Sights and Faces Seen

Mrs. Carl Cockrell went to work last week as bookkeeper for the Consumers' Fuel Association. Mrs. Cockrell takes the place of Mrs. George Miller, who has left to make her home in Beaumont.

B. V. Armstrong of Borger will be acting railway express agent in Hereford until September 1, while regular agent Hank Ramey is on his vacation.

Wm. McGehee says he can't get his candidates elected so he is going into the onion business. (There may be a comparison here but Mr. McGehee was too polite to point it out.) Anyway, he really is successful at growing onions and this week brought in a 31 ounce specimen to prove it.

And another Hereford citizen who has been displaying some prize produce this week is H. H. Hawkins who brought in a very fine peach. He did not give the name of the variety but if Mr. Hawkins raised very many peaches like that sample he certainly disproved the state.

Public School Faculty Shows More Additions

With the hiring of a science teacher for the high school and four more teachers for the elementary grades, the faculty of the Hereford Public Schools was complete this week as registration of high school students started.

New teachers named for the elementary schools are Mrs. Helen Pruett Carter, B. M., N. T. S. T. C., who will teach music; Miss Lillie Lloyd Jackson of Aberrathy, a graduate of W. T. S. C., who will teach social studies; Miss Winnie Lee Williams, Chillicothe, who holds a M. S. degree from W. T. S. C., and Miss Louise Masters, Sweetwater, a graduate of T. S. C. W., who will teach art and handwriting.

New teachers previously named include Miss Lucy Hedgecock, Miss Mary Katherine Easton, Miss Georgine Falls, Miss Charlotte Wheat, Miss Mary Lou Hawkins and O. M. Stewart.

War Price And Ration Board Sets Tire Dates

Members of the county war price and rationing board will be in their office at the courthouse on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons beginning at two o'clock to issue tires. Criss Renfro announced today, stating that hereafter no applications for canning sugar will be taken on those afternoons.

This change is being made to enable the board to do its work more efficiently. Mr. Renfro states, declaring that there have been such large crowds in the office on some afternoons that it has been almost impossible to get any work done.

Applications for canning sugar will continue to be taken by Miss Ruth Bowsler, secretary of the board, on every week-day morning, from nine until 12 o'clock and on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from one until six. The rationing board office closes at noon on Saturdays.

Mr. Renfro repeated the instructions concerning applications for canning sugar, stating that applicants must bring the rationing book for each member of the family, must know how much fruit was canned last year, how much is now on hand, and the number of quarts for which canning sugar is now needed.

Stamp No. 8
Stamp No. 8 is good for five pounds of sugar, any time from now until October 31. This five pound allowance does not, however, increase the weekly allowance of one-half pound for each person as the stamp is simply good for a longer period of time than other stamps have been. No other stamp is valid at this time.

Fill Out All Address Blanks on "V-Mail"

Postmaster J. R. Lipscomb this week pointed out that the V-Mail service recently instituted for communication with men in the armed forces overseas is now well past the experimental stage but that post office authorities are still having some trouble with letters which are incorrectly addressed.

The V-Mail service provides a special letter sheet form—a combination letter and envelope of uniform size and design—and the message name and address of the addressee and return address of the writer are all inserted in a plainly marked space on the inside of the envelope. There is also a place for the address on the outside of the envelope but this serves only to direct the letter to a port of embarkation, where it is opened and the inside message and address is photographed.

500 Tons of Junk Pledged By Farmers

The salvage canvass conducted last Thursday by about 120 Deaf Smith County men and women revealed that there are approximately 500 tons of vitally needed scrap metal on the farms of the county and property owners co-operated wholeheartedly in pledging to deliver the scrap to their salvage dealer not later than Saturday August 29, date of the nationwide junk rally.

The 500 tons pledged last week is at least twice as much as has been collected in all previous salvage drives in the county and is a good indication of the wealth of scrap metal which is rusting on America's farms, according to members of the county salvage committee, who declare that if all property owners bring in junk in accordance with their pledges the county will be doing its part in averting a threatened slow-up of industrial production because of lack of raw and salvage materials.

