County Food Stamp Fraud Cases Completed

With the trial of Sylvia Barrientos, a 30 year-old Hereford woman, prosecution of a series of Welfare Fraud cases filed in Hereford has been completed, according to District Attorney Roland Saul.

Mrs. Barrientos, mother of three, received nine years in the Texas Department of Corrections on each of the nine cases in which she was involved, on a plea of guilty. The sentences will run concurrently.

In all, 15 indictments were returned by the Deaf Smith County Grand Jury on Feb. 18, 1981, involving 15 different people in several different combinations.

The scheme was uncovered when in August of 1980, workers in the Texas Department of Human Resources became suspicious of one of their co-workers. Investigator Sydney Hester began an investigation in cooperation with the District Attorney's Office and uncovered a series of frauds which had been going on for over two years.

Although there were several variations of the scheme which is thought to have involved over $54,000 in food stamps, it basically followed the same pattern Saul said.

According to the testimony in several of the cases, potential food stamp recipients were recruited by Sylvia Barrientos to file applications for food stamps. Some of the applications were filled out untruthfully by the recipients and some were filled out truthfully. The caseworker, Zulema Garcia, would then falsify the applications, many times to show more members in the recipient's household than actually existed.

The recipients were then falsely certified to receive more food stamps than they were qualified to receive in amounts of up to $560 per month for one household. Sylvia Barrientos would then receive from the recipient part of the coupons—usually half, and split them with Zulema Garcia, the

Registration For Bicycles Slated

The Deaf Smith County Juvenile Department will be coordinating a bicycle registration project in conjunction with some local scout troops the next two Saturdays. The registration will take place at the Northeast corner of the county courthouse from 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. on Aug. 22 and Aug. 29.

The bike registration project is the dream child of local scout Shannon Wilburn, who is using the project as a part of the requirements to earn his Eagle Scout rank. Wilburn came up with the idea after noticing the large number of bicycle thefts in Hereford this year.

"In 1980 there were 78 bicycles stolen," Juvenile Officer Randy Williams said. "Through July of this year there had been 43 stolen." Added to the total just yesterday in Hereford were three more two-wheelers reported stolen.

Helping with the registration project will be scouts in Troop 151 and the Law Enforcement Explorer Post 125. Williams and Juvenile Office employee Louis Rangel will supervise the work.

The bicycles will be engraved with either the driver's license number of the owner or of his or her parents. Each bike's serial number will be recorded, and will be kept on file in the Juvenile Office. The engraving will be done on the bicycles' removable parts.

"This project is being done through the great cooperation of all local law enforcement agencies," Williams said. "We think this will go a long way to deter bicycle thefts in the county."

Each bicycle registered will be provided with a sticker proclaiming it as a registered bicycle.

Chamber Directors Approve 'Issues & Answers' Program

By O.G. NIEMAN, Publisher

Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce directors, in a regular monthly board meeting Thursday:

—Approved an agreement to hold an "issues and answers" program for local citizens prior to the November balloting.

—Approved an agreement with Eddy Nicholson, the "Rocking Chair Philosopher," to appear here as banquet speaker on Feb. 11, 1982.

—Approved the nominations of eight persons to be listed on the ballot for new directors.

—Approved the sponsorship of a New Teacher banquet in September.

President Tom Burdett also announced the board's discussions on various other projects and committee reports. An update on the Town & Country Jubilee, now in progress, was presented. Directors also approved a trip by executive vice-president Mike Carr to attend the annual Texas Industrial Development Council meeting. It will be held in Houston Sept. 10-11.

Betty Gilbert, Women's Division president, reported on the success of the recent Miss Hereford Pageant and complemented the steering committee for its work. Burdett added that he thought the pageant would have been a complete success, "if the air conditioning had been working in the high school auditorium."

Carr reported on the chamber's work in helping form the Panhandle Housing Authority. A group appeared at the county commission meeting and secured a resolution necessary for Hereford becoming a member. The commission appointed Carr as a director for Deaf Smith County.

Burdett reviewed the positive happenings in the community, announcing that a new industry, A&A Coating, had picked Hereford as the site for a new plant. Ken Rogers, past president, reported that another new industry may soon make an announcement.

