

GOP Ranks Crack; House Pushes Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) - With cracks in Republican ranks, the Democratic-controlled House is defying a veto threat and sending the Senate an emergency spending bill measure that President Reagan's allies say is billions of dollars over budget. Reagan is faring better in the Senate, where rebellious Republicans appeared to run out of steam in an effort to salvage hopes of a 1984 balanced budget with $48 billion in selected tax increases and $39 billion in benefit cuts. The House, where Reagan defeated the Democrats in budget-and tax-cut battles last summer, voted 195-187 Monday for a stopgap spending plan in lieu of regular agency appropriations yet to be adopted for the rest of the fiscal year, which already is more than six weeks old. It must be signed into law by midnight Friday to keep the federal government from technically going broke. Passage came after the House voted 201-89 to turn aside a Republican attempt to impose a 5 percent, across-the-board cut on all but a handful of programs. Twenty-nine Democrats voted with the President on the additional cuts, but 18 Republicans went against him, breaking what previously had been solid GOP ranks on major economic battles. On the final vote, 43 Democrats sided with Reagan, 32 Republicans against him. Another attempt to scale down the measure is expected in the Republican-controlled Senate, leaving it to a conference committee to work out the differences before the bill goes to Reagan. House Republican leader Robert E. Michel of Illinois said the bill was "over budget by anyone's standard of measurement" and added, "This is the last opportunity we'll have to make corrections overall." He said he "can't conceive" of the president signing it as is. But House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. said the time had come to reject "this administration's program of tight money and flaky economics." Citing forecasts of steadily rising unemployment, the Massachusetts Democrat declared: "Enough is enough... Reaganomics is not working and it's time to come up with a new script." Afterward Rep. Bill Alexander of Arkansas, the deputy Democratic whip, said it was "like a rule of physics" that as unemployment rises, popular support for the president's economic plan drops. Man Nearly Loses Thumb

A man nearly lost his thumb as the result of a confrontation early Monday morning on Main Street. Juan Liscano called the Hereford police from the Deaf Smith General Hospital emergency room to report that he was stopped by a car with flashing lights about 1:30 a.m. When he got out to see what was going on one of three men from the car whipped out a knife. Liscano said he put his hands up to protect himself but was slashed on the thumb.

Police checked out a criminal mischief report given by Albert Gonzales, 413 Knight, who told police someone had shot his storm windows, causing about $200 in damages. Police also received a call that streetlights on the 400 block of Avenue E had been shot and several reports of a prowler on Third Street were received. A Dimmitt youth was arrested for theft under $20, but has now been released to his parents. Police made 11 calls and issued seven citations. During the weekend police checked out the theft of a bicycle from Sunset Lanes Sunday night and several criminal mischief incidents involving cars were reported. Trophies for the speech tournament sponsored by Hereford High were reported stolen Saturday night just before the awards were to be given. The Face Place, 505 E. Park, reported several incidents where someone has removed the light bulbs from a sign in front of the business. Bob Barrett, 301 Douglas, told police that about $550 worth of miscellaneous tools and equipment were taken from his truck Saturday. His loss included a CB radio, a garage door opener, jumper cables, a jack and a large lug wrench. Weekend arrests included five public intoxication, two juvenile intoxication, one (See POLICE, Page 2)

Prime Returns to 16 Percent

By STEVEN P. ROSENFIELD
AP Business Writer
The prime lending rate, which passed the 16 percent mark a year ago today on its way to record peaks, has returned to 16 percent, but this time on a downward side as the nation settles into recession. Crocker National Bank in San Francisco, the nation's 12th-largest bank, undercut the rest of the industry Monday and dropped its prime lending rate to 16 percent from 17 percent. At the same time, other major banks followed a trend that began last week of reducing the prime rate to 16.5 percent. And a smaller institution - United Missouri Bankshares, with 21 banks in Missouri - cut its prime rate to 15.75 percent from 16.75 percent.

Thomas Thomson, chief economist at Crocker, predicted the key business-borrowing rate would fall to 15 percent by the end of the year. Edward Yardeni, chief economist at the investment firm of E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc., was more optimistic, predicting a 13 percent prime rate by the end of the year and a 10 percent prime rate by February. The last time the prime rate was this low was Nov. 17, 1980. (See PRIME, Page 2)

Re-Beat the Dons Deadline Wednesday

Herd spirited residents and businesses have until 5 p.m. Wednesday to call KPAN radio and report the location of their sign or decoration for "Re-Beat the Dons Week."

and will be featured on the radio station's morning show next week. The business will also receive a free 15 column-inch ad in The Brand.

Hereford High Cheerleaders are sponsoring the city-wide decorating contest to help boost the "Whiteface" spirit for the district game Saturday at 2 p.m. against the Palo Duro Dons. After judging Thursday, the winning business and residence will be featured in the Hereford Brand Friday. The winning business will be allowed a representative in the KPAN press section

The winning family will be treated to a steak dinner at K-Bob's and will receive a free year's subscription to the Brand. According to Sandy Brownlow, Herd cheerleader, "anything goes" in the decorating. Contestants may enter signs or decorations they have had up all year or may design new ones. The Herd faces the Dons at Kimbrough Stadium in Canyon.

City Ups Insurance Deductible

Hereford city commissioners voted Monday night to increase the deductible on the city's group insurance policy from $50 to $100. City manager Dudley Bayne said the increase will allow an overall decrease in the insurance rate structure.

