

Hereford Host To Phillips In Championship Game Tomorrow

Around Town

One Killed; 2 Hurt In Hiway Crash Tuesday

Virginia Anderson of the Hamrock Texan wrote last week that she was getting so interested in Deaf Smith County's perfect teeth that she might even take a special trip here to get a look at the grinning natives. We don't want to discourage Miss Anderson from making her trip, but despite some of those pictures, Deaf Smith teeth are not "perfect" as far as beauty is concerned. In fact, they are "mild mottled" or otherwise slightly stained; but they are useful—which is after all important in teeth.

John Patton, Jack Gilliland, Charley Cogdell, Onias Carroll, Punk Gilbreath and Boyd Knox left at five o'clock this morning for College Station where they will attend the Texas-A. & M. game tomorrow.

if you notice a nervous look on Eva Pitman's face, it can probably be explained by the fact that W. C.'s dog, "Blondie" is in serious condition in an Amarillo dog hospital. Blondie's condition was reported only fair Wednesday. Everyone but Eva says they hope she will be able to return home in the near future.

Elmer Patterson is getting recognition all over the state for his motion picture work, and the soil conservation service recently borrowed one of his films, showing the Tierra Blanca Spillway during the spring floods. The government agency made a print of the pictures and is going to use it for technical purposes in the study of the "hydrology of the spillway." And all the time Elmer probably thought he was just getting a picture of a flood.

Halle Drug has been selling "Pocket Books", 25 cent reprints of popular editions for the past few weeks, and from information on sales, it seems that the large to be popular still ranks higher as a reading subject than detective stories or current events. Marcus Houser says that three copies of Dale Carnegie's "How To Make Friends and Influence People" came in with the first shipment of the books and that every copy of the Carnegie work was sold within 15 minutes.

Nannette Little is now working in the afternoons at the office of Mrs. Dyalthis Bradley. Ruth Atchley works at the welfare office in the morning and Ruth Bowsher is taking Miss Little's place in the county judge's office.

Joint Purchase Farm Machinery Urged By FSA

With farm machinery becoming more difficult to purchase because of the defense program and in view of increased costs, farmers in Deaf Smith County are being encouraged to consider the plan for joint purchase and ownership of equipment that has aided many small operators in this area, according to Bernard S. Drinkard, rural supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

Under the Farm Security Administration's program of assisting farm families, community and cooperative service groups have been established and are operating successfully. Joint purchase and ownership of expensive machinery makes it possible for small operators to have the use of the labor saving devices at a cost within the ability of the small farm unit to pay.

Because of metal shortage farmers will have to get along with 50 per cent less machinery than they figure they'll need to

HEREFORD DISTRICT CHAMPIONS

Phillips Will Run Special To Bi-Dist. Fray

Playing host to their first bi-district championship football game since 1935, Hereford this week prepared to celebrate Thanksgiving and back the Whitefaces in their bid for the bi-district pennant Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at Whiteface Field. Hereford schools will turn out at noon for the game, and most business houses will be closed all day.

Supt. Knox Kinard said Tuesday afternoon that, while complete arrangements had not been made, Phillips school officials Cliff Vaughn, blocking back, Foster Hill, end and A. J. Robinson are likely to be out of the lineup in tomorrow's game because of interscholastic league rules. In practice sessions this week, Guard Wayne Phillips was reported as showing up well in the end position left vacant by the loss of Hill and Davis, but Coach Ware states that the team is going to have to use a lot of extra push to make up for these losses. Lloyd Olson will probably start in Vaughn's blocking back slot.

House Bill Would Slash Potatoes

Messiah Practice Monday Is Final

Final rehearsal for the presentation of the Messiah here on Dec. 7, will be held Monday night, Dec. 1 at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, with Emill F. Meyers of Amarillo, guest conductor, in charge.

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher, director of the Hereford Civic Chorus, reports that the practice this week was the most finished performance yet given by the local singers and states that the public presentation will probably be the best ever given in Hereford.

The performance will be given at the Baptist Church at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, Dec. 7, and arrangements are being made to build an extension of the choir loft to take care of the large number of singers.

Amarillo soloists and musicians from the Philharmonic Orchestra will take part in the Messiah presentation here. Soloists from the Hereford Chorus will be Rachel Ireland, Nancy Shackelford, Harley Bulls and Miss Mattie Mae Swisher.

Singers from eight towns will take part in the Messiah Chorus this year, Miss Swisher stated.

Order Farm Parts Early Is Advice Of All Dealers

Farmers in the entire Panhandle potato raising area were this week interested in the progress of a house bill (H. R. 6010) which would amend the 1938 agricultural adjustment act for the purpose of regulating the production and sale of Irish potatoes.

Local AAA representatives and implement dealers this week agreed that farmers should carefully check up on machinery needs now so that dealers can have a chance to make orders and have an adequate supply of all repair parts which will be needed this spring.

With most manufacturers of farm implements going heavily into arms production and with most steel already earmarked for defense, it is imperative that parts orders be made early, dealers point out, adding that farmers who wait until next spring to order parts may find them impossible to procure.

Already farm machines have been marked as one of the most serious of defense shortages, and it is rumored that production of farm implements in 1942 may be set at 80 per cent of the 1940 production. Production in 1941 has run well ahead of the 1940 figure, so farmers can readily see that the shortage will probably be serious and that the only way to insure uninterrupted work is to order parts now.

Stroble To Shawnee; To Do Education Work

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stroble will leave for Shawnee, Okla., where Mr. Stroble has accepted the position of Education Director for the First Baptist Church. They came to Hereford 16 months ago and since that time Mr. Stroble has served as Education Director and Choir Director in the local church.

Church leaders said that the announcement is made with regret, because Mr. Stroble has been greatly responsible for advancement in the Hereford Baptist Church, and has made many friends in this community.

Mr. Stroble says that he feels he should do student work and gives this as the reason for leaving Hereford, pointing out that he will have an opportunity to work with the students of Oklahoma Baptist College at Shawnee.

Rev. Norwood Returns As Meth. Pastor

Rev. Martin B. Norwood last week was returned to Hereford as pastor of the local Methodist Church by the Northwest Texas Conference which met at Big Springs last week.

Mr. Norwood expressed pleasure at returning to his Hereford charge, stating that his associations here had been most pleasant and that he looks forward to his work with Hereford people in the future.

At the conference Mr. Norwood acted as secretary and he was further honored by election as editor of the Northwest Texas Conference Journal, official publication of the Methodist body.

Local farmers recognize the fact that the bill might be advantageous to producers in older potato producing areas, but it is felt that it will work a very real hardship on sections which are still in the primary stages of development as far as potato raising is concerned.

