in evidence but after the first inning both teams played class a ball.

Chick Bonds of the Big Spring team put the game on ice when he poled a home run in the fifth inning with one man on base.

Turner pitching for Big Spring was given fine support at all times. Cromer started on the mound for Abilene but did not last out the first inning, being relieved by Roberts. Roberts yielded but three hits during the remainder of the contest.

AGRICULTURAL WRITERS CONFERENCE

By PHEBE K. WARNER There are approximately eleven hundred newspapers published in Texas. Of this number about seven hundred are weekly publications. The Home Paper. What does that mean?

The other four hundred Texas newspapers are daily papers. They too are home papers but their home territory is larger. And many of the daily papers claim to be strictly municipal publications.

For after all folks aren't so different. In the essential things we are all alike. And in most things we have common ambitions, common goals and common needs, and among which are "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

Less than 30,000,000 of our people live on the farm which leaves more than 80,000,000 people in our towns and cities. In 1790 when the first census was taken there were only three and a half millions of people in this nation and only 3.3 per cent of them lived in a city or town of any size.

Times have changed. Conditions have changed. Living has changed. And today we are the most interdependent race on earth. Then why should not every newspaper, rural or municipal, county or State, weekly or daily be interested in the greatest and most important industry in this nation—AGRICULTURE?

Why should not every newspaper in Texas whether a country weekly or a daily be interested in the Agricultural Writers Conference, which will be held at Texas A. & M. College during the Farmers' Short Course, July 30, to August 4?

Gene's Lack Of Bouts Recently May Help Tom

Tunney's Left May Play an Important Part in the Coming Match With Tom Heehey

According to Damon Runyon, sport writer, when the two gentlemen Mr. Gene Tunney and Mr. Tom Heehey meet on July 26, Gene is going to deal Tom fits with that left punch, which was so much in evidence in the past battles of Tunney.

He states that on a visit to Heehey's camp he could see no preparation that the challenger was making to guard against that left. He alleges that Tunney's left will deal Tom fits during the early part of the battle.

It will be after those early rounds that Tunney will have his chance, when Tom is expected to work in his body punch. Heehey is a good body puncher not what one would term a heavy puncher, but more of a punishing puncher. And then too he seems to be able to take body punishment in wholesale quantities.

However one factor in favor of Tom is the fact that Gene has not had any fights lately while Tom has been over the grind gradually working up to a position where he could be a drawing card with Tunney. Heehey's left uppercut that put John Risko out in Detroit was what put him on the road to the match with the champion.

Runyon seems to think that Tunney will not be able to put the KO on Tom but says that Tunney may cut the challenger up so that the bout may be stopped.

GRAHAM LEADER CONGRATULATES DAILY

The first issue of the Big Spring Daily Herald to reach the Leader's exchange table was Volume 1, Number 16, T. E. Jordan, editor and publisher. For many years Jordan has been issuing a weekly. He made a success in this venture. Oil was discovered and along with it came the rapid growth of Big Spring. The town outgrew its weekly paper. It wanted a daily and the merchants and business men went to Jordan and told him they would support the daily if he would publish one. The result a daily every evening except Saturday, but a mammoth edition on Sunday morning. A daily newspaper with a metropolitan effect is the Daily Herald. The editorial page strikes us exactly. There is meat in what Editor Jordan says. For instance he says that "petty theft, robbery, etc. would be less common if we kept a chain gang on the job. Floating crooks just won't hang around a city that maintains a chain gang." He voices our sentiments to a "L." A prisoner in jail too often takes the matter as one of recreation, a sort of a place to get three meals a day and a bed at night free. If he knew that he would be rushed to a rock pile with a chain and ball dangling to his ankles he would not be very anxious to break into jail, and we, like Editor Jordan, believe this sort of a remedy applied to "jail birds" would have its effect in diminishing the rapid growth of the crime wave.—Graham Leader.

Habeas Corpus of Dallas Preacher Refused by Court

AUSTIN July 9 (AP).—After an informal conference with the Supreme Court here today, Henry Willis, attorney, withdrew the motion he had presented here for the habeas corpus release of Rev. Earl Anderson fundamentalist Baptist preacher, who was sent to jail for contempt of court for violating an injunction restraining him from erecting a tabernacle for his church in Dallas. Whether Willis contemplated going to the Court of Criminal Appeals, could not be learned. The withdrawal of the habeas corpus motion from the Supreme Court signified that the tribunal had refused to entertain it.

