City eyes new budget, okays voluntary fee for park funding

By DANEE' WILSON Staff Writer

The 1991-92 budget was submitted for approval to the Hereford City Commission during their regular meeting Monday night.

Commissioners postponed approving the budget until after the public hearing. The hearing must be at least 60 days prior to the budget deadline which is in May.

Several principle expenditures were budgeted for the new year including:

- Fire Department- $125,000 for pumper.
- Health and Sanitation Department- $30,000 for chipper, $69,000 for compactor, $50,000 for scraper downer payment, $59,000 truck and packer body and $5,000 for containers.
- $10,000 park improvement
- $306,000 golf course expenses
- Five police cars, $12,750 for computer system, a video recorder, a cellular phone and five shotguns for the Police Department.

--$40,000 for dump trucks and $18,000 for good mowing tractor.

--$28,000 for matching funds for the airport runway.

--$15,000 for water and sewer maintenance, $12,000 for replacement vehicle for the parks and water department and $200,000 for water wells.

To help cover expenditures in the Water and Sewer Department, City Manager Darwin McGill expects a rise in the cost of sewer services. Hereford is presently at least one dollar less than other cities of comparable size. The fee could go from $5.50 to $6.50 for sewer services.

To help improve city parks, the commissioners agreed to initiate a voluntary fee on the city water bill. Starting in May, one extra dollar will be added to the total bill, if the customer does not wish to help improve the city parks, then the dollar can be subtracted from the payment at no penalty.

"I think this is an excellent idea, the concept is super," Commissioner Tom LaGate said. "I would hope that the people would complain if we didn't add the voluntary fee."

"It's time for a change," Commissioner Irene Cantu said. "This way we will see if the people are willing to help us change and improve the community."

Mayor Wes Fisher pointed out that improvements are currently going on in the parks. "We have new tables and grills in Veterans Park," Fisher said. "Those who don't think we're doing anything need to get out and take a look at what we're doing."

Concerned citizen, Davis Ford, suggested a plan for spending before the fee is initiated. The commissioners agreed that waiting to see how much participation the city will get from the community is better for budgeting purposes. It was pointed out that the money raised could be used for matching funds with the state for park improvements which would provide more benefits to the parks.

Commissioners approved a plat on the Newlife addition on 15th Street and west of Centre. Newlife is a retirement community which is expected to bring in approximately 30 jobs to Hereford.

The plat will soon be brought before the city for annexation into the city limits.

A request for $2,000 in funding from Kids' Inc. was postponed until the next meeting. Commissioners needed to see a set budget for the financially troubled project. Presently, the organization owes the city approximately $900 for water. It was agreed that the city needs to be assured the organization is stable before it donates the money.

As part of the agreement with the Amistad housing project on Texas Street, the city awarded the bid for pavement of that street. Amistad will pay $9,000 down payment with the balance to be paid over the next four years.

Appian Corporation was awarded the low bid of $27,405.95 for 60 days of work needed to complete the project.

Others bidding were High Plains Pavers for $29,694.25 for 120 days and J. Lee Milligan for $30,039.40 for 60 days of work.

"It is nice to see it go local for once," Commissioner Wayne Winget said.

Theda Seiver was appointed election judge and Lupe Cerda was named alternate election judge. David Ruland, county clerk, will be in charge of the absentee voting.

Commissioners gave the city staff authorization to prepare bid proposals for the annual seal coat for city streets.

It was reported to the commissioners that four resumes and three calls have been received for the city manager position which will be vacated in August by the retiring McGill. The position will not be filled until after the city elections in May.

Sign unveiled at rally

Two local VFW members hold a Desert Storm sign at the citywide Support Our Troops Rally held Sunday afternoon on the courthouse lawn. The sign lists the names of Deaf Smith County men and women serving in the Persian Gulf war. Each family member at the rally was presented a special certificate to commemorate the event.

puts country ahead of self; a patriotism which is not short, frenzied outbursts of emotion soon forgotten, but a patriotism forged in calm resolve and steady dedication to recognize and support those principles making this country worthy of our devotion."

Gulley also read the American Creed, written early in this century by William Tyler Page. The huge crowd then joined Judge Gulley in repeating this creed:

"I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic, a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union one and inseparable; established upon justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies."

Mayor Fisher also voiced a patriotic message, which included support for soldiers and families and expressed hope for a speedy end to the combat. Bruce Hernandez, Primera Iglesia Bautista, worded the opening prayer, and Rev. Sam Lopez, Templo Calvario Asambleas de Dios, had the closing prayer.

High school student Vanessa Gonzalez inspired the crowd with two vocals--"From a Distance" and "God Bless the USA," and the HHS Band provided special music. A color guard from Canon Air Force Base in Clovis presented the colors.

Sunday had been proclaimed "Red, White and Blue Day" in Hereford and most of the crowd was clad in the patriotic colors.

City rebate check reflects Yule sales

"Texas cities and counties will enjoy a tidy post-Christmas bonus, because this month's total local sales tax rebates are the largest in the state's history," State Comptroller John Sharp said this week.

Hereford's check, which reflects sales in December, is $77,685 and is 7.47 percent over the same time last year.

The comptroller's office mailed checks totaling $177.4 million to cities and counties that collect the local sales tax. Statewide, the checks increased 11.5 percent over last February.

"Christmas retail sales may not have been as bright as some folks had hoped, but the state's economy still looks good when compared to the nation as a whole," said Sharp.

He noted that some of the increase was due to a strong state economy, but part of the rise is because 65 cities in Texas increased their local sales tax last year. There are also more cities collecting sales tax now.

Amarillo, which increased its sales tax for economic development, showed a 100 percent increase over last year with $3.36 million in its rebate check. Lubbock reported $2.16 million.

Perryton, with a $78,867 check, was close to Hereford's total. Dumas reported a check of $84,525, Pampa $167,864, Plainview $267,005, and Dimmitt had $38,300.

Iraq claims serious offer to seek peace

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) - The allied minehunt in the Persian Gulf took on new urgency today with word that a mine blast a day earlier had disabled a billion-dollar warship, the biggest material U.S. loss of the war so far.

Meanwhile, Iraq's foreign minister, Tariq Aziz, met today in Tehran with Iranian President Hashemi Rafsanjani. Afterward, Aziz said Iraq was "serious" about seeking peace, Iran's official news agency reported.