Starting Lineup

Probable starting lineup for the Whitefaces will be Weems, Russell, Hill, and Hill, ends; Vaughn, blocking back slot.

THANKSGIVING

WHEREAS, Thursday, November 27, is Thanksgiving Day, celebrated as an occasion to give thanks to Him who has given us much for which to be thankful in the past year and has made our harvest of friendship and freedom rich; and

WHEREAS, we in Hereford have seen fit to take this traditional Thanksgiving as a day of rest from our regular work and to spend the day in feasting and entertainment and with a solemn sense of gratitude for our peculiar blessings;

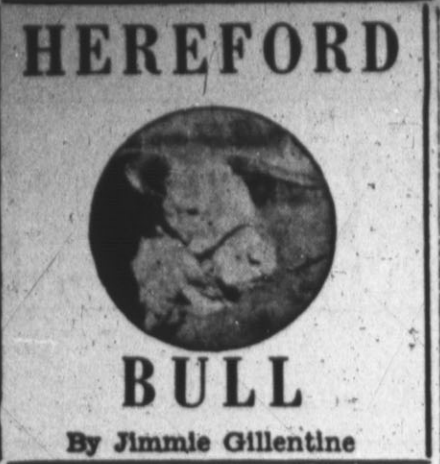

I THEREFORE proclaim Thursday, November 27, a holiday and urge every citizen to enjoy his Thanksgiving in whatever pleasures he may see fit to seek, remembering the spirit that originated this occasion and to conduct himself in accordance with the teachings of Him to whom it was first dedicated.

(Signed) C. J. PADDOCK, Mayor
City of Hereford, Texas

Temperature extremes and moisture for past week, furnished by Department of Agriculture weather station in Hereford.

Saturday	47	25	21
Sunday	30	10	00
Monday	45	21	00
Tuesday	45	26	00

Thanksgiving is here again—and that means it's time to talk Turkey. Anyway, that's the way Frank Cogdell, Sherman Morgan, Jack Gilliland, and a lot of other boys feel about it. They have been struggling all season to kill a goose in time for Thanksgiving, but now they are hoping against hope that they will get turkey. They have left home at 5 o'clock so many mornings that the women folks are about to go on strike—and they dare Roosevelt to intervene. Women are funny about this hunting business, especially when you wake them up early in the morning.

Billy Dameron is the only Hunter I know of who bagged a goose this season. Billy says he was plenty lucky to get it, too. Perhaps there are several others, but he is the only one I have heard about.

Everyone says that duck and geese are plentiful, but that there is too much water. Hunters say that there so many places for game to light that you can't get close enough to do any good. Also the lakes are so big that ducks can safely remain in the center out of range. One year I got the duck hunting bug, but I figured it up and decided that duck meat was a little too expensive for me. I went hunting three times and summarized my expenses as follow:

Table listing expenses: Duck stamp $1.00, Hunting Cap .49, Red Flannels 1.29, 3 Gun Rentals 4.50, Shells 3.30, Gasoline 5.70, Fixing Flat at Bootleg Store 50, New Tube at Hereford 2.25, Brakes Relined 2.50, 3 lunches .75, Chest Rub for Severe cold .39, Throat Gargle .49, Car depreciation and incidentals 7.50. TOTAL $30.66

Of course, this does not include my time, which if calculated in terms of amount of game bagged, certainly wasn't worth much.

However, on the last trip I began to really learn how to hunt ducks. Louis Sherman and I were in a bunch of weeds when the ducks came in, so we both jumped up and blasted away at the same time. A duck fell and I immediately yelled, "Boy, I got that one." After that Louis didn't seem to want to be in the same blind with me, so I got in one with R. V. Miller. Pretty soon some more ducks came sailing in and we also happened to shoot at the same time. Another duck dropped and I said, "Why didn't you shoot, too? Did your gun jam?" A few minutes later they wanted to come home—and just when I was learning how to kill ducks, and was hoping that we would see a flock of geese.

I sure felt great coming in with two ducks—even if one did happen to be a teal. I started cleaning them at 2:00 o'clock and managed to finish by 5:15. My time may not be worth much as a hunter, but I contend that it is worth something as a duck cleaner and by all rights 70c should be added to my total figure, making a grand total of $31.13. Some folks may not feel that this 70c is a legitimate expense, but I am sure that it will only be those persons who never cleaned a duck.

Anyway, by the time I finished cleaning the ducks, I couldn't understand why the boys had given me such dirty looks just because I happened to kill two ducks. The point is that these two ducks weighed 2 3/4 pounds. The rest is simple mathematics. You divide $31.13 by 2 3/4 and you get 11.32. Next you divide 11.32 by 16 and you get .707. What I am saying is that those two ducks cost me $11.32 a pound, or a fraction over 70c an ounce. Divide it yourself and see. Turkey has been selling for 19c a pound—and I say that is plenty cheap.

D. L. McDonald was in Hereford Monday making arrangements for his Hereford Auction to be held here Dec. 15. Mr. McDonald says that he is going to have a splendid offering this year and is expecting a large attendance at his sale, which seems to be the only Hereford auction slated here this season. However, W. E. Dixon and Ray Barber will cry a Milking Shorthorn Sale in the local pavilion on Tuesday, Dec. 2, for W. M. Wilterding of Muleshoe.

The thing I started to tell was about a piece which Mr. McDonald pointed out in the Monday Amarillo News. It was a typographical error, but he says Mrs. McDonald has been working in a similar rummage sale on Saturday and she got a real kick out of it. The clipping is reprinted below:

"METHODIST TO HOLD RUMMAGE SALE" "A rummage sale is being sponsored by Circle No. 1 of the Polk Street Methodist Church. The sale begins at 8 o'clock this morning. It will be held all day today at 623 East Fourth Street."

the seemingly impossible. We may not win, but I'll bet we do our best—and remember what T. C. U. did to Texas.

Incidentally Logan hails from T. C. U. and everytime I think of a coach from T. C. U., it reminds me of a story Quarterback Joe Coleman once told me about Francis Schmidt, who coached the Frogs back in '34 or '35.

Joe says Coach Schmidt always had the habit of giving his quarterbacks explicit instructions and on this particular occasion he was very definite with his orders, because it was a very close game.

Late in the second quarter, the quarterback was slightly injured and had to leave the game. Joe went in at quarter but in a couple of plays he also had to leave the game. Only the third-string quarter was eligible to enter the game, and there was about time for three plays. Schmidt gave the boy instructions to call a play through tackle, another play through guard, and then to punt. He added that under no circumstances was the substitute to change these plays. Joe said the boy went in and called the play through tackle; it gained about 30 yards. He called the next play off guard; it gained around 25 yards, putting the ball on the one-yard line. The quarterback called for a punt next play—and kicked the ball clear out of the stadium.