Newcastle Youth Killed By Friend

WISHITA FALLS, July 9 (AP).—Charges of murder were filed today against John Hobbs, 15 in connection with the fatal stabbing of Ernest McBride 17 yesterday near Newcastle. Hobbs waived the examining trial and will probably await the action of the grand jury in September. The youths are said to have been close friends and officers are at a loss to explain the altercation.

MINERAL OILS VITAL TO PRESENT WORLD

Reason can not comprehend what would happen if mineral lubricating oil were suddenly taken from the world. Automobiles, trucks, tractors, motor boats, airplanes, industrial plants, practically everything would be at a standstill. The world depends upon mineral oil as it depends upon the sun. Mineral oil as a lubricant today is in such general use that users take it very much for granted. But petroleum lubricants have not always been available.

GAINS $1.50 PER BALE

Due to rains in many sections of the cotton belt the price of cotton advanced one dollar and fifty cents per bale this morning. This helps offset the four dollar and more drop in price Monday.

It's going to need a good old soaking rain to put the Big Spring country in a No. 1 shape and boost the spirits of our citizens. There is no estimating the worth of a good rain appearing throughout this county at an early date.

H. L. RIX ATTENDING FURNITURE MEETING IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO July 8.—The decorative importance of color in modern interior furnishing and decoration grows greater year by year, says Mr. Harvey L. Rix of the Rix Furniture and Undertaking Company of Big Spring. He is attending the furniture style show in the American Furniture Mart to choose stock for his store for the coming year, and to acquire new ideas in keeping his community in step with furniture developments.

"In upholstered furniture, in hangings, in wood finishes and even in refrigerators, stoves and china, the quest for gay colors is noticeable. Here, at the American Furniture Mart I have seen hundreds of designs and color combinations, original productions and importations, which show that the drab, colorless furniture of former years has been put on the scrap heap."

Business Conditions, Nowhere, As Good As In Big Spring

Pickle Writes Interesting Article While Vacationing in Kentucky and Tennessee

Today we are enjoying an outburst on the celebrated and widely known Reelfoot Lake in West Tennessee. Those of us in the party are my father and mother, my brother, Lon Pickle and family of Fulton, Ky., Mrs. Gus Pickle, daughter Hattie Maye and her mother, Mrs. F. P. Ridgway also of Fulton. We are camping today at the Bank or Campbell's Point, about five miles from Tiptonville, the county seat of Lake county.

From the best information I can gather Reelfoot Lake, that is the main body of the lake, is around seven miles wide by twenty miles in length, of course the lowlands and occasional bodies of water extend some distance from either end of the lake.

The water is reasonably clear and today I see people drinking it. It is fair drinking water, but there is much better water for drinking in this section. There are some springs coming out of these little hills that afford real good drinking water and which is much better than the well water in West Tennessee.

It is quite an odd sight to me to look out over this large body of water and see the trunks of trees with the limbs and bark gone, and extending in varying heights above the water to as much as twenty feet, or perhaps more. These silent sentinels stand guard all this beautiful body of water and all that is left of the trees that once grew on the land is now known as Reelfoot Lake. In 1811 and 1812 there was an earthquake that caused the land to sink and formed the lake.

There are thousands of these tree trunks and some of them just below the surface of the water, are a serious menace to those who seek to boat ride on the lake. Just a few days ago four people out joy-riding in a motor boat near where we are today, were drowned when their boat ran upon one of these hidden snags and was overturned. We are content to stay on the shore today especially as we are here so soon after the tragedy.

A great deal of advertising was given this section of the country these silent sentinels stand guard killing of Colonel Taylor and the narrow escape of Captain Quintine Rankin had at the hands of a mob composed of natives, who opposed the efforts of these, and other men, who sought to take over the lake for the use and benefit of private individuals. Col. Taylor was hung near Walnut Log landing and Capt. Rankin narrowly and almost miraculously escaped by getting behind a cypress log in the water and wading and swimming quite a distance after the mob had left the place where Col. Taylor was executed. Several men were arrested for this crime, tried in District Court and convicted. Their cases were appealed, reversed and re-sentenced for new trials, and all of them were finally dismissed. I was told here by an old timer, Chas. Campbell, who was born here and who has operated a general store here for forty-seven years that public sentiment was very much with the men who were charged with this affair, as they, with hundreds of others, made their living for themselves and their families by fishing and hunting on this lake and they felt that they had an inalienable right to protect their homes and to keep the means of supporting their families.

