Rescue—The "Mississippi Compromise" on the bonus presented by Pat Harrison is strange political paradox.

Sharing—By easy stages the administration is weakening with the possible group.

Cash—So, with passage of the compromise—perhaps in more liberal form—virtually assured, the veterans are ready to forsake their pet measure and cut themselves a piece of cake.

Frank Belgrano, (national commander of the American Legion, has warned the senate finance committee that veterans won't be satisfied with less than 100 cents on the dollar.

For instance, the average veteran holds an adjusted service certificate as a $1,000 promissory note payable in 1945.

Prediction—Frank C. Walker, who has been picked for a key position in President Roosevelt's intimate entourage for expanding that $4,500,000,000 in work-relief, should be remembered as one of the original "F. B. C." men, meaning he

Mr. Phillips lacked only 7 years of having lived in West Texas for half a century.

He was searching a land of shallow water wells when he came to this part of West Texas and settled about 14 miles southwest of Big Spring.

He did not come alone to West Texas. His father, J. J. Phillips

Commons Told Of Much Sub Construction

Simon Indicates England Considering 'Legality' Of Program

LONDON, (AP)—Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, told the house of commons Monday: "The German government has intimated that orders have been given for construction of 12 submarines of 250 tons each. This matter is under consideration."

Although Simon did not amplify his statement, it was definitely stated in other quarters that the German construction is understood to have been under way for some time.

Simon said the government is considering "legality" of the German submarine disclosures but had not yet determined whether it should protest to the league of nations.

(Special To The Herald) PLAINVIEW—Big Spring is one of the twelve towns which have entered fifteen quartets in the contest to be held here during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, May 13, 14 and 15.

Thirty-six schools have entered the poster contest, a larger number than had registered on the opening day of the convention last year.

The "My Home Town" speaking contest has attracted entries from thirty-three towns and cities.

Four cities have entered the beautification contest, rules and regulations for which were sent out only a few days ago.

The main entertainment of the session will be "La Fiesta," a revue arranged by Miss Wilma Friedman, English department head at Wayland College.

Three major topics will be considered at the annual convention. These will be discussed at group conferences and official action will be taken by the directors at their luncheons on Monday and Tuesday.

Conferences on public debt and property tax will be under direction of Senator Arthur P. Duggan, 11 p. m., following a lingering illness. Mrs. Smith had been a resident of Howard county for twenty-eight years.

Funeral services were held at the Eberly Funeral home chapel Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, with Rev. H. C. Reddock, conducting interment followed in Mount Olive cemetery.

Deceased was born January 11, 1882, in Lyerly, Georgia. She was married to Herschel Smith, Feb. 7, 1900. She had been a member of the Missionary Baptist church since July, 1900.

She is survived by her husband and six children, three sons, Alfred, Palmer and Marcus; three daughters, Mrs. Jack Olsen, Mrs. Lena Greer and Myrtle Smith. Two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Attack Fatal To Organizing Genius Of Dupont Wealth

JACKSONVILLE, (AP)—Alfred Irene Dupont, 70, organizing genius of the wealthy Delaware family, died of heart attack Monday at his Florida estate.

He was a chemist, capitalist, industrial, politician, and captain.

Taking charge of a far-flung Dupont organization in 1902 upon the death of Eugene Dupont, he reorganized the firm, moulded its holdings into the E. I. Dupont De Nemours company.

Within ten years, the organization's assets increased from $15,000,000 to $82,000,000.

He controlled the Republican party in Delaware for many years. Dupont developed the primatic powder, used by the United States in a large-caliber cannon, and designed machinery used in the company's manufacture of black powder.

He severed relations with the company in 1916, but continued to hold large interests in the company's varied organizations.

Workings Of Dog's Mind Objected To By Defense Lawyer

Charlie Tyler went on trial for car theft in the 70th district court Monday morning.

He was indicted for the theft of a 1929 Chevrolet stolen from E. H. Josey on March 18. The car was subsequently recovered.

Titlers of laughter broke out in the court room as Joe Faucett, appointed defense counsel, objected to a state witness testifying as to what a "dog knew."

The case was recessed shortly before noon to permit a plea of guilty to be entered by E. M. Hughes in a forgery trial. J. E. Huffnash, Laredo, formerly connected with Montgomery Ward and company here, appeared as a state's witness.

Several criminal cases will be tried this week, Cecil Collins, district attorney, said Monday morning.

Senator King Makes Proposal As Substitute For Extension Law

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Proposal to abolish NRA and turn a portion of its authority over to the Federal Trade commission and Labor Department was introduced in the senate Monday by Senator King, Utah Democrat, critic of NRA.

He offered the bill as a substitute for the administration measure to extend the recovery law two years.

Senator King proposed to give the trade commission jurisdiction over trade practices; the labor department supervision over wages and hours.

Early Settler Visitor Here

Hez Ray Recounts Incidents Of Early Big Spring History

H. K. Ray, known to the old timers as "Hot" here Monday for a brief visit before returning to his home in Sterling City.

The Big Spring which Ray knew was a city of tents, later shacks and saloons. Its streets were cow trails and its people hearty pioneers.

It was in 1881 that he came here to work as a cowhand. His specialty was breaking broncs.

"One day when I rode in I saw about two-thirds of the men in town gathered below the hill west of the court house," he related.

"There was a scuffling sticking up in the middle with a ten dollar bill on it.

"As I came up I heard one of the boys say, 'Here comes Hez. He can do it.' They had a horse off George Garrett's place and said the ten dollars went to the man who could ride him. So I told them to peel him off I wasn't long in fanning him down either, but he shook a knife and pocket full of change out of my pockets while I was doing it."

The city's only publication then was the Pantagraph. Whether the paper carried an account of an early legal dispute, Ray couldn't say, but he recalled it.

A certain lawyer sought to protect his client in a divorce action by involving the defendant's merchandise. This pioneer merchant objected, took an old buffalo gun in hand and barely missed the befuddled barrister. Counsel made such a hasty retreat that flapping of his riding coat in the breeze could be heard plainly. And every time the merchant fired, said Ray, the flapping increased its tempo.

