AROUND TOWN

Sights and Faces Seen

Manager Speck Lunsford has announced that the Star Theatre will entertain the young folk with a special Free Kid Show next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Harry Whitechurch has turned out to be a rather reliable weather prophet. Last Saturday he predicted "No Rain" in the face of overcast skies, scattered showers and boos from his friends.

Quite a bit of talk has been stirred up over the new one-row midge tractor pictured by the Robson Implement Co. The machine is given the name "CULTI-VISION" and a lot of claims as to efficiency, power and durability are made for it.

Miss Jonnie Estes has had new steps built to the porch at her house. She also had a picket fence put around her back yard.

Gerald Gollehar beats all comers for efficiency in retrieving runaway chickens. He never chases one more than half a block because he will catch it before then or either he or the chicken will give out by that time.

The Brand fulfilled a very unusual request last week. Mrs. J. P. Friesen brought her year-old son, Raymond Jo, and asked if it would be possible to obtain some ink with which to make an impression of the baby's foot in his memory book.

August Slated As Appreciation Month At Star

Stating that August has been designated as Theatre Appreciation Month, G. R. Lunsford, manager, today announced that a series of special attractions will be featured by the theatre during the next month.

All the new cases now on the docket are civil cases, and many of them are expected to be settled by the bench.

Four divorce cases are listed among the new cases filed.

FIRST WORK DONE ON T. W. ROBERSON FARM; EXPECT TO RUN DAY AND NIGHT

Steps that will lead to the completion of a dozen silos for use in storing current crops in Deaf Smith County were taken this week as a result of the farm improvement program of the Deaf Smith County Agent.

The Tull Machinery Company of Plainview has been contracted to construct the silos already arranged for by farmers in this county. The construction crew left Plainview this evening and the big machinery will be put into operation this week.

The first earth turned in Deaf Smith County by the huge machine will be on T. W. Roberson's place. Mr. Roberson has two silos in operation now, but he is having them widened and deepened with the machine.

Mr. Roberson will be cutting his feed which he plans to store as ensilage in ten days. He has some of the best corn in the county, and experts say that his crop will make perfect ensilage.

Officials issued a last-minute warning this week to parents of rural school children who plan to attend school in Hereford this fall that July 31 is the last day on which transfers can be made.

PAYMENTS COME IN FAST IN SPITE OF DELAY DUE TO RED TAPE

The long-awaited payments on the government wheat loans are being made this week in steadily increasing numbers, and Panhandle farmers are beginning to realize cash benefits from their larger-than-expected 1939 harvest.

Unavoidable Delay Because most of the wheat went in to the government loan this year instead of being sold there has been unavoidable delay in releasing certification papers for payment on the grain stored under the federal plan.

Large Crop

The crop in the Panhandle-Plains area was a large one. It has been estimated that 22,500,000 bushels have been gathered in this region.

All except about ten per cent of the total 22,500,000 bushels produced in the Panhandle-Plains territory went into the government loans. This means that 20,000,000 bushels of wheat from this area is held by the government as collateral for loans that will be paid in cash to the producers in the next two weeks.

Loan Red Tape

That is the reason for all the clamor and confusion in the banks and in the County Agent's Office. Wheat growers are impatient to collect their loan money, and the certifying and paying agencies are literally run ragged.

Diphtheria Can Be Eradicated By Immunization

Austin, Texas—The State Department of Health urges that all parents of children from six months to ten years of age, who have not been immunized against diphtheria, take them to their family physician and have this done at once. It will take some time to establish immunity to this disease, so the child should be given this preventative treatment now before the advent of cold weather when diphtheria is more prevalent.

It is a generally accepted fact among public health authorities that any community may control its death rate from diphtheria. Immunization has been proved a safe and effective preventive measure. Wherever immunizing treatment has been extensively used, diphtheria has steadily decreased.

The most forceful weapon in the control of diphtheria is prevention through immunization, rather than cure of the disease after it has developed. Children can be protected against diphtheria by the use of what is known as toxoid. Young children are particularly susceptible to the disease. Accordingly, as soon as a baby is six months old, the parents are advised to take it to the family physician and have it immunized—protected, by the use of toxoid. Older children in the family who have not had the protective treatment, should be immunized also, and this should be attended to now before the school season begins. This immunizing agent is absolutely safe to administer; there is only a slight local reaction, and practically no constitutional or troublesome after effects. It confers a life time immunity in the majority of cases. To be certain that immunization is complete, however, the child should be taken back to the physician six months after the toxoid was administered, and given the Schick Test.

