INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $3,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins Jan. 1 and ends March 15, 1935.

HOW? See instructions on forms 1040A and 1040.

WHAT? Four percent normal tax on the amount of net income in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependents, earned income credit, dividends of domestic corporations subject to taxation, and interest on obligations of the United States and obligations of instrumentalities of the United States. Surtax on surtax net income in excess of $4,000.

INCOME TAX DON'TS

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax provisions.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

YOUR INCOME TAX NO. II

Gross Income, Net Income, and Surtax Net Income

Three of the terms used in the income tax law, namely, "gross income," "net income," and "surtax net income," should be noted particularly, inasmuch as they are vitally important to the whole subject of the income tax.

Gross income includes in general all income from any source whatever, unless exempt from tax by law. The gross income of the usual business consists of the gross profits on sales, plus any income from investments and incidental or outside operations or sources. The return must show the gross sales, purchases and cost of goods sold. To reflect income correctly, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

A lawyer, doctor, architect, physician, dentist, clergyman, author, or other professional man must include in gross income all fees, salaries, and compensation of any kind for professional services.

Net income upon which the tax is assessed is gross income less the deduction allowed by law. Such deductions include business and professional expenses, such as salaries, pensions, and bonuses to employees, taxes, losses, interest paid, bad debts, depreciation, depletion, contributions, etc. Failure to understand deductions against gross income and credits against net income has resulted in numerous errors on the part of taxpayers.

The Revenue Act of 1934 provides for an earned income credit in addition to the personal exemption and credit for dependents, etc., for the purpose of computing the net taxable income. Having arrived at the net income, the next step is to deduct the personal exemption and credit for dependents. The balance represents the "surtax net income." The next step is to deduct from such balance the earned income credit and other credits to which the taxpayer is entitled. The result is the taxable income.

Divide Is First Opponent At Abilene

Big Spring and Abilene are named favorites to reach the finals in the tournament to be held at Abilene today and Saturday to decide the southern half championship of District 5. The northern sectional play-off is slated at Roby this week-end.

The Steers, after several weeks of ragged playing, showed good form in their last game when they defeated the Foran Drillers by a comfortable margin. Bob Flowers, forward, led the team with a strong scoring punch.

FIRST ROUND TONIGHT
7 p. m.—Colorado vs. Sweetwater.
8 p. m.—Big Spring vs. Divide.
9 p. m.—Abilene vs. Foran.
Tuscola, bye.

SEMI-FINALS SATURDAY
8:30 a. m.—Winner of Colorado-Sweetwater game vs. winner of Big Spring-Divide game.
10:30 a. m.—Tuscola vs. winner of Abilene-Foran game.
The championship game will be played at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Brown's cohorts should have little trouble breezing through their first round game with Divide, champion of Nolan county. The second game with the winner of the Colorado-Sweetwater tilt should be an easy one.

Coach Teaches A Tough Game

Louisiana State Mentor Teaches 'Fast Break' System

RAYTON ROUGE, La. (UP)—One wouldn't expect a quiet, unassuming, easy-going man like Coach Harry Rabenhorst of Louisiana State University to teach a ferocious type of basketball, but that's the kind he insists upon.

Taking the view that spectators want action, and that spectator interest is what basketball, like any game, must cultivate, Rabenhorst teaches the "fast break" system which calls for quick striking, offensive play.

Texas Christian Squad To Be Large

FORT WORTH, (Sp.)—The largest football squad that Texas Christian university ever had is in the offing for the 1935 season. Fifty-one players will be eligible if all successfully clear the scholastic hurdles at the end of the current school year.

In the 51 are included 23 lettermen, 10 squadmen and 18 graduates from the 1934 freshman squad. Coach Leo Meyer has announced that spring training will start Feb. 18 and a squad of some 250 men is expected to show up for the four-week work-out that has been scheduled. The remaining score of men will be engaged in baseball, basketball and track seasons.

Six from the freshman squad were recorded as lost by the scholastic route when grades for the first semester were posted this week. But to counteract this bad news came the announcement that Rex Clark, backfield speed ace of 1933, and Charlie Needham, freshman letterman of '33 but ineligible last season, would be returning to the fold. Jimmie Jacks, and Dan Harston, full veterans who were out with injuries last fall, have decided to play baseball this spring, and thus complete their eligibility.

The big worry in the Purple camp for '35 appears to be the tackle position. Wilson Groseclose, Paul Hill and Manuel Godwin are senior performers at the post next year and may handle the situation well. Line Coach Raymond Wolf believes that "Clavis Green, squadman '32, will be heard from and he finds much promise in Aubrey Linn, George Malmberg and Lincoln Walker from the frosh squad. Linn scales well over 200 and is a fine defensive player.