Such was the Big Spring Ray knew. It has changed much since he left here 1888 to shove west and later settle down back in Sterling county. "The trails have changed around here," he complained.

Sign Advertising City Is Erected

The huge sign advertising Big Spring, which has met with unfortunate depredations in previous attempts at boosting the city has again been erected.

This time it has been placed on the west highway, where originally it was erected. Reflectors were stolen off the sign there and it was moved to north of the city. Here it was hewn down with an axe.

Decision Of Governor Is Not Released

Pardons Group Suggests Palmer And Hamilton Die On May 10

AUSTIN, (AP)—Governor Alfred disclosed Monday that the state pardon board had recommended the death sentences of Raymond Hamilton and Joe Palmer not be commuted.

The desperadoes are scheduled to be executed May 10th.

The governor usually follows the pardon board's recommendation. It was stated, however, he would withhold final decision until he completes a careful study of the board's report and records of its case.

Hamilton and Palmer were convicted of slaying Jailer Major Crowson, Ekstham prison farm guard, in an escape early in 1934.

Teachers Of Howard Return From Outing

Approximately 50 Howard county teachers returned home Sunday evening from a week-end outing to Lake Nasworthy and Christoval.

It was the first time in the history of county schools that such an affair had been held. This year the outing was attempted as a substitute for the traditional teachers' banquet.

Sunday afternoon, according to Miss Anne Martin, county superintendent, the teachers departed from the lake and visited at Christoval. They started their return trip about 7 p. m. and had to feel their way through heavy dust from San Angelo to Big Spring.

About ten of the schools in Howard county were represented in the party.

WEAKER TEAMS IN SOFTBALL LOOP SHOW MORE POWER

THIS BEING THE SEASON OF fish yams, Erah Phillips comes out with one that gives you a sort of jittery feeling. Phillips says his party of friends were angling for the big ones recently near Angelo.
 Things hadn't been going so good,
 and in the course of time Erah's line became entangled with another.
 As the lines were straightened out Phillips flipped his hook (which was not baited) back into the water, and almost as soon as it hit, a fish grabbed the hook and a prize beauty was landed.

SUCH A FEAT STIMULATED considerable activity among the fishermen, but many another fish was taken during the afternoon.

CREDIT FOR THE BEST OF the season thus far goes to John Gould of the Wichita Falls Daily Times. Gould, according to his own words, never deals in fish stories lightly or frivolously. Also, they are always presented from the scientific viewpoint. "A friend and myself were at the Deverson lake fishing and not even getting an encouraging nibble. I was taking it philosophically enough, as is my wont, but this friend (who for obvious reasons must be nameless) was partaking rather liberally of the contents of a jar of Archer county corn liquor, to console himself for the indifference of the fish.

I HAD TAKEN MY HOOK out of the water, just to be sure that there was still some bait on it, when this friend in taking a drink, accidentally spilled some of the liquor on my minnow. The latter, which had appeared listless and lethargic, began to wiggle violently and to react to the liquor in quite a surprising way.

"Surprised that the liquor hadn't killed it outright, I let the minnow alone and put my line back into the water. Almost immediately things began to happen. The line moved briskly about, with jerks and pull, as if there was a big fish on the end of it.
 "I pulled it in, and to my great satisfaction saw a good-sized bass on the end of it. But when I started to take off the hook, I discovered that it hadn't taken the minnow at all. Instead, the minnow had grabbed the bass with its teeth by the back of the neck like a terrier grabbing a rat.
 "Hurriedly I put the minnow back into the water again and in half a minute had another big bass, caught in the same way. In the course of half an hour I had as fine a string of bass as any fisherman ever dreamed about."

PROBABLY, SAY SOME OF the fellows, there are some residents of Dallas who would trade that city's centennial prospects for a good left-handed pitcher and a couple of hard-hitting outfielders.

LEN GOENECKE, BROOKLYN
 outfielder, in his first six games this season had dropped two fly balls—as many as he muffed all last summer in setting a National League outfielding record of .994.

PITCHING AND WINNING
 two big league games in one day has been done 41 times. Joe McGinnity of the Giants tops all Iron Men, for he turned the trick
 THREE TIMES in one month—
 August 1, 8 and 31 of 1903; Grover
 Alexander (Phillies), Mark Baldwin (Pirates) and Ed Walsh (White Sox) came through with two victories twice each.

THREE MEMBERS OF THE old West Texas league are now in the "Big Show", reports Jess Rodgers of Midland, and peculiarly all bear the same last name. Gene Moore of Midland, Joe Moore of Coleman and E. Moore of Abilene.
 Gene is with the Cards, Joe with the Giants and Emet with the Phillies.

Fordmen Eke Out Victory

By HANK HART
 The weaker teams of the softball league gave indications Sunday of growing stronger when the Ford Motor company eked out a 10-7 decision over Carter Chevrolet and the Couden Oilers barely edged out a win over the CCC Foresters, 3-2.

The Bruccemen gave the Couden-Oilers no little trouble when they tied by a 1-0 margin during the first five innings, but the superior power of the Oilers finally gave them the win.

Jack Smith put an end to the game when he connected with a fast ball and put it deep into right field.

The Corps gained the lead in the second inning when Diddle Young binged, went to second on Greer's sacrifice and romped homeward when Saunders erred on the next hit ball.

The Oilers threatened the following inning when Smith doubled and went to third on West's misplayed ball. With men on second and third and none out, the CCC pitcher settled down to force Saunders, Moxley and Martin to pop up in succession.

The Oilers took undisputed possession of third place in the standings with a record of four wins against one loss, while Foresters were dropped into a tie for seventh place along with Ford. The loss pushed them below a .500 average.

The Ford Motorists played a good brand of ball to surprise the Carterites and capitalized on several Krausmen errors to gain their second victory in five starts.

The Motorists were ahead most of the way, piling up as much as a five run lead in the early innings.
 The Carterites attempted to overtake the disadvantage during the fifth and succeeded in knotting the count only to have the Johnsons break out with another rally in the following stanza.

