"IT'S NOT OFTEN THAT A YOUNG MAN GETS A CHANCE LIKE THIS," says Hubert Jones, pictured with his wife and young daughter, Elaine, above. He is speaking of his new home, constructed at a cost of $430, under the supervision of the Farm Security Administration, by whom the house was financed.

The house — it's built of two box cars, and it will be all dressed up for Open House next Sunday. The complete house is shown in No. 2. In No. 5 is shown the home where the Jones' previously lived—a two-room, well-house near Hereford. No. 3 shows the kitchen of the new home. The cabinets were built from unfinished lumber and painted white.

AROUND TOWN

Sights and Faces Seen
An expression of gratitude comes from the City of Hereford through Major C. J. Paddock to Hereford motorists and pedestrians for the commendable caution exercised by them in driving and crossing streets during the months already gone by in this year. At the same time, the Mayor cautions drivers to be especially careful over the Fourth, because bitter experience has shown that more accidents occur at this time than at any other time.

Fire Damages Beavers Bros. Garage Friday

Fire, swift and destructive, razed the Beavers Brothers Garage Friday afternoon at 3:30 to burn out almost the entire interior of the repair shop and damage several cars which were in the garage for repair work. Starting as a small flame, the blaze engulfed the entire wooden framework of the building in ten minutes. None of the workmen in the garage at the time the fire started were hurt.

The blaze started from a small flame ignited when a helper started to light a blow-torch to be used in soldering. Hall Beavers, owner of the garage said. The flame caught instantly.

First Parity Checks Reach This County

The first 1939 Parity Checks received in Deaf Smith County were received this week by the County Agent's office. Payment of the parity agreements will be made as soon as the proper recipients can be notified.

The total amount received here in parity checks was $21,855.45. This amount came in two shipments which were almost equal.

The total amount approved for payment in parity checks in Deaf Smith County is $250,000. This leaves in round numbers, $228,145 yet to be paid in these checks. It is not possible to tell when the rest will come, but it is expected that there will be several small shipments to complete the remaining amount.

Parity payments are made on a separate basis from the AAA payments made for reduction of wheat acreage, the former being made on the basis of improvements and care of land done in addition to that required by the AAA Farm Program crop reduction act of 1938.

HARVEST RUSH IS GREATEST SEEN IN AREA SINCE 1931 CROP

RAINS DAMAGE TEST MOST PRODUCERS PLACING WHEAT IN GOVERNMENT LOAN PROGRAM

An estimated yield of from 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 bushels of wheat was foreseen in this territory today as trucks streamed in a continuous line from fields to elevators with the best crop this territory has seen since 1931. Wednesday broke all records at local elevators for the past eight years — and even greater amounts of grain were anticipated here for the next 10 days, provided fair weather continues.

It was apparent Thursday morning that the elevators in Hereford had handled around 1,142,000 bushels of wheat — while the Dawn and Black elevators sent the total for this area up to around the 1,342,000-bushel mark.

Train Load Daily
Estimates showed that around 450 cars of wheat have already been shipped from Hereford for storage in larger centers; the cars are unusually large, averaging 1,650 bushels this year, and a conservative estimate indicates

Lions Take Top Place As Plowboys Go Down

CLOSE WIN OF 6-5 OVER THE PLOWBOYS PUTS LIONS IN CLEAR LEAD

June 27—The Lions took undisputed possession of first place when they defeated the Plowboys 6 to 5. The Lions had only six hits, but they made them count for they were timely hits. The Plowboys could get only four hits off Springer all of which were doubles.

The Lions were the first to score. They tallied once in the first inning from three errors and Charlie's single. The Lions scored two more markers in the third inning, when J. Russell erred four times and Holyfield once.

The Plowboys took the lead in the first of the sixth when Clennin's double, a walk and two miscues added three runs to the two markers they already possessed. The Lions, however, came right back to tally twice from two singles and three errors. The visitors then held the Plowboys the last inning.

ATTEND ANNUAL CAMP CONFERENCE

Young people of the Christian Churches from all over the Panhandle gathered at Ceta Canyon Monday morning for the annual Camp Conference being held there this week.

The conference will furnish instruction along various lines of Christian Endeavor and outstanding personalities have been chosen as teachers. Recreational features have also been included in the week's program and young people who attend the conference gain from it all the delights of a summer camp as well as religious and moral instruction.

Rev. H. M. Redford, pastor of the local Christian Church, is one of the instructors. He was accompanied Monday by Betty Cockrell, Lottie Tyson, Frances Borden, Erma Faye Robinson and Ann Cockrell.

The Conference will close Sunday.

American agriculture is now said to use more machinery than any other industry in this country.

Strains of tomatoes that do well in greenhouses will usually do well outside if trained on a trellis, according to Professor Grant B. Snyder, head of the Massachusetts State college vegetable gardening department.

Well, Well! Pioneer Day has come and gone, the pre-harvest rush at the lumber yard is over, and now everything seems to have quieted down. I find that the TUBA has been mute since May 4th. Chris Wegner was in the yard last week for pick-up sideboards and he said he had been missing the TUBA, so with that encouragement to stimulate me, I have unpacked the old horn and will now endeavor to give a few lusty toots.

Truck beds, pick-up sideboards, granaries, sideboards, truck beds, grain storage, sideboards, truck beds—I'm telling you my head was full of those things last week and week before. Our stock was pretty well shot when it was all over, but it is rapidly being replaced and we are getting the yard in tip-top shape during the present lull so that we can take care of the building business that is sure to come when the wheat is all out and put away.

"Frequent water drinking," said the professor, "prevents stiff in joints."

"Yes," said the co-ed, "but some of the joints don't serve water."

One of the finest stands of wheat I have ever seen is the 80 acre patch that J. T. Gilbreath, Jr. has out by his irrigation well. All of his wheat is good, but that patch is highly superior, as the music festival judges have it.

Mr. Gilbreath built a 4,000 bushel granary just before harvest that should prove an excellent investment. It is 28 by 28 feet with an 8-foot driveway through the middle, it is built on a concrete foundation, framed with No. 1 Long Leaf Yellow Pine 2x6 on 16-inch centers. No. 1 Car siding on the outside, roof solid sheathed and shingled, bins floored and lined with flooring. We believe it is as good a granary as any around here.

Ira W. Ott, of the Wyche community, tore down all his chicken houses, tool house and garage, and used the material to build a new garage and chicken house, using more new material, of course.

Frank Knabe did some remodeling of his granaries early this month in preparation for what is developing into a bumper yield.

E. S. Ireland lined the inside of his old grain bins with plywood to make them tight.

Gene Harman, the handsome grocery clerk who is so popular with the girls, says: "Making love is like making pie. All you need is a lot of crust and some applause."

There are over 1,000,000 milk goats in the United States, about 4 per cent of the number of cows. Goats find their use as the "poor man's cow" and also as a source

Scientists say that no left-handed child should be made to change to right-handedness.

We have it pretty straight that B. P. D. (Before Pioneer Day) a certain local citizen who was growing a fine beard was allowed to attend a poker session while his wife had a party of lady friends. He came home while they were all there, his whiskers loaded with tobacco juice.

She: "Goodness, gracious, Bill, couldn't you turn your head to spit?"

He: "Nope, not in that game."

Earl Hopson built a pen for his son's 4-H Club pig.

E. V. Holman arranged additional grain storage in preparation for a big crop.

Elmer Winkler came in for roofing for a bunkhouse.

S. O. Wilson had to fix up more granary space.

H. D. Culpepper built a fine new truck body for hauling wheat.

Bellah Grocery & Market have done a right smart of remodeling in the last two or three weeks.

Carl and Lawrence Straffus were in the yard to get material for additional grain storage.

J. H. Reinart bought a truck and built a first class grain body on it here in the yard, and then got more lumber for fixing up his granaries.

G. E. Thiele also built a new truck body for wheat hauling and fixed up his granary.

The attorney for the plaintiff was addressing the jury in an Arkansas court in the trial of a damage suit against the railroad which had killed the plaintiff's cow:

"Gentlemen of the jury, if the train had been runnin' as slow as it should have been ran, if the bell had been rung as it ort to have been rung, or the whistle had been blown as it should have blown, none of which was did, the cow would not have been injured when she was killed."

And if this rainy weather has reminded you that you need a new shingle roof, we've got a carload for you.

