A cool front slipped into the Panhandle and West Texas Thursday, partly clearing skies behind it. Scattered showers still fell along the Texas coast but had all but stopped in the waterlogged lower Rio Grande Valley where drainage was a tremendous problem.

May State Oil Allowable Cut 192,915 Barrels

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission today ordered the state oil allowable for May slashed 192,915 barrels per day, placing the permissive flow at 2,903,341 barrels daily.

The big cut will result from one less producing day in May for both statewide and East Texas fields. The flow schedule will be on a 17 day pattern.

The cutback came after a 45 minute statewide prorating hearing which produced a minimum of testimony from the industry. All but three of the big oil purchasers were in agreement with the 17 day schedule set by the commission.

Ralph Dieler, Tulsa, board chairman of Stanolind Oil Purchasing Co., was the only purchasing representative who elaborated on the number of producing days he considered desirable.

The first to advocate 17 days for May, Dieler said the statistics read by Thompson "indicate to us that from the nearly ideal position in which the industry found itself on the first of March, we have deteriorated very badly."

"It is time to stop, look and listen," said Dieler. "We would recommend no more than 17 days in May and hope that perhaps some oil stocks will be reduced in the early months of the consuming season."

Companies favoring the 17-day pattern were Stanolind, Humble, Magnolia, Shell, Texas Cities Service, Continental, and Tidewater.

Sun Oil advocated 19 days Sinclair and Gulf, H. P. Nichols, Tyler, speaking for the East Texas Oil Producers Assn., wanted 18 days for the East Texas field.

Fields on less than the statewide schedule in May will be Pantex, 36 days Pickton, 9; Kelley-Snyder, 15; and Sandusky, 13.

The next statewide hearing will be held here May 19, and the June 18 hearing will be held in San Angelo.

Nobody Worries When Martin Jail Door Stands Open

STANTON (SC) — Wednesday the outside door to the Martin County Jail was standing wide open, but nobody was worried.

There weren't any prisoners and hadn't been since the day before when sheriff's officers from Abilene came here to accept custody of Billy J. Berkley, convicted here on a charge of passing a forged check and sentenced by District Judge Charlie Sullivan to serve two years in the penitentiary.

Berkley will be tried on a similar charge in Abilene and had received prison sentences totaling four years at Berger before being tried here.

Asked about the open jail door, Deputy Sheriff A. C. Fleming explained it was the first chance they had had in some time to "air the place out" and that they were cleaning things up while awaiting the arrival of the first new guest.

Big Spring TV Hearing Is Set

A Federal Communications Commission hearing on applications for license to operate a television station in Big Spring has been set for May 14.

The date was fixed by the FCC Wednesday.

Two applicants are seeking a permit for Channel 4, only VHF channel assigned to Big Spring. The hearing will determine which of the two is to be awarded the FCC grant.

Applicants are Texas Telecasting, Inc., of Lubbock, and Big Spring Broadcasting Co. Texas Telecasting is operator of Station KDBU-TV in Lubbock and proposed in its application to operate a station here on a "satellite" basis, picking up programs from the Lubbock unit. Big Spring Broadcasting Co. is operator of radio station KBST here.

Both applications went before the FCC last summer. A third application, that of Big State Telecasting Corp., subsequently was withdrawn.

Meets With Army Corps Of Engineers

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Water Resources Committee met today with representatives of the Army Corps of Engineers to discuss water conservation problems in Texas.

The conference is one of a series being held by the committee to gather and encourage exchange of such information.

Howard Burleigh of Austin, engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, told the committee yesterday water conservation projects can and have paid their own way.

Ex-AEC Chiefs Set To Testify

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The two former chairmen of the Atomic Energy Commission plan to testify at the security hearing for pioneer atomic scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer—both of them apparently in his behalf.

David E. Lillenthal, who headed the commission from the time it was formed in 1946 until 1950, said in a statement issued in New York last night he will testify for Oppenheimer.

Gordon Dean, who succeeded Lillenthal and served until last summer, said he had been asked to testify by Oppenheimer's attorney. While he would not discuss what he will say, his acceptance of an invitation by the defense presumably means his testimony will be favorable to Oppenheimer.

Another prospective witness is Dr. Vannevar Bush, wartime head of the office of Scientific Research and Development. An aide said Bush expects to testify.

The hearings for Oppenheimer, suspended from access to government secrets by order of President Eisenhower, are going on in a secret room somewhere in Washington. The procedure is guided by strict rules formulated by the AEC in September 1950 in an effort to provide maximum protection for the rights of individuals and for the government's interests.

The AEC has announced only that Oppenheimer was suspended.

Governor Signs Act Outlawing Reds Into Law

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today signed a bill outlawing the Communist party and other subversives in Texas as of the moment of signature.

Shivers said he still favored the death penalty for convicted Communists but would be willing for Texas to try the 20 year maximum jail term written into the new law.

Shivers said he would like to see the federal government outlaw the Communist party, adding that he didn't think such action would drive subversives further underground.

"I haven't heard of many above ground," he said. "When they are they hide behind the Fifth Amendment."

Shivers signed the bill while television cameras whirred. He was flanked at the big oval desk in his reception room by Sen. John Bell, Cuero, and Rep. Fred Meridith, Terrell. Both were active in pushing the bill through the recent special session of the Legislature.

The No. 1 Senate sponsor, Rogers Kelley, Edinburg, was absent.

The bill signed by Shivers defines subversives as those who would overthrow the government by force. The maximum penalty upon conviction would be 20 years in prison, with fines up to $20,000.

Shivers was asked if he thought the new Texas anti-Communist bill would accomplish anything if it should be declared unconstitutional.

"I think so," he replied. "At least Texas is making an attempt to keep the Communists out. As to whether or not there are any Communists in Texas now, it cannot be said with certainty."

The 25-million-dollar tax bill to finance pay raises for teachers and state employees—the toughest issue of the session—was signed by the governor yesterday.

Effective Sept. 1, it increases present levies on beer, franchises and natural gas production.

The teacher pay raise bill is to be signed at a special ceremony Thursday, April 22.

It will raise the base pay schedule $402 per month and make local education with the state on a percentage basis. Heretofore, local districts contributed a fixed total of 45 million dollars a year.

Drought Aid Plea Is Given To Governor

AUSTIN (AP)—Easier credit terms for small business men and farmers in West Texas is urgently needed despite recent rains in the area, officials of 28 counties told Gov. Allan Shivers today.

Spokesmen for the counties told Shivers unemployment is rising in their area because many businesses have gone broke. They wanted a public works program to furnish jobs.

Shivers told the West Texans he was going to Washington April 26 for a conference of governors. He promised to do all he could there to help them.

County Judge James McMorries of Martin County, Stanton, told Shivers the group he was speaking for wanted the governor to use his "personal influence" with President Eisenhower to get the relief needed.

Shivers outlined the flood relief and highway work projects already under way in the drought area, and suggested the West Texans also make quick contact with their congressmen.

Counties represented today were Motley, Midland, Hansford, Gaines, Andrews, Yoakum, Cochran, Martin, Cottle, Childress, Wheeler, Dickens, Kent, Scurry, Stonewall, Fisher, Hall, Lipscomb, Lubbock, Dawson, Ochiltree, Terry, Garza, Mitchell, Roberts, Glasscock, Collingsworth, Howard.

McMorries told the governor, as more than 50 West Texans crowded around, that the rains have helped but far from broken the drought. Even if it is broken, he said, severe damage has been done. Crops are ruined, credit is severely strained, land is wind eroded.

"If there is any way to get more liberal loans to small businesses and to farmers, that's what we need," McMorries said. He said in many areas the drought has extended over a three to four-year period.

Begin Congressional Probe Of FHA Affairs

President May Order Tax Files Opened In Housing Fraud Probe

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today set public hearings for Monday on multi-million dollar housing scandals.

Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said the first witness would be Albert M. Cole, federal housing chief; Guy T. O. Hollyday, resigned head of the Federal Housing Administration; and Clyde L. Powell, assistant FHA commissioner.

The Banking Committee had planned to start final work on a housing bill next Tuesday. But what senators called "shocking exposures" indicated close scrutiny of both old and new sections in the House-passed bill and grave doubts whether the job could be finished in time for action during the Congress.

A senator said the committee was "in no mood to write up a housing bill."

Byrd told the Senate yesterday the housing program had been marred by extravagance and irresponsibility "if not actual fraud and graft." He said "criminal prosecution may result" if evidence shows government officials acted deliberately in such cases.

Sen. Williams (R-Del) said on the Senate floor that indictments were "pending in the federal courts."

Capehart's committee was reported preparing an announcement that it would start public hearings next Monday.

Since the charges of widespread scandal were first aired, two top FHA officials have left their jobs. The first to go was Guy T. O. Hollyday, named last year by Eisenhower to head the FHA. Last night Norman P. Mason, acting FHA boss, announced he had accepted a request for retirement from Walter P. Greene, deputy FHA commissioner, since 1951.

Capehart said his committee would start an immediate study of the 251 cases as soon as they are received and would eventually sift through a total 7,000 apartment projects built under one section of the housing act.

Most of the 251, he said, involve operators who reaped inflated profits out of the rental housing program of the post-World War II period. These profits, which Capehart estimated might total a half-billion dollars, came from FHA-insured loans far greater than the actual cost of building an apartment house. He said that by various kinds of financial manipulation the builder could pocket the difference between the loan and his building costs.

Reds Attack French Post Landing Field

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The French high command reported today Vietnamese rebels sneaked in during the night to blow up the northern end of the main airstrip at beleaguered Dien Bien Phu and dug trenches across the strip. They finally were driven off.

The Communist-led attackers got within 100 yards of the French defenders in the hard-pressed northwest corner of the fortress where the airstrip lies. With Bangalore torpedoes—high explosives on the end of bamboo sticks—they managed to rip up a big hunk of the airstrip's steel matting.

In Tokyo, the U. S. Air Force announced the temporary transfer of a squadron of American C-119 Flying Boxcars to the Philippines for airlifting supplies to Indochina. The Air Force said the squadron personnel would not normally travel the Indochina run, but would serve in maintenance, supply and administrative capacities.

The rebels have poured tons of artillery shells onto the Dien Bien Phu airstrip and put up a curtain of anti-aircraft fire to keep planes from landing with supplies or evacuating the wounded. Thus far, the French have continued to repair the field each time it is hit in the hope of eventually being able to get planes in.