"Stony" Madison did mound duty for the victors in the absence of Manager Buster Johnson and held the Krausmen fairly well throughout the game, although he was hit hard.

The Carterites were without the services of E. P. Ketter and used Jack Dean on the initial sack.
 Dean had trouble in finding the base.

Rows hit for the circuit for the Krausmen while Cruz did the same for the Motorists.

The loss dropped the Carterites into fifth place with a record of three wins and two losses.

Not "Crazy Over Horses"

Kentucky Has Precedent For Equine Legacy
By DWIGHT L. PITKIN
 LOUISVILLE, Ky., (AP) — Kentuckians, who will glorify the thoroughbred in a big way with a festival preceding the 61st running of the Derby on May 4, can back up their traditional affection for the horse with a court citation.

When a suit was filed at Olathe, Kas., recently to set aside the will of a man on the ground he could not have been of sound mind in devising $5,000 for the care of his horse, horse-minded attorneys here dug up at least one Kentucky precedent that supported the will.

Eight years ago Appellate Judge
 M. M. Logan, now U. S. Senator, decided an identical case from Pulaski county, Kentucky, in favor of the horse. Relatives attacked the will of a farm by a stockcutter to a neighbor for $100 and "good care and treatment of a black horse named Dick so long as he lives."

It was charged the unique consideration was evidence of mental incapacity.

Taking judicial notice of man's historic affection for the horse, Judge Logan listed such famous friendships as Alexander and Bu-cephalus; Robert E. Lee and Trav-erde; Sheridan and the horse that took him to Winchester; the action of David in saving 100 beautiful horses from slaughter when he divided the kingdom of Syria, and the names Shakespeare, Cervantes and Scott bestowed upon the horse.

Judge Logan concluded the stock-cutter was no more crazy than the man who wrote, "my kingdom for a horse."

Mustangs At Grid Practice

Fifty-Five Hustling Candidates For Hennig's Team
SWEETWATER, (Sp.)—Spring is here, according to the calendar, but 55 hustling football candidates now working out daily at Newman High under the careful guidance of Coach Ed Hennig and Edson Head show no signs of "spring fever" as they go about the work in a business like manner.

Three weeks of "skull practice" on the fundamentals of football has preceded the scrimmages started this week, so it is now possible to see the prospective Mustang team of 1935 in action.

Good Spirit Shows
 Both of the coaches are well pleased with the fine spirit the boys are showing and say they have never worked with a better bunch. Incidentally, it is really a "kick" team with only two regulars of last year's team on deck around which a team composed of eleven players must be built. However, the two captains, A. J. Roy and Cullen Taylor, who are just as solid as concrete, and much bigger and faster than they were last fall, coupled with the other two lettermen, Lawrence Bruner and W. L. Browning, form a strong quartet around which the team is being composed.

A pair of big overgrown boys, Tom Hendrick and Oran Scott, are showing up exceptionally well at the two tackle positions, but Fred Senny and Lad Wood are giving them plenty of competition.

The guard positions will cause the coach no worries with that position well fortified with two lettermen, Browning and Taylor, and Alridge, a fine prospect who was ineligible last fall.

The line likely is to be flanked by at least one youngster up from Junior high before the season is well started next fall, but two squabblers, Worley and Boswell, probably have the inside track now. Worley was injured last season and unable to play.

A Six-Footer Center
 A big husky lad by the name of English, playing his first football, is going to be plenty tough at center by fall. The six-footer has played just enough basketball to handle the pigskin with ease, but will have to have a lot of work on blocking. A junior high youngster, Free, is the most promising reserve.

Nearly every man trying for a backfield position has been tried at the quarterback position, but that still appears the weak spot on the team due to the inexperienced men.

A. J. Roy and Cecil Bruner, up from junior high, will probably do most of the signal barking. Lawrence Hubbard, Leech McKelroy, Holbert and Rogers are looking good toting the old pigskin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore of Lubbock are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dixon and daughter for several days, arriving Sunday from Lubbock. They are the parents of Mrs. Dixon.

DRESSED UP

ST. PAUL, (UP)—Young Jack Gibbons, winner of 46 consecutive fights, has the sports writers harrassed in a quandary.

The talented middleweight son of "The Phantom" Mike Gibbons and nephew of Tommy Gibbons, has the scribes wondering whether to hail him as the coming champion in his division or "just another disappointment."

Since Art Lasky lost to Jimmy Braddock in the heavyweight "elimination" tournament, the writers in this section are careful about holding out too much promise for any "new sensation."

But Gibbons, trained and brought along perfectly by his father, has shown beautiful boxing in every bout with increasingly tough opponents. His latest victim, Leo Ravello, noted for a deadly right hand, failed to connect solidly once with Gibbons in 10 rounds.

The future of Gibbons depends on himself—and his father. Old Mike has repeatedly said he would have his son drop out of the fight business if he did not think he could reach the top. Meanwhile, he does not plan to push him too fast. "If he can handle it," says Mike, "that will be o.k. with me. But if he can't we'll find something else for him to do. I won't leave him in that name to be out to pieces."

Ranchers Complain When Deer Grow Too Numerous
FORT DAVIS, Tex. (UP)—It might be a hunter's paradise, but Jeff Davis county ranchers don't like the rapidly increasing deer herds in this vicinity.

W. T. (Bill) Jones, rancher, reports he has chased fawns from his horse troughs.
 "I believe there are a thousand on my ranch," he said. "They eat good grass, like expensive salt and drink scarce water. All I can do is shoot them off."

Thrip Damage Heavy To 1935 Onion Crop
LAREDO—Because of heavy thrip damage, estimated at between 25 and 30 per cent., the Bermuda onion crop in this region is estimated at 900 carloads, 400 carloads less than 1934.

Peak of the movement from this territory is expected to be reached about April 25, approximately five days later than last season.

More than 230 cars have been shipped out in spite of the strike of onion workers which has impeded shipments.