Miscellaneous Shower Compliments Mrs. Kenneth Clayborne Tuesday

Mrs. Kenneth Clayborne, the former Miss Eva Greenson was honored with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday afternoon at the club house. Hostesses were Mesdames J. B. Noland, Vondyl Wouser and Waymon Featherston of Clovis, N. M., Misses Ruth and Evelyn Sachs and Bernadette Albracht.

Cedar sprays and pine cones blended with the wood tones of the club house to carry out a rustic theme in decoration. Red candles gave candlelighting and the colors used in decoration reappeared in the tapestry cloth which laid the tea table. The table centerpiece was an arrangement of red berries and green foliage flanked by lighted tapers in old-blue. Mrs. J. B. Noland and Miss Albracht poured.

An informal program was enjoyed and the gifts were opened and admired. Mrs. O. B. Robertson presided at the guest book. Invitations included Mesdames R. D. Lance, Jr., Etöille Jacobson, D. C. ## Ruins In Alaska Disclose A High Culture In "Dark" Ages

New York—On a barren gravel spit 130 miles above the Arctic circle a highly developed and complex civilization came into being before the dawn of history on the ancient migration route from Asia to America. For a few thousand years it thrived. Then it declined and ultimately died, leaving behind a mystery as deep as that which once shrouded the pyramids. Relics of the ancient lost civilization, which once made Point Hope, Alaska, a place of animation where industry, commerce, art and religion flourished, were discovered only two years ago. A full report on what is known about it became available when Dr. Harry L. Shapiro of the American Museum of Natural History released details of discoveries made on the site.

Much as Doctor Shapiro and his predecessors discovered about the Point Hope culture, more remains to be learned. Science does not yet know what race laid out the ancient city now referred to as "Ipiutak." It only knows that the Ipiutak civilization was more highly developed than either the ancient or modern Eskimo culture, that the inhabitants of Ipiutak were deeply religious, highly artistic and skilled in the crafts of daily living, and that wherever they came from and why, the dwellers on Point Hope believed in a life after death.

In 1939 and 1940 members of an American Museum - University of Alaska expedition headed by Dr. Froelich G. Rainey located the vast ruins of the prehistoric town. Doctor Shapiro extended their discoveries last summer.

He found that Ipiutak—which is the Eskimo name of a small spit of land near the site—had five long avenues on which some 600 dwellings, since buried, housed about 3,000 persons.

In 500 log-walled tombs, rectangularly shaped and extending six miles outside the town, he found hundreds of well-preserved skeletons and evidence that the city was inhabited for more than 2,000 years.

At nearby Tigara the anthropologists found more recent indications that the second site was established after the first was abandoned, probably 2,000 years ago.

The tombs of Ipiutak gave up arrowheads, finely chipped flat flint tools, needles, gear for hunting on land, and different from the artifacts of known Eskimo cultures.

The "most exciting" of Dr. Shapiro's discoveries, he reported, were skulls with large ivory eyeballs inlaid with jet pupils and fantastic ivory carvings, together with implements for use by the dead in an after world.

In one tomb the expedition found the bones of a man, a woman, and a child, with the body of the child resting on the knees of the man. A large beautifully carved ivory mask, made in several sections with inset ivory eyes covered the skeleton of the child.

Cotton Price Reult of Farm Set-up, Not War

Cotton acreage allotments, strengthened by marketing quotas, which made 85 per cent of parity loans possible, is the triple reason for increase in the price of cotton this year, according to J. A. Pitrnan, Chairman of the Deaf Smith county AAA committee.

Collapse of foreign markets, a drastic drop from 6.2 million bales to 1.1 million bales in exports, and enough cotton on hand at the present time to fill an extra year's needs, highlight the cotton situation, he said.

The loss of foreign markets is partially offset by the fact that the domestic consumption of cotton for the 1940-41 season is the highest on record. Consumption was approximately 9.6 million bales, or about 2 million bales above the preceding year, the AAA official said.

Since the export slump is due primarily to naval and war blockades, there is little reason to believe that the export market will increase to any great extent, he declared.

For the fifth consecutive year, cotton farmers of Deaf Smith county will vote in a national cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, Dec. 13.

Last year, Deaf Smith County cotton growers voted 100 per cent favorably on quotas. Texas farmers approved quotas by 88 per cent.

carry out their operation in the Food for Freedom program," Mr. Drinkard said. "And that means we'll have to buy together and work together to get the maximum use out of what we have," he continued.

Although farmers in Deaf Smith County may not need new machinery until Spring, the FSA supervisor said now is the time to plan to purchase.

To help small farmers, who cannot get adequate credit elsewhere, the Farm Security Administration makes loans for necessary farm equipment and supplies. These loans are made only when farm and home plans show the equipment is needed and that the farm income will be sufficient to repay its cost over a period of from one to five years at five per cent interest. Where farm machinery needs are purchased and financed jointly by two or more farmers, the rate of interest is three per cent per annum. Frequently farms unable to carry the whole cost of a needed piece of equipment can support a share of the cost.

To assist the small operators who will need additional equipment for the next season, Mr. Drinkard will be glad to discuss the FSA's plan for financing these purchases on a group basis. He suggested that interested farmers contact him soon at his office in the Court House on any Wednesday of Saturday morning.

"Brains, Not Brawn" Is Slogan For Prison System Under New Manager

By Bess Stephenson
Huntsville—The new general manager of the Texas prison system is a man of military background who believes that convict guards, like good army officers, should be armed with intelligence first and authority afterward.

Maj. D. W. Stakes is the new general manager. The State Prison Board chose him unanimously recently after he had served a month as acting manager in the interim which followed the ousting of O. J. S. Ellington on Oct. 1.

oners may be placed in surrounding of almost perfect freedom. He believes that recreation facilities should be set up on all 10 of the prison farms and that rehabilitation rather than mere punishment is possible in a great many convict instances.