Urlin Streu, A. J. Schroeter, A. R. Bateman and Leonard Foster express the appreciation of the committee for the splendid help of the 120 volunteer workers who assisted in the canvass last week and for the pledges of cooperation by farmers of the territory.

A. J. Schroeter said today that persons wishing to contribute their scrap to the community scrap pile can leave salvage materials on the lot back of the N. E. Milburn Service Station.

Funeral Rites Pending For Father of Glen Weir

V. C. Weir, 82 years old, father of Glen Weir of Hereford, died early Wednesday morning at his home in Friona.

Mr. Weir had lived in Friona since 1910.

Funeral arrangements were pending information from one of Mr. Weir's sons, who lives in Ohio. The widow, two other sons, and a daughter, Mrs. L. Lillard, live in Friona.

College Round Up Set For Early Edition

Going to college this year? If you are, The Brand would like to have your name, the name of the school you will attend and your classification, because this year as in the past we will publish a "round up" of college students and we want it to be complete.

So if you are going to college call Mrs. John McLean, society editor, at number 181, and give her the information she will need for her story. Try to call within the next week as many colleges start their fall term by the second week in September and The Brand wishes to publish the story a few days before the annual college exodus starts.

Wheat Crop Insurance Deadline August 31

If you want to insure your 1943 wheat crop, you'd better hurry to your county AAA office and get your name on the dotted line.

For Monday, August 31, is the last day on which applications for Federal all-risk wheat crop insurance can be obtained under the new plan in which the producer insures his crops for the next three years, E. R. Duke, Texas wheat crop insurance supervisor, warned this week.

To date 3,397 applications for insurance have been received in the state office, but several thousand more are expected.

Meanwhile, 1942 insured producers who had crop losses have been receiving indemnity payments. Duke reports 5,493 claims totaling $41,246 bushels have been paid to Texas producers so far.

Buy Federal Car Stamp Or Pay Penalty

George C. Moudy, deputy collector of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, tagged about 100 cars in Hereford last week and stated Monday that he would be here again sometime after Sept. 1 to check again on car owners who have failed to buy or properly display the federal automobile tax stamp.

About 60 of the cars tagged belonged to owners who had purchased a stamp and had it in their possession but failed to stick it on the windshield or some other place where it would be easily visible. Ten owners have made affidavit that the stamp was lost or stolen and 22 owners bought stamps on the order of the deputy collector. Ten other car owners failed to appear on the first notice, Moudy said, and these delinquents were assessed fines ranging from $5 to $25.

No penalty was charged those who answered the first call last week, but Moudy warns that the owner of any car tagged after the first of September will be assessed penalties of from $5 to $25.

Hereford Girl Appears On Radio Program Sunday

Miss Dorothy Dee Wilde, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilde of Hereford will be presented in a radio program Sunday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock over radio station KFDA in Amarillo.

Dorothy Dee, a student of Mary Roberts Warner of Amarillo, has also studied under Miss Mattie Mae Swisher of Hereford and has made an unusual record as a vocalist.

She has appeared on other radio programs, but this is the first on which she will be the featured artist. Last week Dorothy Dee entertained members of her mother's home demonstration club and guests with a vocal program when the group met at the Wilde home.

Tuesday Bond Sale Night At Movie Houses

The motion picture industry has been designated spearhead of the September War Bond and Stamp campaign and Hereford Theatres will join with those of the rest of the nation in staging a "Salute To Our Heroes" at nine o'clock, Tuesday night, Sept. 1, Manager Chas. Hardwick said today.

The show will stop, the colors will be displayed and then will come a brief talk urging the purchase of bonds. Mr. Hardwick states that he will give a free theatre ticket to every person who buys a bond through the theatre.

