Lightweight Scrap To Attract Crowd Of 30,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—They will crank up the little windmill again tonight, but whether the breeze again will be stout enough to blow over the opposition is a question which will lure nearly 30,000 fight fans to Yankee stadium to see Henry Armstrong defend his lightweight title against Lou Ambers.

Talked as a possibility last year, negotiations are definitely underway toward a post-season playoff between the respective winners of the WT-NM and the Arizona-Texas leagues.

R. E. Souers, president of the Arizona-Texas circuit, will soon confer with this loop's senior officer, Milton E. Price, to see if satisfactory dates can be arranged for the engagement.

Last year the WT-NM ended its season of play August 28. The Shaugnessy playoff had been completed by the time the other loop had finished play on Labor Day but the addition of two teams this season saw the WT-NM extend their season also. The schedule of the two circuits will be terminated at approximately the same time this season.

COBB RACES TO 369 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 22 (AP)—Far broker John Cobb of London flashed through the measured mile in his powerful automobile today at 369.23 miles per hour.

Cobb was clocked at 369.23 m. p. h. for the north run, the fastest man has ever traveled on land. This mark far exceeded the clip the record-holder, Captain George E. T. Eyston of England, maintained for the same run last September. Eyston's average for this lap was 356.44 miles per hour.

Cobb, beaming with confidence, climbed into the turtle-shaped comet and started the necessary return jaunt to make the record official amid a cloud of salt, but he stalled the motors shifting to high gear and the three-ton machine coasted to a stop approximately one mile short of the measured mile.

With only nine minutes of his available hour remaining and no new tires available, Cobb decided to forego another run.

Pampa, of course, must rely on Grover Selts and Gordon Nell, outfielders; has Milbert Vannoy, a leading pitcher, as well.

Borger has Ernie Potocar, a catcher, and Howard Parks, smooth working southpaw pitcher, to offer while Lamesa can supply Lefty Lucas, a wrong handed thrower who looked exceptionally good to Big Spring fans, Happy Spangler, infielder, and Emmett Fullenwider, long distance hitting outfielder.

Phil Margavio's Amarillo Gold Sox appear to be without a player worthy of all-star mention. Their leading candidate, Bus Dorman, a leftie, was injured three weeks ago and will probably be out of action for the remainder of the season.

Catcher—Tex Stuart, Clovis.

The Houston herd swung up the trail into North Texas today but indications were there would be no slaughter at their expense.

The Buffaloes increased their Texas league lead to eight games last night by downing San Antonio, 8 to 0. Tonight they play the Dallas Rebels.

Only a complete collapse would spill Houston from top place in the less than three weeks left on the regular season.

Fort Worth rallied for six hits and three runs in the 7th and 8th frames and overtook Tulsa for a 3-2 victory and a sweep of a four-game series.

Dallas swept a double bill from the Oklahoma City Indians, 5-0, and 7-0. Guy Curstwright drove in six runs to help Shreveport down the Beaumont Exporters, 3-6. He hit a homer in the 7th with the bases loaded.

REDS MAY SEW UP FLAG IN EAST SCOT

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Everybody is sitting back and waiting for the National League's usual September scramble, but there is a fat chance (read it anyway you choose) the bunting will be stowed away this month while the contenders are cruising in the east.

The weak-sisters along the scoreboard have been a lot softer touch for the Cincinnati Reds than for the St. Louis Cardinals this season. Therefore, on the face of things the Reds have a chance to manufacture a lead in the next two weeks which will withstand any St. Louis squall when the clubs get back home.

Whether it was an omen depends on how you look at it, but Cincinnati pummeled the Phillies, 7-0, yesterday while the red-hot Cardinals were cooled off, 7-1 by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

John Niggeling, the 33-year-old rookie righthander Bill McKechnie picked up about a week ago, pitched seven scattered hits and seven strikeouts in earning his second big league triumph in seven days.

In contrast, Tom Sunkel and Lonnie Warneke were shelled for 14 hits—at least one to every Dodger who went to bat. Luke Hamlin, the hot potato, burned his fast ball past all the St. Louis sluggers and shut them out until the eighth inning to snag his 19th victory.

Besides slowing down the Cardinals, the game raised the Dodgers into the first division past the New

Kilgore Loses Two To Tigers

By The Associated Press
Marshall made enough runs in one inning last night to defeat Kilgore, 9-7 in taking the nightcap after winning the opener, 11-6.

Kilgore had a 7-run lead when Marshall went to bat in his half of the fifth inning and bunched seven hits, four bases on balls and a wild pitch for the 9 scores.

The Palestine Pals rallied in the eighth with three runs to down Texarkana 5-3; Henderson defeated Tyler, 7-2, behind Gene Hinrich's 8-hitter; and Longview trounced Jacksonville twice, 3-2, 7-2.

BARNES UPSET IN NET PLAY

DALLAS, Aug. 22 (AP)—Fred Barnes of Denton, second seeded, was an upset victim of the Dallas open tennis tournament yesterday, but the defending champion came through unscathed.

Barnes fell before Bill Ledbetter of Dallas, 6-4, 6-1.
Champion Fred Royer, also of Dallas, beat Bob Billings of Austin, 6-0, 6-1.
Jayne Johnson of Wichita Falls third-seeded in the women's division, lost to Ann Babbs of Dallas, 5-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Many of Australia's rivers dry up in the summer.
York Glanis, who were subdued by Lefty Larry French of the Chicago Cubs, 4-3.
Other major league clubs were idle.

