

AROUND A Town

Sights and Faces Seen

John Albracht must be just a natural-born "finder." A few months ago, while driving to work he found a mattress in the road. And last week he found a hundred pound sack of chicken feed. Probably, if it were something small like a ten dollar bill, Mr. Albracht would blithely pass it by.

Since the condition is probably over by now and normal scarcities are again in force, we can say that on Tuesday afternoon in Hereford, you could buy sheets—and four different flavors of ice cream.

And concerning wartime conditions generally, John Olson suggests that we ought to keep the backs of ration books and some sample copies of various involved government forms and make a scrapbook to show the grandkids to illustrate our lectures on the good old bureaucratic days. But the horrid thought pops up that the grandchildren could probably tell us, "That was only the beginning."

A field day for Popeye—or a chance for Hereford to develop a few supermen—is promised by Mrs. Harry Seed's statement that she has several bushels of spinach going to waste in her garden and will be glad to share it with anyone who wants it.

Mrs. Alex Petersen, clerk at the local draft office, was really happy yesterday. Her son, Robert Petersen, who is stationed at Charleston, S. C., with the Coast Guard, arrived home Tuesday night for a furlough.

Canning Center Gets Off to a Good Start

The community canning center located at 110 West Third Street is off to a good start. H. T. Cardwell, high school vocational agriculture teacher and sponsor of the project, announced today, stating that the center will continue to operate from nine until five o'clock each day, Tuesday through Friday, as long as the need exists.

The county this week added two canners to the equipment at the center. The canners have previously been rented to individual users and have been kept at the county welfare office when not in use, but county officials believe that the new system will make the equipment available to more people.

Mr. Cardwell states that persons who have surplus vegeta-

Good Interest In Services At Local Church

Evangelist Mark B. Paddock, now conducting services at the Hereford Assembly of God Church, is meeting with a good response from local audiences who are enjoying his "unique and interesting" ministry, it was stated today by Rev. Homer T. Goodwin, pastor, who invited local people to attend the services which are being held at 8:30 o'clock each night, except Saturday.

Evangelist Paddock's subjects for the remainder of the week promise much interesting material, Rev. Goodwin states, giving the following list of sermon titles:

Friday night, "America's Canning King;" Sunday morning, "When God Knocks at Your Door;" Sunday afternoon, three o'clock, "The Lifted Burdens;" Sunday night, "The Three Bible Words that will Defeat Hitler." Rev. Goodwin also announces that the Bible School which has been held at the Assembly of God Church for the past two weeks will close Friday and a closing program by the children will be given at the church Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock preceding the regular evening service.

bles which they want canned on shares may get them canned at the community center by notifying him at least a day ahead. His address is 611 East Tenth.

Experienced canners will be at the center to help persons who need information on canning methods, the sponsor states.

Gasoline Coupons Must Be Endorsed on Face

Gasoline coupons must be endorsed with the car or truck license number and name of the state.

This ruling has theoretically been in effect ever since the beginning of rationing, but reports from Dallas and other down-state cities indicate that the ruling is now being enforced.

According to statements in the large dailies, both A, B, C and T coupons must be endorsed, and the new type coupons must be endorsed on the face, instead of on the back.

Coupons which are not endorsed may be considered "contraband" and may be confiscated by an OPA inspector.

July 31 Deadline On Scholastic Transfers

County Judge Fred W. Baird this week reminded parents that Saturday, July 31, is the last date on which school transfers may be made.

These transfers must be made for every child who will attend school outside of his home district this fall, and usually a large number of transfers are made, especially rural school children who will attend high school in a neighboring county. The transfers are necessary to keep school records correct and to insure that state allowances go to the right school district, Mr. Baird said.

"I have the transfer blanks," Mr. Baird states, "and it will take only a few minutes of your time to get this business transacted."

Plans for Tea Honoring Wives of Soldiers To Be Complete This Week

Hereford church women started this week that plans are complete for the tea to be given next Tuesday afternoon, July 27, from 7 until 9 o'clock, honoring soldiers' wives.

The tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Sam Patton, at 511 W. Third Street, and is a courtesy extended by the Hereford women to welcome soldier's wives to the civic and religious life of the town.

Though every effort has been made to get a complete list of names of the wives of soldiers, the committee in charge of arrangements states that changes in personnel at the camp have made it nearly impossible to get an entirely correct list. They therefore want the wives of soldiers to know that they have a cordial invitation to the tea, even though they may not have received a written invitation.

Ladies desiring transportation should call the USO, number 79, and arrangements will be made.

Man Found Dead In Truck On Harrison Hiway

Ernest Carl Shirley, 64 year old Anton farmer who had been hauling wheat from the William Ponder farm at Westway was found dead early Saturday morning at the wheel of his truck which had come to a stop in a ditch on Harrison Highway in front of the J. A. Roe farm.

The Roes, at about seven o'clock heard the roar of a truck motor in front of their house but paid no attention and the motor soon stopped. They saw the stalled truck, as they started to milk and went to investigate when the truck was still there and the driver still hunched over the wheel when they came back from milking. Shirley had evidently been dead for some time. A passing neighbor went to town to notify Sheriff J. O. Newell, who brought an ambulance out immediately.

Shirley, who had complained of feeling ill and who had started to town to see a doctor, was pronounced dead of natural causes and his relatives in Anton and Littlefield were notified.

Survivors are his wife of Anton, a daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Rucker, also of Anton, and two sons, Evert and William (Buddy) Shirley of Littlefield.

AAA Employees Muzzled on Farm Policy

The Agricultural Adjustment Agency has forbidden its 200,000 field employees and state, county and local farmer committees to distribute information about AAA farm programs to the press, radio and other means of mass information, a Washington news story revealed yesterday.

The field employees and committees also were told that they must not carry on any promotional activity for the AAA as an institution of crop control policy or to build public pressure for or against congressional action on farm measures. All future information on AAA is supposed to come from the state extension services.

The action is being taken mainly as the result of propaganda activities by AAA employees in the middle west who last winter brought strong pressure in favor of the incentive payment program of increasing farm production. The muzzling order does not represent a slap against AAA activities in this part of the country, according to the Washington news story.

All AAA informational and educational work in this county has been carried out through the columns of The Brand, and both AAA employees and The Brand have tried to keep this educational program limited to information needed by farmers who cooperate with the AAA program.

No Polio Cases Reported In This County

Stating that there is as yet no case of poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) in Deaf Smith County, Dr. R. R. Willis said yesterday that about the only precaution recommended against the disease is to stay away from crowds and public gatherings.

Cases of polio have reached epidemic proportions in Texas within the past two weeks and health authorities are carrying on a full scale war against insular conditions in most large cities of the state. In Dallas, 18 cases for the month were reported for the city while 43 cases were reported for the county as a whole.

Polio cases at Fort Worth totaled 69 and at Longview six cases were reported.

Cause of the disease is a mystery to the medical profession, but the health officials in large cities, where the disease is rampant, are emphasizing sanitation and enforcing rules for sterilization of utensils in public eating places. Fly control measures also are being stressed.

In connection with the epidemic in the Panhandle, Rev. James Aiken, Jr., of the Presbyterian Church announced today that the annual Presbyterian summer youth conference has been cancelled this year in accordance with the advice of medical authorities all over the territory.