The French did not reveal either their own or the enemy's losses in driving off the infiltrating Vietnamese from the airfield last night.

Lands In U.S. Saying Unity Can Stem Tide

By OWEN CRUMB
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles returned to the United States today and said he was "well satisfied" with the results of his talks in London and Paris on Indochina.

He added that he believed the Geneva conference would advance the cause of freedom in Southeast Asia.

Dulles termed the Indochina War and the general situation in Asia a "disaster."

"This disaster would be compounded if Indochina were lost," he said.

Dulles read a statement to newsmen on his arrival at the Syracuse Airport from Paris en route to his hideaway retreat on Duck Island in Lake Ontario.

He said a more serious disaster "can be prevented if the free nations are united—that unity of purpose depends on full understanding."

Dulles said the possibility of a 10-nation alliance similar to NATO, proposed for the Southeast Pacific, "has been enhanced by my talks."

The proposed alliance would aim to stem Communist expansion in Indochina and the rest of Southeast Asia.

Dulles discussed the matter this week in London with British Foreign Secretary Eden and with French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault in Paris.

Dulles said "our common purpose" was set forth in joint statements issued after each of those talks.

He pointed out that Thailand already had agreed to participate in the proposed 10-nation alliance and added "many President Magasaysay of the Philippines has indicated acceptance in principle."

Dulles said he believed the proposed 10-nation alliance would head off Communist ambition to control Southeast Asia.

He declined to answer any questions and said "I now have another very important engagement."

He referred to his visit to his Lake Ontario retreat before going to Washington, and returning to Paris early next week.

He left for Main Duck Island in a two-engine amphibian aircraft, piloted by Richard K. Benson of Chautauq, N.Y.

Mrs. Dulles accompanied the secretary.

In Paris, American sources conceded formal negotiations for the proposed alliance probably could get under way before the Geneva conference on the Far East, scheduled to open April 28.

State Department aides in Washington said "working parties" would be set up within a few days to chart specific steps toward forming the united front in the shortest possible time.

Dulles was reported anxious to get talks on the Pacific pact started as soon as possible to help counter any expansionist ambitions the Russians and Communist Chinese might bring to Geneva.

The Americans aimed for concrete progress toward an alliance before the Geneva conference.

Allee's Attorneys Withdraw Motion To Quash Indictment

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—Defense attorneys for Ranger Capt. Alfred Allee announced in district court this morning that the Ranger is ready to face a Cameron County jury here next Monday on charges he assaulted political leader George Parr with intent to murder.

Defense Attorney Claude Carter told District Judge Arthur Klein that the defense wanted to withdraw its motion questioning the authority of Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin, who was later removed from the bench by the State Supreme Court, in transferring the case from Jim Wells to Cameron County.

Carter said "Capt. Allee is willing to face a jury here in Cameron County."

Klein said he would "carry along" the action of Laughlin in overruling a defense motion to quash the indictment. The action was, in effect, to uphold the ruling of Laughlin.

Today's court action took only about 10 minutes. Dist. Atty. S. P. Graham represented the state in today's brief hearing.

The case grew out of a tense scuffle last Jan. 18 at Allee, in the mixup were Allee, Ranger Joe Bridge, Parr and Parr's nephew, Duval County Sheriff Archer Parr.

Archer Parr had accompanied George to the courthouse, where George Parr was to appear on a charge of illegally carrying a pistol near a meeting of his political opposition.

George Parr, 53-year-old millionaire Duval County political leader, claimed Allee intended to kill him. A Jim Wells County grand jury charged Allee and Bridge by indictment with trying to murder George Parr. Allee termed the indictment "spite" by a "Parr grand jury."

Secret Quizzing Set In Schine Case Probe

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secret questioning of witnesses was ordered today in the row between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and top Army officials who have filed a new "bill of particulars" accusing the senator of improper pressure tactics.

An informed source said the Army's detailed statement of its case, handed to the Senate investigating subcommittee yesterday, was "stronger against McCarthy" than the original report which touched off the inquiry.

Trouble developed in the Army camp when Frederick G. Fisher said in Boston he has been dropped as one of the special lawyers for the Army in the controversy.

J. N. Welch, chief of the special counsel for the Army, confirmed in Washington that Fisher was out of Welch's motion, because of former membership in the National Lawyers Guild.

"I didn't want a diversionary affair," Welch told a reporter. When he took the Army case, Welch said, he picked William St. Clair, a member of his Boston law firm, as his chief assistant, and asked St. Clair to name another man to help. The choice was Fisher, also in the Boston law office.

Discussing the assignment with Fisher a few hours after he came to Washington, Welch said, he asked if Fisher had ever "belonged to any group now looked on with disfavor."

Fisher, he related, said he once was in the Lawyers Guild. Asked to sign it, "I don't think that would be better to get another man."

The Guild is currently fighting a move by Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell to have the subversive activities control board cite the group as subversive.

By mutual consent, Welch said, Fisher stepped out. He said Fisher resigned from the Lawyers Guild some three years ago.

The subcommittee, working against time to get the public hearings started on schedule a week from today, declined to name witnesses called to a closed session today, or to disclose just where or when they would be questioned.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), succeeding McCarthy temporarily as subcommittee chairman, told newsmen the group's special staff had orders to start "examining the witnesses and evidence" while the senators themselves grapple with problems of procedure.

These include the role McCarthy will play in the inquiry. Mundt said he will call an extraordinary Easter Sunday meeting of the subcommittee to explore that with McCarthy if the Wisconsin senator returns by then from his trip to Arizona and Texas.

Questioned about reports that he had been fired, Fisher confirmed this to a newsmen, but refused to say why it happened.

Earlier, the Boston Post published a story from Washington saying that Fisher had admitted past membership in the National Lawyers Guild, which the House Un-American Activities Committee has described as "the legal bulwark of the Communist party."

However, Fisher stated emphatically that he is not now and never was a Communist and that he never agreed with anything for which the Communist party stands.

The subcommittee and the Army refused to make public the seven-page typed statement of the Army's case, but an informed source said it is stuck tightly to the Army's original allegations that McCarthy and some staff aides used pressure tactics in efforts to win favored treatment for Pvt G. David Schine.

The source said the new statement of charges is "more specific" in alleging that McCarthy backed the hand of Roy M. Cohn, the subcommittee's chief counsel, in seeking a commission and special assignment in the Army for Schine. Before he was drafted last November, Schine was an unpaid consultant to the subcommittee.

McCarthy and Cohn disputed the accusations, and leveled countercharges of a "blackmail" effort in the Pentagon aimed at blocking further investigations by the subcommittee into alleged Communist infiltration of the Army. They named Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and John G. Adams, Army general counsel.

McCarthy, Cohn and others the Army accused have yet to file with the subcommittee formal statements of what they hope to prove. Meanwhile, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told reporters he planned more talks with parliamentarians and others to prepare for the writing of ground rules under which the inquiry will proceed.

McCarthy already has stepped temporarily aside as chairman and has agreed not to vote on matters concerning the inquiry. But it still is not clear just what status he will have and whether he will cross-examine witnesses.

Harvey Hooser Announces For County Attorney

Harvey C. Hooser Jr. today became a candidate for the office of County Attorney. He filed for the office subject to action of the Democratic primary.

"I am taking this opportunity to announce my candidacy for my first elective term for the office of County Attorney for Howard County, Texas. I do so after giving much thought to the matter, and after much encouragement from many, many friends. This is the first time that I have sought public office and I want very much to have the opportunity of serving the people of Howard County."

"As most of you know, I have lived in Big Spring and Howard County for over twenty-five years, having attended the elementary schools and high school in Big Spring. I am proud to say that I was in the first graduating class of Howard County Junior College. Thereafter, I attended Baylor University where I received my law degree and received my license to practice law in the spring of 1950."

"I have been associated with my father in the practice of law until my appointment to fill the unexpired term as County Attorney of my brother, Hartman Hooser, who resigned to enter the private practice of law. I feel that since I have been a resident here so long, I know the conditions that exist in Howard County which will give me a better understanding of problems arising within the realm of the County Attorney's office. My education and experience as an attorney, I believe, will enable me to carry out the duties of County Attorney orderly and efficiently."

"At the present time, I am engaged in clearing the criminal docket and will not be able to see all of the voters of Howard County. I shall see many of you, but if I fail to contact you, please remember that I am endeavoring to operate the office on a current basis which necessitates considerable time. If you are not acquainted with any phase of my qualifications or integrity, please ask someone who knows me, and I shall be content with their comments."

"I am asking for the office upon my own merits, and the only promise that I make, made or will make, is that I shall carry out the duties of County Attorney in a fair, impartial and efficient manner and I earnestly ask that you give me the opportunity to make good on this promise."

Patrol Lists 56 Accidents During March

Fifty-six accidents — four of them fatal — were investigated by Texas Highway Patrolmen during March, a report from the district office shows.

Four persons were killed in the four fatal accidents. There were 20 accidents resulting in personal injuries and a total of 36 persons were hurt in the wrecks.

Property damage resulting from 32 mishaps amounted to $41,940 during the month, according to the report.

Most of the wrecks occurred on state and federal highways. There were 44 mishaps on the highways, eight on farm to market roads, two on county dirt roadways, and two accidents in small towns.

Excessive speed was blamed for 42 per cent of the 56 accidents. The practice of following too closely contributed to 13 per cent of the wrecks and drunken driving was the cause of seven per cent of the crashes, the Highway Patrol said.

Failure to yield right-of-way and driving on the wrong side of the road caused the remainder of the accidents.

In the enforcement of traffic regulations, Highway Patrol officers made 305 arrests—192 for speeding, 22 for drunk driving, 28 for stop sign or signal violations, and 23 for the use of defective equipment.

In addition, 1,185 drivers were warned for hazardous violations. Patrolmen assisted 350 motorists who had encountered trouble on the highway. The officers traveled a total of 59,705 miles during the month.

A total of $7,310 in fines was collected in the 21-county Sixth District as a result of tickets issued by the Highway Patrol.

An auction for the first bale of cotton was planned yesterday by the livestock and agriculture committees of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

The bale must be of standard size, it was decided, between 450 and 500 pounds. Prizes will be donated by local merchants, and donations are now being asked.