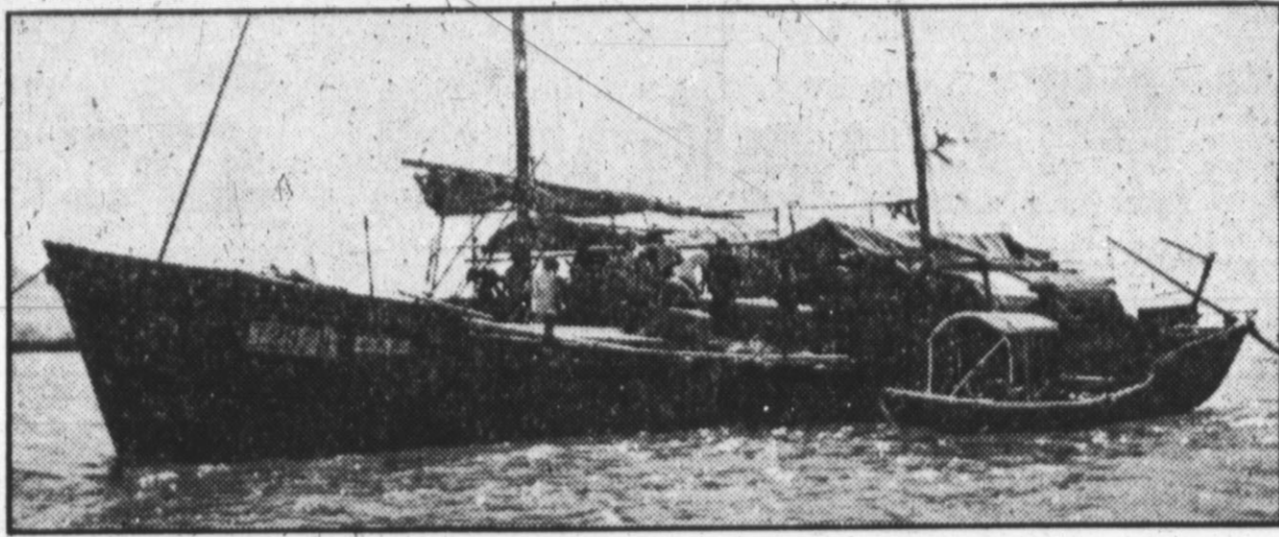

He thinks the great need of the Texas prison system is a more intelligent handling of all convicts which means the employment of intelligent civilian personnel. Too many convict guards have, and still do rely on the bully tradition to enforce hard work and discipline.

In Major Stakes, the board found a man of wide administrative experience whose stated belief is that the human element involved in the operation of a prison system is more important than the financial end of it.

His first official act on becoming manager was to recommend the establishment of an honor farm where trusted pris-

Brains Over Brawn
Major Stakes believes that in many instances, though possibly not all, more can be accomplished by brain work than by brawn on the part of the overseer. He thinks on finding men of the right caliber and right sympathies to place in charge of it. Someone sympathetic to the idea must be in charge of it or it

Junks Worry Japan's Lifeline

Especially built for blockade running by Hong Kong Chinese, innocent looking "junks" evade Japanese patrol boats by using muffled motors which give them twice the speed of their pursuers. Armor-plated, the boats are manned by guerillas armed with rifles and machine-guns.

will never really be an honor farm.

The prison system had what was called an honor farm several years ago, but the experiment didn't pan out. Trusted convicts were placed there and told they were on their honor, but there was little incentive to exercise their talents for self-discipline. They still lived and worked and ate and slept under the watchful eyes of guards with guns.

Major Stakes idea is that an honor farm should have no iron bars, no locked doors and no armed guards.

"Every day," he says, "we see convincing evidence that there are prisoners who can be trusted and trusted with great responsibilities. We have trustees delivering truckloads of meat, canned goods and other valuable prison goods to the various eleemosynary institutions all over Texas. They always come back."

When the honor farm is established, it likely will be a sort of pre-parole school for prisoners of mixed ages but of uniformly good reputation. It will be their final step before graduation from prison. Though it will be simply a farm at first, for 150 to 200 picked prisoners, it may develop into a larger institution with industries as well.

Major Stakes believes it can be developed as the best possible avenue for convict rehabilitation. Though certain incorrigible prisoners seem beyond hope of a more abundant life, certain others need only a fresh start in life, he thinks, to become safe, useful citizens. These would be graduated from prison through the honor school and would have this additional chance at success when they got out.

In System Since 1935
Major Stakes came into the prison system as assistant warden at Huntsville in November, 1935. The circumstances of his employment make his promotion last week seem fairly remarkable. He was promoted to take the job by a fellow townsman, Dave Nelson of Orange, but the day after Stakes reported for work Nelson died. Nelson had been general manager of the prison system only 15 days before his death.

Major Stakes remained on, became cashier of the prison system in 1937, and Oct 1 this year was appointed acting manager. He got the unanimous vote of the prison board to become permanent manager last week over 13 other applicants.

Born in Orange, Stakes went to work for a lumber company when he left high school and continued in lumber company jobs until the World War. He was a lieutenant in the 143rd Infantry Texas National Guard (had been a guardsman since 1907) when the war broke out. Promoted to captain when the 3rd Division was inducted into the regular army, he went to France and won promotion to the age of major at the age 29. He remained in Germany for six months after the arm-

Better National Health Is One Fact For Which Americans Are Thankful

Austin—In the time-honored, expansive American manner, Thanksgiving Day is being celebrated in all Texas homes this week, and, according to Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, we can be thankful for at least one blessing which our forefathers did not enjoy.

"When the Pilgrim Fathers proclaimed the first Thanksgiving Day, health was purely a matter of chance—a gamble in every sense of the word. A sick person was faithfully dosed with herbs and tonics prescribed and compounded by his neighbors and friends. It was a toss-up whether he lived or died. There were no hospitals; no doctors; no well-stocked pharmacies; nothing to alleviate pain, and very little to promote a patient's chance of recovery. Sickness and pain in those days," Doctor Cox asserted, "was something to be borne as best one could."

Doctor Cox emphasized that the last fifty years have been the most golden years of achievement in the history of medical science. Today we can offer our heart-felt thanks for good health and the means of preserving it.

"Our Pilgrim Fathers founded for us a free nation and left us that heritage of freedom so greatly prized by every true American. Ours is the task of preserving that freedom and of passing that heritage on to our children; but today we are conscious as never before that general good health is in itself a priceless legacy," he stated. Doctor Cox pointed out that at this time fifty-two per cent of the residents of Texas have available some form of full-time health service. The State Department of Health and its affiliated local health units have placed full-time health service within easy access of 3,338,708 people, and a program of expansion is even now under way.

"Thousands of dollars are being spent every year to promote and safeguard good health among our people, and for this one great contribution to health of the nation," Doctor Cox asserted, "we should indeed be thankful."

Spend 45c today at HALE'S or any drug store for a bottle of Buckley's CANADOL Mixture (triple acting). Pour yourself a teaspoonful, let it lie on your tongue a moment then swallow slowly. Feel its instant powerful effective action spread through throat, head and bronchial tubes. Start at once to loosen thick choking phlegm making breathing easier.

