Sights and Faces Seen

The Cradle Roll Department of the Baptist Church doesn't waste time. Two hours after Edwin Morris Schroeter, son of Judge and Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, was born last Sunday, he was enrolled in the Cradle Roll class. Incidentally, the young man was born on his grandfather, A. O. Thompson's birthday, Feb. 5.

England has nothing on this territory when it comes to following the hounds. Coyote hunting is becoming very popular over this area. Jake and Millard Gregory captured two in the Ward community one day last week, and several other catches have been reported in other communities.

"Six inches of snow" was the report sent in Tuesday by Mrs. R. H. Johnson of the Bellview community.

Billy Moore, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore of the Daniel Community, came walking in last week with a black eye. Investigation proved that he had been ice skating and used his face rather than his feet.

Fred Brown and John Roberts made a special trip to announce their selection of Frank Cogdell as Hereford's No. 1 playboy, a title they refused to explain.

Hacker Child Is Accident Victim Sunday Afternoon

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD HERE MONDAY FOR 6-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Funeral services for Fairy Gwendolyn Hacker, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hacker, were held Monday afternoon, Feb. 6, at 4 o'clock from the First Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. W. E. Barnes.

The child died instantly as the result of an automobile collision, which occurred shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday evening approximately one mile west of Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Hacker and children were returning to their home in Hereford, and just as they started to pass another car, also traveling east, the other car started to turn around. The cars collided and the Hacker automobile overturned. The door of the car partly opened and the child was partially out of the car when it overturned, crushing her.

Gene Bracken, around 21, who was driving the other car, went to his home, approximately a mile west of the scene of the accident. He got his father and together they returned to the scene of the accident and brought the Hacker family to Hereford. Investigation proved the child was dead. No other serious injuries were suffered by the occupants, however.

Fairy Gwendolyn Hacker was born in Hereford on Oct. 9, 1932, and lived here until her death occurred. In addition to her parents, she is survived by a sister, Mildred; three brothers, Alvin, 16, Joe 4, and Eugene, 2.

Full bearers were Walter Ayres, Fred Millard, Jr., Jeff Washburn and Harold Williams.

Interment was made in West Park Cemetery.

At present the paid meals average from 10 to 15 a day, while approximately 65 free meals are given each day to children that would otherwise go (Continued on Page 12)

EARLIER ANNOUNCEMENT OF TERMS ADVOCATED BY CONGRESSMAN

Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agricultural Committee and representative of this district this week advocated "earlier announcement of allotments and promoter payments as methods of improving the present farm program. He also hinted at a drive to balance discriminating freight rates, a movement which started at Hereford last summer.

The summary of his proposed changes follows:

By Marvin Jones. Much has been done during the last six years in behalf of agriculture. The total average farm income has been greatly increased. The farm program is not a bill. It is a movement. It involves the tariff, freight rates, low interest credits, new markets. The various bills are but steps in that movement.

I feel that some improvements can be made in the regular farm program.

First—The allotments should be made known much earlier so that the farmer can make his plans prior to preparation for seeding.

Second—The payments should be made much more promptly.

These two administrative changes would help materially.

Third—The benefit payment to farmers might be based on the lease of a definite percentage of the tilled acreage of each farm and conditioned on soil-building crops and practices on such leased land.

Rev. Hornbeak Addresses Lions Club Wednesday

"We have too much of everything," said Rev. J. A. Hornbeak, retired minister, in addressing the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday at noon. "By reading the papers and talking to individuals, I find that we have too much wheat; likewise, we have too much cotton. We had too many cattle and too many hogs—so many that our government a few years ago had to kill them."

"War, we apparently have too many people," he continued. "A third of our population is reported to be on relief. We have too many teachers, for only 60 per cent of our qualified teachers have positions. We have too many lawyers; the only hope they have is to be elected judge or attorney."

"It is hard to believe, but we have too much money. A few years ago we had too much of everything."

In addition to the present program, farmers will be invited to ask questions of the speakers in an effort to bring any needed information which might prove of use. The group will also decide tomorrow night on what type of program they desire for March, and plans will be made to secure such speakers as may best fit the need of the group.

Elster Haile Favors Death Of Tax Office

"I CAN GO BACK TO FARM WITH PRIDE OF REAL TEXAN," HAILE SAYS

Elster M. Haile, the question of whose eligibility to hold the office of State Tax Commissioner created wide interest recently, is heartily in accord with abolishment of the office, according to a statement submitted to The Brand this week. The statement follows:

"In the very first place I have every right in assuming that the measure just passed represents the very best thought of the members of the Senate. I have not read the provisions of the bill and if I had I would not presume to pass upon the merits of its provisions. Of course as a temporary Tax Commissioner I would have had a right under the law to offer suggestions on this very important subject. But that is all much 'turbulent' water over the wheel now."

Lands State Action

"The citizens of Texas should understand and believe that the act just passed is a great accomplishment. The Tax Commission has for sometime past been spreading out. The necessary functions of the office, I presume, are saved and taken care of by this act. This is a swift and drastic move for efficiency and economy in government."

"If in accepting Governor O'Daniel's appointment and lending myself as a sort of purgative agent has helped in accomplishing a great good, I am truly glad. All along I have suspected that these changes should be made. The members of the Senate have decisively confirmed my suspicions. It is not now necessary to confirm me. I can go back to the farm with the pride of a real Texan."

GREAT BIOGRAPHERS OF MODERN TIMES ARE STUDIED BY JUNIOR PIONEER CLUB

Mrs. Libburn Ray was leader of the program at the Junior Pioneer Club meeting held at the home of Mrs. Troy Moore, Tuesday night. Mrs. Alton Miller was co-hostess. Roll call was answered with "My Favorite Biography," under the direction of Mrs. Ray. Miss Edna Daughette discussed Emil Ludwig, German author and playwright of Jewish descent. Miss Daughette said Ludwig's real interest was harmonizing historical biographies and among his works to be staged are "Napoleon," "Fris-tain," and "Isolde." She described his biographies as interesting because of the conversational manner in which they are written. His works include biographies of Wagner, Bismark, Napoleon, Wilhelm II and Christ.