Ritchie, Baer To Move To Lubbock Soon To Set Up Training Quarters

LUBBOCK, Aug. 22 (Sp)—Texas' biggest and most important prize fight since legalization of the boxing game several years ago, will occur here September 18 when Maxie Baer, former world's heavyweight king, battles Lubbock's Babe Ritchie in a 10-round set-to.

The fight will be staged at the local fair grounds and approximately 15,000 people will see Ritchie make his supreme bid for flistic honors.

"Pup" Thomas, backer of the big fight, guaranteed Baer 10 thousand dollars and training expenses for the fight. Ritchie will receive only a small percentage of the gate but Ritchie is fighting for far more. He can step up as a worthy challenger to Joe Louis' heavyweight crown with a decision over Baer and that's what the former Lubbock high school star is fighting to gain, a chance at the heavyweight crown and the pot of gold that goes with it.

More Food Stamps

After its trial in Rochester, N. Y., and a few other cities, the department of agriculture's food stamp plan is so popular that requests from grocers' groups and others are said to be behind Secretary Wallace's announced intention to extend it to other cities throughout the United States.

The newest venture in the program is an experiment in Shawnee, Okla., with extending the sale of food stamps not only to relief clients but also to employed heads of families receiving less than $19.50 a week.

Altogether the stamp plan seems the most promising method devised in the effort to break down the paradox of undernourishment in the presence of food surpluses.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—Now that the elephant is discredited as an animal that never forgets, I nominate the Hollywood press—the people like me who write about the movies—for long memory laurels.

The collective movie reporter is a creature of human prejudices. He meets people, he has experiences, he hears tales. He soon finds himself dividing the movie sheep from the movie goats, justly or unjustly.

When the boys and girls get together for an old-fashioned star roast, there are usually certain select immortals who for one reason or another are turned with extra relish on the critical pan.

Constance Bennett must enjoy it by now—this practically unanimous dislike. Once or twice she has made the effort to overcome it, through such means as "granting" interviews at which she invariably is quite charming.

Katharine Hepburn (lately a Broadway success in "Philadelphia Story") left a trail of "enemies" behind in Hollywood. The boys and girls didn't care for her sense of humor, indifference, or whatever it was that alienated those who came offering verbal posies.

Kay Francis, who never appeared to care what personal "notices" she got, invariably gets her share of brickbats, although her "manners" have improved some since that famous party of hers.

Where Bette Davis's good fellowship and pleasant ease always win her huzzas, Luise Rainer's uncertain temperament and general unfriendliness earned her few journalistic admirers, even among those who praised her screen work.