It is within the power of the parents of this state, co-operating with their physicians and public health departments, to eliminate diphtheria from Texas.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

A couple of Texas coyotes are probably far more cautious animals now than they were recently, that is if they survived the attack of a pair of huge eagles. J. H. Maggard, state game warden at Amarillo, reports seeing a pair of eagles chasing two coyotes over the plains. The birds swooped down time and time again, striking the coyotes with beaks and talons so hard that each of the animals was knocked to the ground before the principals in the unique battle disappeared out of sight of the warden.

Loy W. Duddleston didn't have far to go fishing one night recently. Part of the city of Houston was flooded by a rise in the streams and Duddleston, seeing five feet of water in his driveway, rigged up a pole and line. He caught three catfish while sitting on his front steps, the Houston Press reports.

Just how hard-working beavers are is shown in a report to the state game department by Arthur Cook, field biologist, who recently cut a beaver dam on the John Mason Ranch near Eagle Pass. The dam had backed up approximately 200 acres of water. Ten days later the beaver had restored the dam and the water was back at its former level. Beaver are being trapped in West Texas and transplanted in East Texas by the game department.

Thousands of fish were saved for sportsmen earlier this month through the quick thinking of Game Warden John Taylor of Marble Falls. Flood waters of the Colorado River, which had been checked by the huge Buchanan dam, were being released in an orderly manner and water from one of the flood gates emptied into a small creek, which otherwise is dry. Fishermen were quick to find that the small creek offered wonderful bass and crapple fishing.

Then, without warning, the Lower Colorado River Authority closed the gates feeding the creek, since enough of the flood water had been let out. Taylor chanced to be on the creek bank when the water started going down. Realizing what had happened, he jumped into his car, raced to the foreman in charge of operations and explained the situation. The foreman agreed to let enough water keep flowing through the creek to save the fish.

Interest in conservation education is mounting. Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the game department, Phil Goodrum, director of research and education and Dan Lay, region game manager, reported after each had delivered lectures before conservation classes in ten of the leading schools in the state. Each of the game department speakers appeared before more than 2,000 students. Conservation as a summer school course was introduced last summer by North Texas State Teachers College of Denton and spread this year to include many other schools.

Wild mountain sheep, of which there are several hundred in the mountains of West Texas, are among the most keen sighted of animals. They take fright at moving objects as far as two miles away, Bob Snow of the game department reports.

What Goes On Here??

Delirium tremens, fits, and thistles... A Column of Fun and Amusements BY MARY JANE MORGAN

Everyone has been intent on telling the other guy how hot it has been all week at town, and have almost ignored the less important things such as vacations, who's been where and with which, and what they did.

The other day at the library we heard some ladies discussing Mr. Moore's, Crosthwaite's, Robert Thompson's and others trips to the mountains and California.

In spite of heat-induced pessimism, there is a movie on foot at the show Sunday to prove 'IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD.' And if anyone could prove it, Claudette Colbert and Jimmy Stewart ought to.

It seems that "It Happened One Night" can't be forgotten, and this picture with Colbert is rated as its successor on the same order. Claudette Colbert was a poetess whom Jimmy Stewart picked up while sleuthing, and she subsequently kidnapped a boy scout, fired an automobile, swam the Hudson, swindled a detective, paraded as a convict's wife, bopped a cop with a gas pipe.

Jimmy Stewart is an ex-American football star in the show. He must be the fast, slender type such as we have here on the Whiteface team, because he did not look very brawny last picture. Afterthought: This is funny.

Evidently Jack Wayland, yeah, fancy meeting him here! ... thought the exhibitions at the carnival were amusing, too. Morris Easley displayed his brown out there by ringing the bell with that sledge hammer, but it was not readily audible to one slightly deaf, though. The girls in the party did not want to embarrass the boys by showing up their ability, so they didn't even try to get the gong.

Hank-the-drug-store-cowboy Jowell reduced his jeering section at the rodeo to shambles, or the next best thing, when he fooled 'em and rode a calf. He must have been good because he rode it $1.50 worth. Too bad the carnival moved before he got a chance at that little, fat donkey. Bet he couldn't ride it!

