County Tire Rationing Board Named; Will Determine Eligible List of New Tire Purchasers

Around Town

Sights and Faces Seen

Even car sale bans have a silver lining. Fred Baird says that he feels mighty good about not having to apologize for his old car any more, now that the government has given him a good excuse for driving it.

Mrs. R. P. Coneway is doing some informal U. S. O. work—or maybe it is what was called canteen duties during the last war. Living across the creek south of town, Mrs. Coneway often has to wait for trains to get across the track when she comes to town.

Lately she has waited for a lot of troop trains, and while waiting has met soldiers from all over the country. Mrs. Coneway has given away a great many magazines to the boys, has bought papers for them and mailed letters. The men are uniformly friendly and appreciative of kindness, the Hereford woman finds.

Travis Dickson, teacher at Westway School, was in town last week to report that the five dollars worth of defense stamps purchased by the Westway trustees did not even begin to take care of the demand for the defense securities. All trustees in the county have bought five dollars in stamps to sell to the rural school children, and rivalry is high among the schools.

The "V for Victory" potato which was on display several months ago at the First National Bank and about which the brand carried a story, will be featured in Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" on Jan. 15.

R. C. Cheshire and J. D. Reese are officers of the State Department of Public Safety who now make Hereford their headquarters. Cheshire and Reese are engaged in law enforcement work and this week took part in the hunt for the Sudan bank robbers. The state officers can usually be located through the county.

New Incubator Installed At Local Hatchery

Installation of a new Bundy Incubator and Hatcher was today announced by Jack Wright, manager of West Texas Feed & Seed Store. He invited the public to visit the store and to inspect the modern equipment.

The incubator has a capacity of 22,275 eggs and is in three units. Operation of the new equipment is entirely automatic offering thermostatic control of temperature and humidity. The incubator was shipped direct to Hereford from the factory and is likely to be one of the last to be produced, due to shortage of materials, Mr. Wright said.

"Installation of this hatchery is the answer to hope which I have held for many years and I am glad to say that we now have one of the best set-ups in the country," Mr. Wright continued. "I want all interested persons to visit the hatchery and to inspect the new equipment, which is already installed and ready for operation."

Mr. Wright also pointed out that he is interested in contacting owners of blood-tested flocks in order to secure setting eggs. He said that owners of good quality chickens might also see him in regard to blood tests.

Present plans also include custom hatching on a small scale, but he stated that all eggs which are custom hatched will also have to come from blood tested flocks.

Wirt Phillips, Criss Renfro and E. H. Norton were this week named by County Judge A. J. Schroeter as members of the tire rationing board of Deaf Smith County, as the rationing system went into effect on Monday, Jan. 5, and practically all citizens became acutely aware of this first real defense shortage.

The county's tire and tube quotas for January, as published by the state office of the division for emergency management, are for 15 tires and 13 tubes for passenger cars, motorcycles and light trucks, 56 truck and bus tires and 47 truck and bus tubes. The quotas will be changed from month to month, the state office announces, and even eligible users will have to prove definitely that their old tires are unsafe and that they cannot be replaced, reconditioned or retreaded.

No tire purchase certificate will be issued unless the applicant is to mount the tire on:

1. A vehicle which is operated by a physician, surgeon, visiting nurse or veterinarian, and which is used principally for professional services.
 2. On an ambulance.
 3. On a vehicle which is used for some service vital to the maintenance of public safety (police cars, fire engines, etc.).
 4. On a vehicle with a capacity of ten or more passengers operated exclusively as part of a public transportation system or as a school bus.
 5. On a truck operated in the carrying out of necessary services of public utilities.
- The county tire rationing board will soon have an office, Judge Schroeter states, and will be able to take care of all county requests for tire purchase certificates. Members of the board are donating their services.

Patriotic "Bells" Ring For Uncle Sam

These "Bells" for defense rang in the New Year for Uncle Sam in a materialistic way, for Jan. 1 found James H. Bell making airplanes for Uncle Sam, Lt. Charles A. Bell, flying them; Lt. Robert A. Bell, finding them and Major D. G. Bell shooting them down.

They are the four sons of Mrs. A. G. Bell of Hereford. James H. Bell is making airplanes for the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation in San Diego, Calif.; Lt. Charles A. Bell is flying for the U. S. Army Air Corps in the Canal Zone; Lt. Robert Bell is finding the planes in the U. S. Army Aircraft Warning Service at Seattle, Wash., and Major D. G. Bell is shooting them down for the U. S. Army Anti-Aircraft in Hawaii.

Charles recently received his commission as a lieutenant after one year's training as a flying cadet.

Rogert has just completed a four months course of study in aircraft warning work at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and spent Tuesday here with his mother and sister, Evelyn, on his return trip to Seattle. He was accompanied by his wife.

Red Cross Sewing Room Production

Since the opening of the Red Cross Sewing Rooms on Sept. 15, the following articles have been completed and are now ready for shipment:

- 150 hospital bed shirts.
- 17 bedside bags.
- 100 comfort kits.
- 105 bedside table covers.
- 66 2-year-old children's print dresses.
- 54 8-year-old children's outfitting dresses.

Approximately 2300 hours of sewing, cutting and planning have been given by the women of Deaf Smith County. To date 109 women are enrolled in the sewing division.

Thanks are due the American Legion for furnishing convenient quarters for the sewing room and to those who volunteered their services when the Red Cross Sewing Rooms were moved from the court house.

The Task Is Set

60,000 Planes this year, 125,000 next year.
45,000 Tanks this year, 75,000 next.
20,000 Anti-aircraft guns this year, 35,000 next.
8,000,000 tons of shipping this year, 10,000,000 in 1943.

America echoes President Roosevelt's production goals to defeat the Axis.

We don't build planes in Hereford; there is not a tank or an anti-aircraft factory in the county; there are no shipyards within a thousand miles.

But we have a job in this war, and the people of the Hereford territory join with the rest of America in saying "O. K., Mr. President, let's go."

For increased production means more food, and our country is part of the wheat bin of the nation; it means meat for the armies and workers in factories—the cattle are fat and sleek on our plains; it means dipping down into our pockets for more taxes, for the money to buy defense savings stamps and bonds—we can take it. And we aren't looking at this war through rose-colored glasses. It's going to be tough, but we can be tough too. If Americans hadn't been tough we wouldn't be the nation we are today.

America doesn't get angry easily, but these guys asked for it—and if production will do the job, we are out to produce the world. "Production," the president said, "is based on men and women." We are part of the great production machine of America and we are ready to go.