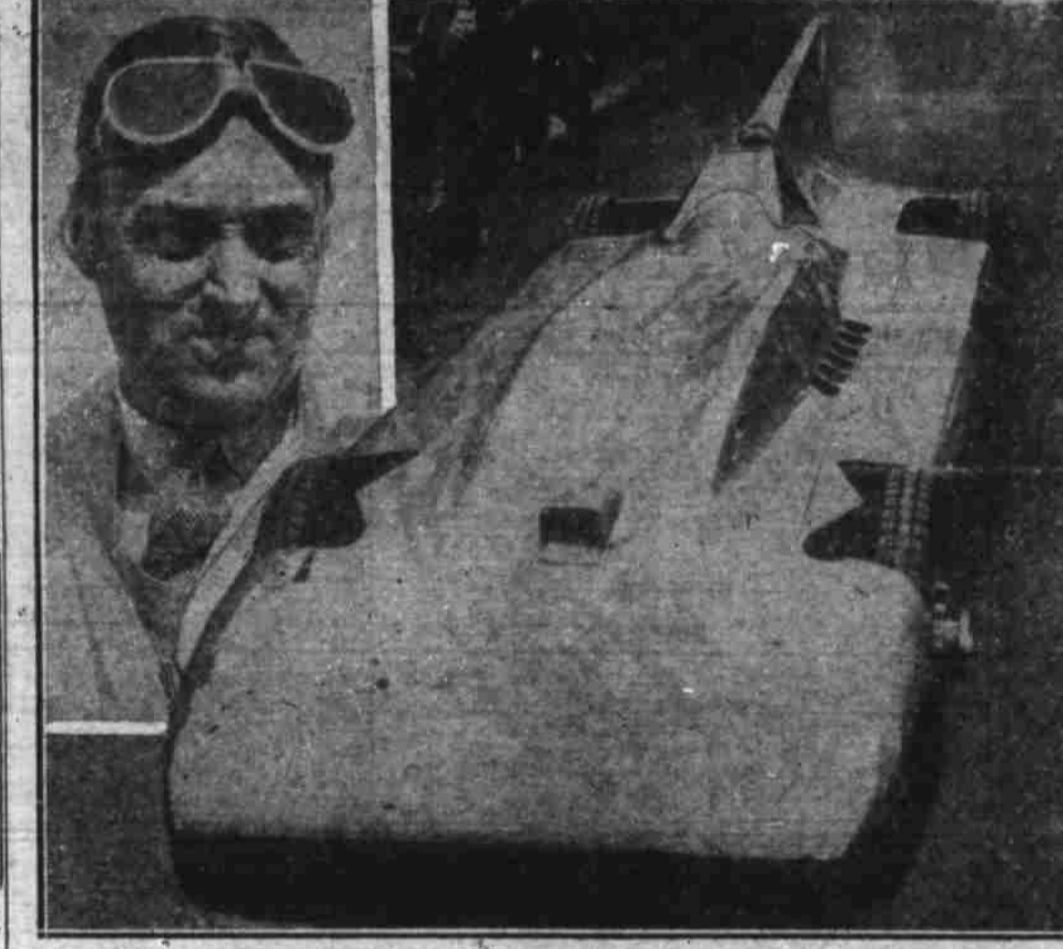

Five lettermen will return to the squad next year, including a 210 pounder, is promising. Four veteran guards and Darrell Lester at center should make the middle of the line as strong as any in the loop.

Sixteen backs, 10 of them lettermen, will leave few worries in the backfield. Disposition of the quarterback post is a bit uncertain, but it seems likely that Sam Baugh, sophomore passing sensation of last season, will get the call with Vernon Brown alternate.

The full 1935 schedule is:
Sept. 21—Open.
Sept. 28—Denon at Fort Worth.
Oct. 5—Arkansas at Fayetteville.
Oct. 12—Tulsa at Tulsa.
Oct. 19—A&M at Fort Worth.
Oct. 26—Centenary at Shreveport.
Nov. 2—Baylor at Waco.
Nov. 9—Loyola at New Orleans (night).
Nov. 16—Texas at Austin.
Nov. 23—Rice at Fort Worth.
Nov. 30—S. M. U. at Fort Worth.
Dec. 7—Santa Clara at San Francisco.

As a feature of a ball at the Hilo (Hawaii) Yacht club, a "President Roosevelt hula" was performed.

READY TO TACKLE HIS OWN SPEED MARK

Sir Malcolm Campbell will write the 1935 chapter in his quest for speed when he scorches down the sandy track at Daytona Beach, Fla., in the latest of his time-erasing juggernauts, the remodeled Blue Bird (shown above). The British speedster (left, above) hopes to better his own record of 272 miles per hour. (Associated Press Photos)

LOCAL PITCHER TO GET TRIAL WITH BEAUMONT

L. L. Brummett is another local youngster who is to try his stuff at pro baseball this year.

Brummett, who has lived near Big Spring all his life, will make his debut with the Beaumont club of the Texas league March fourth.

He is twenty years old, weighs 190 pounds and is six feet one and one-half inches tall.

Last season he played only one game. He's a pitcher with a fast ball. Two years ago he played with Crane and won nine out of eleven games. The year the Barbers had such a strong team here he had twenty-two strikeouts.

Night Baseball For Nationals, But Only When

NEW YORK, (AP)—Yes, the National league is going to have some night baseball this summer, but—

No club shall play more than seven night games a season.

Night games cannot be held on Saturdays, Sundays or holidays.

There shall be no night double-headers.

No game that starts in the afternoon can be finished under the lights.

No day and night games can be played by the same club on the same day.

No exhibition games can be held at night at any National League park, either with American League or minor league teams.

Any club participating in a game in excess of its quota of seven night games will be fined $15,000, and its opponent will be equal sum, the proceeds of the illegal game being confiscated by the league and the result of the game having no standing in the league records.

The Reds at present are the only club known to be sure to have night ball. The Cards may try it in St. Louis, and the Cubs in Chicago, but this is still uncertain.

The Cards, Cubs, Braves and Phillies will play at least one night game each in Cincinnati, according to present understandings. The Giants, Dodgers and Pirates are reluctant to say that they will accept dates to play under the arc at Coney Island, and to take their places the Cards, Cubs or Braves may each play there two nights during the summer.

TEXAS AGGIES ARE HOPEFUL

COLLEGE STATION, (Sp.)—The "giant killing" act for which Texas Aggie cage teams of past years have been noted, may be pulled here Friday night when the Cadets cagers battle the Southern Methodist Mustangs. Th Cadets are hopeful despite the 44-21 lacing handed them at Dallas by the Ponies the past Saturday night.

The Mustangs loom as chief contenders for the Southwest Conference leadership post, now held by the Arkansas Razorbacks with six straight conference victories, as they have only lost two of six games. The Cadets can pull even with the Ponies temporarily and cloud the Mustangs' championship aspirations considerably, though, by winning Friday, as to date they have won and lost three games each.