The annual rodeo was also discussed, members expressing the opinion that prices should be lowered for the event so more people would attend.

It was suggested that the rodeo, livestock and agriculture committees be combined.

before the Geneva talks get around to Indochina, perhaps several weeks after the conference opening.

The American secretary's agreement with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault to "examine the possibility" of an NATO-type alliance for the Pacific produced rumblings as well as praise around the globe.

The Eisenhower administration's leader in the U. S. Senate, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), told the upper chamber in Washington that if Nationalist China and South Korea were left out, "you have a paper pact and not an effective alliance."

Several Democratic senators also challenged the administration's Pacific policy. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said the "examination" of Dulles, Eden and Bidault had announced "might take a long time and maybe there isn't enough time for it."

Britain's opposition Labor Party spokesman, open over possible British participation, Aneurin Bevan, fiery leader of the faction's left wing, quit the party's high command group because his moderate leadership had not opposed the project. British observers figured most of his followers would join him in the revolt against former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, the party's leader.

In France, already almost over her head in the Indochina war, the proposed alliance seemed likely to stir little heavy opposition except from the Communists.

Indian newspapers bitterly criticized the Dulles-Eden-Bidault proposal as a blow to any chances of progress at the Geneva conference.

The three foreign secretaries mentioned that Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and the three Associated States of Indochina would join them in the proposed alliance.

Housing Here Now Adequate

It is the consensus among members of the housing committee of the Chamber of Commerce that the supply of homes here takes care of the demand.

In a meeting yesterday, members voiced the opinion that the greatest need in Big Spring is present is for two and three-bedroom unfurnished rental houses.

Members of the committee, among whom are some building contractors, pointed out that few of the larger houses are now being constructed. Reason is that the high rent necessary for a return on the investment is hard to obtain.

It was pointed out by those present that two bedroom houses can be purchased for a down payment of $250 or $350 and about $30 per month. This is much cheaper than they can be rented.

Champ Rainwater, manager of the Empire Southern Gas Company, reported that there has been a net increase of around 150 families in Big Spring since Jan. 1.

Contractors said there were about that many houses constructed in the same length of time, leaving the opinion that supply takes care of demand. M. A. Cook is chairman of the committee.

Police said his real name is Christopher Columbus Howard Hair.

His attorney, Robert Zanville, said he would seek to have the waiver dropped.

Ousted Navy Worker Asks Reason Why

WASHINGTON (AP)—A long-time employe of the Navy's hydrographic office said today he had been fired without explanation after being cleared by a security hearing board. He questioned whether anti-Semitism was involved.

Abraham Chasnow, who started in the office 23 years ago at $1,440 a year and became a $8,360 distribution control officer, protested that he has always been "a firm believer in our Constitution and our democratic and capitalist system."

Through Atty. Joseph A. Fanelli, Chasnow asked reconsideration of a decision dated April 7 by J. H. Smith Jr., assistant secretary of the Navy for air, which held Chasnow to be a security risk. Smith said he acted after a second review board reversed the first panel's findings.

Chasnow lives in nearby Greenbelt, Md., originally a big government-owned housing project, but sold in 1953 to the Veteran Housing Corp. under a plan which enabled tenants to buy their homes or apartments.

In asking the Navy that the reasons for Smith's decision be set forth and that it be reconsidered and reversed, Fanelli wrote:

"There are but five members of the Jewish faith who are both residents of Greenbelt and employes of the hydrographic office."

"All five of the Jews have had security difficulties with the hydrographic office. All the Gentiles remain undisturbed. In the absence of a statement of reasons for the adverse decision of the assistant secretary, it may well be believed that the proceedings which led to that decision were tainted with anti-Semitism . . ."

else than in the armed services."

In Dallas, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said he has considered Oppenheimer a security risk for years, and he added: "One man in a key spot can do more damage than a thousand in little ones." The senator also told newsmen he is "deeply concerned about security on new developments of the H-bomb" and said, "We've got our eyes on some other fellows besides Oppenheimer."

Oppenheimer has successfully undergone various security clearances in the past. But under 1953 rules laid down by the Eisenhower administration, all persons against whom there had been "substantial" derogatory information were ordered reinvestigated.

Notified of his suspension, Oppenheimer in March requested a hearing. Under AEC rules the hearing board had to be made up of private persons who had not "prejudged" the case and whose trustworthiness was so great they could hear evidence bearing on inner secrets of the AEC.

The assignment fell to former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray, now University of North Carolina president, who is chairman; Thomas A. Morgan, former president of the Spectry Corp.; and Dr. Ward V. Evans, chemistry professor at Loyola University, Chicago.

McCarthy Says San Jacinto Day Topic Unpicked

DALLAS (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) expressed "deep concern about security" on new H-bomb developments today as he worked on a speech he will deliver in Texas next Wednesday. But he denied knowing exactly what he would talk on at his Texas Independence Day appearance at San Jacinto battleground near Houston. It was at San Jacinto that Texas forces under Gen. Sam Houston defeated the Mexican army of General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna on April 21, 1836. The controversial Wisconsin Republican said in an interview on his arrival yesterday that his Senate subcommittee on investigations had "our eyes on some other fellows" besides Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer. Oppenheimer is the atom scientist suspended by the atomic energy commission pending a security check. "I've considered Dr. Oppenheimer a security risk for years," McCarthy said. "One man in a key spot can do more damage than a thousand in little jobs." The senator added, "We've got our eyes on some other fellows besides Oppenheimer." McCarthy also said that "we are deeply concerned about security on new developments of the H-bomb."

West Success Likely In Keeping Chinese Reds From Arms Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union is trying to ram the Chinese Communists into private U.N.-sponsored big-power disarmament talks. The West wants to keep them out—and probably can.

That situation emerged from yesterday's meeting of the 12-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission, the second in six days on the question of setting up a subcommittee for such talks under the shadow of the H-bomb.

Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain introduced a resolution to name the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Canada to the subcommittee. He suggested it meet in London.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky of the Soviet Union called this "clearly one-sided." He said Communist China, India and Czechoslovakia also should be included.

Vishinsky held that Communist China belonged on the body as a strong military power and a "legal" member of the 11-nation

U.N. Security Council which with Canada makes up the Disarmament Commission.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of the United States termed this "fallacious and unwise." He said the Nationalist China government was the legal Chinese member of the council.

"The United States," he declared, "opposes the inclusion of Communist China in the subcommittee for substantially the same reasons which cause us to oppose representation of Communist China in the United Nations."

Vishinsky said India, whose Prime Minister Nehru has called for a standstill on hydrogen bomb tests, could make a significant contribution to disarmament negotiations, and that Czechoslovakia, whose uranium mines help supply Russia's atomic plants, has as much right to sit in as Canada.

Lodge replied that the proposed subcommittee should be confined to countries on the parent commission, of which neither India nor Czechoslovakia is a member.

France, New Zealand, Colombia and Denmark also supported the British proposal. Brazil and Turkey had spoken for it already, before Dixon submitted it formally yesterday.

This seemed to give the resolution 8 of the 12 votes on the commission, where only a majority is necessary for passage and the veto does not apply. But after several delegates said they wanted time to reply to Vishinsky, the debate was adjourned until Monday.

This Dog's Life Is The Life Of Riley

By ANNE LeFEVER
Do you own a dog—or rather—does a dog own you? Don't answer that, because if there is a dog in your family, I know who owns whom. I am the owner (her vaccination certificate says 'so!') of a coal black bundle of fur—part cocker, part terrier and all affection.

She rules my life from about 5:15 p.m. until about 8:15 a.m. on week-days and all day on Sunday. I am house-keeper, grounds-keeper, cook and chauffeur for this creature that responds to about 30 different words and phrases.

"Punkin'" can tell when I am expecting guests, and she always manages to be in the house to greet them at the door with her favorite toy in her mouth. Usually, it is a black live rubber ball, which the guest must throw again and again. If I wish to get my attention at all, I have to trick or cajole her into going to the backyard.

That backyard is her private property. In it she keeps all the current bones, an old glove, a rubber mouse, a ball with a bell in it and an old piece of garden hose. It makes no difference that I wish to plant flowers. She promptly digs them up (she probably thinks that I have just buried a bone) or if they are fortunate enough to grow, she runs them down or lies down on them.

I have always been a bird-watcher. That is, until she took charge of the place. Now, a bird just flying over the yard has such a stream of invective hurled at it that it doesn't dare to stop long enough for a drink, much less to bathe in the bird-bath!

As for my vacation—I may as well take it either two or three days at a time (so my mother could "dog-sit") or go somewhere that she would be welcome. She has me thinking that two weeks away from me would be the end of her. I really think that is just her way to be taken on trips!

Each morning when I leave, she appears most forlorn and when I get home, it is as if I have been gone a year. Really, the boost this gives my ego is worth all the time I spend on her—grooming, feeding, taking her on Sunday afternoon rides—and above all, that inescapable half-hour when I come home from work. I'd so much rather do other things, but a game of ball is expected—and so we have one!

Raley Pupils Show Work

Between 150 and 175 guests evening the register Tuesday evening when 45 students of Mrs. Ira C. Raley presented their annual art display in the HCJC library.

The library was arranged with easels scattered among the displays. The tea table held a tiered arrangement of yellow roses with a small model dressed in artist's smock, holding palette and brushes, and "painting" on a tiny oil (in reality a miniature original of Grand Canyon edge by Mrs. Raley). The guest register was in the shape of a palette with a water color "The Old Willow Road" on the front.

A predominance of original work was noticed and in many instances the original model was placed by the painting. Four little ceramic baseball boys inspired an oil, "A Boy's Dream" (glove, bat and ball). This was done by Mrs. Raley's youngest pupil, age eight. A yucca and an old steer skull resulted in an original oil, "Desert Contrast," and an old gourd dipper was used in a pencil sketch, "Grandma's Dipper."

Benson Voted Funds He Hadn't Requested

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department held the distinction today of being the first big federal agency in recent years to win House approval of more money than it asked.

House action in making addition after addition to the bill recommended by its Appropriations Committee brought an angry declaration from Rep. H. Carl Andersen (R-Minn.) that Secretary of Agriculture Benson ought to circumvent the committee through a secret White House meeting.

"It's not the Congress of the United States writing this bill," said Andersen, head of the subcommittee which wrote it. "Here we are turning over to Mr. Eisenhower and the secretary of agriculture... the right to write the agriculture bill."