The theme of the campaign is "Buy a Bond to Honor Every Mother's Son in Service," and the plan is based on sentiment and pride in the local men who are fighting the war.

Already sales of bonds through the picture theatres of America have amounted to $18,000,000 and (Continued on page 10)

St. Anthony's School Opens September 7th

St. Anthony's Parochial School will open Monday, Sept. 7, the same date as the public schools, Father Nathaniel Madden announced this week, stating that the Franciscan sisters from Amarillo will be in charge of the school this year.

Sister Aloysius will be in charge of St. Anthony's school for the coming term and as yet no figures have been released on the possible enrollment; though the parochial school, as well as the public schools, is expected to see some increase as the result of defense activities in the area.

Rain Totals 2.75 Inches

Rainfall at Hereford since last Thursday has amounted to 2.75 inches to bring the total for the month to more than six inches. However, the hard rain which fell here last Friday night was spotted over the county, and not all areas have received as heavy rains as fell here. Moisture Monday night amounted to 1.45 inches and was reported general over the Hereford territory.

Farmers, eager to get into the fields and start fall planting operations, this week were ready for the rains to stop; and potato growers report that digging has been considerably slowed up by the rains.

Benefit to row crops has been great and a good season provided for wheat by rains this month. Forty year figures show August to be the wettest month in the year in this area and 1942 is proving no exception.

Local Woman Dies Suddenly

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the family farm home northwest of Hereford for Mrs. Georgie Elizabeth Lewis, 66 years old, who died suddenly Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Lewis was in the yard with her daughter, Miss Ara Lewis, when she was stricken. Miss Lewis was unable to move her mother and had to get help from neighbors. Mrs. Lewis died almost immediately.

A resident of Deaf Smith County since 1927, Mrs. Lewis came here from Quanah. Of eight children, only one daughter, Miss Ara Lewis of Hereford, survives.

Other survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Birdie Petross, New Mexico; Mrs. Rose Wheat, and Mrs. Alice Bruster, both of Blanket, Tex., and one brother, Aaron Hulse, Sulphur Springs. Rev. Marvin B. Norwood was in charge of the last rites.

Benefield Sale Offers Good Machinery Values

Some unusually good values in farm machinery and livestock are feature offerings at the sale tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the H. L. Benefield place 1 1/2 miles northeast of Hereford on Highway 80.

H. L. and Mark Benefield, owners are selling the equipment because of the difficulty in securing labor to carry out farming operations and with the shortage of new farm machinery manufactures, the equipment offered is a good buy at this time.

Lloyd Otten is auctioneer and Ray Barber sales manager.

Biggest Senior Class In History At HHS

With the biggest senior class in history, Hereford High School enrollment today promised to be considerably higher than last year. Supt. Knox Kinard reported today as freshmen started their enrollment. Tomorrow is set for the enrollment of students who failed to come in on the day set for their classes and by next week a fairly clear picture of high school enrollment will be ready, Mr. Kinard said.

The senior class will number approximately 75, school authorities say, and the junior class which was expected to be fairly small will be considerably larger than was anticipated.

Only new study offered at the high school this year is the pre-flight course, which school authorities said was filling up rapidly with upper-classes.

Football practice starts Tuesday, Sept. 1, in charge of Coach H. V. Stanton and the boys will have only a little more than a week to get ready for the first game of the season with Dimmitt.

The senior band started practice last Thursday night and sessions will be held each Tuesday and Thursday night at 8:30 at the high school auditorium until the start of school.

Baird Heads Ticket In County Judge Race

Evangelist

Rev. L. B. Rickman, pastor of the Christian Church at Plainview who is now preaching at the Christian Church in a series of Evangelistic services.

In a vote considerably smaller than that of the first primary, Deaf Smith County Saturday elected Fred W. Baird the Democratic candidate for county judge, and reversed the trend of the first primary by giving James V. Allred a plurality over his opponent W. Lee O'Daniel who was renominated by an approximately 14,000 vote plurality according to State-wide returns of yesterday.