Colby Conkwright bought a new truck and had a first-class grain body put on it just before wheat harvest.

Fred Saltzman built a new barn with provision for his grain storage the early part of this month.

C. S. Gunter was one of the few during this month who built anything except grain storage, truck beds, or pick-up bodies. He got some lumber for what he said was a bath house, but that might have been just some kind of propaganda.

Ira W. Ott, of the Wyche community, tore down all his chicken houses, tool house and garage, and used the material to build a new garage and chicken house, using more new material, of course.

Frank Knabe did some remodeling of his granaries early this month in preparation for what is developing into a bumper yield.

Old Lumber And Unused Land Are Used In Garden

Twenty plants of English peas have been canned in June by Mrs. Denson Hill of the Ford Home Demonstration Club. These were planted in April. The varieties are Early Alaska and Little Marvel, each of which should produce peas in fifty-five to sixty days.

A windbreak on the south, west and north sides of the garden has been constructed by Mr. Hill. He used boxing boards from an old hog pen no longer used. Then the ends were removed from twenty-four metal barrels and the flattened sides of the barrels were palled to 2x4's along the garden fence.

Most of the garden was planted in May. The tallest onion tops are in the spot having the most protection. The plot measures about 100x60 feet. This is almost double the size of the old garden. Blow dirt had filled in the plot so deep that it was necessary to tear down the west fence and level off the soil. No money was spent in changing the garden plot to the larger size and providing a good windbreak. The hot June winds did less injury because of the protection given by the windbreak.

Progressive 4-H Studies Salads

"In grandmother's day salads were considered a luxury and were served only on special occasions. Now we consider them a daily necessity; an essential of the adequate diet, in order that we may grow and be healthy." These were the words of Lula M. Dilworth, Extension Specialist in Food Preparation, as read by Mrs. V. E. Dodson, sponsor of the Progressive Girls 4-H Club, when it met at her house Friday, June 23.

The article continued as follows: "Raw fruits and vegetables to furnish the body with the necessary vitamins and minerals. Salads are also very economical, as left-overs may be used in this way—meat salads, vegetables and some others when served with an accompaniment may make up an entire meal. Some of the principles of salad making as pointed out and observed, were:

1. Be sure all materials are clean as they may carry dangerous bacteria.
 2. Be sure all salad greens are clean, crisp and dry.
 3. Mix salads just before serving as the salad dressing tends to become watery and the leaves wilt if left stand.
 4. Marinading in French dressing tends to improve the flavor of some fruits and vegetables.
 5. A rich fruit or meat salad may serve as a main dish when served with an accompaniment, such as graham crackers or cheese straws.
 6. Cold salads should be served cold, and hot salads should be served hot.
 7. Lettuce is probably the best known of the salad greens and probably the most widely used; however, parsley, endive, cabbage, romain and chinese cabbage may be used.
 8. Eat the salad greens, do not waste the rare vitamin content they provide.
 9. Garnishes may be used to make it more appetizing and to give color. Some that are suggested are celery, cucumbers, radishes, pepper rings, cheese balls, eggs, olives and pimientos.

Garden Club Has Home Discussion Of The Annuals

The Garden Club assembled Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. H. Oberthier to hear a talk on "Annuals," in which valuable hints were given to amateur gardeners.

Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, CHDA, the principal speaker, began her talk by urging members of the club to read "The Book of Annuals" by Alfred C. Hettes and to write the U. S. Department of Agriculture for farmers bulletins No. 1171, "Growing Annuals," and 1381, "Herbaceous Perennials." She pointed out that annuals are divided into three groups, the hardy, half-hardy and tender. The hardy are those which self sow and will stand much cold, the half hardy are those which tolerate very little cold and the tender are those which require a long growing season before they bloom. Referring to "The Book of Annuals" she said the book filled every gardener's need, even to hints on preparing the soil which is quite important. The soil should be spaded very deep, at least 20 to 24 inches, incorporating well rotted manure at least three months before planting time. Treating the seed and soil with "Semesan" (an insecticide) will lessen trouble with damping off.

Continuing, Miss Oliver said, "The proper depth to plant the seed is 3 or 4 times their diameter and covering with sand instead of soil is advisable. In buying it is wise to remember that florists never mix the best seed. Annuals are well adapted to massed planting and the time for transplanting is when the first true leaf appears. Water the ground several hours before transplanting and keep roots wet and shade the plants for a few days. Cultivate regularly, and a mulch of lawn clippings or peat mulch will keep down weeds and preserve moisture. For a long period of bloom, do not let any seed mature."

It was brought out at the meeting that grasshoppers are doing a great deal of damage to dahlias and chrysanthemums. The following is a good spray mixture which has been tried successfully: 9 parts of dusting sulphur, 1 part lead arsenic and 1 part tobacco dust. After preparation is mixed put in a thin bag and tie on the end of a long stick to dust the plants as needed. The mixture is not only effective for grasshoppers but is a good all-round spray for insects as well as fungus growth.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames F. M. Kester, W. A. Dobbins, Homer Brumley, A. O. Thompson, C. C. Ferguson, J. P. Slaton, N. E. Gass, Mark Hanna, E. Ramey, Miss Oliver and the hostess.

Mrs. R. E. McCullough was welcomed as a new member.

Sims HDC Meets At Mrs. Phillips

The Sims Home Demonstration Club met this week in the home of Mrs. N. O. Phillips, Adrian. The insects for which control measures were needed were cited to be the flea beetle, the large black and the smaller brownish wheat beetles, grasshoppers, cutworms and May beetles.

Equipment and conveniences purchased by the club recently, include a sewing machine, new cook stoves and kitchen sinks. Other improvements are planned for the near future.

The meeting was attended by the following ladies: Mesdames C. L. Bogle, Adrian; Lauren Lualien, Adrian; Haley Shaw, Adrian; Glenn Hetzler, Adrian; Bert Cook, Hereford, and the hostess.

In the fall, Ernest will be placed in one of the branch factories of the Case Company.

Harvest 1,324,000

Hereford alone has shipped out around 742,000 bushels. Storage in Hereford should run close to 400,000 bushels this morning, while Dawn and Black have handled a good 200,000 bushels of wheat already this season. At the present time a full train load of wheat is leaving Hereford daily with between 75 and 80 cars to the train.

About Third Through
Naturally, there is no definite way to determine how much wheat remains to be harvested but wheat producers and grain dealers are generally agreed that harvest in this territory is about one-third finished—maybe a little over that mark. Figured on present reports, this should give the area from 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 bushels for the present season.

Had not rains and bad weather interfered, harvest would now be drawing to a close in this area. The frequent rains have come a few days apart and have greatly delayed and damaged prospects in this territory. Practically all of the first wheat was testing No. 1, prior to the rains. It is now running from 56 to 60 on tests, and the protein content is averaging about one point lower than at first.