If you, too, desire to become a rodeo star, it can be arranged in one measly lesson. Roy Rogers probably will serve as professor in "SOUTHWARD HO" to be demonstrated Saturday. After participating in an unresponsive mood, we'd say that's an excellent idea. "Southward Ho," you know. Maybe this is a bit severe on Roy Rogers, but it seems to a connoisseur of horse opera that he lacks the delicate artistic approach to horse and gunmanship that such actors as Buck Jones, William Boyd, George O'Brien or Gene Autry. Maybe it's subtlety of performance he lacks, but it's definitely something. Every man to his own opinion, though. This may be a veritable killer-diller of a western, and we just don't realize it.

Hate to mention softball, but with things being as dull as they are it seems to entertain spectators, so why not? Sylvester Loerwald supported the Laundry to the bitter end in the game against the Plowboys Monday night, but the "flies" got 'em in the end. 18-2, in fact maybe. The sand was blowing so thickly that only a fraction of the game was visible from the bleachers.

It was hinted from time to time, however, that what the game needed was Fred Brown of the blistering battery of the Fireboys, and Jimmy Robinson to play first base. Fred recommended himself neither by word nor deed, though, so on second thought, maybe it wasn't.

As a pitcher, Grant Fuller gets a big rise out of the fans. Some might say that a razz or two could be audited therein, but you'd never guess it from the reaction in the pitcher's box. Mr. Fuller is a jolly-well good sport, and Mrs. Russell and Rosy say he can really play ball. And they ought to know; we don't.

Maybe softball isn't, but horse racing is... sport of kinds, we mean. Today and tomorrow "THE LADY'S FROM KENTUCKY." If that's OK with you, George Raft and Ellen Drew furnish rime and reason to the courting of Hugh Herbert, the original "woo-woo" man, and Zasu Pitts. Zasu struck us as being extremely comical after several years in "Naughty But Nice," that showed here this month, and as a southern belle in this picture she does it again.

Raft plays the part of a race track bookie who tried to coerce his co-owner of a horse into racing the horse before it is sold enough. Ellen Drew, the trailer, gave in, and Rowan Son virtually ran himself to death to win the race for the two, but he didn't though. This picture is reputedly dramatic in spots, and the filming of the racing shots is supposed to be about the best yet. There's good entertainment in this flicker.

Virginia East had a birthday the other night and a score of more or less frans went out to her house on the beautiful, tho' mosquito-haunted Tierra Blanca to celebrate it. Many weiners, more mustard, sufficient pickles, and marshmallows and omders covered with dust and flavored with bugs were eaten to insure the success of a swell picnic.

Jack Higgins paralyzed the spell-bound celebrants with not only his melodious vocal gymnastics... or is it contortions... but also with his adept renditions on a player-piano. And here, in a nut shell, we have the life of the party. He always is.

"HOTEL IMPERIAL" with Isa Miranda and Ray Milland is scheduled here at the Star Theatre either Tuesday or Wednesday... can't remember which. This is a war picture concerned with a dispute between Austria and Russia. It has all the earmarks of an interesting squabble. Isa Miranda is pretty, and she can act too. Ray Milland, Reginald Owen and J. Carrol Naish are not to be sneezed at.

either, unless you have hay fever. Accompanying the fights is the Don Cossacks male chorus.

"THE JONES FAMILY IN HOLLYWOOD" contains the usual constituents: Jed Prouty (never did like that name!), and Spring Byington. In short, Dad and the family go to Hollywood for a vacation from a small town, and all the children fall in love only to be disillusioned. They are cured of film glamour, and go home to their lately discovered big moments. It's OK if you like these family series.

John Roberts' departure and party for the show force is too big a thing to cover right here, but it'll come later.

Recent Bride Is Complimented With Showers And Gift Parties By Friends

One of the loveliest of summertime parties and one of several given to compliment Mrs. Carl Oldham, a recent bride, was given Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. G. Blue. Hostesses were Mesdames A. M. Jones, A. Petersen, Earl Phillips, Ellis Coombes, W. E. Dameron and Mrs. Blue.

The hostesses carried out a pastel color scheme using bowls and baskets of vari-colored sweet peas, gladioli and other garden favorites in decoration. For a centerpiece on the table which was laid with lace, candles in crystal holders burned at either side of a crystal bowl filled with yellow and white daisies and fringed with marigolds. Open-faced sandwiches and the beverage accented the color note.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Blue who headed the receiving line. Others making up the line were the bride, her mother, Mrs. C. P. Cockrell, her sister, Miss Ann Cockrell, her grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Smith, and Mrs. L. Z. Oldham, the groom's mother.

