

Reason for general's hanging still mystery

By KRISTIN GAZLAY
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A note pinned to the body of a two-star Army Reserve general found hanging from a noose at Fort Sam Houston said he had been slain, but there were no signs of struggle and no one claimed responsibility, the FBI said.

Pentagon officials who declined to be identified said the note read: "Captured, tried, convicted of crimes by the U.S. Army against the people of the world. Sentenced and executed."

The body of Maj. Gen. Robert G. Ownby, his arms bound behind him with a belt, was found Wednesday hanging from the second-story stairwell of an Army headquarters building, the FBI said.

The Pentagon officials said a second note also was found, but it was indecipherable.

FBI finds no signs of struggle

The Fort Worth Star Telegram quoted a friend of Ownby's as saying the general had left a note on his desk that read: "I hear some noises. I am going to investigate."

The officials said Ownby's death could have been suicide or it could have been murder, with the note indicating it was a terrorist act only a "diversion."

Ownby, 48, the commander of the 90th U.S. Army Reserve Command, was found about 6:40 a.m. by an employee coming to work, FBI Agent Pat Cowley said.

Cowley, who indicated he had read the note, said he knew of no reason to suspect the killing was the act of a terrorist.

"There was no apparent sign of a struggle," he said. "We've heard nothing from anybody since the body was found. No one claimed credit."

Fort Sam Houston spokesman Col. Robert McDonald said base police officers took no special security precautions after discovering the body.

"We didn't know what was going on and, at first, there was some concern," McDonald said. "We never went on any kind of military alert here, though."

Leo Soto, executive assistant to the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service region commissioner in Dallas, said the service initially warned border stations of the possibility of a terrorist slaying, but later backed off.

"We put out a normal border alert and told our chiefs that there was an unconfirmed possible terrorist killing," Soto said. "We called them back later to say it didn't look that way. It's the same thing we would have done if a sheriff's office had called about a robbery."

The Washington Post reported that Ownby appeared to have been beaten.

Bob Butler, who described himself as Ownby's "dearest friend," said a note had also been found on the general's desk.

He said Ownby's wife, Ann Ownby, called her husband's office at 2 a.m. Wednesday, and when he did not answer, she went to the building and found it locked. He said she returned home and went back to the building an hour later.

"She ran into a security agent she knew and had him unlock the building," Butler said. "They went to his office, but he was not there and she came home."

Butler said he doubted Ownby killed himself.

"This was the most perfect husband and father in the world. In my own mind, somebody was waiting in there. I just feel like it was somebody he recognized and they made a martyr out of him," he said.

As for the typewritten note pinned to the general's civilian clothes, Cowley would say only that it "indicated he had met with foul play."

"The note basically said that he had been killed and hadn't committed suicide," Cowley said.

Talks with Congressmen wanted

By GEORGE GEDDA
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, praising the Kissinger Commission on Central America for comprehensive and creative proposals, is calling for urgent discussions with Congress on a new effort to bring peace and prosperity to that region.

While stopping short of endorsing the commission report, Reagan said Wednesday it is "the most comprehensive and detailed review of the issues as they affect our national security that I have ever seen."

"I'm impressed with the depth of the analysis and the creativity of the recommendations," Reagan said as he received the 132-page document from panel chairman Henry A. Kissinger.

A more detailed response is expected in the coming days

By Reagan regarding Central America

but the administration already is preparing to act on a commission recommendation to seek additional military aid for El Salvador. Tentative estimates range from $100 million to $140 million.

The centerpiece of the panel's economic development recommendations was an $8 billion aid proposal over five years starting in 1985 with multiyear appropriations. It also called for a supplemental appropriation of $400 million for this year.

To coordinate strategy on economic policy, the commission recommended a U.S.-Central American summit meeting.

The panel, known formally as the National Bipartisan

Commission on Central America, suggested the domino theory applied by previous administrations to Southeast Asia could be relevant to Central America unless the United States acts more decisively than it has.

The emergence of a series of Marxist-Leninist states in the region could lead to millions of refugees seeking haven in the United States, the imperiling of Caribbean shipping lanes, a worsening of political repression throughout Central America and large scale military outlays to defend the U.S. southern flank, the panel said. In addition, it said, U.S. allies would have doubts about American steadfastness.

In sum, Soviet-Cuban activities pose a "direct threat" to American security interests in the area, it added.

The tone of the report, however, was not despairing. "Our task now, as a nation, is to transform the crisis in Central America into an opportunity," it said.

If the endeavor is successful, "then the sponsors of violence will have done the opposite of what they intended: they will have roused us not only to turn back the tide of totalitarianism but to bring a new birth of hope and opportunity to the people of Central America."

At a news conference Wednesday, Kissinger said there was no guarantee the commission's recommendations would be sufficient, but "without a program of this kind, success is surely not attainable."

The commission made no attempt to assess blame for the administration's inability to make much headway in the

Lake meeting found 'worthwhile'

By KIM THOGMARTIN

"It was a very worthwhile meeting," Garth Thomas said of the Wednesday night gathering of the Buffalo Lake Water District Board. "We were very impressed, and came away convinced that it (the board) is already paying dividends."

Thomas said he and fellow Hereford board member Carolyn Waters were especially pleased with the apparent change in attitude of the Bureau of Fish and Wildlife, as evidenced by Refuge Manager Rodney Krey. Stationed in Muleshoe, Krey attended the meeting to review with the board the bureau's plans to renovate the picnic areas.

Garth Thomas contends members were impressed

"The gates should be opened again by late spring," Thomas reported. "They have budgeted enough money for materials and at least 20 cement picnic tables, and we hope to be able to provide help with the labor involved." Krey told the board the renovation will also include mowing, clean-up and road grading. "He definitely has an attitude of making the lake usable to the public," Thomas said.

Board members also learned of the bureau's plans to improve the lake as a habitat area for migratory fowl. "They hope to fix an observatory, so the public can view the birds without frightening them," Thomas explained. Also attending the meeting was Jerry Moore, an engineer with the Bureau of Reclamation. A division of the Department of Interior, the bureau is making a feasibility study of the lake and has completed testing of the dam and spillway areas.

Although the final report is not due out until September, Moore told the board the dam and spillway appear to be "economically correctable and repairable." Thomas said board members came away feeling "the situation is not as bad as we had been led to believe."

Thomas felt that Moore, by discussing parts of the study with the board at such an early date, "let us know they have an optimistic outlook about the situation and are willing to cooperate with us."

The board named Ted Abramson to chair future meetings but did not elect officers. They also moved to change the meeting date from the second Wednesday to the second Tuesday of each month to accommodate Hereford board member Bill Devers, who has a Wednesday night conflict.

Richards here Wednesday

By KIM THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

United States Congressional candidate Don Richards of Lubbock was in Hereford Wednesday, his first official visit since announcing last September his intention to run.

Richards, 36, is campaigning for the 19th District seat vacated by Kent Hance. He cites his experience as an administrative aide to Congressman Hance as a major qualification for the post.

A native of West Texas, Richards graduated from Texas Tech University with a degree in journalism in 1972. His six-and-a-half years in the newspaper business included a stint as managing editor of the Hereford Brand.