Dehydration Plant To Be Incorporated

Citizens meeting Monday night to make further plans for construction of a dehydration plant in Hereford pledged a total of $5,600 to buy shares in the proposed venture, a spokesman for the group announced this week.

Approximately 40 persons attended the meeting and a committee was appointed to handle sale of the stock, but no report was available yesterday on the success of the drive.

According to plans, the incorporation will be for $50,000 and $30,000 in stock will be issued and sold in shares valued at $100 each. Rules laid down at the meeting state that no person will be permitted to own more than $5,000 in stock.

Project for Furnishing Day Room at Internment Camp Will Start Soon

Though actual work on furnishing and equipping the day room at the Hereford Internment Camp cannot start until all the necessary requests and forms are approved by the field director of the Red Cross camp and hospital service, the local chapter is still requesting support from both individuals and club and church groups, Mrs. Dorothy Ross, co-chairman (with Mrs. P. H. Gilliland) of the local unit, said this week, urging all persons who have furniture or other donations which might be useful in the day room to bring them to the courthouse on Saturday afternoons.

A storage room is being provided in the second room across the hall from Mrs. Ross' office at the Hereford Credit Association, and the room will be kept open each Saturday afternoon. The committee urges that donations be turned in so that they will have a definite idea of available equipment when the construction of the day room is completed.

Visit Camp
A delegation from the Dimmitt Red Cross Chapter accompanied a group of Hereford women to the camp last Friday afternoon and they visited the day room to get an idea of measurements and probable furnishing requirements. Lieutenant Henderson, camp recreational director, conducted the ladies on their tour and Colonel Arthur M. Risdon entertained the group at the officer's club where he gave them a brief talk on the history of the camp, its needs and some plans for the future.

Work is now going forward with the painting of the day room and completion of other decorating.
The committee expresses appreciation for the interest shown by officers at the camp and for the helpfulness and cooperation of all officers contacted. They also are happy at the interest evinced in the project by the Dimmitt Red Cross chapter.

Dr. M. E. Sadler

TCU President Speaks at Local Church Sunday

Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University, will preach Sunday morning at the First Christian Church of Hereford at the 11 o'clock worship hour.

Dr. Sadler, a nationally known leader in his denomination, holds the Ph. D. degree from Yale and has done special research in social sciences at the University of Chicago. He was minister of the Central Christian Church at Austin for five years before accepting the TCU presidency in 1941. In addition to his religious and educational work he has been active in many fields of civic endeavor and is a leader in Fort Worth affairs.

His work in educational research in Japan under a grant from the Rockefeller foundation has given him an unusual insight into many problems connected with the war and the post-war settlement, and leaders of the Hereford Christian church feel that they have an unusual opportunity in being able to present so well-qualified a speaker.

Members of the church are urged to attend the services and any other citizens who are interested are cordially invited to hear Dr. Sadler.

Large Group Attends Dehydration Program

A large number of persons attended the food conservation demonstrations at the courthouse last weekend when Mrs. Bernice W. Cannedy of the Farm Security Administration, and Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, county home demonstration agent, showed the latest methods of food dehydration.

Mrs. Cannedy, using a home-constructed electric dryer, demonstrated the dehydration of a wide variety of foods—beets, string beans, onions and squash were shown in the drying trays. Mrs. Cannedy told of her experience in using the dried food in her own kitchen. Principle advantages of the dehydration method are its safety and ease of operation, together with the economy of storage space for the finished product. Since there is a great shortage of pressure cookers this year, the dehydration method is proving popular with housewives, who have been warned of the danger of oven and water bath methods of canning non-acid foods.

Miss Oliver demonstrated the use of a drying tray which can be set in the sun and uses the sun's heat to dehydrate fruits and vegetables. On two warm days last week the temperature in the drying tray remained at about 120 degrees.

The group appointed to the stock sale committee includes W. W. Hill, J. A. Pitman, C. T. Guseman, J. G. Evans, J. T. Gilbreath, W. N. Hodges, C. A. Wimberley, James W. Witherspoon, W. F. Gillis and R. J. Richardson.

Routine court matters, for the most part, will make up the business of the district court for the 69th judicial district which will meet here on Monday, Aug. 2, when the grand jury convenes.

The docket reveals eight divorce cases, two suits on notes, one suit for custody of child, one damage suit, one suit on contract and an adoption matter to come before the court. Only a few cases have been held over from the last court session and the criminal docket will be light, it was stated last week by District Clerk Robert L. Thompson.

Petit Jury List
The following are lists of petit jurors as contained in records at the clerk's office:

SECOND WEEK (to meet at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Aug. 9)—Bill Clutter, R. E. Brumley, H. E. Wester, C. E. Gatlin, Mack Balmum, Geo. T. Cantrell, C. R. Hollabaugh, C. E. Cross, C. N. Cosby, J. C. GSO Organized And Activities Started

The Girls Service Organization—a group of girls who will be available to help with all types of USO entertainments—was formed last week when the girls met with sponsors at the Presbyterian church and heard a discussion of purposes and rules of the organization.

Mrs. Ray Conaway, head of the sponsors committee, and Mrs. John H. Olson, hostess-secretary, gave explanatory talks and the girls divided into groups which served at the dance and party given Saturday night.

Among the points explained was the fact that GSO membership will be limited to girls 18 years of age or older, except in the case of high school graduates under 18.

Included in the list of sponsors and assistants which were named last week by a permanent USO committee were Mrs. Ray Conaway, Mrs. T. E. Seigler, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Davis, Mrs. Frank Gyles, Mrs. N. E. Milburn, Mrs. C. C. Acker, Mrs. Dow Mercer, Mrs. Dick Dixon, Mrs. Reed Williams and Mrs. Gordon Taylor. Other members will be named.

About a hundred years ago a fellow in a little East Texas town invented the expression, "A day late and a dollar short." Since then the words have become famous from coast to coast. However, the interesting thing about all of this is the fact that the fellow was referring to one of Hereford's foremost citizens: Homer K.

Fox. All of this happened back in East Texas when Homer was about 12 years old. Long since then the buggy has been replaced by the automobile, electricity has succeeded the tallow candle as a means of illumination and people are now burning gas instead of cow chips—but Homer Fox is still the same, as you can glean from the following article, which he scribbled out in a moment of desperation and despair.

There Ain't No Justice
By Homer K. Fox

Yep, I done it again; last half of the ninth inning with the bases loaded the score was 3 to 2 in their favor; the count was three balls and two strikes on me, and I stood there with the bat on my shoulder and watched the next one right through the gut for a called third strike. Boy, was my face red and it is still red?

Old Tack offered 50 dollars for any one who could show him a covey of Hungarian Partridges. First one fellow and another would report, they saw a bunch, but by the time Jim Maggard would get here, the birds could not be found at all—and in the meantime Tack raised the ante to $100.00.