In telling of Lytton Strachey, Miss Daughette commented on his far reaching influence, because he created a new style which has been followed by biographers since that time. Strachey was a British writer who achieved instant success with what amounted to an inside history of England during the reign of Queen Victoria. His work includes biographies of such eminent victorians as Cardinal Manning, Florence Nightingale, Dr. Arnold and General Gordon.

Mrs. Elvin Riddling told the story of Stefan Zweig who wrote verse and drama dealing with his extensive travels in foreign countries. He wrote the "Story of Napoleon," but is better known for his "Mam Queen of Scotland," and "Marie Antoinette."

centerpiece against a normandy lace background. Tallies and other appointments for bridge games which followed the dinner, repeated the Valentine motif.

High score awards went to Mrs. H. K. Fox and Jack Wayland. Those present, included Mac Pittman, who was a guest, and the following club members: Messrs. and Meedames J. A. Pittman, H. K. Fox, Jack Wayland, Alton Frasier, H. A. Close, C. C. Acker, Mrs. Seth B. Holman, Miss Eloyse Pittman and the hosts.

WHY NOT SMILE?

When you walk down the corridor of our high school, do you feel as though you were in an entirely strange school? Do people hurry by you without smiling, or does everyone speak or at least smile at you? What they do largely depends on you. If you smile all the time, you naturally make others smile back at you. The saying goes, "Laugh and the world laughs with you. Modify it to, "Smile and the world smiles with you." No one likes a grouchy person around him. Don't make yourself an objectionable person like this. Let's brighten up the school by smiling.

WILKINSON WORKS ON WASTE PRODUCTS

For the last five years Mr. Francis E. Wilkinson of Glendale, California, has been experimenting on waste products by passing high frequency electricity through them. From these experiments, Wilkinson has made many products from waste. These may soon have a direct bearing on industry.

His products include many things such as alcohol made by running electricity through a container full of natural gas and water, synthetic rubber made from decayed fruits and vegetables, and a low gravity oil, which is easily refined made from unusable, sulphur-laden crude.

Perhaps some of his most valuable discoveries are the process of making a new high-test motor-fuel from alcohol and sour cottonseed oil. If his discoveries materialize, it will no longer be necessary for motor fuels and motor lubricants to come from oil wells.

Wilkinson's equipment is very complex. Radio programs are broadcast on frequencies in the 500,000 to 1,500,000 range. Wilkinson uses a frequency of 80,000, 000 to 150,000,000. Sometimes this equipment produces effects that even Wilkinson does not know how to explain. One time he had a copper electrode in a flask of some liquid which he was vaporizing by an electric current. The liquid vaporized, and passed to another flask where it was condensed. After the experiment there was a small pile of metallic copper at the bottom of the condensing flask. The metal had come from the copper electrode.

It had been vaporized by some process and had been transferred with the liquid. No one could explain how the copper was vaporized because there was no great amount of heat present. In another experiment, Wilkinson took carbon tetrachloride which will not burn and bombarded it with ultra-short waves. After this process the carbon tetrachloride became highly inflammable. Wilkinson cannot explain why.

Wilkinson hates war and he hopes that his discoveries will keep nations from aggressive policies, which are intended to secure more natural resources.

FIRST YEAR HOME-MAKING GIRLS DO WORK

The first-year homemaking girls, who have been studying how they can make home attractive, are practicing what they have been studying.

The other classes are improving the laboratories. They will wax, paint, varnish some woodwork, and make filling cabinets and curtains. The girls chose to do the work rather than study about it.

BIBLE IS MAIN TOPIC OF DISCUSSION AT H-Y

The Bible was the main topic of interest in the Bible H-Y program on Jan. 17. Mrs. Wilson gave a discussion on the "Historical Study of the Bible" and Louise Cross talked on "The Right and Wrong Way to Use the Bible." Then Rocky Phillips talked on "Four Ways in Which to Know the Bible." Pollyanna Crawford took charge and conducted a Bible drill. First, she asked each girl a question pertaining to the Bible and then there was a contest to see who could locate certain scriptures the quickest.

P. H. S. P. A. Amends Constitution At Canyon Convention

Three amendments added to the Panhandle High School Press Association Saturday at the convention. These amendments were first presented to the constitution committee, and then the committee recommended them to the entire convention. They were accepted by unanimous vote.

The first amendment was in relation to the secretary-treasurer, who is now to be responsible for all bills from the time she takes office until the records are again clear after the convention the following year. He is to be responsible for all debts and expenditures during his own term of office and as nearly as possible give the new incumbent a clean sheet to start on.

Another amendment was to the effect that not only the Principal and the Superintendent of a school recommend a student for an office in the association but that the Faculty Advisor from that school may also have the power of recommendation.

The third amendment was the abolishment of a sentence in article IV, which contradicted an amendment which was made a year before, in a convention in Borger.

EDUCATIONAL SOCIOLOGY IS DISCUSSED BY BAYVIEW STUDY CLUB

Of unusual interest was the program given by members of the Bayview Club, Thursday afternoon, at the meeting held in the club rooms at the courthouse.

Mrs. Ray Barber, president, had charge of roll call which dealt with "Outstanding personalities in the news of today." Names making news included Governor Olson of California and his attitude towards Tom Mooney; Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and his attitude toward a condemned negro; Gertrude Knox and her work in preserving the folklore of the south; Hilder and his latest address, and Frankfurter, newly appointed judge of the United States Supreme Court.

Mrs. Bob Wilson opened the program on Sociology with an interesting article on "Processes Producing the Criminal." She began her comments by quoting J. Edgar Hoover in an address made to the National Federation Convention in Kansas City last May, who said, "The women of this country have the solution of America's crime problem because truly, the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. As heads of American homes women are in the best position to direct children in paths which lead away from crime."