School Board Okays Hike; Adoption of Measure Aug. 25

By BOB NIGH, MANAGING EDITOR

The Hereford Independent School District trustees approved raising the local tax rate from 78 cents to 84 cents during a brief "public" hearing in the board room Thursday night. Board members present and voting for the hike were James Gentry, Tom Simons, Bill Townsend, Sallie Strain, and R.C. Hoelscher. Absent from the meeting were trustees Bobby Griego and Paul Ramirez.

The tax increase is necessary to help cover an $8.4 million budget for the school district for the 1981-82 year, and the measure will be adopted at a 7 p.m. meeting next Tuesday, Aug. 25.

Despite the increase, local taxpayers will still be paying far under what they paid in school taxes during 1976 and 1977. Taxpayers received breaks in 1977 with the Homestead Exemption, and in 1978 when the Ag Use Value exemption was implemented.

For example, a taxpayer owning a home with a market value of $26,850 paid $235.21 in school taxes in 1976, and saw that reduced to $199.76 in 1977, with a $5,000 homestead exemption, which reduced the taxable value of his home to $21,850.

Also in 1977 the school district reduced the tax rate from $1.46 to $1.24 in response to promptings from the state government, which allocated more support in order to allow school districts to reduce taxes.

The hypothetical homeowner paid $162.56 in school taxes in 1978 and 1979, and saw a slight increase in 1980 when the district converted to taxation based upon 100 percent evaluation from the old standard of 60 percent. His 1980 tax bill was $170.43 at the outgoing 78 cents rate.

Under the soon-to-be adopted increase, the same homeowner will pay $183.37 in school taxes for the 1981-82 school year, an increase of only $12.94 over 1980, $51.84 under his bill in 1976, and $16.39 below his taxes in 1977.

Using the same formula with the ag use value substituted for the homestead exemption, a rancher with a half-section of land valued at $120,690 paid $1,057.24 in taxes in 1976, $897.93 in 1977 and 1978, and $656.28 in 1979 when the ag use value exemption came into effect, reducing the valuation of his property to $88,210.

The same rancher paid $688.04 in 1980, and will be paying $740.96 next year, $316.28 less than his 1976 bill.

The 1981 proposed tax roll based on 100 percent valuation of $374,238,000 on a rate of 84 cents will be $3,143,600 according to HISD Assistant Superintendent Bill Phillips.

"We are figuring in 1,400 taxpayers who qualify for the ag use value exemption, and 2,500 who qualify for homestead exemption,"

Phillips said. "And, of those 2,500 who qualify for homestead exemption there are 800 who also qualify for an over-65 exemption of $10,000."

HISD Enrolls 4,012 Students

Total enrollment for the Hereford Independent School District was 4,012 during the first day of registration Thursday according to Mal Manchee of the administration office. That compares to 4,220 who enrolled on the first day last year, but school officials are not disappointed by the lower figure this year.

"In fact, we are pretty pleased that the figures were as high as they were," Manchee said. "We've had a compares with 1,953 elementary students last year, 1,038 junior high students, and 828 high school students enrolling.

A total of 269 children were decrease for the past three years, but it looks like we'll be alright this year."

Manchee said that the district will pick up additional students "probably through Labor Day," and that the enrollment peak is usually reached in late September or October.

Figures for yesterday's enrollment were 1,866 for grades 1-6; 965 for grades 7-9, and 782 for grades 10-12. That (See STUDENTS, Page 2)

Local Drink Tax Rebate $1,263

Hereford's 15 percent rebate on tax collected on the sale of mixed drinks during the second quarter of 1981 amounts to $1,263.60 according to figures released this week by Texas State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office.

Bullock said sales of mixed drinks in Texas during the second quarter were up over 28 percent over the same period a year ago. Mixed drink taxes collected during April, May, and June amounted to $30.3 million, compared to $23.6 million during the same period in 1980.

Deaf Smith County recorded $9,660.88 in tax revenue on sales of drinks during the period, and will receive a rebate in the amount of $1,449.13 from the comptroller's office.

Bullock said second quarter taxes pushed the amount collected on mixed drinks this year in Texas to $58.9 million, which represents more than a half-billion dollars in mixed drink sales in 1981.

Bullock said his office is mailing checks totaling more than $8.8 million to 214 counties and 380 cities as their share of the 10 percent gross receipts tax on mixed drinks for the second quarter.