Maggard spent the day here Tuesday and we hunted and drove all over the county, but no soap. It rained Tuesday night and I figured it was too muddy to do any country driving, so I made arrangements to go to Amarillo Wednesday. Close to noon Fred Pittner and Wallace Cox drove down the Progressive road and flushed a covey, Cox left Pittner out there, came to town and phoned Tack. He also sent Joe Bishop and Sheriff Newell out to herd the birds in a small oat patch until some one came down from Amarillo to see them. Of course the birds couldn't get away with three of the best sheep herders in the Panhandle herding them. Anyway Tack came down himself, came by my store and I was at home. I followed them out a few minutes after noon and they had already found the birds and flushed them, and were all on their way back to town.

Boy, am I burned up. Didn't even get to see the birds; don't know how a fellow could ever be out of place as many times as I am. I don't care a nickel about the reward; in fact I don't care much about missing the birds, cause I will see them anyway—but every one of those flat footed, flat headed, dabburned meatheads got their name in the paper. That is what I have wanted all of my life; just to get my name in the paper. I worked two weeks just for that one thing and as above stated, I struck out with the bases loaded.

Even little babies these days get their names in the paper once, I even missed that because it was too long ago. You was just born in those days and no one knew you were here except your own folks—until you were large enough to wear brass toed boots that were always too big and by the time your feet were large enough to fill up the boot, they were worn out. I have thought of robbing a bank to get my name in the paper, but probably wouldn't get anything except War Bonds anyway—and it should be against the law for a fellow Not to have all of those he can tote already.

Anyway the Hungarian Partridges are here; we are sure there are from 6 to 10 coveys out there; the Pheasants are doing good all over the county and we have more Bob Whites and Blue Quail than we have ever had. We probably will get more Hungarian Partridges, and we are planning to stock more Pheasants and quail, in fact the most of the reward that Tack gave for the finding of the "Huns" will go back into more birds. Give 'em a chance folks. If you have birds around your place, keep cover for them. And if you don't have birds, make some cover and you will have plenty of them. Some day our kids will be back home and we can have something for them to shoot besides, Saur Kraut, Macaroni and garlic, fish heads and rice.

Here's the lowdown on why Homer Fox talks so much. He had some false teeth made a couple of years ago and in fixing them the dentist got mixed up and delivered Homer some women's plates instead of men's plates.

Here's a legitimate complaint from County Judge Fred Baird. Fred recently spent several weeks in Mineral Wells and during that time he took the trouble to send us a letter. Because he puts the matter so unusually well here are a few paragraphs from his letter:

"For me to say simply that I like Hereford and Hereford people would, in a manner of speaking, be somewhat of an understatement. I like the quiet dignity with which things, big and little, are accomplished in Hereford. There is a refinement of thought and action that is good to live with. But there is something that is in evidence in other places where I have lived and something I believe well worth while. To illustrate:

"I was at a movie show here the other day and like so many movie shows now a day, there were troops marching with, of course, a display of The Flag. And every time the Flag was paraded across the screen it brought forth an applause from the entire audience. Not a boisterous display by any means; no whistling or stamping of feet, merely an enthusiastic clapping of hands, and each hand clap seemed to say "That's My Flag, Our Flag." And each repeated hand clap seemed to answer across that dimly lighted theatre, "Yes, I know neighbor, that's my Flag too, OUR FLAG." It seemed to knit that audience into a unit of strength and courage and happiness. They were no longer just a hundred or so individuals, sitting there in the semi-darkness of that theatre watching a movie show, but a group brought close together in neighborliness and friendliness. I joined in and liked it.

"Then too a few years back, I remember being in a movie show in New Orleans, wherein was being exhibited the bouncing ball sing-song type of entertainment. It was a large theatre with perhaps three or four thousand people present and the entire audience picked up the words and melody of the various selections offered. Some were exceptionally good singers others were very bad but the whole thing was grand entertainment. I've often wished, when such pictures are being shown in Hereford, that some high school girl or boy possessed of a slight knack of showmanship, would step to the aisle and lead the group in the path of the bouncing ball. I believe Hereford would be both benefitted and entertained. I'm wondering if you couldn't sort of promote the idea through your Hereford Bull column."

I have had requests along this line many times before. Without question, Fred is right. It isn't that the folks out here are not just as patriotic as any other—it is just a matter of habit. Next time we get a chance let's show Fred some noise.

From away up in Washington, D. C., Miss Virginia Anderson sends word that unless the Bull Column is resumed she will quit filching Gene Worley's copy of The Brand each week. Sorry, Virginia, we will try to do better in the future. The government says we have to cut down on our circulation, anyway—and since I quit writing the Bull Column so often our circulation is getting out of bounds by a jump of almost 200 newspapers. I am contemplating the syndication of the column in cooperation with OPA, thus cutting down on circulation of newspapers all over the country. A couple of more hitches and I thing The Brand circulation will drop back to normal again.

Post-War Project No. 1 or 2 —The Motor Trip of Your Dreams

You know some challenging hills to be mastered with skill. You know some glorious vistas that will refresh your war-weary mind. You're probably impatient even now for your typically American Post-War Project No. 1—or No. 2 at the latest...a trip by car!

But don't hope for a brand new car. Even in ordinary times, the new models are a year or so in development. After Peace, the auto industry will hustle, but you'll be months ahead of it by keeping your present car fit.

Don't let today's limited mileage wear it out needlessly!

You're driving so seldom, so slowly, and heating the engine so briefly, that your little-used wartime car is endangered by engine acids—once minimized by old-time speeds, frequent use, and sustained engine heat. But now you need special precautions, and you get them by having your engine OIL-PLATED with Conoco Nth motor oil.

OIL-PLATING, made possible by the added synthetic in popular-priced Conoco Nth oil, seems strongly "magnetized" against all draining down from inner engine surfaces—for hours—days—and longer.

Now on chromium-plating, when rain-drops stay a while, you don't fear serious corrosion. And you needn't fear it when acid stays a while in your OIL-PLATED engine. The ordinary combustion process must leave acid when your engine stops. But you can lessen the worst risk by OIL-PLATING now with Nth oil at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. California Guest Is Complimented At Breakfast-Bridge

Mrs. R. R. Willis entertained Monday at her home with a bridge-breakfast in honor of her cousin, Mrs. William Carmell of Los Angeles, who has spent the past month in Hereford and who left yesterday for her home.

The breakfast was served from a table laid with lace doilies and centered with a dainty crocheted basket filled with pink rosebuds. At either side burned pink tapers. Mixed varieties of garden flowers were arranged about the house and tables for four were laid for twelve.

After the breakfast contract games provided entertainment with Mrs. Knox Kinard playing high and Mrs. S. J. Maxfield playing second high for score awards.

Enjoying the early morning affair were Mesdames Kinard, Grant Fuller, Lee Benefield, Ralph Aoden, J. W. Witherspoon, A. J. Maxfield, Louis Barnett, Bill Clutter, C. F. Moore, W. A. Teter, Miss Aline Walker, of Dallas, the honoree and the hostess.

Y. W. A. GROUP HAS BIBLE QUIZ

Y. W. A. of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Miss Thornton Shirley Monday evening for the regular program.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson was in charge of the lesson which included a "Dr. I. Q. Quiz" relating to the Bible.

Members present were Paula Mae Edwards, Inez Funderburg, Avis Matthews, Kitty Harlin, Imogene Robinson, Arrie Smith, Dorothy Funderburg, Juanita Kelly, Mrs. A. O. Thompson, Mrs. Travis Caraway, and the hostess.