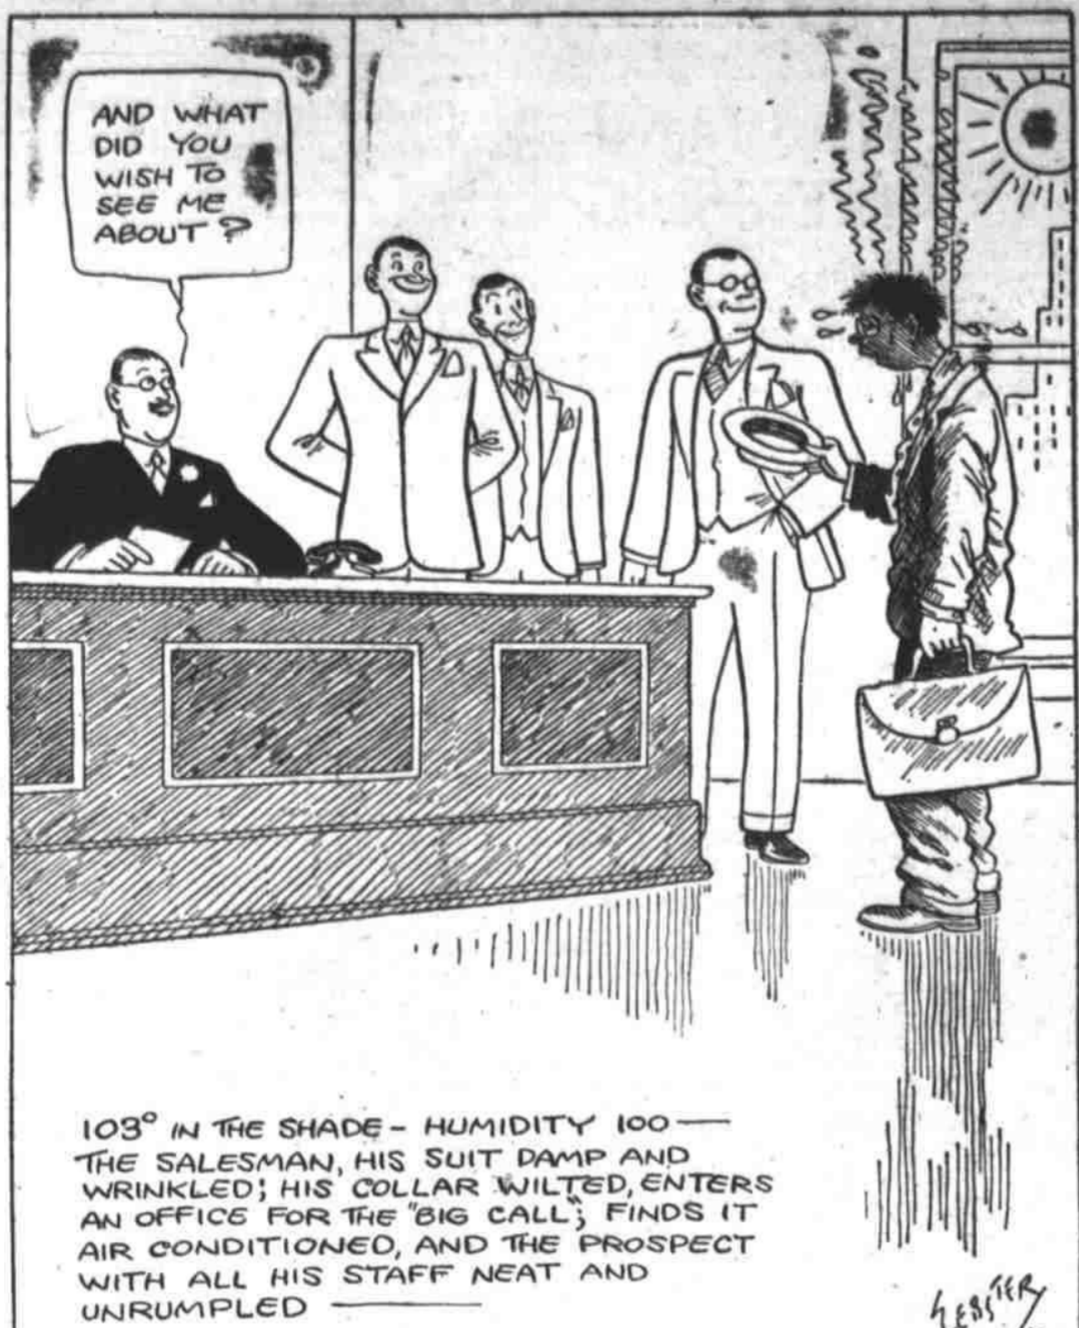

Opera stars are judged in the panning parties, not by their previous reputations for temperament but by their deportment in Hollywood. Lily Pons is still an incredible angel not only to the panners but to the people who worked with her.

And the strange thing is that any of these roared stars could turn over a new leaf tomorrow, offer the olive branch, come off the high horse—and make no appreciable dent in their established reputations.

Meet Mr. Lochinvar

By Marie Blizard

Chapter 28 UNLUCKY CECILY "There was that young feller," said the baggageman.

"Oh, has he gone?" Cecily's heart sank painfully. "I hope he's not going to stay. He... he does excellent carpenter work. I... I had something else I want him to do."

"Next year? I don't know, Joe." "Next year, next year was another age to Cecily Stuart that September afternoon."

"She thought: I'll think of Doug and the autumn. Doug will be in New Haven. The Kendalls, bless them, will see to that. He won't have as much money as he used to, but he won't need it. I'll be in New York. I'll see faces and find people who'll remind me that I found Armand in a little summer colony. I have nearly five hundred dollars and with that I can find myself a niche somewhere and have a modest book-shop."

"I'll see my old friends, go to concerts, hear Aunt Olivia in her triumphs, go to parties with Gloria's friends. Oh, I'll have plenty to do and maybe some day I'll forget the sound of a voice, the way a man's eyes crinkle up when he smiles. Some day when I'm ninety-six."

"It will take a long time and I'll start right now. Before he came into my life I had plenty of things to do, plenty of things to think about. I've grown richer in friends, in activities since I've known him and not because I've known him. Only I haven't paid any attention to them. From now on I will."

"Cecily's resolution was noble; the execution of it was not. At least not for the next day. She put books onto the wrong shelves. She overcharged, stammered her apologies and repeated herself. She answered vaguely when spoken to and found herself straining toward sounds in the street beyond the window. Every footfall made her look up with hope. The tinkle of the doorknob made her start each time she heard it. She couldn't get over the feeling that surely Locke would come back, come back and explain everything."

"I had to go to Bangor because—He would tell her his reason. It would be some acceptable reason. Then she would tell him what she had wanted to tell him, warn him, and he would say that he would go to Mrs. Brewster immediately."

cabin. A shameless visit. Not only did she steal down the North road furtively, hoping that no one would see her, but when she got to the shack, she shamelessly pried open a window and went in.

The apologized silently to Locke for the thing she was doing, and then she prowled. There were very few things there and it was neat as the proverbial pin. A single cup and saucer, a few plates, a mixing bowl—all neatly arranged on a shelf in the spotless kitchen. Three shining pots at the back of the stove. A few potatoes and a turnip in the bin.

Cecily hesitated before drawing the curtain that divided the shack into two rooms. Nevertheless she parted it and went in. There was an army-coat bed, meticulously made up; an old armchair, a straight chair and a make-shift table. On the table there was a locked portable typewriter. On a shelf over the bed there were twelve books. "Tapestry of the Mirror of Civilization," "Lord Jim," "The Oxford Book of English Verse," "The History of Crime," "The Desert Fathers," "The Detection of Crime," "Rogers's Thesaurus." The others were novels. An old collection.

Cecily felt she ought to leave. At the end of the room, a burlap curtain concealed the corner. Cecily peered back at it. There hung three suits, the familiar cangaroes, an old sweatshirt, two shirts with the sleeves cut off.