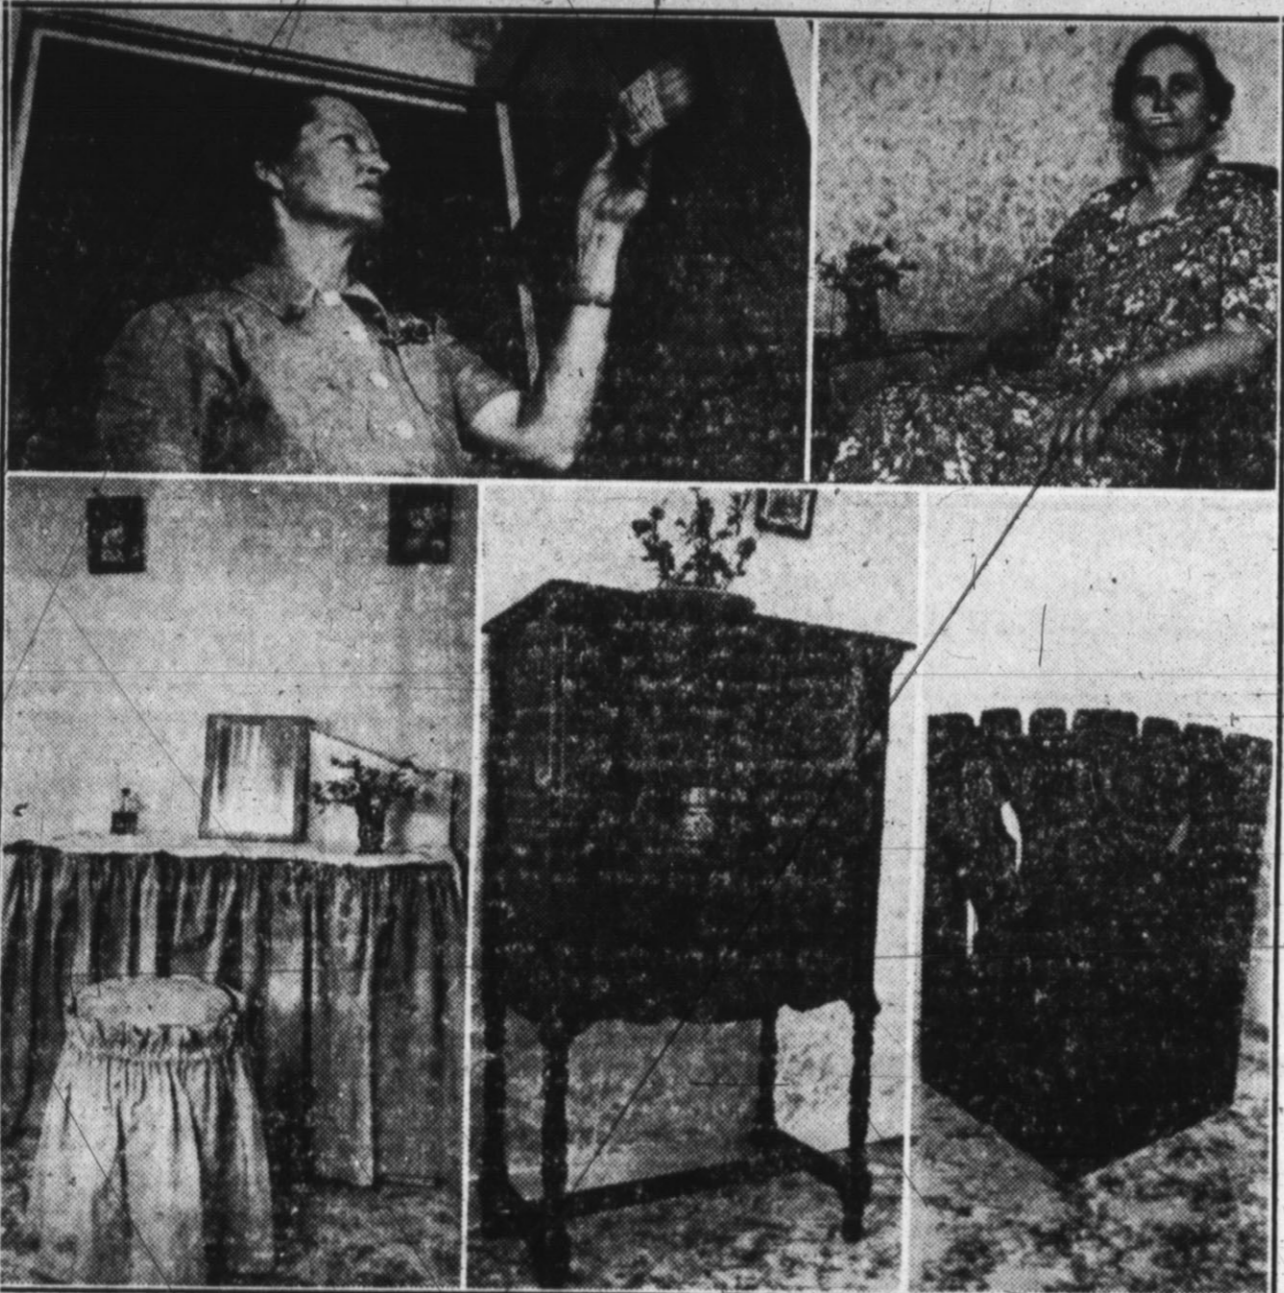

Rush Is Here
Probably at no time in the history of this territory has the harvest rush been greater. Due to rains, and the possibility of more rains, combines are running day and night in many points—and all elevators have day and night service.

Provided no additional rain delays gathering of the present crop, harvest should be well over by July 15, according to estimates, and the bulk of the wheat was expected by the end of next week. Practically all wheat in the territory is ready to cut, and is being harvested as rapidly as possible.

Government Loans
Buyers were paying 60 cents a bushel for wheat in Hereford this morning and practically all of the wheat was going into the government loan program, which provides a net price of from 62 to 64 cents a bushel in Hereford. Very little wheat has been bought here this year, due to the fact the price has consistently been lower than the government loan price. Persons entering the loan program must be in strict compliance with the AAA program, and must have been either the producer or the landlord of the wheat in question.

Mrs. Jennie Long and children of Arkansas and her two sisters, Lena of Oklahoma, and Mrs. C. V. E. Lownes of Amarillo, visited Mrs. Cal Walker and Mrs. G. R. Jowell of Hereford last week, all of whom were girls together fifty years ago. They visited Sulphur Park, which was the old G. R. Jowell place, and plan to go to old La Platte where they once lived. The father of the three sisters, was Judge Dean, of Kansas.

Here's How to Furnish a Home From Scrap Crate Lumber

A prairie crate, and old cabinet, and a nail keg can be disguised into pretty, comfortable furniture, if one has the imagination and skill of Mrs. Lavina Gilliland, (upper right) head of the local WPA Housekeeping Aid Project, who designed this furniture for the home of Hubert Jones; and Mrs. Mary A. Price (upper left), who assisted with the building of the cabinet from green lumber, furniture crating and plywood.

At the lower left there is pictured an attractive dressing table made of two orange crates, and the chair, made of a nail keg. Both are covered with attractive green muslin. In the lower center is a wharfed table made from an old radio cabinet. To the lower right is a wastepaper basket made of a prairie crate.

The furniture which was constructed by WPA Housekeeping Aid, was designed and made for the "box-car" home set up by the Farm Security Administration for Mr. and Mrs. Jones. The house is two miles southeast of Hereford, on the Carter farm. It will be open for public inspection next Sunday afternoon.

You Are Invited...

are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jones and their bright-eyed, 20-months old daughter, Elaine. They will be expecting you and you will receive a warm welcome, for they are proud of their new home with its modern improvements, nice furniture and spacious yard. In fact, they are so proud that they are holding "Open House" and every person in this territory is invited to attend.

Likely, you'll be impressed when you enter the little four-room home—most persons are—and when you learn that it was constructed and furnished at a total cost of only $430, you'll be amazed.

After inspecting the well-furnished living room, two bedrooms and a nursery (which is later to become a bathroom), you will enter the kitchen to discover first the built-in cabinets. In turn will come the butane equipped stove, and the built-in sink. If you like, you may even stop for a drink of cool water—for the Jones family has running water in their modern farm home.

A little bewildered, you will leave the kitchen and make your way toward the improvements in connection with the new home. Passing through the yard gate, past the windmill and water tank, you'll come to the brooder house, surrounded by 100 White Leghorn pullets. The brooder house is equipped with a modern kerosene brooder and has been constructed for convenience and efficiency.

A short distance away stands the corral, which is bordered on the north by a long series of barns and sheds, the first of which is a well constructed chicken house; next comes the cattle barn, milking house and feed house. Last in the series is a barn and breeding pen for the registered Jersey bull, which Mr. Jones keeps for the community "bull co-op."

Improvements on the place were made at a total cost of $1,060.

Materials for the house, including the box cars, were bought for $322; labor figured $108—giving a total of $430 total cost on the house.

The barn, 70 by 14 feet, the chicken house 18 by 20 feet, the brooder house 8 by 8 feet and the corral fences 60 by 70 feet along with the well, windmill and water works were completed for an additional $630—bringing the total to $1,060.

It is probable that after leaving you will tell many of your friends about the attractive home, nice farm improvements—and that you will wonder from time to time just how so much was accomplished with a total outlay of $1,060.

ferent story with the Jones family. Long months, and even years after you may have completely forgotten the visit—the little house will make them comfortable. The 100 White Leghorns will have grown into one of the best culled flocks in the county, and in young Mr. Jones' mind lingers the hope of developing one of the best dairy herds in the Panhandle.

Whether your visit be prompted by curiosity or by interest in your community, remember that the set-up, thanks to the Farm Security Administration, means a chance at life for this young family.