The tilt probably will find Max Tohline back at his post as regular Aggie center after a siege off "flu". Probable starting lineups are:
Mustangs—Baucus and Zachary, forwards; Haren, center; Briggs and Wilhite, guards.
Aggies—Capt. Griffin Bressale and Tommy Hutto, forwards; Max Tohline, center; Monte Carmichael and Taylor Wilkins, guards.

Steers Have Great Hopes

Texas U. Has Six More Games To Go, Five At Home

AUSTIN (Sp.)—Their conference basketball schedule half run and five of their remaining six games to be played at home, the University of Texas Longhorn Monday went into their training grind with an added fervor and high hopes of showing their home audiences that they have plenty of class.

Men Ineligible
The damage done by the loss of three men via the scholastic ineligibility route has been forgotten by the men. What they are aiming at is a high place in the final standing, even though their chance at the top is very slim.

Their immediate goal is to tumble the Arkansas Razorbacks from their high perch this week. The two quintets meet for the first time this season in Gregory Gym here on Friday and Saturday nights, and while the Hogs are doped to take both ends of the double header the Steers are setting their horns to overeat the dops bucket.

It is difficult to determine who will be in the starting lineup for the Longhorns in this twin bill. Coach Karow has been hard at work for the past ten days in an effort to re-shape the crippled squad. Several radical changes have been necessary since the loss of two starters and one substitute.

Jack Collins, six foot four inch sophomore center, has the position all to himself since the loss of Pauk. Collins is still lacking in experience, but he is rapidly shaping up as a defensive tower.

Needs Offense
The greatest worry that Karow has is the finding of a good offensive combination which will also include his tallest man. The Razorbacks have an array of elongated cagers, and the Longhorn mentor fears that his squad will be almost helpless against them. As a result, it is likely that Sand, lanky sophomore, will be groomed for one of the guard positions in preparation for the Razorback invasion. At the other guard position Whitman will probably get the call over Pennington. Both have had two years of experience, but neither has performed up to standard so far this season.

Additional stands will be erected in Gregory Gym, according to Business Manager Ed Olie, to accommodate what promises to be the largest crowds of the season.

was at the expense of Baylor, when the Christians came off on the long end of a 25 to 20 score in Waco February 2. If the Frogs can win on their home court, they will be out of the cellar by one-half a game.

Coach Leo E. ("Dutch") Meyer indicated that he would depend mainly upon the same five men that have borne the brunt of play all the way this season. These are: Capt. Judy Truelson and Sam Baugh, guards; Darrell Lester, center; and Will Walls and Walter Roach, forwards. Byron Seam, at forward, and L. D. Meyer, at six; the Bears have won two and lost six. T. C. U.'s lone victory

WELL ROUNDED MEET PLANNED

COLLEGE STATION, (Sp.)—A well rounded track and field team that may place in every event and yet finish no higher than third in the Southwest Conference meet is in prospect for the Texas Aggies this year, according to Coach Frank G. Anderson's calculations. He figures the University of Texas Longhorns will be at least as strong as in 1934, the Rice Owls stronger and his Aggies much weaker, despite an influx of promising sophomores.

Heading a remnant of the Cadet lettermen remaining from the team that scored 83 points for second place in the 1934 conference meet will be Wilbert Randow, of Hallettsville. Randow, recently elected captain to replace John Herring, who graduated in mid-year, won both conference hurdle races for ten points.

Other lettermen available this year, who scored a total of 7-14 points in the conference meet include Bill Alexander, Canadian, pole vault; Walter Skripka, Rosenberg, javelin; Griffin Bressale, Crockett, high jump; Olie Cowdry, Rocksprings, shot and discus; and Jack Stringfellow, Terrell, sprint relay and dashes.

Lettermen lost by graduation include Boyce (Honk) Irwin and John Herring, who made 30 conference meet points between them; T. W. Atkins, Os. Billings, Roy Cook, Hector Fuentes, Jack Hester, Tom Kennerly, Jack Kohler, Jos Merka and Tommy Terrell. Boy Taylor, of Hawley, letterman and conference mile winner the past year, is in school but probably will not compete this year.

Strength will be lent the team with the addition of many members of the past year's freshman team, the strongest in the school's history, but yet able to score only half as many points as the University of Texas first-year men in a telegraphic meet. Hub Wilson in the 440, Lloyd Freeman in the half and Hunter Parks, conference cross country champion, in the mile, are among the outstanding. H. J. Kreshville, springing from an elite high jumper, has withdrawn from school.

The Aggies will send a ten-man team to the Border Olympics at Laredo Feb. 22 and to the Texas Relays at Austin. Their meet schedule will include dual meets with the Longhorns at Austin April 6, with Rice at Houston April 13 and with Abilene Christian here April 23, a triangular meet with Rice and Texas at Austin May 3 and the Southwest conference meet here May 10 and 11.

SHE FELT MARVELOUS WHEN HABITS BECAME REGULAR

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Relieved Her Constipation

Read this splendid letter: "I tried everything, with little or no results. I felt miserable, was 20 but looked much older, and my skin was continually breaking out."

"I decided to try ALL-BRAN, three meals a day for about a week. Elimination became regular; I felt marvelous and looked better. Even my outlook on life was changed."

Mrs. Armand Hamel, Pawling, N. Y.

"Constipation due to insufficient 'bulk' in meals."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. It also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle—and safe for normal individuals. More effective than "bulk" in leafy vegetables, as it does not break down within the body.

Isn't this natural food pleasanter than patent medicines? Just eat two tablespoons daily. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved, see your doctor.

kitchen, are your menus an annoyance, your every dish an irritation? Then what you need is a Pick-Me-Up!