Mrs. A. Petersen directed the guests to the dining room where Mesdames Dameron, Jones and Phillips presided at the punch service, at intervals, during calling hours.

Mrs. Coombes was in charge of entertainment features for the afternoon and played informal selections interspersed with readings by Margaret Jones and vocal numbers given by Nola Margaret Blue.

Little Miss Marcella Blue presided over the guest book. The attractive display of gifts were arranged about the entertaining rooms. Guests included Mesdames John Renfro, J. J. Clark, George Muse, Chris Renfro, Boyd London, C. H. Dyar, A. G. Bell, Harry Seed, Coy Phillips, John Olson, Jack Wright, Arthur Davis, H. H. McLean, Misses Dorothy Coombes, June Dameron, Lottie Tyson, Inez Clark and Frances Dameron.

Many others sent gifts who were unable to attend the shower.

Informal Gift Party

An informal all-girl affair, complimenting Mrs. Oldham on Wednesday, July 19, was a gift party given by Misses Lottie Tyson and Bernadine Phillips at Miss Phillips' home.

Games, readings and impromptu music furnished entertainment for the afternoon. The gifts were disclosed in a dictionary review which ended in a treasure hunt.

Refreshments were served to Vivian Olson, Erma Faye Robinson, Virginia Newell, Virginia East, Jean Williams, Carolyn Frye, Margaret Jones, Nola Margaret Blue, Ruth Temple Hastings, Jean France, Margaret Higgins, Betty Sue Henslee, Ann Cockrell, the honoree, and the hostesses.

Summertime flowers in brilliant shades were used throughout the house. Wine-red dahlias and mixed zinnias combined to carry out a red and orange color theme with refreshments repeating the floral color suggestions.

High score in the games were made by Mrs. Kellar Muse, Miss Marjorie Ridgway of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Frank Cogdell. A guest prize was presented to Mrs. Ingram.

Plowboys Clean The Laundry With 23-6

July 24—Although the score was tied at one all at the end of the third inning, the Plowboys started hitting and slammed out a 23 to 6 victory over the Laundry men. The Plowboys collected eighteen hits off the combined offerings of Wilson and Guthrie.

The Laundry could score no more than twice one inning and could do that only twice and thus only scored six times. They hit eight off Fuller. Five of the hits were for extra bases.

The Plowboys tallied thirteen of their runs in the fifth inning. They came from eleven hits. Seventeen men came to bat in this wild inning. Two errors and two bases on balls helped bring the markers.

July 25—The Knights of Columbus lost their fourth straight game when they fell before the Merchants 12 to 7. The Merchants knocked out twelve hits off the K-C pitchers and combined with seven K-C errors the Merchants runs were tallied.

The Merchants took the lead in the second inning with a four-run rally. The runs came from singles by J. Knox, Russell, Sewell and Roe. Wheeler was given a pass which helped. After the second inning the Merchants were never again headed.

Roe at bat four times, had two singles and a homer to lead the victors. Larry Loerwald smacked two singles and a double for the K-C but they were to no avail.

SOCIETY

Miss Emmarie Hoffman Is Wed To Eugene Albracht In Church Ceremony

Miss Emmarie Hoffman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoffman, became the bride of Mr. Eugene Albracht, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Albracht, Tuesday morning at St. Anthony's Church in a simple and colorful ceremony.

The nuptial mass was read by Rev. Father Stanley, with Miss Edna Urbanyck, organist, playing, and accompanying Miss Adeline Koelzer, who sang "O Perfect Love," at the close of the marriage rites. Miss Urbanyck also played the wedding marches.

The side altars were banked with salmon pink gladioli, daisies and fern. On the main altar white tapers burned and vases of gladioli formed the decorations. Miss Emeline Albracht, sister of the groom, and Miss Aurelia Hoffman, sister of the bride, were her only attendants, and Jerome Albracht, brother of the groom, was best man.

Miss Albracht wore a blue organza frock trimmed in pink, with a blue hat fashioned of organza flowers, and Miss Hoffman's frock was of pink trimmed with blue, and her hat repeated the color combination. The frocks were made princess style, over taffeta, with short, puffed sleeves and long full skirts. They carried arm bouquets of pink gladioli.