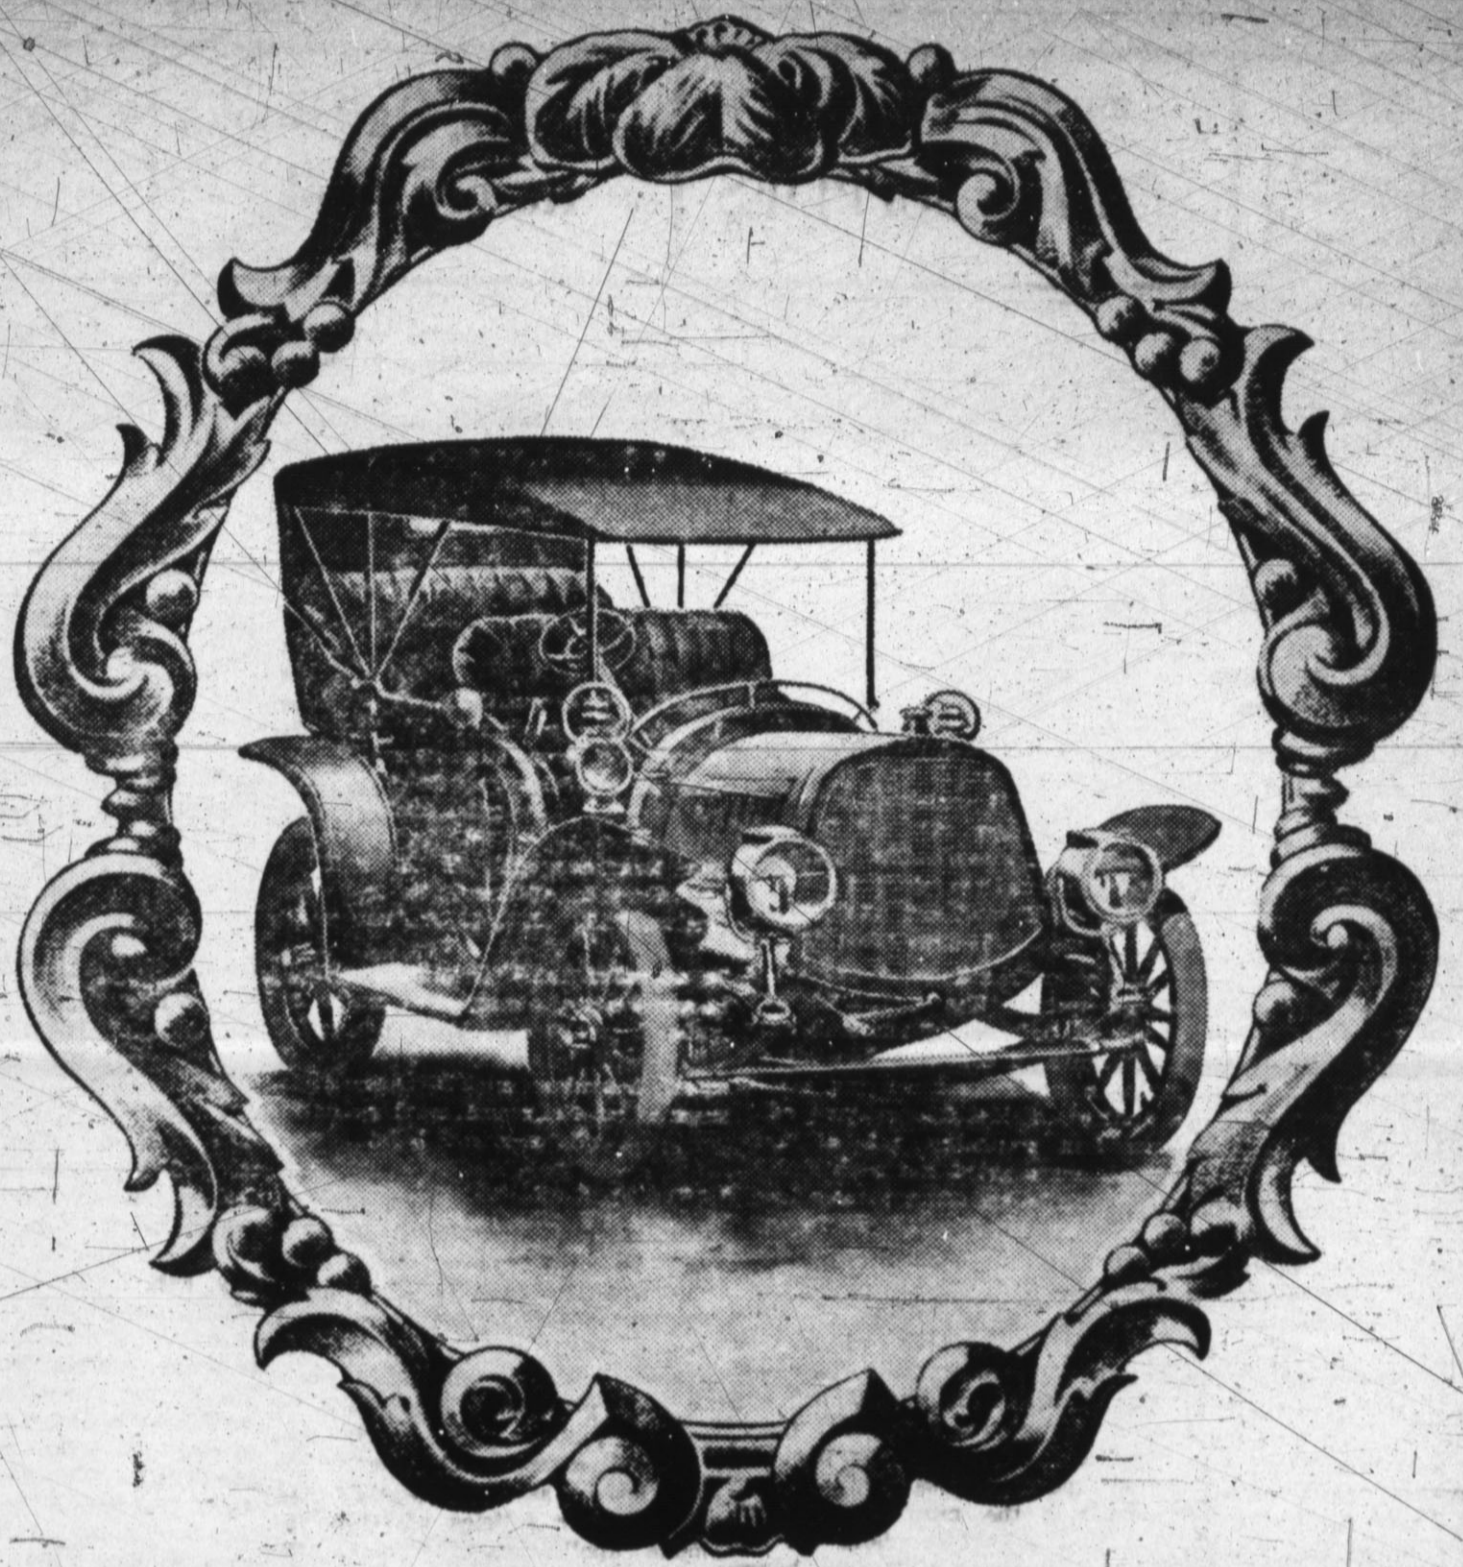

Backing up her statement that crime is basically a youth problem, Mrs. Wilson gave the following statements. During the last year, 18 per cent of the persons arrested were under 21 years of age. They accounted for 13 per cent of the murders, 28 per cent of the robberies, 42 per cent of the burglaries, 30 per cent of theft, and 51 per cent of car thievery. Summing up her talk by saying that these youths are living examples of neglected home training and the failure of society proper to meet its obligations to the younger generation. Mrs. Wilson concluded by listing youth organizations which have furnished energy outlets as well as physical, mental and moral training.

Mrs. H. L. Broadwell continued the program by discussing "Advanced Educational Sociology," bringing out current trends of opinions as advocated by the nation's leading educators. She quoted the following statement from President Hutchins of Chicago University, "Educational Sociology begins in childhood, when the parents begin to train the child to moderate his passions and to habituate him to justice and prudence. But the role of advanced education in Sociology must be to supply the firm and enduring groundwork to sustain these habits when the tumult of adult life beats upon him."

The president of Leland-Stamford University was quoted to advocate courses of study which will enable the youth of the nation to deal with the society they will be forced into in adult life. For, the Stamford educator said "Education is the continuation of society."

Mrs. Broadwell also explained the need for rural sociology as well as trade courses and listed several institutions now offering such courses.

During the brief business session, Mrs. Barber, president, urged members to contribute to the cafeteria fund because of urgent need. Members attending the meeting

SLOW STARTING IS OLD-FASHIONED Since Phillips 66 Came to Town

"WHAT A FUNNY LOOKING CAR" is the universal comment on any 1910 model. Actually, the gasoline of that era is just as funny, compared with that of today.

Progress in motor car design has been more than matched by improvements in motor fuels. And one of the leaders among modern gasolines is today's high test Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

No other gasoline will so consistently give you fast starting in freezing weather, because no other gasoline so consistently tops the list in high test quality. Yet you pay not a penny extra for this extra high test, because Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Your modern car will yield a new high in engine performance with this modern, high test, high energy, custom-tailored motor fuel.

Try a tankful . . . compare . . . see if Phillips 66 Poly Gas doesn't give you just about the fastest cold-weather starting you have ever enjoyed.

Phill-up with Phillips for Instant Starting were Mesdames C. R. Barber, H. L. Broadwell, Colby Cookwright, E. B. Hedrick, G. A. F. Parker, John Roberts, F. T. Roloson, and Bob Wilson. Mrs. F. W. Thomas of Dunlap, Kan., was a guest.

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, chairman of the department of education, made an interesting talk on her department, assisted by chairmen of opera, radio, rural school music and music in the public schools, from other groups present.

Mrs. C. C. Ferguson, chairman of American music, told of the present state of music in America, adding the request from national and state officers that all clubs plan to include American music in programs for the coming year.