The measure, carrying $1,040,802,654 in cash and loan authority for the year starting July 1, was passed by the House yesterday and sent to the Senate. The amount includes $720,102,654 in cash and $320,500,000 in lending authority—$21,300,841 more cash and 45 million more loan authority than the department requested through the Budget Bureau.

Never before in the memory of Appropriations Committee veterans had a big government department been voted more cash than it had requested. The customary procedure is for Congress to cut budget requests.

The fact that the House approved 10 separate amendments boosting committee recommendations—none of them by close votes—indicated that proponents of bigger allotments, led by Rep. Hunter (R-Calif.), had organized well in advance.

Biggest increase added by the House was $8,452,384 to the school lunch program, which Andersen's committee already had hiked by $9,011,418, and which was allotted $83,464,000 instead of the 68 million requested originally by Benson.

Lesser increases were voted for research, experiment stations, extension service, forest roads and trails, free soil conservation maps, marketing research and state marketing activities. In most cases, the House restored cuts recommended by the Appropriations Committee, which had trimmed some individual items and increased others.

IT HAPPENED

Ruled Not Vital

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—City officials, seeking to enforce ordinances against Sunday automobile sales, dug into old statutes and found more than they bargained for.

They dusted off an ancient blue law—still in effect—that permits sale of "vital necessities" only after 9 a.m. Sunday. Specifically banned are groceries, cigarettes, fish bait and automobiles.

Intentions The Same

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—President Eisenhower launched the 1954 major league baseball season by tossing out the first ball. Gov. Goodwin Knight of California stepped to the plate and batted out a few at the

Insanity Acquittal Returned In Deaths

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Acquittal by reason of insanity was the jury's verdict last night for Donald Sutton, 26, charged with murder after his two children were shot to death at the family home last Jan. 25. The Butte miner was charged with the slaying of his 2-year-old son Ronald. His 4-year-old daughter Donna also was killed in the shooting. Sutton's estranged wife Anita was wounded.

The shooting climaxed an argument that started in a Butte bar. Sutton was found lying on the floor with a bullet wound in the chest.

Cleveland Strike Brings Road Blocks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police set up three road blocks on streets leading to the Park Drop Forge Co. today, and non-striking workers began the day shift in relative calm.

There was fighting at the plant gates yesterday as CIO pickets were shoved back by mounted police.

Today, with nearly 200 police in the area, barriers were set up a block from the plant. Only persons with proper identification cards were allowed through. Despite a light drizzle, several thousand others milled around near the barriers.

Company officials said the number of workers on duty was "better than yesterday," and estimated the day shift had between 135 to 150 on duty, including supervisors.

Beaumont Union Okays Wage Plan

BEAUMONT (AP)—AFL ironworkers Union, Local 125, of Beaumont have ended a two-weeks strike after accepting a 10-cent hourly wage increase.

Acceptance of the wage boost agreement was announced last night.

A new contract was to be signed today with the local chapter of the Associated General Contractors and the Sabine Area Construction Committee.

H. H. Mathews, business representative of the ironworkers, said the contract would call for reopening of wage negotiations Sept. 1. Originally, the ironworkers asked a 25-cent boost.

Wife Charged With Poisoning Of Husband

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP)—The Letcher County grand jury yesterday returned an indictment charging a wife with feeding her husband rat poison in a bottle of soda pop.

The true bill against Mrs. Martha Conner, about 35, charged her with "malicious poisoning."

Her husband, Willie Conner, a coal miner about 40, became violently ill last October and was in a critical condition for several weeks. He is fully recovered.

Investigating officers said the Conners had been arguing shortly before Conner became ill.

Pacific Coast League Inaugural

Nevada Gov. Charles Russell—whose state has no professional baseball team—will move the first chessman in the state's annual chess tourney here today.

It Happens To All

OMAHA (AP)—The observer chuckled when he saw this: Two Nebraska state safety patrol cars were parked across the street from each other in downtown Omaha. Both had downtime parking tickets on the windshields.

Pays To Investigate

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A woman telephoned desk clerk Dan Smith of the Mizpah Hotel yesterday and cried: "There's smoke coming from the top floor of the hotel."

Smith raced up three flights of stairs to investigate. When he came back, $9.65 was missing from the cash register.

Deluxe Phone Service

TOKYO (AP)—Little Ichiro in Tokyo now can see Uncle Shozaburo in Nagoya or Auntie Satsumi in Osaka, 280 miles away, when he telephones them.

The telegraph and telephone service today opened telephone-TV service limited to the three cities.

Proves Point In Court

BOSTON (AP)—Chipper, 71-year-old Herbert Page told the Municipal Court judge he was innocent of a charge of stealing $2,000 and proved it—with a blowtorch.

Herbert Monahan, 51, of Lexington, said Page induced him to part with the money to help in experiments to produce a "non-inflammable" paint.

Monahan told Judge Frank W. Tomasello he just didn't believe Page had such a paint.

In answer, Page trained a blowtorch on pieces of plaster smeared with his "special" paint. There was much smoke—but no flame.

"There you are, your honor," coughed Page as spectators headed for the exits. "Just like I said, the paint doesn't burn."

The judge acquitted him.

Diamond Smuggler Is Given Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—An Israeli woman, who pleaded guilty to smuggling more than $100,000 worth of uncut diamonds into the United States, yesterday was sentenced to a year and a day in prison.

But Federal Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo told Mrs. Ruth Hakohn, 28, of Tel Aviv, he would reduce her sentence to time already served in jail—if she left the country and paid her own passage to Israel.

Her attorney said he hoped to obtain a visa for her within 30 days. She was arrested last Feb. 10 at Idlewild airport.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Crows and their relatives live far and wide over the world. In North America the common old black crow is smart and worth watching. Many persons have classed him as "the smartest bird in North America."

When choosing a place for nesting, the crow usually takes a tree, but sometimes a very tall shrub is used. The common height of the nest is from 20 to 70 feet above the ground.

At first glance, a crow's nest may seem a bit coarse, but study it and you will see that it made with care. Twigs, small sticks, grass and strips of bark go into the nests, and the inside is lined with something soft. Often the lining is made from the inner bark of a dead tree.

About half a dozen eggs are laid in a nest, but the number may be as low as four or as high as eight. The eggs hatch, in most cases, during April or May. After a long time in the nest, the young go to the ground and walk or hop about. The mother crow guides the young as they hunt for food, and may be seen at this task during much of the summer. Young crows sometimes wait until they are two-thirds as large as their parents before starting to take care of themselves.

Crows, young and old, gather in flocks in the autumn. Some flocks contain only one or two dozen members, but others have hundreds.

The male crow has been jeered because of his hoarse song. One observer wrote in this way:

"When he sings, he is nothing short of a clown. He ruffles his feathers and stretches his neck (like a cat with a fishbone in her throat). Then, with a big effort, he delivers hen-like squawks."

We may laugh at the old crow's song, but the female crow likes it, and why should he care what we think?

Egyptian Junta Bars Old Political Leaders

By ZEIN NAGATI
CAIRO, Egypt (U.S.—) Egypt's military government banished from politics for a decade today all leaders of the nation's three major parties who held office during ex-King Farouk's last 10 years on the throne.

The Revolutionary Council's order stripping the old politicians of their rights to hold office or lead their parties struck at most of the part premiers and Cabinet members who governed the country before the present military junta seized power in July 1952.

It also would keep such former political leadership out of the national advisory council which the military regime has said it would set up to assist in the transition to eventual civilian rule.

The order applied to Egypt's three main political parties—the Wafdists, Sadists and Liberal Constitutionalists. It said nonpartisan ministers would not be affected "unless the Revolution Council rules otherwise."

Newspapers listed a total of 62

politicos affected but government rulings on some whose party affiliations is doubtful could raise the number to around 60.

A government spokesman said the military council also was drafting a crackdown on Egypt's press syndicates of newspaper owners and newsmen, most of them opposed to the military regime, and on newsmen who had received secret government subsidies from Farouk's governments.

Some reports said the government would dissolve the syndicate and take its assets into custody. Other rumors said "corrupt pressmen" would be expelled and the syndicate reorganized.

The sweeping decision was reached in a marathon council session that started at noon yesterday and ended in a joint meeting with the subordinate civilian Cabinet early today.

It was seen as another major victory for Vice Premier Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser in his struggle for power within the council against President — Premier Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib. The latter favored lifting the present ban on political parties and a return to parliamentary rule following elections in July.

Naguib was forced to reverse his pledges of such a program on March 29 after pro-Nasser street demonstrations protested the return of the old politicians and demanded the Revolution Council continue to rule the country.

Naguib collapsed during that crisis and was reported still confined to his bed—too ill to attend the all-night session which reached today's decision, Nasser presided.

Guidance Minister Salah Salem said the order banishing the old politicians aimed to bar a comeback of those "who ruled Egypt under Farouk's corrupt regime and were, through their complicity, more than due to their failure to resist his tyranny, responsible for the corruption of Egypt's political life."

Willys Plant Union Votes For Pay Cut

TOLEDO, Ohio (U.S.—) That their employer can better compete with other auto makers, production employees of Willys Motors, Inc., have voted to take a pay cut of as much as 10 per cent.

The vote was taken yesterday after Richard T. Gosser, vice president of the CIO United Auto Workers, told the employees the cut is necessary to stabilize Willys' economic position. Part of the loss may be recovered if a new bonus plan can be worked out.

The new pay plan does not affect basic hourly wages, but has the effect of eliminating incentive pay, awarded workers who produce more than a fixed norm for their jobs.

With Willys currently employing about 7,000 production workers at an average wage of $60, a 10 per cent cut could save the firm $36,000 weekly in labor costs, Gosser said. The union hopes to reduce Willys' production costs 20 per cent within six months, making it competitive with General Motors, Chrysler and Ford.

Edgar F. Kaiser, president of Kaiser - Willys, described the union's action as a "tremendous step forward" which advances Willys' operations "to a point where it can become competitive with the Big Three from a standpoint of cost in the production of a complete unit."

Opera Set To Open With Excerpt Acts

NEW YORK (U.S.—) The Metropolitan Opera plans to open its season next fall with a program of favorite operatic scenes instead of the customary single opera.