The bride wore a white net gown over satin, made with a square neckline, short, puffed sleeves and shirred full skirt, over which fell a full tulle veil, covering the face. The laced veil was held in place by a coronet outlined with seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and maiden-hair fern. Her something old was a pearl necklace belonging to her mother.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents. Table decorations were the three tiered wedding cake and white candies burning in crystal holders. Only members of the two immediate families attended the breakfast.

For travel, the bride wore an orchid lace dress with white hat and other accessories. After a wedding trip to Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Albracht will live at their newly built country home east of Hereford.

Mrs. Albracht has lived most of her life in Hereford, and for the past several months has been employed at The Popular Store. Mr. Albracht is a graduate of Subiaco College at Cubiaco, Ark. He is engaged in farming.

the Church School in the Congo. She told of the divisions of the work at the school and of the interest manifested by the African students. The local organization is sponsoring the education of four African girls at Wembo Nyama, and individual reports and pictures of the girls were shown. Quarterly reports were heard and the general work of the organization discussed. Hostesses for the meeting included Mesdames R. W. McCall, Wm. McGehee and E. J. Hudson.

refund purposes must obtain license from the Comptroller authorizing such dealers to sell such motor fuel. Failure to obtain license subjects the dealer to criminal prosecution.

3. Licenses and invoices of exemption will be furnished the dealer, free of cost, by the Comptroller's Department when application is made therefor.

4. All invoices of exemption will be serially numbered, and each supply furnished a dealer by the Comptroller's Department will be charged to such dealer, and an accurate account of all such invoices of exemption must be kept by the dealer. No other form of invoice of exemption may be used than that furnished by the Comptroller.

5. The dealer is required to keep accurate record of all motor fuel and oil, for a period of 2 years.
6. Blank invoices of exemption not transferable or assignable unless authorized by the Comptroller. Dealer is not authorized to lend or give away invoices of exemption, as he must keep accurate books, records and account of all invoices of exemption issued to him.

8. Unless the users of refund motor fuel and the dealers who sell refund motor fuel are advised of this change in the law a great deal of confusion will result, and a lot of refund claims will not be payable. It is, therefore, important that each user of refund motor fuel who expects to file claim for a refund of the tax acquaint himself with the new provisions of the law.

"Our milk check is bigger SINCE WE GOT ONE MYERS!"

MYERS Water Systems bring comfort and convenience... protection of health and property... to any suburban or country home. But especially on the average farm, the MYERS lightens such a multitude of tasks that members of the family find increased time and energy for more profitable activities. With the abundance of fresh running water furnished by a MYERS, even the livestock produces better. Thousands of farmers have discovered that a reliable MYERS Water System actually adds to their income.

BEWARE OF A "SQUIRT GUN" WATER SYSTEM

ONE faucet requires from 2 to 3 1/2 gallons of water per minute. When, as frequently happens, TWO or THREE faucets are opened at the same time, the demand per minute is doubled or tripled. Translate this into rate per hour and it is obvious that any water system with a pump capable only of delivering 175 to 185 gallons per hour or less, could not possibly keep up with this demand. One might truly call a water system of such limited capacity a "one faucet" or "squirt gun" system. Would YOU be satisfied with running water service so meager? If your answer is NO, assure yourself full satisfaction by purchasing a precision built MYERS Water System, designed always with AMPLE CAPACITY to meet the many uses for which it is recommended.

A MYERS system keeps the water flowing whenever and wherever you need it. Ample capacity for all needs... in kitchen, bathroom and laundry... at outside hose taps for sprinkling and fire protection... in barnyard, milkhouse and outbuildings. Quality built, fully proven... economical to operate. Deep and shallow well models to meet all needs; for operation by electricity, gasoline, engine, windmill or hand power.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
In the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. E. Barnes, Mr. A. R. Posey brought the message at the morning worship hour. It was a good service and the attendance was larger than that of the Sunday before. However, we had only 279 in Sunday School, which is below our average. In BTU there was a good gain, the attendance being 74. All services, and departments of the church should show a gain, now that harvest is over and the pastor will be back home this week-end and will preach at both the morning and evening hours.

Our church is indebted to Mr. John Josey, organist, Mr. Irwin Toizeln, violinist, and Mrs. Harold Hicks, soprano, for the wonderful musical which they rendered at the Sunday evening hour. Indeed, it was a rare treat. A cordial invitation is extended ed to those of our town who do not worship elsewhere to attend our church and worship with us.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank those who helped us so much during our recent bereavement. Your acts of kindness and words of sympathy were a real comfort to us. Thank you, too, for the floral offerings. They were beautiful.