Cecily stared. They were not old, they were not rumpled. They were new, expensive, beautifully tailored, and quite definitely not the sort that she had expected to find. Unhesitatingly, she drew back the lapel of each, searching for a written name in the pocket lining. There was no name.

Then she discovered a piece of luggage. The kind that cost a great deal of money. Heavy pigskin—expert workmanship. There were labels. Labels from Switzerland, Vienna, Paris, Leningrad, Mexico City. Not the labels you'd expect to find on the luggage of a man who was content to eat a pound of mushrooms, a few quarts of berries. There were labels, but there were no initials.

There wasn't a sign in that whole cabin to give you the slightest clue to the identity of the occupant. Labels from Europe could mean anything. Complete absence of any identification could also mean anything—it could mean that that absence was intended.

Cecily went to the old-fashioned dresser that she had not noticed at first. She couldn't bring herself to open the drawers. But on the dresser top there was a small basket. The kind that the Indians from the reservation brought around during the summer to sell to summer guests.

out the way she had come. More Questions She had accomplished nothing more than to increase the pace of the questions that stirred around her mind with feverish intensity.

Cecily Stuart, you promised yourself that you wouldn't think about it any more. You'd put it out of your mind. Immerse yourself in other things.

One of the other things was the coming dance at the Yacht Club. There were two "big" social affairs to which the summer colony was looking forward. These were the last flares of the season: the closing dance at the Yacht club and the concert.

Gloria Watts was chairman of the dance committee. Olivia, naturally, was the moving spirit back of the concert. Olivia had sent for her secretary and already she was rehearsing for her program.

"Laura's awfully good at decorations. Do you mind if I bring her along?" Cecily had said and Gloria answered the more the merrier.

"Laura was good at decorations but mostly Cecily wanted her company for some reason she had not put into words; Laura was her only link to the thing that was closest to her."

"Laura dined at Dorelia's the night of the committee meeting. Gloria, poring importantly over her notebook, said, 'There are only three important angles to it; music, decorations and food.'"

"At college," Tony contributed, "we used to say there were only two important things: men and music. We could get by if the music wasn't so hot, but it was a first class flop if there weren't enough interesting men."

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Already the voice of congress has petered out to a mousy squeak and President Roosevelt is the big medicine man in Washington. Always it is that way.

When congress adjourns the individual member of congress shrinks in size. He becomes scarcely larger than the ordinary folk from whom he sprang. Standing in the halls of congress with a sheaf of papers in his hand and the whole country a possible audience, he is a man of might in the land.

On the other hand, the president, who during the six or seven months of a congressional session is merely part of the government, becomes the whole cheese when congress adjourns. What he says may be challenged by the voices of members scattered to the four winds about the country. But their replies lack punch. There is something about a Washington dateline that packs a news wallop.

PRESIDENTIAL PRESTIGE UP The voice of Senator Borah in sage-fringed Boise is not the voice of the thunderer on foreign affairs in Washington. The preaching on economy of Senator Byrd from among his Virginia apple orchards is not the voice of authority it is in the senate.

This shift of importance is recognized by both the president and the congress. When congress is gone the prestige of the president rises both in domestic and foreign affairs.

It is an important change at all times but just now an especially important one. During the final months of congress the president was on the losing end in his fight for increased authority in foreign affairs. Now his position is on the rise.

He told the home bound congressmen in a statement from his Hyde Park home that in blocking his spending-lending bill he gambled with the security of millions of Americans. In refusing requested repairs to the neutrality bill, congress gambled with the security of billions. He didn't say that it was a reckless gamble but the implication was there. The forlorn reply of a half dozen members of congress, some at home and some lingering in their Washington offices like stragglers after a battle, got only secondary headlines.

NOW HE'S NO. 1 It was about a year ago that the president, with congress out of session, became the big stick in the Munich negotiation. For a time he was almost No. 1 man in all the world.

A similar situation developing this fall would find him in virtually the same position. There is not much chance for opposition members of congress to blast away at his policies so effectively without the Washington sounding board. With congress out of the way the president becomes just about as nearly a one-man government as it is possible under the constitution.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Rockland county, New York, is a celebrated section of the state, not too far from Manhattan, which includes such nice little towns as Nyack (where Helen Hayes lives), Haverstraw (where Postmaster James A. Farley used to play baseball) and Pomonona, which is near Spring Valley, where Burgess Meredith has a rambling white cottage. Playwright Maxwell Anderson, author of "High Tor" is a resident nearby, and indeed the whole sector is rich in tradition ranging from the early Dutch sagas. Indian legends, and bustling Hudson river history.

Not long ago Prosecutor Dewey dispatched Dixie Davis, former "mouthpiece" of the Schultz gang, to a Rockland county hideaway, the estate of a friend, and kept him there until needed as a witness in one of his celebrated vice crusade prosecutions.

When word of Dixie's whereabouts became rumored, reporters hastened to Rockland county chartered a plane, and flew over the estate, hoping to obtain some pictures of the disgraced lawyer and his fiancée, Hope Dare. But Dixie remained indoors, and all approaches to the estate were patrolled by New York police.