War Week Sees Hopeful News On Most Fronts For Anti-Axis Governments

Bill Smith Buys Gulf Station On Third Street

W. J. (Bill) Smith today announced his purchase of the Gulf Service Station on West Third Street. Kellar Muse, Gulf Wholesale dealer, has been operating the station for the past few months.

Smith, who has been living at Ruidoso, N. M., for some time, is well known to Hereford people, and invites his friends to visit him at his new business location. "We are completely equipped to give washing and greasing service," Smith says, "and our merchandise is all strictly high quality. Careful, courteous service is going to be a specialty with us."

Free Show, Lunch Are Given By Davis-McCracken

A free lunch, a free movie and a chance to see a new butane tractor demonstrated are on the program offered by Davis-McCracken, Minneapolis-Moline dealers, who will hold open house on Thursday, Jan. 15, starting at 10 o'clock and lasting all day. Visitors may register and get tickets starting at 10 o'clock and a free lunch will be served at noon, W. L. Davis and J. C. McCracken announce.

One of the movies to be shown is "Thunderheads Over the Pacific," a travelogue of the far East showing scenes in China, Singapore, the Dutch East Indies and Australia, all of which are now a part of the vast Pacific War Theatre.

The pictures shown are in natural color kodachrome with musical and sound background to add to their entertainment and interest.

The other picture is "In Our Own American Way" and shows historical points of interest and natural wonders of the United States, together with a study of the nation gearing for defense, with special emphasis on the part of Agriculture in meeting the war needs of the nation.

Davis and McCracken extend a cordial invitation to every family in the territory to attend this interesting program.

Too Little or Too Big, Regular Army Sizes, Are Not for Bud Brady

The army has two standard clothing sizes—too little and too big—according to most recruits; but "too big" just isn't big enough. At least that is the story that Bud Brady, who recently joined the U. S. Army Air Corps, could tell.

Bud and C. V. McCord volunteered at the same time and both boys were sent to Shepard Field at Wichita Falls, with the idea of being transferred soon to some other army base. Last week C. V. was sent to Fort Sill, but Bud is still at Wichita Falls until the army has shoes made to fit him.

In other words, join the army and wear custom-built shoes.

This week in the war was marked by President Roosevelt's State of the Nation Address to Congress in which he asked for a budget of nearly five billion dollars a month in an all-out production effort to bring the Axis to its knees and announced that American forces would carry the fight to the enemy on its own soil, bringing approval from the nation and from Congress, which only a few months earlier had banned the sending of an A. E. F. to any battlefield outside the western hemisphere.

Jap Fleet Damaged

On the war fronts of the world, America heard its most encouraging word of the war in the news of American aerial attacks on a Japanese naval force off the southern coast of Davao, in the Philippine Islands. Two destroyers were reported sunk, with three direct hits on a battleship and other damage done, the exact extent of which could not be ascertained. At the same time China reported successful operations against Jap land forces.

While Manila has fallen, the forces of General Douglas MacArthur continue to put up a stubborn battle of the Island of Luzon; and the Garrison at Corregidor Fortress in Manila Bay says that repeated Japanese bombing attacks have done no appreciable damage to the fortifications, while American anti-aircraft fire has been accurate in bringing down Japanese planes.

Only dark spot in the far East this week is at Malaya, where new Japanese landing attempts are meeting with some success and the threat to Singapore is still considered serious; though British resistance is stiffening under the direction of new commander of the far eastern Allied Forces, Sir Archibald Wavell.

County Exceeds Red Cross Quota

Deaf Smith County exceeded its quota for the War Relief Red Cross Fund by $74, S. P. Rosson, chairman of the drive, announced today, adding that reports of some of the volunteer workers were still out and that the final report would show an even larger excess over the quota.

"I want to express the appreciation of the Red Cross for this fine response," Mr. Rosson said, "and for myself I wish to thank all the roll call workers for their help in putting the campaign over."

Most donations were small, the chairman pointed out, and they came from every section of the county. This type of donation is what the Red Cross wanted, Mr. Rosson declares, because it shows a county-wide spirit of co-operation in doing everything possible to help our soldiers at the front, and proves that people all over this territory are aware of the needs developed by the war.

As yet, the county Red Cross chapter has received no information concerning another drive for funds, but it is probable that other calls will come as further war needs occur, and local Red Cross officials feel sure that people of this county will answer all calls as generously as they have this War Relief Drive.

Defense Shop Opens Soon To Aid Farmers Of This Section

Useful Studies Offered By Civ. Defense Group

Volunteers for civilian defense work are signing up slowly and A. J. Schroeter, chairman of the county civilian defense committee, this week requested citizens to come to his office and sign registration cards. "We can't get started on any program," Schroeter states, "until we know how many people we have to work, what jobs they are capable of doing, and what special training they would like to take."

The county chairman points out that he believes people have failed to sign up for civilian defense because they believe the prospect of actual attack in this territory is remote. But conceding that warfare here is unlikely, there is still a great deal of value to the civilian defense program, the chairman believes, pointing out that it can give valuable training in nursing, first aid, and mechanics, which will prove useful to citizens in ordinary life.

Also the high school students should find many useful aspects to the civilian defense program, Schroeter declares, pointing out that these young people may see some sort of active duty before the war is over and that training received now would be helpful to most of them.

A first aid course will very likely be offered, and a nursing course is also under consideration, the chairman explains, adding that all courses depend on the amount of interest shown by the public in the work.

Hennen Comes Out For County Judge

H. V. Hennen this week authorized The Hereford Brand to announce his candidacy for the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio School Superintendent, subject to action of the Democratic Primary.

In making his announcement, Mr. Hennen made the following statement:

"I ask the consideration of the voters of Deaf Smith County on the basis of experience and ability to serve them efficiently and economically, offering the following record:

- "Eight years experience as Judge of Corporation Court."
- "Experience in planning and construction of paving of streets and highways."
- "Twelve years as City Manager of Denton, Texas, and Brownwood, Texas; duties included taxation and management of public owned utilities."
- "Experience in teaching rural schools of Texas for two years and as a board member four years."
- "In 1937, Mr. Hennen organized the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Inc., bringing REA service to a present list of more than 700 persons and with an approved allotment that will serve 300 additional members. Since that time he has served as active manager of the cooperative which is now a going concern."
- "I will naturally hate to leave the cooperative," Mr. Hennen continued, "but I believe that I can render the people of Deaf Smith County a service as their county judge, and it is upon this basis, supported by my experience and qualities that I solicit your influence."