The final adjudication of the matter was that Reelfoot Lake became the property of Tennessee and hundreds of men around this lake still make their living fishing in the summer and hunting during the winter, to say nothing of that vast number of pleasure seekers seeking Nimrods and followers of Isaac and Walton, who come here for sport and pastime to hunt and fish. There are quite a number of pleasure resorts being erected around the lake, where one can fish, boat ride, swim or trip the night pastime, just as their desires may be, and the value of the lake as a pleasure resort is increasing year by year, we are told.

I am also much interested in what I can learn of Lake County with the meagre means of gathering information about it that I have. Lake county is the body of land lying between Reelfoot Lake and the Mississippi River with a varying width of one and one half mile to five miles and around thirty miles in length. There is not a hill in the county and I have never seen richer land in all my life, cotton produces from a half to a bale per acre, with an acreage of say three fourths of a bale, corn will produce from twenty five to one hundred bushels per acre, but I am told that some farmers buy corn in spite of the fact that could easily raise plenty and a surplus on the farms they occupy.

This condition comes about partly because farmers here are not so very different from those of other sections and are still trying to win on a one crop program and also because this rich land is largely held by a few individuals who require their tenants to raise mostly cotton, the result is, that this county rich as the Valley of the Nile, is very far from the stage of development and prosperity that its resources and its possibilities would justify.

A short report of crop and weather conditions, as we saw them on this trip, might be of interest to your readers. Crops are good from Big Spring to North Texas, but North Texas was having too much rain, however not nearly so much as in Arkansas, Western Tennessee and Western Kentucky. Because of more than three weeks of wet weather the lowlands of all this section have been flooded and crops are very late and look to be in very bad condition. A very large part of the low country will produce no crops or a very poor yield.

I can see no chance for Arkansas or Western Tennessee to produce anything like a normal crop this year, and from what I can gather practically the same conditions prevail throughout the south, but we should not lose sight of the fact that if all the land planted to cotton yields only a fair crop the production could be heavy, as the acreage is very large.

I am very agreeably surprised at the condition of the weather here as it is much cooler and much more pleasant than I had anticipated. So far we have not had a warm day and last night a little fire in the grate was comfortable. These people say that the weather is unusually cool for this time of the year. It is a delightfully pleasing experience to me to feast my eyes upon these beautiful trees, the tangled wildwoods, the green fields and especially upon the pretty yards with lawns verdantly covered with color, bermuda and many other grasses, and exquisitely lovely flowers, properly and attractively arranged around cozy, comfortable and substantial homes.

We have found business conditions nowhere so good as in Big Spring and in most places in Arkansas and Western Tennessee a spirit of business gloom and financial depression seems to have set over the entire country.

After all there are worse things than a drought in a farming country and that would be as these people have had, twenty days of rain out of twenty five days.

We are enjoying our vacation very much but we are eagerly looking forward to the time when we are once more in Western Texas, the land of opportunity and of vision, where the future still beckons energetic Americans on with a welcoming hand.

Negro Killed Over Dice Game Here Saturday

Roy Jones Killed Saturday Night and Albert Green Being Sought in Connection With Killing

As the result of a disagreement over the outcome of a "crap game" Saturday night, one negro is dead and another one is charged with the killing and is now being sought by the King Chevrolet Company.

Roy Robert Jones, an employe of the King Chevrolet Company was killed, a load of shot from a shot gun struck him in the chest, and he was dead before medical aid reached him. Albert Green aged about twenty-five years, who witnesses stated did the shooting had disappeared when the officers reached the scene.

The shooting took place in the street in front of the "Negro Cafe" in the northwestern portion of the city shortly after 11 p. m. Saturday night. Several negroes are being held by the officers for investigation.

According to witnesses Green, Jones and others had taken part in a crap game in the hills just previous to the shooting and Jones claimed he had been tricked out of ten dollars. He returned to the cafe flourishing a six shooter and threatening to kill the ones who had robbed him. Green had also prepared for trouble by planting a shot gun in the bushes and when Jones came in his direction the shooting started. Jones is said to have shot several times but it is not known whether or not he shot before or after the charge from the shot gun struck him.

Officers arrived on the scene five minutes after the shooting. Deputy Sheriff Andrew J. Merriek was at his office when a call came requesting him to come to the Negro Cafe as there was going to be a killing. He made hurried preparations and was just leaving his office when the phone rang again and the voice that gave the S. O. S. said "it's too late now, Mr. Sheriff, as the killing has done took place."