This last week Rockland county has been seething with indignation because Dixie and Hope, just married, were reported to be secretly honeymooning in the land of the High Tor. County officials complained so bitterly to Mr. Dewey that he made a statement in which he declared that Davis and his bride were no longer in the county. They were, he said, honeymooning in distant and secret pastures. This mollified the county, which breathed a deep sigh of relief. What annoyed Rockland county residents so much was the original excursion of Dixie into its historic precincts. So secretive were Dewey's actions that Davis had been there for weeks before word of his presence leaked out. Which was astonishing, when you consider that Rockland county is a place where nobody has any secrets from anybody.

Everybody knows everything everyone else does. That a celebrated "figure" in scandalous New York City court proceedings was actually living in their midst was bad enough. But that Mr. Dewey should let Dixie back on a honeymoon, even with Cupid in tow, was simply too much for human feelings to bear. That's why even the milkmen along the twisting, country roads of Rockland county had that jittery look.

Over the weekend we were in Connecticut, and while sprawling on the sand our reverie was shattered by 30 or 40 swimmers who suddenly began shouting and swimming in unison to the tune of "Yours for a Song." This means that they were playing "Billy Rose." "Yours for a Song" is the music for those fantastic, beautiful formations featuring a hundred mermaids in the Aqueduct at the Fair. Apparently everybody in Connecticut has seen the Aqueduct. In any case, a man came down to the beach with one of those pick-me-up-and-take-me-anywhere radios. He turned the dial. The strains of this rhythmic melody came floating out across the salt afternoon, and perfect strangers fell into the mood, formed a gigantic ring-around-the-roses in the water, and swam to the measured-beat of this enchanting refrain.

KBST NOTES—

Aviatix And Golfer Given Radio Salute An aviatix and a woman golfer will be saluted on "Personalities in the Headlines," TSN program at 10 a. m. Wednesday on Station KBST.

The aviatix is Jacqueline Cochran, many times winner of air speed records and trophies too numerous to mention. As capable business woman as well as a flier, she operates a date farm in California, a sheep ranch in Arizona, markets a line of cosmetics, meanwhile maintaining a country place in Connecticut and a fashionable apartment in New York. Jeanne Cline, the golfer, started her career with a set of $5 clubs from a corner drug store and, though still in her teens, today is a serious threat to the country's women golf champions.

GRANDMA BEALE'S trailer becomes a police wagon in Wednesday's episode of the "Grandma Travels" show on Station KBST. Grandma's scheme worked just as she had planned. When Bristol's gang stopped the trucks, the police whom Grandma had brought to the scene in her trailer leaped into the battle. Now with the wounded taken to the hospital and the captured men in cells, Grandma and the Chief of Police are in conference. "Grandma Travels" is heard at 8:30 a. m. on Station KBST and TSN.

Floods Take Heavy Toll In Tientsin

TIENTSIN, Aug. 22 (AP)—Flood ravaged this great north China city today, taking a heavy toll of life and causing property damage running into millions of dollars.

Angry waters of the swollen Hai river rushed through Tientsin. An area extending some 30 miles north and south of the city was flooded, but many feared the worst was yet to come.

There had been hopes that because rain ceased in the immediate area of Tientsin the flood crest would be reached today. However, the waters continued to rise slowly.

Refugees by the thousands streamed into Tientsin from the submerged areas. There was intense suffering among the city's 1,500,000 residents.

The Japanese concession was under water—in some places 10 to 15 feet deep. Houses collapsed, through the night, the sky was red from fires which burned huge sections of buildings to the flood line.

The American community was as waterlogged as any. American marines whose barracks are on the southern edge of the British concession lost a two-day battle to hold back the waters from their quarters and retreated to upper floors, taking their livestock with them. The American consulate also took up emergency quarters in the marine compound.

All water, light and telephone service was disrupted. Authorities were attempting to bring in food by boats.

Epidemics are feared unless the water recedes quickly. But even when the crest passes, many low-lying areas may be submerged for weeks.

TOO THIN-SKINNED?—Grief seems to pierce the heart (and hide) of this ad-eyed baby walrus, "Fink," moping aboard the boat that brought him from his native Greenland to Copenhagen, Denmark. The boat crew made him a pet.

GOP May Follow A Waiting Game

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Republicans may try a waiting game to reverse custom and force Democrats to nominate their 1940 presidential candidate first.

With but one exception since the Civil war, the Democrats have enjoyed the strategic advantage of holding their quadrennial convention after the Republicans had written their platform and chosen their national ticket.

Some Republican politicians said today Chairman John Hamilton of the party's national committee might seek to delay selection of a convention date until after the Democrats have fixed theirs.

These persons said that by holding their convention last, Republicans could take more effective advantage of any dissension in Democratic ranks.

Some old-line Republicans were understood to disagree with such a course, however, contending that to hold their national convention after the Democratic meeting would be to accept a minority party role.

The Republican executive committee will meet here next month and the question may be given a preliminary threshing then.

Briton Is Slain In Affray With Shanghai Police

SHANGHAI, Aug. 22 (AP)—Japanese military authorities and Chinese officials of the Japanese-backed local government were reported today to be considering possible "isolation" of the Shanghai International settlement, apparently as the outgrowth of a police shooting scrape.

The Japanese were said to have moved additional troops, along with tanks and other mechanized equipment, into an area along the settlement border where a Briton, Sergeant W. L. Kinloch of the settlement police, killed two and wounded six of the puppet government's policemen with a sub-machine gun last Saturday.

