Sights and Faces Seen

Two bank holidays are in prospect within the next week and both Hereford banks will be closed on Monday, May 31, for Memorial Day, and on Thursday, June 3, for the banking convention.

And F. M. Kester wants it known that there will be a regular church service at the Christian Church next Sunday. Rev. J. T. McKissick of Abilene will preach for the Christian congregation, and Mr. Kester also reminds the members that Sunday school is being held regularly at 9:45.

J. C. Allred used his best cowboy talents to capture a porcupine this week. After an unsuccessful attempt to lasso the animal he finally drove it into a box. But the whole effort was hardly worth the trouble as Mr. Allred's son, Jimmie, discovered when he tried to give the porcupine away. Even the Brand office couldn't use it for a fixture (though somebody suggested it would really be inconspicuous here) and Jimmie finally had to take his porcupine down to the creek and turn it loose.

G. L. Woods says that farming and caring for a golf course really have a lot in common—neither job is ever ended. However, persons who have been at the golf course recently say that improvements are being made every day and Hereford is going to have a good course this summer.

Mrs. Corrine Jennings says that the ration office received six frantic calls one day this week from persons who had lost their ration books. At least one of the books was turned in at the office and the clerks say that this is the proper procedure to follow.

Mrs. Frank Marrs has been working at the ration office this week and last while Ruth Bowsher was on a vacation in Dallas and other down-state points.

And despite the fact that sugar canning stamps will be valid until Oct. 31, many customers have been trying to buy the whole ration at one time, one grocer reporting this week that a customer bought the entire 90 pounds to which his family was entitled.

Funny place for advertising ideas, but Reavis Kerr says he thought of a series of ads while in church waiting for an ordinations service.

Dude Clutter's vacation must have been the paying kind, or else she hit one of those slots (Continued on Page 12)

Cooper Preaches Final Sermon Here Sunday

Rev. H. P. Cooper and family will leave next week for Danube, Calif., and Minister Cooper will preach his final sermons at the Hereford Church of Christ Sunday, church members announced this week.

The Coopers have been in Hereford for the past three years and his ministry in the local church has been markedly successful, as evidenced by a tribute from church members in an all-day service last Sunday. The date was also the minister's birthday and a big birthday cake was shared with the group at the picnic. The church presented Mr. Cooper with a suit of clothes as a final token of appreciation.

The Church of Christ has not yet named a successor to Minister Cooper.

Distribution of application forms for War Ration Book 3 began yesterday at the Hereford Post Office and the forms filled out according to instructions, must be mailed in to the Dallas OPA Mailing Center between June 1 and June 10, J. R. Lipscomb, Hereford postmaster announced today.

There is nothing complicated about filling out the application and a sample blank, printed on Page 10, shows how the form should be filled in.

This is the first time that application for ration books has been handled by mail, and OPA officials expect the new process to save much time formerly used in registration at school houses.

The blank must be filled in by the head of the family and will list every member of the household, as shown in the sample. Completed application blank must bear a three cent stamp and must not be folded, and the applicant must keep the stub of the application blank and save until he receives his War Ration Book 3, about August 1, according to present OPA plans.

The new ration book will take the place of other books, in which stamps will soon be used up. It is not for any new rationing system, according to OPA announcements.

Fleet Operators Must File Report With ODT Office

Fleet operators of commercial motor vehicles who have failed to file a report on their operations for the first quarter of the year must do so immediately, according to N. F. Nelson, OPA district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation.

All persons who operate three or more commercial motor vehicles are classed as fleet operators and must send the report to the district office, the ODT announcement stated, pointing out that many operators have failed to file these reports, which were due April 30. If the report form was lost, a new one may be obtained from the Amarillo ODT Office, 1008 Fisk Building.

ODT must have the reports to know what mileage conservation has been accomplished, Mr. Nelson states, adding that if operators do not file the report promptly, they may experience delay in obtaining gas rations for subsequent quarters.

Cafes, Barber Shops, Taken Off of Army "Blacklist"
Several cafes and barber shops in Hereford have been taken off the Army "blacklist" imposed some weeks ago, owners stated this week.

These shops and cafes are now open to use of military personnel.

Happy Hunting Hat

Flying Fortress tail gunner Sgt. James L. Stafford wears his girl's freshman school cap under his flying helmet for good luck, and the rest of the crew regard the cap's efficacy so highly they won't take off unless he's wearing it. They've won 23 missions together.

Rain Came To More Than One Inch Last Week

Rain amounting to 1.06 inches fell in Hereford last Friday and Saturday with rains over most of the territory ending more than a week of cloudy, threatening weather.

No heavy rains were reported in the county, with a one inch fall about average for most sections and lighter rains reported at Ford and in the northwest part of the county.

Farmers say wheat is looking greener, but more moisture is still needed and farmers say that warm weather, following more rains, would be the tonic needed to get crops started.

Planting of row crops is going forward in most areas, and victory gardens, both in town and in the country, are getting off to a good start, after suffering some damage, both from wind and sand, and from last week's cold weather.

Poppy Day Here Saturday, May 30

Poppies for remembrance—the sacrifices of American fighting men in this war and the last one—will be on sale in Hereford Saturday, it was announced this week by members of the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

Proceeds from poppy sales go to carry on the Legion's welfare work for disabled veterans and their families and the need for this work grows greater every year, auxiliary spokesmen state. The Legion is now expanding its program to include help to disabled veterans of the present war as well as for veterans of the last war.