No claim is made that Buckley's is a cure for Chronic Bronchitis or Asthma but sufferers often find Buckley's CANADOL Mixture (the largest selling cough medicine in all Canada) starts right in to quiet coughing spasms and loosen up that choking phlegm which seems to clog the tubes and makes breathing difficult. ### Defense Work Making Dobbin Quite Popular

Chicago—The old gray mare ain't what she usta be—in fact, she's a lot more important, and it's possible she'll become increasingly so.

Down on the farm they are viewing the horse with heightened appreciation as concern mounts over the output of farm equipment next year. While the industry's quota for 1942 has not been decided officially, informal conversations suggest a sharp curtailment is possible.

Work on a broad allocation scheme for farm machinery is under way in Washington, and industry representatives are conferring with the Office of Production Management on various proposals.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard recommended to the special priorities allocation board that output be set at 107 per cent of 1940 production during 1942. Most manufacturers reportedly hoped this recommendation would be followed.

As a result of conversations in Washington, however, trade representatives here recently said a 107 per cent quota next year appeared remote.

While emphasizing no definite decision had been reached, trade circles said the OPM suggested a production quota of 80 per cent of 1940 output. Most manufacturers have been operating far above this level in 1941.

If production next year is cut to 80 per cent of the 1940 output, and if all exports are included within this quota, trade representatives said next year's output for domestic use would probably be substantially below the present year.

Farmers are already using horses to a greater extent than in any recent year, Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Horse and Mule Association of America, said, and breeders are reporting more inquiries for stallions.

Coat Buying This Year A Matter For Careful Study

This year's winter coat likely will cost more and have to last longer than the one before, so women buying new ones need to be extra careful in making their selections.

"Check every detail of coat quality before you buy to make sure you get the best material and the best made coat you can afford." That's the advice of Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, to women buying winter coats now.

The first step is to find out the fiber content of the coat, and this year consumers have the new Wool Products Labeling Act to help them. The exact wool content and the kind of wool must be included in the label of every coat containing more than 5 per cent wool.

Next, look carefully at the lining and inter-lining, making sure the seams are generous and well stitched. Otherwise they may fray badly. The inter-lining material is to provide extra warmth. It and the lining should be seamed separately so the coat will look better and fit better.

A woman will likely get better wear from her coat and look better in it if the grain of the cloth hangs straight all around, if it's hemmed and finished with silk-ribbon binding, if all seams lie flat, and if the thread is strong and matches the coat materials.

The tremendous hitting power of the plane is declared to be six and two-thirds times—667 per cent—greater than the P-6 model produced in 1937.

Austin.—With the opening of the quail season not far away, the Game Department's executive secretary today urged scattergun fans to examine carefully all quail killed to determine if they have leg bands on them.

The quail season opens on Dec. 1 and extends through Jan. 18.

If a quail is banded, hunters are urged to remove the metal band and send it to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, Austin, Tex., where the information derived from it will be used in scientific studies of quail now being conducted in wide areas of the Lone Star State.

The quail have been banded, and still are being banded, in some localities by game managers and field biologists of the commission as a means of accumulating information that may prove valuable in studies of these birds. The average migration of quail, for one thing, is a vital factor that can assist biologists in the program of quail restocking now being undertaken by the commission.

During the white-wing dove season an appeal was sent out to sportsmen to return bands found on the legs of these birds in the Rio Grande Valley. The response was highly satisfactory and much was learned that can be put to use in the future conservation of white-wings, the executive secretary said.

It is hoped that sportsmen will be equally on the alert during the coming quail season.

And don't let anyone tell you that it is unlawful to possess a dead quail that has a band on its leg. It's perfectly lawful.

Man Wrestles Wild Deer

Yes sir, this is the time of year it happens. A wild deer will tackle almost anything.

Over in Polk County the deer's human antagonist was Vic Nash, who lost his shirt and considerable peace of mind in a wrestling match with a big buck, the Lufkin Daily News reports.

Nash is a member of an oil exploration party. He said he was walking down a narrow forest path and saw a deer approaching. Neither Nash nor the deer would turn to right or left, so a first-class wrestling match took place. The deer charged and Nash got up then, and after fighting furiously, threw the deer to the ground.

Then Nash headed for the nearest settlement.

"The deer kept charging me

Hereford Girl Helps With Art Exhibit At Denton

Denton.—Observance of National Art Week at Texas State College for Women is partly in the hands of Miss Viola Phillips of Hereford, chairman of the committee in charge of jewelry and metal-work exhibits.

Exhibits are shown during this week, and work done by artists of two Denton colleges and by Denton people will be sold. Paintings, prints, pottery, jewelry, metal work, wood carving, sculpture, weaving, and block or screen prints are on exhibition and for sale.

A senior costume design major, Miss Phillips is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Phillips.

Heating Grapefruit Before Squeezing Removes Oil Taste

Heating grapefruit before pressing or canning the juice gets rid of most of the objectionable peel oil taste. According to J. F. Roseborough, horticulturist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, steaming or dipping grapefruit in hot water for one-half a minute to three minutes and then spraying with cold water, will produce juice by mechanical extraction containing in some cases as little as 0.002 per cent peel oil.

This is a cheap solution for one of the troublesome problems in the juice canning industry. Under the tentative standards of grades for canned

In the struggle Nash's shirt was torn off. The battle took place near the town of Corrigan.

Quail 'Raid' City

Quail are beginning to attack houses in Deport, and people there are wondering whether they will be able to leave their shotguns idle until the official opening of the quail season Dec. 1, according to the Deport Times.

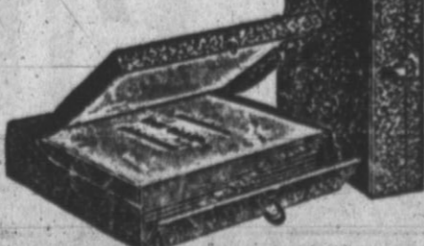

It seems that Mrs. Lee Lawler was sitting on the back porch of her home when she heard a loud thumping at the house. Then a quail whizzed by. She thought the bird had been frightened by someone pounding on the front door. So she went to the front door, and on the porch lay dead quail.

Mrs. Lawler concluded that the two quail, playing across the street became frightened and headed for the alley between her house and the garage. One of the birds hit the other the house.

Quail are exceptionally numerous in the city limits of Deport. About 25 have been playing around like chickens on the front lawn of Jim Griffin's place.

Farmers say the birds are not members of a lost covey. They believe the birds ate so many worms that they got drunk and haven't sobered up enough to find their way back into the wild.