Top price is $3 per 50-pound bag for white crystal wax onions, with other varieties bringing lower prices.

DOG FALLS DEAD

The talented middleweight son of "The Phantom" Mike Gibbons and nephew of Tommy Gibbons, has the scribes wondering whether to hail him as the coming champion in his division or "just another disappointment."

Since Art Lasky lost to Jimmy Braddock in the heavyweight "elimination" tournament, the writers in this section are careful about holding out too much promise for any "new sensation."

But Gibbons, trained and brought along perfectly by his father, has shown beautiful boxing in every bout with increasingly tough opponents. His latest victim, Leo Ravello, noted for a deadly right hand, failed to connect solidly once with Gibbons in 10 rounds.

The future of Gibbons depends on himself—and his father. Old Mike has repeatedly said he would have his son drop out of the fight business if he did not think he could reach the top. Meanwhile, he does not plan to push him too fast. "If he can handle it," says Mike, "that will be o.k. with me. But if he can't we'll find something else for him to do. I won't leave him in that name to be out to pieces."

Ranchers Complain When Deer Grow Too Numerous
FORT DAVIS, Tex. (UP)—It might be a hunter's paradise, but Jeff Davis county ranchers don't like the rapidly increasing deer herds in this vicinity.

W. T. (Bill) Jones, rancher, reports he has chased fawns from his horse troughs.
 "I believe there are a thousand on my ranch," he said. "They eat good grass, like expensive salt and drink scarce water. All I can do is shoot them off."

Thrip Damage Heavy To 1935 Onion Crop
LAREDO—Because of heavy thrip damage, estimated at between 25 and 30 per cent., the Bermuda onion crop in this region is estimated at 900 carloads, 400 carloads less than 1934.

Peak of the movement from this territory is expected to be reached about April 25, approximately five days later than last season.

More than 230 cars have been shipped out in spite of the strike of onion workers which has impeded shipments.

Top price is $3 per 50-pound bag for white crystal wax onions, with other varieties bringing lower prices.

GREAT RICHES

Chapter 24
WINDFALL

The baby, for all its care, continued an unhappy, wailing moan of humanity. It never laughed and cried like other babies, and seemed to resent being brought even for a time into this world.

Doctor White said afterwards that he had always known the child would never live. James felt so sorry for the little fellow that he was almost glad when he died, upon five months and seven days from lack of vitality.

It grieved James inexpressibly that his son had not lived long enough to learn how truly his father loved him or what friends they might have been. James tried to keep her grief her own as she tried to keep her child all to herself.

"Why do you look me out so completely?" asked James gently one day. He kept puzzling to find out why things went wrong between them in spite of all his efforts.

"No man could understand," said Jane quite truthfully. "James was fated never to understand."

For some reason James was made to feel vaguely guilty about the children's deaths. Mrs. Northrup hinted openly in his presence as elsewhere that the twins had inherited their lack of constitution from their grandmother on the Simon side—Dr. Jim's beloved Molly. No matter what happened in the family, it seemed to James again writing with James. He passed her house daily going to and returning from his office. She noticed first that his shoulders were beginning to droop like those of an old man. Later it seemed to her that his eyes and manner lacked their old-time assurance and there was no doubt that when she saw him to talk to be had, after the greetings, little or nothing to say.

This from James, who had always been bubbling over with conversation, was enough to cause Miss Julia many a sleepless hour. Not long after, she noticed with growing uneasiness that the Judge seemed worried and unhappy. A little later it was impossible to ignore the disquieting fact that the old man had stopped bragging about "his boy."

In fact the Judge changed the subject more than once when Miss Julia talked of James and this latter upset Miss Julia more than anything else. He avoided her more or less for some months but one evening he came in to see her soon after supper and she knew in a moment that he was in a towering rage.

He sat for a long time twitching about uncomfortably in his chair and glowering at his unhappy husband who rocked impatiently back and forth and elaborately made conversation, while she speculated uneasily on whatever allied the man. The Judge meanwhile listened not at all to what Miss Julia was saying and plunged into his grievances in the very midst of one of her sentences.

"That woman's ruining my boy and you know it," he burst out finally without any pretense of preliminaries.

"What woman?" asked Miss Julia a bit belligerently.

"Who else but your precious Jane who was supposed to be the only person in New Concord fit to marry him. I don't dare say a word to anyone but you, for all the fool women in this town tell each other all they know faster than they know it."

"But I tell you that that wife of James already has smashed to pieces all I worked so many years to build up. She's so afraid of spoiling him by praise that she never praises him. No matter what he does she acts like it wasn't such a much that if she had been there she would have done a better job."

"I tried to tell her once that that wasn't the way to treat the boy but she shut her lips like a bear trap and told me in so many words to mind my own business."

"But she seems so fond of him," said Miss Julia meekly. "She takes such good care of him and runs his house so nicely. I see him coming and going to his meals like clock work. She seems to know how to manage him better than his aunt did."

Farmer Finds Out Oats Worth More Than 8c A Bushel. SAN ANGELO (UP)—It took three years, but Lee Pfleger, local farmer, was finally vindicated in his belief that oats were worth more than 8 cents a bushel. In 1932 Pfleger raised 6,000 bushels of oats. The market price was only 8 cents so he decided to hold his crop for higher prices. Recently the price went to 35c and Pfleger sold the crop.

SCOUT NEWS

Girl and Boy Scouts participated in the Americanization program sponsored by the VFW Friday evening. Five Boy Scouts gave the scout oath, the scout law, and a brief history of the flag, and respects due the flag. Girl Scouts followed with a brief significance of the flag, its history, and a long series of respects due the colors. Each day brings the Round Up time nearer for the boys. On May 10-11 approximately 600 scouts and scouters will converge here for their field day and annual treat at the hands of Big Spring people. The Chamber of Commerce has agreed to furnish a trophy to the winning troop of the Round Up.