Aziz was on his way back to Baghdad from Moscow, where Mikhail S. Gorbachev offered a new peace plan on Monday that is said to include a guarantee that Saddam Hussain can stay in power if he pulls his armies out of Kuwait now. The diplomatic efforts brought no pause in the allied air assault. Baghdad came under repeated bombardment during the night, the heaviest onslaught in several days, AP correspondent John Rice reported from the Iraqi capital.

Black clouds of smoke drifted over the city, and streaks of red-and-white anti-aircraft fire illuminated the night sky, he said.

An Iraqi military communique broadcast over Baghdad radio today said allied air raids hit 65 civilian targets and 179 military targets over the previous 24 hours. It said the "barbaric raids" had not demoralized the Iraqi public.

Baghdad's state-run newspapers carried no reports today on the Soviet peace plan.

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia - Preparations for an all-out ground assault intensify amid growing signs the allies are poised to strike. The White House invests little faith in a last-minute Soviet peace initiative.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. - Gov. William Donald Schaefer signed a bill that would keep abortion legal in Maryland even if the U.S. Supreme Court overturns Roe vs. Wade. Anti-abortion activists promised a petition drive to let voters decide the issue.

WASHINGTON - History's first patient to be treated by gene-replacement therapy appears to be improving from a severe immune disorder, a federal researcher reports.

envoy Yevgeny Primakov, who was present at the Aziz-Gorbachev meeting, called on the allies to hold off on any ground offensive until the plan has gotten a full airing. "If we start a ... land operation, without replying to the Gorbachev plan, and without knowing what the reaction has been of Iraq to this, then we would be assuming a great responsibility in history," he said from Moscow on ABC's "Nightline."

British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd, arriving in Luxembourg today for a European Community meeting on the Soviet plan, told reporters "I don't think there is any case" for a lull in the war while the proposal is considered. That echoed the position of the White House, which said Monday "the war goes on" while the Soviet plan is studied. In the war zone, allied forces worked on land, sea and air to strip Iraqi forces of the will and the means to fight, setting the stage for a swift and fierce assault. On the desert front in northern Saudi Arabia, U.S. troops repositioned themselves, seeking to keep the Iraqis guessing. Along the border, allied reconnaissance teams stole across 12-foot protective berms into the no-man's-land between opposing lines. In the air campaign, France said its Jaguar fighter-bombers hit Iraqi artillery positions today in Iraq and Kuwait. Knocking out Iraqi artillery now will be a key factor in keeping down allied casualties in any land assault. In the treacherous waters of the northern Persian Gulf, state-of-the-art allied mine sweepers intensified efforts to find and explode mines. The missile cruiser USS Princeton, one of two U.S. warships to sustain mine damage on Monday, was sent to a gulf port for damage assessment though U.S. military officials said it was already clear the ship was badly damaged. The other U.S. vessel damaged Monday was the USS Tripoli, a helicopter assault carrier serving as flagship for the newly mounted mine-clearing operation. It remained on station today after patching a hole in its own hull, the U.S. military officials said.

Shirley student honored

Sergio Saenz, fifth-grader at Shirley School, spoke to the Hereford Rotary Club Monday about being selected to address a state library conference. Rotary President Wesley Gulley welcomed Sergio to the club meeting.

Rotarians hear student, report from city manager

Hereford Rotary Club had two guest speakers Monday when members heard from Shirley fifth-grader Sergio Saenz and City Manager Darwin McGill. The city manager reported that the new city budget totals $5.46 million and represents the largest budget ever presented for the operation of municipal government services.

CofC issues caution on solicitations

Local residents were urged today by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to be very careful before agreeing to purchase any items from telephone solicitors or door-to-door salespeople in the city. "If you receive a call, don't be pressured into buying something that you might not be able to use," said Mike Carr, executive vice president of the chamber. Carr said a company is currently selling coupon books that offer discounts from local merchants. Some other towns have had unsatisfactory experiences with the sale of coupon books. Some merchants were not able to honor all of the coupons due to the loss of income generated. "If it sounds too good to be true, it most likely is," cautioned the chamber office. In these sales promotions, the money leaves Hereford and never comes back. "Please think before you buy," said Carr.

The good news, however, is that no tax increase is anticipated, reported McGill. While the tax rate has not been hiked in McGill's six years as city manager, he cautioned that increasing demands of state and federal governments and other rising costs would eventually necessitate a tax increase.

McGill, who will retire later this year, also reflected on his career in city management and mentioned some of the problems related to the job. "Since I am retiring, I have more freedom to comment on how people perceive the city manager's job," said McGill. He noted the newspaper had a feature article about him when he came to Hereford, telling about his background, experience, likes and dislikes... "but most people didn't care about that stuff--all they want is your name and telephone number so they can call and complain." Using a little satire and humor, McGill told of some of his experiences here, and elsewhere, with some of the more vocal citizens. "You might be surprised at how many experts we have on operation of all city services," he noted.

For instance, he noted that "a few people think the traffic light system here was scientifically engineered to cause as many problems as possible with the flow of the traffic." Others call and complain at the first sign of a mosquito, then just as many call to complain about the spray used to eliminate the pests. "A man can play golf a few times and become an expert on managing the course," he noted.

Lottery bill gets committee okay

AUSTIN (AP) - A proposed constitutional amendment to create a state lottery found the winning number in a House committee. But lottery opponents say the big game remains: a vote in the full House, where 100 of the 150 members must approve. After hearing testimony from Gov. Ann Richards, who said a lottery could bring the state $731 million in the 1992-93 budget years, the House State Affairs Committee voted 9-3 Monday to advance the measure. David Hudson, a lobbyist for the Baptist Christian Life Commission, said opponents weren't concerned by the vote. Lottery backers still lack the two-thirds House majority they need for approval of the constitutional amendment, he said.

Life!

5,000 years of beauty secrets are revealed

Beauty may indeed be only skin deep, but the quest for it dates back to the dawn of recorded history. And although the routines followed have varied over the centuries, certain similarities have been observed across a broad range of cultures.

Cleansing, moisturizing and sun protection historically have been regarded as the cornerstones of good skin care. But the methods used to achieve these objectives have ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous.

Like today's Americans, the ancient Egyptians had a healthy fear of the sun. To filter out its rays, they ground malachite into a paste and applied it to their eyelids. The rest of the body was protected by judicious applications of oil from the castor plant.

Along came the Greeks emphasizing purity in their beauty regimens, with moisturizing treatments derived from vegetable and fruit oils lanolin.

Next were the worldly Romans, for whom makeup was essential. Vermillion became the color of choice against chalk and lead-whitened skin.