A "Pick-Me-Up" (as if you didn't know) is a tonic, a bracer, a chaser for those "menu-blues," and exactly what the doctor ordered for those mid-winter "Jim Jams!" Don't let your family's upturned nose "get you down"—try some pick-me-ups!

Imagination Pops Into Pot
In case you are wondering, pick-me-ups are not purchased at the corner store, although the makings are there available; they are starting you in the face from the pages of your current reading matter, and lying in wait in your own brain. Throw imagination to the winds, but let imagination pop into your pot as you try new things on the family. Like them or not, their interest will be piqued—and think of the fun you will have!

Teach an old dog new tricks! Shout "of course" and try these for a starter:

Instead of serving plain tomato juice, jelly it (with gelatin or in the can), put it through a ricer and garnish with whipped cream and paprika. If the family likes its macaroni and cheese, scoop out the centers of tomatoes, fill with your macaroni-cheese mixture and bake in a moderate oven.

Mace on Mashed Potatoes
Put some mace on your next batch of mashed potatoes; instead of lemon in the tea, tuck in a piece of crystallized ginger. Scrambled eggs? Try some anchovies put in at the last moment; or garnish them with green pepper strips or some broiled tomatoes. Snip some chives and put them in your tomato soup; put a dash of Worcester-shire in your gravy; serve Muffin Crisps with your salad course instead of bread or crackers; add minced onion to your cheese mixture. Add sliced, pasteurized dates to the morning oatmeal, or drop a few in the middle of the baked apples. Look for new ideas, and don't be afraid to try them. And, if the foregoing has not been too commanding, try these recipes recommended for kitchen-boredom.

Parsley may be fried, imagine that! Good too, if you do this: wash and dry sprigs of parsley; drop a few at a time, in maceola heated to about 350 F. (hot enough to brown a cube of bread in 30 seconds). Then drain the parsley on absorbent paper, use as garnish for fish or meat; the family will eat the parsley then and the oil gives it new flavor.

Pecans in Sweet Potatoes
Parboil sweet potatoes; peel. Cut into slices about 1-3 inch thick. Arrange a layer of the potatoes in an oiled baking dish and cover with layer of thinly sliced canned pineapple; then cover with another layer of the potatoes. Dot with butter and pour over about 1-2 cup of dark karo. Just before putting into the oven sprinkle generously with chopped pecans. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) until brown. If you prefer you may cook the sweet potatoes with whole pecans put between layers and on top and omit the pineapple.

Drain canned pears or peaches from the juice and cut into slices or cubes. Dip in cracker crumbs, then in egg and milk (using 1 tsp. milk to each egg). Fry in deep hot maceola heated to 75 F. (or until a cube of bread will brown in 60 seconds) until fruit is brown. Drain and serve with main course; especially good with meat.

A Brand New Confection
3 cups sugar, 1 cup crushed pineapple (juice and fruit), 2 tbsps. white karo, 24 marshmallows, 3 cups pecans, 1 tsp. vanilla, 2 tps. butter.

Mix sugar, pineapple and the syrup in a heavy saucepan and cook, stirring occasionally until a soft ball forms when dropped in cold water or until thermometer registers 236 F. Remove from the stove and add the butter, marshmallows, pecans, and vanilla. Beat until creamy and very stiff. Pour mixture into a buttered pan and cut into squares when candy is firm.

Some Rules on Cooking for Children
Be sparing with salt and never use sharp seasonings in children's food; do not use too much sugar or any ingredient which tends to mask the natural flavor of the food.

Remove excess amounts of fat from meat which is to be cooked for children. Meats should be cooked thoroughly, bacon until crisp and dry.

Cook vegetables in a small amount of water (except strong flavored vegetables) and cut vegetables into small cubes; do not overcook.

Baked Egg in a Nest (Six Servings)
3-4 cup tomato, 3-4 cup cooked rice, 1-4 tsp. salt, 6 eggs, 1-2 tsp. butter, 1-2 tsp. chopped parsley.

Place rice, tomato, salt in 6 ramekins. Drop an egg (raw) into each ramekin after the tomato rice mixture is in. Sprinkle a few grains of salt, 1-2 tsp. butter and 1-2 tsp. chopped parsley on top. Place the ramekins in a pan of water and bake in a moderate oven until the white of the egg is firm.

Prunes and Rice Fluff (Six Servings)
Soak gelatin in cold water about 5 minutes and then dissolve over boiling water which will make gelatin of liquid consistency. Heat together rice, orange juice, lemon juice, sugar and salt. Add dissolved gelatin to mixture and blend together very thoroughly. Allow mixture to cool slightly and then add prune pulp. Again allow mixture to cool and when starting to thicken fold in egg white which has been beaten stiff and dry. Fill sherbet glasses with dessert and place filled glasses in refrigerator. When dessert is thoroughly chilled it may be served. Top dessert with whipped cream or finely cut nuts.

Vegetable Timbales
1-4 cup cooked rice, 1-4 cup cooked peas, 1-4 cup cooked carrots, 1 cup milk, 2 tbsps. butter, 2 tbsps. flour, egg yolk.

Make a sauce of milk, butter, flour, salt and egg yolk. Add the cooked rice, peas and carrots. Place in individual baking dish; set in a pan of hot water and bake in

Tribute Paid To Scouts By Geo. Mahon

Congressman Says Scouting 'Merits Respect Of World'

A tribute to the work of scouting in this area has been voiced by George Mahon, congressman of this 19th district.

In a letter expressing appreciation for the work Area Executive A. C. Williamson and his corps of volunteer workers in advancing the scouting program, Mahon also sent a greeting to the scouts.