Tom Ashley, in charge of arrangements, has secured the promise of at least one beef, has appointed other committees and is shaping things up in general. He says that everything will be in readiness when the day comes. Effort is going to organize a scout troop. There were seven boys present Wednesday evening in a pre-organization meeting. All of the boys were ready to pass their tenderfoot test. Those boys are interested in scouting. If you don't believe it, then consider the fact that one walked six miles to attend the meeting, then walked back six miles in a cold, dust storm.

A group of scouters went to Midland last Tuesday to take part in the fourth of a series of discussions on the principles of scoutmanship. Midland will come here Tuesday evening. The meeting will be held in the First Methodist church basement.

"Chief" A. C. Williamson, area executive, was here this week. He has spent a busy time trying to attend and start training courses. He now has courses running at Sweetwater, Pecos, Big Spring and Snyder.

Troop Meetings. Troop No. 4—Thirteen scouts, one official, and three visitors were present for the regular weekly meeting. The troop will have a special meeting next Thursday at the camp site the boys gathered for. The troop is to go on a hike next Friday. The troop is to play a baseball game next Tuesday with troop No. 2. Captain of Troop No. 4 team is Bruce Phillips and Weldon Bigony is assistant captain. Scouts played several games and then were dismissed by senior patrol leader, Bruce Phillips, by leading the troop in singing "Taps."

Troop No. 5—The troop left the scoutmaster's house at 4:30 Thursday afternoon for a hike to the south mountain. On arriving on night to practice on the Round Up wood for the cooking fire. Several games were played. The troop then went to one of the many caves on the mountain and had the council fire. Several songs were sung and the scoutmaster told a story. The hike was attended by about 20 scouts and one official. They arrived in town from the hike about 10 o'clock. Reported by Buck Tyree.

Troop No. 7—The troop held its usual weekly meeting at the Kate Morrison school building Friday night. There were about thirty boys present and the principal activities were running contest races for approaching Round Up. The Indians came out winners. Strong patrol spirit gives a competitive aspect to all contests. The desire to carry on was so strong that only three boys voted to attend the Americanization rally held at the City Auditorium. The addition of the names of Meleton Juarez, Antonio Rodriguez, and Leonardo Diaz brings the patrol number up to thirty registered scouts. Several other boys are studying tenderfoot requirements. The Giants were 100 per cent in attendance.

Expect Merger Of 2 Wool Associations

SAN ANGELO (UP)—The long-awaited merger of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association and the Wool and Mohair Producers' Association of Texas was expected to be a reality following a meeting here this week. A mail ballot of the two associations early in the month approved the merger, which had been discussed for more than a year.

helped organize the Roosevelt landslide before the 1932 Chicago conventions. Walker comes back into the spotlight, particularly in his old job as director of the National Emergency Council, with reluctance. He has always worked best without publicity. In fact, he does so ex-officio for nearly a year. His specialties are under-cover coordination and police finance-raising, neither of which bloom overly well in his measured opinion. If too much Washington newspaper spotlight and conjecture is directed upon them, they returned to formal New Deal service only because the commanding general urged him to get back into harness.

And may this writer take a modest bow for having predicted some time ago that Walker reluctantly would be back in a key position for the expenditure of that $4,580,000,000?

Anonymous

A lot of hard-headed and able men are in some of the federal agencies classed as the New Deal. They are as much opposed to radical experiments as any outsiders. Their private criticism of brain-trusters would raise a blister on a rhinoceros hide. Collectively the agencies are doing much to improve business, reduce unemployment and save the administration from an open break with congress.

Railroads, banks, home owners, mortgage companies, miners, building contractors, building material producers and artisans are better off because of the activities of federal agencies that are not looking for the limelight. The collective efforts of these agencies must be counted in Roosevelt's favor. He encourages them all.

Cutter

Some insiders expect to see a beautiful scrap develop between Christian Joy Peoples and Secretary Honest Harold Ickes. Ickes remains boss of Public Works and Peoples remains boss of Washington Works branch. Peoples is in the Treasury Department. That is, Ickes orders public works and Peoples does the purchasing and delivering. A parody on John May's Hoosier ballad is going the rounds, with Ickes the target and Peoples speaking.

He'll rattle his hash in hell tonight or my name's not Christian Joy!" Fact is that Admiral Peoples is a close-mouthed executive who knows how to cut federal cloth, no matter who wants to spend what.

Notes

Plans are in preparation for the Treasury Annex Building to cover the lots now occupied by the Belasco theater and Cosmos club. No empty apartments in Washington and suburbs are growing rapidly. Painters and sculptors should send for the bulletin of the Painting and Sculpture section, Public Works Branch, Treasury Department. Treasury officials warn speculators not to get too gay with silver. Labor people are denouncing Secretary Ickes for demanding lower wages in construction work.

NEW YORK

By JAMES McMULLIN. True—One we-d from Bill Green and a lot of his labor unions do as they please. Informed New Yorkers learn that the strike in Chevrolet's Toledo plant was called by local leaders without even consulting the Federation's national officers. The latter have been talking loud but privately maneuvering to avoid any overt test which might show up the Federation's weakness in the motor industry. Now Green and his lieutenants have no choice but to get behind the strike and try to steer it to a happy ending outside of Coughlin's pocket.

This plant is one of the few where auto workers indicated a majority preference for affiliation with the Federation of Labor. But that's no guarantee of victory. The Chevrolet people can afford to sit tight—having stepped up production in the past few months against just such a contingency. The strike is unlikely to spread to other motor factories if Green can help it, unless some unforeseen miracle indicates a clear-cut triumph at Toledo. He will have to take responsibility for the outcome of the fight—even though it was none of his picking.

Insiders predict a compromise settlement which saves face for both sides but means little if any change in the status quo. No pressure that strikers or government can exert can make General Motors yield an inch in its anti-closed shop attitude. A way out may be found on the Republic Steel precedent. Republic signed an agreement with a labor organization whose existence it didn't officially admit.

The union claimed that was recognition—the company claimed it wasn't—and all hands were satisfied at least to the point of keeping the factory in operation. Such a solution might lead to a prolonged truce—but hardly to permanent peace.