The state's General Revenue Fund will receive the balance, $21.5 million, of the tax money collected during the quarter.

Texas cities and counties receive a 15 percent rebate of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries under the law that legalized mixed drink sales.

The tax collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and the city-county rebates are sent out quarterly by the Comptroller.

Law 'Challenge' To Ms. Atkinson

By DEBE GRAVES, Staff Writer

"I love what I do because it is challenging and it allows me the opportunity to help people in a very intimate way, with some very serious problems," says attorney Schalan Atkinson.

Born and raised in Amarillo, Ms. Atkinson received her bachelor's degree from WTSU and then a doctorate of Jurisprudence degree from Texas Tech University in 1975.

Intrigued with criminal practice, Ms. Atkinson moved to Hereford in May of 1976 to accept a position as assistant criminal District Attorney. She served in this position until July of 1978, at which time she opened a private law practice here.

Hereford is the first small community she has ever lived in, and she finds the people, "Very good and generous, the community has a great deal of potential."

Along with the criminal cases she handles she represents many people in personal injury and domestic relations cases.

When questioned about personal involvement in handling cases she replied, "I think it is very hard for people to understand how a lawyer can remove themselves emotionally from such emotional situations as a child custody or criminal defense, but I see it as my job to represent my client in the best way I can, and this does not involve emotions. I am not being paid to sympathize, though I might; I am paid to help them through legal expertise."

"However, if you remove yourself totally from the emotional aspects of the case you will not serve that person very well," she adds.

Ms. Atkinson believes strongly in recommending counseling for clients considering divorce, but will not force counseling on people who do not want it. "When someone comes to me with a problem they have an opportunity to tell me where their problems are and then I can point out alternatives," she said.

"The increase in divorce, nation-wide, is rather incredible," she states. "Of the divorce cases I see I would estimate 90 percent of the relationships are ir-retrievable because the couple's reason for marriage in the first place was wrong."

Seeing the failure of marriage in such an intimate way through her work has not discolored Ms. Atkinson's personal view of the institu- (See BRANDING, Page 2)

Double Standard At Academy

HOUSTON (AP) — A black female Houston Police Academy cadet was expelled for cheating, but a white male classmate was not because his father works for the police department, a police union official has charged.

Bob Thomas, head of the Houston Police Patrolman's Union, said Thursday the incident was "lowering the integrity" of the police force. He said the male cadet would graduate from the academy as scheduled this week.

"A policeman has to be honest," Thomas said. "If they're going to start lowering standards and graduating cadets who cheat, what kind of police force are we going to have?"

U.S. Increase In Military Aid Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is prepared to boost its military aid to the embattled government in El Salvador if necessary to counter any rise in the military strength of leftist guerrillas, the U.S. ambassador to that Central American country said in an interview with The Washington Post.

Deane Hinton told the newspaper that he hoped the amount of U.S. military aid to El Salvador — now at $35 million — would fall. But he said he "would recommend" an increase if aid from other sources to the leftists increased.

AG Wants Clements' Help In Appeal

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Attorney General Mark White

asked Gov. Bill Clements Thursday to use his influence with President Reagan's administration in obtaining federal reports that might help Texas in its appeal of the bilingual education case.

Federal District Judge William Wayne Justice has ordered Texas' 1,100 school districts to provide bilingual education from kindergarten through the 12th grade for all Spanish-speaking, limited English proficiency students.

The state is appealing, arguing the bilingual education bill passed by the 1981 Legislature that calls for such instruction through elementary grades showed progress and reason for a stay of Justice's order.

Brady Closer To Full Recovery of Wound

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are optimistic that White House press secretary James S. Brady has cleared the last hurdle to recovery from the head wound suffered in the assassination attempt on President Reagan.

Brady underwent nearly three hours of surgery Thursday in which doctors found and patched a leak that was letting spinal fluid escape from his bullet-damaged brain cavity.

A doctor who saw him after he regained consciousness in mid-afternoon said Brady was awake, coherent and "chattering away."

A hospital statement that the surgeons were "cautiously optimistic" that Brady's fourth major operation since the shooting had been successful but that it would take several weeks and a resumption of Brady's physical activity before they could be sure.