Hereford Gets $68,000 Check

AUSTIN, Tex. - State Comptroller Bob Bullock last week sent checks totaling $68.4 million to 948 Texas cities as their share of the one-percent city sales tax for November. The payment this month is $16.3 million more than Texas cities received during a comparable period in 1980. Hereford's share of the tax rebate was $68,000.25, bringing the city's year-to-date total to $450,002.22. The November rebate was more than $10,000 under the $78,000.00 received by Hereford during the same period a year ago, but the 1981 total is ahead of the $67,704.56 received by the city in 1980, up 2.81 percent. The payments push totals for Texas cities through November of this year to $614.7 million - a 16.6 percent increase over payments for the same 11-month period in 1980. Payments to Texas metropolitan cities for November include: Houston, $20 million; Dallas, $10 million; El Paso, $2.3 million; San Antonio, $5.5 million; Fort Worth, $9.5 million; Austin, $9.1 million; and Corpus Christi, $2.5 million. Also, Midland, $1.3 million; (See CHECKS, Page 2)

McNaney Captures Football Contest

Jim McNaney of 604 East 4th in Hereford captured first place in last week's Hereford Brand Football Contest and stood all alone with only five misses in the topsy turvy football weekend. McNaney's misses included the Rice-Baylor, Oklahoma-Missouri, USC-Washington, Dallas-Detroit and the Pittsburgh-Atlanta games. Reward...$25 in Hereford Bucks.

Second place and $15 goes to Mary Lou Schmucker of Rt. D, Box 13, Nazareth. The $10 third prize went to Alice Rahlfs of 132 Mimosa, Hereford. Schmucker and Rahlfs each missed six games as did eleven other entrants. But, that tie-breaker game made the difference. The Denver-Tampa Bay game total was 31 points while Rahlfs guessed 28 points. Other entries missing only six games were Roger Rahlfs, Max Goforth, Doug Rampley, Gary Long, Bill Sanders, Susie Kalka, Greg Brown, James Hillwig, Keith Kalka, Carolyn Johnson, and Irene McKinster.

You Can Quit If You Want To Say Ex-Smokers.

By JERI CURTIS
Staff Writer

From midnight Wednesday to midnight Thursday is the fifth national Great American Smokeout sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

According to Peggy Oakes, one of the Hereford Smokeout organizers, those who give up their cigarettes for a day will be asked to sign a list at a booth in both banks to tally how many give up the weed. The one-day health break started as a mass movement in 1974 when Lynn R. Smith, editor of the Monticello, Minn., Times, led his town in a city-wide smoke stoppage. The idea quickly spread and was observed nationwide for the first time in 1977.

The smokeout urges smokers to try to kick the habit for just one day, to prove to themselves that they can quit cigarettes.

"You can quit if you really want to," testifies Gene Poteet.

Poteet and his wife Juanita, quit smoking together Jan. 10 of this year while getting ready to go to church that Sunday morning.

"I smoked seven cigarettes with a cup of coffee and was getting ready to light another one with the second cup when I just decided that was too much," he related. "I almost tore my pocket off at first, reaching for a cigarette," he chuckled. "There for a while I would eat candy or crackers instead." Poteet insists that he hasn't had any urges to smoke since his day of decision and the only thing that bothers him now is being in a room where a bunch of people are smoking.

He said he was smoking several packs a day and would leave a trail of cigarette butts behind him at the Stagner-Orsborn truck repair shop he manages.

"I've been putting the money I've saved in the building fund at church, so I guess the Good Lord has helped me a little," Poteet said.

"Since Jan. 10 I went from 153 to 168 pounds, but that was kind of good, he commented. "I was six feet tall and only around 150 pounds."

"I still cough up that phlegm and stuff, but I don't cough at night anymore." Thirty year puffer Wayne Thomas quit smoking July 14 and swear his running time has improved.

"I mean I have quit and I'm proud of it," Thomas declared, although he had help through hypnosis.

"I simply decided that it was not beneficial and in all likelihood was detrimental," he said. "I feel much better, there's no question. Even before I quit, I felt good, but I feel even better now."

Panel to Probe Elevator Blasts

AUSTIN - The recent grain elevator explosion in Longview further illustrates the need for a better understanding of grain elevator safety, Sen. Bill Sarpallus said today.

Sarpallus is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Subcommittee, which began studying grain elevator explosions at the close of the 67th Legislature. The panel will meet Thursday in Corpus Christi to study the explosions and three other topics. "Obviously there is a great need to discover why elevators blow up," Sarpallus said. "The explosion in Longview is not the first, nor will it be the last elevator to go, unless we find a way to make them safer. Our committee is trying to find out what the state needs to do to make the elevators safe." "We heard expert testimony in the last hearing in Fort Worth, that indicated we really don't know what a safe level of dust in an elevator is. We want to find out what research we need to do to know when an elevator is safe and when one is not." Sarpallus also said the committee will study bonding of grain elevators. "This is a very important topic. The failure of a grain elevator can bring severe hardship not only to individual farmers but to an entire community as well," Sarpallus said.

Examiner Urges Bell Experiment

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A state examiner has recommended that Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. be allowed to experiment with charging for individual local calls made from home and business phones. Parents with phone-happy teen-agers, as well as others who stay on the phone, might decide to stick with flat rates. The "strictly voluntary" option of "local measured service" would charge customers according to number of calls, duration, time of day and distance similar to long-distance billing.

