State rests case in trial

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

The state rested its case in the murder trial of Helen Owens in 222nd District Court in Hereford on Thursday.

Mrs. Owens is accused of shooting her husband, Charlie, to death early on the morning of July 5, 1989.

Because of a prior commitment by District Judge David Wesley Gulley, the trial will not resume until 9:30 a.m. Monday. At that time, defense attorney Jerry Smith will begin calling witnesses, probably including Mrs. Owens. Smith will likely call on medical professionals who have treated Mrs. Owens for problems she has had for the past many years.

In the final day of testimony for the state, District Attorney Roland Saul called the grandson of the Owenses, forensic pathologist Dr. Ralph Erdmann and two police officers who investigated the shooting.

Josh Owens, the couple's grandson, testified to the events of last July 4 and 5. Like his sister the day before, he said his grandfather had threatened "to knock him to the floor" because of his rambunctiousness while playing during the day on July 4.

That night, he was sleeping in a twin bed in his grandfather's bedroom while his grandfather slept in another bed. He said his grandmother came into the room once and resumed an argument the couple had earlier in the day.

He said his grandfather slapped his grandmother, she struck him back, then Mr. Owens told Mrs. Owens not to hit him back before he hit her harder, knocking her to the floor.

A few moments later, Mrs. Owens came back into the bedroom, saying she just wanted to check on Josh. When Mr. Owens got up from the bed, she shot at him twice with a small handgun. Mr. Owens then fled to the bathroom inside the master bedroom. Mrs. Owens shot through the door three times. One of those shots was the fatal shot.

Dr. Erdmann, of Amarillo, said one of the shots struck Mr. Owens in the left elbow. The other shot entered through the right side of his chest and exited through the left shoulder. That bullet pierced Mr. Owens' aorta.

Erdmann said that Mr. Owens was likely unconscious within 20 seconds after that shot and was dead in less than a minute.

"In anything I have ever studied or read about, no one has lived as long as 60 seconds after suffering that type of wound," Dr. Erdmann testified.

Lt. David Wagner of the Hereford Police Department showed the gun allegedly used by Mrs. Owens, along with the bathroom door and the shower door from the bathroom.

The bathroom door had three holes in it: one in the center of the door about a foot higher than the knob; a second about a foot lower; and a third about 30 inches above the bottom of the door.

The shower door was shattered, with two holes in it. One is likely a place where Mr. Owens hit the door after he was shot, and the other is a bullet hole near the bottom of the door.

Complete contest rules and other information will be included with the picture in Sunday's Brand.

Flag-burning fight heads to campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP) - Lawmakers who defeated a proposed constitutional amendment against burning the American flag are bracing for a fierce fight on the campaign trail but say they sense a change of heart among many voters.

"Something that folks loathe almost as much as flag burners is politicians who demagogue, who wrap themselves in the flag for some partisan votes," Rep. Ben Jones, D-Ga., said after the measure failed to gain the necessary two-thirds majority Thursday.

Democratic lawmakers who voted against it told reporters they detected a change among voters and said their mail is no longer running so heavily in favor of the amendment.

The House voted 254-177 for the measure, which President Bush had been pressing since June 11, when the Supreme Court threw out the 1989 Flag Protection Act as unconstitutional.

However, the margin fell 34 votes short of the two-thirds needed for approval of the amendment, which would pave the way for the federal government and the states to ban burning or other desecration of the American flag.

Republicans voted 159-17 in favor of the amendment, while Democrats were 160-95 against.

Foley and other Democratic leaders campaigned hard against the measure.

The House action followed a day of emotional debate in which more than 100 lawmakers paraded to the microphone to either praise the amendment as protection for a national symbol and condemn it as an attack on the Bill of Rights.

Minority Whip Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., immediately renewed his warning of earlier in the week that the battle will now move to the campaign trail.

"I am absolutely confident that in those districts where the member's values are clearly at variance with his district, where you don't have a Hollywood-Greenwich Village-San Francisco kind of value structure, that this will be a significant issue in debates in October as candidates stand side by side," Gingrich told reporters.

Minority Leader Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., a chief sponsor of the amendment, did not attend Gingrich's news conference but said in debate that the issue was not a partisan one.

Gingrich said he doubted if the flag-burning issue would be decisive in any campaigns, but that in races where there is "a fight over values, it will be one more piece of evidence."

"How can it avoid being a big political issue?" he said. "It is a legitimate cultural values issue."