In 1978 he moved to Washington, D.C. to pursue an interest in congressional service.

As an aide to Hance, he handled media relations and served as a legislative assistant for military and foreign affairs. The FBI cleared Richards for top secret security clearance for U.S. Department of Defense classified briefings and he has toured several of the

Campaigning for Congress

United States strategic defense facilities.

Richards was in Washington during the 1981 tax cut and budget fights, the capture and release of American hostages in Iran and the changeover from the Carter to the Reagan administrations. His wife, Melba, served on the staff of U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen during that time.

In 1981 Richards returned to Lubbock to work in the congressional district office while also studying for a law degree at Texas Tech. In the Lubbock office he has aided area residents in their problems with the federal bureaucracy, including helping farmers to secure financing and assisting veterans and servicemen in their dealing with the Veterans Administration and military services.

"Farmers must have higher support prices and adequate refinancing programs to stay in business or the effects in West Texas will be disastrous," he said, "on not only farmers, but on all merchants, banks, ag-related businesses and everyone else dependent on a healthy farm economy. It is imperative that the congressman from West Texas know how to protect our farmers in the 1985 Farm Bill, which will be the first major item on the agenda of the new congress."

Commenting on energy policies, Richards said West Texas and the Permian Basin have made major contributions to solving this nation's energy crisis. "There is no reason that the energy industry should be suffering the way it presently is. With a stable and sensible energy policy, the area could be providing hundreds of jobs while solving our energy problems."

"The congressman from West Texas must know how to protect our oil and gas interests," he said, "especially in light of any further attempts to heavily tax domestic income, or suggestions to place a windfall profits tax on natural gas in 1985."

Reflecting on his experiences with the federal defense department, Richards said, "I know where the problems and strengths lie. Foreign affairs have a way of becoming domestic affairs and it is imperative that the congressman from this area know and understand the intricate relations that the United States must maintain with our allies, as well as the strategies employed by the Soviet-bloc countries. I don't need to be trained."

Richards and his wife were both named to the Texas Tech Law Review Journal for their scholastic achievements. He was also selected to the Law School National Moot Court team and was voted chairman of the Board of Barristers. He graduated in the top ten percent of his class and plans to take the State Bar exam next month.

Scouts planning dinner Friday

Tiger cubs, cub Scouts, explorers, leaders and their families are invited to attend the annual District Recognition Dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the Hereford Community Center.

Steve Conaway is to be guest speaker at the event, which features presentation of awards to outstanding units and individuals. George Ochs is to serve as master of ceremonies, with others on the program including Kurt Clausen, Janet Coleman, Boyd Foster, Craig Hinger, Walter Dreig, Ron Matthews, Troy Don Moore, Al Simmacher and Pat Sinnacher.

The meal is to be potluck, with each family asked to bring one large salad, vegetable dish, main dish or dessert. The dinner and ceremonies are expected to end early enough for those attending to take part in other activities that evening.

Barrett has pipe stolen

Two hundred feet of PVC pipe, to be used for sewer lines, were stolen from Harold Barrett sometime Wednesday afternoon, Hereford police reported this morning.

The pipe, taken from Barrett's 342 Ave. D residence, was valued at approximately $650.

Meanwhile, police also investigated a reported molestation and possible rape of a 2-year-old girl about two weeks ago. The local child welfare office has been asked to look into the matter, which has the mother's boyfriend as a suspect.

Though the local police force made no arrests Wednesday, the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department has recently charged three people with violating their prohibitions.

NRC meeting went well

"Things went well" is the report Tonya Klaukens got today from an attorney representing two area citizen-investor groups at a Nuclear Regulatory Commission concurrence hearing Wednesday in Washington, D.C. Albuquerque attorney Alton Hector was allowed to comment on behalf of People Opposed to Wasted Energy

Repositories (POWER) and Serious Texans Against Nuclear Dumping (STAND), based in Hereford and Tulsa, respectively. "Inadequate guidelines could mean a very high chance of the final site not being suitable," Hector reportedly told the NRC.

Another spokesman from Texas, Steve Frishman of the Texas nuclear wastes program office, complained that proposed guidelines do not eliminate any of the sites. He accused the U.S. Department of Energy of wanting to "pick a site, then write the guidelines to fit the site they've already selected."

Klaukens said the NRC is a five-member body appointed by the president, with no more than three members belonging to the same political party.

Beet banquet tickets on sale

Tickets went on sale this week for the annual Texas Sugar Beet Banquet, to be held Saturday, Jan. 21 in the Bull Barn with Ace Reid, nationally-known cartoonist, as guest speaker.

Reid, creator of the "Compos" cartoon series, is a native-born Texan and spent his youth on his father's ranch near Electra. He and his wife, Madge, now live on a ranch near Kerrville where they manage the various businesses spawned by Reid's work.

His self-syndicated cartoon series appears in around 800 newspapers and his calendars and books have sold in the millions. Reid's work reportedly takes him to meetings and conventions all across the nation.

Other highlights of the annual sugar beet banquet include recognition of outstanding beet producers, introduction of officers and directors and the Hereford Brand's presentation of the "Man of the Year in Agriculture" in Deaf Smith County.

Tickets for the event are $7.50 each and may be purchased at both banks and at commodity offices in Hereford.

Defense takes turn in suit

DALLAS (AP) — An Amarillo couple say they bought a small handgun for use in self-defense, according to a deposition presented in a $20 million lawsuit filed by a man paralyzed when the gun was fired accidentally.

Defense attorneys presented the sworn statement Wednesday as part of their argument that self-protection is a legitimate reason for having a handgun and that gun distributors should not be blamed when guns are misused.

David Clancy, 21, of Amarillo is seeking damages from the designer, maker and seller of the .22-caliber Armsco that discharged in 1977 and left him paralyzed from the shoulders down.

Clancy's lawyer, Windle Turley of Dallas, says the potential hazards of small handguns greatly outweigh their social utility and that small handgun makers and distributors should be held accountable for damages the weapons cause.

The Dallas-based Zale Corp., which owned the Amarillo discount store that sold the gun for $19, is the chief defendant in the trial.

Bell faces ultimatum

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwestern Bell today faced an ultimatum from a Public Utility Commission judge who does not like a company proposal that would hike bills for some Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) customers.

Administrative Law Judge Angela DeMerle said if the plan is not withdrawn today she would delay consideration of the company's pending $1.3 billion rate hike request.

Dale Johnson, a Southwestern Bell spokesman, confirmed that the WATS proposal, filed Dec. 29, could raise bills for about 40 percent of WATS customers. He said the amount of the increase was not known.

WATS is a flat-rate long distance service used by businesses. Charging for WATS was complicated as of Jan. 1 because of the breakup of AT&T and its regional companies including Southwestern Bell.

The change gives AT&T most long distance revenue, but Southwestern Bell still receives money for relatively short long distance calls — those within certain regions of the state.

Reagan, Zhao show friendship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chinese Premier Zhao Ziyang and President Reagan wrap up their talks today with a display of friendship and cooperation but with their differences showing.

After a Cabinet breakfast for Zhao at the White House, the two leaders were to participate in signing ceremonies completing bilateral agreements on exchange of science and technology and commercial and industrial cooperation.