A paper prepared by Mrs. O. T. Williams, chairman of International music relations, on "News Events in International Music Affairs," was read by Mrs. A. O. Thompson.

Courses of study recommended by the National Federation were described by Mrs. H. L. Broadwell, who placed special emphasis on phases of American music.

Luncheon was served in the blue room of the Amarillo Hotel. Featured on the luncheon program was a quintet from the local Music Club, composed of Mesdames Troy Carmichael, S. P. Rosson, B. M. Wiltshire, H. L. Broadwell and A. O. Thompson, with Mrs. A. C. Thompson playing the violin and Mrs. L. L. ...

at the piano. Their selection was "In Silent Night," a Swedish Folk song, harmonized by Gramms.

Recasting the Farm

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Breeder-Feeder association

Least motion is costly whether it is in the factory or on the farm. There are times when an hour means more than a day at some other time.

Factory managers employ the best engineering talent to lay out the plant for efficient operation and then follow each operation with keen eye to learn how to perform it with the fewest possible motions.

Women by recognizing their kitchen, have progressed more rapidly in the saving of steps and time than men have done in the barnyard and on the farm.

This is a good season of the year to study the farm and reshape it arrangements as the women have done and are doing in their kitchens.

The ideal situation of course would be to start with the bare land and lay out the home and farm plant for convenience and economy of time as a modern factory is laid out.

Perhaps the most time-consuming and thankless chore on the farm is drawing water for household, poultry and livestock.

Our home economics leaders have shown that a very small plot of garden well watered can supply a large part of the family food and improve its health at the same time.

Eyes Of Nation Watching Wheat Crop Insurance

College Station.—As winter wheat growers look ahead to harvest time with national conditions indicating double the average abandonment, attention has centered on some 3,700 Texas farmers who have taken out wheat crop insurance.

George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee of the AAA, with state office here, has received government crop figures pointing toward an average winter wheat abandonment of 20 to 25 percent as compared with last winter average of 11.6 percent and the long time abandonment from winter crop damage of 12 percent.

"The experience of these 3,700 growers," Slaughter commented, "will be observed closely by 6,000 Texas growers who applied for this insurance and perhaps by many more. Their farms will be looked upon as test plots in the 69 Texas counties in which this new all-risk crop protection is getting a trial."

Participation in 1940 insurance will be much larger, according to information received by Slaughter from E. R. Duke of Amarillo, state supervisor of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

"Time was not available in 1938 to fully consider it, or fully meet its requirements," Duke said, "as was the case in most western plains regions, where repeated droughts had worn down all resources, cash payment in advance of all premiums constituted a serious problem. Of nearly two thousand growers who replied to questioning as to why they did not pay for policies after having made application, the most frequent reason given was they could not raise the money to pay the premiums."