Evangelist

Miss Eskew Is Speaker For Revival Meeting

Miss Verbal Eskew of St. Louis, Mo., is the evangelist for the revival meeting now in progress at the Assembly of God Church, Rev. A. A. Daly, pastor, announced this week.

"We cordially invite the public to attend these services," says Rev. Daly, adding that real gospel messages are being given each evening.

Special singing and music are featured at all services, and Miss Eskew's messages are meeting with an enthusiastic reception, the local pastor states.

The Assembly of God Church is located at the corner of 11th and G streets.

Otho Douglas Injured In Hawaiian Battle

At least one Hereford boy was injured in the Japanese attack on Hawaii, but reports received this week by Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Douglas, parents of Otho J. Douglas, stated that their son was recovering from burns received when a shell exploded near him.

The Douglasses received a telegram from the war department, stating that Otho was wounded but not explaining the seriousness of his injury. A letter received from their son last week said he was not critically injured but that he would probably be in the hospital in Honolulu for about six weeks more.

Douglas attended the Hereford schools and has many friends here. He had been in the army in Hawaii for about five weeks before the attack on Honolulu.

Plans Laid For President's Birthday Ball

The Deaf Smith County Committee of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation is meeting this afternoon to make plans for the local celebration of the President's Birthday on Jan. 30.

Proceeds from Birthday Balls go to the fund to combat infantile paralysis in the United States, with local chapters using part of the money collected in each county for cases within the county. The Deaf Smith County Chapter, organized last year, has a permanent fund for aiding infantile paralysis cases in this county and has already secured treatment for one case this year, according to Harold Close, chairman.

The meeting this afternoon will lay plans for the Birthday Ball and probably for other entertainments to raise money for the infantile paralysis fund.

Members of the county committee are Mr. Close, chairman, and L. H. Foster, E. C. Eubanks, John Olson, Rev. H. M. Redford, Jim Lipscomb, Dr. R. E. Wills, Mrs. Essie Cardwell, Mrs. Dyalthis Brady, C. G. Acker, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver and A. R. Batesman.

Approval was received this week for an N. Y. A. defense shop course which will open at the Hereford High School Agriculture shop on Jan. 19, according to W. M. Emmons who invites all farmers and other persons interested in a study in gasoline engines to take the course.

"The time will be at 7 o'clock, and lessons will be held five nights each week," Emmons said, "however, if 7 o'clock is too early we will change the hour to suit the convenience of most of those taking the course."

Nelson McRight, local machine shop operator, will teach the course which will be concerned with all type gasoline motors and will give students expert training in the care of tractor, trucks, combines and automobile motors.

Persons taking the course may bring motors to the shop for repair; but will have to purchase any parts which may be needed; but all instruction is free, Emmons says.

The course is open to any person not now attending school and will be valuable not only to farmers but to any boys who may be going into the army. "These boys can get training which may get them preferential rating in the army," Emmons says.

Farmers would really profit by sending any men they employ

Buy Garden Seed Now, Says CHDA

"This weather may not make anybody think of going out and starting a garden, but it is a good time to start thinking about the matter and buying seeds for use this spring," says Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county home demonstration agent.

The reason for buying seed so early, says Miss Oliver, is that the Food for Freedom campaign has resulted in a great increase in the number of home gardens, and there may be a seed shortage if all gardeners wait until planting time to make seed purchases.

In Deaf Smith County alone, Miss Oliver states, there will be 450 new home gardens next year; and this increase is being duplicated all over the county.

Miss Oliver also advises gardeners to buy insect poison—the type non-poisonous to human beings and generally called Rotenone. This poison should be purchased early because it is an imported product and existing supplies may not last until next summer.

Bond Sales Still Below Desired Quota

Total bond sales in Deaf Smith County since the beginning of the defense savings campaign have been $41,785, Claude Ricketts, chairman of the county defense securities committee, announced today, adding that he considered the figure to be far short of the amount which the county should buy.

"Amarillo's sales for the same period have been about 2 1-2 million dollars," Ricketts said, "and on a basis of population, I figure that we are doing only about a fourth as well as we should be doing."

These figures, says the committee chairman, give Deaf Smith County people an idea of what improvement we are going to have to make to do our part in the war effort of the nation.

NEWS in the WORLD of RELIGION by W.W. REID

"No matter what the present breakdown may seem to be in many countries, your work has not been in vain," is the word which has been sent by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church to all its missionaries in Africa, Asia, and South America. "You and your predecessors have left the mark of Christ upon the nations in many ways. You have laid the foundations of a more abundant life for the bodies, the minds, and the spirits of those among whom you have labored. You have added immeasurably to the physical well-being of peoples; children are better cared for and shine in new value; women have been raised to a dignity before unknown; and human rights have become clear enough so that in some sure time they will prevail. We have full confidence that doors which seem now so tightly shut will be open again. We are continuing our material contributions in all lands where it is possible. We are recruiting and training new missionaries that we may be ready for the times of the divine strategy."

Perhaps Americans are often unaware that Christianity is older in Iceland than it is in many parts of Europe. Historians tell us that it was accepted by the Althing, Iceland's thousand-year-old Parliament, in 1000, the same year that Iceland-born Lief Ericsson is said to have discovered the mainland of what is now the United States. The Althing's vote to accept Christianity did not make the land immediately Christian but it gave foreign missionaries a chance, and the religion of Christ eventually supplanted the religion of Odin and

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. Plans are under way for the merging of eight American-wide interdenominational Protestant bodies into one organization which will probably be known as "The Council of Churches of Christ in North America." The merger would include the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and groups especially engaged in home and foreign missionary work and in religious education; in International Council of Religious Education, the Home Missions Council of North America, the Foreign Missions Council of North America, the National Council of Church Women, the Missionary Education Movement, the Council of Church Boards of Education, and the Association of Council Secretaries. All of the functions of these bodies would be carried on by the larger group—probably as departments. The proposal is now being considered by the several bodies involved, the executives having favored the merger.

The Rev. Thomas Tiplady, famed as a poet and as a chaplain in the first World War, has written a number of hymns before and since the destruction by bombs of Lambeth Mission, London, of which he was superintendent. His "Prayer in Time of War" has this verse:

"Preserve our hearts from hateful thought;
In malice may no deed be wrought,
May justice hold the balance true
In all we think or speak or do;
The years of peace may we foresee,
And seek a victory blest by Thee."