Rudolph Bing, Met manager, said yesterday the success of a similar "gala performance" last March, plus his wish to give a closed network television audience "as varied and interesting a program as possible," prompted the change.

Bing announced the following scenes—for the Nov. 8 opening—from four operas: the prologue to "Pagliacci," the first act of "La Boheme," the second act from "Barber of Seville," and three scenes from "Aida."

Shivers, Ramsey Might Reveal Their Political Plans This Week

By The Associated Press
Gov. Allan Shivers has called a press conference for Friday at 10 a.m., prompting speculation he may reveal his personal political plans.

In Austin also, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey indicated he would have a political announcement soon, but that was about all he would say.

Most guesses were that Shivers would seek an unprecedented third elective term. The Houston Post came out with an editorial Wednesday saying Shivers should have it.

Politics was picking up all over the state.

"I think in the next few days I will toss my hat into the ring," Ramsey said Wednesday night during a TV interview.

"I didn't say how far I would throw my hat," Ramsey added smiling.

The lieutenant governor has been regarded as an almost certain candidate for re-election. There has been some speculation he would run for governor if Gov. Allan

Shivers decided not to seek re-election.

Shivers, who has not announced his political plans for 1954, received a boost Wednesday night from the Houston Post. The newspaper said he should have another term in the governor's chair without opposition. "In recognition of the invaluable service he has already rendered."

Said the editorial: "We move that nominations be closed and that Allan Shivers be made the unanimous choice of Texas voters."

Garden City Schools Re-Elect Teachers

GARDEN CITY — Teachers were re-elected at a meeting of Glasscock County school board this week. The list includes:

June Carpenter, Mrs. B. L. Murphy, Mrs. L. E. Sanson, Mrs. W. E. Chaney, John Lemay, Mrs. M. A. Barber, B. L. Murphy, Mrs. A. M. Nunnley, Targe Lindsay, Mrs. R. R. Ricker and Frances White.

The Garden City schools dismissed classes today for the Easter holidays. Classes will resume next Tuesday morning.

'Body' Shows Up Alive At Search

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Firemen probed the smoldering ruins of 70-year-old Joseph Coleman's home in search of Coleman's body.

A man appeared and asked what they were doing.

"We think a man named Joe Coleman died in there," a fireman said.

The man replied: "Well, that's me. I'm not dead and I'm not in there."

Coleman told firemen he had been out collecting junk when flames destroyed his home.

for two more years as Texas governor."

A loyal Young Democrats Committee was organized at Baylor University in Waco. The group formed after another Young Democratic Club at Baylor refused last week to pledge cooperation with the national party.

Conrad Kalmbacher of Fort Worth, secretary of the new group, called the club formed last week "Shiverscrats."

Robert Bruce of Amarillo heads the loyalist group. In Edinburg, State Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen announced a five-point platform for his race for Congress. Kilgore wants to succeed retiring Rep. Lloyd M. Bentzen Jr., also of McAllen.

A conservative Democrat, Kilgore called for solution of Texas water problems, a strong air arm for national defense, a balanced budget, and a farm price program "to meet any crisis" in his platform.

Tourists In Texas Spend $770-Million During Year

A total of $770,477,218 was spent in Texas during 1953 on recreational travel, according to a report recently compiled by the Texas Highway Department and issued through the Chamber of Commerce.

A breakdown of the huge figure shows out-of-state motorists contributed $313,985,218. Visitors by bus, plane, rail and ship spent $43,391,000, and Texans traveling within the state added the other $414,000,000.

An estimate as to how much money was spent in Big Spring and vicinity by travelers was not made by the local Chamber.

Lions To Bring Horace Heidt's Show To City

The Big Spring Lions Club agreed Wednesday to sponsor the Horace Heidt Youth Opportunity Show here on the night of May 26. The Heidt aggregation will come here from Amarillo to stage the show. The performance will be of some two hours duration, with half an hour of local and area talent competing for prizes during a 30-minute portion.

A talent scout representing Heidt is due to arrive here about one week in advance of the show date to arrange for local talent. Performers from Big Spring and area towns will have an opportunity to appear in the show.

J. B. Wington reminded Lions of Courtesy Week set for the last week in April and urged members of the club to participate in the sales clinic set April 27-30 at the Ritz Theatre.

A motion picture cartoon titled "It Never Rains Oil" was shown. The film was furnished by the American Petroleum Institute.

Visitors at the luncheon meeting Wednesday were Bill Yates of Midland, Col. Peach of Brownsville and Ed Hansbach of Topeka, Kan.

Houston City Employee Dies In Gun Blast

HOUSTON (AP)—An aged landlord who shot a city sanitation inspector to death and wounded two others in a volley of shotgun fire says he "had to do it."

The property owner, Oscar Washington McCarty, 71, surrendered to police Tuesday and was held on a murder charge last night after Charles B. Askew, 49, was killed and two other men were wounded.

"I'm sorry I had to do it," McCarty told newspaper reporters. "But I had to do it."

The shooting arose over a dispute involving Houston's new slum clearance ordinance. The sanitation men were inspecting 11 houses owned by McCarty following reports that first-notice placards under the new ordinance had been torn down.

Police Patrolman A. F. Poret, who had accompanied the three city employees to the North Houston neighborhood, said Askew was shot as he raised a hammer to tack up another placard on one of the houses.

Under the new city ordinance, the first-notice placards warn residents that the house has been declared unsanitary and that unless the conditions are corrected within 45 days they will be required to move.

Poret said new signs had been placed on several of the houses when Mrs. McCarty, the landlord's wife, yelled from the second floor of one of the buildings:

"You can't do that. . . You're taking our living away from us!"

Poret said he explained that the inspectors had a court order authorizing the posting of the placards.

That was when, Poret related, McCarty fired the first blast from an upstairs window of a nearby building. Askew was killed instantly when hit by 18 pellets.

However, Loyd Wooten, director of special projects, claims that tourists circulate more money here than the average person would realize.

He cited the tourist courts, cafes, and service stations as firms receiving the greatest amount of benefit, pointing out that other lines of business get a "good share" of the money.

A number of the state visitors traveled Highway 80, it was pointed out.

The average tourist party in Texas during the past year, according to the survey, consisted of 2.7 persons. Some $7.53 per person was spent per day, and the travelers stayed 5.5 days in the state.

Each individual spent $41.42 per visit, it was estimated, and each tourist party spent a total of $111.82 per visit.

The report lists 96 per cent of the tourists visiting Texas as traveling by private conveyance. Approximately 2,805,000 cars entered the state in 1953—at the rate of 7,685 vehicles a day.

Records show that special information and routes were prepared for 116,000 prospective tourists sending mail requests. The seven Highway Travel Information Bureaus played host to 418,759 out-of-staters.

The report points out that the 3½-million vehicles registered in the state, plus the visitors, traveled a total of 86 million miles daily over the 50,000 miles of highways in Texas.

The Highway Department explains that information came from the Travel Information Bureaus, which distributed survey cards to tourists stopping for information.

More visitors came from California than from any other state, the total being 1,272,300.

Other states sending a large amount of tourists through Texas were Illinois, Louisiana, Arkansas, Florida, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Ohio and Oklahoma.

Hams, Turkeys Get Spotlight

Juicy smoked hams and succulent turkeys are the feature attractions in most of the nation's food stores this Easter weekend.

And in general, prices on the two items will be lower than a week ago. Hams will be down from four to eight cents a pound. Turkeys will be anywhere from six cents to a dime cheaper than last weekend.

If you want something other than the "traditional" Easter dinner features, your best bet, value-wise, will be veal and prime ribs. Food men say veal cuts continue to be reasonably priced. Prime ribs appear to be resisting the upward trend of other meats.

Legs of lamb and sirloin steaks will be generally higher this weekend. Pork chops will be up in some places and off in others. Prices remain high, however.

There'll be scattered other specials—chuck roast, frying chickens, fresh cod and haddock fillets and codfish and halibut steaks. Frying chickens show no definite price trend; some stores will hike prices three or four cents a pound while others will offer them at a couple of cents less than a week ago.

Eggs may be higher in your market. Prices rise of two to as much as six cents a dozen are planned by stores in various sections of the country. Butter will be the same in most places, but a little higher in some eastern stores.

Celery, spinach, onions, potatoes and cabbage remain on the list of extra-special vegetable buys.

Hated as good buys are new crop potatoes, corn, eggplant, small-size peppers and squash. Asparagus and lettuce are considered by produce men to be moderately priced. Tomatoes, cucumbers and carrots are up a bit this week.

Some stores will feature pineapples to go with baked ham. Grapefruit continues to be the most worthwhile buy in fruits. Most fruit prices are higher this week.

Fresh Fruits And Vegetables Arriving

Between now and the first of July, the produce stands in local grocery stores should undergo a major change.

Reason is the addition of spring fruits and vegetables. A number of new items will be added during the period, some of them coming in now.

Most grocers here are of the opinion that the change will be completed by July 1, when shelves should be full of fresh vegetables.

A few cantaloupes are coming into Big Spring now, and store operators fortunate enough to get them, claim that they are of unusually good quality and flavor. These cantaloupes are shipped to Big Spring and other Texas points from Old Mexico.

The cantaloupes started hitting local shelves about a week ago, the first of the spring items.

Fresh onions constituted the second fresh food item which local grocers noticed being shipped in. These are coming from the San Angelo area. Some fresh tomatoes are also arriving from San Antonio.

The food dealers emphasize that the tomatoes from San Antonio are probably raised outside the state and figure that Texas tomatoes will not be stocked in abundance until sometime in July.

Grocers say that most food items can be obtained all year round due to the cold storage facilities in produce houses. This accounts for vegetables being handled in local stores all winter.

However, soft fruit items such as apricots, etc., can usually be found on shelves only in the spring and summer. Some should be cropping up here by June, it is believed.

Apples, oranges, bananas and other such fruit items can be obtained all year, but the season is also nearing for Texas oranges to hit the shelves.

Some golden bantam corn is now arriving at local stores from California. A few new potatoes are also to be found on some grocery shelves.

Fresh squash, beans and peas are expected in the next few weeks, along with some fresh okra. Watermelons from South Texas are also about due. Kentucky wonder beans and black-eyed peas will be stocked in the near future, too.

Carrots, lettuce, cabbage, celery, cauliflower and other stock items will still be plentiful as a year-round vegetable.