However, Dr. Dennis O'Leary, clinical dean of George Washington University Hospital where Brady is being treated, was more upbeat. While it is true that only time will tell, O'Leary said, "we have every good reason to think we're going to get a good result."

And as for the general outlook, the medical spokesman was more openly optimistic than he has been since the shooting.

"In any injury as serious as Jim's, we expect complications, and we sure have had them," he said. But he added that no further major problems are in sight at this point, and "we really are hopeful at this stage."

The spokesman said the surgical team headed by neurosurgeon Arthur Koberne and nose and throat specialist Norman L. Barr Jr. was pleasantly surprised during the surgery to find a clear, quarter-inch defect in one bony sinus. There was every indication it was that defect that was causing the leakage, O'Leary said. The doctors were not at all sure beforehand they would be able to find any obvious source of trouble.

OPEC Fails Again On Unified Pricing

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) - The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries failed again to agree on a unified price schedule that analysts said could raise American gasoline prices several cents a gallon.

After two days of preliminary discussion and two days of formal sessions, the oil ministers of OPEC's 13 member nations extended their special pricing meeting for a third day today. But there appeared to be little or no prospect of an agreement.

Indonesian Oil Minister Subroto, the oil cartel's current president, said the ministers would "request the heads of state of each country to contact each other to arrive at an agreement." That, also, was unlikely to resolve the differences.

The latest attempt to agree on a single base price for crude oil for the first time since early 1979 foundered on a difference of $1 or $2 per 42-gallon barrel. Saudi Arabia, producing nearly half of OPEC's daily output, said it would not go above $34 a barrel, with premiums for better grades. Venezuela, the No. 2 producer, said it wouldn't go under $36, its present price. Some of the others argued for $35. Sheik Ahmed Zaki Yamani, the Saudi Oil minister, said if the others would not come down to $34, his price would remain at $32, OPEC's lowest.

"We're happy with $32," said Yamani, who at that price is having no trouble selling the 10.25 million barrels a day his country is producing.

Venezuela, too, said it could sell all the oil it wanted to at $36. But some of the others who have been trying to charge up to $42 a barrel for top grades have had to reduce production because of the international oil surplus caused by conservation in the industrialized countries and the huge Saudi output.

U.S. gasoline prices, since peaking in March, have gone down several cents a gallon due to reduced demand and the plentiful supply of oil. In

New York, Gary Ross, an economist with the Petroleum Industry Research Foundation, estimated the cost of crude oil to U.S. refiners would increase 3 cents a gallon or more if the Saudis raised their priced $2 a barrel. The companies would try to pass that on to the public.

Reagan Ordered Navy To Challenge Libya

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — President Reagan says he personally ordered the Navy to challenge Libya's territorial claim and conduct maneuvers in disputed waters to show "America has the muscle to back up its words."

Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy drew the line and the United States crossed it, knowing that hostilities might result, Reagan said Thursday after a three-hour tour on the carrier USS Constellation.

Nevertheless, Reagan insisted that he was not trying to provoke an incident and that the downing of two Libyan jets early Wednesday was a defensive action.

"Our men are going to shoot back," he declared. Reagan said he decided some time ago to assert the United States' claim that the vast Gulf of Sidra was international waters, not Libyan territory as claimed by Khadafy.

"We were faced with the knowledge that we could not go on recognizing this violation of international waters and that we were going to plan our maneuvers as we would have planned them without that rule, without his artificial line."

"I approved the idea," he said, adding that he revoked a previous standing order to the Navy to "not challenge" Khadafy's claim.

The Libyan incident was raised repeatedly during Reagan's time aboard the Constellation and later at a California Republican fundraising dinner in suburban Orange County.

"I was given the briefing on the maneuvers before they were held quite some time ago. And these are international waters. And I approved the idea that while we don't want to be provocative or anything else, good Lord, we send our ships into the Black Sea, just as the Russians send theirs into the Caribbean, to establish the fact that they are international waters," Reagan said during an after-dinner question period.

"So the exercises properly required crossing to a certain extent that line, and I approved that - that we would do that."

Reagan said the question of a military confrontation was raised during the briefing before the training exercises. "There was only one answer to that question. If our men are fired on, our men are going to shoot back," he said.

Earlier, after watching a dazzling display of firepower from the decks of the Constellation, Reagan told cheering sailors:

"Let friend and foe alike know that America has the muscle to back up its words, and ships like this and men like you are that muscle."

