DANIEL

Mrs. Daniel was born May 2 856, at Richmond, Kentucky, and died November 17, 1932. She was educated at Madison Female College, married M. B. Daniel in Richmond March 18, 1878.

The couple resided in Kentucky about seven years, where their three sons were born; moving to Cooke county, Texas, about 1880. Two daughters were born to them there, and her husband died, while the family lived in Cooke county.

She never re-married, but supported and educated her five children to grow into fine representative citizens. She moved to Hereford in the early days, coming here in 1902, making this her home henceforth.

She is survived by her five child ren and their families, M. J. Daniel of Texhoma, Oklahoma; J. M. Daniel of Oklahoma City; R. A. Daniel, Mrs. W. H. Russell and Mrs. A. G. Bell, of Hereford; three sisters, Mrs. J. H. Sparkman, of Harlingen, Texas; Mrs. Ella Carter, of Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. J. W. Blanton, of Memphis, Texas; and one brother, J. W. Robinson, of Miama, Florida. Two brothers and two sisters preceded her in

Among her descendants are numbered twenty grand children and one great-grand child.

Out of town relatives who were present at the funeral were W. J. A truck. J. W. Lusk, or bring to Daniel, of Texhoma; Mrs. J. W. 46-1p Blanton, of Memphis; A. 3,000,000 FAMILIES AIDED BY RED CROSS

Distress in All Areas Met by Giving Food, Clothing and Other Help.

More than 3,000,000 families throughout the nation were given relief of various types y the American Red Cross in the past winter, to aid them in their distress caused by unemployment, disaster or other misfortune.

A major relief task, due to unemloyment and other unusual condiions in the bituminous mining counties in twenty states, was met by the Red Cross chapters alone, or participating with other agencies. In these 143 counties, the Red Cross aided 90,000 families through giv-ing groceries, school lunches, cloth-ing, flour and other necessities in mbat privation.

Flour, milled from government wheat turned over to the Red Cross by Congress, was given to 15,000, 00 persons in the period from farch 8 to June 30, the close of the scal year. Flour will continue to e given through the winter of turned over to the Red Cross for

"The Red Cross faces the busiest has proved of great benefit, and the cotton clothing will be given wide distribution."

While carrying on nation-wide these unemployment and other relief measures, the Red Cross also was engaged in its regular peacetime activities in public health nursing, service to ex-service men and their families, teaching home hygiene, life saving and first aid. almost 7,000,000 school children, also railled to the support of the society's relief efforts, and the lief work.

While the wheat and cotton were given by the U. S. Government, no money was provided to pay for the necessary work entailed. The Red Cross will meet this expense of almost $500,000 from its treasury. Citizens can aid by joining as members of the local Red Cross chapter during the roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

SIXTY DISASTERS IN 1932 ADD TO RELIEF PROBLEMS

Red Cross Spends $2,760,000 to Help Victims of Catastrophes.

In a year of great misfortune caused by economic depression, in which the American Red Cross assumed heavy burdens of relief for the unemployed, the organization also responded to emergency needs and its insular possessions.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1932, the Red Cross gave aid to 75,000 families totalling 338,-000 individuals, with expenditures of $2,760,786. These people were in distress because of drought, flood forest fire, tornado, snowstorm, mine explosion or other similar great disaster.

Prolonged drought caused the Red Cross to go with help to 58,000 families in the northwest. Here in 144 counties in North and South Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, Wash-ington and Iowa the Red Cross spent $1,980,000 from its own treathrough the winter and spring.

Other grave disasters were floods in southeastern states, where the organization spent $192,000 from its treasury and $66,000 local contributions to help 13,000 persons.

More than 50,000 people were homeless from floods in tributaries of the Mississippi river and again the Red Cross faced a long relief task, aiding these people. The national organization gave $108,000 and local contributions were $10,000.

The Red Cross always maintains a state of readiness to meet these sudden emergencies and funds and other essentials to this work are supplied, in part, by the annual roll call, held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day. Every citizen can support this worthy activity through joining as injunctions, therefore, which sound a member in the local Red Cross

Beasts Once Summoned

Before Judicial Courts Among curious legal cases before the courts, few bear comparison with those recorded by hyspenes days, when sails were really heard against the lower creation, says the Law Journal of London. While it is difficult to suppress merriment over the quaint ideas of our ancestors, regarding the culpability of animals, there is no doubt that the trials were viewed seriously.

The warrant for holding animals amenable to the law appears to have been taken from the Judaic law; "If an ox gore a man or woman that they die, then the ox shall be surely stoned and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox shall be quit."

Following this command Moses proceeded to enforce the doctrine of the responsibility of the owner of a dangerous animal and to insure his due punishment in the event of his willingly allowing a harmful beast to run loose. These more or less to the letter in medie val Europe, and, extraordinary though it may seem, in France and other European countries animals in general were held to be amenable to law until the middle of the Introduction.

Important as is the stewardship of money, the stewardship of life is vastly more important. It includes the use for God of our riches, our woldly possessions, and adds the employment for him of our abilities of all kinds, our time, our strength, our ambitions, our emotions and affections, all that we have and are. It is in this larger sense that we are to study stewardship in this lesson,

"It is not money that is going to meet the world's greatest and most urgent needs, though it be The world's needs can only be blessed the world. We must fol low in his train if we would be channels of blessing to humanity Stewardship of Moses.