Mr. Baird was elected by a 61 vote margin over his opponent, L. H. Foster, and Allred lead O'Daniel by 60 votes in this county. Deaf Smith voters also gave Judge E. C. Nelson a good margin in his race for the civil appeals bench, but Judge E. L. Piffs of Lubbock was the voter's favorite in the district.

Other state officers chosen Saturday were John L. Smith of Throckmorton County, Lieutenant governor; Jesse James, state treasurer; and Beauford Jester, railroad commissioner, unexpired term.

Interest Good At Christian Church Revival

Interest was reported excellent this week in the revival meeting which began Sunday at the Christian Church and will continue through Sunday night services, Sept. 6.

Young people meet at 8:30 o'clock each week day night except Saturday for a brief worship service preceding the regular preaching service which starts at 8:45.

Response has been good to the messages of Rev. L. B. Rickman, pastor of the Plainview Christian Church and evangelist for the meeting and Hereford people have especially enjoyed the song service under the direction of Rev. S. W. Hutton (Continued on Page 10)

Legion Collects 620 Records—Will Still Accept Contributions

The campaign for "records for fighting men" in Hereford has netted 620 records, which have already been shipped, Commander J. C. Ricketts of the American Legion announced today.

However, Mr. Ricketts stated that the campaign is not yet closed and that any persons who have records to contribute should call him or L. H. Foster and Legion members or representative will call for the collection.

The old phonograph records collected are melted down and the material used for new recordings for American Service Men on all the War fronts.

Farm Meeting Attracts Farmers From Four Counties Here September 2nd

Farmers from four counties of this area will hear latest reports on legislative and administrative decrees affecting agriculture at a meeting to be held under the auspices of the Farm Bureau in Hereford, Wednesday, September 2.

The conference, in which farmers from Deaf Smith, Oldham, Potter, and Randall counties will participate, is one of a series of sub-district meetings scheduled in the Panhandle next week for a consideration of agriculture's status in a world at war.

Reports will be given by state and national Farm Bureau leaders on some of these issues facing agriculture today as brought out at the recent Southern regional farm conference in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Effects of ceiling prices on agricultural commodities, the farm labor situation, the all-out battle to maintain full production through parity prices, the necessity for a strong farm organization, and many other current problems will be discussed.

Featured speaker will be R. O. Arnold, organization director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, whose forceful presentation of agriculture's position has made him a widely-known and popular speaker throughout the South.

W. M. Deck of Bryan, vice-president of the Texas Farm Bureau, will preside and discuss various points brought out at the Raleigh conference, and G. W. Haggard of Waco, editor of Texas Agriculture, will explain latest developments in the move to increase the production of synthetic rubber from grain. A round-table discussion of local farm problems will follow the talks.

The meeting will begin at 2:30 P. M. in the Deaf Smith County courthouse at Hereford. All interested farmers are invited to attend.