A curtain of felt material provides protection in blackouts. Material is put on a flexible piece of wood with thumb tacks and is hung from the top of the window just like a picture. Adrian News

By MRS. GEORGE A. SYMS

The attendance at Sunday School was 25, far below average due to the extremely cold weather. Rev. Ray Riley preached at both morning and evening services.
The Adrian Parent-Teacher association will hold its January meeting at the school building, Tuesday, Jan. 13, at 8:15 p. m. A movie in connection with the topic "Mobilizing for Safety" will be shown as the entertainment feature of the evening. Hostesses for the occasion are Mesdames O. G. Calhoun, Eugene Brouse and John Skaggs.
Rev. W. J. Williams spent the holidays visiting relatives near Plainview and returned to Adrian the latter part of the week.

ON THE HIGHWAY

An Announcement...

To The Car Owners:

As you all probably know, no more new cars will be available to most of us for some time to come, probably for the duration of the war, which will naturally work a hardship on all of us. Repair parts are hard to get—good mechanics are becoming fewer and fewer, because of the demand for them in defense works and higher wages in larger places than Hereford.

We have had many of our friends and customers inquire as to whether we could or whether we intended to try to stay in business. We have even heard some rumors that we were closing.

As an automobile dealer, our first impulse was to "close shop" and give up what at first looked like a hopeless task. Upon further thought we decided that as new car dealer we owe to our friends and customers the best service department possible, plus a place to get parts to keep these cars, trucks and pickups going. Please bear with us if it takes a little longer to get those much-needed repairs. With a shortage of men it will be necessary for you to notify us a day or two ahead so that we may get the needed parts if not in stock.

We are trying to add to our shop force the kind of men whom you can depend on—men who will see that you obtain the maximum mileage from your present car or pickup.

TIRES...

This tire situation is bad, make no mistake about that. We feel certain, however, that there is now a re-capped tire on the market that will give you service and fill your needs. Watch your present tires. We have in our shop a complete REAR wheel balancing machine, plus front-end alignment equipment which will insure you the longest possible life from your tires. We believe firmly that we can add 50 percent to the life of your tires if you will come down and let us be sure your car is in proper alignment and if the steering is set properly. We make no charge for this check-up, and if the car does need work the charge will be nominal.

PRICES...

Wages for men and mechanics have naturally gone up sharply in the past year, and of course it is necessary for us to charge a little more than in the past. We pledge to you that you will have to pay no more than is needed to pay expenses plus a reasonable profit.

BUDGET PAY PLAN...

Remember that you can buy from $10.00 to $150.00 here and pay your bill in small monthly installments. No insurance on carrying charge is added.

PAINTING, FENDER WORK, GLASS INSTALLATION...

NOW IS A GOOD TIME to have the present car dressed up to look like new. We have two expert body and paint men whose services are reasonable and who have the equipment to do the job well. We will appreciate your patronage, and will try to take care of your needs to the best of our ability.

Very truly yours,

Ireland Motor Company

Let's Cook Something

Meals tell a lovely story—they tell about the systematic planning and the economical buying of foods. They reveal the housewife's forethought for her family and friends and then they speak volumes concerning her pride in her home and in her ability. Time was—and not too long ago—when the foods one cooked were largely a matter of seasons. Today, with cold storage lockers and other preserving methods—foods of every conceivable sort are on hand, to fit any taste or budget in all seasons.

Young cooks the world over have adapted their mother's time-proven recipes to suit their needs and that's what Mrs.

James R. Allison has done with this Kentucky favorite. She passes it on to other young cooks, but you'll be glad you tried it if you are an old hand at the game.

Special Health Measures Work With Defense Set-up

Outlining the immediate step being taken in emergency health measures for national defense, Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who is acting as Chairman of Defense Health and Emergency Medical Core, today announced that the Offices of Civilian Defense are working in close collaboration with the American Red Cross and have, now available, seven types of defense work training courses.

In those lines of work closely allied with emergency medical care, those considered most important and which have therefore been given precedence in organization, are first aid training, nurses' aides training, canteen service, motor corps, home nursing, disaster relief, and home service to assist with the problems of families of the men in uniform.

Since there has been some confusion concerning the proper procedure for enrolling in civilian defense work, Doctor Cox emphasized the fact that County Judges and Mayors throughout the state are acting as defense coordinators and advised all who wish to enroll to communicate with these officials for full information.

Training will be available to all who wish to register, Doctor Cox stated, and workers will be assigned to those duties which they prefer, and/or which they are best fitted.

school sewing machine will be repaired, and available to use. There are also large tables to cut materials from. Every woman of the community is urged to come and work. A hostess will be in charge each time to supervise the work and have materials on hand. To those who want to learn to knit, bring your needles, numbers four, five or six, and there will be someone to teach you. Red Cross is in need of women to knit.

Women present for the above meetings were Mesdames H. C. Baird, Sam, Fins and Ullman Hunter.

CHDA NOTES

By Sadie Lee Oliver

Home demonstration officers will meet Saturday, Jan. 17, at 2:30 p. m., at the county court room for a training school. Visitors will be welcome at the meeting.

The duties of the club officers will be discussed by the county home demonstration agent and others, and the discussion will be followed by a round-table discussion in which each person will participate.

In case the roads are bad on Jan. 17, meeting will be held on Jan. 31.

One Deaf Smith County poultry raiser who is keeping a systematic record on her flock has found that increased chicken and egg production pay real financial dividends.

In December, this lady used 20 dozen eggs in her holiday cooking and in cooking for harvest workers. Although her hens produced only an average of 8.13 eggs that month, which is somewhat lower than recommended production; she feels that she made money by having the flock during December when egg prices were high.

Her profit was $25.44. Any poultry demonstrator who wants one, can have a poultry record book in which to keep flock records. These books are available at the county home demonstration agent's office and sell at 15 cents. They enable the poultry raiser to tell at a glance the profit or loss on his flock.

A bulletin now available at the agent's office is one on "Control of Vitamin A Deficiency in Feeding Beef Cattle." The bulletin should be of value to all farmers and ranchers in this territory.

The county demonstration club yearbooks for 1942 will emphasize the use of whole grain products and will try to make clear to club members not only the importance of these products but the good fortune of Deaf Smith County in having two mills where wheat and corn whole grain products are available.

At present, nutrition experts are recommending the serving of two portions of whole grain pro-

The coldest weather of the winter hit here over the week end bringing with it a small amount of snow.

There was Sunday School and church Sunday morning and church Sunday night, although the crowds were small.

The school cafeteria got off to a good start Monday with Mrs. Lee Curry as supervisor. A free partial hot lunch consisting of hot soup and cocoa was served the children and teachers. Beginning Tuesday a fee of ten cents is to be charged for the lunches.