Sharing

Financial conservatives ironically applaud Secretary Morgenthau's insistence that any veterans' bonus legislation must be accompanied by taxation to cover the cost in order not to unbalance the budget. They are glad to see the administration firm for a pay-as-you-go policy on one item anyway—even though it's a lone oasis in a Sahara of debt expansion.

But Mr. Morgenthau's suggestion that inheritance taxes would be a good way to raise additional revenue sends icy shivers down wealthy spines. It's feared that congress will find the implied invitation to combine passage of the bonus with the pleasure of waiving the rich too enticing to resist. Comment runs that FDR may

East Howard Wildcat Hits Oil And Water

Slagel Foster Plugs Back To Shoot; Trio Is Completed. H. P. Slagel, trustee, No. 1 Foster, one mile northeast of the Dodge-Denman pool, encountered oil and water, and two producers in the Dodge-Denman area and one off the northeast corner of the Chalk-Settles field were completed to furnish Howard county's principal developments last week. International Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Texas-Pacific Land Trust, one mile northwest extension to the Dodge-Denman pool, just purchased from Stacy E. Hall and M. H. Bennett of Big Spring, pumped 34 1/2 barrels during the first two hours after swabbing 450 barrels in 21 hours.

The gages were not considered conclusive of the well's potential since tubing would not go below 2,500 feet where casing was damaged by a 550-quart shot. Location is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 45, block 30, township 1 south, T&P Ry. Co. survey. International will drill six tests during the next 12 months under terms of the purchase agreement. Iron Mountain Oil Co. No. 6 Read, east offset to the International No. 1 T-P and in the southwest corner of section 48, block 30, township 1 south, T&P Ry. Co. survey, struck an air pocket and 2 1/2 barrels of water hourly at 1822 feet and drilled ahead at 1875 in line.

Factor

New York political sharps figure the Republicans under Henry Fletcher's leadership are making their biggest mistake in ignoring the women's vote—as such—a very large extent. They point out that Hoover's sweeping victory in '28 traced largely to his popularity with the "kitchen vote"—which was then in evidence for the first time as an effective political entity. But Hoover muffed his chance after election. His attitude implied that women should stay in the kitchen.

Experts also trace the extent of the "kitchen vote" largely to a feminine tide at the polls. FDR has been at pains to court their continued support. Many women of ability have been brought to Washington and placed in responsible jobs. Mrs. Roosevelt's activities are also expected to help her husband with voters of her own sex. This factor should not be overlooked in appraising prospects for 1936.

Action

This column recently stated that reapportionment of New York senators and assemblymen could only be made at a regular session of the legislature. This is correct according to the letter of the New York State constitution. But the basic law also stipulates that reapportionment shall be made at the first regular session after each decennial state census—a provision that has been made more honored in the breach than the observance.

Reapportionment at a special session in 1907 was contested on constitutional grounds and upheld by the court of appeals. The court ruled that the "duty imposed upon" the legislature by the constitution to alter the political map in accordance with the census could not be evaded on purely technical grounds. So there's still a chance for action at a special session this year—contrary to our earlier report.

Phillips

Mr. Phillips did not marry until he was 50. At that time he met an attractive woman, Miss Mollie Hardin, who had kept house for her mother and brother when they came west to reside on a ranch near Garden City. He and Mrs. Hardin were married after they had known each other something over a year, and had lived happily together for 25 years when death came. Mr. Phillips moved to Big Spring in 1920, residing at 600 East Fourth.

Mr. Phillips was very interested in his church. He was a member of the East Fourth Street Baptist church, and was known as "Uncle Hart" by most of its members. He served on the board of deacons. The pastors of that church, soon came more like sons to him and Mrs. Phillips than strangers, and his advice was carefully regarded by them.

The local museum was another community interest of Mr. Phillips. During the membership drive last spring he and his wife paid for a life membership, one of the few taken up by Big Spring citizens. He did it because he wanted to see the old west he knew so well perpetuated for the children of the future, although he himself left no family behind to enjoy it.

Only recently Mr. Phillips signed over $13,000 in notes he held against the East Fourth Street Baptist church as an endowment to Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene, saying at the time to Dr. Sandifer, president of the institution, who came out to see Mr. Phillips, that he wanted to do something in a material way for not go for Huey Long's wealth-shedding policy—but evidently has ideas of his own on the subject.

Conservative critics remark that the most over-produced industry in the country is real estate. Yet the government not only fosters further production through every possible channel of its own—it is continually prodding the banks to loosen up along the same line. The boys aren't passing up the chance for easier money, but are under the New Deal consistency.

The banks also complain that any such legislation would put them on an even hotter spot than they have occupied heretofore. "Washington is still sore at us for not making more loans. Yet we practically couldn't make any under this restriction. Industries that aren't over-produced on the basis of present consumption are as scarce as hoop-skirts for horses."

Cheap

Here's a sample of real estate conditions in the New York financial district. A building in the heart of the section—which has sold as high as three million dollars and a couple of times for over a million—is now going for less than an offer of $900,000. More than that has been spent to modernize it in the past few years. The price quoted is equivalent to 75¢ a foot for the land with a 20-story building thrown in free. Property two blocks away was sold at $250 a foot (exclusive of building) in 1920.

Factor

New York political sharps figure the Republicans under Henry Fletcher's leadership are making their biggest mistake in ignoring the women's vote—as such—a very large extent. They point out that Hoover's sweeping victory in '28 traced largely to his popularity with the "kitchen vote"—which was then in evidence for the first time as an effective political entity. But Hoover muffed his chance after election. His attitude implied that women should stay in the kitchen.

Experts also trace the extent of the "kitchen vote" largely to a feminine tide at the polls. FDR has been at pains to court their continued support. Many women of ability have been brought to Washington and placed in responsible jobs. Mrs. Roosevelt's activities are also expected to help her husband with voters of her own sex. This factor should not be overlooked in appraising prospects for 1936.