Hubert Jones, age 25, attended Plainview High School and studied Vocational Agriculture for three years. A. R. Bateman, present Deaf Smith County Agent, was his teacher and will tell you that Jones was an apt pupil. Mrs. Jones, age 20, studied through the sophomore grade in high school.

A little over three years ago they were married. Times were hard, and although both were bright youngsters, they never seemed to get a break. Both were hard workers and both longed for better things. Instead their situation seemed to grow worse. Finally they located in a two-room well-house, 10x12 feet.

F. S. A. Supervision
Maybe it was ambition, or it could have been the future of their young daughter—anyway, fate led them to the office of the Farm Security Administration on the third floor of the courthouse in Hereford. They made an application, and from that time on, lived with a ray of hope. Their application passed through many hands, into district offices. Their background and record was good—and then their prayers were answered. The box car home was financed and constructed.

Henceforth, at least—until their debts are paid, the Jones family will farm under supervision of FSA. Their program is figured out on what is known in the offices as the "Typical Crop System."

They have a five year contract on 290 acres of land, 70 acres of which will be under irrigation. The 70 irrigated acres will be used to produce a bare living and to offer "crop insurance" on the following basis:

Since Mr. Jones has 10 dairy cows, he will plant 35 acres of the irrigated land in grain sorghum. Twenty-five of the 70 acres will be planted to wheat, insuring a small cash crop even in the face of severe drought—and offering pasture for his dairy herd.

125 will be devoted to wheat; 75 acres of dry land wheat will be sown, and 50 acres will be summer fallowed.

Fifteen acres will be planted in sudan pasture; 25 to cage or sorgho, any surplus being used in trench silos; 10 acres in milo, and 40 acres of grass will take care of the remaining acreage.

Balanced Farm Program
In addition to his farming activities, the program followed by Mr. Jones will be balanced with a variety of livestock. At the present time he has 10 Jersey cows, all grade animals; one brood sow and four shoats, also the 250 White Leghorn pullets.

Being ambitious and unafraid of work, he expects to increase his livestock program—and it is entirely possible that Farm Security will stand behind him, for Jim Williams, local supervisor, has carefully watched Mr. Jones. His program, when complete, will include 12 dairy cows, five brood sows and 150 laying hens. Jones is caring for the "co-op" Jersey bull, purchased from the Burdette farms for $75, and according to present plans some of his neighbors will secure a registered boar on the co-op basis.

"It is the policy of the organization to finance their clients to the extent that they will have a decent chance to succeed," Mr. Williams pointed out. "The Hubert Jones set-up is an experiment at the present time—but we believe that he is going to succeed."

"Farm Security has backed Jones to the extent of $1,915, to be used as follows:

"Feed $90, seed $55, tractor $740, tractor fuel $130, cash rent on 70 acres of irrigated land $310, cost of irrigation $55, constructing trench silo $25, baby chicks $30, cows and hogs $350, registered Jersey bull $75, furniture $55."

The Joneses are strictly tenants, paying cash rent of $310 on the 70 acres of irrigated land—and farming the 220 acres of dry land on the regular tenant's share of two-thirds. The land is owned by Albert Carter, who also owns the house and improvements in connection with his FSA arrangement; Jas. H. Wagoner farms 70 acres of the remaining 160 acres on a cash rental basis.

Mr. Carter is farming the last 90 acres of the original 677 himself. Thus it is seen that the Farm Security Administration is actually killing three birds with one stone; that is, it is giving assistance to three different individuals on one project. Mr. Carter, who is the original owner of the land, gets his land cultivated and his debt on the way to being removed; the Jones family gets a home and land to farm and a chance to buy both, and Mr. Wagoner gets the benefits from the cash rental set-up.

Like all Farm Security co-operators, the Joneses keep accurate records of production, expenditures, and living expenses—operating their farm on a business basis. They keep accurate monthly reports.

Grateful indeed is the Jones family for the opportunity which they have been given, and they are looking forward to paying out their obligation to Farm Security long before the specified date of 1944.

If you ask Mr. and Mrs. Jones what they think of their new house, their herd of cows, chickens, farm tools and general improvements, it's ten-to-one they will grin, and say some mighty nice things. And you'll get the general idea that no matter how tough times get, "It's going to be hard keeping up with the Joneses."

The Jones case is an excellent example of the way in which two government agencies, the FSA and the WPA, can co-operate on a single project. Here, the box car house was built under FSA supervision and the furnishings for it were built by the WPA Housekeeping Aid. Quoting Mrs. Lavina Gilliland, Hereford WPA Housekeeping Aid Official, "In the particular referral given to us by the County Welfare Agency to assist the Hubert Jones family, a pre-natal client of WPA Housekeeping Aid; we were able to work closely with Farm Security Administration as we assisted the family with the improvements."

German Glider Pilot Finds Plains Country Air Currents Best In U. S.

Many Hereford residents witnessed the attempts of Captain Peter Riedel, 33-year-old German glider pilot who was the first man to cross the Continental Divide in a motorless plane, to get his German-built ship launched from Clay Bowser's pasture five miles west of Hereford on Harrison Highway last Sunday morning. The German pilot had landed in a patch of wheat stubble across the road at 6:20 Saturday evening.

Rufus Sewell, who was going home late Saturday, saw the curious plane land, and observing that there were no wheels for landing, thought the pilot to be in trouble. On reaching the site of the landing, he found the smiling flier emerging from the huge bird apparently unhurt. It was then that the would-be rescuer discovered his mistake. He brought the young German to Hereford to spend the night and await the arrival of his flight party, which follows him by automobile.

Captain Riedel, German embassy attaché at Washington, is on a transcontinental glider flight. That is the way he is spending his vacation. He landed in Hereford after taking off from Albuquerque, N. M., less than six hours earlier. He attained an altitude of 18,000 feet and covered a distance of 230 miles in that time. The ace glider pilot said that was the second longest glider flight ever made in the United States. On Wednesday, June 21, he had flown across the Rocky Mountains from Winslow, Ariz., to Magdalena, N. M.

Unusual lack of wind and air currents Sunday morning prevented a satisfactory ascension, and the pilot was forced to disassemble his ship and carry it by motor toward his destination of Wichita Falls. He planned to take to the air as soon as the air currents permitted.

Captain Riedel expressed sincere enthusiasm for the plains country as excellent for glider flying. "I have always felt the high plains section of Texas and New Mexico to be exceptionally good for glider flying," he said. "I believe the section is the best in the United States and one of the best in the world." He predicted that the plains area would be the site of much interest and activity in glider flying in the future. "The currents are fine here," he said.

The soft-spoken German patriot explained that the art of glider flying is really very simple. "It is not a new idea by any sort of means," he stated. "Every hawk applies the same principle every time it soars. You simply locate a region where firm air is rising to create an upward air-current and keep circling in that area until the current has lifted you as high as you want to go. Then you level out and float along with the wind until you want to land or until you find another air current."

The glider is launched into the air by towing it behind an automobile by a long, 1200-foot rope. Landing wheels are dropped off at an altitude of about fifty feet. The rope is released by a mechanism inside the glider. Captain Riedel has piloted gliders in Germany and other European countries. He considers it his hobby. His ship has a wing spread of 60 feet and is made of thin plywood and fabric. It weighs 600 pounds.

What Goes On Here? ? ?

A Column of Fun and Amusements
BY MARY JANE MORGAN

"A scoop!" they yelled as they prepared to bury the reporter. This harvest season has managed to keep everybody entertained or busy in one way or another. Jack France is both. He thinks it most diverting to gaze at the wheat field with blinking eyes, alternate with a handkerchief and shovel while loading his truck—not that he'd try to load it with a handkerchief—and sneeze all the way to the elevator. Who said hay fever was all in the mind anyway? Unless the mind is very near the nose.

Jane Withers is not the only one having difficulties with the "BOY FRIEND." A kind listener from Hereford wrote in to Amarillo to the Sons of the West and requested that they dedicate a song to a couple here. The name of the song was "Josephine," and since they were playing here that night, it was played. Now, as a matter of fact, it might be true that the listener was not so sympathetic, and the song not so desirable in the circumstances. The whole thing served a peculiar purpose, too. Just wait until it's safe to tell it all. It ought to be good.