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS

Coterie Club was entertained in the home of Mrs. E. B. Hicks Friday afternoon.

Perennial phlox in dainty shades of pink and rose were combined with shasta daisies for decorations. Miss Aline Walker, of Dallas, guest of the club, was winner of the defense stamp-award for high score.

Those present were Mesdames F. L. Lucas, C. F. Moore, J. W. Witherspoon, Grant Fuller, Knox Kinard, W. A. Teter, Howard Gault, Miss Walker and the hostess.

MRS. MAXFIELD IS CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. S. J. Maxfield was hostess to members of the Justkrd Club on Wednesday afternoon last week. Defense stamps were given as score awards to Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, high, and to Mrs. Henry Sears, second high.

Members of the club making up the two tables of players for games of contract included Mesdames Meade Halle, J. W. Witherspoon, N. E. Milburn, Grant Fuller, R. L. Craner, Henry Sears, Kellar Muse and George V. Stambaugh.

E. M. Halle of Huntsville is in Hereford looking after harvest and farming interests.

H-D CLUB NEWS

Westway Home Demonstration Club met last week in the home of Mrs. Roy Lee Wilson with Mrs. Elmer Combs as hostess.

After roll call which was answered with helpful hints for the housewife, Mrs. Hughes Millard conducted an I. Q. Quiz on American History. Mrs. Paul Rudd read a letter from the mother of Pfc. Green of the Hereford Internment Camp, expressing her thanks for kindnesses extended to her son by the club. Mrs. Moody Stephan was presented with a lovely gift from the club.

Mrs. A. C. Pierce had charge of the program which included the poem "Victory Garden," given by Mrs. Paul Mathers.

Mrs. Pierce discussed "Freedom of the Press," Mrs. Chas. Burk, "Freedom of Worship," and Mrs. T. B. Cox, "Freedom from Want"; and Mrs. Manuel Hawks gave a reading.

The demonstration for the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Maurice Tannahill who made a quick method Betty Crocker cake.

Members present were Mesdames Manuel Hawks, G. C. Hartman, A. C. Pierce, E. H. Little, Grady Wilson, T. B. Cox, Chas. Burk, Phillip Miller, Merlin Kaul, Maurice Tannahill, P. B. Sowell, P. M. Houser, Orville Houser, Hughes Millard, Paul Rudd, M. O. Sowell, Roy Lee Wilson, Elmer Combs and Miss Sadie Lee Oliver.

Guests present were Mrs. Frank Merrell of Portageville, Mo., Mrs. Dora Lee Harris and Mrs. Paul Mathers.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Chas. Burk on August 11.

SONS in the SERVICE

Larry Trimble, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Trimble, is now taking Navy V-12 training at the unit at Texas Christian University. Larry enlisted in the Navy last year and had been on active duty before being accepted for the officer's college training course.

IA Billy Beene has qualified for training as an Army Air Corps liaison pilot and will start training soon at Denton. He is a grandson of Mrs. J. W. Beene of Hereford.

Jack Dale Allmon, who recently completed basic training at the San Diego Naval Training Station, was honor man of his class and received a certificate signed by the commanding officer of the base. Jack, the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Allmon, is now taking training at the Navy's primary radio school at Oklahoma A and M.

Sgt. J. C. (Conrad) Robinson, who is stationed on the West Coast, arrived Tuesday for a two-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson, and other relatives.

Staff Sgt. Jerry Albracht, now stationed in Australia, thinks he made his luckiest trip to the movies recently—and they don't have bank nights or give away dishes at Australian movie theaters.

"Poison" for Hitler

"Poison!" reads the sign on this field piece being put ashore by U. S. troops preparing for their part in the battle of Germany in this scene from The March of Time film: "Invasion!"
At the Star Theatre, July 28-29

The reason for Sgt. Albracht's enthusiasm for movies—one of the short subjects on the bill he saw was "The Town Without a Toothache," which was filmed in Hereford last year.

Albracht was getting excited when he saw pictures of many of his friends; but when the likeness of his sister, Monica, flashed on the screen, as he put it he "nearly collapsed."

Despite the fact that the picture gave him a bad case of homesickness, he would have "given a million bucks" to see it several times, Albracht wrote. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. Albracht.

Even so grim a business as war in the Pacific can have a lighter side, according to letters received recently by Mrs. F. S. Smith, from her son, Lt. Allen L. (Lynnwood) Hallum, now stationed in New Guinea.

"They (the Japs) broadcast a program for us every night called 'The Zero Hour'—propoganda and some music," Hallum writes.

"We fly over and drop requests for new numbers tied to beer bottles. It's not as sporting as it sounds though—no prisoners are taken by either side."

In another letter, he writes: "... A very clear night—all the stars are out and a good time for the Japs to come over for a visit... We have visited them a few times lately.

"A ship was lost in the jungle the other day and I spotted it from the air today. I imagine some of them will be saved; the wreck didn't look too bad.

"We have to shake out our blankets every night before going to bed—centipedes, etc., can be found in them quite frequently. One of my tentmates checked out a bugle from supply the other day and I have been trying to learn to play it at night. Boy, how the boys howl! I nearly got murdered last night. I hid in the brush to play it and they organized a posse to hunt me down. Got hit by three rocks, so I took the hint."

Texas cockiness may have inspired at least one uncomplimentary song, but Texas reputation for "fightin' men" is world wide. In fact, Jack Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barber of Lubbock and formerly of Hereford, writes from England that King George wants to know if there is anyone but Texans in this war.

Sgt. Gus Pedde returned Tuesday to his post at Camp Kearney, Neb., after a three day visit with friends and relatives in Hereford.

"LOTS OF PEOPLE make a big mistake in figuring the cost of house paint. They look at its price per gallon. But that's all wrong. What they really pay for is coverage per gallon. That's why I figure it's just common sense to use Lowe Brothers High Standard House Paint. It's definitely a quality paint and it covers solidly more square feet of surface, so it spreads evenly and easily; cuts down the labor and cost, lengthens the time between repainting. It just naturally goes farther and lasts longer to save money all the way."

"At Home" Is Given to Honor Mrs. Mary Palmer on 80th Birthday

An outstanding social event—both for the personality of the honoree and for the size of the guest list—was an "At Home" given Friday afternoon by Mrs. E. H. Norton honoring her mother, Mrs. Mary Palmer, on her eightieth birthday.

Approximately 300 guests were invited to call at the Palmer home between the hours of 3 and 7 o'clock.

Accenting the color tones of sweetheart roses, which predominated in decorations, urns and floor baskets of white and red blossoms were used in the reception rooms. The tea table in the dining room was laid in lace and centered with a crystal bowl of sweetheart rosebuds on a reflector. Encircling the centerpiece was a border of tiny crystal squirrels. Crystal punch bowls were used at each end of the table, with Miss Ella Aikman and Mrs. J. A. Pitman presiding.

Birthday cake squares were topped by miniature red rosebuds. Also assisting in the dining room was Mrs. Ullman Hunter. Others in the house party were Mrs. N. E. Gass who directed the guests to the dining room and Mrs. Laura Hicks who presided at the guest book.