Jones' body is being held at the Rix-Griffith Mortuary, pending funeral arrangements. His sister from Dallas is expected to arrive this evening and upon her arrival funeral arrangements will be made. Jones is survived by a wife. His mother is said to live in Waco.

Party "Bolters" Go On Ticket

Members of the Cameron County executive committee indicated here today that the names of Thomas Love, candidate for lieutenant governor, Mrs. Edith Williams and William E. Hawkins, candidates for governor, would be placed on the primary ballot rather than incur the possibility of a legal argument.

Love was here today and expected to meet with the committee and discuss the matter.

SAFE WAY TO DEVELOP DAIRY HERDS

Those interested in the development of the dairy industry in the Southwest cannot help but be gratified at the frequent news reports of the importations of purebred bulls from the dairy States.

Southwestern farmers and dairymen must bear in mind that Wisconsin, Minnesota or farmers in other dairy States will not sell their good cows at prices that will make them profitable in this section. These farmers are preparing to meet new competition by culling their herds, disposing of, if possible, their poor producers at profitable prices, and keep only their best cows. Therefore, it is a waste of money, in most instances, to import cows purchased for $175 to $200 per head, because such cows are the kind that your chief competitors do not want.

It is possible, however to get good good bulls—bulls with a record behind them—and in this way we can build up herds of dairy animals in a few years equal to anything in the country.

Save the heifer calves. Take good care of them and develop them into the best cows possible. Follow up with good breeding and every precaution and generation will be better than the preceding one. It is only the sure and safe way of developing profitable dairying in the Southwest.—Farm and Ranch.

University May Get Buildings

AUSTIN July 10 (AP).—The president of Texas University was informed of an opinion today from the attorney general that the University can pledge the interest from its permanent fund to take care of any debt created for the construction of new buildings. This means that the University regents may carry out the tentative plans for borrowing three million dollars for permanent structures to supplant the present wooden buildings and use of the permanent fund interest to retire the debt. The permanent fund is now swelled to some eight million dollars, largely from West Texas oil royalties which cannot be used for building purposes.

Italia Members In Dire Need

Oso July 10, (AP).—On the ability of the ice breaker "Krasain" to reach the marooned members of the Noble party near Foy Island, hangs the fate of the only men of the expedition known to be still alive. The latest reports indicate that the men are in a bad state of physical condition and that speed is necessary if the men are not to perish.

We give our customers the benefit of what others send away in royalty, etc. Our overhead is less than most grocery stores. We have low prices, we have not got all our capital tied up in EXPENSIVE FIXTURES, and HIGH PRICED INSTRUCTORS, to tell us how to operate our store. We pay the lowest market price for his CHICKENS, EGGS, BUTTER, and anything that he brings in, and give him the cash for it. We handle the best stall fed meat that is sold in Big Spring. We have the best Frigidaire equipment to keep it fresh that money can buy. We have as good meat cutters as there are in Texas and our slogan: "NEVER UNDERSOLD" applies on our meat market. OUT OF A JOB?

A half million men leave our jails every year. Are they to be an asset or a liability? The question must be answered. It cannot be side-stepped. The ever increasing number is too large to be ignored. What can be done? It will perhaps surprise many to learn that the first and foremost thought of nearly everyone on leaving is to find some way to make an honest living. From the standpoint of the penal dependent, for a long time like a bird in a cage, his one ambition has been to get freedom, but as he nears the going out day, liberty is a secondary thought. What to do represents the biggest problem of his life. He must find a job, he must get to work quickly.

With little else to think about the shut-in man naturally magnifies his coming troubles with gloomy anticipations. Much of this will pass as he goes out if he has taken time to pack his brain with useful intelligence for, after all we are but men with average training, out of jobs, in a prosperous land that harbors half of the gold of the world.

How different is the situation in Europe, Asia and Africa. Being in the U. S. A. offers a better outlook on life, in all but freedom and the joys of home, than enjoyed in a large part of the world. Few of us would accept liberty and home of a lower strata of life. In exchange for our numbers of most of Asia and Africa. There is a limit to our misfortune. There is not even hope to escape poverty among hundreds of millions elsewhere.

It is Dickens time the calamity of approaching poverty and the shadow of the poor house was the common place fear of everybody in Europe. This is almost a lost premonition in our time. America has always prided itself as the home of plenty and will continue to amass wealth for a long time to come but the economic system will change greatly in the next few years. We must soon divide our efforts between brain workers and lever pullers.