The poppies are made by men in the veterans hospitals as their own contribution to the welfare program.

"Hereford has always been generous in its support of Poppy Day," says Mrs. Glenn Weir of the Legion Auxiliary, "and we are requesting the same generous support this year. We know that Hereford people will do their part, as they have in every other war time sale."

Home Nursing Meeting Scheduled for Monday

All persons interested in attending a home nursing class this summer are asked to be present at a meeting of prospective members Monday night, May 31, at 8:30 in the grand jury room courthouse.

It is necessary to have at least 20 persons signed up for the course to be offered and sponsors hope for an enrollment of 30. However, if there are not enough persons present at the meeting Monday night, the course will not be offered now and there will be no course in home nursing this summer.

Methodist Vacation Bible School Starts Monday, Ends June 11

All Hereford children are invited to attend the Vacation Bible School which will start Monday, May 31, and last through June 11, sponsors said today, stating that the school will not only contain much of religious and moral value but that there will be many wholesome activities, crafts and dramatic arts stressed, as well as a complete recreation program.

Hours will be from nine until 11 o'clock each week day morning and children from the nursery age up to and including those in the junior department, and all children in these age limits are invited.

In charge of the school will be Mrs. Bob Wilson, superintendent of the children's division; Mrs. Henry Williamson, Mrs. E. E. Fridley and Mrs. J. O. Newell, beginners; Mrs. Marvin Boyd, Mrs. J. C. McCracken, Mrs. Forrest Minton, Mrs. Joe Ellis, Mrs. C. E. Brown, Mrs. Tom Carter and Miss Mary Ann Acker, primary; Mrs. H. D. Reed, Mrs. Charles Shipley, Mrs. W. M. Emmons, Mrs. O. L. Chick, Mrs. Edna Haiswood and Miss Yano Olmstead, juniors, at the courthouse.

Federal Housing "Conversions" Available To Civilians Working In Defense Projects

Gothamites Become Farmer Boys

Farmer Charles Tompkins, Carmel, N. Y., explains potato planting, top, to a group of the 1400 Madison Square Boys' Club youngsters of New York scheduled to work in three-week relays to help out farmers in the area. Four of the boys begin their labors, bottom, two planting potatoes and using fertilizer, two hoeing them under.

Pointing out that the "25 conversions" allocated to Hereford recently through the National Defense Housing Administration would be available only to civilian workers employed in defense projects, Chas. Wolfen, Amarillo official, met with a group of lumber dealers and interested persons in the Chamber of Commerce office here Wednesday afternoon.

"Such conversions, as granted under the Hereford allocation, would not be available to other persons, including soldiers," Mr. Wolfen stated. He cited civilian employees at the Hereford Internment Camp and of any bona fide defense project as probable tenants.

In explanation to this point, Mr. Wolfen said that the housing authorities were acting upon recommendation of the War Department, which had informed the administration that the War Department was providing accommodations for men under its jurisdiction.

Mr. Wolfen continued that special housing for army personnel might be provided by the Army under an entirely different set-up, which was out of his jurisdiction.

"However," he continued, "if a conversion under the allocation remains vacant for a specified period, the owner can make application to take other tenants than defense workers." Mr. Wolfen did not recall the exact period, but thought it to be 60 days and indicated that sufficient proof of attempts to rent the property to defense workers would likely be necessary.

Applications for conversions under the Hereford allocation may be secured at the lumber yards or at the Chamber of Commerce. All applications approved will include permits to construct. (Continued on Page 12)

Honor Students Listed At Closing Of 1942-1943 Hereford High Term

Deaf Smith Countians Graduate From High Schools In 3 Counties

Deaf Smith County young people graduated this month from high schools in three other counties and one school in another state, County Supt. Fred W. Baird said this week.

The following list of county residents who graduated out-complete, the county supt. said, pointing out that he has written to graduates in each school to check on the names available but that the check-up is not complete.

Graduating at Friona, Parmer County, was Elsie Messenger; Adrian, Oldham County, Louise Bogie and Guyeth Bogie; Vega, Oldham County, Wanda Price; Canyon, Randall County, Joe Jed Miller, Raymond Stewart, Liselotte Kuhles, Mildred Luke, James White and Marvin May; Rosedale, N. M., Ruby Don Middleton, Mary Jane Ellison, Billy Frances Lacey and Rosa Lee Welch.

The name of Ruth Tucker, Hereford High School junior, will go on the school honor shield this year in recognition of the highest honor point rating for the 1942-43 school term.

This announcement was made last Friday night at graduation exercises when the complete list of honor students was read. Honor point ratings are made on a combined basis of scholarship and participation in extra-curricular activities. Scholarships to state supported and other schools are awarded to a boy and girl in the senior class who make the highest grade averages and were won this year by Margaret Barrett and Bill Dameron.

Students who received honor medals, listed in the order of their point rankings are Ruth Tucker, Lloyd Manjeot, Phyllis Radovich, Bill Dameron, Margaret Olson, Kathryn Acker, G. P. Owen, V. C. Hopson, Nona Deen Rose, Helen Acker, Mary Ann Acker, Billy London, Marcella Blue, Londene Martin and Marie Compton.