The next thousand years were, indeed, the Dark Ages for skin care, with rustic "medications" brewed to treat skin problems. But the Renaissance eventually burst into bloom and, by the time Queen Elizabeth of England ascended to the throne, beauty was back. Rose water and lemon rind was a popular cleanser, and wine was a common ingredient.

With the Victorian era, discretion became the better part of beauty as, finally, lead and vermilion were recognized as dangerous. With natural-looking skin implying virtue, a curious rouge called "sympathetic blush" appeared, which turned from white to pink as it was exposed to the air.

The late Victorian era introduced the largest array of soups heretofore seen. Cleansing was the key to beautiful skin, and hot-water was voided because it was believed to promote wrinkles. But less sensible treatments did not entirely disappear: a slice of veal applied to the skin was thought to promote a smooth complexion.

The 1920s and 30s marked the beginning of the modern era in skin care. As the cosmetic industry began to organize itself, non-scientific entries were weeded out. The prevalent skin care regimen of the day included washing with cleansing cream, toning with witch hazel and applying a moisturizing cream around the eyes.

Over the last 50 years, skin care has undergone greater changes than in the previous 50 centuries. Today's best cleansers are glycerine-based, thoroughly cleaning the skin and then rinsing away without any drying alkali residue. Moisturizers are lighter and more easily absorbed, softening skin and diminishing fine wrinkles.

On the cutting edge are micro-encapsulate products which offer continuous moisture replenishment for an extended period. As moisture delivery systems are improved, look for products that moisturize for even longer periods of time, without sacrificing the lightness of application that women demand.

Hypo-allergenic products are also causing considerable excitement among the estimated 24 million women with sensitive skin. Look for a fragrance-and color-free moisturizer.

No longer is sensible skin care a high risk undertaking. As we approach the 21st century, beauty has finally become a truly beautiful experience.

Abundant Life

BY BOB WEAR
Not Problem-Free

There are times when we long for a problem-free living experience. We would like for everything to work out the way we want it to work out without disappointments, with no failures, with no setbacks, with no difficulties and with a problem-free situation. Of course, we know that this will never be so. As desirable as this seems, it is likely that we would soon grow weary of it and might even become bored. Of course, we could do without some of our problems but, because of our nature and our needs, we must have problems to solve.

Problem-solving is an essential aspect of the human experience. This is the challenge which is necessary to an on-going and productive manner of living. If accepted, in a common sense way, it helps to maintain the vitality, the alertness and the high level of interest so much a part of dynamic living. If not accepted, with common sense, we are overwhelmed and defeated by worry and anxiety. We must not permit this to happen.

"Men's happiness springs mainly from moderate troubles which afford the mind a healthful stimulus and is followed by a reaction which produces a cheerful flow of spirit." -E. Wigglesworth.

We may not be able to solve all problems and should not have any such expectations, however, we will find many solutions and find ways to cope with the insoluble problems. At all times, it is essential that we never maximize problems, neither should they be underrated. We must see them for what they are, just part of the human living experience.

Some of our problems will appear in the form of what we call "troubles" but these are to be expected as part of the living experience. Regardless of what these are we have a choice between letting them become stumbling blocks or stepping stones. Let us make them stepping stones.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Actress Tyne Daly was fined $927.50 and ordered to attend a 90-day alcohol education program after pleading no contest to a misdemeanor drunken driving charge.

Miss Daly, 43, who did not appear in court Thursday, also had her driver's license restricted for 90 days, letting her drive only to and from work and the alcohol education program.

The actress, who won an Emmy for her role as Policewoman Mary Beth Lacey in the TV series "Cagney and Lacey," also was placed on informal probation for three years.

She was stopped Jan. 14 after a California Highway Patrol officer saw her 1989 Toyota weaving just north of the Ventura Freeway.

Rep. Combest searches for senior citizen volunteers

U.S. Representative Larry Combest (R-Texas) is encouraging senior citizens to apply for a one-week government study program the week of May 12-18 in Washington, D.C.

In the past three years, seniors from the West Texas-Permian Basin area have traveled to the nation's capital to participate in discussions with members of Congress and administration officials. "During their visit, these senior ambassadors observe and comment on the process of government," said Combest. "It is important to have opportunities to share viewpoints in our representative democracy. Seniors often given their time and effort with valuable suggestions that have become the milestones guiding our maturing society."

In addition to discussing issues with Congressman Combest, seniors will participate in on-site study visits to Capitol Hill, the Supreme Court and the Library of Congress. Time will also allow for visits to many of Washington D.C.'s historical sites.

The congressman said that seniors interested in applying for an internship must be at least 60 years of age, in good health, active in local senior citizen projects and willing to share what they learn with others back home. Since the program is funded without taxpayer money, interns are responsible for their own roundtrip transportation to Washington, D.C. Interns also pay an $815 fee that covers hotel, meals, transportation to events and other miscellaneous costs. The program fee also includes a supplemental life, health and accident insurance policy designed for coverage during the trip. Interns may raise funds for the fee through sponsorship or donations in the community.

Applications must be received no later than Friday, March 8. For more information, or to apply, contact Congressman Combest through staff member Lisa Elledge in Washington, D.C. at 202-225-4005.

Children shun smoking

There's good news for parents and others concerned about the health of the next generation.

According to a recent attitudinal one-on-one study, children are knowledgeable about the health hazards of smoking, deeply opposed to the habit, particularly when it comes to their mothers and fathers, and see themselves as non-smoking adults.

Survey results cut across all age, ethnic, economic geographical lines. Children of all sorts tend to be openly critical of smoking and concerned that their parents will succumb from it and not be able to see them "graduate from college or enjoy grandchildhood."

However, according to the survey, the children viewed their parents in a compassionate light, blaming the stress of jobs and responsibilities of family life as the pressures that made them smoke.

Typically, the boys and girls who were interviewed, had asked their parents to quit and were very disappointed when they didn't stop.

The study was commissioned by Advantage Life Products, Inc. of Laguna Hills, Calif.

For the nation's 50 million smokers, the survey is heartening news of young people changing attitudes toward the hazards of tobacco.

The motto "In God We Trust" first appeared on U.S. coins in 1864.

Castillo gains national fame --in small way

Teresa Castillo had a pretty interesting week.

Not only did the Hereford senior win every event she entered at a track meet last weekend at Lubbock Christian University--winning the 1000-meter run, the 3200-meter run and helping to win the 1600-meter relay-- but she also got her name in Sports Illustrated, a national sports magazine.

Sports Illustrated has a regular feature that runs near the back of the magazine each week called "Faces in the Crowd." It includes thumbnail sized photos and very brief stories about athletes--usually amateurs--around the country who excel in what they do but normally wouldn't get much attention for it.