Customers would be "completely at the mercy of SWB" to keep accurate records of monthly phone usage, said a report by Public Utility Commission examiners Bob Gillespie and Carolyn (See BELL, Page 2)

The committee also plans to take testimony on the farm loan guarantee program, a state loan plan still in its infancy, and on transportation of agricultural commodities. The meeting will be at the Texas Agricultural Extension Building on Highway 64, three miles west of Corpus Christi International Airport, at 9 a.m. Thursday. The meeting is open to the public.

Man Charged In Brother's Mercy Killing

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A man has been charged with shooting his 72-year-old bedridden brother five times in an alleged mercy killing at a local nursing home.

Jim Collins, 72, whom doctors said was afflicted with a debilitating nervous disease, was shot five times in the chest and abdomen with a .38-caliber revolver at the Oak Hills Care Center on Monday, police said.

Two nurses who heard the shots told police they found Woodrow Collins, 69, sitting in a chair beside his dead brother. A revolver was on a nightstand by the bed.

As police led Woodrow Collins from the scene, he told reporters, "He suffered enough. That's all I can say. He suffered enough."

Woodrow Collins was charged with murder before Night Magistrate Tony Jimenez and released on $10,000 bond Monday night.

Linda Squires, owner of the nursing home which houses 175 elderly patients, said the victim was suffering from Alzheimer's disease and rapidly progressing dementia.

"He was not about to die, but he would probably not get any better," she said.

Homicide detective Joe Oosterveen said the younger Collins, who lives in nearby Poteet, waited in his brother's room for police to arrive after the shooting.

The dead man was a retired Army Signal Corps lieutenant colonel.

The nursing home owner said that "his brother loved him very much" and had visited him almost daily.

Foul Play Feared In Disappearance

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Bexar County investigators say they suspect foul play in the disappearance of a school teacher who has not been found since the morning her house was set on fire.

L. Kenneth Bilhartz of the sheriff's department said investigators have not been able to locate Tracy Chung, 29, who lived east of the city.

She has been missing since her house was set on fire last Thursday morning, Bilhartz said.

A man, who deputies believe is the woman's boyfriend, also is missing and his blue and white van has not been located, Bilhartz said.

The Bexar County fire marshal ruled arson in the blaze which heavily damaged the bedroom of the house. Bilhartz said the young woman's car was left at the house.

"We think maybe the fire was set to cover up foul play," the investigator said.

Grandmother Sues Man For Cussing Her

HOUSTON (AP) — A 66-year-old grandmother says curses and threats are no way to treat a lady, and she's gone to court to try to teach some manners to a Houston man who "threatened to push in my face."

Florence Brooks filed charges of disorderly conduct and assault by threat Monday against John Thompson. Both are Class C misdemeanors with maximum fines of $200.

Mrs. Brooks said on Nov. 8 she started to turn into her driveway but changed her mind at the last minute after spotting a wrecker truck speeding up behind her.

The wrecker sideswiped Mrs. Brooks' car, but she and two grandchildren — an 11-year-old girl and a 3-year-old boy — were unharmed, she said.

Mrs. Brooks said the woman driver of the wrecker jumped out and "started screaming at me." A few minutes later, she said, a man who apparently was the driver's friend drove up and "threatened to push in my face."

"I can't tell you what else he said. It was the worst language I've ever heard," she said.

Mrs. Brooks the man then threatened several witnesses.

"People shouldn't get by with that. I'm a lady. I will not cuss him or hit him," she said. "He was so out of order. He was wrong."

Filibuster Threatened On Prayer Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today faced a threatened filibuster on a school prayer amendment its opponents say would be an open invitation to school boards to reinstate voluntary prayer and Bible readings in the classroom.

The amendment, pushed onto a key appropriations bill by the efforts of conservative Republican Sens. Jesse Helms of North Carolina and Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, was approved 51-34 Monday despite cries from critics that it is unconstitutional.

With the Senate poised to take up the bill as a whole today, Sen. Lowell Weicker, R-Conn., was willing "to go all the way," an aide said, in hopes of blocking passage with a filibuster.

Hood Wrinkled

No injuries were reported, although the hood of the car was wrinkled, in a minor accident Monday afternoon. According to police reports James William Mongold, 832 Irving, had pulled out from a stop sign at Avenue K and U.S. 60 when the left rear of his car was struck by a westbound vehicle driven by Eliho Jackson Kirksey, 207 Avenue C. The impact caused Mongold's car to swing into the pole. (Brand photo by Kelly Cherry) secretary Larry Speakes, asked about the possibility of a veto, said Reagan would have to think "long and hard...if it comes in great excess of what we would like."

Just how much the measure exceeds Reagan's September budget requests, however, was a point of confusion.

Congressional staffers and representatives from the White House Office of Management and Budget huddled off the House floor during much of the debate in a futile attempt to agree on their figures.

Democrats contended that they already had figured in most of Reagan's earlier call for 12 percent, across-the-board reductions in domestic programs and that the stopgap measure was actually $4.4 billion under the president's budget once defense cuts were included. Republicans, using White House figures, eventually settled on an overall figure of $103. billion above budget, not counting defense, and $4 billion too much counting expected defense cuts.