The real dominating mechanical age began with the first automobile about 1900, since then with the rapid pace of the artifice of steel every phase of human endeavor has been invaded. This drive of power will never cease and with it will come some tremendous advantages if we have the basic knowledge to be prepared for the jobs as they come along. In a few years all humanity will be adrift on wheels or wings.

Are we prepared to meet this far reaching transformation? America has led in this advance but how long can she hold it? Neither money nor patents, nor national boundaries can control the machine age. It is brain capacity and physical adaptability that counts and unless we meet this situation and develop a superior basic culture, we will be out of work.

This applies with equal force to men here as elsewhere. The farmer the mechanic, and the white collar man, all must meet the call for new jobs if all will be outdistanced by the demands of a machine age. The man who smokes his pipe and says "What to do," without due thought and preparedness will promptly land in the dens of starvation and despair.

Fore-thought must be our watchword if we aim to be in the stream of progress that is now here. We must curb the jazz of pleasure seeking. We must reduce the ego of our high scale of living. We must get back to the safe sane plan of the simple life of our forefathers, with the understanding they had of the next job that came their way. And we must do it, as they did, by being just a little ahead of the mob who ever seek the easy elusive road to work. We must do it with an eye to the wings of our times but otherwise it is the same job to do, better work more faithfully. This and this only is what has made our country the greatest wealth producer of the world.—The New Era, Leavenworth, Kan.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE Shawnee, Oklahoma D. C. Miller, editor of the Bloomington, (Ind. Evening World, says:

That the service clubs have done much to make good towns out of slow unprogressive ones. Rotary, Kiwanis, Exchange, Lions, Civitans, and others, are mediums through which thousands of men all walks of life are now pulling together for community betterment. These clubs not only afford real opportunity for civic action, but provide programs which get results.

In this state university city of 22,000 one service club alone has subscribed $3,000 for a hospital in Indianapolis for the underprivileged child, purchased $550 worth of playground equipment for a local park, purchased an auto for use of the public health nurse, given liberally to the Boy Scouts and has made large cash donations to welfare bands. Another club here has sponsored a municipal golf course which has just been thrown open. Records of the other clubs are equally as good. Some of the members of these clubs have remarked that they never became really acquainted with their fellow business men until seated around a table with knife and fork in hand. These clubs have provided a contact that has put in motion best efforts of leading men in the different professions. And it must not be forgotten that the American Legion has also been stressing service to community in its programs.

Hats off to those responsible for originating the service club idea!

Local C. of C. Directors Meet Monday Night

Good Attendance and Many Business Plans Discussed Feature Last Night's Session

Comm. Appointed

To Raise Money For Office Bldg. Bonus Offered by Directors

In what was declared by President Shine Phillips to be one of the best meetings of the year, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce met last night in the office of that organization.

Joye Fisher gave a report on roads, stating that Messrs. Van London and Early of the State Highway Dept. were here recently and are expected to return the first of next week to give Howard county an estimate on the cost of topping Highway No. 9.

B. Reagan chairman of the new industries committee, reported that the new refinery had received a shipment of rails to be used on the spur track from the T. and P. line to the plant. That work on the plant was progressing nicely. He also said that citizens other than the ones on his committee, should devote part of their energy to getting industries here with payrolls.

T. L. Cook made a report on the air field saying that no progress has been made on it. He stated that he had a letter from the Ft Worth Association of Commerce asking that the local organization paint the name of Big Spring on some prominent building.

City Manager Montin gave the directors an explanation of the water situation. He stated that the city has plenty of water but that the 8-inch main from the wells to the city are encrusted until the opening is too small to permit the passage of enough water. He said however that the new 12 in main would remedy that defect and the city expected to have the new main in by August 1. Many complaints have been made on the lack of water and a correction of this defect will be greatly appreciated by the citizens. He read a report from Major Hawley that bore out his statement of the condition.

A committee composed of Ray Wilcox, Fred Phillips, R. L. Cook, and Bob Piner was appointed to raise the ten thousand dollar bonus for an office building recently voted by the directors. Dr. G. T. Hall sent the directors word that he was ready, with his associates, to erect an office building as soon as the bonus was raised.

T. E. Jordan made a report to the meeting on the West Texas Press Association meeting here next Friday and Saturday.

Directors present were: Shine Phillips, E. A. Kelley, J. F. Wolcott, M. H. Morrison, B. Reagan, R. L. Price, S. R. Weaver, E. O. Ellington, T. E. Jordan, R. L. Cook, J. F. Phillips, and Joye Fisher. Members present were: W. V. Montin, George White, Ray Wilcox, and B. Fisher.