Critics portrayed their decision as a stand in favor of freedom of speech despite warnings from Gingrich that their vote would be used to inflame passions among Americans who grow emotional at the sight of a burning flag.

Germany merger facing final vote in Parliament

BONN, West Germany (AP) - Less than two weeks away from the planned economic merger of the two Germanys, the final print was headed for final approval today in West Germany's parliament.

Also today, Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze proposed a pullout of all Allied forces from Berlin six months after political unification. He made the comment at a ceremony that dismantled Checkpoint Charlie, a famous gateway at the Berlin Wall.

The foreign ministers of the World War II victors - the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France - were scheduled to meet in Berlin today with the foreign ministers of the two Germanys in talks aimed at resolving international obstacles to unification.

The East German Volkskammer and the powerful lower house of the West German parliament, or Bundestag, both voted overwhelmingly Thursday to approve the treaty spelling out the monetary, economic and social unification of the two Germanys.

The two parliaments also promised that the new Germany won't seek the return of lands that are now part of Poland.

The economic merger plan faces its last hurdle today in the upper house of West Germany's parliament, the opposition-controlled Bundesrat.

Passage was virtually assured after the opposition Social Democrats said they would not block it. But they say the treaty fails to protect many East Germans who were dependent on the communist system and could face hardship in the shift to capitalism.

The historic pact that is to take effect July 2 marks the de facto unification of Germany and the end of East Germany's 40 years of communism.

Political unification is now seen as a possibility before year's end, and the conservative Christian Democrats of West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl have called for all-German elections in December.

East Germany's hard-line Communist regime fell amid massive demonstrations last fall, giving way to elections in March that brought to power the country's first non-Communist government that immediately began negotiating unification.

But before Germany can become one again the international ramifications of unification, such as the new Germany's military status, are to be resolved in negotiations between the two Germanys and the Allies - the so-called "two-plus-four" talks. The Soviets have balked at allowing a united Germany to stay solely in NATO, the Western military alliance.

Shevardnadze did not address that issue today at the Checkpoint Charlie ceremony. But he said it was time for an end to the "occupation regime" that has ruled Berlin since the end of World War II.

But Shevardnadze's proposed pullout of Allied troops from Berlin apparently won't affect troops of the three Western allies stationed in West Berlin. The Soviet contingents are stationed outside the city limits of East Berlin on East German territory.

Secretary of States James A. Baker III was seated at Shevardnadze's side when the Soviet official spoke, and he listened intently. He was not immediately available for comment afterward.

Williams considering drug tests

AUSTIN (AP) - To achieve a drug free Texas, Republican gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams said he would consider random drug testing of state employees.

Williams made his announcement Thursday during a meeting of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, but emphasized it has not been incorporated into his campaign platform.

"Who, more than public employees, should be first to adhere to the rules?" Williams said. "Drug testing has been the most effective tool and was responsible for cleaning up drugs in the United States Army. I have random drug testing in my company."

Asked if random drug testing should be considered for state employees, he responded: "Well, I think they are a very legitimate arena to look at, yes. What better place to start than the way we did in the U.S. Army with random drug testing. It cleaned drugs out of the Army. Remember, we're saving people."

A representative for state employees urged Williams to drop the idea of random drug testing.

"We are not for random drug testing of state employees," said Lane Zivley, executive director of Texas Public Employees Association. "Clayton Williams is being advised by some people in the wrong direction. He has yet to sit down and discuss this with us. He needs to do this so he can be advised in the correct fashion."

Williams also said he would consider a proposal to fire college professors convicted of drug crimes. "I've not proposed that yet, but I sure wouldn't fight it and it might turn up later (in the platform)," he said.

He was more decisive about punitive measures against college students convicted of drug crimes, but added, "If I'm going to kick a kid out, a faculty member should go first, if convicted of cocaine use," he said.

He also called on Texas businesses to impose random drug testing on their employees, to impose a "drug free work place."

Williams proposed a $1.5 billion war on drugs in Texas, which he proposes to finance by cutting the state budget. He proposed, among other things, a 7 percent cut in state operating funds and a hiring freeze for state employees, except in the areas of criminal justice, health and education.

His proposal for a hiring freeze also met with opposition from the state employee's group. "He's off base when it comes to that," Zivley said.

Brand earns honors

The Hereford Brand won first place in feature writing and third place in editorials at the annual Texas Press Association convention today in San Antonio.