"The things for which you stand, the ideals upon which your organization is based, and principles of honesty, loyalty, the trustworthiness that colors the work which you do," said Mahon, "merits for you the respect and admiration of all the world. I sincerely believe that you have a very serious responsibility in these times of stress in helping to maintain a balance of patriotism for the government of the United States, and in helping in an individual way those people whom you find around you who are really in need. I feel that you are more than willing to accept that responsibility and to challenge yourselves to do your part in preserving those sacred standards by which we enjoy our rights and privileges as true Americans."

Mahon's greetings came as Boy Scout week, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the founding of the movement in the nation nears an end. Mahon is now in Washington where scouts of the country will gather this summer for a national jamboree.

GMC SAFETY TRUCK COMING TO BIG SPRING SATURDAY

Today more than ever before the attention of motor truck manufacturers is directed to the problem of safety. High road speed and heavy loads make the question of complete, positive control of vital importance to truck operators and therefore to truck builders.

In order to demonstrate on the road the outstanding safety features incorporated in the new GMC trucks of 1935, a General Motors caravan is traveling from town to town throughout the state of Texas. The tour will continue for four weeks or more, covering at least 3,000 miles and visiting no less than 30 of the principal Texas cities.

Mr. McDaniel, GMC Truck Zone manager at Dallas has made complete arrangements and outlined the itinerary of the caravan. It is scheduled to spend tomorrow Saturday February 16th in Big Spring and will make its headquarters for the day at Hanson-Webb Motor Co. Big Spring.

Commenting on the new GMC 1935 trucks and trailers and the various new features and improvements built into them, Mr. McDaniel stressed the new safety built into these modern haulage units. To control the high road speed now demanded by operators and essential to them if a profit is to be realized, General Motors Truck has incorporated GMC hydraulic safety brakes as standard equipment on all light and medium duty models. These new brakes give instant control of the loaded truck at all speeds. In addition to this improved method of brake application, braking areas—that is square inches of brake lining surface—have been increased and the new larger drums are either centrifuse or cast nickel iron construction.

Exceptional driver vision, another safety point of primary importance, is provided by the wide windshield, narrow corner posts and large rear window of the new GMC cabs.

One of the most noteworthy mechanical features of the new line is the dual performance axle now optional on the GMC T-15—the new truck offering in the 2 to 3 ton range. This development gives exactly proportioned power at the driving wheels for every load, road and grade condition. It gives the pulling power necessary to haul capacity loads out of excavations, up steep grades and over bad roads. A pull on a lever in the cab changes to a high gear ratio and gives high road speed for the highway and level roads. This dual performance axle and standard four-speed transmission provide 8 speeds forward and 2 reverse thus giving a proper ratio for every hauling condition.

Besides these developments GMC trucks for 1935 incorporate a host of other improvements and refinements in mechanical design and in appearance. The new trucks are smartly modern in appearance with sloping radiators, skirted cabs and a pleasing use of chromium plating. A deluxe line is also available. Performance has been materially improved. Payload capacity is increased—horsepower and torque stepped up and gasoline mileage bettered as much as 25% in some models.

Five GMC trucks and one GMC semi-trailer comprise the caravan and our local GMC dealer, Hanson-Webb Motor Co. extends a hearty invitation to all truck owners in the vicinity to visit his showroom tomorrow when the caravan is here. Demonstrations will be arranged throughout the day and a special truck show is planned.

A RAPID-FIRE ROMANCE BY EVAN EVANS

Chapter 17
OPEN DOOR

When they were standing before the gate, Montana lifted his hand. Rubriz at once stepped up against the wall, flattening himself against it. There he waited while Montana rapped twice, paused, rapped twice again, and then three times, rapidly and lightly.

There was only a moment's pause, and then a key was heard turning. Great bolts slid back, one by one, each making a light clanking sound as it disengaged; and finally the heavy door began to sag outward.

As it opened voices thronged out into the night. "Be tender, Andrea." "Be kind, Andrea!" "Be still, you fool!" panted a quick, harsh answer from close to the door.

It yawned wider, until the lamp-light was glistering over the thick iron plates which shod the inside of the postern, studded with the heads of a hundred rivets big enough to have been worked into the side of the mightiest of liners.

He who was thrusting the door open could be seen at the same time, one of those men who are big from the waist up and bowlegged beneath, the legs bending as though to support and balance more easily the top-heavy bulk above.

He wore wrinkled cotton trousers, but above the waist, where his body became more important, his uniform grew splendid, also, and seemed up in quattered shoulders fit to have graced a major, at the least. He wore at his belt a long sheathed knife and a revolver and he carried a rifle slung over his shoulder for that was the constant rule with all the men of that wary old fox, General Estrada.

"Senorita—Rosita—my dear!" whispered the panting voice of the sergeant as he thrust himself at last through the gap of the opening door into the dark of the night outside. "Where are you, my sacred beauty?"

The blow that fell on him made a dull sound, because it struck on the padding of muscles just over the juncture of head and neck. Even then, only the extraordinary flesh of Sergeant Andres prevented him from sustaining a fracture of the spinal column or the neck vertebrae, because Rubriz had struck from the side and with much enthusiasm.

Montana, gliding forward from the opposite side, received the toppling weight in his arms and laid it in a heap upon the ground. "Well, close the door, at least," said a voice inside the door, "or we'll have to come and look out, Andrea!"

"We've counted to ten, and the door is still not closed. Poor Andrea, is this our fault or yours?"

The two began to laugh. "Let me go first!" said one. "Keep back, you fool! I've started already."

They came, scuffling and struck their shoulders against the door, which shuddered open with a slight groaning of the hinges. Into the widening shaft of light which was allowed to escape into the night in this manner, stepped the masked face of Montana, with Rubriz scarcely behind him.

Their leveled revolvers drove the soldiers back in a confusion. But they did not actually flee. Rubriz was cursing them by all the names of his favorite saints. "Run, you rats! Run, dog-stealers! Run, brindle-eyed swine—and give me a chance to jump on you behind and pull back your heads and cut your throats the better! Ay, run, fools! Don't stand waiting!"