Garden Pay Is Assured In 1940

COLLEGE STATION—A Texas-born movement to put more food on the farm family table reached national proportions, when 100 state farmer-committeemen met in Washington last week to draw up the 1940 farm program, and provided for home gardening assistance by the AAA next year.

Setting up a general outline from which specific provisions for the new program will be drafted, the conferees recommended a $2 allowance for family gardens, and a $2 deduction from payments otherwise earned if the farm family fails to plant a garden, where state agricultural conservation committees are willing.

There was no doubt about the Texas state committee's feelings on the matter, since it was the first in the nation to seriously suggest garden payments.

George Slaughter, chairman, and Charles Thomas, member of the committee, attended the conference with E. N. Holmgren, state AAA administrator.

"When you realize there are reported to be more than 200,000 gardenless farms in the state, this action is highly significant," Slaughter asserted, on his return to headquarters at Texas A. & M. College. "Federated club women, Extension Service workers and homemakers, members of the Texas Agricultural Association and others who have urged garden assistance are to be commended for their efforts. Two dollars isn't much, but in some cases it may mean the difference between an adequate garden and none at all."

Increased emphasis on soil conservation, more opportunities for participation by small farmers, and greater responsibility of administration in the hands of the farmer committees were other items in the 1940 outline, Slaughter reported.

No major changes in principles or provisions of the program were made, he said.

Designed to stimulate soil conservation, and made especially in the interest of small farmers, was a recommendation that a minimum soil-building allowance of $20 per farm be established. Another along the conservation line would enable farmers to earn up to $30 a farm, in addition to the regular soil-building allowance, by planting trees.

Among other recommendations were: That the program encourage longer rotation of dryland farming, more wildlife protection through established soil-building practices, and return of sub-marginal restoration land to permanent vegetative cover over longer periods of time.

That the special wind erosion area program be dropped, since practices developed under the regular program will the area's needs.

That no special peanut allotments be set up in commercial peanut counties with 300 acres or less of peanuts for market.

That, as in 1939, commercial vegetable acreage allotments be established in designated commercial vegetable counties normally devoting more than 200 acres to this crop, on farms producing more than three acres. Upon the state committee's recommendation, counties may be exempt where the principle production is for small local markets and there is no tendency to expand production substantially.

Special Care Is Needed To Maintain Good Roses During Dry, Hot Weather

Special Care Is Needed
Nearly all roses in this section have black spot and it is well to know what can be done to keep them from becoming further victims of disease. Disease lessens vitality and special treatment should be given to build up the affected plant.

The germination of black spot fungus is greatly reduced with the coming of hot, dry weather, but dusting and spraying should be kept up in order to control the disease.

All affected leaves should be clipped into a bag and burned. There is no cure for a leaf that has the blight, and it is best to remove it and thus lessen the spread to other parts and to other bushes.

A dusting mixture which is effective against black spot is nine parts sulphur, one part arsenate of lead and two tablepoons of hydrated lime to keep the arsenate of lead from burning the leaves. The addition of one part of tobacco dust is good if troubled with lice. This also will control biting insects.

A thorough watering twice a week is sufficient for roses during the summer months. A gentle spray, allowed to run several hours so the water will soak in gradually, is better than a strong stream of water.

Constant light cultivation is recommended during the summer. A little commercial fertilizer, about a tablespoonful to a rose, well worked into the soil around will tone up the plant.

Cut out all dead wood. If dead parts are allowed to remain, the stems will continue to die. Cut back to the green parts.

Pickled Roses

Now that the old fashioned method of drying rose leaves has gone out of style, why not try pickling your roses, a practice which is so old it is new again. Besides its lots of fun according to Jean A. Hiettunen in "Better Homes and Gardens," for August.

This is how she does it: "Gather the fresh and most fragrant roses early in the morning. Pluck the petals and clip off the fleshy part of their base. Then spread them on a flat surface and let them dry until all dew has dried from them. Place a two-inch layer of the dried petals in a two-quart earthen jar with a tight-fitting lid. Sprinkle a scant handful of salt over the layer. Add more petals from day to day until the jar is filled.