Action

This column recently stated that reapportionment of New York senators and assemblymen could only be made at a regular session of the legislature. This is correct according to the letter of the New York State constitution. But the basic law also stipulates that reapportionment shall be made at the first regular session after each decennial state census—a provision that has been made more honored in the breach than the observance.

Reapportionment at a special session in 1907 was contested on constitutional grounds and upheld by the court of appeals. The court ruled that the "duty imposed upon" the legislature by the constitution to alter the political map in accordance with the census could not be evaded on purely technical grounds. So there's still a chance for action at a special session this year—contrary to our earlier report.

Phillips

Mr. Phillips did not marry until he was 50. At that time he met an attractive woman, Miss Mollie Hardin, who had kept house for her mother and brother when they came west to reside on a ranch near Garden City. He and Mrs. Hardin were married after they had known each other something over a year, and had lived happily together for 25 years when death came. Mr. Phillips moved to Big Spring in 1920, residing at 600 East Fourth.

Mr. Phillips was very interested in his church. He was a member of the East Fourth Street Baptist church, and was known as "Uncle Hart" by most of its members. He served on the board of deacons. The pastors of that church, soon came more like sons to him and Mrs. Phillips than strangers, and his advice was carefully regarded by them.

The local museum was another community interest of Mr. Phillips. During the membership drive last spring he and his wife paid for a life membership, one of the few taken up by Big Spring citizens. He did it because he wanted to see the old west he knew so well perpetuated for the children of the future, although he himself left no family behind to enjoy it.

Only recently Mr. Phillips signed over $13,000 in notes he held against the East Fourth Street Baptist church as an endowment to Hardin-Simmons University of Abilene, saying at the time to Dr. Sandifer, president of the institution, who came out to see Mr. Phillips, that he wanted to do something in a material way for

Slagel Foster Plugs Back To Shoot; Trio Is Completed. H. P. Slagel, trustee, No. 1 Foster, one mile northeast of the Dodge-Denman pool, encountered oil and water, and two producers in the Dodge-Denman area and one off the northeast corner of the Chalk-Settles field were completed to furnish Howard county's principal developments last week. International Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Texas-Pacific Land Trust, one mile northwest extension to the Dodge-Denman pool, just purchased from Stacy E. Hall and M. H. Bennett of Big Spring, pumped 34 1/2 barrels during the first two hours after swabbing 450 barrels in 21 hours.

The gages were not considered conclusive of the well's potential since tubing would not go below 2,500 feet where casing was damaged by a 550-quart shot. Location is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 45, block 30, township 1 south, T&P Ry. Co. survey. International will drill six tests during the next 12 months under terms of the purchase agreement. Iron Mountain Oil Co. No. 6 Read, east offset to the International No. 1 T-P and in the southwest corner of section 48, block 30, township 1 south, T&P Ry. Co. survey, struck an air pocket and 2 1/2 barrels of water hourly at 1822 feet and drilled ahead at 1875 in line.

New Building Tops Repairs During March

Residential Projects Soar, Labor Bureau Reports. WASHINGTON—New residential construction took the lead over modernization during March for the first time since the Federal Housing Administration began to function, while building activity in general reached the highest figure for March within the past four years, the administration has been informed by the bureau of labor statistics, department of labor.

Reports from 770 cities to the bureau of labor statistics show that permits for new residential construction in March totaled $20,350,700, while modernization work, exclusive of equipment installations, totaled $17,788,648. Residential construction gained 103.2 per cent last month over the preceding month and 130.9 per cent over the same month last year. Modernization work gained 46.2 per cent over the preceding month and 48.9 per cent over the same month last year.

Building Under Way. This is taken as conclusive evidence by the administration that new residential construction under the better-housing program is getting well under way, as the increases in building activity for the past several months have depended largely on modernization alone. South Atlantic States reported the amazing increase in new residential construction over the same month last year of 363.1 per cent. Atlanta, Ga., led with permits totaling $2,156,877, against $9,976 for March 1934.

All other sections of the country showed gains in residential construction over the same month last year in the following percentages: New England, 20.2; Middle Atlantic, 129.6; East North Central, 133.4; West North Central, 75.6; East South Central, 269.1; West South Central, 48.9; Mountain, 168.5; Pacific, 63.7.

Other Cities. In addition to Atlanta, five cities went over the half-million mark last month in the residential construction field. New York, $1,424,300, against $293,250 for the same month last year; Washington, $883,410, against $298,775; Los Angeles, $882,813, against $515,543; Detroit $536,086, against $165,800; Philadelphia, $508,000, against $387,900.

Every section of the country also showed a gain over the same month last year in modernization work, exclusive of equipment installations. The percentages follow: New England, 6.3; Middle Atlantic, 48.9; East North Central, 75.5; West North Central, 61.4; South Atlantic, 85.5; East South Central, 47.9; Mountain, 34.4; Pacific, 36.5. New York City was far in the lead in modernization work, including equipment, with $4,636,200; Los Angeles was second with $943,753, while Columbus, Ohio, leaped into third place with the surprising volume of $731,201. Washington, D. C., continued the tremendously accelerated pace of the past several months with $617,765.

Immunize Now—Stamp Out Diphtheria

AUSTIN—The May Day slogan "Immunize Now—Stamp Out Diphtheria" is designed to intensify the attack upon one of the most deadly foes of children, according to Dr. H. N. Earnest, director of the bureau of child hygiene. In the early days of our country's history an epidemic of diphtheria in a town not infrequently resulted in one or more deaths among the children of almost every family in town. These devastating outbreaks continued to appear in our various cities and towns until the latter part of last century.

The campaign carried on in connection with the celebration of May Day as Child Health Day, should give added interest to continuing diphtheria immunization work and extending its scope to include as many children as possible. The best time to immunize is continued to appear in our various cities and towns until the latter part of last century.

DO YOU HATE TO MEET PEOPLE?

SOME of us are so bashful that whenever a new face appears before us we mentally duck away! Maybe it isn't shyness so much as simply not realizing how very interesting new acquaintances can be.

Some people are shy about new foods too. One family we know has had pork and beans every Saturday night for ten years, and they see no reason for changing!