Old friends, some of them life-long acquaintances, new friends, friends of her own age and young friends, came at appointed hours during the afternoon to pay affectionate tribute to the honoree whose celebrating really began long before party time, for early in the day messages, telephone calls, flowers and gifts began to arrive as one friend or relative after another remembered "Her Day".

For the tall, white-haired woman it was a day to be remembered for she has lived close to friends and she thinks she has had a pretty good time during her life. She lived in Montague, Tex., from the time of her birth until 1888 when she moved with her husband, the late T. M. Palmer, and two children to Wichita Falls. On April 7, 1889 the family moved to Hereford and bought a section of land on Twenty Five Mile Avenue. Mr. Palmer was a cattleman and later they took up 16 sections of government land.

Hereford, as Mrs. Palmer first saw it, bore little relation to the little city of today for she could almost count the houses on her fingers. At that time what is now known as the L. F. Borden place was considered out in the country. That house and the old Kibbe house were the only two houses between the business section and the Palmer ranch, seven miles north.

She recalls the many cattle buyers and cowboys who stopped overnight or made their place headquarters for roundup time, until it seemed they scarcely ever sat down to a family meal.

Commenting on those bygone days she said, "I wonder how we'd feed all those people now, imagine an old cowhand and ration points."

Later the family moved to town and have built several homes in Hereford, but every time they moved they carried along that old-fashioned hospitality, and when their three children were young, that home became a nucleus for the young people of the town.

For several years Mr. Palmer operated a lumber yard here but had retired before his death in 1926.

Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Joe Baker, who died a few years ago, Walter Palmer of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Norton.

Mrs. Palmer has one grandson who is the apple of her eye. He is Palmer Norton of New Orleans who arrived unexpectedly Monday to have a part in late celebrations of the birthday.

Out-of-town guests at the party were members of the R. H. Norton family of Amarillo, Mrs. Palmer Norton of New Orleans, Mrs. Sam Caraway and Mrs. Ray Caraway of Tulsa.

Luncheon And Garden Party for State Garden Club Pres. Week's Highlight

A luncheon and a garden party have been planned to honor Mrs. C. E. Beavers of Wichita Falls, state president, of the Texas State Federation of Garden Clubs, who will visit the local club Friday.

This is the state president's first trip to the Panhandle and the date has been set since year books went to press in February. At that time she was asked to give her lecture on flower arrangement which has had wide acclaim all over the state. She will be the house guest of Mrs. J. P. Slaton while here.

The luncheon will be held at the First Christian Church at one o'clock for members of the club. Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, vice-president, will preside. A talk on garden club interests of the state as well as local interests will be given by the state president.

In the evening a garden party will be held at the home of Mrs. W. C. Hromas. Mrs. P. H. Gilliland, year book chairman, will preside for the program. Highlight of the evening will be the flower arrangement lecture by Mrs. Beavers.

A receiving line will be headed by the president and made up of past presidents of the local organization, presidents of garden clubs in Dimmitt, Canyon, Amarillo and Clovis, N. M., invitations having been extended to officials of those clubs, and the honor guest.

Arrangements for the day's program are being made by Mrs. J. P. Slaton, chairman; Mrs. W. C. Hromas, Mrs. P. H. Gilliland, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Mrs. C. H. Dyar and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot.

Other Panhandle organizations are taking advantage of the state president's visit to the Panhandle and she will also visit the Amarillo Garden Club and will be entertained in Canyon while in this section of the state.

Funny How Everybody Still Calls it the "Light" Bill

Funny, isn't it, how we still call it the "light" bill? "I can remember when it really was the 'light' bill... and we were mighty proud to have just electric lights.

"In those days we paid about as much every month as we do now, and all we got was light. Sometimes we weren't even too sure of that.

"Just think how much more we get now for our money. To start with, we light our homes a lot better... then we wash and iron the clothes, protect our food, clean the rugs, toast the bread, run the radio and give electricity dozens of other jobs to do every day... and that's what I call getting a lot for our money!"

"Yes, Mr. and Mrs. Homemaker, Electricity is today's biggest value. Despite the general trend of upward prices, your Electric Rates have continued to come down."

Our constant aim is to keep on giving you better and better service at less and less cost!

Longer Life For Your Kitchen Tools

Here are tested, practical suggestions that will give you longer life and more efficient service from many things you use in your kitchen.

All kinds of pots and pans deserve your special attention. Don't let food burn or stick in them. To prevent breaking or warping, don't leave utensils over heat without something in them.

ENAMELWARE should not be subjected to high temperature. Don't drop it or give it harsh blows, and never dash cold water in it while it is still hot. Wash it with sudsy water or a very fine cleanser. Harsh cleansers will scratch the surface.

ALUMINUM will stay bright and shiny if it is washed with hot, soapy water. Rinse and dry thoroughly. Aluminum, like silver, will turn dark if you boil eggs in it—or other foods containing sulphur. Use granite or enamelware for eggs and other alkaline foods.

GLASS is easily cleaned with soap and water. To prevent breakage, avoid sudden temperature changes; don't pour cold water into a hot pan; don't set a pan or casserole directly from the range on a wet surface. Always cook with at least one-half inch of water in the bottom of glass utensils.

TINWARE should be soaked after using, and washed in warm soapy water. Dry thoroughly before putting away. Don't scour with abrasives—the coating may wear through and cause rust. To guard against warping, don't cool tin utensils rapidly. The dullness that comes with use makes them better heat conductors.

To help you save "War Time" on Long Distance calls

Sometimes—on some calls over war-congested channels—the long distance operator finds it necessary to ask:

"Please limit your call to 5 minutes. Others are waiting."

If your call is important and must go through, please follow these suggestions.

JOT DOWN A PLAN

An outline of the points to be covered in your call often prevents closing the call with some point overlooked.

CALL BY NUMBER IF YOU CAN

"Kansas City, Kansas, please... DREXEL 9900."

It saves handling time on America's extra-busy long distance channels.

PLACE A CALL FOR "ANYONE"

"I will talk with anyone at LORAIN 9800."

Making a station-to-station call—whenever possible—means quicker handling, too.

"I have three things to talk to you about."

If you give the total points to cover, it puts you both in the frame of mind to avoid waste words.

You can say a lot in 5 minutes. Never mind discussing the weather—it's a military secret!

If you keep your long distance calls short these days, you not only save money but you help to make the peacetime telephone system do its wartime job.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

After being blown through a window by a bursting shell and stunned by a 14-foot fall during the bombardment of Sand Island, Marine Staff Sergeant Dale Lester Peters of Breckenridge, Michigan, struggled to remove large aerial bombs from nearby burning hangars. He has been awarded the Navy Cross for exceptionally meritorious service and disregard of his own safety during this action. What hardships are you willing to disregard to invest in Payroll Savings?

Jumbo News

MRS. SAM HUNTER

Several friends of the L. A. Matthews family accompanied them to Muleshoe Monday, July 12, to attend the funeral of Mr. Matthews' father, Dr. Matthews of Muleshoe. Dr. Matthews, who had been practicing medicine for over 50 years, was one of the pioneer physicians of the plains. He came to Muleshoe over 20 years ago from Childress and practiced there continuously up to the time of his death, having been on a call the day before he was taken to the hospital. At the time of his death, he was County Health Officer, a post which he had held since coming to Muleshoe.

