October 9.

THE CHRISTIAN IN THE FAMILY

Luke 1:40-52; 10:38-42.

40. And the child grew, and waxed strong, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

41. And his parent went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the passover.

42. And when he was twelve years old, they went up after the custom of the feast;

43. And when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and his parents knew it not;

44. But supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance;

45. And when they found him not, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking for him;

46. And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them, and asking them questions;

47. And all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers.

48. And when they saw him, they were astonished; and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I sought thee sorrowing.

49. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? knew ye not that I must be in my Father's house?

50. And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them; and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52. And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men.

Luke 10:38. Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village; and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house.

39. And she had a sister called Mary, who also sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word.

40. But Martha was cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41. But the Lord answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things:

42. But one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

Golden Text: I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.—Ps. 101:2.

Time and Place: Christ in Jerusalem at the age of twelve, April, A. D. 8. Christ visiting Mary and Martha in Bethany, December, A. D. 29.

Jesus Tarries in Jerusalem.

The time came for the happy pilgrims to start back to Nazareth. Joining other groups from Galilee, among them relatives and friends, they set out, the men walking and talking together, and likewise the women, while the children now journeyed with one group, and now with the other. Evening came, and the members of the various families came together for the night. Then it was that great distress fell upon the family of Joseph, for Jesus was nowhere to be found. They searched for him in vain. There was nothing to do but to return to Jerusalem, which they did the next day. With what fears and sorrow, we may gather from the words of Mary when they finally found the boy in the Temple the day after their return to the city: "Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing." How many mothers have known her fear and distress! We see true motherhood—the spirit that compels us to seek and to find the missing child, that never gives up until he is a home again.

Jesus, the Obedient Son.

We may be sure that it was not through willful disobedience that Jesus did not leave Jerusalem with his family. There was no refusal to go. We have in this incident, rather, a testimony to his supreme interest in religion. So full of zeal was he for his Father's house that all human relationships became secondary. The words and spirit of Mary when he was at last found in the Temple indicate that up to that time he had been thoroughly trusted and had never been a disappointment. There was no rudeness, no perversity in his nature; hence the extreme surprise of his mother. His wonderful spirit is further revealed in the statement that he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them. For him, such obedience was the part of virtue; it ministered to his own manhood, and helped to make the home at Nazareth all that it should be.

Jesus in the Bethany Home.

The second story of our lesson shows us Lord as a guest in the home of his friends, Mary, Martha and Lazarus. After he began his ministry, at the age of thirty, he had no permanent home. On one occasion he said in a would-be disguise, "The Son of man hath not where to lay his head." But he loved the quiet and ministry of home life. The doors of the Bethany home were wide open to the Saviour. Its members looked forward to his coming, and each of the sisters did her best to make him welcome. In the story of our lesson a most interesting and instructive situation develops. Martha's hospitality centered around and about conversation. Martha was kept busy in the kitchen; Mary sat at the Saviour's feet, listening to him. After awhile Martha was wearied by her work and angry with Mary for not helping her. He told Martha that all her wearying toil was unnecessary; a simple meal, just one thing to eat, would be enough. Recall his principle, "Man does not live by bread alone." To him food was secondary. As for Mar, she had chosen "that good part," she had sensed the primary thing, the spiritual food, and it should not be taken away from her. Many of us, like Martha, set material standards, not only for hospitality, but for all home conditions. Our Lord says there is something higher and better feeding on the Bread of Life, gathering about the Saviour as the center of life.

William E. Gladstone.

W. J. Bryan said of Wm. E. Gladstone, the great British prime minister: "Gladstone built upon the Bible, and he built so well that he towered above the other figures of his time. For twenty-five years Gladstone was the most potent individual power on this earth. People in other lands learned to know him. He rose among other men some mighty mountain peak towers above the surrounding hills." I was that he built upon Bible truth, and while he was ready to die for that truth at any time, he lived for it until he came to die. That gave him his power."

Special Lesson.

"It would be difficult to enumerate all that religion owes to the family. Its vitality depends directly upon the interchange between the two. A religion reduced to public ceremonial, with no echo about the hearth, is a religion that fathers and mothers do not help to teach, and so otherwise than decrease in influence."—Charles Wagner.

Plainview Is Host To Legion District Meet

Department Commanders from three Southwestern states have been invited to attend the convention of the American Legion of the 18th Texas District to be held in Plainview October 15-16. Acceptance of invitations have been received from Carl E. Nesbitt of Mineola, commander of the Texas Department and from Everett Grantham of Clovis, N. M., commander of the New Mexico department. The 18th district is composed of 60 posts in the territory composing the 18th Congressional District, extending from Chillicothe, Quantah and Haskell west to the New Mexico state line and north from Snyder, Lamesa and Seminole to the north boundary of the Panhandle of Texas. Eight posts in the immediate vicinity of Plainview are aiding Plainview in the preparation of program and will act as joint hosts. These posts are Lubbock, Lockney, Floydada, Petersburg, Tulla, Dimmitt, Littlefield and Silverton. The morning of the opening day will be devoted to registration of guests. At 3:30 that afternoon the Amarillo and Pampa 40 and 8 Voltures will start what they say will be a memorable "wreck". A Dutch lunch for visitors will precede an athletic program later in the evening and a dance will close the day's program. Largent-Pere's dance orchestra will play. Two floors of a downtown building will be used for the dance, accommodations being available for 500 couples. A school for service officers will open the second day. Advice and instruction will be given service officers and others who wish to attend. The Legion's service officers, representatives of the U. S. Veterans Bureau from Dallas and Muskogee, Oklahoma, and efficient service officers of the local posts will lead the discussion which will pertain to details of all forms of veterans' relief work. At noon a barbecue will be served. Concurrently with the Legion convention the Legion Auxiliary will hold its convention. A reception and bridge party will be held on the first afternoon and a supper will be served by the Plainview Auxiliary at Plainview's new municipal shelter house, "The House of Friendship", in one of the city parks. Sunday afternoon the business session will be held immediately after the public meeting. Mrs. James Trent of Clarendon will preside. Dr. Bradford Knapp, recently appointed president of Texas Tech, Lubbock, will address the Legion members and the public at 1:30 p. m. as part of a patriotic program of variety. An hour and a half later the convention will go into executive session. Reports from the National Convention at Portland Oregon, will be given and the business of the convention transacted under the leadership of G. Ward Moody, of Perryton, district commander.