Mrs. Ray L. Johnson furnished the chickens for the dinner Tuesday. Anyone in the community wishing to give any food to the cafeteria may see Mrs. Curry. Meats should be left at the Hereford Locker where arrangements have been made to care for them.

Miss Jean Clark is assisting Mrs. Curry with the cafeteria work.

A committee made up of Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Lloyd Lookingbill, Mrs. C. R. Walser, Mrs. Curry, Mrs. B. E. Roberson and Mrs. Jim Clark, assisted by the ducts each day, and they even go so far as to say that getting an adequate supply of Vitamin B-1 (found in whole grain) is the best possible cure for war jitters.

teachers and the school board have been working for some weeks to get the cafeteria started. All patrons of the school are urged to cooperate with Mrs. Curry and the teachers so that their children may have these nourishing hot lunches at school.

Miss Bonnie Nichols of Hereford who has been staying in the Tandy Legg home since early fall, returned to Hereford Saturday. Miss Gertrude Atchley will assist the Leggs with their work.

By Jimmie Gillentine

"Civilian residents of Pearl Harbor, on the average, know less about the Japanese attack than probably most Americans," is the opinion of Austin Raglan who until after Christmas was employed as a clerk in one of Hawaii's largest men's stores.

Mr. Raglan arrived in Hereford Monday afternoon and spent Monday night with long-time friends, Milton Beavers, Lama Beavers, and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hendrix.

"I was playing golf when the assault began," he said. "The planes came within three-fourths of a mile from the course—and we figured that it was just another bombing practice, since they had been frequent during recent months."

Mr. Raglan said that a large percentage of the residents of the island held the same idea.

"It was not until we heard the news later that we really began to get scared. Helen (his wife) and I found a Christmas package from the States when we got home. Without thinking, we opened the package—and until this day, I couldn't tell you what was in it."

NO ONE KNOWS

"Stories and rumors are rampant in Hawaii," he continued, "but certainly no civilian knows the exact details of the attack. We have no idea why the surprise attack proved so successful and it would not be fair to speculate as to who shunned his duty. However, I will say that everyone on the island is anxious regarding the outcome of the court martial of the commander. It was our understanding that the armed forces had been on an 'alert' for more than two weeks. I believe the residents of Hawaii feel very much the same as do the people in the United States."

When questioned regarding the large Japanese population of the island, Mr. Raglan said that several of the Japanese worked in the same store in which he was employed and that he believed them to be faithful American citizens, adding that two of these Japanese had served with American forces in World War I.

However, he quickly pointed out that there is unquestionable extensive espionage and fifth column work on the island.

"For instance, you probably saw some of the pictures which warned soldiers and sailors against eating sugar cane, which might be poisoned. They also found arrows pointing toward important military points in the fields. These arrows had been made by cutting large tracts of cane in the fields and offered ideal guides for the attacking enemy planes."

PLANES HAD MAPS

"It was also interesting to note that each of the planes brought down carried a map with 'X' marks on the vital points. It seems almost impossible for such valuable information to have been secured without some sort of treachery. This is by no means authentic, but I believe fairly well represents the general belief of people on the island."

"Besides two old hangars, a new one had been constructed. Very few, if any, planes had been removed into the new hangar, yet the Japs left the new hangar untouched and completely demolished the two old ones which contained most of our planes."

Perhaps one of the most interesting pieces of information which Raglan offered was the fact that the United States lost seven ships in the raid. His first-hand figures tally exactly with those issued by the government and he said that most, if not all of the ships, could be reclaimed. Many persons had calculated that the government might be issuing false reports as a means of propaganda, but as first-hand information confirms government reports people will learn to rely with confidence on government statements.

"On Monday morning, after the Sunday attack, airplanes literally filled the sky," he said. "They were flown over in formation from the main land. I never saw so many planes in my life—and there was practically never a time during the day when several planes were not always in the air over the island."

Raglan says that residents of the island do not expect another raid during the war, but mostly adds, "We didn't expect that one either." Pearl Harbor, he claims, is one of the best fortified points in the world and it is his opinion that not one single Japanese plane would have escaped had the American forces been truly on the alert and properly stationed.

Present day conditions in Hawaii, according to Raglan, amount practically to martial law.

AFTER THE RAID

"After the raid all automobiles and pedestrians were ordered off the streets. Army trucks dashed through the streets at 60 to 70 miles an hour and police warnings said that no one would be held responsible for damage to cars or people."

"Even when we left, all automobiles had to be cleared off the streets at night. Those who didn't have driveways generally drove their cars on lawns."

He tells an interesting yarn about a woman who was on a liner just pulling into dock as the raid began. The woman was English, but, like most others, thought the raid to be a practice session. It was so very realistic, however, that she went below and started writing a letter to a friend, telling how efficient "those Americans are. Why, my dear, it's all the world just like a real air raid."

BLACK OUTS

Blackouts are plenty black, Raglan says. If a light is left in a store by accident, the proprietor will next morning find a nice neat little bullet hole in the door glass—and it will be necessary to buy a new light bulb.

"We were told to keep our radios going at all times during blackouts," he said; "but mostly we got only police calls. Any person seeing a light was told to report it immediately. If the light were not extinguished after due warning, neighbors were instructed to 'shoot the light out'—or sometimes police did the job. The night after the Japanese attack eight Japs were killed when found sending signals from the shores."

He also told of two Japs who swam to the docks with bombs tied onto their backs. Needless to say, these men never reached the shore alive.

It is very disagreeable, he recalls, to be reading or playing bridge—when the lights are ordered doused. Lights are never cut from a central switch because the radios are necessary as a means of issuing orders to residents of the island—and they number around a quarter of a million.

MEET AUSTIN RAGLAN

Austin Raglan is one of those clean-cut American boys, around 25 years of age. He finished school at Plainview, Texas, and went to California, where he was married. In June he and Mrs. Raglan decided to go to Hawaii. They both found employment, and were doing swell. She was working on a government job as stenographer and he had a good job in the men's furnishing store.

Because of the anticipated Christmas rush we were to have started on an 11-hour shift on Monday following the Japanese raid, he said. The war changed everything, though. Instead, the store, like all others, closed at 3:30 each afternoon.

"On Saturday before the raid my personal sales amounted to well over $400. The next Monday my sales totaled less than $20.00. That's how business fell off. However, my boss was swell. He gave every man in the store a full month's salary as a Christmas present. I used mine to come back to the states."