This week's honorees include a karate champ from California, a tennis coach in Indiana, a soccer player from Ohio, a bowler from Wisconsin and a high school basketball player from Florida.

But the one to read is on Melony Patterson of Crowley, Texas. It reads: "Melony, a sophomore at Crowley High, became the first Texas runner in the 4A division to win successive state girls' cross-country titles. Melony ran the two-mile course in 11:56 to beat Teresa Castillo of Hereford."

Castillo said she found out about it when her boyfriend showed it to her, then another friend told her about it and soon lots of people were telling her about it.

"I was surprised," Castillo said of the national mention. "It was neat."

And if she keeps running like she has been, Sports Illustrated may someday have to put her closer to the front.

Coach Martha Emerson took only 12 girls to the Lubbock meet, but nine of them finished in the top five of at least one event.

"This meet was fun for the girls--they had some success and it was a good tune-up for the outdoor season," Emerson said.

"We'd never run indoors before. It was kind of fun," she said.

The three girls that ran with Castillo in the 1600-meter relay were Minerva Salazar, Jayme Moore and Lisa Zepeda. Their time was 4 minutes and 18.7 seconds.

Castillo's winning time in the 3200 was 12:31, and her time in the 1000 was 3:28.9.

Emerson said she will take 20 to 24 girls to the Comanche Relays Feb. 22 and 23 in Ft. Stockton.

Other high finishers for the Lady Whitefaces were: Jeannie Barrientez, second behind Castillo in the 1000-meter run; Christie Burkhardt, second; shot put; Denise Davila, second, 500-meters; Laura Rangel, third, 500; Jayme Moore, fourth, 400; Lisa Zepeda, fifth, 800; and Brandie Webb, fifth in the 3200 and sixth in the 1600.

Hit that blur

Bri Reinauer prepares to hit a speeding tennis ball in tournament action in Abilene. The Hereford High School tennis team finished second there.

Netters 2nd in Abilene

Brenna Reinauer won the girls' singles bracket of the Abilene tennis tournament played Friday and Saturday, helping the Hereford High School tennis team to a second place finish.

The team collected 124 points, coach Luis Zavala said, second only to Abilene Cooper's junior varsity. (Cooper's varsity is a 5-A state power, Zavala said.) Ten teams competed.

Hereford had a pair of doubles teams finish second in their brackets: Randy Robbins and Torey Sellers for the boys and Gina Alley and Teresa Baker for the girls.

Other Whitefaces finished as follows:

Boys' Singles: Donny Perales, fourth; and Jamie Kapka, sixth.

Boys' Doubles: Eric Cortez and Greg Coplen, seventh.

Girls' Singles: Bri Reinauer, thirteenth.

Girls' Doubles: Trisha Munoz and Sherry Fuston, fifth.

Girls golf team 5th in Big Spring

The Hereford High School golf team played in a tournament in Big Spring Friday and Saturday. The girls finished fifth out of 12 teams, and the boys came in thirteenth out of 20.

Paula Britten, who also finished fifth individually, led the Lady Whitefaces by shooting 95 Friday and 87 Saturday for a two-day total of 182. Following was Dusty Saul with 103-100-203.

The girl's total was 433-409-842. They ended up only six strokes behind fourth-place El Paso Address. Amarillo High won with a 359-358-717.

The boys shot 352 Friday and 384 Saturday for a total of 736--just three strokes behind twelfth-place Snyder.

The reason the second-day score is higher than the first-day score, Coach Tracey Bixler said, is that the boys played the second day on a course that was on top of a hill, and the wind affected play. Most of the boys teams' scores were 20 to 40 strokes higher on Saturday.

The best players for the boys were Cory Newton at 85 Friday and 90 Saturday for a 175 total; Jayson Mines, 89-91-180; and Anthony Gale, 86-101-187.

Bixler said that the boys' team will play this weekend in Plainview. The girls' team will not compete again until the Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament, he said.

Bo knows big bucks

NEW YORK (AP) - Baseball's best two-sport player is now a $2 million man.

Bo Jackson avoided a hearing scheduled for today when he agreed Monday with Kansas City on a one-year contract worth $2,375,000.

Jackson, who just finished the fourth season of a five-year, $7.4 million contract with the Los Angeles Raiders, had lost in arbitration last year and was paid $1 million instead of the $1,900,001 he had wanted.

"He's improved every year, and we believe he will continue to get better," Kansas City general manager Herk Robinson said. "I think he's going to have a heck of a year."

The 28-year-old outfielder was limited to 111 games because of injuries last season and hit .272 with 28 home runs and 78 RBIs. He was hurt again in the NFL playoffs, injuring his right hip in the Raiders' 20-10 second-round victory over Cincinnati on Jan. 13.

Jackson was named to the Pro Bowl team but was unable to play in the Feb. 3 game because of the injury.

"The injury, in non-technical terms, is a soft-tissue injury," Robinson said. "It is not considered serious. There was no bone or ligament damage."

Jackson's settlement was 64 percent of the difference between the $2.7 million he sought and the $1.8 million Kansas City offered.

Meanwhile, the Royals avoided another arbitration hearing by signing outfielder Danny Tartabull to a one-year contract late Monday night. Tartabull, who made $1.65 million last year, was asking for $2.6 million in arbitration. The Royals were offering $1.75 million.

Because of injuries, Tartabull played in only 88 games last season. He hit 15 home runs and had 60 RBIs.

Three other players settled Monday and two had hearings, leaving 10 remaining in arbitration.

Milwaukee second baseman Jim Gantner had the first hearing in Brewers' history. He asked arbitrator Daniel Collins for $2 million, while the team offered $1 million.

Outfielder Cory Snyder went before first-time arbitrator Nicholas Zumas asking for $1.02 million. The Chicago White Sox offered $800,000.

In other settlements, Cleveland right-hander Eric King agreed to $1.45 million, a $995,000 raise; Chicago outfielder Dan Pasqua agreed to $800,000, a $425,000 raise, and Atlanta outfielder Oddibe McDowell agreed to $925,000, a $235,000 raise.

Also, the New York Mets said they would issue a statement within a day

Caprock to play Lamesa here

For anyone who didn't get his fill of high school basketball this season, you've got at least one more chance to see a game in Hereford.

Caprock High School's boys' team meets Lamesa in a state 4A bi-district game at 7:30 tonight in LaPlata Gymnasium in Hereford.

Caprock, the runner-up representative of District 1-AAAA is 19-12, while Lamesa went 28-3 in winning District 2-AAAA.