After concluding three days of talks with administration officials, Zhao leaves later in the day for San Francisco aboard a plane Reagan has lent him from the presidential fleet for the premier's two-week, cross-country tour of the United States.

But despite much talk of warm and friendly discussions about matters of mutual concern, the two sides indicated they had made little progress in ironing out some of their fundamental differences.

Father testifies in suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The parents of two children killed in the filming of the movie "Twilight Zone" testified tearfully and angrily about the accident, and one said he heard the director shouting, "Lower, lower!" to a helicopter that crashed into the victims.

But director John Landis, charged with involuntary manslaughter, insisted outside the courtroom Wednesday that the crash was "an unforeseeable accident."

And his lawyers disputed Dr. Daniel Lee's recollection that Landis was shouting instructions to the helicopter pilot through a megaphone during the fatal filming of a Vietnam War sequence.

Lee remained steadfast in his recollection. "I heard someone saying, 'Lower, lower!'" he testified. "... It was Mr. John Landis' voice."

Moments later, he said, explosions went off and the helicopter crashed, decapitating his 7-year-old son, Myca Dinh Le. His father said outside court that he and his wife have recently been naturalized and changed their name from Le to Lee.

Too much emphasis placed

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — El Salvador's conservative president, Alvaro Magana, says the Kissinger Commission report on Central America is "responsible," but a spokesman for Monsignor Arturo Rivera y Damas, the Roman Catholic archbishop here, assailed the report, saying "Mr. Kissinger has erred completely...."

Julio Adolfo Rey Prendes, a spokesman for the Christian Democrats in El Salvador's Constituent Assembly, said the report "places too much emphasis" on military aid.

"There can't be a simple military victory. We don't need a triumph which flattens the enemy but rather one that integrates him," he said.

Former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and other members of a fact-finding panel toured Central America before making their recommendations, which were presented Wednesday to President Reagan.

Abolishment of curfew wanted

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Government troops traded artillery fire with Moslem militiamen today near the U.S. Marine base, and an opposition leader set new conditions, including an end to Beirut's curfew, for backing a proposed disengagement plan.

No casualties were reported in the fighting overnight and this morning in the capital's southern suburbs and in the Baaba-Maroufieh hills, and a Marine spokesman said it was quiet around the U.S. base at Beirut's airport.

In Jerusalem, Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir said Israel might pull its forces in Lebanon closer to its border. Israel is "planning ways to leave Lebanon," he said Wednesday.

Shamir reaffirmed Israel's insistence that it cannot evacuate Lebanon unless Syrian forces pull out of eastern Lebanon. He indicated that Israel would not change its stand without the approval of the governments of the United States and Lebanon.

Jesse Jackson gambled and won.

In the words of the president, "You can't argue with success."

So the White House rolled out the red carpet.

It's easy to exaggerate the significance of any one grand gesture. Neither, however, should this one be minimized.

In the White House rose garden ceremony with the president praising Jackson and Jackson praising the president, other Democrat candidates had to be wondering what hit them!

Jesse Jackson, in less than 100 hours, had catapulted himself to enough political prominence...

Even demonstrated enough diplomatic savvy...

So that when the Democrats convene for their party's July powwow in San Francisco, he ain't going to be their cloak room janitor!

No handout hush-puppies for Jesse Jackson; he's been to the mountain!

Jesse Jackson is riding high! He compares his dramatic mission to the illuminating experience of the Apostle Paul. He says, "Wonderful things happen on the road to Damascus."

Now his campaign, which could not even qualify for federal matching money, is raising more than enough. In one church the night he returned home from Syria he collected $25,000 in cash and pledges for more than that.

And he's running in all directions! He's attacking abortion, nuclear war and acid rain.

He's demanding more employment of plant workers in Cleveland; he's crusading against labor lockouts and in favor of voting rights enforcement and what he calls an evenhanded foreign policy in the Middle East.

Anybody familiar with Jesse's background knows he cannot presume to expertise on all those subjects—yet he does.

Longtime friends fear his vulnerability once he becomes a bona-fide threat and those opposed begin to X-ray his record and the financial records of his PUSH organization.

But he can claim he has graduated from that and if anybody can persuade the public, he can.

His homefolks had wearied of his oratorical style; his alliteration became tiresome, distracting. But a new nationwide audience may be mesmerized by it.

And the Jesse Jackson candidacy is timely.

His fierce independence is a refreshing aberration in the politics of his party. Midst all those look-alike, act-alike, sound-alike custard pie candidates with their rhetoric a generation outdated, long-shot Jesse Jackson, at least, is going to make us listen to him.

Near tense border

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — A U.S. Army pilot was killed by "hostile fire" from Nicaragua when his helicopter made a forced landing in Honduras near the border region where CIA-backed anti-Sandinista rebels are active, U.S. officials say.

It was the first reported shooting episode to cause a U.S. casualty since joint U.S.-Honduran military maneuvers began last August.

In Nicaragua, the leftist government's Defense Ministry said its forces along the border fired Wednesday on an "unidentified military helicopter" violating Nicaraguan airspace. The ministry's communiqué said the aircraft made a forced landing about 200 yards inside Honduras but it did not mention the pilot's death.

The Pentagon identified the pilot as Chief Warrant Officer II Jeffery C. Schwab, of Joliet

'Hostile fire' kills pilot

Ill., who had served in the 101st Aviation Group 229th Aviation Battalion at Ft. Campbell, Ky. His age was not given.

It said two Army engineers aboard the OH-58 observation helicopter were not injured and were released after being examined at the U.S. military hospital at Palmerola Air Base north of Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital.

U.S. Embassy spokesman Chris Arcos said the pilot was killed about 155 miles southeast of Tegucigalpa on the Las Trojes-Cifuentes road, the same road where two American journalists died June 24 when a land mine exploded. Honduran authorities accused the Sandinistas of mining the road.

"The pilot was mortally wounded after the helicopter was obliged to land. The hostile fire came from Nicaragua," Arcos said.

One source in Washington said the helicopter was fired on near Cifuentes, a town near the Nicaraguan border and in an area where anti-Sandinista rebels have launched attacks against Nicaragua to the south.

Neither Arcos nor Pentagon spokesmen specified what had forced the plane to land or the nature of the "hostile fire."

In Washington, government sources said one of the helicopter passengers told a U.S. Embassy official in Tegucigalpa the helicopter was involved in exercises to enlarge airstrips in eastern Honduras and was "blown off course" in a wind storm that pushed the aircraft near the Nicaraguan border.

Arcos said the helicopter was on a routine flight from San Lorenzo, on the Gulf of Fonseca in southwestern Honduras, to the eastern province of Olancho as part of its activities in the exercises.

GENERAL

Bexar County Medical Examiner Vincent DiMiao ruled asphyxiation as the cause of death, but refused further comment.

Cowley said the general could have been killed as early as 11 p.m. Tuesday.

"It was not unusual for him to be there late at night," base spokesman Capt. Rudy Purificato said. "To my knowledge, he was alone in the building. He often worked late."

Owby, who had three children, was the vice president and corporate director of Delaware Punch Co.