Chicken Culling Demonstrations by County Agent

A county wide chicken culling campaign will be conducted between October 10 and 21. Anyone desiring a culling demonstration at his home is requested to make arrangements with the county agent as to the time, and he is requested to invite five neighbors to attend the demonstration. It is impossible for the county agent to cull all the flocks in the county. At each of these meetings full instructions are given so that anyone attending should be able to cull his own flock thereafter. Only heavy producing hens return a profit for the feed and labor given them. The poor layers eat nearly as much as the good layers, and are therefore an expense and loss to any flock. Culling out the poor layers has become a necessary part of good poultry management. In some cases one-half of the flock can be removed without decreasing the egg yield. Some hens do not lay because they are not fed. Such things as improper feeding, poor housing, mites, lice, intestinal worms, or lack of water may keep good hens from being good producers. Before culling, give the hens a chance. Much time and labor is lost by trying to catch hens with the old style "hen hook" or by trying to corner them in the chicken house and catch them by hand. One's temper, time and labor can be saved if a catching crate is prepared for the job. Cut a hole in an ordinary poultry shipping crate or other crate of like size. Place the crate in front of a small opening in the chicken house. A few birds can be driven into the crate and the opening closed. The hens can be easily taken from the crate without unduly exciting the flock and with little loss.

Welfare Work Organized For Local Charity

Jesse Stanford was elected president of the Welfare Association Monday night at a meeting in the county court room, attended by representatives of various civic organizations and the churches. Judge Earl Wilson presided, while officers were being elected. Besides Mr. Stanford, president; Rev. McWilliams of the Christian church, was elected secretary, and G. A. F. Parker, was elected treasurer. Plans were discussed for promotion of the work this winter. After these are perfected the public will be notified as to the personal and completed organization.

Those present at the Monday night meeting were Judge Wilson, representing the commissioners court; Miss Nell Ayers, county health work; Jesse Stanford, Lions Club; S. P. Rosson, chamber of commerce; Voline Downs, American Legion; Mrs. Rex Tynes, county federated women's clubs; Mrs. B. F. Guthrie, American Red Cross; J. D. Buchanan, city commission, and Rev. McWilliams. Other members of the board of directors who were not present are Rev. Glesner, Presbyterian church; Rev. Cloyd, Baptist church; Rev. Robinson, Methodist church; Mrs. Lee Curry, Home Demonstration Council.

Young Harold was late for Sunday school, and the minister inquired the cause. "I was going fishing, but father wouldn't let me," announced the lad. "That's the right kind of a father to have. Did he explain the reason why he would not let you go?" inquired the minister. "Yes, sir. He said that there wasn't enough bait for two."

MRS. L. P. PERKINS

The higher room in our school organized a club Friday, September 16, for the purpose of carrying on activities to promote happiness and general development. Officers elected were Woodrow Car michael, president; Buster Bradley, secretary; Dorothy Barton, vice president; Nadine Ward, sergeant-at-arms. A committee on programs was appointed, and another to draw up a constitution.

3 big "FIRSTS" to Phillips

"HIGHEST TEST" at the price of ordinary gasoline

Thanks to you, Mr. Jones, in your Ford. To you, Mr. Smith, in your Cadillac. To you, Mr. Brown, in your Buick.

To all of you, and every one of the 7,000,000 motorists whose friendly and loyal patronage has swept Phillips 66 gasoline to the front, in the race for outstanding position in sales, we are sincerely grateful.

The world's greatest laboratory for testing gasoline is the city pavement and the open road. The world's greatest testers are the experienced drivers of new cars and old.

You, Mr. Motorist, and millions like you, are the practical, work-a-day scientists whose judgment determines whether a product measures up in quality and value.

Phillips 66... the greater gasoline... did not win your favor with clever words, exaggerated claims, or hallyhoo.

You heard of Phillips' three big "FIRSTS." You were open-minded enough to try a tankful. And the finer performance, the dramatic difference which you actually felt in your motor—this is what convinced you that Phillips 66 high test, with Controlled Volatility, at the price of low gravity gasoline, is the unsurpassed value in motor fuel.

After your first trial tankful, you came back for more. You told your friends about the sweeter, quieter operation... the sharp improvement in pick-up and get-away... the longer mileage... the split-second starting on days of freezing cold. In turn, these friends spread the good news about this greater gasoline. And thus swiftly, Phillips developed into such a sensational success, that it is still the talk of the entire petroleum industry.

We 11,000 members of the Phillips Organization appreciate, beyond what any words can say, the priceless word-of-mouth (advertising which you have given our product).

We take this opportunity to assure you that the quality of Phillips 66 gasoline will continue to be ever high and ever constant—that at its price it will always offer more value for the money—that its extra high test will not cost you a penny of extra price, at any orange and black 66 shield.