Texas Cultural Alliance Board Holds Meeting In Hereford

Other board members are, left to right, Fran Alger of McAllen, and Opal and Ed Brownrigg of Dallas. They are all deeply involved in educational exchange programs.

Conference Discussed

By JO ELLEN JORDE

This past weekend out-of-town members of the Executive Board of The Texas Cultural Alliance were entertained by local board members Bob Gentry and Jo Ellen Jorde. Two long-working sessions were interspersed with social and cultural occasions, which allowed the visitors to meet local citizens and visit cultural exhibits in our area. The Texas Cultural Alliance has developed opportunities for people around the world to create real relationships and to have a different perception of their fellow human beings. The Texas Cultural Alliance is making a difference!! It is making very real contributions to peoples' lives and thus accomplishing its goal of creating a better world through better understanding.

Each of you is aware that neighboring countries need each other to guarantee freedom and prosperity. Yet it is only through understanding that we can identify our common goal. Often people fail to recognize that all organization, including government, depends on the individual person and one-to-one relationships.

The "Art of Human Communication" is the emphasis for the Americas Studies Conference of 1981. This year in October, in Mexico, The Texas Cultural Alliance will have become partners in creating a cultural alliance week in Puerto Vallarta and in the appearance of "Mines Alive" of Dallas Theatre Alive for a whole week. Fort Worth's "Texas Little Symphony" will be appearing in Guadalajara and Puerto Vallarta.

Frank Howell, outstanding Colorado artist, will do workshops and exhibits in both cities. The Dallas Community Colleges and the Dallas Independent School District will have representatives there. In all, 64 civic and cultural leaders from the United States will be present and working toward a 1982 conference to be held in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

"Hands Around the World" has been complimented by the Children's Museum of Indianapolis by having its traveling exhibit called the finest seen by its curator, Judi Ryan. This program is now the proud possessor of a fantastically beautiful Children's Art Exhibit from Mainland China, the only such official exhibit presently in this country. More importantly, children, through the language of art, are able to share their lives with others throughout the world.

The "Excursions" program is planning exciting events for the Holyland and/or Mayan Mexico in 1982.

Ann Landers

It's Never Too Late

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I don't expect a reply. I'm mainly letting off steam. My aged mother lives with me. She is a semi-invalid, crotchety and impossible to get along with. She has made me so angry at times that I have actually struck her. Sounds terrible? Well, it is. If people knew I could go to jail.

I grew up in a crazy household with no affection or love. I was beaten, humiliated and abused. The misery I suffered at the hands of this nutso lady screwed up my head for all time. I have never been able to establish a substantive relationship with anyone. Marriage? Out of the question. No one could stand me. I'm filled with self-hate and bitterness. At 54 I don't think it is possible to change.

When I think of the future I see nothing but more self-loathing, pain and emptiness. I will probably end up jumping off a bridge if I can get up the nerve to do it. I don't know why I was born or what the point of this life is. I Should Be Shot

DEAR FRIEND: Obviously, you've written yourself off, but "I" haven't. I believe a tenacious, dedicated therapist could help you turn your life around. Fifty-four is not too late—if you really want to do it.

Look under "mental health" in the phone book. You will find several choices. Your letter indicates a high level of intelligence, and keen insights into your warped thinking and sick behavior. Obviously, you are well-educated. (Your letter was grammatically perfect and required no editing by me—only shortening in the interest of space.) I believe you are worth saving. Now go ahead and DO IT!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thank you for blasting that husband who was embarrassed because his wife made a lot of noise in the delivery room. I wish you had warded the skunk cabbage to the doctor who didn't believe in easing the pain of childbirth.

If a doctor refuses to help a woman through those agonizing hours, she might as well have her baby at home and hot have a hospital bill. I can't understand how a physician who is supposed to be dedicated to relieving suffering can adhere to the outmoded tradition of "letting nature take its course."

In my opinion, the present-day practice of allowing fathers to accompany their wives into the delivery room is a good thing. The man who helped start her pregnancy should have the guts to help her finish it.—A.W. From Knightstown, Ind.