He became the youngest two-star general in the Army upon his February 1982 promotion.

He took command of the 90th ARCOM in August 1981, supervising about 4,500 reservists in 63 combat units throughout Texas and in Bossier City, La.

Owby began his Army career as an enlistee with the Oklahoma National Guard for three years ending in 1967, attaining the rank of master sergeant.

He spent three years on active duty, serving most of that time as a platoon leader with the 3rd Infantry, the Presidential Honor Guard responsible for security in the Washington D.C. area.

The general will be buried at Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery on Friday, McDonald said.

About mistaken shooting

Ex-policeman testifies

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A former Borger policeman helping chase an Oklahoma fugitive says he didn't know that officers had mistakenly shot a ranch foreman until they had handcuffed the fatally wounded man and taken his rifle.

Bailey H. Roberts, who took the stand Wednesday in a $5 million civil rights lawsuit, also testified that he didn't know who shot the foreman, James Grandstaff.

Grandstaff, 31, was shot and killed Aug. 11, 1981, shortly after police had chased a fleeing pickup on the 6666 Ranch property near Borger during a gun battle.

Grandstaff's widow, Sharon, filed the federal suit shortly after her husband was killed.

The officers, who discovered the ranch house after chasing the fugitive, Lonnie Cox, onto the ranch land, mistook Grandstaff for the fugitive when he drove his pickup from the house toward them as they were gathered along a road near the home, Roberts said.

Several officers opened fire, Roberts said.

Roberts and another officer whose testimony was taken by deposition, Mickey Davis, said Grandstaff, lying on the ground with his arms under his stomach when they found him, was handcuffed because they thought he was Cox.

Grandstaff kept trying to get up, had to be restrained several times and was still alive when he was placed inside an ambulance about 20 to 25 minutes after he had been shot, the two officers said.

"He just cursed us," Roberts testified. "He wouldn't tell his name or anything. It was not until I checked his rifle that I decided this was not the man I had been chasing."

In opening arguments Tuesday, defense attorney William Sturdivant of Amarillo, representing the city of Borger, admitted that lawmen shot and then handcuffed Grandstaff. But Sturdivant told the jurors the officers were chasing a dangerous fugitive and were "fearful for their lives."

The suit was filed against the City of Borger; Gray, Carson and Hutchinson counties; Borger police officers Robert Alonzo, John Ray, Roberts and John W. Turner, and Hutchinson Deputy Sheriff Ricky Morris.

The Grandstaffs were awakened the night of Aug. 11 when the officers began shooting at a truck that Cox, believed armed with a .22-caliber rifle, had abandoned on the ranch property where the police had chased him, according to testimony.

The officers opened fire on the truck, which apparently was left out of gear, when it began rolling toward them, Roberts testified.

Grandstaff then came out of his home and began driving toward the officers, who yelled repeatedly for him to stop, in his truck, Roberts said. The truck finally stopped as it pulled up beside the first police unit parked on the road, said Davis.

"I heard a shot and someone yelled, 'You got him, he's down.' But I didn't see who fired the shot or in which direction it came," said Davis.

The officers ran to the front of the pickup to find Grandstaff lying face down on the ground before going to the ranch home to talk to Mrs. Grandstaff, Roberts said.

"She asked us where her husband was," said Roberts, "and told us he had left the house in his pickup truck with a rifle."

The officers returned to the truck and unsuccessfully tried to find some identification on the wounded man, they said.

"I finally checked the rifle in his car and discovered it was not the same caliber as the one that had belonged to Lonnie Cox, which was the first time we realized that the man we had shot was the wrong one," Roberts said.

Mayor moves into the big leagues

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Henry Cisneros is the ultimate local kid who made good, a Democrat who grew up in San Antonio's predominantly Hispanic west side and became mayor, with stops at Harvard and the Nixon White House along the way.

Cisneros first grabbed national attention when he easily was elected mayor in 1981, one of the first Mexican-Americans to hold the post in a major U.S. city.

But his appointment to President Reagan's blue-ribbon panel on Central America — and his disagreements with fellow commission members — gave the mayor a national platform.

Cisneros, 36, concedes that he felt pressured by commission chairman Dr. Henry A.

Kissinger and other members not to disagree with the panel's report on long-range U.S. policy in Central America.

He added a three-page dissent to the report, though, and flew to Washington on Wednesday to help present the document to Reagan.

"I've done my duty," he said before he left. "I've got work to do here now."

And work he does.

Cisneros has been spotted emptying garbage cans, filling in gaping potholes, riding firetrucks and buses and pounding the beat with policemen.

He fits in easily at White House receptions, as well as his old neighborhood. He's fluent in both English and Spanish. He's a family man who refused to ride in a local parade when the organizers would not allow his two daughters to accompany him.

Surveys have portrayed Cisneros as one of the most powerful and popular Hispanics in the country.

His datebook is crammed with appointments, often out-of-town journalists, and CBS' news magazine "60 Minutes" currently is preparing a profile.

The Democratic Party has joined the admiration society, with presidential candidate Walter Mondale courting Cisneros until the mayor agreed to head the former vice president's South Texas campaign.

Many local observers speculate that Mondale, if elected, would press Cisneros to accept a cabinet appointment, even though the mayor has announced he'll run for a third term in 1985.

When U.S. Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., came to town, he drew enthusiastic cheers by hailing Cisneros as a "future vice president or president."

Now You're Cooking

By SANDY PANKEY
Staff Writer

Up until the past several decades having a large family was a way of life...it was difficult financially but the married couple somehow managed. Today rearing seven children means not only trying to maintain a reasonable budget, but having an abundance of patience, love and understanding during stressful times.

Kenneth and Shirley Duncan, who reside on S. Park Road, have seven children ranging from 2 to 20 years of age. "I have to have a certain amount of organization to keep the household running smoothly," Shirley Duncan explained. "But there is no way that my house can remain absolutely spotless. Once the children come home from school there will be books, toys, etc. all in the floor but if I let a little thing like that bother me, I'd go crazy."

"I find it easy rearing a large family," she continued. "I try to live by the gospel and the Lord will take care of the rest. His blessings sustain each of us."

"As I said we have been very blessed," Mrs. Duncan added. "We have never had any serious injuries or illnesses outside of the normal and our expenses are probably less than most families."

Mrs. Duncan tries to cut corners with her household expenses including buying groceries by using coupons and canning her own vegetables from her garden. "Having your own garden saves on the family grocery bill a lot. Even for people living in town, they could raise most of their own vegetables by using just a small portion of their yard."

"We raise asparagus, green beans, squash, blackeyed peas, beets and just about anything else I can get my hands on," she replied. "It's a family project and even the two youngest boys help pick strawberries."

When purchasing groceries, Mrs. Duncan said she tries to buy using the comparison shopping method and only buys grocery items that she knows the family will eat. "I have found that it doesn't always pay to purchase items on sale only to find that your family won't eat them. It's a waste of time and money."

"Another way we save money is to not go out to eat as a family except on special occasions like birthdays," she explained. "When one of the children has a birthday we let them decide where and what they want to eat and then take all the children out for the night as a special treat."