Another bi-district game involving the two districts will be played at 7:30 at the West Texas State Fieldhouse in Canyon. Pampa, 30-3 and the 1-AAAA champ, plays Levelland (12-18).

or two on the team's negotiations with Dwight Gooden and Frank Viola. Gooden has said that if he does not get a contract extension by Friday that approximates Roger Clemens' $21.5 million, four-year deal with Boston, he will become a free agent following the season.

"The Mets will make their position known and we'll go from there," said Gooden's agent, Jim Neader.

Hall of Fame catcher Bill Dickey and Ray Schalk share the record of making three assists in one inning.

In the greatest baseball bargain of all time, the New York Yankees purchased Babe Ruth for $100,000 in 1920 from the Boston Red Sox.

The Miami Dolphins completed only four of 17 passes in losing to Washington, 27-17, in the 1983 Super Bowl.

The last game for Vince Lombardi as Green Bay Packer coach was a 33-14 victory over Oakland in the 1968 Super Bowl.

Why WIX® Farm Filters?

Over 2,000 Farm And Heavy Duty Filters
As planting or harvesting time approaches, nothing is more frustrating than running from dealer to dealer looking for filters for your farm equipment.

That's why Wix is committed to providing exactly what you need, when you need it. When you see the Wix name, count on finding the best selection of filters.

We make every kind of farm and heavy duty filter you can imagine--oil, air, gas, fuel, breather, hydraulic, transmission, emission control and even specialty filters. And selection is only part of the Wix story.

Built To Extend The Life Of Your Engines

Wix engineers are dedicated to extending the performance of your engines. First, they look at the exact job a heavy duty farm filter will be expected to do. Secondly, they scrutinize the tough conditions farm filters face week after week. Then they develop top quality Wix filters you can depend on.

If you dissect a Wix filter, you'll see consistent innovation. Our oil filter, for example, contains a coiled steel support spring, designed to stand tough against sudden pressure surges. This quality feature ensures proper sealing against the base plate and prevents dirty oil from escaping filtration.

Our metal end caps are made of corrosion-resistant, tin-plated steel, not weak paper.

Adhesive plastisol seals the end caps to the filter media with a super strong bond.

Perforated tin-plated steel is also used to make a Wix filter's stronger, cleaner core. The heart of your filter is made up of evenly spaced, full-depth pleats of high efficiency Porosite™ filtering media. We use up to one third more paper in our heavy duty filters, and we seal seams with plastisol instead of clips or simple folds.

Separating our filter's parts makes it easy to see why Wix filters are the finest in the field.

Finally, when needed, our oil filter's anti-drain back valve prevents engine damaging "dry starts". Our safety bypass valve protects your engine against oil starvation.

Today's heavy duty engines are extremely demanding. So are our engineers. They continually strive to improve filter capacity and efficiency to protect the enormous investment you have in your equipment.

Make Routine Maintenance Worry-Free

When you choose Wix you'll never have to wonder if it's time for a change. Wix offers a complete Preventive Maintenance record system for each piece of equipment on your farm. At a glance, you'll see a filter change-out schedule, fuel and lube records, and other information to make routine maintenance worry-free.

The Wix Filter Survey puts a permanent record of your personal filter part numbers at your fingertips. You'll never have to remember what you need --it's all right there in your Wix binder.

Put Wix To Work In Your Field. Next time you shop for filters, pick Wix. You'll see why coverage, quality, and service make us outstanding in the farm filters field.

Nuggets set records --for other teams

By The Associated Press

It's been a season of firsts for the Denver Nuggets.

Monday night, they added another one - for the Minnesota Timberwolves.

"I haven't checked the stats, but I'll guarantee you that's the first time we've had four guys in double digits in rebounds in the history of this club," Minnesota coach Bill Musselman said after a 128-114 victory over the Nuggets.

The performance set a franchise record for points in the Timberwolves' first victory ever over the Nuggets. The Timberwolves had not beaten Denver in seven previous meetings, including two this season.

Earlier this year, the Nuggets made negative NBA history while giving up some spectacular point totals - including a regular-season record 173 to Phoenix on Nov. 10, 1990. The Nuggets were also involved in the record 320-point game that they lost to Golden State 162-158 on Nov. 2, 1990.

In other NBA games, it was Chicago 110, Cleveland 95; Utah 104, San Diego 81; Detroit 85, Seattle 83, and Dallas 107, Golden State 101.

Tony Campbell scored 25 points and Tyrone Corbin added 23 as the Timberwolves ended a five-game losing streak with their homecourt victory. The Nuggets lost their sixth straight.

Minnesota, which also got 20 points each from Sam Mitchell and Pooh Richardson, broke the club's previous single-game scoring mark of 126 points set in a victory over Seattle on Dec. 30.

Orlando Woolridge and Chris Jackson scored 30 points each for Denver.

Bulls 110, Cavaliers 95

Michael Jordan scored 13 of his 32 points during a 28-9 run as the Bulls turned the game around in the third quarter.

The Cavaliers led 50-46 at halftime and widened the margin to 56-48 on Brad Daugherty's 15-foot jumper with just over 10 minutes left in the third quarter.

Jordan, a mediocre 5-for-13 from the field in the first half, hit two free throws to start the Chicago comeback.

Jazz 104, Spurs 81

Karl Malone scored 26 points and John Stockton had 18 points and 18 assists. Thurl Bailey had 17 points for Utah, which had six players score in double figures.

David Robinson led the Spurs with 26 points.

The Jazz broke away late in the first quarter and built a 55-39 lead at the half.

Pistons 85, SuperSonics 83

Joe Dumars' layup with two seconds remaining lifted slumping Detroit over Seattle.

The Sonics had a chance to force overtime, but Derrick McKey missed an open 8-foot jumper at the buzzer.

Dennis Rodman led Detroit with 19 points and 15 rebounds.

Mavericks 107, Warriors 101

Derek Harper and Alex English each scored 24 points and took control in the final minutes.

Harper, who scored 13 of his points in the fourth period, hit two straight 3-point shots and then a long two-pointer to give the Mavericks a 99-95 lead with 2:13 remaining. English scored with 1:19 left and then with 41 seconds on the clock to put Dallas ahead 103-97. Harper hit two free throws with 23 seconds remaining to clinch the win.

Chris Mullin scored a game-high 33 points to lead Golden State.

Tarheels win 20th

By TOM FOREMAN Jr.
AP Sports Writer

If basketball was a course and not an extra-curricular activity at North Carolina, a passing grade would be 20 - as in 20 victories in a season.