Judge Holds Up Solon's Sentencing

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. District Judge Walter M. Bastian yesterday held up any sentence for Rep. Ernest K. Bramblett (R-Calif.) until the Supreme Court can pass on his conviction on charges of falsifying his payroll in a salary kickback scheme.

Judge Bastian held that there is reasonable doubt "as to whether the law under which Bramblett was convicted applied to the charges against him."

The government now will carry the case directly to the Supreme Court in an effort to set aside Judge Bastian's ruling.

The law under which Bramblett was convicted by a jury in March makes it a felony to make a false statement to government departments and agencies.

He was convicted of falsely representing that Mrs. Margaret M. Swanson was a clerk to him. She said she did no work and her husband, Irving Swanson, testified he kicked back his wife's salary to Bramblett.

Defense attorney Edward Bennett Williams contended the law applied only to departments and agencies of the executive branch of the government, and not to Congress.

Price Cut No Stimulant To Butter Sales

Big Spring grocers say there has been no increase in the sale of butter or milk here since the prices dropped on the two items recently. Oleomargarine still outstrips the butter sales, and dealers are of the opinion that it will continue to retain the top sales spot unless butter prices are drastically reduced.

Store managers here point out that most people do not know that butter prices have slipped from five to eight cents per pound. The price cut was effected only last week, and per pound cost is now from 65 to 85 cents.

The cut in butter prices came following the withdrawal of federal support.

Slashing of milk prices came about 10 days ago here, dropping about four cents on the half gallon and around two cents on the quart.

Where the half gallon price average was about 53 cents, it is now around 49 cents. Quarts did cost on the average of 26 cents and now retail for about 24 cents.

Popularity of oleo rather than butter is attributed to the wide margin of price difference. Oleo retails for about 25 cents per pound, which is from 40 to 60 cents cheaper than butter.

Lengthy Search Finds Missing Navarro Girl

CORSICANA (AP)—Three National Guard units thrashed through a huge area of the Chambers Creek bottoms southeast of here early yesterday in a search for a missing 9-year-old girl—then found her in a pasture half a mile from home.

Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse said the little girl, Joanie Lusk, ran away from home last night because she had to wash the supper dishes. Her stepfather, Bob Irvine, asked for help in finding her.

National Guardsmen were called from Corsicana and Kerens, with 110 men taking part in the search.

MRS. W. E. WOZENCRAFT
... a cashier and a good cook, too.

Tuna Casserole Is Busy Women's Boon

In these busy days, a casserole that can be hastily put together is the very thing so many of us rely on—both for family meals or for company fare. Mrs. W. E. Wozencraft, cashier in the Snack Bar, is one of the many career women who value one-dish meals.

Her husband is a trainman on the T&P, and his hours make it doubly important that she have a few recipes of this kind at her fingertips. They have lived here since 1947, moving here from Pecos, where they owned a cafe. Their son, Billy, was graduated from Big Spring High School.

Nadine has many other activities and has done other kinds of work, but her favorite is feeding people—whether in her home or in a place of business. Here's her easy-to-fix, easier-to-eat, recipe for Tuna Casserole:

Ingredients:
1 can mushroom soup
2 cups crushed potato chips
1 10 1/2-ounce can of English peas
2 hard-cooked eggs
2 tablespoons sweet milk

Method:
Add the milk to the soup and heat in a double boiler. Cover bottom of greased casserole with one cup of potato chips. Add a layer of tuna and then one of peas. Repeat, making two layers of each.

Top with remaining potato chips and pour soup over all of this. Bake in a hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Garnish with slices of hard-cooked eggs and serve immediately.

This, served with hot rolls and iced tea, makes a good luncheon dish. Serves 6.

Bran Prune Bread Something Different

For something different make this "Bran Prune Bread" and see how fast it disappears. That's the real proof of its goodness.

BRAN PRUNE BREAD

Ingredients:
1 1/4 cups boiling water
1 1/4 cups ready-to-eat bran
1 1/2 cups chopped dried prunes
2 tablespoons shortening
1 egg well-beaten
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Method:
Pour boiling water over ready-to-eat bran, prunes and shortening; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Stir in egg. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and sugar; mix with nuts. Add to first mixture, stirring only until combined. Spread in greased 9 1/2 x 4 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350F.) about 50 minutes. Yield: 1 loaf.

Strawberry Tarts Make Meal Special

Tarts are a dessert associated with special occasions. Any meal can become a special occasion with a strawberry creme tart as a grand finale.

STRAWBERRY CREME TARTS
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Divide dough into 6 portions. Roll each portion out to circle 1/4 inch thick. Line tart pans with dough. Trim and flute edge. Prick dough with fork. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 15 minutes, or until golden brown. When cool fill with strawberry creme.

CREME FILLING
1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
Dash salt
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups sliced strawberries
Whip cream until stiff. Add confectioners' sugar, salt and vanilla extract, and mix until blended. Fold in sliced strawberries. Fill cooked tart shells. Makes 6 tarts.

Thrift Tip

Leftover baked beans may be combined with grated fresh vegetables such as carrots and green cabbage and used as a sandwich spread. Moisten with a little mayonnaise and add salt and pepper to taste.

Mrs. Tucker Distributes Brochure

"Baking and Frying Techniques from Mrs. Tucker's" is the title of a new brochure being distributed to home economics classes in high schools and colleges throughout this area.

The 32-page booklet covers cakes, cookies, breads, pies and pastries and frying. There is a general information section about weights and measures, equipment and high altitude changes.

A number of recipes with variations is given in each section and basic information about each type of cooking is furnished.

Helpful hints such as suggestions for left-over pastry, care of frying fat, storing cookies and how to freeze cakes are found throughout the brochure.

So far it has not been distributed to homemakers but the company has advised that it will be advertised when it can be given to this group.

Try Baked Ham With Mincemeat Apples

For the recipe of the week, foods and nutrition specialists at Texas A&M suggest Baked Ham and Mincemeat Apples.

BAKED HALF HAM—MINCEMEAT APPLES

Ingredients:
5 to 8 pound shank or butt half smoked ham
Mincemeat Apples

Method:
Place the half ham fat side up on rack in open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Be careful that the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (300F.) until thermometer registers 160F. Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound.

MINCEMEAT APPLES
8 medium sized baking apples
1/2 cup mincemeat
4 teaspoons butter
1 cup sugar
1 cup water

Wash and core apples. Peel skin about a third of the way down. Place in a deep baking dish. Fill the cavities with 1 tablespoon mincemeat and 1/2 teaspoon butter. Boil sugar and water together for five minutes, pour over apples in baking dish. Bake uncovered in oven 1 hour before ham is done, basting frequently with syrup. Serve apples with ham.

Salad Proves Good Things Come In Pairs

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Such twosome doings with pears! We're thinking of how good canned pears taste with the tang of fresh oranges, as in the salad pictured here. And how well rosettes of cream cheese and cherries garnish this salad.

For another kind of pear salad, fill the halves with something crisp—a mixture of celery, walnuts and mayonnaise. Add pretty green leaves of romaine.

For after-Lenten desserts, we dream on the French way of filling pears with vanilla ice cream and topping with chocolate sauce!

And still another luscious combination: coarsely-grated sweet chocolate folded into sweetened whipped cream and used as a topping for canned pears.

Ever have pears heaped high with glistening flakes of lemon gelatin? The gelatin is prepared as usual and poured into a shallow pan to set; when it is firm it is flaked with a fork.

Do you like preserved ginger? Chopped fine, it's perfect to spoon into pear cavities; a little of the ginger syrup should be added, too. This may be served as is, but we highly recommend giving it a turn in the oven.

Another dessert we especially favor: Pears topped with a soft custard sauce that has had a little brandy flavoring added to it.

If you follow these suggestions what are you going to do with the pear juice, you ask? Try combining it with frozen orange juice for the family's morning eye-opener or midafternoon or evening snack.

Or substitute the pear juice for part of the liquid in a flavored gelatin dessert. We never knew what made one of our sister's gelatin desserts taste so good until we discovered she did this. Use the pear juice with any of the gelatin flavors—orange, lemon, lime, strawberry, raspberry or cherry.

Does your family like old-fashioned cottage pudding? Accompany it with a sauce of the pear juice, adding lemon juice and rind, and thickening with cornstarch.

PEAR-ORANGE SALAD

Ingredients:
6 drained canned pear halves
1 head romaine
Watercress
2 large oranges
12 cherries (sweet canned or maraschino)

1/2 of a three-ounce package cream cheese
3 tablespoons honey
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Method:
Arrange pear halves and romaine on salad plates. Peel oranges so no white membrane remains; cut sections away from dividing membranes with small sharp knife; add orange sections to salads. Garnish with sprigs of watercress. Fill cavities of pears with cherries. Have cream cheese at room temperature; force through a cake decorating tube to make rosettes for blossoms ends of pears. Stir honey and lemon juice together; pour over salads. Makes 6 servings.

For Easy Cleanup
Put a square of waxed paper on the counter beside your range, when you are cooking. Lay stirring spoons on the paper. Saves muss!

Potatoes Now One Of Best Buys

COLLEGE STATION — With 1953 potato crop stocks hitting 102.2 million bushels, prices are 35 to 75 per cent cheaper than last year at this time, making potatoes one of the best buys of the season.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson announced that the Department is joining with industry in an all-out "eat more potatoes" program in order to get the 1953 surplus down before the 1954 crops begin to move in large volume.

Potatoes make an important contribution to our daily intake of iron, vitamin B and vitamin C. They are an energy food also, says Miss Jimmie Nell Harris, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The popular belief that potatoes are fattening is not true, says Miss Harris. One potato of medium size has only about 100 calories—little more than many of the popular bottled beverages. It is gravy or butter that adds calories in a hurry.

To get the most of this economical food, cook potatoes in their jackets. If they must be peeled, cook them in a small amount of water, make the parings thin, and serve them promptly.

Potatoes have a place at every meal, for they can be baked, mashed, creamed, pan fried, French fried, or put in stews, soups, salads, pancakes, or bread. A mouth-watering recipe, popular in several famous restaurants, is to bake potatoes and then add your choice of bits of cooked ham or tuna, minced onion, cheese, minced parsley, bacon bits.