"My husband and I also try to have what we call a 'date' night each Friday evening. Sometimes we go out to eat and other times we just ride around and talk. We feel that this time alone is both necessary for us and for the children," Mrs. Duncan replied.

Mrs. Duncan must begin her day fairly early to get everyone ready for school. "When I get up at 6:30 a.m., I begin preparing breakfast and the older children get themselves ready for school. I usually let the 4 and 2-year-old boys sleep as late as they want and then I can spend extra time with them in the mornings after the 'rush' is over."

"The daily routine for me each day is basically just keeping caught up with the laundry and preparing a hot meal for lunch for the preschoolers and my husband," she said. "Any leftovers are usually consumed as snacks after school."

"Preparing meals isn't difficult since my daughters are old enough to help," Mrs. Duncan responded. "There are times when I have meetings at church or other outside activities and the girls have the dinner ready and the table set."

Mrs. Duncan and her husband, who is employed in the production area at Arrowhead Mills, are active members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The homemaker is very active in church activities and has just recently given up duties as the compassionate service leader where she was responsible for having each member's home visited and being aware of any needs the family required.

Providing balanced meals is a major concern for the homemaker but she says she also enjoys baking and cooking 'goodies.'

"My family has a terrible sweettooth so I bake a lot of cookies, cakes and pies," she said.

Favorite family recipes include Mississippi Mudd Cake, Hawaiian Wedding Cake, Miracle Cheese Cake and Cherry Salad.

MISSISSIPPI MUDD CAKE
Melt 2 sticks of margarine and one-third cup cocoa. Mix together: 1 1/2 c. flour, 2 c. sugar, 1 c. pecans, 4 eggs and 1 c. coconut. Mix these with the margarine and cocoa. Bake in greased pan 30 to 35 minutes at 350 degrees or until toothpick or cake tester comes out clean. While hot, pour 1 pint marshmallow cream over top.

When cool, frost with 1 stick softened margarine, one-third c. cocoa, 1 box powdered sugar, 1/4 c. canned milk and 1 tsp. vanilla.

HAWAIIAN WEDDING CAKE

2 c. flour
2 tsp. soda
1-20 oz. can crushed pineapple (do not drain)
2 c. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
2 beaten eggs
1 c. chopped pecans
1 c. coconut

Mix all ingredients in bowl by hand and pour into 9x11 inch greased pan. (Do not flour pan) Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. When cool frost with icing.

ICING:
1-8 oz. pkg. cream cheese (room temperature)
1 stick oleo (room temperature)
1 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 c. confectioner's sugar

After cake has cooled and been iced, keep refrigerated.

MIRACLE CHEESE CAKE

1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
1 c. boiling water
3 T. lemon juice
18 oz. or 33 oz. package cream cheese
1 c. sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 can chilled milnot (whipped)

1 lb. graham crackers
1/2 c. butter or margarine (melted)
Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add lemon juice and let cool. Cream together cheese, sugar and vanilla. Add gelatin mixture and whipped milnot.

Crush graham crackers into fine crumbs and add melted oleo. Firmly pack two-thirds of mixture in bottom and side of a 9x13x2 inch pan. Add filling and sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Chill several hours. Cut into squares and serve. Makes 12 servings.

Rebekah program honors founder of Odd Fellows

At the Tuesday evening meeting of Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228, Noble Grand Levita Fitzgerald presented a program entitled "Who was Thomas Wildey?" in honor of the Jan. 15 birthday of the man who started Odd Fellowship in the United States.

According to Ms. Fitzgerald, Wildey was instrumental in the organization of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in 1819. He missed only three meetings of the Sovereign Grand Lodge during his life. He died at the age of 79.

Ms. Fitzgerald presided as sick members were reported. Nine visits to the sick and nine cheer cards were reported for the week.

The semi-annual report was read and adopted.

It was announced that new officers will be installed and members will provide a salad supper on Tuesday.

Anna Conklin was hostess to Ms. Fitzgerald, C.D. Fitzgerald, Lydia Hopson, Irene Merritt, Beth Hall, Karrol Rettman, Verna Sowell, Fay Brownlow, Ruth Rogers.

Also, Susie Curtsinger, Roberta Combs, Dorothy Lundry, Ada Hollabaugh, Helen Bishop, Edna Mathes, Peggy Lemons and Ursalee Jacobsen.

Here is a bit of history of Rev. Collins in dry cleaning! He began in Lubbock, Tx. in 1945 at the Band Box Cleaner. He later moved to Littlefield, where he was employed by the Littlefield Cleaner. He received his cleaning license in Clovis, N.M. Upon his arrival to Hereford he was employed by Park Ave. Cleaner under the supervision of Dub and Wilma Curtsinger. They later sold the business to G. Owens, who in turn sold the business to Dr. man Smith. Richard continued to work for Mr. Smith for over a year. He is the pastor of Faith Mission C.O.G.I.C. and resides at 507 Blevins. The Collins family have been residents of Hereford for nine years. They feel that Hereford has been good to them, and it is for this reason that they wish to invite each of you out to their grand opening. You will also be glad to know that Valet has received their cleaning equipment, and will be cleaning your clothes right here in Hereford!!

YOU AUTO KNOW

Don Henslee

Q: I carry a can of tire sealant in my car in case of a flat. I've been told, however, that it isn't a good idea to use the aerosol, and that I should change a flat. What's your opinion?

A: The aerosol tire sealers, which simultaneously inflate a flat while sealing a leak, are probably one of the handiest items you can stow in your trunk, particularly for the ladies. The manufacturers of the aerosols will also be the first to tell you that they do not constitute a permanent repair, which should be done as soon as possible. They can, indeed, get you out of a tight spot, but should not be thought of as a replacement for a spare tire. Several other tips: Before using an aerosol sealant and inflator, look the tire over for signs of any object, such as a nail, which must be removed before inflation.

Recruiting and Athletic Code violations cited

Four Class 3A teams suspended

AUSTIN (AP) — Class 3A football champion Daingerfield and three other high schools — Tyler John Tyler, Decatur and Gladewater — have been placed on probation in football next season.

The action, taken Wednesday by the University Interscholastic League, serves as a warning and does not disqualify schools from competing in district and playoff games.

Members voted 5-1 to place Tyler on probation because the coach was accused of recruiting Lindale athlete James McGowen to play football for Tyler. Recruiting football players from other districts is prohibited by UIL rules.

Lindale Superintendent David Montgomery filed the recruiting charge against Tyler, saying former Tyler football coach Bill Parks had talked to McGowen twice about playing for Tyler. Affidavits signed by McGowen and his father said Parks visited McGowen at home in July and told him if he would come to Tyler he would help get him a job.

Tyler Superintendent Jack Davidson said that McGowen actually lived in the Tyler attendance area but was a legal transfer to Lindale.

"The mistake coach Parks made in visiting McGowen was a mistake in judgment," said Davidson. "He had no intention of doing anything to entice him away, to spirit him away or persuade him. He did want the boy to know he would be welcome at Tyler."

Parks later resigned. A replacement has not yet been named.

Gladewater were placed on probation for violating the Athletic Code, which "means to play the game in the spirit of fairness and clean sportsmanship" and "to accept decisions of officials without protest."