In the 30 years of coach Dean Smith's tenure, Tar Heel seniors have made the grade 24 times, including 21 straight since 1971. The program also can brag about a record-tying 35 seasons of 20 or more victories after a 118-50 beating of The Citadel Monday night.

King Rice says making Dean's list was a top priority when he came to Chapel Hill four years ago.

"You sort of knew that when you were coming to North Carolina, that you had a great opportunity to win a lot of basketball games," Rice said. "Coach Smith always has his teams prepared, and that's what happened this year. This team was just well prepared, and we've just got to give coach Smith a lot of credit."

Rice, Pete Chilcutt and Rick Fox all have enjoyed four 20-win seasons. The streak was in peril last year when North Carolina got in under the wire with a 21-13 record. It was a little easier this year, and the critics are silent.

"Last year, everyone thought after we had 10 quick losses, we might not get 20," Fox said. "Not only is it a significant number around here, but it is a barrier. You realize that if you win 20 games in a college season, you're a pretty good team."

The Tar Heels had their fifth straight victory in hand after four minutes.

North Carolina scored the game's first 14 points while the Bulldogs were struggling with four turnovers, a blocked shot, one failed 3-pointer and a charging call. The Citadel's first basket came at the 15:09 mark on Scott Van Schaardenburg's 10-footer.

A run of 21-2 over a five-minute stretch extended North Carolina's lead to 51-17.

Reserves Hubert Davis and Clifford Rozier scored 15 points each to lead North Carolina.

Lamar Wright scored 14 and Terry Campbell 12 for The Citadel.

No. 1 UNLV 122, Long Beach St 75

Larry Johnson scored 34 points, 22 in the first half, as the Rebels added a 47-point thumping of the 49ers to the 51-pointer of last month. The Rebels were already home safe, leading 16-1, before Johnson scored his first point.

No. 7 Syracuse 88, Florida St. 79

Dave Johnson scored 26 points. The Seminoles led 21-14 when Syracuse went to the press and launched a 26-6 run. After Florida State cut it to 56-50, the press pushed the lead back to double digits. Douglas Edwards scored 31 points for Florida State.

No. 10 E. Tennessee 102, W. Carolina 78

Rodney English scored 25 points and Calvin Talford 24 for East Tennessee State. Western Carolina halved a 20-point deficit before the Buccaneers went on a late run.

No. 11 S. Mississippi 88, Texas-Pan American 77

Darrin Chancellor scored 24 points and was aided by a 12-point, 13-rebound performance by Clarence Weatherspoon.

No. 17 Nebraska 82, N. Illinois 73

The Cornhuskers got a record-tying boost from Rich King, whose 40 points sparked a hard-earned victory.

King hit 12 of 16 shots and 16 of 19 free throws in tying the record set by Jerry Fort against Missouri in 1975.

UH's Teheran learning game

HOUSTON (AP) - There was little indication from University of Houston center Alvaro Teheran's 22-point performance against No. 24 Texas that the player had never even handled a basketball until six years ago.

"I couldn't even dunk. I didn't know how to jump," Teheran said of his early days when he began playing for a club team in Cartagena, Colombia. "They gave me a little bitty ball to dunk, and I couldn't even get it over the rim."

Teheran's relative inexperience didn't show last weekend. The 7-1 center helped lead the Cougars to an 82-73 victory over Texas, snapping the Longhorns' 10-game winning streak.

The victory was only one day shy of being historic. Teheran said it was Feb. 18, 1985, when he first handled a basketball. He had just turned 19 when he arrived in Cartagena for his first basketball practice.

Several months later, Teheran, whose first games were soccer and baseball, was seen by Tommy Jones, then the head coach at Houston Baptist University. Jones had travelled to Cali, Colombia, to watch prospect George Christopher.

"I was waiting around the gym when Alvaro walked by," Jones said. "They told me who he was. They also told me, 'He's not very good.'"

In December 1986, Teheran enrolled at HBU but didn't play basketball. He began studying English and other courses.

"I began to understand English, but I couldn't talk," Teheran told the Houston Chronicle. "I was afraid to make a mistake."

But then one day it all clicked.

During his freshmen year at HBU, Teheran started 12 games, and averaged 11.4 points and 5.7 rebounds and blocked 43 shots in 27 games. By the end of his sophomore year, "Alvaro was really starting to come on," Jones said.

But HBU decided to drop basketball for financial reasons.

Teheran followed Jones to UH, where Pat Foster hired the HBU coach as an assistant.

Teheran started the first two games last year and later seven more on a front line with 6-8 Carl Herrera and 6-8 Craig Upchurch. Then the Cougars switched to a smaller lineup for the SWC schedule.

So far, about 60 agents have tried to contact Teheran concerning his future in the NBA.

But Teheran, 25, realizes he still needs to improve.

"The coaches always talk to me about playing aggressively, even when I think that I am playing aggressively," he said. "I must improve on my rebounding, defense, blocked shots."

"It's not my nature to be aggressive. I like to be strong, but I don't want to hurt anybody."

Seton Hall back in AP poll

By The Associated Press

With UNLV winning, there was no room at the top for Ohio State. But Seton Hall found some room at the bottom of the The Associated Press college basketball poll.

The Pirates, who have bounced in and out of the polls all season, made it back in Monday as No. 24 after key Big East victories over Georgetown and Pittsburgh.

Seton Hall squeezed in ahead of Georgetown, which plunged seven places from No. 18 to No. 25 after two straight conference losses. Along with Seton Hall, the Hoyas lost to Connecticut.

The Pirates replaced Texas, which split two games last week to slip out of the rankings.

Meanwhile, second-ranked Ohio State was unable to make any headway despite a dramatic, double-overtime victory over fourth-ranked Indiana.

That's because defending national champion UNLV remained unbeaten with two more victories last week, running the Rebels' record to 22-0 and keeping them the unanimous choice for No. 1 with a clean sweep of the 63 first-place votes.

The Buckeyes (22-1) remained No. 2 with 1,501 points, and the Hoosiers (22-3) are still No. 4 with 1,347. Squeezed between those two is Arkansas (25-2), which recovered from its loss to UNLV to beat Texas Tech by 18 points and Texas Christian by 33 last week.

Georgetown made the biggest drop while Big East colleague St. John's fell five places to No. 18. Oklahoma State made the biggest jump, moving five places to No. 16.

Syracuse (22-3), which went over 100 points in victories over Providence and Boston College last week, improved from No. 7 to No. 5. North Carolina (19-4) also moved up two places to No. 6 after beating Wake Forest and Maryland. But a loss to Wake Forest cost Duke (22-5) two places, down from No. 5 to No. 7.