Allow the containers to stand covered for one week. Then turn the contents into a large pan and add one-eighth cup (one half ounce) each of rose, heliotrope, lavender and violet powder, one-fourth cup powderedorris root (all available at a cosmetic counter), plus one teaspoon of ground mace, a few drops each of oil of rose, geranium, and almond oil (also from a cosmetic counter), and one-half teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves;

Mix and pack in small jars with close fitting covers. Let stand two weeks. Stir occasionally and leave jars open a few minutes each day to scent the rooms. These rose jars retain their fragrance for years."

THE NEWEST TRACTOR with the OLDEST NAME!!!!

NOW . . . Better Performance . . . than ever before

Owners of Case Tractors long have liked the way they got things done because of fast field speeds in actual work, their ability to make quick, short turns with full load, and the Case engines can "lug along" at heavy load or reduced speed. The new Case Tractors have still more capacity to get things done. They have a wider speed range, ability to work day and night with full electric equipment, and visibility for faster, more accurate work.

NOW . . . Greater Economy . . . than ever before

Farmers all over the world have always enjoyed exceptional economy with Case Tractors because they produce eager, flexible power from low-cost fuel or burned gasoline with surprising efficiency in actual farm conditions. To all their previous proved economy, Case Tractors now bring still better ability to burn either or both classes of fuel; still surer lubrication; closer control of cooling; refined, precision-made engine parts; and important improvements in the famous Case power-saving transmission.

NOW . . . More Conveniences . . . than ever before

Operators have long enjoyed Case conveniences — lubrication of steering gear, power take-off, transmission and rear axle from a single oil-bath; easy clutching and hitching from seat or ground . . . pulley placed for easy belting and lining up . . . handy fueling and little greasing. New Case Tractors have auto-type shift lever; comfort-grip steering wheel with spinner knob; engine gauges, cooling control and governor lever right on the steering post; a controls grouped for handy operation from seat.

NOW . . . Lower Upkeep . . . than ever before

Proved by 4,000,000 operating hours, hundreds of Case Tractors, still declared good for years more by their owners, have records of running eight, nine and ten years with upkeep costing only a penny an hour on both gasoline and many kinds of low-cost fuel. New Case Tractors have a host of added features for still longer life, still lower upkeep. Among them are electrically welded tanks . . . pressure oiling direct to overhead-valve rocker arms and governor . . . new, longer-lived seals on shafts . . . one-piece pressed steel fenders . . . more accurate control of engine temperature and still more certainty of positive lubrication.

NOW . . . Wider Speed Range . . . than ever before

A long-favorite feature of Case Tractors has been their "flat-torque" engines that give full, flexible, unflinching pull from about half-speed to more than rated speed. With the new fourth gear, Case owners have a practical working range from 1 1/4 to ten miles an hour, all under accurate governor control, instantly set by the handy lever on the steering post. The Case fourth gear saves fuel in light field work as well as time on the road.

A BARREL ROLL!... Hard on the dare-devil air devil... Safe for his engine, because it's still well-oiled though it's upside down. Just think: Your motor car—newest model or veteran—would actually get better engine lubrication if somehow you could always park it upside down!... Silly notion?... Just the same, you can see that by standing "bottoms up" your engine would have to stay oiled to the top! Then it certainly couldn't start dry—oil-starved. And that one worst source of engine wear would be ended for you.

Get this same great benefit for your car without any "topsy-turvy"... Get your engine OIL-PLATED. And that takes patented Conoco Germ Processed oil, with its "magnetic" power of mating to the working parts as intimately as chromium-plating is mated to the bumpers. Chromium-plating can't drain down; OIL-PLATING can't either. All the way up in your engine—all the while it stands or runs—all the time you use Germ Processed oil—you've got durable OIL-PLATING.

Then every start is well-oiled—wear-proofed. Every stroke of your engine, every mile you go, takes place on lasting OIL-PLATING. And you're not adding oil every other time you stop, once you change to the only Germ Processed oil... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. He knows your correct Summer grade. Today have him drain and refill, and at once your engine's OIL-PLATED. Continental Oil Company reach their land in order that they might arrange to be on hand at the time. All the crew members are expert and have had experience with the work, but much confusion and delay can be eliminated if the farmers will be present when their land is measured.

The surveyors will begin operations early Monday morning, and the work will continue steadily from that time until the job is finished. It is expected the men will be able to measure an average of ten farms per day.