Twice-baked potatoes are another tasty suggestion. Cut baked potatoes in half, scoop out contents, mash, season with salt, pepper, milk, butter. Refill potato shells adding bits of cheese, bacon, onion, or parsley, and then brown in oven.

The home demonstration agent in each county has available a variety of other potato recipes.

Here's Take-It-Easy Brunch For Easter

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
If tradition in your household says you must serve a glorious Easter brunch, here's a menu that takes little work in the kitchen.

Serve canned ham and warm thin slices of it in a little butter or margarine in a big skillet. While the ham is warming, scramble a skilletful of eggs; if you have a chafing dish, or one of the new electric skillets, a member of the family will enjoy exhibiting the art of scrambling at the table. See that the coffee is ready—and that it is a fine strong brew. Coffee prices may be high, but after all this is Easter!

Now the piece de resistance to accompany the ham and eggs. Have frozen waffles and a toaster right at the table. The waffles go into the toaster to get hot and crisp. You bring in this good maple-fruit sauce to ladle over them. The sauce takes no time at all: Prepare the orange sections and drain the pineapple the night before—put them together in a covered container and refrigerate. Easter morning just heat the maple-blended syrup, then add the fruit and a bit of lemon rind. Delicious, too. Here are the exact directions for the sauce.

MAPLE FRUIT SAUCE
Ingredients:
1 cup maple-blended syrup
1-3 cup drained canned crushed pineapple
1/2 cup diced orange sections
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Method:
Heat syrup to boiling. Add pineapple, oranges and lemon rind. Makes 1 1/2 cups. Serve warm on heated frozen waffles.

If you are planning to serve ham for Easter dinner itself, we suggest a change in this menu. In this case, the brunch might be ready-to-eat cereal with strawberries (fresh or frozen) and cream, soft-cooked eggs and then the waffles with the Maple Fruit Sauce.

These frozen waffles are good eating. We hadn't tasted them recently; then we spent a weekend at Old Sturbridge Village in Massachusetts, where there are many old-time exhibits. After a morning visit to a fascinating collection of antique waffle irons, we came back to breakfast on frozen waffles and blended maple syrup. Naturally we were reminded of how life has changed, and how many ready-fixed foods a cook can take advantage of on occasion nowadays.

Frozen waffles may be utilized for all those hard-cooked eggs that are going to be around the day after Easter. The pure food colorings your small fry use on the shells won't hurt the insides one bit. Shell and slice the eggs; ladle a cheese sauce over the waffles and arrange the slices of egg over the sauce; sprinkle with paprika or minced parsley for color. Of course you can dice the eggs and heat them in the sauce, but they'll lose their shape and won't look so pretty this way.

If there's ham left over from Easter, it may be mixed into a cream sauce and spooned over the heated frozen waffles.

As we've suggested, you can heat these frozen waffles in a toaster. But if you are serving a crowd, use the broiler so you can heat a good many at one time. To get best results, remove the waffles from the freezer and leave them at room temperature for 10 minutes before placing them in the toaster or under the broiler. If your toaster is non-automatic, toast the waffles 1 to 1 1/2 minutes on each side. In the broiler, preheat to very hot (450°F); place waffles on the broiling rack, about two inches from the heat; toast a little over a minute on each side.

Hints On Ham
Ham is rich in protein which is essential in building and maintaining muscle tissue.

Ham trimmings, ham bone and ham fat can be used for flavoring soups, stews, baked beans, black-eyed peas, rice, potatoes, cabbage and many casserole dishes.

Leg O' Lamb Comes To Easter Table

Easter comes to the dinner table with a handsome leg of lamb. In keeping with the day, the cook will want to garnish the roast with gay little bunnies. They're simply made of canned pear halves cut to form big ears and stuck with whole cloves for eyes nose and mouth.

The Easter dinner here calls for an extra-special menu. The appetizer might be chicken soup topped with a puff of whipped cream. In addition to the leg of lamb with bunny salads the main course might include french green beans with crisp bacon bits, au gratin potatoes, hot biscuits and a spring dessert of daffodil cake.

When purchasing the leg of lamb, why not buy a large roast and plan for tempting follow-up lamb meals? Place the lamb skin side down on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not remove the fell from the leg. This paper-like covering helps keep the juice in the meat during cooking and retains the shape of the leg.

Here's what to do with leftover lamb. Dice the cooked meat and add, along with green peas, to a thick cream sauce. Serve in little individual pastry shells for a second enticing lamb dish.

Kitchen Hints
Quick Pizza is easy to prepare for a party.

Basic quick mix can be prepared at home or purchased prepared commercially.

Sausage and cheese are rich sources of protein which is necessary for the growth and maintenance of muscle tissue.

Thawing Chicken
It takes overnight or longer to thaw a three- or four-pound chicken in the refrigerator. If you thaw the chicken at room temperature, cook it without delay as soon as it is thawed.

Easter Calls For Ham And All The Trimmings

Go all out on your Easter ham, this year, and make it look like something out of a caterer's kitchen. Give it careful scoring, a rich glaze and a garnish of vegetable flowers and parsley. Bring the ham platter triumphantly to the Easter Sunday dinner table.

Take your choice of ham styles: the cook-before-eating or the fully-cooked variety. The former must be given long oven baking. The fully-cooked style will need only about 10 minutes per pound in a slow oven—but have your ham at room temperature before you begin.

Do you have a large family? Are you inviting guests to join them for Easter dinner? Then a whole ham will make ample servings for everyone and you'll have leftovers to use with extenders for meals during the week. For "just the family"—especially if it's small—a half ham will fill the bill. And for that two-some a baked thick center slice of ham will make a festive main course. Of course the whole ham is the "best buy."

Both styles of ham should be baked, according to schedule, fat side up on a rack in an open pan.

No water is needed. When you take the ham from the oven cut off the shank skin with a knife or kitchen scissors. Cut the fat in diagonal lines—be careful not to cut too far down!—to form diamonds. Stick a whole clove in the center of each "diamond" and cover with honey. Return to a hot oven for fifteen to twenty minutes so the glaze will be a glorious color. If you are short on time, get your youngsters to make the clove insertions—they'll think it's a fun chore.

What's on the menu besides ham? Well, it's the beginning of spring, so why not small new potatoes with chives and asparagus? Salsad can be a combination of greens, cucumber and radishes. We would have hot herb - buttered French bread, too.

To make the vegetable "flowers" for the ham platter, cut the edges of thin slices of carrots or turnips to look like wild roses and crisp in ice water; fill the centers with a tiny carrot or turnip curl that has its top dipped in paprika. Place the "flowers" on sprigs of parsley on the ham platter for a "green-grows-the-table" effect.

Rice Ring Is Quick Dish

The rice ring is a quick and easy way to make food into an eating masterpiece. Press hot rice into a well greased ring mold. Unroll the ring on a platter, place a small bowl in the center of the mold to prevent the weight of the filling from breaking the ring, fill and serve. If the rice ring is to be served another day, cool, cover and keep it in the refrigerator. Just before serving time, place the chilled ring mold in a pan or skillet of hot water on top of the stove or in the oven. Allow the water in which the mold is placed to simmer (about 30 minutes) but it should not boil over the sides into the rice.

To unroll the rice ring, run a knife around the outside and inside edges to loosen the rice. Place a plate over the mold and invert the mold and shake and the rice ring will be unrolled on the plate.

Serve a variety of foods in and around the hot rice ring. Fried chicken and gravy, curried or creamed chicken, turkey, ham, dried beef, eggs, mushrooms, shrimp or other fish; or meat stew, cheese sauce or buttered or creamed vegetables are all delicious served with a rice ring.

Bunnies Decorate Your Easter Cake

Easter's the time for Bunnies—no doubt about it. In keeping with this thought here's how to decorate your Easter cake in a way that's just right for the children's party. It's done with marshmallow bunnies.

Broccoli Dress-Up
Cream a quarter cup of butter and mix in two to four tablespoons of finely ground nuts. Put a dollop of the nut-butter on each serving of drained crisp-cooked broccoli.

Use the large half of the marshmallow for the body and the smaller half for the head. For ears, cut strips from edges of the marshmallow and make eyes and whiskers with a toothpick dipped in vegetable coloring. And, of course, you dip the scissors in water occasionally to prevent the marshmallow from sticking. Place bunnies around sides of cake. Top the cake with a nest of coconut centered with jelly beans.

Despite Some Hostility At First, London Listens To Billy Graham

That American phenomenon, Evangelist Billy Graham, reaches the halfway mark during Holy Week in his long siege of London. Good Friday he will speak to a crowd calculated to number 50,000, and at almost every service held at Harrington Arena thousands have been turned away, since the place seats only 12,000.

The major baseball leagues teed off Tuesday, and will be followed in rapid order by some scores of minor outfits in all parts of the country. America has cocked its eyes and ears to the national pastime again, and there will be no stilling the tongues of the faithful until the World Series is over next fall.

ger there, as in this country and many others around the globe, for spiritual strength and comfort. So many of the man-made props to hope and courage have been shorn away in recent years that it is small wonder great masses of people are turning to the strength and solace of religion. The clay feet and the frozen heart of materialism stand revealed in all their shoddy promise, and increasing numbers of the so-called intelligent and successful people are discovering what the child and the simple in heart knew all along—that there is balm in Gilead, a place of refuge, something to cling to and to lean upon, a way of life not made by human hands, but eternal and in the heavens.

By MILLARD COPE. Sam Houston sought to enlist support of Texas Indians. President Burnet and his cabinet narrowly averted capture, and the Texas army was organized into regiments on April 15, 1836. "I am determined to fight at the first opportunity," Houston announced.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP. The empresario contract granted by the Mexican government on this day in 1825 to Robert Leftwich, a Kentuckian, eventually inaugurated one of the stormiest chapters in Lone Star annals. Leftwich had first sought the grant as agent for the Nashville Company, a colonizing organization formed in Tennessee. But after using his own money to the tune of several thousand dollars in his efforts, Leftwich decided instead to secure the grant in his own name.

Milk Dates Return

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Dated milk bottle caps are coming back to Connecticut. Last year, the legislature abolished a law requiring caps to show the date the milk was pasteurized. Housewives protested that without the date they couldn't keep track of which milk should be used up first. Officials decided to restore the date on caps, but it will be the delivery rather than the pasteurization date. Housewives say they don't care which it is providing it's a date.

effort be exerted to see that they remained neutral. The Indians, as it turned out, preferred to remain neutral so they later could side with the victors. President Burnet and members of his cabinet, sailing to Galveston Island as the last hope for refuge, narrowly escaped capture at Morgan's Point. Several volleys were fired into the little steamer Cayuga, which included as passengers Mrs. Burnet and their two children.