How much more interesting life—and dinner!—would be for that family with a new kind of meat, a vegetable prepared some other way, a new style in dessert. New foods—new faces—brighten our days and help make living an exciting game.

Look through the advertisements in this newspaper today for new IDEAS IN FOODS. They're here, in abundance... recipes, tried and tested... favorite platters of favorite people... exotic dishes from exotic lands.

The advertisements bring you up-to-the-minute news of many things. Read them regularly. Form the habit of getting the most out of life—and the most for your money.

"Roberta" Year's Best Musical Hit

The year's gayest and most colorful musical romance comes to the screen when Irene Dunne, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers open in RKO-Radio's film version of the Broadway hit, "Roberta."

Featuring the singing of Miss Dunne, the dancing and singing of Astaire and Miss Rogers, and a brilliant display of feminine fashions by a regiment of beautiful mannequins, the production offers sparkling entertainment of tremendous appeal.

Melody and dance numbers, and the lavish fashion displays all are woven logically into a fast-moving, thoroughly plausible story which combines tender romance with gay comedy.

Love interest centers about Miss Dunne and Randolph Scott, although there is more than a suggestion of romance in the battle of wits between Astaire and Miss Rogers and their teaming of dance wizardry.

The story revolves about the comedy-rich situation of an All-American football player falling heir to a fashionable Paris gown shop. The grid hero and his band leader pal set the world of fashion agog; the hearts of the demimonde twitler, and the feet of the Parisians aflame during the course of their hectic adventures.

Jerome Kern, king of musical comedy composers, wrote the music for the screen production. In addition to the original songs, among them "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," from the stage show, new Kern songs written especially for the film, are presented.

Fashions for the pictures were created by Bernard Newman, internationally known couturier.

William Selter directed the production, which includes in its cast such well known favorites as Helen Westley, Victor Varnoni, Claire Dodd, Ferdinand Munier and Adrian Hovley.

"Roberta" is being shown at the Ritz theatre today for last time.

Library Exhibit Traces Growth And Development Of Literature

AUSTIN—The growth and development of Texas literature, from the ameba that was the Indian pictograph to the present day, when approximately 1,250 contemporary writers are making their contributions to the literary culture of the state, were traced in an exhibit arranged by the University Library for the Texas Library association convention April 25, 26 and 27.

The university anthropology museum collaborated with Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher, archivist, in arranging the case filled with Indian picture writings and pictures, all taken from the museum; included in this display was a Gospel according to Saint Matthew, translated into the Shawanoe language in 1842, a volume loaned by Mrs. R. B. Harrison of Waco.

The beginning of literature in Texas were illustrated by copies of early Spanish writings, documents and printed materials; a notice printed on a press belonging to Mexican authorities in Texas, linking the Spanish-Mexican regime with that of the Anglo-American one, headed by Stephen F. Austin; the story of Fray Francisco Jesus Maria who lived among the Texas Indians and wrote the first description of them and of the Spanish attempts to Christianize them; the first description of Texas written by an American; the first novel set in Texas; the first English novel touching on Texas; the first Texas book written in German; and the first Texas poem.

Then followed a display of books and relics belonging to the Austin family, volumes from Moses and Mary Austin's personal library, documents written by Stephen F. Austin, and personal effects of the family, now in the University library.

The exhibit was completed by a display, arranged by Dr. Florence E. Barnes of Austin, of books, manuscripts and letters representing the work of approximately 1,250 contemporary Texas writers.

Fresh as the Spring
Breath of Spring

While YOU TRAVEL when YOU ARRIVE ON Air-conditioned TRAINS THROUGHOUT THE WEST

Travel by train! On trains that are air-conditioned from stem to stern. The greatest forward step in travel comfort since the invention of the sleeping car. It makes train travel through the West the world's most luxurious form of transportation. Yet it costs you not one penny more. Your dollar goes farther on Western Railroads.

All Cars Air-Conditioned
Western Railroads have air-conditioned their principal trains throughout—coaches and chair cars as well as sleeping, cafe, club, lounge, dining and observation cars. These famous western trains require a great many cars—for example, a transcontinental schedule requires seven complete trains, over 70 cars in all. Every one of these cars has been air-conditioned—employing thousands of workers—placing millions of dollars in circulation to aid recovery.

So while other industries are still experimenting with air-conditioning of the finer homes, hotels, schools, theatres, office buildings and other places of business—the Western Railroads have pioneered again—by air-conditioning complete trains so that you may enjoy the healthful, restful comforts and benefits of air-conditioning on wheels.

More Than Cooling
The way these principal western trains are air-conditioned insures clean, fresh air at all times—no matter how hot or dusty it is outside. The cars are quiet, odorless, free from drafts. The air-moisture (humidity) is scientifically regulated. When you travel by train in the west now, on business or vacation, you will feel (and look) "Fresh as the Breath of Spring—while you travel—when you arrive."

Ideal weather all the way—that's what you have while traveling in an air-conditioned train. You wouldn't be inconvenienced even if your train ran through a dust storm. And you can wear white linens on an air-conditioned Western train.

Train Travel Costs Less
Be sure to find out how little it costs to travel in comfort and safety on Western trains. The Western Railroads have reduced their whole scale of basic fares—down to as low as 2¢ a mile in sleeping cars on a round trip ticket and correspondingly low fares in coaches and chair cars. The new type coaches are finer than the parlor cars of just a few years ago. Sleeping car charges have also been sharply reduced. You will likewise find it economical—and very satisfying—to eat your meals in the dining cars of these air-conditioned trains while the west passes by in a glorious panoramic parade.

When you travel by train you know in advance what it will cost. You know when you will arrive—you can plan your time to best advantage—you rest as you ride—and you save money.

See Nearest Railroad Ticket Agent
No matter where you want to go—or when—the Western Railroads are ready to serve you for both business or pleasure travel. For more details on special places of interest, routes, rates or literature, see your local railroad representative. Phone, write or call on him. He will gladly advise you.