The Brand entered three feature stories done by former staff writer Kay Peck, now of El Paso. Judges from the Kentucky Press Association praised the stories for their "good story-telling technique and good use of quotes."

It was the third time in four years that the Brand won first place in feature writing. Lifestyles Editor Sandy Stagner won first place in 1987, and former staff writer Andrea Hooten won first place in 1989.

The editorials were written by Brand Publisher Speedy Nieman in 1989.

"A bright, lively style, reaches clear conclusions and makes solutions available," the judges said of the editorials.

The Brand has been a consistent winner in the editorial division for several years, winning fourth place the two previous years and earning certificates and awards for many years prior to that.

Nieman, a former TPA president, served on a roundtable panel to answer publisher's questions about general problems they were having.

No takers in Hodge-Pickens

DALLAS (AP) - A series of $100,000 challenges stemming from T. Boone Pickens' criticism of Amarillo has ended with no takers: Pickens won't accept a proposed bet on the city's size in the year 2000, and former Mayor Jerry Hodge wouldn't match a donation to a favorite Pickens project.

"This chapter has come to an end," Pickens said in a statement released Thursday by his spokesman.

"By not agreeing to match my $100,000 contribution to Carver Academy, Jerry Hodge has turned his back on the school children of Amarillo."

"It's clear that Jerry was more interested in self-promotion than Amarillo's long term growth," Pickens said. "I'm sure that we're all disappointed in Jerry."

Pickens had set a 5 p.m. Thursday deadline for Hodge to match his $100,000 contribution to Carver Elementary Academy Magnet School.

A Hodge spokesman said earlier Thursday that the wealthy businessman was tied up in meetings and would not respond. Pickens' spokesman said Hodge had known about the deadline for a week.

Hodge and Pickens have exchanged $100,000 challenges since last month when a Pickens wrote a high school classmate blasting Amarillo and its future.

Quake rescue hampered by more landslides

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) - Iranian rescue workers today clawed frantically through mountains of rubble in search of trapped survivors of a brutal earthquake that killed an estimated 25,000 people near the Caspian Sea.

More than 24 hours after the quake hit, landslides triggered by the tremor still blocked rescuers on the ground, but dozens of aircraft have begun flying out hundreds of victims, reports said.

Officials pleaded for blood, blankets and medicine, and other countries today promised to send supplies.

Dozens of communities were demolished and thousands of people buried in their homes in the quake, that measured at least 7.3 on the Richter scale. The tremor, centered 125 miles northwest of Tehran, struck at 12:30 a.m. Thursday while most Iranians were asleep.

Rescue vehicles, including ambulances and trucks carrying food, were stuck on roads in the quake-affected region, the official Islamic Republic News Agency, monitored in Cyprus.

Bad weather had hindered airlifts of supplies and victims, but some flights were able to get through early today, official Tehran Radio said. It said a fleet of 10 C-131 transport planes and 30 Chinook helicopters brought 1,700 people out of the stricken area.

The Iranian mission to the United Nations, which released the death toll of 25,000, said the count would likely rise as rescuers reached more remote areas. Tehran Radio was reporting a total of 25,000 killed or wounded but provided no breakdown.

IRNA said relief officials had compiled a list of 12,300 dead, and that about 24,000 others were hurt.

Iranian authorities did not immediately allow foreign-based reporters to enter Iran to cover the disaster.

Scenes shown on government television showed young men desperately digging at debris from flattened concrete buildings in Rasht, 175 miles northwest of Tehran, with a population of 189,000 people. Bulldozers and cranes lifted away larger pieces of debris.

A dam south of Rasht burst, flooding the surrounding area, IRNA said.

Frightened survivors in the region spent the night in the open, afraid to return to their homes in case more aftershocks. In quake-devastated towns, women in black chadors flanked by weeping children camped out in public squares.

Iran's spiritual leader, Ali Khamenei, called the disaster a "divine test" and urged the bereaved residents of the stricken provinces "to pass this test with pride through patience and cooperation."

Khamenei and President Hashemi Rafsanjani flew to the area to supervise relief operations. Rafsanjani declared three days of mourning.

More than half those killed and injured were in Zanjan province, and IRNA said the second-hardest hit was Gilan province. Telephone lines and electricity and water supplies were cut in the two provinces, which have a combined population of 2.7 million.

Offers of help poured in from around the world. Japan said today it would send a rescue team and $500,000 in emergency aid. The European Community promised $1.2 million in emergency relief, and the United States offered humanitarian assistance.