While Reagan was losing with Republican defections in the House, he was winning with Democratic help in the Senate Budget Committee, where a Republican-drafted plan to go ahead with tax increases and benefit cuts was defeated.

Reagan wants to delay action until after the first of the year on either tax increases or cuts in benefit programs such as Medicare and food stamps, and the House Budget Committee has tentatively agreed to go along with that strategy.

But Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M., the Senate committee chairman, and nine other Republicans voted to defy Reagan by supporting the balanced budget plan. All 10 committee Democrats joined Republicans Dan Quayle of Indiana and Nancy Kassebaum of Kansas to defeat it, 12-10.

Earlier, the committee rejected, 16-5, a proposal by Sen. Ernest Hollings, D-S.C., for $109 billion in tax increases through 1984. The House Budget Committee voted last week to stick with last spring's spending plan, ignoring for now major changes in the economy and higher deficit forecasts.

Sources predicted a similar plan eventually would emerge in the Senate.

"We probably ought to do that," Domenici conceded, but he added that there was considerable opposition to such a move in his committee.

Bell

Shellman.

"Whether or not a certain call was made to a certain number on a certain day cannot be checked since not even the company retains a record," the report said.

The examiners' report Monday recommended that Bell get $243.7 million in rate increases — just over half of the record $489.8 million rate hike it requested in June.

The original Bell proposal would raise residential rates by $5.45 per month. Gillespie said the examiners recommended residential increases of from $2.10 to $2.25 a month. Monthly business rate increases would range from zero in Dallas to $4.55 a month in Bastrop. Businesses in San Antonio would pay only 5 cents a month more and in Houston an additional 10 cents.

Gillespie predicted Monday fewer than 16,000 customers would switch to the optional measured service and that the controversial proposal would lose money.

Bell unilaterally raised phone rates by $246.9 million on Oct. 20, with the requirement it would give refunds if the PUC approved a lower rate. The increase raised residential rates by $2.80 a month.

If the commission accepts the examiners' recommendations, the refund for most customers would be 60 cents per month and would be credited on each customer's bill within two months.

Gillespie said he had recommended increases of 5 percent to 10 percent in intrastate long-distance rates of 23 miles or greater.

The cost of local measured service would be one-half the regular rate plus a fee for each call. Charges for the first minute would range from 4 cents to 6 cents with additional minutes costing 1 cent to 3 cents, depending on the distance of the call.

If Bell did not recover significant revenues from the service, Gillespie said, the PUC could abolish the optional service.

Asked how many calls a customer might make in a month before the optional service would reach the cost of a flat rate, Gillespie said 80 to 120.

He said 70 percent of Bell's customers would have access to the service, including all major Texas cities. The service already is offered in parts or all of 17 states.

The examiners said they would accept comments on their report until Dec. 1. A final decision in the rate case is expected when the three-member commission meets Dec. 16.

Prime

1980, when major banks boosted their prime rate to 16.25 percent from 15.5 percent. At the time the rate was climbing toward a record high of 21.5 percent, which it reached in December 1980.

The prime rate has been declining steadily since September, when it stood at 20.5 percent and the decline has accelerated in the past month.

"It's just another piece of evidence that demonstrates the recession is beginning to unfold dramatically," said Yardeni.

In the latest indication of a recession, the Federal Reserve reported Monday that American factories were operating at 78.9 percent of capacity in October, the lowest rate since August 1980.

And Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige predicted Monday that in addition to a "very difficult" fourth quarter of 1981, the nation faces "a tough first quarter" of 1982. But he said lower interest rates — coupled with personal tax cuts in July — should spark a recovery "around the middle of the year."

The prime rate is the base banks use to calculate interest charges on short-term business loans to their most credit-worthy customers. Consumer loans are not tied to the prime rate, but changes in it reflect trends in other borrowing charges.

Many economists predict that as the economy continues to slump, the Federal Reserve Board will make credit more readily available to prevent the economy from being choked off.

The Fed acted late Monday to eliminate its 3-percent-point surcharge on its 13 percent discount, saying it was following the trend in declining interest rates. The discount rate is the interest charged for borrowing by financial institutions from the central bank, and the surcharge was a penalty for heavy and frequent borrowers.

Our Very Own President

Isn't it refreshing to have our own president?

Historically, for half a century, our presidents have not been in office six weeks before they started imagining themselves responsible for the world.

At long last, we have a full-time president of the United States.

Cancun, Mexico's world conference, is behind us' most of the 22 assembled leaders are still in shock.

They'd never been talked to like this before.

American presidents heretofore, self-conscious about our country's comparative well-being, have tried their damndest to give it away.

And I know the temptation when in any foreign nation for any American to want to be generous.

But our worldwide welfare has boomeranged, has bought more resentment than respect; in the countries with which we have been most generous we're in the most trouble.

And now our own economy needs rejuvenation.

Suddenly here is an American president, telling the poor nations of the world that his first responsibility is to make his own country strong again.

And he told the backward nations that their first responsibility is to stop leaning on us and stand on their own feet.

He said, "It's economic freedom that ignites dynamic development for everyone."

The era of massive American handouts is finished.

Behind this president's gorgeous smile is a tenacious determination to encourage private investment, to spur trade instead of aid, to boost food production instead of just to subsidize food consumption.

They have not nations of the world prefer to be called "underdeveloped" or "disadvantaged" when the fact is that all of them had a head start on us and most of them have the resources for self-help but because they didn't have to—backward nations remained backward.