They knew with a series of bad years back of them, that their rates must be high and their insured coverage low. That is inevitable with insurance based on actual loss costs and production records of the counties and the farms."

Those conditions they were ready to meet with the prospect that better years would bring lower rates and better coverage. Duke observed, "But 536 of the 1938 who helped give this needed information just could not raise, or could not spare the money."

"As it is," Duke continued, "Texas made a fine comparative showing. Over 61 percent of those who applied, now have policies. Only two winter wheat states show a better percentage, while the average for all winter wheat states is nine points below ours. Texas ranks third among all winter wheat states, for the amount of wheat added to the insurance reserve, through the payment of premiums. This reserve is stored in bonded warehouses and as near as practical to the producing areas. If, and when crop losses occur, indemnities will be paid from this reserve as the adjustments are made."

The 3,700 insured Texas growers, Duke pointed out, now know that they can draw from this reserve to protect their insured acreage, which averages nearly 100 acres per policy. Should their 1939 harvest fall short of the insured percentage of their adjusted average yields, the shortage will thus be made up to them.

Counties which lead in number of growers participating are Floyd with 258; Young, with 202; Foard, with 199; Haskell, with 174 and Carson and Grayson, with 163 each. Floyd county also has the largest acreage insured—about 40,000. Next comes Carson, with over 33,000. Foard, with nearly 22,000 acres; Ochiltree, with nearly 20,000; Bristow, with over 18,000; Gray with over 16,000; Hale, with about 15,750; Swisher with 15,625; and Moore, with over 13,500 acres insured, also came into the picture of big participation in this service.

Barbara Brotherton read the play, as members of the class performed. Girls' Hi-Y Celebrates Second Birthday

Happy birthday, Hi-Y! The Girls' Hi-Y celebrated its second anniversary as a club in Hereford by giving a tea at the home of Edith Jackson Tuesday evening, Jan. 24.

Rev. Barnes Speaks To Boys' Hi-Y

Boys' Hi-Y met as usual on Tuesday night at seven o'clock. The meeting was opened by the reading of the minutes by the secretary, followed by several songs and sentence prayers. The main part of the meeting was taken up by a talk on the Conference theme, "Finding Christ in the Boy next to Me." This talk was given by Rev. Barnes of the First Baptist Church. In this talk, Rev. Barnes pointed out the signs that showed on a boy who believes in Christ. These points are as follows: eagerness, willingness to forgive, joy, dedication and sacrifice. After this talk by Rev. Barnes Mr. Hudson took charge for the business meeting. Mr. Hudson gave the boys some advice to which to adhere while at the conference. Two boys in the Hi-Y club gave 3-minute talks on the Conference theme, the better, by George McLean, will be given at the Conference. After this, the club elected two members of the club, George McLean and Clinton Masie, to act as congressmen for Hereford at the Conference. The meeting was then officially closed.

First: "I'm afraid Jones is wandering in his mind since flunking in that exam."

Second: "Well, you needn't worry; he can't go far."

CLUB PROGRAM HAS INTERESTING TOPICS

Interesting topics in the hands of Miss Nancy Conkright, and Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon were featured on the Junior Barlow Club program Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frances McComb.

Miss Conkright chose for her subject, "Airlines in Black," as discussed in a recent issue of Fortune Magazine. She told how most airlines operated at a loss, mentioning the United States Airline Corporation which has shown a profit in 1934 for the first time. This company reports losses and debits due to more caution, according to company claims. But other companies claim it a matter of luck.

Mrs. Witherspoon told the story of "Cream of Wheat." The history of the food product from its beginning in Minneapolis, Minn., in 1895, was told in an interesting manner. The formula was discovered by accident by an employee whose wife had prepared the food from the wheat hearts in the mills. The mill owners ventured with fifty cases at first and soon orders were being filled. The company which now makes a three-milinet product, is still in the hands of families of the founders. Less than sixty men are employed in a factory about the size of a small high school.

Members present, were Mesdames J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., Alton, Fraser, J. W. Witherspoon, W. L. Davis, Elizabeth Womble, Jimmie Gillette, Misses Elyse Pittman, Edna Daughdee, Ruby Dutton, Nancy Conkright, Katherine Kirby and she hostess.

Two discussions formed the program. "What and Where is God," by D. W. Hawkins; and "How Can We Find God?" by Mrs. R. M. McCall. The closing prayer was led by Mrs. M. L. Steele.

There will be no regular meeting next week. Members will attend an Officers Training Course which will be given at the San Jacinto Methodist Church in Amarillo on Wednesday.

Texas Silage Estimated At Seven Millions

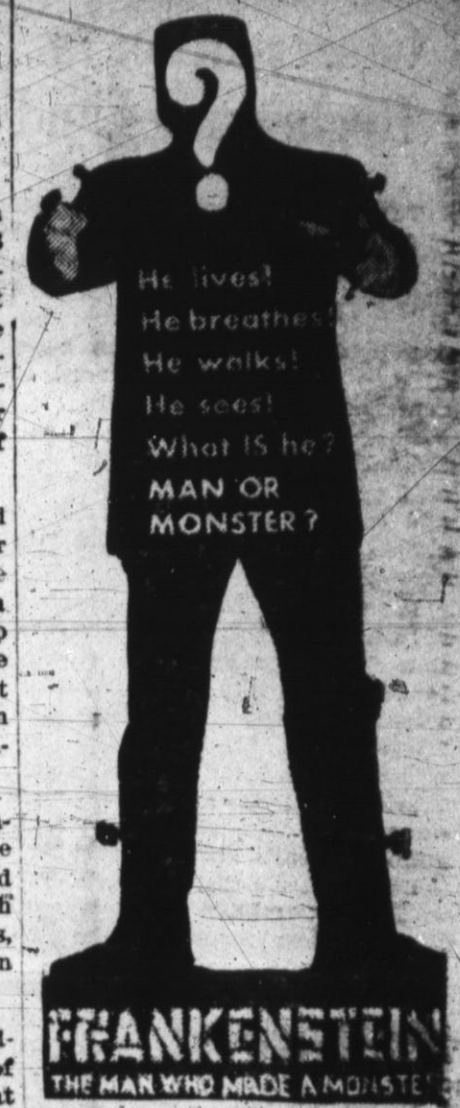

Texas farmers and ranchmen filed 17,019 trench silos in 1934 in cooperation with county agricultural agents, the annual report of E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, shows. This represents an increase of 7,536 over the number in use at the end of 1933.