From the People

MY IMPRESSIONS OF THE PEOPLE OF HEREFORD AND DEAF SMITH COUNTY

Greetings:
It has been a great pleasure to me to be in this county and town, this being my first visit to this part of the State of Texas. I have lived in several states and at present I am living in Florida. I came here at the request of some people in Amarillo to look after business interests of my niece who is ill. My impressions of this county and its people have been very good in a business and social way. This county, I am informed has a million acre almost all of it being very fertile and if you had the rainfall, the crops would be so large that you would have no where to store them. As this year, thousands and thousands of bushels of wheat are probably on the ground unsheltered. I enjoy looking at the large pile of wheat, said to be the largest in the world, which I have no doubt is true. It is 100 feet wide, 620 feet long, 35 feet high in the center and 8 feet at the side walls. It contains 600,000 bushels of wheat and requires $5,000 dollars worth of cloth to cover it from the rain. There are a number of elevators, with one very large one under construction. I was informed that the Fraser people, when their elevator is finished, will have storage for 1,300,000 bushels of wheat. I am sure that Pitman has as large space with several small elevators in this county. Potatoes is another profitable crop here. I find them to be as fine as any grown anywhere and am told that the farmers realize from $300 to $500 per acre from the crop. Onions are also profitably grown and shipped in bags to all parts of the country. But I almost forgot to mention the cattle industry. In this county the largest steer in the world was grown and presented to the late lamented Will Rogers. Photographs of that steer can be bought here on post cards. Will Rogers was a product of the plains, his homely philosophy was enjoyed by people of all walks of life and it was a sad day when he lost his life with Wiley Post in the wilds of Alaska. I notice with pleasure that Hereford has no liquor stores. I am a former police judge of a small town in Kentucky and I know something about the liquor business and what it does to people. This town has very nice churches. I think the Baptist is the largest and the Methodist next, other denominations are well represented. Last, but not least, we have a newspaper. It has a very unique name, in fact one which I have never heard before—"The Hereford Brand." I forgot to call your attention to a park here. In all my travels, I have been to Richmond, Va., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Florida, but I have never seen a more beautiful park than this one which bears the man's name who spent the last days of his life developing and caring for it. It is Gregg Park. I am going back to Kentucky to visit my only daughter, but I am hoping someday to come back to Hereford and see these good people again.

Rapid Promotion For Mechanics In Army Air Force, Recruiter States

Experienced mechanics and radiomen who want to serve in the United States Army Air Forces will be put right to work upon planes and equipment immediately upon enlistment. Sgt. T. K. Morris, in charge of Army Recruiting in Amarillo said today.

"The Air Forces need, right now, all the men they can get who are experienced in the use of hand tools—who can go to work maintaining and repairing airplanes, engines, instruments, guns and equipment," Sgt. Morris explained. "They should be capable of becoming non-commissioned officers specialists, and some of them will be trained for air crews, thus earning an added fifty per cent of their base pay for flying duty."

"Men who have been mechanics of any kind—household appliance servicemen, armorers or gunsmiths, automobile mechanics, bench assemblers, bicycle repairmen, electricians, jewelers, locksmiths, radio operators or mechanics including amateurs, metal workers, telegraphers, watchmakers and repairmen, farm mechanics, and others of similar trades and crafts—should be able to qualify."

"Of course," Sgt. Morris continued, "We don't expect a man who has been, say, an electric refrigerator serviceman to go right to work on an airplane engine and fix it. He'll have to be given some sort of training. But he'll be trained on the job—he'll learn the difference between an electric refrigerator and an airplane motor by fixing an airplane motor that needs fixing, under expert supervision."

The Army Air Forces, he pointed out, need great numbers of aircraft mechanics, radiomen, armorers, welders and metal workers. Mechanics inspect and repair airplanes; radiomen operate, adjust and repair various types of transmitting and receiving equipment; armorers inspect and repair machine guns, cannon, cameras, bomb racks, sights and synchronizers; welders work on all types of parts and equipment, and metal workers cut and form sheet metal, using hand tools and metal working machinery.

"I think this opportunity is one many skilled men have been looking for," Sgt. Morris concluded. "In this way, mechanics and radiomen can get the sort of service they want, at the jobs most nearly like those they have had in civilian life, with chances for rapid advancement. The only requirements are that a man be between 18 and 44 years old, and able to pass a simple test to determine his ability to do the required work, to pass the physical examination for field service. He may be married or single. "If they want further information, tell them to come to me. The Air Forces need them and it's my job to see that they know it."

Figures Prove Soldiers Are Better Behaved Than Civilian Population

It now develops beyond any doubt that this new U. S. Army is good—and by "good" in this case is meant well-behaved, disciplined, law and order abiding. This fact came out through studies of the army's courts martial record as compiled by the Judge Advocate General's department.