His wife died many years ago, but he leaves six children, five of whom were present for the funeral. One son, who lives in Panama, was unable to be here. Relatives present were: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cayton, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cayton, Jr., and Mrs. Mildred Bailey and daughter of Claude; Mrs. Neal Louder of Happy; Mrs. Virgil Seacy, Mrs. Earl Thomas, Mrs. A. A. David, and Mrs. Arthur Sparkman of Archer City; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Matthews of Dallas; Mrs. Ar-manda Everett, a sister of Dr. Matthews, and Mr. and Mrs. Carbon Hester of Corona, N. M. Attending the funeral from

SONS

In the Service

James Travis Matthews, grandson of W. R. Matthews of Hereford, has completed his course of training as an aviation mechanic at the Amarillo Army Air Field.

His graduation from this school fits him for airplane maintenance work and he will be sent to an air base for active ground crew duty.

Air Cadet George T. Jones, and J. P. Jones, machinist's mate 2-c, both sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jones of Frio, are rapidly nearing completion of their preparatory training and will soon be on front line duty.

George, who graduated from Hereford High School in 1934, volunteered for service on Nov. 25, 1940 and was transferred to cadet training in September, 1942. Half of the 120 men who started out in his class, were "washed out" before the completion of training, but Jones has now nearly completed the last lap of the arduous cadet training course and will get his wings on July 28.

J. P., also a graduate of Hereford High School (1941), was the third highest man in a class of 70 to complete Navy machinist's school on June 12.

After taking a two week course at Milwaukee, Wis., J. P. has been sent to Treasure Island, Calif., to await duty on an aircraft carrier.

T-Cpl. G. H. Whitaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Whitaker of Hereford, was in the thick of the Tunisian campaign and his family believe that he is now with the forces invading Sicily.

He writes that he has had some narrow escapes, so narrow in fact that he can't explain them except to say that God must have been looking out for him.

Cpl. Whitaker asked that the Brand be sent to him because he likes to read about his old sweethearts getting married.

Werner Koelzer is attending pre-flight school at the University of Texas and writes that the size of the campus and buildings are a little bewildering to a boy from the country. Werner, a son of Mr. and Mrs.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

When Richard Breckenridge's submarine made a hurried dive off Japan, a hatch jammed, but he ignored the order to abandon the rapidly flooding conning tower and remained behind, desperately trying to fasten it. By succeeding, he saved vital equipment for his submarine and became the first enlisted man in the submarine service to win the Navy Cross. He was willing to give his life. How much of your income will you invest in Payroll Savings?

Morrison Wants Age Record Corrected

J. E. Morrison, who is celebrating his 63rd anniversary as a Texas resident this month, wants it known that his age is 67 and not 77 as stated in a brand story last week.

Mr. Morrison is going to send copies of the story to friends "in the old country" and he wants that age record straight.

Do You Remember?

JULY 24, 1903:
A telephone line was run into Childress last week from Amarillo. This will be a convenience to Quanah as it gives us connection with the plains country.
—Quanah Observer.

One of the prettiest home weddings which have occurred in the Hereford vicinity was solemnized last Wednesday evening, when Miss Empriss, the youngest daughter of G. R. Jowell, was united in marriage with Robert E. Lee Ball, in the presence of a large number of invited friends.

Mr. Ira Aten, manager of the Escarbada division of KIT Ranch, gave a very appreciative entertainment last Tuesday in the way of a round-up at the Tierra Blanca Camp. It was made much more agreeable and entertaining by the presence of Miss Maude Russell, who is a guest of her sister, Mrs. L. Gough, and it must be stated, although ranch life was entirely new to Miss Russell, she seemed perfectly at home and afforded much pleasure to all present by her charming ways and witty sayings.

S. S. Evans recently purchased three sections of land from J. W. Moreman, paying therefor in cattle the equivalent of $4,230, cows with calves at $30, dry cows at $25 and heifers at $17 around.

Eugene Dyer and Maple Daniel returned to Hereford Wednesday from their trip as members of the Hereford baseball team. The team disbanded at Thurber on account of three of their best players being disabled.

JULY 25, 1918:
The First National Bank set a local record in patriotism this week and at the same time conveyed an eloquent endorsement of service rendered by a faithful employee, when announcement was made by officials of the bank that Miles Roberson assistant cashier, who was drafted and sent to Camp Travis Monday, would be retained in the position he vacated, given a furlough for the duration of the war, and carried on the rolls as an honorary officer of the bank until he returns to his interrupted duties.

John Patton, son of Mrs. W. H. Patton of this city, who resides west of Hereford, received painful but not serious injuries Tuesday while shearing a mule. Mr. Patton was bending over the shoulder of the animal when he was kicked in the mouth, cutting his lips badly and afterwards suffering from shock to his head and from the bruises.

Lee Biggs, who was reared in Hereford, gave up his position with Ralph Barnett last Saturday, went to El Paso and Monday telegraphed Mr. Barnett that he had been accepted for enlistment in the Navy and was leaving at once for San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frye are the proud parents of a baby girl born July 24, 1918, named Louise Ann. The grandfather of the baby, Capt. E. T. Woodburn, says that this makes his an "even dozen" grandchildren.

Because of the bad weather the Baptist Church Revival did not begin until Sunday morning. Rev. Marcus Rexrode of Summerfield is the evangelist and Rev. Davison of Plainview the pastor is conducting the song services. Services are held each morning at 10 o'clock and at 9:30 at night.

Rain and more rain—on Wednesday morning early and again Saturday evening the latter measuring from an inch to 1-2 inches. Many farmers who had gone to town Saturday afternoon had difficulty getting home. Mrs. A. C. Pierce's car and the Wm. Ponder truck both slid into the ditch on Harrison Highway. The road around the lake at the Kalka and O. G. Hill farms is always very slick when it rains and a number of cars were lined up there having difficulty keeping on the road.

Mrs. R. M. Gunn has been taken from Mrs. Godwin's Sanitarium to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Guy Lawrence.

Marion Roy Carr of Muleshoe was a guest of L. T. Hawks last Thursday and Thursday night, in the home of L. T.'s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Hawks.

Mrs. Bud Hopson and Jerry Ray of Hereford were callers in the Grady Wilson home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cox and boys went to Tulla Monday to get Elaine, who has been visiting relatives there.

A picnic which honored the birthdays of Grady Wilson and Jean Luttrell was held at the park at Hereford Sunday evening. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Benton Luttrell, Marcia, Dan and Mona Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Wilson, Donald, Larry and Norma Sue, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Roe and Monty, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hopson and Jerry Ray of Hereford.

Bert Gunn, nephew of R. M. Gunn, came from Wewoka, Okla., last week to visit Mrs. R. M. Gunn, who has been ill at the Godwin Sanitarium at Hereford. He also visited R. M. Gunn here and other relatives and friends. He returned home Sunday.

Nelson and Glenn Pierce of Hereford were guests from Wednesday until Saturday in the home of their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pierce.