A total of 1,734,000 tons of feed or more than a million tons over the 1933 figure, is stored in these trenches. It would require a trench 12 feet wide, 6 feet deep and 262 miles long to hold the silage, or one Eudaly says, that would reach from College Station to the city limits of Durant, Oklahoma.

Even in a year of a comparatively large feed crop the silage represents a value of around 7 million dollars. There is enough feed stored in trenches in Texas, fed at the rate of 30 pounds an animal for three months.

One record of 8 year's standing was lost as the number of trench silos failed to double that of previous years. At the same time the 7,536 increase made in 1934 far exceeds any previous year's gain.

Soil And Water Conservation Is Reclaiming Land

The present status of the soil and water conservation movement in Texas shows thirteen and a half million acres of crop land terraced or farmed on the contour while over 17 million acres of crop land are still in need of conservation measures.

Altogether 811,264 acres of cultivated land were terraced in 1938 as the state's campaign to hold soil and catch rainfall widened to include pastures and range land to a record degree.

Farmers and ranchmen terraced ridges, contour-furrowed, and contour chiseled 385,011 acres of range land in 1938 while the 1937 total was 232,632, and 1936, less than 100,000 acres.

Use of county owned equipment rented to farmers and ranchmen at a nominal charge, continued to spread in Texas as a new record for land so terraced—410,600 acres—was set.

Spreader dams constructed during the year will divert runoff water from creeks and draws to 289,626 acres of range land.

The AAA range conservation program is credited with much of the increase in conservation measures on grass land.

Furrow chiseling was used on 248,006 acres of crop land and work was confined to the Panhandle and Northwest Texas.

What Does the Future Hold for The Smaller Towns in Texas?

What must inevitably be the fate of the small towns and communities in Texas?

This question is being asked in literally hundreds of interior places over the state where today "fast lanes" along which the windows of modern and energy business buildings? It is a question of increasing serious importance, not only to these small towns and communities, but to the state as a whole.

Three year long plans of community life, spread which has largely grown the progressive development of Texas, are being tried up by the operation of "heavy trucks" over our highways. They local business, farms and corporations, the dry goods, hardware, drug and fruit and vegetable stores, retail lumber yards, wholesale grocery houses, building plants, feed mills, oil mills, grain elevators and other enterprises are unable to meet the competition of the larger business centers because of the almost unrestricted and prohibitive use of Texas highways in the delivery of goods by trucks from the larger cities holding the quantity-purchase advantage.

The absorption and manipulation, in varying degrees, of the cost of transportation by highway for competitive purposes. If not restricted, will inevitably drive dealers and wholesalers in the smaller towns and communities out of business. They must succumb to the possibility of opportunity with which they are burdened and thus contribute further to our growing economic chaos.

The plan now being made by certain interests to increase the load limit on trucks operating over Texas highways will hasten the end of local enterprise in smaller Texas communities. If under the present statistics there already has been done the small town merchant and property owner, what then must be the effect of any increase in the allowable truck load limit? Certainly the larger the load limit the greater will be the distance over which goods can be hauled from the large distributing centers, and the greater will be the harmful effects on dealers and enterprises in the smaller towns!

The burden of taxation borne by the business interests of the smaller towns and communities throughout Texas will, as a natural result, be shifted more and more to the shoulders of the remaining property owners. Those who have invested in homes and business buildings must provide their investments to what some might unkindly call "the search of progress."

The thousands of families in many rural dependent upon employment by these business enterprises as a means of livelihood, must be faced in the absence of work and falling in kind and further to our burden of relief and unemployment.

Inroads by long distance-truck operations on the traffic of the railroads must necessarily result in the abandonment of many and more railroads, with consequent loss of payrolls and taxes to these communities and an increase of tax burden to their citizens.

Texas Railroads, who seek no favors and advantages, but who willingly see their own way to a more efficient, dependable and economical transportation service to Texas communities, have for the benefit of small and medium-sized communities in the same way as the small town merchant and property owner, what some might unkindly call "the search of progress."

STAR-TELEGRAM WRITER PREDICTS GOOD YEAR FOR TERRITORY

The following article was written for the Fort Worth Star Telegram and published Friday, Feb. 3, BY FRANK REEVES

HEREFORD, Feb. 2.—Citizens of Deaf Smith County concur in the belief that prospects were never more promising at this time of the year, even though Hereford merchants did not do as much business during 1938 as they did in 1937, the latter year since depression days. Some are inclined to call 1939 prospects near ideal. The small decrease in business last year is credited to the short wheat crop because of the damage done by the April freeze.

Miles Roberson, vice president of the First State Bank of Hereford, summed up conditions thus:

"We have never had so much moisture in the ground at this time of the year and the wheat is in excellent condition. Cattle prices and the demand for all classes of cattle have not been so good in many years. We have not had a duststorm nor a severe cold spell this year, so we do not have anything to complain about."

Roberson told of accompanying a man on a trip to lease some wheat fields for winter grazing. The main selected a field in the very heart of the section where a few years ago wind erosion was worst. He selected the place because in addition to a very rank growth of wheat there was a lake of water near by in case the windmill got out of commission.

Ample for Planting
During October, moisture in Deaf Smith County varied from five to eight inches. This was ample for wheat planting. This was supplied in January by about two and one-half inches. Some say more cattle and sheep were grazed on wheat fields in Deaf Smith County this season than ever before in the history of the county. Many of them have been shipped to market. The grain sorghum crop was good and was used along with the wheat fields for fattening livestock.

Farmers in the Hereford trade territory receive around $100,000 a year for their dairy products, according to the estimate of S. O. Wilson of the Hereford Creamery Company. S. B. Walker, manager says his company pays out from $750 to $1,000 a day during the peak time of the year for cream. Purchases are not confined to Deaf Smith County. During the rush season, the plant turns out from 2,000 to 5,000 pounds of butter a day. The current price for cream was posted at 23 cents a pound.