Incidentally, Jane Withers romps more robustly than ever through the picture "BOY FRIEND" with the added stimulus of a "fella." This is her first romance, and she must have something there, because this picture is rated a little higher than any of her recent ones as light entertainment. It's showing today and tomorrow. Regular morning bowlers are Shorty Van Seltzer and Annabelle Robertson. In spite of all the strength and stuff she has received from the exercise, Shorty fairly had a fit the other day just on account of a little bird. Eye-witnesses declare that she was jumping up and down, virtually, on a chair in the show lobby trying to frighten a sparrow out.

For clear slender and graceful lines that glider, Kranich, is tops. Standing arguments have been started on street corners as to which is more desirable a glider, or a motor-boat. The outcomes don't matter anyway, because either one costs too much.

There was a touch of unreality to all the operations Sunday morning to insure a take-off of the plane, and in the general scene. The cream-colored plane against the background of green pastures was a rather unforgettable picture. The Nazi Swastika on the tail served as a shock to the most of us. One simply does not imagine or picture anything symbolizing Hitler regime out here. We think we are too far away. Too safe.

As a shattering force to some the complacency and smugness we feel, "CONFESSIONS OF A NAZI SPY" has been produced. Strangely enough, several of those active in producing the film were forced to keep body-guards on duty throughout the production. It smacked too much of the truth for the Nazis. Dealing with a widely publicized case of espionage in the United States the film has a moving force of authenticity rarely acquired. John Roberts, manager of the Star Theatre, regards this film as one that every American should see. It will show here a week from Sunday, and this early mention is to enable everyone to know about it.

Speaking of thugs, Miss Johnnie Estes can hold a lengthy discourse on 'em, because of an unusual experience she had the other day. A one armed, shabby fellow stepped up to her door and knocked. She went to see who her caller was, and he asked her for food. Now, rumor and unsure informers have probably distorted this story, but distilled it forms itself in this manner; the tramp was either insolent, unpleasing in manner, or something, because Miss Estes demurred. Then, the thug uns and pulls out a knife and tells her she had better be afraid of him because he was an ex-convict who was hungry. "You don't need to tell me that. I'm scared enough already!" she said, as far as we can learn, as she hurriedly fixed a lunch.

The same gentleman received food in a less violent manner at Baer's, and money in an equally violent manner from a lady living on the west outskirts of town. We repeat our title, "What goes on here?"

Such a dramatic incident brings us to another strange thing that amused people here no end. This can be known, after Shakespeare, as "Lady Smith's Sleep Walking Scene," and it was a lulu! Minnie Dea, who occasionally walks in her sleep, was awakened one night not long ago by a crash, and the sound of falling glass. To her surprise and chagrin, no doubt, she found that she was the one who had caused all the disturbance. She had stumbled against a chair near a window in her sleep and had fallen through it—the window, of course. To prove this, Minnie Dea has a nice, long cut place on her arm from which the bandage has just been removed.

As a self-respecting organization, the newly formed younger set's dance club is pretty weak, from all indications. Composed of both boys and girls, the club is supposed to give a dance every other Friday. When the time came last Friday, only about eight couples were on hand, or foot, as you would have it, at the Legion Hall. "No co-operation!" Bunky Daniel, president, said in disgust.

Henry Jowell has dyed his hair red again. Orful. "THREE SMART GIRLS GROW UP" with Deanna Durbin, has made a big splash with movie audiences ever since its release. For the second time only in its history, the management of the Palace Theatre in Lubbock, offered a money-back guarantee for anyone who did not like the picture, and that speaks eloquently for it. Briefly, this is also Deanna's first attempt at romance, and with the elaborate sets, directing and acting, it's not bad at all. Deanna's clothes will interest the women especially. The songs she sings fit in smoothly and naturally with the story, and she does some exceptional warbling. This will be here Sunday and Monday.

Buffalo Lake ranks tops with most Hereford people on Sundays. Over half the cars parked out there have local tags on them. Mary Virginia Eberle and Mr. Eberle were wandering around the lake Sunday afternoon. After the Pacific, Virginia must have to face that question of "little splash in a big puddle, or a big splash in a little puddle." Lots of swimmers at the lake. Hermit Karl Shirley, Chilly Foster, Jack Boydston and Nick's plus others.

If those dancers at the Firemen's Hall Tuesday night think they're pretty good, "NAUGHTY BUT NICE" showing Tuesday ought to disillusion them and give them some pointers, too. Along with Dick Powell, Ann Sheridan, Gale Page, Helen Broderick and a number of top-ranking comedians, are the National Jitterbug champions. This ought to be good... you know, a "killer diller in the groove," or something.

Just so you keep on the up and up, Hopalong Cassidy breaks forth again to help city marshal, Windy Hayes, compete with an escaped convict and some rustlers. Hoppy sorta admires the "widow" of the town, and he does some noble work protecting her, in "RENEGADE TRAIL." Humphrey Bogart returns on the screen here in another crime film, Wednesday. If he isn't doing something crooked on the screen, he's doing something straight. Odd, huh? Now, in this picture, which is pretty good, he proves that "YOU CAN'T GET AWAY WITH MURDER." That is, not unless you write an amusement column.

Immunity To Hay Fever Must Be Acquired Early

AUSTIN, Texas—"It will not be many weeks until a large number of Texans will be sneezing, wheezing and in other ways evidencing that they are victims of so-called hay fever. Many of these persons, either because of ignorance or carelessness, will endure their affliction, bolstered only by the distant hope of the "Fall Frost" which will mark the end of their ordeal for this year. On the face of it, these allergies have a rather hard row to hoe. However, for many of them, this situation could be altered most favorably," prophesies the Texas State Health Department.

depends upon its use prior to the pollen season. Immunity must be established early. Bodily reactions of this type of therapy are slow. In fact, several months, involving several treatments at intervals, are required.

While this preventive is not effective in all cases, the percentage of successes has been sufficiently high for every hay fever sufferer to give it a fair chance. In some patients, the results while not totally satisfactory, has noticeably reduced the suffering. Also recommended for diminution of suffering is cutting of ragweeds from locales where hay-fever sufferers frequent. Vagrant lots are a potent source of the ragweed and should be included in preventive measures against the disease.

"Indeed, science has developed a successful method of combating many forms of this seasonal affliction. For persons who possess this unusual sensitiveness to the pollens of certain plants, weeds, grasses and trees, serums have been developed to counteract it.

SHE SAID SHYLY, "Couldn't I take a peek?" He said bashfully, "Er-r lady, you can try."

He was a roughneck, which is the regular name for a worker like him in the oil fields. She was a dear, with two little grandsons back East whose lips would round as she told of looking down the world's deepest hole... down well-nigh 3 miles... down the famed 15,004-foot Conoco oil well in California.

You too are invited to see it. Of course, as the lady knows now, you can't squint so awfully far down a 3-mile bore. But if you could only get a squint into the 3-inch bore of your motor car's cylinders!... if you could only watch patented Conoco Germ Processed oil give your engine wondrous OIL-PLATING! Then you'd see those precious working parts not merely oil-splashed and oil-smears but OIL-PLATED with a perfect skin-fit—as bumpers are chromium-plated. Chromium-plating surely doesn't thin out, fry up, or drain down; and neither does OIL-PLATING. So it stays clear, up to the cylinder head despite 400 or 500 miles a day; despite 4 or 5 hours' parking—and longer. Then all your Summer starts and spurts will be wear-proofed by slippery OIL-PLATING that's never all gone. Home Method of Poisoning Flies

The following method of poisoning flies has been tried by Mrs. Homer Brumley. She reports that it is fairly successful. One of the best solutions for attracting and killing flies is a dilute mixture of formaldehyde (40 percent) with water and milk. A tablespoon in a pint of equal parts of water and milk will attract the flies and kill large numbers of them. The mixture should be poured into shallow dishes, soup plates for instance, and a crust of bread dropped into the middle of the dish for the flies to light upon and to facilitate their feeding. If the shades of all windows in a room but one are pulled down and a plate of this mixture set in the light, the flies will be attracted and killed. We have cleared a dining-room of every fly in an afternoon in this way. Formaldehyde will not prove so effective in dining rooms or kitchens where there is food, water or milk to which the flies have access. It will be most successful where it is the only liquid they can get to drink. Formaldehyde is not a virulent poison and little risk is run in using it. She finds that grasshopper poison is sweet enough to attract house flies and so long as the sacks are damp it is an effective method of destroying them. Fly papers—Tanglefoot fly papers should be used in a kitchen and in a dining room too, if the latter has flies in it. This fly paper can be had anywhere now, costs little, and is very efficient. No fly should be allowed to live a minute longer in any kitchen than is absolutely necessary. Better, a great deal, that it should live in the parlor. House flies are very fond of gathering on a string or strip of paper or cloth hanging from the ceiling. This habit is noticeable in any room where flies are abundant and the strips are available. It may be taken advantage of in a very effective manner, namely, by suspending narrow strips of tanglefoot fly paper from the ceiling. The flies will alight on these narrow strips when they will not go near the sheets lying on a table or window sill. It is amazing how easily and in what numbers they may be caught by this simple device.