Raglan also tells a thrilling story of his return trip to the states.

SALT WATER SHAVES
"That is, except for shaving. Our stateroom was piped for water. We had good water for drinking purposes, but we bathed and shaved with salt water. It takes an exacting hand to get a good shave when the salt dries on your face."

He said their ship left port with a large delegation of planes and Navy ships. However, next morning found them with an escort of one destroyer and seven cruisers. Three passenger ships were in the convoy, carrying 3,000 civilians.

"The ships zig-zagged during the entire trip. We would travel a short piece, then abruptly change our course. Once a submarine was spotted. I don't know if they got it or not. Anyway, it didn't damage us in the least. Sometimes, I still lurch when I am sleeping. It was almost impossible to sleep soundly with the ship suddenly charging off at an abrupt angle in another direction."

Raglan is a very interesting conversationalist. He didn't know that he was talking "for print"—and I feel quite sure that he told things much as you or I would have told them, for he is an average American citizen. He likes the same things most Americans like, including golf, bridge, and even a little gossip now and then.

New Year's Day Open House Is Enjoyed By Club Group, Friends

That age-old custom of friends gathering from round-about on New Year's day to enjoy open house is a high light of the holiday season for many. That fine old custom of sharing food with friends and relatives becomes uppermost in the minds of many hostesses.

One such occasion was the order of the day for members of the Tuesday Dinner Club and their invited guests with Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Fox as hosts at their home on Lee Avenue.

The festivities included food served at all hours during the day as guests came and went to share in the fun. Mrs. J. C. Mc-Cracken played the piano upon request and songs both new and old—popular and patriotic, were participated in by twos and threes and by the entire assemblage. Some played games and others enjoyed "talk-fests" and still others enjoyed radio versions of Bowl-Football games.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames J. A. Pitman, C. C. Acker, S. P. Rosson, H. A. Close, J. C. McCracken, A. R. Bateman, W. L. Davis, Jimmie Gillentine, J. H. Pitman, E. B. Hedrick, Oscar Easley, Mrs. Seth B. Holman, Eloyse Pitman, W. M. Emmons, Mrs. Alton Fraser and the hosts.

New Year's Dinner Party Given For Youth's Choir Group

An informal New Year's dinner party was given by Mrs. H. D. Reed, director, for members of the Youth's Choir of the Methodist Church at her home last week.

Large white New Year bells and tall white tapers carried out 1942 suggestions and miniature lighted tapers at each plate served as wishing symbols. Place cards were in the shape of bells.

One large table was arranged for the group and guests remained seated around the table for the entire program.

Inalou Norwood was toastmaster for the occasion and John Newsom gave the invocation. After group singing of a welcome to the New Year song, Mary Jo Mathies, president of the Youth Choir, told some of the aims and plans of the group for 1942; Margaret Norwood, president of the Intermediate group, gave the objectives for the coming year as planned for that group. The singing of "God Bless America" and other patriotic songs concluded the program.

Those attending were Mary Jo Mathies, Lilburn Hamilton, Mary Helen McGilvary, Gilbert Carlyle, Jesse Click, Margaret Norwood, Inalou Norwood, Zelma and Thelma Hershey, John New-

Watch Party Is Enjoyed By Group

Games of all types were enjoyed before attending the midnight preview at the Star Theatre.

Refreshments were served to Billy Dennis Hutson, Evelyn Walker, Gerald Banner, Carlisle Frye, J. W. Merrill, Nona Dean Rose, Thurman Williamson, Wanda Lee Lloyd and the host.

The next session will be held

Classmates Are Entertained At New Year Party

On New Year's night F. L. Lucas was host to a group of classmates, all of whom were members of last year's graduation class of Hereford High School, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lucas.

War calls have the right of way

In these troubled, wartime days the first duty of the telephone company is clear.

Our Army needs communication . . . fast, dependable communication to every part of this nation.

Our Navy needs it . . .

The industries which supply ships and guns and shells need it . . .

To provide that communication, the 28,000 men and women of the Southwestern Bell . . . the entire physical resources of this company . . . stand pledged.

The nation's job is our Number One job. The messages of war must go through as quickly and as surely as it is possible for human beings to handle them.

In blackouts, or during local emergencies born of war condition, please use your telephone only for vital calls.

Your help will keep the wires clear so that responsible officials may deal promptly with the situation.

Do You Want to Help?

Join the Junior Red Cross!
War is on; your services are needed!
A group of 50 girls met in the Homemaking room Monday for activity period to organize the Junior Red Cross. The following officers were elected: Nancy Olson, chairman; Carle Rae
rye, secretary; Mary Ann Acker,
treasurer and Evelyn Walker,
reporter. The Junior Red Cross will have its regular meetings every Friday afternoon after school.
We urge all girls in high school
to join the Junior Red Cross.
Since this is a time of war, we should all do our part, no matter how small it may be. It's the little things that make up the big ones. So let's do our part by being active members of the Junior Red Cross.

Student Council Reports

The staff has appealed to the council for dues from all organizations. "Full support is necessary," says Rena Rae Renfro,
"so let's pay in all staff dues so that we can keep our school

The assembly Banner Award
has been given the Junior Class
with the Boy's Hi-Y runner-up.
It seems that the student body
enjoyed the hilarious comedy
of the Kay Kayser program.
The Junior Class is becoming to be known well for their ability to entertain. Good work Juniors!

Is This Your Idea Of The Average Day?

Close your eyes and try to picture an average day at H. H. S.
It is a bright clear school morning and you walk up the front steps of high school. A boy in cowboy boots beats you to the door and actually opens it for you. You enter the main hall and speak to Mr. Kinard. Ahead of you two girls in camel's hair coats are seriously discussing last night's date and what mother said when daughter came in at 1:30 on a school night.
You reach the second story just as the 8:30 bell rings and the students pour out of the study hall. You skillfully (?) dodge the boys and girls as they make a mad rush for lockers, books, pencils, and pens. You recover your English notebook from the locker next to yours and your English book from the one across the hall, but you have to borrow a handbook because yours is gone. However, your fountain pen is in your own locker, so you grab it and go to English class.
You notice the girl next to you is wearing hi-jinks and moccasins, as half of the girls in high school are. Class starts and you know your lesson (hey, wait a minute, this was supposed to be an average day—not an ideal one).