But they could not run. The hunky sobbing of his breath paralyzed them, for he seemed like a man already drinking blood. Montana, unaided lifted up the bulk of the fallen sergeant, dragged him inside the door and let his loosened weight spill down on the floor. Staring at him, he pulled the door shut again to keep in the tell-tale, broadening arm of light that advanced into the darkness.

Montana stepped over him and saw that Rubriz had turned his men against the wall and had taken away their weapons. He was rapidly tying their wrists together.

One of the soldiers was a boy. He began to weep in a small weak voice, getting out the name of a saint or of Heaven every now and then. "Soldiers? I could make a better soldier out of you, cornmeal!" said Rubriz. "Such men as these! In the uniforms of soldiers."

"Gag 'em," said Montana, and set to work. The second soldier began to scream. He got out one half-breath of sound before Rubriz beat out the voice with a stroke of his fist and then began to thrust a wadded piece of cloth between the teeth of the guard.

"Not too deep and not too hard," cautioned Montana. "We don't want to have dead men behind us, amigos." "Will you tell me how to gag a man?" exclaimed Rubriz, angrily. "Remember, Montana, that I was gagging men while you were still in the cradle and I have gagged them ever since. If any man in the world has the touch, I am he."

He finished trusting his man as he spoke. They turned to the sergeant. He was barely breathing, and because of that, Montana took charge of the gagging, making sure that the wad of cloth was wedged well inside the mouth, but that the tongue was not thrust back into the throat, with a chance of strangling poor Andrea.

Now three soldiers of General Estrada lay on their faces side by side, each tied to the other, so that movement would be impossible for all.

"How much time has that cost you?" muttered Rubriz. "You've promised me," answered the Kid. "No murder, Mateo!" "Call it what you want," said Rubriz, "but the kind God who watches us knows how much time we've wasted here in His honor."

MOTHER GRIEF STRICKEN

While her 16-year-old daughter, Helen Williams, lay near death in a hospital in Los Angeles, Mrs. Katherine Williams waited for the county jail and visited her son, William Hardy, 21, who, police say, confessed he beat his half-sister with a hammer and locked her in a motor car rumble seat. (Associated Press Photo)

When we might have left them still forever, with a thrust of the knife. He went on, leading straight up a flight of stairs which was drilled through the thickness of the great old walls of the fort of Durango.

Behind them, all the three men lay still, but the sergeant was beginning to move his jaws a little. He stirred them with care, and he began to push with his tongue against the base of the wadding that kept him from drawing a free breath.

After a time his tongue seemed to swell with the efforts he had been making. His throat appeared to be closing, also. He had to struggle to get any breath into his lungs.

Then this, in a frightful panic, he heaved himself to his knees so strongly that the other two were dragged out of place, also. He tugged with all his might. The twine that bound his wrists cut through the skin like dull blades of knives.

But every effort he made only stiffened him the more.

This he realized. There were two pairs of hands besides his own, ready with a gesture to pluck the strangling thing from his mouth, but all those hands were helpless as his own.

The sergeant remembered an old folk tale out of his youth. And suddenly he saw that to struggle was to kill himself. If he were to make headway of any kind, he would have to relax himself in every muscle first. Then he might be able to breathe.

So he dropped down. His face was in the dust, but this did not matter. He could feel the pressure of the blood turning up in his cheeks. His neck was swelling. Even to open his eyes was difficult.

He began to think of death, but as he visualized it, and as he determined that he would beat out his brains against the rock to shorten the agony, he suddenly discovered that a needle of coldness was thrusting into the fever of his throat.

And then he realized that it was a whiff of air. It drew in audibly through the horrible slaver that filled his mouth. His whole throat was growing cooler.

And presently he knew that his life was saved. And he could actually breathe. By degrees he was going to reduce the burning agony of fire in his lungs.