Students winning honorable mention in the honor point list were Margaret Barrett, Kenneth Rudd, Ella Mae Parsons, Arline Millard, Naomi Brumley, Lee Etta Hopson, Charles Skelton, Marie Moreman, Wanda Whitaker, Edward Young, Felix Pyka, Ellen Posey, Jackie Wright, Doris Goldston and Madelle Beavers.

Stamps 15 and 16 Good For Home-Canning Sugar

Sugar for home canning can now be obtained by using stamps 15 and 16 in War Ration Book One, instead of sugar allowance coupons. These two stamps will be good for five pounds each, according to OPA announcements, and will be good through Oct. 31, 1943, so consumers need not rush to buy up the canning sugar allowance immediately.

According to OPA, housewives needing additional sugar for canning, may apply to local rationing boards; but it is thought that the ten pound allowance will take care of average needs.

Rules for Shipment of Overseas Mail Relaxed

Modified restrictions on the shipment of packages to Army men overseas were announced this week by Postmaster J. R. Lipscomb, who stated that the endorsement of a soldier's superior officer is no longer necessary for shipment of overseas packages.

New regulations require only that the request of the soldier himself, together with his full address and signature, be presented at the postoffice when the package is taken for mailing. Rulings on the size and weight of packages remain the same—weight not to exceed five pounds and length of package not more than 15 inches.

Many requests for information on overseas shipments have been received at the postoffice, Mr. Lipscomb says, and the more liberal rulings are expected to result in shipment of more packages.

MARY LOUISE DEAN

VIRGINIA EAST

E. B. POSEY, JR.

IDA BELLE HICKS

Three young women and one young man, representing three institutions of learning, make up Hereford's list of college graduates this year. Some who would have been among the 1943 candidates for degrees have already been called into service and others have aided the war effort by going to work in defense plants or other wartime industry.

MISS MARY LOUISE DEAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Dean, will receive her degree in Journalism from Texas State College for Women in Denton on May 31. She has taken active part in campus and college interests during all four years of work. This past year she has been news-editor of the Lass-O, college weekly which has been rated All-American for seven straight years; feature editor of the Daedalian, annual yearbook, representative from the Journalism department to the Student Advisory Council 11, and was elected president of the Panhandle Club.

Miss Dean has been a member of the Panhandle Club all four years and of the Journalism Club two and a half years. She plans to make a short visit here with home folks after graduation and then work somewhere in her chosen field of endeavor.

MISS VIRGINIA EAST, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed East, is a member of the graduating class at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. She is a candidate for a Bachelor of Music degree, having majored in public school music and theory. She has minored in piano and English.

She is treasurer of the University Chorus and a member of Beta Mu Kappa, Music Club. She was named "Bronco Sweetheart" and was one of eight girls nominated for University Queen. She plans to teach next fall but expects to be here at home during the summer months.

E. B. POSEY, JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Posey Sr., has already been called to service but will receive his degree in absentia, at Hardin-Simmons University this week. In Hereford High School he was a member of the Whiteface Football team and a member of the band. He was a member of the world famous Cowboy Band at Hardin-Simmons all four years and went with the band to Washington to play at President Roosevelt's last inauguration. He was active in intramural sports for three years, member of Alpha Chi, composed of upper ten per cent of junior and senior classes, senior classes, senior editor of the Bronco, college annual, and joined the Enlisted Army Reserve Corps in the fall of 1942. He was called to duty on May 8, 1943, and is now at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Mr. Posey not only has the distinction of graduating with honors, but he has financed his college career by part-time employment. At the time he was called in the armed forces he was employed as assistant bookkeeper at the Longhorn Creamery in Abilene. He will receive a B. S. degree with a major in English and secondary education and a minor in mathematics.

MISS IDA BELLE HICKS is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hicks. She has completed the three year course leading to a graduate nurse degree at St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Amarillo.

Food Czar Aims At Bigger Grain Production, Cut-Down Livestock

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a reprint of an article published in The Kansas City Star May 15 and written by John M. Collins, Associate Editor, The Weekly Kansas City Star.

WASHINGTON—A radical change in agricultural production in America, which would bring an equally radical change in the American diet, may soon follow a study now being made by top war food administration advisors of the current livestock feed situation.

Basically, the change contemplates a switch from heavy production of livestock products to greater stress on the grain crops and the oil bearing, or high protein vegetable products. If it is carried, it will mean the American people will have even less meat to eat than at present. The protein requirements of the diet now found in meat and fats would largely be taken up by vegetable proteins, such as soybeans, while the main portion of the diet would be the cereals such as wheat and corn.

Increase in Animals

"The manner of our grain consuming animals is 10 to 12 per cent higher than last year," explained Chester C. Davis, war food administrator. "At the same time the present outlook is for a production of feed grains 10 per cent less than last year."

"America and world are crying for more and more food. So the question arises, isn't it more practicable to put an adapted acre into soybeans, to produce protein quickly, than into corn, which then must be fed to an animal to produce protein for our table?"

"There is no question in my mind but that our livestock population is too high for our feed production. The 1943 pig crop is estimated at 125 million head, compared to 105 million head last year. Cattle of all types total 3 million head more than last year; we have 14 per cent more chickens and just about the same number of sheep. All these are grain consuming animals."

"On the other hand, we will have a carryover of corn and other feed grains this fall just about equal to that of a year ago, while, if farmers carry out planting intentions and we have a normal season production of feed grains will be 10 per cent less than a year ago."

Using Up Reserves
"This sums up to a situation where we must dip into our reserves to carry our augmented livestock population. I have been informed we now are feeding seven bushels of corn to every five bushels we raise."