Kinloch said he opened fire when he was shot in the back. Demands for indemnities, punishment for Kinloch and apology and assurance against recurrence of such incidents were presented last night to Cornell Franklin, American chairman of the settlement council, over the signature of Fu Siao-en, Shanghai mayor.

A Japanese army spokesman made the communication public, along with an English translation, but insisted the army had nothing to do with its dispatch.

Reports from Nanking were that leaders of the reformed (Japanese-sponsored) government "view the incident as an insult," and that "some agitators in Nanking are demanding that the British be driven from China and the Shanghai settlement restored to Chinese control."

Undergoes 5 Days Of 'Frozen Sleep' Cancer Treatment

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 22 (AP)—A 53-year-old man rested today under the scrutiny of three physicians after five days of "frozen sleep," medical science's newest treatment for cancer.

The experiment was disclosed after the patient was thawed back to consciousness last night. It was conducted at St. John's hospital by Drs. Alex Jones, James Graham and Henry Ashauer.

Afflicted with cancer of the prostate gland, the patient began the treatment last Thursday. For five days he lay unconscious in an ice-packed porcelain bed, his temperature lowered to 86 degrees, 12.8 below normal.

X-Ray pictures of the cancer growth will be made several days hence. Not until then, Dr. Jones said, would the results of the experiment be known. The physicians said the man, whose name was withheld, apparently suffered no ill effects from his "hibernation."

The "frozen sleep" cancer treatment is based on the idea that refrigeration retards the growth of cancerous tissue.

GIANT CAT FISH PRIZES ON BIG SPRING PARTY

A fishing party composed of Claude Wilkins and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hany, which returned from Devil's River Monday evening, reported extraordinary luck.

Brought back as prizes were two giant catfish, one weighing more than 50 pounds, the other almost 22 pounds. Both were caught on trot lines below the Devil's River dam.

ROOSEVELT TRIES NEW FISHING IDEA

ABOARD U.S.S. LANG AT SEA, Aug. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt decided today to try what he thought was an innovation in fishing—trotting down the Gulf stream from Canadian waters to the Virginias Capes.

The president told reporters that so far as he knew, no one ever had followed for fishing purposes the warm current which sweeps up from the South. He planned to troll both from the cruiser Tuscaloosa and small whale boats, if the weather permitted.

Mr. Roosevelt said he had no idea what kind of fish he might catch—if any.

T&P MAN HERE

L. C. Porter of New Orleans, assistant to the president of the Texas & Pacific railway, was a visitor in Big Spring Tuesday. He was making business contacts, and planned to attend the Brotherhood picnic in the evening.

Alaskan Colonizing Plan Is Drawing Many Inquiries

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—The butcher, baker and candlestick maker mixes hope with doubt when he contemplates Alaska as a possible empire of overlooked opportunity.

He still is a little confused on the extent of advantages realized by agricultural settlers in Alaska's Matanuska valley.

This, interior department officials said today, became evident in the first round of public response to the Slattery program for colonization of the vast northland.

The department has received 500 requests for additional information since August 14, when Secretary Ickes made public the plan submitted by Harry Slattery, his undersecretary, to grubstake in Alaska with private capital equal numbers of native Americans and political refugees from central Europe.

The chief difficulty in Matanuska, Ickes once said, was in clearing the dense woodlands and constructing roads. The roads have cost about $1,000,000 of the $4,100,000 allotted so far for the colony, and only about 15 acres of farm land per family have been cleared.

Officials estimated recently the colony would not be self-supporting until each family had at least 30 acres under cultivation.

The Effects Of Liquor Cannot Be Repealed

What shall I, a youth of today, choose or refuse? I choose to examine myself, all that I am and all that I desire to be.

I choose to know those things which build for the highest and best in life—a clean body, a clear brain, a conscience void of offense; to be honest with myself, I choose those things, presented to me by life, which will make for the highest and the best;

I choose for my companions those whose choices are like mine and whose desires are like mine toward the building of a new world;

I choose abstinence from all those things which tear down the physical, the mental and the spiritual in life; and—even though I should have to travel alone in this resolution—I purposely choose the highroad of total abstinence from alcoholic drinks;

I choose, by the help of God, to be master of my body and to see that every faculty is in good trim to meet the demands of life. My home, my church, my school and my country need such a citizen.—(Submitted by and published at the request of the local WCTU).

A habeas corpus hearing in the 70th district court was ordered continued until Wednesday at 10 a. m. so that important witnesses can be on hand.

District Judge Cecil Collins postponed the hearing one day when Clyde E. Thomas, defense attorney for W. S. Hollebeke, asked for a witness out of San Angelo.

Elizabeth Hollebeke, wife of the defendant, signed the petition for the writ of habeas corpus. Hollebeke is being held on a forged complaint. The defense contends that Hollebeke had permission to sign another man's name to the check in question.

REST NEAR ANGELO RESUMES DRILLING

Dan Short, et al No. 1 Davidson, wildcat test four and a half miles north of San Angelo resumed drilling Tuesday morning after running 10 inch string to 2,150 feet. Casing was laid in by E. A. Duffy of Abilene and Great West Pipe & Supply of Big Spring as operators planned to drill to 3,150 feet, or to pay at a lesser depth. It is possible that the depth may go beyond the 3,150 foot level until either pay or sulphur water is encountered.