This is the first president ever to curtail welfare extravagance at home. And only because he is consistent and purposeful, the American electorate remains solidly behind him.

If he were to continue lavish largess on other people in other nations it would be a rude rebuke to the Americans who are asked to make-do with less.

His top-sergeant talk is long overdue. One hundred and forty poor countries which contain three-quarters of the world's population generate only one-fifth of the world's output of goods and services.

But their politicians, like ours, have been promising more than they could deliver—confident that rich Uncle Sam would bail them out.

So in 30 years 130 billion of your dollars went thataway. It's weaning time.

At Wits End
BY ERMA BOMBECK

Next to the Muppets, jeans and bumper stickers, the No. 1 commodity in this country is small talk...the junk food of adult conversation.
It's the staple of every gathering, every party, every event where people stand around eating bait off crackers and watching their feet swell.
The basic charm of small talk is that you can drop it on it halfway or leave before it's over and never miss anything. They are complete sentences marked by the absence of an idea.
I'm worried about small talk. Lately, it's become so ordinary and so tacky...even for small talk. There's no creativity to it anymore. Same old stuff. "Do you think Diana and Charles are really happy?" and "I want someone to call me the minute PBS reruns Talking Blunt About Your Pancreas," and "Where were you and what were you doing when you heard Phil Donahue and Mario Thomas were married?"
The holiday season will soon be upon us and it's not too early to compile a list of small-talk topics that are provocative and have some substance. These are just a few for starters.
How about:
"Did I tell you about the diet I almost died from?" What a relief it would be to hear a few failure stories from dieters who have not lost 13 pounds in 13 days, but whose hair fell out and they personally molested a carrot stick from their latest fast.
"Hey, I started smoking again because I'm weak." You want to draw a crowd? Start talking about your lack of discipline. People will flock to hear anything you've got to say.
"Who is Carl Sagan and what is public television?" A refreshing alternative to a roomful of people engaged in their tired "TV is a wasteland" number.
"I don't have a solution to the economy." This would take a lot of courage to pull off, but people would mention your name days after the party was over.
Last week as I stood around at a party in which everyone was asking for the recipe of the dip, lying about how we were not going to send Christmas cards this year and pretending we all knew what AWACS stood for, I said, "I saw a fat jogger the other day."
It brought the entire room to my elbow.

Program on Roses Highlights Meeting

The Hereford Garden Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ben Childers, with Mrs. R.W. Mitchell assisting.
Mrs. R.L. Wilson gave a program on "The Rose," discussing how the rose was introduced into the United States in the 1500's, and the role of the rose in Texas. She included tips on propagating roses from cuttings, and discussed roses in the Bible, highlighting a verse from Scripture, Isaiah 35:1.
Mrs. H.R. Cocanougher gave a parliamentary drill entitled "Let's do it Right." In the absence of the president and both the first and second vice-presidents, the third vice-president, Mrs. O.G. Hill, Sr., conducted the business session.
Various reports were given including the garden center, the proposed highway marker, and the Bazaar scheduled for Friday at Sugarland Mall. Refreshments were served to ten members.

The Hereford High School Key Club concluded its "Key Club Week" Saturday with the annual work day at King's Manor Home.
The Key Club, a school and community service organization, followed the theme of "Pursue Tomorrow's Potential" during the week in its special programs.
Wednesday, the club invited Nedra Payne, program coordinator for the Suicide Prevention and Crisis Intervention Center in Amarillo, for a program on suicide. A film, "Suicide at 17," focused on the problems of a young man using drugs, who eventually killed himself.
The Key Club also presented the Senior Citizens Center with a gift to the building fund and donated a calculator to compensate for a part of their loss in a burglary. The club also gave a stereo 8-track and cassette player to a school handicapped lab.