Principal cause of this apparent improvement in behavior comes from the army's new ideas on how to administer military justice to the men in service who do occasionally break over the traces. Today the army doesn't have the old idea that every time a soldier breaks one of the Articles of War, which is the military code of laws, the offender should be haled before a court martial, tried and given appropriate sentence as provided for in the table of maximum punishments in the Manual of Courts Martial. There is a punishment tailored to fit every crime in this tabulation, from death for sleeping on post in time of war or desertion in the face of the enemy, down to minor offenses which call for forfeiture of pay, confinement to quarters or a few days in the guard house.

A short time before the defense army began to be built up, the army brass hats came to the sensible decision that in order to give maximum training to every soldier, the only kind of a guard house which did the army any good was an empty guard house, and furthermore it was silly to take up the time of a lot of officers conducting courts martial. Instead of preferring formal charges and bringing soldiers before a military court on all petty offenses, commanding officers now award administrative punishment such as a reprimand or extra duty unless the soldier demands trial by court martial. The soldier naturally chooses the former. Punishment is swift.

Figures Prove It

The elimination of useless and time-consuming trials was carried right up through the entire system of military justice. Direct punishment by company commanders was substituted for Summary Court Martial, which corresponds to the lowest justice of the peace court in civilian life. Similarly special courts martial for more serious offenses and general courts martial for most serious crimes were handled by the lower courts when ever possible. The result has been a tremendous decrease in the number of trials by military tribunal, as compared with the first World War.

Figuring it another way, for the fiscal year, 1941, last period for which there are complete records available, the number of General Courts Martial specifications or charges made was 5,369 of which the number of counts which were convictions was only 4,657. The commonest offenses charged were: desertion, 1,518; petit larceny, 687; absent without leave, 483; escape of prisoner, 175; forgery, 142; grand larceny, 110; robbery, 43.

Better Than Civilians

All along the line of military justice, therefore, there has been a lightening of sentences and courts martial proceedings, predicated on the theory that there should be a minimum escape from military service. The army system of military justice encourages this practice. Every company commander must read the Articles of War to his soldiers, and explain them and so, under army discipline, a soldier knows that when he breaks an order there will be punishment. Crime rates in the army tend to go down in time of war. There is less leisure time, for one thing, and for another, the new citizen army gets carefully selected men, many of a higher educational level than in a peace time army. Green officers tend to hold more courts martial than experienced officers. The general court martial rate of the U. S. army was 24 per 1,000 soldiers in 1932, in 1938 it was down to 15, but in 1941 it was down to 4 per 1,000. Which makes the army much better behaved than the civilian population.

ON THE HOME FRONT Shall We Win the War or Profit From It?

The United States spirit of the offense is abroad. The enemy is being fought wherever he is found—afloat, ashore, aloft, and at home.

The fight remains to be won on all fronts, but it is under way.

Simultaneously with the development of offensive actions in the far places of the earth, Price Administrator Leon Henderson sounded the clarion at home. Time has come, he said, for a "third front—or a fourth—in the war of inflation and profiteering."

The question is whether we want to win this war or whether we want personally to profit from it, he declared in a speech in Norfolk, Va.

Up To Consumer

He asked the united support of workers, businessmen, housewives, and professional people throughout America in the new offensive at home.

As a part of the battle, all individuals—as consumers—are asked to patronize only those merchants who have posted their prices in compliance with price control regulations. They are asked to refuse to patronize those, who through design, are palpably evading the regulations.

Such an expression is necessary to show the will and determination to make the price control work. Without control the advance would have been much greater. How much greater, none could say.

Office of Price Administration figures show that prices on commodities that are under control, have gone down, which is an achievement. But balanced against the rise on costs that are not controlled, the achievement is erased.

Farmers & Workers Haxe Key

Facing this reality, Henderson issued his appeal for public cooperation. "The offensive can be launched, and it can succeed, only through the cooperation of two great American groups—the farmers and the workers," he said. "It rests with the congress and with those groups to determine whether we shall now move ahead in this battle. I have already begun that battle."