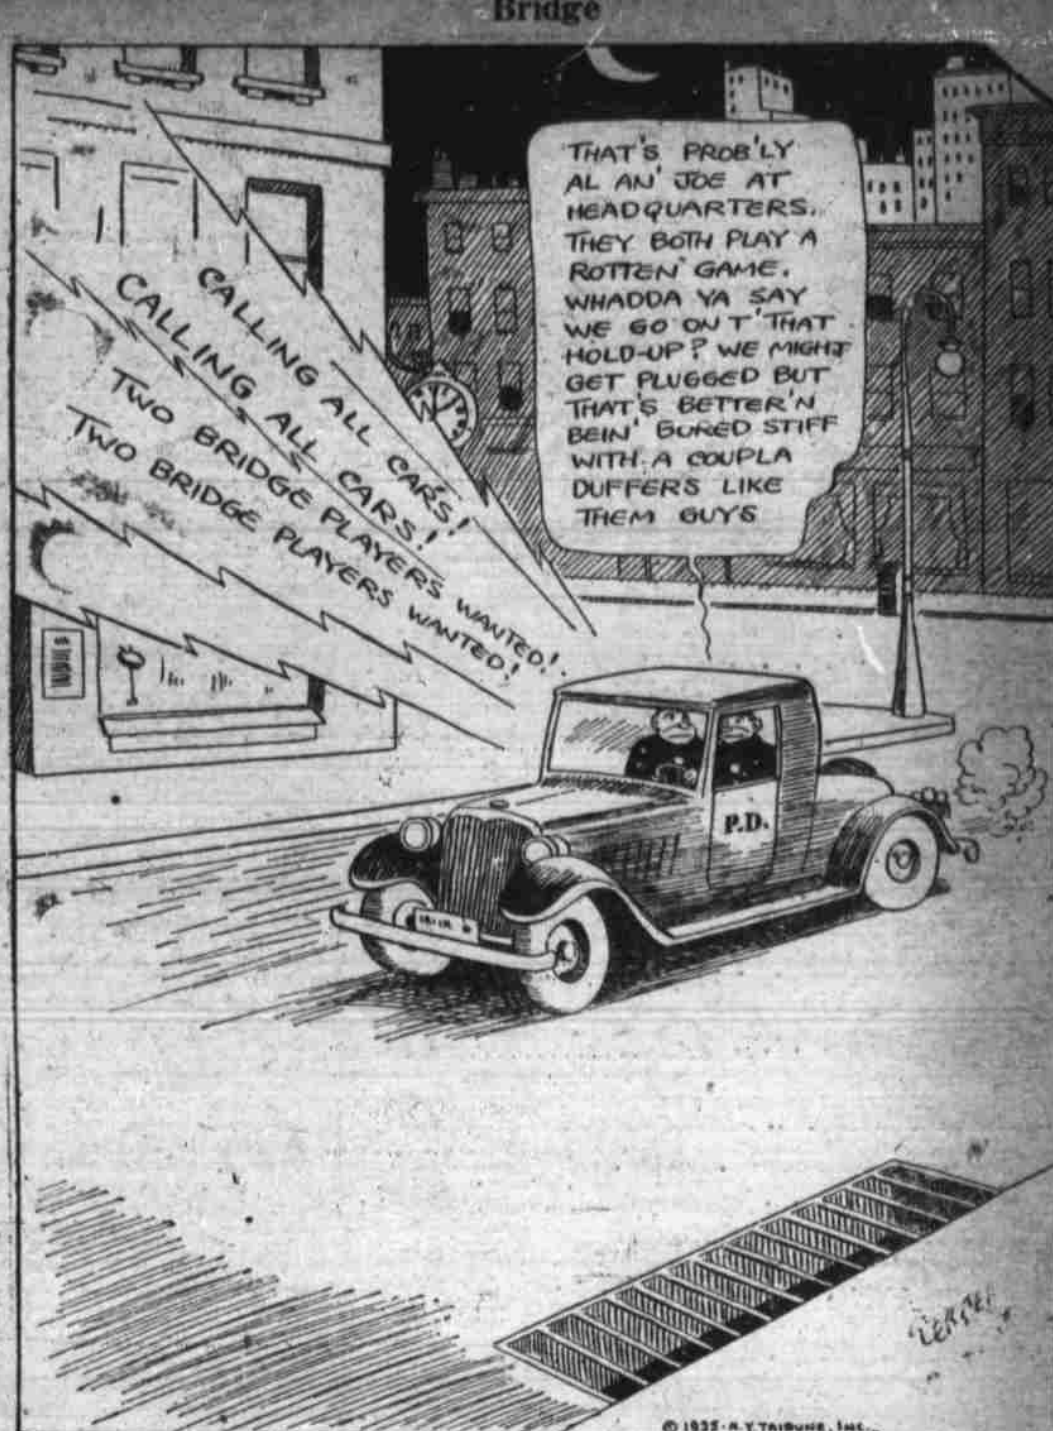

Instead of pausing to thank God for this deliverance, with the stubbornness of a hero or of a brute, he instantly commenced making fresh efforts to work the gag from his mouth.

Assimilation

Insiders say the Committee's report will call public attention to the activities of Italian vice-consul (consul) in Detroit and Mexican consul Torrio in San Bernardino, Calif.

Brutal

Old guard governors of the New York Stock Exchange have small appetite for the indignified scuffle of an electoral contest.

Naughty

One reason why so many statements of security holdings by corporate officers and directors were way off the mark is because those who reported "forgot" to include stock in the names of private holding companies instead of their own.

Propaganda

Watch for the forthcoming report of the McCormack-Dickstein committee on un-American activities. Insiders say it will contain several suggestions for legislation which are likely to cause a stir.

Irony

Ostensibly these laws would be aimed at Red and Nazi propaganda. As drafted they would also include alien proponents of debt cancellation or American participation in the World Court.

Labeled

The committee may go even further and advise some sort of curb on radio propaganda. Well-posted New Yorkers say this idea traces to Herbert Moore's Transamerica Radio News— which used the Hava Agency as a news source without telling listeners that it was known to be very close to the French government.

Maximum Vehicle Load Law Argued At Senate Public Hearing Held In Austin Before Senate Committee

AUSTIN—The lawyer who as an assistant attorney general successfully defended the maximum vehicle load law all the way through the United States supreme court Wednesday had urged its correction. Elbert (Doc) Hooper, the lawyer, made his appeal before a senate committee Wednesday night at a public hearing on a bill to increase the truck load limit to 14,000 pounds. Present law now prohibits commercial motor vehicles from transporting more than 7,000 pounds when in competition with railroads.

The committee did not take any action on the measure at the request of Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth who asked delay so that he could prepare amendments to the bill. Senator W. K. Hopkins of Gonzalez, chairman of the committee on highways and motor traffic, said the bill would probably come up for committee vote next Wednesday night.

Approximately 300 persons were present at the hearing. Around 15 arguments were made by proponents and opponents of the measure. Senator Rawlings in explaining the bill said it amended the present statute to permit a combination of truck and semi-trailer to carry 14,000 pounds if every wheel of the vehicle touching the ground was equipped with a brake. "It doesn't affect four-wheel trucks at all," he said.

Hooper, speaking for supporters of the law, declared the measure would remove an actual, unjustifiable and hurtful discrimination existing between certain classes of trucks.

He urged extension of the privilege of transporting 14,000 pounds to motor vehicles operating in competition with railroads. Law now allows trucks to carry 14,000 pounds only to the nearest common carrier receiving point.