NOTED HYPNOTISTS IN HEREFORD TO HELP SMOKERS & THE OVERWEIGHT

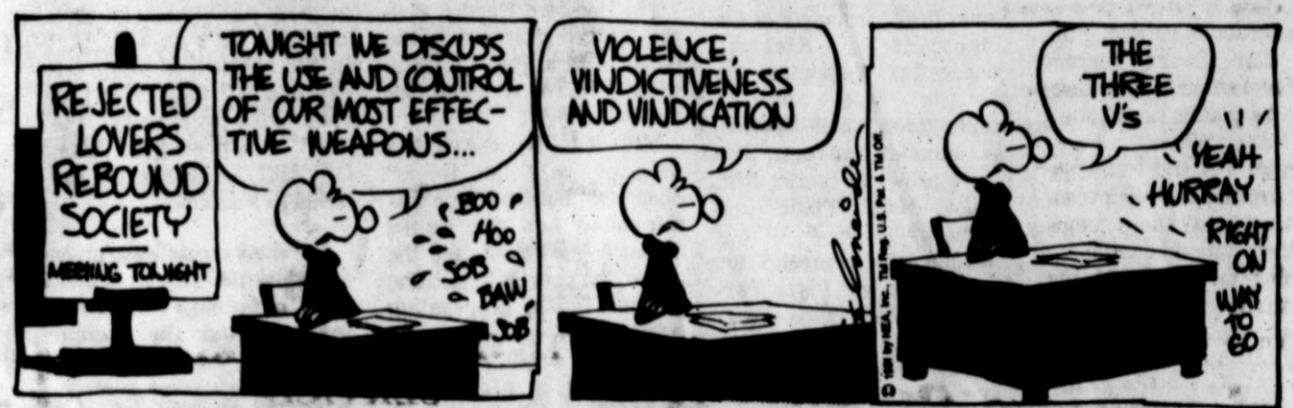

WADE M. GENTNER, F.A.L.H.
Director of Techniques For Living
Are you overweight or a cigarette smoker? Have you tried to lose weight or stop smoking, only to fall time and time again? If you find yourself answering "yes" to either of these questions then the Techniques For Living Seminar, under the direction of Wade M. Gentner F.A.L.H. at the Best Western Red Carpet Inn, Hwy 69 & 385 will be the place for you to be on Tuesday, November 24. Techniques For Living will be conducting their famous Lose Weight - Stop Smoking Seminar which has helped thousands of people throughout the United States. Techniques For Living is a national organization dedicated to helping Americans solve these and other problems that have kept them from enjoying their lives to the fullest.
The subject of numerous newspaper and magazine articles as well as television appearances, Mr. Gentner and his staff have been conducting these seminars throughout the country. In a comprehensive and fascinating three hour program, those who attend the seminar experience the relaxing and beneficial effects of clinical hypnosis. Not only do people permanently lose weight and stop smoking as a result of the seminar, they also report that they sleep better, feel more energetic, and generally enjoy life more than they had previously.
Mr. Gentner's skill in clinical hypnosis was noted by Dan Rather of CBS' "60 Minutes", who referred to him in a nationally televised report as a well-trained and highly experienced hypnotist.
"Clinical hypnosis is the easiest way there is to solve these problems", Gentner says. "Simply put, it helps to eliminate these types of problems permanently."
Gentner says that the reason clinical hypnosis is so successful is that "it removes the causes of problems, not just the symptoms." For example, he explains: "People who are overweight go on diets. A diet is only good for as long as you can follow it. Once you stop the diet you re-gain the weight. Hypnosis is permanent because it eliminates the causes of over-eating, not just the symptoms." The same holds true for smokers where the need to prevent cravings for cigarettes or weight gain is just as important. Both problems are covered at the seminar, and each seminar leader is personally trained by Mr. Gentner. Further information can be obtained by calling, Toll Free 1-800-645-5454.

Grand March followed at 8 p.m. led by the Panhandle Square and Round Dance Association President, Chuck and Florene Fletcher of Fritch and Treasurer for the State Square Dance Association, Ed and Angie McCreary of Hereford.

The ten squares of dancers enjoyed the calling of Roy Johnson of Amarillo. Good Timers were pleased to welcome visitors from Pairs 'N Squares, Circle 8's, Whirley Birds, Ye Ole Squares, Saints & Spinners of Amarillo, Boots & Lace of Walcott, Boots & Calico of Fritch, Dimmitt Promenaders, and Merry Mixers of Hereford.

The dancers enjoyed refreshments served from a lovely table decorated by Betsy Kuper, Good Timers Social Chairman. Everyone enjoyed a few minutes rest, along with the good food provided by members of the Good Timers Club.

The club's next dance will be Friday, Nov. 20. Caller will be Audrey Brown of the Hi-Plains Promenaders of Amarillo.

The club wishes to thank all those dancers that helped to make the first anniversary dance a success.

Museum Awarded Federal Grant

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon was awarded a $20,000 Federal grant on Oct. 1 from the Institute of Museum Services, according to William C. Griggs, Museum Director.

The Panhandle-Plains Museum was one of 573 museums selected from more than 1,300 applicants which submitted proposals to the Institute.

The Institute, now in its fifth year, is the first Federal agency authorized to provide general operating support and special project support to museums. It is located within the Department of Education.

The Institute provides grant funds to a wide range of museums, including art, history, and natural history museums, zoos, botanical gardens, science-technology centers, aquariums, planetariums, general museums, and a wide range of specialized museums and historic houses.

Of the IMS grants to museums in 1981, thirty-six percent went to history museums.

According to Griggs, the grant awarded to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum will be applied toward the basic needs and services of the Texas Conservation Center. Assisting both public and private museums and private collectors in preserving and restoring art, artifacts, documents, and other historically important artifacts, the Center is the state's only full-range conservation facility.

She Claims Husbands Are Mean

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why is it that men feel their lives aren't complete unless they have a son? I've given birth to two beautiful, healthy daughters, but my husband claims I cheated him because I didn't give him a boy.

Do you have any idea what it is like to go through 12 hours of rotten labor and see a look of disappointment on the father's face? If I hadn't felt so dragged-out and miserable, I would have punched him out.

Any doctor will tell you that the sex of a baby is determined by the father. This means HE cheated me out of a son. But, of course, he doesn't see it that way.

Why are husbands so mean?—Down In The Dumps

DEAR DOWN: Please don't judge all husbands by that peanut brain you're married to. Many men who have daughters are delighted. Their only "complaints" are members with a smile: "to many partyhose hanging in the bathroom and I have to pay for all the weddings."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This morning, when I pulled into a parking lot, a woman directly in front of me drove her car into a space marked with a two-foot-high sign that read, "HANDICAPPED PARKING ONLY."

I politely asked her if she had seen the sign. She snarled, "Yes, but I'm in a hurry."