Editors To Feast Chicken Barbecue

One of the outstanding feasts to be given for the West Texas editors, who will meet in their Third Annual Press meeting in Big Spring July 13 and 14, will be the chicken barbecue that will be staged at the Parish Park one mile east of Big Spring, Friday noon, July 13th. The Wednesday Luncheon club and the Rotary club are sponsoring this entertainment and the guests are assured a royal feast.

Barbecued chicken with all of its trimmings, and iced cold soda pop will be served picnic style to the guests under the big cottonwood trees in Parish Park.

All of the members of the Rotary club and of the Wednesday Luncheon club are earnestly urged to attend the barbecue at the park, Friday at noon. Everyone is asked to please bring his car, and take some of the editors to the picnic scene. Meet the editors at the First Methodist church promptly at 12 o'clock. Can you be counted on to be there?

NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM TO OPERATE FLASH SIGNAL

The new switchboard which will be in service in Big Spring after July 14 is of the common battery type. This means that there will be one large battery in the central telephone office which will eliminate the trouble of having to replace the old dry cells at every telephone.

The telephone system will now operate on the flash signal to the operator. All one will have to do to call the operator is to lift the receiver from the hook. No ringing is necessary.

This new switchboard has 14 positions. Five are for handling local calls, seven are for toll service, one is blank and the last is for the trouble man.

Big Spring can be justly proud of the new telephone exchange. It marks not only the turning point in better telephonic communication but it parallels the growth and expansion of the town.

The King Chevrolet Company received a new shipment of Chevrolet cars today.

RAISES FINE IRISH POTATOES

That Irish potatoes can be raised in Howard county is certain, and T. F. Nabors is one of our farmers who has successfully raised them. In order to give the editor a treat and to have the real proof for the benefit of Doubting Thomases he brought a big mess of these splendid Irish Cobbler and a peck of black eyed peas to the Herald office Monday. Sorry we can't divide with our friends but they sure did hit the spot. You never can tell what you can do in Howard county until you try and Mr. Nabors is one who believes in trying many crops rather than just cotton.

Mr. Nabors has a surplus of snap peas and black eyed peas he is selling to people who motor out his place on the Gail road. Many Big Spring citizens make it a practice to see Mr. Nabors when in need of fresh vegetables, melons, eggs, etc.

Mrs. W. G. Orenbaum returned last night from a visit with relatives and friends in Fort Worth.

Mrs. W. N. Brown of Fort Worth accompanied her to this city for a visit.

CARS COLLIDE SUNDAY

Two Ford cars collided at the corner of Scurry and Tenth St. yesterday afternoon about three o'clock. Aside from a few bruises none of the four occupants of the two cars were injured, but both automobiles were badly damaged. According to one of the drivers, both autos were coming north, when the one in front attempted to turn west on tenth just as the one in the rear started around it, the cars striking with full force. The driver of the rear car said the other driver failed to give a signal that he was going to turn or if the signal was given he failed to see it.

It looked like old times to see Spec Williamson cavorting around on the diamond as a member of the Big Spring league team Monday. Spec is playing a great game and is getting his share of hits. He rapped one up against the fence in yesterday's game.

OIL LANDS WORTH MILLIONS SUED FOR

Suit attacking title to oil land worth millions was filed Saturday by A. H. Hart of Midland County and J. C. Hart of Taylor County against a number of defendants operating in section 29 block B-5, public school lands of Winkler County.

It is alleged by the Harts that their mother owned a homestead in Taylor county and disposed of it, receiving as part consideration the land in Winkler county. Later Mrs. Hart tried to convey the Winkler land to S. P. Woodward and Geo. Murray. The plaintiffs claim they were owners of an undivided half interest in the Winkler property by virtue of having inherited it from their father and that the deed was made by the mother without their knowledge or consent and is not binding on them. They seek possession of the land and damages of $5,000,000. The annual rental value of the property is placed at $1,000,000.

The defendants are T. C. Hendricks and wife, Atlantic Oil Producing Co. Roxana Petroleum Co. Weekly Oil Corporation, Landreth Production Company, Magnolia Petroleum Corporation, and others. Trial of the suit October term of court.

Speaking of the flow of speech at the convention will be many other big literature announcements which will be Bill Parker and... From a careful above, we take will not bring his golf togs to Big July 13th.