DEAR A.W.: Many women wrote to tell me how they and their husbands went to classes together to learn how to prepare for the "natural," drug-free birth. Half of them said it worked—but just as many said that after suffering for hours they begged for medication and received it. Only five women (out of nearly 200 who wrote) said the doctor refused to give them anything to relieve the pain, and all five said they would NOT return to that doctor for another delivery.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am told that last year about 40 percent of all Catholics married out of their faith. Almost the same percentage of Jews did, too. (Many more Jewish males took Gentile brides than other way around). About 10 years ago these figures were much smaller. How do you feel about this trend toward interfaith marriage?—Hate to See It Happen In Wellington, Kan.

DEAR WELL: Less rigid than 25 years ago.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex—Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Now You're Cookin'

By DEBE GRAVES
Staff Writer

The Hereford Independent School District has hired 42 teachers who will be new to the local school system this year. One of the new teachers will be Miss Cyndi Kiker, who will teach fourth grade at Shirley Elementary.

Born in LaJunta, Colo. and raised in Amarillo, Miss Kiker graduated from Tascosa High school there. She is a graduate of Amarillo College and received her bachelor's degree from West Texas State University in 1978.

While attending WTSU Miss Kiker majored in elementary education, along with which she received certifications in Language and Learning Disabilities and in Generic Special Education.

Miss Kiker spent her first year of teaching in Crosbyton followed by two years teaching first grade in Littlefield. She is excited about joining the Hereford school system because, "The town is larger and there will be more single people to know and associate with here."

Teaching has been her chief area of interest since childhood when she played school. "It is the only profession I ever want. Working with the kids makes me feel like a million bucks," she says! "There are bad days in teaching, as there would be in any profession, but even the bad days are worth it," says the enthusiastic teacher.

Miss Kiker says she is impressed with the high-quality of the equipment and resources available to teachers in the Hereford system and she is thrilled to be presented the opportunity of teaching in such a modern system.

Miss Kiker finds that stressing positive self-images to the children is one of her top priorities. "There are no pets in my classroom," she says, "every single child is important to me in their own special way."

Her interests include sewing, playing the piano, reading the Bible and "watching good-looking guys," she laughs.

Having sung with a group, "Crystal Waters," while in college, she still enjoys singing and listening to Contemporary Gospel music. On the athletic side Miss Kiker enjoys aerobic exercising.

For a good start of the school day she shares her favorite pancake recipe.

Glacier

The Jacobshavn glacier on the west coast of Greenland is one of the largest in the Western Hemisphere and the world's fastest. It flows at a rate of more than 100 yards a days and "calves" giant icebergs as often as every five minutes.

Escarbada on Display

Clubs Plan Displays

The Hereford Art Guild and Hereford Lapidary Club will have a special showing in the Community Center Saturday at the Town & Country Jubilee festivities. Their non-commercial division will be located in the West wing of the building.

Even though their demonstrators are not for sale, Carrie Mae Doak of the Hereford Art Guild, pointed out that they would be happy to take orders.

Mrs. Doak is chairman of the art guild's part of the show and said the following artists will each have several pieces of art at the show: Leola Cook, Louella Cowart, Mozelle Childers, Neil Culpepper who will show china, Doak, Opal Elliston, Mildred Guinn, Mary Hamby, Hilda Haven, Ora Morgan, Marguerite Newell, Eunice Petersen, Jean Reinauer, Susie Robinson, Meredith Wilcox, and Margaret Young. Members assisting with hosting the show will be Ruby Lee Hickman and Lucille Naylor.

one of the many out of town art and crafts exhibitors in the arts and crafts show at the Hereford Community Center Saturday.

The show is being held in conjunction with the Hereford Town and Country Jubilee. There is no admission to the show. Hours for seeing the exhibits are 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. It is sponsored by Sondra's Craft Corral, Sugarland Mall.

Brown and his wife live in Canyon where they operate Krazy Kraft Arts and Crafts and where Randy has his studio. He teaches art lessons at Sondra's Craft Corral here.

Brown has arrived in his current career as a watercolorist and craftsman through an unusual route. He has been an interior decorator, professional singer and guitarist, carpenter and sign painter. He also has spent two years in Viet Nam with the 101st Airborne Division before devoting full time to his art career.

He attended Canyon Public Schools and West Texas State University where he received a bachelors degree in English and history in 1970.