"We are feeding out of our reserve stocks of wheat and we are attempting to import wheat from Canada through the bottleneck of the Great Lakes. It is a serious question with me whether we will not be better off in the long run if we keep our present reserve stocks of wheat for human consumption rather than to feed to animals. We must also keep the weather in mind. A crop failure would be fatal. The picture appears to shape up this way—can we carry out our plan to feed a large portion of the world and continue to utilize so many of our acres for the production of meat, butter and lard to feed our civilian population?"

"It doesn't appear probable. As we look ahead, it is apparent livestock production, especially of hogs and poultry, must be leveled off. We must reduce the feeding rate per animal in the year ahead. Substantial reductions in the use of feed grains can be made in a relatively short time by feeding hogs to lighter weights, by feeding somewhat less feed to poultry and milk cows, and by feeding somewhat fewer beef animals a smaller amount of feed per animal."

These suggestions of Mr. Davis of course, if followed, would mean a drastic reduction in the total amount of meat available. Soybean Flour in Sausage
It was pointed out at the War Food administration that considerable information on the replacement of meat proteins with vegetable products has been obtained under lend-lease activities. Members of the United Nations now are being supplied a pork sausage, for instance which contains 22 per cent soybean flour. Concentrated soybean soups, grits and flakes are also being shipped. Cereals are being fortified with 20 per cent soya, mostly oats and whole wheat, while bread flour, fortified with 5 per cent soya, has an increased protein content of 30 per cent. The Russians are reported to have found products fortified with linseed oil meal—linseed is the oil obtained from flax—to be palatable as a wartime substitute.

Wider use of these vegetable proteins in human foods would cut into their present use as a part of the ration for farm animals. Already protein products for animal feed are reported very short.

Results Through Pressure

Mr. Davis, in his new post as head of all the government agencies dealing with the production and distribution of food, has the machinery with which a change in food production can be brought about. An associate administrator of the WFA, J. B. Hutson, is president of the Commodity Credit Corporation and head of the Agricultural Adjustment administration soil conservation program. Farm security administration and Crop Insurance Corporation. With the Commodity Credit Corporation, which makes loans to farmers on their products, and the AAA and soil conservation programs, which make payments for following recommended production of crops, it was pointed out Mr. Hutson could exert considerable pressure in showing agricultural production into the channels desired.

Practically all former governmental restraints have been removed from farm production. Cotton and tobacco still are under marketing quotas and farmers must grow their quotas of highly desired "war crops" to reap maximum benefit payments. Otherwise they can sow, till and reap anyway they desire. The main objective of the government now being to obtain all the food possible.

Bugs of the Month ... and What To Do About Them Discussed by H. D. Ag't Victory gardeners should be on the lookout for "bugs of the month," according to Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, I. C. H. D. A., who points out that a good garden yield must mean never-ending war against insects.

The following are garden insects likely to appear this month, Miss Oliver states:

Cucumber beetle, squash bug, harlequin cabbage bug, stink bug, tomato fruit worm, tomato suck fly, cabbage worm, potato beetle—and everyone of the pests can wreck havoc unless control measures are started immediately.

The 12-spotted or striped cucumber beetles are general feeders, feeding on blooms and foliage of nearly all vegetables. The best way to protect the crop is to keep the plants thoroughly dusted with calcium arsenate (one part) and hydrated lime (19 parts) or one part cryolite and three parts sulphur. Lead arsenate may also be used like calcium arsenate. Dust often to keep new growth covered—about once a week as long as the beetles are present.

The squash bug, harlequin cabbage bug and stink bug are all sap-sucking bugs and are very hard to control, because it is impossible to get any poison in their stomachs. To be effective, poison must be shot at them and come in direct contact with their bodies. Nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) used as a spray or dust is very effective as a control for immature bugs but not for adults. Pyrethrin dust is the best poison for adults, and hand picking of the bugs is also effective in small home gardens.

The nicotine spray may be made by mixing 1-2 teaspoons Black Leaf 40, one cubic inch of soap, dissolved in one gallon of water. The dust is made by mixing two tablespoons Black Leaf 40 with one quart hydrated lime. Soon after tomatoes set fruit, or about the time the tomatoes are the size of a marble they should be dusted with calcium or lead arsenate (one part) and sulphur (two parts) to prevent any damage by tomato fruit worms. Dusting should be continued at five to seven-day intervals until about three weeks. Sprays are also satisfactory when lead or calcium arsenate is used at the rate of four tablespoons per gallon of water or 1-2 pounds per 50 gallons of water.

Cabbage worms can be controlled by dusting the plants with lead or calcium arsenate or cryolite (one part) and talc or flour (two parts).

Potato beetles are easily controlled by dusting the plants with lead or calcium arsenate or spraying with four tablespoons lead or calcium arsenate per gallon of water or 1-2 pounds per 50 gallons of water.