Cotton Prices Good, But Not Because Of War

Cotton prices are good despite the war—not because of it, according to George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee.

Texas farmers are enjoying a measure of prosperity along with other classes. Slaughter said in pointing out that cotton prices are approaching parity for the first time in many years.

War has slashed exports drastically and little increase is in prospect because collapse is due to blockades. This fact, together with price-depressing surpluses, would ordinarily result in low prices, he said. If foreign countries wished to purchase United States cotton during active warfare, accessibility of ships must be considered, the chairman continued, since all available ships are being utilized in transportation of war materials and food.

Cotton acreage allotments, strengthened by marketing quotas, which made the 14-cent per pound floor available, are the collective cause of present improved cotton prices, Slaughter said. "When cotton farmers vote in a national cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 13, they will be doing a thing few farmers in the world can do—cast votes that will help regulate production and demand," the chairman declared.

Food-for-Freedom pledges are tied up directly with quotas. If cotton acreage is held within circle of demand, extra acres will be available for commodities needed at home and by Britain. Any increase in surplus crops and decrease in deficient defense crops will cripple the whole national farm defense program.

Marketing quota system aims at dividing a limited market supply equally among cotton producers.

"Quotas represent our fair share of the coming year's cotton crop. Texas can do its part for national defense by using the extra acres to produce more food for America and Britain," Slaughter said.

Research specialists in Brazil have analyzed the composition of the tomato seed and found the oil content of a great edible value. The oil has a high vitamin content and has further possible use as a drying agent in the manufacture of varnish, according to the USDA.

Texas' agricultural income for the first nine months of this year was 25 per cent higher than that of the corresponding period last year.

Sooty Brooder Stove May Gas Chicks Poult

Pink lungs reveal carbon monoxide poisoning in baby turkeys and chicks. According to Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the A. and M. College Extension Service, a grower may actually gas his turkey poult or baby chicks with a sooty brooder stove and bad ventilation. Deaths from this cause might be attributed to other reasons.

Investigations by the Denver branch of the pathological laboratory of the USDA into the high percentage of loss among baby turkeys delivered in good condition from hatcheries to poultrymen showed no external symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning, even when it was suspected. Chemical tests, however, were conclusive and physical examinations confirmed the positive cases by revealing the abnormally pink lungs which result from this type of poisoning.

McCarthy recommends that turkey growers provide good ventilation in their brooder houses without exposing the young birds to the hazard of drafts. Before placing baby chicks in brooder houses it is important to clean coal, wood and oil burning brooder stoves in order to remove all soot which might clog the burners and help form the dangerous gas.

Onions are traditionally tear-jerkers. They're so scarce in England now that possession of one brings tears of joy to its owner.

Store Late Feed Carefully, Says College Expert

In localities over the state where early feed crops were short, farmers who have cows may lack feed unless they save all late growth, warns E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service.

"There is some feed in nearly all fields which is worth saving," he adds. Any kind of feed beats no feed at all.

Choice of method for storing this late crop feed is of great importance, Eudaly says. For example, ripe Johnson and sudan grasses are worth more as silage than as hay. The same is true of second growth cane, hegari and kafir, notwithstanding they will make "fair" hay. Second-growth cane and grain sorghums will make sour silage which will scour cattle if cut in the immature stage and stored immediately. If second growth feed is cut before frost and the ground is dry it should be left in the field to partly dry out. If the weather is wet, let it remain in shock in the field for two or three weeks, or until partly dried.

Enough water should be added to make dry or partly dry-feed feel wet when it is put into the silo. Should frost kill the feed it is best to wait three or four days before cutting it. It then can be put into the silo immediately. It also can be cut and stored immediately after frost, but the silage will not be as good as when cutting is delayed or it is allowed to dry on the ground after cutting.

Eudaly says that if cotton stalk pasture is needed it is cheaper to let the cows do the harvesting. But when there is a surplus it will be profitable to cut some for silage before frost. As cotton stalks do not contain enough sugar to ferment properly, a mixture of five gallons of molasses to 15 gallons of water should be sprinkled on each ton when placed in the silo.

There still is time to plant oats, barley, wheat and rye grass for winter and spring pasture, Eudaly says. These crops can be planted any time in November south of Fort Worth.

President Roosevelt's curtailment of installment buying has its brighter side. Now we won't hear so many "dollar down—dollar when you catch me" jokes.

Foods That Taste Like November

First choice for fall are foods that are especially adapted to colder weather, and here is a recipe for potato cake that will be appreciated now. Most men like this cake and considering the results of your efforts it takes very little time to put it together. In answer to several requests Mrs. Frank L. Daniel gives the recipe to you. It makes three layers or it may be baked in a loaf.

Irish Potato Cake

- 1 cup butter
- 2 cups sugar
- 1-2 cup sweet milk
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 4 eggs
- 1 cup nuts
- 4 cup hot mashed potatoes
- 1 teaspoon each of cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg
- 2 cups flour
- 1-2 cup melted bitter chocolate
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter and sugar and add well beaten eggs. Then add the potatoes which have been cooked and mashed thoroughly until creamy. Combine the rest of the dry ingredients and add alternately with the milk. Last add the melted chocolate and add nuts. Bake in moderate oven about thirty minutes if cooked in layers. If baked in a loaf it takes a little longer.

Mrs. Daniel uses seven minute icing for this cake but if you prefer a chocolate icing here is a good way to make it.

Chocolate Icing

- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 3 tablespoons melted butter
- 2 tablespoons cream
- 1 egg yolk

Enough coffee to make it spread smoothly

According to a story released by the state extension service milk buckets are next year going to be just as hard to procure as farm implements, and if our information is correct, these farm implements and parts are going to be impossible to get if farmers wait until next spring to place their orders. "Buy now" is good advice when it applies to supplies which require vital defense products for their manufacture.

For about 12 years, copies of a poultry calendar have been distributed to interested poultry raisers. These calendars have space for a report which is supposed to be turned in now by all persons having the calendars. This information has proved very valuable in the past in working out better plans on chicken rations, housing, feeding—in fact everything which contributes toward a productive flock.

When the Simms Demonstration Club planned to meet with Mrs. Glenn Hetzler this week, they had in store for them a real treat. For they were to be entertained in Mrs. Hetzler's new home, a house which has recently been moved to the Hereford farm from Canyon and which takes the place of several "make-shifts" of which the family has had to make use in the past few years.

Mrs. P. H. Oberthier has a number of beautiful Iris plants.

College For Women and the couple will live in El Paso where he is stationed at Ft. Bliss.