Pete and Bob Wilson were called to their home at Snyder the last of the week by the illness of their father Obe Wilson. They accompanied their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson of Summerfield to Snyder. The boys have been visiting in the home of their uncle, Roy Lee Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Caison and children were visitors Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Caison, near Jumbo.

Pvt. Howard Gore of Ft. Sill, Okla., Gladys Gore of Hereford, and Homer Gore of Dawn were visitors in the R. M. Gunn and E. H. Little homes Sunday afternoon.

T-Sgt. Roy Landers was granted a leave of 10 more days because of the illness of his grandmother, Mrs. R. M. Gunn. Roy is stationed at Great Falls, Mont.

Lloyd Roe of Panhandle spent Thursday and Friday in the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Roe.

Miss Elma Smith of Olton was a guest several days last week of Mrs. F. W. Dodson and Monte Max. Mrs. Dodson took her back to Olton Monday and also visited her family there Vesta Mae Landers accompanied them.

Mrs. Joe Landers and Bert Gunn of Wewoka, Okla., were supper guests in the Guy Lawrence home at Hereford Saturday night.

Raymond, Ralph and Mary Lynn Morrison were chicken pox victims last week.

Edward Carl Shirley, 63, of Anton died Saturday morning at the wheel of his truck on Harrison Highway at the gate of the J. A. Roe home.

Mr. Shirley had been hauling wheat from the Ponder combine west of here and had complained of feeling ill. He had started to town to a doctor.

The Roe family was at breakfast and heard the roar of a truck but paid no attention as so many trucks pass there. As they went to milk they noticed that the truck was in the ditch but that the driver was sleeping. After the chores were done, Mr. Roe noticed that the man was still in the same position and went to investigate.

Mr. Winfrey came by and went for the sheriff and the ambulance and the body was taken to Hereford pending arrival of relatives.

Mrs. Jimmy Hays and small son of Fort Worth were guests one day last week in the Jim Bookout home.

Mrs. J. S. Earp and Jack of White Deer were calling on friends in this community Thursday.

Another irrigation well was drilled last week at the Alton Fraser farm. This is the third irrigation well on the farm now.

SOCIETY

MRS. JOHN McLEAN, Society Editor — Phone 181

Now that it is pickle-making time again here are three simple recipes you'll want to be using. The first two are recipes Mrs. M. C. McGilvary uses every year with success and the third one is one for dill pickles which has been requested by many who have sampled them after Mrs. Bonnie Brumley makes them. All three are the never-fail kind and the ease and simplicity with which they are made makes you want to try your hand at them.

Let's Cook Something

Mrs. McGilvary calls this first recipe—"Ten Day Pickles Made in One Night" and that's exactly what it is, and they stay crisp and firm until the last bite is gone.

Ten Day Pickles (Made in one night)
7 lbs. medium sized cucumbers (sliced)
3-4 cup slack lime
Enough water to cover.

Slice the cucumbers in stone jar and cover with the lime, then pour over enough cold water to cover and let stand over night. The next morning dip out of the lime and water mixture and wash very thoroughly and set aside to drain. Bring to a boil, 1-2 gallon of vinegar and four cups of sugar and salt enough to season. Put cucumbers in boiling vinegar mixture, add four scant teaspoons of mixed spices. Simmer thirty minutes and pack and seal in jars. A few cherry leaves or grape leaves added while boiling adds to the green color of the pickles.

Saccharine Pickles
(This is a good recipe to have because of the sugar shortage and saccharine has all the qualities of sugar, it is just so much sweeter that it takes little of it.)

1-2 gal vinegar
1 cup sugar
1-2 cup salt
1-8 oz. saccharine soluble (which is one teaspoon full).

Mix all these ingredients in stone jar and have ready to pour over the pickles. Wash carefully and drain small pickles and pack cold in glass jar. Pour the vinegar mixture over the pickles and seal cold. Let stand several days to season and they are ready to eat. If you like them sweeter, add a little more saccharine, or leave out a part of the saccharine if you prefer them not so sweet.

And here is Mrs. Bonnie Brumley's dill pickle recipe. She makes them every year because they are Mr. Brumley's favorite. You'll like them too.

Kosher Dill Pickles

20 to 25 dill size cucumbers
1-8 teaspoon powdered alum
1 clove garlic
2 heads dill
1 hot red pepper
1 quart vinegar
3 quarts water
1 cup salt
grape leaves

Wash cucumbers thoroughly and let stand in cold water over night. Pack in sterilized jars. To each quart add the 1-8 teaspoon alum, one clove garlic and the two heads dill. Combine the vinegar, salt and water and bring to a boil. Pour at once over pickles in jar, being sure pickles are well covered; add a grape leaf and seal. Makes six to eight quarts.

HENRY FONDA AND MAUREEN O'HARA are teamed in "The Immortal Sergeant." Sunday, Monday and Tuesday feature at the Star; and advance notices state that the story of patrol action in Libya and the transmission of the fighting spirit of a battle-hardened sergeant to a timid, self-effacing corporal make a theme and picture which will stand on its own merits, even without the timely appeal of a desert warfare background.

SEEDS of ADVICE

from
The Garden Club

How To-Grow Annuals
NOTE—(This article was prepared for the Garden Club by Mrs. Dennis Barnard and taken from a Better Homes and Gardens flower culture leaflet.)

Annuals are those plants whose length of life in the garden extends from approximately the last killing frost in the spring until the first one in the fall, and whose flowers are borne profusely during most of the time.

The chief value of annuals to the gardener lies in the abundance of color and wealth of flowers produced by each plant over a long period of time. An amazing display may be had at small cost and only a small amount of labor is necessary to care for them. Seen in masses their effect is unsurpassed by any other class of plants.

Annuals may be classified according to the time their seeds may be sown with safety. There are many annuals known under the name of "hardy annuals", but these plants are not hardy in the sense that the plants themselves live through the winter, but are hard in that their seeds will stand the rigor of winter out-of-doors if given a slight protection of some sort. The second class are those whose foliage cannot stand cold at any time. They should not be sown out-of-doors in the open until all danger of frost is gone. The third class includes all of those which require a long time for seed germination and a long period of growth before blooming. Such plants should be started in some protected place and later transplanted in the open.

It is impossible to give the date for sowing the seeds of the various classes of annuals. From the first of November on would be a good time, or if we wish to sow them in the spring, we can sow them as early as April. The seed of the second class of annuals should be sown around the first of May, and for the last class a hotbed can be started about March 15.

The secret of success in planting any seeds is proper soil preparation and depth of sowing. A good rule to follow is that the finer the seeds the finer the soil in the seed beds should be. Do not include manure or plant food in your seed bed. Young seedlings do not require much in the way of plant food, and it is best to reserve the use of this material for the transplant beds and flower borders. When sowing the hardy annual seed directly in the flower beds in the fall, it is best to broadcast the seed over the surface of the soil and lightly rake it in. The seeds may be broadcasted more evenly if it is mixed with fine dry soil or sand. The seed bed should then be lightly tamped and a thin covering of peatmoss or leafmold applied over the top.