The Iranian Ambassador to the United Nations, Kamal Kharrazi, told Cable News Network that Iran badly needs medical equipment, blood, blankets and medicine.

Thursday's tremor measured 7.3 on the Richter scale, the Geophysics Center at Tehran University said. The U.S. Geological Survey, however, measured it at 7.7.

It shook buildings and shattered windows in Tehran, but apparently caused no deaths in the capital.

President Bush sent a message of condolence to Rafsanjani along with the U.S. offer of assistance. It was delivered to Iran by an unidentified country because the United States does not have diplomatic relations with Tehran.

The Richter scale measures ground motion as recorded on seismographs.

Oil moved from tanker

GALVESTON (AP) - Crews aboard the fire-ravaged Mega Borg are continuing to transfer millions of gallons of oil from the ship onto other vessels and expect the process to be finished by next week.

The tedious lightening task was delayed for a few days so salvage crews could test the stability of the 886-foot Norwegian tanker that was rocked by an explosion June 8 while transferring oil to the Italian ship Framura.

The process which began Wednesday night is being done using portable pumps because the Mega Borg's pump room was destroyed in the fire following the explosion, Coast Guard Chief Petty Officer Jerry Snyder said Thursday.

"The lightening is going well," he said. "They boosted their maximum output to 9,600 barrels per hour. It's continuing right on schedule and we expect to fill the motor vessel Janus by Saturday and then start transferring the cargo onto the motor vessel Atlantis."

The entire transfer without complications should be completed by Monday, Snyder said.

Crews already have removed 1,300,500 barrels of oil off the crippled Mega Borg, anchored 57 some miles from Galveston, he said late Thursday.

The tanker's remaining cargo estimated at 34.1 million gallons will be taken to terminals in Texas City and Houston in two trips, said Robert Klawetter, an attorney for the Mega Borg's owners. No decision has been made on whether the super tanker will be scrapped or salvaged, he said.

Coast Guard officials said 3.9 million gallons of oil leaked from the tanker, although most of it either burned, evaporated or has been skimmed from the water.

A stubborn oil slick, once 30 miles long, that resulted from the explosion, is continuing to dissipate into a series of patches offshore. Coast Guard officials said they could not predict where tar balls may wash ashore, raising the possibility that much of the oil spill may never reach the beach.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. Jim Cory's sermon for the regular 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service is titled "The Importance of Place." The scripture lesson is Genesis 28:10-22.

You are asked to pray for the Sunset Gap Community Center which was established in 1923 as a mission school for children living in the Smoky Mountains area. It now is serving people of all ages, seeking to provide a ministry of service, education, recreation, spiritual growth, and family counseling, and to host many Presbyterian workcamp experiences. The center is now linked with the ecumenical campus center in Ann Arbor, Mich., to host each spring a group of international students enrolled in the University of Michigan. This is an area of low paid seasonal work plus high unemployment which leads to a big demand for recycled clothing. The thrift shop, contributed to by Presbyterians of many states, helps supply this need for many families. The center has been effective in combatting illiteracy. Since 1966, about 500 children have gone onto local elementary and high schools, a preschool program helping to contribute to this.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) - Bill Cosby says he didn't mean to single out a football player with a 2.5 grade-point average during a May 20 visit to the University of Notre Dame.

The entertainer discussed the incident Tuesday on "Larry King Live," the Cable New Network talk show.

After giving the commencement speech at Notre Dame last month, Cosby met with about 300 people, mostly black graduates and their guests. Cosby spoke of the need to strive for excellence, pointed at football player Dean Brown and asked him his average, according to school officials and students who were there.

When Brown told him, Cosby responded, "That's nothing."

Mavericks pick up some Lever-age

DALLAS (AP) - The Dallas Mavericks, taking a cue from Western Conference champion Portland, acquired veteran All-Star guard Fat Lever from the Denver Nuggets in exchange for two first-round draft picks.

The Mavericks wanted to obtain a veteran player rather than break up the team and start again with youth.

With three first-round picks in the June 27 draft, they had a package deal in mind.

For Lever, an eight-year veteran, the Mavericks gave up the No. 9 pick, which they acquired from Washington in exchange for Jay Vincent on Sept. 3, 1986. Dallas also traded the Detroit Pistons' 1991 first-round selection, which it acquired on Feb.

15, 1989 along with Adrian Dantley in exchange for Mark Aguirre.