Second period in typing class
you notice Miss Ramey's pen and pencil dress clip; isn't it attractive? This reminds you of the new pen Sadye Rigler had on the other day. You borrow some typing paper and start to work typing a note. Third period you see the barrel sweater on the boy in front of you. It really looks nice.
Fourth period you are in study hall and there aren't any lessons that you want to get, so you sit and stare at the kids; notice all the dirty saddle shoes in study hall; write a note but don't pass
it because you see the teacher watching you. You gaze at the students and wonder why all the boys don't wear slacks suits instead of khakis. It actually dawn-s on you that nearly all the sub-eds are wearing long bobs with pompadours or bangs and always floppy hair ribbons.
Finally the bell rings and you rush down the hall, sling your books in the general direction of your locker and hope they hit.
Then you go in for dodging again,
do a little practice football or anything else to get down stairs safely. Well, you made it. Now that you are safely downstairs
take a deep breath and open your eyes. Maybe we had better discuss the afternoon some other time.

Juniors Do Their Bit Toward Red Cross Drive
"Save! Junior class Red Cross fund." Have you seen this sign in the study hall and noticed the bottle containing the money? At the class meeting on Wednesday, the Junior class decided to give, individually, as much as possible to this fund. At the meeting, Coach Ware manfully slit the top of a jar and collected the money. The sum of $6.02 was collected. Since the meeting, many names have been added to the list, which shows more money has been added to the contribution jar. Red Cross pins are given to those who signed the list showing they gave. Let every Junior be wearing a Red Cross pin by mid-term!
"May I hold your hand?"
"It isn't heavy; I can manage,
thank you."

Seniors Take Action In Defense Program

Opening Senior Class meeting, Wednesday, a report from the Student Council was given by Richard Ireland. Richard said that the council urged all students to save all the notebook paper possible by writing on both sides, not throwing away clean paper, etc. He also asked if the class would favor amending the Student Council Constitution to provide for a vice-president.
Richard Ireland, Mattie Lawhon
and Richard Petersen were selected to make the afore-mentioned amendment.
Miss Ramey and Mr. Emmons, class sponsors, gave interesting,
earnest talks for donations to the Red Cross.
For the program, Mary Ellen Henslee called upon each senior
to give a New Year's Resolution.
The Senior Class is still laughing over some of them. For instance, Richard Petersen's "gonna change his way of livin'"; Cliff Vaughn's resolution "not to break any resolutions." That's okay, because Cliff doesn't believe in making any!

A bright stude wrote home for money in this manner:
Dear Father:
Gues$ what I need most of all.
That's right. You gues$ed it.
Send soon.
Your son.
The super-bright parent replied as follows:
Dear Son:
NOthing ever happens. We

asking about you Monday. NOW
we must say goodby.

Helmets Were Lacking; Thus It Was Basketball

Hooray for the home team!
It seems a record has been broken. According to all the records found, Friday night, January 2,
was the first time the Hereford Whitefaces have beaten the Friona Chieftains at basketball.
This year, Hereford has won 4 of 7 games, but they are very proud of the score of the game with Friona. This game began as a normal basketball game, but it was not long until the boys could hardly refrain from using football tactics on the floor.
Lloyd Manjeot remarked that if the teams had helmets and knee pads, it would really have been a heated football game. Those present noticed the "tackles" Foster Hill made. He just could not let his man get away with the ball! The crowd present were very enthusiastic over the game
and showed a fine spirit.

George Weems was high point man in the game with 10 points,
and Daniel Russell followed with 7 points.
It seems the students are not so interested in basketball as they were in football. Perhaps it is because football gets a bigger build-up by the school; nevertheless, the team this year is heated to its task and is raring to win.
Let's go out and cheer them on.
They do appreciate it very much.
You will get your money's worth
at each game.
Speaking of games, how many know whom we play tomorrow night? Hereford is scheduled to play Canyon. Coach says the team is playing very well and hopes we win all the rest of the games. All student have a special invitation to come.

"Time Marches On!" Is Subject of Tri-Hi-Y

"Time Marches On" was the theme for the Tri-Hi-Y meeting Tuesday, December 30. Mary Lookingbill led the program. The group sang "America, the Beautiful" and Bonnie Miller gave a prayer. Nadyne Newell read the scripture.

Mary Ellen Henslee gave a talk, "In the Past Year." In this talk, she brought out the fact that "Time and tide wait for no man." Probably you broke many of your last year's resolutions
and were not so good as you should have been. You should try to improve your character in the year 1942, on such principles
as dependability and honesty.
Rachel Ireland gave "Time
Marches on into the Coming Year." In this talk, she pointed out the fact that everyone is facing an uncertain future and is going to have to be willing to sacrifice what he can for this country's defense. Everyone present told at least one of her New Year's resolutions.
Bettye Roloson and La Nelle Parmer were visitors. Both are former members of the club.

Heads Junior Class

Daniel Russell, better known as "Danny," is outstanding in class and extra-curricular activities. In the first two years of high school, he held the offices of freshman vice-president and sophomore treasurer. This year he is president of the Junior Class. He is a member of the Boys' Hi-Y.
Daniel's chief interest is in all types of sports. He has been on the basketball team three years and on the football team two years. Next year he will share honors with J. W. Merrill as co-captain of the football team.
As Daniel is himself very sincere, he rather dislikes the person who is "too friendly" and too eager to manifest this attitude. He plans to study law in Texas University.

Visit Your Banker Often in 1942

Some people have the idea that a bank is a cold, unfriendly place. Actually, it's just the opposite. That's why we say,
"Visit your banker often in 1942!"
Bankers, after all, are just ordinary people who are doing their bit for their country, their community and the people whom they serve. We believe the better you know your bank's personnel that there is a greater chance of your becoming one of its satisfied customers.

B. S. P. Club Considers Health of C. C. C., Army

On Friday, club day, Miss Davies gave a talk to the Boys' Social Problems class. The subject of this talk was "Health and Health Education in C. C. C. and Army Camps." The men were found to be very ignorant on matters of health and hygiene.
Most of these men believed many fallacies which, according to A.
and M., are untrue. A few of these fallacies are: canned vegetables and fruits allowed to remain in the original container
until the next meal will be poisoned; that tuberculosis is inherited; that cereals are rich in body building protein, provide a source of quick energy, and are in general a good "all around"
food. There were many others in which these men firmly believed, but of which the American Medical Association declared untrue. The class had a round table discussion on these facts.