"I don't understand why so many people who live and travel through West Texas find it so barren and uncomfortable," Brown said. "I love this country and find a strange uniqueness about its qualities. I have camped, fished, hunted and worked here for nearly 30 years.

"I think the farmers and ranchers of this area know the same closeness to the land that I feel, but I don't think I really knew its beauty until I started painting," he said.

His technique is to use a dry brush on smooth illustration board, which forces him to create his own texture. The result is a smooth almost print-like effect.

Young Helper Comes To Aid of Grandfather

BY KARLA M. POLK

Eleven-year-old Florencio Zamora Jr. of 219 Vera Cruz, was featured in the July 23rd issue of the Brand for having the best "Worlds Greatest Dad" contest entry. However, writing is not the only thing this young man does well.

He is also what some call "Junior Manager" of the Cantu Phillip 66 located at 143 E. 1st St.

Florencio has been helping his grandfather, Ernesto Cantu of 219 Hereford Calle, run the station since he became ill in June. Cantu had surgery in July for throat cancer. Florencio ran the station during that time.

He is able to repair tires, services cars completely, keep the station in good clean condition, answer the phone, take messages and all with a friendly smile.

Florencio began to help Cantu when other family members were unable to help. Cantu is back on the job now, but is unable to speak, so Florencio reads sign language and translates messages to him.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Florencio Zamora Sr. and is the oldest of four children.

Florencio will be attending the fifth grade at St. Anthony's Catholic School. He plans to work at the station after school.

Customers feel that he likes his work and is good at it.

Around the Town

Visiting in the home of Hettye Boling recently have been several of her family. They were her granddaughter, Waverly Boling of Danville, Ky., her son, John S. Boling of Santa Anna, Calif., and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Winston Evans and Wendy, all of Odessa. Mrs. Boling also visited in the home of her son, Bill Boling of Farwell, with her granddaughter, Dana Boling, and her children, Rangan and Candice, all of Thousand Oaks, Calif.

Violet Reinauer and her son Jim and grandchildren, Lara, Rich and Alvin all traveled to Austin last week where they attended funeral services for the children's great-grandmother, Loretty Cowan. This gave the children an opportunity to meet some of their relatives. From Austin, the group traveled to San Antonio where they toured the Alamo and other points of interest.

Man Charged After School Wing Evacuated

HOUSTON (AP) — A 40-year-old man was charged with felony criminal mischief Wednesday after a shooting incident which led to evacuation of a section of a nearby school.

Leroy Allen Marsh was held Thursday in lieu of $40,000 bond. He was charged after at least 25 shots were fired from inside his apartment from a 16-gauge shotgun, a .45-caliber pistol and a .22-caliber rifle.

Police said about 500 H.M. Landrum Junior High School students were moved out of a Muse returned last Friday from a 12 day trip to the West Coast. They visited their daughter Betty Davenport, and other relatives in Newport, Ore. On their way to Oregon, they visited their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill J. Muse, in Arvada, Colo. Their son recently underwent surgery.

About 40 members of Adult II Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church were treated to an outdoor hamburger cookout Monday evening in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Quillen, 800 Baltimore. Herschel Black and Truman Hazelrigg served as chief cooks and members of the department furnished all the hamburger trimmings, homemade ice cream and desserts.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Mitts and children, Sharon and Stuart, went to Six Flags Over Texas last week and then came back by Lubbock and spent two days with friends.

Gail Chapman, executive secretary of the Spring Branch Independent School District, said about 1,000 students were attending the second day of school. About 500 of them were moved from the east wing into the cafeteria as a precaution, she said.

Marsh surrendered to police at 11:50 a.m. after talking with police hostage negotiator L.A. Jim Gunn.

FAITH WILL PREPARE YOUR CHILDREN FOR TOMORROW

our children need to learn faith in God, as well as the basic skills of life. As the opening of the school season draws near, remember that it is also time to begin or resume their spiritual education; to fortify them for the time when you may no longer be on hand to guide and protect them. That a large segment of our young people have never learned goodness for its own sake is tragically evident in the almost daily accounts of juvenile wrongdoing. Children are not born with this knowledge; they must be taught it. Enroll your children in Sunday school, and set your own good example for them by the way you conduct your life, and by attending your Church.

"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."
— Proverbs 22:6

"His education forms the common mind: Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."
— Alexander Pope