Announcement of the approaching wedding was revealed last week at a tea given by the bride-elect's mother in Denton and several showers and parties have been given to compliment Miss Nelms. Relatives here are planning to attend the wedding.

More FHA Building In Defense Areas

Washington, D. C.—Over 100,000 new homes have been started with private capital and under FHA inspection in defense housing areas specifically designated by the President since April. Federal Housing Administrator Abner H. Ferguson announced today.

At the present time, Mr. Ferguson said, 76 per cent of all homes being started under FHA inspection are located in the 200-600 areas which have acute or impending housing shortages threatening to impede the national defense program. These areas have been designated at various intervals, and 68 per cent of all new homes started under FHA inspection since April are located there.

Altogether, as of October 31, under the FHA program, 102,500 homes had been started in these specifically designated defense areas, compared with 150,000 in the entire country in the seven-months' period. For the year as a whole, almost 200,000 homes been started under the FHA program.

The proportion of the FHA's new-home business occurring in defense areas has risen from 40 per cent in April and 60 per cent in May to 70 per cent in October. Many more homes are being built in other areas not specifically designated but nevertheless closely related to the defense effort.

The Los Angeles defense area reports the largest number of homes started under FHA in-but this year the Honorable variety, a two-tone yellow with intermediate stem, was especially prolific. Mrs. Oberthier offered this plant to anyone who would come and dig the bulbs, and last week several ladies of the Frio Home Demonstration Club took advantage of her offer.

Mrs. Izora Clark Matthews of the Farm Security Administration reports that Mrs. C. P. Hussey and Mrs. Berry Orr last week made 10 gallons of kraut. Mrs. Orr made kraut last year, and it proved so popular that she has increased her canning program this year. Use of creamery salt and careful weighing of salt and cabbage are the main factors for success in kraut making, Mrs. Matthews says.

Many Texans Investing In Ranch Lands

With a national emergency boom in the making and much talk of inflationary tendencies, many depression-wary Texans are investing in land.

The demand currently is greater for ranch properties, a state-wide survey indicates.

Several great tracts have sold recently for as high as $11 and $11.50 an acre in the Davis mountains where similar holdings went for $5 an acre a few years ago.

Farm prices, although firm to 20 per cent higher, have been affected to a far lesser degree by investment buying. Most land men report their greatest farm demand comes from those who intend to make a living on the soil. Prices for top farms range from $125 an acre in South Texas to $40 in central West Texas.

A "very definite interest on the part of people with means to buy ranch lands as a form of investment" is reported by Sterling Evans, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston.

He believes much of the money going into land "would have been invested in securities if times had been normal."

State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles notes "an unusual demand upon the part of the public generally to offer for sale some of the state's remaining 1,200,000 acres of public domain."

"The school and land board, therefore, is considering selling to high bidders possibly 200,000 acres of surveyed public school land next April," Giles said.

"We sold 93,000 acres in January last year for which we received an average of $4.50 an acre. We believe the purchase by the public of such land is a good investment," he added.

Many requests from out-of-state persons interested in purchasing farms and ranches have been received by the office of Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald.

Local conditions have caused some lands to be withdrawn from the market.

Owners are holding for possible establishment of an army camp in northern Lamar county. In that vicinity dealers report some farmers who could not sell some land for $5 an acre a year ago, now refuse $25.

Indicative of the interest in land is the fact that the Houston Land Bank has the smallest inventory since the spring of 1932. Foreclosures are the lowest since 1931. Loans this year of $14,000,000 are the largest since 1935. Sales since Jan. 1 have totaled 361 farms for $1,189,724.

The bank has no comparative prices but merely sells land which has been foreclosed. Here are some specific recent sales at what the bank officials term good prices:

Six miles northeast of San Antonio: 227-acre dairy farm, 130 acres in cultivation, the balance in pasture, for $75 an acre, bought as an investment.

Thirteen miles west of Dilley in Frio County: 950-acre stock farm, 140 acres in cultivation, balance in pasture, $12 an acre.

Five miles south of Crandall in Kaufman county: 100-acre improved cotton farm, all in cultivation, for $80 an acre in cash.

Twelve miles southeast of Adrian in Deaf Smith county: 800 acres for $10,000.

Increased interest in land of all kinds is indicated by more farm and ranch advertisements in newspapers.

Land talk runs through conversations among businessmen, especially in the cities.

Another development is movement to the country around Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and other centers of population. This is not new for those who can afford it, but is increasing.

Land prices near Houston are the highest in the state, even discounting oil development. Dallas county, especially north of the city, is like a Hollywood development with homes of oil men rival estates of movie stars.

San Antonio people favor places in the beautiful hill country and from Fort Worth many seek summer homes at nearby lakes.

The radius for farm property easily accessible to city homes is 40 to 60 miles around Houston, just far enough for a days visit and return home. But one Houston man said he couldn't afford a home that close. He bought 640 acres north of Amarillo.

His explanation was that if his farm was too close, barbecue pits, guest houses and guests, barns, stations, machines and help would run costs out of sight.

In the Panhandle his place is safe from the temptations of over-development which affect many city farmers. Visited once a year during harvest or at vacation, it will be an economic investment, he figured.

To the Texan, buying land any place offers the added speculation of the possibility of oil development, although it is increasingly difficult to get any land that is not tied up at least partially on mineral rights.

For the little man, there is the experience of the Houston newspaper reporter who bought a six-acre suburban estate some years ago and struck oil. He seemed more interested in saving his pecan trees than in the oil, but he finally bought another place—and hit oil again!

Now his editor says if he does it a third time, he will be fired.

U. S. May Obtain Ore From Brazil

Washington — Brazil has a nickel mountain from which the United States may eventually get most of its supply of this essential metal at a big reduction in the present price.

Various rocks have a nickel content of from 3 to 12 per cent, probably averaging about 5 per cent. The mountain, which is not mined for nickel at present, has been known to Brazilian engineers for some time and at the outbreak of the war German prospectors were looking it over. Several tests to determine the best methods of nickel extraction were conducted in Germany, the bureau of mines has learned.

RICHEST YET KNOWN

The nickel is perhaps the richest nickel deposit yet known. The United States produces very little of this metal. The chief source at present is Canada. The difficulty with the Brazilian source is its extreme isolation, bureau of mines engineers point out.

The mountain is the Sierra da Mantiquerra in the state of Goiaz—a great mass of ancient volcanic rock extending for 15 miles. At present some cobalt is mined at its lower levels. Similar mountain masses farther north are of much the same structure and are reported to contain much nickel. They consist for the most part of soft, greenish rock covered by a very thin soil layer.