Spring planting of annuals should be covered with burlap to prevent the birds from eating the seed. Watch carefully for germination, and immediately after this starts, remove the covering. Do not let the seed bed get dry during germination as it is fatal at this period. Annuals needing a long growing season must be sown in boxes or pots. This is true of very tiny seeds and it is best not to cover the seeds but merely press in with a small piece of wood. When watering use a very fine spray.

Transplant the plants once before the final setting in their permanent place. They will thus develop a better root system, and will be much thriftier. They may be set out in their permanent quarters for the summer any time after the danger of frost.

For those who are interested in masses of color, the best plan is to plant seeds of the hardy annuals where they are to bloom. Sowing the seeds and thinning afterwards is all that is required.

For those who are interested in variety, various types can be combined in a cold-frame. This method is also preferred by those who wish to interplant their hardy perennial border with annuals to keep it in more constant bloom.

CHDA NOTES

Visits to the homes of demonstrators in the various clubs during the past several weeks reveal a story of farming progress.

At Westway, the CHDA visited in the home of Mrs. Maurice Tannahill, home improvement demonstrator.

The Tannahills sold their irrigated farm this year and have bought a half section of dry land on the Tierra Blanca. They rent another section and operate a Grade A dairy on the home place and are now making plans to increase the size of the herd and employ an extra farm helper.

A large butane tank supplies the barn and the house. The same ditch carries the water pipes to both buildings, and the rural electric lines furnish current to the Tannahill farm.

Long-range plans include finishing the steps and walls to the basement, rearranging some closet space, putting on new wallpaper and the installation of bathroom fixtures.

Because the kitchen cabinet is too low for Mrs. Tannahill, she plans to get the drawer space divided into smaller units and the surface of the cabinet raised.

Another improvement at the Tannahill farm is the good front lawn of Buffalo grass.

The yard at Mrs. Bob Fullwood's home has an individual character that can be better understood when one learns that all the planning and work are her own. Two new lawn chairs were made this summer by an extension service blueprint. A narrow bed on a long wall has always been planted to dahlias. This year tomatoes are growing in front of and between the dahlias. All drives and walks have rock borders. A silver-leaved Giant Reed clump, besides screening the backyard, supplies canes for fishing poles and whistles for small boys.

Two years ago Mrs. Fullwood bought Azalea mums at 25 cents each. The next year she had surplus plants for friends and this year she will have quantities of surplus plants to divide.

Along the south drive the shade trees are pear trees, which are providing a large quantity of windfall pears, which Mrs. Fullwood is sharing with friends this year.

The ice-storm of November, 1940, bent the two-inch pipe which served as an antennae pole at the Fullwood home and

TWO FEROCIOUS MONSTERS are teamed to bring double shocks and shudders in "Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man." Texas week-end feature which will start off with a Saturday night owl show. Palo Duro News

BY ETHEL ALLRED

Persons from this community who attended the monthly workers conference at the First Baptist Church at Panhandle last Tuesday afternoon and night were Rev. and Mrs. Marvel Upton, Mrs. Glenn B. Allred, Mrs. J. C. Allred and Ethel.

Most of the farmers are through cutting wheat and the row crops are growing nicely.

Miss Ethel Allred spent from Sunday until Tuesday afternoon in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred and family at Hereford. She returned to her home Tuesday with Rev. and Mrs. Marvel Upton to attend the conference that was held at Panhandle.

Rev. and Mrs. Lee Perry of Sanford visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Womble and family recently.

Mrs. Glenn B. Allred visited with Mrs. J. C. Allred Monday afternoon.

The Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. E. W. Womble. Every one enjoyed the day very much. Miss Doris Elrod of Wildorado

Mrs. Fullwood has had the pipe cut into supports for a swing which has been painted white.

Mr. Fullwood rigged up an adobe mixing machine and supervised the making of the adobe bricks of which the walls of their home are made.

Mrs. Frank Wilde, home food supply demonstrator for the North Hereford Club, had a truly varied exhibit with some unusual features, including a flock of 19 young Pekin ducks. One duck has laid 65 eggs this year.

The Wildes also have a Grade A dairy, with 15 cows producing 40 gallons of milk daily.

With the aid of a man and his wife, the Wildes farm 1,000 acres in soy beans, wheat and barley and they will plant alfalfa next year.

In 1941 they had a 1-1-2 acre irrigated garden. Many fresh products were sold while much of the food canned is being used this year. Bindweed in the present garden spot will force a new location for the garden next year.

The Wildes are planning now for a frame garden this fall at the south end of the house; and since there is no outdoor faucet in the vicinity, they are using some ingenuity and will water the garden with a hose attached to the kitchen sink faucet.

Loss of Sleep, Sore Feet and Lame Backs Hazards of Wartime Travel

A girl from a small town in Wisconsin was sitting in Union station, Washington, D. C., having a bad case of hysterics. She had come East because a friend had told her there were "plenty of jobs," and she had stood up on the train all night. Tired and disheveled, she arrived in the Nation's capital with no immediate job prospects, no place to stay, no friends in the city, and not enough money to tide her over while she looked for work. She wished she had stayed home and taken an essential civilian job in her own community. Traveler's Aid came to her rescue, saw that she got a few hours' sleep, and made arrangements for her return home.

This case is typical of the many that are reported to Traveler's Aid every day in railroad stations throughout the country. Loss of sleep, sore feet and lame backs are only a few of the many discomforts of traveling these days.

All Cities Crowded
Cities are overcrowded, and Washington is not the only town where it is difficult to find a place to stay. More than 150,000 workers have moved to Baltimore since 1940; in New York and Northern New Jersey, 12.8 percent of the population of the country is now living in 1.7 percent of the total area of the United States; other war production areas are similarly

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

When our mortars were pounding Malnassy Hill near Sidi Bu-Sid in Africa, Private James Rugolo of Brooklyn, New York, was one of the men bringing up the ammunition. Struck by shrapnel, he kept going until he dropped, was awarded the Purple Heart. On every battlefield men like Rugolo press the attack relentlessly, regardless of personal cost. Are you doing enough to keep our attack rolling through Payroll Savings?

'Typical WAC'

Swinging the job a little de-henna, 23, chosen "typical WAC" of Camp Grant, Ill. Specifications: five-one, soft brown hair, ready smile. She's a camp clerk, short-center on softball team, camp musical show chorine.

Jammed.
When you start out on a train trip, you had better be prepared to "rough it." The railroads are doing their best, but wartime conditions make traveling most uncertain. Trains are sidetracked to let troop trains go through, and passengers miss their connections. Because of this you may have to spend the night in a strange city. You will find it hard to get a check cashed; you will have the added expense of a hotel room, or you may not be able to find a room at all.

Best to Stay Home
Despite the railroads' use of all available facilities, there are just too many people traveling. Last year passenger traffic exceeded the previous all-time record of 1920 by 14.6 percent, and the railroads had to serve all these people with fewer employees and less equipment. Often the diners do not have enough food to feed everyone. Many of the trains—no longer air-conditioned—are distressingly hot and uncomfortably dusty. Supplies are short, and many older cars are now in service which have no facilities for air-cooling.

The government asks you to think before you travel; and ask yourself this question: "Do I really have to go?" Men in the service must travel. If civilians stay off the trains, servicemen can have more comfortable riding conditions—and those who stay at home will be more comfortable too.