Committee member Betty Thompson argued in favor of disqualifying Gladewater from playoff competition in football next season, but her effort failed when she gained the support of only one other member. Testimony before the committee disclosed that two Gladewater football players had been put on athletic probation by the school for swinging their helmets in fights during games on successive weeks.

Gladewater and Decatur players got into a fight on the field in the closing seconds of Gladewater's victory.

Referee Loyd Dale of Plano described it as "pretty good brawl" that started after a Gladewater ballcarrier was tackled.

Denver tops Spurs 163-155 in setting a NBA regulation record Wednesday

By The Associated Press
The natural question after the Denver Nuggets scored 163 points against San Antonio was, "Did they win?" Denver, the highest-scoring team in the National Basketball Association, poured in 163 points Wednesday night to 155 for the Spurs. It was the second most points the Nuggets have scored this season — on Dec. 13, 1983, they scored 184 points... and lost. Detroit got 186 in a triple-overtime victory.

This time, Kiki Vandeweghe tossed in 50 points — one fewer than in the triple OT contest — and the teams combined for the most points in a regulation game in NBA history. The previous top regulation total was 316 achieved twice — March 2, 1962, in Hershey, Pa., when Philadelphia defeated New York 169-147 and Will Chamberlain scored a record 100 points, and March 12, 1970, when Cincinnati and San Diego matched it.

The 99 points scored in the final period — 53 by San Antonio — also set an NBA standard for most points in a quarter, breaking the record of 96 by Boston and Minneapolis on Feb. 27, 1959, and Detroit and Cincinnati on Jan. 7, 1972. And the 172 second-half points set still another mark, eclipsing the 170 points scored by Philadelphia and Cincinnati in one half on March 19, 1971. Vandeweghe, who scored on a variety of medium-to-long-range jumpers and spinning drives, admitted he "wasn't looking to pass very often once I was hot. I wanted to shoot the ball because I felt things were going well for me."

So well that he hit a three-point shot from downtown to finish off his big night. "There were only six seconds left on the 24-second clock and I had nowhere to go, so I just put it up and prayed," said Vandeweghe, who hit 21 of 30 from the field and all seven free throws. "A guy warming up can't make as many shots as Vandeweghe made," said Spurs Coach Bob Bass. "Every time he shoots, it goes in."

Alex English added 25 points for Denver, while George Gervin had 38 and John Lucas 23 for the Spurs. Elsewhere, it was Boston 135, Golden State 112; New Jersey 120, Chicago 105; Philadelphia 121, Washington 99; Detroit 112, Indiana 96; Dallas 117, Utah 102, and Phoenix 129, San Diego 104.

Mark Aguirre took over the NBA scoring lead from Adrian Dantley as he scored 41 points — 39 of them in the first three periods. Dantley had 22, dropping him to 30.1 points a game compared to Aguirre's 30.5.
Host Dallas outscored the Jazz 16-0 in a fourth-quarter blitz to put away the game. Aguirre was on the bench at the time.

"I missed my first four or five shots," said Aguirre, "but I couldn't stop shooting because I'm the main offensive threat."

The Detroit duo of Kelly Tripucka, with 25 points, and Vinnie Johnson, with 24, held off a late rally by Indiana, which was led by Clark Kellogg (23) and Herb Williams (22). Williams also had 13 rebounds and seven assists, while Bill Laimbeer pulled in 20 rebounds for visiting Detroit and Isiah Thomas had 12 assists.

Palo Duro girls 8-0 in district

HHS to face Dons

By STAN GODEK

Hereford High School's boys and girls varsity basketball teams are set to travel to Amarillo Friday to tangle with district opponent Palo Duro.

While both games figure to be tough, the girls' game is of particular importance because the Don females, at 8-0, are in first place in District 3-5A and boast a 14-1 season record.

The Hereford girls hosted Palo Duro earlier in the season, losing 58-54, as the Dons fought back to gain a come-from-behind victory.

"It wasn't the first shots which killed us that game," girls coach Larry Sowers said, reflecting back at the loss. "We got them to take poor shots but they out-bounded us badly, sometimes it looked like they were going to shoot until they made it."

One of the keys to the coming game will be for the Whitefaces to try and stop Don center Vanessa Wells. Wells is leading the district in scoring, averaging 20.4 points per game.

"We've got to try to keep the ball away from Wells as much as possible and try to keep her off the boards," Sowers said.

If the Whitefaces can play as well as they did against Lubbock-Coronado Tuesday, when they had four players score in double figures and 17 team assists in beating the Mustangs 77-43, an upset could be in the making.

The Whitefaces will have to shoot well from the outside to break down the Palo Duro zone, Sowers said.

He added he would like to see senior Jan Harwell get her shooting touch back. Harwell has been hampered by a nagging knee injury.

Sowers said his best outside shooters include sophomore Natalim Sims, juniors Stacy High and Darla Alford and senior Theresa Phibbs, along with Harwell.

The workhorse for the Whitefaces on the inside is Cathy Bartels. Bartels leads the district in rebounding, pulling down nearly 10 per game. She also is fourth-leading scorer, netting 14.6 points a game.

The Hereford boys will center their play around Jeff Streun, who is averaging more than 12 points per game. The Whitefaces will try to win their second district game against the Dons, who have a 4-2 district record and are 10-9 overall. Hereford is 1-5 in District action and 5-11 for the season.

The girls' game is scheduled to start at 6 p.m. in the Palo Duro High School gym with the Boys contest to follow at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Navratilova named as Female Athlete of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — With the same ease and dominance she displayed on tennis courts all over the world last year, Martina Navratilova was a runaway winner as the 1983 Associated Press Female Athlete of the Year.

A native of Czechoslovakia who became an American citizen in 1981, Navratilova garnered 82 votes in nationwide balloting of sports writers and broadcasters announced today. Track star Mary Decker, the 1982 winner, was a distant second with 44 votes.

Finishing third was Tamara McKinney, a downhill skier, who had six votes. Distance runner Grete Waitz of Norway received two votes, while volleyball ace Rita Crockett, college basketball star Cheryl Miller of Southern California and golfer JoAnne Carner received one vote each.

Capturing The AP Male Athlete of the Year award on Tuesday was track and field star Carl Lewis.

Navratilova was magnificent in 1983, winning 15 of the 16 tournaments she entered and posting an 86-1 record in matches. Her only loss was to Kathy Horvath in the French Open.

The athletic left-hander has won her last 51 matches, just five shy of the record of 56 set by Chris Evert Lloyd. In 1983, Navratilova won $1,456,030.

ALLEY OOP by Dave Graue

By JERRY BUCK AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Teamwork, specifically "The A-Team" and the Orange Bowl college football teams, rescued NBC from the television ratings cellar for the first time this season.

After 14 consecutive weeks in the No. 3 spot, NBC garnered a second-place position behind CBS for the past week thanks to "The A-Team," which was third, and the Orange Bowl telecast, which was in a three-way tie for seventh place.

ABC fell to third place in the A.C. Nielsen Co. ratings. The Orange Bowl drew the lion's share of viewers as the University of Miami Hurricanes defeated the University of Nebraska Cornhuskers 31-30 to win the national college football championship.