How can people be so inconsiderate? Don't they realize it's extremely difficult for a person in a wheelchair or on crutches to do his shopping when he must park several blocks from the store? Could I have made a citizen's arrest?—Boiling In Dubuque

DEAR BOILING: Those inconsiderate dolts are not in violation of the law, but they should be reminded how fortunate they are not to NEED the space reserved for the handicapped. Just one visit to a rehabilitation center would change their attitude. They'd never pull that stunt again.

DEAR ANN: Would you please remind your readers to always carry the name, address and phone number of someone to contact in case of an emergency?

This past week I had two cousins die. In both cases neither carried anything but a driver's license with only an address on it. They both lived alone so, of course, no one was there when the police came.

One aunt and uncle did not get the news until nine hours after the accident. Their son died two hours earlier. My other cousin, who was in Texas, lit a cigarette in his apartment. The gas was leaking, and the place went up in flames in an instant. It took three days of checking to learn who his parents were. While they were making arrangements to go to Texas, the burn center called to say he had passed away.

In both cases my aunts and uncles could have seen their sons before they died. The loss is hard enough to accept, but knowing you may have been able to see your child—if only he had carried a phone number—makes it all the more difficult to bear.

Ann, you can edit this letter any way you like, or not print it at all if you think it is too poorly written for publication, but I do feel it is important to let people know they should carry proper identification at all times with instructions for the next of kin in case of a tragic accident. No one knows when his time will come.—San Diego Reader

DEAR SAN DIEGO: Your letter was just fine — it needed very little editing. Thanks for writing. It will undoubtedly save a lot of unnecessary grief. Somebody is sure to listen.

Pat Walker's

HELLO HEREFORD!

Pat Walker Figure Perfection Salons International, with 147 salons nationwide, is now in its 30th year of successful weight reduction and figure perfection for thousands of women of all ages and lifestyles.

Pat Walker's is neither a gym or a spa. It is not a diet clinic. At Pat Walker's there are no injections, creams, wraps, ear clips or special pre-packaged meals. There is no disrobing or group sessions.

Pat Walker's is an elegantly decorated salon in which you can shape your figure without stringent dieting or strenuous exercise and do it in complete privacy. The Symmetricon unit, exclusively at Pat Walker's, provides safe, passive, and yet very effective exercise that firms, tones and shapes your figure, all the while improving your circulation and correcting your posture. The Symmetricon unit is so designed that its function can be brought to focus on specific areas of the body according to individual needs.

Pat Walker's staff includes trained professional women counselors who show you how to properly coordinate your favorite foods into an individualized and sensible eating plan which will foster consistent and safe weight reduction.

Women who come to Pat Walker's thinking only of weight loss are always pleasantly surprised to find that we deal in total figure correction. Not only do we firm pounds, we concentrate on taking off inches in your problem areas for we know that mere weight loss alone will not produce a flattering figure. We have found that the Pat Walker program will give any woman the results that she wants, no matter her age, size or how many other programs, diets or gimmicks she has tried.

The most exciting thing about Pat Walker's is that it is based on permanency. By the time we have attained your desired weight loss by working together, you will have learned how to maintain your figure on your own for the rest of your life. That is something that no one will ever be able to take away from you!

When you come in for a free complimentary treatment and figure analysis you will first be given a 30 minute session on the Symmetricon. Afterwards, we will explain the Pat Walker program to you. We will show you where and how much you need to lose, and tell you how long it will take and exactly how much it will cost based on a per session fee of just $5.00. We do not have contracts or membership fees.

The success of Pat Walker's for all these nearly 30 years is based on just two things: Consistently achieving the results desired by both us and the patron; and, through the introduction of Pat Walker's to women, making them aware that there is a safe, effective alternative to starvation and fat diets, pills and strenuous exercise.

Whether you feel the need to lose a substantial number of pounds and inches or if you just need a little firming and toning, we think Pat Walker's is for you. Interested? Why not invest in a phone call now to reserve time for your appointment and your free first step toward a new you?

Thank you for taking the time to read all this. We sincerely hope you have a little better understanding of Pat Walker's and that you will allow us to explain more on a personal and confidential basis.

Scott Sparks La Plata Triumph

Junior High Teams Open Season

Mike Scott, fresh off the gridiron as the La Plata Maverick freshmen quarterback, made the conversion to the hardcourt with ease at the HHS gym Tuesday night, blistering the nets for 22 points as the Mavs clipped Clovis Marshall 59-52 in the opening game of the season.

Scott got ample help from Blair Rogers (14) and Robbie Snyder (12) as the Mavericks got the district season opened on a winning note.

In other action involving junior high squads, the La Plata 7th and 8th grade boys each dropped decisions to Marshall, while the Mav girls had better luck with the 7th grade losing, but the 8th and 9th graders posting wins.

Stanton's Dogies fared well also in matchups with Plainview Red as the boys 7th and 9th graders won, while freshmen girls posted a win as well.

Marshall dominated both the La Plata 7th and 8th grade teams, posting 41-9 and 50-12 wins respectively. Cody Davis led the Mav 7th grade with three points, while Don Carl Tardy's five points topped the Mav 8th graders.

Stanton's freshmen clipped Plainview 40-36 behind a 13-point effort by Kevin Redus. Chad Stephens added seven points to the winning effort.

The Dogie 8th grade fell to Plainview by a 33-29 count, with Rodney Torres' 11 points and Stefan Hacker's eight leading the way in the losing effort.