Summerfield Study Club Closes Year With Luncheon and Book Review

Summerfield Study Club closed the season's activities with a luncheon Thursday at the home of Mrs. Jim Clark. Mrs. C. R. Walsler was cohostess. The luncheon program consisted of a review of Norman Angell's "Let The People Know" given by Mrs. J. B. Noland. In discussing the book Mrs. Noland said, "It is a book that thousands of bothered Americans have been waiting for, and a book that thousands of Americans need. It explains the mistakes that were made in World War No. 1 treaties, leaving the reader concerned that those mistakes may not be repeated." During the short business session committee reports were heard and Mesdames B. E. Robertson, O. B. Sumner, and D. C. Walsler gave reports on the 1942-43 year. The Summerfield Study Club of Clubs meeting held recently in Amarillo. Those present for the final meeting of the club year were Mesdames Chas. Noland, L. L. Cannon, Mack Noland, Walk Boston, Lee Curry, Ross Raye, Otho Noland, O. B. Sumner, J. B. Noland, D. C. Walsler, Cecil Lookingbill and the hostesses.

MICKEY ROONEY gets into legal troubles, finds himself "engaged" to two girls and finally gets started for college after a series of hilarious predicaments in "Andy Hardy's Double Life," showing at the Star Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

B & PW Has Installation Service

New officers of the Hereford B & PW Club were installed at an impressive service at the home of Mrs. Cecil Williams Monday night, when the present club year for the business women's organization ended.

Mrs. Williams was in charge of the installation rites and read the duties and the pledge of club officers. As each officer was installed, she was presented with a corsage by Mrs. Velma Hodges.

New officers of the club are Miss Mary Kate Brotherton, president; Mrs. Barbara Roles, first vice-president; Mrs. Ursula Jacobsen, second vice-president; Miss Ruth Bowsher, recording secretary; Mrs. Florence Wilkins, corresponding secretary; Miss Virginia Bowman, treasurer, and Mrs. Cecil Williams, parliamentarian. Mrs. Wilkins and Miss Bowsher were unable to be present for the formal installation service.

In recognition of her faithful service of the past two years, Mrs. Lois Moore, retiring president, was presented with a corsage and with an official past-president's pin.

Following the service, refreshments were served and club pal gifts were exchanged.

Present at the meeting were Mesdames Bessie Lee West, Ellen Carter, Barbara Roles, Lois Moore, Velma Hodges and Ursula Jacobsen. Misses Virginia Bowman, Mary Kate Brotherton and the hostesses.

Speech Students Are Presented In Twilight Recital

Speech students of Miss Irene Crawford were presented in a twilight recital program in the Young people's department of the Methodist Church Monday evening.

A spring-flower setting was arranged with tall baskets of pastel shaded blossoms, lighted tapers in candelabra and massed arrangements of ferns and flowers in pale colors. All of the program participants were dressed in formal, accenting the pastel shades and programs for the event were in those shades against spring-flower backgrounds.

Katherine Acker served as usher and Miss Crawford greeted the guests who, for the most part, were parents and friends of the students.

The recital marked the completion of the year's work and the program was arranged in two parts, the first built around a humorous theme and the second having a serious theme. Those taking parts were Betty Jane Robinson, Virginia Lyons, Cecilia Guseman, Erva Fluit, Nona Deen Rose and Mary Ann Acker.

Erva Fluit and Mary Ann Acker entertained with musical selections after the program. Miss Fluit sang "As Time Goes By." Refreshments were served during the social hour which followed the program.

Ridd, Beth Scott, Sue Walker, Frankie White, Viola Beckman, Mary Catherine Edwards, Nina Beth Hartman.

Varied Tips for Homemakers Given at H. D. Council Meet

Deaf Smith Home Demonstration Council met at the Courthouse Saturday, May 22.

Home canning of fruits and vegetables was the chief subject of the afternoon meeting. New methods of drying foods were discussed. Also the correct way of freezing certain foods. Stress was placed on the use of the latest information from the State Extension Service on preservation of food. Drying of foods takes the place of a pressure cooker, when a pressure cooker is not available.

Sweet potato weevils can be introduced in sweet potato slips. Be sure your plants are from a dealer whose plants are inspected. Once the weevils are in the soil, they cannot be eradicated. These days a pair of scissors is just about as valuable as if it were made of a precious metal, and the homemaker's job is to make her scissors last as long as possible, and one way is to keep them sharp. That makes them last longer. Here's some advice on sharpening scissors from M. R. Bentley and Mrs. Dora R. Barnes of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

They say it may be necessary to use an emery wheel or grindstone to sharpen them, for the metal in most pairs is too hard to cut with a file. A household-type emery wheel is suitable. Now the job is to sharpen by grinding, whetting or filing almost square across the cutting edges. And it's most important to keep the bevel of the cutting edge that the scissors had when they were made.

The bevel of the cutting edge is just slightly less than a right angle, Bentley says. He cautions that the finished edge on each blade should be even—not jagged as it might be if the file were applied at right angles to the blade. And finally—it's a good idea to finish the sharpening with a fine whetstone to remove any roughness from the cutting edge. Here's one more warning: Don't file or grind the inside surface of the scissors blades.

If the metal isn't too hard and the scissors aren't very dull, a small pocket knife whetstone can be used for the sharpening job. Or you might use a six-inch flat file. It should be applied with long, even strokes with the file moved lengthwise of the cutting edge of the scissors.

According to H. H. Weatherby, poultry husbandman for the A. and M. College Extension Service, chicks which grow feathers fast are the ones which reach market as broilers free of pinfeathers. Fast feathering birds may be identified by a simple check of the number and size of the wing feather quills of day-old chicks. One with a wing showing seven well developed primary and seven well developed secondary sheaths will feather out with wing and tail feathers long before the chick with shorter quills and only a few short secondaries.

"Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, County Home Demonstration Agent will meet with the women in Walcott Community, on Wednesday, May 26, where there is no Home Demonstration Club to discuss foods, food preservation and victory gardens.

Members and guests were Mesdames Aldon Hawks, Horace Hershey, Ira Ricketts, O. L. Rutherford, C. F. Ricketts, George Parker, Frank Wilde, Earl DeHart, R. J. Coleman, D. E. Coldiron, Cawthon Bryant, E. W. Wemble, J. B. Harlin and Louie Olson.

Hereford Girl Honored In OLV Yearbook

Miss Evelyn Luke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Luke, was one of six students honored with full page pictures in The Marian, college yearbook, at Our Lady of Victory College in Fort Worth. Miss Luke was chosen as the freshman favorite at the school. She was awarded the scholarship from W. T. S. C. High School at Canyon last year and has taken active part in extra-curricular activities at Our Lady of Victory. A number of entertainments have been given for the honor students recently in Fort Worth.

AMERICANIZATION PROGRAM CLOSES LaPLATA SEASON

A program on Americanization marked the close of the year's work for the LaPlata Club last Tuesday evening at the meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Schroeter.

Mrs. Troy Moore discussed the subject, "Women Want a Happier World." Stressing the point that women of the United States and South America must now act to take advantage of present opportunities in order to bring about a better understanding between the two countries. Mrs. Willis Edelman gave a "Comparison of Laws" mentioning the National Child Health Centers which have been established in Argentina since 1927 and told of work being done in the nursing schools in Panama.

Mrs. Schroeter showed moving pictures in color of life in Cuba and Mrs. Meade Halle gave a report on the Seventh District Federated Club convention held recently in Amarillo.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Barbara Roles, Homer Brumley, Willis Edelman, Wayne Evans, Manly Finch, Meade Halle, Frank Huckert, Lynn Kester, Troy Moore, Chas. Newell, Elmer Patterson, Lorraine Sisk, Urlin Streu, Gordon Taylor, Liston Wilson, Gaylord Newell, Chas. Hardwick and the hostess.

Miss Virgie Lee Sparks spent last week in Oklahoma, where she visited relatives in Clinton and Oklahoma City. She was accompanied by Miss Marguerite Engman, who visited her brother in Clinton.

With war-time rationing practically in charge of every thing we eat, it's easy for guests to catch you without a thing in the house to eat. Here is Mrs. W. A. Teter's answer to that problem a quickly made white cake that is based on never failing principles, and if you are a little lazy you might like to know that it is made entirely with the hands, no spoons to wash at all. Mrs. Teter got the recipe from a friend in Woodward, Okla., and she serves it with refrigerator desserts or tempting iced drinks.

Let's Cook Something

Never Failing White Cake

- 1-2 cup butter
- 1 cup sweet milk
- 2 cups cake flour (measured before sifting)
- 2 level teaspoons baking powder
- pinch of salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 unbeaten egg whites.

Mixing all ingredients by hand, begin by creaming the sugar and butter. Add milk and flour alternately, beginning and ending with the flour. Add baking powder, salt and vanilla and add the unbeaten egg whites one at a time, beating thoroughly after the addition of each egg. Bake in loaf or layers in moderate oven and top with melted marshmallows, sprinkled with coconut.

Violets are usually propagated by setting out the rooted offsets after the blooming season is over? This avoids root diseases which are likely to occur if the parent plant is simply divided. Double Russian violets are especially adapted to shady planting.

Yucca Plant is known as Our Lord's Candle?

Shasta Daisies are derived from wild chrysanthemums? Sweet Pinks can be planted here as late as June 1, and have successful bloom?

To preserve cut peonies, crush stems four inches up and place deeply in cold water, to which nothing has been added. Cut buds where possible.

Painful injuries can be caused by careless handling of garden tools. ALWAYS turn sharp points and edges downward, if you lay the tools on the ground beside you. When not in use, keep all gardening implements put away where they won't be stumbled over. You can't produce a Victory Garden if you are laid up with an injury.

"WE FIX FLATS"

Prescription for Morale: Think of Your Victory Motor Trip!

It's a blessed relief just to putter around fixing up the trailer more efficient-like... and sort of pipe-dreaming where you're going. But will you need a new car? All reports say it will be a long time after Peace before you can hope to get one. Be ready to go—in your present car...and why can't you?

Since rationing began you've probably "saved" more car-mileage than you ever made on your grandest tour. After Victory you'll have those "stored-up" miles to use, especially if you don't allow present restrictions to cause acid-damage. Vicious acids are formed by normal combustion in any engine. When it stops it's an acid trap. It used to get rid of acids fairly well by warming up on long fast runs. But now it often "just sits" with those acids inside, and what can you do?

You can have your engine OIL-PLATED internally to combat acid corrosion... much as outer parts are chromium-plated to combat water's corrosive effect. All it takes to OIL-PLATE your engine is the change to Conoco Nth motor oil. Patented Nth oil seemingly "magnetizes" OIL-PLATING to metal—much longer than just temporarily.

This steadfast OIL-PLATING, joined direct to inner engine surfaces without all draining down to the crankcase while standing, is your shield against acid. Now when even new parts are scarce—let alone new cars—you'll cast off a big worry for the present and future by having your engine OIL-PLATED. Just change to Nth oil—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

Imagination, Taste and Farming "Know How" Combine to Make J. F. Matthews Farm Home A Showplace

"We are not 'big' farmers and we have had to go slowly with many of our improvements," explains Mrs. J. F. Matthews of Fairview in displaying many of the features of her farm home, which could be the envy of any "big farmer."