Lands to be measured include soil conserving acreage, row crop land and summer fallow land. The measurements will be checked against the acreage reported by the growers and also against aerial maps made of the county. These maps are now in the office of the county agent, and are subject to interpretation by mapping experts who will work in close connection with the surveying crews.

attractions from time to time. These special attractions will be announced each week—and will come to you without any advance in prices. We want to say "Thank You" in a manner that will be entertaining and to your interest. No matter how well we try to do things at all times—we are going to try a little harder during the coming month."

As a starter on the national month, the brass railings, frames and metal finishing in the theatre have been polished, glasses have been shined and employees will keep the building spotless. Recent installation of new carpets was also made in the theatre. The front and lobby will also have special decorations.

Wheat Loan

ernment, a service for which they are paid two and one-half percent interest. It's essential for the farmer to have his wheat in an approved elevator (one that is certified by the government to store wheat under the loan) or have it properly stored on his farm, and that all mortgages against his name be clear before his loan will be honored. A warehouse receipt from a qualified elevator presented at the County Agent's Office is certification enough for the agent to complete the eligibility papers which allow the farmer to collect his money at the bank. If everything is in order, he can receive his money without delay upon presentation at the bank of the draft given him at the office of the County Agent.

The rush of the harvest that kept the producers too busy to straighten out all the details necessary to receive the loan is over now, and most of the producers have satisfied the requirements.

It is estimated that something close to $13,000,000 will be paid in loans throughout the Panhandle. In addition to this amount, Panhandle farmers will also receive around $2,000,000 in parity payments, which can be looked on as a reward paid to the grower for compliance with the farm program.

Payment After Harvest

Thus the best results of the harvest are to come after the grain has been cut and stored this year, not while the combines are rolling, as is the usual thing. Hard-ripped wheat growers will now be able to ease part of the burden piled on their shoulders by long years of drought with money obtained for their 1939 crop. Even farmers who failed to make a crop can have money this year if they have insured their crop under the Federal Crop Insurance Administration plan.

Hereford Potato

name and the grade of the contents. The warehouse will be the collecting and storage unit for all potatoes grown in the Hereford territory, and every grower will be charged for storage in the warehouse. Once potatoes are placed in the warehouse for sale to wholesale dealers, they lose their identity as to who grew them, and become simply Hereford potatoes of a certain specified grade. A rigid standard will be set for the respective grades, and every sack labeled "No. 1 Fancy" will be uniformly good and that nothing else. The Association will not be organized for profit.

Since it is too late to attempt to build a warehouse this year, plans to rent a building to handle the current potato and onion crops were discussed. Most growers plan to begin digging around August 10-15.

Pioneer potato growers in this section such as "Potato Joe" Ballinger and Glenn Boardman, have convinced interested persons that potato and onion crops can be made to pay and pay well in this country. The introduction of widespread irrigation in this section has opened the eyes of many farmers to the possibilities of the advantages to be derived from the practice of growing a variety of crops, and the growing of potatoes fits beautifully into the scheme of crop rotation. It is from the interest taken in their mutual problems by the Hereford potato growers that the need for a firm organization has arisen, and it is to satisfy this need that the Hereford Potato Growers Association is being organized. It will operate on a strictly non-profit basis, its sole purpose being to furnish a place of storage and a standard of quality for the potatoes grown in Hereford. It is a means of protection for the growers.

Present at the meeting last night were Florn Ward, Frank Nicholson, John Kropff, Homer King, Glenn Boardman, Joe Ballinger, George Paetzold, P. H. Filbin, John J. Paetzold, Jack Dean and Jim Williams. Every person interested in growing potatoes or marketing them is urged to attend the meeting next Wednesday night in the FSA office in the court house when the Constitution will be accepted and the Hereford Potato Growers Association will begin active operation.

transfer agent is the County Superintendent of the county in which the applicant resided at the time of the last school census.

County Superintendent A. J. Schroeter stated that it is necessary for all students to transfer whether they intend to enroll in the grades or in high school. It is also necessary for students who are now living in the Hereford District but who moved there after the last school census was taken to transfer, he said.

The Deaf Smith County Board of Education, at its last meeting on June 3, ruled that all rural schools in this county are elementary schools. This means all rural schools in Deaf Smith County are considered as having facilities to teach only those grades up to the eighth, and that the student cannot receive credit for work above the seventh grade if it was taught in a rural school. July 31 is the last day on which transfers can be made.