F. H. T. Discusses Problem Of Vital Importance

The F. H. T. had its weekly meeting Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.
The new president, Evelyn Walker, presided in a short business discussion.
Nancy Olson led the discussion of "Rolling Snowballs." Beverly Fraser gave a talk on
"Means of Self-Improvement in Personality"; Dorothy Banner,
"Social Occasions Occasionally"; Betty Jane Robinson, "Community Citizenship" and Nona Mills,
"School Citizenship." An under-current of the entire discussion was the recognition and acceptance of the seriousness of the present national emergency and the part of high school girls in defending our standards and ideals.
Many people believe these and,
consequently, miss a lot of good eating because of these superstitutions.

Do you high school students realize that you are a part of America's civilian defense? You do claim to be an American citizen, then why not do your part?
Some weeks ago, the people of Hereford were urged to enroll for civilian defense. Not a single high school student has enrolled.
You probably did not realize that you could do something. You said, "What could I, just a student, do?" There is much that you can do. The first thing is to register.

Ruth Bowsher is head of the enrollment. She said, "The volunteer enrollment is for people to do whatever they are capable of doing should the occasion or necessity arise." Go to the County Judge's office any day (except Sunday) between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. Enroll for your country's defense.

There are certain training courses that will be offered for all those who wish to study them.
First aid will definitely be offered, and there are nine other courses that will be given if the demand is great enough. These nine courses are: preparedness course, auxiliary nursing, motor transport, office work, communications, diet and canteen,
emergency services, fire defense
and air raid warnings.

On the enrollment card are forty-two items showing what your past experience best qualifies you for. Among those that high school students could do include: fire watcher, plane spotter, delivery service, cooks, canteen service, child care, speaker, and general office work.
Do not wait until the situation becomes more serious before you enroll. GO NOW TO THE COUN-TY JUDGE'S OFFICE AND EN-ROLL. Not only are the high school students, but also the townspeople, slow in signing up.
Then why doesn't Hereford High lead the rest of the county in this drive? H. H. S., GET BEHIND
YOUR LOCAL CIVILIAN DEFEN-SE!

CORRECTION
The erring reporter has erred again. In last week's paper, a news article stated that Mrs.
Ware was due to come home Friday, January 2. In talking with the Coach, we have found out that Mrs. Ware has left the hospital and is now at her sister's home in Dallas, where she will re-

Danger For Beef Producers If Herds Continue To Increase; USDA Urges Increased Slaughter To Meet Needs

There is danger ahead for beef cattle producers if herds continue to increase.

This is the information which came this week to J. A. Pitman, chairman of the Deaf Smith County USDA Defense Board, who advises farmers and ranchers that increased marketing of beef cattle and calves in 1942 will benefit not only cattlemen but the National Defense Program as well.

The number of cattle on farms and ranches has been increasing rapidly for the last four years and is now not far below the record peak of 74 million head reached just prior to the disastrous drought of 1934.

The danger of another period of excessive numbers of beef cattle and low beef prices can be headed off only with increased marketing of cows and heifers, the chairman declares.

Four main suggestions are offered to cattlemen by the U. S. D. A. Defense Board, Mr. Pitman says, and he summarizes these suggestions for Deaf Smith County cattle raisers.

1. Market more cows and heifers to prevent further increases in cattle numbers. The goal for cattle slaughter next year cannot be reached unless a larger proportion of breeding animals are marketed.

2. Pay off indebtedness now while prices are good so as to avoid having to pay big debts at low prices later.

3. Improve breeding herds by culling out and selling undesirable animals while demand is good.

4. Keep livestock in balance with normal feeding supplies. Range conditions and feed supplies in the west have been unusually good this year. Drought can cause a loss of feed if there is no feed reserve available or if ranges are over-grazed.

Benefit Associations Elect Officers for '42

The annual meeting of the Hereford Benefit Associations 1 and 2 was held at the court house in December.

Annual reports were heard and the following new officers were elected: No. 1—N. E. Gass, president and G. W. Brumley, vice-president; directors: A. O. Thompson, E. D. Fox, Fred Baird and D. H. Alexander.

No. 2—H. G. Conkright, president; J. E. Cockrell, vice-president; directors: Miles Roberson, Dyalitha Brady, Wirt Phillips and Glenn Weir.

Mrs. Dorothy Ross was again named secretary.

Marine Corps Will Enlist Men Here On January 13 and 14

Two recruiting sergeants and a mobile unit of the U. S. Marine Corps will be at the post office in Hereford on January 13 and 14 to interview and examine applicants for this branch of the service.

All men who are physically sound and between the ages of 17 and 30, unmarried and with

"The 1942 Farm Defense Program calls for a slaughter of 28 million head of cattle and calves compared with a probable slaughter of about 26 million head in 1941," the county chairman explains, adding that meeting this goal in 1942 will make the long-time position of the cattle industry more secure and will at the same time help supply the increasing need of the nation's workers and armed forces for meat.

Wyche Woman Has Seen 4 Wars—Is Now Teaching Younger Women to Knit

Mrs. Mary Ott, 80 years-old, of Wyche, has seen four wars in her life-time and she is still able to do war work. In fact, she has already taught several of her neighbors how to knit and is herself taking an active part in Red Cross Work, having made three hospital gowns and a dress.

The Wyche Home Demonstration Club is doing Red Cross work at some of their meetings; and Mrs. Ott, present at the first club meeting in 1942, was able to tell of the work which she did during the first World War.

In spite of bad breaks here and there, 1941 will go into the books as the year of greatest total agriculture so far in the history of the United States, says Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

no dependants can become MARINES, again an honored title in World War II.

All men accepted will be sent at once to San Diego, Calif., for their initial training and then assigned to a station, ashore or ashore, where they are best suited to serve.

Enlistment may be for the duration of the war, and men who have registered for the draft may enlist unless they have been called for induction.

WHAT'LL THEY THINK UP NEXT?

As most of the roughage furnished cows in Texas is low in protein, the grain mixture fed must be high in that element in order to supply the protein needed.

Farmers should order needed machinery repair parts at once. It takes around 90 days to manufacture machinery repair parts from raw steel to delivery at the dealers' door.

Germans Retreating

On other fronts, the Libyan campaign was declared to have slowed down this week, with rain and bad weather putting a partial halt to the advance of British and Empire forces.

And in Russia, the story continues to be one of a German retreat before the revengeful Russian hordes and the bitter Russian winter, with some military observers doubting if the Nazis will be able to make any defensive stand behind their own fortified lines.

Internationally, the week saw the signing by 26 nations, including Russia, Great Britain, China and the United States, of a pact pledging all out military and economic prosecution of the war and banning a separate peace for any signatory power.

The ranks of Hereford young men continue to thin out as the boys go into military service. Bobby Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Davis, and J. D.