Little Local Labor

Extensive mining operations present considerable difficulties at present. There is little local labor. The nearest source of hydroelectric power necessary for big scale conversion is a narrow gorge of the Maranhao River, about 25 miles away. The nearest railroad station, Anapolis, is about 220 miles from the mountain by a narrow ungraded road and at present it is necessary to cross the river by ferry.

There is also some question, the bureau of mine experts explain, as to how the ore might be concentrated to extract the metal. Tests to concentrate it by flotation process, it is learned, have been made at a great German Nickel works at Cologne with good results. Further tests were to be made by the Krupp Co. at Madgeburg, but these apparently were prevented by the war. A similar nickel ore, processed in a similar fashion is found in Saxony.

Lower Grade Mined

Says a bureau of mines account of the find: "The property has large potential nickel reserves, which with development in depth, application of low-cost mining, and improvement in transportation could within a few years be developed to supply most of the nickel required by the United States at a price considerably below the present market price.

Brazil already produces considerable nickel, but from an ore of much lower grade than that of the Sierra da Mantiquerra. It runs only from 1 to 3 per cent and methods of mining are quite primitive. The reserve of ore is, at best, only a few billion tons with about 2 per cent nickel.

The principal Brazilian nickel market in the past has been the Krupp works in Germany. They purchased about 18,000 tons of ore in 1936, the last year for which accurate records can be obtained. This market now is presumably cut off.

The Braille Literature Association for China, which operates from Shanghai under Christian auspices, is now facing a new flood of requests for Braille primers and slates and books in Braille for soldiers who have been blinded in fighting for their country. Its stock is becoming depleted but it is making efforts to meet as many calls as possible. Three hundred blinded soldiers in one camp in Central China are asking for 50 Braille primers and slates—the latter to aid in learning to read this script for the sightless.

For example, the Comptroller's records show production taxes on oil are now bringing more than two million dollars a month. The total for September was $1,983,609.74 and that for October $2,091,786.93. Since the outlook is for increased production, it is probable that the oil tax alone will produce $27,000,000 or more next year, instead of $23,000,000 estimated, when the so-called omnibus tax bill was passed.

An important factor in decreasing State expenditures may be the taking over wholly by the Federal government of certain activities now carried on in cooperation with the states. Not only unemployment compensation, but old-age assistance, may be fully federalized in the near future. Old-age assistance is now one of the very big items of State expenditures.

Washington reports show that many recipients of the Federal benefits provided for aged industrial workers are going back into active careers to aid in the defense program. If there has been any re-employment of persons eligible for old age assistance—in which the State participates—the effect is not yet discernible on the Texas rolls. More than 153,000 persons are now drawing old-age assistance in Texas, the largest number on record.

No doubt the contrast is due to the fact that those drawing old-age benefits were employed as skilled workers at the time the Social Security Act was passed, while old-age assistance recipients are mostly from outside the industrial classes, or have not done industrial work for many years.

Disappearance of demands for a special session of the Legislature is regarded by Governor Coke Stevenson as a sign of a healthy condition in State governmental affairs. But it is also a sign of general recognition that public spending for purposes other than defense must be decreased. The average special session is due, largely, to the desire of State departments and institutions for increased appropriations, or to the desire of groups of the citizenship for the creation of new governmental agencies. In the present state of international affairs, bigger appropriations for the ordinary activities of State government would be decidedly unpopular.

The governor noted in a press interview the other day, that proposed changes in Texas laws to meet defense emergencies have been rendered needless by solution of the problems involved without legislative action. It is only changes related to defense that would command much support in a special session of the present Legislature.

"Church and synagogue must join now in combatting anti-Semitism as well as its consequences," says Dr. Conrad Hoffman of the International Missionary Council. "Anti-Semitism is a peril to the church and its continued existence as much as to the Jew. Mass emigration of Jews will require the attention of the church as of the synagogue and together they must solicit government action. Presumably Palestine and North and South America will be the chief outlets for this enforced Jewish emigration. In other words, Anglo-Saxon leadership will be involved. British and American Jews and Christians will thus be brought closer than ever. And in their social, cultural and political interchange there will be increasing spiritual and religious interchange as well.

Dr. A. L. Warnshuis of the International Missionary Council, reports that all the overseas missions of the Protestant churches of France are being carried on despite the war. Churches in unoccupied France and in Switzerland have "given sacrificially," he says, to support the missions in Madagascar, Togoland, and Senegal; while the French missions in South Africa, Cameroun, Gabon, New Caledonia and Tahiti are being supported by funds raised principally in the United States and in Great Britain and her possessions and administered by the International body. The Lutheran churches of the United States, he adds, have contributed for the carrying on of Lutheran missions formerly cared for by Ger-

State Taxes May Face Reduction

By Edmunds Travis

It may be looking a long way ahead, but the next assembly of Texas lawmakers is likely to be more concerned with reducing taxes than with piling on new taxes.

Reasons will be the pinch of Federal taxes, increased yield of existing State taxes and pleas of Federal officials for cutting down non-defense expenditures.

Mr. Average Citizen is due to become extremely tax conscious early next year, when he begins figuring out what he must pay Uncle Sam. By that time, he will have heard from practically all leaders in the national defense effort that non-defense spending of all kinds must be cut down. Secretary Morgenthau's demand for a billion dollar cut in the Federal government's own non-defense spending is only a starter.

Meantime, expansion of defense industry and related activities in Texas, plus rising prices, will make all sorts of special taxes imposed by the State yield more than was anticipated a year ago.

man, Danish, Norwegian and Finnish congregations. During the past two years American Lutherans have contributed $372,000 for these "orphaned missions" in Africa, Syria, Arabia, India, New Guinea, China and Japan.

Dr. A. Uzawa, a leading Christian member of the House of Peers of Japan, who is also head of the Meiji University, has been elected president of "The Japanese Christian Laymen's Organization" which has been formed to foster the work of the new "Church of Christ in Japan." T. Takahashi, head of the lay organization of the Methodist Church in Japan, has been chosen chairman of the Board of Trustees. The purpose of the organization is to provide finances for the new Church, and to endeavor to co-operate with Christian churches in Manchuria, China, and elsewhere. "We are mightily moved by the fact that the Christian churches of Japan have united and formed the Church of Christ in Japan," says a statement of the new body. "At this time when a new order is being established in Eastern Asia, this united church becomes an organized force reinforcing the nation in a courageous spiritual advance."

Eight foreign missionaries, two home missionaries and eight deaconesses will be commissioned for Christian service by the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Methodist Church at its annual meeting in New York City. The commissioning service will be on Wednesday evening, Dec. 3, at the Church of St. Paul and St. Andrew, with Bishop Arthur J. Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., making the principal address.