City Slickers Staying Hitched, Despite H-Bomb Scare Stories

For a nation whose government regards it as too flighty and emotionally unstable to know any of the real truths about the hydrogen bomb, its inhabitants—in the opinion of one woman—are acting cool, real cool, in the face of the destructive horrors they cannot help but glimpse. Despite the fact that one after another of the nation's highly placed officials has said that the hydrogen bomb can destroy any city in the world, there has been no mass exodus of city slickers from any metropolitan center in the U. S. A.

EDC Pact Is Confronted With Prolonged Delays By Italians

ROME — Of the six countries that signed the European Defense Community treaty four—Germany, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg—have now ratified it. France and Italy have still to act, and the chances are that the Italian Parliament will delay even longer than the Assembly in Paris. The bill for ratification has just been introduced by Premier Scelba but it has not been put in the urgent category. The timetable is expected to be approximately as follows: One committee of the chamber will take two months to hold hearings and report the bill out. That would bring it to the floor about the middle of June. The question then is whether the Parliament would take a summer vacation or begin immediate consideration of the measure. In any event, the Communists and allied groups with nearly 40 per cent of the seats will be able to prolong the debate for six months, which would mean passage sometime late in the year or, if there is a summer recess, in January.

Evaluators For College Named

AUSTIN (U)—A team of Texas educators will visit East Texas Baptist College at Marshall May 3-5 to evaluate the school's graduate program in teacher education.

The team will report to State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar whether the school's program appears strong enough to receive accreditation from the Texas Education Agency.

Edgar then will make his recommendation to the State Board of Education, probably at its July meeting.

Members of the evaluation team will be Frank Hubert, director of the education agency's division of professional standards, who will serve as chairman; Dr. Gordon Singleton, Baylor professor of education; Dr. Ide P. Trotter, dean of the Texas A&M graduate school; Dr. Hob Gray, University of Texas professor of education and head of the Teacher Placement Bureau; Tyler School Superintendent Hollis Moore; Dr. Lee Wilborn, assistant commissioner for instruction in the education agency.

Other members will be Dr. Alfred H. Nolle, dean of Southwest Texas State Teachers College, representing the Association of Texas Colleges; Paul Kantz, consultant in school accreditation, and George Blasingame, supervisor of institutional approval for veterans education, both with the education agency; and a representative of the Texas State Teachers Assn.

Auditor Says State Colleges Lose Money

AUSTIN (U)—Most state-supported colleges lose money on their athletic programs, State Auditor C. H. Cavness reported today.

He made the comment in an audit of Sul Ross State College, Alpine, for a period ending Aug. 31, 1953.

He said a statement on the income and outgo of athletic income and spending at Sul Ross was prepared "to illustrate the recurring deficits which are characteristic of many other institutions besides Sul Ross."

The statement showed $21,322 income from sales and services, such as tickets, and activity fee all locations. Expenditures totalled $62,182, with a deficit of $40,859.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The Howard County Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Committee (formerly PMA) has amended the 1954 strip cropping practices specifications to provide that farmers may have until six weeks after the cotton planting to plant the second crop, but that this second crop planting must not be later than July 31.

Instructions were received by the ASC here this week not to take any more orders or approve the purchase of any more drought emergency assistance feed. Three cars of feed previously ordered were on the tracks here Wednesday.

Apparently no particular reason was given for the stop order on feed, but farmers and ranchers, as well as conservationists, are hoping that it doesn't mean that higher authority considers the West Texas drought broken and that the green-up ranges should carry the stock from here on out.

Technicians from the Lamesa unit of the SCS have been busy running gallons-per-minute tests on irrigation wells in order to be able to supply farmers with reliable information on the sizes of pumps, lines and sprinklers needed.

Farmers whose wells have been tested include Allen Strickland; Arvel Brown, three miles north of Lamesa; Joe Bedwell, two and a half miles south of Lamesa; and Frank Robinson, three miles south of Welch. The Robinson well is described as one of the best in the Dawson SCD. Brown's well was better than the average and he is drilling another on the quarter-section south of the well checked last week.

County Agent Lee Roy Colgan of Dawson County has always shown a deep interest in soil and water conservation.

He and Assistant County Agent Pearce are trying to develop a 4-H Club soils judging team and have selected a plot of ground near the Labor Camp where soil types, land conditions and needed conservation treatments are being studied.

Cosden Pipeliner Bill Conger of Forsan had an unusual sort of car trouble Monday morning.

Bill got stuck in mud and tried to rock the car out. The engine got pretty hot (almost as hot as Bill) and when the radiator started boiling over Bill raised the hood to see about it.

Just about the time he did the battery exploded with a shotgun-like boom and sprayed battery acid over the engine and wires and hose.

Bill gave the acid-stained area a drenching with soda water and bought a new battery—after he finally got pulled out of the mud.

Jack Broyles of the Munger Community in Dawson County has bought 100 pounds of Blue Panic seed with which he plans to plant the 50-acre field just south of his home. He says the grass is to serve the dual purpose of preventing erosion and for grazing.

Jess Jenkins of the Lamesa Unit of the SCS is advising all farmers and ranchers who contemplate grass plantings to buy their seed now.

W. T. Dabbs, superintendent for the Humble Oil Company at Snyder has a livestock farm eight miles northwest of Colorado City and has had a small range pitting machine made for use on his place. It will operate from the power lift on his small farm tractor.

He had a regular five-disc one-way plow which was mounted on this power lift. He removed his five good discs from the plow and bought a couple of old discarded breaking plow discs at a blacksmith shop. He had holes bored two and one-half inches off center and mounted these two old discs on each end of the plow shaft. This gives a spacing of about 30 inches between the discs and one is mounted with the lip-side on top and the other just opposite. He plans to pit between 75 and 100 acres with this plow, and says he likes this small rig because it enables him to get in next to the brush and to pit close places. He is running the pits as near on the water level as possible and will do some reseeded behind the pitting.

The supervisors of the Mitchell Soil Conservation District have outlined their 1954 program and in it they have put particular emphasis on the planting of Guar with ASC assistance.

Under the specifications adopted by the Mitchell ASC Committee, Guar may be planted either as a summer legume by itself, or in strip cropping.

Farmers are being invited to discuss Guar with the SCS technicians or the ASC office staff.

The livestock judging team of the Garden City High School Chapter of Future Rancher of America, finished second to the Maria FFA team in the recent contests at Sul Ross College at Alpine.

The contests were sponsored by the Range Animal Husbandry Department at Sul Ross.

Other area livestock teams participating in the contest were: Gall, with Borden Reeder, Jim Cary and Bill Stapps as team members; Colorado City, with Wayman Thurman, Jerry Wilks and Wayne Jones as team members; Coahoma, with Gary Elliott, Henry Elliott and Bob Garrett as team members; Courtney, with Gerald Smith, Leon Powell and Ken Gilmore as team members, and Stanton with Charles McKaskle, Glenn Greenlee and Ira Chandler as team members.

Among the alternates were Robert Lomas and Dayton Madison from Stanton; Jim Nelson from Garden City; Walter McFerrin and Royce Carter from Colorado City; Larry Young from Coahoma, and Charley Welch from Courtney. A Coahoma wool judging team at the contests was composed of Wayne Davis, Bobby Hicks and Royce Hull.

Grass judging teams included McDowell, Harrison and O'Bannon from Garden City; Northcutt, Kidd and Thompson from Colorado City; Dodd, Lewis and Hodnett from Coahoma.

Eugene Davee of Garden City was sixth and Gary Mitchell, also Garden City, was seventh, in the list of high scoring individuals in the livestock contest.

The Garden City team was third in the grass judging.

The Garden City record is particularly impressive in view of the many schools that participated with teams in the contest. These schools included Alpine, Ballinger, Big Lake, Blackwell, Gall, Bronte, Colorado City, Courtney, Coahoma, Lamesa, Del Rio, Eden, Eola, Fort Davis, Garden City, Imperial, Iraan, Leakey, Marfa, Marathon, Mullin, Odessa, Pecos, San Angelo, Sanderson, Stanton, Sweetwater, Van Horn, Winters and Whiteface.

Spencer Tracy Working At Fox; Studio Fired Him 20 Years Ago

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (U)—Spencer Tracy, doing his first loanout in 15 years, is happy to be back at the studio where he says he was once fired.

Tracy, long a member of the MGM star team, is doing "Broken Lance" for 20th Century-Fox. The price for his services is probably around $150,000. But that's not the reason for his satisfaction. A couple of decades ago, when the studio was just plain Fox, he was under contract there.

"They fired me," he said. "Those were the days when I was still drinking, and I got drunk now and then. But never on a picture—always between. Anyway, they worried about me."

"I was all set for a big, expensive picture. But they came to me and asked if I was going to behave. I told them, 'That's a heck of a way to get me to behave! If you're worried about me, why don't you let me go?'"

"That's all they needed. I wasn't a box office star or anything, and they were happy to see me go. I was out of the studio the same day."

"But one thing pleased me about the whole affair. At 8 o'clock that night, my agent took me over to MGM to have a talk with Louis B. Mayer. At 9 o'clock I was signed to a contract, and I've been there ever since."

The rest, of course, is Hollywood history. Within three years, Tracy had won two Oscars for "Captains Courageous" and "Boy's Town." His former bosses at Fox must have been burning.

"But they had the last word," Tracy admitted. "Somebody discovered that I still owed the studio a picture. So I went back and did 'Stanley and Livingstone in 1939.'"

Tracy, who ranks with beer as one of Milwaukee's most notable products, is still going strong, having turned 54 last week. His hair is white, but he still has his youthful bounce and lively sense of humor.

There had been reports that he would be leaving MGM, along with Clark Gable, Greer Garson and other long-time stars. Tracy is now one of the longest last stars on the lot. He said:

"Will I sign again? I don't know. At first I didn't think I would because I didn't think they wanted me. Nobody said anything about staying. I think that's why a lot of actors leave."

"But we have started having talks, and something may come of it. I still have three pictures to make for them. After that, who knows?"