"To get Fat Lever for the No. 9 pick is a bargain," Mavericks coach Richie Adubato said Thursday night after the deal was completed.

But he refused to predict that Lever would have as much an impact as Buck Williams had on the Trail Blazers last season. The Blazers added Williams and went from 38-44 in 1988-89 to the NBA Finals this year.

"It's very hard to say that one situation is the same as another," Adubato said. "But Fat brings to us many of the same qualities that Buck brought to Portland. ... Everybody knows he's a winner."

Lever was en route to Hawaii early today and hadn't learned of the trade, the Mavericks said. The Mavericks sent his wife Charlene Lever a telegram in Phoenix, said team spokesman Kevin Sullivan.

"He is a fierce competitor. We know that, because he has beaten us a number of times," Adubato said.

Adubato said the trade adds "one of the premier guards to a backcourt that is considered to be one of the best in the league."

"More importantly, though, is Fat Lever's character," Adubato said, "because we want to add quality people to our team. But we want to add people that have excellent character."

"But in no way do I want anyone to get confused thinking that we did this trade because Portland was successful in their trade with Buck Williams," Sonju said.

"We tried like crazy to get him last year. We spent way more time on trying to get him last year than we did this year."

"What we really wanted - we wanted experience ..."

What's sweet about home? Ask Jays, NY

By The Associated Press

Home sweet home? Not when the Toronto Blue Jays and New York Yankees get together.

Since 1984, the Blue Jays are 26-10 in New York, including a three-game sweep last weekend.

Ironically, the Blue Jays have never swept a series from the Yankees in Toronto, and they won't break that streak this weekend following Thursday night's 7-6 loss.

In fact, the Blue Jays have failed to win more than two games at home against New York since 1984, and are 10-23 in that stretch.

"It's tradition," Yankee manager Stump Merrill said. "It's not one of those things you can put a finger on. That's just the way it is."

The way it was Thursday night was that the Yankees broke a 3-3 tie with four runs in the eighth inning, three on Matt Nokes' pinch-hit homer, and held on despite home runs by both John Olerud and George Bell, the second of the game for each.

In the only other American League games, it was Kansas City 14, Minnesota 4; Cleveland 4, Baltimore 3 in 10 innings; and California 6, Detroit 4.

The Yankees equaled their longest winning streak of the season at three games as Mel Hall also homered and rookie Alan Mills (1-2) earned his first major league victory with two innings of one-run relief.

Mills yielded Olerud's second homer - he connected off Andy Hawkins in the second inning - to start the Toronto eighth and was replaced by Dave Righetti, who earned his 14th save despite a two-run homer by Bell with two out in the ninth.

"That was the hardest ball ever hit off me," Righetti said. "That's what happens when you hang a slider."

Pinch-hitter Glenallen Hill singled, but second baseman Steve Sax leaped to knock down Olerud's liner and threw him out to end the game, with first baseman Don Mattingly digging out the low throw.

Jim Acker (1-2) took over for Toronto in the eighth after David Wells gave up three runs and eight hits in seven innings. He walked Jesse Barfield with one out and second baseman Manny Lee failed to handle Hall's bouncer for an error, sending Barfield to third.

Deion Sanders ran for Hall and stole second before Leyritz hit a smash off the glove of shortstop Tony Fernandez to snap the tie. Duane Ward replaced Acker and Nokes, batting for Bob Geren, hit his fifth home run of the season to make it 7-3.

Royals 14, Twins 4
Kevin Seitzer went 5-for-6 with a home run and two of Kansas City's eight doubles, Steve Jeltz drove in four runs and Bo Jackson hit a three-run homer.

Winning pitcher Tom Gordon (4-4) yielded four runs and six hits in 5 2-3 innings. Andy McGaffigan pitched two-hit ball over the final 3 1-3 innings for his first save. Mark Guthrie (2-2), the first of seven Minnesota pitchers, was the loser, giving up two runs and five hits in 1 2-3 innings.

Indians 4, Orioles 3
Tom Brookens' infield hit with the bases loaded and two outs in the 10th inning drove in the winning run.

Cleveland relief ace Doug Jones (3-2) pitched out of jams in the ninth

Golfer gets rare par-4 ace

HOUSTON (AP) - A hole-in-one on a golf course is not uncommon, but Jeff Hegan's hole-in-one on a 359-yard hole was.

And when Hegan aced a par-4, 16th hole Sunday at the Hidden Hills Country Club near Austin he didn't even know it because he was cutting the corner on the dogleg left.