From the house itself, with its attractive, pine-lined rooms, to the two-room house recently moved on to the place for use of the hired man, the Matthews farm is proof of the value of knowledge, combined with a real love of rural life.

Tenant House Attractive

The small house, Mrs. Matthews explains, has been arranged by Mrs. Charles Keisling, wife of the hired man, who has used imagination and taste to make an attractive small home. An old wire cot has been redecorated to make a colorful studio couch, and Mrs. Keisling has also done a redecorating job on a straight chair. The Keislings are especially proud of the ventilated pantry, built by Mr. Matthews. The pantry, with an opening in the floor and a flue in the top, provides a storage for meat, vegetables and lard and a good substitute for ice refrigeration most of the year. Mr. Matthews has put caliche under the floor vent in the pantry and it will be possible to keep the ground damp to provide a cooler circulation of air, without getting any unpleasant odor of wet or mossy dirt.

Windbreak and Orchard

Landscaping at the Matthews place has included the planting of a windbreak of elm, desert willow, red cedar and pines and a young orchard has been providing fruit for the past several years.

In the orchard are grape plantings, now three years old, gooseberries, raspberries and plums. Mr. Matthews plants melons in the field and there are two strawberry beds in the garden.

Asparagus Since April 3

Only feature of the house or improvements on which Mrs. Matthews will brag is the asparagus bed in the garden, on which Mr. Matthews has lavished much work and which she claims is "the best in the county."

"We had our first mess of asparagus on April 3," Mrs. Matthews says, adding that they have had asparagus about three times a week, since that date. She points out that asparagus is one of the easiest vegetables to prepare and its food value is high.

A good dairy herd and fine Matthews' iris, of which she has 87 named varieties, with one of the most beautiful selection of smoky tints in this territory.

A good dairy herd and fine hogs are features of the Matthews farm, and a "range house" is the latest addition to chicken raising equipment on the place. The range house, built on skids, can be moved by a tractor and will thus insure that the wire-floored house will always be over clean ground and keep young pullets healthy. Sides of the house can be let down to give almost "open air" ventilation, together with protection from hot summer sun.

New Lawn Planted

The newest improvement on the place is the buffalo grass lawn, set out this spring, which will provide the green expanse necessary to set off the cottage and the background plantings of spirea and other shrubs which surround the house.

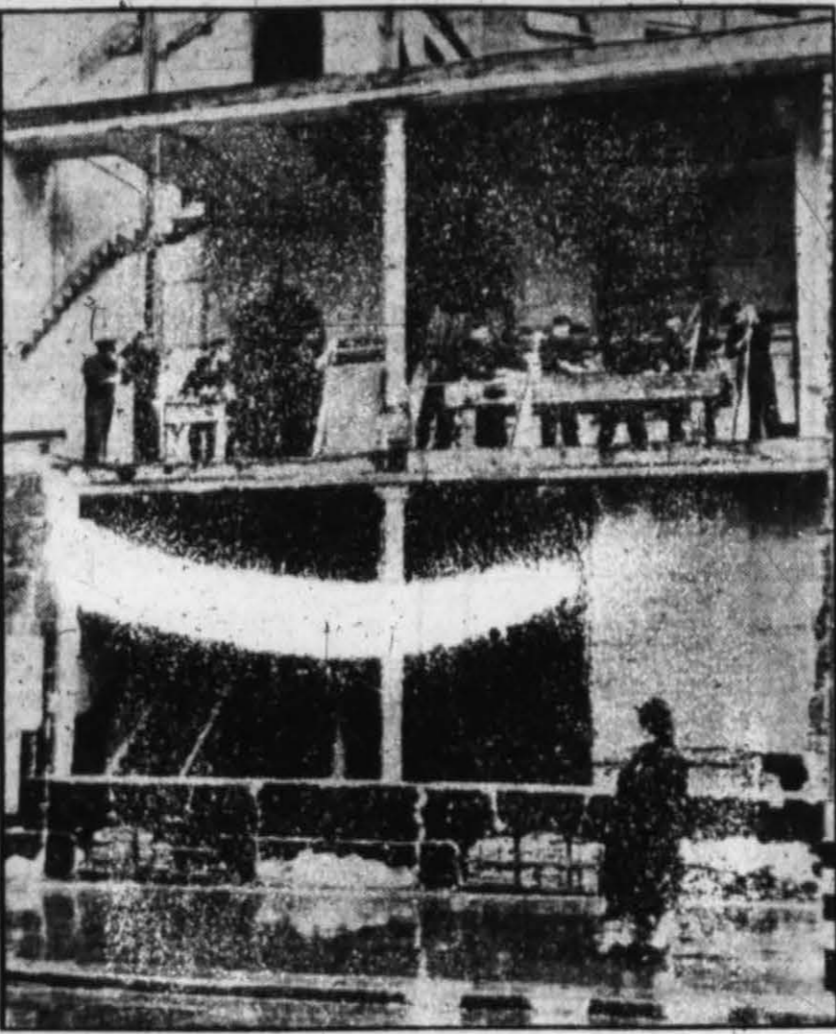

"When the lawn starts to grow, we will really have a pretty place," says Mrs. Matthews. But the neighbors and any casual visitor would be willing to call it one of the most attractive farm homes in the county right now.