Death Comes To Beloved Grandpa Metcalfe Tuesday

By Mrs. Ullman Hunter
Death visited our community once again — this time claiming a lovable and colorful character, Mr. Thomas Metcalfe, "Grandpa," as he was familiarly known, died at the home of his two sons, Jack and Tom, and his daughter, Emma, last Tuesday about 11 a. m. He would have been 91 years old on August 26. Mr. Metcalfe came here in 1923 from Shullsburg, Wis. He has been a retired and prosperous stock farmer in this community for many years, and has made many friends here.

Those who knew "Grandpa" loved him for his kindness and his sweet personality, and they admired him for his keen wisdom and kindly philosophy. Children, especially his own, loved him. One neighbor, after seeing "Grandpa" for the first time, asked his father if he were God — so impressed was the child with the old man's kindness and generosity.

Mr. Metcalfe was born of English parents. He became the father of fourteen children, only five of whom are now alive: Charles, Shullsburg, Wis.; Frank of St. Joseph, Mo.; Jack, Tom and Emma, all of Hereford.

Jack and Emma accompanied the body to Shullsburg, Wis., where the beloved man will be buried at the side of his dear wife, whose death preceded his own by 18 years.

Most of the Ward Community has met Oscar. Oscar is Marie Moreman's pet turtle, and he has been in the Ward limelight ever since she got him. He has not had an official christening as yet.

Woodrow Carmichael, Wyche, had an unfortunate accident last Sunday. He caught his right hand in the feeder chain of a combine, mauling three fingers so badly they had to be removed at the Deaf Smith County Hospital where he was rushed for emergency treatment.

Billy London, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. London, has a real treat in store for him on July 4th. He will be an eye-witness to the National League baseball game between St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs in Chicago. "The Gards," says Billy, "are my favorite team." Billy is visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Smith McElroy in Chicago this month.

Frank Richards looks familiar behind the meat counter at Hudson's. Frank has sold lots of groceries to Hereford people.

A man knocked on Bill Hunter's door this week. "Fella," he said, "could you give a man a place to sleep for a price? I have been in this town three days, and I can't find even a room to sleep in. I've just got to have some sleep." Available lodgings in Hereford are extremely scarce. If you don't believe it, just try to find a place to stay.

J. F. Merritt, Hereford Barber, recently saw his daughter, Frances, for the first time in thirty years. She had been living in South Dakota until a few months ago, when she moved to Amarillo to stay with her uncle, Bob Maupin. She came to Hereford from Amarillo to visit her father.

Mac Womble, who once lived in Hereford and now calls Colorado Springs, Colo., his home, was in Hereford this week to look after his wheat, which was planted before he left. He had never seen the wheat until this week, but he had been told it was pretty good. It halloed the night before he went out to look at his crop. Mac had a twenty percent loss, and a four-inch rain on top of that.

Residents on Lee Avenue are grateful for the thoughtfulness and precaution of city officials which led them to regulate the truck traffic so that only empty trucks returning from the elevators may travel on Lee. Most of the loaded trucks now take Jackson Avenue on their way to the elevators.

Onias Carroll has a lasting friend in grateful Mrs. Harriett Etzell of Phoenix, Ariz., who is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath, here. Mrs. Etzell drove all the way from Phoenix, with only her fine English bulldog, "Eighty," for company. As soon as Eighty got out of the car in Hereford, he bounded off, and consistent searching and urgent calling failed to accomplish his return. He was gone all that night. The next morning Mrs. Etzell went to the City Hall almost in desperation. Her dismay was not to last much longer, however, for Eighty was there. Onias had picked him up and kept him during the night and fed him the next morning, certain that he belonged to someone visiting in Hereford who would sooner or later call for him.

Miss Laverne Ellison of Canyon is visiting her sister, Mrs. Leonard Ralston this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ralston and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ralston spent Sunday in Pampa visiting the Ralston's mother, who is ill in the hospital there.

Hugh Quinn Buck, assistant attorney general of Texas, visited the F. H. Oberthiers here this week. He is employed in the Rates Department at Austin.

Mrs. W. V. Gearheart and daughter, Eva Mae, of Lamesa, accompanied her sister, Mrs. Wiley Roberson and Mrs. Gearheart's son, Charles, to Hereford yesterday for a visit here in the Roberson home. Mrs. Roberson and Charles Gearheart, who has been visiting here for the past month went to Lamesa for them.

Mrs. Earl Phillips and her two daughters, Margaret and Rosemary, left this week for Indianapolis, Ind., where they will visit her sister, Mrs. Calet.

FORMER HEREFORD WOMAN MARRIES

Relatives here have received word of the recent marriage of Mrs. Hazel Cronin to Mr. J. D. Bruner of Texola, Okla.

Mrs. Bruner who is the daughter of Mrs. Eula Rambo of Hereford, has been operating a gift shop in Texola for the past several months.

The couple will live in Texola, where he is connected with a cotton gin.

W. M. S. IS ENTERTAINED AT HAMMER HOME

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. B. Hammer, Wednesday afternoon. Hostesses were Mesdames D. W. Hawkins, H. H. Hawkins, E. W. Harrison and Mrs. Hammer.

The 14th chapter of John was used as a devotional, led by Mrs. M. M. Beavers. Mrs. J. F. Ward, president, conducted the business meeting, when reports from all circles were heard.

The time of meeting was changed from 3 to 4 o'clock during the summer months. Mrs. M. L. Steele gave the closing prayer, following a social hour and refreshments. All circles will meet at the church next Wednesday.

New Elevator

Fraser Milling Co. are bonded and insured, and they have the licensed approval for storage under the Federal Farm program.

Certificates of storage and receipts of storage insurance are available at these elevators. The Fraser Milling Co. now has one of the largest and best equipped elevator systems in the Southwest, and it is with pride that it announces the latest addition to its plant. It is now ready to give maximum service to wheat growers and truckers.

Quick action on the part of attendants in calling the Fire Department and efficient, rapid service of that agency averted the complete destruction of the building and its contents. Little insurance was carried, most of the insurance being on tools and equipment which was generally unhurt except for the electrical tools and apparatus.

bushel wheat. Luckily, most of the wheat reported damaged was also reported as insured.

Other growers reporting losses were Leon Tidwell and L. A. Wells, both of Wildorado, and J. M. White and W. F. Gillis of Dawn. Mr. White reported a 50 percent loss on half a section.

The hall at Dawn was one of several small storms that have been causing a little damage and quite a bit of anxiety all over the high plains territory since the first of last week. The worst damage was done at Perryton, where it was estimated that at least 25,000 acres of some of the best wheat in Ochiltree County were haled out.

Scattered storms have been reported in several localities since that time, and weather reports have frequently carried the ominous warning of possible hail.

With the majority of the wheat in Deaf Smith County still uncut, the possibility of hail still holds fearful consequences for farmers here.

Her address will stress the community work done by women's clubs and the civic good they have accomplished in the past.

Mrs. A. J. Schroeter will furnish the musical element on the program with a piano solo. Mrs. Ulrich Streu will be master of ceremonies.

Fire Damages

ly on some nearby gasoline used for cleaning parts, and it was out of control almost before other workers in the building knew it had started.

The brick veneer confined the blaze to the inside, but almost everything within was badly damaged either by the flames or by the water. All of the framework of the building was badly burned, but none of it fell.

Unestimated damage was to tools and machinery by the fire and water. Work benches and the concrete floor alone escaped unhurt. The fire caught in the roof and very nearly destroyed that part of the building.

Probably the worst damage was done to three of the automobiles which were being repaired at the time of the fire. A 1937 Dodge Sedan belonging to C. R. Smith was burned almost beyond recognition, and a 1936 Ford Tudor belonging to Lama Beavers, was badly damaged.