CBS' "Simon & Simon" and "Dallas" tied for first place, and in all the network took seven places in the Top 10. NBC had two programs in the Top 10, "The A-Team" and the Orange Bowl, and ABC placed only "Dynasty," which was fifth.

CBS won the week ended Jan. 8 with a network average of 19.1. NBC was second with 16.5 and ABC was third with 16.0. The networks say this means that in an average prime time minute 19.1 percent of the nation's television homes were tuned to CBS.

NBC's move out of the cellar did not affect the season-to-date standings.

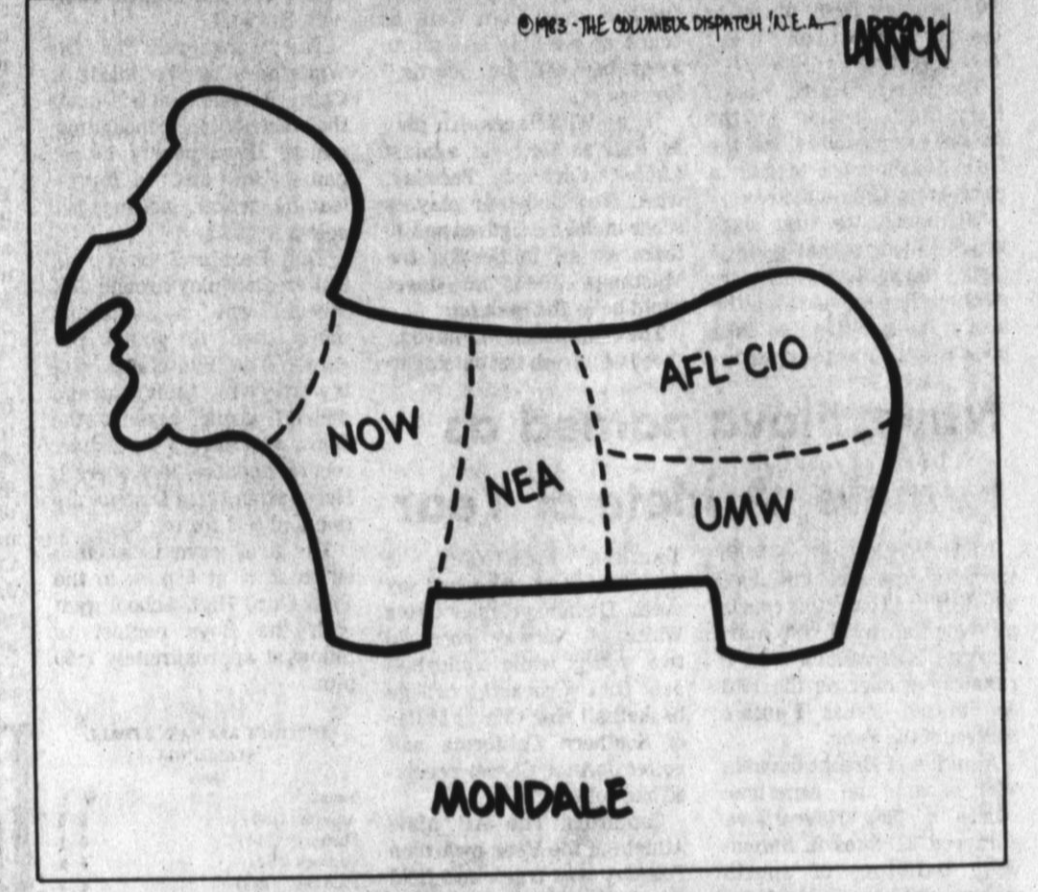

CBS was first with 18.2, ABC second with 17.0 and NBC third with 15.1.

The lowest-rated show of the week was NBC's "First Camera."

CBS kept the lead among the evening news shows. CBS had a rating of 15.0, second-place ABC had 12.2 and third-place NBC had 11.8.

Here are the 20 highest-rated programs:

1. "Simon & Simon," CBS, a rating of 25.4 or 21.3 million households.
1. Tie—"Dallas," CBS, 25.4 or 21.3 million.
3. "The A-Team," NBC, 25.3 or 21.2 million.
4. "Magnum, P.I.," CBS, 24.5 or 20.5 million.
5. "Dynasty," ABC, 23.9 or 20.0 million.
6. "60 Minutes," CBS, 23.6 or 19.8 million.
7. "AfterMASH," CBS, 23.5 or 19.7 million.
7. Tie—"Newhart," CBS, 23.5 or 19.7 million.
7. Tie—"The Orange Bowl," NBC, 23.5 or 19.7 million.
10. "Falcon Crest," CBS, 22.5 or 18.9 million.
11. "Riptide," NBC, 22.3 or 18.7 million.
11. Tie—"The Jeffersons," CBS, 22.3 or 18.7 million.
13. "Scarecrow & Mrs. King," CBS, 21.9 or 18.4 million.
14. "Hotel," ABC, 21.8 or 18.3 million.
14. Tie—"Knots Landing," CBS, 21.8 or 18.3 million.
16. "Trapper John, M.D.," CBS, 20.9 or 17.5 million.
17. "The Love Boat," ABC, 20.8 or 17.4 million.
18. "The Fall Guy," ABC, 20.6 or 17.3 million.
19. "Webster," ABC, 19.9 or 16.7 million.
20. "Goodnight Beantown," CBS, 19.6 or 16.4 million.
20. Tie—"Cheers," NBC, 19.6 or 16.4 million.

Fund-raising project discussed at meeting

The Deaf Smith County Library was the site of the Monday meeting of the Young Mothers Study Club. Members answered roll call by naming their favorite Christmas gift.

President Kathy Boyd heard ideas for a fund-raising project during the business portion of the meeting, and asked for a report on the Valentine's Party to be presented when the group meets next.

Texas Department of Human Resources worker Mary Jo Hammon presented a program on "Humanism." A classroom teacher for several years, she talked of riding the public school system of the practice.

Hammon showed a film entitled "Let Their Eyes be Opened" by Dr. Larry Quisenberry. She also told the group about instances where humanism is found in textbooks. Humanism, she told the club, is a belief that man, not God, determines values, and those values are based upon prevailing circumstances.

After the program, those in attendance enjoyed pound cake, fresh fruit and coffee served by hostesses Tracy and Dee Dee Coker. Also present were Georgia Auckerman, Lisa Blakely, Rochelle Hutcherson, Kelly Wagner, Kathy Boyd, Janie Poland, Becky Stovall and Carla Hollinger.

Marriage enrichment seminar set here

The Church of the Nazarene will sponsor a marriage enrichment seminar this weekend featuring Waulea Renegar.

All interested persons, regardless of marital status, are invited to attend. Cost is $5 per couple or $3 per single. Registration is set for 6:30 p.m. Friday. The evening session is scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m.

The Saturday morning session will begin at 9 a.m., men only from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., lunch break, and then a session for women only from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Personal counseling will be available that afternoon, and the evening session is set for 6 to 8 p.m.

Ms. Renegar has conducted seminars for most major denominations and has spoken on Christian radio in the areas of personal growth and interpersonal relations since 1970.