"I actually hit the ball over some trees that are out of bounds," Hegan told The Houston Post. "I've always been a long driver, but not a straight driver."

The official witnesses were Hegan's playing partners - Paul Thornton, John Harris and Burdett Harris.

The real witness was the player who was on the 16th green trying to putt out when the ball rolled into the hole.

"He was lining up his putt, and he was mad because he thought it was my second shot," Hegan said. "He said it landed in front of the green, took three bounces and rolled in."

The longest ace on record by Golf Digest is 447 yards in 1965 in Nebraska.

"Most years we have at least one ace over 400 yards," Kay Arsenault, who keeps records for Golf Digest, said.

But that can be misleading because golfers may be shooting over icy fairways or downhill off the tee.

Last year's record was set in Texas on a 367-yard shot by Mark Woodhouse, who was playing at Vista Hills Country Club in El Paso.

and 10th innings. He struck out Mickey Tettleton with the bases loaded in the ninth and worked out of a first-and-third, none-out jam in the 10th.

Angels 6, Tigers 4
Dave Winfield and Jack Howell hit two-run homers in the first two innings and Bert Blyleven won for the sixth time in his last seven decisions.

Detroit's Jack Morris (6-8) had his four-game winning streak snapped. He was tagged for all six runs and seven hits in 2 1-3 innings. Blyleven (7-4) gave up two runs and five hits in seven innings.

Braves rally in ninth, beat Reds

ATLANTA (AP) - Manager Russ Nixon hopes it was just the tonic to get Tommy Gregg out of his hitting doldrums.

"Tommy needed something like that to happen to him," Nixon said Thursday night after Gregg, batting only .100 this season, hit a two-run pinch-hit double with two outs in the ninth inning to give the Atlanta Braves a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

"He's a much better hitter than that," Nixon said.

The hit was Gregg's seventh of the year - all in pinch-hitting roles - in 67 trips, lifting his average to .115.

"He's here to be used," Nixon said. "If they're struggling, they have to get through it."

The Cincinnati-Atlanta game was the only one scheduled in the National League.

The Braves rallied against Reds relief ace Rob Dibble (4-2) for only their second victory in nine games. Dibble's wildness led to Cincinnati's second loss in nine outings when he walked Dave Justice with one out and Greg Olson with two out.

Gregg fouled off Dibble's first 1-2 slider on the outside corner to stay alive and then drove the next pitch to the warning track in dead center, scoring Justice and pinch-runner Alexis Infante.

"That's exactly what he needed and what we needed," Olson said. "Tonight is an emotional lift that we needed."

"I'm a good hitter, I know that," Gregg said. "I expect good things to happen to me. I really needed this boost. I've been down on myself."

Gregg said he understands his role with the Braves is that of a pinch hitter. In his starts this season, he's gone 0-for-38.

The hit enabled John Smoltz (4-6) to snap a two-game losing streak. He went the distance, allowing seven hits.

The Reds had taken a 3-2 lead in their half of the ninth when Mariano Duncan reached on a fielder's choice, went to second on a balk, to third on Olson's passed ball and scored on pinch-hitter Ken Griffey's sacrifice fly to center.

"A game like that is gratifying and great, but I want to keep it going," Smoltz said. "I can't tell you what it meant getting a victory."

Smoltz said he didn't feel very well, fighting a summer cold and a sore throat. "I got my second wind after the fourth or fifth inning."

"It looked like Smoltz got stronger as the game went along," Griffey said. "He was throwing us all sliders. We didn't see any fastballs."

Reds manager Lou Piniella refused to meet with members of the media after the game, one that could have given the Reds a nine-game lead over idle San Francisco had Dibble protected the lead in the ninth.

"The Braves played us hard this series," Cincinnati's Billy Hatcher said. "We should be happy to get out of here 2-2. They were four well-played, hard-fought games."

World Cup relaxes, kicks back for time

ROME (AP) - The World Cup can stop now to catch its breath.

The soccer championships are through one strange first round in which outsiders such as Cameroon and Costa Rica advanced, highly regarded Soviet and Austrian teams did not. The five Latin American countries - Costa Rica, Colombia, Brazil, Argentina and Uruguay - moved on. The United States flopped.

On Thursday, England and Spain won their groups, Uruguay survived on a last-second goal and FIFA had to conduct a lottery for the first time to determine second-round matchups involving the Netherlands and Ireland.