He already is working with Secretary of Agriculture Wickard on a plan for a ceiling on some farm prices. Many such prices, over which the OPA has no control, are now up.

Henderson declared that the wage earner must be prepared to forego wage increases beyond those clearly dictated by necessity, must be prepared to accept stabilization of wages, and must be prepared to enlist in the Home Front offensive. In addition, he said that corporations—big and small—also must accept the necessity for reduced incomes both for their stockholders and their officers.

Material Shortage Serious
Price control is only one phase of the complex Home Front mechanism. Others are materials, production, distribution, rationing, and salvage. All these and much else combine to make the cogs and gears and wheels that keep us rolling at home while our military forces take the offensive abroad.

For weeks and months it has been increasingly apparent that another vital part of this complicated machine is not functioning as well as it might. We are short of materials. Now, the shortage extends beyond the mere need for civilian restrictions. It is affecting our manufacturer of equipment for our armed services.

Among recent War Production Board orders was the one even restricting the use of rubber in many military items, including cartridge clip boxes and gun grips. This rubber shortage also is evident in instructions to ration boards to reduce further their eligibility lists for tires.

Another military restriction now limits the use of aluminum to products for field or combat use.

Salvage Vital

The shortage of materials again emphasizes another phase of the Home Front offensive—the continuing need for saving materials and salvage. None can close his ears to the crying need for salvage and collecting of scrap. When we stop hunting for scrap, we are courting failure and defeat.

Many new salvage ideas are being pressed. New groups have been enlisted. All these enterprises will help, but they are not enough.

Only if each individual enlists personally in the salvage campaign and does his full part will there be enough—barely for our needs and to assure victory in the military offensive.

ties, because a special law providing a closed season in those counties for five years expired this month.

3. Wild turkeys may be taken in Brown County beginning with this year's open season. A law protecting the turkeys for five years in this county expires this month. As was the case last year, the bag limit on deer in Brown County will be one per season.

4. Deer and wild turkey may be taken in Taylor County beginning with this year's open season, because of the expiration of a three-year protective law on May 15.

7. Seining and netting of any kind of fish is now permitted in the West Fork of the Trinity River in Wise County, because a law that prohibited these practices for three years expired on February 15.

8. In Cass, Bowie and Marion Counties it is now lawful to trap fur-bearing animals anywhere, provided the trespass law is observed, because of the expiration April 26 of a five-year law that forbade trapping except on one's own property. It is still unlawful, however, to take pelts of fur-bearers except during the months of December and January, with the exception of Cass County, where under terms of a law passed last year, wild fox may be killed and their pelts sold during the month of December only.

9. It is now legal to kill fox at any time, and to market their pelts during December and January only, in Lamar, Fannin, Smith and Red River Counties, because of the expiration this month of a special law that gave complete protection to these animals for five years.

The changes principally affect deer and turkey hunting. Sportsmen were advised to note these changes carefully, and to procure upon publication a copy of the handy pocket-fitting Digest. They may be obtained free of charge from Game Wardens, County Clerks, and most sporting goods dealers.

Air Raid Rehearsal

Pupils in a Seattle school crouch between desks, wraps over their heads, during an air raid precaution drill. This precaution is prescribed for pupils in one-story buildings where there is no basement, for protection against flying glass and splinters. Halls may be unsafe because of windows and skylights.

Specialists in Precautions

Rural California students, in the eighth grade, cover classroom windows to prevent injury to children in the event of an air raid.

Seed Treatment To Control Smut

Chemical seed treatment is cheap insurance against losses from smut in winter grain crops, says E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. Wheat, oats and barley are subject to this fungus disease. Unless the grower is certain that his seed is not infected it should be thoroughly cleaned and then treated before being planted.

Stinking smut of wheat often is not noticed in the field unless the grower is familiar with the symptoms. When wheat is headed the leaves of infected plants are a darker green than those of healthy plants. Before ripening the smutty heads also are a slightly darker green than the healthy ones. The diseased young kernels turn into balls of smut consisting of millions of spores. During threshing the spores are spread over the healthy seed, and unless it is treated before planting the smut spores will germinate along with the wheat, especially if the weather is rather cool after planting.