Kansas (19-4) jumped three spots from No. 11 to No. 8 after beating Missouri and Kansas State, while Arizona (20-5) dropped from No. 6 to No. 9 after losing to unranked Georgia Tech.

Utah (24-2) climbed four places to No. 10 following wins last week against Wyoming and Brigham Young.

The Second Ten: Southern Mississippi, Kentucky, East Tennessee State, Nebraska, New Mexico State, Oklahoma State, UCLA, St. John's, LSJ and Virginia.

Raiders sign linemen

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - Texas Tech rounded out its 1991 football recruiting class with the signing of two junior college defensive linemen, Tech coach Spike Dykes said.

The Red Raiders Monday signed nose tackle Thomas Cale, 6-0, 255, of Taft Junior College (Calif.), and defensive tackle Harry Dyas, 6-5, 280, of Hutchinson Community College (Kansas).

"Both guys are strong and can run," Dykes said. "We had signed only one other defensive interior player so this rounds out our recruiting real well."

Cale, who played at Austin East High School in Knoxville, Tenn., was a member of Taft teams that finished 19-1-1 during his two years there.

Dyas, a product of Booker T. Washington High School in Shreveport, La., was second in tackles among defensive linemen in the Kansas Jayhawk Junior College Conference last season with 76.

Both men will enroll at Tech in the fall.

The Red Raiders signed 24 players, including 10 transfer or junior college players, in its 1991 recruiting class.

Optometry high earnings for assisting others

If you're looking for a career combining the satisfaction of helping others with high earnings, you may want to set your sights on a career in optometry.

Doctors of optometry provide primary eye care services for everyone from infants to the elderly. They diagnose eye disease and vision problems and provide appropriate treatment. The prescribe glasses, contact lenses, vision therapy and, in 25 states, drugs to treat eye disease.

You'll do well by doing good. Optometrists net average incomes of $66,000 a year. Some net six figure incomes. Optometrists just starting out earn, on the average, over $40,000 during their first full year of practice.

With shortages existing in many parts of the country and the number of applicants to American colleges of optometry declining, those who do enter the profession can choose their own locations, says the American Optometric Association. The need for eye care in our health-conscious society is high and, as the population ages, opportunities in optometry will continue to grow.

Most optometrists are self-employed and receive relatively few emergency calls, providing them flexible working hours. They can easily integrate personal lives with professional responsibilities.

Hay fever may effect children

Parents of school children who have hay fever won't be too surprised at the "nosing out" of this statistic: Hay Fever--also known as allergic rhinitis--accounts for two million lost school days each year.

Symptoms include sneezing; coughing; itching, watering eyes and running nose--all of which can add up to difficulty in concentrating in school. The result can be lower grades. Sometimes, the remedies for hay fever can be just as irritating as the symptoms. Most over-the-counter medications cause drowsiness. This means children who have taken an antihistamine to relieve the symptoms of hay fever may tend to be inattentive during class.

This is why many parents are asking their doctors about a prescription antihistamine that doesn't cause drowsiness while it relieves hay fever symptoms. The new medication gets high grades from parents and school children alike.

Study club meets for social

A Valentine social was attended by members of La Madre Mia Study Club and their spouses Friday evening, Feb. 15, in the meeting room of Hereford State Bank.

Those present were entertained with a get-acquainted questionnaire followed with games of crazy bridge.

Valentine decorations included spring flowers in red hot-air balloons, red foil tablecloths and basket centerpieces.

Serving the meal, catered by K-Bob's Steak House, were members of the hostesses committee: Francyne Bromlow, Bettye Owen, Mary Herring and Nicky Walser.

Present were Bobby and Bettye Owen, Terry and Francyne Bromlow, Craig and Mysedia Smith, Don and Betty Taylor, G.C. and Gladys Merritt, Bub and Georgia Sparks, Speedy and Lavon Nieman, Dean and Mary Herring, Butch and Debbie Bentley, Wayne and Tricia Sims, Wayne and Betty Lady, Ken and Lucy Rogers and Doug and Barbara Manning.

The six-member 1990 International Trans-Antarctica Expedition, the first team to cross Antarctica by dogsled, covered 3,741 miles of brutal terrain in 220 days, an average of 17 miles a day.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When I was 19, I had reconstructive surgery on my jaw. My doctor informed me, after taking routine tests for admission to the hospital, that I had tested positive for syphilis. I insisted that it had to be a mistake because I was a virgin.

I am now 34 and pregnant with my second child. I have been trying to explain the results of that test to my doctors for the last 15 years. My 2-year-old daughter also tests positive. I am concerned about the effect this will have when she turns school age.

One doctor said it was just an antibody in the blood and not to worry about it. Another told me that people who have the disease lupus will test positive for syphilis. I don't have lupus.

I remember reading a letter in your column a few years ago about someone who had the swine flu vaccine and shortly after tested positive for syphilis.

Will you please clear this up, Ann? I'm sure it is a subject that your readers will be interested in. -- Still Chasing the Truth in Long Island

DEAR CHASING: I spoke with Dr. Edward Benz of Yale University Medical School, who specializes in blood problems. This is what he said: "There are a number of conditions that will produce a false positive when testing for syphilis. Lupus, of course, is one, as well as some forms of arthritis, some flu vaccines (swine flu, for one), and a variety of unusual infections."

Middle East topic of program

Bippus Extension Homemakers Club members met recently in the home of Mrs. J.V. Perrin who served a luncheon consisting of beans and cornbread.

Seven members participated in a game, bear hunting, for an opening exercise.

President Kate Bradley led members in the T.E.H.A. prayer and pledges to the United States and Texas flags. Roll call was answered with a custom of the Middle East.

Beverly Harder, Deaf Smith County home extension agent, presented a program on the Middle East. She noted that sand storms were called sand winds and that Kuwait was the size of New Jersey.

She described the homes as having first generation living on the first floor, second generation on the second floor, and third generation on the third floor. Most of the cooking is prepared over an open fire on the ground floor. Sometimes food is carried back to different parts of the house to eat.

Members were reminded of the Appreciation Luncheon scheduled for Monday, Feb. 25.

Members of the County Extension Homemakers Council served 64 plates at the recent Campfire banquet.

The March meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Jerry Homefield. The program will be on Texas wild flowers and a new crop in Texas.