RADIO OPERATORS TO MEET FRIDAY

Amateur radio operators in Big Spring and Coahoma have been advised of a meeting Friday at 8 p. m. in the city hall for the purpose of attempting an organization.

M. E. Boatman, Big Spring, said that there were 15 amateur operators in Big Spring and three in Coahoma. He urged all to join in effecting an organization for the group.

A short program has been arranged for the occasion, and Seth Parsons and Jack Hodges are down for short talks. Parsons will explain need for the technique of artificial respiration since operators are often times subject to shock in handling power. Hodges will touch on the tie-in of the operator with the Red Cross in emergency work.

HOTEL MEN ATTEND B'WOOD MEETING

Dan Hudson, manager of Hotel Bettles, and Cleon Cugwell, clerk who also is secretary of the unit, were in Brownwood Monday night to attend the regular monthly meeting of the West Texas Hotel Operators.

The next meeting will be held in Abilene.

PEDESTRIANS AND MOTOR TRAFFIC
don't mix—let's have

SIDEWALKS FOR SAFETY

When bad weather drives children and grown-ups off muddy footpaths and into the street, danger results. Pedestrians have no place in the path of fast-flowing motor traffic—but they'll go there unless your community has good sidewalks.

Here's one safety problem that is up to YOU. Why not get together with your neighbors and your officials and talk the matter over. Concrete walks don't cost a great deal. And besides saving lives they'll give you years of convenience and comfort, and permanently lift up your neighborhood.

Chicagoan Sets Sights On No. 1 Fem's Title

Shirley Ann Johnson, 'Glamour Girl,' Appears Capable

By EARL HILLIGAN
AP Feature Service

CHICAGO, Aug. 22—There's a double meaning to the "G. G." nickname Shirley Anne Johnson carries—and both fit this pretty 22-year-old golfer who will bid for national honors now underway at Noroton, Conn.

Miss Johnson, a striking blonde and one of the most popular young women stars in the Chicago district laughing recalls how she acquired the "G. G." pseudonym.

"In a tournament here last summer I was asked to pose for a photographer after a good round," Miss Johnson explains. "One of the girls—I think it was Marion Miles—passed by and called out, 'Hi there, G. G.' and I took quite a liking later on the glamour girl business.

"G. G.' Also Means—Several ranking professionals think another meaning of "G. G." is equally applicable—it's Good Golfer. Johnny Revolta, her teacher and a nationally known star, thinks she is ready to take a place at the top, and Dave Tosh, professional at her home club, Sunset Ridge, also thinks she is ready.

Miss Johnson has been handicapped recently by a strained back muscle but it's responding to treatment and she expected to be ready for the national title fight at Noroton's Wee Burn club.

Should Miss Johnson play up to her last winter's game she'll be an excellent bet to gain the semifinals and possibly get a shot at the title. She won the Mid-Florida

Welfare Board To Discuss Slash In Pension Funds

AUSTIN, Aug. 22 (AP)—A prospective drastic old-age pension slash for lack of funds, due in October, plus other social security problems will be discussed by the new state welfare board with H. P. Drought of San Antonio, WPA director for Texas, here tomorrow.

The new board, composed of Rev. M. E. Sadler of Austin, Marvin Leonard, Fort Worth merchant, and Freeman Strong, Beaumont attorney, will take over administration of pensions, state relief and the child welfare division of the board of control.

The most important problem facing the board is determination of a policy regarding pension cuts, since the legislature and Governor O'Daniel approved a law intended to expand the current rolls of 138,000, but provided no additional revenues. A plan to be approved by the federal social security board, will be drafted.

By another legislative act, the pension administration must start repaying loans of more than $2,000,000 in October. It is anticipated monthly payments, now averaging $14.15, may drop to half that amount.

MAN IS ACCUSED OF INHUMAN TREATMENT TOWARD CHILDREN

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 22 (AP)—Accused of chaining two sons by their necks and imprisoning two daughters in a closet, an unemployed father of eight children was summoned to city court today.

Superintendent J. W. Henry of the human education society arrested the man yesterday and had him put in jail, where he was booked as Jess Cline, 45, by police sergeant Herbert Bennett. He was charged with "inhuman treatment."

The superintendent said he found 8-year-old Nathan Cline and his brother Henry, 6, chained to small beds.

Two sisters, Minnie Frances, 9, and Jeannette, 8, were imprisoned in a closet half filled with quilts and bedding. Superintendent Henry asserted a hole beside the door, barred with laths, provided the only ventilation.

The father told Sergeant Bennett he was laid off by the WPA six weeks ago and hadn't had work since. The police said he would make no comment regarding the children.

Henry said the wife explained to him: "We couldn't do anything with them. They were all over the street and the police complained. We had to do something."

because the "cash and carry" provision, which expired May 1, has not been renewed.

Secretary Hull wants to revive the "cash" portion of this principle so as to require that title to goods pass to foreign hands before they could be exported to a nation at war.

He would like to modify the "carry" portion so as to prohibit American ships from entering combat areas, but nevertheless to permit them to carry goods to outlying territory of a belligerent not within danger areas. American ships thus could continue to carry merchandise to Australia, Canada, British South Africa, British West Indies, etc., even if Great Britain were at war.

Budget

aries, census and election costs, supplies, tax collecting expense and court costs were pegged at $18,489, a slight increase. Instructional service, salaries for 88 high school and ward teachers, advanced by about $3,000 to $107,316 due to the automatic increases based on the teacher's experience and training scale.