In behalf of Texas railroads, Herbert L. Smith of Austin said that when you raise this load limit to 14,000 pounds you will have the highways literally covered by trucks transporting cotton to ports. Seventy-six per cent of the highways of Texas are 18 feet wide and less, and if you increase this load limit the width of all trucks or of most trucks, will be increased eight feet, and they will also be made longer which will add to the hazards on the highways.

Hooper pointed out that the proposed amendment would not change in any way the width length and height of trucks, nor would the regulatory powers of the railroad commission be modified.

"Trucks in their sphere offer economical transportation that railroads cannot compete with," Hooper said, adding that the present load restriction acts as a direct charge on all commodities and boosts living expenses.

The real issue is an economic one. The 7,000 pound limit has hiked transportation costs to shippers and producers amounting to a subsidy to railroads, and this subsidy can be removed only when the discrimination against trucks is wiped out," he said.

"The effect of the proposed amendment will be felt by everyone using trucks—producers, little manufacturers, shippers, livestockmen, wool and mohair merchants, growers—because it will enable them to carry a load twice as great—14,000 pounds, a reasonable weight."

Hooper, as assistant attorney general under James V. Allred, was assigned to defend the truck weight law when its legality was attacked in the courts shortly after it became effective. He won before a three-judge federal court but the plaintiffs carried an appeal to the U. S. supreme court. Hooper argued the state law through to victory.

Col. Harry E. Stewart of Dallas, chairman of the legislative committee of the Texas Motor Transportation association, said that "each year there is a greater and more sincere appreciation by the people at large for the use of trucks. The truck has come to stay."

If the load limit is increased the number of trucks will also be increased, said Grady Shipp of Plainview who reported he brought protest against the proposed load limit from Eastland, Hunter, Armstrong, Midland and Hale counties.

Carl Runge of Mason, representing the Sheep and Goat Raisers association of Texas, declared that members of the association did most of their hauling by trucks because their ranches are located in that part of the state that has no railroads.

"I believe that we should have the right to haul 14,000 pounds until we reach our market," Runge urged. "The railroads told us that they did not want our business because it is unprofitable to them, therefore why should we not be allowed to haul our products by trucks."

County Judge A. W. Coker of Huntville complained highway hazards would be increased by greater truck loads, and County Judge Moss of San Patricio said that roads as they are constructed now will not bear additional load.

Screen's Newest Sensation

FRED MacMURRAY

The screen's newest overnight sensation is Fred MacMurray, a new recruit from the musical comedy stage and erstwhile principal in the Jerome Kern operetta "Roberta." MacMurray will be seen opposite Claudette Colbert in "The Gilded Lily," feature unit of the new R&R road show program to play at the Ritz Theater today and tomorrow.

Claudette herself selected him for the role, and that hers was a wise choice seems confirmed by the acclaim heaped upon this young man by the press. Time, the news-magazine, predicts that he will be the screen's next great lover. Another reviewer labeled him "Hollywood's newest heartthrob."

In appearance and in temperament Fred MacMurray may be described as a composite of Clark Gable and Robert Montgomery. He has the virile masculinity of a Gable, the insolence of a Montgomery. In "The Gilded Lily" he plays the part of a news reporter who rents what seems to be the jilting of Claudette, an office girl, by a nobleman's son, and who builds her into a glamorous creature to turn the tables on the gilded youth.

The premise is intriguing. The suit he said to be a smart, sprightly comedy of much the same type as "The Thin Man" and "It Happened One Night."

T. G. Price of Houston, appearing as a representative of the oil industry, asserted that the oil industry "is looking on this piece of legislation with a watchful eye. The oil industry represents about 10,000 of the motor vehicles in the state. Oil trucks are constantly being stopped on the highway and fined. This has developed into a system of fee-racketeering by counties. Truck drivers are continually having to pay fees of $12 and $14."

Others speaking for the load increase included Charles A. Stuart of Fort Worth; E. B. Spiller of Fort Worth; C. D. Stokes of Lampasas; R. F. Cook of Plainview.

Others arguing against the bill were Turner Terrell of Val Verde county; John Sutherland of Bay City; Dr. C. J. Sherrill, Clay county judge, and Carl Calloway of Dallas.

State-Wide Raven Shoot Is Planned

Fish And Game Protective Body To Take Steps For Stunt

With more than 1,000 ravens in their traps and daily catches increasing, members of the Howard county chapters of the Fish and Game Protective association of Texas are taking actual steps toward promoting a state wide raven shoot here March 2 and 3.

Tentative dates had previously been agreed upon but no definite plans had been made since the daily catch furnished an element of uncertainty.

Wednesday what appeared to be a death blow to these troubles transpired when 224 ravens dropped into the chapter's traps. At noon Thursday 55 had been caught, thus boosting the total number of captured pests to more than a thousand.

By the time the shoot is held, 2,000 ravens should be in the traps and pens if estimates of the organization are accurate.

Without a week official word will go out to sportsmen of the state inviting them to attend the shoot here. Instead of the conventional clay pigeon, the gunners will blaze away at live targets.

The chamber of commerce has donated three handsome trophies to be given to winners in the shoot.

Although the chapter's program is being made into a big entertainment feature, it aims directly at the destruction of ravens. The culling, black bird has come to constitute a real menace to farmers.

The shoot, members hope, will afford a medium for spreading propaganda to other portions of the state.

Dr. C. W. Deats, speaking for the organization, realizes the futility of one county making an impression on the raven board. "We know that what we catch here will little affect the raven crop," he said, "but we hope to show other counties that it can be done. If they start similar programs, then we will have the pest on the run."

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Phillips have returned from a visit to Ardmore and other points in Oklahoma.

In memory of O. Henry, a native of North Carolina, citizens of that state have placed a tablet in Raleigh, the capital, which bears this inscription: "If no longer saw a rable but his brothers seeking the ideal."