USDA Report Clarifies Food Prospects in '43

Farmers will plant in 1943 nearly 11,000,000 acres more than in 1942. There are record numbers of livestock on farms and it is estimated that farmers will produce eight per cent more crops than in 1942 if weather conditions are favorable and adequate labor and machinery supplies are available; however, due to increased demands by the Army and Navy, there will be six per cent less food for civilians this year. These shortages will largely be felt by the well-to-do and by war workers, trying to buy more food with part of their war-time wages.

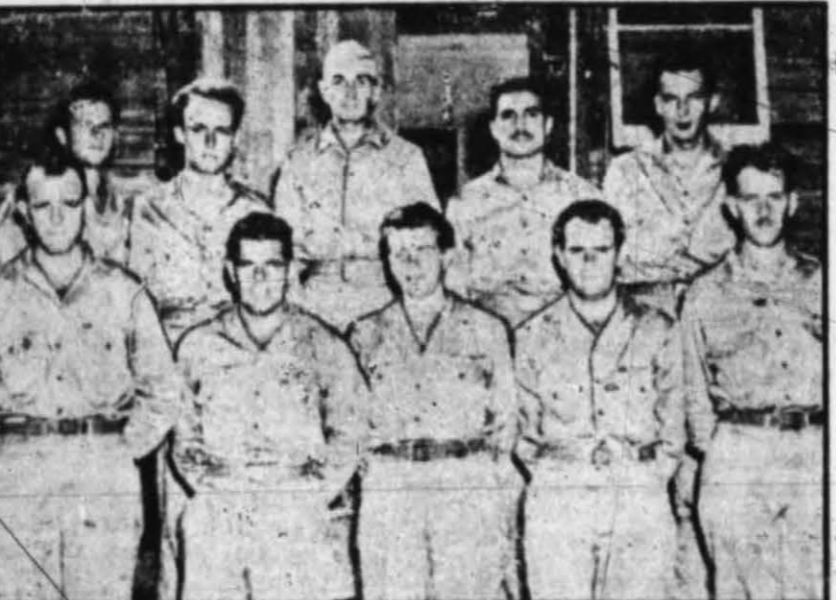

Compared with 1942 there will be less meat, canned goods of all kinds, butter, cheese, some fresh vegetables, coffee, tea and cocoa. There will be available about the same amount of fresh and frozen fish, eggs, fluid milk, cooking fats, fresh citrus fruits, dried fruits, tomatoes, potatoes and cereals. There will be an increase of 13 per cent more wheat and rye, 30 per cent more chicken, 57 per cent more margarine and nine per cent more apples than was available in 1942. Scarcity of some imported items is felt because the enemy has taken over important producing areas and also because of shipping shortage.

The first steps taken in working out price controls have dislocated food supplies and caused local shortages, since food has tended to go to the areas where prices are highest. The OPA is working to secure more equitable distribution, and supplies will tend to increase, as consumers cease to be able to hoard.

The Department of Agriculture is seeking increased production of some products, notably peanuts, by announcing a support price for the product. This system, the department believes, will bolster production, and at the same time prevent the uncontrolled rise of prices.

A report from the State USDA War Board received recently in the local AAA office explains some of the mysteries of why America faces shortages of certain food items, at the same time that production of food is reaching an all-time high mark.

One factor in food shortage is the fact that supplies for American Expeditionary Forces must be ready in warehouses at all times, ready for instant call. Supplies must be large enough to meet the emergency of convoy losses, which are continuing to be heavy. The Allies are drawing upon American food production, and at the same time, civilian demand in this country is at a record high.

Though the government has a system of forecasting food requirements of all groups, the report states, the civilian food supply program is not smoothly geared and smooth running; however, the Department of Agriculture believes that civilian supply is immeasurably better than it would have been, had not the Department carried out a planned production program for the past few years. The program has been aimed at increased production of meat, milk, eggs and oil crops, with moderate increases in other lines. In 1941 and 1942, according to the USDA, food demands of our armed forces and our allies were smaller than the increased production; however,

This is the Street

THIS is the street that we used to take On a long, slow summer's night, Wandering down to the river's edge; This is the dusty light

THAT shed faint magic upon a pier Where we sat as the ships went down, Hunting a path to the open sea, Waiting beyond the town.

SOME day we'd go along, we said, As the sea-battered craft slipped past. The world was a globe for our hearts to spin, Long as our love would last.

WHERE did you go, dear roving lad? Was there passage for only one On the ship that sailed to a lush green shore Haunted by flagrant sun?

DID somebody whisper of dusky maids, With lips that were nectar sweet. . . . Once in awhile I seek the pier At the edge of the little street.

About Hail Insurance
If you think your wheat will yield 7 or more bushels per acre, then it's good business to insure it for Ten Dollars per acre. According to all indications now wheat will sell for One Dollar and Fifty cents per bushel. We all know the hail hazard in this County is great; and it's better to pay $1.00 per acre to be sure of getting not less than $10.00 per acre. I believe it is to your interest to see me before you insure, I have more than one plan.

The new Charles Orr brick building is nearly ready for occupancy and will soon have a fine line of confections, etc., therein. Mr. Orr will have his old time partner, Harmon Beach, associated with him and that they will conduct an up to date confectionary store goes without saying. Their ice cream parlors will be separated from the store by the means of a side entrance and wide hall. This arrangement will especially appeal to the ladies.