Chemical treatments consist of cleaning the wheat by fanning or otherwise removing the smut balls and treating the seed either with two ounces a bushel of 50 per cent grade of copper carbonate, or one-half ounce a bushel of ethyl mercury phosphate, known as new improved ceresan. Many growers prefer the ceresan treatment because copper carbonate has a tendency to clog grain drills, especially in damp weather.

Treat the grain in a container—an oil drum will do—having a tight fitting lid. Solder a pipe diagonally across the drum, extending about one foot on either side with a handle on one end so the container can be revolved when this axis is placed on two sawhorses. For small amounts any tight fitting container may be used.

No one has time these days for hard-to-make desserts or intricate recipes that may cause a waste if everything doesn't turn out just right. Simple menus are always welcome and well planned and much more in harmony with the rationed food lists and high cost of food today.

There's no trick involved in making this Robert Montgomery Dessert for its easily gotten together and easily served. The recipe belongs to Mrs. N. E. Malbury. Follow her directions carefully and you'll be serving it on many occasions for its that stimulating kind of dessert that sounds out any type of meal.

Let's Cook Something

ROBERT MONTGOMERY DESSERT

- 1-2 cup butter
- 3-4 cup powdered sugar
- 4 eggs
- 1-2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons sweet milk

Cream butter, add sugar gradually and cream well. Add vanilla and well beaten egg yolks and add the flour alternately with the milk. Spread batter in 10x12 pan and top with the stiffly beaten egg whites to which one cup granulated sugar has been added. Sprinkle with 1-2 cup chopped nuts and bake in 325 oven 35 or 40 minutes.

When cool cut in squares and serve with whipped cream to which a little crushed pineapple has been added.

YOU'RE RIGHT tootin'

Says William Allen White "The Sage of Emporia" about America's Railroads

"You ask me whether I think the American railroads are doing their jobs in this grave crisis. Well, I would say, you're right tootin', they are and tootin' is the word!

"I live six city blocks north of the Santa Fe main lines. All trains between Chicago and Galveston, between Chicago and Los Angeles and San Diego east or west, go right by my door and you should hear them toot. Try to sleep with your south windows open on a summer night and you will certainly hear them toot...

"It's a continuous procession of swift passenger trains laden with soldiers and long grumbling, rumbling freight trains often with two engines and all night they sound like some cosmic rooster crowing to spell the dawn of the day of doom for America's enemies.

"No other service in the United States is doing such a swell job as the American railroads. They were ready for it. When the warning came in '39 after we repealed the embargo clause of the Neutrality Law, the railroads knew what was coming. They are now equipped with cars and with rails. Their roundhouses are full but not clogged. They keep the wheels moving. "The American capacity for organization under crisis never was exemplified so splendidly as the American railroads have proved their worth and excellence. It is a great job well done. It is a sort of thing that Americans do better than anything else. Our hard common sense, our indomitable purpose to achieve, all these are back of our effort. The railroads have done their work without friction with either labor or capital. They have responded to a great emergency with splendid intelligence.

"And are they doing their job? You're just right tootin' they are!"

Let's All Pull Together

Increasingly, under war conditions, the railroads must furnish mass transportation, military and civilian, for the nation. The load is already great—and growing steadily. Military movements come first, without question. You can do much to help us maintain adequate rail service for civilian needs as well, in these ways: When you travel, make your reservations and buy your tickets early; cancel reservations promptly, if necessary; check all personal baggage not actually needed in passenger cars; and spread the travel load by avoiding week-end and holiday rush periods. When you make shipments, order freight cars only to your actual current requirements; load them to capacity; and release them promptly.

AT YOUR SERVICE—Why not talk over your transportation problems with your Santa Fe representative? He'll be glad to help you with practical suggestions.