With new buildings to figure in the picture, the operation of plants was included for $11,555, little less than $2,000 more than for the current year. Maintenance of plant was listed at $1,205, a saving of nearly $1,000.

Auxiliary agencies, such as libraries, physical education, etc., were put in for $1,409, but W. C. Bland, assistant superintendent, warned the board that the next appropriation for the library would have to be considerably larger since many volumes are virtually beyond usefulness.

A saving of more than $2,000 was noted in the fixed charges (insurance) in the $535 appropriation since most of the buildings were insured last year for a long period. Capital outlay, for plant and ground equipment, was held to $5,192, far under the $62,443 required by a building program last year.

For the year debt service needs totaled $48,956, of which $18,600 was in the nature of short time loans. Bonded indebtedness demands were included for $28,056.

Total revenue receipts were estimated at $158,815, including major items of $49,997 current taxes, $4,550 delinquent, $1,600 in donation and fees, $76,142 in apportionment, and $1,599 in tuition. Debt service receipts were figured at $28,232, of which $25,882 was in current taxes and the other $2,450 in delinquents. Other non-revenue receipts were due to bring the total estimated income to slightly more than $300,000.

Meeting with the board was W. R. Dawes, who explained the public school music program. Also discussed was the band and a possible policy as to whether it would be a means of instructing in music or a community promotional enterprise. Board members present were C. W. Cunningham, president, Obie Bristow and Ira Thurman.

duct of the past justifies this assertion.

There is no doubt the average German now has been led to believe the Poles won't fight. He sees his fuhrer again in the role of miracle worker who augments the reich without shedding blood.

Still further, the man in the street in Germany today believes neither England nor France now will come to Poland's assistance.

He professes to feel there is no other course for the western powers except to stand by inactive.

zig, however, Polish circles emphasized Poland's present policy has "never involved any question of seeking or expecting" the assistance of Russia.

LEAVES CANCELED
BRUSSELS, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Belgian national defense ministry canceled all leaves for army officers today on the even of the severest small powers' conference, as a precaution against any turn of events in the European situation.

The order published tonight in the newspaper La Libre Belgique said officers were called back from leave "so all measures which would be ordered in case the situation were aggravated could be taken without delay."

Further measures to strengthen Belgium's defenses if necessary were understood to be already under consideration.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—Stocks jumped 1 to more than 3 points in today's market as the latest German-Russian diplomatic bombshell aroused hopes among traders a general war at least would be postponed.

The list hesitated at the start as sentiment appeared somewhat confused regarding overnight word from Berlin that Hitler and Stalin had decided to sign a non-aggression pact.

The opinion in Wall Street, however, soon gained ground that, notwithstanding consternation in London, Paris and Warsaw, the latest shift in power politics might bring a peaceable settlement.

There was a quick rush to cover short commitments in addition to relatively heavy speculative purchasing of securities both from here and abroad. In the first hour blocks of 1,000 to 3,500 shares changed hands rapidly. There was a subsequent slowdown, however, as profit taking intervened, and closing prices were under the tops in most cases. Transfers approximated 850,000 shares.

In contrast, the Berlin Boerse swung higher and the New York stock market rallied following a hesitant start.

'NOT SO IMPORTANT'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP)—Observers close to the state department expressed belief today the proposed new non-aggression treaty between Russia and Germany would be in effect the same as a pact already in existence and therefore "not so important as it first appeared."

After receipt here of unofficial information on what the new treaty will contain, these persons also expressed opinion it does not rule out the conclusion of a pact of mutual assistance between Soviet Russia and Britain and France.

In some informed quarters it was believed Germany was delighted to announce a new agreement at this time because of its possible effect in forcing a settlement of the Danzig question. Russia, it was thought, might also expect to make diplomatic gains by the announcement in that she might frighten Britain into accepting her demands before conclusion of the pact of mutual assistance.

JAP POLICY

TOKYO, Aug. 22 (AP)—Japan is expected by observers to renew attempts to win American friendship because of the imminent German-Soviet non-aggression pact and at the same time risk increased Soviet activity on Sakhalin Island and in Outer Mongolia.

What effect the pact might have on the two-year-old war in China apparently depended on the course to be taken by Russia, and the projected accord was not expected to alter Japan's relations with third powers unless Tokyo about faces to conciliate Britain, France and the United States.

SHUTTLE TRIPS BY BOMBERS PLANNED BY ENGLAND, FRANCE

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP)—A "shuttle service" by bombing planes across Germany was believed by foreign military experts today to be the most striking plan of British-French action to help Poland in event of war over Danzig.

Many suppose the British, French and Polish general staffs, quietly devising a new European war strategy, have worked out a plan for virtually continuous round-trip raids on Germany.

Germany's own "Blitzkrieg" (lightning war) theory of air attack might be met with sudden, devastating raids on German plane and munitions factories.

Starting from French bases, British and French planes would loose their bombs over Germany, fly on to Poland, refuel and reload with bombs, and make another raid over Germany on the way back.

Big bomb and gasoline reserves for French and British planes are believed established in Poland.

Because most experts agree the initial phases of "the next war" will be fought in the air, and because to get land forces into Poland would tax her friends with a difficult strategic problem, Britain and France probably would concentrate on air force assistance.