Stanton's Kyle Streun netted 12 points in leading the 7th grade boys to a 27-23 victory over Plainview, while Vincent Brown added eight points to the cause.

In Plainview Stanton's freshmen girls grabbed a 29-26 win as Stacy High collected 15 points, including a 7 for 7 performance at the charity stripe in the fourth quarter. Lori Niblett added 10 points to the win.

The Dogie 7th and 8th fairs lost, however, with Sarah Alonzo's eight points tops for the 8th grade Dogies in a 24-20 loss. The 7th grade Dogies were blitzed 44-14 by Plainview as Jo Dee Pruitt topped Stanton with four points.

La Plata's girls won two of three matches with Clovis Marshall with the freshmen gaining a 60-15 walkover as Sandra Valdez collected 12 points and teammates Carla Alford and Melanie Davis each netted 10.

The 8th grade La Plata girls posted a 30-20 victory with Shelly Edwards' 12 points leading the way, but the Mav 7th grade fairs lost a 25-13 decision as five players netted a pair of points each.

The La Plata squads take next week off and are looking forward to matches at Stanton on Nov. 30. The Dogies will face Clovis Marshall next Monday with the Stanton boys on the road and the girls at home.

Houston Waives QB John Reaves

HOUSTON (AP) — Two Sunday's ago, Houston quarterback John Reaves saved the day by leading the Oilers to a 17-16 victory over the Oakland Raiders and was elevated to starting status.

Sunday, Reaves failed to ignite the offense in the first half en route to a 23-10 loss to Kansas City and was benched in favor of Ken Stabler.

Monday Reaves was just gone.

Oiler Coach Ed Blies, unhappy with Reaves' first half performance, waived the nine-year veteran Monday and announced he planned to activate Gifford Niessens, who has been out the entire season recovering from a shoulder separation.

Final Schoolboy Rankings Given

By The Associated Press
Now the REAL battle for No. 1 begins.

Port Arthur Jefferson in Class 3A, Huntsville in 4A, Refugio in 3A, Forney in 2A and Motley County in A go into the state schoolboy football playoffs completed the regular season with their No. 1 ranks intact in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll.

Now all they have to do is earn the rating on the field.

There were some surprises and disappointments in the final week of the regular season. Bryan, unbeaten and ranked No. 4 last week, lost it all to Temple in a 19-7 loss that ended the Vikings season.

Bryan dropped all the way out of the top 10 and was replaced in the final ratings by Angleton.

Fredericksburg, ranked No. 8 in 4A last week, saw its playoff hopes disappear following a 21-21 tie with former top 10 member Kerrville Tivy, which gained the playoffs by a 21-19 margin in first downs.

Manor moved up from 10th to sixth on the Class 3A list with a 21-3 victory over previously unbeaten Marble Falls, which fell from fourth to eighth place in the final poll and will miss the playoffs.

Cameron and Barbers Hill, ranked eighth and ninth in Class 3A last week, advanced to the playoffs despite losses. Floydada, 9-1, moved in as the No. 10 spot replacing Cameron.

Port Arthur Jefferson edged Beaumont French 15-12 last week to take an unbeaten 10-0 record into the playoffs.

Second ranked San Antonio Holmes will take one of the state's top offensive and defensive records into the playoffs, scoring 37.8 points and yielding 4.1.

Defending state champion Odessa Permian has a 26-0-3 record dating back to 1979.

Other teams challenging for top 10 positions included Class 4A, Fredericksburg, 16 and Kerrville Tivy 15; 3A, Gilmer and Hondo 16; 2A, Clarendon, Plains, Panhandle, nine each and A, La Pryor 8.

Texas Claims Sims Illegally Blocked

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas Coach Fred Akers contends the Longhorns' All-America defensive tackle Kenneth Sims suffered a broken leg when a Texas Christian player cut him down with an illegal "chop block."

"Kenneth has been chop blocked about as many different ways as you can get it, and it hasn't been called yet," Akers contended during his weekly news conference Monday.

However, TCU Coach F.A. Dry dismissed the chop block allegations as "a bunch of nonsense" and "ridiculous."

"I've been in coaching 25 years, and I'm not going to drink that water," said Dry. "If we had been doing anything illegal, the referees would have called it and marked it off on us."

Akers said a chop block is when one offensive player hits the defender high and another blocks him from the side or below the knee. He said the TCU hit on Sims came from the side.

The Longhorn coach also complained about the officiating in the game Texas won 31-15.

Referees marked off 135 yards in penalties against

Texas, including 77 yards on four pass interference calls Akers said were questionable "at best."

"We had some curious calls (against TCU), and we had some non-curious calls last week (in a 14-14 tie with Houston), but the results somehow are the same," said Akers. "I've been biting my tongue so long it's beginning to bleed."

Sims was the second Longhorn defensive tackle to go down in two weeks, and Akers said, "We're kind of beat up right now. We're pretty thin."

Five Longhorns were X-rayed Monday, and first reports revealed two were OK. "We're showing signs of a long, long, tough campaign," Akers said.

In addition to Sims and defensive tackle Mark Weber, Texas has lost running back Rodney Tate with a severe thigh bruise and quarterback Rick McIvor with a shoulder and neck injury.

A Texas victory over Baylor and a Southern Methodist victory over Arkansas would put the Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl for the first time since 1978.