Fred W. Hood, manager of the Panhandle Lumber Company at Hereford, says his company did about as much business in 1938 as in 1937.

Cattle Demand Good
"I doubt if we ever had better conditions at this season of the year," said Tom Ivey, registered Hereford breeder who has lived in this section of West Texas for many years. W. E. Dameron, attorney and registered Hereford breeder, concurred in this statement.

"If a man does not want to sell his cattle he had better not price them," said E. B. Hedrick, active vice president of the First National Bank of Hereford. In recent weeks most of the better calves sold for 8 cents and the steer calves sold for 9 cents, but a sprinkling of sales of steer calves were made at $9.25 and some sales of lightweight calves for immediate delivery were made at $9.50 and $9.60.

The First National Bank of Hereford had more money on deposit, more cash on hand and less in outstanding loans on Dec. 31, 1938, than a year earlier. Deposits totaled $380,875.23, cash and exchange $143,784.23 and loans and discounts $192,404.37. A year earlier the figures were: deposits, $349,119.20; cash and exchange, $94,314.66; loans and discounts, $105,437.50.

The financial condition of the First State Bank on Dec. 31 was about the same as a year earlier, according to vice president Roberson. At the close of the year the bank had $387,038.51 on deposit; cash on hand and exchange totaled $172,266.35, and loans and discounts were listed at $247,017.51. Officials of both banks reported satisfactory collections during 1938.

County Finances
The financial condition of Deaf Smith County on Dec. 31, 1938, was better than a year earlier. During 1938 receipts totaled $102,709.79, as against $86,806.14 in 1937. Expenditures for the two years were practically the same. Balances in the bank were $38,497.55 on Dec. 31, 1938, and $23,786.04 on the same date in 1937.

Postal receipts were slightly less during 1938 than in 1937, when they reached an all-time high of $17,175.92. The 1938 total was $17,068.79.

Hereford people are looking forward to a new $75,000 post-office building. The site has been selected and work is expected to start within a short time.

Only twice in 47 years previous to this year has rainfall during January exceeded two inches in the Hereford area, and only nine times during this period has it exceeded one inch. Previous to this year, other records were 1897 and 1921. Precipitation during January, 1938, measured .21 of an inch; January 1937, .24 and January 1939 2.25.

HEREFORD BULL
By Jimmie Gillentine

Life is hard for a columnist. First I am over-run by a bunch of sheep herders, and cowboys with jaws, then along come the Jews — and now it's politics!

Just had quite a talk with Judge John P. Slaton, who is excited over the fact that Old Tack up at Amarillo has announced for Congress. In the first place, Marvin Jones hasn't resigned, although Tack says our Congressman will resign to take a Federal judgeship. I think it is possible that Marvin Jones may do as Tack says. Anyway, as one of the "big boys" Tack should know about this. However, until Marvin Jones does resign it hardly seems to me that Tack or anyone else should publicly announce for the office. It's unconditional or something, to have more than one Congressman from this district at the same time. I feel that Marvin Jones can be elected again if he wants the job — and unlike some persons, I am not trying to rush Marvin Jones out of the office. I think that he will be mighty hard to replace. As long as we can keep him, the better off we will be.

In the second place, it is my opinion that Tack will withdraw from the race. That's just a country boy's opinion — but in this country even the country boys have a right to have opinions.

Tack has a mighty big job in holding attention on his column, although I consider him the best columnist west of the Mississippi — as the saying goes. He can do more with words and more with circumstances than any man I know. In recent months, however, he has sort of neglected his column — or so it seems to me — and for a few weeks I thought Walter Winchell was writing it, because he quoted Winchell so extensively. I think Tack's announcement is merely a ruse to regain interest in his column. It sure is working, too. Until this came along I hadn't read his column for more than three months. In fact, his announcement had to be called to my attention. Since then I have read it regularly.

Judge Slaton wrote Tack a letter asking if Tack would be Republican or Democrat. Tack refused to answer the question. In his own vernacular: "He won't make the race, folks, he sure won't."

Whether it's true or not, a lot of people have considered Tack to be a Republican. If he is a Republican, he just wouldn't have a chance. If he was serious, he would clear this question immediately. In the mean time, I hope Judge Slaton don't get mad enough to write me a letter. He sure swings a wicked pen when he is filed. Furthermore, I want Marvin Jones to know that the people of Deaf Smith County are proud of him and proud of his record. I believe I speak for the people when I say: "Marvin, we don't want to hold you back — but we elected you because we thought you were the man for us. We want you to stay in there and represent us just as long as you can. When the time comes for you to be a Federal Judge, we believe you will tell us. Until then, we're 100 percent behind you. We wouldn't 'cut your throat' for anything. No matter what anyone tells us, be he Republican or Democrat, we're for you as Congressman until you tell us different. When you personally tell us you are leaving — then we will begin to think about a new Congressman."

I went down and looked over Gus Streu's Showmobile of fishing tackle last Friday and the longer I looked, the more I wondered how Mont Baker was making out. Somehow, I always associate fishing with Mont. Coming back up the street, Glenn Weir showed me a letter he just got from Mont, who is eating corn bread and onions down in Arkansas.

Mont was bemoaning the fact that quail season was about over, and drew a picture of his bird dog on the back of the letter. He is liable to come back for the fishing season. He said business in Arkansas is so rotten that it stinks, but about every other line he had something about fishing or hunting. Wouldn't it be fine if Hereford's No. 1 Playboy would come back and spend the summer with us. The fish are missing him, too. They are getting hungry. Mont fed them so much bait that they sort of got spoiled, and now they are too lazy to go out and look for their own frogs and minnows. It sure is tough on those fish to have to get out and search for food after Old Mont threw it in for them year after year.

However, Joe Bishop is back in town — and next to Mont he contributed more toward giving the fish a WPA attitude than any man I know. He uses more bait, talks more about his catches — and brings in fewer fish than any man I know.