She is a graduate of Washburn, University in Topeka, Kan., and has studied under a practicing psychologist and marriage counselor. She has also attended Oklahoma University.

Oklahoma A&M College, Oklahoma State Teacher's College, Bethany Nazarene College, and Southwest Theological Seminary.

She has been a published writer since 1957 and has received "Outstanding College Alumnus" and "Outstanding Young Women of America" honors. She is married and has two married children.

"Success Starts Here," the second film in the Zig Zigar film series, "Living Your Potential," will be shown at 6 p.m. Sunday at the Nazarene Church. There will be no admission charge and everyone is welcome.

Ann Landers

Frozen fertilizer

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What I am about to tell you is so bizarre you may find it hard to believe, but—so help me—it is true.

The man who lives behind us fertilizes his garden with dead birds. He freezes them over the winter and thaws them out in the spring. How does he get these birds? His feeder is in full view of our dining room windows.

Every day about five or six birds lie dead at the base of the feeder. My young son told me he has seen this neighbor filling the feeder and sprinkling powder into it from a yellow box. He has also seen dozens of dead birds, frozen stiff, piled up while the man does his planting. (Some were blue jays and cardinals—really beautiful.)

If this nut is poisoning the birds, why isn't he in a mental institution instead of our back yard? My wife says there are millions of birds in the world and I shouldn't get so upset. But what if everyone closed his eyes to such cruelty? How many birds would be left in 20 years? Please tell me what to do.—Northern Mich.

DEAR MICH.: A man who would do such a horrible thing could be dangerous in other ways.

Report this situation to the Humane Society. They will probably pick up a couple of the dead birds and have a pathologist perform an autopsy. If it is learned that the birds have been poisoned, the police will be called in and take it from there.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was so glad you told the woman with the obese daughter, "M.Y.O.B." I have been overweight for 15 years and my mother, like hers, tried to bribe me with a new wardrobe, a piano and money. I've also been told I have a beautiful face and if I would slim down, I'd be a knockout.

It made no difference to my mother that I consistently made straight A's, earned a Masters degree and worked full-time to support myself. All that mattered was my weight.

Two years ago I went home for my brother's wedding. I am a fairly accomplished amateur photographer. The pictures were to be my gift. I had not been home for three years because I couldn't face my mother's nagging about my weight. She promised not to bring up the subject if I'd come home for the wedding. (In spite of her promise, she mentioned it three times in two days.)

Please, Ann, people listen to you. Don't stop telling mothers to love their daughters as they are, and if they happen to be overweight, keep quiet about it. Some times I wonder if I have resisted dieting all these years because subconsciously I didn't want to give my mother the satisfaction. What do you think?—Rejected In Rochester

Hamby tours hall of fame

A tour of the Cowboy Hall of Fame and a conversation with Rex Allen highlighted Mary R. Hamby's recent trip to Oklahoma City. The local photographer was there for a seminar at the Hanson House of Photography, conducted by Roy and Loretta Kendrick.

Hamby said the seminar was sponsored by the Professional Photographers of America and several Panhandle photographers attended. Kendrick is a master photographer who owns Photographic Arts Company in Oklahoma City.

It was while visiting the Hall of Fame that she ran into Rex Allen, who was there doing a commercial for a financial institution. She said she told him about the Cowgirl Hall of Fame in Hereford and invited him to visit it as well.

Hamby also learned the Cowboy Hall of Fame will be moved sometime this year, to a more accessible part of town.

LA for short

El Pueblo de Nuestra Señora la Reina de Los Angeles de Porciuncula was the original name of Los Angeles. The site of the future California metropolis was first visited by Portuguese navigator Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo in 1542. The first settlement was the Mission San Gabriel, 1771, and the city was formally founded Sept. 4, 1781.

Some back problems can be prevented

Virtually no one goes through life without having at least an occasional backache, and some people suffer from them constantly.

The Texas Medical Association says there are several ways to avoid back problems while performing day-to-day activities:

—Lifting: The legs are much stronger than the back, so let them do the work in lifting a heavy object. Stand close to the object with your feet about a foot apart. Keeping your spine straight, bend your knees and grasp the object. Lift by straightening your legs, but do not pull upward with your arms and back.

—Standing: Your mother was right. Stand erect with your head up, your shoulders straight, and your chest forward. Balance your weight on both legs.

—Sitting: A firm chair with a high back is best. Avoid slouching in a chair when you are tired. If you are that tired, lie down. On long car trips, use a cushion to support the small of the back.

—Sleeping: A firm mattress are one with a board under it helps keep your spine straight while you sleep. A single, relatively flat pillow or none at all will help accomplish this.

—Shoes: Wear low-heel shoes that are comfortable. High heels put strain on the back. The higher the heel, the more unnatural your stance becomes.

Finally, overweight persons place added stress on the back. Losing weight not only will ease this but will make the person healthier in general.

The boss says we keep him humble. Every time he eyes his staff he's reminded of how easy it is to make errors in judgment.

There are a great many happy kids in town this report card day. The computer's grade read-out gizmo got stuck on "A."

'Rape, Domestic Crisis' is topic of study club program

"Rape and Domestic Crisis" was the title of a program given by Inell Bagwell of Claude Tuesday afternoon when the Lone Star Study Club met in Nadine Hill's home.

Ms. Bagwell, a volunteer counselor, works with children and gives programs in schools and for PTA and Scout meetings in the Amarillo area.

She was assisted with the club program by Sandy Carter of Sunray, who has spent time in Washington as a congressional fellow working under Nancy Landon Kassebaum, senator from Kansas.

The women told club members that there is a hot line in Amarillo that persons in trouble or needing help may call.

They showed a film strip which stressed that anyone can be attacked at anytime, often in the home, and urged the members to prepare themselves by thinking about what they would do if attacked and making sure they could finish what they start.

In conclusion, the speakers told the group to keep doors and windows locked and

PUBLIC NOTICE

In proceedings pending before the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), local exchange telephone companies are requesting authority to charge AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc., for use of their facilities. These proposed charges are higher than AT&T Communications can pay at current Texas long distance rate levels. To position itself to be able to implement rates that are sufficient to produce revenues that will recover the costs facing the company, AT&T Communications must now file for rate relief to be able to implement rates that reflect the costs of access that are ultimately imposed on the company.

While AT&T Communications does not want to increase its Texas rates, an increase would be required to recover the increased access charges AT&T Communications will have to pay to the local exchange telephone companies under several proposals pending before the Commission. These access charges at the proposed increased levels represent more than 80 percent of AT&T Communications' operating expense in Texas.

Accordingly, AT&T Communications, in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the rules of the PUC, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of rates for long distance calls within Texas. The proposed rates will be effective January 28, 1984, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. All customers and classes of customers would be affected by AT&T Communications' proposed rates.

If higher access charges are ordered, AT&T Communications has no recourse but to pay these charges and recover the costs from its customers as a cost of providing long distance service within Texas. AT&T Communications has filed rates which would mean a maximum overall increase in adjusted test period revenues of $301.4 million, or 27.85 percent. This amount would help recover cost increases due to the proposed level of access charges now pending before the PUC.

A complete copy of all tariffs and rate schedules is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with every municipality in Texas.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