A used car that belonged to Ernest Medkief was burned practically to destruction. Three other cars in the garage building, one of which was the company's wrecker, were unhurt except for the damage done by the water.

The fact that the front part of the building is separated from the garage by a brick partition kept the damage from the fire being much worse. The only damage done to the front, or office end of the building was done by the water.

This part of the garage is occupied by the John Wood Implement Co. Quick action on the part of attendants in calling the Fire Department and efficient, rapid service of that agency averted the complete destruction of the building and its contents.

Little insurance was carried, most of the insurance being on tools and equipment which was generally unhurt except for the electrical tools and apparatus.

Miss Gwendolyn Spradley Is Wed In Quiet Home Ceremony Here Saturday

Miss Gwendolyn Spradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spradley, became the bride of Mr. Ralph Sellmeyer of Carlsbad, N. M., Saturday morning at the home of the bride's parents.

The marriage rites were read by the Rev. M. M. Beavers, pastor of the Methodist Church, before an improvised altar of potted palms and floor baskets of pink gladioli.

Mrs. R. P. Coneway sang the pre-nuptial solo, "O Promise Me," accompanied by Mrs. A. C. Thompson on the violin, and Mrs. James D. Neill at the piano. Mrs. Neill and Mrs. Thompson played "I Love You Truly," softly, during the ceremony and Mrs. Neill played the wedding march.

There were no attendants and the bride, who descended the stairway alone, wore navy blue marquisette over navy taffeta. Her street-length dress was made with fitted waist and flared skirt and puffed sleeves. Deep cream lace at the throat matched the petticoat frill at the hem line. Her picture hat was of straw with scarf trim and her flowers were gardenias. She wore an old-fashioned watch worn by her mother at her wedding.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served from a table laid with lace and centered with a silver basket of regal lilies flanked by lighted tapers in silver holders. Mrs. J. H. Pitman and Mrs. J. P. Slaton presided at the silver coffee services. Assisting in the dining room were Mesdames J. A. Pitman, O. E. Easley, C. A. Skelton and Miss Eloise Pitman.

The couple left after the reception for a short wedding trip before returning to Carlsbad, where they will live. The bride traveled in a black and yellow dress worn with a yellow redingote and black accessories. She is a graduate of Hereford High School and WTSC, Canyon. She has been a member of the Hereford public school faculty and has taught in Carlsbad for the past two years. He is connected with a potash company in Carlsbad.

Guests included close friends and relatives, with out-of-town guests including Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Neill of Carlsbad, N. M., J. Walter Spradley and Mrs. C. J. Crump of Borger, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. O'Brien Jr., of Amarillo.

MRS. HEDRICK IS HOSTESS FOR CLUB PARTY

Mrs. E. B. Hedrick entertained members and guests of the Cotterie Club Friday afternoon at her home on Fifth Street.

Red hollyhocks set the color note for the party in grouped arrangements here and there about the house.

Special guests who enjoyed bridge games with members were Mesdames Gaston-Baer, John Renfro, J. M. Posey, R. R. Willis, Jack Rose, W. J. Smith and Meade Halle.

Any Texan interested in food preparation is eligible to compete for the prize-winning egg-food recipe to be submitted to Miss Ethel Bob Montague at John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville, Texas, it was announced here this week by John B. Collier, Jr., of Fort Worth president of the Texas Poultry Association.

The winning recipe will receive a $1,000 prize Mr. Collier stated. The five most original healthful and appetizing egg-meal recipes submitted by Texans to Miss Montague will be sent to the World's Poultry Congress, convening in Cleveland, Ohio, from July 28 to August 7. There a national board will select 20 finalists to compete for the $1,000 national award.

Candidates will send at least one dinner or luncheon menu containing at least one egg-dish. Any contestant may send more than one entry, but each must be on a separate piece of paper with the sender's name in the upper right hand corner. All menus must be typed.

All entries must be mailed to Stephenville and be post-marked before midnight, June 30.

Dawn Items

(13 miles east)
MRS. JESS CALDWELL

The main subject of interest to be related in the Dawn items and practically the only news at present, is the progress of wheat harvest in this section. Though quite a number of farmers started their combines a week or ten days ago, due to delays on account of the frequent rains, harvest is barely under way. The average acreage submitted thus far has been unusually good—far better than formerly estimated. It has ranged all the way from 8 bushel to 50 bushels per acre; 8 bushels being the yieldage from volunteer wheat, and the 50 bushel wheat being harvested on irrigated wheat land. A number of good rains were received in the Dawn area the past week. Row crops were badly in need of the moisture, but it was rather detrimental to the wheat, which is already ripened, and ready to be harvested. Combines were unable to run for several days.

Among the names of the college students to appear on the Honor Roll at WTSC, Canyon, the spring semester, was that of Miss Alma Miller, daughter of Mr. H. H. Miller of Dawn. The achievement is quite an honor as only five percent of the student body are able to receive this rating. Alma plans to attend WT again the coming year, and at present is doing some graduate work. Her many friends are proud of her enviable record. Her main interest lies in the field of government.

Miss Bernice Harris who has been quite ill for sometime, is getting along nicely. Her many friends will be glad to hear of her rapid improvement.

Miss Mary Tiefert of Hereford is employed as bookkeeper at the Farmer's Elevator during the harvest season.

Misses Olene Ramey and Ruth Harding of Hereford, and Miss Wilma Ruth Baker, who is visiting relatives at Dawn, spent last Sunday afternoon in the W. P. Caraway home.

Mrs. Julia Samuelson visited in the home of her son, Otto Samuelson and family at Canyon, Tuesday.

Glenn Greer, a former Dawn resident, now of Hot Springs, is here working at the Great West Elevator during the summer. Glenn Greer with his family, lived in Dawn for a number of years, leaving Dawn some eight or nine years ago. The Greer family occupied the place where H. E. Miller now lives.

Gall Neal spent Tuesday in Amarillo at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Neal. Jess Caldwell, accompanied Gall to Amarillo.

Miss Alma Miller and Mrs. Aubrey O'Neil spent the weekend here at their respective homes, returning to their school work at Canyon Monday.

Lee Caraway came last Tuesday from Knox City for a visit in the home of his uncle, W. P. Caraway and family, and at present is working in the wheat harvest.

Mrs. W. F. Seymour is on the sick list this week.

Jess Ford is employed by the Pitman Elevator Company at Hereford. Mr. Ford and his family recently moved to this community.

Westway Items

(10 miles west)
MRS. MERLIN KAUL

Harvest is now in full swing whenever the combines can get into the fields. Since last Tuesday practically two and one-half inches of rain have fallen in this community, thus delaying harvesting. There is a constant rumble and roar of trucks along Harrison Highway which can be compared to the busiest thoroughfares of any city. D. H. Allmon counted for an hour Sunday afternoon and the trucks past his place averaged two per minute.

The car driven by Mrs. George Jones was slightly damaged Sunday afternoon when she collided with a combine which had stopped at the Westway store. Mrs. Jones attempted to stop at the gas pump at the store and her brakes failed to take hold. A truck was parked on the runway a few feet from the combine and she attempted to run between the two machines. The combine was slightly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Dodson entertained with a dinner Sunday, honoring Miss Betty Tom Roe of Ardmore, Okla., who is visiting friends and relatives here. Those present included Misses Vesta Mae Landers, Nannette Little, Mary Turrentine, Winifred Bransford and the honor guest. In the afternoon the group was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Dodson to Buffalo Lake.

The glider of Captain Peter Riedel, German glider pilot, was forced down Saturday evening en route from Albuquerque to Wichita Falls. It landed on the W. L. Jones place directly east of the Al Werner home. Quite a number went to the Jones place Sunday morning to watch attempts to get the glider into the air for a take-off. Wind currents were not favorable so it was taken on its journey in the trailer provided for it. The glider is on a transcontinental flight.

Robert Rudd of Bronte, is visiting in the home of his brother, Paul Rudd.

S. B. Campbell and his son Ernest of Breckenridge, are visiting relatives here and harvesting.

Mrs. Orville Houser and Mrs. Buddy Witherspoon of Hereford, helped their mother, Mrs. G. C. Hartman, paper last Wednesday.

Leon Hartman knows that carelessness doesn't pay. Last Thursday morning Leon had his .22 rifle and was pointing it toward his foot. Without thinking he pulled the trigger and shot a hole through his foot directly back of his toes. He was taken to the doctor who found that no bones were injured. It is healing nicely and he is able to get around.