It is appalling how little some people know. Sunday night someone entered the Brand office and took our money and stamps. They got about $12 or $14 in cash — and some $3 or $4 in stamps. Of course, losing the money was a blow to us — but the thing that gets me is the fact that anyone would think they could find any money around a newspaper office. It reflects on the intelligence of the crook, who like anyone else should know his business — and therefore should automatically know that a newspaper office never has any money. After some 10 years in the business, I am sure that the term "Petty Cash" originated in a newspaper office. Times must sure be getting tough, or else the crooks have a lot to learn. Anyway, this is the first time I ever heard of a newspaper being robbed.

It sure pays to take your home paper. Even the courts uphold the theory. Last week The Brand published an article stating that persons who drove cattle through the city limits would be fined.

Right off, a man violated the law and drove some cattle through the city limits. He was called into city court, and in the course of conversation said he didn't take the paper. The result was that he paid a $5 fine; by subscribing to the paper for $1.50, he could have saved $3.50 and had the paper as well.

Len Hetzler was in Saturday and reported that the Adrian country got a lot more snow than in this area.

Sales Contest On Electrolux Proves Success

The 1938 Fall and Winter gas and electric refrigerators selling campaign was an outstanding success in all sections of the country as well as in this vicinity, according to Alton T. Fraser, of the General Oil & Grain Company, who declared that the results of the campaign show that "women everywhere are recognizing more and more how important up-to-date refrigeration is to them all year around."

This was the third year in which General, Inc., of Evansville, Ind., sponsored a Fall and Winter Campaign for the sale of Servel Electrolux refrigerators. Mr. Fraser stated: "Each succeeding year shows the growing demand for all-year round refrigeration in contrast to the old idea that a refrigerator was useful only in the warm part of the year."

The success that members of our selling force met in the 1938 campaign clearly indicates that the time is now well past, when housewives are only interested in buying a refrigerator because the hot days are approaching.

Reports received by George S.

Jones, Jr., vice-president and General Sales Manager of Servel, Inc., indicate that the success we have had in Fall and Winter refrigerator selling in this vicinity has been repeated everywhere throughout the country.

"Thousands of salesmen participated in the campaign, competing for awards offered by Servel, Inc., to those who made record Fall and Winter sales. The drive lasted throughout November and December."

"We regard the refrigerators sold during the campaign as ideal for all-year-round refrigeration in the household because of the efficiency and economy with which they are operated. Noted as the silent refrigerator, it gives dependable service not only throughout the year, but for more years, because its freezing system has no moving parts to wear. Well over a million such refrigerators are now installed in American homes."

Seven Days

At the present time Hereford has a complete troop of 32 boys, and ample leaders within the troop. Five applications for Tenderfoot tests are also now on file with the troop.

While National Boy Scout week will demand general interest of the entire community, and deserves support of every citizen, the boys also reported several outstanding occasions in January. As guests of John Roberts, they saw the film, "Angels With Dirty Faces"; the boys also expressed appreciation to Mr. Roberts for his interest in other phases of Scout Work. The second big affair of the month was a chili supper, prepared and served to the boys by Scoutmaster Dunlap and Mrs. Dunlap at the scout hut. The boys meet each Monday night for regular meetings. At intervals, members of the Lions Club have been meeting with the boys, who expressed appreciation to members and invited other citizens to attend their meetings.

ago, money drew from 10 to 12 per cent interest—now some loans are as low as 4 per cent. There is money for almost everything but nobody seems to have any."

Rev. Hornbeak, who is 85 years old, told members of the club that this era will be recorded in history as one of woe, misery and lament—because the people of our nation have lost the factor of "individual responsibility." He pointed to our 44 billion dollar government indebtedness, to the nine billion dollars in farm mortgages, and to unpaid taxes, federal, state and municipal.

"With our present indebtedness—that is federal, state and municipal and personal debts—it would take this nation 100 years to pay off in full," Rev. Hornbeak said, and based his expression on average conditions with no general droughts or disasters.

"There is one ray of hope," he said, and cited his listeners to the Bible. "If we want to overcome the situation, we must—above all things, keep the Ten Commandments. By helping others, we attain real success."

Rev. Hornbeak lauded the Lions Club for their work in furnishing glasses to needy children and pointed to the Golden Rule as a media toward better times in our community, our state and our nation.

week. While he was standing on a phonograph fixing a plug in his air conditioning machine, his brother, C. R. Jennings, slipped in and placed a giant firecracker beneath Carl. The joke was so successful that Carl almost fell, and several customers poured coffee over the counter.

C. A. Skelton Has Pneumonia

Johnson grass hay, sudan grass hay, and prairie grass hay are excellent roughages to go with the grains and protein supplements in fattening beef calves. Hays made from the small grains, oats, wheat, and barley, are also good roughages when cut in the dough stage.

Alfalfa is the king of all hays and is the standard legume roughage, although peanut, soybean and cowpea hay are good substitutes.

Slight Change

tioned on proper diversification rather than the use of the one-crop system.

This would place the program more fully on a soil conservation basis. Not only would the leased lands be treated but the rotation of crops brought about on the remaining part of the land would further conserve and build up and prevent wastage of the soil. At the same time, the farmer would be left free in the pitching of his crops and the operation of the program would be greatly simplified.

More emphasis should be placed upon wider distribution, both at home and abroad, and freight rate discriminations should be corrected.

Every effort should be made to secure for the American farmer his just share of the national income.

It is agreed that only minor changes will be made in this year's program. However, within the next few weeks, hearings will begin before the House Committee on Agriculture in reference to any major changes that may be found advisable in connection with the long-range program. Such changes will not be made effective before 1940.

These hearings will be thorough. Every member of the committee anxious to improve the program in every possible way. We hope that from these hearings, definite improvements can be worked out.

We not only expect to devote our time at this session but to continue our efforts in the next and succeeding sessions to bring the farmers' returns as nearly as possible to the level of industry.

Much progress has been made and the movement must go on.

Summed up, the cafeteria is serving around 400 meals a month for $100, including supervisory costs.

Mrs. Brady, joined by Mrs. Ora Cockrell, supervisor, express appreciation to local organizations and to individuals for donations and cooperation, which have made operation of the cafeteria possible.

In addition to general donations, 10 milk bottles placed over town are netting an average of $15 a month, which assists greatly in continuation of the project.