Also Thursday, one English fan died and at least 24 people were injured in a bus accident. Three buses in a six-vehicle caravan collided near Cagliari on the island of Sardinia.

Italian police and the Carabinieri paramilitary police identified the dead man as Robert Hawkins, 18. Most of the injured were treated at area hospitals and released.

Authorities said one bus was trying to pass a stopped car and paused to let another car go around it. A second bus hit it, and a third bus then hit the back of the second one.

There were no incidents of violence after England's 1-0 win over Egypt gave it the Group F title. Spain edged Belgium 2-1 to win Group E. When Ireland, which tied the Netherlands 1-1, then beat the Dutch in a lottery to determine second and third place in Group F, it set up the following second-round games:

On Saturday, Cameroon plays Colombia and Czechoslovakia takes on Costa Rica. Sunday, it will be the 1988 European champion Netherlands against West Germany and defending champion Argentina vs. Brazil - four of the powerhouses of soccer meeting in the round of 16.

Monday, Ireland plays Romania and Uruguay goes against Italy. The second phase, in which games are decided by shootouts if they are tied after regulation and 30 minutes of overtime, ends Tuesday with Spain - Yugoslavia and Belgium-England.

England got a goal from defender Mark Wright in the 58th minute to edge Egypt and win the closest division.

"It has been the tightest group because no one has managed to score many goals," England manager Bobby Robson said. "Teams have produced solid defenses and have not been able to penetrate each other."

Uruguay rarely penetrated the South Korean defense Thursday and seemed headed out of the tournament it has won twice but has not recorded a victory in since 1970. In the dying seconds, however, Alfonso Dominguez took a long free kick that Daniel Fonseca outjumped two defenders to head into the net for a 1-0 win.

"I looked up and thanked God," said the 20-year-old Fonseca, making his World Cup debut. "My job when I was sent in was to score a goal and get Uruguay qualified."

Belgium and Spain already had qualified when they hooked up. But the Spanish, feeling slighted about not getting seeded above the Belgians, were on a mission. Led by midfielder Michel, they achieved their goal.

Michel had a goal, his tournament-leading fourth, and an assist in the 2-1 victory.

"I complained because I believed we had won our seeding on the field of play, just like now when we won the group," Coach Luis Suarez said. "They took it away from us for other reasons."

No matter, Michel scored on a penalty kick and his corner kick was headed in by Alberto Gorritz. That was enough.

With England winning, a tie was enough for the Dutch and Irish, and they gladly settled for it.

"We did not play excellent soccer," said Dutch star Ruud Gullit, who got their goal, "but we have advanced, which was our main objective."

Ireland, in the World Cup for the first time, caught up on Niall Quinn's goal in the 71st minute.

"It is a great achievement for us, being in such a difficult group, to have qualified," Manager Jack Charlton said.

King Henry IV of France signed the Edict of Nantes, which granted rights to the Protestant Huguenots, in 1598. Thomas Jefferson, the third president of the United States, was born in what is now Albemarle County, Va., in 1743.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The problem of "Cynthia in Atlanta," who wanted to marry her boyfriend of two years but maintain separate homes because both of them were loners, interested me. My boyfriend and I are also loners, and when discussing the matter of living together, we realized that being a couple doesn't mean you must spend every minute in each other's presence.

I come from a highly intrusive family. There was no privacy, no respect for solitude, and no boundaries of any kind when I was growing up. When I got my own apartment and learned to relish the quiet and privacy, I couldn't imagine giving it up to live with a man.

There are important skills developed in any form of communal living, from sharing an apartment to sharing a planet. This territory is mine; that territory is yours; the other is ours. I respect your need for privacy, and I expect you to respect mine.

My suggestion to Cynthia would be to explore, perhaps with a professional counselor, ways to share a life while respecting your partner's need to be alone. Establish rules that include specific guidelines stating when you can and when you cannot be interrupted. Make clear what you consider private (such as desks, diaries or closets) and the division of labor in shared areas. If possible, get a new apartment, neither yours nor his, but "ours." Make certain that it is large enough to have private rooms for hobbies, solitude and a feeling of your own space. If all this is done before you move in together, the chances for a successful relationship are infinitely better. -- New Britain, Conn.

DEAR NEW BRIT: Thanks for the blueprint. It makes a lot of sense for those who have decided to marry or live together without marriage even though I never did think living together was a good idea -- and I still don't.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please print this as a personal plea to all your readers who might drink and drive. Dear Friend: I'm 29 years old. When I was 4, my grandfather was killed in a car accident on New Year's Eve. He was struck by a drunk driver. My only memory of him is his funeral.