The Home Demonstration Club met last Thursday with Mrs. G. C. Hartman. Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, CHDA, was present and talked about "Garden Insects and their Control."

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Merlin Kaul on Thursday, July 13, at which time Mrs. Jim Dale and Mrs. Kaul will demonstrate Fruit Salad Plate.

Mrs. L. B. Wolfington has been quite ill the last few days. She was taken Sunday to the Fred Wolfington home in Hereford, where she could be near the doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cannon of Iowa, visited Mrs. Cannon's brother, Jim Dale and Mrs. Dale, last week. They came here after visiting Mrs. C. H. Dickerson, mother of Mr. Dale and Mrs. Cannon, at May, Okla. While there a tornado struck, blowing away the barn and sheds and damaging the house. Everything in the house was damaged and Mrs. Cannon had to repair and clean all of her clothes, which were nearly ruined.

Mrs. Merlin Kaul attended a demonstration at the home of Miss Sadie Lee Oliver in Hereford Saturday.

Marcus Houser of Hereford, visited Leon Hartman Thursday. R. M. Gunn has been suffering with a sore eye for the past week.

Vesta Mae Landers is assisting Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gunn at the store during the harvest rush.

Lloyd Brady is back on his ice route this week. He accompanied the body of his brother, Boyd Brady, to Mangum, Okla., last week for burial.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cox and family went to Portales, N. M., Saturday night, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Donald Edmonds. They stopped at Clovis, N. M., Sunday and visited the zoo. Bob Visage, who is helping Mr. Cox during harvest, accompanied them and spent the week end with his family.

Rev. M. M. Beavers of Hereford was unable to fill his appointment here Sunday. The attendance at Sunday school was smaller than usual. Mr. and Mrs. Bill McIvers and son, were visitors.

Ward News

MRS. CHARLES B. MILES

A good half-inch rain fell here last week, which put the stubble in good condition for plowing. Several farmers plan to plant their row crop again next week if it rains some more.

The stream of trucks to the elevators never stops.

We had a bad dust storm Sunday evening, but no rain.

J. L. Smith and sons have three combines at work cutting their wheat which is making from 20 to 30 bushels to the acre. Everyone seems to be in better spirits since the wheat harvest began.

HEREFORD

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

If you are wondering who will be the next postmaster, the man is Jim Lipscomb. At least, according to the inside dope which has reached Hereford during the past few days indicates as much—and you can depend upon this.

Congratulations, Jim. We are sure that it was a tough job in deciding who was to become postmaster, but everyone thinks that you will be a good one. You have an exceptionally fine bunch to work with in the Hereford office, and the entire community is looking forward to the time when work will begin on the new $75,000 Federal building. Hereford really needs a new post office. If the officials in the Treasury Department had to strike a match every time they worked the combination of their post office box, or if they had to stand in a line which backed into the sidewalk every time they went after their mail, something would probably be done in the near future.

George LeGrand thought he was going blind Tuesday morning. The windshield of his car was bespeckled with mud—and he saw black spots before his eyes all of the way to town. Upon entering the drug store he would have sworn that Henry Jewell (top fountain hand) had red hair. Closer inspection disclosed Henry's hair was red, thanks to a henna rinse, or a first-class treatment of scarlet Rit.

W. L. Alexander, who has practically no hair at all, even had the nerve to make some crack about the radical change. And speaking of having nerve on a big scale, Lawrence Womble takes the crocheted bathtub. Right in the middle of harvest, he pulled out and went fishing in Colorado. It sure is burning down Ernest Medkief and Noah Ewton, who until now held the record for going fishing when everyone else had to work; they are almost sorry that they even made any wheat.

You may think that The Brand over-played the write-up on the Jones' "Box Car Home" this week. Considering its news value, I think so myself—but if you'll take the time to inspect it next Sunday afternoon, you'll understand why it happened. It's really worth your time to make the short trip, and those two kids, who are getting their first real chance at life, will enjoy your visit immensely.

Frank Cogdell said he believes The Brand should have a headline about the Firemen taking the IOOF squad to a cleaning in the softball game Monday night. The line should read, "FIREMEN FINALLY WIN ONE GAME." This is the first game the nozzle-pushers have won this season, and they sure are proud. Of course Frank didn't mention that most of the IOOF players were out because of harvest. The firemen probably filled in a few gaps, too, accounting for their victory. Even if they can't play ball, those boys sure can fight fire. I believe that Hereford has one of the most efficient volunteer fire departments in the entire State of Texas.

Bill McLean gave me a list of 17 July 4th Rodeos to be held in this neck of the woods, but I lost the list—and everyone will likely be too busy to attend a rodeo, anyhow.

Capt. Peter Riedel, attache with the German embassy in Washington, created quite a stir when he landed his glider in the Jones field about three miles west of here on Harrison Highway last Saturday evening. A lot of people came out to see him take off, which he didn't—at least not for good. However, he did make a short demonstration flight. Almost everyone had a lot of questions to ask, but I don't think anyone asked him the question they most wanted to know—at least the one most frequently popped at me, "Wonder what he thinks of Hitler?" Since he is one of the German diplomatic staff, he is working for Hitler and there should be little guessing as to what his reply would have been, no matter what his real thoughts.

If you are really interested in what the German people think of Hitler, you will find the answer in a book in the County Library. It is entitled, "Reaching for the Stars," and was written by Nora Hohn. I have it checked out now, but intend to return it next Monday. You'll be surprised, and if you are interested you will like the book.

"Fidge" Chronister, desk clerk at the Texas Hotel, came to see the young German take off, and told the following incident in regard to Capt. Riedel's broken English.

"Have you a room free of me," the pilot asked on entering the hotel.

"No," she replied, "we charge for all of our rooms."

After considerable argument, Riedel got over the idea that he meant "a room free of occupants," rather than a room free of charge—and almost immediately was shown to his quarters.

Fuffy Acker was among those who affixed his name, among hundreds of others, on the wing of the plane.

Rain and Wheat

Just Don't Mix!

We realize that the recent rains have run the test down on wheat—and if the rains keep on, serious Damage can result. For that reason we have installed an AUTOMATIC POWER SHOVEL—to speed unloading in our Elevators. We know that you must harvest your wheat when the weather permits—and that delay at the Elevator can possibly ruin the first chance you have had for a crop since 1931.

WE ARE EQUIPPED TO HANDLE YOUR WHEAT FAST AND EFFICIENTLY!
Don't Take Chances — Bring Us Your Wheat!

DON'T TAKE CHANCES — CUT YOUR WHEAT AS FAST AS POSSIBLE — AND HANDLE IT WITH THE LEAST POSSIBLE DELAY!

Premium Paid On Wheat With High Protein Content

A dry year in Texas usually means high protein wheat, and that's one reason why wheat farm leaders here are glad to know that the Commodity Credit Corporation will grant protein premiums this year in addition to the regular loan rates, already announced.

The grain must contain at least 13 percent protein to be eligible for a premium. The bounty is 1 cent a bushel for Texas wheat of 13 to 13.9 percent protein, and one cent for each additional per cent beginning at 14.

Charles Thomas of Pampa, wheat producer and member of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, said undoubtedly a lot more farmers will take advantage of the wheat loan this year than did last year, as the 1939 program has come out in time for the farmer to give it plenty of thought and soon enough for the AAA to set up lending mechanism before harvest is too far along.

Wheat loans likely will be made in 127 counties this year, he said.

To explain how the wheat loan and protein premium apply, Thomas cited the hypothetical Mr. Blank of Potter county.

Mr. Blank supposedly has 1,000 bushels of No. 2 Hard-Red Winter Wheat with a protein test of 14 percent. The basic loan rate for Texas is the Galveston rate of 85 cents. Subtract 21 cents (freight rate from Potter county to Galveston) and 3 cents (handling charge). That leaves 61 cents. Add 2 cents (protein premium) and that nets Mr. Blank 63 cents a bushel on 1,000 bushels, or $630. Without the premium he would have been able to borrow only $610 on his wheat.

Farmers who intend to take advantage of the AAA loan facilities are warned that they must be in compliance with the Federal Farm Program in order to be eligible for a loan. If they are not in the program, they are not eligible for the loan.

Applications for loans can be made at the elevators or at the County Agent's office.