A physician who is reasonably well-informed would be aware of this.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please settle an argument that has been going on in our house for too many years? These are the facts:

On several occasions during the year my parents send our children greeting cards containing money. My husband's parents, who aren't very well-off financially, send the children cards but there is never any money in the envelope. We have had a continuing battle over this because my husband wants to take the money out of my parents' envelopes before the kids see it and put it in the bank for them. He feels that they will tend to favor the grandparents who send money, and he doesn't want this.

Who is right? -- Ohio Family Fight

DEAR OHIO: Your husband should keep his pea-pickin' hands off the kids' money. Also, the children should be writing thank-you notes for the money and if Daddy filches it they will not be able to do this.

What a perfect opportunity to teach your children that both sets of grandparents love them equally and that the card with money should not be given favored status.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you stand one more story about people who wear underwear of the opposite sex? I am an 88-year-old female with a minor bladder problem. Women's underwear is too flimsy for my needs. One day, I came across a box of my late husband's jockey shorts and tried them on. They suited me perfectly. Now I buy my underwear in the men's department.

My neighbors probably think I have a live-in boyfriend when they see my clothesline but, at my age, who cares? -- Oakland Reader

Lonesome? Take charge of your life and turn it around. Write for Ann Landers' new booklet, "How to Make Friends and Stop Being Lonely." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.15 (this includes postage and handling) to: Friends, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $5.05.)

Sings at rally

Vanessa Gonzalez was a featured vocalist at the citywide Support Our Troops Rally held Sunday afternoon on the courthouse lawn. The Hereford High student sang two inspirational songs as part of the program, which was highlighted by unveiling a sign with the names of Deaf Smith County soldiers in the war.

It takes more than blind luck to pin down the right home.

Sure, you could go on stumbling through the housing market. Running into dead ends and getting cornered with too little information.

Or you could nail down that new home the easy way. By consulting an experienced real estate agent.

An agent can point out options you may have missed. Get you inside interesting homes that you may never have seen otherwise. Even do a lot of the groundwork, so you don't have to.

Like researching financing packages. Checking through the multiple-listing service for homes that fit your needs -- and your pocketbook. Negotiating with the seller. And arranging for inspections. He or she will even be there at closing.

So instead of forging ahead without knowing what's out there, get some help from an expert. A real estate agent.

Inside The Hereford Brand, you'll find both qualified agents and valuable information about home buying. Everyday, the real estate classifieds list many properties and agents. And The Brand's Sunday housing section examine the latest market trends and housing opportunities.

With the right guide, hitting your mark can be child's play.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Actor John Goodman, who shows up in such movies as "Sea of Love," "Always" and "Arachnophobia" when not playing Dan in the television show "Roseanne," doesn't want to be called a leading man.

Goodman has been elevated to that status for the first time with Friday's release of the comedy film "King Ralph."

"This is just another part, with a lot more lines," Goodman said in an interview published Tuesday.

In "King Ralph," Goodman plays a Las Vegas lounge singer who, through obscure tracing of his lineage, winds up on the throne of England after the royal family is killed.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: Occasionally in your columns you have mentioned that one cause for halitosis is a gastric problem. Would you be kind enough to devote some space to exactly what this gastric problem (or problems) is? What do you recommend for treatment? Do you have any publications that deal with this problem? Most doctors do not seem to know how to treat halitosis. They tend to minimize its importance to the patient.

DEAR READER: Despite a conscientious effort on their part, most doctors are not very successful in treating bad breath. There is too little information available. It has been neglected. I doubt many research grants will be made to study bad breath. You can't even find the word halitosis in the index of many internal medical texts or ear, nose and throat texts. The subject is usually not taught in medical school. So many doctors are flying blind. Some of the most common problems that cause so much unhappiness have never been adequately researched: excess sweating, body odor, bad breath and gaseous distention. Apparently it is not generally appreciated that almost any chemical imbalance in the body that produces a volatile, bad smelling substance can produce bad breath. All that has to happen is that the chemical gets into the bloodstream. That is pretty easy as veins drain every part of the body, including the liver and intestines. The volatile substance is then carried to the lungs, just as carbon dioxide and hydrogen are. Here it escapes into the air sacs and is exhaled with other gases. The lungs become like an open perfume bottle — only the odor is not so desirable.

This is exactly what happens when you drink alcohol. The only reason an alcohol breath analysis can tell if a person has had too much alcohol or not is that it is directly related to the blood alcohol level. As alcohol is absorbed into the circulation and carried to the lungs, it is exhaled to cause the alcoholic breath that most of us are familiar with. Excess hydrogen from incomplete digestion of lactose in milk can also be measured from the breath.

Once a person realizes that concept, it is obvious that anything that gets into the circulation that has an odor can cause bad breath. That means, in many cases, an extensive search for the internal cause must be done, if there is any chance of finding the cause. The gases that cause a fecal odor to your bowel movements can be absorbed and exhaled. I suspect that is a more common cause for bad breath than is realized. Any abnormality in the digestive system that produces odoriferous gases can be the cause.

Metabolic disturbances may cause bad breath. When people are on very low or no carbohydrate diets, their bodies manufacture ketones which have an acetone odor. Their breath smells like they had been drinking. It is the same odor that occurs when a diabetic is going into diabetic coma and his body is producing excess amounts of ketone. Some women have chemical changes during ovulation and menstruation that results in a breath odor. Kidney failure that causes uremia causes a uremic breath.

I have explained this and other causes and management of bad breath in my new Special Report 109, The Breath Problem.

Here's An Idea That Can Strengthen Your Family

Tonight
at the dinner table, read something out loud to your family.

Tomorrow night,
let another member
read something.
A news story.
A Bible verse.

A Robert Frost poem.
A cereal box panel.
History. Humor.
Anything.

Each night a different family member can read a selection.

Imagine the wide range of subjects your family will read in 365 days.

What a stimulating way to have your children develop good reading habits.

We have 23 million
illiterate adults in America.

We wouldn't have one,
if each of them had been served reading as part of their nightly diet.

It's non-fattening,
but enriching.
And it doesn't cost a dime.

Help us send a little bit of Hereford to the Persian Gulf.

A special issue of the Hereford Brand on Sunday, Feb. 24, will be dedicated to local soldiers serving in the Persian Gulf and elsewhere in the Armed Forces.

The special issue will be mailed by the Brand to service personnel from Hereford and promises to be a special keepsake edition for everyone.

This special issue will also be designed so that advertisers may show their support for the service personnel stationed in the Gulf and elsewhere. A special civic rate will be offered to allow as many businesses and individual persons as possible to show their spirit.

The deadline for these special Persian Gulf messages will be Thursday, February 21 at 5 pm.