When I was 10 years old, my brother was killed while coming home after serving in Vietnam. He was within a few miles of home when the car he was riding in swerved to avoid a car driven by a drunk driver. Yesterday we buried my father, who was killed in a head-on collision while going to work. That driver was also drunk. Dad was 57. He had never touched alcohol. He and Mom were married 39 years and had five children and 15 grandchildren. My children will never know their wonderful grandfather because they were too young when he died. This is a tremendous loss. He was a terrific person.

Please, dear readers of Ann Landers' column, if you drink I'm begging you to think about my family before you get behind the wheel of your car. Haven't we been through enough? -- Wapakoneta, Ohio

DEAR OHIO: I hope your letter makes a solid impact on those who need to be reminded that alcohol and driving can be a deadly combination. Thanks for saying it so well. My heartfelt condolences to you and your family.

Gem of the Day: If you want to teach your children the value of a dollar, you had better hurry up.

Lake Tanganyika, perhaps the oldest of the lakes in Africa's Great Rift, is the world's second-deepest lake at 4,800 feet. It is exceeded only by Siberia's Lake Baykal.

Happy hunting.

It's garage sale season, the time when everyone is offering bargains or looking for bargains. Turn your unwanted goods into treasure with a Hereford Brand Classified Ad. If your garage sale is on Friday and Saturday, bring in your classified before 3 p.m. Wednesday so it will be in the Thursday and Friday issues of the Brand. Give it to Janey Allmon at the front desk. For a two-day, 20-word ad it costs just $4.80. Don't forget: if you live in the city of Hereford you must have a garage sale permit. You can get your permit at City Hall, then drive a half-block to the Brand and put in your classified ad. If you don't know how to word your ad, Janey can help you. She can help you have a very successful garage sale!

AXYDLBAAXR IS LONGFELLOW

One letter stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

The Community: Part 2

What is a community?

A community is a group of people who have something in common, shared by all. In our case, it's that we live in the same area. Our children go to school together. We attend the same churches, yell at the same ball games, play dominoes at the same senior center or domino hall.

Our taxes go into the same pot, to provide us with water systems, fire and police protection, roads, schools and hospitals. We share the same wide open spaces, the beautiful sunsets, the clear open skies at night. We cherish the small town atmosphere.

Most of us have chosen to live here even though we may have originally come from some distant place. Our community grows on you. The longer you stay, the harder it is to leave. Here we can raise our kids and know our neighbor, grow our gardens, or keep a horse.

The Hereford Brand is a vital part of this community. We read the local paper for news we can't get anywhere else, for ads we won't see anywhere else. The Brand feels the pulse of our community-city and county commissions, school board, hospital, senior citizens, school kids. It gives us honor rolls, lunch menus, birth announcements, weddings, ball games, chili suppers and church events. When we read the local newspaper, we see ourselves, our community, reflected.

If the local newspaper didn't tell us those things, nobody would. Not the Globe-News, not the Avalanche-Journal, not channels 4, 7 or 10. This isn't their community, it's ours. The local paper is not the center of the community. You are. But every community needs a good local newspaper.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

WHEN THE PROPHET JONAH PREACHED TO THE PEOPLE OF NINEVEH AND TOLD THEM GOD WOULD DESTROY THEIR GREAT CITY AND ALL OF THEM BECAUSE OF THEIR SINFUL WAYS, THE PEOPLE, FROM THE KING DOWN TO THE LOWEST BEGGAR, REPENTED OF THEIR SINS AND GOD FORGAVE THEM AND DID NOT DESTROY NINEVEH!

BUT JONAH WAS ANGRY THAT NINEVEH WASN'T DESTROYED AS HE HAD PROPHESIED AND HE URGED GOD TO CARRY OUT HIS WORD, CAMPING OUTSIDE THE CITY TO SEE IF GOD WOULD DESTROY IT!

ONLY AFTER GOD DESTROYED A VINE, THAT SHADED JONAH FROM THE SUN, DID THE PROPHET COME TO REALIZE THAT GOD WAS TRYING TO SHOW HIM THAT MERCY WAS FAR GREATER THAN SELF-RIGHTEOUSNESS!

NEXT WEEK: A KINGDOM LOST BECAUSE OF A KING'S LAZINESS!
